He married, May 1, 1871, to Miss Mary Reardon by Rev. C. O'Farrell. Mrs. Conway died on August 1, 1921. Two daughters survive, Misses Mary A. and Alice Conway, who live at home, and two sons, James of Washington, D. C., and Joseph J. Conway of Norwich. A brother, Michael Conway, died here on July 7, 1918, and another brother, John Conway, passed away on April 24, 1911, in Jersey City.

Mr. Conway was a member of the A. O. H. He was well read in public matters, and loved his home. His many friends heard of his death with deep regret.

FUNERAL.

John Coughlin.

Relatives and friends from Hartford, New Haven, Fiskdale, Mass., Westerly, Lebanon and other places attended the funeral services for John Coughlin, held from his late home in Franklin, Saturday morning. There were many floral tributes.

A mass of requiem was celebrated at the Sacred Heart church, Norwich Town, by Rev. Charles W. Brennan. Miss Elizabeth A. Malone presided at the organ and was in charge of the musical part of the service. At the offertory Miss Buckley sang, Pie Jesu and at the close of the service, Come Unto Me, and I Will Give You Rest. As the body was taken from the church Miss Malone and Miss Buckley sang Nearer, My God to Thee.

Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, Greeneville, where Rev. Father Brennan conducted a committal service. The bearers were J. D. Coughlin of Hartford, Dr. Thomas A. Crowley of Norwich, Thomas Sullivan and Michael Shea.

Cummings and Ring were in charge.

William James McManus.

Funeral services for William James McManus, infant son of James Francis and Helen Weedon McManus were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home at 22 Chestnut street, a large number of relatives and friends attending. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The service was conducted by Rev. Rocco Guerriero of St. Patrick's church. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery where a committal service was held.

Arrangements were by Henrigan Bros.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Monday, March 19.

KDKA Pittsburgh (309 Meters).

6.15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Victor Saudek.

7 p. m.—Current events.

7.20 p. m.—Pies and the Art of Making perfect Pie Crust, by H. V. P. Francis.

7.30 p. m.—Men's Evening, consisting of articles of special interest to men.

7.45 p. m.—The Visit to the Little Folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8 p. m.—Features of Particular Interest to Men.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Victor Saudek; and the Sentinel Male Quartette.

WJZ Newark (360 Meters).

6 p. m.—Business and Industrial Conditions in the United States as observed by the National Industrial Conference Board.

7 p. m.—Bedtime Stories by Thornton Burgess.

7.15 p. m.—Stories from St. Nicholas Magazine.

8.30 p. m.—University of the Air: "What you can learn from Big Business Men about your Business," by Arthur Bartea, author and publicist.

8.40 p. m.—Concert by Dorothy Brough, lyric soprano, of New York city, artist pupil of Wager Swayne Kelly. Helen Steele accompanist.

KYW Chicago (405 Meters).

(Central Time.)

6.30 p. m.—News, financial and final market, and sport summary. Topics of the Day furnished by Pathe Exchange.

6.50 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.

Silent night.

WHAZ, Troy (380 meters)

6.15 p. m.—Program includes familiar Irish songs and ballads appropriate to St. Patrick's day.

WGY Schenectady (379 Meters).

12 m.—U. S. Naval Observatory time signals.

12.30 p. m.—Noon stock market quotations.

12.45 p. m.—Weather report on 455 meters.

1 p. m.—Music and fashion talk. Produce and stock market report and quotations; sports bulletins.

7.45 p. m.—Musical program.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 meters)

6 p. m.—Twilight Tales, read by Uncle David.

6.30 p. m.—New England forecast furnished by the U. S. Weather Bureau. Closing stock market reports.

6 p. m.—Late news flashes; early sports news.

6.15 p. m.—Code practice. Lesson No. 22.

6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports.

WBZ Springfield (333 Meters).

7.30 p. m.—Kiddies' animal guessing contest.

Concert by quartet of the First Congregational church, West Springfield, Mass.: Gladys Payne, pianist and director; Miss Minnie Bagg, soprano; Mrs. Bra C. Martin, alto; Thomas Lendrum, tenor; Frederick Fish, bass.

8.15 p. m.—Concert by Pidson H. Richardson, soprano. Florence Shortsleeve Fay, violinist; Myrtle I. Ashe, pianist.

Nolle in Liquor Charge.

In the police court Saturday morning the case against Benjamin Bronzke, a restaurant proprietor on Sixth street, who had been accused by two Taftville youths with selling them liquor, was nolled without costs. In court the boys did not support the complaint they had made against Gronzko.

SERMONS IN THE CHURCHES IN HONOR OF ST. PATRICK'S DA

The morning services at St. Patrick's church and at St. Mary's Memorial church Sunday had St. Patrick as the subject of eloquent sermons and Irish airs in the special musical programs that were rendered. Each church had a congregation that filled practically every seat.

At St. Patrick's church the preacher was Rev. George J. Donohue of Bridgeport, who spoke from the following text in Thessalonians: And ye became imitators of us and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction with joy of the holy ghost; so that ye became an example to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia.

This is a season, he said, when Irish hearts turn homeward, even with those of that race whose eyes have never seen the shine and shadow on their fathers' hills. St. Patrick found the island pagan. He left it Christian and if from his place in heaven he could speak today of the land in which he labored, he could well do so in the words of this text for the wonderful way in which the Irish had kept the faith he had given them.

Father Donohue developed the thought that all Ireland had attained had been because of the Christian faith that had been implanted among the people by St. Patrick, who had done his work so successfully and so well that Ireland became the wonder of the world. Through gifts of mind and heart Ireland had made the whole world its debtor and the secret of it all had lay in the faith upon Jesus Christ.

Referring briefly to the present political status of Ireland, Father Donohue said that he recognized it was not wholly satisfactory to all lovers of that land, but the Irish Free State just as the rosebud is the promise of the full-blown rose, is the promise of the ultimate triumph of Irish faith. In God's good hour we shall see that perfect flower of justice and happiness when the final chapter can be written that can be called the resurrection of Erin. When that perfect free flower of Irish freedom comes, what Shakespeare and what group of Shakespeares can voice the joy in our hearts. If it should not be till after our day that it comes, we shall rejoice even if we are in our graves.

Before the vesper service, the organist, Prof. Frank L. Farrell, rendered a special program of Irish airs, playing them with fine expression and bringing out their melodies upon the organ with the skill of a master of that instrument.

After the sermon, the baritone solo, The Fourth Word, of the Seven Last Words of Christ, was rendered by Frank R. Murdy, who was in good voice. Benediction of the blessed Sacrament closed the service.

At St. Mary's Memorial Church.

Over 900 lovers of music gathered at St. Mary's Memorial church to hear a musical program of high standard given preceding the sermon of the evening. The lovely Irish folk-songs with their characteristic charm and pathos were given splendid renditions by the leading local soloists. Each number was interpreted according to its own individual beauty, the tonal quality and enunciation being especially admirable. The chorus work was of the usual high order. The new Estey organ gave splendid support to the program, and exquisite effects were obtained by the organist and choir director, Henry J. LaFontaine.

The program was as follows: Irish Airs, selected, organ; Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms, Edward T. Connelly; The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls, mixed quartet; Come Back to Erin, Miss Eleanor Donovan; The Wearing of the Green, Horace F. Corning; The Minstrel Boy, mixed quartet; Killarney, Miss Sadie A. Driscoll; Kathleen Mavourneen, Nicholas J. Spellman; Mail, Glorious Apostle, John C. Fontaine and chorus.

Sermon by the Pastor.

At the close of the musical program Rev. William A. Keefe, pastor of the church, preached an inspiring message on The Spirit of the Day, which was in part as follows:

My dear Friends: Tonight throughout the country and in many other lands the spirit that has caused us to assemble here has caused others to assemble in the spirit of St. Patrick. What is that spirit? What does it mean to us? We come here to pay tribute to that spirit as Christians, as Catholics, as Americans, to hear the story of century long sacrifices, of the marvelous fight for God, the same spirit that has come down in Ireland through the centuries. The more we study these sacrifices and are inspired by them the better Christians and American citizens we shall be.

That's why the spirit of St. Patrick has been carried by those people of that small island, to all parts of the world, all this from a country that has seen itself persecuted, in poverty, and humiliated, all for the love of God. For love of God these people were refused education, social or political honors.

Despite the fact that priests taught the words God, sons and daughters of Ireland were forced to leave the land, saw their schools and churches burned, everything they held dear thrown down. This little island has exercised a marvelous inspiration for the betterment of the civilized world. Persecutions and humiliations are written all through the pages of history of Ireland, but they are above humiliation and carried their education to the ends of the world, and sent out missionaries to evangelize the nations of the world, and sent out missionaries to evangelize the nations of the world. Poor in the things of the world yet rich in the things of heaven, poor in the things of man, yet rich in the things of God, poor in pocket, yet rich in heart and soul, the spirit of Catholic Ireland inspired by wonderful achievements has exercised a marvelous influence in all nations of the world.

The spirit of St. Patrick's day is that of God. St. Patrick proclaimed to the Druid Kings on the hills of Ireland that Jesus Christ was the Son of the Virgin Mary, that He arose from the dead, and that He would keep His promises for Christ is the real God. St. Patrick to those Druid kings proclaimed and sowed the seeds of Christianity that made Christian Ireland, and the spirit of that time means much to us in the present day. It was a message of authority from Christ.

Men today are questioning the divinity of Christ, questioning that it is God. They are doing the same as those Druid kings, those who deny are, even as the Druids. The spirit of today shows how the teachings of St. Patrick were received, shows the sacrifices made, in order that the ideals of St. Patrick might guide the sons and daughters of Erin. The spirit of the day has inspiration for us and if we believe that God is the true, believe in the right, we are bound to make sacrifices for the truth just as did St. Patrick. We are bound to obey His divine teachings for they came from Christ who is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

The spirit that inspired those martyrs down through the centuries has a meaning for us. Today there is the need, when has there ever been so great a need for religious education as today. The spirit of St. Patrick caused them to gather in monasteries, real universities, to catch the message of God, as told by St. Patrick the apostle of the isle of saints and scholars.

When men talk of our wonderful progress and how we are helping the world, we feel humiliated when we think of the sacrifices of those early Christians in Ireland. Our efforts are weak when compared to those of the monks and nuns of ancient Ireland. Their names are written on the pages of history in all civilized Europe and their names are glorious, for they blazed the way for education and Christianity.

Some people may ridicule St. Patrick but there never was a man or woman who stood for right and justice, for a principal who was not ridiculed or laughed at. Yet, men high in government positions in our wonderful country might well study the life and works of St. Patrick and be guided by them.

There is another story of Ireland, a sad one. We go to Dublin and then to Cork and all around us we see clustering around, those wonderful names, all hills and valleys having memories of those wonderful martyrs. Now on our journey we see ruins of those ancient seats of learning, ruined by the power that boasted of its education. The saints of the world, pure and pious, were put to death and the persecutions of old Ireland still continues, and it is well for us to study what this herdic man bore with for the spirit of St. Patrick would have us stand fast for the glory of God and our country.

Your forefathers made their sacrifices for love of God and it is well for us in all our progress to study their sacrifices that we might enjoy the privileges we have today. Put the spirit of St. Patrick in the world and there will be no danger. If more of that spirit was among us how much better we would be. We can sing songs of Ireland, read of their wonderful sacrifices, but it is all as nothing if that is all we do. We must take the story of St. Patrick home to ourselves. The achievements, virtues, and courage of our forefathers mean nothing unless we do as they did. That's why the Catholic church has called its people together today to study the achievements of St. Patrick. It is the educational spirit that we meet that we may be inspired to do likewise.

Our fathers and mothers, those who have gone on just before us, if we have forgotten. When we see the indifference to religion, see immorality among those sons and daughters of that island, we should kneel before Christ in this memorial not simply to our forefathers but to Christ, and on this night after St. Patrick's day, and the night before St. Joseph's day, pray that we might love Christ and be more like St. Patrick, more like St. Joseph. If we do that we can say that the day has meant much to us, that we shall carry out the things for which he gave such, for which Christ went to Calvary.

Following the sermon of the evening the service closed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The benediction numbers of the choir were O Salutaris, Gregorian; Tantum Ergo, Rosewig; Divine Praises, and Holy God We Praise Thy Name.

As the congregation left the church Henry LaFontaine rendered a group of Irish selections on the organ.

CELEBRATED THEIR SECOND WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Barnett of 101 Cliff street celebrated their second wedding anniversary Saturday evening at their home by entertaining a party of friends from New London and this city. As the anniversary fell on Friday, the 16th and the party was held on the 17th, it took the form of a St. Patrick's Day party and favors and house decorations were in keeping with the occasion.

Games were played during the evening and instrumental and vocal selections were given by those present. Cards were enjoyed, following which the hostess invited her guests to the dining room where dainty refreshments were served. Each guest received a St. Patrick's favor containing a prize and verse and green "Bunnies" were passed as favors. The prizes were also suggestive of the day.

Those present were Irving S. Whitney, L. M. Osberg and C. A. Anderson of the Submarine Base, Clifford C. Oat and James E. Barnett of Norwich; Miss Mildred Saunders of New London, Mrs. Clifford C. Oat, the Misses Jane Deering, Gladys Meyer and Evelyn MacMillan and Mrs. James E. Barnett of Norwich.

The hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. John B. Oat.

CITY BIBLE CLASS LEADS IN ATTENDANCE CONTEST

The City Bible class for men at the Central Baptist school established a nice lead Sunday over the Men's Forum of the First Baptist church in New London in the attendance contest in which they are engaged for the Sundays of March.

The Norwich class had an attendance of 223 Sunday, which is a 487 per cent. attendance on the class average of 59. The New London forum had an attendance of 76, which was 292 per cent. on its average of 26.

The attendance of 223 Sunday beat all records of the City Bible class, the best previous having been 179 several years ago. There were 100 more in the class than on the first Sunday of the contest and 68 more than last Sunday. The New London forum gained only three in attendance from last Sunday to this week.

Harrison C. Noyes was the teacher of the lesson Sunday and Attorney Charles L. Stewart will be the teacher next Sunday. He is also the captain in charge of the membership and he urged all the men Sunday not to let down in their effort to keep up the numbers at the class sessions but even to better next Sunday the figures that were set up yesterday.

PROSTRATE IN GUTTER; FEET ON SIDEWALK

While covering his beat Sunday night, Officer John Carroll came across a man who had so successful evaded the Volstead law that he was flat on his back in the gutter, with his feet up on the sidewalk on North Main street opposite the old carshops. The drunken man was taken to police headquarters in the motor patrol wagon and was put into a cell, where he remained flat on his back on the floor, unconscious to what had been happening to him and too drunk to give his name.

India has 220,000,000 Hindus.

CELEBRATED ANNIVERSARY OF FIRST MASS IN TAFTVILLE

Three hundred and sixty-five covers were laid for the dinner, Saturday in the Parish hall at Taftville, arranged by the English speaking Children of Mary sodality, the Society of Christ and the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., in celebration of the 34th anniversary of the celebration of the first mass in Taftville. The hall was most attractively decorated with green hunting between the windows and flags of the United States, Great Britain, France and Ireland crossed at intervals on the walls. The stage was decorated in green and white and each guest received a St. Patrick's Day crepe paper hat, to wear while the banquet was in progress. One long table was set lengthwise in the hall, with others branching to the left and right of this. Tables were also set on the stage and in the balcony. During the affair, the ideal orchestra rendered Irish airs. The menu:

Grape Fruit Cocktail
Roast Turkey, Espagnole Dressing
Mashed Potatoes Mashed Turnips
Gravy Supreme
Celery Cranberry Sauce
Ice Cream a la Serviette
Rolls Assorted Cakes
Cafe au lait

The favors were green carnations and small green baskets of home made candy. Following the dinner, the floor was cleared of tables and a very interesting musical program was given as follows:

Chorus, the waitresses, soprano solo, Kathleen Mavourneen, Miss Elizabeth Corcoran. Miss Corcoran gave for an encore, Mary of Argyle. Soprano solo, Mrs. William Malone, Pretty Kitty Kelly. Chorus, A Little Bit of Green, the waitresses, Come Back to Erin, the waitresses.

Dance, drill, songs and recitations, by sixteen small colleens dressed in green and white, wearing jaunty green caps and carrying shamrocks.

Solo, My Dear Little Irish Rose, Henry La Fontaine. For an encore, Mr. La Fontaine sang, Smilin' Through. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Edward Connelly.

Musical sketch, The Girls of Yesterday, sung by eight young ladies dressed in old fashioned costumes. Miss Elizabeth Corcoran as the soloist, sang My Mother's Lullaby, and the chorus was composed of Miss Agnes M. Dougherty, Miss Blanche Molleur, Miss Lillian J. O'Brien, Miss Agnes Murphy, Miss Sue Nolan, Miss Nora Murphy, Miss Mary Hanlon, Miss Katherine Hasler, Miss Agnes Murphy, Miss Mae Corcoran, Miss Louise White, Mrs. Andrew Frohmader, Miss Katherine Malone, Miss Viola Sullivan, Miss Leona Sullivan, Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Lena O'Brien, Miss Lillian J. O'Brien, Miss Sue Nolan, Miss Norah Murphy, Miss Agnes M. Dougherty and Mrs. Mary Shea, Miss Annie Daley, Miss Monica Donovan, Miss Agnes Gaffney, Miss Elizabeth Corcoran, Miss Mary Nolan, Miss Annie Lafleur, Miss Annie Day, Miss Mary Rothwell, Miss Margaret Quigley and Miss Annie Hasler.

Among those assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Bridget Flynn, Mrs. Marion Dougherty, Mrs. Mary Coleman, Mrs. Daniel McSheffery, Mrs. Thomas Phalen, Mrs. John Gaffney, Miss Katherine Sullivan, Miss Mary Malone, Miss Mary Martin, Mrs. Edward Adams, Mrs. Thomas Fitzmaurice and Mrs. Anthony Murphy.

Flowers and candy were distributed by Miss Pauline Hasler, Miss Grace McSheffery and Miss Bella McSheffery.

The officers of the committee that had charge of the affair were Mrs. William Malone, chairman, Mrs. Andrew Frohmader, secretary, and Miss Agnes Malone, treasurer.

On Sunday, a solemn high mass at which Rev. John Tyler of Jewett City was the speaker was celebrated at Sacred Heart church, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of services for Catholics in the village.

BROOKLINE PASTOR HEARD IN ELOQUENT SERMON

A sermon of eloquence and power was preached Sunday morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Universalist, by Rev. Dr. Thomas Van Ness of Brookline, Mass. The text was drawn from the 12th verse of the 4th chapter of Exodus.

The sermon magnified the virtues of courage and persistence in the religious life.

It included a graphic sketching of the career of Moses and his obedience to the divine command and illustrative reference to Peter the Hermit of the Medieval Christian Crusade, to William Lloyd Garrison and his determined pioneer work for the American black man and to Dorothea Dix and the great humanitarian reform which followed in the wake of Channing's preaching and which compelled improved methods in the care of the insane and the criminal classes.

Ever do we hear the voice of conscience and the word of God commanding us as Christian disciples and ever is the assurance of God's support given also.

Moses had a wand as a symbol; Peter, a cross and Garrison a pen, while Dorothea Dix was inspired by a compassionate heart and a clear purpose. The world was made better by their service. The command and the promise are just as pertinent to us today in the democracy of the 20th century.

We are all given some elements of power and also, the pledge of God's continuing and supporting interest.

The sermon was given with the grace and scholarly finish, characteristic of the man who has for many years been eminent among the clergymen of Boston and who is in strenuous demand on the lecture platform both in this country and in England and Europe.

Dr. Van Ness at present is minister of the Second Unitarian Society of Brookline, Mass.

For 20 years previous, he was minister of the historic Second church in Boston, founded in 1649 and served by such noted ministers as Cotton Mather and Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Dr. Van Ness is an incessant traveller and speaks seven languages and last year—on leave of absence—travelled extensively in China and the Far East.

WILMINGTON MEN HAVE WAIVED EXTRADITION

Silas P. Risley and Frank P. Risley, the two brothers from Wilmington, N. C., who were arrested here Friday night for abandonment of their wives, were presented in police court Saturday morning and were sent to jail to await the arrival of officers who are expected to come from North Carolina. The men have waived extradition.

Betty Benton of Philadelphia and Alice Reeves of Wilmington, who were found with the men here in two different Franklin square rooming houses, were presented before the court, were found guilty and were given sentences of 30 days in jail. Sentence was suspended and the women were allowed to leave town. The Reeves woman took with her her two small children.

West Haven—Coming back to West Haven after an absence of nearly two years, Maynard P. Hassam, an embalmer, walked into the hands of the police and was arrested on a charge of theft.

R. I. REDS TAKE LEAD

FROM HOLLYWOOD LEGHORNS

For the first time since the contest began last November Rhode Island Reds ally leading the pack. Capt. C. Knight's pen of White Wyandottes got away to the best start and held the lead over all comers for the first six weeks. Then they caged up a little and Hollywood Farm's pen of Leghorns from Hollywood, Wash., promptly grabbed first place. During the next two weeks Hollywood's pen was tied with Roy H. Waite from College Park, Md., whose Leghorns had all the while been running a good race. Perhaps the rugged New England winter was a little too much for pullets from the Pacific coast, at any rate they lost the limelight after an interval of three weeks. The tenth week found the Maryland Leghorns tied for first place with Frank P. Matteson's pen of White Wyandottes from Davisville, R. I. This pen had everything its own way for the next eight laps. Last week the Wyandottes were relegated to the rear when Fernside Farm's pen of Rhode Island Reds from Foxboro, Mass., chalked up a bigger total to date than any other pen in the contest. A most unusual thing about this pen of Reds is the fact that among the ten hens out of the 1,000 competing four of them are listed in this pen. These four pullets averaged 90 eggs apiece in the first 120 days.

At the close of the nineteenth week all pens together had laid a grand total of more than 50,000 eggs. They laid last week 3,784 eggs or a yield of over 55 per cent., and still maintain their record of laying more eggs for this period than the average for previous years. A Connecticut pen of Reds owned by H. P. Deming of Winsted was first for the week with a score of 57 eggs. Pinecrest Orchards pen of the same breed from Groton, Mass., was in second place with a yield of 56 eggs. Two pens of Barred Rocks owned by Keewaydin Farm from Darien, Conn., and Jasper E. Guptill from Berwick, Me., tied for third place with 54 eggs each. Two pens of Reds entered by Fernside Farm from Foxboro, Mass., and Deer Brook Poultry Farm from Short Falls, N. H., tied for fourth place with 52 eggs each.

The four leading pens in each of the principal breeds are as follows:

Plymouth Rocks.

Davidson Bros. (White), Upton, Mass.	697
G. B. Treadwell (Barred), Spencer, Mass.	635
W. H. B. Kent (Barred), West Lafayette, Ind.	568
Jasper E. Guptill (Barred), Berwick, Me.	566

White Wyandottes.

Frank P. Matteson, Davisville, R. I.	704
Lady Anderson, Harrold, England	774
Woodbridge Orchards, Woodbridge, Conn.	759
Obed G. Knight, Bridgeton, R. I.	685

Rhode Island Reds.

Fernside Farm, Foxboro, Mass.	795
Hall Farm, North Bennington, Vt.	698
Fred H. Sampson, Springfield, Mass.	671
Jacob E. Jansen, North Haven, Conn.	652

White Leghorns.

Pussy Willow Egg Farm, East Moriches, L. I.	728
Roy H. Waite, College Park, Md.	723
Hilltop Farm, Suffield, Conn.	707
Rapp's Legborn Farm, Atlantic Highlands, N. J.	692

Local Wholesale Market

Local wholesale market report, March 7, 1923:

Furnished by the Marketing Bureau of the State Board of Agriculture to The Norwich Bulletin:

Good Demand: Barreled apples, potatoes, oranges, native eggs and fat fowls.

Fair Demand: Celery, new cabbage, spinach, parsnips, prime beef and fancy lambs.

Slow Demand: Turnips, lettuce, cranberries, dressed pork, and live calves.

Fruits and Vegetables.

Apples, gr A bbl	$6.25	$7.25
Cranberries, bbl.	10.00	12.00
Oranges, box	4.75	6.00
Cabbage, bl.	4.00	5.00
Carrots, bu.	1.35	1.65
Celery, doz. bunches	1.35	1.60
Lettuce, doz.	1.25	1.50
Onions, bu.	1.40	1.75
Parsnips, bu.	2.50	3.00
Potatoes, nat. bu.	1.25	1.35
Potatoes, sweet, bu.	1.50	1.75
Turnips, bu	1.00	1.25

Poultry and Dairy.

Chickens, live, lb.	.24	.27
Chickens, dressed, lb.	.35	.43
Fowl, live, lb.	.25	.30
Fowl, dressed, lb.	.30	.36
Geese, dressed, lb.	.32	.35
Eggs, Conn. newlaid, fan...	36	.38
Eggs, Conn., hennery	.34	.36
Eggs, Conn., gathered	.32	.34
Eggs, western	.39	.42
Butter, best tub, lb.	.48	.50
Butter, best print, lb.	.51	.53

Meat Products.

Calces, best live, lb.	.11	.12
Calves, heavy, lb.	.08	.11
Cows, live, nat. 100 lbs.	1.50	3.00
Cows, live, nat. com.	2.00	3.00
Cows, milch, hd.	70.00	125.00
Steers, nat. 100 lbs.	6.25	7.50
Hogs, live, 100 lbs.	7.25	9.25
Ham, best smoked, lb.	.22	.25
Lard, pure, lb.	.13 3-4
Beef, prime, lb.	.15
Beef, medium, lb.	.12	.14
Cows, dressed, lb.	.11	.12
Cows, com., dressed, lb.	.08	.09
Lambs, fan., lb.	.25	.27
Veal, medium, lb.	.18	.19
Veal, fan., western, lb.	.19	.20
Veal, fan., nat. lb.	.20	.22

Grain.

Bran 100 lbs.	2.05	2.15
Corn, No. 1, 100 lbs.	2.00	2.10
Cottonseed meal, 100 lbs.	3.25	3.35
Dry mash, 100 lbs.	3.05	3.15
Flour, 96 lbs. sack	8.50	9.50
Gluten, 100 lbs.	2.70	2.80
Hominy chop, 100 lbs.	2.05	2.15
Linseed meal, 100 lbs.	3.25	3.35
Middlings, std. 100 lbs.	2.05	2.15
Oats, No. 1, 90 lbs.	1.90	2.10
Poultry grain, 100 lbs.	2.55	2.60
Timothy, bale, 100 lbs.	1.50	1.60
Timothy, loose, 100 lbs.	1.30	1.40
Wheat, 100 lbs.	2.90	3.10

Market conditions: The vegetable market remains firm. Maine potatoes ruled firm today with prices well sustained for the better grades. Old cabbage is practically thinned out here. New cabbage taking its place. Quotations on this new grade range from $6.50-$6.75 (a crate). A few baskets of radishes were noticed on the markets this morning selling from $7.25 to $7.75 for 50 bunches in a basket. The onion market is ruling firmer that is, on the fancy grade. The lower to medium grades command irregular prices. The butter markets remain steady. The supplies and the demands in a good many cases made it easy to sustain over the previous quotations. Buying has slackened down slightly possibly due to the relatively high prices existing on the good grades. L

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

County Game Warden Charles Letters of Putnam announced while in Danielson at the week end that he is to establish a patrol of the brooks in eastern Windham county well ahead of the trout fishing season, a week from next Sunday—April 1.

This special activity is to checkmate the few who are not good sportsmen and get out and raid the brooks ahead of the legal time for taking trout. The principal trout brooks hereabouts will be kept under close supervision, especially such brooks as Snake Meadow, Quandock, Blackwell's and a few others that are the most popular with the fishermen. Mashentuck brook is another of these streams.

It is going to go hard this year with those who are not fair enough with the fishing public to await the opening of the season. It is generally known among the fishermen that a few steal out early each year late in March and bring in some good catches. This is 100 per cent. cheating against fishermen who obey the law, but it is done and the problem is to check it. The patrols that are to be put out will help. And those who make up the patrols have the best wishes of all true sportsmen that they round up every violator of the law.

At the masses at St. James' church on Sunday Rev. John Roux, M. S., the pastor, gave an especially interesting and valuable sermon on St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, and his influence, extending down through the centuries, on the people of the Emerald Isle. In the course of the sermon Father Roux referred to the influence of the Irish monks on the religious and secular culture of the world having a long period of turmoil that threatened the whole structure of civilization and learning. These monks journeyed to what is now known as France, to Germany, to Italy and other countries—bringing their message of faith and spreading knowledge of the arts and sciences when all such knowledge seemed doomed to perish from the earth. Reference, too, was made by Father Roux to the steadfastness of Irish, in the face of every trial and tribulation and the most bitter persecution, in their consistant adherence to the faith. The sermon was unusually impressive.

Business men are warned in a statement issued Sunday afternoon by Chief John McFarland to be on as the watch for shoplifters who are operating here. A complaint from one business man is to the effect that two ladies' suits were stolen from his store on Saturday and it is regarded as almost certain that other goods were lifted and taken away the same day. Chief McFarland desires that this information be broadcasted in order that all business men may be on their guard against raids of this sort.

One little female dog is the cause of a serious predicament for an alien resident of Goodyear. He was brought into the town court Saturday morning and sentenced to serve 30 days in jail for having this dog—unlicensed for a period of several years. The evidence is that the dog was registered the first year the man owned it, but has been allowed to go unlicensed for about four years. When the round up of unlicensed dogs began a few days ago this man came down and registered the dog, but in the meantime officials had been informed about the case and ordered him into court. An appeal has been taken from the 30 day jail sentence, and in the meantime it has been discovered that the accused is the sole support of his wife, her sister and two small children. This is a consideration that likely will win him clemency.

Two bundles, evidently lost out of a car, are held at the police station for identification. What the bundles contain can not be revealed here, as it will be incumbent upon anyone claiming them to prove their contents. The packages are not especially valuable, but the one who lost them will appreciate getting them back.

Today Plainfield owners of unlicensed dogs will come into court to answer to their negligence. About 15 such owners have been rounded up by Deputy William Jarvis of the bureau of domestic animals, Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer and County Game Warden Charles Letters during the closing days of the past week. The work in Plainfield is a part of the campaign now under way in towns hereabouts to make all dog owners register the animals or come into court and pay for attempting to evade that requirement.

Saturday morning from her home in Dayville the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Brennan was held with services at St. Joseph's church in that place at 9 o'clock. Rev. Ignatius Kost, the pastor, Rev. John Roux, M. S., and Rev. J. E. Shelby, M. S., were officers of the solemn high mass of requiem. The bearers were John Casey, George Foster, John Kelley, Frederick Howarth, Frank Mignault and Harry Wright. The body was entombed at Holy Cross cemetery in Danielson. Louis E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

From his home in Wauregan Saturday morning the funeral of Louis St. Onge was held with services at the Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Mathieu was celebrant of the high mass of requiem. The body was placed in the tomb at Sacred Heart cemetery. Relatives acted as bearers. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

A novelty among the grafters who appear to be increasing in numbers in this territory is a foreign appearing man with swarthy and pitted skin who entered a local business place at the week end and represented himself as being of the firm of Briery and Lambard. He tried to borrow money on the strength of this imposing connection and the known value of the firm, which has stores in Philadelphia and Worcester, in this town. The matter was reported to the police. A telephone call to the Worcester store of the company concern revealed that the stranger is a crook and that he has been attempting to get money in this territory under false pretense.

No one can charge that the state highway department is not on the job. Its trucks were out Sunday morning scraping state highway surface that are breaking down as winter passes out. With this spirit of enterprise manifest motorists who are at all reasonable will not complain because state highways are not in midsummer condition. There will be still realization that every effort is being made to get the roads in good condition at the earliest possible minute.

Nearly 100 sportsmen who heard Supt. J. W. Titcomb of the state fish and game commission give his talk before the Danielson Rod and Gun club at its banquet at the Attawaugan hotel at the week end will be glad to have him come back again whenever he finds the opportunity. Supt. Titcomb is what the man in the street would call a regular guy. His views as to enforcing the fish and game laws found the full support of the club members—because their views are so reasonable. Supt. Titcomb assured the club membership of the full co-operation of his department in supplying fish and game for this territory. This year 5,000 pheasants will be available for release in the state. There will be more trout distributed than ever before and Supt. Titcomb says that a liberal supply will be made available for eastern Windham county.

The Danielson Rod and Gun club now has about 250 members, representing all the communities from Plainfield to North Grosvenordale, and all of this territory will benefit from the club's restocking activities.

Assistant Treasurer Herman M. Coulter and Supt. C. W. Young of the Goodyear Mills, Inc., of this town will be in Akron, O., on March 24 to attend the annual banquet of the Goodyear Flying Squadron, which will bring together officials of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company from California to Canada.

Announcement was made at the masses Sunday at St. James' church of the death of Rev. John P. Fox, of Hartford, a curate at St. James church a quarter of a century ago, and still well remembered by older members of the parish.

PUTNAM

Two hundred dollars was added to the fund for building a nurses' home for the Day Kimball hospital as the result of an evening during which there was a dinner followed by cards at the Mashamoquet inn, Pomfret. Putnam, Pomfret, Woodstock and Thompson was well represented and the gathering taxed the capacity of the fashionable hostlery on select Pomfret street. The dinner was planned and carried out by Mr. and Mrs. William C. van der Lann, who conduct the inn. Cooks and waitresses of the various inns in Pomfret donated their services. Merchants of Putnam and Pomfret contributed generously of foods, flowers and articles for prizes. Flowers were sold at the end of the evening and, with a generous donation, the fund reached the substantial amount as stated above.

A New Haven wrecking company is tearing down the St. Onge building on Main street, one of the old land marks of Putnam. The old wooded structure will give way to a modern building to be used as a home of the Putnam Savings bank. It is expected that the old building will be removed by April 1st and, while bank officials have little to say concerning their plans, it is understood that building operations will begin as soon as the lot has been cleared.

Among the members on a St. Patrick's day programme given by pupils of Mt. St Joseph's Academy, Hartford, was a solo, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," by Miss Katrina Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Thayer of this city.

Members of the Putnam Chamber of Commerce are discussing the advisability of staging a vehicle parade some Saturday afternoon in Putnam. If the plan carries to effect it will include the venerable coach and one horse shay down to the most modern automobile. It is believed that tucked away in the barns in eastern Windham county are equipages of years ago that would be viewed with interest by the presen generation.

The first automobile ever used in Putnam is still in the possession of its owner, Whitman Danielson of Putnam Heights. It is one cylinder affair and would be given a place of honor in the parade. If the plan is worked out it will be a unique spectacle.

The honor roll for the third marking period at the Putnam High school was given out this week by Principal E. H. Snow. It is interesting to notice that while the enrollment of the school is about 220, the honor rolls, including those students with averages over 80 per cent., totals 146, or two-thirds of the enrollment. On the first honor roll there are 34 students, of whom 12 are seniors, eight juniors, eight sophomores and six freshmen. These scholars have an average of 90 to 100 per cent. Seniors, Sarah Barber, Thara Ames, Joseph Bove, Grace Buell, Alice Clapp, Sybil Converse, Florence Damforth Ruth Davis, Rhea De Coudres, Hazel Greene, Chandler Morse and Elizabeth Rafferty. Juniors, Alice Alvord, Helen Botham, Lucy Bove, Susan Chilkott, Ruth Fallon, Genevieve Letters, Everett Mann and James Mann. Sophomores, Pauline Beaudreault, Perry Barber, Gerard Cartier, Ada Chandler, Giselle Magnant, Gertrude Marion, Frances Obletz, Margaret Sherlock. Freshmen, Prudence Dean, Edmaer Guy, Jane Haines, Frances Miller, Bessie Obletz, Arthur Pominville.

Second honor roll (85-90 per cent., 56 Students): Seniors, Ina Aldrich, Thelma Bosworth, Herbert Clark, Ruth Cohen, Carl Geissler, Sophie Harrison, Fosdick Harrison, Mildred Perry, James Rice, Myrtice Warden, Dunbar Davis, Ruth Botham, Ruth Chase, Ralph Davis, Irving Emlott, Franklin Perry, Mildred Hattin, Gerald Marcy, Allen Thayer, Margaret Murphy, James McEriety, Celeste Reeves, Mollie Smith. Sophomores, Dorothy Chapman, Andrew Chilkott, Leosa Daigle, Ruth DeCoudres, Ida Dugas, Helen French, Maude Greene, Minot Horne, Margaret Jacobson, Tillie Kaminsky, Madeline McCoy, Rudolph Metty, Ellis Pritchard, Bella Simon, Florence Spellacy, Sadie altas, Freshmen, Norman Amidon, Archille Bourque, Leosa Darsuisseau, Mabel Farquhar, Goodwin Jacobson, Eleanor Johnson, Celia Kaminsky, Dorothy Kenyon, Hazel Mongeon, Pulla Rawley, Marjorie Shippee, Martha Torrey, Simone Trottier, Ida Vacher, Lewis White, Mabel Whiting.

Thord honor roll (80-84 per cent., 46 students): Seniors, Blanche Baker, Clarissa Griggs, Michael Maher, Christine Murray, Celia Olson, Edith Pease, Elizabeth Rich, Ruth Shaw. Juniors, Dorothy Ames, Robert Bruce, Harry Davis, Herbert Keith, Ruth Sweet. Sophomores, Stanley Amidon, Alice Andrew, Doris Barrett, Marion Holden, Sidney King, Jennie Obletz, Carl Tilquist, Marion Wilcox. Freshmen, Katherine Allard, Harold Arnold, Arthur Bellerose, Rose Bernier, Doris Bonin, Gordon Caffrey, Hazel Davis, Phoebe Franklin, Lois Ransom, Seconds: Rovers, Alfred St. Onge, Roy Thompson, Irene Chandler, Ia Dupre, George Gilpatric, Catherine Hackett, Caroline Harrington, Loretta Magnant, Doris McCoy, Helen Maher, Terence McGarry, James Valda, Pearl Morst, Fabiola Page. Special student, Leon T. Wilson, Jr.

Woodstock camp, Ahanaseek, observed Campfire's eleventh birthday by going to Danielson, Saturday, where they had supper with Camp Aquinuk. Fifteen girls, with their guardian, Mrs. Harrison, were taken to Danielson in a truck. The Danielson Camp Fire Girls, under Miss Louis Danielson, served supper at the Congregational church. In the evening a council fire was held.

At the home of Attorney and Mrs. Howard C. Bradford, South Main street, Miss Dorothy Bradford entertained a number of her friends Saturday afternoon in honor of her ninth birthday. Games were played and a luncheon served including ice cream and a birthday cake.

BROADWAY

B. F. KEITH STANDARD VAUDEVILLE—Exclusive Photoplays

TODAY, TUES., WED.—STELLAR PROGRAM

—EXTRAORDINARY SPECIAL ATTRACTION—

OWEN KELLY & GOLDEN GATE SYNCOPATORS

IN A MELANGE OF MIRTH, MELODY, SONG, MUSIC AND DANCE

7-PEOPLE-7 SPECIAL SCENIC EFFECTS

McDONALD & OAKS DANCE NOVELTY

RUTH DAVIS in "BITS OF ORIGINALITIES"

NERRITT & MANN COMEDIANS

RAY & FAY in "THE TIN WEDDING"

—PHOTOPLAY FEATURE—

ALICE LAKE and star cast in

THE PICTURIZATION OF THE GREAT STAGE DRAMA OF HOME

"More to be Pitied Than Scorned"

COMING! Cecil B. De Mille's "ADAM'S RIB"

NO. GROSVENORDALE MAN BOUND OVER ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Putnam, March 19.—Eddie Ostrowski of North Grosvenordale was arrested Saturday afternoon by Officer Neri Cederre of North Grosvenordale on a charge of manslaughter and was held in $2,000 bonds for the superior court. He was arraigned before Justice Percy Tourtellotte at two o'clock. Grand Juror Bellerose assisted by Attorney Howard C. Bradford of the state attorney's office, represented the state and Joseph Love of Webster represented the accused. A demurrer to the compaint was entered and overruled and no evidence was presented.

Ostrowski is accused of criminal negligence in causing the death of Al Lundstrom, middleweight wrestler whose home was in North Grosvenordale. Lunstrum died at St. Vincent's hospital, Worcester, May 1st, 1922, two weeks after injuries resulting in a collision between an automobile driven by Ostrowski and a motorcycle on which Lundstrom was riding to work.

After the accident Ostrowski was arrested for reckless driving and was fined. After Lundstrom's death he was taken into custody on order of the county coroner and taken to jail. He secured bonds and was released. After an inquest the coroner found that Lundstrom's death was the result of criminal carelessness and the arrest of Ostrowski followed.

PLAINFIELD

The Plainfield big five defeated a team of New Haven stars at the Community house Friday night 35-25. The game was fast throughout and the clean playing of both fives made the game doubly interesting. The first half ended 16-13 with the home team on the long end.

Jack Murphy led the home team in scoring with 12 points making several difficult shots. As a whole the local team out-played and out-generaled the visitors, team work winning the game. O'Brien showed that he is a great shot maker and one of the cleverest forwards playing amateur rules. Professional rules hampered the visitors to a great extent, although amateur rules were played during the first half they were not strictly enforced

	G	F	Pts.
Reddy, lf	2	0	4
Bidre, rf	4	0	8
Murphy, c	4	0	8
Murphy, J., rf	5	0	10
Nolan, lg	0	0	0
	16	0	32
Richter, lf	5	1	11
O'Brien, rf	5	1	10
Mansfield, c	0	0	0
Alling, lg	0	0	0
Rothchild, rf	0	0	0
	11	1	23

Referees, Fontaine and Beane. Timer, Marston.

In the first game of the evening the Buddies defeated the fast Taftville Bearcats team 25-12. The game was one of the best and fastest games ever played at the local playhouse, and both teams were given generous support for their hard work. Struthers, Mercier, and Lacourse played a great game for the home team while Cardio starred for the visitors:

	G	F	Pts.
Ribeau, rg	0	0	0
Lacourse, lf	1	0	2
Cooper, c	2	0	4
Mercier, rf	7	0	14
Struthers, rg	2	1	5
Windsor, lg	0	0	0
	12	1	27

	G	F	Pts.
Raquette, rf	1	0	2
Lemieur, lf	0	0	0
Cardle, c	2	2	6
Breault, rg	1	0	2
Murphy, lg	1	0	2
	4	2	12

Referee Fontaine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pember attended Thursday the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Andrew Pember, who died in Norwich after suffering from two shocks.

Miss Ella A. Gray, of Plainfield, died March 8th, in Dayville, after a few days' sickness from grip. The funeral service was held in Central Village, Rev. M. F. Macomber officiating. The burial will be later in the Dow Gallup cemetery.

William P. Barstow is confined to his home suffering from an attack of the grip.

Charles A. Jerome has so far recovered from his long illness that he is able to be in the post office again and his many friends are glad to see him back once more at his post of responsibility. The young ladies who have had charge of the office during Mr. Jerome's illness have wone the admiration of the public for their faithful service.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Dawley were out of town on Sunday, calling on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baton of Wauregan.

Harold Lewis who has been unable to work for over three weeks, on account of serious illness has returned to his work in Lawton Mills.

John Whitman fell in Voluntown and seriously injured his knee and hand. He is slowly recovering, although still very lame.

Miss Hattie Tarbox has been confined to her bed for eight weeks and is still in a serious condition.

On Thursday afternoon the third inter-class basketball game was played at the Community house, the Seniors playing the Juniors of the High School. A good crowd was present to cheer the game which was a defeat for the Seniors. The Juniors won by the score of 21 to 14.

Sergeant Philip Delp, stationed at Panama, on a recent leave of absence, visited his wife and children, arriving on Sunday night and returning Tuesday evening. Mrs. Delp and her two little children are at present stopping with George Barstow, of Canterbury Plain.

Arthur Moffitt and Mrs. Everett Dawley visited Mrs. Ernest Wilde last week, who with her mother, Mrs. William Eyes of Central Village. Mrs. Wilde is recovering very slowly from her long, and serious illness.

LEONARD BRIDGE

It was recalled by a Lebanon resident that March 12th was the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Loomis of Meadville, Mo. Both Mr. and Mrs. Loomis were former residents here. Mrs. Loomis, who was Miss Hattie Kneeland, was united in marriage to William B. Loomis on March 12, 1873, by the late Rev. John Avery, then pastor of the Exeter Congregational church. The wedding was witnessed by a large circle of relatives and friends, but as far as can be recalled only four or five of those present then are now living, aside from the bride and groom. Both Mr. and Mrs. Loomis are enjoying good health and are now pleasantly situated in Meadville, Mo. They have two daughters, Mrs. Mae Loomis Cady and Mrs. Evelyn Loomis Alderson, and one son, Albert Loomis. One son, Arthur Loomis, died a few years ago. There are several grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Loomis' children were all born in Missouri with the exception of their first child, Mrs. Mae Loomis Cady, who has the distinction of being the seventh generation of the Loomis family to be born at the Loomis homestead here, now owned by Mrs. David Walsh, who is a niece of Mrs. Loomis.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Cummings has returned from a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. Alfred Hughes, at Providence, R. I.

James Choquette returned Sunday from a trip to Middletown.

News has been received of the death of the 10 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Durfee of New London of acute indigestion. Mr. Durfee was a former resident here and is a brother of Mrs. Henry L. Watrous.

The old Wheaton place at Exeter was sold at public auction Saturday by Tax Collector George E. Briggs to recover unpaid taxes and accrued interest. Clayton Root purchased the property.

A chimney fire at the home of Max Lubetsky caused quite a little excitement Wednesday, but was finally subdued before any damage was done.

Friends and former neighbors of Mrs. Fred J. Brown were grieved to learn of her death Wednesday evening at the home of her son, Fred O. Brown, in Colchester, after a short illness with pneumonia. Mrs. Brown had lived in this place the major part of her life and was beloved and respected by all who knew her.

Chester—At a special town meeting held in the town hall a thirty-mill tax was laid to meet the running expenses of the town.

EAGLES' ROOMS

MONDAY, MARCH 19th, '23

Judge MacDonald

OF KANSAS CITY

WILL GIVE A PUBLIC ADDRESS ON THE

"OLD AGE PENSION AND EAGLEDOM"

THE PUBLIC INVITED

EAGLES' ROOMS AT 8:00 P. M.

24 SHETUCKET STREET

Will Be Completed In Two Weeks

VENICE

Formerly known as the Chelsea Boat Club has been remodeled and turned into a beautiful Open-Air Dancing Pavilion for Summer — Gas, steam heated for Winter—Also a beautiful Lodge Meeting Room. We are ready to rent the entire premises to a responsible party. See A. M. Pasnik of The Pasnik Co., Norwich.

BREED THEATRE

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday

JACK PICKFORD in GARRISON FINISH

Based on W. B. Townsend's

Thoroughbreds Three

THE GIRL—As pure and sweet as a baby's smile, fragrant with daintiness and symbolic of all that makes Kentucky's womanhood revered at home and abroad.

THE BOY—Young, impetuous and with an inherent faith in all mankind; clean-minded, honest almost to a fault; loyal to the point of personal peril.

THE HORSE—Big and upstanding, kindly of eye, fleet as the Blue Grass winds, gentle as the zephyrs, yet as staunch-hearted and as courageous as any jungle beast.

THE THREE—In a Jack Pickford photoplay alive with action; so thrilling that it hurts, so entrancing that it holds. A great star in a great story with a great cast.

PATHE NEWS EDUCATIONAL COMEDY

NIANTIC

A meeting of the local Y. M. C. A. group was held Wednesday evening in the office of the Niantic Lace company. C. C. Hatfield, state Y. M. C. A. secretary, who has charge of the community work, was present and gave an interesting talk, after which the boys took up the interesting contest. The attendance was 98. The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, March 21, at which time officers will address the group.

Cards have been received by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. MacIntyre announcing the extended business trip through the southern states. Two cards received found him located at Charleston, W. Va., for a few days.

Bay View lodge, No. 129, A. F. & A. M., met Saturday evening at the lodge room.

H. M. Swinney and Miss Morton motored to Hartford Thursday. Morton was at Westerly, R. I., the following day.

Mrs. A. A. Lanzetti is visiting Mrs. Jennie Stoddard on Main street for several days.

Mrs. Ida Bailey has returned to her home in Jan Jan.

Percy Wheeler of New York city is making an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Wheeler, who recently returned from the south and opened their bungalow at Crescent Beach.

The Parent-Teachers association of Niantic Center school gave a supper Thursday evening in the school lunch room. The proceeds are for the benefit of the teachers.

Mrs. Emma Fisher of the Niantic house was the guest of Mrs. Ella V. Weir at Pine Grove Thursday.

George Clark, who recently purchased the George Howard property on Main street, has taken possession. Station Agent and Mrs. Charles A. Beckwith will vacate soon and the apartment will be occupied by Mr. Clark's son, Lester Clark, and his family.

Walter G. Allen is painting the exterior of his cottage.

Mrs. Adam F. Bishop was in New London Thursday on a shopping trip.

Earnham Francis of the village was a caller in Pine Grove Thursday.

Mrs. V. G. Thomas has returned to her apartment in the village after an extended trip to New York city, going down to see her daughter, who is ill for a few days.

Pay View lodge, No. 129, A. F. & A. M., met Saturday evening at the lodge room.

WEST KINGSTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maine and family of Wyoming visited relatives here Sunday afternoon.

Alasoun Rice of Exeter was a recent caller in this village.

Mrs. Myrtle Briggs of Alton visited Mrs. Richard H. Eristow Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Pickles of Providence is expected to conduct services at the church here Sunday.

Miss Lucinda Roomes of Usquepaugh died Sunday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Walmsley. Where she has made her home since the death of her husband. She was 93 years. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon.

A. E. Wilcox, a long time resident of this village, passed away at his home here Thursday afternoon. His health had been poor for a long time, but he had been confined to his bed only a short time. His wife is very feeble. He leaves two sons and two daughters and several grandchildren.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Today is the 175th anniversary of the birth of Elias Hicks, founder of the Hicksite branch of the Society of Friends.

Greetings to William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, on the occasion of his 63rd birthday anniversary.

Rt. Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, Catholic bishop of Detroit, today celebrates his 30th anniversary in the priesthood.

The second general meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce, to consider problems of world trade, opens in Rome today.

An address by William G. McAdoo is to be a feature of the annual Eastern Carolina Exposition, which opens today at Wilson, N. C.

The interstate commerce commission today will begin a series of hearings in the west, to give western communities and state authorities opportunity to present views on railroad consolidation. The first hearing will be held at St. Paul.

Attorneys-general of Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan and Minnesota meet in Chicago today to discuss plans for united action against the state of Illinois and the Chicago sanitary district to prevent "further illegal diversion of Lake Michigan water through the Chicago drainage canal."

Devon—The announcement recently made relative to the formation of a new republican club has started the rumor that a club of a like nature is to be started at Devon, and according to reports a meeting is called for next week.

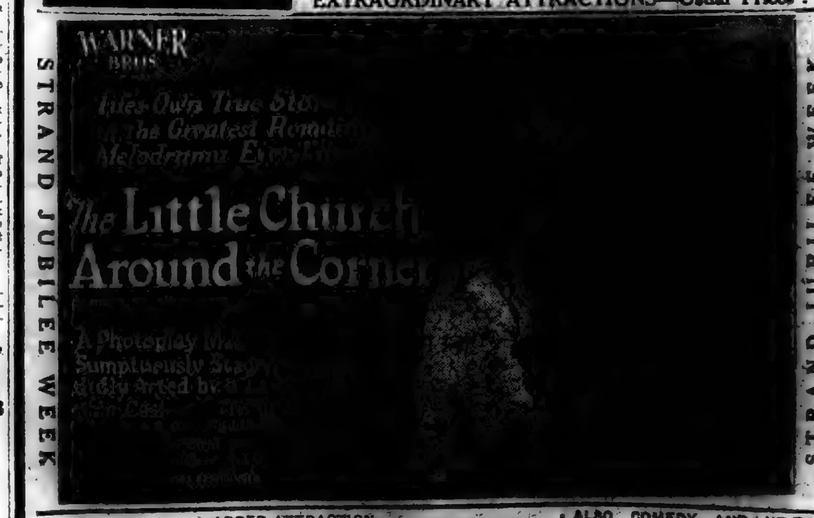
STRAND

THIS IS A STRAND JUBILEE WEEK

TODAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY—3 DAYS ONLY

EXTRAORDINARY ATTRACTIONS—Usual Prices!

STRAND JUBILEE WEEK



STRAND JUBILEE WEEK

—ADDED ATTRACTION—

H. C. WITWER'S Tremendously Popular

WEEKLY

FIGHTING BLOOD

SPARKLING, HUMOROUS AND ROMANTIC STORIES FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN AS WELL AS THE MEN

ALSO COMEDY AND UP-TO-DATE NEWS WEEKLY

Thurs., Fri., Sat.

The Peak in Entertainment Double Feature Bill

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

IN HIS LATEST COMEDY

"THE PILGRIM"

ALSO

WESLEY BARRY

—IN—

"RAGS TO RICHES"

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

There probably never was a motion picture in which so many widely separated "locations" played such a big part in intensifying interest in the story as is the case in Jack Pickford's new production, Garrison's Finish, which in a notable way, marks this popular star's return to the screen after an absence of about two years during which time he has been directing his famous sister, Mary Pickford.

Scenes of the Kentucky Derby at Louisville, also the Metropolitan Handicap at New York, and other scenes at San Francisco, Pasadena, Exposition Park, Los Angeles, and on the Mojave Deseret are included in this Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release which is the feature at the Breed theatre today and Tuesday. It would seem the whole picture would be monopolized by these outdoor scenes but through the ingenuity of Elmer Harris, who wrote and supervised the production, there is a plentitude of interior scenes of elaborate settings. These include handsome drawing rooms, dining halls and glorious old periods of Southern homes of the wealthy. The dining hall "set" is one of the largest and finest ever built for a screen play, containing a magnificent horseshoe-shaped table at which nearly a hundred guests dine.

Most of the handsome interiors are peopled during the action by beautifully gowned women and debonair young men in the conventional black.

One interesting "set" in "Garrison's Finish is a complete home exterior and interior, which was built on the closed stage of the Pickford-Fairbanks Studios. Surrounding this neat structure was a fine verdant lawn through which winds white gravel pathways. All the rooms of a modern bungalow were completely finished and furnished and much of the action takes place in these.

In order to round out the continuity, an exact replica of the judges' stand of a prominent eastern race-track was built on the lot, including a practical interior in which there is much of the exciting action.

The Pathe news and an Educational comedy make up the remainder of the bill.

At the Broadway Theatre

Some extraordinary B. F. Keith vaudeville attractions will be seen at the Broadway theatre for the first half of this week starting today.

The headline attraction is Owen Kelly and The Golden Gate Syncopators. This company consists of seven people who know how to sing, dance, play instruments and produce comedy making, in all a worthwhile headliner. A special set of scenery and electrical effects help make the production a success.

McDonald and Oaks are extraordinary dancers; Ruth Davis offers Bits of Originalities; Nerrit & Mann are comedians, capable of causing hearty laughter and last but not least comes Ray and Fay in a novel comedy skit called A Tin Wedding.

The greatest of the stage successes produced by Charles E. Blaney has been screened by C. B. C. Productions, Inc., of New York, and will be shown at the Broadway theatre starting today.

"More to be Pitied Than Scorned" is a thrilling drama of home and stage, throbbing with heart interest, quivering with suspense—holding the spectator spellbound with its wealth of tear and smile-provoking situations.

Directed by a master of the megaphone and enacted by a company of players who represent the highest development of screen art, this picture bids fair to break all records for popularity.

The critics of New York have been unanimous in their expressions of approval and their predictions for its success.

Jubilee Week at the Strand Starting Today

The management of the Strand theatre has prepared some excellent entertainment for the patrons of that popular playhouse for one solid week starting today. One hundred per cent. entertainment and added attractions will be in vogue.

"The Little Church Around the Corner," the Warner Brothers' Classic of the screen, which will be shown at the Strand theatre, beginning today is a screen adaptation of the famous stage play by Charles Blaney. It has played in almost every theatre throughout the country, and is conceded to be the most popular romantic melodrama ever produced.

Much time and great expense went into the making of this picture. A mine specially constructed on the Warner Brothers' lot, cost above $25,000. It was an exact reproduction of a Pennsylvania mine, with shafts, underground passages, coal beds. Half a mile of tracks were installed and a street of miners' houses built.

It is said that Director William Seiter changed to be present during the Argonaut gold mine fire in California, when a score of men were trapped. His impressions of the disaster were put to use in directing the mine scenes of this picture.

The cast includes Claire Windsor, Kenneth Harlan, Hobart Bosworth, Walter Long, Alec Francis, Pauline Stark, George Cooper, Margaret Seddon, Winter Hall, Cyril Chadwick and Tom Kennedy.

The Little Church Around the Corner, is the story of David Graham and Lelia Morton. Within David's heart is torn with struggle. He longs to return to his people—the poor of a working town—preach to them and make their lives happy. His love for Lelia Morton, the beautiful daughter of Morton, the millionaire mine owner, keeps him among the rich. He deceives himself into believing his fight against hypocrisy and vice will reform them. They consider him in the light of a matinee idol. Suddenly he wakes up to his plight. In a fit of revulsion he leaves the town returns to the home of his birth, in time to witness a great disaster in which scores of miners' lives are imperilled.

The college boys and girls of America, with their amusing pranks, their secret fraternities, their wholesome, jolly good times; the romances of the worldly youth of twenty and the utterly alluring flapper of seventeen; the joys and sorrows of first love, the hopes and disappointments and ambitions of Youth will be seen in all their co-ed glory in a picturisation of H. C. Witwer's story of eager, pulsating young America. "Fighting Blood" one "round" of which will be shown at the Strand theatre starting today is an extra attraction that is as good as most feature productions. The usual comedy and news will also be seen.

Derby—A fine of $100 and costs was imposed on Tony Puopolo, who was charged with violation of the liquor laws when arraigned before Deputy Judge Archibald Dunbell in the city court.

COUGH

Try PISO'S

F. W. HILLENBRAND & SONS, Successors to F. E. & F. W. Illingham, Centre Village, Conn. FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS. Tel. Moosup 61-4. Night Call—Danielson 61-4.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN.

MCALLISTER—In Springfield, March 9, 1922, a daughter, Ruth Evelyn, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAllister, the former formerly of this city.

DIED

MARTIN—In New London, March 17, 1922, George F. Martin, in his 53d year.

HILLIAR—In New London, March 16, 1922, Luella Bertram, wife of Bindloss H. Hilliar, aged 71 years.

FARNSWORTH—In New London, March 17, 1922, Josephine Locke, wife of J. Wells Farnsworth.

WILCOX—In West Kingston, R. I., March 15, 1922, A. Eugene Wilcox, brother of the late William B. Wilcox of Norwich Town.

FUNERAL NOTICES

FANNING—Mrs. Mary E. Fanning, 85 years of age, widow of George Fanning, formerly of Ledyard, died Saturday, March 17, 1922, at her home, No. 11 Deerfield avenue, Hartford, Conn. Funeral will be held Tuesday, March 20, 1922, at No. 23 Deerfield avenue, Hartford, Conn. Burial in Cedar Hill cemetery, Hartford.

NEALON—In this city, March 17, 1922, Mrs. Patrick Nealon of 75 Mowry avenue.

Funeral at her late residence Tuesday morning, March 20, at 8 o'clock. Solemn requiem mass in St. Mary's Memorial church at 9 o'clock. Burial in family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

HOLDEN—In Palmertown (Montville), March 17, 1922, Adella P. Groat, wife of the late Thomas Holmes, aged 75 years.

Funeral at her late home, Palmertown, Wednesday (Monday) afternoon, March 19, at 2 o'clock. Burial in Comstock cemetery.

[illegible]—In Providence, March 16, 1922, Mary Mason Baker, wife of E [illegible] of Sterling.

Funeral services Tuesday, March 20, at 2 o'clock at her late home, Sterling Hill. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

[illegible]—In Jewett City, March 18, 1922, Mrs. Roxanna Dennison widow of Asher Dennison, aged 75 years, [illegible] of Voluntown.

Funeral at the home of Alfred Palmer, Palmer avenue, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Funeral services in the Baptist church. Jewett City at 3 o'clock. Burial in Pachaug cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks to the neighbors and friends who showed us many acts of sympathy and kindness during our recent bereavement, the death of Mrs. Jane Leary. We feel especially grateful to those who sent flowers to the funeral.

MRS. JENNIE GRADY AND SONS.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

CUMMINGS & RING
Successors to Church & Allen
329 Main Street
Phone 328-3 Lady Assistant

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
65 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 416-2
DAVID H. WILSON

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER.
Tel. 1266. Providence St., Taftville.

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

FLORISTS

FERNS, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 956-2. Free delivery. mar20

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, dumping trucks for hire. 21 Cliff St., or Uncas. Tel. 617-12. jan26

Est. 1874. [illegible] Tel. 126.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking and Teaming, Furniture and Piano Moving.
Shetucket St.

C. B. SUMLEY, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving sutlers and mechinery. Tel. 1388-4. m9d

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Kinnebrook, 17 Bogwell Ave. Tel. 1341.

TRUCKING and moving, long distance trucking a specialty. John L. Ford, 233 Main St. Phone 782.

C. B. SUMLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 328.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

ORDERS taken for New Haven Wall Paper Co. Call and see samples. Mrs. A. M. Kennedy, 50 Union St. mar14WFM

JOHN F. AMBURN & CO., painting, paperhanging and decorating; estimates cheerfully furnished. 190 Laurel Hill Ave. mar15d

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 31 Willow St., near Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of color. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. jan31d

FOR SALE—Paint, $1.25 per gal., regular $2.50 grade; wallpaper, 10c per roll. Reed Skinner, 153 West Main St. next to Fire Station. mar14

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 569-12. jan16d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Jobbing. 129 Main St. Phone 921.

CHIROPODIST

A. S. THOMPSON, F. S. C., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (orthetic your feet). Suite 7-8 Allen Bldg., 251 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1364-4. mar14

WHEN YOU WANT to put your name before the public there is no better way than through the columns of The Bulletin. Phone 35.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Girl or woman to assist with housework. Plasuk, 79 Williams St. mar14d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to assist with light housework. Address M. D. V., care of Bulletin. mar16d

Wanted—Girls
Apply All Week
RATNER & WERMAN, Inc.
18 Thames St.

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Position by middle aged married man, Protestant, driving private or truck; 12 years' experience. Write Box 175, Bulletin. mar18d

HERE is an opportunity: ten thousand accountants needed by revenue agents; why not get one of these $3,000 a year places, with the help of Norwich Commercial School, day evening or mail courses, 50 Franklin St. mar18FMW

WANTED—Man to take care of furnace and horse and do the work around the place. Phone 36-4 Willimantic Div. mar19d

WANTED—Boy, at least 16 years of age. Apply West Side Silk Mill. mar15d

Wanted—Boys
Apply All Week
RATNER & WERMAN, Inc.
18 Thames St.

MAN WANTED
A good husky, willing Man to work in our Tannery.
THE ULMER LEATHER CO.
Norwich, Conn.

WANTED
FIFTEEN LABORERS
RICHMOND RADIATOR COMPANY

WANTED
SPINNERS for Night Work, on Davis and Furber Mules. Apply Joseph Hall & Son, Inc., Trading Cove Mill.

WANTED
ROPING CARRIER
JOSEPH HALL & SON, Inc.
Trading Cove Mill

WANTED
An efficient male bookkeeper—one capable of taking charge of office. State experience and salary. Permanent position.
Address BOX J., Bulletin.

POULTRY

FOR SALE—S. C. R. I. Red eggs for hatching, from white diarrhea tested stock. W. W. Service, Norwich, R. D. 1. Tel. 1852-3. mar13d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; gas proof feature; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville, Conn. feb2d.

BABY CHICKS; free feed; popular breeds; prepaid guaranteed delivery; send for catalog. Roy Clark, E. Hartford, Ct. jan3d

MALL BROTHERS' baby chicks. White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. B. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec3d

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

FOR SALE—Tires, 30x3 1-2, $7.50; 32x4, $15; 32x4 $14; 34x4, $15; all first, guaranteed. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St. mar7d

FOR SALE—Ford honeycomb radiators, all brass, guaranteed, $11 up. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St., Norwich. feb1d

NORWICH AUTO and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct12

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, city covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Jos. Aggarusa, Pond St. Phone 1397. mar14d

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing In All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 518 NORTH MAIN STREET

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Well seasoned slab and hard wood H. E. Beard & Son. Phone 615-4. mar15d

FOR SALE—Hard wood four foot long delivered on car of C. V. anywhere between Willimantic and New London. Tel. Willimantic Div. 619-14. William J. Bowler, West Willington. mar14d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; baskets or cords; lowest prices. Phone 542. jan15d

COAL AND SEASONED WOOD and kindlings in large or small quantities. Phone 564 or 1328-2. R. Shapiro, Willow St., formerly Darius Lane. oct12d

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAD, Architect, Room 2, May Building, modernizations, apartments. Tel. 1266.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—Old almanacs before 1900. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar13d

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, Box 353, Norwich. jan17MW

ALL THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS close March 17, St. Patrick's day. Try our Della Casa mild cigar, 10c straight; Andora, mild 7c cigar, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop. mar13d

WANTED—Antiques and old books. C. J. King Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

MIRRORS resilvered in my own shop, at M. A. Sadusky's, 15 Bath St. Phone 719. mar7

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2158. feb21d

WANTED—Pictures and books relating to Chatham. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

WANTED—Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 8 Main St. Telephone 1314-3. jan11d

INTERNATIONAL S. S. and Realty Agency, real estate of all description, insurance, steamship tickets, notary public. John G. Chenenkl, Agt., 149 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. mar4d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weinberg, 25 Market St. Phone 917-2. jy6d

WANTED—Second hand furniture. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture; best prices paid. A. Bruckner, 102 Franklin St. Phone 712-5. my30d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-5. ja23d

WE BUY and pay highest prices for second hand furniture and books. Kremens, successor to King, 44-46 Water St. Phone 1305. ja21d

WANTED—Old law books. C. J. King Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

FREE HOMES WANTED

There are many bright, attractive boys, both Catholic and Protestant, between the ages of 6 and 13 years, for whom we are anxious to find free homes. These children are strong and well and need to be placed with families where they will receive fair treatment and intelligent care.

Anyone interested in any one of these children, kindly communicate with THE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE, State Capitol, Hartford, Conn. mar19d

BAGS
We want several thousand BAGS—Good price paid.
Phone 2300.
YANTIC GRAIN AND PRODUCTS COMPANY
3 Cove Street, Norwich
(Or Any of Our Branches)

WANTED
By manufacturer of food products, about 35,000 square feet, on ground floor, for use as warehouse and distributing agency; preferably with side track facilities. Write Box 35, Bulletin. mar18d

WANTED
To rent or lease a house of seven or more good sized rooms, modern, and with steam or hot water heat; Chelsea Parade section preferred; occupancy by May 1st. Write BOX 575, Bulletin. mar6d

WANTED — WEAVERS
Will Take on a Few Learners
THE FALLS COMPANY
Yantic Street

INSURANCE

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy to-day.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

LOST AND FOUND

WILL the woman who took handbag in toilet in Thayer Bldg. return it to Office 212, Thayer Bldg. and receive reward? mar19d

FOUND—On my place, Saturday morning, top buggy and chain. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. F. F. Cook, R. D. 7. mar19d

LOST—Hound dog, white with tan head; tag No. 71314. Finder notify A. G. Willett, 5 Stanton Ave. mar19d

LOST—A black and tan hound; owner's name on collar. Charles F. Cole of Bozrahville. mar19d

TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE
FARE Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:30 P. M.
$3.38
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y. Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.
The New England Steamship Co.

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
67 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Brief Cases, Etc.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Jersey cow $40, heifer $30, at Dea. A. F. D. No. 2, Willimantic, Conn. mar18d

FOR SALE—Good dairy and hen farm, 54 acres, wood, timber, tools and stock; price $2,800; write Edgar M. Dea, R. F. D. No. 2, Willimantic, Conn. mar18d

WHEN there is any better flour milled than Mother's Best flour, we will sell it. The quality of flour is in the wheat, not in the name on the bag. Priced to sell. Boston Grain Co., Willimantic. mar14FMW

FOR SALE — Grindstones, 30"x4"; right grit for farmers and machine shops. The Chelsea File Works, Inc., Sherman St., Fulton. mar17d

FOR SALE—Modern cottage house with all improvements, located on Laurel Hill Ave., Norwich. Bardick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg. mar17d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Jochs, 370 Asylum St. mar16d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Dehwares, Cobblers and Spaulding Rose. J. E. Young & Sons. mar14d

FOR SALE—Ford truck dumping body. Gilbert Auto Co., Jewett City. mar18d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $35 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Brand new full scale mahogany upright piano, very special at $245; fully guaranteed; terms $2 weekly. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar19d

FOR SALE—Large cabinet model mahogany talking machine; bargain for $65 on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar19d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar3d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, special at $75 cash; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—New stucco house on Elizabeth St., with large lot and henhouses, convenient to school and market; town tax only. Call 218 Elizabeth St. Phone 474-14. mar9d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 24, Bulletin mar6d

FOR SALE—Beautiful mahogany 88-note, fully guaranteed player piano with free bench, free rolls and free delivery; only $495, on terms to suit; investigate. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. feb23d

FOR SALE—Buescher saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukeleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Tanking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Upright piano in A-1 playing condition; fine value for $95 on terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. feb23d

FOR SALE—New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 50x100 feet; price for quick sale $5,000. Phone 141-2. jan9d

FOR SALE — Herring - Hall - Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head, several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,

FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones. Norwich.

FOR SALE
6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 2286

FOR SALE
New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 60x100 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
46 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 876

For Sale
AN OLD ESTABLISHED BARBER SHOP FULLY EQUIPPED FOR BUSINESS. MUST BE SOLD ON ACCOUNT OF OWNER'S ILLNESS. A GREAT CHANCE FOR A GOOD BARBER. FOR FULLER PARTICULARS INQUIRE OF
JOHN A. MORAN
Franklin Square

FOR SALE
Choice two-family house, desirably located on Prospect St., will be sold very reasonable if taken at once. For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.
Franklin Square.

FOR SALE

$3,500 will buy six-room cottage with all city improvements, with lot 160x125, located near Pulaski Hall, only 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see

A. V. COVELLO,
Real Estate and Insurance.
Tel. 1537-2. 124 Cliff St.

BEAUTY PARLOR

GIRLS—Free for a limited number of days, a complete course in beauty treatment. Write Fowlar, 149 Franklin St. mar14d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
5-Room Cottage, West Side. Every Improvement. Price $4,000.
Cottage and Garage, near Backus Hospital. All Improvements. Price $5,000.
New Cottage, Preston, with Garage, $5,500.
We also have some attractive Bermuda, Bahama and Porto Rico Tours
Grover & Burdick
2 MARKET STREET, UPSTAIRS
PHONE 1127-2

Just Off the State Road
40 acres good orchard, 800 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $6,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, borders on river. Price only $3,250, cash $1,500.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

For Sale
Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 10 cars, located on Broadway; monthly rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one and two-family houses; finest of locations; prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 20 acres level land, on state road.
JAMES E. MOORE.
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments.
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 5-55 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1915 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 20,056 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Ellis, 805 Broadway. mar9d

AUTO WRECKING
PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2110

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-3

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Two horses, or exchange for stock. P. A. Nawrocki, Yantic. mar19d

FOR SALE—Pair black horses, 7 and 8 years old, weight 2800, sound and true in all harness; 4 new milch cows, 5 grade Holstein calves, a hen turkey, 25 bushels of potatoes and 2½ acres of land near Wauregan church on state road. C. A. Benham, Wauregan, Conn. Tel. Danielson 172-2. mar17d

JUST ARRIVED
Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think they are as good a car of horses as I have ever had—gentle and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER E. PIERSON.
Tel. 536-2. mar12d

TO RENT

TO RENT—Six-room tenement, all improvements; garage if desired. Inquire 66 Mt. Pleasant St. Mopsick.

TO RENT—Lower flat, 39 Orchard St.; space for small car. Inquire upstairs. mar17d

TO RENT—An excellent store for automobile accessory or similar business, on main state highway in city of Putnam. A. Sandlowits, 18 South Main St., Putnam, Conn. mar17d

TO RENT—Tenement, four rooms, electricity and gas, $13 per month. Inquire Joseph Vetrano, 100 W. Main St. mar14d

TO RENT—Cottage house of eight rooms, all improvements, cor. Ninth St. and Central Ave., rent $30. Inquire 67 Tenth St.

TO RENT—Tenement, five rooms, all improvements. Inquire 29 Mt. Pleasant St. mar16d

TO RENT—Garage and space for storage. Phone 669-2, 121 Broadway. mar16

TO RENT—Tenement 44 Laurel Hill Ave. Inquire 81 Franklin St. F. Madio. mar16d

TO RENT—One single room; also furnished apartment of two large rooms and private bath; excellent location. Write, giving references, Box D. R., Bulletin. mar15d

TO RENT—Five-room flat, bath and storeroom, to small American family of adults. 12 Washington St. mar15d

TO RENT—A beautiful modern five-room flat, in best location in city, heat, hot water and janitor service; $65 per month; 50 Broad St. Inquire at Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR RENT—Tenement, seven rooms, all improvements, five acres land, barn, shed, fruit trees, etc. Tel. 144-4. mar14d

TO RENT—Six-room tenement, all improvements; garage if desired. Inquire 66 Mt. Pleasant St. Mopsick. mar8d

TO RENT—Apartment of four rooms and bath, for adults; heat and hot water furnished. 175 Broadway. Phone 2055. mar1d

FOR RENT
STORE ON
FRANKLIN STREET
In Alling Block
Inquire of
N. Tarrant & Co.
Phone 170—117 Main St.

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 74 Franklin St. mar19d

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitemans Cigars are $70 per thousand. J. F. CHAPP, 11 Broadway St.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUCTIONS

STANTON L. BRIGGS.....Auctioneer
Telephone Willimantic 642-4.

AUCTION
I will sell at public auction at my farm, located on Kick Hill, in the Town of Lebanon, two miles from South Windham trolley, one mile from state road leading from Norwich to Franklin, on

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923,
at 10 o'clock a. m.,
the property described below:

SEVEN YOUNG COWS—ONE HORSE

Seven (7) very choice young cows, all due to freshen in October; 1 extra nice work horse, weight 1250 lbs.; 1 Worcester-Kemp manure spreader, weeder, team wagon, mowing machine, Yankee horse rake, springtooth harrow, double box sled, Syracuse plow, cultivator, nearly new, grindstone, rake, nearly new, disc harrow, corn sheller, buggy, 1 Moyer top buggy, set of heavy team harness, other harnesses, 150 Union Seed bags, 6 new Cooley cream cans, hoes, chains, forks, iron bars, ropes, and other articles too numerous to mention.

FARMHOUSE—BARNS

The farm, containing 60 acres, 40 acres of mowing, 20 acres of pasture. The house, 12 rooms. Two barns, one 40x50 ft., with cellar; the other 28x40 ft. Wagon sheds, garage, icehouse, corncribs. The buildings are all up in good shape. The farm is located near school, high school and church. It is under the very best of cultivation having never-failing water; 150 apple trees, 50 pear trees, abundance of fruit.

WALTER E. BURGESS.
Tel. Lebanon 27-4
Caterer in attendance. If stormy, next fair day.

Owner's Statement: As I am going out of business, and moving away, everything must be sold, without reserve or limit. The stock is in excellent shape. mar19d

AUCTION NOTICE
WHAT DOES AN AUCTION MEAN?
Frankly and seriously speaking, that you are turning your life's hard earned personal property into cash. The auction season is now at hand. Farm tools are selling better, and the livestock market shows a decided improvement. Our business has and has been for years, selling real estate and personal property at public sale. Why not arrange your sale date now, while satisfactory dates are still available? Sales conducted throughout New England.
WITTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS,
Office and Salesrooms, No. 42 Main Street, Danielson, Conn.

Auction Notice
BY WITTER BROS.,
AUCTIONEERS,
Office and Salesrooms, No. 42 Main St., Danielson, Conn.

We will sell the entire personal property holdings of Mr. Freemont Burdick at public sale, without reserve or restriction, on

THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1923,
at 10 o'clock a. m., sharp,

at his place of residence, located on the road leading south from Pomfret Landing to Brooklyn Village via Church St., described in part as follows; Farm equipment, cows, horses, rams, wagons, tools, implements and many of small articles.

Household Goods: The old-fashioned house on this farm is full from cellar to garret of old-fashioned and modern furniture of all kinds, therefore it will require a large lot of people to consume the property and make the sale a success.

Come early, stay late. A good caterer will attend and he will stay for supper if necessary.

Terms strictly cash. All articles to be removed at once as Mr. Burdick is positively vacating the farm. If stormy, first fair day after. Articles on exhibition morning of the sale only.

FREEMONT BURDICK, Owner.
Pomfret, Conn. mar17d

JAMES H. HYDE.....Auctioneer

AUCTION

Will be sold at public auction at the home of C. W. and J. E. Frink, which is known as the Charles Kingsley place, on the Norwich and Willimantic road, one and one-half miles north of Yantic R. R. station, in the Town of Franklin,

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923,
at 11 o'clock a. m.,

the following described property: 23 head of grade cattle (12 giving milk, 6 due to freshen soon, 2 heifers, 2 yearlings, 1 grade Ayrshire bull), 1 two-horse carriage pole, 1 land roller, nearly new, 1 Leggett's paris green dry powder gun, 1 pair team harnesses, extra collars, 1 plow and a few small tools.

If stormy, sale next fair week day. mar14d C. W. AND J. E. FRINK.

LEGAL NOTICES

TAX NOTICE

TOWN OF FRANKLIN.

I have a warrant to levy and collect a tax of 20 mills on the dollar on the grand list, last perfected, said tax due and payable to me on Monday, March 26, 1923.

For the purpose of collecting the same I will be at the Town Hall on Monday, March 26, from 2 to 5 p. m., and at my home from 10 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday, March 31, and at the Sodom School from 2 to 4 p. m. on Monday, April 2.

Dated at Franklin, March 6, 1923.
C. H. LATHROP,
mar9M Collector.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Bozrah, within and for the District of Lebrah, on the 9th day of November, A. D. 1922.

Present—WAREHAM W. BENTLEY, Judge.

Estate of William A. Kelly, late of Bozrah, in said District, deceased.

Ordered, That said administrator cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order, on the signpost nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt, and in the same town, and by publishing the same once in a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and make return to this Court.

WAREHAM W. BENTLEY, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest: JOHN K. PROCTOR, Clerk.

NOTICE.—All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at Pinchville, Conn., within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.

JOHN T. DERWICK, Administrator.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

SATURDAY'S MARKET

New York, March 17.—Professional operators, apparently fearing that any further reaction would be likelyto result in a loss of public confidence in the market and cause heavy liquidation, actively supported prices in today's brief session of the stock market and the general list closed substantially higher.

The optimistic tone of the weekly mercantile reviews and brokerage house letters, combiner with the more hopeful news from abroad, encouraged operations on the long side of the market. The relatively easy money rates of the last few days were an important factor in shaping speculative action.

Equipments showed the most consistent strength, American Locomotive climbing 1-2 points to 107 7-8, a new high for all time, Baldwin rising 1 7-8 to 143 and Lima Locomotive, Pullman, and General Electric each closing two points higher.

Sinclair Oil was another strong and active feature, nearly 100,000 shares changing hands, the closing price of 28 1-8, up to 2 1-8, representing a new high for the year. Pan-American issues made partial recovery from yesterday's heaviness on the announcement of the head of the company that their properties have yielded and are still yielding excellent returns.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 3 P. M.:

	High	Low.	Close
Allied Chemical	78¼	78½	78½
Am Beet Sugar	46¾	46	46¼
Am Boech Mag	56¾	56¼	56¾
Am Can	102¼	101¼	102¼
Am Car & F	102¼	101¾	102¼
Am Cotton Oil	16¼	16¼	16¼
Am Int Corp	30¼	30⅛	30¼
Am Tel & Tel	123¼	123	123
Am Tobacco B	156⅛	154⅝	154⅝
Am Woolen	103⅜	102¾	103¼
Anaconda Cop	51½	50⅜	51⅛
Atch T & S F	103⅝	102¾	103⅝
Atch T & S F pr	89⅞	89½	89⅞
Balt & Ohio pr	60⅛	60¼	60⅛
Balt & Ohio	53⅛	53¼	53¼
Butte Col & Z	10⅞	10½	10⅝
Butte & Sup	35⅛	34⅞	35⅛
Canadian Pac	147¼	147	147¼
Central Leather	38⅛	38¼	38⅛
Cent Leather pr	79	79	79
Ches & Ohio	73	73	73
Chandler Motor	74½	74¼	74½
Ches & Ohio pr	103¾	103¾	103¾
Chi Gt West pr	14⅝	14½	14½
Chi M & St P	25⅝	25	25⅜
Chi M & St P pr	44	43¼	44
Chi & N West	86½	85½	86⅛
Chi R I & P	37	36⅝	37
Chile Copper	29½	28⅞	29
Chino Copper	30¼	29⅝	30⅛
Cosden	61⅜	60⅞	61⅛
Crucible Steel	82	80⅞	81¾
Crucible Steel pr	92½	92½	92½
Del & Hudson	120	116¼	119⅝
Dome Mines	41¼	41½	41¼
Erie	12¾	12½	12⅝
Erie 2 pr	13⅛	13	13
Gen Electric	187¾	186¾	187
Gen Elec sp	11⅛	11¼	11¼
Gen Motor	15	14⅞	14⅞
Gen Mot deb	84¾	84⅜	84¾
Great North pr	78¼	77⅜	78¼
Great North Ore	35	34½	35
Hudson Motor	31	30⅝	31
Inspira Cop	40½	40⅛	40⅜
Hupp Motor Car	27⅞	27⅝	27⅞
Int Harvester	92½	92¼	92⅜
Int Mer Marine	11	11	11
Inter Paper	55	55	55
Kennecott	42½	42⅛	42½
KeQystone	9⅛	9	9
Martin Rock	14⅜	14¾	14¾
Maxwell Mot A	60¼	59	60¼
Mo K & T w i	15⅜	15¼	15½
M K & Tt pr w i	42¾	42½	42⅝
Missouri Pacific	17⅜	17⅜	17⅜
Missouri Pac pr	46½	45⅞	45⅞
Nat Enam & St	71	70¾	71
N Y Air Brake A	50	50	50
N Y Central	98¼	98⅛	98⅛
N Y N H & H	19¼	19⅛	19⅜
Nor & West	113¾	113⅜	113⅝
North Pacific	78	77⅞	77⅞
Penn R R	40¾	40⅝	40⅝
Pierce Oil	4¼	4⅛	4⅛
Ry Steel Sp	123	119	121
Reading	78¼	78	78¼
Replogle Stel	27⅝	27⅜	27½
Rep I & St	86⅝	86¼	86⅜
Rep I & St pr	95⅝	95⅛	95⅝
South Pacific	93¼	93⅛	93¼
South Railway	23⅝	23½	23⅝
South Ry pr	69¾	69¼	69¾
Texas Cop	12⅜	12⅛	12⅜
Tobacco A	82¾	82⅜	82⅝
Tobacco Prod	67	66¾	66⅞
Union Pacific	141¼	140⅞	141⅛
Union Pac pr	74⅜	74⅛	74⅜
U S Rubber	62	61⅜	62
U S Steel	107⅜	107⅛	107⅜
U S Steel pr	119½	119	119
Western El pr	112⅞	112⅝	112⅝
West Pacific	18⅛	18⅜	18⅛
West Un Tel	115	115	115
West'house El	64⅞	64¼	64⅝
Willys O'land	7¾	7⅝	7⅝
Worth

RAIN TODAY WITH COLD WAVE AT NIGHT

Norwich Bulletin

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS

NORWICH, CONN., MONDAY, MARCH 19, 1923.

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Monday, March 19, 1923.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

The disturbance that was central over Indiana Sunday night will move rapidly northeastward, attended by rain in the Washington forecast district Monday, probably changing to snow in the interior as far south as northwestern Georgia and western North Carolina. Following the passage of this disturbance the area of high pressure and cold wave from the northwest will rapidly overspread the lower lake region, the Ohio valley, Tennessee and the Atlantic and east gulf states except southern Florida. It is probable that the temperature will fall to freezing or slightly below by Tuesday morning as far south as extreme northern Florida and frost is probable in central Florida. Generally fair weather will prevail in the eastern and southeastern states Tuesday, with continued cold weather, although there will be a reaction of somewhat higher temperature in the Ohio valley, Tennessee and the east gulf states.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook and Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Strong south and southwest, probably reaching gale force, and shifting to northwest overcast, thick weather with rain Monday.

Forecast.

For Southern New England: Rain Monday, followed by a cold wave Monday night; Tuesday fair and colder.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Saturday and Sunday:

Saturday—	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	32	29.80
12 m.	36	29.90
6 p. m.	40	30.00
Highest 40, lowest 32.
Sunday—	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	30	30.00
12 m.	42	30.00
6 p. m.	34	29.90
Highest 42, lowest 30.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Saturday: Cloudy and colder.

Saturday's weather: Fair; mild temperature.

Predictions for Sunday: Mostly cloudy.

Sunday's weather: Fair; stationary temperature.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
19	5.55	5.57	11.19	8.06
20	5.53	5.58	11.59	8.56
21	5.52	6.00	12.33	9.50
22	5.50	6.01	12.55	10.44
23	5.48	6.02	1.39	11.37
24	5.47	6.03	2.23	Morn.
25	5.45	6.04	3.24	0.29

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Frederick Morin of Northhampton, Mass. spent the week end with friends in the village.

Mrs. Joseph Donovan of Bristol, Conn. is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Bridget Flynn of North B Street.

Mrs. James Graham and Miss Agnes Graham have returned to their home in Lisbon after passing the winter in Cristobal, Canal Zone, Panama. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Leo Glenn Teagley of Cartagena, Columbia, South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Letendre of Norwich spent Sunday with Mrs. Letendre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lambert of North B Street.

Mrs. Mary Ganey of Providence R. I. is the guest of her mother Mr. Bridget Flynn of North B Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Martin of Baltic have moved to the village, having taken a house on South B Street.

Taftville Division, A. O. H., Joseph Novina, president, met Sunday afternoon at their rooms in Parish Hall.

Arthur Gamain of Merchants Avenue has resigned his position with the Ponemah Company.

Joseph Godere spent the week-end in Boston, Mass.

The T. P. S. Christian Endeavor met Sunday evening at the Taftville Congregational Church. Fred Knowles, who was to have led the meeting was not able to be present because of illness.

The Wequonnoc School is closed all this week for the annual Spring vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Blanchette and children, Lena, Angeline, Eva and Hector of Terrace Avenue have moved to Crompton, R. I.

Andrew Zaharis who has been residing at the Ponemah has left town.

WILL EXTEND SHRINERS' TOUR TO NEW ENGLAND

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will be interested to note that Imperial Potentate James A. McCandless of Honolulu is to be in this state this week. He will visit Pyramid Temple at Bridgeport and Sphinx Temple at Hartford. Word is also received that the Shriners' Overland club, which will make its pilgrimage to the Imperial Shrine at Washington in June, will extend its trip to New England, visiting Bridgeport, New Haven, and New London on its way to Boston.

The club will return from Boston via Hartford. This club goes about by automobiles and its itinerary across the continent and return this year, starting at Oakland, Cal., May 10 and finishing Aug. 12, will cover 10,000 miles.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are not "contain calomel," but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

JUDGE BUELL, PROMINENT COLCHESTER CITIZEN, DIED SATURDAY NIGHT

JUDGE HARLEY P. BUELL

After an illness of several weeks Judge Harley P. Buell died Saturday night at his home in Colchester, aged 72 years.

Judge Buell was born November 6, 1851, in Gilead Society, town of Hebron, Conn., the son of John W. Buell and Mary Ann Post Buell. He was one of the leading and influential citizens of Colchester, and was a descendant of one of the oldest Connecticut families, his forefathers having settled in Dorchester, Mass., in 1630, and moved into Windsor, Conn., in 1656.

When a boy he attended the district school taught by Edward S. Hinckley and was brought up to work on the farm, remaining at home until nineteen years of age. He then began clerking for his uncle, Charles G. Buell, who had a general store at Hebron Green, working there for two years.

He came to Colchester in 1872 and began working for William B. Otis as a clerk in his general store there. Four years later he purchased the drug business of Charles H. Rogers and met with marked success during his 47 years in business. In 1890 he erected the Buell block in Colchester, where he conducted his business.

Judge Buell was married in Colchester to I. Loretta Tew, of Lebanon, a daughter of John Tew.

In politics Judge Buell was a republican and took an active interest in his party. In 1902 he was delegate from Colchester to the Constitutional convention in Hartford, called for the purpose of revising the state constitution. He also held many lesser offices. In 1884 he was elected judge of probate and with the exception of two years held the office for 25 years. He has served on the board of selectmen and was at one time chairman, and was a member and chairman of the school board of district No. 1 for 25 years. In 1907 he represented the 20th district as state senator. He was also a trustee of Bacon Academy.

Fraternally he was the oldest member of Wooster Lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., and was the last living past master. He was also a charter member of Colchester Lodge, No. 30, Ancient Order of United Workmen.

In addition to his other interests he was one of the incorporators of the Colchester Savings bank and served as director until his death. He was also an incorporator of the Linwood Cemetery association and was at one time treasurer of the association.

He is survived by his wife, I. Loretta Tew Buell, and one brother, Hart Buell of Gilead.

Whether as business man, public official or private citizen, Judge Buell always was fair in his dealings with his fellow men, and was justly regarded as one of the most prosperous and representative men of New London county. His many friends learned of his death with sorrow and his family have the sympathy of a host of friends.

PICTURES AND ADDRESS AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

At the men's meeting at the local Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the music by Swahn's orchestra was a pleasing feature. Several selections were rendered at the opening of the service, after which the scripture was read. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. D. Hetherington of Fitchville. Lemuel Fielding sang "Brightly Beams Our Father's Mercy." Moving pictures were shown including "Pleasant Life in Auvergne" and "Phrenology," showing the wonderful construction of the human skull.

Between the reels Secretary Edwin Hill gave a brief talk, taking for the text, "Behold How He Loved Him." Among other things he said: We can often say, concerning the fondness of children, how they love one another. There is a strong affection developed between two college chums; they eat together, they sleep together, they study together until they really seed to love one another. Then we can surely say of those who are in courtship, behold, how they love one another. When the home is established, and the children come, we say, in case the home is what it should be, "There's no place like home," but when the son or the daughter go astray and the parents hearts are broken, we cannot say of that household, "There's no place like home," for the sweet ties have been broken by wayward children; or when the husband comes home reeling drunk we cannot call that place, "Home sweet home," for sadness abides there. It is a sad thing indeed when the son or daughter comes to that time when they call the mother who bore them, the old woman, or the father, the old man; in too many cases, the sons or daughters trample the parents' love under foot. Then there is the great love of God as mentioned in John 3:16. What wonderful love God has for us who so often go astray and practically trample His love under foot, and at times almost crucify Christ afresh. What a wonderful manifestation of love was demonstrated by Jesus Christ as He hung upon the cross, and uttered those memorable words, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Surely we can say of Him, "Behold how He loved even His enemies." Every time we take the name of divinity on our lips in profanity, we trample upon His love; every time we do or say or think wrong things, we trample upon that love. Let us daily strive to measure up to this high standard of manhood that He has laid down for us and thereby please Him, who has given Himself so freely in love for our highest development, even our salvation.

BELIEVE RUM RUNNERS LOAD UP AT SAYBROOK

Saybrook is believed to be a port of distribution for much liquor running in this end of the state. It is alleged that closed cars haul liquor to Saybrook and there transfer the liquor to light fast automobiles and at night these speed wagons dash throughout the eastern part of the state, planting the wet goods. It is alleged that the bootleggers buy light automobiles, use them in this business while the cars are new and have power and that as soon as the power gives out the car is turned in for a new one. It is alleged that because of the fast cars used in the service it is almost impossible to get hold of these dealers.

STUMBLED OVER MAN ASLEEP ON BARN FLOOR

Asleep on the floor of the barn at the corner of West Main and High streets, a Norwich man 55 years old was arrested for intoxication Sunday night by Officer John Donovan.

The owner went into the barn in the dark to turn on the lights, stumbled over the drunken man on the floor, and then ran out to get the officer.

DIED SHORTLY BEFORE HER HUSBAND'S FUNERAL

As arrangements were being made for the funeral services for her husband, Thomas Holmes, in Palmertown, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Adelia P. Grout Holmes died following an illness of about one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes had been ill in their home for about a week and Mr. Holmes died on Thursday last. Mrs. Holmes succumbed to her illness Saturday afternoon just before the funeral services for Mr. Holmes were to begin. She was 73 years of age.

The services for Mr. Holmes were conducted by Rev. Mr. Stearns of the Baptist church and relatives and friends were present. Burial was in the Comstock cemetery, a committal service being conducted at the grave. C. A. Gager was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mr. Holmes was born in East Lyme 67 years ago, the son of Charles Holmes of North Stonington and Lucy Johnson Holmes. In life he followed the occupation of a farmer. He left only his wife.

Mrs. Holmes is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Joseph Church of Montville and Mrs. George Ratnbun of Norwich

NORTHERNERS WHO HAVEN'T EVEN HAD A FROST

Writing from Hialeah, Fla., to a relative here Mrs. James I. Hewitt of Laurel Hill road, who with her husband has been spending the winters in the south, states that they have had some cold waves and were near a frost a few times. It is really much cooler there than at Miami, eight miles away, there being trade winds when the wind is not blowing from the northwest.

Dog races are being held there this month and one morning recently six airplanes landed on the field in sight of their bungalow.

Hialeah is one of the fast developing suburbs of Miami and two bungalows have been built there by Mr. Hewitt. It is a community of over 125 homes, with business blocks and enterprises, where a $250,000 radio station is being built. It is on the Miami canal and there are hopes for railroad connection some day.

K. T. ANNUAL CONCLAVE TO BE IN MIDDLETOWN

The grand commandery Knights of Connecticut is to hold its annual conclave with Cyrene commandery, No. 8, in Middletown April 30 and May 1. This is an honor which comes to each local commandery once in 11 years. One of the features of the gathering will be a banquet to be held the evening of April 30. It is expected that several hundred members of the order will attend. The toastmaster will be Bishop E. Campion Acheson. Dr. Acheson is the suffragan bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Connecticut. He is a member of St. John's lodge of Masons of Middletown. The eminent commander of Cyrene commandery of Middletown is Dr. Eldon E. Crowell. John P. Bacon is chairman of the finance committee in charge of the arrangements.

Truck Broke Through Sidewalk.

One of the large motor trucks of the J. C. Worth Co. broke through the iron cover to a sidewalk opening in front of the old Vaughn foundry office building on Ferry street Saturday morning. The truck was loaded with bags of potatoes.

In order to make room for another vehicle to pass the driver of the truck had to run it up onto the sidewalk as the street is at present narrowed up by the building operations at the new Disco building. When one of the rear wheels reached the iron cover, it broke through, letting the truck down into such a position that it had to be jacked up to get it out of the hole.

A small boy's idea of a volcano is a mountain with the cork out.

PRESIDENT CASE REPORTED TO INSURANCE CONVENTION

The report of President James L. Case of the National Association of Insurance Agents made to the mid-year meeting at Asheville, N. C., last Wednesday is given below in part:

"In presenting to a gathering such as this a brief summary of some of the outstanding events that have taken place during the recent months, one is deeply impressed by the importance of the place that 'American insurance' occupies in the general business affairs of the day.

Before the adjournment of our Hot Springs convention last October, certain conditions were being created destined to command the attention of every member of this association during succeeding weeks and months.

At the request of Superintendent of Insurance Stoddard of the state of New York your conference committee was invited last October, by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, to attend a special conference that had been called for the purpose of considering ways and means to reduce, if possible, acquisition costs and field supervision and other expenses entering into casualty and surety and plate glass insurance rates.

The invitation was accepted and for three weeks or more, daily sessions were held, some of which extended far into the night. A report of the results accomplished by Thomas C. Moffat, who, as a member of our committee and a real sacrifice of personal interests attended every session in which we were permitted to sit.

Your executive committee met during the entire week of December 3 for the purpose of carrying out the special instructions given at Hot Springs. While discussing the possibilities of a survey, this subject was considered by the insurance commissioners and referred by them to a special committee for consideration and study, with instructions that a report should be presented at their next meeting.

Consistent endeavors have been made to secure a better educated public in all matters pertaining to insurance and to this end, representatives of state associations and local boards throughout the country have availed themselves of every opportunity to address Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lyons Clubs and similar organizations, on insurance subjects. Agents giving dependable service, have often demonstrated that they are willing to sacrifice large commissions, provided their insured will install safety devices and fire protection appliances in their property. Many a set of plans has been altered or revised at the suggestion of local agents in order that "improved constructions" might be substituted, thereby causing a substantial reduction in the insurance rates. In the long run, instead of losing commissions and profits, such agents have benefited themselves, for the public will "play fair" if given a "square deal". For many years this association has helped the public to improve conditions, and I, for one, am confident that the great mass of our people can always be depended upon to uphold and defend the ideals, laws, and traditions, which for one hundred and fifty years have made the nation what it is, and which have also aided the American insurance business to attain its present position of power and influence.

The National Association is frequently requested to define its declarations against the further extension of banks and banking institutions as insurance agents. In my opinion, all finance corporations, building and loan associations, and in fact all financial institutions possessing coercive influence, including the employees thereof, should be placed in the same classification with banks and banking institutions. I maintain that the further extension of such institutions as insurance agents is wrong in theory and worse in practice. We are told by certain companies that they cannot secure efficient agents in small towns, but I cannot believe that such a statement is true. Some of our best qualified members reside in or adjacent to just such places. Let us consider the subject but at the same time let us be fair and just to all interests concerned and may our purpose be solely animated by a desire to secure such results as will be for the best interests of the American insurance business as a whole.

INSTITUTE FOR TEACHERS HAVING SESSIONS HERE

An institute for the teachers in the schools of Bozrah, Ledyard, Preston and North Stonington is to be held in the town hall in this city today (Monday), beginning at 9:30 a. m.

The meeting will be in charge of Mr. Reed, agent for the State Board of Education, and will include as the speakers: Dr. A. B. Meredith, commissioner of education; L. T. Garrison, regional director of the state board; Dr. Edward J. Brophy of this city, Miss Mary E. Rogers and Miss Mary G. Henderson of the school department of this city, and Miss Eva T. Seabrook of the department of education, Yale university. All friends of education will be welcome to attend the sessions in the morning at 9:30 and in the afternoon at 1:30.

LIQUOR CASE AGAINST NORWICH MEN CONTINUED

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 18.—Joseph Basile, a Norwich barber, and Charles Levanto, laborer in that city, who were interrupted as they passed through New London last Thursday night with a quantity of alcohol, will come to trial in the police court here Monday, the 24th, to which date their cases have been continued. Attorney Charles L. Stewart of Norwich asked for a postponement of the hearing, and it was granted by Judge Prince in the local court.

It is not known what defense the accused men will offer to account for their possession of six gallons of alcohol, but it is reported that Basile will claim that he is a barber and had in his possession a permit to transport alcohol.

NEW LONDON PHYSICIAN LOSES DRIVER'S LICENSE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 18.—Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel has caused the operator's license of Dr. John N. Dimon of No. 192 Montauk avenue to be suspended. The suspension is the outgrowth of the physician's automobile running upon the sidewalk of Bank street several weeks ago and hitting Eugene Partlow of Groton, Partlow sustaining injuries which resulted in his death a week later.

Heard Suit Over Contract

Judge Charles B. Waller heard the case of Peter Norbriga against Mary G. Williams, both of New London in the court of common pleas there Saturday and at the conclusion of the he took the papers.

The suit was to recover a balance of $30 on a contract of $560 for building a cellar wall, concrete piers, steps and veranda on a house in Warren street and $196.15 for extras.

The Boston Store
Norwich — Reid & Hughes Co. — Conn.

The Boston Store's Apparel Shop

SPRING OPENING

A beautiful selection of the colorful Spring garments has been brought together in the Apparel Shop. Through the medium of prints the limitless variety of ornamentation coming from Oriental motifs has been brought to your doors. Beautiful Silks and Worsteds and Wools in novelty and staple weaves and exquisite colorings have been developed, making this Spring show one of the most beautiful we have ever seen.

SOME ESPECIALLY ATTRACTIVE VALUES WHICH HAVE BEEN COMMENDED BY EARLY SHOPPERS.

COATS — CAPES AND WRAPS AT TWO POPULAR PRICES

COATS
$15.00 and $19.75

Swagger Coats in the newest Overplaids, Polo Cloth and sturdy Tweeds. Smart garments with the new sleeve and flaring lines. Both notch and convertible collars are shown.

Full Length Capes
$19.75

Attractive Capes, full length and lined throughout. Some have corded collars, others collars of mouffion. Fancy buckles make themselves useful and well as ornamental.

FULL LENGTH WRAPS—EMBROIDERED AND SILK LINED—ONLY $19.75

CHARGE AGAINST PALMER IS WITHDRAWN BY GIRL'S MOTHER

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 18.—Felix Palmer, the Filipino cook, stationed at the United States coast guard academy, will escape prosecution of the charge of rape, for Saturday afternoon he was released from confinement at the New London county jail, when Mrs. Lena Newbury of Elizabeth, N. J., withdrew her charge against the Filipino.

Palmer and Mrs. Newbury's 16 year old daughter came to New London several weeks ago and took up their residence on East street, where they lived as man and wife. Mrs. Newbury suspected that her daughter was in New London with Palmer and a warrant was issued by the Elizabeth authorities for his arrest. The couple were located in the East street dwelling and they were taken into custody. Palmer was held a prisoner for the Elizabeth authorities and the girl was turned over to her mother.

When the mother and daughter arrived back in Elizabeth Saturday morning the former decided to withdraw her charge against the Filipino and his release followed.

He is now back at the naval reservation following his vocation. When released, Palmer declared that the girl threatened to commit suicide if he did not bring her to New London with him and that he consented to her to accompany him here to save her life. He now declares that he is through with girls for good and all time.

The sneak thief that has been operating in New London for several weeks, entering houses whose occupants are absent and ransacking the places, continues to operate without detection.

Friday night the home of James McDonald of No. 66 Jay street was entered, the thief going to the rear veranda of the third story, where he pried open a window. A complete search of the house was made, but no plunder was obtained. The thief, as has been the case in the breaking into the other houses, made his way through the several rooms by lighting matches.

A fire occurred at the garage of Mrs. Mary Ryan of No. 25 Prospect street Saturday afternoon, when an automobile owned by James M. Miner backfired when an attempt was made to start it. The auto became ablaze and the garage was threatened with destruction. An alarm was pulled in, calling several fire companies to the scene. The work of the firemen in subduing the blaze was of short duration, for the fire was confined to the automobile and was extinguished by the application of chemicals.

Mrs. Otto Schroeter of Fair Harbor place, Miss Dorothy Jones of Ocean avenue and Mrs. John Gillon and baby of Hempstead street were patients discharged Saturday at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital.

Thornton M. Lathrop of Montauk avenue, one of many New Londoners who have been sojourning in Florida, returned to his home Saturday.

Thieves who obtain plunder through the robbing of automobiles that are left parked in the streets continue to ply their trade. Friday night a machine owned by W. H. Whitehead of Groton, while parked on Bank street, near Golden street, was relieved of a spare tire.

Frank Connors of Boston, the negro who was arrested here Friday at the request of the Boston police, charged with non-support, was taken back to that city Saturday afternoon by an officer sent here for that purpose.

Rudolph Bailey, local agent of the American Railway Express company, has resigned his position and has gone to New Haven, where he will enter the real estate business. Mr. Bailey was employed by the express company about 12 years.

The police were called to North Bank street this afternoon because of a gang of Polish residents having started a fullfledged crap game. The players, all men, were shooting in earnest when they observed the police approaching, and it was then that they scattered in all directions.

A freight car of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad on a siding at the foot of John street was broken into this forenoon, but whether any of its contents, which comprised condensed milk, was stolen will not be known until the railroad employes make a check-up. The break was discovered by the New London police and reported at the office of the railroad's special agents.

The condition of Captain of Police Charles A. Phinney shows daily improvement and it is possible that he will be able to enjoy out of door exercise this week, providing the weather is such as not to retard his complete recovery.

Roland Laliberte, a soldier stationed at Fort Wright, N. Y., created such a disturbance at the Salvation Army lodging house, corner of State and Atlantic streets, this morning that the police were summoned. Laliberte was taken into custody and will be arraigned in the police court tomorrow morning, charged with breach of the peace.

Mrs. Luella Benham Hilliar, wife of Sindloss H. Hilliar, died at her home, No. 517 Williams street Friday night, her demise ending a lingering illness. She was 71 years of age. Besides her husband, Mrs. Hilliar is survived by several children among them being two sons, Charles H. and Raymond H. Hilliar of New London.

George H. Martin, father of Deputy Sheriff Manuel J. Martin, died Saturday at his home, No. 12 Church street. Mr. Martin was 83 years of age and had been in ill health a long time because of infirmities brought about for old age. Besides Sheriff Martin, several other children and a widow survive the deceased.

There is no change in the condition of Henry C. Holmes of Federal street, who has been confined to his bed several weeks and it is believed that he will not recover. Mr. Holmes' ailment appears to be a general weakened condition brought about by his age. Mr. Holmes is well and favorably known, having conducted a cafe on Bank street for many years, suspending business with the advent of prohibition.

Three police officers came to New London from Westerly in search of plunder taken from Westerly houses that were robbed Saturday. They sought the residence of Samuel Taylor, colored, who lives with his wife at 476 Broad street. They found the residence but that was all. They didn't get any of the Westerly plunder.

Mrs. Taylor greeted the officers graciously, and when they made known their business she politely informed them that they might search the house from cellar to attic, but she assured them that they would not find any stolen property there. She said: "I would not have it, and furthermore Samuel has not been here to leave any stolen goods."

Taylor is under arrest at Westerly and a watch stolen from one house was found. A portion of the watch, the case, had been thrown in the toilet at the Westerly police station, another part was found in the ventilator cover in the cell occupied by Taylor and still more was found where he had thrown it from a window in the police station.

One of the most important cases that has come to the police court in a long time will engage the attention of the court Monday when Ernest Schiffler is charge with sabotage in connection with the strike of railroad shopmen on the New Haven railroad. It is understood that three or four men in the employ of the railroad company, or who were in its employ at the time of the alleged defense, will appear to give testimony as to what Schiffler said and did in connection with the alleged offense.

The arrest and conviction of Gilbert Leybovitch and the imposition of a fine of $100 in the police court Saturday for keeping intoxicating liquor for sale at his shoe store in Bank street was a surprise to many for the store bore no indication that the liquor law was being violated there and the reputation of Leybovitch was such that he was not suspected by any one not in the secret. The store was apart from the section in which it is supposed any liquor was being sold. The police say that they have succeeded in suppressing much of the illegal business.

Their only doubt is that next summer there will be quantities of liquor shipped in here by boats that now dare not go outside to get it. There is too much floating and the weather conditions have been such that the owners and operators of the boats could not venture to go far from the harbor.

An indication of the congested condition of Bank street next summer, when auto travel is at its height, was offered Friday evening when autos were parked along the west side of the street from a point midway between State and Golden street to Pear street. Bank street is the most congested street in the city during the summer weather and agitation to relieve it has often been started but without any measure of success beyond restricting the parking of cars on the east side of the street. Some other method to keep the street open must be resorted to when summer weather arrives. A hearing is to be given by the council on the matter of the congestion on Main street during the coming week and perhaps Bank street will also be considered at that time.

Automobile garages are said to be proving a source of considerable income to property owners who have the facilities for the erection of buildings to house the machines at their homes. The rentals vary from $5 to $7 a month for the accommodations afforded.

Brainard lodge, F. and A. M. anticipates a large attendance at the ceremony of working the master mason degree in full form Tuesday evening.

Policeman Walter Rehn has gone into the fifth ward to reside, having hired a house in Perry street.

Charles B. Daboll is a patient at Lawrence Memorial hospital for treatment.

A flock of wild geese alighted on the ice in Niantic river Saturday. There were some 100 birds in the flock, probably hungry and in search of food, else they would not have alighted on the ice. The sight is unusual and the fact that they were there is an indication of the close advance toward spring.

The basketball team of Bulkeley school handed the team from Stonington a trimming on floor of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday when the former team won the championship by a score of 43 to 13. Bulkeley won the first game of the series, while the Stonington team captured the second on their own floor. The game Saturday was on neutral ground and was an easy victory for the home team.

There were more than 80 couples present at the informal dance at the Mohican hotel ball room Saturday evening. Some elegant costumes were worn by the ladies though the affair was by no means a dress occasion.

Police Lieutenant Benjamin A. Beebe, who suffered a shock some fortnight ago, is making good progress toward recovery of his former physical condition. He will be able to leave the hospital in a week or so. It is understood that Lieut. Beebe has concluded that he will not do more police duty. Who his successor will be has not been determined nor has it been given any consideration by the city manager or the council. It is said that there are many ambitious aspirants on the force, but that few of them will be considered for the appointment.

It is given out that previous service and good records will count in the selection of a successor to Lieut. Beebe and that the number of arrests and the result of the arrests when prosecutions were made will be a factor in the selection of a lieutenant. Civil service methods will be applied in filling the vacancy.

The successful candidate will, it is said, be an officer who can write an account of the circumstances attending arrests and who can explain conditions which surround cases in which arrests are made. The knowledge of police duties will also be taken in to consideration in making the selection so that the officer appointed will be well qualified to discharge all the duties that may devolve upon the lieutenant as well as ability to get the person who is sought for arrest.

Timothy Sheehan, a former member of the police department, having been retired several years ago, is confined to his home on Crocker street and whether he will recover is doubtful. Mr. Sheehan suffered a slight shock some time ago and his condition does not improve.

The regular weekly session of the city council will occur tomorrow evening, but no fireworks are scheduled. So far as is known only matters of a routine nature will claim the attention of the councilors. The budget, long overdue, is not ready for submission to the council and probably will not be for another fortnight. It is probable that the council will sit as a committee after the council meeting to further consider the item of salaries which is the only matter requiring action before the budget is ready for definite handling by the council.

An automobile, driven by Mrs. Bertha L. Avery of Norwich and a machine, operated by Cyril S. Reid of New York, were in collision this afternoon at the corner of Connecticut avenue and Broad street. Both machines were damaged but none of the occupants injured. Reid was arrested for failing to have a Connecticut operator's license in his possession. He will be given a hearing in the police court tomorrow morning.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Avery attempted to operate her car from Connecticut avenue into Broad street. As the machine reached the intersection of the two thoroughfares the car driven by Reid and in an easterly direction, side-swiped the rear of Mrs. Avery's car. Reid was arrested on complaint of Patrolman [illegible]

POETRY

TRUSTING IN IT.

"He shall cover thee with His feathers, and under His wings shalt thou trust: His truth shall be thy shield and buckler." Psalm 91:4.

"In the day when I cried Thou answeredst me, and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul." Psalm 138:3.

How know I that God answers prayer?
I see the tokens everywhere;
I feel them when to sight unseen,
When lies no shut of doubt between
His spirit whispereth to mine,
And health with "milk of and wine
Of joy," and mourning disappears
And gladness flows where erst flowed tears.

How does God answer? Various ways
He chooses; yet (to Him be praise!)
The burdens drop; He lifts the weight,
And makes "the crooked places straight;"
Instructs me where I ought to go,
And records not when He answers "No."
Assures me that He loves me still
When life, to me, seems fraught with ill.

When pain and sorrow me surround,
A help in God I've ever found;
He stills the storms which 'round me roll
And breathes His peace into my soul.
And oh's I know: He answers Right.
Whatever be my earthly plight.
"He faileth not," whate'er befall;
My "Tower of Strength" is He—my all.
His wisdom answers "Yes" or "No;"
But prayers are answered—this I know.
—Jennie Wilcox Howell, in Boston Transcript.

THE FIRST BLUEBIRD.

Sweetheart, our locks are thin and gray,
Our eyes look future and men say
Their youth has vanished. Well a day
I hear a bluebird singing.

The lambs go leaping down the lane
The sunlight flickers on the pane
The guineas clank a shrillier strain:
I hear a bluebird singing.

The children's voices clearer ring,
The elm buds swell, the grasses spring
And maple trees are pattering:
I hear a bluebird singing.

Ah! love was never yet so cold,
So dead and cold, so dumb and old
It leapt not to the warmth untold
That thrills the bluebird's singing.

They call us old, who years down,
The birds sing down the azure lie;
We're young forever you and I,
I hear a bluebird singing.
—Benjamin S. Parker

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine."

"Your lips or the liquor?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Fifty—Is the pleasure of the merry dance to be mine?

Twenty—Yes, all of it.—California Pelican.

"When you are tempted to drink, my man, you should think of your wife."

"My wife doesn't drink."—New York Sun.

Wife (with newspaper)—Here's an article about the Eskimos. The explorer tells how kind and hospitable they are.

Hub—How can he say that? The rest of us know they are a cold and distant people.—Boston Transcript.

Blinks—Your wife's bobbed hair makes her look much younger.

Jinks—Yes, it does. When I first saw her that way I was almost tempted to kiss her!—Detroit News.

School teacher (to class in arithmetic: "If a farmer raises 1,000 bales of cotton and sells it for $125 per bale, what will he get?"

Small boy (in back seat): "Automobile!"—Exchange.

Mrs. Reed—"Why, Katherine, how do you do? I haven't seen you for years. Have you caught a husband yet?"

Mrs. Freed—"Mercy, yes! I've caught three and I two of 'em go."—Boston Evening Transcript.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Ordinarily there are 656,400 seeds to a pound of white clover.

Of the registrants, 86.23 per cent were held for military service.

Viscount Lascelles, the husband of Princess Mary, is an enthusiastic collector of old glass.

Sir William Robertson Nicoll, noted London editor and journalist, began his writing career at the age of fourteen.

Thomas A. Edison has suffered from deafness ever since he was lifted up by his ears as a boy by a street car conductor.

General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, famous as the founder of the Boy Scout movement, usually rises in the morning before 6.

Benito Mussolini, prime minister of Italy and one of the most talked about men in the world today, is the son of a village blacksmith.

More than 700 letters are received by the prince of Wales every day. Frequently his letter bag contains as many as 1,500 or 1,600.

Lord Allenby, famous soldier and at present the British representative in Egypt is a keen naturalist and an authority on birds and flowers.

Distinctively oriental fruits, most of which are never seen in western markets, have been found to be well supplied with vitamin C, the preventive of scurvy according to the results of researches by Hartly Emgrey, of the Union Medical College, Pekin, recently published in the Philippine Journal of Science. The fruits and vegetables which were found to have anti-scorbutic properties were the chico, papaya, pomelo, guava, lansones, both fruit and flower buds of the banana, cocoanut, pepino or cucumber, kang-king leaves, and camote leaves. The Chinese persimmon was also found effective.

The largest organ in existence is in Sydney, New South Wales. The erection of the great organ in Music hall, Boston by German builder, Walcker, of Wurttemberg, gave the first impetus to public interest in the matter. Roosevelt, of New York, and Jardine, likewise of New York, soon became two of the best known organ builders in America. Among the largest organs in America are the organs of the Roman Catholic cathedral, Montreal; the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, in this city, which possesses eighty-three stops; Music hall, Cincinnati, with ninety-six stops and four manuals and the Tremont Temple, of this city, with sixty-five stops.—Boston Globe.

Bulletin

VOL. LXV—No. 68 POPULATION 29,000 NORWICH, CONN., TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1923 16 PAGES 7½ COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

IS GERMAN MEMORANDUM A CONDITIONAL SURRENDER?

Document Appears to be Seeking Third Parties to Force a Breach in the Franco-German Impasse—Was Addressed to the American and British Governments—Intended to be Made Available to France and Belgium Through Diplomatic Channels.

Berlin, March 19—(By the A. P.)—Whether Germany's latest memorandum on the Ruhr situation and the reparations question will prove a useful contribution to possible early endeavors through third parties to force a breach in the Franco-German impasse has so far brought out only a limited amount of speculative discussion in German political and financial circles.

The memorandum, delivered in Washington and London last Friday, while addressed to the American and British governments to inform them of the German view of the situation, was incidentally intended to be made available to France and Belgium through diplomatic channels, it was officially explained today. Official quarters however declined to comment further except to declare that it was up to France to create an atmosphere which would be conducible to negotiations, and that the memorandum could be in no wise regarded as a formal attempt to obtain the intervention of an Anglo-Saxon power in the Ruhr question.

Parliamentary leaders who are regularly consulted by Chancellor Cuno and Baron von Rosenberg continue to concur in the current interpretation of the government's position, that no basis for negotiations can exist until tangible assurance is given Germany that the Ruhr will be definitely freed from military occupation the instant a new understanding with respect to reparations is reached. Any suggestion that the occupation be reduced by zones will be promptly rejected by the German government, it is declared.

The total of 132,000,000,000 marks specified in the London schedule no longer is viewed with even a semblance of seriousness in German quarters.

"This is more than eight times the British debt to the United States, for the payment of which England has just been granted a respite of 62 years and a nominal rate of interest" one of the finance ministry officials observed today, adding:

"If England, which emerged from the war with a handsome share of the booty and has now almost restored her currency to normal and furthermore is vouchsafed the support of the prosperous dominions and colonies, requires three score years to pay off a debt of slightly more than $4,000,000,000, it would be difficult to discover polite phraseology for procedure which, apparently in all seriousness, assumes that Germany—a disrupted economic organism—could be assessed, along with other penalties, a gold war indemnity of 132,000,000,000 marks."

NO FURTHER INTERRUPTION IN SHIPMENTS OF COAL

Essen, March 19—(By the A. P.)—M. Le Troucouer, French minister of public works, who is on a visit in the Ruhr, with a good deal of satisfaction watched Polish and German workmen under the protection of French soldiers load cars of coke and coal today for shipment to France. M. Le Troucouer visited other points where properties have been taken over by the French.

Accompanied by General Degoutte, he inspected the mine shafts and pitheads and saw mountains of coal awaiting shipment; some of the dumps were two or three hundred feet high. When he returned here late in the afternoon he announced that the Rhine-Herne canal, which had been obstructed twice by the Germans, was not clear and open for traffic.

"From now on coal and coke shipments will go forward without interruption," he said. "The railroad situation shows daily improvement; shipments by barges on the Rhine to Strasbourg are going ahead every day; the number of freight and passenger trains have increased from day to day, as the French and Belgians familiarize themselves with the 18,000 miles of road.

"The Germans will soon realize," continued M. Le Troucouer, "that we can overcome all the obstacles they have put in our way."

NOT TO DISCLOSE THE CONTENTS OF MEMORANDUM

Washington, March 19.—Contents of the memorandum delivered to Secretary Hughes Friday by Counselor Dieckhoff of the German embassy, which is said to have given Germany's position on the question of reparations, will remain secret so far as the state department is concerned. It probably will be placed in the confidential files without having its text divulged, even to Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador here. This was made known today upon receipt of press advices from Berlin that the German foreign office was willing to have the Washington government make the statement public, or make its text known through diplomatic channels to Premier Poincare.

POLICE STILL BAFFLED BY MURDER OF DOROTHY KEENAN

New York, March 19.—New clews in three mysteries were unearthed by the police today in their investigation of the murder of Dorothy Keenan, model, who was found chloroformed in her West Fifty-seventh street apartment last Thursday. But the new lines of inquiry only served to make the case more baffling.

It had been announced arrest of a man who had not heretofore been mentioned might be expected, but tonight there was no report of such an arrest.

The latest development came when a woman, whose name was not made public but who was said to live in the apartment directly below the one formerly occupied by Miss Keenan, told the police that about midnight last Wednesday she heard footsteps in the apartment above her and that someone paced the floor rapidly, as though extremely nervous. When she went to her window, which is on an airshaft, she smelled a pungent odor, apparently that of chloroform.

This information was interpreted by some officials as establishing a new time for the murder. It was pointed out that the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" who had admitted showering gifts of money and jewelry upon the pretty model, and who was absolved from all blame in connection with the crime by Assistant District Attorney Pecora, had said he did not leave Miss Keenan's apartment until after midnight; that when he left "Dot appeared in good spirits."

The woman's story would tend to disprove a report that Miss Keenan had visited Albert Guimares "the man in the fur coat" at his hotel at 2 a. m. Thursday. Guimares branded this report as absurd.

PARENTS OF FOUR ARE LEFT CHILDLESS

Newport Point, Quebec, March 19.—Henri Themay and his wife tearfully led their children to bed last night, leaving in a coffin surrounded by candles the body of their fourth child for whom funeral services had been held during the evening.

During the night one of the candles at the dead child's bier ignited a curtain and the small wooden house at Chandler blazed up like tinder.

The flames spread so quickly that two of the children were burned to death before they could leave their bedchamber. The third, three weeks old, was killed when the mother, herself perhaps fatally injured, tried to save it by jumping from a window.

EVAN BURROWES FONTAINE FREED IN $5,000 BAIL

New City, N. Y., March 19.—Evan Burrowes Fontaine, Oriental dancer, and her mother, Mrs. Florence E. Fontaine, were arraigned here today before County Judge Russell Wiggins of Orange county, pleaded not guilty and were freed in $5,000 bail each for trial on perjury charges growing out of the dancer's million dollar breach of promise suit against Cornelius Vanderbilt (Sonny) Whitney.

TO DEFER CONSTRUCTION OF RESERVE BANK BUILDINGS

Washington, March 19.—The federal board today put a ban on further construction of reserve bank buildings "until the present congestion in the building activities of the country is materially relieved and the costs of building lowered."

WOMAN'S THRILLING PART IN SPECTACULAR FIHE

Constantinople, March 19.—(By The A. P.)—Miss Pauline Allen, of Boston, a Near East relief worker, took a thrilling part in a spectacular fire today which destroyed a building on the Bosphorus sheltering six hundred Greeks who had been deported from Anatolia. She led a rescue party of fifty-five American officers and bluejacks under Captain Mannix, who latjackets from the destroyer McCorer praised her in a despatch to the navy department.

The Americans by their prompt action rescued all the refugees and saved two adjoining places occupied by Princess Vaima and Princess Tekie Sultane. The bluejackets brought fire-fighting equipment and, despite the opposition of the Turkish police, took charge of the situation.

Miss Allen directed the sailors to scores of women and children in obscure parts of the burning building, but the rescuing parties had great difficulty in preventing the women from sacrificing themselves to save their bundles containing their sole possesions. When all were taken out in safety, the sailors dashed into the building and threw the bundles out the windows.

The efforts of the Near East relief to find shelter for the refugees in overcrowded Constantinople were rewarded after a three hour search.

SACCO IS RECOVERING FROM HUNGER STRIKE

Boston, March 15.—Nicola Sacco, the convicted murderer whose hunger strike caused him to be taken to the Boston Pyschopathic hospital for treatment and observation as to his sanity, today had so far recovered from the effects of his fast of a month that he was given chicken broth and cocoa instead of the diet of light rice water gruel. Physicians at the hospital said he was feeling very good, with temperature, pulse nd respiration normal.

Sacco was able to talk at some length with his wife, Fred H. Moore, his counsel and Mrs. Glendower, a wealthy woman who has espoused the prisoners' cause.

The hearings on the appeal of Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti from the verdict of a jury which found them guilty of murder in the first degree for killing two men in a payroll robbery in 1920 cannot be resumed for at least two weeks, Sacco having been committed until March 31.

OBITUARY.

Louis F. Payn.

Chatham, N. Y., March 19.—Louis F. Payn, known for half a century as Columbia county's republican leader, and prominent in state and national politics for 30 years, died at his home here today after a week's illness. Bronchial pneumonia was the cause of death.

"Lou" Payn, as he was known by political associates and by the entire population of Columbia county, where he had lived his long life of 83 years, had been identified with republican councils since his youth. In 1897 Governor Black appointed him to the post of state superintendent of insurance. He remained in this office until after the election of Theodore Roosevelt as governor. The quarrel between Mr. Payn and Governor Roosevelt remains memorable in the party's annals, but after Mr. Roosevelt's nomination as president in 1904, peace was declared and "Lou" and the Colonel were friends until the latter's death.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

English Ships in Hamburg

Hamburg, March 19—During the first half of March 3-4, 673 tons of English ships arrived in the port of Hamburg, according to a statement in trade circles today.

Moving Greek Refugees

Constantinople, March 19—The repatriation of Greek refugees has begun. Already 3,100 have embarked from the Constantinople area for Saloniki.

CONSPIRED TO SHIP ALCOHOL TO GREECE

Philadelphia March 19.—Harold L. Smith, a widely known athlete during his college days at the University of Michigan, today pleaded guilty to conspiring to defraud the government in connection with a $5,000,000 shipment of alcohol to Greece and involved Matthew F. Griffin, former chief of the United States secret service in Philadelphia, in the procuring of a permit from Washington to enable Griffin, Smith and ten others to substitute water for alcohol in order to collect internal revenue tax rebates. Smith's plea was made at the trial of the twelve men on charges of conspiracy before Justice McKeehan in the federal district court. He later took the stand as a government witness.

Smith admitted that he had conceived the plan to "put over the fraud," and that he had outlined it to Griffin first in March or April, 1921. He said that he had met Griffin through "William A. Brady," but "I told Griffin," testified Smith, did not state who Brady was.

that we proposed to withdraw alcohol from warehouses throughout the country, bring it o Philadelphia, secure a permit from the customs authorities to place it in a free warehouse and that the original contents would be removed and water shipped abroad in this case to Greece. I told Griffin I would do the withdrawing, and that he was to take care of the customs men. I had applied for an export permit, and I asked Griffin to help me get it. He did, and I paid him $5,000.

Arthur V. Hamill, a customs guard, is under indictment on charges of accepting bribes in connection with the case, but is not defendant in the present trial.

After getting the permit from Griffin, Smith said that he had withdrawn 24 barrels of whiskey from the Guggenheim Distillery near York, Pa., and placed it in warehouses in this city where the whiskey was pumped out and water from hydrants substituted. The whiskey was sold to Frederich, Martin Levy and others at $20 or $22 a gallon.

The witness said that when he found the customs officials had discovered the substitution he had made an effort to ship real alcohol to Greece, "in order to make us look good."

ROBBED OF $2,300 WHILE ON HIS WAY TO BANK

New York, March 19.—David Friedland, manager of an uptown motion picture theatre, was held up and robber of $2,300 this afternoon, while on his way to a branch of the Colonial bank.

The robbery was carried out with almost military precision. When Friedman stepped out of the theatre, three men approached him. One pressed a revolver, concealed beneath a handkerchief, against the manager's body, while two others leaped on Friedman and wenched the bag containing the money out of his hand.

Then they darted across the street to a waiting taxicab, the driver of which held open the door for them.

As the machine was getting under shots from a bandit's revolver halt-way Friedman and his assistant, Edward Levy, ran toward it, but three ed them. More than 100 persons witnessed the hold-up, but so quickly was it accomplished that they were unable to interfere.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF ST, JOHN'S NEWSPAPERS

St. John's, N. F., March 19.—The daily newspapers of this city today announced a temporary suspension of publication due to lack of power to operate the presses. The company which supplies the electric power used by most of the city's industries shut down its plant today because of the shortage of water in the interior lakes where the power is generated. These lakes are frozen over to a depth of five feet.

The operation of street cars was abandoned last week when the water supply began to run low. Unless the situation is soon relieved by a thaw, it was said that the city lighting system would also have to be shut down.

EDWARD R. STETINIUS TO UNDERGO AN OPERATION

New York, March 19.—Edward R. Stetinius, member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Company, is in Roosevelt hospital to undergo an operation for intestinal trouble, it was learned tonight.

Mr. Stetinius was taken ill a few days ago in Augusta, Ga., where he and Mrs. Stetinius were spending their vacation. They arrived in New York tonight and he was taken to the hospital immediately.

Mr. Stetinius formerly was connected with various business enterprises in St. Louis and later in Chicago. In January, 1915, he was retained by the J. P. Morgan & Company to organize munitions and other war materials for a department for the purchase of mu the British and French governments.

BRITAIN TO MAKE FULL PAYMENT FOR THIS YEAR

Washington, March 19.—The British government is preparing to make full payment for this year under the recently negotiated refunding arrangement and, according to information reaching the treasury department today, will not exercise its option to defer half its yearly instalment.

It is understood to be the intention of Great Britain to make its first payment of $69,006,008 on June 15. This amount is half of the yearly instalment of interest provided for in the agreement, the balance falling due Dec. 15, when payment of $23,000,000 principal is expected also to be made.

CHARTERS GRANTED TO FEDERAL LAND BANKS

Washington, March 19.—The federal land banks at Omaha, Houston and New Orleans were granted charters today by the farm loan board to operate as credith banks under the new agricultural credits act.

Announcement of the board's action was made by Commissioner Lobdell, who said action on several other applications for charters probably would be taken this week. The board already had granted charters to land banks at Columbia, S. C., St. Louis and Baltimore.

Cold Wave is to be Of Short Duration

Several States Report the Coldest Late March Weather in Half a Century.

New York, March 19.—One of the tentacles of the blizzard sweeping the country encircled New York tonight.

The tumbling of the mercury was accompanied by snow and a 40-mile wind. The weather bureau forecast a low temperature of 15 degrees above zero for the night, and a clearing of the skies tomorrow.

WARMER IN THE WEST AS STORM MOVES EAST

Chicago, March 19.—A marked moderation in temperature with a bright sun shining in some places and a forecast of "fair and warmer," today registered the end of one of the most severe March storms that the Great Lakes region and the Mississippi valley ever has known.

New low temperature records for late March were established in many places throughout the middle west last night and early today when the storm swept through this region on its way from Alaska to the southern part of the United States. New records were made at points in Missouri, Tennessee and Texas while other points in the states farther north recorded the coldest late March weather in half a century.

Two deaths caused by the cold were reported at Rockford, Ills., one at Waukesha, Wis. one near Kutch, Colo., one at Whiting, Ind., and one at Chicago. Reports from Baxter, Colo., last night also told of the finding of the bodies of three children who had been frozen to death. Damage to crops was expected to run into millions, it being estimated that the Oklahoma peach crop alone suffered to the extent of more than $2,000,000.

SMOKE SCREEN PROTECTING GEORGIA PEACH BELT

Fort Valley, Ga., March 19.—The Georgia peach belt, covering thousands of acres of land, which was yesterday a rich sea of pink blossoms tonight was being protected by a smoke screen from hundreds of smudge pots in every orchard. "It is a critical period for the orchardists," declared O. I. Sapp, in charge of the United States peach laboratory.

"We are expecting a temperature as low as 25 degrees during the night," said Mr. Sapp. "If the temperature goes to 25 degrees there will be serious damage to peach trees that are in full bloom."

FEARS SHE WILL MEET FATE OF DOROTHY KEENAN

New York, March 19.—Crying that she was "marked for death" and that her circumstances were similar to those of Dorothy Keenan, slain artists' model, Mrs. Caroline Taylor, a fashionably dressed young woman, fainted in West Side court.

Mrs. Taylor was arraigned upon complaint of Romeo Forline, welfare representative of an Italian concern, who described a "night of terror" in the apartment of Mrs. Taylor. He said he had given her jewels and other things worth $10,000 since he first met her last September.

On March 13 Forline testified, he visited Mrs. Taylor's apartment and was forcibly held there after he had announced he was going home. He said Mrs. Taylor threw acid on him, cut his clothing into shreds with a carving knife and held him through the night.

Addressing the magistrate Mrs. Taylor said:

"I am like Dorothy Keenan. If this man doesn't kill me, some friend of his will." She swooned and fell to the floor, was carried to a bench and revived. The case was postponed until tomorrow.

BROKER M'COY BOUND OVER TO THE SUPERIOR COURT

New Haven, March 19—John F. McCoy, former stock broker here, was bound over by the superior court in bonds of $2,000 on two counts of a charge of embezzlement by agent, by Judge John R. Booth in the city court today. McCoy was charged with embezzling sums totalling $4,700 from several customers.

The state charged that McCoy handled the money while in the brokerage business here and that he failed to make an accounting, whereas the defense maintained that the funds were lost in stock transactions of which the complainants were fully cognizant.

Judge Booth found probable cause on two of the four counts of embezzlement.

SPEEDED AUTO AND DROVE BANDITS INTO THE GUTTER

Danbury, March 19—Three men wearing black masks and red bandanas sprang in front of the automobile of Travy Favreau of Redding, on the Redding Ridge road last night and ordered the driver to stop. Mr. Favreau, who was accompanied by his sister, Miss Violet Favreau applied gas and dashed the car toward the men, who leaped into the gutter to escape being run down. The state police barracks at Ridgefield was notified of the occurrence and made an unsuccessful search for trace of the supposed bandits.

RAIZEN AND SALUDES NOW IN AUBURN PRISON

Auburn, N. Y., March 19.—Mrs. Lillian Raizen and Mrs. Paulette Saludes, both convicted in New York courts of murder in the second degree and sentenced to identical terms of 20 years to life, arrived at Auburn prison tonight after an uneventful trip from New York.

Mrs. Raizen smiled as she entered the gate; Mrs. Saludes complained of feeling tired and faint. Tomorrow the two will be assigned to work in the women's prison.

CHIPPED GRANITE STEPS OF BOROUGH HALL, BROOKLYN

New York, March 19.—Police today were trying to figure out how some persons, armed with a sledge hammer, could have chipped fragments, some weighing as much as two pounds, from 27 of the granite steps of Borough hall, Eroklyn, during last night and escape detection.

The steps are supposedly well lighted, the neighborhood is a busy one, and their is a watchman on guard.

Bishop Thomas Bowman Dead at 84

Was One of the Best Known Men in the Evangelical Church in United States.

Allentown, Pa., March 19.—Thomas Bowman, bishop emeritus of the Evangelical Church in the United States, and one of the best known men in the denomination, died today at his home here. He was 87 years old. Bishop Bowman had been ill more than a month.

Born in Lehigh township, Northampton county, Pa., May 28, 1836, Bishop Bowman received his early education in an academy at Easton. He entered the ministry in 1859 and served a number of charges in eastern Pennsylvania. During the Civil war he took a firm stand against slavery and his sermons were widely quoted.

He was elected to the episcopacy in 1875 and served continuously for thirty-nine years. During that period he presided at all the conferences in the United States and Canada and made eight Episcopal visits to European conferences.

TARIFF COMMISSION TO START ITS INVESTIGATION

Washington, March 19. — Formal announcement was made tonight by the tariff commission that it soon would start its first investigation under flexible provisions of the new tariff act to determine whether the rates on seventeen commodities are equitable. Chairman Marvin stated it was the commission's intent to begin work immediately in a preliminary way looking to a sweeping study of production costs and other facts.

The investigation will be limited to rates against which complaints have been filed.

The rates coming within the scope of the investigation affect the following articles: Sugar, cotton warp knit fabric, cotton gloves made of warp knit fabric, cotton hosiery for infants, pig iron, oxalic acid, diethyl barbituric acid and derivatives thereof, barium dioxide, casein, logwood extract, potassium chlorate, sodium nitrate, mirror plates, Swiss patter files, scrub brush handles, wall pockets and artificial or ornamental fruits, vegetables, grains, leaves, flowers and stems or parts thereof.

No official statement was made as to whether the complaints sought increases or decreases in the rates but it was learned that about two thirds of the requests for revision were for modification upward. The others sought decreases in the rates, chief among them being the complaint which asks a reduction in the duty on sugar.

The sugar rate appears to be the only one over which any lengthy fight was waged during congressional debate on the tariff bill and the study of that rate, therefore, seeks certain to lead to a wide inquiry into all phases of the industry.

TESTIMONY AGAINST WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

St. Joseph, Mich., March 19.—(By the A. P.)—Secrets of the organization of the communist convention held near here last August were revealed today in circuit court when "K-97" department of justice agent who attended the meeting as a delegate, took the stand as the state's star witness against William Z. Foster, charged with criminal syndicalism.

"K-97"—his number in the files of the government secret service—is Francis Morrow, of Camden, N. J., among the communists he was known as Ainsworth, and at the convention where all delegates used assumed names, he was called Day.

Morrow identified the delegate list of the convention, the regulations of the grounds committee which directed it, and a number of other state's exhibits.

$40,000 DAMAGES AWARDED FOR PERSONAL INJURY

Philadelphia, March 19.—Damages aggregating $40,000, the largest ever recorued in local courts in a personal injury suit, were awarded by a jury in common pleas court today in the case of nine-year-old Chester Gesek and his father, Stanley Gesek, against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company. The verdict gave $30,000 to the boy, whose eyesight was destroyed when several sticks of dynamite, which he said he found on the property of the railroad, exploded, and his father $10,000 as compensation for expenses and the loss of the child's earnings until he shall have reached the age of 21 years.

LIQUOR VIOLATION CASE READY FOR THE JURY

New York, March 19.—The case against Haroid L. Hart, former prohibition director, and fifteen other individuals charged with conspiracy to defraud the government through violation of the Volstead act, which has been before Federal Judge Winslow for three weeks, will go to the jury tomorrow.

Following Judge Winslow's refusal this morning to quash all the indictments, counsel for Hart, William A. Orr, former secretary to Ex-Governor Whitman, Thomas S. Reddy and Michael J. Lynch announced they would rest their cases without putting in any defense.

"ITALIAN FASCISTI OF BOSTON" ORGANIZED

Boston, March 19.—An organization known as the Italian Fascisti of Boston" has been formed here the counterpart of similar organizations in other large cities in this country, to promote the principles of the wearers of the black shirt in Italy. Dr. Gianetto Bottero, secretary of the local branch, said today that he was working under orders from a headquarters in New York, which was in touch with G. Bastinaninni, political secretary of Premier Mussolini.

"We aim to fight for the United States government and for the Italian Fascisti principles," he said.

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF PREMIER LENINE

Moscow, March 19.—(By the A. P.)—The general health of Premier Lenine was reported by the attending physicians today as good. The bulletin issued by the doctors this afternoon said there had been a further improvement in movement in the patient's arm and leg, while speech had remained unchanged.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Two year old William McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niles McLaughlin, died of smallpox at Englewood hospital in Bridgeport.

President Harding has instructed the tariff commission to proceed with an investigation of complaints against certain prevailing import duties.

The bill to repeal daylight saving was given leave to withdraw in a Massachusetts legislative committee report.

Albert R. Day of Bangor, Me., issued an announcement that he would be a candidate for governor at the republican primaries next year.

Governor Cox late Monday signed the annual appropriations bill providing for the expenditure by Massachusetts in the ensuing year of $45,077,000.

Monsignor Luzio, of the sacred congregation, entrusted by the vatican with an investigation of the state of affairs in Ireland, arrived in Dublin yesterday.

The Connecticut company estimates the cost of clean up work in connection with the winter's snow storms at $500,000, this estimate covering its entire system.

Clarence Titus, a Litchfield hight school boy and his father, Slyvanus, are at the Waterbury hospital with injuries received when they were kicked by a horse in East Morris.

Waterbury's total grond list is $149,510,327 and its taxable grand list $131,480,097, according to the grand list recapitulation as issued by the board of tax commissioners and assessors.

Lower prices for coal and removal of restrictions on its delivery are suggested in a letter which James J. Phelan, Mass., state emergency fuel administrator, has sent to local emergency fuel distributors.

Beacon Street north of Coolidge Corner, in Brookline, Mass., was overrun by a flood yesterday when a 9-inch main of the Metropolitan Water system burst near Fairbanks street.

Between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of stamps, about $100 in cash and $400 contained in registered mail were stolen by robbers who broke into the Olympia, Wash., postoffice early yesterday.

The use of liquor in dance halls was scored by U. S. Commissioner Hayes in Boston when he held Victor Kendall of Dracut, 18 years old, in $500 on a charge of illegally possessing a pint of whiskey.

The Zionist work of centuries will be lost unless the Jews continue their efforts to rebuild Palestine and establish that refuge of Jewish tradition, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist organization says.

Rev. Henry B. Kirkland, pastor of the Park Place Congregational church, Pawtucket, R. I., announced the acceptance of a call to the Market Square Presbyterian church of Germantown, Pa.

The payment of a judgment of $84,904.12 by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, the largest ever obtained in the federal district of Connecticut, has just been made to Robert G. Eaton, collector of internal revenue.

Hugh McCabe, of Arlington, R. I., a fireman, was slightly injured and three brakeman had to jump for safety in a rear-end collision of two northbound freight trains half a mile south of the station in Framingham, Mass.

United States Senator Samuel D. Nicholson, of Denver, Colo., was moved from his hotel to St. Mary's hospital, Rochester, Minn., in preparation for an operation this morning.

Constables are on the trail of a gang of thieves following the discovery that 25 cottages of the summer colony on the banks of the Connecticut river at Wilson station had been ransacked and all valuables removed.

Police officers in Manchester, N. H., were enjoined from entering six soft-drink establishments in the West Manchester district by Justice Oliver Branch of the superior court. The cafes had been under close surveillance as part of an announced crusade against bootlegging.

In developing evidence against John G. Souza, of Stamford on the charge of misconduct with Catharine Hunter, and for which offense he was sent to jail for three months, it was found that the man had been married twice and will face a bigamy charge.

Edward White left Cleveland last night in the custody of authorities for Bridgeport, Conn., where, it is said, he is wanted in connection with automobile thefts. White, who is said to have been known under the alias of Eugene Ledoux, is also charged with having broken jail.

Miss Rosamond Bradley, heiress to several millions, was married in Boston to Charles A. Rheault of Cobourg, Ont. former captain of Canadian Mounted oPlice. Their acquaintance was begun in Labrador, where Miss Bradley was a volunteer nurse.

Provision for the creation of a permanent forest to be administered for the benefit of the town of Brookline and a Masonic lodge in that town is made in the will of D. Blakeley Hoar, filed for probate in Dedham, Mass.

Owing to the attack on Joseph Smeets, the German separatist leader, at Cologne Saturday, the interallied Rhineland commission has decided immediately to suspend the functions of the prefect of police of Cologne, and open an investigation of the affair.

David Lloyd George's recent undertaking to write a book and also articles for the British and American press has raised in acute form the question of former government ministers revealing confidential information obtained during their period of office.

Amumzia Marstall, 20 years old, of Stamford, was removed to the Stamford hospital last night suffering from a bullet wound in her chest. Her condition is not serious. At the same time police started a search for Gaetano Iovino, a cousin, who disappeared immediately after the girl was shot.

LOI TELLEGEN DEPICTED AS AN UNFAITHFUL SPOUSE

Testimony of Witnesses in Divorce Suit Brought by Miss Geraldine Farrar Tended to Show That the Actor, in Real Life, Failed to Portray the Character of a Faithful Husband—Witnesses Named Two "Strikingly Beautiful" Women as Co-Respondents—Miss Farrar's Attorneys Understand That No Defense is to be Offered.

New York, March 19.—Lou Tellegen, actor, who is being sued for divorce by Geraldine Farrar, former Metropolitan star, was described today as a "Don Juan" of stage, seashore and ghetto, by witnesses testifying for the diva before Referee Thomas B. Mahoney.

These witnesses named two "strikingly beautiful young women as co-respondents. One was Miss Lorna Ambler, an Australian actress. The other was referred to only as "Miss L." an American actress, who played in the same company with Tellegen in 1921. A third woman, said to be known in San Francisco as Bessie Clifford, was named in the complaint, but no mention was made of her today.

Two of the witnesses, W. F. Beers and Louis Malthaner, owners of bungalows in a colony on Long Beach, described a "month of bliss" spent in July, 1921, by Tellegen and Miss Ambler in a cottage facing the sea.

Mr. Beers said he rented one of his bungalows to Rankin, Tellegen's secretary, but didn't know who he was, and that Rankin and his wife spent several days in the bungalow before Tellegen and the other young woman arrived.

Malthaner declared he didn't know who Tellegen was even after he had been told his name, but that he talked and hobnobbed with him on occasions.

Once, Malthaner testified, he was helping to repair a motor at a neighbor's shack and Tellegen happened by. They invited him to have a bottle of beer. While he was there the girl, with a heavy sack of groceries over her shoulder, came up the path.

"Oh Lou," she said, according to Malthaner, "this is so heavy I don't think I can carry it any further."

"Oh, yes, Babe, you can carry it all right. Run along now. There's some chops in the box. Fix them for supper. I'll be over shortly.

Beers and Malthaner identified a photograph of Tellegen and the girl as the couple who spent the month at the Long Island resort and departed after Tellegen had received a letter from his wife's lawyers. They said the girl had a broad, affected English accent, pleasing to the ear, and that she was a woman of culture.

Malthaner, incidentally, is a clerk in the offices of the diva's counsel. He testified he didn't know anything about the divorce action until after it was filed.

When Tellegen returned to New York, testimony revealed, he was trailed night and day by private detectives. In August Miss Ambler went to live with friends in a studio apartment on the top oor of a rooming house on West 7th street. Norman Fitzsimmons, private detective, said he followed Tellegen to this house on numerous occasions ad that the actor met the girl in the vestibule.

Invariably, he said, they embraced in the shadows and then went for long walks, winding in anw out side streets, and often into the ghetto and the lower East Side, where they stopped in Italian restaurants for midnight suppers.

They seemed very much taken with each other," the detective testified.

After these feasts, the detective said, they would return to the 37th street house, and part in the vestibule, after a prolonged farewell. Then Tellegen would speed away in a taxi to his suite in the Ritz Carlton hotel.

In September, after the opening of "Don Juan," with Tellegen in the title role, the actor began dividing his attentions between Miss Ambler and "Miss L." according to Fitzsimmons.

Immediately after the performances he would hail a taxi and take "Miss L" to her home on Riverside Drive, spend a moment or two with her in the hallway, and then go downtown to meet Miss Ambler.

One night in September, Fitzsimmons continued, he followed Tellegen and "Miss L." to a bench overlooking the river in a dark place on Riverside Drive.

At this point the referee asked newspapermen to depart, as Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for Miss Farrar, thought the testimony to come would be "unfit for their ears."

"Oh Lou," she said, according to Malthaner, "this is so heavy I don't think I can carry it any further."

"Oh, yes, Babe, you can carry it all right. Run along now. There's some chops in the box. Fix them for supper. I'll be over shortly.

Beers and Malthaner identified a photograph of Tellegen and the girl as the couple who spent the month at the Long Island resort and departed after Tellegen had received a letter from his wife's lawyers. They said the girl had a broad, affected English accent, pleasing to the ear, and that she was a woman of culture.

Malthaner, incidentally, is a clerk in the offices of the diva's counsel. He testified he didn't know anything about the divorce action until after it was filed.

When Tellegen returned to New York, testimony revealed, he was trailed night and day by private detectives.

Fitzsimmons continued, he followed Tellegen and "Miss L." to a bench overlooking the river in a dark place on Riverside Drive.

At this point the referee asked newspapermen to depart, as Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for Miss Farrar, thought the testimony to come would be "unfit for their ears."

After Fitzsimmon had left the stand, the last witness for the plaintiff was Joseph Brandt, a negro, elevator and switchboard operator at the home in which "Miss L." rented an apartment. Brandt said he had seen Tellegen frequently with "Miss L." He appeared with her at the apartment house most of the time, and at first didn't go upstairs. Later he spent hours at a time in the young woman's rooms, Brandt said, and one Saturday stayed all night. The plaintiff's case was closed with Brandt's testimony.

Referee Mahoney ordered a recess to permit him in order to give Arthur E. Schwarts, counsel for Tellegen, an opportunity to make an entry on the record.

Mr. Schwarts did not appear today, Miss Farrar's attorneys said they understood that no defense would be offered.

TO DEFER ORDER FOR THE TEXTILE STRIKE

Fall River, Mass., March 19.—President Thomas F. McMahon, of the United Textile Workers of America announced tonight after addressing more than 600 members of locals affiliated with the United Textile Workers that although he had come to Fall River tonight with the day and the hour for the calling of a strike decided upon, information which had been brought to him tonight had caused him to change his plans and to defer the issuance of a strike order.

In a statement issued after the meeting the United Textile Workers leader declared that the offer made today by the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' association to meet with the textile council, rival of the United Textile Workers for control of the situation in this city, was part of a plan by which the manufacturers hoped to settle the dispute by granting a 13 1-2 per cent. wage increase to workers.

The United Textile Workers, which controls a minority of the 36,000 textile operatives of this city, demanded a 2 per cent. wage increase two months ago but the manufacturers refused to meet with the union leaders to discuss the question.

The Textile Council affiliated with the American Federation of Textile Operatoves, made a demand last week for a 15 per cent. wage increase.

ATTACKS BY DESTROYERS IN BATTLE PRACTICE

On Board U. S. S. California, Panama Bay, March 19.—(By Radio to The A. P.)—Six hits out of 114 torpedoes launched were scored by two columns of destroyers in two attacks today on the Pacific fleet in maneuvres during which battle conditions were stimulated.

The California, flagship of Admiral Elberle, commander of the Pacific fleet, was hit once during the first attack and the Idaho twice in the second attack. Two hits also were registered on the Tennessee.

Secretary Denby and a party of senators and representatives witnessed the first attack from destroyers which operated behind a smoke screen. The second phase of the maneuvers was observed from the California.

RUM RUNNING BOATS ENGAGE IN REGATTA

Highlands, N. J., March 19.—(By the A. P.)—Rum running speed boats today engaged in an impromptu regatta, racing for the title of queen of the fleet, while waiting for calm seas which would permit them to land whiskey from the liquor fleet on the Jersey and Long Island shores.

Bottle-fishermen are equipping their exhausts with a device akin to a Maxim silencer, in order to elude government craft in the dark. The invention is so successful that the exhaust is no more audible than the whirr of an ordinary automobile engine and runners calculate that they can pass within a few feet of a coast guard boat without being heard.

Only a moderate amount of liquor was reported to have reached the Jersey shore over the week end, but local supplies were reported far from exhausted.

One motorist was sent to county jail for 30 days for driving intoxicated through Highlands and his license was revoked. Borough Recorder Reddy announced a policy of "jail—no more fines in such cases."

AMERICAN TO HEAD INT'AL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Rome, March 19.—(By The A. P.)—The election of Wissis H. Booth, of New York, as the next president of the International Chamber of Commerce will be a mere formality at the plenary session of that organization next Sunday, according to said decision taken by the various delegations today. The American banker has the support of the French, British and Italian delegates.

The American delegates continue to play a preponderant part in the deliberations of the various groups today. Edwin Coffin succeeded in securing the adoption of a resolution endorsing the development of civil aviation by the governments through subsideries of otherwise.

The transport group recommended the abolition of passports and also reduction to a minimum of vise charges; the private operation of railroads was favored and the standardization of rolling stock. A resolution also was approved reducing as far as possible of all formalities. The construction of a tunnel under the English Channel, which it was thought would improve trans-European traffic, was urged.

The various resolutions will be brought before the pienary session tomorrow for final voting.

IMPLICATED POLICEMEN IN GARY LIQUOR CASE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19.—A motor trip from Grand Rapids Mich., to Chicago, planned by Charles W. Kalver, of Grand Rapids for himself and a party of friends, went off well until he reached Gary, Ind., and there terminated in disaster, according to the former's testimony in the Lake county liquor conspiracy case in federal court here today. The witness' story, which involved a false arrest at Gary on the charge of liquor law violation, the attempt of police officers to secure a bribe of $100 for immediate release and the subsequent successful efforts of police and attorneys to extort fines amounting to $900 without the formality of a trial was later corroborated on the stand by Miss Alice Abie, another government witness and a member of Kalver's motor party.

In his testimony Kalver implicated two Gary police officers, Elias Lucas, a Gary attorney, Dwight Minder, Lake county prosecutor, and William Olds, Lake county sheriff.

CAPTURING CORRESPONDENCE OF IRISH PEACE OFFICIALS

Dublin, March 19.—The Free State government is showing great activity in searching for and capturing correspondence of irregular officials. The publicity department of the government today published a long letter said to have been written by Sean Moylan. The communication was dated New York, February 15, and addressed to "The Officer Commanding in Great Britain." The text is said to have dealt mainly with the difficulties of collecting money in the United States for the republican movement in Ireland.

Tom Johnson, labor leader of the Dail, addressing a conference in Ennis, County Dublin, today declared the labor party would oppose any attempt to make the [illegible] treaty the main issue at the general election [illegible] rather should [illegible] no issue.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN

Farmers' Night was held at the chamber of commerce rooms Monday evening and was attended by over 100 farmer and chamber of commerce members. The president, Valentine L. Murphy, opened the meeting at 8:15 o'clock and after addressing a few remarks of welcome to the visitors he turned the meeting over to Charles L. Beach, president of the agricultural college.

The first number on the program was a song by the C. A. C. quartet. President Beach then favored with a talk in which he explained the need of an appropriation from the state for the college. He stated that more money for the college would not mean a loss to the state as every dollar which the state had expended for the college within the past forty years had produced a net return of five per cent. on the appropriation and investment. He claimed that only $1 per cent of the state expenditures had been for agricultural, educational and highway expenses, the remainder of the amount being for non-productive institutions and maintenance.

In the last state budget there was less money appropriated for education than there was for humane institutions. He further explained that due to its periodical growth in student body, the college was now in great need of a new dormitory and office building and he hoped that all those present would endorse this expenditure.

Michael Farrell of the C. A. C. quartette and formerly of this city, rendered a fine solo and was heartily applauded. Professor H. J. Baker, director of the extension work at the college was heard and his subject was on the need of less expensive and a more adquate food supply in this state.

He spoke of the wonderful results of the cooperative associations of the farmers. He stated that the New England farmers are now employing business methods in the buying of supplies and in the selling of their products. He believed that cooperative methods in agricultural markets would produce more food of a better quality and a better price and a larger profit to the farmer.

The C. A. C. quartette then rendered another song. Professor George E. White of the dairy school was then introduced and he brought a number of excellent ideas on dairying. He spoke of the increase of milk and butter consumption in this state and lamented the fact that much of the latter product was coming from out of the state. He suggested the great improvements made in the breeding of Connecticut cattle within the past few years. There is still room for a better ment although the state ranks high in this line. He advised his audience that cows should freshen each year in order to obtain proper stimulation and constant production of milk. He concluded by saying the dairy industry is solidly established in this state. Mr. Thibeault of the quartette rendered a solo.

Professor William F. Kirkpatrick of the poultry department of the college made timely remarks on the poultry of Connecticut. An interesting statement which he made was that according to figures there are 400 million eggs laid each year and 200 eggs per capital are consumed yearly. He spoke on the stability of the poultrymen in this section as compared with the frequent sale of farms in other parts of the state. In his opinion the poultry business in Connecticut is a solid and substantial industry. The speaker concluded his remarks by making the following statement in behalf of the Connecticut poultry men: Connecticut eggs are best for Connecticut people at Connecticut prices.

The four speakers were loudly applauded by the audience as was also the L. A. C. quartette for their delightful numbers. The meeting was adjourned at 10 o'clock and a buffet lunch of coffee, doughnuts and cheese was served.

Thirty-four teams have handed in their reports to trustees, George E. Hinman, Charles F. Risedorf and Dwight E. Abel, for a total of $5,009 in cash and pledges towards the $3,350 budget for the First Congregational church and $1,500 for the $2,500 amount set aside for the missions. The campaign is for the raising of a total of $10,850 to meet the church budget and department of missions expense for the fiscal year 1923-1924. Forty-six canvassers have been conducting an every member canvass. The amount received is sixty per cent of the total sum and a large number of the parishioners have not as yet handed in their contribution.

The trustees are very confident that the required amount will be realized although the budget for 1923-1924 is $350 greater than last year. The increase is due to the including in the budget of a honorarium to the minister of the same amount as has been presented to him during the past two years and the salary of the collector. In the opinion of the trustees, the church desires to continue to supplement at least to the same extent as formerly the established salary of the minister and it is deemed wise to provide therefore, if possible from the regular income of the church without the necessity of special solicitation and contribution for this purpose.

The church budget follows: Minister's salary, $2,500; honorarium, $700; sexton $900; music $1,750; fuel $900; lighting, $150; insurance, including boiler 3 years, $514; parsonage, including repairs and interest, $300; repairs $150; printing $400; flowers, $50; minister's expenses, $100; janitor's supplies, $50; Congregational per capita tax $90; Sunday school support, $100; Eastford Camp $50; premium on pastor's annuity, $50; collector, $100; contingent expenses $200; total $8,350.

In the appeal for contributions to the department of missions, 350 weekly givers for a total of $3,500 are asked for. In 1922 there were 134 givers to the missions; in 1921 there were 250; in 1922 there were 238 out of the 495 contributors so church expenses, practically 54.2 per cent.

The offerings are for the great Congregational missionary organizations, representing evangelistic, educational and social activities all over the world. Besides this contribution it is recommended that gifts of $50 each be made to the Boston Seamen's Friend Society, Connecticut Federation of Churches and the Canton Christian College.

Upon hearing a loud crash resi-

Good Luck
Just to go to
TO US SALADS
IS GOOD JUDGMENT.
"The Tea that is always Reliable."

dents of Church street in the vicinity of Spring street and Maple avenue came out of their homes quite late Sunday night and found an automobile sunk down to the hubs on the lawn of the home of Mrs. T. R. Parker on Church street. The driver was making futile efforts to back the car out onto the street. The car was a Dort automobile and from what could be learned the driver was a member of the newly organized Willimantic Motors Company and with him was a friend.

It was claimed that instead of making the turn out of Maple avenue into Church street the car shot across the street, mounted the curbing to the sidewalk and ran over a hedge fence into the lawn. The wrecker from the Willimantic Motors company was called for and hauled the car back into the road.

It was stated that no damage was done to the car.

The Eastern Star lodge, No. 44, F. & A. M., will observe Ladies' Night this (Tuesday) night at the town hall and a large attendance is looked forward to. A concert will be rendered by the Connecticut Agricultural Glee Club and they will also be heard in solos and quartettes and readings. Refreshments will be served after the concert and dancing will follow. The Willimantic Concert orchestra will make its initial appearance on this night. Invitations have been sent out to all members residing in this jurisdiction by the committee which includes H. C. Wiggins, chairman, C. H. Caswell and J. G. Boss.

Funeral services for Frank S. Hook were held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the J. C. Lincoln Company funeral parlors. Rev. Harry S. McCready officiated. The bearers were John C. Barstow, Robert E. Mitchell, William Foran and James C. Bacon. Burial took place in the Willimantic cemetery.

The funeral services for Richard R. Hammond were held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the J. C. Lincoln Company undertaking parlors on Church street. Rev. Harry S. McCready officiated. The remains were placed in the receiving vault of the Willimantic cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Amanda Michaud, who died Friday, were held Monday morning from the late home, No. 29 Temple street, followed by services at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church. Rev. J. J. Papillon officiated. The church choir rendered special music and Mrs. Joseph F. Gaudreau presided at the organ. The bearers were Alphonse Michaud, Benjamin Hasler, Joseph Thifault, Henry Piante, Joseph St. Germain and Joseph Langevin. The remains were placed in the receiving vault at St. Joseph's cemetery where Rev. H. Beleo read a committal service.

The funeral of Roderick Young were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home, No. 292 Windham road. Rev. Harry S. McCready officiating. Burial occurred in the Willimantic cemetery. The bearers were Mayor Charles A. Gates, Samuel D. Snow, Charles M. Thompson, William B. Elliott, Charles H. Bradley and John L. Andrews. The bearers were all members of Obwebetuck Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Avery and Van Zandt, successors to Jay M. Shepard.

George Denis of this city was before the Columbia town court Saturday afternoon, charged with reckless driving. Denis did not plead but asked for a continuance of the case to allow witnesses to appear in his behalf and also to secure counsel. The case was continued until Monday, April 9, by Justice of the Peace Hubert P. Collins. The case is the result of a collision between a machine driven by Denis and another car from New Jersey on the Columbia state highway near Loomis Rock. The New Jersey man charged Denis with reckless driving at the time. State Policeman Russell I. Harmon has been investigating the case.

A rim on the rear wheel of the Providence Dairy Company's International truck bounded off in Yantic early Monday morning and before it could be stopped it had struck a girl and broken the window of the enarby grocery store. It was claimed that the pressure in the pneumatic tire caused the rim to come off of the wheel. The girl was only shaken up by the impact and at the time that she was struck, was standing in front of the grocery store which was nearly forty feet from the spot where the rim came off. The driver of the truck was William Kelly of this city.

The Rossi Velvet Company installed a warping section last week on the second floor of what used to be the Turner mill at the junction of Bank and Valley streets. There are ten hands employed there at the present time but it is expected that the number will be increased within a short time. This section is in addition to the department at the plant on South street.

At the recent adjourned fourth quarterly conference of the local Methodist church held at the church, the members of the church extended a unanimous call to the pastor, Rev. John Pearce, to return for another year. The recommendation will be made to the annual conference of Southern New England ministers to be held shortly at New London.

Mrs. C. H. Savage of Storrs will be heard at the Woman's Club meeting this (Tuesday) afternoon on Reading of the Adult. Mrs. Savage has had extensive experience as a librarian, on the Pacific coast and recently addressed the Wethersfield Woman's Club on the same subject.

Engine Company No. 1 was called Monday morning for a chimney fire in the residence at 11 Quercus avenue which is owned by the American Thread Company and is occupied by Joseph Laurier and family. Nine gallons of chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze.

District Deputies T. Frank Gunningham of this city, John F. Hennon of Jewett City and L. J. Kennedy of Hartford, assisted by the Hartford degree team, exemplified the third degree of the Knights of Columbus upon a class of candidates in Rockville Sunday afternoon. A number of local knights witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. A. N. Chenowith of 175 Mountain street has accepted a position as soloist and choir leader at the Baptist church.

A mother's meeting was held at the Congregational Church House on Monday afternoon.

Robert H. Fenton of 325 Church street slipped and fell on the ice in his yard Monday morning and broke his ankle. Dr. L. I. Mason was called and reduced the painful fracture.

A meeting of the Windham Girls' club was held in their rooms on Union street Monday evening and the members registered in the various classes of the club.

Mrs. R. C. White, wife of Dr. R. C. White, who underwent a serious operation at St. Joseph's hospital recently, is resting as comfortably as can be expected. Dr. Owen O'Neill and Dr. Overlock of Putnam have been in attendance.

Miss Hazel Rice, who has been taking a course in clinical pathology at the Yale Medical School, has returned to her former position with Dr. L. I. Mason.

County Investigator William E. Jackson of Quarry street is confined to his home suffering from an infection about the face.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Gaucher of Hartford were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Cardinal of Ash street.

Mrs. F. R. Jackson and her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Sumner, have returned from a short visit with cousins in Worcester, Mass.

Some of the members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Romer of Hartford, formerly of this city, are ill with diphtheria and the house has been quarantined.

Miss Etta McCullough of The Jordan Hardware Company is confined to her home with an attack of the grip.

Miss Mabel Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins of Jackson street, returned Monday morning to resume her duties as teacher at the Duxbury, Mass., high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hawkins have taken an apartment in the Lucien Morin house recently purchased of Dr. L. I. Mason on Fairview street.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville G. Graves were recent visitors in Providence, R. I.

JEWETT CITY

The first consignment of shamrocks direct from the Irish Free state have arrived at the local office. They came in little boxes, made especially for their transportation. If some do get here, more or less crushed, they are nevertheless a fresh message from home.

At half past four Monday afternoon the sky suddenly filled with dark clouds, with rising wind and an appreciable drop in the temperature. Lights were needed in the borough homes and stores at an early hour.

There have been two results of the exceptionally icy winter, seen in the borough, that would not have at first been thought of.

Cobblers have found for the last three months, very slow business, especially in soleing shoes. The answer is seen in the report of the merchants, when they say, that not in many years, has the sale of rubber footwear been as great.

A Lisbon farmer reports that once, when J. C. Lewis, was superintendent of the W. A. Slater mills here, that he planted his garden on the west bank of the Quinebaug, with potatoes the first week in March.

A party of Jewett City men, were recalling, one evening last week, the many facts relative to the high water, that used to be a menace to Jewett City, regularly every spring. Various were the reasons given and opinions expressed as to why it never comes now.

Some spoke of the big Aspinook dam as holding back the ice that used to tear through the gorge at the Falls and "bark" the trees in Shipman's Grove, then on to batter the piers at the Lisbon bridge, already scarred from the ice attacks of other winters.

The fact of the ice is entirely true, yet, it was pointed out, that just as much water if it came, must pass down the Quinebaug valley, as if there were no dams along the river's whole course.

Not only did the Quinebaug rise to abnormal heights, but the Pachaug river as well, had its regular spring time of refusing to run in its allotted course.

The main trouble used to occur at what was then called the "gambrel roofed" house, below the railroad track on South main street.

This house stands on a wall, built right up from the generally peaceful stream. It was owned by the Slater company, and every spring was subject to an exceedingly disagreeable flooding in its lower backroom kitchen.

As a logical result of the unwelcome high water visits, the occupany of this tenement shifted about every summer. The house always stood its ground, and stands today, but after the annual flood, it took some little spell to shovel out the foot or more of up stream real estate that had been deposited on the floor.

One well remembered year, the late James R. Ray occupied the tent. The rains descended and the floods came as usual. Mr. Ray, said he didn't know as it would damage anything much, except a brand new kitchen stove he had recently purchased.

He had a tight 44 gallon cask, in the yard which he at some future period intended to saw in two in the middle thus making two tubs for some household need. Mr. Ray told some of his fellow overseers at the mill about the stove and cask. That night, the water, rising two inches an hour was at the top of the wall at bed-time.

Charles H. Ray, and a few of the other bosses went to help move furniture up stairs, and prepare things so that as little damage as possible should be done by the threatening flood. As a last measure they took the cask through the window drove the bung in tight, and then lifted the stove up on top of it. During the night, the river came in rose higher and higher on the air tight cask, finally tipping it over, stove and all.

At dawn, Mr. Ray looked out of the back window, to see a raging yellow torrent and peering down the back stairs, he noted the cask bobbing about here and there, close up to the ceiling, the new stove was under four feet of water, and being located later was found to be full of Pachaug mud. Mr. Ray appealed to the "super" and moved to Lincoln square next day.

MERROW

Dwight Newcomb, who has been visiting his sister in New London for the past week, has returned to his home again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Burdick and Mrs. Merritt Usher spent Sunday in Hampton and Chaplin.

Mrs. Ivan Wilcox spent the day with her daughter and grandson in Rockville last Sunday.

Miss Blanche Taylor, who has been in Hartford training for a nurse, is home on account of illness.

Mrs. Ivan Wilcox gave a farewell surprise party to A. T. Burdick and family last week. Games were played. Refreshments were served, consisting of apples, popcorn and candy, after which Mrs. Wilcox had the family sit down to a table. She then read a poem. Then Mrs. Ira Wilcox came forward with a basket of presents which she presented to the Burdick family. They were very much surprised. All reported a very pleasant evening.

Dr. E. R. Dimock and Miss Sarah E. White of South Coventry were married last Wednesday evening, March 14, at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. Charles Johnson. Dr. Dimock is general manager of a store in this place and is also running a farm in Tolland. They are making their home in Merrow at present.

Byrd E. Standish and Miss Christine McMenemy of Storrs spent the week end at Edgewood.

It takes a smart man to write an un-important letter.

What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.

Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.

Mowing Pictures at Bijou Theatre.

Shetucket Lodge, No. 37, I. O. O. F., meets in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Norwich Nest, No. 1570, M. W. A., meets in Owls' Hall.

Ionic Camp, No. 7694, M. W. A., meets in Scriner Hall.

Norwich Central Labor Union meets in Carpenter's Hall.

St. James' Lodge, No. 22, F. and A. M., meets in Masonic Temple.

Rose of New England Lodge, No. 2264, G. U. O. of O. F., meets at 38 West Main Street.

Clara Barton Tent, No. 1, D. of V., meets in Buckingham Memorial.

St. Mary's T. A. and B. Society meets in T. A. B. Building.

Slater Lodge, No. 502, N. E. O. P., meets in Germania Hall.

White Cross Council, No. 13, K. of C., meets in K. of C. House.

Fool's cap paper was first named in the time of Charles I, when a sheet having a fool's cap and bells for a watermark was used in place of stationery having the royal arms in derision of the monarch.

FOR COLDS INFLUENZA AND AS A PREVENTIVE TAKE LAXATIVE Bromo Quinine
BOX BEARS SIGNATURE OF E. W. GROVE 30 CENTS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A special meeting of the Connecticut Council of Catholic Women will be held in the rooms of the council in the Carroll building on Tuesday evening, March 20th at 8 o'clock.

Miss Marguerite Boylan of Hartford will explain to the council several legislative matters and will also speak about the Vacation House at Lakeville, Conn.

In addition to Miss Boylan's address there will be a very attractive musical programme.

Stonington Poultry Club

The Stonington Poultry club will hold a meeting Tuesday evening in the Wequetequock Community club house. J. C. Taylor of Storrs will be present and will inspect the club records. Members are expected to have their records up to date for the meeting.

Breed Theatre.

A capacity audience at the Breed theatre last evening testified to the consensus of opinion that Jack Pickford has made a truly notable return to the screen in his latest picture, "Garrison's Finish," an Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release, which opened a four days' engagement at that popular playhouse. From start to finish, "Garrison's Finish" is exhilarating entertainment of the highest class, being that sort of photoplay which contains every element the general public likes, including romance, intrigue, thrills and well-sustained suspense.

The story has to do with Billy Garrison, a jockey, whose successes and failures on the race-track form the crux of the intensely interesting plot. As played by Mr. Pickford this title role is most winning and in the several love scenes he has with Madge Bellamy, his leading lady, he displays a considerable ability as a romantic actor of real finess.

The supporting cast is exceptionally strong. Besides the good work of Miss Bellamy, there are illuminating performances by Ethel Grey Terry, Clarence Burton, Audrey Chapman, Charles A. Stevenson and Tom Prior. It is interesting to note that Arthur Arthur Rosen directed the picture while his brother, Harold Rosson, photographed it. Elmer Harris wrote the photoplay, basing it on W. B. M. Ferguson's novel by that title and also supervised the production.

"Garrison's Finish" is what most "fans" will call a perfect picture. It has charm, dash and everything the regular like to see projected on the screen.

Other pictures on the bill include the Pathe News and an Educational comedy.

Coming Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Charlie Chaplin in "The Pilgrim."

Banner Bill at Broadway Theatre.

Playing to a delighted audience yesterday the E. F. Keith vaudeville programme offered by the Broadway theatre made an apparent hit with all.

The headline act is Owen Kelly and his Golden Gate Syncopaters, consisting of seven people who know how to sing, dance and play music and make merry to the delight of the audience.

McDonald and Oaks opened the bill with a very trim little dancing offering.

Ruth Davis, charming young Miss appeared in "Bits of Originalities," by Jay Raymond. She is a capable comedienne.

Nerrit and Mourn offered a very funny comedy turn that was well received.

Ray and Fay closed the bill with a novel comedy skit, "The Tin Wedding." It is a combination of song and comedy that was well taken.

A great cast, headed by J. Frank Glendon, Alice Lake, Rosemary Theby, Baby Josephine Adair and Philo McCollough, romped home a winner last night at the Broadway theatre, when "More to Be Pitied Than Scorned" opened to a full house and made an unmistakable hit.

The stirring play by Charles E. Blaney, screened by C. B. C. Productions, under the direction of Edward LeSaint, is one of the old-time thrillers—a story of home and stage with all the appeal and sentiment so dear to the heart of the home-loving public.

The scenic investiture is unusually rich and attractive, especially the interior views of Julian Lorraine's home.

The New York critics, who were unanimous in their expressions of approval, appear to have been justified in their comments.

Fine Attraction at the Strand.

That the patrons of the Strand theatre were pleased with the Jubilee Week program arranged by the management was acknowledged by the many favorable comments.

Secret "The Little Church Around the Corner," which was shown at the Strand theatre yesterday, is worth while, for it is an entertainment of rare pleasure, a picture drama of the type that comes about once in a blue moon.

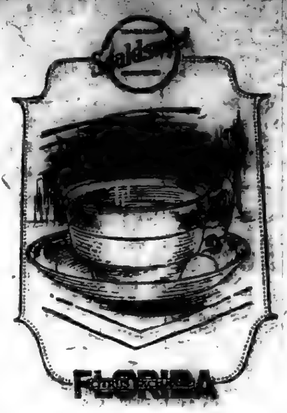
The worth-whileness is due to the fact that some of the important actions in this Warner Brothers production take place in a mining town—and so well is it reproduced that the illusion is perfect; you have the spirit of the strikers dramatically rendered, the mining district, streets and mines; it is all done so vividly that you think the cameramen had waited for a miners' strike before proceeding to take the picture.

Praise for the masterly mob scenes is due William Seiter, who directed. Never before has the spirit of the mob in its ugly moods been so finely rendered on screen.

The supporting cast, a strong one, is made up of such well known actors as Kenneth Harlan, Hobart Bosworth, Walter Long, Alec Francis, George Cooper, Makarief Seddon, Wilson Hall, Cyril Chadwick and Pauline Stark.

The first round of "Fighting Blood," the H. C. Watwair's Colliers Weekly stories, was excellently received as an added attraction. There also is a comedy and news.

Pueblo Indian communities of Arizona and New Mexico are the oldest self-governing democratic organizations in the Western Hemisphere.



SEALDSWEET GRAPEFRUIT RICKEY

Made after one of the scores of tested recipes in "Home Uses for Juices of Sealdsweet Florida Oranges and Grapefruit." Send for gift copy, free. Address, Florida Citrus Exchange, 720 Citrus Exchange Building, Tampa, Florida.

Sealdsweet Florida grapefruit are unsurpassed as breakfast fruits, the ideal base for all salads and served in countless other ways add healthful variety to meals.

Sealdsweet Florida Oranges

Sealdsweet Florida oranges are equally useful in planning balanced menus.

Ask your fruit dealer for Sealdsweet Florida oranges and grapefruit. Insist that he supply you with them.

DENTIST
Dr. F. C. Jackson
SPECIALIZING IN PAINLESS EXTRACTING
MAIN STREET, WILLIMANTIC

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
836 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 561-2

JAY M. SHEPARD
Succeeding Fillmore & Shepard
Funeral Director & Embalmer
40-42 NORTH ST. WILLIMANTIC
Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
25 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 256 (Lady Assistant)

JOY OF HEALTH WOMAN'S RIGHT
Mrs. Evans Freed from Female Weakness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female [illegible] with pains in my back, and could not stand [illegible] my feet for days at a time. I [illegible] waiting in a factory but had to [illegible] as I was too [illegible] on my feet. [illegible] Lydia E. [illegible] Compound [illegible] can [illegible] Ch, it's a great thing to have health! I feel all the time [illegible] up cut like other women and [illegible] awful torture. When I [illegible] medicine first I thought it [illegible] after the first bottle, but [illegible] my husband kept me at it [illegible] did and now I am [illegible]
—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1404 Le[illegible] Ave., Detroit, Michigan.
If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Its merits is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.
PRINTED FABRICS SHOW A BLAZE OF BRILLIANT COLOR
Printed Fabrics are the season's vogue, and as such they are in evidence in the many new modes. While each pattern and color reflects the personality of the country that conceived it, the color combination and harmony in each design is a work of art. Paisley Silks seem to have the lead on all others, because it can be used for one or two-piece frocks, overblouses or trimmings and a score of other things in which such pretty fabrics and designs can be combined with equal attractiveness. Many patterns have just been received.

Children Delight In Cuticura Soap Baths
Because they are soothing and refreshing for skin troubles, especially if assisted by Cuticura Ointment on first signs of pimples or roughness. The Cuticura Talcum also, delicately medicated and exquisitely perfumed, is excellent for little ones.

Let the Sunshine in!
Are you fagged and foggy when you wake up in the morning? "There's a Reason."
Coffee and tea are known to affect many people that way. Often, these beverages cause nervousness, sleeplessness and severe headache. "There's a Reason."
Postum, made from wheat roasted just like coffee, is a delightful mealtime beverage free from any element of harm.
Try it instead of coffee or tea, and let the sunshine in.
Postum FOR HEALTH
"There's a Reason"
Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc. Battle Creek, Mich.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to simmer (not boil) while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

McTIGUE WILL PROBABLY DEFEND TITLE AGAINST CARPENTIER SOON

New York, March 19.—Mike McTigue, Irish-American boxer, who won the world's light heavyweight championship Saturday in Dublin by defeating Battling Siki, probably will defend his newly won laurels against Georges Carpentier, it was revealed tonight, after an announcement by Tex Rickard that he had obtained an option on McTigue's services.

The promoter's option was secured through McTigue's manager, Joe Jacobs, who is now in this country. Negotiations would be started at once, Rickard said, to bring Siki's conquerer and Carpentier together this summer. He plans to stage the contest in Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, or the Yankee stadium, probably in June.

McTigue, according to his manager, is expected to return to the United States in the near future, prepared to defend his title.

Carpentier lost the light heavyweight title to Siki when he was knocked out in the sixth round of a bout in Paris last September. He had arranged a return meeting with the Senegalese, to take place next September in Paris, but in view of the black's downfall is expected to accept, instead, a chance to regain his laurels in this country. The winner of the McTigue-Carpentier bout probably would be matched later in the season with Gene Tunney of New York, holder of the American light heavyweight title.

Ring experts here today were unanimous in agreeing that McTigue's victory carried with it the light heavyweight championship despite cable despatches quoting the belief of London and Paris critics that Siki did not lose his title because certain rules of the international boxing union were not adhered to and neither fighter weighed in.

It was pointed out that, as far as weight was concerned, McTigue, ordinarily a middleweight, undoubtedly entered the ring considerably under the 175 pound light heavyweight limit and, thus, by his victory, was entitled to claim the championship, regardless of what Siki weighed.

McTigue's trip to Europe, which has resulted in the acquisition of greater ring laurels than he was able to obtain during eight years of boxing in this country, was taken originally for the purpose of visiting his parents in Ireland, it was learned today. A letter from the old folks induced the boxer to go back, and he left in June, accompanied by his wife and two children.

ON NORWICH ALLEYS
Connecticut Co. League

Team No. 4

Jarvis	93	80	79—252
McGinness	78	95	89—262
Singer	76	92	71—239
Conklin	100	83	75—257
Beckwith	111	78	89—278
Total	458	417	403 1278

Team No. 2

Pickering	95	87	90—272
Eaton	87	88	72—247
E. Willett	82	64	74—220
Carver	85	87	90—262
W. Mellor	81	72	86—239
Totals	430	398	413 1241

Team No. 3

Prescott	80	94	92—266
Busch	84	80	89—253
Alukowicz	72	74	84—230
Mellor	87	75	80—242
Hull	96	83	87—266
Totals	419	406	432 1257

Team No. 5

Leonard	89	79	89—257
Bush	72	74	80—226
Dunagan	80	97	76—253
Norman	95	82	80—257
Guiman	86	104	92—282
Totals	422	436	417 1275

ON MOOSUP ALLEYS
Moosup

King	176	142	93—411
Wukasa	124	119	147—390
Chartier	126	112	126—362
Salisbury	140	102	124—356
McKenzie	101	119	143—363
Totals	667	594	643 1903

Willimantic

Bishop	101	126	120—347
Rivers	97	132	93—322
Sarcher	102	97	143—342
Chabot	127	130	111—368
Noel	109	107	114—330
Totals	536	592	581 1709

DETROIT PAIR TAKES LEAD IN BOWLING

Milwaukee, Wis., March 18—(By the A. P.)—Displaying the most consistent form of the tournament, J. Pratt and W. MacDougall of Detroit rolled into first place in the doubles of the American Bowling Congress tournament today, when they totalled 1,251 pins, taking the lead by a one pin margin. Pratt contributed 641 to the total, while MacDougall came through with 610. MacDougall's first game of 167 held the pair from a much higher score. H. Witenburg and J. Williams took fourth place with 1223; this pair also bettered the former holders by one pin.

Late tonight the five-man teams will take the drives and some new leaders are promised. The intre-city team of New York city are looked to for a big total.

TILDEN AND MRS. WIGHTMAN TO TOUR EUROPE

Brookline, Mass., March 19.—William T. Tilden, 2d, of Philadelphia, national singles lawn tennis champion and joint holder of the national doubles title, has invited Mrs. C. W. Wightman of this town, who was Hazel Hotchkiss of California, to join with him in a European trip next year. Mrs. Wightman, winner of 17 national championships and regarded in this country as the greatest woman doubles player in the world, has accepted. Mrs. Wightman and Tilden plan to play at Wimbledon and possibly in the Olympic tournament at Paris next year.

GALAXY OF HEAVYWEIGHT STARS AT STADIUM

New York, March 19.—An unusual galaxy of past and present luminaries in heavyweight ranks promise to figure in the charity boxing show at the Yankee stadium on May 12, when three of the leading title contenders—Jess Willard, Floyd Johnson and Luis Angel Firpo—are scheduled as combatants.

Promoter Tex Rickard tonight announced he had asked Jack Dempsey, present heavyweight king, to referee the Willard-Johnson match, and Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett, both former titleholders, to act as judges. If they accept, their appointment must be sanctioned by the New York state athletic commission.

Turk Wins

New York, March 19—Harold L. Turk of Brooklyn, New York state champion, won the opening game of the national three-cushion billiard cushion billiard tournament today from Robert W. Lord of the Illinois Athletic club, 50 to 44. The men are in the second section of the tournament.

Turk made a high run of seven from the break and had two other runs of three each, running out in 54 innings. Lord had three high runs of three each.

JUDGE LANDIS ELIMINATED IN QUALIFYING ROUND

Belleair Heights, Fla., March 19.—The annual Belleair championship began today with 70 golfers taking part. A strong wind blew across the course and high scores resulted.

Among those who took part in the tournament was former Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago. He failed to qualify in the championship test, but he landed a berth in the second.

Today's leaders were R. A. Stranahan of Toledo and Hugh Hasel of Dallas, Tex., the former senior champion. They both had scores of 85. Stranahan went along at a fairly good clip except on the fifth and 16th holes, where he took sevens. On the fifth hole his ball was only two feet from the cup. He putted hurriedly with his mashie and the ball ran around the cup. The putt looked simple but he rimmed the cup again. He figured that this bit of hard luck cost him the medal.

George E. Morse of Rutland, Vt., who has played in two previous tournaments here and won the qualifying round in both previous events, was not up to his usual form today. He required 45 to go out and 43 coming home.

POSSIBILITY OF BASEBALL HERE THIS COMING SEASON

That Norwich will have a baseball team seems probable, for it is understood that several local baseball enthusiasts are contemplating putting on a team here this coming season. It is understood that the Fairgrounds have been leased for another year and that baseball will be put on here under an independent club.

It is also understood that open air boxing bouts may also be conducted at the grounds during the summer. Baseball will get its start here on April 10th, when the Pittsfield team will start spring training, and local teams may have a chance to get a little competition with the regulars.

RED SOX HAVE STIFF WORKOUT YESTERDAY

Hot Springs, Ark., March 19.—Drawn to the diamond by the warm sun which tempered the freezing weather of the morning, the Boston Red Sox took a hard workout late today, the pitchers cutting loose with a good deal of stuff.

Frank Chance expects to resume the exhibition games tomorrow between regulars and Yanigans, as a considerable rise in temperature is promised.

Bill McKechnie took his Pirates to the playing field for a minute's limbering up but soon abandoned that for a hike along the mountain paths. The chief has set Thursday for the first practice game.

TAFTVILLE VILLAGE LEAGUE.
Standing.

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Blackbirds	36	24	.600
Clerks	32	28	.533
T. S. S.	29	31	.483
P. W. C.	28	32	.467
J. B. Martin	28	32	.467
K. of C.	28	32	.467

Team three—Clerks 1768
Team single—K. of C. 650
High three—Dugas 441
High single—Armitage 182
High average—Gladue 114-10
Second high—F. White..... 112-15

REDS EVEN UP SERIES WITH CLEVELAND INDIANS

Lakeland, Fla., March 19.—The Cincinnati Nationals defeated the Cleveland Americans 2 to 1 at the Indians' training camp here today, evening up the series between the two teams. The score:

Cincinnati (N)	2	8	0
Cleveland (A)	1	5	1

Batteries: Donohue, Couch and Wingo; Hargrave; Coveleskie, Boone, and O'Neill, L. Sewell.

KIRKWOOD STRAINS MUSCLE LANDING BIG FISH

Belleair Heights, Fla., March 19.—Joe Kirkwood, Australian trick shot golfer, landed a four-foot kingfish while fishing near here yesterday, and doctors informed him today that he may not be able to play golf for two weeks. On landing the fish, it was explained, Kirkwood sprained a muscle in his shoulder. Several dates have been cancelled that he and Walter Hagen, his partner, had booked.

GENARO MAY HAVE CHANCE AT TWO TITLES

New York, March 19.—Frankie Genaro of New York, American flyweight champion, may have a chance to duplicate Johnny Buff's feat of holding two ring titles.

Tentative negotiations are under way to match the diminutive East Sider and Joe Lynch of New York, world's bantamweight titleholder, for a 15 round contest at Madison Square Garden May 4 as a finale to the indoor season.

Lockard Gets Seattle Club

Seattle, Wash., March 19—Sale of a majority interest in the Seattle baseball club of the Pacific Coast league to Charles L. Lockard, who resigned last week as vice-president of the Los Angeles club, of the same league, was announced here tonight.

Sullivan said that the price "would run into six figures".

Decision as to whether the management will be changed has not been made it was stated.

Delaney and O'Gatty Stopped

Providence, R. I., March 19.—The scheduled ten round bout here tonight between Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., and Jimmy O'Gatty, of New York, was stopped in the fifth round and declared "no contest" by Referee Jack Finnell who ruled that neither boxer was trying. Both had been warned repeatedly before the action was taken.

Zivic K. O.'s Moore

Columbus, Ohio, March 19.—Pete Zivic, of Pittsburgh, former international amateur bantamweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Roy Moore, of Baltimore, in five rounds here tonight. Moore's seconds tossed the towel into the ring in the fifth round of the scheduled 12 round bout to save him further punishment.

Swimming Meet at "Y" Wednesday.

The final swimming meet between the Y. M. C. A. swimming team and the Plainfield and Jewett City swimmers will be held at the "Y" Wednesday night of this week. The locals are swimming better at present and hope to win the trophy cup that is being offered by Jeweler Lee Clegg to the team making the highest score.

"Y" Volleyball League.

The business men's volleyball league games will be played in the Y gym Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. There are over 40 men on the six teams and some fast games are being played. The teams meet two nights each month and the public is invited to visit the gym to witness the games.

Case Against Lewis Dismissed.

New York, March 19.—Willie Lewis, pugilist, who was arrested several days ago in a raid on an uptown club and charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, today was dismissed by Magistrate Smith, who said the evidence in the case was insufficient.

Yale Freshies' Lacrosse Slate.

New Haven, March 19.—The Yale freshman lacrosse schedule, announced tonight, is as follows:

May 5, Erasmus high school at Brooklyn, N. Y.; May 19, Princeton freshmen at New Haven; May 26, Harvard freshmen at Cambridge.

On Way to Boston.

St. Paul, Minn., March 19.—Nine members of the St. Paul Athletic club hockey team, in charge of Manager Fitzgerald, left tonight for Boston to wind up the series of games with that city for the hockey championship of the United States.

Polo Match Postponed.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 19.—Rain today caused postponement of the first in a series of contests between the English international indoor polo team and the Sand Hill Polo club.

B. U. Wins by One Point.

Boston, March 19.—Boston university was announced today as the winner of a 1-point win over Cornell university, 29 to 28.

TODAY'S SPORTS.

Racing.

Meeting of Jefferson Parish Fair Assn. closes at New Orleans.

Meeting of Cuba-American Jockey club at Havana.

Meeting at Tijuana Jockey club at Tijuana.

Hockey.

Annual meeting of Canadian Hockey Association, at Winnipeg.

Allan Cup final matches begin at Winnipeg.

Bowling.

Annual tournament of American Bowling Congress at Milwaukee.

Handball.

National A. A. U. senior championship opens at St. Paul.

Golf.

Annual Tin Whistle championship tournament opens at Pinehurst.

Belleair amateur championship tournament opens at Belleair, Fla.

Boxing.

Bob Roper vs. Jeff Smith, 12 rounds, at Portland, Me.

Charley White vs. Jimmy Goodrich, 10 rounds, at Toronto.

JOE FABER TO GET A CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD IN MINORS WITH BALTIMORE

"Little Joe" Faber has gone up. Yes, up where he should have been some time ago, but the writer and all of Joe's friends have hopes that he won't stop there, but will even go higher.

Faber, the ex-gob, who was the star shortstop of the local Submarine Base nine during the summer of 1921, and who was beloved by all his shipmates, also by the baseball fans of all these cities and towns in this vicinity and even most of New England, for his graceful—yet wonderful—style of fielding besides his heavy hitting, for which we have yet to see his equal in these parts, has been signed by the Baltimore Orioles and departed Tuesday night for their southern training camp at Winston-Salem, N. C.

He was given a rousing send-off at the Union depot by many of his friends led by "Goldie" McCormack, widely known in these sections as the official sporting editor of the Sub Base, in all sporting events for the past three years.

The many fans who went to the Submarine Base to witness the struggles on the diamond during 1921, seemed to look upon Faber as their idol. If ever a game had to be won at the wind-up, the "wild gob rooters" (and there were many) with their civilian "friend-fans" (and there were also many of them) put all their hopes in "Little Joe" to come through with one of his extra long clouts, to turn the tide in favor of the Navy.

Before coming to the local Base, Faber played on different teams at Hampton Roads, Va., but it was right here that he "made his name."

He was a stranger here on his first appearance, but before the season was a month underway he had the admiration of all, in other words, "he became famous over night."

Faber led the sailor team in batting that year with a percentage of .429 which "aint so bad at all". His extra base hits included 16 doubles, 4 triples and 19 drives for the circuit. In July he was on a rampage when he hit for over .500 for the month, and lined out 15 "long ones" for a round trip of the sacks.

He started the year at the keystone sack, but soon "shifted berths" with Eddie Burns and until the season's end he held down the mid-position with the grace of a Bobbie Wallace, while he reminded the old timers of Honus Wagner, (the never-to-be-forgotten idol of the Pirates) when he took his turn at the plate. His fielding average that season was .977 which we call very good for a youngster still in his 'teens, and who was out there playing every day.

Faber was paid off from the navy at the end of the 1921 season and decided to try his hand on the U. S. S. Outside. Last summer he worked at the Norwich State hospital, and played on the team representing that institution.

The Sub Base arranged a series with the hospital at a time when the sailor nine seemed invincible, they had just set back Boston College with the worst defeat ever administered to the team from Newton Heights, and had just beaten Providence College, Fort Slocum of New York (twice) etc., when the first game was played with the Hospital, at the Base.

It will be remembered that "Big Six" McCarthy, the ex-marine and star of the Base twirling staff of 1920 and '21, was on the mound for the Hospital, while "Little Joe" guarded the keystone sack.

With Mac pitching air-tight ball, and Faber knocking in five runs, scoring two himself, besides completing two double-killings unassisted, the Sub Base went down to defeat 8-1.

The second game, played at the Hospital was a pitcher's battle between McCarthy and Andy Furin, but with the score tied 1-1 in the eighth, Furin was taken out for a pinch-hitter, and his relief "Smoky" Moore, lost in the 10th when Faber nicked him for a double with a runner on second, clinching the game.

Faber is a quiet, assuming youth, and always willing to learn. He is bound to make good if he gets the right coaching. And under the careful guidance of Jack Dunn, the boss of the Baltimore team, he should come out with flying colors, for we know of none better in baseball than J. D. He has piloted the Baltimore Orioles to the top of the International League so easily of recent years that it is already a habit for him to cop pennants, and he is besieged by the newspapers to place his team, just as it stands, in either the National or American League.

The famous infield of the old Athletics was known as the $100,000 combination, but anyone who said so, never dreamed of what the future was to bring. They were the class of big league baseball, the champs of the American league and World's Champions as well.

But here is a "minor" league team with an infield worth about triple the amount of Connie Mack's—McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker. Bently, at the initial bag drew $65,000 from John McGraw, while Jack Dunn praises the rest of his quartet as highly as the famous hold-out, when he asked $50,000 for Boley and he can also ask (and probably receive) the same for Bishop or Maisel.

Some day we hope to see him selling (our own) "Little Joe" Faber to the big leagues for just as much as he is now asking for the "B-B-B's" Bentley, Bishop. The best o' luck to you, Joe, and may you come out on top.

LOCAL "Y" PLACED 15TH IN HEXATHLON MEET

The results of the international Y. M. C. A. hexathlon athletic meet have just been reported, with Toronto, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Richmond, Ind., winning first places for class A, B and C associations. The Norwich "Y" athletes placed 15th in class C, with Theodore Kundig and Oscar Mobeslan being the two highest scorers for the local "Y." Seventy-eight associations entered the contest and 4,823 different men entered the competition.

Villa Fights Slow Bout

Philadelphia, March 19—Pancho Villa, former flyweight champion, tonight outpointed Young Montreal, of Providence, R. I., in a slow eight round bout. Neither man landed a telling blow. Villa's weight was announced as 110 and Montreal's 118 1-4 pounds.

Elino Flores, Villa's sparring partner, defeated Danny Rogers, Philadelphia, featherweight, in another eight round match.

Trinity Tennis Schedule.

Hartford, March 19.—The Trinity college tennis schedule was announced today as follows:

May 2, Union at Schenectady; 10, Amherst at Amherst; 11, Springfield at Hartford; 15, Yale at New Haven; 22-23, New England intercollegiates at Boston; 25, Worcester Tech at Worcester.

Accept Challenge.

The Baltic Saltzmis accept the challenge of the Battery B second team for a game to be played at Baltic on Wednesday evening.

Jewett City Team Wins.

The Jewett City rifle team defeated the Baltic Rifle club team last week by a score of 468 to 465. Stebbins of Jewett City was high man with 98.

Training Camp Talks
by STONEY McLINN

Seguin, Tex., March 20—

William Gleason, the irrepressible Kid, has accomplished what in the winter of 1920-21, a baseball-wise man would have told the world was impossible. The Kid, by casting the rays of his searchlight into the baseball highways and byways, and by expert instruction and never-failing optimism that has never been surpassed, if equalled, has welded together another diamond machine which, we now predict, will be a pennant contender for a number of seasons to come and should win a flag very soon—maybe this year.

The Chicago White Sox were a mighty baseball machine in 1919. But the sure-thing gamblers entered the camp like snakes. Their poison fangs were sunk into players who were the very backbone of Gleason's championship team. Near the end of the following campaign the truth "outed", as it always does eventually, and the Kid surveyed a terrible wreck.

As a matter of cold fact, when the 1923 White Sox take the field, there will be only three of the stars who were on the 1919 titular nine—Eddie Collins, captain and second baseman; Ray Schalk, monarch of the American League muskmen; and Urban Faber, one of the few pitchers permitted to throw the spitball. However, so competently and intelligently has Gleason builded around the three faithfuls that you will find plenty of Texas oil kings, and not a few Chicago sportsmen, who will bet—a square wager, by the way—that the Kid's rejuvenated Sox will finish one, two, three in '23. Give them the proper odds and they'll risk plenty on the Sox to win the pennant.

Kamm to Plug Weak Spot

Sure, that's what you want to know; here's the answer—Willie Kamm (that Willie is somewhat of a burden for such a regular guy) will do. Most emphatically yes! They do say Kamm cost Owner Comiskey $160,000, with $10,000 more for signing and $10,000 as annual wages. He is worth it. The outstanding weak cog in Gleason's new machine was third base. Willie makes it one of the strongest cogs.

Pitchers Are Joy of Club

Next to Kamm, the feature of the spring training that brings smiles to a face that once was furrowed with care—Gleason's—is the jam-up style and class displayed by the White Sox pitchers. Faber, though thirty-five years old, gives every indication of duplicating his 1922 performance—Urban won twenty-one games last season. And that trio developed by the Kid and his aides in '22—Leverette, Robertson and Ted Blankenship. Boy! What unhappy hours A. L. batsmen will spend when they face any one of the trio judging from their work in the early part of the training period.

Johnny Evers, who was Gleason's lieutenant last campaign told this writer that never before in his long experience on the diamond had he known one club to obtain three such exceptionally competent curvers in one season as Leverette, Robertson and Ted Blankenship.

A young right-hander from whom much is expected is Frank Woodward, last season with New Haven, of the Eastern League. This boy has the appearance of a big league ball player—one doesn't know just why, but at times you look at a fellow out there in a uniform and say to yourself or your neighbor: "There's a ball player." That's Woodward. Last season he won 23 and lost 12 for Bill Donovan's champs and led the league in strikeouts with 186. Woodward was up before with Washington. He was a bad boy and went back. If he becomes mischievous this year, we opine that the Kid will tame him.

Schalk Always Ready

Is it necessary to write anything about Ray Schalk? We think not. The best backstop in the world—isn't that correct?—starts his twelfth season with the Chicagos "in the pink". Ray is only thirty years old, a clean liver, and it is quite possible that with such a promising band of flingers to handle 1923 will be the greatest year of his fine career. To Schalk belongs a lot of credit for the showing of the three star recruits last campaign. He has almost as promising material to work with this coming season.

Gleason has three young catchers hanging around, and Roy Graham may be Schalk's first assistant. He looks good in the spring camp.

The outfield material which Gleason has in Texas is nifty. The Kid may have made his choice of the first trio by this time, but we rather believe he is on the fence. He had Johnny Mostil and Bib Falk, both youngsters of considerable skill, as leftovers from last year. He also had the veterans, Harry Hooper and Amos Strunk. None of the four created any batting records in 1922, but Mostil and Hooper were over the .300 mark and Falk and Strunk not so far below it.

Copyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Company

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

Young Montreal and Johnny Curtin meet in Jersey City March 26.

Kid Kaplan challenged Roche from the ring in Holyoke Friday night. Why?

Pepper Martin and Frankie Edwards will hook up in a 12 rounder Thursday night.

Joe Currie has been rematched with Young Manty. It will be the fourth bout between these boys.

Roy Grimes is showing his old form. He will not report to the Columbus training camp for several days.

How can Joe Burman, packing 124 pounds expect to meet Joe Lynch for the bantam title, pray tell.

George Burns will probably captain the Red Sox this season. He formerly played first base for Detroit.

At Dawson Springs the Colonels are working out on a lot behind the hotel the ball yard near, the railroad tracks being under water.

Slow motion pictures showing Bill Johnson and Gerald Patterson will be viewed by Michigan tennis team candidates.

Jimmy Smith will be asked to join a New York City tenpin squad which will visit Sweden for a series of bowling matches next summer.

Al Shubert, who gave Kid Kaplan the worst licking the Meriden boy has had for a long time, will be out of the ring for a few days. His sister died recently in New Bedford.

The famous Lincoln Giants, world's colored champions, will represent New York City this season in the newly formed Eastern League of colored clubs.

Willie O'Connor, who is handled by Eddie Meade, is but 18 years of age and the verdict he was handed over Joe Mellto was his 34th straight since quitting the amateur ranks.

The Aye Aye's brilliant schedule makers arranged 80 dates in Columbus which conflict with the races. Last year Toledo suffered in a smaller measure.

Manager Bill Killefer has decided the Cubs will carry nine pitchers during the championship race. They include Alexander, Aldrich, Cheeves, Osborne, Fussell and Dumovitch.

Commissioner Landis has re-instated Raymond Steineder, pitcher, who left the Pirates in 1920 to play with Oil City, Penna., independent team. He has been asked to rejoin Pittsburg.

Eddie Meade is testing Andy Chaney, with the idea of putting him against the best of the 130-pounders this summer. From his showing Friday, against Cooney, Chaney is on the down grade.

Nelson Brown, a member of the 1922 Dartmouth varsity baseball team, will try his luck in professional baseball this season, and has signed to play with Bill Stewart's Allentown (Pa.) club. His home is in Barre, Vt.

Connecticut boxing commissioners have ruled that Romeo Roche must fight Kid Kaplan before boxing anyone else. As Roche is still suffering from pleurisy this bout looks to be several weeks away.

Chick Suggs has dropped back to the bantams and is looking for trouble in that class. He's a little too light for the present crop of feathers and just a wee bit too heavy for the bantams.

Maggie Riley is in New York. Maggie is better known in baseball circles as the female "Babe Ruth" as a result of her widespread diamond activities. The petite star has just signed a contract with a Chicago semi-pro promoter, calling for salary of $1,750 for 10 games, with an option of three months at a stipend of $3300 per month.

Billy DeFoe, one of the leading contenders for the junior lightweight title, held by Johnny Dundee, complains that the latter has turned a deaf ear to his challengers. DeFoe offers to let Dundee split the purse any way he desires. If Dundee wants the whole purse he can have all of it. All DeFoe wants is a shot at the title.

WE recommend Certain-teed paint because it gives our customers more for their money. Our experience is that Certain-teed has more body and wears longer than ordinary paint.

YOU need only 8½ gallons of Certain-teed Outside White to paint a spacious home like this (40'x32'). That means less than $35 for the paint. There is nothing more artistic than a nicely painted, white house in its setting of green lawn and shrubbery. When it takes so little paint to keep a fine home like this fresh and new, it is a pity to put off painting. Whatever the color let us show you the choice rich shades to be had in Certain-teed outside paint.

Certain-teed

House Paint	Window Blind Paint	Inside White Paint
Outside White No. 448	Green No. 443	No. 449
Per gal. $3.50	Per qt. $1.00	Per qt. $1.00

Buy it at Paint Headquarters

T. H. ELDRIDGE

97 Water Street, Norwich, Conn.

Looks For Stage Material Abroad

Mrs. Hedda Hopper, wife of the famous De Wolf Hopper, who is now in Europe. She will keep an eye open for new film and stage material which is said to be abundant on the Continent this season.

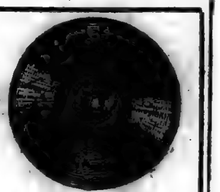
BRIEF STATE NEWS

Shelton. — The need of a motor driven hook and ladder truck to replace the present horse drawn vehicle has for a long time been a matter of much concern among local firemen.

Milford.—The Milford charter commission will meet in the office of Judge Omar W. Platt in River street this week, when it is expected that final draft of the charter will be ready to submit to the commission.

Devon.—The funeral of George W. Ruscoe was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carrie R. Harris. The Rev. William J. Guggenheim, pastor of the Devon Union church, officiated. The body will be taken to Bedford, N. Y.

16 Standard Favorite Songs



"The Rosary"
"Home Sweet Home"
"Dixie"
"Comin' Thro' the Rye"
"Silent Night, Holy Night"
"My Wild Irish Rose"
"Cradles"
"I Hear You Calling Me"
"Silver Threads Among the Gold"
"Marseilles"
"Schubert Serenade"
"Little Mother of Mine"
"Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming"
"Mighty Lak' a Rose"
"Mamma's in the Cold, Cold Ground"
"Love's Dream is Over"

$2.98 For All

EIGHT DOUBLE-DISC Full Size 10-Inch Records

Here are the songs that never grow old—the favorites you remember as long as you live, ballads that touch every heart. Just the music that should be in EVERY HOME. Eight full size double face records—16 wonderful oldtime songs, quality guaranteed to equal highest priced records. All for only $2.98. Can be played on any phonograph.

Send No Money. Don't send a penny now. Pay the postman only $2.98, plus postage, on arrival. Money back at once absolutely guaranteed if you are not more than pleased. Write postal or letter NOW.

KELLEY & COWLES, Inc.
85 PRATT ST., HARTFORD, CONN.
"HOME OF EVERYTHING MUSICAL"

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Norwich, Tuesday, March 20, 1923

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MARCH 17th, 1923
11,960

THE PRESIDENT, A CANDIDATE.

When Attorney General Daugherty says "The president will be a candidate in 1924. You can be sure of that," he gives verification to the statements which have been made by Secretary Hoover and Senator Watson, and which were of the same character.

Getting ready for the campaign of 1924 at this time may seem a bit early but it has unquestionably been forced by the efforts of those who have been endeavoring to create the impression that the president would not be a candidate and thus give encouragement to others to enter the field. It fs nevertheless the desired and expected announcement and should put to sleep all talk to the contrary.

President Harding fully realizes the fact that he had two more years and he is conscious of what they mean when he said they will be "two more hard years" but the republican party cannot fail to give endorsement to the accomplishments of the administration and that endorsement means the backing of the Harding candidacy.

Withholding any declaration regarding the candidacy of the president would simply give encouragement to those who are simply waiting for the time to create a boom for self or others, and by their actions endeavor to create a division. The effects of such can be easily imagined. Instead of waiting for such conditions to develop, with the friction that would inevitably accompany it, the wisdom of getting at rest any uncertainty concerning the possibility of the president being a candidate to succeed himself is perfectly apparent.

Let it be regarded as a preliminary, if that view is desired, but it is an announcement that will do much to put at rest any useless ambition of individuals for the nomination who would not consider such a thing knowing the disposition of the chief executive. It is likewise a move that will do much in behalf of party harmony as the administration reaches the halfway post. Those who have been basking in the shade of the idea that President Harding would not run again are informed to the contrary. It is as it should be.

GETTING MONEY FOR ROADS.

There are states that are showing opposition to the 1c gas gasoline as a means of raising state revenue, but Massachusetts bids fair to be added to the list of those states to adopt it. Certainly if it notes Connecticut's experience it could not do otherwise.

Opposition arises from the feeling that the automobile owner is sufficiently taxed, but those taking that view do not stop to consider that a large volume of the state expenses are due to the outlay for highway improvements from which the automobile benefit and for which, in many instances, they are responsible.

Even though there is a feeling of a sufficiently high tax rate, the fact cannot well be overlooked that there is that demand for a greater outlay in behalf of new road work and the maintenance of existing roads which cannot be met unless there is sufficient revenue provided. State taxes might be increased, but that would only mean distributing such a levy among a great number who get no special benefit, while those of a particular class would be obtaining their advantages at the expense of others.

Where gasoline taxes are levied the revenue received is invariably devoted to the cause of good roads. The cost of maintenance is heavy and steadily growing because of the amount of traffic and the steady increase in the number of motor trucks. It means that those who depend upon good roads and those who use them are being called upon to do their part in solving the expense of meeting the road problems. It is a small tax but collected from the many throughout the year provides a substantial sum. It is likewise a tax that costs little to collect.

MAKING A GOOD IMPRESSION.

Even though all the details of the agreement concerning the refunding of the British debt have not been completed that country has begun to carry out its obligations. By the payment of over four million to the federal reserve bank at New York last week there was accomplished the reduction of the debt to a flat $4,600,000,000 upon which figured the plan for interest payments and amortization was based. From now on the payments will be made in accord with the terms of the arrangement under which the debt will be wiped out in the next 62 years.

That the plan that is being carried out is regarded as a wise one is indicated not only by the disappearance of criticism but by the way in which others are coming forward for the meeting of their obligations in the same way. Installment no sooner reaches here than word comes from Great Britain it is to be expected that others

by. Nothing would stand in the way of meeting their obligations in a shorter period if they would make provision for payment in the time to run many of course, as much as the financial standing of Great Britain tops all the rest.

Whatever the opportunity might have been, the debt settlement has put an end to the talk about cancellation. That was put forth in the hope of getting full credit of all the obligations of the countries concerned. Having their debts from the war would have been tantamount to inviting them to continue their warlike policies and to devote what is due us to preparations for further conflicts.

However with the debt with one nation disposed in a businesslike manner we have established a policy that like duty to prevail with the others. It is certain to display but attitude. Finland recognizes it and, even though its total debt is only about twice what Great Britain paid last week, will in all probability be the second in the list of nations to step up to the table and seek terms similar to those of the British.

HOOVER'S SUGGESTION.

When there was a large amount of unemployment the government was looked to to provide work and to encourage the policy in state and city where expenditures which had been planned could be undertaken at an earlier date than intended. The idea was to take care of those who were seeking work but could find none, and was urged in preference to making other provisions for the care of such workers and their families.

Much relief was obtained through the activities that were stimulated in the unemployment period, and it is not surprising that Secretary Hoover should now call the president's attention to the advisability of holding up plans for government expenditures until such a time as the demand for labor by the government isn't so likely to handicap the great volume of construction throughout the country. His point is that by such action the government could aid in keeping the building situation more near normal.

With the trades fully occupied it can be appreciated that the situation is going to be made worse should the government projects attract large numbers from work in which they are now engaged. Instead of insisting upon making the situation worse his purpose is to relieve it as much as possible through delays on the part of the government and offer the employment at a time when there is not as great a demand elsewhere.

Unless it is necessary, such work as the government in its various department has will better serve the interests of the various trades by timely delays rather than by forcing competition with the labor market at its peak.

FRANCE SERVES NOTICE.

When the French government serves notice to the effect that it will consider any move for mediation by other countries as an unfriendly act it has put in plain words what has for some time been believed. France has not taken the position that it will not consider an appeal from Germany for a proper adjustment of the matter which led to the invasion of the Ruhr. Germany has given the hint that the door to peace is open but seems to have France or some other country take the first steps through it, when as a matter of fact it is a step that it ought to take itself inasmuch as it is through its failure to live up to its promises that the present situation prevails.

Germany is of course bothered. It cannot fail to realize that by the course it is pursuing a worse situation is likely to develop. It is not a time when it should be seeking to have others pull its chestnuts out of the fire. Perhaps it doesn't like the idea of coming out and admitting that it has pursued an improper course, or to admit that France and Belgium are carrying out the terms of the Versailles treaty, but that step would do what it desires in preventing the Ruhr situation from getting any worse. And if Germany is prepared to meet its obligations and display a sincerity about it sufficient to convince its neighbors there is nothing that stands in the way so much as itself.

The prospects of getting some other country to step in and attempt to adjust the matter are dim. It has been perfectly evident for some time how France has felt on the Ruhr situation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Pennants that are lost now may be regained next August.

Some people get the spring fever just thinking of previous attacks.

Some get the idea that the smaller income tax they pay the better satisfied they are.

The man on the corner says: The weatherman knows how to keep the lid on spring fever.

If wishes were autos, beggars might ride. But robbers don't wait for wishes to come true.

The increase in the income tax payments is another reflection of the growing prosperity of the nation.

It would be a bit hard getting bait just now but by another three weeks there'll be much brighter prospects for the trout fisherman.

That Philadelphia woman who boarded a street car to shoot her husband who was the motorman didn't believe in keeping it a secret.

If we have snow storms in the season to correspond with the date on which the snow fall, how are those beyond 21 accounted for?

There is no doubt that Suzanne beat Molla at Nice, but there's one other thing apparent also, Molla didn't quit when she found herself slipping.

When 90 tons of unburnable coal is given away in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania ought to be called to account for collecting a tax on such real estate.

Now that the claim is made that rain can be produced by the help of aviators and electrified sand, who is going to solve the problem of preventing rain on the days when parades and pink teas are to be held?

When Uncle Sam was busily engaged in [illegible] of the Pacific fleet to Australia and New Zealand, he was also busy in the matter of defeating threats of the Japanese to send out to the home fleet from the Philippines.

The editor always glad to let folk talk to satisfy themselves as to what is the truth, the never ending "wonderful" conversation of everybody is not to get the idea that it is only part of his duty to print what is worth of his readers.

"Betty, dear," I asked, "what are you going to do with that white fur coat? Surely you won't wear that in the south?"

"Why, I suppose it should be put in storage," said Betty.

"Let me attend to it for you," I begged. "Oh, by the way, Betty, darling, you won't have it I wear it to the Webster's ball tomorrow night, will you?"

"Of course not, foolish. Wear it if you wish," she answered with unusual graciousness.

Walter Paul, the maid to whom I am now engaged, whimpered with delighted admiration when he saw me as he said, robed like a Russian princess in that long, soft, white fur. He asked me where I got it, and I told him that my uncle had the skins sent from somewhere way up in northern Canada.

"It's the niftiest outfit you have," said Walter. "You must wear it to the winter carnival at the country club."

"Very well, Walter, I'll wear it to please you." I agreed and he looked so touched that I was glad I had been nice about it. It is really wonderful to go out with a man who takes such an approving interest in my appearance as Walter does.

Betty was at our house yesterday for the first time since her return from Florida. I laughingly asked her if she had brought me anything from Miami or Palm Beach.

"Oh, we didn't do much shopping, Lucile," she answered.

"That's the most beautiful batik bandanna you have on. Didn't you get that in the south? I've always heard the shops at Palm Beach were perfectly fascinating. That's really stunning, Betty. It's just the kind of thing which I have looked all over town for and couldn't find. I wish I had known you could get such things where you were. I should have commissioned you to get one for me."

"Yes, I did buy this in a New York shop at Palm Beach," said she.

"Well, it's a little beauty. The colors are so striking and yet harmonious. I wish I had its mate. How much would you like to sell it?"

"Oh, no, Lolile, I don't wish to sell it. But if you really like it so much I'll give it to you."

"Why, Betty dear, how kind you [illegible]

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Was St. Peter Mistaken?

Mr. Editor: Every sane reader of the Bible knows that Mr. Troland's quotation from the declaration of St. Peter, who on the day of Pentecost affirmed in the hearing of the people that the prophesy of Joel was being fulfilled at the very time in which he was speaking. If Mr. Troland is in error, he is in good company, and is entitled to withdraw from further discussion. The question being treated by us was the gospel authority for woman's teaching, and not speculations about the millennium, so I trust that M. E. M. will not inject a new proposition, nor in her own person weaken the arguments I have used in favor of Women as Bible instructors.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN TROLAND.
Norwich, March 16, 1923.

Efficacy in Religion.

Mr. Editor: The Robinson name is considerably interwoven in the history of New London county. And while I claim Wisconsin my home for the last thirty years, Connecticut is the state of my nativity and have been spending the winter with friends here in North Franklin. Your paper is a daily visitor in the home and I have been pleased to note your liberality in publishing sermons and writings on Christian topics which has empoldened me to write you believing it will be of interest to your readers.

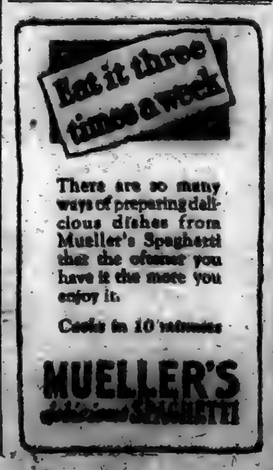
This article shows that there is no efficacy in religion to benefit mankind and was written to point that fact.

So let us follow some logical conclusion which religion revals. Today there are many religions in the world. What has religion done for India, Burma, China or Turkey? Darius was religious, Nebechadnezzar was what we would call an enthusiast. The Pharaohs were religious, even Cain had religion. But the "efficacy" was and is against the good of human life, past, present or future.

Now let us try the same test on Christianity. The Wisconsin state Social conference just closed is one of the fruits of Christianity. There is only one Christianity in the world today. You as well as myself know many men and women who are living right because of Christ possessing them. Paul, James, John, Peter and Stephen were Christians because of God's revelation of Himself in the person and body of Christ. This revelation was made to the world. David, Joshua, Moses, Jacob (Israel), Isaac, Abraham, Enoch and even Abel were Christians because God revealed Himself in Christ to them as individuals on account of their faith. The process is exactly the same today. There is "efficacy" for the good of human life in Christianity. The Spirit of Christ in an individual life makes a new creature. Mere religion may lead to all sorts of extremes.

Man is as instinctively religious as a hound instinctively finds his home after chasing a fox all day among the rocks and trees of the forest.

W. J. ROBINSON.
North Franklin, March 17, 1923.



Eat it three times a week
There are so many ways of preparing delicious dishes from Mueller's Spaghetti that the oftener you have it the more you enjoy it.
Cooks in 10 minutes
MUELLER'S
delicious SPAGHETTI

Today's Anniversaries

1776—American troops entered Boston, following the evacuation of the city by the British.

1815—Napoleon arrived in Paris, after his escape from Elba, and resumed the government of France.

1818—Sir George Beckwith, who commanded the British forces at the taking of Elizabethtown and New Brunswick, died in London. Born in 1753.

1837—Michigan legislature passed an act providing for the organization and support of primary schools.

1841—Franklin Pierce resigned his commission in the army.

1923—The strike on the Canadian Pacific Railroad attended to the Pacific coast.

1916—Stephen W. Dorsey, former United States senator from Arkansas died in Los Angeles. Born at Stanson, Vt., Feb. 25, 1842.

1920—William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson began a "dry" campaign in Paris.

1923—In a note to the Allied Powers Secretary Hughes asserted the right of the United States to priority of payment, out of German reparations, of the cost of American army of occupation on the Rhine.

Today's Birthdays

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, born in Boston, 89 years ago today.

Thomas Cochran, member of the New York banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., born in St. Paul, 52 years ago today.

William J. Locke, a popular English novelist and playwright, born 60 years ago today.

Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, who commanded the Rainbow Division in France, born in Pennsylvania, 61 years ago today.

John J. Esch, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, born at Norwalk, Wis., 62 years ago today.

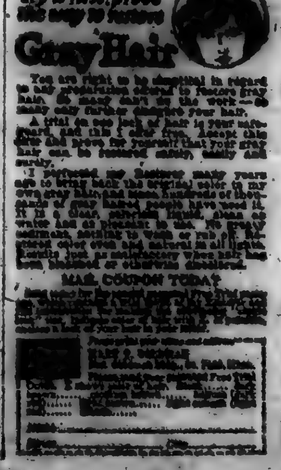
IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Hon. Justice J. J. Maclaren, the new president of the World's Sunday School Association, is now in his eighty-third year. For more than twenty years he has been a justice of the Court of Appeals of Ontario, having been appointed by Queen Victoria. During his long service in the judiciary he has never been absent from the bench on account of sickness. He has been identified with the International Sunday School Association as a vice president for many years, having been appointed to that office in 1905. Dr. Maclaren attended the great Sunday school convention held in Tokio three years ago and on that occasion was granted the special honor of an audience with the Empress of Japan. As president of the World's Sunday School Association, in which office he succeeds the late John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, he represents a constituency of more than thirty millions, which is the enrollment in the Sunday schools of the world.

A Little Talk on Thrift

"Economy Begins With Saving Money."

Abraham Lincoln once said that economy begins with saving money. What he had in mind was the great truth that in thrift the first steps consist of laying aside money, but [illegible]



Wives of Famous Men

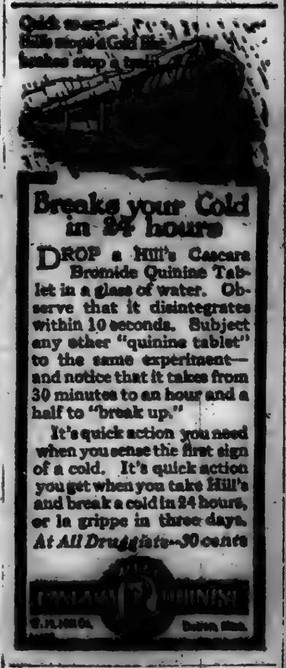
Mary Randolph Custis, Wife of Robert E. Lee.

The daughter of a most illustrious house, with every tradition to equip her for his distinguished and difficult position, Mary Randolph Custis, a direct descendant of Martha Washington, was the wife of Gen. Robert E. Lee, great figure of the Civil war. Mary Custis was the daughter of George Washington Parke Custis, grandson of Martha Washington and adopted son of the Father of His Country.

As children, Mary Custis and Robert Lee played together in the luxurious gardens of her father's estate at Arlington. They grew up together, shared childish joys and sorrows, so it was logical and natural that they should grow to love each other in a more mature way. Rarely, writes a biographer, have two more congenial spirits united their fortunes or walked together more lovingly the pathway of life. The Lees were singularly happy. Their domestic life at Arlington was enviable and complete in its happiness. Their marriage was blessed with a charming family and until the dark shadows of the Civil war were cast upon them, no more perfect life could have existed.

But with such traditions and background the trials of war duly brought out the finest qualities in Mary Lee's nature. Without a murmur of complaint she bade farewell to her husband and three sons, who followed their father into the Confederate army. She wrote cheering letters and never let them see her grief and fears. Forced to flee from Arlington when the U. S. A. crossed the Potomac, Mrs. Lee took refuge in the "White House" on the Pamunkey river, where George and Martha Washington had been married. This old home, too, had to be abandoned, and despite Mrs. Lee's plea, was burned to the ground.

A man always looks well when he is looking for a man who owes him money.



Quick ease—
Hill's stops a Cold in—hasten step by step
Breaks your Cold in 24 hours
DROP a Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine Tablet in a glass of water. Observe that it disintegrates within 10 seconds. Subject any other "quinine tablet" to the same experiment—and notice that it takes from 30 minutes to an hour and a half to "break up."
It's quick action you need when you sense the first sign of a cold. It's quick action you get when you take Hill's and break a cold in 24 hours, or in grippe in three days.
At All Druggists—30 cents

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

by DAVID CORY

Tricking the Old Wolf.

Yes, the little rabbit is having a dreadful time; dear boys and girls. It's no easy thing to get away safely from a big, great Wolf, but the little bunny minded the voice from the treetop, and all dreamble, his little heart going pitter patter and his little knees a clitter, clatter, he picked up the stone and placed it in the sack. Oh, so care—ful—ly. Then, he was just going to hop away, when again the little voice said:

He startled off for his home.

"Wait—one minute!"

"Oh, oh, oh, oh," thought the little bunny, "if I wait another minute, I'll never get away," but he minded the little voice from the treetop.

"Pin up the slit in the sack with three pine needle pins," whispered the little voice.

All atremble, the poor, distracted, little rabbit hunted on the ground under the big pine tree for the three little pins and when he found them, he pinned up the slit in the sack, oh, so carefully.

"Now's your chance!" whispered the little voice, while behind a tree.

The next minute the little rabbit drew his pretty white fur overcoat together so that it wouldn't show around the trunk of the big chestnut tree, and, pulling his little ears together so that the tips wouldn't show, waited, oh, so anxiously.

Just then, Mr. Wicked Wolf said, "Well, I'm rested now," and, knocking the ashes from his pipe, put it away in his waistcoat pocket. Then, drawing the sack up over his shoulder, started off for his home.

By and by, he exclaimed, "Oh, my, what a heavy little rabbit you are!" and after a while, "Oh, my, what a tough little rabbit you are!" for, as he jumped over a log, the big stone in the sack bumped up and down on his back. Pretty soon, however, he came to his home.

"Hey, mother," he shouted, "I've got a nice little rabbit for supper," and Mrs. Wolf came running out of the kitchen door.

Letting the sack slip carefully down to the ground, Mr. Wicked untied it, oh, so carefully, but goodness gracious me! When he peeked in and saw the big stone instead of a tender little rabbit, my wasn't he angry?

Shoving in his paw, he pulled out the stone and hurled it across the Sunny Meadow. Whack! It came up against the old apple tree, knocking off about twenty big red apples, which almost hit Little Jack Rabbit as he hopped safely by to the dear Old Bramble Patch.

And that's how Little Jack Rabbit got away from the wicked wolf. Dear me, but your Uncle Dave was worried! Just suppose the little bunny had disobeyed the little voice from the treetop.

(Copyright 1923 by David Cory.)

When a person is lost in thought it is probably due to his wandering mind.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

You'll Welcome the Handsome 1923 Designs That We Are Showing In

Drapery Materials

All Offered at Prices That Recall Old Times

The new Spring showing of Drapery materials is larger and more comprehensive—the colorings and designs more attractive—than ever before.

Cretonnes Are Conspicuous

Cretonnes take the lead in our showing, this season, all in colorings and designs, so fresh and charming that you cannot help but like them.

We show Cretonnes in a wide range of patterns and colorings, excellent qualities—at 25c, 39c, and 49c a yard.

Cretonnes In Exclusive Patterns

In the better quality Cretonnes we show many patterns that are shown exclusively by us, in this vicinity. The designs are new and stunning, the colorings exquisite — Price range 59c, 69c and 89c a yard.

Reversible Tapestry Cretonne, 89c

We are showing a heavy, Reversible Tapestry Cretonne, particularly desirable for Couch Covers and Portieres, in some very striking patterns—Price 89c a yard.

TERRY CLOTH, $1.00

Terry Cloth is one of the most popular of the drapery materials for Spring. The patterns which are desirable for Cushions, Hangings or Portieres, must be seen to be appreciated—at $1.00 a yard.

SILKALINES, 33c A YARD

We are showing a number of new patterns in Silkalines. This soft, pretty fabric is very desirable for Comfortables, etc., and can be had in a variety of pretty chintz designs—at 33c a yard.

QUAKER LACE, 35c

A broad showing of new and attractive designs in Quaker Lace by the yard—Price range is 25c, 45c, 50c and up to $1.75 a yard.

DECO SILK, $2.25

40-inch "Deco" Silk, guaranteed sunfast, in very pretty shades of rose, gold, blue and brown—at $2.25 a yard.

SILK MADRAS, $1.50

36-inch Colored Silk Madras, in rose, gold, mulberry, green and blue, both figured and striped effects—at $1.50 a yard.

CURTAIN MADRAS, 49c

White Curtain Madras, in a splendid range of new and attractive patterns—at 49c a yard.

Colored Madras, $1.00

50-inch Colored Madras for Overdrapes, in a full line of wanted colors—at $1.00 a yard.

36-INCH REPP, 69c

36-inch Repp, in desirable shades of rose, blue and green—at 69c a yard.

FIGURED ARMURE

50-inch Figured Armure, in both brown and green, and in a good range of patterns, suitable for Portieres—at $1.69 a yard.

A Good Showing of Ruffled Curtains

Ruffled Curtains are in high favor this season. Our showing is most comprehensive and includes, Scrims, Marquisette and Muslin—Price range $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.25 and $2.50 a pair.

trading. Often an improvement can be noticed after the first day's use of Pyramid Pile Suppository. Don't accept substitutes. Relief should be as quickly sure. Will gladly tell anyone about it. Write today. Why pain of such a distressing nature? For a free trial package send name and address to Pyramid Pile Remedy Co., 639 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

TELLS OF EXPULSION FROM HOUSE OF DAVID

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 18. (By the A. P.)—John W. Hansell and his family were expelled from the Israelite House of David, scantily clad and with only $100 and tickets to their former home, Nashville, Tenn., following a midnight conference at which he was charged with assault and his son was threatened with arrest, according to testimony given by Hansell in federal court here today in his suit against the colony for $50,000. The amount, the plaintiff contends, is the value of property turned over to the Benton Harbor cult when he became a member and the value of his labor during membership.

Hansell declared John J. Sterling, at that time prosecuting attorney of Berrien county, attended the midnight meeting and had a part in his expulsion. Frightened by the charges against him, Hansell declared he agreed to leave the colony, signing a release for himself and Mrs. Hansell and receiving therefor $180 and the railroad tickets. Some of the clothing worn by the family at the time was offered as an exhibit to show the condition in which they departed, Dec. 28, 1920.

Hansell and his wife were the only witnesses called today. Questioning by his attorney disclosed most of the alleged beliefs of the colony. Benjamin Purnell, head of the cult, claimed to be the "younger brother of Jesus," and "Number seven of the messenger angels," according to Hansell, who said this teaching was accepted by members of the colony.

In reply to questions by their attorney, both witnesses said they had no knowledge of immoral acts by Purnell.

Their property, they said, was turned over to the cult under the their labor "for the Kingdom's sake." The "kingdom," they explained, was to be attained by men and women living as brothers and sisters and its attainment meant immortality on earth.

Hansell is slated to return to the stand for cross-examination tomorrow.

WESTFIELD, MASS., MAN DROWNED IN FLORIDA

Daytona, Fla., March 18.—Roy Plumb, 28, a winter visitor from Westfield, Mass., was drowned at Daytona beach this evening. His swimming companion, Richard Barnett, of Newburgh, N. Y., nearly lost his life in attempting to save him, but managed to swim ashore.

BLACK HILL

Thomas Moore of Birchwood Farms has over 1,000 chicks out as a starter for the season.

Robert Brown of Worcester spent the week end with his parents.

Misses Abbie and Myrtle Medbery spent Saturday in Danielson.

Ralph Brown was in Providence the past week.

Miss Fanny Brown was unable to get to her school last Monday and Miss Helen Tillinghast taught in her place.

Mrs. Louise Brown was in Norwich Saturday.

Ted Graves fell on the ice the past week, breaking an ankle bone.

New Haven.—Twenty-seven men were arrested on St. Patrick's day for drunkenness. This is far above the Saturday average during the last several months for nine in the usual number. Holidays usually are productive of an extra number of cases of intoxication.

For Sore Throat

Don't take chances—start right now to reduce the inflammation. The best and quickest remedy is

BEGY'S MUSTARINE

Fine for chest colds, neuritis, neuralgia and rheumatism. Will not blister—30c—60c—yellow box.

CELERY KING
A Fine Tonic Laxative

Take it yourself and give it to the children for it's a purely vegetable laxative tea that acts quickly yet effectively, making you feel better right away—at druggists—40 cents.

DAMASCUS STEEL PRODUCTS

Hack Saw Blades that don't break. Butcher Knives that a hammer won't break; sharpen with a file.

STEAK KNIVES
COLD CHISELS
PINCERS, PLIERS, ETC.

THE HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET
TELEPHONE 531-4

WARNER-PETERS

March ceremony at 8:31 o'clock tonight.

Step Sisters Play United Shawsheen girls beat the Fort Hamilton 16 in the high school auditorium Saturday night.

Abbott services followed the St. Patrick's social held by the Epworth league of the Methodist Episcopal church Saturday evening in Niantic.

The death of St. Joseph, foster-father of Jesus Christ and patron of the universal church, was commemorated Monday in all the Catholic churches observed.

At the Spiritual Academy Sunday the flowers on the platform were in memory of Mrs. Julia Robbins, and the piano of Mrs. Minnie Stanley of New London.

Wesleyan is to make a trial of forensics, the ancient cannon scrap, although under different rules and circumstances than prevailed in the time-honored affair.

Twenty-two tables were in play at the St. Patrick's day whist given Saturday evening at the basement of Sacred Heart church by the Ladies' Aid Society at Groton.

The state treasury was replenished Monday to the amount of $200 by the fees received in the office by the secretary of state for the registration of certificates of incorporation.

Prof. Frederick A. Saunders of Stanford college, will be the 50th vocation speaker at Connecticut college Tuesday afternoon. His subject will be The Pursuit of the Ideal.

Richard B. Comstock, president of the Rhode Island Bar association, died Saturday afternoon at the Keefe Surgery in Providence, following an operation performed Thursday night.

The Pawcatuck W. C. T. U. held a successful tea and food sale recently. The house was decorated with posters on "Child Welfare," "Lincoln on Law," "The Destroyer, Alcohol," and others.

Regular meeting Mercier Assembly, C. L. of C. tonight at 8 o'clock.—adv.

Fewer than half of the 4,000,000 American soldiers of the World war have claimed the Victory medal authorized by the government in recognition of service overseas and in this country.

Within a week or so the Groton ferry Mohican will resume her 20 minute schedule throughout the busy hours of the day, according to a statement made by Charles F. Willard, its manager.

Creditors of the Joseph E. Hirth corporation of Hartford, at a meeting in the office of Referee in Bankruptcy Edward M. Yeomans, voted to accept an offer of settlement at 15 cents on the dollar.

The U. S. civil service commission announces that the receipt of applications for the position of assistant investigator, bureau of efficiency, will close on April 4. Entrance salary is $1500-2400.

St. James' lodge, No. 33 F. and A. M. works the third degree at Masonic Temple tonight at 7.30.—adv.

There were 31 deaths from heart disease, 35 from kidney disease and 26 from cancer in New London during the year ending Dec. 31, 1922, according to statistics compiled by the health department.

The junior class of the Rhode Island State college at its meeting decided after considerable discussion to resume the publication of The Grist as an annual publication of the students of the college this spring.

At Deep River Personal Tax Collector E. R. Ferguson has turned over to the town treasurer to date $1,692, which represents 544 persons who have paid their taxes. Mr. Ferguson expects to collect about $2,000 this year.

Knights of Columbus regular meeting tonight, at 8 o'clock. First degree, smoke talk.—adv.

In Hartford today (Tuesday) the caucus battles will be waged at democratic primaries, the battle grounds being the third, eighth and ninth wards, in each of which the Tammany and anti-Tammany forces have entered tickets.

Right reading is aggressive to the point of fierceness, according to Professor Odell Shepherd of Trinity college, in giving the second of a course of talks on "Reading" before the freshmen class at Trinity college, Monday.

Frederic Prentice, 70, one of the town of Hebron's best known residents died at his home in Gilead Saturday afternoon after a short illness. He was born in Gilead May 15, 1852, and had lived in the town of Hebron all of his life.

Miss Hilda Yen of New Haven, a freshman at Smith college, has been chosen a member of the Smith College Dramatic Association. Members are selected after competitive trials in acting, business, costuming, publicity and dramaturgy.

Forestry in Connecticut is dependent to quite a considerable extent upon the success with which white pine can be grown. In fact, a prominent forester has gone so far as to assert that "forestry in New England without white pine is impossible."

Carroll L. Beedy of Portland, congressman representing the First district of Maine, with his wife, the latter a daughter of Mrs. Daniel Sullivan of Huntington street, New London, sailed Saturday on the steamship President Roosevelt for a trip to Russia.

Miss Nancy Templeton, daughter of Governor Charles A. Templeton and Mrs. Templeton of Waterbury, took part in "The Terrible Meek," a play by Charles Rann Kennedy, which was given by the Alpha Society at its meeting Saturday evening at Smith's College.

The spring meeting of the National Society, United States Daughters of 1812, State of Connecticut will be held on Friday, March 23, at Bridgeport. The executive board will meet at 13.00 p. m. Following the luncheon at one o'clock there will be a business meeting.

The largest attendance of the year was noted at the Sunday school of the Poquonnoc Bridge Baptist church Sunday when 103 members attended. Dr. J. H. Weeks of Stonington, president of the New London County Sunday school association, gave an interesting address.

The Westport Standard company has incorporated on a capital of $15,000, and the Tiernan Realty company on a capital of $25,000. The Almond W. Hayden Soap company of Westport, capital $50,000, and the New England Heat Treating Service, company have also incorporated.

Another difficulty for the fishermen who wish to use draw seines in fishing shoals in the waters of the Pawcatuck has arisen. As the river is the dividing line between Rhode Island and Connecticut any laws affecting the waters of one state automatically affects the adjoining state's rights.

Derby.—The ice in the Housatonic river is disappearing rapidly and from the dam in Stevenson south to the Pink House Cove it is now a body of water with little ice in evidence.

Mrs. Frederick D. Palmer

The death of Mary Barry Palmer, formerly of Norwich, and wife of Frederick D. Palmer, occurred at Fort Myer, Fla., March 17th, after several months illness. She was born and brought up in Greeneville but spent most of her life in Bellingville, Staten Island, N. Y., and left for Florida, recently when her health failed her.

She leaves her husband of Eltingville, Staten Island, N. Y., (a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Palmer of Norwich) and a daughter, Mrs. James Whitlock of Eltingville, also a sister, Mrs. J. J. Kelley of New London. An only son, Herbert Palmer, died three years ago. Arthur E. Story of Norwich, is a nephew.

F. N. Crouch

After an illness of nearly seven months, Frederick N. Crouch, a resident of Ledyard nearly all his life died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Alfred Whipple, at Millstone. He was born at Ledyard, Aug. 6, 1850, and was the second son of Timothy and Betsey Crouch. In December, 1869, he was married to Miss Augusta Chapman, also of Ledyard, who died in 1901. To this union was born several children, three of whom survive him. They are Chauncey C. Crouch of Gales Ferry, Mrs. John S. Whipple of Siwatt, India, and Mrs. J. Alfred Whipple of Millstone. He also leaves several grandchildren and three brothers, Joseph S. Crouch of Santa Anna, Calif., Alden A. Crouch of Mystic and Daniel E. Crouch of Lyalbrook, N. Y., also a sister Mrs. Stephen H. Watrous of Ledyard.

R. Hazard Tucker.

(Contributed.)

The death of R. Hazard Tucker occurred March 14th, at his home in Scotland, Conn. Mr. Tucker was born in Hampton, 69 years ago, Feb. 18th, the son of Rowland and Patience Ann Clark Tucker. On March 4, 1883, he was united in marriage to Lucy H. Saunders of Woody Hill, R. I. Of this marriage there were three children born, J. Vernon, now deceased, Maria, who died when a baby, and Margaret, now Mrs. A. E. Geer of Norwich Town, and four grandchildren, Milton, Harold, Earl and Ralph Edward Geer.

Mr. Tucker has two brothers, Stephen Tucker now living in Perryville, R. I., Charles Tucker who married his wife's sister, Emma Saunders, both now deceased, Mary Tucker Ray, deceased, and a sister who died when a baby.

Mr. Tucker was an honest, upright man always striving to help others. His occupation was a blacksmith, carriage maker and general jobber, until ten years ago when he was stricken blind from hemorrhage of the nerves caused by a sudden shock to his nerves. All that medical science and living hands and friends could do could not restore his sight so that he could work again, although a small part of his left eye was restored so he could see a little before he died. When he was called he was ready to go. It was a quiet, peaceful sleep at the end and he passed on to his loved ones over the river with a smile.

Funeral services were held from his home in Scotland last Friday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles Smith of Uncasville, who also read a poem, Star of Hope, written by J. Adelaide Champion before her death in Norwich years ago. She was a dear friend of Mr. Tucker and his family. The committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Smith. Owing to weather conditions the body was placed in Scotland vault until later. The bearers were Lewis Hopkins, Chauncey Gager, Luther Clark and Nelson Adams.

Mrs. William Fosdick

Mrs. Caroline Fosdick of No. 41 Freeman street, Hartford, widow of William Fosdick, died Sunday after a short illness, aged 86 years. She was born in Lyme, and had lived in Hartford twenty years. She leaves three sisters, Miss Asadaline Beckwith of Hartford, Mrs. Georgiana DeWolf of Colchester and Mrs. William Lock of Richmond Hill, L. I.

Mrs. George Fanning

Mrs. Mary A. (Spicer) Fanning, widow of George Fanning, died at her home, No. 33 Deerfield avenue, Hartford, Saturday. She was born in Ledyard and was 85 years old. She was a member of the Ledyard Congregational church. Mrs. Fanning leaves one son, William B. Fanning of Hartford; three daughters, Mrs. W. A. Wakeman of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Miss Fannie B. Fanning and Mrs. Susan F. Lillie of Hartford; three sisters, two brothers, nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

NORWICH HAS TASTE OF BLIZZARD FROM WEST

Norwich experienced a taste of the western blizzard Monday evening, when between 6 and 7 o'clock there was a sharp snow flurry and the thermometer dropped to around 30 degrees above zero by 9 o'clock. There was a vicious wind all the evening that added to the discomfort of those who were forced to be out in the streets.

Fair Haven.—The teachers of Woodsay school planned a surprise for their principal, Miss Julia Smith, in honor of her birthday anniversary, which occurred on St. Patrick's day. The kindergarten was attractively decorated and a supper table spread for the company was also prettily arranged.

[illegible] CUTTING

[illegible] beginning in the summer years at New London this (Tuesday) morning [illegible] Kinney & Avery the cost of the city [illegible] and Mayor [illegible] Murphy and Mayor [illegible] of cutting of wood from the reservoirs of the city.

Last Friday word was [illegible] were made the Norwich court the plaintiff secured an injunction restraining Mayor Murphy which has never been observed or complied by the present counsel, that Lang, who is employed at some time in period of the contract, had supervision and [illegible] of the city water works, [illegible] for his own account, or that of Mayor Murphy certain cord wood poles, then and there from the watershed owned by the city without duly accounting therefor to the board of water commissioners of the city.

It was also alleged that the water commissioner exceeded their powers in disposing of city property of great value, that Murphy operated a saw mill and kept a large force of men and horses on the city watershed which threatened unsanitary conditions for the city's water supply.

After the wood cutting was stopped by the injunction, the city authorities had the water of the reservoirs tested at the state laboratory which reported that it had become infected in such a way that it was necessary for the city to put in chlorinating plants at both reservoirs.

TRINITY METHODIST TO ASK REV. GRAHAM'S RE-ASSIGNMENT

Trinity Methodist Episcopal church is to ask for the re-assignment of Rev. J. Harlow Graham as its pastor when the annual New England Southern Conference is held in New London, from Wednesday, April 4 to Monday, April 9. This was the vote of the church recently at the quarterly conference where it was unanimously voted to request the conference to return Rev. Mr. Graham as the pastor of the Norwich church. Rev. Mr. Graham came to Trinity church on Sunday, Dec. 10, 1922, succeeding Rev. Dr. Robert L. Roberts when the latter was made superintendent of the Boston district.

REV. J. HARLOW GRAHAM

Rev. Mr. Graham had been for two years pastor at Vineyard Haven, Mass., before coming here. He has won a warm place in the hearts of his Norwich congregation in the few months that he has served them and their unanimous vote that they want him to continue with them is an indication of their belief that the interests of the church, congregation and community will be best served by his continued service as their pastor.

PENDLETON AND LEWIS WERE UNBEATEN TEAM

Pendleton and Dr. Lewis proved an unbeatable team Monday evening in the play of the West Side Pinochle club, starting at the head table as partners and resisting all efforts to dislodge them all through the evening. They made the individual high scores of 7,835. A. Jordan kept first place in the total standing but Lewis came up to second from fifth, displacing Peckham who went to sixth. Underwood dropped from third to tenth and Pettis moved from fourth to third.

The scores of the evening: A. Jordan 6,660, Peckham 6,665, Underwood 6,265, Pettis 7,835, Dr. Lewis 7,835, Parker 6,820, Haskell 7470, Schuler 7,350, J. Jordan 7,155, Pendleton 7,835, Bailey 7,485, Dr. Boynton 6,375.

Total scores: A. Jordan 29,420, Dr. Lewis, 29,390, Pettis 29,330, Haskell 28,950, Schuler 28,485, Peckham 28,425, Pendleton 28,370, Parker 28,320, J. Jordan 28,005, Underwood 27,975, Bailey 27,260, Dr. Boynton 24,535. The club has three more nights to play.

EDWARD HANNIS FOLLOWS BRAVES IN FLORIDA

Edward Hannis, formerly of this city, has written to Norwich friends of the pleasant season he is having in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he is watching the Boston Braves in their spring training and following them around as they play in different Florida cities.

Mr. Hannis is now retired from active business after twenty-five years in New York, where he conducted a successful ladies' apparel business. He spends his time between Norwich and New York and as he is an ardent baseball fan he takes great pleasure in the opportunity he now has to watch the spring practice of the Boston team.

EPISCOPAL MEN'S CLUBS WILL HEAR SPEAKER

All men's clubs of the several Episcopal parishes of the city have been invited to the meeting of the Men's club of Trinity church this (Tuesday) evening when Rev. John H. Rosebaugh is to be the speaker. He is the director of the religious education of the Episcopal diocese of Connecticut and will have a message of much interest to the men of the parishes.

A musical programme will be given during the evening by Henry Lafontaine.

Automobile Hit Small Girl.

Frank Culewicz of 49 Ledyard street reported to police headquarters Monday afternoon that while he was driving his automobile on Thames street, the machine hit and knocked down a small girl who ran out from behind a junk wagon that was standing at the curb. The child was attended by a doctor and was found to be only slightly hurt.

Franklin Street Lights Out

Street lights on Franklin street were out about 1.30 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning caused by a crossed wire and short circuit on a pole near the German Lutheran church.

COPIES OF CONNECTICUT GAZETTE OF APRIL 17th

When looking over the effects of the late T. Y. Winship of West Great Plain, several old copies of the Connecticut Gazette and the Universal Intelligencer were discovered. The papers were of the dates of Friday, April 18, 1783, and May 9, 1783, and were published by Timothy Green of New London.

The papers contain items of interest in those days and various articles contain the names of men then famous, and whose names have come down through history to the present day. In one copy is a proclamation by His Excellency, Jonathan Trumbull, governor of Connecticut, which reads as follows: By His Excellency Jonathan Trumbull, Esquire, Governor and Commander-in-chief in and over the state of Connecticut in America. Proclamation. On consideration of, and in cheerful compliance with the foregoing Call of Congress on all the United States, I have thought fit, by and with advice of council, to appoint, and do hereby appoint, the last Thursday in April, as a Day of Fasting, Humiliation, and Prayer; requiring and exhorting all Orders and Denominations of People within this state, to set and solemnize the same; to offer joint supplications to Almighty God, agreeably to the Proclamation of the United States in Congress assembled.

All servile labor is forbidden on said day.

Given under my hand at Lebanon, this tenth day of April, in the Year of our Lord, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-two, and in the sixth year of the Independence of the United States of America.

The papers also contain news from London relative to the Revolutionary war recently fought, and despatches from all parts of the globe are contained. News of Norwich tells of the sale of the schooner Saint Patrick of about 25 tons burden mounting two 4 pound cannon and Coborn, the signature of Joshua Coit appearing as member of the court ordering the sale.

In one of the papers is told the story of one method in which money was raised to build bridges in those days. By an act of the General Court of Massachusetts Springfield was allowed to conduct a bridge lottery to build a bridge over the Chicopee river in the County of Hampshire. A total of 4167 chances were sold at $2 each and prizes of $4666 were awarded, the balance of $1668 being used to build the bridge. The prize winners were listed in the Connecticut Courant.

The papers also told of hundreds of Americans confined on English prison ships who were forced to join the British crews to escape the contagious evils which the prison ships were fraught.

The papers although 141 years old, are in a wonderful state of preservation and the type is plainly visible, the ink in those days evidently being of high quality. The paper was of 4 pages, about 12 by 18 inches in size, and was light green in color. These papers are perhaps the oldest Connecticut Gazettes in the state today and are of great value from a historical standpoint.

SETTLED OUT OVER INSURANCE ON TRUCK

A suit of Wolf Schlidowitch of New London against the Connecticut Mortgage and Title Guarantee Co. of New Haven and others which was the first assigned for trial in the superior court at New London this week, has been settled. The suit was brought for $5,000 damages to collect the $3,850 insurance on a 1 1-2 ton motor truck which was destroyed by fire on June 24, 1921, at New London.

SEEKS DIVORCE FROM WIFE WHO DESERTED

On the ground of desertion since May 8, 1919, James Noble of Griswold has brought suit for divorce from Isabelle Oldershaw Noble, now of parts unknown. They were married May 25, 1903. The case is returnable before the superior court in April.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION FOR BROKEN RIGHT LEG

The following workmen's compensation agreement has been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue:

Thomas Sandro; Gales Ferry, employee, and Harry Lewis, Groton, employer, broken right leg in Groton, Feb. 15, at rate of $9.

Preston Man Brings Divorce Suit.

Darian B. Burdick of Preston has brought suit for divorce from Florence Molden Burdick, on the ground that she is incurably insane and has been confined in an asylum since Feb. 1, 1918. They were married Sept. 10, 1913. He asks the custody of a six-year-old daughter. The suit is returnable before the superior court in April.

March Rain Total 3.74 Inches

The present month has had a generous supply of rain so far to replenish the reservoirs and streams. The total has been 3.74 inches without counting the rain of Monday. The heavy down pour of last Friday gave a measurement of 1.56 inches.

Uncasville.—Florence, the twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mawrochar, died at her home on Main street following a lingering illness.

Blue-jay

SAYS MAN OWES WORLD THE FINEST IN HIM

The Brotherhood of the United Congregational church held its March meeting Monday evening at the Community house, Nathan A. Tubbs, president, in the chair. Rev. [illegible] was entertained, following which it was announced that the appointment of a nominating committee which will take place at the April meeting, and the annual election of officers would come in May. It was voted that the April meeting be held in conjunction with the meeting of the Woman's guild of the church, an invitation to meet with the ladies on April 9th having been extended by the women. The sum of $20 was also voted to aid in defraying the expenses of the young folks' supper recently held at the Commandery house.

Chairman Joseph N. French of the entertainment committee announced that in May a speaker would come from the American Optical company and would speak on lenses. He then introduced as the speaker of the evening Rev. Gurdon P. Bailey of Norwich Town, who spoke on "The 100 Per Cent. Man." In part his address was as follows:

Today there is a great temptation to be great, to perfect ourselves in the business in which we are engaged, sacrificing other things that would tend to make us all better men. The demand of the business world today is 100 per cent. efficiency. The accountant must have his books accurate, the mechanic must have the parts fit perfectly, and in every line perfection is demanded. A great poet once said that life is the infinite conjugation of the verb, to do. There is, however, something greater than that. A table may be made that is perfect to the eye, a wonderful piece of workmanship by the hand and brain of a man, but yet back of this is the man, and is he himself perfect? Some people do the thing they are paid to do well and think that is all that is required of them, and they are like the organist who when the minister asked for "Old Hundred" said his hymn book only numbered to 88, but this was near enough. That type of efficiency wouldn't go in our banks, or in business. The world today praises the 100 per cent. perfect man and article. Prizes in expositions go to 100 per cent. articles, but people never think is the maker of the article 100 per cent. perfect as a man or as a woman?

Greater than the conjugation of the verb, to do, in my estimation is the verb, to be. It's to be 100 per cent. perfect that counts mostly, not to do that which is 100 per cent. perfect.

Men today specialize in one thing, neglect others in their striving for the top in their one practice. These men are selfish. They put all their time to their job; that's why many do not go to church, they find their Sundays are taken up to finish the work undone Saturday night. Life is something besides length and breadth, those men must broaden out, take an interest in things surrounding them. It is well to have a vocation, but it is also well to have an avocation that will aid a man and make him more proficient, give a better finish to his character.

Broadening of life is necessary, every young man should add to his selected calling some big thing, tie up with some great organization or cause for good. By being tied up with the big organization he is helped by it as it helps him to see life through broader views, not the narrow view of the man with but one objective in life.

It is selfish for a man to say, this one thing I do, and I will forget all other things that are not in line with my profession. They should not forget politics, the schools, the drives for worthy causes, and many other things that demand men and good men to aid them.

We owe the world the finest work that it is possible for us to do, but doing just this much is only half of our job; we are then only half the man we were intended to be. We must reach out on the left, and on the right, serve good causes, aid our schools, our churches, our community. Every man's business means something to us. To build his character he must get in touch with his fellow men, learn of their problems and aid in solving them. We not only owe the world the best we can do, we owe the world still more to be the very best we can be in character.

At the close of his address Rev. Mr. Bailey received a rising vote of thanks. Light refreshments were served by the entertainment committee, following which a social time was enjoyed.

FUNERALS.

James Conway.

Funeral services for James Conway were held Monday morning from his late home at 118 Cliff street, relatives and friends attending from Washington, D. C., and other places. Among those present was a delegation from the First Division, A. O. H. There were many floral tributes.

A requiem mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Memorial church by Rev. William A. Keefe. The musical part of the mass was in charge of Henry LaFontaine, and at the offertory he sang Pie Jesu. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery where Father Keefe conducted a committal service. The bearers were Michael Connell, Patrick Barry and Michael Malone of the A. O. H., and Jeremiah A. Desmond, John Drew and John P. Corcoran.

Cummings & Ring were in charge.

Mrs. Thomas Holmes

Funeral services for Adelia P. Holmes widow of Thomas Holmes of Palmertown, Montville, who died Saturday just before funeral services for her husband were to begin, were held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her late home, Rev. Mr. Stearns, pastor of the Montville Union Baptist church, officiating. Relatives and friends from out of town attended the services and there were many beautiful floral pieces, among them a large spray from fellow employes of the Palmer Bros. mills, Palmertown.

Burial was in the family plot in Comstock cemetery, where a committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Stearns. The bearers were Joseph Church, William, James and Frank Sawyer.

C. A. Gager was in charge of the arrangements.

Your Eyes

[illegible] will be but a [illegible]

A delightful change from the visits to good vision. Our experience, skill and accuracy insure you of satisfactory service.

See Spear and you'll see.

C. A. SPEAR
OPTOMETRIST
Franklin Square,
Norwich, Conn.

NORTH STONINGTON

E. B. James and family are soon to move to Rhode Island, having bought a house, with four acres of land, near Ashaway.

Elmer E. Coon and son, Clark A. Coon, of Pendleton Hill have taken rooms in the house of Mrs. D. W. Bissell and will occupy them in May.

Clifford W. Caswell and family are to move into the house with his father, Charles B. Caswell.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Edwin Brown are to change their residence to the rooms over the store of Brown & Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Nellseg have moved to their recently purchased home on the west street.

Rev. Lucian Deury conducted burial services for Adolphus Champlin in Union cemetery on Thursday afternoon of last week.

E. W. Chapman is confined to his home with grip.

Mrs Thomas B. Hewitt has returned to town after an absence of several weeks.

The women of the Baptist church, under the direction of Mrs. Austin A. Maine, held a sewing meeting on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Lucian Drury, making pillow cases for a mission hospital. A picnic dinner was served at noon, after which there was a mite box opening.

HOPKINTON

Deacon Roger W. Lewis has returned home from the hospital in Providence and is able to be about town.

The Ashaway and Potter Hill W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. S. F. B. Hood Thursday afternoon. Nine members were present. Mrs. W. D. Kenyon, president of the society, was detained by illness from attending the meeting.

Carpenters from Westerly are erecting the new barn on the premises recently purchased by Alonzo P. Kenyon.

Miss Lois Fay of Princeton, Mass., is a guest of Mrs. R. Tirrah Cook.

Clarence White and family spent Sunday at the home of his father, Joseph T. White.

Thomas A. Grieve and family of Norwich visited at the home of Daniel E. Blake Sunday.

Mrs. L. F. Randolph, who has been very ill, is now a little improved. Her son, Curtis F. Randolph, has been here from Alfred, N. Y., the past week.

Bulletin's Pattern Service

4315

4315
A POPULAR STYLE FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

Checkar percale was used for this model, with chambrey for trimming. This style also lends itself well to gingham, crezone with crash and linen crash—or peas-stitching it will make a serviceable, washable dress.

The Pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. A 6 year size requires 3 yards of 32 inch materials. If collar bands and facings are to be of contrasting materials, 1-8 yards is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps. Send your order to The Bulletin Pattern Dept., 1133 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Many a strong man is paid a weekly salary.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Woman's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dispondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proves to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Plainfield dog owners who have had unlicensed animals were in court before Justice George Torrey at Central Village Monday to answer to the state for violating the law. The cases were developed through the activities in that territory during the past week of representatives of the commission on domestic animals, Deputy Sheriff C. H. Aper and County Game Warden Charles Letters of Putnam. What was done by the officers in rounding up violators of the dog laws in Plainfield is in line with what was done here in Killingly the past week and what is being done throughout the state. This work will continue until most dog owners are convinced that it isn't good policy to keep unlicensed dogs or to allow them to roam. Chief Special Deputy Howard A. Elliott and Special Deputy William Jarvis were the officers of the domestic animal commissioner working on the cases.

Several of the prominent French speaking residents of Danielson and other places in the town of Killingly will go to Hartford today (Tuesday) to appear in opposition to House Bill No. 391, providing for the elimination of foreign language teaching in public and private schools in Connecticut in grades below the sixth. Alma Forcier of Goodyear is a member of the county committee that has arranged for today's opposition from this corner of the state, as told more fully in the putnam news this morning.

Monday the body of Mrs. Flora Corson, 50, was forwarded from Danielson to Boston by Undertaker A. F. Wood for burial. Mrs. Corson was found dead in bed at O. S. Arnold's home in Goodyear Sunday morning. She had been employed as housekeeper the past six years by Mr. Arnold. Heart disease caurd death. Mrs. Corson leaves a sister who is a resident of East Foxboro, Mass.

It seems that publicity is more or less effective—sometimes. Monday morning mention was made in this column that the police had found two bundles containing certain articles and that the owner might have them by establishing ownership. Monday morning a telephone call from Canterbury to a Danielson business house came through with a request that some representative of the house see the police and ascertain if the missing bundles belonged to the Canterbury man. This proved to be the case and the man in Canterbury is going to get his goods back—new overalls and everything—and it isn't going to cost him a cent. He had seen the notice in The Bulletin and it was worth more than a year's subscription for the paper cost him. Needy furthermore, he isn't going to get any bill from the paper for publicity, though it seems well within the rules of modesty to mention that the paper performed a service for him.

Mrs. Ethel Flood, 36, wife of John Flood, well known horse dealer, died Monday at 1 a. m., after an illness with a complication of diseases. Mrs. Flood, who before her marriage was Miss Ethel Aldrich, a native of Killingly, has been quite ill during the past week, but the announcement of her death came as a surprise. Mrs. Flood is survived by her husband and two children, Marjorie and Helen.

Monday morning the funeral of Miss Adeline Cote was held from her home in Wauregan with funeral services at the Sacred Heart church in that place at 9 o'clock, Rev. J. C. Mathieu, the pastor, was the celebrant of the mass, attended by relatives and many friends of the deceased. The body was placed in the receiving vault in Sacred Heart [illegible]. The bearers were Joseph Brodeur, Lionel Brodeur, Leon Brodeur, George Brodeur, Dewey Brodeur and Fred Reynolds. L. E. Kendrady was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Miss Clarine LeBlanc, 34, is dead at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma LeBlanc, Water street. Miss LeBlanc, who was born in Danielson and had lived her life in this town, had been ill for a long period.

Announcement on Monday that Miss Carrie M. Jordan, 55, had died at her home in East Killingly came as a distinct surprise to her friends throughout the town. Miss Jordan had been ill but three days with pneumonia.

Miss Jordan was a daughter of Erwin A. and Anna M. (Rouse) Jordan and was a native of the town of Killingly, where she had spent all of her life. She leaves two brothers, N. A. Jordan, who is in business with a store in the town hall building in Danielson, Fred, a resident of Bayside, R. I., and a sister, Mrs. E. L. Gordon, who lives at East Killingly.

Sunday afternoon at the undertaking rooms of A. F. Wood funeral services for Miss Martha Bradford were conducted by Rev. Walter B. Williams of the West Field Congregational church and were attended by friends who have known her during the long period of her residence in this town. George B. Guild, George Mines, Julius Rainville and Abner S. Young were the bearers. The body was placed in the receiving vault at the cemetery in Brooklyn.

The cold wave that Monday morning's paper foretold began to screech its way in from the northwest shortly after 5 o'clock Monday afternoon and did add anything to the admiration

Stop Itching Scalp

Rub Parisian Sage on your head and you won't have to scratch the dandruff off; stops itching scalp, gives a luxuriant head of beautiful hair or money refunded says Lee & Osgood Co.

LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Special Attention to Home Calls.

DANIELSON CABINS,
STARKWEATHER BLDG.
BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
FOUR ALLEYS THREE TABLES.
WEDNESDAYS LADIES' DAY.
Bowling is the sport for all. Prizes given away every Saturday.

PUTNAM

Monday was a busy day in the city court. Of late it is seldom indeed that as many as six persons answer to charges before that tribunal in a single day and rarely ever do that many come in a week.

William Richard of Southbridge pleaded guilty to operating an overloaded truck and the court imposed a fine of $5 and costs of $13.74.

Another man in for violation of the motor vehicle law was John Dudo of this city. He was charged with operating a truck not properly equipped with a mirror and with not having the trunk numbered to show its carrying capacity, as required by law. Dudo paid a fine of $10 and costs of $13.84.

A fine of $5 and costs, the case being ordered placed on file, was imposed on Moses Dostie, who was driving a vehicle on the highway after dark without having a light upon the vehicle. Dostie previous to his arrest had been warned that his wagon must carry a light at night.

Barney Cleary was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail for having been intoxicated. Cleary is said to have been employed in one of the mill villages of the town of Killingly.

Joseph Rentzell also drew a sentence of 30 days for having been intoxicated.

Joseph Russell, fined $10 and costs of $13.80, for having been intoxicated, was unable topay and went over to jail to work out the fine and costs.

Putnam and various other communities in the textile centers of eastern Windham county are much interested in House Bill No. 391, on which a hearing will be given at the state capitol today before the committee on education, of which Senator Child of Woodstock, representing this district, is a member.

This bill provides for regulating in a drastic manner the teaching of foreign languages in grade schools of Connecticut and prohibits teaching any other language than English below the sixth grade and provides that from the sixth grade on through the elementary schools no more than one period each day shall be devoted to the teaching of any foreign lanuguage.

Here in Putnam more than 800 children attend St. Mary's parochial school and the great majority of them devote some time each day to the study of the French language. The same is true of all other parochial schools in towns along the Quinebaug valley.

In this end of the state such opposition as will be presented to the committee on education today will come chiefly from representatives of the Union of French Americans of Connecticut, this union representing 40,000 people. A. A. Brodeur, former representative in the legislature from this city, Peter Laramie of Williamantic and Alma Forcier of Goodyear, make up the committee that has been making preparations for today's hearing, when scores of prominent French American representing Putnam, the Greaevnordales, Danielson and other communities of the town of Killingly, Moosup, Wauregan, Plainfield and Willimantic go to Hartford to give expression of their opposition to the measure as it is now drawn.

Mr. Forcier said Monday afternoon that the committee will be asked to so amend the bill as to permit teaching foreign lanuguages in public and private schools of Connecticut for one hour each day in all grades. This consideration will be asked in the interest of perpetuating the French language and it will be stated that this can be done without in any measure interfering with the teaching of the English language to all pupils in graded schools in this section of Connecticut. The French-speaking populations of eastern Connecticut are very heavy in the textile centers and omitting of the children of these families is regarded as setting up a hardship that would be felt in their own this eastern territory has for that great section of the United States.

It had rained and forged, if one may be permitted to say that, during the day heretofore and few welcomed the final bite of winter after a season that has been trying both to health and nerves. However, spring opens tomorrow—Wednesday, March 21. There may be consolation for many in mentioning this.

The Quinebaug river was raging along during Monday, pouring a roaring volume of water over the dams of the Quinebaug company in the heart of the borough, but the river was behaving well, though far from normal, and not causing any damage to property. Present indications are that the flood menace has practically disappeared for this year.

Another few words about the annual borough caucus scheduled to be held in the town hall this (Tuesday) evening. A duty of every citizen is to be there. Danielson is fortunate in having an extra good list of officers. It wouldn't be really profitable to have them fail of nomination because you and other citizens of the town appreciating good government failed to be on hand tonight when the decision is made for another year. As politics do not enter into the selection of officials in Danielson, citizens who do not appreciate what they are getting in the way of public service will be due for censure and criticism for the neglect of their right of franchise if they are not on hand this evening.

And tomorrow night in the town hall all of Killingly voters are invited to get together to pass upon the budget that is to be submitted. This is another important meeting. A record high tax rate is in sight—in a peace year, when things are supposed to be normal. The taxpayer who is not on hand will have not excuse at all for kicking if this particular meeting fixes a rate higher than he feels is necessary. If he is there he has his vote—or she has her vote—to help kill it off.

In observance of the feast of St. Joseph's patron saint of the Sisterhood in charge of St. James' parochial school, there was no school on Monday.

John A. Newton of Springfield, Mass., was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Monday.

A spring appears to have broken through the new state highway at South Killingly, nearly opposite the Congregational church, and a stream of water was running merrily across the highway there during Sunday and Monday.

Made from Fruit Juices and Tonics

Fruitatives

—the wonderful "Fruit Laxo Tablets"—will correct Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Skin Troubles. 25c. and 50c. a box.

[illegible] homes, where some of the older people do not speak English, never having had an opportunity to acquire the use of it because of the necessity of being at work steadily from early here on adults many years ago.

Speaking as an individual, Mr. Forcier said that he realizes that there are conditions in schools in certain parts of the state that should be corrected as to the teaching of foreign languages, some cases being pointed out where no time at all has been given to English and where some of the teachers do not speak the language. Such conditions do not exist in eastern Connecticut, however, and Mr. Forcier feels that in justice to the great percentage of people who are French and of French descent that at least an hour each day should be allowed for teaching French in all schools of the state that desire that privilege.

About a score are expected to go from Putnam to Hartford for the hearing.

Coroner Arthur G. Bill of Danielson said Monday afternoon that he probably will come to this city to begin an inquest into the death of a woman who died Saturday and who was a resident in a section of the town of Thompson. Coroner Bill said that information that has come to him from physicians who have been in touch with the case tend to indicate that the woman's death may have been caused as the result of a self-performed abortion, or an attempt at one. Coroner Bill expected to be able to begin the inquest on Monday, but this was found impossible.

The Quinebaug river was rising along its course through this city during Monday with tremendous force and energy and was at the highest level it has reached since the spring period of last year. The river had not reached flood conditions and was causing no damage as it carried off the vast amount of water produced by the rains and meltings now. There is so much snow to the north of Putnam, a few miles over the border in Massachusetts, that it is believed that the Quinebaug, which drains territory many miles into Massachusetts, will remain high for several weeks. In many places the river is free of ice excepting along the shores.

In a short time, probably by the first of the month, the work of remodeling the Arcanum club property on South Main street will be undertaken. The work to be done will involve the expenditure of at least $2,000, it was said Monday and probably a materially larger sum. When the work is completed the club will have a comfortable and well appointed home, much the best in its history.

Chief Special Deputy Howard A. Elliott, Special Deputy William Jarvis of the commission on domestic animals and County Game Warden Charles Letters paid upert this city from Plainfield early Monday afternoon that they had prosecuted fifteen cases during the morning in a court at Central Village, all of those who appeared being charged with violation of the dog laws. The usual fines were imposed. Dog owners were brought into court for having unlicensed dogs and for allowing dogs to roam.

Patrons in the Putnam division of the Connecticut company are going to get the benefit of the new low rate to be put into effect by the trolley company with the coming of April. After that date tokens will be sold at two for 15 cents, instead of three for 25 cents, as is the present rule. The reduction will be appreciated by the public and will give this territory the lowest trolley fare it has enjoyed for a number of years.

Next Sunday will be observed as Palm Sunday at St. Mary's church and there will be the usual distribution of palms after the last mass of the day.

Wreckers are getting along rapidly with their work of razing the St. Onge building, the site of which will be used for the new Putnam Savings bank.

Although winter officially ends today, there continues to be a good demand for hard coal and little of it available. One dealer said Monday that no great amount feel of this variety is coming in as yet.

Henry A. Henderson of Worcester was a visitor with friends in Putnam on Monday.

An officer of the state police department will be in Putnam today (Tuesday) to issue motor vehicle operators' licenses to those who qualify.

Alexander Varhadian, whose stock was destroyed in the Donahue block fire, said Monday that he will decide this week when he will resume business. His stock was a total loss.

The newly elected officers of Putnam lodge of Elks will be installed at the first meeting of the organization in April.

A Sunday school workers' conference is to be held with Miss Hatriet Brown on Wednesday of this week.

Attorney Irving H. Miton, recently returned from Washington, is to remain in Putnam until fall.

At Woodstock Monday afternoon the League of Women Voters held a meeting with Miss Blanche Stoutenburg.

PLAINFIELD

The funeral of John Joseph Curran, who died at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Thomas King, was held on Saturday morning at nine o'clock at St. John's church. Rev. Richard P. Moriarty, pastor, was celebrant of the solemn high mass of requiem. Rev. William A. Keefe of St. Mary's church, Norwich, was deacon, Rev. John C. Mathieu, of the Sacred Heart church, Wauregan, sub deacon and Rev. James J. Tyler of St. Mary's church, Jewett City, master of ceremonies. The sisters of the Sacred Heart church in Wauregan conducted the musical part of the service.

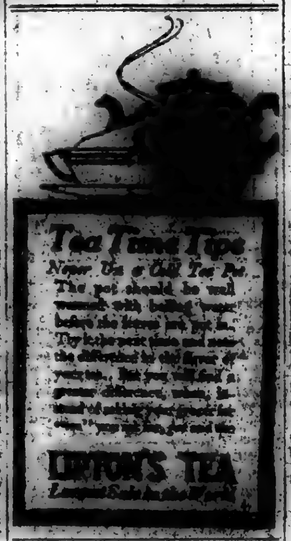
The bearers, members of the St. Johns Council K. of C., were Walter Dougherty, James Lee, Byrne Fenton, Elton Nolan, William Sullivan and Richard Provost.

There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes which showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Relatives and friends were present from New Haven, Norwich, Willimantic and Providence. Interment was in the family lot at St. Mary's cemetery, Cranston, R. I. The arrangements of the funeral were in charge of F. W. Tillinghast & Son, Central Village, Conn.

[illegible] weeks illness with the

STAFFORD

At the next regular meeting of the grange Tuesday evening a class of eight candidates will be initiated in the third and fourth degrees of the order.



Tea Time Tips
Never Use a Cold Tea Pot.
The pot should be well warmed with boiling water before the tea is put in it.
DEVON'S TEA

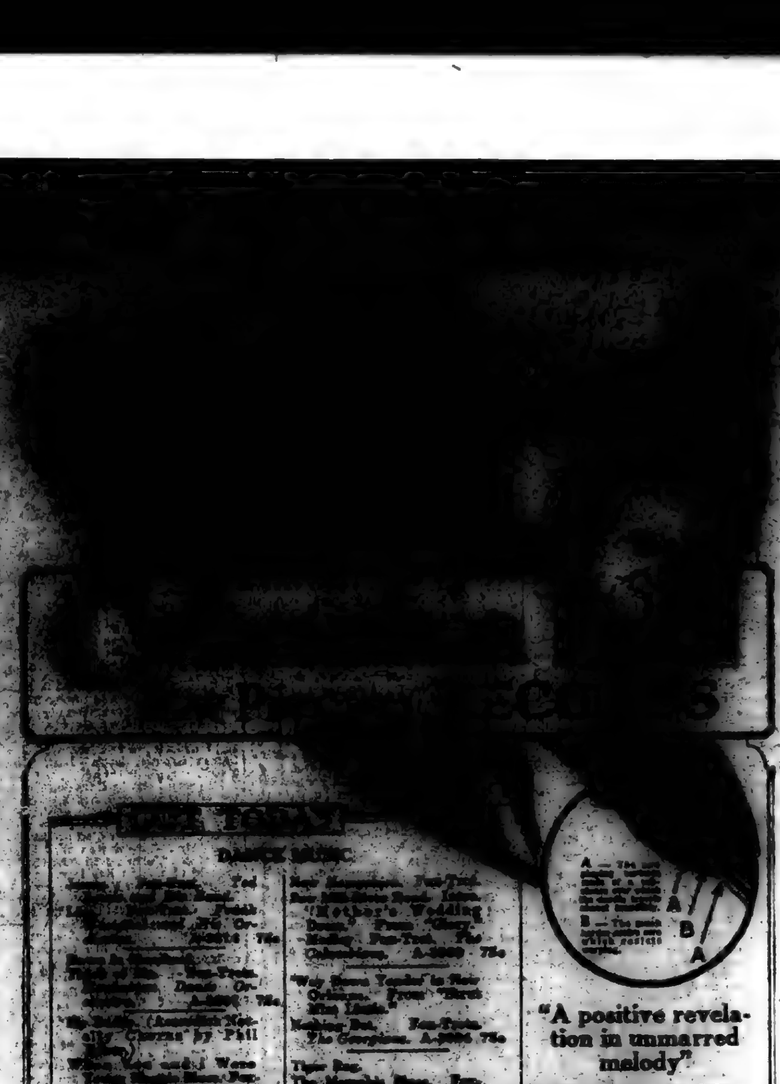
WHEN YOU SEE THIS TRADE MARK REMEMBER

Schwartz Bros.

CARRY THE ONLY COMPLETE LINE OF COLUMBIA

GRAFONOLAS AND RECORDS

Schwartz Bros., Inc.
78-79 Main Street
Norwich, Conn.



"A positive revelation in unmarred melody"

IN appearance, a Columbia New Process Record resembles practically every other disc record. But, play this record on any phonograph and you will be amazed at the superb smoothness of outpouring melody.

In the brief interval before the music commences, you may detect the needle faintly whispering. Compare this with the strident scratch that greets you on other records. At the very first note of the prelude even this almost imperceptible sound dissolves. Compare this with the insistent scrape that intrudes itself through the music on other records.

This surface quietness that lets your ears, unhindered, hear the infinite variety of delicate shadings of the singer's voice, that translates for you the musician's sensitive touch into the glow of poetic imagination; is unparalleled in phonographic reproduction.

As an example of this "unmarred melody," go to any Columbia shop and ask to hear Al Jolson singing his latest, "Wanita," record A-3812. The music is jolly and the words infectious, and admirers of Jolson's stage singing will especially appreciate the perfect reproduction of this clever actor's tone and expression. On the other side is another hilarious treat—Frank Crumit singing "Rinkie Jumbo." It is like hearing Crumit himself.

Columbia's process of making records with a hard, durable core, overlaid with a new surface so marvelously smooth that the needle travels over it practically without friction, pronounced the death sentence on obnoxious scratch and scrape. The process is patented. No one else can make a record at all similar.

Dance Records

Mother's Wedding Waltz. Fox-Trot. Ted Lewis and His Band. A-3823 75c

"Way Down Yonder in New Orleans." From "Earl Carroll Vanities." Fox-Trot. The Georgians. A-3816 75c

Tiger Rag. Fox-Trot. The Memphis Blues. Fox-Trots. Ted Lewis and His Band. A-3823 75c

La Paloma. Fox-Trot. O Sole Mio. Waltz. Jan Garber and His Garber-Davis Orchestra. A-3788 75c

You Tell 'em Iroquois. Counting the Flowers. Fox-Trots. Piano Solos. Frank Westphal. A-3800 75c

Whispering Flowers. Only Just Happens. Fox-Trots. Accordion Solos. Guido Deiro. A-3806 75c

Kawaiian Waltz. Makua Makamakamoa Waltz. Favorite Hawaiian Instrumental Quartet. A-3798 75c

POPULAR SONGS

Wanita. Al Jolson. Broken Jumbo. Frank Crumit. A-3812 75c

Down in Maryland. Mississippi Moon. Vess and Schenck. A-3806 75c

Yearning Just to Be Home. Dolly Dear. Dolly Kay. A-3808 75c

In Our Parlor. I'm Mighty Sweet on My Sweet Sweetie. Fortune and Nash. A-3803 75c

[illegible] Charles Hart and Ethel Shutta. Thinking About You. Medley Fox-Trot. Ipana Troubadours. A-3810 75c

I'm Goin' Along. Bring It with You When You Come. Lewis Wilcox and Her Dixie Band. A-3815 75c

VOCAL HARMONIES

Lights Low in the Gold Coast Down. Tenor Solos. Frank Crumit. A-3795 75c

Medley of "Old Timers." Part I—Intro.: In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree; Sweet Rosie O'Grady; Just One Girl; After the Ball.

Medley of "Old Timers." Part II—Intro.: Daisy Bell; Just as the Sun Went Down; Little Annie Rooney; The Sidewalks of New York. Shannon Four. A-3797 75c

Lullaby for Children. Little Brother's Prayer; Bobbie's Bye Baby. Lullaby for Children. I Love Little Pussy; Rock-a-Bye Baby. Lewis Sunset. A-3188 75c

I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say. Will There Round Ring True? Gypsy Smith. A-3582 75c

SYMPHONY AND CONCERT SELECTIONS

[illegible] Waltz. (Waldteufel) Prince Pierre Dorlon Cor. (Lehmann) [illegible] A-3817 75c

The Living God. (O'Hara) Charles Hackett. 88280 $1.00

[illegible] Waltz. (Waldteufel) Prince Pierre Dorlon Cor. (Lehmann) [illegible] A-3817 75c

Festive Valse. (Herbert) Hungarian Dance No. 2. (Brahms) Eddy Brown. A-3801 $1.00

[illegible] Waltz. (Waldteufel) Prince Pierre Dorlon Cor. (Lehmann) [illegible] A-3817 75c

Sailing Through Town Tears. (Hamilton) Out of the Dusk to You. (Lee) Barbara Maurel. A-3811 $1.00

COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE COMPANY, New York

Hear These New COLUMBIA RECORDS

TO THE BEST ADVANTAGE AT

The Plant-Cadden Co.

NORWICH, CONN.

Columbia Grafonolas

AS LOW AS $1.00 WEEKLY

SCHLEIFER URGED DESTRUCTION OF ROAD PROPERTY WITNESSES TESTIFY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 19.—Ernest Schleifer, a New Haven labor agitator was in the police court this forenoon, charged with urging the destruction of property of the New Haven railroad and with attacks upon railroad men who were at work during the time the shopmen's strike was in progress late in 1922. He was represented by David Slade of New Haven and by Thomas Spellacy of Hartford, who was the candidate for United States senator against George P. McLean at the last national election. The court room was well filled with railroad employes, many of them in official capacity. The railroad company produced three witnesses, Assistant Superintendent Robert M. Smith of Squire street, New London, John Boyle, a policeman in the service of the New Haven road, and David S. Marks, a sergeant of the road's police force. The two last named were the star witnesses, for they attended a meeting of shopmen that was held in New London on the 22d of November last, at which Schleifer made his radical talk, and for which he is now accused. The testimony disclosed the most radical and offensive language that has been heard in connection with labor troubles in this section.

According to Boyle's testimony, he and Marks, both of the New Haven road's police force, came here and attended a meeting of railroad workers at Machinists' hall in the Bacon building, when John Reidy and Ernest Schliefer were the speakers against the road and its officials, as well as the president and vice president of the road and the president of the United States, the attorney general of the nation, and Secretary Weeks.

Schliefer was very bitter against all who were not in sympathy with him and his followers as strikers, it was said. He said the union men were too easy with the scabs. Schliefer claimed that though the road had an injunction against the unions that did not make a bit of difference. He urged his hearers to trim the scabs and to use a bit of lead pipe to subdue them.

Schliefer urged the smashing of windows and the making of a noise that the officials of the road would not get the idea that the strikers had yielded. He urged the carmen to pull a brakeshoe key from the sidings and to put the shoe where it would do harm. Then, he said, put the cars off the irons where they should be put. "Get busy," was his injunction, "and the engines will be put out of commission." He charged the interstate commerce commission and the customs officers with being in collusion with strikers and to admitting foreign labor into the country to work on the roads for a payment of $3 a head.

The testimony of Marks was very similar to that of Boyle, for the two men attended the meeting at which Schliefer delivered his address. Schliefer complimented the mayor of Worcester, saying that he had raised $15,000 for the strikers' aid. He alluded to the police of Boston as being a lot of scabs and condemned President Pearson and Vice President Campbell and pointed out that General Manager Pardo misrepresented the number of men employed by the road during the increase period of the strike.

The purpose of the attorneys for the defendant was to break down the testimony of the state. Attorney Slade cross-examined Boyle and Mr. Spellacy took a hand at Marks, but they evidently did not make great progress. The session of the court lasted until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, then the case went over till Monday, the 26th, when arguments will be made, if that is deemed necessary.

George Gilmore, a veteran employe of the F. H. & A. H. Chappell company, suffered the fracture of two ribs recently by a fall. His condition is rapidly improving and it is believed he will be able to pursue his labors again the latter part of the month.

The annual St. Patrick's concert and dance under the auspices of Division No. 1, A. O. H., occurred in the state armory, and despite the stormy weather, a mammoth crowd attended, assuring the affair one of the most successful that the order has conducted in many years. A varied concert program was rendered from 9 until 10 o'clock, after which dancing was enjoyed until after 1 o'clock.

Mrs. John N. Leverone of Tilley street is spending a few days with friends in Waterbury.

The New London police were requested this afternoon to be on the lookout for a five-ton truck owned by the Crown Trucking company of New Haven that had been stolen and might be driven to New London by the thief.

Sunday forenoon the truck, driven by Martin W. Smith, came to grief near Glastonbury. Smith was unable to make repairs and left the truck alongside the highway. This afternoon when employes of the trucking company went to Glastonbury to take charge of the truck they found that it was not where it had been abandoned, and their efforts to locate it proved futile.

With freezing weather setting in again late this afternoon, residents of New London have no cause to fear for obtaining fuel, for although all of the coal companies have been unable to obtain only a small supply of coal the past few weeks, practically all of the yards now house an ample supply of the various grades of both hard and soft coal. Shipments of coal were received by three dealers Saturday and today.

The condition of Lieutenant of Police Benjamin Beebe, ill at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital for two weeks, has taken a change for the worse, for today, all visitors to see the aged officer were denied except his wife. Members of the department who called at the institution were refused admission to Lieutenant Beebe's room. The officer, however, is not confined to his bed at all times, he being able to move about the room by means of a wheel chair. The reason for Lieutenant Beebe not being allowed to have company, it is believed, is because of his weakened condition.

Charles R. Stoll is in New York on a business trip.

Lucius E. Whiton has returned to his home here after having been absent several weeks on a trip to San Francisco, to which place he went to meet his daughter, Miss Helen Whiton, who returned from a several weeks' sojourn in China. Miss Whiton enjoyed the trip, although she suffered from seasickness both going and coming from the Orient.

Autoists, who started placing their skid chains on their cars early in December and who started to remove them the past few days because of the absence of snow and ice from the streets, may be compelled to place the chains back on the wheels if they would assure themselves of safety, for with a wet snow in a freezing temperature this evening, the streets, particularly those paved, became so slippery as to border on the dangerous.

Rear Admiral Colby Mitchell Chester, U. S. N., retired, is to be asked to address the school children of New London on Flag Day the 14th of June. The city council has joined with the board of education in requesting Admiral Chester to make the address. Admiral Chester is a native of New London and resided for many years on Pearl street at Bank. He will no doubt receive a cordial welcome if he decides to deliver the address.

Merchants of Golden street have protested to the city council against continuing the practice of denying parking privileges to vehicles on the north side of the street. They claim that trade is driven away from the merchants on the south side of the street and they have asked the council to change the parking ordinance. The matter has been referred to the city manager and he will meet a committee of the Golden street merchants before he takes any action.

The city has voted to buy a chlorinating apparatus for its water supply at a cost of $3310.

Edward Grover of Norwich, Mrs. Morris Nauta and baby of Shaw street, Archie Rayside of Huntington street, Mrs. Terrance McKeon of Hope street, Edward Pellard of Westerly, Joseph Litzak of Chesterfield, Mrs. Joseph Capello of Niantic, Mrs. Ralph Shanklin of Fishers Island and Mrs. Robert Dean and baby of Blackhall, patients of Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital were able to return to their respective homes today.

Cornelius S. Holmes, one of the oldest letter carriers in term of service in the New London post office department, died Sunday at his home, No. 22 Garfield avenue. Death resulted from a shock Mr. Holmes suffered three months ago. He is survived by a widow and a brother, the latter residing in Middletown.

The funeral of George F. Martin was held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, a mass of requiem being celebrated by Rev. John McGrath. The bearers were Manuel Kulse, John F. Reynolds, Joseph Silva and Antone Enos. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Luella B. Hilliar, wife of Bindloss H. Hilliar, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at her late home, No. 517 Williams street and were attended by a large concourse of mourners. Rev. P. M. Kerridge officiated. Members of the family acted as bearers. Interment was in Jordan cemetery.

Robert S., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pickett of Summer street born last week, died today.

Cyril S. Reid of New York, who was arrested Sunday afternoon, charged with reckless driving, when the machine he was at the wheel of collided with an auto operated by Mrs. Bertha Avery of Norwich at the corner of Connecticut avenue and Bond street, was not prosecuted in the police court this morning, the charge against Reid having been withdrawn.

Attorney Frank Q. Cronin and wife will shortly vacate the residence now occupied by them on Montauk avenue and will remove to the home of Mr. Cronin's father, J. F. Cronin of No. 22 Nathan Hale street.

NEW LONDON AGAINST NEW COUNTY HOME

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 19.—The city council went on record in opposition to the erection of a new county home at this time, and requested the representatives of the city in the legislature to give the matter most careful consideration before any vote should be cast for the erection of the building. E. J. Sauter, a citizen, was given the privilege of the floor and he represented that the expense to New London would be some $28,800 for county tax. That sum, he said, the city should not be expected to pay. He said that, according to the grand list Norwich would have a county tax of $15,300, or $13,500 less than New London's share. The council will instruct the representatives in the legislature to withhold approval of any plan for a new county home at present.

Residents of Denison avenue appeared to protest against the assessment made upon their property for sidewalks on the north side of the avenue. They represented that they were assessed for the removal of a ledge near Shaw street and said they should not be asked to pay for that work as they got no benefit from it. The matter was referred to the director of law after Councillor Fox pointed out that it would be unfair for taxpayers at Ocean Beach to be charged for the removal of a ledge at the extreme upper end of the avenue in order that a sidewalk might be laid.

CORONER DESMOND POSTPONES NEW LONDON INQUEST

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 19.—Coroner J. J. Desmond informed Medical Examiner Heyer today that an inquest into the fatality attending the death of Eugene Partlow, late of Groton, who was killed by being struck by an automobile, owned and operated by Dr. John N. Dimon several weeks ago, would be held at the police station this afternoon, but later Coroner Desmond gave notification that the hearing would not take place and was indefinitely postponed.

The condition of Dr. Dimon is such now that he could be released from the hospital any day.

NEW LONDON MAN HELD FOR NORWICH POLICE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 19.—Francis Murphy of Walden avenue was taken into custody this evening at the request of the Norwich police and will be arraigned in the Norwich city court tomorrow morning, together with John Sullivan, also of New London, charged with breach of the peace. Sergeant Kane and Patrolman Murphy of the Norwich department, came to New London and escorted Murphy back to Norwich.

Murphy and Sullivan attended a dance in Norwich Saturday night and created a disturbance. They were placed under arrest and released from custody upon furnishing a bond for their appearance in the city court this morning. Sullivan put in an appearance, but Murphy did not. The case was continued until tomorrow morning and in the meantime the New London authorities were requested to apprehend Murphy. This evening Sergeant Samuel Hick espied Murphy on the street and his re-arrest followed.

NOANK

Mrs. Marcia Hadley celebrated her 90th birthday and a number of friends gave her a party recently. The Silver Link society, of which she is a member, sent a basket of fruit and she was the recipient of many gifts and flowers. Mrs. Hadley is enjoying good health and is very active. She is one of the few old residents of the village.

It is hoped that as many as possible will try and attend the open meeting of the Noank Fire company. A better understanding of the company's needs will be made known and also what has been accomplished thus far toward the new engine and equipment.

Rev. E. E. Knapp of Foxboro, Mass., has purchased a cottage at Cedar Crest lately owned by George Truss and will occupy the cottage about the last of April.

Mrs. Herman Edwards is able to be out after a severe attack of grip.

The house owned by the Potter estate on Front street is being remodeled and will soon be occupied by F. I. Rathbun as a hardware and ship chandlery store. Mr. Rathbun's store was recently destroyed by fire.

The True Blue society will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Esther Andrews.

The members of Liberty council, D. of A., are to hold a rainy day social this week.

Miss Jessie Carson has accepted a position in Mystic.

Arthur Carson was a caller in New London Saturday.

STONINGTON

The smoke stack on the Loper fire alarm company's shop blew down during Friday afternoon's gale, and the fence on the property of E. J. Darity, north of borough was blown down. The boys' bathhouses near the Darrell boat house were blown over in the lot.

The sewing class of the Wequetequock Community club now numbers ten. Miss Lucy M. Crowley is their instructor and she has accomplished much good work along this line for the good of the club. As an inducement a scholarship to Storrs summer school has been offered to the one who does the best work. The pupil is to be accompanied by Miss Crowley. Judges will act on the work. Miss Gladys Stratton will be here Thursday.

The fishermen in this locality are preparing for their trips on the local waters. Captain F. J. Osteras has begun to set pound stakes in the bay and harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Conrad of Summit street entertained Mrs. L. A. Eccleston and daughter, Dorothy of Norwich over Sunday.

Mrs. Albert L. Stickney and William and Betty Stickney were at their cottage at Wamphasset Point over the week-end.

Everett Pendleton was a caller in Boston over Sunday.

Miss Eleanor Ussher of Northfield, Mass., is spending her Easter vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Dwight C. Stone at the Parsonage by the Sea.

William Hobart is improving at his home on Elm street. He has been ill for the past two weeks.

GALES FERRY

There was no session of the school of the village on Monday, as the teachers of the town were in attendance at the teachers' institute convening in Norwich with the teachers of the other towns, Bozrah, Ledyard, Preston and North Stonington, over which J. Hussey Reed of Norwich is supervisor.

At morning worship in the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday, Rev. W. D. Woodward took his text from II Tim. 1: 12, For I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day. To the children Rev. Mr. Woodward prefaced his sermon from the words Have Faith in God. Rev. Mr. Woodward referred to the convening of the New England Southern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church from April 4 to April 9 in the M. E. church at New London, saying that those desiring to entertain ministers at their homes here for the night and breakfast would kindly give him their names for the reference manual. Rev. Mr. Woodward also read a vote of thanks and appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. Solon Chapman and family for beautiful flowers sent from the church, community and choir to the recent funeral of their father and grandfather, Charles H. Chapman.

Activities for the week were scheduled as a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society at the home of its president, Mrs. Henry W. Hurlbutt, at Woodlawn farm on Thursday afternoon.

Camp Fire Girls are to meet at the home of Miss Ida Erickson near Red Top on Thursday evening.

At the Sunday school session, with Supt. C. E. Colver in charge, award given for regular attendance for one year and nine months was a gold star to Margaret Parker. The banner in offering went to Mrs. R. Irving Hurlbutt's class and in attendance to Miss Jennie C. Perkins' class.

The appointed leader for the Epworth league evening service was Mrs. J. A. Bitch, with the topic What Jesus Expects of Me.

Ralph A. Hurlbutt, who was slightly in the rebound of a tree at the stump as it fell, while employed in the woods of the Hurlbutt brothers, his relatives, at Woodlawn farm, one day last week and was rendered unconscious and suffered injuries to his side, has made favorable recovery and is able to resume his work as usual.

Mrs. G. C. Schauffler of Cambridge, Mass., who has been the guest of Nathan A. Gibbs and his daughter, Miss Natalie K. Gibbs, at their home here for several days, has returned.

Advices received by friends at the Ferry from Mrs. William J. Jamison from London last week speak with interest of the life there and of the study course that both she and her husband, Dr. Jamison, are taking preparatory to entering missionary work on the island of Ceylon. Mrs. Jamison was Miss Gladys Thomnson, daughter of the late Rev. John Thompson and Mrs. Thompson. Rev. Mr. Thompson was pastor of the M. E. church of the village some years ago and the family resided at the parsonage. Dr. and Mrs. Jamison were married in the Congregational church in Groton last October. They sailed for England the latter part of December. They are now stopping at the Foreign Mission club in London.

John D. Merrill of the Boston Globe, a well known newspaperman, having followed the Yale and Harvard crews here for many years, was a visitor at the home of W. Fred Smith on Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank A. Aplin of the village, has returned to her home from a ten days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Irwin, and family at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Mrs. Wilfred Markee and her young guest, Master Caesar Bettincourt, of New Bedford, Mass., were guests of Mrs. Otis Campbell in New London Thursday.

W. Fred Smith of the village has purchased of J. Frank Corey of Norwich the summer cottage on the Bluff here owned by Mr. Corey and where he with his family have spent many summers.

The Camp Fire Girls, with their guardian, Miss Edith Woodward, met at the home of one of the members, Miss Myrtice Coman, on Saturday afternoon and made candy. Later on they enjoyed a frankfurter roast on the cliff overlooking the Ferry.

The condition of George W. Palmer of Ledyard, who was taken from his home to the home of Mrs. Phebe L. Norman at Allyn's Point last Friday, seriously ill, shows no improvement, and a consultation of physicians was held Monday.

Mrs. Emma S. Bennett and son, Orrin S. Bennett, with young granddaughter, Em-Beth Bennett, who have been ill with grip, are improving.

Milford—The Milford Chamber of Commerce is vitally interested in the proposed "Boost Connecticut Campaign" and in accordance with the vote passed at the meeting of the organization the committee received instructions to proceed in the arranging of plans to assist the Connecticut State Chamber of Commerce in carrying out the campaign.

COLCHESTER

Dr. J. T. Mirenen of Middletown was the guest of Dr. C. E. Pendleton on South Main street Friday.

Edwin R. Gillette was calling on friends in Hartford Friday.

Joe Dember and Harry Lazinsk were visitors in Moodus Saturday.

Mrs. George Smith has returned from Boston, where she has been attending the funeral of an aunt.

William Standard, station agent at the railroad depot, returned to his work Friday after a two weeks' sickness with influenza.

Miss Deborah Shea of Hartford was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Shea, on Lebanon avenue over Sunday.

Owing to the epidemic of influenza and the general sickness conditions in Colchester and East Hampton, it has been decided to cancel the engagement for the production of the cantata of Ruth in East Hampton. People of Colchester and vicinity will be interested to know that thanks to the efforts on the part of some of the citizens and a contribution from Edward M. Day of Hartford, $45.66 net proceeds were realized from the very successful performance of Ruth given in Grange hall a few weeks ago. This sum has been turned over to E. T. Bunyan to apply on the deficit of $85 of the Academy entertainment course.

Patrick Connors returned to his work in Hartford Sunday after a week's stay in town, having been called here by the death of his mother, Mrs. F. J. Hudson.

Harley P. Buell died at his home on South Main street Saturday evening about 7 o'clock from pneumonia after a short sickness. He was 72 years old. Mr. Buell was born in Gilead and came to this place and entered the employ of William B. Otis and took up the study of drugs. After serving his apprenticeship he purchased the old established drug store of the late Charles H. Rogers about 45 years ago and continued in the same business to the time of his death. He was judge of probate for 25 years and retired in November, 1921, having reached the age limit. In 1902 he was unanimously elected by the voters to represent the town in the constitutional amendment convention held in Hartford. While attending the convention he brought from Hartford a small oak tree and set out the same in the park. It is known as the constitutional oak and he also set out another small oak tree and it is known as a Charter oak, having sprung from the old Charter Oak in Hartford.

He was elected a senator from the 20th or Shoestring district in 1907. He served as chairman of the First school district committee for 25 years, also was a trustee of Bacon academy for several years. He was the oldest living past master of Wooster lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., of this place. In Mr. Buell's death the town has lost one whose place in the community will be hard to fill. He was a friend to all and was one of the town's most public spirited citizens, always ready and willing to aid anything which was for the good of the town. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Loretta Buell, and one brother, Hart E. Buell, of Gilead.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia), 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Better than a mustard plaster

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

They Combat the Film

Those people you see everywhere with whiter, cleaner, safer teeth

Go now and ask for this delightful test. Learn how easy it is to fight film on teeth.

You see glistening teeth wherever you look today. Learn how people get them.

There is now a new method of teeth cleaning which millions have adopted. Dentists the world over now advise it. Careful people of some 50 nations now employ it daily. Find out what they know.

That dingy film

That viscous film you feel on teeth is their great enemy. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escaped tooth troubles.

Germs breed in film by millions. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles.

Old ways inadequate

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So the tooth brush left much film intact.

Dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. Those two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. To millions of homes the world over it is bringing a new dental era.

Other new effects

Pepsodent does other things which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus Pepsodent gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Some 50 nations use it now

This is part of a world-wide crusade for better tooth protection. Pepsodent is now used in homes of some 50 nations, largely by dental advice.

Pepsodent PAT. OFF. REG. U.S.

The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific tooth paste based on modern research, free from harmful grit. Now advised by leading dentists the world over.

This Week Only

Free

At your store—See coupon

New beauty comes

See what new beauty comes from whiter teeth. Learn the new daintiness that comes from cleaner teeth. You will be amazed and delighted.

Go get this free tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

You will want those results continued for everyone in your home. Cut out the coupon now.

1136

10-Day Tube Free

This week only at your store

Insert your name and address, then present this coupon this week to any store named below. You will be presented with a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

If you live out of town, mail coupon to The Pepsodent Company, 1104 So. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and tube will be sent by mail.

Your Name

Address

Present coupon to

THE LEE & OSGOOD CO.,

133 MAIN ST., NORWICH

Bulletin. Norwich. Conn.

Don't let that itching rash torment you and disgust others

Save yourself hours of torture and embarrassment, by using Resinol Ointment. The moment this soothing, healing ointment is applied to itching skin the itching usually stops and healing begins. Aided by warm baths with Resinol Soap it seldom fails to restore health to a sick skin or scalp quickly, easily and at little cost.

Resinol Soap and Ointment also help greatly to clear away blotches and dandruff.

Resinol

Trial free by mail. Write Dept. 1-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

GETTING TOO FAT? TRY THIS — REDUCE

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already burdensome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

WINSOL
A GUARANTEE OF QUALITY

Don't put up with poor health

WE are headquarters for a wonderful reconstructive medicine called SANALT, the Sensible Tonic, and we have such faith in its power to relieve the many ills due to chronic constipation and digestive troubles that we want everyone to try it—at our expense.

This is what one man says of it—"I was generally run down and had lost weight. My stomach and bowels were sluggish and blood in bad shape. Two bottles of Sanalt put me in fine condition and restored my weight to normal."

Come in and ask us for your free sample of SANALT

H. M. LEROU, 227 Main St.

CHAS. C. TREAT, 115 Franklin St.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales 1,068,000 shares.
20 industrials averaged 105.36, net gain .54. High 1923 105.36; low, 96.96.
20 railroads averaged 9.36, net gain .25. High 1923 90.63; low 84.53.

MARKET WAS STRONG.

New York, March 19.—Speculators for the advance succeeded in bidding up prices to substantial levels in virtually all sections of today's stock market, a number of the the popular industrial issue soaring to new high records for the year. Professional operations were aided by a fairly large volume of week-end end buying orders from the outside, which were attracted by Saturday's rally, but the demand fell off perceptibly towards the close when the call money rate was marked up to 6 per cent after renewing at 5. The industrial averages closed at the highest level since the pring of 1920.

Pool operations were vigorously conducted in the domestic oil group, buying being influenced by reports of dividend increases in the near future. New peak prices were established by Sinclair at 39 2-8, Producers & Refiners at 57 1-2, and Marland at 47 7- while Texas Company duplicated its previous high of 52 5-8 the net gains ranging from 1-2 to 3 1-4 points.

New highs also were established in the equipment group by American Locomotive at 139 5-8, Baldwin at 141 1-4, Lima for Eal and Pullman at 133 7-8 but most of these prices were shaded at the close. Gulf States Steel pressed par for the first time this year and closed 2 points above Saturday's final price and Crucible gained 1 1-8, other steels closing fractionally higher.

Some of the other outstanding strong spots in the Industrial list were National Lead, up 5 1-2; Union Tank, up 4 1-4; Pierce Oil Preferred, up 4 1-2; Burns Bros A, up 3 5-8, and American Woolen. Associated Oil Mexican Seaboard, Phillips Petroleum, Du Pont, Loose Wiles Biscuit, South Porto Rican Sugar, White Motors and Public Service of New Jersey up 2 to nearly 3 points.

Trading in rail shares was relatively quiet although a few shares were accumulated on speculative expectation of unusually favorable February earnings reports. Texas & Pacific jumped 2 5-8 points; Norfolk & Western Preferred, 2 3-4; and Lackawanna and Baltimore & Ohio, 1 1-4 each.

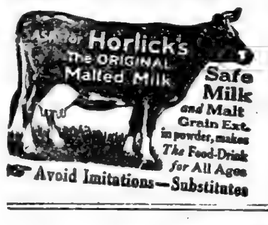
Time money was quiet but firm with brokers bidding 5 1-4 and bankers asking 5 1-2 per cent, some business being done at both rates. The commercial paper market was more active the bulk of the prime names commanding 5 per cent.

Further strength of French francs, which were quoted just below 6.50 cents was the feature of the foreign exchange market. Demand Sterling was quoted around $4.70, up about a half cent. Canadian Exchange was conspicuously weak, falling to 97 7-16, a new low record for this year.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P M:

	Sales	High	Low	Last
Al Chem & D	1,400	79⅞	78	78¼
Allis Chalm	49	48¾	48¾
Allis Chalm pr	1,400	95¼	95¼	95½
Am Ag Chem	1,400	34¼	33⅞	34
Am Best Sugar	1,400	47⅜	47⅛	47⅛
Am Bosch Mag	1,400	57	56½	56½
Am Can	1,400	103¼	102	102
Am Ca pfd	1,400	115⅞	115⅞	115¾
Am Car & Fdy	1,400	136	133	133¾
Am Cotton Oil	1,400	16⅜	16¼	16⅛
Am Cotton Oil pr	1,400	31	31	31
Am Hide & L	1,400	73	72	72¾
Am Int Corp	1,400	30½	30	30
Am Tel & Tel	1,400	123	122⅝	123
Am Tobacco	1,400	156	155½	155½
Am Woolen	1,400	105½	103⅞	105¼
Anaconda	1,400	51¾	51½	51¾
Associated Oil	1,400	127	126	127
Atchison	1,400	104¼	103⅜	104¼
Balt & Ohio	1,400	54⅞	53⅞	54½
Balt & Ohio pr	1,400	60¼	60¼	60¼
Beth Steel B	1,400	69	68⅛	68⅝
Beth Steel 8 pr	1,400	109¾	109¾	109¾
Beth Steel new pr	1,400	9½	95	95
Brooklyn Rp Tr	1,400	7⅝	7¼	7¾
Brook Rap Tr ctf	1,400	6½	6⅜	6½
Butte Cop & Z	1,400	10⅞	10⅝	10½
But & Sup Cop	1,400	35⅜	34⅞	35⅝
Canadian Pacific	1,400	148¾	147½	148¾
Cent Leather	1,400	39⅝	38⅝	38⅝
Cent Leath pr	1,400	79¾	79⅛	79½
Chandler Motor	1,400	74⅞	74⅜	74⅜
Ches & Ohio	1,400	73¾	73⅛	73½
Ch & Gt West	1,400	6	6	6
Ch & Gt West pr	1,400	14⅝	14⅝	14⅝
C M & St P	1,400	25½	25⅛	25⅜
C M & St P pr	1,400	44½	43⅜	44⅝
Ch & N W	1,400	87	86	86
C R I & P	1,400	37⅜	36⅞	37
Chile Cop	1,400	29¼	28⅞	29¼
Chino Cop	1,400	30½	30	30½
Cosden	1,400	61½	60½	60½
Crucible Stel	1,400	83¼	82	82¾
Del & Hudson	1,400	119¾	118½	118½
Dome Mines	1,400	41⅝	41⅜	41⅝
Erie	1,400	12¾	12⅜	12¾
Fished Bdy O pr	1,400	100¾	100¾	100¾
Gen Electric	1,400	187¼	187¼	187¼
Gen Elect w i	1,400	11⅝	11¼	11⅝
Gen Motors	1,400	15¼	14⅝	15
Gen Mot 6 p c	1,400	84¾	84½	84½
Goodyear pfd	1,400	98½	98	98
Great North	1,400	78½	77⅞	77⅞
Great North Ore	1,400	36	35	35¾
Hudson Mot	1,400	31⅝	31	31⅛
Hupp Mot Car	1,400	28¾	27⅝	28¼
Illinois Cent	1,400	116	115½	116
Inspir Cop	1,400	41¾	40⅜	41⅝
Int Harvester Co	1,400	92	92⅛	92½
Int Mer Mar	1,400	43	41¾	42⅛
Int Paper	1,400	55¼	54¼	54¼
Kennecott	1,400	53½	52⅝	52⅝
Keystone	1,400	9¾	9	9
Lehigh Valley	1,400	68½	68	68
Max Motor A	1,400	60⅛	60	60
Miami C Cop	1,400	29⅛	29⅛	29⅛
M K & T new	1,400	16⅛	15⅝	16½
M K & T pa new	1,400	42⅜	41⅞	42⅜
Mo Pacific	1,400	18¾	17⅞	17⅝
Mo Pac pr	1,400	47⅛	46⅝	47
Nat En & St	1,400	71⅝	71	71¼
N Y Air Brake	1,400	37	33½	36⅞
N Y Air Brake A	1,400	49½	48½	49½
N Y Central	1,400	95⅝	95⅜	95⅜
N Y N H & H	1,400	20	19⅝	20
Nor & West	1,400	113⅞	111	113⅝
North Pacific	1,400	79	78	78¾
Pacific Oil	1,400	45¾	44½	44½
Penn R R	1,400	46⅛	46⅛	46⅛
Pierce Oil	1,400	5¼	4½	5
Pierce Oil pr	1,400	44½	43¾	43⅞
Ray Con C	1,400	16	15⅝	16
Reading	1,400	75⅞	75⅛	75¾
Reading 1 pr	1,400	52	52	52
Rep I & St	1,400	61⅞	60⅝	61½
South Pacific	1,400	94	93⅛	93¼
South Ry	1,400	34¼	33⅝	34⅛
South Ry pr	1,400	69¼	68½	69⅝
Tenn C & C	1,400	12⅝	12⅜	12½
Tobacco Prod	1,400	56⅞	56	56
Tob Prod pr	1,400	110	110	111
Tobacco Prod A	1,400	93½	92⅞	93⅜
Union Pacific pr	1,400	74⅛	73½	73½
Union Pacific	1,400	142	141¼	142
U S Rubber	1,400	65	63	63½
U S Rubber 1 pr	1,400	105	102	103
U S Steel	1,400	108⅝	107¾	107⅞
U S Steel pr	1,400	119⅝	119½	119⅝
West Un Tel	1,400	115¾	115⅛	115⅜
West Air B	1,400	116½	115½	115½
West Mfr	1,400	65¼	64¼	64½
Willys Oland	1,400	7⅝	7¼	7¼
Willys Oland pr	1,400	52¾	52	52¾
Worth P & M	1,400	67	67	67
W P & M pr B	1,400	69½	69½	69½



Ask for Horlick's
The ORIGINAL Malted Milk
Safe Milk and Malt Grain Ext. in powder, makes The Food-Drink for All Ages
Avoid Imitations—Substitutes

BOND MARKET.

New York, March 19.—While small losses were recorded by many of the high-grade securities, the general tone of today's bond market was firm. Rising prices in stocks made themselves felt also in the liens of those companies.

U. S. government bonds continued heavy, the active issues losing from two to twelve cents on $100. Foreign government obligations, particularly issues, were in good demand some 25s, up one point, and Lyons 6s up 1 3-8, being the leaders.

With few exceptions, railroad mortgages continued dull and irregular, Northern Pacific refunding 6s losing 1 3-8, and Virginia Railway 5s, dropping a point. Atlantic Coast Line 4s advanced 1 1-8. A rise of 3 3-8 in Punta Alegre Sugar 7s carried it to a new high, and advances of a point or more were recorded by Virginia Carolina Chemical 7, 7 1-2's, with warrants, and Donner Steel Refunding 7s, Union Oil of California 6s, off 2 1-8, was the outstanding weak spot among the industrial issues. Total sales (par value) were $11,706,000.

Liberty Bonds.

	Sales	High.	Low.	Close
U S Lib 3½s		101.08	100.94	100.94
U S Lib 1st 4¼s		97.94	97.84	97.84
U S Lib 2d 4¼s		97.88	97.22	97.44
U S Lib 3d 4¼s		98.38	98.30	98.32
U S Lib 4th 4¼s		97.94	97.84	97.86
Victory 4¾s		100.06	100.04	100.04
Treas. 4¼s		99.30	99.20	99.30

Quoted in dollars and cents per $100 bond.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Year Ago.
Demand	$4.67⅞	$4.37½
Cables	4.70⅛	4.38⅞
Francs	6.47	5.97½
Guilders	39.50	37.84
Marks	.0048¾	.34⅝
Lire	4.86	5.08
Swiss francs	18.56	19.48
Pesetas	15.46	1560
Belgian francs	5.58	5.43
Kronen	.0014	.016
Sweden	26.60	26.20
Denmark	19.30	21.20
Norway	18.10	17.48
Greece	1.10	4.42
Argentina	84.00	83.00
Brazil	11.50	....

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, March 19.—Although a sudden cold wave together with lack of snow protection lifted wheat today to the highest prices attained for more than a month, the market soon gave way under active selling based largely on opinions that no crop damage of consequence had been done. Prices closed unsettled, 3-8c to 1 1-8c net lower, with May $1.21 to 1.21 1-8 and July $1.16 to 1.16 1-8. Corn lost 1-4@3-8c to 5-8c 3-4c and oats 1-8@1-4c to 1-4@3-8c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 12@15c higher.

Houses with western connections took the lead in the wheat selling which began quickly when crop damage talk had caused prices to bulge during the early dealings. Higher quotations at Liverpool assisted the initial upturn in values here and so too did smallness of world shipments. Word of export business at the Seaboard tended likewise to assist the bulls. On the other hand, liberal purchasing of wheat to come to Chicago from Omaha and other western centers acted as something of an offset.

Lowest prices of the day were current at the close in the wheat market. Absence of any inquiry for United States wheat had a bearish influence in the later dealings and but little notice was taken of a decrease in the visible supply total. Much of the selling was to realize profits. Besides the volume of buying which was generally expected to result from crop damage reports proved to be disappointing to the bulls.

Corn and oats followed the action of the wheat market and in addition corn was depressed by a substantial increase in the visible supply.

Firmness in the provision market was due to higher quotations of hogs.

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
May	123	121	121
July	117⅝	116	116⅛
Sep	115½	114⅛	114⅝
Corn—
May	75⅝	74½	75
July	77½	76½	76⅝
Sept	78½	77⅜	77⅞
Oats—
May	45⅜	45	4 5⅛
July	45½	44⅜	44⅝
Sept	45⅞	42⅛	43⅛

MONEY.

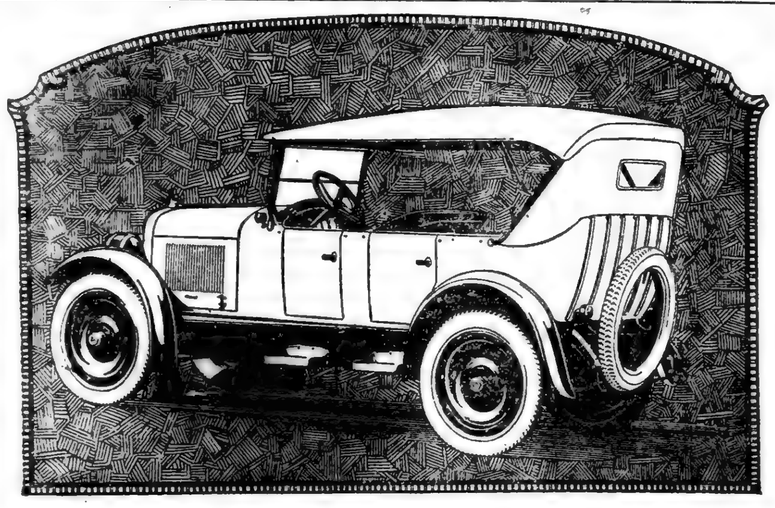
New York, March 19.—Call money: Strong; high 6; low 6; ruling rate 5; closing bid 6; offered at 6 1-4; last loan 6; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

COTTON.

New York, March 19.—Cotton-spot quiet; middling 31.20.

METAL MARKET.

New York, March 19.—Copper firm. Electrolytic, spot and futures 17 1-4@17 3-8. Tin easier. Spot and nearby 50.12; futures 49.75. Iron steady. No. 1, Northern 31.00@32.00; No. 2, northern 30.00@31.00; No. 2, Southern 27.00@28.00. Lead steady. Spot 8.25@8.50. Zinc firm. East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 8.00. Antimony, spot 8.75@8.87.



The Stunning Velie
SPORT MODEL

Velie 58 Sport Model, is attracting admiring attention everywhere. Long, graceful body is edged with solid black walnut moulding. Two aluminum steps on each side in place of running boards. Black fenders. Disc wheels. Vertical nickel rails at the rear of body. An ideal car for touring. A car of marked distinction in city use. Powered by the marvelous Velie-Built six-cylinder motor. Automatically lubricated. Vibrationless. A wonder of smooth, silent power. Four other splendid Velie models open and closed. See them.

FRANK RINELLA
Phone 2273 41 North Main Street

VELIE

COAL

Nut Stove
$16.00 Per Ton
Boulets
$15.00 Per Ton
Buckwheat
(Extra Large Size)
$12.00 Per Ton

50c per ton extra if coal is carried in baskets.

The above prices are for immediate delivery.

PLACE YOUR ORDER FOR YOUR NEXT WINTER'S SUPPLY NOW, AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO HAVE COAL.

Telephone 2208

SHETUCKET COAL & LUMBER CO.

SOUTH WINDHAM

The Girl Scouts held a successful supper and entertainment in the social rooms of the church Thursday evening. baked bean and salad supper was served by the supper committee, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Sarah Beckwith and Miss Birdie Stanton, assisted by Misses Alberta Wallen, Catherine Adams Helen Avery, Cathern Holden, Lorna Maynard, Doris Lewis, Muriel Smith, Annie Trigger, Mrs. Chauncey Wilson, Miss Annie Merritt and Miss Avis Cobb.

The rooms were decorated with American flags and green streamers, under the direction of the chairman of the decorations committee, Miss Alberta Wallen, assisted by Mrs. Walter Abbe, Jr. Advertising posters and tickets were in charge of Misses Catharine Adams, Florence Avery, Avis Cobb, Elizabeth Dale, Lorna Maynard, Helen Smith, Albert Wallen and Ruth Wilson.

The program of music and readings in charge of Misses Helen Avery, Sarah Beckwith and Louise Porter was as follows:

Duet, piano and violin, Miss Myrtle Clark and Miss Marion Healy; solo, Olcott's Lullaby, Miss Sarah Beckwith; piano solo, The Mountaineer's Call, Miss Helen Avery; reading, The Troubles of a Wife, Miss Ruth Wilson; duet, Kathleen Mavourneen, Miss Sarah Beckwith and Miss Avis Cobb, duet, piano and violin, Miss Myrtle Clark and Miss Marion Healy; reading, Miss Ruth Wilson; Star Spangled Banner by the audience.

A good sum was realized and it will be the nucleus of a fund to be used for scout uniforms and camping.

The officers, Miss Annie Merritt and Miss Avis Cobb were in general charge of the affair.

Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Henry Scribner and Mrs. Percy Scribner have been ill with the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark James and son Roscoe, have recovered from an attack of grippe.

Mrs. Edna Hatch is convalescing from an attack of grippe and neuritis.

Friends of George Hatch are glad to see him out again after a serious illness.

Walter Abbe Sr., of Windham, is spending a few days with his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Abbe at Mrs. Guilford Smith's.

Walter Abbe, Jr., and Charles Backus were in Windsor Locks on business Wednesday.

Miss Helen Smith is visiting in New York.

Several employes of the Smith Winchester Co. have long records of service with the company. Last week marked the 41st anniversary of Walter Backus' entrance into the employ of the company.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was led Sunday by Rev. Joseph F. Cobb.

BOLTON

At a special town meeting held last Friday it was voted to lay a 23 1-2 mill tax.

The selectmen held their monthly meeting last week Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Charles M. Pinney who went to Florida several weeks ago have returned to Connecticut. They stopped in New London for their daughter, Miss Dora Pinney, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Charles Davison, before returning to Bolton.

Elmer J. Finley and son, Prescott H. Finley of Forest Hills Gardens, Long Island, have been visiting Mr. Finley's mother, Mrs. Jane Finley.

Miss Helen Mathein of Hartford spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mathein.

Miss Betty Rose of Hartford was home over Sunday.

Ernest F. Strong was home from Hartford for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Silverberg and daughter, Lillian Silano are recovering from grippe.

Miss Margaret Maneggia of Hartford was a recent visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Maneggia.

Mrs. Helen R. Bowen, teacher in the Center school, who went to her home in Westminster, Mass., ill with grippe has been delayed about returning to her school on account of the illness of her mother.

Miss Mabel Maneggia of Hartford was a recent visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Maneggia.

Miss Margaret Maneggia has been visiting her brother, George Maneggia in Hartford.

Bluebirds have returned to Bolton Center. Very few automobiles have been through the center since January first, until last Saturday.

Miss Emma E. Brown, who has been ill at Mrs. Bury A. Browneli's several weeks has returned home.

Mrs. Thomas Ross and Mrs. Louis Cavagnaso are in New York on account of the critical illness of their father.

David Toomey was a Bolton visitor Sunday.

Mrs. Walter E. Howe has returned home from a month's visit with friends in Worcester, Mass.

Mrs. James W. Phelps and daughter, Louise Phelps, are ill.

George Rose has purchased six tested registered Jersey cows in Windsor, and also added to his flock of sheep by purchasing fourteen more.

Kingsley Barrows who has been at the Manchester Memorial hospital with grippe, has returned home.

Mrs. Kneeland Jones is in the Manchester hospital for surgical treatment of her feet.

MYSTIC

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel C. Burnet was held Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, at her home on Cliff street. Rev. J. G. Osborne, pastor of the Union Baptist church officiated. Interment was in Elm Grove cemetery.

Mistuxet lodge, No. 42, Knights of Pythias, held a meeting in Castle hall Monday evening at 7.30, in Buckley block. A class of candidates received the degree of knighthood. Refreshments were served and a smoker enjoyed

Saturday Mrs. Harriet Avery of Haley street celebrated her 83rd birthday. Many of her friends called during the day to help her celebrate. The Star class of the Methodist church of which she is a member presented her a basket of fruit.

A special car has been chartered by the members of Mystic Encampment, No. 17, I. O. O. F., to enable a large delegation to go to New London this (Tuesday) evening when the degree team of H. K. White will confer the royal purple degree upon a class of candidates for Orion encampment of New London. Degree Master White held a rehearsal Monday evening.

About 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon a still alarm was sent in to the Mystic Hook and Ladder company from the home of Mrs. John Edgecomb of 35 Pearl street. When the fire company arrived they found a very stubborn chimney fire and it had gained considerable headway. The firemen removed the kitchen stove and fought for about an hour before the fire was put out.

The Mystic Academy held only one session and closed school Monday at 12.30. This enabled the students and teachers to attend Mrs. Burnet's funeral services.

Mrs. Margaret Caswell of Main street spent the week end in Groton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sellbach of Boston, were week end guest sof Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Shea of Jackson avenue.

John Brown of Hope Valley spent the week end with friends here.

Miss Geneva Champlin of Roosevelt street, and Miss Helen Tuite of Westerly are spending a week in New York.

Miss Evelyn Burdick who is employed at Dick's Bakery is enjoying a vacation. Miss Fanning Board is filling her place.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pains in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments, and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for constipation, biliousness, headaches, and sluggish bowels. Lee & Osgood Co.

BREED THEATRE

Today and Wednesday

The Kentucky Derby and the Metropolitan Handicap as the background for a wonderful love story with action and thrills, plots and counterplots, woman's jealousy and a girl's brave heart.

JACK PICKFORD
in
"GARRISON'S FINISH"
(based on W.A.M. Taggart novel of the same name)
Supervision and screen service by Elmer Harris
Direction by Arthur Rosson
Photography by Harold Rosson

Pathe News
Educational Comedy

Coming Thurs., Fri., Sat.
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
—IN—
"THE PILGRIM"

Will Be Completed In Two Weeks

VENICE

Formerly known as the Chelsea Boat Club has been remodeled and turned into a beautiful Open-Air Dancing Pavillion for Summer — Gas, steam heated for Winter—Also a beautiful Lodge Meeting Room. We are ready to rent the entire premises to a responsible party. See A. M. Pasnik of The Pasnik Co., Norwich.

COLUMBIA

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lyman of Plainville arrived in town on Thursday. Mrs. Lyman remained for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Utley.

The pupils of the Pine street school held a speaking contest on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Nellie Hunt. The pupils had been carefully prepared by their teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummins. The following recitations were given: O Captain, My Captain, Clara Berman; The Gettysburg Speech, Sallie Rubenstein; The Enchanted Shirt, Samuel Rubenstein; The Last Leaf, Clarence Holbrook; The Glove, John Waszlyshyn; Lady Clare, Sidney Bernstein; How They Brought the Good News, Paul Berman; The Leak in the Bike, Olga Waszlyshyn; Grandmother's Story, Laura Holbrook; Lord Ullin's Daughter, Mary Waszlyshyn. There were also spelling contests and exercises in physical education. The judges of the contest were Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Robinson and Miss Nellie Hunt, who declared that Clara Berman was the leader in the contest and Laura Holbrook was second. Refreshments were served after the exercises.

Rev. T. Newton Owen occupied his pulpit on Sunday morning and preached again on the book of Ecclesiastes, taking what he considered the best text in the book, Ecc. 3: 11, "He hath made everything beautiful." He said the preacher sought to find words of delight and truth and to imitate God in preaching attractive words and making the world an inviting place to live in. He said we confess that we have a spiritual longing for that which is eternal, but why do we neglect the soul and cultivate the body. The glory of this book is the teaching regarding the soul, and the hope of immortality.

A complaint against the driver of a Hartford-Willimantic jitney was brought before Justice Hubert P. Colles on Saturday afternoon. On Monday last it is charged that the jitney sideswiped a Chevrolet car with a New Jersey registration in the neighborhood of Loomer Rock hill, crowding it into the ditch and smashing a wheel, also bending the fenders. Mr. Tufford, the driver of the Chevrolet car, stated that the cause of the accident was due to baggage on the running board of the jitney extending out into the road. As counsel in the case were not prepared for trial, the case was continued for three weeks to Monday, April 9th.

Raymond E. Lyman, the newly appointed R. F. D. carrier, in connection with the Columbia postoffice, will begin his duties on Monday, March 19th. He was at the postoffice on Thursday and went over the route with L. L. Winter, the substitute carrier.

E. S. Russell, school supervisor, was in town on Thursday making arrangements for the reopening of the grade at the Center, which has been closed since Wednesday, March 7, because of the prevalence of mumps. Mr. Russell was fortunate in securing the services of Miss Mildred Lathe of Chestnut Hill, who has accommodated the school authorities in cases of necessity in the past, and her services have been greatly appreciated. The school will be reopened on Monday morning, the 19th.

Mrs. Philip Isham (Edith Lyman) is confined to the house by illness.

Frank Squier and others were engaged in filling their icehouses with the inke on Thursday.

Gotlief Salomon of Chestnut hill received on Thursday four large pasteboard boxes by mail, containing baby-day-old chicks, from Buckeyes, Ohio. Judging from the noise made by the chicks, they were well and strong, notwithstanding their long trip.

The pupils of the Pine street school held a speaking contest on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Nellie Hunt. The contestants had been prepared by their teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummins.

Mountains of the Pacific coast and in a great belt which reaches across Asia and the Mediterranean, are active and still growing, while those of the Atlantic Coast are dead, says Dr. Burley Willis, professor of Geology at Stanford University.

STRAND
JUBILEE WEEK
TODAY AND WEDNESDAY

"THE LITTLE CHURCH AROUND THE CORNER"
WITH CLAIRE WINDSOR and a notable cast from the play by
CHAS. E. BLANEY

CAST INCLUDES
HOBART BOSWORTH
KENNETH HARLAN
WALTER LONG
PAULINE STARK

ADDED ATTRACTION
H. C. WITWER'S
COLLIER'S WEEKLY STORIES
SPARKLING, HUMOROUS AND ROMANTIC STORIES BROUGHT TO VIVID, COMPELLING LIFE
Fighting Blood
ROUND ONE
FOR MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN
COMEDY — NEWS

THURS., FRI. AND SAT.
CHARLIE CHAPLIN, in
"THE PILGRIM"
—ALSO—
WESLEY BARRY
in "RAGS TO RICHES"

BROADWAY
Keith Standard Vaudeville
TODAY AND WEDNESDAY
OWEN KELLY
AND HIS GOLDEN GATE
SYNCOPATORS
7—PEOPLE—SCENIC EFFECTS
4 — Other Acts — 4
—ALSO—
ALICE LAKE
—IN—
MORE TO BE PITIED THAN SCORNED

KEEP STRONG

One bottle of pure, emulsified Norwegian cod liver oil taken now, may do you more good than a dozen taken a month hence. It's more economical to give your body help before resistance to disease is broken down. A very little goes a long way in sustaining strength and keeping up resistance. Resolve that you will buy a bottle of Scott's Emulsion at your druggist's on your way home, and start protecting your strength.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE NORWEGIAN COD-LIVER OIL

The exclusive grade of cod-liver oil used in Scott's Emulsion is the famous "A. & P. Process," made in Norway and refined in our own American Laboratories. It is a guarantee of purity and palatability unsurpassed.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 23-21

Advertisements Will Sell It

BORN.

BRIDGE—In Norwich, March 12, 1923, a son, Richard Carey, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Bridge of Williamantic.

HOLLERAN—In New London, March 13, 1923, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McGrath of New London.

SWEENEY—In Norwich, March 19, 1923, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rooney of 87 Rogers avenue.

DIED.

CLOSE—In Norwich Town, March 19, 1923, Mary Ann, widow of William Close.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

PALMER—At Fort Meyer, Fla., March 17, 1923, Mary Barry Palmer (formerly of Norwich), wife of Fremont D. Palmer of Kingsville, Staten Island, N. Y., in the 56th year of her age.

CROUCH—At Millstone, March 13, 1923, Frederick N. Crouch, formerly of Ledyard.

TUCKER—In Scotland, Conn., March 14, 1923, R. Hazard Tucker, aged 19 years.

FUNERAL NOTICES

CARDIN—In Norwich Town, March 19, 1923, Caroline Cardin, widow of Paul Cardin.
Funeral at the home of her son, Delore E. Herbert, 3 Huntington avenue, Wednesday morning, March 21, at 8:30. Requiem mass in Sacred Heart church, Norwich Town, at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

BEEBE — In Norwich, March 16, 1923, Salena J., wife of S. A. Beebe, aged 57 years.
Funeral at her late home, Old Canterbury turnpike, Tuesday, March 20, at 11 a. m. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

DENNISON—In Jewett City, March 18, 1923, Mrs. Roxanna Deanison, widow of Luther Dennison, aged 75 years, formerly of Voluntown.
Prayer at the home of Alfred Palmer, on Palmer avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. Funeral services in the Baptist church, Jewett City at 2 o'clock. Burial in Pachaug cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the relatives, friends, and St. John's Council, K. of C., for the kindnesses and expressions of sympathy during the illness and death of our nephew, John Joseph Curran. We are deeply grateful to all who sent such beautiful flowers. The friendship thus manifested will always be sincerely cherished.
MR. AND MRS. THOMAS KING.
MR. AND MRS. J. M. SULLIVAN.
Plainfield, Conn., March 19, 1923.

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely appreciative of the many kind expressions of sympathy and thoughtful acts of helpfulness extended by relatives and friends in our bereavement. We also extend our thanks for their beautiful floral tributes.
MRS. F. R. MITCHELL,
C. F. MITCHELL,
S. L. MITCHELL.
Stewartsville, Conn.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
323 Main Street
Phone 326-4 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 416-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

FLORISTS

TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 864-2. Free delivery. aprld

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, pianos, trucks for hire, 21 Cliff St. or Ocean. Tel. 617-12. jn24

Est. 1870. sk 476.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking and Heating Furniture and Piano Moving
Shetucket St.

C. B. JOSLYN, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving safes and machinery. Tel. 1342-3. moved Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmermann, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1441.

TRANSFER and moving, long distance trucking a specialty. John L. Ford, 853 Main St. Phone 792.

C. B. ARMBLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 238.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

JOHN F. AMBURN & CO., painting, paperhanging and decorating; estimates cheerfully furnished. 199 Laurel Hill mar16d

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 31 Willow St., near Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of value. A. E. McClanathan, Mgr. jn23d

FOR SALE—Paint, $1.85 per gal.; regular $2.50 grade, kalsomine, 10c per pkg. Paint Store, 183 West Main St., next to New Britain.

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 649-12. jan15d

WILLIAM O. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, 4 Mill St., are jobbing 50 West Main St. Phone 912. fe9-tf

CHIROPODIST

A. S. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (orthotic your feet). Suite 14, Allen Bldg., 337 Main St., Norwich. Phone 1366-4. jan31d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

Advertisements Will Get It

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Two neat, accurate young ladies to attend desk over manager; experience; good starting proposition. See Al Lavrakas, Manager Mohican Hotel, Danielson, at 9:30 for appointment. mar20d

WANTED—A girl for restaurant work; come ready to work. Dewdrop Inn, 115 Franklin St. mar20d

WANTED — Experienced millinery maker; also apprentice and client to serve; permanent work. 44 Broadway, Fournier. mar20d

WANTED—Competent woman for general housework; good wages; Sundays free. Mrs. W. Lyman, Montville. Tel. 110-14. mar20d

WANTED — Chambermaid for the American House; middle aged colored woman preferred. Apply 19 Shetucket St. mar20d

WANTED—$2.50 per day paid one lady in each town to distribute free advertising matter. Experience unnecessary; we start you. Write quickly. Mrs. M. Hall, Supt. 1, 1141 Locust St., Philadelphia, Pa. mar20d

WANTED—Girl or woman for general housework; can go home at 2 o'clock. Call 306 West Main St. mar20d

WANTED—Girl or woman to assist with housework. Pasnik, 79 Williams St. mar14d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to assist with light housework. Address M. D. V., care of Bulletin. mar14d

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Middle aged man wants work as milker and working on farm. Address Box 60, Bulletin. mar20d

WANTED—Experienced truck drivers and helpers. Apply Thames Coal Co., Thames Square. mar20d

WANTED—Middle aged man for clerical position in hotel; state references. Write Box 70, Bulletin. mar20d

WANTED—Position by middle aged married man, Protestant, driving private car or truck; 12 years' experience. Write Box 175, Bulletin. mar19d

WANTED—Man to take care of furnace and horse and do the work around the place. Phone 25-4 Willimantic Div. mar16d

WANTED—Boy at least 16 years of age. Apply West Side Silk Mill. mar15d

WANTED

Spoolers and Speeder Tenders
THE FALLS COMPANY
Yantic Street

CAPABLE SALESMAN WANTED
FOR THE PLUMBING SUPPLY TRADE STATE EXPERIENCE, AND COPY OF REFERENCES.
ADDRESS P. O. BOX 316, NORWICH, CONN.

WANTED

SPINNERS for Night Work, on Davis and Furber Mules. Apply Joseph Hall & Son, Inc., Trading Cove Mill.

WANTED

ROPING CARRIER
JOSEPH HALL & SON, Inc.
Trading Cove Mill

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

FOR SALE—Tires. 30x3 1-2, $7.50; 32x4, $13; 33x4, $14; 34x4, $15; all first, guaranteed. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St. mar7d

FOR SALE—Ford honeycomb radiators, all brass, guaranteed, $11 up. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St., Norwich feb1d

KOBWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry Pond St. Phone 1397. oct13

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Jos. Amyrgian, Pond St. Phone 1497. mar16d

Have us look over the pistons of your car's engine if they are worn, need new scored ring or rings, as we are prepared to render perfect, prompt service.
Oversize pistons to order, rings for all sizes, wrist pins, etc.; we ALSO REMOVE SCORES from Cylinders.
HEEBNER BROS.
31 CHESTNUT STREET

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work, Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
567 TO 575 NORTH MAIN STREET

BEAUTY PARLOR

GIRLS—Free for a limited number of days, a complete course in beauty treatment. West Pension, 148 Franklin St. mar19d

INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—On my place, Saturday morning, top buggy and chain. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. F. F. Cook, R. D. 7. mar19d

LOST—Hound dog, white with tan head; tag No. 71314. Finder notify A. G. Willett, 5 Stanton Ave. mar19d

LOST—A black and tan hound; owner's name on collar. Charles F. Cole of Bozrahville. mar19d

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Brief Cases, Etc.

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar20d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your car; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 375 Main St. Phone 1449-4. mar2o

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. W. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1918 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 30,056 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 395 Broadway. mar8

AUTO WRECKING

PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2119

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 618-3

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

WANTED

By manufacturer of food products, about 3 500 square feet, on ground floor, for use as warehouse and distributing agency; preferably with side track facilities. Write Box 35, Bulletin. mar16d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—On my place, Saturday morning, top buggy and chain. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. F. F. Cook, R. D. 7. mar19d

LOST—Hound dog, white with tan head; tag No. 71314. Finder notify A. G. Willett, 5 Stanton Ave. mar19d

LOST—A black and tan hound; owner's name on collar. Charles F. Cole of Bozrahville. mar19d

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Brief Cases, Etc.

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar20d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your car; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 375 Main St. Phone 1449-4. mar2o

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. W. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1918 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 30,056 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 395 Broadway. mar8

AUTO WRECKING

PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2119

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 618-3

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

FREE HOMES WANTED

There are many bright, attractive boys, both Catholic and Protestant, between the ages of 6 and 13 years, for whom we are anxious to find free homes. These children are strong and well and need to be placed with families where they will receive fair treatment and intelligent care.

Anyone interested in any one of these children, kindly communicate with THE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE State Capitol, Hartford, Conn. mar19d

WANTED

By manufacturer of food products, about 3 500 square feet, on ground floor, for use as warehouse and distributing agency; preferably with side track facilities. Write Box 35, Bulletin. mar16d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—On my place, Saturday morning, top buggy and chain. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. F. F. Cook, R. D. 7. mar19d

LOST—Hound dog, white with tan head; tag No. 71314. Finder notify A. G. Willett, 5 Stanton Ave. mar19d

LOST—A black and tan hound; owner's name on collar. Charles F. Cole of Bozrahville. mar19d

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Brief Cases, Etc.

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar20d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your car; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 375 Main St. Phone 1449-4. mar2o

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. W. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1918 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 30,056 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 395 Broadway. mar8

AUTO WRECKING

PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2119

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 618-3

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

WANTED

IF YOU HAVE a temperature it will look for a hot cedar bed; if you want a good cigar, try Dela Case mild cigar, 10c straight; Amadora 7c, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop. mar20d

WANTED—Small children in private boarding home. Phone 194-2. mar20d

PLEASE MOVE your articles left from M. L. Stark's auction by April 1. mar20d

WANTED—More salesmen in towns and cities; 150 prompt, cottage, spices, extracts, toilet articles; latest styles; no advance in prices; on market 24 years; no bond required; hustlers make $1 hour. Write W. T. Rawleigh Co., Cl. 550, Memphis, Tenn.

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, etc., and antiques. Ward Bros., 42 Jackson St., Willimantic. Tel. 642-2. mar14TuThS

LOUIS D. WARD pays all prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 259, Norwich. 1y12Sp3hS

WANTED—Old almanacs before 1860. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

ALL THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS close March 17, St. Patrick's day. Try our Della Casa mild cigar, 10c straight; Amadora, mild 7c cigar, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop.

MIRRORS resilvered in my own shop at M. A. Sadusky's, 15 Bath St. Phone 749. mar7

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 3163. feb21d

WANTED—Pictures and books resilvering to California. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

WANTED—Second hand furnitures; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1314-2. jan11d

INTERNATIONAL R. E. and Realty Agency real estate of all descriptions, insurance, steamship tickets, notary public. John G. Chesebro, Agt., 169 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. mar4d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 23 Market St. Phone 637-5. 1y6d

WANTED—Second hand furniture. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture, best prices paid. Brunkow, 108 Franklin St. Phone 712-5. my7d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger 66 Franklin St. Phone 717-3. ja31d

WE BUY and pay highest prices for second hand furniture and books. Kremens, successor to King, 44-50 Water St. Phone 1366 sep15d

WANTED—Old law books. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head, several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,

FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phone. Norwich.

FOR SALE

6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 228

FOR SALE

New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 50x100 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
40 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 878

For Sale

AN OLD ESTABLISHED BARBER SHOP FULLY EQUIPPED FOR BUSINESS. MUST BE SOLD ON ACCOUNT OF OWNER'S ILLNESS. A GREAT CHANCE FOR A GOOD BARBER. FOR FULLER PARTICULARS INQUIRE OF
JOHN A. MORAN
Franklin Square

FOR SALE

Choice two-family house, desirably located on Prospect St., will be sold very reasonable if taken at once. For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
Franklin Square.

Just Off the State Road

40 acres good orchard, 300 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $5,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, hen-house on shed. Price only $3,500, cash $1,500.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

FOR SALE

$3,500 will buy six-room cottage with all city improvements, with lot 100x225, located near Pulaski Hall, only 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Real Estate and Insurance,
Tel. 1527-2. 188 Cliff St.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Yantic Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Yantic Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Large table model sewing machine, in fine, clean playing condition, $35. Plant-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Ladies' dresses, coats, sweaters, shirtwaists; children's dresses; child's sport coat, also about 8 pairs of other articles, very reasonable. Call 71 Union St. mar20d

FOR SALE—Pedigreed collie pups. Tel. 13-14 Jewett City, Conn. mar20d

FOR SALE—House of eight rooms, with about half acre of land, belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. S. B. Oldfield, 535 Main St. Inquire 502 Main St. Phone 475. 7sb28d

FOR SALE—Good dairy and hen farm, 55 acres, wood, timber, tools and vinet brook; price $3,500; write today. M. Dee, R. F. D. No. 2, Willimantic, Conn. mar19d

FOR SALE—Modern cottage house with all improvements, located on Laurel Hill Ave., Norwich. Burdick & McNeal, Thayer Bldg. mar19d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Jocha, 270 Asylum St. mar16d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Dolawares, Cobblers and Sprankling Rose. J. A. Young & Sons. mar16d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $45 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—A Victrola IV, installed in a beautiful console cabinet; $73.50 cash buys it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, sacrifice at $75 cash or easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 34, Bulletin mar6d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar3d

FOR SALE—Superior saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukuleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Tanking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 85x100 feet; price for quick sale $6,000. Phone 141-2. jan9d

FOR SALE — Herring Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plant-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head, several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,

FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phone. Norwich.

FOR SALE

6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 228

FOR SALE

New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 50x100 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
40 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 878

For Sale

AN OLD ESTABLISHED BARBER SHOP FULLY EQUIPPED FOR BUSINESS. MUST BE SOLD ON ACCOUNT OF OWNER'S ILLNESS. A GREAT CHANCE FOR A GOOD BARBER. FOR FULLER PARTICULARS INQUIRE OF
JOHN A. MORAN
Franklin Square

FOR SALE

Choice two-family house, desirably located on Prospect St., will be sold very reasonable if taken at once. For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
Franklin Square.

Just Off the State Road

40 acres good orchard, 300 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $5,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, hen-house on shed. Price only $3,500, cash $1,500.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

FOR SALE

$3,500 will buy six-room cottage with all city improvements, with lot 100x225, located near Pulaski Hall, only 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Real Estate and Insurance,
Tel. 1527-2. 188 Cliff St.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Yantic Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Yantic Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Large table model sewing machine, in fine, clean playing condition, $35. Plant-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Ladies' dresses, coats, sweaters, shirtwaists; children's dresses; child's sport coat, also about 8 pairs of other articles, very reasonable. Call 71 Union St. mar20d

FOR SALE—Pedigreed collie pups. Tel. 13-14 Jewett City, Conn. mar20d

FOR SALE—House of eight rooms, with about half acre of land, belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. S. B. Oldfield, 535 Main St. Inquire 502 Main St. Phone 475. 7sb28d

FOR SALE—Good dairy and hen farm, 55 acres, wood, timber, tools and vinet brook; price $3,500; write today. M. Dee, R. F. D. No. 2, Willimantic, Conn. mar19d

FOR SALE—Modern cottage house with all improvements, located on Laurel Hill Ave., Norwich. Burdick & McNeal, Thayer Bldg. mar19d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Jocha, 270 Asylum St. mar16d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Dolawares, Cobblers and Sprankling Rose. J. A. Young & Sons. mar16d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $45 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—A Victrola IV, installed in a beautiful console cabinet; $73.50 cash buys it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, sacrifice at $75 cash or easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 34, Bulletin mar6d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar3d

FOR SALE—Superior saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukuleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Tanking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 85x100 feet; price for quick sale $6,000. Phone 141-2. jan9d

FOR SALE — Herring Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plant-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head, several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,

FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phone. Norwich.

FOR SALE

6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 228

FOR SALE

New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 50x100 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
40 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 878

For Sale

AN OLD ESTABLISHED BARBER SHOP FULLY EQUIPPED FOR BUSINESS. MUST BE SOLD ON ACCOUNT OF OWNER'S ILLNESS. A GREAT CHANCE FOR A GOOD BARBER. FOR FULLER PARTICULARS INQUIRE OF
JOHN A. MORAN
Franklin Square

FOR SALE

Choice two-family house, desirably located on Prospect St., will be sold very reasonable if taken at once. For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER,
Franklin Square.

Just Off the State Road

40 acres good orchard, 300 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $5,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, hen-house on shed. Price only $3,500, cash $1,500.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

FOR SALE

$3,500 will buy six-room cottage with all city improvements, with lot 100x225, located near Pulaski Hall, only 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Real Estate and Insurance,
Tel. 1527-2. 188 Cliff St.

FOR SALE

Three Apartment Houses. No. 9 Union St. Annual rentals $1,040. Price $7,000.00. Splendid central location.
THOS. H. BECKLEY
276 MAIN STREET
PHONES

FOR SALE
MAIN ST. FIRE STATION

The fire commissioners of the City of Norwich will receive sealed bids up to and including Tuesday, March 27th, 1923, for the Main Street Fire Station and the lot of land on which it stands, located on Main Street next to the Merchants Bank. Said real estate is carried on the books of the City of Norwich at Eighteen Thousand Dollars and is about 40 feet front and 65 feet in depth. The sealed bids may be left with the Chief of the Fire Department at the Central Fire Station of whom also inquiry as to further particulars may be made. The commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids and any bid that may be accepted will be accepted subject to the ratification by a City meeting.
ANSON R. GROVER,
EDWARD CROOKS,
WILLIAM H. ALDRICH,
Fire Commissioners of the City of Norwich

For Sale

Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 10 cars, located on Broadway, monthly rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one- and two-family houses; finest of locations, prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 30 acres level land, on state road.

JAMES R. MOORE,
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments,
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Two horses, or exchange for stock. F. A. Nawrocki, Yantic. mar19d

FOR SALE—Pair black horses, 7 and 8 years old, weight 3000, sound and true in all harness; 3 new milch cows, 4 grade Holstein calves, a hen turkey, 25 bushels of potatoes and 2 acres of land per Wauregan church on state road. C. A. Bennett, Wauregan, Conn. Tel. Danielson 172-3. mar17d

JUST ARRIVED
Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think they are as good a car of horses as I have ever had—gentle and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER E. PIERSON,
Tel. 536-2. mar12d

TO RENT

TO RENT—Six-room flat, all modern improvements, 2 Thames Square; also six-room flat, all improvements, 131 Thames St. Apply Thames Coal Co. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 7 Oak St. mar20d

TO RENT—Large furnished front room, $2.50 per week; front bedroom and parlor, $5 per week; private entrances; references required. J. Kern, 76 Boswell Ave. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 11 Elm St. mar20d

TO RENT—Lower flat, 39 Orchard St.; space for small car. Inquire upstairs. mar17d

TO RENT—An excellent store for automobile accessory or similar business, on main state highway in city of Putnam. A. Sandlowitz, 18 South Main St., Putnam, Conn. mar17d

TO RENT—Tenement 44 Laurel Hill Ave. Inquire 81 Franklin St. F. Madio. mar16d

TO RENT—Five-room flat, bath and storeroom, 10 small American family of adults. 12 Washington St. mar15d

TO RENT—A beautiful modern five-room flat, in best location in city; heat, hot water and janitor service; $45 per month; 50 Broad St. Inquire at Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

TO RENT—Tenement, seven rooms, all improvements, five acres land, barn, shed, fruit trees, etc. Tel. 144-4. mar14d

TO RENT—Apartment of four rooms and bath, for adults; heat and hot water furnished. 175 Broadway. Phone 2063. mar1d

FOR RENT

STORE ON FRANKLIN STREET
In Alling Block
Inquire of
N. Tarrant & Co.
Phone 170—117 Main St.

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 127-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Outfits to Lend.

HELEN L. PERKINS
TEACHER OF SINGING
Phone 552-4 Studio, Alice Bldg.

FOR SALE

Three Apartment Houses. No. 9 Union St. Annual rentals $1,040. Price $7,000.00. Splendid central location.
THOS. H. BECKLEY
276 MAIN STREET
PHONES

FOR SALE
MAIN ST. FIRE STATION

The fire commissioners of the City of Norwich will receive sealed bids up to and including Tuesday, March 27th, 1923, for the Main Street Fire Station and the lot of land on which it stands, located on Main Street next to the Merchants Bank. Said real estate is carried on the books of the City of Norwich at Eighteen Thousand Dollars and is about 40 feet front and 65 feet in depth. The sealed bids may be left with the Chief of the Fire Department at the Central Fire Station of whom also inquiry as to further particulars may be made. The commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids and any bid that may be accepted will be accepted subject to the ratification by a City meeting.
ANSON R. GROVER,
EDWARD CROOKS,
WILLIAM H. ALDRICH,
Fire Commissioners of the City of Norwich

For Sale

Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 10 cars, located on Broadway, monthly rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one- and two-family houses; finest of locations, prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 30 acres level land, on state road.

JAMES R. MOORE,
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments,
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Two horses, or exchange for stock. F. A. Nawrocki, Yantic. mar19d

FOR SALE—Pair black horses, 7 and 8 years old, weight 3000, sound and true in all harness; 3 new milch cows, 4 grade Holstein calves, a hen turkey, 25 bushels of potatoes and 2 acres of land per Wauregan church on state road. C. A. Bennett, Wauregan, Conn. Tel. Danielson 172-3. mar17d

JUST ARRIVED
Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think they are as good a car of horses as I have ever had—gentle and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER E. PIERSON,
Tel. 536-2. mar12d

TO RENT

TO RENT—Six-room flat, all modern improvements, 2 Thames Square; also six-room flat, all improvements, 131 Thames St. Apply Thames Coal Co. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 7 Oak St. mar20d

TO RENT—Large furnished front room, $2.50 per week; front bedroom and parlor, $5 per week; private entrances; references required. J. Kern, 76 Boswell Ave. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 11 Elm St. mar20d

TO RENT—Lower flat, 39 Orchard St.; space for small car. Inquire upstairs. mar17d

TO RENT—An excellent store for automobile accessory or similar business, on main state highway in city of Putnam. A. Sandlowit

FAIR AND COLDER TODAY; CLOUDY, WARM TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Tuesday, March 20, 1923.

THE WEATHER.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook, Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Northwest gale diminishing and weather partly overcast Tuesday.

Conditions.

The disturbance that was central over Indiana Sunday night has moved rapidly northeastward to the Canadian Maritime provinces with a marked intensity and it has been attended by general precipitation and strong northwest winds and gales east of the Mississippi river. It has been closely followed by the area of high pressure and severe cold wave from the northwest and there was a decided fall in temperature Monday throughout the eastern and southern states, except southern Florida. At 8 p. m. Monday the temperature was 34 degrees at Mobile, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla.

Another disturbance of wide extent and marked intensity was over the northwest Monday night and moving southeastward.

The northwestern disturbance will move rapidly southeastward the next two days and it will be preceded by rising temperature in the lower lake region, the Ohio valley, Tennessee and the East Gulf states Tuesday and Wednesday, and in the Atlantic states Wednesday. The weather will remain unseasonably cold in the Atlantic states Tuesday; fair weather will prevail generally in the Washington forecast district Tuesday, followed by increasing cloudiness Wednesday with a probability of rain in Ohio and western Pennsylvania and snow or rain in western New York.

Storm warnings remain displayed from Wilmington, N. C., to Eastport, Maine.

Forecast.

For southern New England: Fair and colder Tuesday; Wednesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

East New York: Fair and continued cold Tuesday; Wednesday increasing cloudiness with rapidly rising temperature, probably becoming unsettled by night.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Monday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	38	29.30
12 m.	46	29.00
6 p. m.	30	29.20

Highest 46, lowest 30.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Monday: Rain, cold wave at night.

Monday's weather: Cloudy with rain in morning, light snow in evening, followed by clearing, much colder.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
19	5.55	5.57	11:19	5.06
20	5.53	5.58	11:59	5.56
21	5.52	6.00	12:35	6.50
22	5.50	6.01	12:55	10.14
23	5.48	6.02	1:19	11.37
24	5.47	6.03	2:28	Morn.
25	5.45	6.04	3:24	0.23

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

DAFTVILLE

The Community Sewing class met Monday evening in the Red Cross rooms in the Ponemah building.

Frank R. Murdy of Norwich was one of the singers at the banquet in the Parish hall Saturday evening, and whose name was omitted in the programme in yesterday's Bulletin. Mr. Murdy sang Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms, and for an encore gave, The Wearing of the Green. Mr. Murdy was accompanied on the piano by Jimmy LaFontaine.

The Sacred Heart school held only a half day session Monday in observance of the birthday of St. Joseph.

The Dramatic club met Monday evening in the Ponemah hall.

John Donovan of Merchants avenue has been a recent guest of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Donovan, Jr., of Hartford.

Mrs. Charles Parsons and daughter, Mrs. Fred Wilson, have returned from Jacksonville, Florida, where they were preparing to take up their residence but were prevented from doing so by the serious illness of Mrs. Parsons.

Acarde Plante of South A street has resigned his position with the Ponemah company.

Mr. and Mrs. John Unsworth and family have moved from lower Norwich avenue to a house on North Third avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Osborn have returned from their wedding trip. Mrs. Osborn was before her marriage, Miss Regina Fagnant of North Third avenue.

Mrs. Walter Fritsche of South Fifth avenue has been a recent visitor in Hartford.

Miss Rose Murphy of Easthampton, Conn., spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis C. Murphy on South A street, and had as her guest, Miss Bernice Brennan of the State Normal school, Willimantic.

Miss Jane Cavanaugh of New London spent the week end with Miss Hildegrade Crowe of South A street.

The Hartford Courant published a detailed account of the fiftieth anniversary of the first mass said in Sacred Heart parish, in its Monday edition.

Great Breakfast Dish

Stewed raisins—delicious energizing, tronizing food.

Practically predigested. Also a fine natural laxative. Make it regular and get the best results.

Stewed Raisins

Cover Sun-Maid Seedless Raisins with cold water and add a slice of lemon or orange. Place on fire, bring to a boil and allow to simmer for one hour. Sugar may be added but is not necessary, as Sun-Maid Seedless Raisins contain 75 per cent natural fruit sugar.

Sun-Maid Raisins should cost you no more than the following prices:

Seeded (in 15 oz. blue pkg.)—20c
Seedless (in 15 oz. red pkg.)—18c
Seeded or Seedless (11 oz.)—15c
Seeded, in tins (12 oz.)—20c
Seeded, in tins (8 oz.)—15c

Sun-Maid Raisins

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

KANSAS CITY JUDGE ADDRESSED EAGLES ON OLD-AGE PENSION PLAN

JUDGE THOMAS O'DONNEL
Of Kansas City

Norwich Aerie, No. 367, F. O. E., held one of the largest meetings of the year Monday evening at the rooms on Shetucket street, when men high up in the order of Eagles addressed them on matters of interest to the fraternity.

The meeting was opened by Worthy President William R. Hastedt and routine business was transacted. Six applications were voted upon favorably and the committee on class initiations reported that arrangements were complete for the initiation of a large class of candidates on Sunday afternoon, March 5th, following which there would be a treat in store for all members attending.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the 20th anniversary celebration reported progress, and the report stated that the anniversary celebration would take place at the Wauregan House on April 16th when a banquet would be served, followed by dancing.

Following the regular business session there was speaking by Past Presidents John Shugrue, Joseph Curran, George Geopfert and John DeBrunner, and Brothers Robert Fulton and Michael Foley of Watertown, Mass. also spoke. Mayor Milo R. Waters and members of the court of common council also spoke briefly, complimenting the order on its principles, and President Hastedt introduced Judge Thomas O'Donnell of Kansas City, Kas., as the speaker of the evening.

Judge O'Donnell spoke on the Old Age Pensions of the order, his address in part being as follows:

The Fraternal Order of Eagles is now in its 25th year. As it rounds out its quarter of a century of healthy, helpful existence, it finds itself stronger in numbers than it has ever been in its history, stronger in its financial status, stronger than before in the good will of the communities which it strives to serve.

"Although membership is confined to men, the benefits and the social life of the fraternity are extended in many ways to include the wives, mothers, and children, and often the friends of members. It is the fathers, mothers, sisters, wives, children, and sweethearts of the members, indeed, who often set the chief store by the benefits and the recreations afforded in membership in the F. O. E. Among the benefits most appreciated by the families is the aerie physician, who furnishes medical attendance free to them, and who, after the death of the member continues this service to the widow and children. The next important benefit is the sick benefits which keeps the wolf away when the member is disabled from working through illness or accident. If the member should die, there is a substantial funeral benefit. The fund from which these benefits are paid, by a law of the order is made absolutely inallenable for any other purpose.

"These services the Eagles render to the member and his family individually. They have a further service which they render to the community. They make it a practice to back actively any social welfare movement which it is seen would eventuate in benefit to society generally. This broader community service in which the Eagles take keen pleasure has manifested itself to date in the enactment in all strong Eagle communities of mothers' pension laws, laws providing for workingmen's compensation for industrial disease and accident, and laws restricting child labor and establishing minimum wages and maximum hours for women and minors.

"The crowning achievement of this order in its role as social benefactor, however, bids fair to be the early adoption in the strong Eagle state of law establishing pensions for those who have toiled their due and yet found themselves at 65 without a competence in their old age.

"The special Eagles commission on this matter found that the high-powered, swift-moving machinery of modern factories not only requires keen eye-sight, steady nerve and skilled hand, but tends to impair all three, so that the working man's efficiency is destroyed at a comparatively early age. It found, too, that civilized states throughout the world are wrestling with the problem how best to care for the worn-out veterans of their industrial armies. As a result of its painstaking investigation the commission was confirmed in the conclusion previously reached by the several aeries, that the old age pension is the most effective and, on the whole, the least expensive, method of caring for the disabled toilers. Accordingly, it has, by the preparation and distribution of literature and through clubs and public addresses, sought to create a public sentiment that will secure the enactment of laws providing old age pensions. This work has now reached a point where men and women of the industrial states can begin to rest assured that no poorhouse is awaiting them as the reward of what they have contributed in toil to the general prosperity, for old age pensions are most certainly on the way.

"The Eagles have one other patriotic record of which they are very proud, and which is bringing into the order many thousands of the war veterans. They are proud of the fact that 45,000 of their members went into the military service of the country in the World war and of the fact that the order led the way, even for the government, in providing adequately for the dependents of those who should lose their lives. Within ten days after our country entered the war, the board of grand trustees of the Eagles proposed a plan, which the grand aerie enacted into law, by which a patriotic fund of one and one-half million dollars was established, out of which gratuities of $1,000 each were to be paid to the dependents of those Eagles who should lay down their lives as the toll of that war. At this date fourteen hundred such claims have been paid and the fund still is functioning—as the service members die from the effects of their wounds or exposure. Several other societies followed the Eagles' first example, but the order of Eagles is the only one of them today that still continues such financial aid to ex-service men and their dependents.

"The order is forward in many other less conspicuous but not less worthy good works. Never do the aeries fail to distribute Christmas offerings and Thanksgiving bounties. Scarcely is there an aerie that does not support some charity. They can be depended on in any community to lead and co-operate in any worthy cause.

"In short, the Fraternal Order of Eagles stands forth among the first in the land as a patriotic, community and individual-serving social welfare fraternity and institution. Its strength and beneficial activities are succinctly set forth in the following official report of the grand secretary, of June 30, 1921, which showed a membership of approximately 500,000, total assets of $18,412,000, and the assets of the benefit fund, used exclusively for the payment of sick and funeral benefits, $4,138,000.

The increases for the year ending June 30, 1921 were, in membership, 42,169 in net assets, $1,533,274.79; in value of property in the benefit fund, $498,488.31.

With reason, can the Eagles extend its nation-wide invitation—"Come with us and we will do you good."

RURAL SCHOOL TEACHERS AT NORWICH INSTITUTE

About forty teachers from the rural schools in Boxrah, Ledyard, North Stonington and Preston attended a "teachers" institute held Monday in the town hall with morning and afternoon sessions at which Supervisor S. Hussey Reed presided.

Selections by the Broadway School orchestra, Miss Mary Rogers, director, opened the morning programme and were followed by an address upon "Preparing and Teaching a Lesson," by L. T. Garrison, regional director of the state board of education.

He emphasized the fact that children learn more the first six years of their school life than in the succeeding 12 years. Since play enters so effectively into the life of the child every teacher should avail herself of this factor in the development of the different lessons. Every effort should be made to keep up the interest of the child in every subject. In planning a lesson the teacher should first have a definite aim, be familiar with her subject matter, discriminating between essential and non-essential, have a definite method of presentation, collect necessary data, reference and illustrations, have a complete yet brief summary of lesson taught, have a definite assignment. The lesson should be used in recitation to develop self-expression, debate, co-operation, gathering of new facts, and drilling on work to be made habitual.

On his last point Mr. Garrison emphasized the fact of pupil participation in every recitation—the teacher the director, the pupil the worker.

Dr. E. J. Brophy, city health officer of Norwich, followed Mr. Garrison, speaking upon "The Health of School Children." He gave specific instances of school room problems, communicable diseases and the way of treating them.

After discussing the physcial diseases he treated at length the nervous diseases which interfere with the mental development. He then showed the importance of the work of the school physician, school nurse, and health instructor, in the proper development of the welfare of the child during his school life.

L. M. Crandall, principal of the Norwich commercial school, was asked to state from his experience what the business men and the business schools felt to be the essential qualifications of those who enter business or business schools from the eighth grade. Mr. Crandall stated briefly that business demands the ability to think, a willingness to work and a spirit of co-operation from those seeking its best prizes.

Young people should be taught that success in any line depends upon the development of ability, reliability, endurance and action. Success in business can be attained only when there is true appreciation of these qualifications.

Of course as a matter of ability one must needs be good in spelling, arithmetic, penmanship and English, in order to get the most out of accountancy, shorthand and typewriting and business administration.

He stated that the employment department of the school was always available and interested in helping locate all those desiring employment during vacation periods. He invited the teachers and pupils to avail themselves of this opportunity offered by the department, whenever they felt the department could be of service to them. The work of this department is free in order to encourage everyone to use it to the fullest possible extent.

Mr. Crandall thanked the chairman for this opportunity to speak to the teachers as many of them were former pupils of his at the Norwich commercial school, Connecticut College for Women and the Wheeler school at North Stonington.

A class demonstration of music was conducted by Miss Rogers with a class of 30 children from the fifth and sixth grades at the Laurel Hill school. Miss Rogers, who is supervisor of music in the Norwich schools, advised the teachers upon methods and selections to be used for the different grades.

Methods and Devices in Teaching Language were interestingly explained by Miss Eva T. Seabrook of the department of education, Yale university, and Miss Mary G. Henderson, supervisor of drawing in the Norwich schools, gave a practical and helpful talk upon this subject.

During the morning and afternoon sessions two groups of songs were rendered by Mrs. Robert Townsend to the great pleasure of her audience.

HEARING ON CLAIM TO $13,000 WORTH OF PROPERTY

Sitting a special commissioner in bankruptcy, Thomas M. Shields held a hearing from 3 to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon in the police court room in the matter of the Kolb Carton Co., Inc., vs. The Uncas Paper Board Co. of this city, the Norwich Savings Society and others over a claim which the Carton Co., makes to certain pieces of machinery, oils and supplies, estimated to be valued at about $13,000. These were contained in a storehouse and it is the claim of the Carton Co. that they could not be sold with the Ironsides Board mill property when it was recently purchased by James E. Smith of Baltimore.

Gilbert S. Raymond, who was the committee making the sale, and Earl Mathewson, one of the two receivers of the Carton Co., gave testimony during the afternoon. The hearing was continued to next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Attorney Arthur T. Keefe appeared for Mr. Smith and the Uncas Paper Board Co., Attorney John P. Huntington for the Norwich Savings Society, and Attorney Archibald Palmer of New York for Receivers Mathewson and James E. Angell.

RESERVED DECISION IN AUTOMOBILE DAMAGE SUIT

Judge C. B. Waller heard the evidence and reserved decision in the common pleas court here in the trial of the suit of William R. Booth of Plainfield against the Kosciuski-Pulaski corporation of this city for $500 damages to an automobile. It is claimed that on Nov. 26, 1921, a man in the employ of the corporation was driving a bakery wagon on North Main street at the corner of Second street, when he turned in such a way as to run into Booth's machine. The horse was knocked down and the machine had radiator, fenders and headlights damaged.

Attorney C. V. James appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney C. L. Stewart for the defendant. Civil Engineer G. E. Pitcher explained a map of the location of the accident. One of the claims of the defendant was that the charge of about $140 for repairs to the automobile was excessive.

ARGUMENTS TO SET ASIDE $7,527 VERDICT

Judge Allyn L. Brown in the superior court here Monday afternoon heard the arguments made in defendant's motion to set aside the verdict of $7,527 given by a jury in the superior court in favor of Mrs. Mary E. Bates of Preston, executrix, against George W. Carroll of this city for the death of her husband, Arthur W. Bates. He died as the result of injuries in an automobile accident on the Jewett City road, on Oct. 24, 1920.

Attorney A. W. Broder of Hartford, counsel for Mr. Carroll, argued the motion to set aside the verdict and Attorney Arthur M. Brown, counsel for Mrs. Bates, opposed it.

Judge Brown took the papers and reserved decision, adjoining both the civil and the criminal sides of the superior court without day.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. George E. Bernier of Plainfield announces the engagement of her daughter, Beatrice, to Joseph James Cloutier, of 189 North Main street, Norwich. The wedding will take place Monday, April 2, in Plainfield.

SAYS RHEUMATISM IS THING OF PAST

Long-Standing Stomach Trouble Also Disappeared When He Took Tanlac Declares Fuller.

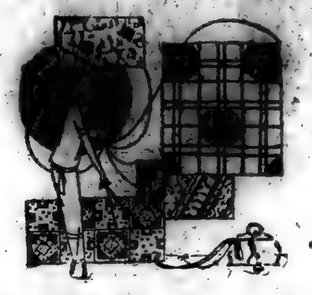
"The Tanlac treatment has rid me of rheumatism, stomach and nerve disorders, and brought my health up to the highest standard," said Albert Fuller, machinist for the Buffalo Bolt Co., living at 53 Geneva St., North Tonawanda, N. Y.

"My digestion was so bad I couldn't get proper nourishment from my food. My appetite was away off, and nights I was so restless I had to get up and walk the floor. Rheumatism in my arms and legs caused me a lot of suffering, and I was in a mighty bad fix.

"But the Tanlac treatment was so well suited to my case that my troubles are gone entirely. My stomach and digestion are as good as new, and there's not a symptom of rheumatism left. I am enjoying health and strength to the fullest degree. Tanlac has won my everlasting gratitude."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

The Home of Reid Hughes & Co.



COTTON IS KING

Spring Novelties In Cotton Prints Are In the Lead

When old King Tut's hiding place was unearthed, a huge wave of interest in the arts of three thousand years ago swept over the world. Now we have striking and unusual printed fabrics bearing the same designs used by artists of that long ago time. Persia, too, and India give up their treasures to make the dress of modern women brilliant with the colors of civilization's infancy.

A Novelty Voile, at 59c

A forty-four inch Voile with floral and geometrical designs, many of them Egyptian and otherwise oriental in flavor. The colorings are rather striking.

French Eponge, at 98c

A beautiful weave, 38 inches in width, which is proving very popular for skirts and for dresses. We have it in white, brown, gray, honey dew, copen, tan, helio, rose and black.

Heather Ratine, at $1.25

One of the most pleasing two-tone effects we have ever seen, and reminiscent of some of the best known silks. Shown in lavender, green, rose, honey dew, light blue and black—all of them sprinkled with white.

Belgian Eponge, at $1.25

A heavy, rough, Eponge Skirting, with bold sport stripe on black and white ground. We have these stripes in black and orange, black and green, black and blue. A really stunning skirting.

Linen Suiting, at 95c

Real Linen, every thread of it, in a weight absolutely correct for dresses or suits. Nothing can take the place of linen. We have it in all the best colors and in white.

We have complete stock of Scotch and Tissue Ginghams, and all of the many fabrics ordinarily used for summer dresses. Particular attention is paid to these weaves particularly suitable for children's wear.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN NORWICH

Mild weather during the greater part of the past week has brought about marked activity in the local building line. Several projects have been started and good progress on those now in hand has been made. The work of rebuilding the concrete building on Main street for the A. C. Swan company has been started and the debris cleared away. The ground floor of the building was not injured when the upper floors collapsed so that the task will not be as great as first supposed. The forms are already in place for the pouring of the cement and the work will continue this week.

At the Disco block work has been rushed along and while delayed by some floor lumber going astray much progress has been made on the interior work. Work on the new Palace theatre is also more active with the advent of milder weather. The excavation work has been completed and the foundation set in place. The brick work on the north wall has also been started.

The work of remodeling the Preston building on Main street is nearly complete and with another week of good weather should see the building nearly ready for occupation.

At the White Star Clothing Company work has been completed with the remodeling and an attractive and more spacious store is the result. Contractor P. F. Sweeney did the work.

Work has been started on the remodeling of the old restaurant in the Young Block on Franklin street for O'Neill's Electrical company. The whole front of the store has been torn out and the floor joists are to be strengthened. A new plate glass front will be put in and a new entrance made. Healy and Washburn are doing the work.

At the office of Fire Marshal Howard L. Stanton one building permit was granted and one application was filed. The permit granted was to Peck-McWilliams Co., for alterations to the building owned by George Greenberger at 56-60 Main street. The work on the building will consist of remodeling and extending the front. The front will be brought out to the edge of the present wooden platform which will be about four feet beyond the present building line of the street. A plate glass front will be put in the stores in this building.

Application has been made to build an addition to the present building at 284 Prospect street to be used as a paint shop. The application is made by Fred W. Fitch. The building will be of frame construction 10x18 feet.

REAL ESTATE SALES AND MORTGAGE LOANS

In Norwich during the past week there were 19 sales of real estate as compared to 12 sales for the corresponding week in 1922. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $67,507 and $28,750.

There were 11 sales of real estate in New London during the past week as compared to 8 sales the same week a year ago. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $64,200 and $54,778.

NEW LONDON

The foundation has been completed for the new residence dormitory on Ocean avenue for Donald Saxon. The building will be three stories high, of frame construction, containing 15 rooms, heated by steam and provided with all conveniences.

At the adjourned town meeting held this past week, a committee, consisting of Charles H. Cone, H. M. Swinney and Marion R. Davis, was appointed to investigate the needs of additional school facilities in Niantic. The committee will make a report at a town meeting to be called in May.

The contractor is building additions and making interior changes at the plant of the Massasoit Co. The additions will each be one story high, 40x40 feet and 40x65 feet, of frame construction.

The State Situation

While the record of building permits granted in the larger cities of the state is not such as to cause any great amount of rejoicing, it nevertheless very nearly holds its own with the figures for 1922. In the week 106 permits were granted in these places, for buildings costing $609,995. Against these figures there were 129 permits granted in the same towns in 1922, the buildings costing $647,758, and 309 permits in 1921, the buildings costing $468,240.

BROOKLYN PONY POLO STAR HAS NORWICH RELATIVES

The Brooklyn, N. Y., Times, under its "Society in Brooklyn" head, had the following item recently:

The British Lion had another knot tied in its tail last night when it met the Brooklyn Riding and Driving Club polo outfit in the latter's arena. The Brooklyn team administered 14 1-2 to 9 defeat to the English trio. The defeat was no disgrace to the visiting team for not only was it mounted on strange ponies but it had never played on the R. and D. barnark before. Withal it showed a fine fighting spirit that was applauded in an appreciative manner by the many riding club members assembled to witness its own aggregation play against one of the pluckiest teams that has ever been seen in this country.

The Englishmen went down in defeat last night just as they have on every occasion when an American team has vanquished them, fighting to the last second.

Gerard (Jerry) Smith, the 19-year-old Riding and Driving Club star, was as usual the life of the game. The youthful wearer of the purple and black, handled his pony like a veteran. His shots forehand, backhand, cross and follow-up were well timed and directed.

The personnel of the All England team comprised three British army captains, McMillan, Holman and Eagan.

A big enthusiastic gathering witnessed all this. And it enjoyed the game particularly when it came to realize that the man who was doing the real stunt was that well beloved and all around citizen of the tan bark, Gerard Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Smith, of Carroll street. At one bound last night, good a polo player as he was known to be before, he climbed away up to the front rank. Out of Brooklyn's fourteen and a half goals against nine of the visiting team "Jerry" scored nine for his country and his club, as many as all the British players put together.

It was not an international championship match, but nevertheless it had all the earmarks of one.

Young Smith is one of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Smith (Winifred Murtagh) and his mother has a number of relatives in Norwich.

Will Be Employed in Holyoke.

Herman Budnick left Monday for Holyoke, Mass., to take up his position as head of the meat department of the new store of the Mohican company in that city. Mr. Budnick was last with the company in New Britain where he was in charge of the meat department, but was forced to take a three months' rest because of illness.

Embarrassing Hairs Can be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture)

Hairs can be easily banished from the under-arms, neck and face by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. Excepting in very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. To avoid disappointment, buy the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.

POETRY

THE DISAPPOINTED.

There are souls enough for the brow
Who dwells on the heights of fame;
I sing of the disappointed—
For those who have missed their aim.

I sing with a fearful cadence
For one who stands in the dark,
And knows that his last, best arrow
Has bounded back from the mark.

I sing for the breathless runner,
The eager, anxious soul,
Who falls with his strength exhausted,
Almost in sight of the goal;

For the hearts that break in silence,
With a sorrow all unknown,
For those who need companions,
Yet walk their ways alone.

These are songs crooned for the lovers
Who share love's tender pain,
I sing for one whose passion
Is given all in vain.

For those whose spirit comrades
Have missed them on their way,
I sing, with a heart o'erflowing,
This minor strain today.

And I know the solar system
Must somewhere keep in space
A prize for that speed runner
Who barely lost the race.

For the plan would be imperfect
Unless it held some sphere
That paid for the toil and talent
And love that are wasted here.

TO SIGH, YET FEEL NO PAIN.

To sigh, yet feel no pain;
To weep, yet scarce know why;
To sport an hour with beauty's chain,
Then throw it idly by;
To kneel at many a shrine,
Yet lay the heart on none;
To think all odes charms divine,
But those we just have won
This is love, faithless love,
Such as kindleth hearts that rove

To keep one sacred flame,
Through life unchill'd, unmoved,
To love in wintry age the same
As first in youth we loved;
To feel that we adore,
Ev'n to such fond excess,
That, though the heart would break with more,
It could not live with less;
This is love, faithful love,
Such as saints might feel above.
—Thomas Moore.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Youngwife—It was just by me that I was able to get this steak.

Younghusband—It was sure tough luck.—Oregon Punch.

Bobby (to father enjoying sea view)—Muvver see it isn't safe there father and you've either got to come away or let me carry the sandwiches.—London Humorist.

Carrie—If you considered that cook just perfect why did you send her away.

Helen—My husband was hoping that she'd stay.—New York Sun.

"Had some great exercise at the deaf mute dance last night."

"Exercise?"

"Yes, swinging dumb belles."—Boston Transcript.

It took many many millions of years to develop a water creature. You can't get him to get accustomed to a dry land in one generation.—Harrisburg Evening News.

Sam (on the outside looking in)—"Look heah, niggah, is you in fo' life?"

Rastus (on the inside looking out)—Not me, I ain't, jes' fum now on.—Voo Doo.

She—Funny, no one seemed to realize what a bad egg he was while he was rich.

He—My dear, a bad egg is only known when it's broke.—London Opinion.

Mamma—Why did you eat the whole of that pie in the pantry, Clarence?

Little Clarence—'Cause you told me once never to do things by halves.—Chicago News.

KALEIDOSCOPE

France lost 10 per cent. of its population in the war.

There were 7,937 failures in the United States in 1920.

The oldest paper money was that used in China, in 2697 B. C.

The Bank of England has its own well, which is 400 feet deep.

The first banjo heard was made in 1842, then a one-string instrument.

During the war Serbia lost almost 25 per cent. of her total population.

Up to 1904 the quickest a mile had been traveled was fifty-two seconds.

Artillery in its original sense meant the cross-bow and the long-bow.

Japanese constitute 42.7 per cent. of the population of the Hawaiian islands.

New York has an average of one fire every twenty-one minutes, day and night.

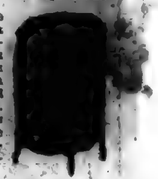
The duke of York has the reputation of being the humorist of the English royal family.

Jackie Coogan, the youthful film star, is believed to be worth close to $1,000,000. He recently asserted his ambition was to be the "captain of a fire engine."

The aborigines inhabiting the Malabar islands speak to each other at a distance by whistling, the whistlers being selected for their ability to whistle loudly. They make this their livelihood.

Foreign school teachers have been in London recently, studying English with the aid of a clever machine which writes on a smoked paper the vibrations caused by the human voice in speaking.

An Easy Way To Own A Genuine Victrola



Don't deny yourself the pleasure of owning a Victrola. By our special selling plan you can own any Victrola in our large stock on terms so easy you will not feel paying for it. We have all models from $25 up, being the largest dealers in Victrolas in Eastern Connecticut.

THIS COUPON WILL BRING YOU FULL DETAILS.

CUT IT OUT AND MAIL TODAY.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.,
135-145 Main Street, Norwich, Conn.
Please send me full particulars regarding your special easy payment plan of owning a Victrola.

Name.....
Street.....
Town.....

COOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
Union Square

Norwich Bulletin

VOL. LXV—No. 69 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH, CONN., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923 | 10 PAGES—80 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

EMPLOYMENT OF BOYS AND GIRLS NOT TO BE THROTTLED

Legislative Committee on Education Votes to Report Unfavorably Bills Which Would Regulate the Hours of Newsboys and Other Boys and Girls Engaged in Street Trades —Testimony Showed That Training Received by Newsboys Aids in Moulding Their Characters and Developing Their Business Abilities—Advocates of the Bill Contended That Sale of Newspapers by Boys and Girls Was Injurious to Health, Morals and Education.

Hartford, March 20.—The committee on education in executive session late today voted to report unfavorably on the bills which would regulate the ages and hours of employment of boys and girls engaged in street trades such as bootblacking and selling newspapers. The committee's report will be made tomorrow.

In discussing the reasons for the adverse report, Senator Charles M. Bakewell of New Haven, chairman of the committee, said that the action had been influenced by two considerations.

First—That inasmuch as the committee will report favorably on a resolution creating a commission which will engage in clarifying and codifying the existing educational laws in the state, it was held wisest to permit the general subject of the employment of children under 16 to come under that readjustment of the laws.

Second—That the testimony today made it clear to the committee that the general situation of boys engaged in street trades was improving and that no immediate action was necessary to correct any harm that might be done before any new educational laws could come into effect. And further, that the improvement in the situation was largely due to the work of individual communities, which the committee felt was vindication of the policy of permitting communities to have some rule, as far as possible, calling the state board only when the situation had grown out of hand.

The training received by newsboys in pursuit of their trade has been of invaluable aid in moulding their characters and developing their business abilities, it was asserted in the hearing before the committee today by speakers who opposed a substitute for the bill introduced by Senator Bakewell.

Those in favor of the bill, on the other hand, contended that at least one-third of boys and most girls who sold papers were injured in health, morals and general education. They held that because some men who had started life as newsboys had become famous was no reason to assume that all boys would be benefited. In the main their chief contention was that a minimum age should be established and that early and late hour work should be prohibited.

The bill in its amended form would prevent boys under 11 years of age and girls under 16 from engaging in street trades. The second section would provide that boys between the ages of 11 and 16 should be prohibited from engaging in street trades before 5 o'clock in the morning and after 8 at night, and also provided that written permission must be secured to engage in the work at all. The power of issuing such permits is lodged in the secretary of the state board of education with the sanction of local school officers. A fine of $25 is fixed for each violation of the act.

Mrs. Percy T. Walden of New Haven, representing the Connecticut Child Welfare association, which was in back of the bill, declared that the bill was not intended to abolish street trading but was merely designed to "protect the submerged third who are seriously injured in working on the streets." She said that the association believed that boys benefited by their work if it were not carried on when they were too young or at hours when they should be getting needed rest.

Declaring that at least 33 per cent. were boys who were being handicapped in their futures by going to work too early, Mrs. Walden said: "No boy under 11 should be permitted on the streets as a trader. It makes for lack of control in the homes, it imperils their health and morals, and it always teaches them to gamble. The small boy is no asset to the newspapers. Many states make 12 as the minimum age for boys, and the girl in street trades has been practically abolished by public sentiment."

Mrs. Walden also declared that 5 o'clock in the morning was too early for young boys to be on the streets selling papers, both because it meant loss of proper rest and impairment to school work. She said: "The state cannot afford to jeopardize the future of its children."

Miss Mary Wells of Hartford, of the Consumers' league of Connecticut, declared that the league was supporting the bill. She added, however, that it did not favor the clause which would forbid working before 5 o'clock for boys who were directly employed by newspapers.

Mrs. William H. Deming, of the League of Women Voters, declared that her organization was also in favor of the bill.

In opposition were a number of senators and representatives who placed themselves on record. They were Senators Clyne and Challenger and Representatives Sturgess, Keefe, Fenton, Laramee and Walker.

Charles L. Ames of Hartford, principal of the Brown school and a member of the state board of education, declared himself against the bill. He said that he was appearing merely for himself, and not as a member of the board, although later in the hearing he declared that the state board was not in back of the bill and had never taken it up.

Mr. Ames said that he had investigated the conditions of the 100 boys in his school who sold papers and had found that statements that they were being injured were exaggerated. These young lads of the country are a fine young lot," he said, "and they are training themselves in habits of industry and courtesy. The greatest safety for the morals of boys is plenty of honest occupation. The boys who are getting into mischief are those in the back alleys with nothing to do."

W. R. Jones, of the department of labor and factory inspection, declared that the bureau concerned with the widows' aid law was opposed to the bill.

John D. Jackson, publisher of the New Haven Register, appearing in opposition to the bill, said that it was not clear whether a social welfare, a health or an educational bill was intended. He declared that he did not believe that the bill was needed and that the state board of education should not have the power to control the issuing of licenses to boys, a function which was out of its proper sphere.

"This bill is purely a licensing bill," he said, "and I do not believe that every boy who wants to work a few hours selling papers should be compelled to go to the state board for a license."

From the economic point of view, Mr. Jackson said boys received great benefits. Many, he said, earned from $6 to $12 a week, which aided them often in freeing themselves from economic handicaps at home.

C. C. Hemingway, for the Hartford Times, and Joseph F. Berry, for the Hartford Courant, the Waterbury Republican and the Meriden Morning Record, appeared in opposition to the bill. Mr. Berry introduced the records of the carriers employed by the three papers, showing that they had earned a substantial sum and that their records in school were not impaired.

SESSIONS OF INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Rome, March 20.—(By the A. P.)—The American delegates carried all before them in today's plenary sessions of the international chamber of commerce, all the resolutions upon which they laid stress being unanimously approved.

One of the resolutions maintained that "no nation is entitled to claim exclusive rights in connection with its international commerce or transport of emigrants to or from other countries." The Italian delegation offered, but later withdrew, a reservation to this providing that, "pending the resumption of normal emigrant traffic to the United States, Italy finds it necessary to reserve for carriage in her own vessels the bulk of her emigrants to the United States.

Another American resolution demanding the abolition of passports was adopted without debate.

A third American resolution, which also was undebated, urged improvement of vehicular highways. The members of the American delegation are agreed that, if the highways all over the world were improved, it would be of great benefit to the automobile industry.

The resolution favoring private operation of railroads and the standardization of rolling stock, passed yesterday by the transport group of the congress, was unanimously adopted.

43,000 NEW BUILDINGS IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK

New York, March 20.—Taxes amounting to $6,484,523 approximately 43,000 new buildings would be payable the city from property owners, it was estimated tonight, by the decision of Supreme Court Justice Tierney today in holding unconstitutional the amended legislative act of 1921 authorizing tax exemptions for new residence buildings.

Justice Tierney's ruling was made effective when he signed an order restraining city tax assessors from exempting property from taxation under the housing crisis ordinance adopted by the board of aldermen in February, 1921, which provided exemption at the rate of $5,000 for each apartment in a building.

Property exempted under the law totalled $248,170,325, it was said. City officials notified the court of an appeal to the appellate division against the decision.

INSANE MAN REQUESTED HOSPITALITY OF NEW YORK

New York, March 20.—Admitting that he had escaped a few days ago from the Massachusetts state hospital for the insane at Worcester, Mass., a young man who said he was Stanley McBride, 22, of Waltham, Mass., walked into the old slip police station in lower Manhattan today and asked that the hospitality of the city be extended to him. He was down to his last five cents and needed it, he said. He was sent to Bellevue hospital, and his mother notified.

McBride said that he had been committed to an institution for the insane at Waltham, Mass., several years ago at the request of his mother, Mrs. Sara McBride, Mattapan, Mass. Escaping from there, he joined the army. While stationed in the canal zone, he said, he suffered a mental breakdown and was sent to Washington, D. C., later being transferred to Worcester.

BROKERS HELD FOR LARCENY FROM BRANFORD BANKER

New York, March 20—William Mandell and Marshall W. Taggart, brokers, were today held in $5,000 bail each for the grand jury on a charge of the larceny of $6,000 from Valdemar T. Hammer, manufacturer and banker of Branford, Conn. A third broker, Charles W. Galvin, was discharged.

Mr. Hammer testified that in January he received a telephone message from a man representing himself as John J. Flaherty, broker, to whom he was indebted for $6,000. Mr. Hammer said he was instructed to make a check for the amount payable to a concern of which Galvin was an official, but to mail it to Taggart's office. He said he later learned that Flaherty did not make the call and that Taggart and Mandell cashed the check and divided the funds.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Herr Quaatz Released

Essen, March 20.—Herr Quaatz, member of the reichstag, one of the hostages taken by the French after the killing of a French soldier here Sunday, has been released.

2,850,000,000 Marks Indemnity

Berlin, March 20.—The shareholders of the Shantung Railway company have accepted an offer by the German government of 2,850,000,000 marks as indemnity for loss suffered as a result of the treaty of Versailles by which the German economic privileges in Shantung were forfeited. The entire indemnity, with the exceptional of 10,000,000 marks already advanced to the company in cash, will be paid in four per cent. treasury bonds.

RADIO PROBLEM UNDER CONSIDERATION BY EXPERTS

Washington, March 20. — Experts in the radio field, and government officials concerned in its extension met here today at the call of Secretary Hoover to consider various problems that have arisen, particularly with a view to eliminating interferences in broadcasting to the public. After preliminary presentation of views by the government representatives, officials of radio associations, manufacturers, and broadcasting station operators, the conferees went into executive committee sessions for consideration of a new scheme of allocating bands of wave lengths.

Failure of the last congress to enact regulatory legislation, Secretary Hoover said at the outset of the conference, has made necessary voluntary cooperation and administrative assistance to establish control. The objective, he said, is to guard against taking steps which would hinder the development of an infant science and extend the usefulness of a service which, he said, already has enlisted 588 broadcasting stations, and perhaps as many as 2,500,000 private individual receiving stations.

The government might be willing to relinquish part of its present monopoly of the wave length bands between 600 and 1600 meters. Mr. Hoover indicated, should the conference so determine while Major General George O. Equier, army defense, said the military authorities would take a liberal view of proposals to reduce their radio scope.

C. F. Jenkins, in charge of government experimental work in the transmission of photographs by radio, declared that within a short time research workers hope to perfect even transmission of motion pictures, and asked special consideration for the operation of such devices. Commander D. C. Bingham, naval representative, warned against favoritism towards broadcasting and amusement use of radio which would interfere with its necessary utility in the operation of ships and aircraft. And W. A. Wheeler, for the agricultural department, asked protection for farmers in the use of radio, in receipt of market, crop, and weather reports.

Hiram Percy Maxim, president, and other officials of the American Radio Relay League, and spokesmen for the National Radio Chamber of Commerce, participated in the discussions, as did research men of the government and manufacturing organizations.

Radio inspectors of the bureau of navigation presented at the committee sessions a tentative schedule of wave length band allocations which along with a somewhat similar proposal from the radio chamber of commerce, constituted the chief topic of technical discussion. The government plan proposes to assign to amateur use wave lengths between 150 and 275 meters; to ship and government stations for telephony and telegraph, 300 meters; to Class A, broadcasting, 220 and 380 meters; Class B, broadcasting 390 and 430 meters aircraft bands would be fixed at 505 and 530 meters, with higher wave lengths for a variety of specialized military, educational, commercial and naval uses. Provision is made for special characteristics of continuous and intermittent wave signalling.

Sessions will be continued tomorrow.

WOULD HAVE AMERICANS ARBITRATE RUHR PROBLEMS

Paris, March 20.—(By the A. P.)—Arbitration by the United States government of the Ruhr problem, failing which the entire situation must be referred to the league of nations. This was the unanimous decision reached at a conference of Belgian, British, Italian and French labor parliamentarians, which was held today in one of the committee rooms of the French chamber of deputies.

J. Ramsay MacDonald, Arthur Henderson, C. R. Buxton, Tom Shaw and General Thompson, the British delegates; M. Vandervelde and Camille Huysmans, two of the most prominent Belgian socialists and Deputies Modigliani and Treves, of Italy, met Leon Blum, Vincent Auriol, Jean Longuet and Paul Boncour of the French socialist party, an ddiscussed the Ruhr situation and unanimously agreed that the question should be referred to a higher tribunal.

TO TRY MEMBERS OF "GOD OF VENGEANCE" CO.

New York, March 20.—A special panel of jurors to try Harry Weinberger, manager, and thirteen members of "The God of Vengeance" company who were indicted on a charge of conducting an immoral and indecent performance, was authorized today by General Sessions Judge Mulqueen.

Mr. Weinberger, an attorney, argued against the special panel, which was requested by Assistant District Attorney Wallace in order to speed the trial. Mr. Weinberger said he didn't want to defend the case himself and needed time in which to engage counsel.

Judge Mulqueen declared that if the play was immoral and indecent it shouldbe stopped as soon as possible.

DEFICIT IN FUNDS CLOSES SCHOOLS IN BRIDGEPORT

Bridgeport, March 20.—A deficit of $13,000 in funds for the operation of the public schools here, which cost $9,000 per day, and failure of the board of aldermen last night to act on the city attorney's recommendation for a transfer of funds to meet this emergency, resulted in an order of the board of education today closing all the schools until April 2.

The new fiscal year starts on April 1, when money will be available for education needs.

There are 20,000 pupils in the schools here. The order of the board of education adds three days to the usual Eastern vacation.

A gentleman who calls another gentleman a liar is no gentleman.

Suspend Trade in Piggly Wiggly Stock

Action Taken by Board of Governors of Stock Exchange After Violent Stock Fluctuations.

New York, March 20—(By the A. P.)—Trading in class "A" common stock of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., was suspended by the board of governors of the New York stock exchange late today after one of the most violent price fluctuations in stock exchange history. The stock closed last night at 72, opened this morning at 75, dropped to 74 3-4 and then rose perpendicularly to 124, often jumping several points between sales. From the high point it dropped, also perpendicularly to 82, where it closed at a net gain of 10 points on the day.

Jesse L. Livermore, famous stock market operator, who had been engaged last December by Clarence Saunders of Memphis, Tenn., president of the company, to maintain a market for the stock, issued a statement tonight saying that Mr. Saunders had abruptly terminated Mr. Livermore's authority to act for him at 11 o'clock this morning and that he (Livermore) had immediately cancelled all orders in the market and ceased operating in the stock.

Official comment was withheld during the day by Mr. Saunders it was reported that he had decided to "squeeze" the short interest by calling for the delivery of 42,000 shares of the stock which had been sold "short" through the local and Chicago markets.

Brokers reported that while the stock was climbing upward, it was virtually impossible for "shorts" to borrow the stock in order to make delivery of shares on which they previously had sold on the assumption that the market price was too high and that they could "cover" their commitments by buying the stock back at lower prices later. This apparent absence of a "free market" and indications of a "corner" undoubtedly prompted the stock exchange authorities to take immediate action although the notice of suspension called attention to the fact that had been taken with the approval of counsel for the Piggly Wiggly company. Unofficially, it was learned that the governing board decided that three was not sufficient stock available to meet trading requirements.

Last fall a concerted attack was made on the stock after a few companies which had leased territorial rights to the Piggly Wiggly patents had become involved in financial difficulties, which did not, however, involve the Memphis concern. The stock dropped to around $40 a share after having sold as high as $59 1-8 last year.

Mr. Saunders came to New York about that time with a sum estimated as high as $1,000,000 with the avowed intention of combatting the short interests. Mr. Livermore is believed to have been engaged at that time.

"Early in December last," Mr. Livermore's statement said, "Mr. Clarence Saunders of Memphis, Tenn., being a large stockholder of the Piggly Wiggly company and desirous of marketing a large block of class "A" common stock of that company, approached me to act for him and authorized me to buy, sell or loan such stock for his account.

"Since that time and until this morning, pursuant to such authority, I have maintained a continuous market in the stock, in which purchases, sales and borrowings could be freely made at any time.

"At about 11 o'clock this morning, without previous notice to me, Mr. Saunders, by telegraph, terminated my authority to act for his account and accordingly I immediately cancelled all orders in the market and ceased operating in the stock.

"During this entire period I have never conducted any transactions in this stock for my own account."

While the investigation of the stock exchange has not been officially completed, it is not believed that the stock will be restored to the list unless a much wider distribution of it is made. Meanwhile, settlement of stock transactions probably will be made by arbitration among the interested parties at a price to be agreed upon.

The Piggly Wiggly company operates a nation-wide chain of approximately 350 grocery stores under a system of merchandising, many of the methods and processes of which have been patented.

PROPOSAL TO INCREASE STATE TAX ON GASOLINE

Hartford, March 20.—A proposal was heard at the capitol today to the effect that the state tax on gasoline be increased from one cen a gallon to two cents. It was estimated in the state board of finance report that $900,000 would be received from the gasoline tax in the next two years, at the present rate. If the tax was to be doubled, the revenue would probably be in the vicinity of $1,800,000.

The proposal was to write into the gasoline tax law a provision that all of the proceeds be applied to highway construction or repair work. It is estimated that the average automobilist paid about $4.50 last year in gasoline taxes.

SERGEANT INDICTED FOR MURDER OF A PRIVATE

New York, March 20.—Sergeant Claude Foster of Union City, Tenn., was indicted by a federal grand jury in Brooklyn today for the murder of Private Martin Miller of Buffalo, who was slain at the Miller field barracks, Staten Island on March 2.

Miller, known as the "Tank Corps Giant," was shot during a quarrel, according to the story of soldiers who witnessed the slaying.

Army authorities, unable under the law to conduct a death penalty court martial in time of peace, turned the case over to the civil authorities after an investigation.

BELGIUM TO ISSUE BILLION FRANCS INTERIOR LOAN

Brussels, March 20—(By the A. P.)—An interior loan of 1,000,000,000 francs is about to be issued by the Belgian government, it was learned today, to carry on the work of reconstruction in the devastated regions, owing to the failure of the German government to pay reparations.

The treasury, it is understood, will announce the terms of the loan at an early date. It is officially denied that a loan for an equal amount will be placed in the Paris market.

British Not Altering Capital Naval Ships

British Government Has Sent a Categorical Denial to Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary Roosevelt.

Washington, March 20— Public statements made by officials of the United States government to the effect that substantial alterations had been effected in British capital ships to increase their battle range and defensive armament were formally corrected today by both the state and navy departments.

Acting on the assurance of the British government that their information was inaccurate, Secretary Hughes recalled the reference he had made to the British naval modifications in his speech at New Haven last December, and acting Secretary Roosevelt took similar action with respect to statements he had made before congressional committees.

Mr. Hughes' statement was as follows:

"In my speech at New Haven on December 29, 1922, I made the following statement with respect to alterations in the British capital ships:

"'The result is that in a considerable number of British ships bulges have been fitted, elevations of turret guns increased and turret loading arrangements modified to conform to increased elevations'

"In making this statement, I relied upon scientific information which had been furnished by the 'navy department and which, of course, the navy department believes to be entirely trustworthy.

"The department of state has been advised by the British government categorically that no alterations have been made in the elevation of the turret guns of any British capital ships since they were placed in commission' and further 'that no additional deck protection has been provided since February 6, 1922, the date of the signing of the Washington treaty.'

"It gives me pleasure to make this correction as it is desired that there should be no public misapprehension."

Secretary Roosevelt assumed responsibility for the data used by Secretary Hughes, but declared it had been "based on information believed to be reliable by the department."

The naval secretary issued the following statement:

"The navy department, in the hearings before congress, stated that the elevation of the turret guns on the British capital ships had been and was being increased. This statement was based on information believed to be thoroughly reliable by the department.

"The British admiralty has informed this department that this is not the case and that the elevation of the turret guns on the British capital ships is he same as when these ships were originally commissioned. This places the matter beyond further question and the department takes pleasure in correcting its previous statement in consonance with the above."

RESISTANCE OF GERMANS IN THE RUHR MODIFIED

Essen, March 20.—(By the A. P.)—The passive resistance inaugurated by the Germans when the French marched into the Ruhr is beginning to show modification in various parts of the occupied area, according to French announcements This is accepted in French circles as an indication of weakening by the German officials as a consequence of continued reports that Berlin is planning to make definite proposals soon designed to bring about negotiations for peace

The ober-president of Westphalia, part of which is in occupied territory, has authorized the German officials at Bochum, Dortmund and other towns in the hands of the French to confer with the French commanding officers concerning requisitions and other details pertaining to the occupation. Heretofore the local government officials by order of Berlin through the ober-president have refused to consult with the Frenchin any way whatever.

A meeting of miners at Walltraut, according to French reports, decided not to strike at mines where coal was requisitioned for army purposes only.

The prison guards and officials at Duesseldorf, who went on strike when the French began bringing in German prisoners sentenced by the French, have applied to General Simon to be allowed to resume their duties, and the request has been granted.

PROCEEDING TO ASSISTANCE OF ITALIAN STEAMSHIP

New London, March 20.—The Italian steamship Guila is in distress, according to a wireless message picked up here today. Her position was given as latitude 41.37 north and longitude 58.37 west.

Halifax, N. S., March 20.—The American steamship Tolosa and the Canadian Pacific steamship Marburn are proceeding to the assistance of the Italian steamship Giulia, reported in distress today, said a wireless message from Cape Race, N. F., to the department of marine and fisheries.

The Marburn was bound for Liverpool from St. John and the Tolosa for Boston from Liverpool.

COMMUTERS FLEECED AT TREE-CARD MONTE

New York, March 20.—Professional players of poker and bridge on ocean liners today found their counter part in three-card monte players aboard Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad ferries plying the Hudson river.

The road posted warnings on its boats that many commuters were being fleeced by sharpers in the nine minutes it took to cross the stream. The gamblers, it was said by company officials, took advantage of the brief passage to raise stakes sharply and then dart away into the crowd when the ferry bumped into her slip.

GIANT CIGAR PRESENTED TO UNCLE JOE CANNON

Danville, Ill., March 20—The largest smokeable cigar ever manufactured has just been presented to Uncle Joe Cannon by the cigar manufacturers' association of New York. It is 23 inches in length, a foot in circumference and is made of pure Havana shade grown tobacco, filler and wrapper. It weighs a little more than five pounds and arrived packed in a special hand-made cedar box. Both the box and the cigar bear the regulation wrapper and band, the box carrying a special stamp.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

The Boston and Albany railroad is to spend $1,500,000 in track and rail bed improvements in Massachusetts.

After living eleven hours with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his brain, Louis Bopp, 8, Revere Beach, Mass, died in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Lady Alexander, wife of Sir Douglas Alexander, a baronet and president of the Singer Sewing Machine company, died at her home in New York.

Income tax payments for New York city up to March 17th totalled $70,149,662.51, an increase of $6,870,977 over last year.

States cannot tax mortgages held by federal land banks, the supreme court held Louisiana state courts had sustained the tax as lawful.

Pittsburgh police continued search for Joseph Radcliffe, retired oil operator of Salt Lick, Ky., who disappeared Saturday.

Daily prayer services for their safety have been introduced by miners employed at a large mine of the Valier Coal Co., near Duquoin, Ills.

United States Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin has been invited to make the principal Memorial day address in Virginia, Minn., for J. Burt Pratt post, American Legion.

Upton Sinclair, novelist, was nominated yesterday for representative in congress from the tenth California district, by the labor party at its organization meeting in Los Angeles.

The tour of Russia this summer by a party of senators and representatives as guests of the soviet government, has been abandoned, Senator Ladd, republican, North Dakota, announced.

Sale to the Atlantic Works of Boston of the 6,000 ton steel floating drydock which has been maintained at Brooklyn, was announced yesterday by the shipping board.

David Nevius Graffam, 97, veteran clock repairer and inventor of the modern water wheel, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Howard E. Mason, in Providence.

George E. Kessler, 61 years old, of St. Louis, Mo., nationally known landscape architect, died at a hospital in Indianapolis, Ind., following a brief illness.

The Earl of Carnarvon, who has been supervising the excavations at the tomb of King Tutenkhamun in Egypt, is suffering severely from blood poisoning, presumably the result of an insect bite.

Francis March Hatch, since 1873 identified with the legal and public life of Hawaii, died in Honolulu, aged 71 He was born June 7, 1852, at Portsmouth, N. H.

Three generations in one family were killed in Binghamton, N. Y., when Mrs. Hannah M. Terry, 67, Miss M. Frances Terry, 40, and Agnes Terry, six, were struck by an automobile.

C. J. O'Brien, who has been associated with his father, C. F. O'Brien, in the management of the Arlington hotel in Ansonia, has purchased the Hotel Clark in Derby.

Patrick Ryan was slain by one of four bandits who invaded a restaurant in New York where he was having breakfast and opened fire when he ignored an order to throw up his hands.

Prosecution of individuals accused of swindling in connection with illegal promotion of scheme for smuggling immigrants on to American shores, is promised by government officials in Havana, Cuba.

Government scientists are trying to determine the cause of "dead spots" between a number of cities in the United States which form almost impenetrable barrier to the direct exchange of radio messages.

Attorney General Daugherty, in a letter to the Florida Bar association at Miami, Fla., said that this nation will abide on he rocks of law enforcement, or perish in the quicksands of lawlessness.

Two families were driven out in scanty attire by a fire which completely destroyed a two story frame dwelling at the corner of Jennings road and Adelaide avenue in Fairfield.

The mystery of the branding of three year old William Smith in Lynn, Mass., with letters "EB" was considered solved by Dr Thomas B. Murphy's discovery that the letters corresponded with those on a stove door.

Miss Harriet Russell, teacher in a fashionable school at Tuxedo Park, N. Y., was held in $1,000 bail on the charge of impersonating wealthy mothers of her pupilss to obtain clothing and other articles at large department stores in New York.

Governor Templeton announced that he would offer to A. F. Green, of Middlebury, an appointment to the state board of agriculture to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frank E. Blakeman, of Orenoquo, whose term would have expired July 1, 1925.

An attempted break from Charlestown (Mass.) state prison by three convicts one serving a life sentence for murder, was frustrated by prison officials who found the bars of the cells in which the three men were confined partially cut.

Imperial Potentate James S. McCandless, of the Mystic Shrine, whose home is in Honolulu, and whose membership is in Aloha Temple, yesterday was the guest of Lieutenant Governor Bingham during the senate session and sat in the Charter Oak Chair.

The American-Hawaiian Steamship company will move its operating and traffic control headquarters from New York to the Pacific coast and function as a separate unit, it was announced today by the board of directors.

The Massachusetts legislature was asked yesterday to make graft in private business a felony punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both. The petition was signed by a hundred firms prominent in various business activities.

Sought by federal authorities since his indictment with Emanuel H. (Manuel) Keagler, so-called "King of Bootlegger," and 27 others last September for an alleged conspiracy in withdrawing $500,000 in liquor, Peter L. Grimes, alleged lieutenant to Keagler, surrendered in New York.

450 ALLEGED TAX DODGERS TO BE SUED FOR $1,790,82[illegible]

Defendants in All Parts of the United States and Canada Named in Suit Filed in Federal Court in New York—Result of Sale of the Mining Properties of the Warren Realty and Development Company of Arizona in 1917 —100 Per Cent. Penalty is Added to the Original Tax of $895,421.22.

New York, March 20.—A casual conversation between passenger in a western Pullman car a year ago, which was overheard by a federal revenue agent, led to an investigation which resulted today in the filing in the federal district court of an equity income and excess profits tax suit for $1,790,842.44, with interest, from 450 individuals and corporations in the United States and Canad.

The defendants were stockholders in the Warren Realty and Development company of Arizona which, Assistant Federal Attorney House said today, was sold in April, 1917, for $2,362,000. The government claimed the properties, largely Arizona copper mine claims, were acquired for a little more than 500,000 and that the company's 1917 tax return failed properly to show the profit resulting from the sale.

Discovery of the alleged tax fraud, the government attorney declared, was made by a field agent of the internal revenue service who, during the course of a conversation in a western Pullman car, overheard details of the sale of the Arizona company and made a report which formed the basis of the subsequent inquiry.

The investigation led, Mr. House said, to Arizona, Washington, New York, Boston and other cities and culminated in the bringing of a suit against Thomas F. Cole of New York, and the other trustees for, and in liquidation of, the Warren company. The stockholders and also the Mechanics and Metals National bank, the Chase National Bank, the Hanover National bank, the Irving-Columbia Trust company, the president and directors of the Manhatran Trust company, as collection agents and various corporations andstates.

According to the complaint, the Warren company failed entirely to include the profits resulting from the sale of its properties in its 1917 income. The tax return filed by the corporation for that year set forth a gross income of $4,268.66, and claimed deductions for general expenses and interest amounting to $23,691.87, leaving a total deficit for the year's operations, according to the return filed, of $39,422.71.

The complaint alleged that the return so filed by the corporation, was misleading and false in that the company wrongfully and unlawfully reported therein as its net income for the said calendar year of 1917, a deficit of $29,422.71, whereas in truth, the net income of the company for the calendar year ending December 31, 1917, was the sum of $1,498,633.03.

The complaint further charged that the return was incorrect in that no invested capital was reported by the company in the return whereas in fact, the invested capital of the company was the sum of $359,683.21.

The government's computation of the tax due, as given in the complaint, states the corporation's taxable profits for 1917 was $1,498,633.03 and its invested capital $359,683.21. The total excess profits tax, as figured by the government, is $856,918.34, and the income tax $38,502.88, making the total tax $895,421.22.

To this there has been added for the corporations failure properly to return its income a penalty of 100 per cent., which under the laws is collectible in the same manner as the original tax, thus making the total amount sued for $1,790,842.44.

Mr. House declared today the defendants in the case are scattered in 26 states. Some of them residing in California and Washington, others in Texas, Louisiana and Canada.

ATTACK ON CAPITALISM IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, March 20—(By the A. P.)—The extraordinary interest aroused by Philip Snowden's attack on capitalism in the House of Commons was shown today when Premier Bonar Law conceded, at the suggestion of Sir Lambog Worthington-Evans, that another day should be given after the Easter recess for further discussion of Mr. Snowden's motion.

In moving his motion, which denounced "the capitalist system" as a failure and proposed that legislation be directed towards its gradual supercession, by an industrial and social order based upon public ownership and democratic control of the instruments of production and distribution, Mr. Snowden declared it was capitalism, not socialism, which was on trial. Capitalism had not only failed to give the people a good world to live in, he said, but had failed adequately to utilize natural resources and productive power.

The significance of Mr. Snowden's challenge is that he, with J. Ramsay MacDonald and others of the party, belong to the independent labor party, which is the socialist wing of the parliamentary labor party and numbers 80 out of a total of 142 labor members of the house. This wing represents, however, not revolutionary socialism, but rather what is generally termed intellectual socialism. Aiming at gradual establishment of its principles.

In the course of his speech introducing his motion, Mr. Snowden said: "that between 1874 and 1908 wages had increased by only ten per cent." while incomes received by those who made no contribution by their labor had increased twelvefold; therefore he was justified in saying that under the capitalist system an improvement in the condition of the people could not be expected.

Under the present capitalist system masses of people were working under unhealthy conditions as low wages, while at the other end of the social scale were people so rich that even the imagination was unable to devise a means of spending their super-abundant wealth.

Amid labor cheers he exclaimed: "How can you defend a system which, while claiming a menopoly of the function of finding employment, is unable to find work for a million and a half unemployed ?"

INJUNCTION AGAINST MINERS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Charleston, W. Va., March 20—Use of "check off" funds to unionize "open shop" mines was forbidden by federal Judge George W. McClintic, in an injunction handed down in a special session of United States district court today. The injunction prohibits the international organization of the union from sending money into West Virginia to be used in organization activities.

The decision was rendered in a case brought by the Carbon Fuel company and 22 other mining companies against the international organization of the United Mine Workers of America.

Interference with the operation of the plaintiff's mines of with their employes is forbidden.

Simultaneously the Black Betsy consolidated coal company and other defendant companies of the union are ordered not to pay any money to the union to be used in organization activities.

The injunction directs that the defendants shall not do or cause or to be done anything towards calling a strike.

FORMER PROHIBITION DIRECTOR HART ACQUITTED

New York, March 20—Harold L. Hart, former state prohibition director, William A. Orr, formerly secretary to ex-governor Whitman, and fourteen other defendants were acquitted by a federal jury late today of a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

The jury had been out approximately three hours, but had spent less than two hours deliberating as the case an luncheon interposed.

WHITE SETTLERS KILLED RENEGADE PIUTE INDIAN

Moab, Utah, March 20.—A report was received here late tonight to the effect that one Indian has been killed and two wounded by a posse of white settlers who set out late yesterday from Blanding, San Juan county, in pursuit of a band of renegade Piutes who caused trouble in that town.

The dead Indian is said to be a young buck known as Joe Bishop's boy, and one of the two youths who escaped from authorities at Blanding after their conviction yesterday on misdemeanor charges resulting from the robbery of a sheep camp.

Salt Lake City, March 20.—(By the A. P.)—Blanding, a town of 875 inhabitants is beleaguered tonight by a small band of Piute Indians.

Telephone wires have been cut and a message received at Monticello, by courier late this afternoon, urged the formation of an armed body to aid the inhabitants.

The latest outbreak, occurring in San Juan county in the southeastern part of Utah, was caused by the arrest and detention of two Indian younths on a charge of robbery. News of their incarceration soon reached a small band of renegade Piutes, including "Old Poseyh," who has figured in previous outbreaks, preparations were made by the Indian band to rescue the young bucks, but the latter succeeded in escaping.

When Sheriff W. E. Oliver took dinner to the two jailed Indians, they refused to eat and he attempted to strike one of them over the head with his revolver. One of he Indians grabbed the sheriff and the other disarmed him. They then forced the sheriff into the corner and after locking him in the jail, escaped.

FASCISTI DENOUNCED AS ENEMIES OF LABOR

New York, March 20—The newly organized Fascisti of North America, an organization similar to that which carried Benito Mussolini to the premier's chair and an entirely new government into power in Italy, was under attack today by an organization whose members denounced the Fascisti as "the enemies of labor and socialism and the tools of international reaction."

It was charged in certain quarters that the pro-Fascisti groups have been active in this country recently and were responsible for riots and suppression of radical speakers in Lawrence, Mass., and Waterbury, Conn.

Anthony di Biasi of the New York joint board of the Amalgamated Clothing workers of America, one of the leaders in the anti-Fascisti movement, stated:

"The Fascisti are beginning to organize in this country groups of the same calibre as the black-shirts of Italy, which is an absolute contradiction to the established laws and constitution of this country.

"As a result the Italian trade unionists have launched a campaign against the Fascisti movement and will peemit emphaltcally any attempt to drag Italian organized labor into the movement.

OBITUARY.

Henry Edwkard Krehbiel

New York, March 20—Henry Edward Krehbiel, notel music critic, who had been connected with the New York Tribune for 43 years, was author of several books and widely-known as a lecturer, died today in Roosevelt Hospital after a three days illness.

Born in Ann Arbor, Michigan, in 1854, he was educated in the public schools of Michigan and Ohio. He studied law in Cincinnati, but immediately after his graduation became music critic of the old Cincinnati Gazette. He joined the staff of the New York Tribune in 1880.

During his long career as a critic of music, he traveled extensively in this country and broad and became personally many of the outstanding musical figures of the world. He was a member of the [illegible] of awards at [illegible] and became a [illegible] of Honor in [illegible].

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
24 Church Street Telephone 1048

The work of the board of relief has now been completed by the members, George Hatch, Alphonse Chagnon and William C. Backus and the corrected grand list of the town of Windham totals $16,946,797. The correction was in connection with the appeals from taxpayers on the grand list of 1922 as turned over to the board by the assessors. Thirteen persons in all appeared before the board. The reductions granted by the board on lists besides the tax exempt property of blind persons, soldiers, sailors, etc., amounted to $5,770. The number of lists increased was eleven for a total of $2,310. The number of lists reduced by the board because of assessors including tax exempt property was 155 for a total of $116,185, this amount plus the $5,770 making a total of $121,955.

As shown by the abstract book, $17,940,422 was the valuation of property made by the assessors before the alterations made by the board of relief. The thirteen mill tax recently levied will be collected on the total grand list, $16,946,797, which is the amount acquired after deducting the exemptions of $121,955, leaving a total of $16,938,487, plus $2,310.

The tax is due on Friday, March 30. The corrected valuation of residents lists is now $15,153,119; non-residents, $1,788,683.

An enthusiastic and spirited meeting of the Willimantic Rotary club was held Tuesday noon at a local tea room with President Valentine L. Murphy in charge. Only three members were absent and two of these were attending the session of the state legislature. The guests of the club included Albert B. Lincoln of Hartford, John Rowna of the Hartford club, and Jared Jernegan, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific Railroad who came as a guest of James P. Mustard.

After Secretary Charles W. Hill had read the minutes of the previous meeting, Judge Frank H. Foss, chairman of the Windham county committee for the citizens' military training camp which will be held at Camp Devens in August, asked for the co-operation of the members in assisting him to secure the necessary enlistment from this town. Registration for the camp is open to young men between the ages of 17 and 24 and offers splendid opportunities in receiving good training and having an enjoyable time.

Mr. Lincoln then made a few timely remarks on the reviving of community interest and spoke in regard to plans for the staging of an old home week to be held in 1925.

President Murphy announced that the directors will be nominated this week and that the officers will be elected in a month. It was voted to extend the candidacy to the entire membership of the club. The past directors are as follows: President Valentine L. Murphy, James P. Bath, Raymond A. Parker, Aime J. Martineau and James P. Mustard.

The meeting was then turned over to the chairman of the entertainment committee, Harry W. Standish, who attended the spring conference in New Haven last week.

President Murphy was first called upon and he told of the fine educational talks he had heard by men of a high speaking calibre. He told of the remarks made by Ray Havens in regard to installing club budgets, the system having already been adopted by the majority of the clubs represented at the conference.

He also spoke in regard to the excellent talk which Secretary Charles W. Hill had given at the conference on "The Editing of a Club Bulletin."

Charles W. Hill gave a fine synopsis of the various talks which he had heard from the speakers at the conference and also spoke in regard to the fall conclave which will be held in September at Wallingford, Vermont, a small town near Rutland, Vt., which is the home of the founder of Rotary.

John Lhecan mentioned a few brief facts concerning the spring conference. He did not, however, state how he succeeded in having 500 copies printed of a song, the words of which were composed by President Murphy in honor of Ray Havens and Don Adams. Mr. Ahern distributed the copies to those at the conference and led the song personally.

Others who were heard in remarks concerning the conference and its experiences included James P. Bath, James P. Mustard, Samuel Feldman, Aime J. Martineau, Jerry Sullivan, Frank Foss, Fred D. Jordan, Maurice S. Leonard and James B. Fullerton.

The meeting adjourned shortly before two o'clock.

Gypsy moths have been discovered in this section by a crew of five men in the employ of the entomology department of the state of Connecticut in charge of Harold Woodmancy. The men are located in this city and are examining trees, shrubbery, etc., in search of the gypsy moth. They work out in all directions from Willimantic in a radius of fifteen miles and up to date they have found several places where the gypsy moth has taken root.

At least two places on the "hill section" of the city were found to be infected and the usual treatment was given to eradicate the pests. Members of the crew stated that the moth was getting a foothold in this section.

At a meeting of the class of 1923 of Windham High School held in one of the school rooms the following resolution was made and passed by a majority of the class:

We, the undersigned members of the senior class of Windham High school resolved, That the teachers of Windham High school have acted in a just and fair manner in grading our work;

That the bad conduct during the dances after basketball games was due to outsiders;

That we wish to uphold the honor of Windham High school.

David K. Strong of the firm of Strong & Grant, real estate dealers, of this city, was before the Mansfield town court Tuesday noon to answer to the charge of reckles driving last Saturday and he pleaded guilty. The charge was preferred by State Policeman Fred T. Caron. The case was heard before Justice of the Peace George H. Andrews with Grand Juror George Millard prosecuting attorney. State Policeman Caron testified that Strong was driving at the rate of 62 miles an hour just beyond the Ridges in the town of Mansfield. The defendant denied going at such a high rate of speed but admitted that he was going thirty-five miles an hour. Strong was fined $25 and costs, amounting to $42.18 which he paid.

According to almanacs, our belated guest, spring, should arrive here Wednesday for an extended stay. Old Man Winter, however, died hard and much of his strength was evident on Monday and Tuesday morning with occasional snow squalls and a howling gale which lasted late into Tuesday morning, with the temperature as far as ten degrees above zero. Coal dealers stated that their telephones were kept very much "on the jump" Tuesday morning and local plumbers were active in repairing numerous freeze ups.

It was announced Tuesday that none of the local coal dealers had any nut coal on hand at the present time.

In answer to a complaint received at the local police station from the local officials of the New Haven railroad several men and boys will be arraigned in the police court this (Wednesday) morning on the charge of trespassing on railroad property. It is alleged that on Sunday the accused persons caused trouble while a large freight train pulled into the local yard.

A meeting of the creditors of Irving Greenberg will be held in the office of Referee in Bankruptcy Thomas J. Kelley, Monday, April 2.

Marion J. Olney has applied to the Mansfield probate court for letters of administration on the estate of the late Peter C. Offray. Judge Lewellyn J. Storrs has set the date for a hearing.

The case of Dr. William E. Hendry and Eugene Lescoe, charged with failure to remove snow and ice from their sidewalks came up before the local police court again Tuesday morning. Prosecuting Attorney Harvey askee for a continuance of the case for two weeks which was granted by Judge Foss. The defendants were represented by a local attorney.

The department officers of Connecticut will be present at the meeting of the Woman's Relief corps on Wednesday night. This comprises the first visit to the local organization and a large gathering is looked forward to.

Engine Company No. 1 responded to a still alarm for a chimney fire about 11.50 o'clock Tuesday morning, in the residence of 74 Elmstreet, owned and occupied by N. Loisell. Nine gallons of chemicals were necessary to extinguish the blaze.

The regular minthly meeting of the Willimantic camp, No. 88, W. O. W. was held Tuesday night in the C. L. U. hall at eight o'clock. A large number of the member swere present.

Engine Company No. 1 was called out Tuesday morning about 7.35 o'clock for a chimney fire in the residence at 78 Watson street which is owned by Jacob Heller and occupied by Edward McSweeney. Fifty-one gallons of chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze.

The Misses Dorothy and Alice Davis, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Davis, of Riverside Park, recently entertained a Methodist church Sorority I. X. L. circle at their home. Nine of the members were present. The next meeting will be with Miss Hope Morrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Newton of Chestnut street have had Mrs. Edward Newton and daughter, Helen, of Worcester as guests for a week.

Eden C. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cook of Windham, has accepted a position at the Windham National bank.

Mrs. Henry R. Lincoln of Spring street is spending a week with friends in Springfield.

George Patos of Windham road was tendered a surprise party in honor of his birthday by twenty pupils of his Sunday school class recently.

Mrs. George Paton of Windham road is entertaining Mrs. Robert James and three children of Liberty Hill for a few days.

Mrs. Arthur Gates of Spring street entertained the Monday Afternoon club at her home. Mrs. William H. Latham and Mrs. C. E. Simons were guests.

COLCHESTER

Mrs. Ann Adams died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Julia Squires, on Norwich avenue, Sunday night. She was 80 years old. She has been feeble for several months.

C. F. McIntosh was taken to the Lawrence hospital in New London Monday afternoon. He is suffering with a severe case of influenza.

Edward Soltz of New London was a guest of his uncle, Joseph Agranovitch, on South Main street Sunday.

A large crowd attended the entertainment given by Donald A. Bigelow post, American Legion. The drama The Bootlegger Bride, by members of the post under the direction of Mrs. George Smith, was nicely presented. A social dance was held after the show.

Mrs. Frank Churchill is seriously ill with pneumonia at her home on Broadway.

Edward Mitchell of Salem was a caller in town Monday.

Clayton D. Barton of East Hampton called on friends in town Monday.

George F. Brown was a Norwich visitor Monday.

Frank Gillette is seriously sick at his home on Hall's Hill avenue with a complication of diseases.

Sunday being a fine day, a large number of autos passed through the village on the new state road.

Oliver Woodhouse lodge, K. of P., held their regular meeting in Pythian hall Tuesday evening. Five pages were initiated into the mysteries of the rank of esquire. A lunch was served after the work.

The new schedule of mail services was started Monday morning. The mails have been brought here from North Westchester station since Dec. 1, 1922, arriving here about 10 a. m. and 5.30 p. m. The new schedule is as follows: Mails leave the postoffice for the railroad station here at 6.40 a. m. for east and west, 4.20 p. m., going east and west. Arrival, 7.02 and 10 a. m. The afternoon mails—2.37 and 4.40 o'clock. John Riley, who has been carrying the mails to North Westchester, finished his work Saturday night. Isaac Gillette is carrying the mails on the new schedule.

Last Sunday, Passion Sunday, at St. Andrew's church the epistle read was St. Paul to the Hebrews and the gospel read was St. John, chapter 8. Prayers were recited for the eternal repose of the souls of Rev. John Fox of Hartford, Mrs. Fred J. Hudson of this church and Miss Courtney of Cambridge, Mass.

Feast days this week: Monday, St. Joseph; Tuesday, St. Cuthbert; Wednesday, St. Benedict; Thursday, St. Catherine of Sweden; Friday, St. Victoria; Saturday, St. Gabriel, the archangel.

In his sermon the preacher said:

This Sunday is called Passion Sunday because from today to Easter the church meditates solely on the passion of Christ. When you look to the altar and see the cross covered with a violet veil you ask, What is the meaning? Know then that the church represents to you what the gospel of today relates . . . the hiding of Jesus from those who desired to stone and kill Him. The violet color means penance—the penance done by Christ—for our sins and our reconciliation with God. The church today speaks, My children, you may meditate on the sufferings of your Saviour but you cannot explain them by word or image.

From today to Holy Saturday the church omits the Psalm "Judica me, Judge me, O God," and also the Gloria patri, Glory be to the Father, etc. The Psalm is omitted, all the liturgy of passion-tide is the expression of this Psalm all that it contains in itself. The Glory be to the Father, etc., is omitted for the reason that the church meditating on the passion of Christ cannot sing Glory in these days of recollection but only cast itself beneath the cross in weeping and sorrow.

And because Christ by his passion and death reopened heaven, gained for us graces to be holy and happy, the church today calls attention also to the fruits of the passion—in the epistle of the day, in the preface of the mass, by the omission of the suffragia, i. e., the prayer titled the Intercession of the saints.

The epistle bids us consider the passion and death of Christ; the deep misery of our sins and then the tremendous contrast; our new freedom, the possibility of again placing our names in the Book of Life.

The preface of today's mass explains: "It is truly meet and just right and salutary and availing unto salvation, that we should always and in all places give thanks unto Thee, Holy Lord—Everlasting God who didst set the salvation of mankind upon the tree of the cross so that whence death came thence also life might rise again, and he that overcame by the tree, on the tree also might be overcome through Christ our Lord.

From today the Suffragia is omitted in the prayer of the intercession of saints to indicate to us that Passiontide should be passed exclusively with Jesus our Intercessor and Saviour. If there had been no Jesus—no redemption—there would have been no saints. The holiness of the saints and their powerful intercession are fruits of the passion of Christ. When the sun rises the stars disappear; so the church today meditates on Jesus the Redeemer, the Crucified—the fountain of holiness bids us praise and thank Him with tongue and heart.

An answer to two questions may be interesting. Why is St. Joseph always represented, first, with the child Jesus on his arm? Second, with a lily in his hand? The child Jesus on his arm means that St. Joseph was his chosen guardian—a guardian who sincerely loved Jesus, diligently looked after his needs.

The lesson for fathers and mothers—a strict obligation is theirs to watch over the temporal and spiritual welfare of their children. They are the apostles of their children. To them St. Paul declares "If anyone has not care of his own, especially his own household, he has denied his faith and is worse than the heathen." (I Timothy, 5: 8.) The meaning of the lily in St. Joseph's hand: The lily has three characteristics, color, odor and healing properties. In color it is snow white—therefore a representation of purity. Its odor it is distinct and pleasing—therefore an image of the good example to be given neighbors. St. Joseph was a humble, obedient patient, just an odor of good virtues before God and man. The lily has healing properties. St. Joseph had the confidence that destroyed discouragement and despair. St. Joseph has special powers against evil spirits, especially at the hour of death.

The members of the Holy Name society will receive holy communion next Sunday—Palm Sunday. They will assemble at the schoolhouse at 9.45 a. m. and march in a body to the church.

The names of the contributors to the furnace fund were read at the mass.

The Holy Name society met in regular meeting with their officers, Father Mooney, spiritual director; Judge Condren, president; David Shea, vice president; Edward Driscoll, acting secretary. A constitution for the society was read and adopted. John Przyborowski was elected second vice president. It was voted to purchase a new Holy Name banner, the cost to be paid by voluntary offerings of members; offerings to be given to any of the officers. Masses were directed to be said for Brothers James E. Purcell and Jeremiah J. Sullivan.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

The funeral of Bartholomew Mullins took place at St. Edward's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Felix J. O'Neill officiated at the requiem high mass and burial was in St. Edward's cemetery. The bearers were Martin Corish, Michael Reid, James Sullivan, Daniel Sullivan, Michael Ward and Edward Mullins.

Thomas Fitzpatrick of New York has been spending a few days at his old home in Stafford Springs.

Miss Agnes Cunningham was the guest of Miss Maude Cummiskey over Sunday.

Miss Alice Carden of Indian Orchard and Miss Helen Reid of Hartford were recent guests of Miss Helen Fletcher.

Miss Kathleen O'Keefe of Springfield spent Sunday with Miss Mary Hanley in Orcuttville.

Bernard L. Mullins of Hartford was in town on Monday attending the funeral of his uncle, Bartholomew Mullins.

Luigi Fontanelli, age 90, who has been at the Norwich state hospital since January 30th, died at that institution Monday and the body was brought to Stafford Springs on Tuesday. The deceased leaves three sons, Ferdinand, Joseph and Peter Fontanelli and one daughter, Mrs. Judita Scussell, all of Stafford Springs.

Tuesday morning was one of the coldest of the winter in this section. There was a cold wind blowing and the thermometer registered zero in a number of places.

BALTIC

Joseph Morin has moved his family from High street to Willimantic.

Albert Genereux is at the Backus hospital in Norwich, undergoing treatment.

Francois Clocker, who has been ill is slowly recovering.

Town Clerk Wm. H. Buteau and Mrs. Buteau of Plainfield were visitors recently at Mrs. Virginie Buteau's home.

Conseil Ste Marie, No. 17 of I/U. St. Jean Baptiste Society D'A. held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening.

On Monday evening the men's club from the Willimantic M. E. church were the guests of the Men's league of the Baltic M. E. church.

They came down in a special car, 45 in number and were met and escorted to the Sprague hall by some of the Baltic brothers. Arriving at the hall a supper was awaiting them, consisting of cold roast meat and pork, salads, rolls and coffee. About 90 sat down at the table, which had been very tastefully arranged and decorated by some of the ladies of the church for which service the men of the church are very thankful.

After supper the men were called to order by the president of the men's league, Matthew Bailey, who extended a very cordial welcome to the visiting ing over to Charles Barnes, who acted as toastmaster.

Mr. Barnes made a few remarks, relative to the social life of the men, and urged a more sincere co-operation between the church and the men in our community. He congratulated the pastor, Rev. C. W. Ryser, for his interest in the men, and said that such meetings as these were the outcome of the joint efforts of the pastor and men of the church and community.

The toastmaster then called on the double male quartet of the Baltic Men's league, who sang the Jolly Blacksmith, for which they received hearty applause and kindly responded with an encore.

The Rev. Mr. Roderick MacLeod, pastor of the Hanover Congregational church, who was one of the guests, was then called upon for a few remarks, and responded in a kindly and humorous way, and spoke of the need of more cooperation by the men of Sprague for the best interest of the town.

The president of the visiting men's club, Mr. Morrow, responded with a little talk, and wished the men success in their efforts.

Albert Hilton sang two baritone solos and Matthew Bailey and Percival Collins, a duet and William Barlow, two songs. The double male quartet consisting of Messrs. Bailey, Heap, Ridgeway, Houghton, Stanford, Collins, Jackson, Hilton, sang two more selections.

The pastors of both the Willimantic and Baltic M. E. churches, the Rev. John Peates and C. W. Ryser, were called upon, and both responded, and made splendid addresses on the need of men in the church and co-operation of same for the best interest of humanity. Both speakers injected a little humor in their remarks which were greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the men present. The committee in charge of the arrangements comprised Matthew Bailey, James Robbins, John Drucker, Samuel Johnson, John Chadwick, William Crawshaw, Leonard Firth.

CONSTIPATION
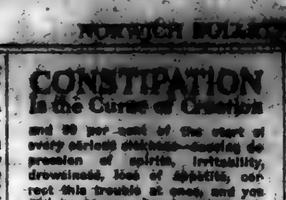
Is the Curse of Creation and 90 per cent of the start of every serious sickness—causing depression of spirits, irritability, drowsiness, loss of appetite, correct this trouble at once, and you will be 66 near proof against probable infection and disease.



At all Druggists 25¢ a box
Taft-Schlicks of Cincinnati
Over 40 Years in Business

BURROWS RENOMINATED FOR DANIELSON WARDEN

(Special to The Bulletin)

Danielson, March 20.—The annual borough caucus was held in the town hall Tuesday evening with about 40 in attendance. The caucus renominated practically the same list of officers as served during the past year, and without any opposition. The caucus was in session not more than five minutes. Attorney Harry E. Back presided as chairman and Frank T. Preston was clerk. A. P. Woodward presented a blanket list of nominations which were accepted and approved as follows:

Warden, W. A. Burrows; town clerk and treasurer, Frank T. Preston; burgesses, D. E. Jette, R. H. Gray, Frank E. Kennedy, Richard Dannigan, Irving W. Davis, Gaston A. Naudon; bailiff, John McFarland; tax collector, Edward S. Carpenter; assessors, Thomas Bradford, J. N. Lavallee, William J. Young; library directors, Harry E. Back, Miss Frances Danielson.

NORTH LYME

M. J. Stark and Miss Emily Stark were visitors in Chester last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Slaton, Jr., were New London visitors one day last week.

Miss Gladys Cone was a week end visitor at Mrs. Huntley's in Old Lyme.

Mrs. Buxsell Sankow died Sunday afternoon after a long illness. She is survived by her husband and six children, her two daughters having cared for her with the assistance of Mrs. Warren Rogers during her illness.

United Effort

THE marvelous precision and accuracy of "warp, weft, and shuttle" in the loom, exemplify the efficiency of co-operation and united effort.

In sixty mills, more than 35,000 skilled workers are making a united effort to produce woolen and worsted fabrics of dependable value for the millions who need them.

And through that unity — the elimination of waste, the use of efficient machines and the co-operation which only fairly-treated employees can give — the American Woolen Company is annually producing millions of yards of fabric which enables the people to buy good clothing at fair prices.

American Woolen Company

CLEVELAND SIX

The Quality Makes the Price More Startling

WHEN you hear a man speak of a quality car, you instinctively know it has more than four cylinders.

But do you know that of the quality cars, 75% are powered by six cylinder motors? And that of 58 such cars costing between $1500 and $10,000, only five are fours? Obviously there is an established preference for the six.

And if you ride in a Cleveland Six, you will understand why.

You will find a motor that takes hills without a flying start and that makes traffic driving a matter of using the accelerator, and not the gear shift.

You will find singularly attractive Fisher-built bodies—gracefully proportioned, attractively finished, comfortably upholstered and completely appointed.

You will find the Cleveland Six chassis so staunch and rugged that it delivers thousands of miles without even minor adjustments.

Down to the smallest detail, you will find the Cleveland Six characterized by the fine craftsmanship which is the only basis of quality—and the only basis of lasting satisfaction.

And that is why its price is startling.

"Heart of a Fine Car"

Two Door Sedan $1295 · Four Door Sedan $1495 · Touring Car $995 · Sport Car $1295
All Prices F. O. B. Cleveland

W. R. FRISBIE
118 FRANKLIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

CLEVELAND AUTOMOBILE COMPANY · CLEVELAND

Cuticura Soap
IS IDEAL
For the Hands

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
836 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 661-2

JAY M. SHEPARD
Successor Fillmore & Shepard
Funeral Director & Embalmer
86-88 NORTH ST. WILLIMANTIC
Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
29 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 230 Lady Assistant

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take Laxative BROMO QUININE (Tablets.) Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. The box bears the signature of E. W. Grove. 30c.

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

NEW SILK PETTICOATS IN RADIUM OR SILK JERSEY

Recent arrivals in Silk Petticoats reveal many bright colors, and no matter how conservative your outerwear may be, the petticoat that peeps beneath, whether Radium or Silk Jersey, it may be as bright as you please.

This does not imply that our Spring showing is limited to bright colors only, for every popular shade is here in styles that conform to the new fashions at prices that allow for purchasing several at one time.

$5.98 up to $7.98

Look for the Mark!

The Norwegian Tribute, mark of quality and purity that is on every bottle of

Scott's Emulsion

AMUSEMENTS

Charlie Chaplin, whose big feature film at the Strand Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Charles Chaplin's first big feature production which "The Kid" will be the attraction extraordinary on the screen at the Bijou theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

It is a four-reeler entitled "The Pilgrim" and presents Chaplin minus his famous derby and cane. Charlie has the role of a fugitive from justice who impersonates a minister's regiment and, on donning it, is not only pursued by an eloping couple who desire to be married but is also forced to take charge of a church.

According to movies reports, the comedian has not included one unnecessary foot of film in "The Pilgrim." Starting with a closeup of a handbill, offering a reward for an escaped convict, illustrated by a portrait of Charlie in prison garb, all through the series of thrilling, humorous and even pathetic situations in which he finds himself, the interest is said to be sustained by ever mounting situations which bring the sharp to a fine climax. Mr. Chaplin's art attains heights of subtlety which he has never excelled.

A splendid cast supports Chaplin, whose leading lady is again Edna Purviance. Sydney Chaplin, Mack Swain and others who have appeared with the comedian in past screen triumphs also appear.

"The Pilgrim," was written and directed by Charles as a First National release.

For the second feature "The Forgotten Law," a photoplay version of the famous novel "A Modern Madonna," by Caroline Abbot Stanley will be shown.

Advance notices about this Metro production pronounces it as one of the most sensationally dramatic stories of the season, with a subject that should arouse a great deal of discussion among women especially.

A splendid cast had been selected to portray the roles in this photoplay. Milton Sills adds to his screen fame in a role that gives him unusual opportunity for the display of his emotional powers. Jack Mulhall, one of the most popular leading men of the screen is cast in a part that shows his skill in an admirable manner. Cleo Ridgely is the charming wife, who is made to suffer the wrongs caused by the law referred to in the title.

Today's bill at the Bijou theatre consists of Jack Pickford in Garrison's Finish, Movie Chats and an Educational comedy.

What's Going On Tonight

Burlington Council, No. 34, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets in Washington Memorial.
Somerset Lodge, No. 21, F. and A. M., meets in Masonic Temple.
Rose Rebekah Lodge, No. 21, I. O. O. F., meets in Odd Fellows' Hall.
Mohegan Lodge, No. 64, I. O. R. M., meets in Bradley Memorial.
Yantic Council, No. 1, R. and S. M., at Broadway Theatre.
Moving pictures at Strand theatre.
Moving pictures at Bijou theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

First day of Spring.
This is the Persian New Year.
Festival of St. Benedict, founder of the order of Benedictines.
Sorosis, the first incorporated woman's club in the United States, is 53 years old today.
Mexico keeps a holiday today in honor of the birthday of Benito Juarez, often referred to as the Lincoln of Mexico.
Five years ago today the American troops entered their first great battle of the German war as battle units.
The debating team of Trinity College of North Carolina journeys to New York today for a forensic tilt with New York University.
A merger of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association and the American Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association is expected to be effected at a convention of the two organizations opening in Pittsburgh today.
Backed by the most distinguished artists in the United States, the largest art sales gallery in the world is to be formally opened today in the Grand Central Terminal, New York city. Here American painters, etchers and sculptors will offer their work direct to the public.
Conventions Opening Today.
Chicago—National Association of Brass Manufacturers.
Worcester, Mass.—Eastern Swedish M. E. Conference.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

LENTEN SERVICE WITH PASSION PLAY DESCRIPTION

A special Lenten service will be held at the Church of the Good Shepherd—Universalist—on Friday evening, March 23rd, at 7.45 o'clock.

Rev. A. N. Fraser will speak of the "Passion Play" of 1922 which he witnessed at Oberammergau last August.

Sale of Main Street Property

Burdick & McNicol, real estate brokers, have sold for George H. Lynch his two apartment house located at No. 445 Main street, Norwich, Conn. The sale was made to Charles Bellone of Norwich, who will occupy one of the apartments as a home. This is one of the most desirable apartments as a home. This is one of the most desirable pieces of property in that section and the new owner has taken advantage of a rare opportunity in buying this residence.

Great Scenes in Film "Adam's Rib"

In Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount production, "Adam's Rib," the Chicago Board of Trade with its wheat and corn pits, is reproduced with absolute fidelity to make real the scenes where Milton Sills, one of the five featured players in the picture, wins and loses a fortune in grain trading. Scores of trained brokers are used in these scenes to give a realistic touch to the excited action in the pits.

Then there is the Natural History Museum where Elliot Dexter and Pauline Garon start a pleasing love romance. Great towering, thirty foot dinosaur skeletons put this scene in a class by itself as a novelty.

Closely related to this pre-historic display is the expected and far-famed De Mille "cut-back" or vision scene in which the life of man of the time of the stone age is depicted. A huge redwood forest, the largest indoor set ever built for a motion picture, forms the background for the dramatic action. Seen in cave-day costumes of furs and thongs, are Elliot Dexter, Milton Sills, Anna Q Nilsson, Pauline Garon and Julia Faye, the featured players.

Equally colorful but in the modern sequence are scenes, showing a gorgeous ball at the Ramsay home, a particular feature of which is the color photography which gives a beautiful effect in the flashing of Ridge Japanese lantern carried by the dancers.

Besides the featured players in "Adam's Rib," which opens at the Broadway theatre next Sunday, the excellent De Mille cast includes Clarence Geldart, George Field, Robert Brower, Forrest Robinson, Gene Corrado, Wedgewood Nowell and Clarence Burton.

Jubilee Week Double Features at Strand Thursday

Another very successful jubilee week program will open at the Strand for the last half of this week, starting tomorrow. Double features will prevail.

The vociferous evidences of approval on the part of two unsuspecting audiences—one on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific coast—left no doubt in the minds of reviewers present that "The Pilgrim," the First National attraction coming to the Strand theatre on Thursday will be a close rival of "The Kid" for first honors among Charles Chaplin's productions.

In theatrical parlance, "The Pilgrim" was given unannounced previews at the Gotham theatre, New York, and at another theatre in Los Angeles to "try it on the dog." More than 1,000 persons saw it at the Gotham. The spontaneous enthusiasm with which it was received in the east and west indicated that Chaplin had turned out a new classic.

"The Pilgrim," in which Charlie plays the role of an escaped convict who, much against his will, is forced to pose as a preacher, is in feature length, being four reels, and it is claimed, that story, direction, acting and comedy elements lift it far above anything yet made in the comedy line for the screen.

Wallace Worsley, who directed the latest Wesley Barry picture, "Rags to Riches," a Harry Rapf production sponsored by the Warner Brothers, which will be shown at the Strand theatre, beginning Thursday as the second feature has the reputation as a director whose pictures bear the stamp of fine artistry and popular appeal.

After a number of years as leading juvenile player in New York plays Mr. Worsley was cast in the leading role of a number of the late Daniel Frohman's memorable stage productions. He was a familiar figure to the theatre-goers of New York and the east for over sixteen years.

Mr. Worsley started his education of motion pictures in 1917 under the guidance of Thomas H. Ince. In the past five years he has directed such well known stars as Jack Pickford, Lon Chaney, Katherine McDonald, Louise Glaum, Blanche Sweet and Mitty Gordon.

"Rags to Riches" is in addition to Barry, includes Rita Welch, Ruth Renick, Russell Simpson, Mrs. Milton O. Redman, Richard Tucker, Eulalie Jensen, Jane Keckley, Sam Kaufman, Dick Sutherland and "Jimmy" Quinn. The story is said to afford the skilful Worsley an opportunity to depict Cupboard Junior attempting and realizing that among his

MICKEY WALKER SUSPENDED BY NEW YORK BOXING COMMISSION

New York, March 20—The state athletic commission today announced the suspension of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion and Charley Nashert for unsatisfactory conduct in their bout at the Velodrome, Buffalo, on March 14.

The boxers were suspended, the commission announced, after receipt of communications from the judges of the contest and prominent citizens who saw the match, complaining of the poor efforts of both man.

Nashert, whose home is in Oklahoma City, boxed Walker under the name of Charley Fitzsimmons, which the commission said was in itself a violation of the rules.

Although Mickey Walker, welterweight champion was suspended today by the New York boxing commission, he will be allowed to fight Pete Latzo, of Scranton, Pa., at Newark, N. J., Thursday night, William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, announced tonight.

Walker and Charley Nashert, of Oklahoma City, who boxed at Buffalo March 14, were suspended for unsatisfactory conduct in their bout. Nashert boxed under the name of Charley Fitzsimmons, which in itself was a violation of the rules the commission declared.

Because the arrangements for Walker's bout with Latzo had been completed, Mr. Muldoon said, the commission decided later to make the suspension, effective after the Newark bout, to prevent a loss to the National Sportsmen's club, which arranged the fight.

JERSEY COMMISSION NOT TO ACT ON WALKER CASE

Newark, N. J., March 20—The suspension in New York state today of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion and Charley Nashert for unsatisfactory conduct in their bout at the Velodrome, Buffalo, on March 14, will not be acted upon by the new Jersey boxing commission until after his bout here Thursday night with Pete Latzo, of Scranton, Pa., it was announced by Louis J. Massano, chairman of the commission.

Boxing authorities of the two states have a working agreement and it was intimated by Mr. Messano that the New Jersey commission might also enforce the ban placed on Walker in New York.

PITTSFIELD TO PLAY SUNDAY GAMES HERE

The Berkshire Eagle, Pittsfield home paper, has the following to say about the Hillies coming to Norwich for spring training:

"Arrangements have been practically completed for the Pittsfield Baseball club doing its training for the coming season at Norwich, Conn.

The matter will be definitely settled, it is expected within a few days.

The city of Norwich was selected after several other cities in Connecticut were looked over and conferences held with men interested in baseball in those cities. It was the view of men connected with Eastern league baseball that Norwich had an advantage over all other Connecticut cities available for spring training.

Because of the fact that Eastern league clubs are not permitted to play against each other previous to the opening of the league season, the Pittsfield club was forced to secure some city other than those represented in the circuit of which The Hillies are a part. Several cities considered would not permit Sunday ball and for that reason had to be passed up.

The city of Norwich is farther south than any other city that could be secured. It has an enclosed field, permits Sunday baseball and furthermore was last season represented by a Knights of Columbus team that compared favorably with Eastern league clubs. The Norwich team defeated the New Haven club in a game after the latter had won from the Baltimore club. During the latter part of the season Gary Fortune did much of the twirling for the Norwich club. Others who pitched for the team during the season were Hughy Canavan, a Boston Brave pitcher; Reynolds, a Georgetown university pitcher who has been signed by Toronto and Berry, another youngster who made quite a reputation.

While the Knights of Columbus will not be represented on the diamond the coming season, William O'Leary, who managed the team last season has agreed to get together a team representing Norwich which will play a series of at least two games with Pittsfield. These games will be played on Sunday.

The present plans call for the Pittsfield club reporting at Norwich on Tuesday, April 10, and remaining there until Tuesday, April 24, the day previous to the opening of the Eastern league season. This would permit the playing of at least two Sunday and possibly one Saturday game while the club is away on its training trip. An effort will also be made for the team to play in some Massachusetts town on Patriots' day—April 19—this day not being observed as a holiday in Connecticut. The early date in the season may make this a difficult matter.

Playing in Norwich will permit the Pittsfield fans witnessing the Sunday exhibition games if the roads are in condition for automobile traffic. Norwich is 118 miles from Pittsfield, and the roads, when in condition, would permit Pittsfield fans seeing games and arriving home during the evenings.

Pittsfield club in previous years remained at home for training purposes thus permitting the expenditure of money in its home city. This year, however, the weather outlook is such that it was felt inadvisable to attempt to carry out any such plan. Training trips cost Eastern league clubs not less than $1500 and for that reason the managements are desirous of getting all possible benefits. The feeling is general that Pittsfield has never got value received for money expended for training work because of the lateness of the season and the fact that the conditions at Wahconah park have seldom been such that preliminary work could be carried out there."

HARVARD MAY ADOPT SYRACUSE ROWING MACHINE

Cambridge, Mass., March 20.—Harvard University rowing authorities have heard that Syracuse university has a rowing practice machine in which springs simulate the action of a shell in water to an improved degree. As a result Dr. R. Hober Howe, Jr., the crimson director of rowing, arranged today to go to Syracuse Saturday to inspect the machine. Coach Ten Eyck has arranged a demonstration of the equipment for him, with Syracuse oarsmen at the blades.

The new machine is the invention of John H. Cunningham, of Syracuse. It is a tank fitted with a spring which permits the shell to go forward with every strike and then recoil, giving the oarsmen on the pull-through, an effect similar to that of a shell moving through open water.

Dr. Howe, although he has given up all active coaching has been busy recently in providing proper equipment for the crimson crews.

M'TIGUE'S PLANS ARE UNCERTAIN AT PRESENT

Dublin, March 20 (By the A. P.)—The plans of Mike McTigue, the conqueror of Battling Siki, are indefinite for the present. He has gone to visit his wife in his native home county, Kerry, and it is not likely he will return to the United States for some time. It is reported that he probably will meet Siki again in Ireland.

Dublin has no knowledge of the rumors regarding a possible meeting between McTigue and Carpentier in New York. Siki will remain in Dublin until April, according to his present plans.

With reference to Siki's challenge to McTigue for a return match, the promoter of the recent contest says he is prepared to offer a purse of £2,000, to be divided between the fighters in whatever manner they wish, the contest to be held in Dublin.

LITTLE CHANGE IN LEADERS IN BOWLING

Milwaukee, Wis., March 20.—(By The A. P.)—Today's play in the American Bowling Congress tournament brought only one change in the leaders of the different events. W. Zimmerman of Chicago, rolled into fourth place in the singles when he had games of 223, 212 and 234 for a total of 669, topping by one pin it. Theissen of Mason City, Iowa, who had held that position since Sunday with 668.

M. Spotilla and C. Bloch of Gary, Ind., were the high doubles men of the day with 1,214.

John Koster of New York, who, 21 years ago, was master bowler of the Universe, rolled last night with the Inter-City team of New York, and garnered a total of 600 pins.

Today he shot 612 in his doubles and came right back with a total of 648 for his singles count, making his total for the nine games, 1,560 and taking second place in the all-events. Koster was the all-events champion in 1902.

There will be an executive meeting of the A. B. C. Tuesday at which the members will decide the high scores then will draw medals and also arrange for the annual meeting which will be held next Friday.

JOHNSON CONFIDENT OF WINNING FROM CONTENDERS

Hot Springs, Ark., March 20.—"Before I return to Hot Springs next winter, I think there will be but one man standing between myself and the heavyweight championship of the world," said Floyd Johnson tonight as he and Charley Cook, his manager, boarded a train for Philadelphia after more than two weeks of training here.

Johnson is in the best of condition now. He has a schedule of minor battles through the northeast, and then will be in fine shape for the Willard-Johnson match on May 12 in New York.

Johnson's first bout will be against Soldier Ray Thompson at Philadelphia. Later he meets Bob Roper in Boston and Joe Roman in Grand Rapids, Mich. His tour will close in New Orleans, with a bout with Martin Burke.

WARM SUN GIVES SOX CHANCE FOR WORKOUT

Hot Springs, Ark., March 20. — A warm southern sun today that sent the temperature high at midday, enabled the Boston Americans and the Pittsburgh Pirates to get in the heaviest workouts of their training season here thus far. The Boston regulars and second team had a practice game which the second team won. The score was 12 to 9. Manager Chance is making a determined effort to strengthen his team, and has sent Ed Holly, scout, to New Orleans to look over the extra list of the New York Americans.

Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates gave his pitchers a lot of mound work this morning and then put the regulars into hard fielding practice this afternoon. Every Pirate player was in uniform on the field today.

PLAN TO HANDLE CROWD OF 100,000 AT YANKEE STADIUM

New York, March 20.—Preliminary arrangements are under way, it was announced today, to handle a crowd of 100,000 at the Yankee Stadium, May 12, when three of the leading contenders for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight title—Jess Willard, Floyd Johnson and Luis Firpo—will box for the benefit of the milk fund.

Should the attendance reach this figure it would eclipse the previous record "gate" of approximately 93,000 which witnessed the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, in 1921.

The Yankee stadium's grandstand and bleachers, now rapidly nearing completion, will seat 75,000 and it is planned to accommodate 25,000 more on the playing field. There will be 21,000 bleacher seats selling at $1.

FAVORITES STILL IN FIGHT AT BELLEAIR

Belleair Heights, Fla., March 20—The first round of match play in the Belleair amateur championship began today with most of the favorites still in the fight.

Hugh Hulsell, the ex-senior champion, was victor over George Elkins, Huntington Valley, by 2 to 1.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

TODAY'S SPORTS.

Racing:

Meeting of Jefferson Parish Fair Assn. closes at New Orleans.

Meeting of Cuba-American Jockey club at Havana.

Meeting of Tijuana Jockey club at Tijuana.

Track:

National junior indoor championships at Newark.

Handball

National A. A. U. senior championship opens at St. Paul.

Golf

Annual Tin Whistle championship tournament opens at Pinehurst.

Belleair amateur championship tournament opens at Belleair, Fla.

Bowling.

Annual tournament of American Bowling Congress at Milwaukee.

Fencing

Foils, women's individual championship, at New York.

A. B. Ranney of Greenwich, who is a member of Chevy Chase at Washington, lost to Taylor Armstrong, Shenecossett, by 2 up.

Another favorite to win was Geo. E. Morse, Rutland, Vt.

K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, who qualified in the second sixteen, defaulted his match when he had an invitation to go fishing. He reported later in the day that his morning had been a complete success.

NAT. BOARD MUST RE-INSTATE CUTBILL; NOT CONN. A. A. U.

Hartford, March 20—If Harold Cutbill, world's indoor record holder for the 1,000 yard run, is to be restored to eligibility in the national athletic union, it will be through the national board of governors and not the Connecticut A. A. U. William F. Delany, chairman of the board of registration of the state body said tonight.

At a meeting of the New England A. A. U. Monday night at Boston, a resolution was adopted instructing Cutbill to petition the Connecticut A. A. U. to have the case re-opened and to instruct the president of the New England A. A. U. to do everything possible to cause the nutmeg authorities to heed the "Flying Parson's" appeal.

Since his suspension a year ago, Cutbill has visited Connecticut a number of times and has discussed the matter with all the members of the state A. A. U. body, but has not entered any formal appear.

M'ALLISTER'S HARTFORD RECORD WILL STAND

Hartford, Conn., March 20.—The record made here Saturday night by Bob McAllister, the "flying cop," in which he broke the world's indoor record for 70 yards and equalled the outdoor record, the time being 7 1-2 seconds, will stand, despite McAllister's suspension yesterday, by the New England A. A. U. The record, with sworn affidavits of the timers, has been sent to the secretary of the Connecticut A. A. U.

Despite the differences with President William C. Prout, of the National A. A. U. a month ago at Boston which caused the sprinter's suspension, McAllister was given permission by the Metropolitan A. A. U. to run here at the Kevin Barry Gams Saturday night.

STAR WRESTLER AT BROWN OUT OF N. E. TITLE BOUTS

Providence, R. I., March 20.—James P. Jones, of Sherwood Park, N. Y., who wrestles in the 115-pound class on the Brown University wrestling team, is definitely out of the New England championship title bouts to be contested by the teams of Harvard, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Brown in the Hemenway gymnasium, Cambridge, tomorrow and Thursday nights. Coach George F. Herrick, the Brown coach, said tonight that Jones had not sufficiently recovered from injuries received in the meet with Harvard two weeks ago to compete at Cambridge.

BRENNAN LEAVES HOSPITAL THOROUGHLY RECOVERED

New York, March 20—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, who suffered a slight concussion of the brain as a result of his knockout by Luis Angel Firpo, South American pugilist, in a bout at Madison Square Garden a week ago, has so far recovered as to be able to leave the hospital, it was announced today.

Brennan, who was taken to the hospital last Wednesday in serious condition from the effects of Firpo's heavy punishing, will remain out of ring competition indefinitely. He may abandon his pugilistic career altogether, it was intimated, rather than run the risk of further injury and because of the fact that he is past his prime and no longer a title contender.

PORTUGAL CHALLENGES TOO LATE FOR ACCEPTANCE

New York, March 20—Portugal's challenge for the Davis cup, contained in a delayed cable despatch reaching the United States Lawn Tennis association today, arrived too late to be accepted for this year's competition.

The despatch was dated at Lisbon, March 17, it was announced, two days after 1923 entries were closed and a day after pairings were made, thus eliminating the possibility of acceptance, even had the challenge not been delayed in transmission.

Portugal was notified of the association's regret and urged to challenge for the 1924 contest.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE PLAYS SUB BASE MAY 11TH

Durham, N. H., March 20—The New Hampshire state college baseball schedule announced here today includes the following games:

April 28, Connecticut Aggies; May 5, Clarkson College of Technology; May 10, Rhode Island State at Kingston, R. I.; May 11, Submarine Base at New London, Conn.; May 12, Brown at Providence; May 18 Worcester Tech at Worcester; May 19, Clark University at Worcester; June 2, Rhode Island state.

VAN GELDER WINS SECOND GAME OF TOURNAMENT

New York, March 20—Jack Van Gelder, of New York, won the second game of the tournament for the national three-cushion billiard championship today from James Langdon, of New York, 50 to 44 in 118 innings. Van Gelder's high runs were 5-4-3 and Langdon's 4-2-3.

The third game was won by A. W. Ryan, of New York from George Korce of New York, 50 to 44 in 73 innings. Both had high runs of 4-3-3.

Attention Whirlwinds.

The battery B. Indoor baseball team is desirous of crossing bats with "Big Bill" McGuinness' Whirlwinds next Monday night. The battery is out to clinch the city title. If the challenge is accepted notify "Shorty" Malcolm by Thursday evening.

AMERICAN POLOISTS PROVE TOO STRONG FOR BRITISH OPPONENTS

Pinehurst, N. C., March 20.—The English international indoor polo team added one man to its line-up today and lost the first of a series of outdoor matches with the Sand Hill Polo club, which enjoyed a handicap of five, ten goals to four. The British were beaten one goal on the day.

In their first official American appearances the invaders, who lost the challenge match for the John R. Townsend cup, were beaten because they were unfamiliar with the indoor game. Today they were under the difficulty of renewing their acquaintance with the turf sport. Also they had strange ponies. They held the lead or were on even terms up to the sixth chukker.

F. W. Egan, captain and No. 3 of the invaders, starred for his team.

The line-up:

Sand Hill (10)	England (4)
Jack Latting	Capt. K. McMullin No. 1
J. W. Tuckerman	Capt. W. F. Holman No. 2
H. C. Slocock...	F. W. Egan (capt.) No. 3
R. S. Lovering....	Capt. L. F. Walford Back

Score by periods. (Hndp.) total.

Sand Hill .....0 0 1 1 6 2 1 0 5—16

England .. ....2 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0— 4

VOLUNTOWN RIFLE CLUB MADE GOOD SCORES

At the weekly shoot of the Voluntown Rifle club there were some very fine scores made. John Kaufmann, George Sheldon, Dana Ballou and Jim Hopkins breaking the previous records in the 50 shot offhand match.

James F. Hall, John Hall and Dana Ballou tied for the Edmond medal, each making 90 on the expert target.

The scores: John Kaufmann 497, John Sheldon 492, Charles B. Palmer 492, Dana Ballou 486, Earl Hiscox 477, John Hall 476, James F. Hall 475, Joseph Herbert 472, Rudolph Magrey 470, Jim Hopkins 458, Walter Ladmer 457, Bill Lord 451, Ted Dupont 442, Floyd Magrey 413.

EXHIBITION GAMES.

Bradentown, Fla., March 20—

St. Louis Nationals	5	14	3
Cleveland Americans	6	7	1

Pertica, Wiginton, Haines and Clemons, McCurdy, Ainsmith; Uhle, Morton and Myatt, O'Neill.

At St. Petersburg, Fla.—

Boston (N)	2	7	4
Washington (A)	5	8	2

Marquard, Watson and Gowdy; Zachary, Brillheart and Ruel, LePan and Hargrave.

Baltic vs New London.

The Baltic Wanderers will clash with the Emeralds of New London tonight at Baltic instead of with Stonington. The Stonington team was forced to cancel the game at the last minute and Manager Collins has booked the Emeralds. The New London team is fast and should make the Wanderers step to win. The Wanderers will use the regular lineup.

Canadians Beat Boston.

Boston, March 20.—The Aura Lees, of Toronto, defeated the Boston Eagles in a hockey game here tonight by a score of 1 to 0. The Canadian team won from the Boston hockey club last night 2 to 1 and in a previous series they defeated two other U. S. A. H. A. teams. The Eagles were members of the disbanded Boston College team.

Miss Richards Leads Field.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 20.—Miss Dorothy Richards of Cleveland, led the field today at the end of the first 18 holes of play in the 36-hole annual silver foils golf tournament. She had a card of 44-41—85 and a net score of 85-10—75. Mrs. Ronald R. Barlow of Philadelphia, defending title-holder, was fourth with 46-43—89.

Sieger Beats Babe Herman.

New York, March 20—Sammy Sieger of New York was given the decision tonight over Babe Herman of California at the end of a twelve round bout. Herman made a strong finish but lagged in the early rounds. The winner weighed 132 1-2 and the loser two pounds less.

Freshman Rule at Vermont.

Burlington, Vt., March 20.—The freshman rule, prohibiting first year men from participating in varsity sports, will go into effect at the University of Vermont not later than January 1, 1925, it was announced tonight.

Yale vs. Wesleyan.

New Haven, March 20.—The Yale swimming team will meet Wesleyan at Middletown in a post-season swimming meet tomorrow night, it was announced today. This will be the second time this season the teams have met.

Training Camp Talks
by STONEY McLINN

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Augusta, Ga., March 21.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb started life with one motto firmly fixed in his mind as a star to guide him through life's arduous and treacherous journey. It's one that has moss on it, but you may not have heard it since you were a boy. It is:

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again!"

In baseball, in business, in all his many and varied activities, the manager of the Detroit Tigers weighs carefully every task, every problem that confronts him. He asks himself, "Can I do it?" If, after mature deliberation and some experimenting, the answer in his own mind is "Yes!" he sets to work confident that ultimately he will triumph. And the temporary setbacks he may suffer only spur him on to strive the harder.

Ty Cobb has perseverance to the nth degree. He is a preacher of the "try, try again" gospel. That is why we predict that Ty Cobb will win one, and possibly several, American League pennants, before he quits baseball. This may be Detroit's year; we think it is. Ty doesn't say his club will win the champion in '23. He does say, "I have high hopes."

Won't Tolerate Jealousies.

The Tigers' manager insists that there shall be no petty jealousies among his players. If he discovers such "snakes in the grass," to employ his expression, somebody transfers his glove and bat to another city, no matter how valuable he may be. To further promote morale—make of his team "one big happy family"—Ty houses his athletes in two adjoining mansions in Augusta, where they live, eat and think as one. This, Cobb believes, prevents the formation of cliques.

Cobb will not invest a dime on rosebud to the baseball world this season. He is practically standing pat, so far as the regulars go, with the addition of Derrill Pratt, veteran second-sacker, obtained in a trade with the Boston Red Sox.

There is no real reason why Tyrus should ask Owner Navin to drag out the checkbook and load both barrels of the fountain pen for an expedition into the Double A player market. Last season the team-batting average of Pratt, second; Emery Rigney, shortstop, and Bobby Jones, third, ordinarily hits for a quartet average of better than .300. Last season, Jones, because of injuries and illness, fell below the charmed class.

And that outfield! Sweet daddy! Cobb, .402; Heilman, .356; Veach, .357. Aren't they enough to chase shivers down the spine of a snowman? Cobb is thirty-six years old; Veach admits to thirty-five. They may be nearing the sunset, so far as active playing goes. But we'll lay odds that, barring accidents or a blizzard in July, Tyrus and Bobby will sicken the heart of many an American League hurler in 1923.

Capable Crew of Understudies.

Tyrus also has such competent understudies as Clif Brady, who was one of the best hitting and fielding second-basemen in the International League last season, playing with Rochester; Johnny Kerr, who led the shortstops in the Western International League; Johnny Neun, who played a fine first sack for Birmingham in the Southern association (all of these lads batted well over .300). And there is Bes Burke, a semi-pro infielder from New England, who shows promise.

If the fates are unkind to the regular outfielders, there are Ira Flagstead, who was with the Tigers last year and batted .308, and Fothergill, who led the International league with .333 and then hit .323 in forty-two games when he joined Detroit in the fall. Manush, a lad who slugged .376 for Omaha in the Western League, by his work in Augusta caused Ty to remark: "That boy looks better to me than any rookie outfielder I have seen in action in recent years."

Pins Faith on Pillette and Johnson.

It is about his pitchers that the man who injected Ty into Tygers likes best to talk. He thinks that Pillette and Johnson, the Portland pair—for whom Detroit gave Sammy Hale, the Athletics' $75,000 third-sacker, and cash money—will have the baseball world paying tribute to them in 1923. Pillette won nineteen and lost twelve last year, his first in the major league. Johnson was a casualty the greater part of the season. When he became physically fit in the late summer, he won seven and lost three.

Dauss, the veteran, will be another member of the regular staff. Warren Collins, obtained in a trade with Boston, is expected to take his turn on the slab and do his stuff. He won eight of his last nine starts for the last-place Red Sox in 1922. Ty always liked Collins' style; he has worked with him in Augusta and is certain he has a consistent winner.

(Copyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Company.)

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

Yale's expenses for rowing last season was $56,434.

Intercity League soccer football series will start in Toronto April 14.

Ping Bodie, outfielder of the Vernon Club, Pacific Coast league, is a holdout. He has received a number of attractive offers from semi-pro clubs.

The combined tennis team of Oxford and Cambridge of London will play a team representing the universities of Belgium at home April 30.

George Sisler may be compelled to submit to a nasal operation. If this is necessary he will not participate in the opening game with Detroit April 18.

Sam Langford, having reached the end of his career as a boxer, has turned wrestler. Sam at present is located in Los Angeles, where wrestling is popular.

Benny Meyers, once with Brooklyn as an outfielder, is managing Salina in the Southwestern League. Meyers was one of the most noted chatterboxes in baseball.

Joe Mathes, minor league manager and player, has joined the St. Louis Browns as a coach. Mathes can play the infield and outfield acceptably in a pinch.

Miss Mary K. Browne, formerly national woman's tennis champion, plans to invade the east this year to participate in both the national woman's golf and tennis tournaments.

Professors at Indiana University have donated cups which will be presented most promising punters among football candidates. Drop and placement kickers will also be rewarded.

Mark Shaughnessy, manager of Jack McAuliffe, Detroit heavyweight, has asked Tex Rickard for a bout with Luis Firpo as the semi-final to the Willard-Johnson battle.

Players valued at $110,000 will be fighting it out for the same position with the Giants this spring. This "battle" will be put on in center field. The athletes in question are Jimmy O'Connell and Ralph Shinners.

Larry Lajoie, Honus Wagner, Billy Keeler, Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander were basement bargains, but two years after they were discovered money couldn't purchase their services.

Illinois A. C. of Chicago will hold the amateur water polo championship April 4 and 5. The national 440-yard relay and 150-yard backstroke championships will be held in conjunction with the polo events.

Albert A. Exendine is the third Indian football coach engaged by the Washington State College. Exie, who coached Georgetown's elevens from 1913 through last season, succeeds Welch, former Carlisle star.

Mike Brady, Oakland Hills pro and western open champion, has practically decided to enter the British open this year. He plans to combine business with pleasure. Brady is playing the best game of his career.

Carson Lee Bigbee, of the Pittsburgh club, in a game played Sept. 3, 1922, against Chicago and on the Cubs field, with G. Alexander hurling, came to bat in the eleventh inning with the score 4 to 0 and drove the ball over the right field fence, sending in Max Carey and himself.

Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, is attempting to arrange a deal with a major league club in an effort to obtain a left-handed pitcher before the season opens.

Herbert Steger, Michigan backfield man, clears his room in the Zeta Psi fraternity house each evening for a half hour drill in punting form. He explains that he kicks the ball only easily to safeguard everything breakable in the room.

Saturday 22 members of the Yale baseball squad chaperoned by Head Coach Bernie Tommers, freshman coach Joe Wood, Manager Charles Stone, and others, will entrain for Macon, Ga., where under sunny skies the Yale team will be shaped for the season's campaign.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

New Hartford—Deputy Sheriff H. J. Stanclift has been reappointed agent of the State Humane Society.

Hartford.—Alison Duprey was arrested on the East Side by Policeman Halloran on a charge of breach of the peace when he stood a man against the wall and forcibly attempted to call his attention to a bill for $1.50 which he says was due him, in face overdue.

TO TAKE EIGHT VESSELS AWAY FROM NEW LONDON

Hartford, March 20.—Eight large vessels of the United States shipping board are expected to be taken away from the state pier at New London this summer, Superintendent Waldo E. Clark, of the pier disclosed today to the legislative appropriations committee.

The vessels have been tied up at the pier since a few months after the end of hostilities in the World war and the state has realized a material sum in rentals. Some of the vessels have never been used, having been taken to New London immediately after their completion. They were valued at about $16,000,000 in the aggregate when new. Today their value is put at about $3,000,000.

The state has not yet been officially notified of the intention of the government to rove the ships, but it is understood that the plan is to order all eight to Norfolk or some other southern port, where winter conditions are less harmful to the ships than in Connecticut.

Due to the ice in harbors further north, several Canadian ships have been making use of the state pier this winter, it was stated by Mr. Clark. A 10,000 ton vessel is expected at New London this week to load a cargo of automobiles, pianos and machinery for shipment to Australia and New Zealand. Many similar cargoes have left the state pier recently, and Superintendent Clarke showed photographs of large steamers loading automobiles.

Now that Canadian ships have begun to make use of the pier, Mr. Clarke said he was hopeful of getting more business from the Grand Trunk and Central Vermont railroad.

The superintendent said that there would be other income to counterbalance the loss of revenue in rentals for the shipping board vessels. Negotiations are now in progress, he said, for making the pier a receiving point for wood pulp shipments from abroad for distribution over a wide area in the United States. This business, if secured, would require both sides of the pier.

If a young wife sends to the drug store for baking powder her husband need not expect biscuits like these his mother made.

DODGE BROTHERS TOURING CAR

As Spring days approach, the demand for Dodge Brothers Touring Car mounts swiftly.

Dodge Brothers one problem, at present, is not how many Touring Cars they can sell, but how many they can build.

Never was public approval of Dodge Brothers product more obvious, and never was it more richly deserved.

Improvements, rarely spoken of but constantly being made, have brought the car to a state of perfection which can only be described as remarkable, even for Dodge Brothers.

Every part which takes a major strain is built of chrome vanadium steel. Many more pieces of alloy steel are used in vital parts than normal wear requires.

THE PRICE IS $860.00 DELIVERED

THE JORDAN AUTO COMPANY

1029 MAIN STREET WILLIMANTIC, CONN

LITTLE JACK RABBIT
By DAVID CORY

Hello, boys and girls! Listen to me while I tell you how I first met Little Jack Rabbit.

When I was a little boy about 8 years old every day after school I used to go out to the woods and sit under a big tree to watch and look and listen for all the four-footed furry coated folk and little feathered people of the forest. I'd sit, Oh, so quietly, hardly daring to move my head for fear I'd frighten away little Squirel Nutcracker as he came climbing down the tree trunk in his little gray fur overcoat, or little Chippy Chipmunk in his red striped fur jacket, jumping over a fallen tree, or maybe little Jenny Wren in her little brown feather dress as she hopped over the mossy ground.

But one day as I sat beneath the big chestnut tree, something happened—

All of a sudden,
Just like that,
Quick as the wind
That blows off your hat,

a little rabbit came hopping up the path through the trees dressed in a little khaki suit. He had a little khaki cap, a little khaki jacket, a pair of little khaki breeches and on his shoulder was a little knapsack and over his left arm a little red striped candy cane with a bent handle, the kind you find on Christmas trees.

No sooner did the little bunny boy catch sight of me than he stopped short and shouted:

"Hello, Davie Cory!"

Dear me, I was so startled and almost frightened because I was only a little boy and had never heard a rabbit talk before, that for a moment I couldn't find my voice, and when I did could only stammer:

"Who-o-o who-o told you my name?"

"Bobbie Redvest," replied the little bunny. "He told me that little boy Cory sits almost every afternoon under the big chestnut tree to see Squirrel Nutcracker, Chippy Chipmunk, Timmie Meadowmouse, Beaver and all the little people of Shady Forest."

"What's your name?" I asked, plucking up courage.

"Little Jack Rabbit," he answered. "Don't you want to come with me and see where I live?"

"Oh, yes!" I answered. "Take me with you!"

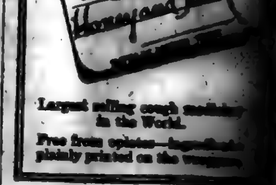
Then the little bunny turned around and went hopping down the path and out among the trees, clippity, flippety, hip, his little body bouncing up and down on his hind legs.

Oh, his little knapsack
Went bumperty bump,
As he hopped down the path,
And over a stump.

And tomorrow night you shall hear what happened after that.

Copyright, 1923, by David Cory.

He shouted: "Hello, Davie Cory!"



Largest selling cough medicine in the World.

Free from opiates—for adults and children—plainly printed on the wrapper.

LEE & CO.

TRY ONE TODAY

...ch Bulletin
and Courier
...27 YEARS OLD
...Wednesday, March 21, 1923

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this paper as well as all the news dispatches of the Associated Press.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MARCH 17th, 1923
11,960

FAILS OF ENDORSEMENT.

Efforts to avoid the initiation of direct negotiations by Germany concerning the situation in the Ruhr are coming far from the mark. Germany has indicated its plan for a reparation settlement to other nations, and in doing so its purpose is plain. It hoped to get some one or more of the others interested to the point where they would use their influence with France to obtain a settlement.

It was a well conceived plan and intended to circumvent direct negotiations. Possibly Germany had hoped that others would make it the business to give it that assistance, and thereby indicate that they had more or less sympathy with the action taken by Germany.

Whatever disposition there might be to bring about an early adjustment of the situation, it could not be reasonably expected that action would be taken that should be construed in advance to be objectionable to France. Nobody there is willing to hear what that country may be prepared to offer, if it is first understood it will be rejected. Germany must come to France, and not expect that France will go to Germany.

That very well describes what has been followed by Germany. It gives no sign willing to help out the statements out of the fire. It may give it a better idea of how it stands with the other nations as compared with Germany and it must therefore be regarded as a valuable bit of enlightenment. It would be a mistake if such a view were not taken.

When this country is told that there would be no objection to permitting France to know the contents of the suggestion made, even if it did not desire to actually present it to France, the sense effect is suggested that a matter which now exists between Germany and France is not a matter which now exists between Germany and the United States. The point decision is reached, and it is plain, should be taken as plain as it ought to be, that Germany that is has no business to be diplomatically dictated to as to the compact of the three.

PREDICTIONS.

A prediction was made public by a former Chicago police commissioner, who said that that city with its ... would be ... by ... It would be ... to ... that ... would be ... by ... The ... would be ... by ... It is quite ... that ... would be ... by ... There ... by ... that ... would be ... by ... The ... would be ... by ... It

...NEYS CLOG ...EED FLUSHING

Drink Water Freely and Often, Also Take Salts If Back Hurts

...ing your kidneys hurt and feel ...back? Does your back ache, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that upset the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any druggist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and ...mon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

PRESIDENT PLAYED GOLF AT FORT PIERCE

Fort Pierce, Fla., March 20 (By the A. P.).—Endeavoring to play no favorites among rival Florida east coast cities, President Harding stopped here today for his round of golf. He played at Vero, fourteen miles north of here, on the cruise south of Miami.

The vacation houseboat Pioneer, which steadily steaming from Hobe Sound, where the vessel lay last night, arrived here about 2 o'clock this afternoon, accompanied by the Mayflower, on which Mrs. Harding, Surgeon General Braisted, Mrs. Braisted, and Mrs. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, and Mrs. Frelinghuysen and Senator Hale of Maine are cruising northward.

Mr. Harding played with Mrs. Frelinghuysen against Edward B. McLean and Chairman Lasker of the shipping board. The president and his partner halved the first round of nine holes, and lost the second.

Mr. Harding did not putt quite the same here and it was learned that Mrs. Harding suffered a slight recurrence of her old trouble but had improved so that no concern was felt.

That the slight disorder was entirely of short duration was indicated by the fact that Brigadier General Charles M. Sawyer, the White House physician, could not have been at hand during the afternoon, while the President proceeded up the Indian river to Vero.

The president, after the golf match, motored to Vero and boarded the houseboat, which anchored for the night above the town. The cruise northward will be resumed early tomorrow, with a stop for golf, probably at Melbourne.

A Concrete Hardener.

Calcium chloride and lime slaked to a powder, for hardening and hastening the setting of concrete. With a little of this substance added to some concrete, the hardening of the concrete increased more than 100 per cent in one and two days.

"LIKE WATER ON A FIRE"

"That's How Father John's Medicine Acts on a Cold"

"Father John's Medicine acts on a cold like water on fire. We have used Father John's Medicine in our family and the children have been helped greatly by it. We think Father John's Medicine is a safeguard in time of sickness." (Signed) Mrs. A. Baldwin, West Gunner, Mass.

Father John's Medicine will "put it" a cold because it gives strength to fight off the disease and helps the patient to regain normal health. It is safe for all the family to take because it is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

COOKS On All Subjects In All Kinds

Subscription to all American and European Publications

SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

DAMASCUS STEEL PRODUCTS

Lock Saw Blades that don't break. Butcher Knives that a hammer won't break; sharpen with a file.

STEAK KNIVES
COLD CHISELS
PINCERS, PLIERS, ETC.

THE HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET
TELEPHONE 601-4

Norwich, Wednesday, March 21, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Today officially ushers in spring.

Light vehicle lamps at 6:10 o'clock tonight.

The fish will not at taking 6 o'clock this year.

...ollowed Friday the 13th, the M. M. Record tonight at 7:30.—adv.

A pension of $30 a month has been granted to Martha R. Shepard of Westerly by the U. S. pension bureau.

Any dealer who claims ...nnounced a cut of $1 a ton in coal prices on Tuesday. This makes the price $15.75.

The Veteran Corps of Company K, First Infantry, C. N. G., will hold its annual meeting Tuesday evening, March 27, at East Hartford.

A very attractive booklet, issued by the U. S. navigation system, tells what the government is doing to encourage the people to practice economy and thrift.

The U. S. civil service commission announced that applications for junior engineer and clerk officer will be rated as received until June 30. Entrance salary is $2,000.

George M. Crosby, of the George E. Crosby Co. Inc., printers, Springfield, who died at his winter home in Florida, Monday, leaves a daughter, Mrs. Alfred C. Reed of Danielson.

Ringmaster whist tonight, Buckingham Memorial, 8 o'clock.—adv.

Prof. William Myers of the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy gave a short address on Vocations for College Women in Religious and Social Work in Bradford living room at Connecticut College.

While crossing a cat in front garage at Groton Tuesday, Lorain Trask, an employee of the garage, ...ously injured his right wrist when the engine kicked. It is thought that the wrist may be broken.

Mrs. Herbert Harwood and son, Kenneth, of 32 Pequonnoc road will at the end of this month sail for Spain where they will join Mr. Harwood who is engaged in submarine work for the Electric Boat Co.

United States submarines S-31 and 32 commanded by Lieuts. W. A. Heard, U. S. N., and E. D. Hazlett, U. S. N., respectively, left the base Tuesday afternoon for Colon, Panama, to join the Pacific fleet.

Music Hall Park church, Parish House, Friday, 2 p. m., afternoon tea.—adv.

Approximately $1,000 was collected at a public auction sale conducted on the Copp farm in Groton, by Theodore G. Goodrich who disposed of the greater part of his farm equipment. He acted as his own auctioneer.

Mrs. J. D. Armstrong of Buffalo, N. Y., who belongs to the Shennecossett Country club at Eastern Point led the field in this week's stock tourney on the golf links at Pinehurst, N. C., and won the prize with a total of 91.

Prohibition ...ed 91 per cent in the number of drink cases to come to the attention of the Charity Organization Society of Hartford between 1917 and 1922 is shown by a survey of the entire country recently made by the Boston Family Welfare Society.

The March meeting of the McCall Mission is to be held Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. Tyler Brooks of Broadway.

Half of the ministers of the United States are without theological training and of the remainder only one-half are college graduates, Rev. Ellis Ransen B. Ogilby, president of Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., declared.

The Noank fishing fleet was unable to get out in the grounds Monday owing to the thick fog. The most of the fishermen are just now fishing off Pleasant View a few of them however, have been fishing off Point Judith.

10 special orders issued from headquarters, First Corps Area, at Boston, First Lieutenant H. F. Bidwell, infantry, is relieved from assignment to the 104th infantry, by reason of change of address from Hartford to Worcester, Mass.

Certificates of dissolution have been filed by the following corporations: The Ledyard Gas and Electric Light Co. and the Ledyard Water Co. The Night Motor Sales Co., of Bridgeport. The Repeater Products Co., Inc., Cheshire.

Real fancy roe or buck shad, Noank cod or cat, eastern fresh caught halibut, scallops, clams and oysters at Peters Bros.—adv.

It is interesting to note that until the recent rains there has been snow on the ground for 79 days since the new year started. Accordings to ...ord, snow covered the ground for 27 days in January, 25 in February and 15 in March.

That civil services should be an unknown quantity in the public prosecutor's office and that the present grand jury system is wrong, were two statements made by State Attorney Arbon A. Alling in a talk at a smoker for Yale Law School students.

With an outbreak of smallpox in the southwestern part of the state and an epidemic of typhoid fever in the northeastern part, the state department of health is devoting its energies to check the spread of the diseases in the factories to which they have been traced.

Light receipts of dressed meats during the past week assisted in ...ding the markets in some cities but price advances were not in evidence. Steers of the poorer grades were offered in limited numbers and choice grade stock showing considerable finish was liberal.

Unrestricted immigration has been the cause of the burden placed on this state in the care of its feebleminded charges, in the opinion of the trustees of the Mansfield State Training School and Hospital, whose report for the last two years has been submitted to Governor Templeton.

Former Governor Emery J. San ...ed as collector of customs for the district of Rhode Island, ...ed appointed for four years from the date of taking the oath of office, March 16, 1923. He succeeds Judge Frank R. Fitzsimmons, who has held the office since May 26, 1914.

Arthur Gaggall, who, with Warren Whitehead, operates the Hell-Cat, a sailing craft, returned to Groton from Newport Monday afternoon, suffering from severe burns about the face and hands as a result of a gasoline tank explosion aboard the boat while she was docked at Newport Sunday evening.

Westerly may soon have another Catholic church if present plans being made by residents of Italian birth should materialize. A meeting of those interested was held and a committee was named to look into the matter. This committee will make a report at another meeting to be held in the near future.

PERSONAL

Mayor Milo R. Warner was in Hartford Tuesday on business.

Carlisle E. Chapman of Norwich was a visitor in Salt City Tuesday.

Cornelius Haley has returned to his home in Baltic after spending a month in Colorado.

Officer Barney Keenan is confined to his home with a badly injured toe from a cut.

Prohibition Officer Burton L. Briggs was in Norwich Monday to secure warrants.

Attorney William H. Hamlin, Jr., was in Hartford Tuesday afternoon on a business trip.

Friends will be sorry to hear that Wilfred Dion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon C. Dion, is seriously ill at his home.

D. J. Handelman of North High street has returned from a visit in New York and Bridgeport, where he was accompanied by his two sons.

His home on Church street having been broken up by the recent death of his wife, Marshall Jewett is soon to ...ain his home with Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Evans of Washington street. Mr. Mills is a cousin of Mrs. Jewett. Miss Alice Jewett, Mr. Thomas Slater, 14, is ...to reside with Mr. and Mrs. Ag S. Comstock of Williams street. Miss Jewett being Mrs. Comstock's aunt.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Michael Rheaume.

Mrs. Mary Rheaume, wife of Michael Rheaume, died Monday morning at her home in Montville. Mrs. Rheaume was 59 years of age and was born in France, but had resided in Montville practically all her life. She is survived, besides her husband, by a sister, Miss Rose Reilz and by four sons, Henry, Velie, Arthur and Fred Rheaume.

FUNERAL.

Mrs. Patrick Nealon

Funeral services for Mary McCarthy, wife of Patrick Nealon, were held Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at her late home, 76 Mowry avenue with a large attendance of relatives and friends. There were many beautiful floral forms.

A solemn requiem mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Memorial church at 9 o'clock Rev. William A. Keefe being the celebrant, Rev. Myles P. Galvin, deacon, Rev. Frederick Cohalan, sub-deacon. The musical part of the mass was in charge of Henry LaFontaine who rendered Pie Jesu at the offertory, Beautiful Land on Earth as the waiting hymn, Nearer, My God to Thee, as the procession departed from the church.

Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery where a committal service was read by Rev. Father Keefe assisted by Rev. Father Cebolas.

The bearers were Thomas Ryan, James McNerny, Thomas McHugh, Bernice McCarthy, William Carroll and Lawrence Kelly.

Cummings and Ring was in charge.

Mrs. Nealon died Saturday at her home on 76 Mowry avenue. She was born in Ireland, the daughter of John and Mary Finn McCarthy, and came to this country when a young girl. In 1885 she was married to Patrick Nealon by Rev. Father Shahan in the St. Patrick's church.

She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. George Meeks of West Newton, Mass., Mrs. William Weir, Mrs. Louis Combes and one son, Nicolas Nealon of this city. She is also survived by six grandchildren. She was a member of the New England Order of Protection and a devoted member of St. Mary's Memorial church.

Mrs. Sherman A. Beebe.

Relatives and friends from Hartford, Montville, New London, Glastonbury, Vermont and other places attended the funeral of Mrs. Sherman A. Beebe, held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from her late home on the old Canterbury turnpike.

The service was conducted by Rev. Gurdon E. Bailey of Norwich Town who paid tribute to the life of Mrs. Beebe and read Lead, Kindly Light, her favorite hymn.

The body was conveyed to Maplewood cemetery and placed in the receiving vault where Rev. Mr. Bailey conducted a committal service. The bearers were B. A. Beebe, F. R. Beebe, Hadley Potter of Montville, George T. Clarke of Hartford, and C. N. Smith of Glastonbury, relatives of the deceased.

CITY'S $20,000 SUIT GOES OVER FOR REASSIGNMENT

The $20,000 suit of the city of Norwich vs. Ignatius J. Murphy, Walter W. Lang and others, trial of which was due to begin in New London Tuesday morning before Judge C. L. Avery in the superior court, went over to Friday for reassignment.

When the case was called for trial, Attorney C. V. James of counsel for the defendants stated to the court that Attorney J. J. Desmond, who had been associated in the case, had withdrawn from it, and Attorney James asked a continuance as he said his partner, Arthur M. Brown, was to enter the case and had had no time to become familiar with it.

To this counsel for the city, who are Corporation Counsel William H. Shields, Jr., and Edmund W. Perkins, made objection, as they were on hand for the trial, with their witnesses. Against their objection Judge Avery granted the continuance, the defendants agreeing to pay the plaintiff's costs.

STEAMER CAPE COD NOW OFF THE ROCKS

The freighter Cape Cod, owned by the Thames River Line, Inc., which ran aground at Orient Point last Wednesday, was floated and taken to Greenport, L. I., Monday, according to information issued from the office of the Thames River Line, Inc., Tuesday.

The wrecking crew sent by the T. A. Scott company is still at work on the boat, and it had been found necessary to renew about 20 feet of plank and 15 feet of the keel. The home office expects that the boat will be able to continue on its way to New York at once after temporary repairs are made.

THREE ARRESTED AFTER FIGHT IN RESTAURANT

John Vereschich, 34, Benjamin Gromko, 24, and Jacob Andrisovich, 27, were arrested in Greeneville Tuesday night, charged with breach of the peace, after a fight that was reported to have taken place in Gromko's restaurant on Sixth street. Officer Peter Driscoll arrested the first named and the other two were taken into custody by Sergeant Kane, Officers P. Driscoll, J. Doubleedi and P. Murphy.

Grand Master Made Visitation.

Arthur M. Brown of Jewett City, grand master of Masons of Connecticut, accompanied by Associate Officers, visited Brainard lodge, No. 103, A. F. and A. M., at the Masonic temple in New London Tuesday evening. The Master Mason degree was exemplified in full form under the direction of Worshipful Master John C. Austin.

New incorporations include: The Westport Standard company, Westport, newspaper publishing; authorized capital, $15,000, to begin with $1,000; Inc. G. Gregory, Dorothy L. McClane, Marie T. Weingartner.

MOTOR BUS USED BY SHORE LINE ELECTRIC

SHORE LINE ELECTRIC RAILWAY
ADDING MOTOR BUSSES TO SERVICE

Instead of by trolley cars, the Shore Line Electric Railway company is now giving passengers service between Mystic and Old Mystic by one of the White motor busses of the type illustrated herewith. The bus runs on the same schedule as the trolley cars used to follow. The bus used is the model 50 chassis which is designed solely for passenger transportation. It is the 25-passenger enclosed type, making a type of car that has appealed to leading electric railway companies for operation as feeders or auxiliaries to trolley service. What is said to be the largest order for motor busses ever placed has just been received by the White company from the Pacific Electric Railway Co., for 71 busses of the same model as is now used between Mystic and Old Mystic.

The Shore Line is to use busses between Groton and New London, running them across the Thames river bridge as auxiliary to the trolley service, but a different make of bus is to be used. Orders have been placed for two Hazeel busses, which were shipped Tuesday from Oakland, Cal. It is not known how soon they can be expected to arrive here. These have a coach body.

GAVE FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. R. DANIEL TRICK

The Ladies' Aid society of the Third Baptist church gave a farewell party Tuesday evening for Mrs. R. Daniel Trick who is to leave early next week for Bridgeport where her husband, Rev. Mr. Trick has accepted the pastorate of the Second Baptist church.

About 40 members of the society were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The surprise came when the party was about over when a large package was presented to Mrs. Trick, who upon opening it found a beautiful present from the members of the society. Mrs. Trick thanked them for the remembrance and said that her friends in Norwich would always hold a place in her memory.

The pleasant affair was in charge of Mrs. George A. Howard and Mrs. William A. Lund.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HAD CLASS OF NINE

White Cross council, No. 13, held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening at the Knights of Columbus home on Broadway the first degree being conferred on a class of nine candidates.

The members showed considerable interest in the attendance next Sunday morning March 25th, when the council in a body will attend communion at St. Mary's Memorial church. Following the service the members will adjourn to the Wauregan House where a breakfast will be served. It is expected that every member will attend the service at St. Mary's church and the other two were taken into custody by Sergeant Kane, Officers P. Driscoll, J. Doubleedi and P. Murphy.

Charles Richardson Back in Detroit

Word has been received that Charles W. Richardson has arrived at his home in Detroit after spending the winter with relatives in Norwich and vicinity. This was the first winter he had spent in Connecticut since leaving his home in North Stonington 45 years ago, and he writes that winters here are much more severe than in Michigan. Since living in Detroit Mr. Richardson has been successful in business. Mr. Richard's wife is a cousin of Henry Ford, well known automobile manufacturer.

Bill for State Forester.

A bill for the appointment of a state forester was passed in the house on Tuesday. The salary is to be liked by the state park and forest commission, subject to the approval of the board of control.

TOWN SCHOOL BONDS ARE AWARDED AT 100.42

Bids on the $259,000 of school bonds of the town of Norwich were opened Tuesday, ten having been received by the selectmen, and the bonds were awarded to E. H. Rollins & Sons, of Boston on their high bid of 100.62. The bids came from financial houses in various parts of the east, the local bidders being the Norwich Savings Society and the Uncas National bank.

The sum which the bonds will realize to the town, $260,605.80, will be enough to pay all the expenses of their issue and leave several hundred dollars over. The bonds, which are in $1,000 denomination, are all printed and can be delivered as soon as they have been signed by the selectmen and the town clerk and town treasurer. The bonds are a 20-year serial issue, dated March 15, 1923, interest rate 4 1-4 per cent., and payable $10,000 each year from 1924 to 1939 and $11,000 each year from 1940 to 1948. Interest is to be paid the town by the bidders until the delivery of the bonds.

The fine financial condition of the town has been of the greatest value in selling these bonds at such a good bid above par as the town's financial statement showed that on an assessed valuation of $19,986,463, real value (estimated) of $30,000,000, the total bonded debt is $376,000 including this issue and the floating debt is $13,-301.41.

The selectmen had valued assistance in marketing the bonds from C. R. Butts, treasurer of the Norwich Savings Society, and William H. Allen, president of the Uncas National bank.

VOTE AGAINST ADDITION TO COUNTY HOME

(Special to The Bulletin)

Hartford, March 20.—The adjourned meeting of the New London county members was held with Senator Rogers of New London in the chair, and Representative Edgecomb acting as clerk. On motion of Mr. Cronin of New London it was voted to postpone indefinitely the erection of the additional building at the county home in Norwich. On motion of County Commissioner Smith it was voted to law a tax of one-half mill, the tax to be laid on the levy of 1923, to be collected and placed in the possession of the county treasurer by July 1st, 1923. It was stated that the reason of postponement in building at the county home was that the towns had all laid their tax and none had made provision to meet a tax this year. This means that no tax will be collected from the towns this year, but will be next. The meeting adjourned without date.

NORWICH OPPOSITION TO TAX ON WATER SYSTEM

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, March 20.—Mayor Milo A. Waters, Water Commissioner B. S. Bartlett and Supt. John J. Corkery of Norwich were among those who appeared before the judiciary committee today in opposition to the bill introduced by Mr. Deloy of Harwinton that would impose an additional tax upon the water systems in the state. As no one appeared for the bill it was not necessary to show the opposition. A number were present from other cities in the state who have opposed the provisions of the bill.

WEAVERS ON STRIKE AT SHETUCKET WORSTED

Forty-five weavers employed at the Shetucket worsted mill at Baltic went out on strike Tuesday morning over demands for full price on all fancies and an increase of two cents per yard on white woolen piece dyes.

At a meeting Tuesday evening held in the town building by local 23, of woolen workers, which was addressed by A. J. Gauthier, president of the Connecticut Textile council, support of the national organization was promised to the strikers and it was voted that the remaining departments of the mill should be called out at noon today (Wednesday.) It is claimed that the mill is 100 per cent organized. The local is reported to have 100 members.

Gave Miscellaneous Shower.

Charitable circle, King's Daughters, gave a miscellaneous shower for one of its members at a social meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs J. Frank Corey and Miss Hutton at 45 Union street. Entertaining games were played during the evening and dainty refreshments were served.

The Winsted Hosiery Company has increased its authorized capital stock from $500,000 to $600,000.

BLAMES PARENTS FOR FAILURES OF CHILDREN

At a meeting of the Men's club of Trinity Episcopal church held Tuesday evening at the church parlors men of Christ Episcopal church and St. Andrew's church were guests at an entertainment which followed.

The business meeting was led by President W. H. Harder and considerable routine business was transacted. The following committees were appointed for April: Entertainment, G. P. Thomas, chairman; refreshments, Charles Slpugh, C. H. Phelps and W. E. Gilbert.

Following the business session and after the address of the evening Henry LaFontaine gave a splendid vocal program and was repeatedly called back for encores. His splendid voice, clear enunciation, and interpretation of the difficult numbers was of the best, and this well known local singer won the praises of his large audience. In all the numbers the accompaniment was played by Miss Mary Woods. The selections were as follows: Group I: The Raptures of Your Kiss, Andrews; The Great Awakening, Kramer; encore, Little Red Wagon, Brown. Group II: The Palms, Faure; Smilin' Thru', Penn; encore, My Dear Little Irish Rose, Abbie Gerrien Jones.

The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. J. H. Rosebaugh of Hartford, director of religious education in the Hartford diocese, whose topic was, The Duties of a Father Toward His Children. It is refreshing, he said, to speak to men, for the greater part of a minister's life is spent talking to women, and this is wrong, for the men should not leave the responsibility of religion to the women. It is a pleasure to speak to your club, but right off, let me tell you that there are clubs and there are clubs. The club that meets simply for its own enjoyment should die and will die. There should be no church club unless it has some definite object, a religious one, in view, and keeps plugging ahead toward the objective in spite of everything. Its object should be the furtherance of Christ's religion in one way or another.

The war showed us the spirit of helplessness in our world, we saw things put up with labor and pain, quickly shattered and torn down by devastating war, and we stood helpless in front of the thing. The saving, what's the use of it all, swept through us. We see our young folks doing the things they are doing today. They think it is smart to get drunk, to have something on the hip in these days of prohibition. We have heard of such things happening in a high school to the north of your city.

Most people think of immorality simply as the breaking of the Seventh Commandment, and according to their idea you can break all the rest of the Commandments and get away with it. To some morals a life of thou shalt nots, and they are wrong. Some people think that being good on Sunday permits them to do anything they wish on the other six days. The young people in our land everywhere are seeing through the thing, they know that their fathers are not holding up the ideals.

In many homes in our land we see a Godless home, is a home without God a safe place to bring up children? Why should a child from that home be a Christian? What can you expect? It is perfectly natural that children thrown out into the world from these Godless homes fall when temptations come.

There can be no moral life without religion. Destroy your churches today and you can bury the morals of your community tomorrow. Take out the church which through the preaching of the gospel of Christ pictures all that is moral, and you have nothing left. There can be no moral life without religion.

Why should we do things because it is customary, say the children, even the men of today. We can remember our fathers saying to us, Do it because I say you shan't do otherwise, and that settles it. Say that to the child of today and they do it behind your back or on the Q. T. The boys and girls of today are five years more advanced than we were at their age. They are wise, have brains and see through things quickly. The only way to reach them is to tell them from your own experiences, let your life reflect the spirit.

Moral life is founded on the rock of religion. Read your newspapers and they are full of scandalous news and the fault is ours. We are to blame for the conditions. We took this world from our fathers when they went beyond and what have we done with it. You know the world is rotten today, but our boys and girls have a right to expect that the world should be a better place to live in when we give it to them. What right have you to hand them a rotten world and not give them the implements with which to make it better? You must give them religion, the only implement that will make it better.

Some folks have said the laws of economics would straighten out the world. Russia tried it. They said political economy would do it, and look at congress. All "isms" have failed and it's time to go to the place where we should have gone in the first place, to God.

You can't do anything with God though, without knowing Him. That's where the education in religion counts. Where are the children? Are they in Sunday school? If not it's your business, and yours alone to see that the year. Show me a church with a live Sunday school and I'll show you the church that will live, and vice versa. Children don't go to Sunday school, and why should they? Their fathers don't go. There should be a complete program in every church that is made to guide from the cradle until one foot is in the grave, and this can be done. Unless there is more religion there is no hope for civilization, for country, and for your church. Bring out the children and all unite in one great forward movement for Christianity.

You can train the body and mind, but this is not education, if the soul, all that a man really is, is neglected. By actual figures it is shown that 45 per cent of the people in our country profess any religion, and 52 per cent have no religion and care absolutely nothing for God, for they don't know Him. Fifty-eight million Protestants go to no church whatsoever. Ask about religious training of all Roman Catholics 73 per cent get no religious instruction, the Jewish people to the extent of 85 per cent get no religious instruction, and 65 per cent of the Protestants get no religious instruction, while for an average 7 out of every 10 professing any religion are without any instructions whatsoever, and they know little of Christ, of God, or what their church stands for. It all means nothing to them, they haven't been taught. Jewish people get over 300 hours of religious instruction every year, Catholics get over 200 hours a year, while Protestants get but 38 hours. Is it a wonder that our boys and girls go wrong? We tell our boys and girls that what they learn in public schools in over 3,000 hours a year is worth 30 times that which they receive in Sunday school. We tell them that in hours alone.

You can't have a sound body if the soul is not sound. Leave the body in darkness and it will sicken and die. Leave the soul in darkness and it will also sicken and die.

It is the problem in the home that counts. Every child is imitative, the things that mother and father do are picked up by the child. The child learns by watching the parents and every child reflects the atmosphere of its home just as a mirror reflects that which is placed before it. Can you rightly blame the boy or girl for not caring for God if the parents do not? To a boy, his father is a Jack Dempsey and all wonders combined, and to a girl her mother is greater than Joan of Arc.

HOUSE CLEANING?
Send Us Your Curtains

To relieve you of all the trying labor which washing and drying curtains entails we have developed a special Curtain Service. Your Curtains will be gently and daintily laundered with the edges straight and true.

Curtains which need to be ironed will be done entirely BY HAND.

50c Per Pair

TRY US THIS SPRING
Phone 831

The Troy Steam Laundry
of Norwich, Inc.
282 Franklin Street
F. RUSSELL SMITH, Pres.

NORWICH TOWN

At the last church night service of the First Congregational church, the Young People's Christian Endeavor society presented the pageant entitled A Challenge to America, which was attended by a large gathering. The social committee, Miss Mabel Corrigeux, chairman, Miss Lucile D. Bailey and John L. Browning were in charge.

Miss Jessie E. Hyde supervised the pageant and Ralph H. Marsh announced the numbers. Miss Ida Beebe led in the devotional period. The several parts in the pageant represented the different immigrants of the centuries, beginning with the Pilgrims, about twenty-five in all, including Indians, Pilgrims, those of the Revolutionary period and the immigrants of the later periods.

Miss Mabel Corrigeux, draped in the American flag, represented The Spirit of America; while Miss Rose K. Durr represented the Challenge to America, to meet the immigration problem.

Miss Jennie L. Congdon responded for the women as to how they could meet it: Miss Lucile D. Bailey, for the young people; and Miss Marion L. Bailey with two young children represented the children's part. The real solution of the problem was presented by Mrs. John L. Browning with her infant child and the mite box and the pennies.

Preceding the pageant, about one hundred enjoyed the following delicious menu: Escalloped potatoes, meat loaf, pickles, rolls, coffee and doughnuts.

During the supper hour and for a short time, music was furnished by Miss Marjory Merry, pianist, and Theodore Sterry, violinist.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

Sunday morning at the First Congregational church, the pastor, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, chose for his text, John 1, 14. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. Christ's Revelation of God, was the main thought.

At the Young People's Christian Endeavor service at 6.30 Mrs. John L. Browning was the leader. The topic was, Factors For Making the World Better; How Can We Help? The church night service on Thursday evening will have for its topic, The Ministry of Interpretation.

At the Sunday morning worship at the First Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor, Rev. James B. Aldrich preached from Galatians 6: 1-5. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; for every man shall bear his own burden.

LeRoy Miner was the leader of the Young People's Christian Endeavor service, during which Miss Florence M. Bennett and Lewis Aldrich were heard in a vocal duet. The service was followed by a talk on The Golden Text of the Sunday School, by Rev. Mr. Aldrich.

At this church this (Wednesday) evening, a missionary program is to be given by the missionary committee of the C. E. society of which Mrs. James B. Aldrich is chairman.

This (Wednesday) evening at the First Congregational parsonage, there is to be a meeting of the recently appointed committee, to consider the advisability of organizing a Boy Scout troop, in Norwich Town. The committee comprises Frederic H. Wyatt, chairman, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey and Charles P. Learned.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

Coughs and colds are contagious and require prompt treatment, as they spread or develop into flu and grippe. Take no chances when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar for a few cents and quickly check coughs and colds. The constantly increasing demand for Foley's Honey and Tar, for three generations has made it the largest selling cough medicine in the world. Contains no opiates. Ingredients are printed on the wrapper. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon Foley's. Lee & Osgood Co.

Why should any man be ashamed of being religious? It is the fundamental instinct of man to be religious. If a child is brought up in a home where religion held place, where prayer was a daily theme, this child when he or she is tempted knows that God will aid him and he goes to him in prayer and gets the strength to go on. Don't blame your child for going bad if there is no guidance in the home through religion.

Ingratitude in a child is the worst of all life's bitterness. Why shouldn't the child be ungrateful if he has never heard his father or mother thank God for what they have? Ungratefulness is taught them in their own home. How often have you heard a boy or girl say, my father or my mother says so and that ends it. As far as the boy or girl is concerned that clinches any argument. If the father and mother do not go to Sunday school or church, why should the child? They may force the child to go but when that child gets older he will say, I'm my own boss, father never went so I won't, and he's right.

The greatest gift God gives us is our children and some day we must account before God for them, and what chances we have given them in this world? Did you stand by them in their soul's crisis? Did you give them religious education in the home, church and school? Did you live Christ before them in the home? If you do the boy and girl will do likewise before their children. It's your job, you must do it, you must set the example and do the thing by word of mouth. This world is going to be what you make it, your children what you make them. What are you going to do?

The entertainment for the evening was provided by J. F. Thomas and the refreshments by W. J. Partridge, C. H. Phelps and S. H. Reed.

Task Before America.

America, too, will have to strain its energies, crack its sinews and all but break its heart, as the rest of us have had to do, before it can become a habitation for the gods.—Thomas Carlyle.

It's an easy thing to convince men that honesty is the best policy when it pays better than the other kind.

To Prevent Baldness

Baldness can be prevented easier than cured. Stop falling hair and dandruff by using Parisian sage; best for the hair. Lee & Osgood Co. guarantees money back if not satisfactory.

IF YOU WISH TO SELECT Wedding Gifts
Easter Gifts
Anniversary Gifts or
Gifts for Any Occasion
YOU WILL BE BEST SERVED AT
CRANSTON'S
OUR STOCK IS CONSTANTLY CHANGING

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

The people of Ballouville were shocked Tuesday evening when it was announced that Hector McConnell, superintendent of the mills at that place and Pineville, had died suddenly at his home at 5.45.

On Monday Supt. McConnell was at work as usual, but complained of not feeling well and went home. Tuesday morning he appeared to be better and there was no thought in the mind of anyone that his end was so near at hand. Late Tuesday afternoon his condition suddenly became critical and he died within a short time. The people of Ballouville, where he occupied a position equivalent to being the head of a large family and was admired by everyone, were stunned

Mr. McConnell was one of the best known men in eastern Connecticut, where he had lived since his boyhood, working himself steadily forward to the position of responsibility he held at the time of his death.

Mr. McConnell had sent in his resignation the day of his death and decided to go traveling with his wife.

He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, December 12, 1850, a son of Duncan and Margaret McLeish McConnell. Following the death of his father he came to this country with his mother and her four other children, the family locating in Norwich, where, years afterwards, Mrs. McConnell died.

At the time of his arrival here Mr. McConnell was in his tenth year. He continued in Norwich the studies that he had begun in Glasgow until he felt it necessary to start his life's work. His first employment was with the Shetucket mills in Norwich. He worked in the spinning and other departments of the plant and in the 27 years he remained with the company gained a broad and thorough knowledge of the cotton textile business. He was advanced steadily until he became overseer of the weaving and beaming until he resigned in 1896. He afterward went to Montville and took charge of the cloth room of a mill in that place, remaining in that position for one year. In 1899 he went with the Uncasville Manufacturing company at Versailles, remaining for five years as superintendent, left there to become paymaster at the Totokett mills at Occum. In 1909 Mr. McConnell came to this town as superintendent of the Danielson Cotton company mills, where he remained for six months, resigning to become superintendent at Ballouville, where he has since remained and won a large place for himself in the hearts of the people with whom he has had daily and intimate dealings.

He was fair and scrupulously just to his employes and he has the respect of each and every one of them. He organized the Ballouville Social club, took an active interest in athletics and in many ways helped make life brighter and happier in Ballouville.

At Norwich, October 15, 1894, Mr. McConnell was married to Miss Martha Agnes Service, a native of Worcester, but who spent much of her early life in Norwich. Mrs. McConnell survives her husband with three daughters, Miss Margaret, Miss Mary, both teachers in Killingly's schools, and Miss Isabelle, who is at home.

Politically Mr. McConnell was a republican and for six years served as a member of the Killingly town school committee. He could have had other political honors for the asking, but always declined them. He was a citizen of the very highest type of character and his death will be regretted throughout the town.

Mr. McConnell and the members of his family are members and active workers in the Attawaugan Methodist church.

It is anticipated that the assembly hall at Killingly High school will be filled this (Wednesday) afternoon to hear the address by Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen, New York, nationally known economic specialist, editor and lecturer. Mrs. Bailey comes here under the auspices of the Killingly Woman's club, which organization has for the afternoon declared no restrictions on attendance, usual confined to members, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Vitamines and Jazz will be Mrs. Allen's subject. The lecture is certain to be of special interest, for Mrs. Allen is an unusually fine speaker and an authority who has won recognition throughout the country. It so happens, too, that Mrs. Allen is a native of Killingly, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey. This fact will add to the interest of her appearance here and members of the Killingly Woman's club will be pleased if every last seat is taken at the lecture.

The current issue of a weekly religious review under the heading Ministers' Sons, contains the following article relative to Robert M. Hutchins, secretary of Yale university:

Rev. Robert G. Hutchins, D. D., for some years was the superintendent of church extension in the Presbytery of Brooklyn. His son, Rev. William J. Hutchins, who was a classmate of Brooklyn Presbytery, began his ministry in the pastorate of Bedford church which he led out of an old dwelling house into a handsome modern chapel. Thence he went to a professorship in Oberlin college and now is president of Berea college. At Yale he took high rank anr captured the De Forest gold medal. His son, Robert M. Hutchins, born in Brooklyn, also went to Yale and also took the medal, the only instance of father and son both securing the prize. He was voted by his class to be the man among them "most likely to succeed." During the war he served in the army ambulance service on the Italian front, and for work under fire was awarded the Croce de Guerra. Now at the age of 25 he has been chosen secretary of Yale university, the place filled for 25 years by Rs. Anson Phelps Stokes. Where is that old proverb about ministers' sons.

Secretary Hutchins is a grandson of the late Isaac T. Hutchins, whose home for many years was at the corner of Main and Stearns street in Danielson.

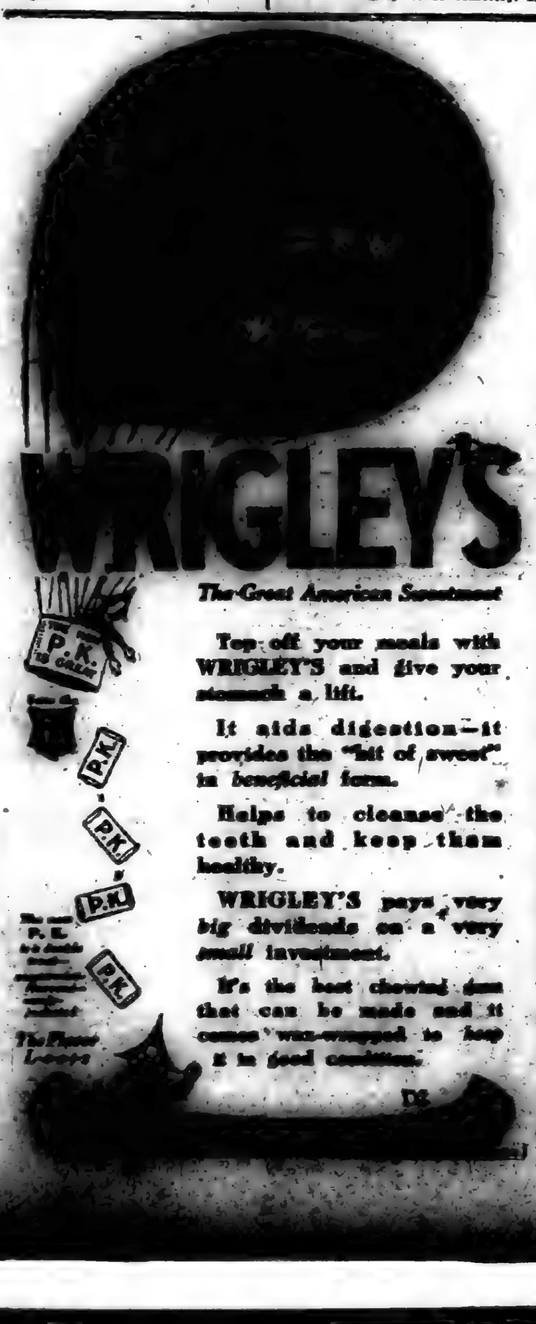
There was an unusually large funeral congregation at St. James' church Tuesday morning to attend the solemn high mass of requiem for Mrs. Rosilda Gaudette, who lost her life in the tragedy in Union street last Thursday morning.

Rev. John Roux, M. S., was celebrant of the mass with Rev. Joseph Moussier, M. S., and Rev. J. B. Shelley, M. S., as deacon and sub deacon. The bearers were Alexander Duhamel, F. X. Godreau, Henry Goulet, Joseph Hallie, Augustus Longo and Joseph St. Germain. The body was placed in the tomb at Holy Cross cemetery. L.

BEECHAM'S
Sweetens the Stomach
PILLS

ALBERTUS F. WOOD
Funeral Director and Embalmer
PHONE 147 DANIELSON

F. W. TILLINGHAST & SONS,
Successors to
F. H. & F. W. Tillinghast,
Central Village, Conn.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS.
Tel. Connect 61-4. Night Call—Danielson 61-4.



WRIGLEY'S
The Great American Sweetmeat
P.K.
Top off your meals with WRIGLEY'S and give your stomach a lift.
It aids digestion—it provides the "bit of sweet" in beneficial form.
Helps to cleanse the teeth and keep them healthy.
WRIGLEY'S pays very big dividends on a very small investment.
It's the best chewing gum that can be made and it comes wax-wrapped to keep it in good condition.

PUTNAM

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Hann on Tuesday observed their 60th wedding anniversary by following their custom of going away for a day's outing. They have taken such wedding anniversary trips for many years and of the few interruptions of this plan one occurred last year, when on his wedding anniversary date Mr. Mann underwent an operation at a Worcester hospital.

The adoption of the following by the state board of education and having to do with elementary service certificates for teachers is of very special interest hereabouts, not only to the teachers but as well to the general public by reason of the fact that the amendment was prepared by Attorney Charles L. Torrey of this city—a member of the state board of education. Service certificates good only for the elementary schools of the state may be granted to teachers who comply with the general conditions of Rule 3 (having to do with bodily health and fitness) for all certificates and who

a—present evidence of three years of successful elementary school teaching service in the public schools prior to July 1, 1923, provided that at least two years of this period were in Connecticut, and b—present evidence of continued professional reading and study.

This certificate may be renewed for periods of one year, upon presentation of evidence of continued professional reading and study and of successful experience in teaching in a Connecticut elementary public school. This certificate may not be the basis of a normal school or a limited elementary certificate.

Amendments also adopted by the state board provide for the issuing of high school service certificates and for special service certificates.

A temperature of 4 degrees above zero early Tuesday—the last full day of winter—came in on the wings of a gale that raged out of the northwest during the night fulfilling the prediction that a cold wave was on the way east following the blizzard in the middle west. The gale was one of the worst of the winter and brought a great deal of discomfort.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Miss Mary F. Potter of North Woodstock as field agent of the state board of education in charge of teachers' training in the department of Americanization. Her salary is $2,000 a year.

Miss Potter succeeds Miss Margaret C. Hickey, resigned. Her work will take her into every section of the state.

County Game Warden Charles Latters is perfecting his plans for a patrol of Windham county brooks for the period prior to the opening of the trout fishing season on April 1. The patrol likely will begin the latter part of this week and will continue thereafter every day, including Sunday next, until April 1.

Last year the border-land of some brooks in the territory was trodden down so as to leave well beaten paths prior to the opening of the season, indicating plainly how the brooks had been raided ahead of the opening of the season.

For the present fishing conditions are not at all good on account of the high water, but this condition may change materially within a few days and it is the purpose of Warden Letters to keep close tabs on all important trout streams, and in this he will have the cooperation of his deputies and others who will volunteer for the work in the interest of fairness to the great majority of fishermen.

There is interest in this city in the fact that Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen of New York is to address the members of the Killingly Woman's club at the assembly hall at the high school in Danielson this (Wednesday) afternoon and that the meeting is open to the public and all interested are invited to attend. Mrs. Bailey, who has relatives in this city, is one of the country's best known home economics specialists.

Monday evening Miss Helen E. Devine, daughter of Mrs. Agnes Devine, was united in marriage at her home on Tatem street with Walter C. Richards of Boston the pastor of the Methodist church officiating. Miss Alice Devine, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Edith Cutler bridesmaid. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Richards will make their home at Sanford, Me., where the construction company for which Mr. Richards is an engineer are engaged on a large contract.

The first of the grass fires reported this year occurred during Tuesday, these being reported from points along the railroad line. Though the earth has been free from snow in places only a few days the sun and winds have dried out the dead grass. The fires, none of which did any serious damage are believed to have been caused by sparks from locomitives.

This week is expected to bring a report from the legislative committee that has the matter in charge on the bill providing that bathing be allowed in Alexander's lake. The bill has strong legislative support and also has been subjected to much opposition before the committee.

Textile operatives in Putnam and surrounding communities are watching with the keenest interest the development of the mill labor situation in Massachusetts, especially in Fall River, where a strike seems impending. The forming of cotton textile unions here has made the Fall River situation of even more than usual interest to the workers in this territory, who feel they will benefit from any advance in wages the Fall River textile workers obtain.

Judge Thomas E. O'Donnell of Kansas City addressed a meeting of the Order of Eagles in their hall here Tuesday evening. Judge O'Donnell's subject was pertaining to Old Age Pensions for members of the order and followed very closely the address that he gave in Norwich the preceding evening. He is touring the east in advancing this interest of the order.

There was a musical program in connection with Tuesday evening's meeting here.

Late passenger train continue to cause complaint from patrons of the New Haven road. One certain passenger train is so consistently late that travelers who use it regularly now figure on not getting to the station until at least half an hour after its scheduled arrival. In railroad circles various explanations are offered as to why the trains are late.

Those who like to speculate are still building air castles in discussing prospective building operations in this city. Included in the rumors of the day is a story about an eight story building to be erected here, but the man who should know about this proposition says there is absolutely no truth to the report.

At the present time more than 300 automobiles are owned in Putnam or about one to every ten people. These cars are said to represent an investment of more than a third of a million dollars, and this sum increases as new cars are put out from day to day, the sales this year being the largest to date of any year in the history of the business.

Repair costs to state highways in this section are going to run into many thousands of dollars this year. The first of the operations to put the roads back into good condition after the wear and tear of the winter are now under way, ridding the highways of ruts and filling up the holes worn in the surfaces during the winter will be in full swing within a short time.

The body of Mrs. John Flood, who died in this city, was removed to Danielson. Mrs. Flood had been ill with pneumonia and other diseases.

Those who do not like daylight saving are disappointed over the action in the Massachusetts legislature giving leave to withdraw a bill providing for repeal of the daylight saving law. It is felt the effect of this will be to have the railroad change in running schedule of trains. Farmers hereabouts who ship milk to Boston are not at all pleased with the prospect of the continuation of an arrangement against which they protested very forcefully last year, but without avail.

The Windham county superior court will hold a short calendar and assignment of cases for trial at Putnam Friday, at 11 a. m., with Hon. Allyn L. Brown, judge, on the bench. The short calendar matters: Ruth M. Babcock vs Harold L. Babcock, order prescribing procedure in taking depositions for plaintiff; Frank A. Phillips vs Evangeline C. Fuller, default and hearing in damages; Frank Brown vs. Thomas Killourey, default and hearing in damages; Antonina Brown vs Samuel and Louis Goldstein, default and hearing in damages: George C. Nichols vs John G. Lewis, motion that case be stricken from the docket in accordance with order of May 26, 1922; Abraham Woda vs Antonina Brown, default and hearing in damages; Alice C. Davis vs Frank A. Davis, motion for alimony pendente lite and allowance.

Uncontested divorces: Isabelle Charlebois vs. Mike Charlebois, Maud L. Young vs. Elmer M. Young, Mary Alice Anderson White vs Claude White.

Trial list, to court: Jessie McK. Webster vs. Burt W. Webster, Rugbee Mfg. Co. vs Samuel Eisenberg, William A. Tator vs. Mary C. Moore.

Your Health is of ... Your ... Consequence!

Every man, woman and child who has constipation or constipation symptoms should leave no stone unturned to get instant relief. Keep away from the dangers of pills and cathartics, which are almost as much to be dreaded as constipation itself. Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN—and it is Kellogg's Bran that will give permanent relief if eaten regularly.

Most cases of Bright's and diabetes can be traced to constipation; in its milder form constipation is responsible for sick headache, nausea, pimples, sour breath, etc. And, we say right here—and guarantee what we say—that Kellogg's Bran, if eaten regularly, will give you permanent relief.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful as a ... [illegible] ... to overcome the ... nervous ... of ... constipation. Kellogg's Bran contains important mineral salts; the mineral elements that are necessary in making bone, tissue and blood—yet, it acts as a sweeper, cleanser and purifier.

But Kellogg's Bran is a cereal. You'll enjoy its nut-like flavor. Or, sprinkle it on or mix it with hot or cold cereals. Many like it cooked with hot cereals. Two tablespoonfuls of bran should be added in each instance. You have asked your grocer to have us make Kellogg's Bran muffins, raisin bread or many other bakery batches. Recipes on every package. Prominent hotels, restaurants and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

PLAINFIELD

A post card, containing a picture of Nazareth in the Holy Land, was received this week by Rev. William C. Prentiss from Dr. Arthur A. Chase, who is with the Plainfield party on the Empress of Scotland, continuing on their Oriental cruise. The card bears this brief message: "Here and at the Sea of Galilee today. Ate fish from the sea for dinner. Party well."

A very worthy enterprise at the Community house is the work being carried on by the carpentry and painting classes which are busy building bird houses and constructing garden sticks. The bird houses should be put up as soon as possible to accommodate the early comers among the birds.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

Miss Esther Wilson is at home from college for the Easter vacation which she will spend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. William Wilson.

P. W. Lewis on Pleasant street, who has been poorly for a long time, has not been as well since Sunday.

Henry Adams after a severe attack of the grip is getting about again and taking up his work once more.

On Monday evening there was a unique and pleasant social affair at the vestry of the Congregational church when the Young Men's Bible class entertained some of their friends. Following a brief business meeting, which was conducted by the leader, Ray W. Greene, the following program was given: Comic sketch by Ray Greene and Albert Bibeau; humorous reading by Clifford Marston; piano duet by Earl Butler and Alfred Royle; and a piano solo by Curtis Phillips. New and exceedingly interesting games were played, ice cream and cake being served by the young men.

The First Ecclesiastical society and church building committee will meet at the church Wednesday evening and not Thursday as printed in the paper.

The Ladies' Aid will hold a business meeting and continue their work for the Easter sale at the home of Mrs. George Babcock on Wednesday afternoon.

A group of boys from The Caney Creek Community Center, Kentucky, will be at the town hall, Central Village, at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, March 29, 1923, and they will bring a message well worth listening to. There is no admission and no appeal for funds. These boys have spoken before chambers of commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, schools and churches all over the country and they have met with most enthusiastic receptions everywhere.

SOUTH KILLINGLY

A. A. Jacques, who has been in Frostproof, Fla., this winter, returned home Thursday. Mr. Jacques has enjoyed the winter in the south very much, stating the first snow he has seen was Wednesday when he arrived in New York. Friends of Mr. Jacques have received and enjoyed some most delicious fruit which he brought from the sunny south.

R. G. Remington of Willimantic called on A. E. Hall Tuesday.

F. H. Paine of Woodstock was in this section Tuesday for the yearly inspection of cattle, barns and utensils used in the production of milk.

A. E. Hall and Francis Coffey were in Danielson Tuesday evening to attend the father and son banquet at the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spaulding, their daughter Myra and a friend, all of Auburn, R. I., visited relatives here Sunday.

Fred Gomo returned to work Tuesday after a vacation of a week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn entertained their daughter from Plainfield over the week end.

The rain and fog Friday removed a large part of the snow and ice which has covered the ground for many weeks. Bluebirds and robins have been seen and maple sap is running. Everything points to the fact that spring is on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. George Slater entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jacques and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. George Plimpton and Mrs. Fannie Brown, all of Providence.

EKONK

A number from here attended the Dollar day sales in Moosup on Saturday. It was the first sale of this kind for Moosup.

Joseph Tyler, who has been very ill with influenza at the home of George Gallup, is somewhat improved.

The family of Carl Gallup, who have been suffering with grip, are on the road to recovery.

On account of the severe storm on Friday evening the regular meeting of Ekonk grange was postponed to Saturday evening.

The sudden death of Mrs. Enoch Douglas occurred Friday in Providence, where she with her daughter Florence had been boarding during the winter. Her body was brought to her late home on Sterling Hill Saturday afternoon. All mourn the loss of a sincere Christian woman who was a faithful worker in the Sunday school and church. She leaves her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Byles of Chicago, and Florence, who lived at home. They have the sympathy of a host of friends.

Florence Gallup is home ill with grip.

After several weeks' confinement with a cut on his knee, Arthur Love, rural mail carrier, is again on his route.

Mrs. Emma Love spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Jane Place, of Coventry, R. I.

Mrs. Alva Sayles and sons, Howard and Franklyn, spent Saturday in Moosup.

NORTH STERLING

Theodore White was robbed of $150 by three men who stepped him with guns just as he arrived at his home at 5.30 p. m. from his weekly trip with dressed calves from Providence, R. I. No clue has been obtained to trace the robbers, who escaped in a big auto.

Ralph Winthers has returned to his work in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Local people attended the dance at Palvin's hall Saturday night.

John E. Griffiths has returned home from the Day Kimball hospital, where he has been for several days, having received a severe cut from a circular saw.

Harvey Fortune has been visiting friends in Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Swan are spending a few weeks in Danielson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of East Killingly were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith the past week.

EAST WOODSTOCK

George Bosworth spent the week end in Hartford with his brother, Harry Bosworth, and family.

Mrs. Carl Danielson is at Day Kimball hospital, where she underwent an operation for gallstones on Monday. Mrs. Danielson's mother, Mrs. Christine Anderson, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., will be with the family during her absence.

Mrs. J. E. Child and son Roger of Putnam spent the week end with relatives.

Mrs. George Wetherell, Mrs. Everett May and Miss Ethel Upham attended the meeting of the League of Women Voters at Woodstock Hill on Monday. Mrs. Wetherell, vice president, presided. Mrs. May was chosen secretary pro tem. Interesting addresses were given by Mrs. Estelle Harrison and Senator C. H. Child on matters pertaining to the legislature at Hartford.

A missionary meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Arthur Dodge. The topic was The Indian Church. Leader, Mrs. George Bosworth. An Easter gift of $10 from Mrs. Mary P. Bixby of Pasadena, Cal., a former member, was received and a vote of thanks extended. A social hour followed with refreshments.

LIBERTY HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reynolds and daughter Eveline of East Wallingford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Gurley Sunday.

Miss Laura Green spent the week end with Miss Edith Knott in Chaplin.

There was a very bright sundog north of the sun and one not as brilliant south of the sun Friday afternoon.

Robins were seen Saturday and Sunday, and their chirping was a joyful sound after the long, cold winter. Many birds must have died from starvation during the winter, with such a heavy blanket of snow on the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Leroy Kneeland took letters from the Liberty Hill church to the Lebanon Congregational church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Goodrich and family visited Mrs. Goodrich's parents in New London Sunday, going by automobile.

There was such a dense fog Monday morning one could see but a short distance.

The Ladies' Sewing circle met Tuesday afternoon to tie comforters.

John Clark and Horace Foote attended the funeral of Mrs. Nancy Brown in Colchester Saturday. Mrs. Brown was a member of the Liberty Hill Congregational church.

Leslie P. Clarke visited friends in Hartford over the week end, going by automobile.

Mr. Tryon, brother of Ernest Tryon, has been in Washington, D. C., for several days on government business.

Deacon and Mrs. Albert S. Peckham of Lebanon attended church here on Sunday.

GOSHEN

A number from this place were in Colchester Saturday attending the funeral of Mrs. F. J. Brown.

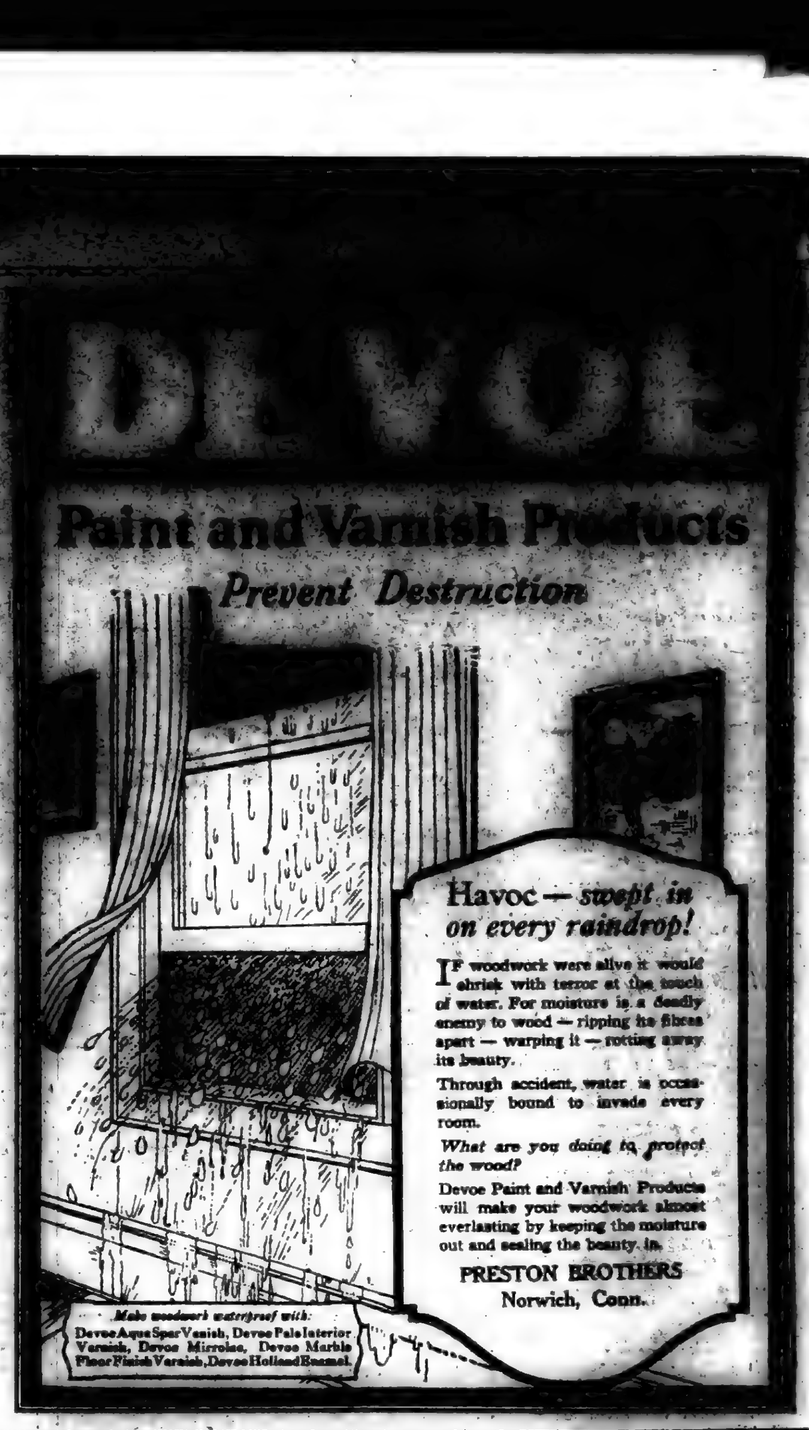
Miss Campbell of Lebanon was the guest of her schoolmate, Miss Gladys Fargo, over the week end.

William Dixon has sold his farm to a purchaser in Bozrah.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Randall and son were guests of friends in North Haven over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McCall of Colchester were guests of friends here Sunday.

We Sell and Recommend
Wirthmore Poultry Feeds
One quality only—the best.
D. T. PHILLIPS
Phone 908-3 HAMPTON, CONN.



Paint and Varnish Products
Prevent Destruction
Havoc — swept in on every raindrop!
IF woodwork were alive it would shriek with terror at the touch of water. For moisture is a deadly enemy to wood — ripping its fibres apart — warping it — rotting away its beauty.
Through accident, water is occasionally bound to invade every room.
What are you doing to protect the wood?
Devoe Paint and Varnish Products will make your woodwork almost everlasting by keeping the moisture out and sealing the beauty in.
PRESTON BROTHERS
Norwich, Conn.
Make woodwork waterproof with:
Devoe Aqua Spar Varnish, Devoe Pale Interior Varnish, Devoe Mirrolac, Devoe Marble Floor Finish Varnish, Devoe Holland Enamel

WIRTHMORE
keeps your hens healthy, active and vigorous, three things that are essential if you want More Eggs.
BEST because it is made BEST. Contains nothing but sound, mature grains of highest quality. Exceptionally CLEAN because doubly cleaned before packing. Don't pay Scratch Feed prices for dirt, dust and inferior grains—BUY WIRTHMORE.
When used in combination with Wirthmore Buttermilk Mash and the Wirthmore System of Feeding it will give you Astonishing Results—in later hatching, better laying, more profitable hens!
Write for Free copy of Wirthmore Poultry Book. Contains much helpful information on how to make poultry raising pay
ST. ALBANS GRAIN CO.
Manufacturers St. Albans, Vt.
CHAS. H. COX CO.
Wirthmore Distributors
Boston, Mass.
Geel Dad, This Feed Sure Puts Clean

WE SELL AND RECOMMEND
WIRTHMORE FEEDS
TO MAKE HENS LAY, WEIGH AND PAY
YANTIC GRAIN & PRODUCTS CO. ..... Norwich
YANTIC GRAIN & PRODUCTS CO. ..... Yantic
BALTIC GRAIN & COAL CO. ..... Baltic
GREENEVILLE GRAIN CO. ..... Greeneville
MOOSUP GRAIN CO. ..... Moosup

The Boston Store

THE REID & HUGHES CO.

Today Is 79c Day

Bleached Turkish Towels
2 For 79c
After today 59c apiece. Double-thread Turkish towels, 22 by 44 inches in size. Good weight and very absorbent.

White Domet Flannel
5 Yards For 79c
After today 23c a yard. A good 27-inch flannel for which you will find many uses. A bargain.

42-Inch Pequot Tubing
2 Yards For 79c
After today 59c a yard. The best pillow tubing you can buy anywhere. Get it Wednesday.

Mercerized Table Damask
79c a Yard
After today $1.19 a yard. The finest mercerized damask, 72 inches wide, in some very pretty patterns.

Hemmed Pillow Cases
3 For 79c
After today 29c apiece. Made of a high grade cotton, size 45 by 36.

Unbleached Muslin
5 Yards For 79c
After today 25c a yard. It is one yard wide, and a really fine grade.

Fine Percale
4 Yards For 79c
After today 35c and 29c a yard. All styles, both light and dark, in 68 by 72 and 80 by 80 weaves.

Fancy Flannel
6 Yards For 79c
Check, stripes and plain colors. Width 27 inches. After today 19c and 35c a yard. With cotton advancing you can't do better.

Tissue Gingham
2 Yards For 79c
After today 59c a yard. A splendid yard-wide tissue gingham for the summer dresses.

New Challies
4 Yards For 79c
After today 25c a yard. We have just received these new Persian designs, and they are all pretty. Width 36 inches.

Embroidered Flouncings
79c a Yard
After today $1.00 to $1.25 a yard. Twenty-seven-inch flouncings of fine quality at a bargain price.

Embroidered Edges
4 Yards For 79c
Edges with beadings, suitable for camisole or bodice tops. After today 25c a yard.

Cluny Laces
5 Yards For 79c
Widths from 2 to 3 inches. After today 29c a yard. Pleasing in every way.

Collar Tabs—79c a Yard
After today $1.00 a yard. Your choice of our stock of white, cream or colored tabs, for making the new collars.

Skirting Plaids
79c a Yard
Odds and ends of various grades, up to $5.00 in quality. Widths from 40 to 48 inches.

Plain Satines
2 Yards For 79c
Good lining satines, in all colors, black, and white. All 36 inches wide and of best quality.

Boys' Wash Suits, 79c
After today $1.45. Middy and Oliver Twist Suits, in sizes 3 to 10. A large variety of color combinations is offered, and all colors are guaranteed.

"Bell" Blouses, 79c
After today 95c. Sizes 7 to 16 years. Made of best Percale, corded, and yarn-dyed madras, in attractive patterns and colors. Colors guaranteed.

Oyster Linen Scarfs, 79c
After today $1.25. Some very handsome linen scarfs, 18 by 50 inches in the much used oyster white.

Women's Mercerized Hose
2 Pairs For 79c
After today 50c and 75c a pair. Fine ribbed stockings, elastic ribbed top, in black and cordovan. Well made stockings which will give real service.

New Spring Hats, $2.79
After today $3.98. A small lot of taffeta and straw combinations in the small, close shapes which are popular this season. Pretty colorings all of them.

Men's Best Quality Work Shirts—79c
After today $1.00. They are the best, too. We have them in all colors and in all sizes.

Men's All-Silk Neckties
2 For 79c
After today 75c apiece. A very large assortment of patterns and silks in the large stock.

Men's Pure Silk Socks, 79c
After today $1.00 a pair. Thoroughly reinforced at all wearing points. We offer them in black and all colors.

"Alltyme" Crepe Dresses
$8.79
After today $10.00. Most charming novelties of the new season. Many of them have bodice of Paisley or Persian designs and colorings combined with skirt of contrasting color. Others show beautiful combinations of solid colors. The styles are new and varied, and all are wonderful value for $10.00.

Overplaid Polo Cloth Skirts—$3.79
After today $5.95. Charming tan sport skirts, in pretty overplaid designs. Good quality and well tailored.

Voile and Dimity Blouses
79c
About one hundred of them, in sizes 36 to 54. All have long sleeves, and Tuxedo or Peter Pan collar. Each one a bargain.

Sateen Petticoats, 79c
These are not "male" petticoats, but regular stock at a special price. All the regular sizes in brown, navy and black.

Brushed Wool Golf Coats
$3.79
A popular model for sports wear, in tan and silver. Sizes 36 to 46. A bargain you will appreciate.

Children's Gingham Dresses—79c
After today $1.00. Many of the values run as high as $1.98. Made of excellent gingham in many pretty plaids and checks, variously trimmed.

Waste Baskets, 79c
After today $1.00. Genuine willow baskets, in square or round shapes. All are well woven.

Jardinieres, 79c
A newly arrived showing of pretty jardinieres, in a variety of designs and colorings.

Bathroom Outfits, 79c
Consists of one white enameled tumbler holder, one white enameled bath tub soap dish, one white enameled toilet paper holder and one glass towel bar. All for 79c.

300 Genuine Leather Hand Bags—79c
A remarkable offering of bags in all styles. Your choice of black, brown, gray and tan. You should see them to appreciate the magnitude of this offer.

Knitting Worsted
2 For 79c
A very good yarn, in all the latest colors. This comes in a ball of two ounces weight.

Glass-Top Serving Trays
79c
Mahogany finished trays, 10 by 16 inches in size, with glass tops. Various lithographed designs.

50 Spring Sport Hats At 79c
All new spring stock and absolutely correct in style and color. A bargain worth looking at.

Women's Silk Fibre Hose
79c a Pair
A heavy weight silk fibre stocking, in black only. After today $1.25 a pair.

Summer Weight Cotton Vests—3 For 79c
After today 39c apiece. Two models, the bodice type or regular strap style. A very good garment.

Turkish Bath Towels, 79c
After today 98c. Beautiful fancy towels, in colors. Martex and Driad makes in a very large size.

79c

Pure Linen Dish Towels
3 For 79c
After today 33c apiece. Hemmed and ready for use. A big generous towel of good quality.

Slip-on Wool Sweaters
$1.79
We have just received a special lot of the attractive sweaters in a large variety of good colorings. Your choice of tan, hickory, copen, silver, jade, brown, navy and black. They are all-wool.

Women's Linen Handkerchiefs—6 For 79c
They are all-linen and you may choose either narrow or wide hems.

Men's Handkerchiefs
5 For 79c
After the sale 25c each. Cotton handkerchiefs with colored borders. Very handsome, and of remarkable quality.

Women's Handkerchiefs
3 For 79c
After today 35c each. Good quality with daintily embroidered corners. The embroidery is in colors.

One Lot of Neckwear
2 For 79c
After today $1.00 and $1.25. Many of the newer spring novelties will be found in this special offering.

Peter Pan Collars and Sets
2 For 79c
After today 50c apiece. Made of linen or organdie, or of the pretty eyelet embroidered materials.

Quaker Filet Net
3 Yards For 79c
After today 35c a yard. A charming drapery net from the foremost American maker. Shown in white, ivory and ecru.

Terry Cloth, 79c a Yard
After today $1.00 a yard. A beautiful velvety drapery material, in wonderful patterns and colorings. For overdrapes or portieres.

Sash Curtains
3 Pair For 79c
After today 35c a pair. Dainty little curtains, made of a good plain scrim, with heading and casing.

Flat Curtain Rods, 3 for 79c
The famous Bluebird rods, sold after today for 35c. Strong, light and of fine appearance. Brushed brass finish.

Colonial Rag Rugs, For 79c
After today $1.19. Woven hit-or-miss style with band border. Size 27 by 54. Good rugs for the bedroom.

Printed Linoleum
79c a Square Yard
A very fine line of good printed linoleums, in colors and patterns which have proven good. After today $1.00 a square yard.

Special Lots of Boxed Stationery
For 79c
After today to $1.75
2 For 79c
After today 85c
3 For 79c
After today 39c

Metal Cash Boxes, For 79c
After today $1.25

Special Lot of Beaded Bags 79c
After today as high as $1.50

Special Lot of Beaded Bags $1.79
After today as high as $3.50

Art Floss, 6 For 79c
Novelty yarn, in twenty-one of the new spring shades. Put up in one-ounce hanks.

Women's Cotton Union Suits—79c
After today $1.15. Light weight suits, in sleeveless or bodice model, and wide or cuff knee. Sizes 36 and 38.

One Lot of Stamped Goods
2 For 79c
Consists of Scarfs, Towels, Centers, Luncheon Sets, etc. After today 69c apiece.

Moire Hand Bags, $2.79
One lot of beautiful Moire Bags for Easter. The very newest styles, with cut metal frames.

Ivory Mirrors and Brushes—79c
Good mirrors, and fine hair brushes at a price so low that it is almost laughable. For this day only at the price.

Small Ivory Pieces
2 For 79c
The lot includes some very good Trays, Hair Receivers, Puff Boxes, Bud Vases, Jewel Boxes, Combs, etc.

Guaranteed Hot Water Bottles—79c
Two-quart rubber bottles, in a guaranteed make. Get them now.

Palmolive Soap
12 For 79c

Jergen's Bath Tablets
10 For 79c

Royal Palm Soap
10 For 79c

Lysol, 79c
Large Size.

Lavoris, 79c
Large Size.

Electric Boudoir Lamps $3.79
Dainty white ivory lamps with fancy colored shades. Just the thing for your dresser or writing table.

Wilsnap Dress Fasteners
One dozen cards
For 79c

Alliance Dress Fasteners
One dozen cards
For 79c

Jap Silk Dress Linings, 79c
We also include linings, made of Tussha. Both are very good.

Bandeaux, For 79c
After today $1.00. Flesh or white in such well known makes as Nemo, Bien Jolie and Nature's Rival. Sizes 32 to 44.

Small Aprons, 2 For 79c
Small fitted skirt models, made of a good percale. All have reinforced yoke. After today 50c apiece.

Apron Frocks, For 79c
After today $1.00 and $1.25. Polka dot and check patterns, in pink, blue, green and orchid colorings. Made with wide tie-back sash and trimmed with ric rac.

Crepe Bloomers, 79c
After today $1.00. Made of flowered or plain crepe, in orchid, pink blue or white.

Envelope Chemises, 79c
After today $1.00. Flesh color or white chemises, in the strap-over-shoulder style. Daintily trimmed with floral embroidery or colored designs. Sizes 36 to 44.

Night Robes, 79c
Made of a good crepe, either plain or flowered. After today $1.00.

Step-In Drawers, For 79c
After today $1.25. A good Windsor crepe was used in these drawers which are excellently designed and well made.

Children's Rompers For 79c
After today $1.00. For children from 1 to 4 years old. Both creeper and peg-top models. In pink, blue, green, tan and yellow.

Children's Muslin Slips, 79c
After today $1.00. Lace trimmed slips which are very dainty. For ages from 1 to 6 years.

Children's White Dresses 79c
After today $1.00. The sizes run from 6 months to 1 year. Splendid little dresses for the smaller ones.

Fancy Ribbons, 79c a Yard
After today $1.00. A wonderful range of colors and widths in new ribbons for girdles and sashes so much in demand this spring.

A RECORD OF STORE IMPROVEMENT

Various Changes Which Have Made Shopping Easier

THE BOSTON STORE BOYS' SHOP

A NEW DEPARTMENT ON THE MAIN FLOOR, FOR BOYS

May be reached through the new entrance of the Men's Shop or directly from any part of the store.

The Boys' Shop carries a complete line of Clothing, Blouses, Hats, Caps, Underwaists—everything for the boy until he puts on long trousers.

The Boys' Shop specializes in Boston Store Double-Service Wool Suits, Kaynee Blouses, and good clothes generally.

THE BOSTON STORE MEN'S SHOP

May Be Reached Without Entering Any Other Part of the Store

It gives the man, who wishes to transact his business in a store set apart for men, the opportunity for doing so.

It carries, as always, the largest and best selected stock of Men's Furnishings in Norwich.

LINEN AND DOMESTICS DEPARTMENTS

Newly located to the left of the Main Entrance, presenting compactly, and in a pleasing way a splendid stock of Linens and Bedding.

ART EMBROIDERY DEPARTMENT

THE PRETTIEST DEPARTMENT IN THE ENTIRE CITY

On the Third Floor, and reached directly by the elevator. A sunlight department, overlooking the river, with five big windows. Showing a beautiful assortment of all the fancy work, and the materials for the same that women find so interesting.

FLOOR COVERING and DRAPERY DEPARTMENTS

Also on the Third Floor and easily reached by the elevator. A particularly large showing of Cretonnes and other novelty drapery fabrics, Congoleum, Linoleums and Rugs will be found here. Home lovers will find much to interest them.

Men's Percale Shirts, 79c
After today $1.00 each. Made of fine percale, in neat stripes and checks. All colors guaranteed. Some are subject to slight mill hurts.

Men's Muslin Night Shirts 79c
After today $1.00. Well tailored night shirts, open neck and trimmed with color. Sizes 15 to 20.

Fownes Filosette Gloves For Women For This Day Only 79c
By special arrangement with the manufacturer we are able to make this special presentation of Fownes Filosette Gloves for Women at this little price. They are beautiful fabric gloves in the strap-wrist style, finished with embroidery in a range of very pleasing colorings. Dependable in every way.

Boys' Silk Four-in-Hands 3 For 79c
Just received, in new spring colorings. Plaid and stripe patterns.

Boys' All-Wool Hats and Caps—79c
After today 95c. Our complete stock of wool hats, tweeds, mixtures, and serges, all finely tailored.

NEW LONDON POLICE HOLD MAN ON BURGLARY CHARGE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, March 20.—Thomas Hennessey, aged 17 years, and who claims to reside in Roxbury, Mass., is a prisoner at the police station and may be turned over to the New Haven police to answer a charge of burglary.

Hennessey was arrested this afternoon by Patrolman John Courtney, when the officers attention was attracted to the youth. When questioned it was admitted by Hennessey that the contents of a handbag he carried, consisting of mens apparel, was stolen from a rooming house in New Haven. The New Haven police were communicated with and if the youth's story of the theft is true, he will probably be taken back to New Haven for trial. Hennessey states that he was discharged from the Wrentham School for Boys at Wrentham, Mass., last July and since that time he has rambled about the country.

Edward McLaughlin was fined $5 in the police court this morning for intoxication. He was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with breach of the peace following his hiring a taxicab and then refusing to pay the cab hire.

Mrs. Reuben Tier and baby of Niantic, Leroy Bridge of Irving, Mass., Albert Dupkowski of Winthrop street, Mrs. Josephine Ciotti and baby of Niantic and Miss Arlene Jones of Ocean avenue, patients at Lawrence Memorial Associated hospital, were able to go to their respective homes today.

Mrs. Mary I. Miner died at the home of her son, Walter R. Miner of No. 231 Montauk avenue last night following a lingering illness. Mrs. Miner was 83 years of age and the widow of Capt. Richard K. Miner, former master of the New London line steamer, City of Lowell.

Former Mayor Lucius F. Whiton today announces the engagement of his youngest daughter, Miss Dorothy Quincy Whiton to Allen M. Jackson of Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a well known Boston architect. The marriage is to take place in the early spring. Miss Whiton is a favorite in a large circle of acquaintances in New London.

Brainard Masonic lodge worked the Master Mason degree this evening on a class of candidates. The work was in full form and attracted members of the order from all sections about New London as well as many members of the craft from other cities who were in New London. The fame of the work has extended far and wide and when the full form is worked the attendance is limited only to the capacity of the Temple.

The funeral of Mrs. Grace Sisty B[illegible] one being Mrs. Jeremiah Murphy of New London and by three grandchildren, Ernest and Cythia Murphy and Mrs. Robert Toolin of New London. Mr. Lester has been employed several years as janitor of the Flanders school and prior to that time and for many years he was employed as a teamster by the Thomas Transfer company of New London.

Mrs. Mary I. Miner died at the home of her son, Walter R. Miner of No. 231 Montauk avenue last night following a lingering illness. Mrs. Miner was 83 years of age and the widow of Capt. Richard K. Miner, former master of the New London line steamer, City of Lowell.

Former Mayor Lucius F. Whiton today announces the engagement of his youngest daughter, Miss Dorothy Quincy Whiton to Allen M. Jackson of Cambridge, Mass. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a well known Boston architect. The marriage is to take place in the early spring. Miss Whiton is a favorite in a large circle of acquaintances in New London.

Brainard Masonic lodge worked the Master Mason degree this evening on a class of candidates. The work was in full form and attracted members of the order from all sections about New London as well as many members of the craft from other cities who were in New London. The fame of the work has extended far and wide and when the full form is worked the attendance is limited only to the capacity of the Temple.

The funeral of Mrs. Grace Sisty Murphy, wife of Patrick F. Murphy, occurred this week was the daughter of the late Austin Benham who had one of the great farms in this section some fifty years ago. It was situated almost opposite where Connecticut College is now located. The Benham home was famous for its hospitality. There were husking bees in the fall of the year and dances and merry making always attended them. Austin Benham was a farmer of the old school. His cows were in the best of condition, they were blooded stock and that he did was with an eye to perfection in its way. He was man with all and generous and courtly.

The New London automobile show opened at the armory tonight. The weather was against in that the season is backward and not such as to turn the mind toward autoing. Still the attendance was fairly large.

Home Memorial hospital is making an effort to raise money for its needs and they include the purchase of the Tyler property on Pequot avenue for hospital purposes. The present quarters are not large enough and the Tyler place is capable of expansion and enlargement to almost any extent that may be desired. The hospital association is planning for whist now at which there may be something like 1000 tables.

The flappers hate to abandon the radio boots, but all the indications are that the footwear must soon be put away.

Patrolman Clyde Murphy, of Alger place, one of the youngest patrolmen of the New London police force, is the latest to become a benedict, for this evening Patrolman Murphy and Miss Sadie Peckham, daughter of Mr. Frederick S. Peckham of No. 134 Shaw street, were joined in wedlock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth, pastor of the First Church of Christ, at the home of the bride's parents on Huntington street. The couple were unattended. Patrolman Murphy is one of the most popular members of the force, both with his fellow officers as well as with the public.

The condition of Mayor John F. Murray seriously ill of pleurisy at his home on Blackhall street, remains unchanged tonight, although he passed a restful day. The attending physician looks for the crisis to be reached within the next forty-eight hours.

It developed this evening that a fraudulent check operator either the same fellow that has operated in New London successfully of late or a new one, continues to practice the art of putting out worthless checks.

E. J. Fakowec, proprietor of a small store at No. 159 Main street, complained to the police that within a day or two he cashed a check for $20 for a stranger and today the check was returned from the bank where it had been deposited as being worthless as the signer of the check did not have an account there. The check was drawn by "S. Garlock" and was endorsed by "George Patti."

Mrs. Joel Kenyon of Groton, a young woman of about 30 years experienced a fainting spell while attending the capitol theatre this evening at 9 o'clock. The temperature of the theatre was high and there was a large audience. She was carried to the foyer of the theatre where she was attended by Manager Ducy and Dr. George P. Cheney. Sailors from the submarine base lifted Mrs. Kenyon in their arms and conveyed her to the foyer.

John Murphy, a marine engineer, now retired, and who was stricken with a shock a fortnight ago, is making slow progress toward recovery.

Next Monday evening the city council will tackle the problem of junior high school construction. How far the council will get is a problem now. It is understood that some members of the council are opposed to the erection of the school building at all while others desire that the structure should not be commenced until the city is ready to go ahead and complete the structure. Former Mayor Whiton, who is a member of the council, a man of large legislative experience and a trained business man, as well as a member of the council, does not think it legal for the city to attempt to erect a "wing" of the building and refrain from completing the main structure. He says the issuance of bonds was with the intention to erect a main structure and not a very small portion of it. It is doubtful whether any banking house would buy the bonds with a possible cloud on their validity.

The fact that the council is divided as to the legality of the action proposed raises a doubt about floating the bonds at as good a price as they would bring if there was no shadow of suspicion on the right of the city to issue them. Bankers are supersensitive about buying bonds about the legality of which there is the slightest question.

There is understood to be some members of the council who are adverse to building a structure until a city meeting has passed upon the question of whether the school should be built and whether, if it is to be erected, it should be set in a hollow on Williams street when the city is the owner of other land that would accommodate a new school building. The question may be raised as to the wisdom of adding to the Nathan Hale school which is directly opposite the site of the proposed junior high school building and which would readily adapt itself to the needs of a [illegible]

There is abundant space on the grounds of the Bartlett school house to add to that building if more accommodation for the children is needed in the graded schools.

The same is true of the Nameaug school grounds as to accommodation for an addition to that building. It was hinted at the council meeting Monday last that there was what was known as star chamber tactics in the meeting that was alleged to have agreed upon without vote to that effect, to erect the wing of the junior high school building. That was denied by members who attended the meeting, but Councilor Thompson, who was an attendant at the meeting, declared that no vote was taken and he declined to go on record as favoring the beginning of the junior high school building as proposed.

The members of the council have almost a week to consider what policy they will pursue so it is expected that there will be many opinions to express when the meeting is held next Monday.

Autoists are finding a great deal of fault because blue stone has been scattered loosely on Montauk avenue. They claim that the stone is ruinous to tires and that while the street is as rough as the ocean they would prefer that condition to running on the jagged blue stone and cutting out tires. The avenue must have extensive repairs in the early spring and many are advocating the application of material that will make the road permanently improved when the work is commenced.

Attorney Willard of Groton is seeking the approval of the New London city council to the plan of operating the Groton-New London ferry. The public utilities commission, which has the control of [illegible] to operate is concerned, does not like the idea of operation as it is carried on now. The commission seeks to establish the responsibility of the lessee which is a committee of the borough of Groton and not the borough itself.

The latest kind of petty thieving to be reported to the police is that of the theft of milk bottles from residences where the receptacles have been placed for the milkman. The operation of their appears to be confined to Lower Bank street.

The snow storm of last night marked the 25th fall of snow for the winter.

P. LeRoy Harwood, treasurer of the Mariners Savings bank, is confined to his home on Ocean avenue through indisposition.

NIANTIC HAS ROW OVER SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

(Special to The Bulletin)

Niantic, March 20.—The little village of Niantic, which was put on the map when the state's national guard encamped there four regiments of troops and when that place was the Mecca of the politicians great and small every year during a week in the fall, has a school row that promises to involve every family in the place. The trouble is over the desire of Harry Beckwith to have the principal of the village school removed, and her desire not to be ousted by Mr. Beckwith. Petitions have been circulated for signatures of persons who want the principal, Miss Northrup, a maiden lady, of perhaps 30 years, bounced.

She resents the imputation the petition carries that she has not discharged her duties faithfully and has circulated a counter petition to the district committee asking the [illegible] from the school and Miss Northrup retaliates by saying that she would expell him again if occasion presented itself for the same offense—that of using profanity. She says the boy's speech was disgraceful and that she will not tolerate it in any pupil under her care and instruction. So the merry war goes on.

Friends of the principal declare that they have no fear of what Beckwith can do and they say their favorite will remain in charge of the school long after Beckwith suffers humiliating defeat.

CLARENCE PENHALLOW DROWN IN NEW HAVEN HARBOR

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, March 20.—Clarence Penhallow, aged about 28 years, and a resident of New London, was drowned in New Haven harbor last night, while attempting to enter a dory with Wilfred Giguere, of Warren, R. I., to go aboard the barge Virginia Paler, of the Thames Towboat company's fleet, upon which the two men were employed. Giguere reported the drowning of Penhallow to the New Haven police and he is held a prisoner pending the inquiry into the fatality by Coroner Mix.

It is believed that Penhallow slipped and fell into the river and that the temperature of the water rendered such a shock to Penhallow that he was unable to attempt to save his own life.

When Penhallow's body was recovered this noon a letter was found in the clothing, which tended to indicate that he was despondent because of the sudden death in New London a week ago of Altee Bates, a woman with whom Penhallow had kept company and whom, it is understood he intended to marry. The Bates woman died suddenly at the residence of Mrs. Mary Marino of No. 10 Shaw street.

STUBBORN BLAZE CAUSES $500 DAMAGE TO HOUSE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, March 20. — The home of Charles Glassenberg of No. 803 Montauk avenue, was threatened with serious damage by fire late this afternoon when the cellar of the place was discovered aflame. Several companies of the New London fire department combatted the blaze and it was extinguished, but only with difficulty. The damage will be approximately $500.

Shortly after 4 o'clock a member of the Glassenberg household detected the odor of smoke and investigating found the cellar filled with smoke. A still alarm was sent to fire headquarters, resulting in the Pequot and Konomoc Hose companies the Niagara and Nameaug Engine companies and Allen Hook and Ladder company being despatched to the scene. When the firemen arrived, the flames had made their way to the first floor and into the partitions, making it necessary to cut away some of the walls to subdue the fire.

It is believed that the blaze originated from an overheated furnace.

MYSTIC

Williams Woman's Relief Corps, No. 42, entertained Department President Mrs. Bertha Morse and staff of Hartford at a meeting Tuesday evening. The members of Trumbull corps of Stonington and Williams post, G. A. R., attended. Mrs. Muse Eccleston was chairman of the banquet which was held at 6 o'clock. Degree work was worked during the session.

The Misses Emeline and Jessie Fish of the New London road are visiting in New York.

The local All Stars were beaten in a game of basketball with the Tigers of Noank. The score was 139 to 138. The All Stars of Mystic are to entertain their Noank rivals at a moving picture show this week.

Friends of Dr. John E. Buckley, are pleased to learn of his steady improvement at the Lawrence Memorial hospital at New London where he was taken for treatment. He is expected to return home Wednesday.

Theodore Anderson was a caller in New London, Tuesday.

The death of Howard Lee Clyde occurred at the Lawrence Memorial hospital, New London Tuesday morning, following an operation for appendicitis. The deceased was 21 years of age and received his schooling at Old Mystic. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Clyde of Old Mystic who survive him. He is survived by a brother and sister, also.

STONINGTON

Clams are becoming more plentiful here since the ice has left the shores and with unusually low tides this week, all the fishermen are digging fine large clams.

The Hon. Cornelius C. Costello of New London is scheduled to be the speaker at the Men's club Friday evening. Refreshments will be enjoyed at the close of the address.

Gabriel Davis was a visitor in Providence this week.

Everett James who was operated upon at the hospital at New London is convalescing at his home on Temple and Cliff streets.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Atwood and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bradley, have arrived at Yokohama.

The members of Trumbull Corps, W. R. C. were invited to attend a supper of Williams corps of Mystic, Tuesday evening and a large delegation journeyed over there.

George L. Gilmore who has been employed for many months with Swift company in Boston, has been assigned to relief work for the company in its accounting departments.

The date of the Sunday school institute is to be April 4 at the Second Congregational church and officials from the institute at Hartford are expected to attend.

CHESTNUT HILL

Mrs. C. L. James spent Sunday afternoon with her father, Elisha F. Tucker, at a Willimantic hospital, where he has been a patient since Jan. 22d. His condition remains about the same, except he is gradually growing weaker.

Theodore Chappell, who has been staying with his uncle, G. T. Chappell, the greater part of the winter, spent the week end with his parents in Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Peckham of Willimantic spent a day recently with the former's brother, A. S. Peckham.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Reynolds and daughter of East Wallingford called on friends here Sunday.

Chief of Police Killourey of Willimantic and Mrs. Killourey spent Saturday night with Mrs. C. L. James, and on Sunday they motored to Meriden.

All rejoice to see Old Mother Earth once more after having been covered with snow and ice for near three months. It is a cheery sight to see the robins and other birds again. Wild geese have also been flying northward. These signs all show us that spring is near.

MOHEGAN

Mrs. Northcliff, who has been ill with grip, is recovering.

Carrie Beckwith, who has been ill with grip, is able to be [illegible]

Mrs. Peake is [illegible]

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales, 1,316,000 shares.
20 industrials averaged 105.38. Net gain .02. High 1923 105.38; low, 96.96.
20 railroads averaged 89.60. Net gain .24. High 1923, 90.63; low, 84.53.

PIGGLY WIGGLY FEATURED MARKET.

New York, March 20.—Chief interest in today's stock market centered in the extremely violent fluctuations of Piggly Wiggly stock, which opened today at 75 1-2, jumped to 124 and then dropped back to 82, ten points above last night's close, in response to the apparent squeezing of the 'short interest." Trading in the stock was suspended by order of the board of governors after the market closed, this action being taken with the approval of attorneys for Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly Wiggly Company, is reported to have demanded delivery of 48,000 shares of stock.

The erratic gyrations in this issue naturally caused some unsettlement in the balance of the list, but a good demand for the independent steel, textiles, and some of the rails eventually turned prices upward again.

Baldwin, Studebaker, and some of the other popular favorites closed fractionally lower, but conspicuous strength was shown by American Woolen, Republic and Gulf States Steels, American Ice, Beachnut, Kresge, and Woolworth, the net gains in those issues ranging from two to nearly five points. Manhattan Electric Supplies jumped 3 1-2 points on a turnover of approximately 3,000 shares.

American Locomotive dropped more than a point to 137 1-2 and marked heaviness also was aparent in Associated and Tidewater Oils, Du Pont, and Maxwell Motors A, off one to 2 1-2 points.

Sale of a block of 10,000 shares of Southern Railway at 35, up 7-8, featured the trading in the railroad group, other changes in which were of and irregular and fractional character.

Call money opened at 5 per cent. and advanced to 5 1-2 in the late afternoon, closing at that figure. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no changes in rates.

Strength of French francs, which crossed 6 1-2 cents for the first time in several weeks, was again the feature of the foreign exchange market. Sterling was reactionary, demand bills being quoted at $4.69, or approximately a cent below yesterday's ruling rate. Slight improvement was noted in Canadian exchange. Hungarian exchange dropped to .01 5-8 cents, a new low record.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	Sales	High	Low	Close
Allied Chem & D ..	78	77¾	77¾	77¾
Allis Chalmers ..	50⅝	49⅝	50	50
Allis Chalm pr ..	95⅝	95⅝	95⅝	95⅝
Am Ag Chem	32	33	33	33
Am Beet Sugar ..	46⅝	46⅝	46⅝	46⅝
Am Can ..	104¼	101⅞	103¼	103¼
Am Can pr ..	111⅝	111⅝	111⅝	111⅝
Am Car & Fy	184½	183	183	183
Am Car & F pr ..	119⅝	119⅝	119⅝	119⅝
Am Cot Oil	14⅝	14¼	14¼	14¼
Am Hide & L ..	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾
Am Int Corp	30⅜	30	30	30¼
Am Tel & Tel	123	122⅝	123	123
Am Tobacco ..	156¾	156	156	156
Am Wool pr	95⅝	95⅝	95⅝	95⅝
Am Wool ..	108⅝	105	108⅝	108⅝
Anaconda	62⅝	61½	60½	60½
Associated Oil	126	125	125	125
Atchison ..	104	103⅝	104½	104½
Atchison pr ..	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝
Balt & Ohio ..	54⅜	54⅛	54⅛	54⅛
Balt & Ohio pr ..	60⅜	60⅛	60⅜	60⅜
Beth Steel ..	67½	67⅛	67½	67½
Beth Steel B	69	68¼	68½	68½
Beth St new pr ..	95	94⅜	94⅜	94⅜
Brook Rap Tr	7⅜	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Brook Rap T ctfs ..	6¾	6¼	6¼	6¼
But Cop & Z	10⅝	10⅛	10¼	10¼
But & Sup Cop	36	35¼	35¼	35¼
Canadian Pac ..	149	148½	149	149
Cent Leath	39½	39¾	38¾	38¾
Cent Leath pr	79¼	78¾	78¾	78¾
Chand Motor	73¼	73	73	73
Ches & Ohio	73⅜	73¼	73½	73½
Ch & Gt West pr ..	15	14¾	15	15
C M & St P	25⅜	25	25⅜	25⅜
C M & St P pr ..	44¼	43¾	44¼	44¼
Ch & N W	86⅜	86¼	86⅜	86⅜
Ch & N W pr	116½	116½	116½	116½
C R I & P	37⅝	37	37¼	37¼
Chile Cop ..	29½	29¼	29¼	29¼
Chino Cop	31⅝	30½	31¼	31¼
Cosden ..	61⅛	60¾	60¾	60¾
Cosden pr ..	107½	107½	107½	107½
Crucible Steel ..	83⅝	82¼	82½	82½
Del & Hudson ..	119¾	119	119¾	119¾
Dome Mines ..	42	41¾	41¾	41¾
Erie ..	13	12⅝	13	13
Erie 1 pr ..	20¾	19⅝	20¼	20¼
Fisher B Oh pr ..	100½	100½	100½	100½
Gen Electric ..	187⅜	186½	186½	186½
Gen Elect w I	11⅜	11½	11½	11½
Gen Motors	15⅛	14⅞	15	15
Gen Mot pr	84⅞	84¾	84¾	84¾
Great North pr	78¼	78	78	78
Great North Or ..	36	35½	35⅝	35⅝
Hupp Motor ..	29⅝	28½	28⅝	28⅝
Hudson Motor ..	31½	31	31½	31½
Inspir Cop	41¾	40⅝	40¾	40¾
Int Harvester ..	92¼	92	92¼	92¼
Int Har pr	115	115	115	115
Int Mer Mar	11	11	11	11
Int Mer Mar pr ..	44½	41¾	41¾	41¾
Int Paper ..	55	54⅜	54⅜	54⅜
Kennecott Cop ..	43⅜	42½	43¼	43¼
Keystone Tire	9⅜	9⅞	9⅜	9⅜
Lehigh Valley	68¼	67⅞	67⅞	67⅞
Marlin Rock	13	13	13	13
Maxwell Mot A	59⅜	59	59½	59½
Mex Pet pr	105	105	105	105
M S P & SS M	72¼	72	72¾	72¾
M S S M pr	98	98	98	98
Mo K & T	11	11	11	11
M K & T new	16	15½	15⅝	15⅝
Mo K & T pr new ..	42¾	42⅜	42⅞	42⅞
Mo Pacific	17¾	17⅜	17⅝	17⅝
Mo Pac pr	47¼	46⅞	47⅛	47⅛
Nat En & St	72⅜	71⅝	72⅜	72⅜
N Y Air Brake	37½	37¼	37½	37½
N Y Air Brake A ..	49½	49½	49½	49½
N Y Central	99½	98½	99¼	99¼
N Y N H & H	20¼	19⅞	20¼	20¼
Nor & West	113½	112	113½	113½
North Pacific	79	78¼	79	79
Pacific Oil	45¾	44¾	44¾	44¾
Penn R R	46⅝	44¼	46¼	46¼
Pierce Oil	5	4⅝	5	5
Pierce Oil pr	43½	42⅛	43⅛	43⅛
Ry St Sp	121¾	121	121	121
Ray Con C	16¼	16	16	16
Reading	79⅝	79	79	79⅝
Reading 1 pr	51	51	51	51
Reading 2 pr	52	52	53	53
Rep I & Steel	64⅜	61	64	64
Rep I & St pr	96⅜	96	96⅜	96⅜
South Pac	95⅜	93¾	93¾	93¾
South Ry	35⅜	34⅛	35⅜	35⅜
So Ry pr	70½	70	70½	70½
Tenn C & C	12⅝	12¾	12⅝	12⅝
Tobacco Prod	56⅛	55⅝	55⅞	55⅞
Tobacco Prod pr ..	109¾	109¾	109⅝	109⅝
Tob Prod A	83¼	82½	83	83
Union Pacific	142	141½	143	143
Un Pac pr	74	74	74	74
U S Rubber	63	62¼	62⅜	62⅜
U S Rubber 1 pr ..	104	104	104	104
U S Steel	108½	107⅜	108	108
West Un Tel	115½	115	115	115
West Mfg	65⅛	64⅛	65	65
West Mfg Co 1	78	78	78	78
Willys O'land	7⅝	7¼	7¼	7¼
Willys O'land pr ..	53¼	53	53¼	53¼
Worth P & M	38½	38	38½	38½
W P & M pr B	69¼	69¼	69¼	69¼

BOND MARKET.

New York, March 20—Marked heaviness of industrial bonds, and continued small losses in U. S. government bonds, bringing several of the active issues to new lows for the year, featured today's dealings in bonds on the New York Stock Exchange. Foreign government obligations were steady with some improvement in the French issues. Losses in the active U. S. government bonds ranged from four to eighteen cents on $100.

The sugar liens, which have been in good demand, developed considerable heaviness, Punta Alegre 7's dropping 2 1-8 points, Eastern Cuga Sugar 7 1-2's, 1 1-2 and American Sugar 6's, fractionally. Losses or more than a point were recorded also by Union Tank Car 7's, Virginia Carolina Chemical 7 1-2's, with warrants, and Utah Power & Light 5's. Chile Copper 7's advanced 1 3-4 points, but the 6's were off fractionally.

Trading in railroad mortgages was mixed, a gain of one point being registered by Colorado & Southern refunding 4 1-2's, and losses of a point each by New York Central refunding 5's, Denver & Rio Grande Consolidated 4's, and Central Pacific 4's.

Total sales (par value) were $10,184,000.

Public offering was made today of $3,500,000 first mortgage sinking fund gold bonds, Series "A" of the Illinois Electric Power Co., at 97 to yield over 6.25 per cent.

Liberty Bonds.

	Asked	Low.	Close
U S Lib 3½s ..	101.04	100.92	100.94
U S Lib 1st 4¼s	97.88	97.42	97.72
U S Lib 2d 4¼s	97.76	97.64	97.68
U S Lib 3d 4¼s	98.34	98.28	98.28
U S Lib 4th 4¼s	97.90	97.72	97.74
Victory 4¾s ..	100.08	100.04	100.09
Treas 4¼s ..	99.28	99.06	99.10

Quoted in dollars and cents per $100 bond.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Ago.
Demand	$4.69¼	$4.38¾
Cables	4.69¼	4.38¾
Francs	6.53	9.03
Guilders	39.50	37.77
Marks	.0048¼	.25⅝
Lire	4.85½	5.12
Swiss francs ..	18.53	19.44
Pesetas	15.46	15.55
Belgian francs ..	5.65	5.45
Kronen	.0014	.014
Sweden	26.61	26.10
Denmark	19.16	21.30
Norway	18.22	17.40
Greece	110	4.36
Argentine	34.40	33.00
Brasil	11.70	..

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, March 20.—In line with higher quotations at Liverpool, and with bullish reports about domestic crop conditions in some sections west and southwest, the wheat market here tended upward in price today as a rule. The close was steady at a gain of 3-8 to 3-4c net with May $1.21 1-2, and July $1.16 5-8 to $1.16 3-4. Corn showed 1-8 to 1-4 advance, and oats a shade to 1-4. In provisions the outcome varied from 7c decline to a rise of 2c.

More attention than usual was given to the upturn in wheat values at Liverpool. A notable feature being that the action o fthe English market was in direct contrast with a decline yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. In this connection it was pointed out that European advices indicated but little accumulation of wheat flour, either at continental or British ports and that British receipts were below weekly consumptive requirements. Purchase today of about 700,000 bushels for shopment to Europe counted also as a bullish factor, although most of the amount was wheat grown in Canada.

Despite the fact that rather active selling both from the west and the east developed whenever the wheat advance increased in vigor, bears failed to bring about any important setback.

Need of moisture in the far southwest and west put sellers at a disadvantage, and so likewise did reports of dust storms and other adverse conditions. Word of enlarged business in flour at Minneapolis acted further as a sustaining influence.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat and as a result of smallness of receipts here, stormy weather having checked arrivale.

Notwithstanding higher quotations on hogs, the provision market averaged lower because of liberal deliveries of lard to fill March contracts.

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
May ...	121⅞	121⅛	121⅛
July ...	117	116	116⅞
Sept. ...	115¼	114⅝	114¾
Corn—
May ...	75	74½	74⅝
July ...	77⅛	76¾	76⅞
Sept ...	78¼	77⅞	78
Oats—
May ...	45¼	45	45¼
July ...	45¼	44⅞	44⅞
Sept. ...	43⅝	43¼	43⅝

METAL MARKET.

New York, March 20. — Copper steady. Electrolytic, spot and futures 17 1-4@17 3-8. Tin easier. Spot and nearby 49.62@49.75; futures 49.25@49.50. Iron steady; prices unchanged. Lead steady; spot [illegible] nearby delivery 8.00. Antimony, spot 8.75@7.87.

MONEY.

New York, March 20.—Call money easier; high 5 1-2; low 5; ruling rate 5; closing bid 5 1-2; offered at 5 3-4; last loan 5 1-2; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

COTTON.

New York, March 21.—Cotton—Spot quiet; middling $1.10.

Local Wholesale Market

Local market report, March 20, 1923.
Furnished by the Marketing Bureau of the State Board of Agriculture to The Norwich Bulletin.

Good Demand: Barreled apples, cabbage, oranges, native eggs and fat fowls.

Fair Demand: Lettuce, celery, new cabbage, spinach, parsnips, fancy lamba.

Slow Demand: Turnips, cranberries, dressed pork, live calves.

Fruits and Vegetables.
Apples, gr T bbl.	$6.00	$7.25
Cranberries, bbl.	10.00	12.00
Oranges, box	4.50	6.00
Cabbage, bbl.	4.00	5.00
Carrots, bu.	1.35	1.50
Celery, doz. bunches	1.25	1.50
Lettuce, doz.	1.25	1.50
Onions, bu.	1.40	1.75
Potatoes, nat. bu.	1.25	1.35
Parsnips, bu	2.25	2.75
Potatoes, sweet, nat.	1.50	1.75
Turnips, bu.	1.00	1.25
Poultry and Dairy.
Chickens, dressed, lb.	.35	.43
Chickens, live, lb.	.24	.27
Fowl, live, lb.	.28	.32
Fowl, dressed, lb.	.30	.36
Geese, dressed, lb.	.32	.35
Eggs, Conn. newlaid, fan.	.33	.35
Eggs, Conn., hennery	.30	.33
Eggs, Conn. gathered	.30
Eggs, western	.32	.36
Butter, best tub, lb.	.50	.52
Butter, best print, lb.	.53	.55
Kale, bbl.	3.00	3.25
New cabbage	6.50	6.75
Spinach, bu. bskt.	1.75	2.00
Radishes (50 pun. bskt).	3.25
Meat Products.
Calves, best live, lb.	.11	.12
Calves, heavy, lb.	.08	.11
Cows, live, nat. 100 lbs.	1.50	3.00
Cows, live, nat. com.	2.00	2.00
Cows, milch, hd.	70.00	125.00
Steers, nat. 100 lbs.	6.25	7.50
Hogs, live, 100 lbs.	7.25	9.25
Ham, best smoked, lb.	.23	.25
Lard, pure, lb.	.14 1-2
Beef, prime, lb.	.15	.16
Beef, medium, lb.	.14	.15
Cows, dressed, lb.	.11	.12
Cows, com. dressed, lb.	.08	.09
Lambs, fan lb.	.25	.27
Veal, medium, lb.	.18	.19
Veal, fan west, lb.	.19	.20
Veal, fan nat lb.	.20	.22
Grain.
Bran, 100 lbs.	2.05	2.15
Corn, No. 1, 100 lbs.	1.95	2.10
Cottonseed meal, 100 lbs.	3.25	3.35
Dry mash, 100 lbs.	2.90	3.10
Flour, 96 lbs. sack	8.50	9.50
Gluten, 100 lbs.	2.70	2.80
Hominy chop, 100 lbs.	3.25	3.35
Middlings, std. 100 lbs.	2.05	2.15
Oats, bu., 32 lbs.	1.90	2.10
Poultry grain, 100 lbs.	2.55	2.60
Timothy hay, 100 lbs.	1.50	1.60
Timothy, bale, 100 lbs.	1.50	1.60
Timothy, loose, 100 lbs.	1.30	1.40
Wheat, 100 lbs.	2.90	3.10

Milk, quart, retail .12, wholesale .08-.10. Cream, quart, retail $1, wholesale .80.

Market conditions: The fruit and vegetable markets remain active for barreled apples, oranges and potatoes. The supplies of celery are heavier on the market at present. Lower prices are being asked for celery hearts and Floridas. The potato market shows an upward tendency, that is on the better grades. The lower to medium grades show no marked improvement in their values. The butter markets show an upward tendency. The reduced supplies are helping the receivers to move their present supplies a little faster. The live poultry market was inclined to be a shade higher today. The same applies to the dressed poultry market. Native eggs are maintaining lower prices at present on account of the heavy supplies received on the market daily.

JEWETT CITY

Two still alarms called the firemen out for brisk chimney fires, one at 6 p. m. Monday at Fred Robinson's, and at 6 a. m. at Levi Adams'.

Workmen are making extended improvements at the Jewett City creamery, which will include the whitening of the walls and ceiling in the churning department and a new floor in the cream ripening room.

Miss Beauregard's millinery opening today, Fri., Sat. Everybody welcome.—adv.

All of Monday night a half a gale of wind kept everything on the move that wasn't well anchored. When the change began in mid-afternoon the mercury stood at 44, at 6 a. m., Tuesday it had tumbled to 8 above. The snow that promised to do business in the early evening, was fortunately of short duration.

Many of the new seed and garden books are in the hands of prospective buyers, with their handsome colored plates, showing wonderful tomatoes and long, green cucumbers in extra attractive design.

Many small garden planters within the borough limits will miss the accustomed package of government seed.

It is believed doubtful if any votes were ever made or lost here that could be directly traceable to congressional seeds, yet many a fine crop has been raised from them. A case reported at the time is that of a local parsnip raiser, who, after three repeated trials with three sorts of hollow crown seeds, and not finding enough seed germinating to pay to cultivate, finally planted seeds from the government package, and raised the best crop he ever had.

Local stores all through the borough offer each spring, fine selected seeds. Selecting from these stocks are believed to be as reliable as can be purchased.

Local baseball fans were much interested in the story in The Bulletin Tuesday about the opportunity which has been offered Joe Faber, to play with the Baltimore Orioles. Faber, it is true, made a great showing at the Sub Base in 1921. Home sports are recalling that it was on local teams in Jewett City that he got his first start in baseball, and received the stimulus to put over the fine rating he has since shown.

It is also recalled, with no little pride, that right on the home diamond, Hughie Duffy, first played the game, with such skill that big team managers were attracted by his emcelency.

Speaking of Joe Faber, his first game was with the Holy Name team. Then he was taken over by Manager Chase of the Ashland team. Local fans feel that even as fine a write-up as appeared in The Bulletin, is incomplete in absence of these facts.

Justice of the Peace William R. Palmer, of Griswold, held justice courts in two different towns Tuesday.

Local trout fishermen are polishing [illegible]

"A Select Security"

United Soda Fountain Company

7%

Cumulative Participating First Preferred Stock

First Preferred participates equally with Common Stock in all dividends (cash or stock) in excess of $7.00 per share.

Select because:

a. The adoption of the prohibition amendment greatly increased the consumption of soft drinks at soda fountains. As prohibition becomes more effective this increase will become more marked.

b. Serving luncheons at soda fountains is a new business. Already a huge industry, its growth is phenomenal. It requires added footage in counters and increased fixtures.

c. Chain stores, like United Candy, A. & P., Kresge, etc., find the soda fountain and luncheonette an increasingly important source of revenue. "Schrafft's" have five "United" installations in Boston and 35 in New York and more going in.

d. While the company has captured 60 per cent of the trade in the territory in which it operates it does but 1 per cent of the soda fountain business in the United States. There is ample room for growth. This is a good stock to put in your strong box.

Ask for Illustrated Circular K 21

Barstow Hill & Co. Inc.
68 Devonshire St., Boston

of the local brooks. A member of the Fish and Game club sees little chance of Easter fishing, with any promise of success. A visit to some of the brooks finds them mostly bank full, and in many cases he reports the finest pools, as big as a mill pond. In past trouting seasons local game wardens have had little or no trouble with people fishing before April first. The illegal fishing is done later, when the streams are normal, then, as was the case last year, they are filled with various trap devices. Leslie Bliss, fishing a well known brook in the east part of the town, discovered and reported a long cylindrical wire device, resembling the commercial minnow trap. These are set in the middle of the stream, with wire wings extending to either bank. Then the pot men go up 100 yards and beat the brook with branches, and poke into the holes under the overhanging banks with long poles. On Broad Brook, a system of floating hooks, on long thin copper wires, invisible from the bank, anchored to the bottom, was discovered. The scheme would not have been detected, only that a pound and a quarter black bass was seen, caught, and struggling with a great splashing of water, that could be heard some distance away.

Even more vigilance than heretofore is promised and strict assurance is given, that if detected, there will be something coming for such infractions of Connecticut law.

The funeral of Mrs. Roxanna Dennison was held at the Baptist church on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. E. E. Scates read the Scripture and offered prayer. Rev. J. W. Payne had asked the privilege of speaking at the funeral, as he is virtually the pastor at the Voluntown Baptist church, and has been for two years. He knew Mrs. Dennison personally and spoke of her attachment to the church of which she was a member and of her love for it. He dwelt upon the old order of change, giving place to the new. Rock of Ages and Sometime We'll Understand were sung by Mrs. G. H. Prior, Mrs. George Sparks, Mrs. E. H. Hiscox and Miss Evelyn Gardner, with Mrs. John Davis as accompanist.

The funeral was in Pachaug cemetery and the bearers were Alfred Palmer, Matthew Exley, and Harry Dennison. Friends from out of town who attended were Mrs. Emma Brennamen, of New Haven, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dennison, Ora and Harry Dennison of Moosup, Mrs. Saunders of Norwich Town, Mrs. Barber of Bozrah and Mrs. Perkins of Westerly.

State President of the King's Daughters Mrs. G. H. Prior was in Hartford on last Friday and addressed Lydia circle of the King's Daughters on the occasion of its thirty-third anniversary.

Mrs. Irene Young Mathewson has visited Rev. Howard Stephenson in New Haven hospital and reports him as very cheerful and hoping to come to Jewett City at the end of the week. The doctors say his case might have proved very serious but that their opinion is that he will make a good recovery, although he is not allowed to sit up as yet.

Mrs. Theodore A. Robinson and son of Boston are at F. E. Robinson's.

Jewett City bowling scores:

J. C. League.

E. Guillotte ..	103	92	89— 284
W. Fontaine	94	126	95— 315
W. Guillotte	93	86	97— 276
W. Dealtry	121	123	110— 344
Sweet	125	93	96— 314
	536	520	487 1543
Ashland.
Lefave	103	113	92— 308
R. Jarvis	102	107	98— 307
Field	87	98	81— 266
Bisonn	88	109	124— 321
Gingras	138	111	127— 376
	518	538	522 1578
Aspinook.
J. Pinckley	120	123	111— 354
R. Robertson	156	120	98— 374
W. Simmons	104	105	102— 312
E. Blake	113	93	97— 303
E. Willis	88	84	107— 279
	581	525	516 1622
Slaters.
W. Rafle	107	110	112— 329
Aremony	105	104	119— 328
Tarbox x..	112	92	111— 315
J. McCarthy	12	110	94— 316
H. LeClaire	84	92	92— 268
	520	508	528 1556

Ansonia.—Quite a number of Russian residents attended a mass meeting under the auspices of the Russian city committee. The principal speaker was Dr. E. J. Fink of Petrograd, Russia, who told of conditions in Russia from 1904 to the present time.

RUB RHEUMATIC PAIN FROM ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" rheumatism.
It's pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, and not one rheumatism case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right on the tender spot, and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints, and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.
Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, Lonsdale St. Jacobs Oil from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of this paper.

NIANTIC

Fishhawks have arrived in this vicinity and are beginning to get their food from the Niantic river. Several of the large birds flew over Monday with good sized fish in their claws. Several record catches of flatfish have been made thus far by local fishing parties.

The Black Point club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Elias Coomes of the Point road. Owing to the disagreeable weather last week on Tuesday, the meeting was postponed. The social branch of the club held their banquet Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Noah Chapman of West Main street.

The Crescent Beach Land company has leased a cottage to Harley W. Tripp of Waterbury. Mr. Tripp was at the beach Saturday making arrangements to secure a place for the coming season.

Miss Eleanor Rogers of Smith avenue is entertaining Miss Grace Coulter from Waterbury.

The Harmony club will meet this Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Willis Havens of the Roxbury road.

The ladies of the Baptist church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. F. A. Beckwith of Grand street.

Frank Jones has completed repairs to his home at the beach.

Fred J. Howard and his assistant, James Davy, have completed wiring the Frank Aldrich home on Grand street.

Turner Harding has returned from a trip to Essex.

Fred Howard has a force of men wiring the Woods summer residence at Pleasure Beach.

Albert E. Brown of New Haven spent the week end at the Henry Smith cottage in Pine Grove.

Charles Johnson of Hartford spent the week end at his cottage in the grove.

Miss Marian K. Gifford, who is teaching school, spent the week end at her home in Willimantic. Miss Gifford is a summer resident of Pine Grove.

Mrs. Walter G. Allen returned Monday to her home in Pine Grove after an extended visit in New Haven, where she formerly lived.

Miss Mary Latham has returned to her home in West Main street after a visit with her nieces in New Haven.

Elmer W. Russell has a force of men scraping the Black Point road and getting it ready for this season's traffic.

The supper given Thursday evening of last week in the Niantic school lunch room was well patronized. The sum of $25 was realized for school needs.

Mrs. Chester Beebe has returned to her home on Main street after a visit to her mother, Mrs. Nancy Turner, who is ill at the home of her sister in New London.

Mrs. A. A. Langfitt of Lynn, Mass., who has been visiting Mrs. Jennie Smith of York avenue for several days, has gone to New London.

The whist given recently by the Sunshine society and held in the parlors of the Morton house was well attended. The society netted $8.75 towards their sunshine work.

Attorney and Mrs. Marion R. Davis returned to their home on Main street Sunday after several days' visit with Attorney and Mrs. William Egan in Hartford.

The Woman's auxiliary of St. John's chapel will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. William Coroley of East Main street.

The Niantic band gave a concert Sunday afternoon in the club rooms on Main street, and as the music was of a pleasing nature many passersby stopped in to hear the strains. A whist and dance was given Monday evening in the social hall to raise funds for new equipment.

The Girls' Friendly society of the village will meet Wednesday evening in the parlors of the Morton house.

Mrs. Nicholas Dardis, who has been caring for Mrs. John Bogue and her two children during illness, has returned to her home in New London.

Nathan F. Levee is making alterations to Attorney William Egan's summer home on Main street.

Miss Lillian Clark, who is teaching school in Wallingford, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Clark, of the Flanders road.

Chester Comstock and sister of New London, also William Tubbs of the same city, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Noah Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hart Hillar and daughter, Miss Marian, of Main street motored to Poquonnoc Sunday and were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thompson.

Percy Rogers, who has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers, of the Flanders road, for about six weeks, returned to his work in Ledyard Sunday afternoon.

Clarence Faulkner and his force of men are plastering the interior of Mark D. Rush's home on Champlin hill. The carpenter work is in charge of John Beckwith.

Miss Nellie Rogers and Ford Edwards of Flanders were Sunday guests of her brother, Leon P. Rogers, and family of the Black Point road.

Mrs. John Cortillo, who has been a patient at the Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital in New London, has recovered and returned to her home in the village.

Mrs. W. E. Beebe and Mrs. Brailey of the village were among Sunday visitors to Pine Grove.

Henry Gallant is doing carpenter work on the new brick bungalow constructed last summer at Crescent Beach for William U. Wheeler.

Local friends have received letters from Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cruttenden, who are spending the winter at St. Petersburg, Fla., saying they will leave soon on their homeward journey to Niantic. They report having a pleasant winter in the sunny south and while there state they have covered some 1,700 miles in their auto, seeing the surrounding country. Upon their arrival here they will take Mr. Con's tenement on Main street, having leased this building last year.

James Metcalf has returned to the grove after a few days' trip to Oakdale and vicinity.

P. A. Daniels and son Origen are making alterations to the Eldredge building on Hope street.

William A. Fiske of the Flanders road, who has been quite seriously ill for several weeks, is improving and able to be around his home.

HEBRON

Mr. Le Gacy, who has been spending the winter with his son, Principal Le Gacy, returned to his home in Maine Tuesday.

The members of the Camp Fire Girls held a ceremonial meeting at the home of their president, Miss Eunice Seyms, Saturday afternoon. They observed the 11th birthday of the order.

Mrs. Jared Tennant and daughter Marion were Willimantic visitors recently.

Mrs. C. A. Lord and son Morgan returned home the first of the week, having been in Hartford and New Mritain a number of days.

The members of the L. A. S. have been invited to meet with Mrs. Gertrude Hough Wednesday.

MANSFIELD DEPOT

Mrs. Skillen arrived last week from Georgia and is taking care of W. H. Corbitt.

Albert Botham has recovered from grip.

Carlos Brigham was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Willimantic last Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Klein were in Willimantic on Saturday.

Miss Tyyni Esther Laitinen, teacher of Edwin Reynolds Memorial school, attended the teachers' meeting at the Mansfield Center school last Thursday afternoon and spent the week end at her home in North Stonington.

Mrs. Esther Ellis of the staff house office service in the Mansfield state training school and hospital was at her home in Yantic for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Nelson of Andover were at the parsonage on Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. H. C. McKnight of Coventry conducted the preaching service at Dunham Memorial church and the afternoon service in the state institution last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Hansen visited relatives in Stafford on Sunday.

Harold Hansen was a visitor at Merrow Sunday.

James W. Green of Eagleville was at his father's home on Sunday.

Devotional meeting Thursday at 2 p. m. at the parsonage.

MONSTER DOUBLE BILL

BREED THEATRE

THREE DAYS ONLY

THURSDAY—FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

THE LARGEST LAUGH THAT'S STRUCK THE BREED STARTS TOMORROW

CHARLES CHAPLIN

IN HIS GREATEST SCREEN CLASSIC

"THE PILGRIM"

The Laugh of a Lifetime—For Everybody—Not Just a Comedy, But a Classic. A full Four Reels — Four Reels You'll Revel In. Enacted and Written by Chas. Chaplin—That's Why!

—ALSO—

THE FORGOTTEN LAW

A Drama of the Conflict of Love and Distrust, With

Milton Sills — Cleo Ridgely — and Jack Mulhall

SOME SHOW! — SEE IT IN COMFORT AT THE BREED

TODAY — LAST TIMES — JACK PICKFORD, in "GARRISON'S FINISH"

MOVIE CHATS | EDUCATIONAL COMEDY

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

ZUCKERNEY—In Norwich, March 15, 1923, a son, Nathan, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zuckerney (Mollie Lewis).

ALPERT—In Buffalo, N. Y., March 13, 1923, a son, Leonard Stamm, to Dr. and Mrs. T. N. Alpert (Bessie G. Stamm).

STONE—In Hartford, Feb. 18, 1923, a son, Allyn, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stone of Baltic.

DIED

RIVER—In Norwich, March 15, 1923, Lucille, wife of Raymond Rivers of Waterbury, aged 26 years.

RHEAUME—In Montville, March 19, 1923, Mary, wife of Michael Rheaume, aged 59 years.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MAC CONNELL—In Baltic, March 20, 1923, suddenly, Hector MacConnell, aged 63 years.

Funeral services at his home Friday at 2 p. m. Burial in Westfield cemetery, Danielson. mar22d

CLOSE — In Norwich Town, March 19, 1923, Mary Ann widow of William Close.

Funeral services at the chapel rooms of The Henry Allen & Son Co. Wednesday afternoon, March 21, at 2 o'clock.

FLOOD—In Putnam, March 19, 1923, Mrs. Ethel Flood, wife of John Flood of Danielson, aged 38 years.

Funeral services (private) this Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the undertaking rooms of L. E. Kennedy, Danielson.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned wish to thank most sincerely their neighbors, friends and members of the New England Order of Protection for kindness, sympathy and flowers at the death and funeral of their beloved wife and mother. These good deeds will always be gratefully remembered.

PATRICK NEALON AND CHILDREN.

Church & Allen
18 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 328-2 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 616-4
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Tel. 1246. Providence St., Taftville.

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

FLORISTS

TREES, flowering shrubs, plants and vines. Rosewood Nursery Co. Tel. 956-2. Free delivery. apr4d

TRUCKING

GEORGE LAMBERT — Moving and trucking, shipping trucks for hire, 21 Eliot St. or Cosmos. Tel. 957-13. jn5d

Rear, 125½ Main St. Tel. 116.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP,
Auto Trucking and Storage. Furniture and Piano Moving a Specialty.

C. B. POWLIN, 293 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving pianos and machinery. Tel. 1052-2. my16d Long Distance Moving and Repairing. Household, 17 Bonnell Ave. Tel. 1441.

TRADING and moving, long distance moving a specialty. John L. Ford, 335 Main St. Phone 735.

C. B. BROMLEY & SON,
Shetucket St. Phone 258.
LONG DISTANCE MOVING.

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

ORDERS taken for New Haven Wall Paper Co. Call and see samples. Mrs. M. Kennedy, 59 Union St. mar14WFM

JOHN F. ARMURN & CO., painting, paperhanging and decorating; estimates cheerfully furnished. 190 Laurel Hill Ave. mar16d

CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of styles. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. jan23d

FOR SALE—Paint, $1.85 per gal., regular $3.00 grade, wallpaper, 10c per roll. Ham Manser, 183 West Main St., next to Fire Station. my1d

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Hanson, 157 Maple St. Phone 849-13. jan16d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, MM Work and jobbing. 50 West Main St. Phone 981. apr9d

CHIROPODIST

E. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 4 Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1144-4. jan31d

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MONEY FOR FAMILY MAN

A man's family oftentimes needs credit that can only be met out of future savings. We help family men meet emergencies and pay off old debts by making them up to $600, at legal rates on home furniture without removal, repayable in easy installments. Our aid is immediate and confidential. Ask, write or phone 1-6-8-4.

Household Loan Society

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Competent woman for general housework; Sundays free. Mrs. W. Lyman, Montville. Tel. 110-14. mar22d

WANTED—Maid, white or part thin. Phone 1696. mar21d

WANTED—A competent housemaid; good wages. Apply 38 Washington St., evenings to Matron. mar21d

WANTED—A bright, clean young woman to assist a small family of three American adults to keep house; one who can treat as a member of the family and give all the comforts of a home. Write, stating salary wanted, Woodwell Farms, Hampton, Conn. mar21d

WANTED—Housekeeper in family of two. Tel. 11-5 Jewett City. mar21d

WANTED—Two neat appearing young ladies to travel with crew manager, canvassing; good paying proposition. See Al Lorraine, 8.30 a. m., Ahawagan Hotel, Danielson, or call 191 for appointment. mar20d

WANTED—A girl for restaurant work; come ready to work. Dewdrop Inn, 119 Franklin St.

WANTED—Competent woman for general housework; good wages; Sundays free. Mrs. W. Lyman, Montville. Tel. 110-14. mar20d

WANTED — Chambermaid for the American House; middle aged colored woman preferred. Apply 19 Sister Ave. mar20d

WANTED—Maid for general housework; competent cook; references required. Mrs. W. B. Young, 10 Huntington Place. mar20d

WANTED—Salesladies wanted by F. W. Woolworth Co.; must be able to furnish references. Apply to Manager, F. W. Woolworth Co. mar20d

WANTED—Girl or woman for general housework; can go home at 2 o'clock. Call 306 West Main St. mar19d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to assist with light housework. Address, M. D. V., care of Bulletin. mar19d

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Short order cook, and also boy to wash dishes. Apply City Lunch. mar21d

WANTED — Thoroughly experienced shoe salesman. Apply Mints Boot Shop, 102 Main St. References required. mar21d

WANTED—Shirt manufacturer wants agents to sell shirts direct to wearer; earn big money; be your own boss; no experience or capital required; write for free samples. Madison Mills, 507 Broadway, New York. mar21d

HERE is an opportunity; ten thousand accountants needed by revenue agents; why not get one of these $3,000 a year places, with the help of Norwich Commercial School, day, evening or mail courses, 50 Franklin St. mar16FMW

WANTED—Firemen, brakemen; beginners $150-$250 (which position?). Railway Bulletin. mar23SW

WANTED—Experienced truck drivers and helpers. Apply Thames Coal Co., Thames Square. mar16d

WANTED—Middle aged man for clerical position in hotel; state references. Write Box 70, Bulletin. mar20d

WANTED—Man to take care of furnace and horse and do the work around the place. Phone 35-4 Willimantic Div. mar16d

WANTED—Boy, at least 16 years of age. Apply West Side Silk Mill. mar15d

WANTED

Spoolers and Speeder Tenders
THE FALLS COMPANY
Yantic Street

CAPABLE SALESMAN WANTED
FOR THE PLUMBING SUPPLY TRADE
STATE EXPERIENCE, AND COPY OF REFERENCES.
ADDRESS P. O. BOX 316, NORWICH, CONN.

WANTED

SPINNERS for Night Work, on Davis and Furber Mules. Apply Joseph Hall & Son, Inc., Trading Cove Mill.

WANTED

ROPING CARRIER
JOSEPH HALL & SON, Inc.
Trading Cove Mill

BEAUTY PARLOR

ELECTROLOGIST — Superfluous hair, warts and moles removed by electric needle, by appointment, at 62 Asylum St., or at your home. Tel. 981. mar11d

GIRLS—Free for a limited number of days, a complete course in beauty treatment. Write Porolax, 149 Franklin St. mar19d

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Etc.

TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE
FARE $3.50 — Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:00 P. M.
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y. Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.
The New England Steamship Co.

NORWICH-WESTERLY BUS LINE.
NICK MOONEY, Prop.
Telephone Westerly 2467.
Leave Westerly 8 and 11 a. m., 2 and 5 p. m.
Leave North Stonington 8.30 and 11.30 a. m., 2.30-5.30 p. m.
Leave Norwich 9.30 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 6.30 p. m.
Leave North Stonington 10.15 a. m., 1.15, 4.15, 7.15 p. m.
FARES: Norwich-Westerly, 75c; Norwich-North Stonington, 45c. mar19WS

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—To list your property of every description on a commission basis; we may have just the buyer for your place; we do our best to satisfy you and will do our best to satisfy you, the same as we have for many others. Bartlett & MacNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich, Conn. mar21WFSW

IF YOU are fortunate it will pay you to call or address P. O. Box 51, Norwich, Conn. mar21d

WHEN there is any better time than right now to sell your property, we will sell it. The quality of your is in the street, not in the house or the land. Priced to sell. Boston Grain Co., Willimantic. mar16FMW

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and mattresses. Louis D. Ward, Box 239, Norwich. jan22MW

WANTED—Short property. New York business man wants to buy small house suitable for summer home on or near passport or lake; give location, description and lowest price; photo if possible. Mr. Hardy, Room 1101, 130 West 42d St., New York. mar20d

IF YOU HAVE a temperature of 114, look for a hot water bag. If you want a good cigar, try Dela Cass mild cigar, 10c straight; Anndora 7c; four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop. mar20d

ALL THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS close March 17, St. Patrick's day. Try our Dela Cass mild cigar, 10c straight; Anndora, mild 7c cigar, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop. mar19d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2163.

WANTED—Pictures and books relating to California. C. J. Kibe, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

WANTED—Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-2. jan11d

INTERNATIONAL S. S. and Realty Agency, real estate of all description, insurance, steamship tickets, notary public, John G. Chesnicki, Agt., 160 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. nov1d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and safes; try me before selling. N. Waldinger, 23 Market St. Phone 837-5. 9d

WANTED—Second hand furniture. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. jan31d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture; best prices paid. Brockett, 162 Franklin St. Phone 713-4. my24d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 15 Franklin St. Phone 717-2.

WE BUY and pay highest prices for second hand furniture and goods. Kremins, successor to King, 48-50 Water St. Phone 1386. my21d

WANTED—Old law books. C. J. King, Norwich, Conn., Box 195. Phone. mar19d

BAGS

We want several thousand BAGS—Good price paid.
Phone 2300.
YANTIC GRAIN AND PRODUCTS COMPANY
3 Cove Street, Norwich
(Or Any of Our Branches)

FREE HOMES WANTED

There are many bright, attractive boys, both Catholic and Protestant, between the ages of 6 and 11 years, for whom we are anxious to find free homes. These children are strong and well and need to be placed with families where they will receive fair treatment and intelligent care.

Anyone interested in any one of these children, kindly communicate with THE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE, State Capitol, Hartford, Conn. mar19d

WANTED

By manufacturer of food products, about 5,500 square feet, on ground floor, for use as warehouse and distributing agency; preferably with side track facilities. Write Box 34, Bulletin. mar16d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Black and tan shepherd dog. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Arthur Goyette, Box 361, Baltic, Conn. mar21d

LOST—Hound dog, white with tan head; tag No. 71214. Finder notify A. G. Willett, 5 Stanton Ave. mar19d

LOST—A black and tan hound; owner's name on collar. Charles F. Cole of Bozrahville. mar18d

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE — Sport model Cadillac (phaeton) 1917, in very good condition and at an attractive price; two spare tires and much extra equipment; here is a great buy. Write Box 283, Danielson, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar19d

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. V. Eggleston, 48 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1918 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 50,000 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 105 Broadway. mar8d

AVAILABLE

4-Cyl. 1922 Buick Touring
Overhauled and Painted
A Rare Value!

We have a few other reconditioned cars of various makes, all of which offer an exceptional opportunity to those who want real value.

Julian L. Williams
28 TOWN STREET
NORWICH, CONN.

AUTO WRECKING
PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2190

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
328 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 897

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

$1,750 Buys a six-room house, with 100 feet of land, facing the Thames. Costes, Bruker, 49 Broadway. Phone 1349. mar21d

FOR SALE—Three cows, one new milker, call by 6:30, two soon to freshen. Wilbur Rose, 145 Otrobando Ave. Tel. 1129-3. mar21d

FOR SALE—In the town of Griswold, Conn., miles from Jewett City and 1-2 mile from the well known and quaint little hamlet of Pachaug is located the Frank Terry farm. The owner, one of the most successful farmers in the town, who is retiring, has given us the exclusive sale of this property. We wish to make this statement in regard to the merits of this farm and will say that it is considered as one of the best and most profitable farms in New London county. We personally recommend it to either the sincere farm buyer or to the city man seeking a desirable summer home. It is on high ground with good drainage, and the view is exceedingly pleasing, near state road, postoffice, church and school. The land is very productive and consists of 118 acres, well divided. A large young orchard in an extra growth considering, plenty of wood and pasture, with a never-failing spring. The buildings are exceptional for a farm, consisting of a well built modern structure house, with good roof covering, cement floor, furnace, running water, bathtub and acetylene gas; barn is 36x70 feet and is in good shape. Several poultry houses and a new brooder house. For further description, inquire immediately of Burdick & McNicol, Real Estate and Insurance, Thayer Building, Norwich, Conn. mar21WSW

FOR SALE—Buy this three-family house located in the city of Norwich; a good investment as well as a home; terms may be arranged to suit purchaser; price $4,500. Do you realize that Burdick & McNicol can help you buy such a property as this, even though you do not have all of the money to pay down? Come in and talk it over with us. We are sure we can help you. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. mar21d

FOR SALE—Four good trusty horses, all ready for spring work, with harnesses, 2 manure spreaders, a good two-way riding sulky plow, do not have to get tired ploughing, 13 cows, some good family cows, 100 of the best laying hens that can be had, 1 nice little pony with 2 harnesses and carts complete, bean in the family for years, a beauty, which will speedily any boy or girl, 50 tons of good hay and one of the best cream separators made, 1 Ford ton truck, 1 Ford touring car, in good condition; if you want to start farming, come and see me; will sell you all at a reduced price; a bargain for somebody; also will sell you a farm or rent you one; this is going to be a prosperous year for the farmer, a large hay and grain and vegetable crop and a quantity of fruit—a good time for a new beginner to start farming. Address The Starlight Farm, R. F. D. 1, Box 47, North Stonington, Conn. Telephone 82-2 Mystic Division, then you will find me home. First reason for selling, can't get reliable help; second, poor health and cannot do the work. Lafayette F. Main, R. F. D. 1, Box 47, North Stonington. mar21d

MAPLELAWN MEADOWS offer a Holstein bull calf, born Jan. 14, 1923, about 7-8 white nicely marked, straight, and all right; dam has an A. R. O. record of 20.5 lbs. butter in 7 days; his sire's dam 27.56 lbs. butter and 492 lbs. milk in 7 days; his G. sire's 25 nearest dams average over 25 lbs. butter in 7 days; herd under state and federal supervision. J. Kellogg Hall & Son, R. D. 1, Norwich, Conn. Phone 1851-4. mar21d

FOR SALE—Brushes of many kinds; specialty floor brooms and counter dusters made of horsehair. John Hallberg, Box 55, Waureagan, Conn., close to Waureagan R. R. station. mar21d

FOR SALE—Ten standard varieties of strawberry plants, including Howard No. 17, Premier, Cornwood, Pearl, the latest berry grown, and Progressive Everbearer; reduced prices; catalogue free. S. E. Holdridge, Norwich, Conn., R. D. 6. Tel. Norwich Div. 1858-4. feb15SW

FOR SALE—New full scale guaranteed upright pianos, $245 and up, on easy weekly terms; choice of many leading makes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar24d

FOR SALE—Kroeger mahogany upright piano, slightly used, but in perfect condition, regular $600 value, can be bought for $356, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Large table model talking machine, in first class playing condition, $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Pedigreed collie pups. Tel. 13-16 Jewett City, Conn. mar20d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Ochs, 370 Asylum St. mar18d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Dehawarns, Cobblers and Spaulding Rose. J. M. Young & Sons. mar16d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $45 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—A Victrola IV, installed in a beautiful console cabinet; $73.50 cash buys it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, special at $75 cash; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 24, Bulletin mar8d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar8d

FOR SALE—Brandeis saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukeleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Tanking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE — New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 50x160 feet; price for quick sale $6,000. Phone 141-2. jan9d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar9d

FOR SALE

6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS! SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 2260

FOR SALE

New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 80x100 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
37 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 497

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE

Very choice modern, up-to-date four-apartment house, located in the best spot of Broad St.; present earning capacity $3,300 per year. For a quick sale $30,000 will close it. A gilt-edge investment. Can be financed very liberally.
For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 60 head, several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones. Norwich.

FOR SALE

8-Room Cottage, West Side. Every Improvement. Price $6,000.
Cottage and Garage, near Backus Hospital. All Improvements. Price $8,000.
New Cottage, Preston, with Garage. $5,500.
We also have some attractive Bermuda, Bahama and Porto Rico Tours
Grover & Burdick
2 MARKET STREET; UPSTAIRS
PHONE 1107-2

Just Off the State Road

40 acres good orchard, 500 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $6,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, borders on river. Price only $3,500, cash $1,000.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

FOR SALE

$3,500 will buy six-room cottage with all city improvements, with lot 100x225, located near Pequot Park, only 10 minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Real Estate and Insurance,
Tel. 1527-3. 198 Cliff St.

For Sale

Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 12 cars, located on Broadway. Gross July rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one and two-family houses, finest of locations, prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 20 acres level land, on state road.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments,
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—One pony, heavy coat, good worker, single or double. Inquire of Philip Duden, Jewett City, R. D. 1. mar21d

JUST ARRIVED

Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think it is one as good a car of horses as I have ever received and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER H. PIERSON.
Tel. 526-3. mar12d

TO RENT

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms, single or double, [illegible] steam heated, with or without board. Address Box 49, Bulletin. mar21d

TO RENT — Garage, opposite 103 Chestnut St. Yard Phone Co. mar21d

TO RENT—Four tenements with all improvements; two stores, suitable for any business. Tel. 157-2. mar21WFS

TO RENT—Room with kitchenette, 27 Division St. mar21d

TO RENT—Six-room tenement, all improvements; garage if desired. Inquire 66 Mt. Pleasant St. mar16FMW

TO RENT—Six-room flat, all modern improvements, 2 Thames Square; also six-room flat and store, 12 Thames St. Apply The Thames Coal Co. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 7 Cove St. mar20d

TO RENT—Large [illegible] front room, $2.50 per week. Board if [illegible] and parlor, $5 per week. Board if desired; references required. J. Rosen, 7 Bushnell Ave. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 11 Elm St. mar20d

TO RENT—Lower flat, 70 Orchard St.; space for small car. Inquire upstairs. mar17d

TO RENT—Tenement at [illegible] Hill Ave. Inquire 81 Franklin St. Madio. mar16d

TO RENT—Five-room flat, bath and storeroom, to small American family of adults. 12 Washington St. mar16d

TO RENT—A beautiful [illegible] five-room flat, in best location in city, heat, hot water and gas [illegible] per month; 60 Lyrdal St. Inquire at Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

TO RENT—Apartment of four rooms and bath, for adults; heat and hot water furnished. 175 Broadway. Phone 2053. mar1d

FOR RENT

STORE ON
FRANKLIN STREET
In Alling Block
Inquire of
N. Tarrant & Co.
Phone 170—117 Main St.

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Hard wood four feet long, delivered on car of C. V. anywhere between Willimantic and New London. Tel. Willimantic Div. 619-14. William J. Bowler, West Willington. mar14d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; baskets or cords; lowest prices. Phone 542. jan16d

COAL AND SEASONED WOOD and kindlings in large or small quantities. Phone 104 or 1031-3. R. Sheptin, Willow Brook, Taftville. Conn.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

POULTRY

FOR SALE—Big [illegible] of big boned White Leghorn pullets and cockerels, 100. D. D. Cavanaugh, North Windham, Conn. Phone Willimantic 645-13. mar16d

FOR SALE—White Leghorn cockerels from 2 and 3 year old [illegible] layers, March 25 and 31, $10 up. The $10.50 per 50, delivered; R. I. cockerels $5 each; Queen incubators and brooders; catalogue. Paul Jansen, Mansfield Center, Conn. mar21d

WANTED—To make this suggestion. Start your chicks right. No [illegible] clean sand the first 48 hours. This puts their digestion good, avoid [illegible] keep them hungry, and you are [illegible] on the road to success. Pratt's Poultry Pan-a-ce-a and never mind about indigestion, leg weakness and [illegible]. Pan-a-ce-a will take care of all that. There will be wellness, good eating and good growth. Look out for lice. Keep a can of Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer handy all summer long. Use Dr. Hess White Diarrhea Remedy for all forms of diarrhea. All guaranteed. Sold by C. A. Sloberg & Son, Norwich Grain Co., Yantic Grain and Products Co., Yantic. mar21d

FOR SALE—S. C. R. I. Red cockerels, hatching from white diarrhea tested stock. W. W. Service, Norwich, R. D. 1. Tel. 1852-2. mar16d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; fool proof feature; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville, Conn. feb2d

BABY CHICKS; free feed; pullets; breeds; prepaid guaranteed delivery; send for catalog. Roy Clark, E. Hartford, Ct. jan2d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks. White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. R. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. 2d

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

FOR SALE—Tires, 30x3 1-2, $7.50; 33x4, $13; 33x4, $14; 34x4, $15; all firsts, guaranteed. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St. mar7d

FOR SALE—Ford honeycomb radiators, all brass, guaranteed, $11 up. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St., Norwich. feb5d

NORWICH AUTO and Truck Paint Shop, all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1397. oct15

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Joe Antonucci, Pond St. Phone 1297. mar20d

The best car makers, (Pierce Arrow, Locomobile, Packard, etc.), use cylinder regrinding machines, for they know that the smooth, glass-like, true bore these machines produce means a cylinder block that will last and stay "gas tight" longest.

Have US REGRIND your scored or worn cylinder the same way, and be THOROLY satisfied.

HEEBNER BROS.
31 CHESTNUT STREET

This is the time to have us put the radiator in A-1 shape for the coming season. Have us clean the radiator, stop all leaks, strengthen where vibration is affecting it, remove dents and other injuries.

Skilled service in every phase of radiator service, at moderate cost.
WILLIAM E. SHANLEY
499 MAIN STREET, NORWICH

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK

OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles,
Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

CIGARS

CIGARS
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand.
J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAZ, Architect, Room 8, May Bldg. Buildings, supervision. Appraisals. feb10d

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the appeal of the confirmation of the appointment of Temporary Receiver of Lake Rescue Co., Inc., of Norwich, Conn., will be heard in the Superior Court Room in the Court House at New London, Conn., on Friday, March 30th, 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.
JOHN A. [illegible]

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUCTION

Auction Notice
By
WILFRED BOND,
AUCTIONEER,
Office and Salesroom, No. 48 Main St., Norwich, Conn.
We will on the premises of the late Charles S. Jones, located on the Plain Hill road, about 3 miles from Norwich, on THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1923,
at 10 o'clock a. m., sharp,
sell all of the personal property of the late Charles S. Jones, consisting of Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, Poultry, Farming Implements, Household Furniture, Etc.
Terms of sale, cash. No property to be removed from premises until settled for.
WILFRED BOND,
Auctioneer.
PUBLIC AUCTIONEER.
Office and Salesroom, No. 48 Main St., Norwich, Conn.

AUCTION NOTICE
We will on the premises of the late Charles S. Jones, located on the Plain Hill road, about 3 1-2 miles northeast of Putnam, Conn., on the Providence-Gladstone pike road, on TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1923
at 10 o'clock a. m., sharp,
sell all of the personal property of the late Charles S. Jones, consisting of 4 horses, 1 mare, 1 colt, 1 yoke of oxen, 1 yoke of steers, 1 yoke of heifers, 1 yoke of calves, 1 bull, 1 cow, 1 heifer, 1 calf, 1 Holstein cow, 1 Holstein heifer, 1 Holstein calf, 1 Holstein bull, 1 Jersey cow, 1 Jersey heifer, 1 Jersey calf, 1 Jersey bull, 1 Guernsey cow, 1 Guernsey heifer, 1 Guernsey calf, 1 Guernsey bull, 1 Ayrshire cow, 1 Ayrshire heifer, 1 Ayrshire calf, 1 Ayrshire bull, 1 Durham cow, 1 Durham heifer, 1 Durham calf, 1 Durham bull, 1 Shorthorn cow, 1 Shorthorn heifer, 1 Shorthorn calf, 1 Shorthorn bull, 1 Devon cow, 1 Devon heifer, 1 Devon calf, 1 Devon bull, 1 Hereford cow, 1 Hereford heifer, 1 Hereford calf, 1 Hereford bull, 1 Angus cow, 1 Angus heifer, 1 Angus calf, 1 Angus bull, 1 Galloway cow, 1 Galloway heifer, 1 Galloway calf, 1 Galloway bull, 1 Brahman cow, 1 Brahman heifer, 1 Brahman calf, 1 Brahman bull, 1 Zebu cow, 1 Zebu heifer, 1 Zebu calf, 1 Zebu bull, 1 Water Buffalo cow, 1 Water Buffalo heifer, 1 Water Buffalo calf, 1 Water Buffalo bull, 1 Yak cow, 1 Yak heifer, 1 Yak calf, 1 Yak bull, 1 Musk Ox cow, 1 Musk Ox heifer, 1 Musk Ox calf, 1 Musk Ox bull, 1 Reindeer cow, 1 Reindeer heifer, 1 Reindeer calf, 1 Reindeer bull, 1 Elk cow, 1 Elk heifer, 1 Elk calf, 1 Elk bull, 1 Moose cow, 1 Moose heifer, 1 Moose calf, 1 Moose bull, 1 Bison cow, 1 Bison heifer, 1 Bison calf, 1 Bison bull, 1 Antelope cow, 1 Antelope heifer, 1 Antelope calf, 1 Antelope bull, 1 Deer cow, 1 Deer heifer, 1 Deer calf, 1 Deer bull, 1 Goat cow, 1 Goat heifer, 1 Goat calf, 1 Goat bull, 1 Sheep cow, 1 Sheep heifer, 1 Sheep calf, 1 Sheep bull, 1 Hog cow, 1 Hog heifer, 1 Hog calf, 1 Hog bull, 1 Dog cow, 1 Dog heifer, 1 Dog calf, 1 Dog bull, 1 Cat cow, 1 Cat heifer, 1 Cat calf, 1 Cat bull, 1 Rabbit cow, 1 Rabbit heifer, 1 Rabbit calf, 1 Rabbit bull, 1 Squirrel cow, 1 Squirrel heifer, 1 Squirrel calf, 1 Squirrel bull, 1 Mouse cow, 1 Mouse heifer, 1 Mouse calf, 1 Mouse bull, 1 Rat cow, 1 Rat heifer, 1 Rat calf, 1 Rat bull, 1 Bat cow, 1 Bat heifer, 1 Bat calf, 1 Bat bull, 1 Fox cow, 1 Fox heifer, 1 Fox calf, 1 Fox bull, 1 Wolf cow, 1 Wolf heifer, 1 Wolf calf, 1 Wolf bull, 1 Bear cow, 1 Bear heifer, 1 Bear calf, 1 Bear bull, 1 Lion cow, 1 Lion heifer, 1 Lion calf, 1 Lion bull, 1 Tiger cow, 1 Tiger heifer, 1 Tiger calf, 1 Tiger bull, 1 Leopard cow, 1 Leopard heifer, 1 Leopard calf, 1 Leopard bull, 1 Panther cow, 1 Panther heifer, 1 Panther calf, 1 Panther bull, 1 Jaguar cow, 1 Jaguar heifer, 1 Jaguar calf, 1 Jaguar bull, 1 Ocelot cow, 1 Ocelot heifer, 1 Ocelot calf, 1 Ocelot bull, 1 Serval cow, 1 Serval heifer, 1 Serval calf, 1 Serval bull, 1 Caracal cow, 1 Caracal heifer, 1 Caracal calf, 1 Caracal bull, 1 Lynx cow, 1 Lynx heifer, 1 Lynx calf, 1 Lynx bull, 1 Bobcat cow, 1 Bobcat heifer, 1 Bobcat calf, 1 Bobcat bull, 1 Wildcat cow, 1 Wildcat heifer, 1 Wildcat calf, 1 Wildcat bull, 1 Domestic cat cow, 1 Domestic cat heifer, 1 Domestic cat calf, 1 Domestic cat bull, 1 Domestic dog cow, 1 Domestic dog heifer, 1 Domestic dog calf, 1 Domestic dog bull, 1 Domestic rabbit cow, 1 Domestic rabbit heifer, 1 Domestic rabbit calf, 1 Domestic rabbit bull, 1 Domestic squirrel cow, 1 Domestic squirrel heifer, 1 Domestic squirrel calf, 1 Domestic squirrel bull, 1 Domestic mouse cow, 1 Domestic mouse heifer, 1 Domestic mouse calf, 1 Domestic mouse bull, 1 Domestic rat cow, 1 Domestic rat heifer, 1 Domestic rat calf, 1 Domestic rat bull, 1 Domestic bat cow, 1 Domestic bat heifer, 1 Domestic bat calf, 1 Domestic bat bull, 1 Domestic fox cow, 1 Domestic fox heifer, 1 Domestic fox calf, 1 Domestic fox bull, 1 Domestic wolf cow, 1 Domestic wolf heifer, 1 Domestic wolf calf, 1 Domestic wolf bull, 1 Domestic bear cow, 1 Domestic bear heifer, 1 Domestic bear calf, 1 Domestic bear bull, 1 Domestic lion cow, 1 Domestic lion heif

FAIR, WARMER TODAY; UNSETTLED TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday, March 21, 1923.

WEATHER
Conditions

The storm that was over the Canadian maritime provinces Monday night has passed eastward beyond the field of observation and another disturbance of wide extent and considerable intensity was over the upper Mississippi valley, the plains states and the southern Rocky mountain and southern plateau regions Tuesday night with the center of minimum pressure over southeastern Colorado.

Generally fair weather has prevailed during the last 24 hours. The weather became much colder Monday night in the Atlantic states but there was a decided rise in temperature during Tuesday throughout the lake region, the great central valleys and the west gulf states.

Fair and warmer weather will prevail almost generally in the Atlantic and east gulf states, Tennessee, the Ohio valley and the lower lake region Wednesday except for local rains or snow in southern New York, but the eastward advance of the disturbance that was central over Colorado Tuesday night will be attended by rain and mild temperature almost generally in the Washington forecast district on Thursday.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook, Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Fresh southerly and weather fair Wednesday.

Forecast

North New England—Probably light snow in Vermont; Thursday unsettled, probably rain or snow.

For southern New England—Fair and warmer in south and unsettled and warmer probably light snow in north portion Wednesday; Thursday unsettled, probably rain in south and rain or snow in north portion.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Tuesday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	6	29.80
12 m.	26	30.10
6 p. m.	30	30.20

Highest 30; lowest 6.

Comparisons

Predictions for Tuesday—Fair and colder.

Tuesday's weather—As predicted.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
19	5.55	5.57	11.19	3.06
20	5.53	5.58	11.59	3.56
21	5.52	6.00	12.35	9.09
22	5.50	6.01	12.55	10.44
23	5.48	6.02	1.19	11.37
24	5.47	6.03	2.28	Morn.
25	5.45	6.04	3.34	0.29

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Jeon Gravelin and family of South A Street have moved to Oceano.

Daniel McSheffery of South A Street has returned from a few days stay in Hartford, where he was the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rudolph and family.

Dr. Hartwell Thompson has returned to his home in Hartford, after passing a few days at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. George M. Thompson of North Second Avenue.

Miss Bella McSheffery of North Third Avenue has resigned her position in the cloth room of the Ponemah Mills.

Hormidas Garry of Merchants Avenue has purchased an automobile.

Fred Belisle has accepted a position in Willimantic.

Taftville friends and relatives have been notified of the death of Mrs. Henry Michaud of Willimantic. Mr. Michaud was a former resident of this village.

A large truck, heavily loaded sank to the hubs, Monday on the Blissville road, and it was several hours before it could be towed out.

A choir has been organized to render special Easter music at the Taftville Congregational Church on Easter Sunday.

Daniel O'Connell of North Fourth Avenue has recovered from his recent illness and has returned to his duties at the Ponemah Company.

A large delegation of local people, mostly French Canadians appeared before a committee of the legislature at the state capitol, Tuesday, in opposition to a bill which would prohibit the teaching of foreign languages in public or private schools.

Terrence Buckley has been ill at his home on South E Street.

CLARK'S CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott are steadily improving after recent illness.

Master Clarence Kneeland has been ill the past week.

Wesley Colburn and Mrs. Wade were in East Hartford recently to attend the funeral of the former's grandmother.

Mrs. E. C. Jewett was called to New Haven Thursday by the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bertrand A. Elmis.

George Moran is driving his recently purchased Chevrolet car.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith entertained their nephew from Storrs over the week end.

Rev. A. Avery Gates delivered a lecture on Saint Patrick at the last Community meeting.

The Sewing circle meets with Mrs. John Navins Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Scott has returned to Plainville.

Amos Stone, George Moran, and son, Roger, were in Hartford on Monday.

ONECO

The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Thomas Brown on Wednesday afternoon with ten ladies present. They sewed on patchwork and a delicious buffet lunch was served by the hostesses.

Russell C. Thurrett was home from Fort Adams for the week end.

Mrs. Charles Byers and son, Harry, of Sterling, visited relatives here Sunday.

Simeon Brewire has moved into his new house at East Oneco.

George Lincoln is on the sick list.

OVERWORKED MOTHERS

We all know them. Mothers who in their anxiety to keep their homes neat and attractive and their little ones as well dressed as their playmates, toil on day in and day out, sweeping, dusting, mending and cooking, often suffering from backache, pain in side, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, all symptoms of more serious ailments. Thousands of such women have found relief from such suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendation continually ... For near... rest and ... other ...

HOUSE REJECTS BILL TO REIMBURSE THE HOLDERS OF LIQUOR LICENSES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, March 20. — The cold snap evidently had its effect upon the legislators this morning, for when the house was called to order at 11.15, by Speaker Nickerson, not more than one-fourth of the membership were present. But little business of importance beyond the rejection of bills on unfavorable reports was transacted. More than a score were thus disposed of.

Among them was the one reimbursing holders of liquor licenses. It was said that the applicants knew the chances they were taking, that it was a gamble. Many of them had continued to sell until they were closed by law.

Three bills that had been introduced concerning labor matters were withdrawn. One introduced by Senator Towns of New Haven making it lawful to urge others to abstain from working and to urge others to abstain from purchasing products of employes in furtherance of trade dispute.

Another introduced by Senator Tone amended the General Statutes concerning intimidation, made it lawful to persuade by lawful means and to induce others to leave employment where there is a trade dispute.

Another was the bill introduced by Senator Wilder of Bridgeport, providing a penalty for unwarranted industrial strikes and lockouts restricting persons from furnishing aid to carry it on and giving any person injured in person or property the use of the courts to recover damages.

It was understood that these new bills were withdrawn under agreement of the labor representatives and the manufacturers association.

A bill was passed that makes it mandatory upon every owner, lessee, proprietor or manager of a hotel or inn to place in every sleeping room a sign upon which shall be printed the daily and weekly charge for such room and meals, if furnished. Violation of the statute may be punished by a fine of not more than $250 and not more than thirty days in jail or both.

Calendar

Bills taken from the calendar and passed were: authorizing the Borough of Naugatuck to issue bonds; proposing an amendment to the constitution concerning appropriations; authorizing the city of New Haven to sell and convey certain land known as Clinton Avenue playground; amending Section 133 of the charter of the city of New Haven concerning drainage; authorizing the borough of Wallingford to issue water bonds; amending the charter of the city of New Haven concerning publication of ordinances concerning hotels and inns; concerning trustees for sinking fund for the town of Danbury; concerning return of process; amending an act concerning appointment of the state forester; changing the name of the trustees of the Watkinson Juvenile Asylum and farm school to the Watkinson school; concerning the Eastern Connecticut Power company; amending an act concerning the care of crippled children; amending the charter of the city of Hartford; concerning public defenders; authorizing the Manchester Electric Company to increase its capital stock and to issue bonds; concerning the issue of floating debt bonds by the town of Farmington.

SENATE

The committee on state parks and reservations reported unfavorably on the bill to purchase a tract of land in Redding for a state park, and on the bill for the removal of shade trees. The bills were rejected.

The committee on labor reported unfavorably on the following bills: No. 153 that train dispatchers and telegraph operators shall not work more than eight hours a day; No. 154, regulating the moving of boxes, baskets, etc. where women are employed; No. 564, concerning seats for employes; No. 565, concerning employment of minors, etc. The bills were rejected.

On the favorable report of the committee on executive nominations resolutions were passed confirming the governor's appointment of William C. Cheney of Manchester a member of the board of state prison directors, and of Walter H. Clark of Hartford a member of the public welfare commission.

The committee on railroads reported favorably on a bill in relation to the improvement of crossings in which the public utilities commission may assess one-half of the cost to the state, instead of one-fourth as at present. Tabled for calendar.

The committee on state parks and reservations reported favorably on a bill empowering the state park commission to lease land for a period not exceeding five years with an option to buy. The bill was tabled for calendar.

The committee on cities and boroughs reported unfavorably on the bill amending the charter of the city of New London. The bill was rejected.

Calendar

Passed—Limiting the amount of real estate which the Quinnipiac club of New Haven may hold to $500,000; extending for six months the time for the acceptance of an amendment to the charter of the People's Light and Power company and the Danielson and Plainfield Gas and Electric company; authorizing the Guilford Electric Water company to issue bonds to the amount of $1,000,000, etc.; amending the charter of the Country club of New Canaan with a capital stock of $10,000; changing the name of the Burritt Mutual Savings bank of New Britain to the Burritt Mutual Savings bank; increasing the salary of the chief of police of Shelton from $1,600 to $2,000; fixing the salaries of the judge and officials of the town court of Branford.

Norwich Water Bonds.

Authorizing the city of Norwich to issue bonds to the amount of $10,000; relating to the erection of a water tower in Fort Wooster park in New Haven; including in the trunk line system the highway running from Stafford Springs to the state line.

Tabled: An act relating to the Thomaston Gas company; concerning the taxation of miscellaneous corporations; concerning untrue and misleading advertisements.

On the motion of Senator Trumbull the bill relating to the bonded indebtedness of cities was recommitted to the committee on the judiciary.

The committee on railroads reported favorably on a bill concerning grade crossings. It was tabled for calendar and printing.

In explaining the bill concerning the taxation of miscellaneous corporations, Senator Trumbull said that every company coming within the scope of the law shall pay a minimum tax of $10 annually. The senator said that business interests should bear their share of the taxation burden, and those who were connected with business interests realized that fact and were willing to pay their share of taxes. On the motion of Senator Brooks the bill was continued on the calendar.

The senate adjourned to Wednesday at 11.15.

TOWN SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET ADVISORY COUNCIL

The town school board is to hold its first meeting this (Wednesday) evening with the advisory council of citizens, which it has invited to confer with it on the matter of the Norwich Free Academy and the high school needs of the town. The meeting is to be held at 8 o'clock in the common council chamber at the court house and it is believed nearly every one of the 30 Norwich citizens invited to be on the council will attend. In advance of the meeting, the members of the council have been furnished by the school board with a statement that covers much of what the board has learned by the investigations which it has conducted so that all who attend the meeting will come there with quite a full understanding the matters which will arise for discussion.

The following are the members of the advisory council:

Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, Wallace S. Allis, Mrs. Willis Austin, Judge Nelson J. Ayling, B. P. Bishop, Judge Allyn L. Brown, Arthur M. Brown, Charles R. Butts, Frederick W. Cary, James L. Case, Dr. James J. Donohue, Grosvenor Ely, Mrs. Frank L. Farrell, Rev. J. Harlow Graham, Miss Louise C. Howe, Martin E. Jensen, Rev. Wm. A. Keefe, John M. Lee, Herbert M. Lerou, Judge Arthur P. Libby, Timothy C. Murphy, Charles D. Noyes, Shepard B. Palmer, Robert W. Perkins, R. C. Plaut, Frank H. Pullen, Frank B. Ricketson, Charles A. Saxton, Rev. Joseph H. Selden, Mrs. W. K. Tingley, all of Norwich, and Dr. A. B. Meredith, commissioner of education, Hartford.

MRS. HOUSTON HOLDS FIRST IN LADIES PINOCHLE CLUB

Following are the scores for this week's meeting of the Ladies' Pinochle club: Mrs. Wyant 7235; Miss McNaugh 6710; Mrs. Houston 6695; Mrs. Crowell 6570; Mrs. Ringland 6550; Mrs. Maples 6430; Dr. Boynton 6360; Mrs. Risley 6330.

Scores for last week: Dr. Boynton 7425; Mrs. Risley 7305; Mrs. Wyant 7120; Mrs. Crowell 6975; Miss McNaught 6895; Mrs. Houston 6645; Mrs. Maples 6090; Mrs. Ringland 5640.

Total scores: Mrs. Houston 48,395; Mrs. Risley 47,145; Dr. Boynton 47,005; Miss McNaught 46,236; Mrs. Crowell 44,415; Mrs. Wyant 44,120; Mrs. Maples 42,285; Mrs. Ringland 42,165.

Fines in Police Court.

In police court Tuesday morning a man from Elmira paid a fine for being drunk. The continued case of the state vs. John Murphy and James Sullivan, aged 20 years, respectively, both of New London, was called up. The cases were settled for $10 and $5.50 respectively.

A charge of breach of the peace against a Norwich man was dismissed. The man had suffered a broken nose but testimony was that it was received in a fall in the vestibule of a car.

Eleven homeless men were housed Monday night, all driven in by the cold wave.

SPEAKS ON WITHERED HAND AND LIVES

Speaking at the noon meeting on Tuesday at the Richmond Radiator company, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., Rev. C. H. Ricketts interested a good sized audience of the employes with his helpful talk based upon Jesus healing the man with the withered hand.

In part he said:

We know nothing of the personal history of this man, but we make no mistake in supposing that his life was a tragedy. This world of ours is a tough old place for a paralyzed man. It is tough enough for men who are strong in body and mind, but it is simply awful for those who are weak mentally or bodily. There seems to be no place in the industrial order for withered men, whether it is the head or the hand that is withered. Because society is not made up altogether of brutes, of course, we have sympathy for the hand that is withered. There is an unwritten law among civilized peoples against putting such unfortunates out of the way as they do in China and other pagan lands. Because we are lifted up a bit from the lower animals we build hospitals and support infirmaries for the fellow who is withered. Simply because we are human we pity him and have sympathy. But no real man can thrive on mere sympathy. He is not satisfied in being half of a man; he wants to be whole. And therefore the withered hand under all circumstances simply spells tragedy.

We have only the barest facts relating to this cure. We do not even know the name of the place in whose synagogue the incident occurred. The setting is all confirmed to this statement. "And when he had departed hence, he went into their synagogue, and, behold, there was a man which had a withered hand." Now, if that was all there was to the incident it wouldn't be worth recording, not even in books less valuable than the Bible. To merely state that 2,000 years ago on one occasion a man appeared in a Jewish synagogue with a withered hand would be a sheer waste of printer's ink. That thing was too painfully common to be even noticed. Neither have we the least interest in the Jewish squabble over the legality of the cure on the Sabbath day. But it is the 13th verse that touches the whole scene with a glorious immortality! Jesus saw the man with the withered hand, briefly looked him over, took a few steps toward him still with His eyes fixed upon him, and said calmly, but in the accents of authority: Stretch forth thine hand! And he stretched it forth simply because he couldn't do anything else. It is this one statement that gives to this incident such reality that it will live and be read as long as there is one withered hand anywhere on the planet.

Let us notice:

First, that there is altogether too much paralysis in this world.

We see too often the inactive, if not the withered, hand. Can you find any form of manual labor anywhere that could not be done better? No matter what causes it: lack of ability, lack of technical skill, lack of interest, or downright laziness that production in none of its lines has reached the maximum either in quantity or quality. The manager of every textile concern in the United States, if he is onto his job, feels that his concern ought to speed up. There are too many concerns wobbling along on anywhere from 40 to 75 per cent. efficiency that ought to show at least 85 or 90 per cent.! It is the aim of every live concern to give more vitality to the withered hand of production. It is not enough for you men to feel that more steam heaters and better steam heaters are made today than ten years ago. That is to be expected because experience leads to progress. In all probability better steam heaters will be made ten years hence than are made today, for precisely the same reason. I don't suppose there is a man here who would be willing to stand up on his two feet and say, "I know everything about a steam heater that is to be known." No one can say that, if he could, there would no longer be any room for progress. So that in all branches of industry if there is not exactly the withered hand, there certainly is the limited hand, and the main thing is to be constantly rising about this limitation.

Precisely the same thing prevails in every branch of athletic sports. The call for greater efficiency on the diamond or the gridiron is even louder than it is in the workshop. No Workmen are even " hauled over the coals" like ball players. The great clubs sometimes play games that show not only lack of enthusiasm, and limitation, but actually paralysis. Coaches are continually shouting: 'You must put more "pep into it;" The withered hand is even here.

Secondly, What is the cause of the withered hand? There are three reasons, and the chief one is disease. Infantile paralysis is very apt to leave its awful mark upon the little one in the shape of a withered hand or leg. Tuberculosis of the bone does the same thing. The greatest number of impotent hands are caused by some form of disease.

The next explanation is accident. There are certain nerves which, if injured, cease to function, and as they are closed to the circulation of the blood, they become practically dead, and finally they wither up and become useless.

The third explanation is heredity. Children are born with withered hands for which there is some prenatal reason. It may be due to some sin on the part of parents and ancestors more remote, or it may not. Of one thing, however, we may be dead sure, and that is, those parents who live clean, pure, white lives, who, obey the laws of God and their own being are more likely to have strong and healthy children than those parents who are diseased, immoral and Godless! No fact is better known to medical science than this. In all the branches of animal life it is "like producing like." It is perfectly reasonable to suppose that good blood counts for as much in the human race as it does among the lower animals. Therefore by smiting disease, lessening accidents, and improving our manner of living, we may banish the withered hand and all other forms of paralysis.

Thirdly, What will cure the withered hand? The command of Christ saying in His exultation as He did in the fish, "Stretch forth thine hand." It may not be the voice of Christ, but surely it is the command of Christ through agencies of His own selection. Let any man, conscious of his limitation, whether it be a withered hand, foot, head, or heart, devoutly ask God to help him, and help will be forthcoming. To say that God cannot do it is to question His power. To say that He will not is to question His goodness.

The cure may be wrought by a man whose life is in unison with Christ. Our Lord sent forth the Twelve with these words: "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out the devils." That was the commission and there is no record that it was ever revoked. Occasionally that work is being done today. What is the difference in these two deeds? Long ago in Galilee, Christ said to a man, "Stretch forth thine hand," and he did. A few weeks ago in New York (according to the leading papers) Coue said to a man, "Throw away your crutch," and he did and walked away. Why can't we do the same if we try, if we have faith, relying on Christ to help us. When we are willing to join an invincible will power to an unwavering faith, we, too, may work wonders.

FIRE IN MAIN STREET STABLE SOON PUT OUT

What looked at first like a bad fire broke out Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock in the stable now owned by Syah Bros., formerly owned by the late A. D. Lathrop in the rear of No. 333 Main street opposite the postoffice. The alarm was rung in from Box 223 and the department soon had three lines of hose laid and ten minutes later the recall was sounded.

The fire had eaten its way up along the ceiling of the building and was gaining headway rapidly when the firemen arrived. The total damage will probably be slightly over $100. The Henschel Tire and Rubber company had a quantity of tires stored in the building but these were not damaged by fire or water.

Workmen's Compensation.

Workmen's compensation agreements as follows have been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue:

Edward Bloom Co., Inc., New London, employer, and Anna Hollis, employe, finger lacerated, at rate of $5.35.

Thomas Budro, Ledyard, employer, and Soren R. Neilson, Gales Ferry, employe, sprained hip and leg, at rate of $9.

Robert Gair Co., Uncasville, employer, and Thomas Shaugnessy, New London, employe, middle finger and fourth finger crushed and lacerated, 6 3-4 weeks at $11.88 for 15 per cent loss of use of two fingers.

New London Ship & Engine Co., Groton, employer, and J. Vasconi, employe, knee injured, at rate of $11.67.

For Burial in Derby.

The body of Peter Fusco, aged 65, who died Monday in Preston after a short illness, was taken in charge by Shea & Burke. The body was sent Tuesday morning on the 11.13 train to Derby where burial will take place.

Gambling Raid at Nathan Peck's

State police made a raid Tuesday night on the store of Nathan Peck at the submarine base, arresting several sailors whom they found there. Peck is accused of conducting a gambling place.

Every time a man has his fortune told he gets rid of a small portion of it.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pains in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments, and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for constipation, biliousness, headaches, and sluggish bowels. Lee & Osgood Co.

FIRST VISIT HERE IN ABOUT THIRTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Fisher of Division street are entertaining Mr. Fisher's brother, Frank W. Fisher of Cleveland, Ohio, a former resident of this locality. This is his first visit in this section for about thirty years. He is to return to Ohio in a few days and will call on friends and relatives in New London and New York on his way.

On Sunday they had a reunion of the family. Those present were their son, Walter, their daughter, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Peckham of Voluntown, Mrs. Fisher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fitch of Preston, Frank Fisher's daughter, Mrs. George Derry and granddaughter, Miss Helen Derry of New London and Miss Arlene Woodmansee of Noank.

Other expected guests were detained on account of illness.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Wednesday, March 21.

WJZ Newark (360 Meters).

7 p. m.—Animal Bedtime Stories by Florence Smith Vincent.

8.30 p. m.—Foods for Health and Pleasure—Kandy Kinks for the Home Kitchen, by Anne Lewis Pierce, director of the New York Tribune Institute.

9.15 p. m.—Variety and Culture of Dahlias, by Thomas L. Peck.

9.30 p. m.—Joint recital by Hazel Gruppe, pianist and CCamielle Plasschaert, violinist.

KDKA Pittsburgh (360 Meters).

6.15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra, Victor Saudek, director.

7 p. m.—Current events.

7.20 p. m.—Salads and Salad Dressing, by H. V. P. Francis.

7.30 p. m.—Charge It, by L. Sondheim.

7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8 p. m.—Addresses by prominent business men.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Victor Saudek; George C. Wahl, tenor; Juliet Bartlett, soprano.

WBZ Springfield (422 Meters).

7.30 p. m.—Bedtime story.

7.45 p. m.—Dental Clinics for School Children, by Miss Evelyn Schmidt, dental hygienist, Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

8 p. m.—Concert by Miss Sarah White, soprano; Mr. Wells, tenor; Mrs. Robert A. Case, pianist.

8.20 p. m.—News of the day.

8.35 p. m.—Continuation of musical program.

WGY Schenectady (370 Meters).

12.30 p. m.—Stock market quotations.

12.45 p. m.—Weather report on 485 meters.

6 p. m.—Produce and stock market quotations, news bulletins.

KYW Chicago (400 Meters).
(Central Time.)

6.50 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.

8-9 p. m.—Musical program: Mary Santee, soprano; Evelyn Wilson, accompanist; Dorothy Louis Nolan, reader (Landis Studio); Herbie Mintz and his orchestra. Tom Brown's Chicago Sextet—Courtesy of Tom Brown Music Shop Burt Mason, first alto saxophone; John Thomas, second alto saxophone; Lucille Heldeman, first tenor saxophone; Howard Lyons, second tenor saxophone; William Lyons, baritone saxophone; James Thomas, bass saxophone. Isham Jones and his College Inn Orchestra, Hotel Sherman, Chicago.

9 p. m.—News, sports and weather forecast.

9.05 p. m.—Special features as announced by radiophone.

WQJ Medford Hillside (360 meters).

6 p. m.—Late news flashes. Early sports news.

6.15 p. m.—Code practice. Lesson No. 23.

6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports. Amrad bulletin board.

6.45 p. m.—Evening program: 1, Girls' Story Hour, conducted by Miss Eunice L. Randall; 2, Adventure Hour, conducted by the Youth's Companion; 3, selections by the Amrad Glee Club, W. Eugene Hammett, director; 4, Whooping Cough, health talk by Burton A. Welcome, American Red Cross; 5, continuation of concert by the Amrad Glee clubs.

PILE SUFFERERS

Don't torment yourself—try Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID — no cure? relieves—no cutting—a harmless remedy that is guaranteed to quickly banish all misery or pain, itching. Lee & Osgood Co.

PISO'S

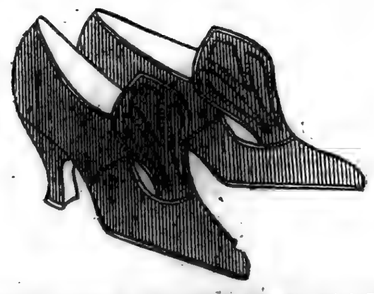
COUGH!

The Piso's which is for sale by all druggists in all civilized countries. 35¢ and 60¢ sizes.

Cheer for two

White Rose

The all-Ceylon Tea



LATEST CREATIONS FOR EASTER

They have the sparkle of style, and good taste, and possess perfect fitting qualities, economy in wear and leadership in fashion.

We have these models in Patent Leather, Gun Metal, Calf, Brown, Gray, Black or Beige Suede, in Oxfords and Pumps, high and low heels, and very reasonably priced

It Will Be Our Pleasure to Show You These Styles.

Shoes of Distinction For Men, Women and Children.

Ableman's Shoe Store

318 MAIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

SPRING

Glorifies the Entire Store

Throughout the store you will find displayed the colorful new ideas for Spring, product of many influences at work. You will find the collections here abreast of the latest ideas and notable, as always, for joining quality with moderate prices, assuring customers of the utmost in values. Come!—ramble through the various departments and enjoy the displays of new merchandise while the ideas retain that sparkle of novelty.

Easter's Approval Urges Early Selection From Our Extensive Display of Women's and Misses' Fine

Suits, Wraps, Capes and Coats

Attractive New Interpretations of Spring Fashions Arriving Daily

NEW DRESSES, AT $25.00

At $25.00 we are showing a wonderful collection of beautiful Dresses—many models are only one of a kind, therefore exclusive. In this range there are a number of dresses, selling at $25.00 that are selling elsewhere at $29.50 to $30.00 —sies 16 to 46.

HANDSOME SPORT COATS, $15.00

A very special lot of Women's and Misses' Sport Coats, materials are plaid and plain Polo Cloth, very exceptional value at $15.00—Also a good line of better Sport Coats at $25.00.

GARMENTS FOR LARGER WOMEN

We specialize in garments for women who require the larger sizes — featuring particularly Women's Spring Coats and Wraps, newest models and fashionable materials—at $27.50 to $75.00.

TAILORED SILK DRESSES, AT $55.00

New models in Silk Dresses, for women who require the larger sizes, of beautiful silk, made by men tailors. At $55.00 we are showing dresses that are sold elsewhere at $65.00 to $75.00—sizes 40 to 46.

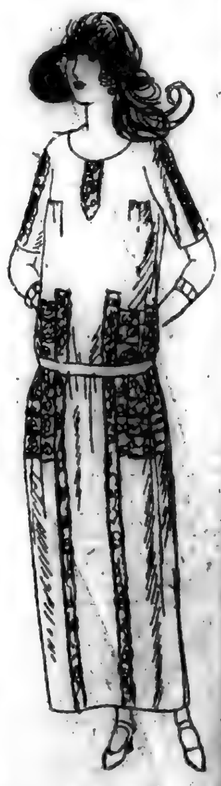
STYLISH NEW BLOUSES

Tailored Dimity Blouses with Peter Pan and Tuxedo collars and with cuffs that can be worn with the new sweaters — Special price $1.95.

Beautiful hand-made Blouses, in a wide range of styles, and at reasonable prices—Price range $1.95, $2.95 and up to $9.95.

CHILDREN'S COATS FOR EASTER

Children's Polo Coats, in styles that are like "big sisters." Many smart models, of excellent materials, in the stylish tan and reindeer colors, sizes 6 to 16—at $9.95, $11.95, $13.50 and $14.95.



NEW SPRING MODELS IN CHILDREN'S DRESSES

In our Children's Department, on second floor, we have assembled a great collection of Children's Dresses for the new Spring season.

At 98c—Children's Pantie Dresses, Rompers, Creepers, in a variety of novelty models, sizes 2 to 6 years.

At $1.98 — Children's Dresses of plain Chambray and Checked Gingham, with neat trimming and dainty sashes, sizes 8 to 14—styles that will appeal to mother and daughter.

In Children's Better Dresses, our showing comprises a great assemblage of dresses of novelty cotton materials, made on smart lines, the best values we have ever shown, sizes 8 to 14 years—at $2.95, $3.50 and up to $9.95.

Norwich Bulletin.

1799 1923

VOL. LXV—No. 70 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH, CONN., THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1923 | TEN PAGES—70 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

SEC'Y HUGHES REJECTS AN APPEAL TO RECOGNIZE THE RUSSIAN SOVIET GOV'T

Tells Delegation of the Women's Committee for the Recognitino of Russia That "the Salvation of Russia Cannot be Constructed Outside and Injected—United States Has No Desire to Interfere With the Internal Concerns in Russia—Recognition of Soviet Russia Would Give Encouragement to Repudiation of Obligations and Confiscation of Property.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary Hughes today flatly rejected an appeal to recognize the Russian soviet government made to him by representatives of the women's committee for recognition of Russia, and, in a formal statement, declared the "salvation of Russia cannot be contrived outside and injected." The statement which was made to the delegation in reply to arguments in advance touched Russian government, trade, finance, economics and various policies inaugurated by the soviet affecting international relations.

Mr. Hughes' discussion of these subjects did not reveal any probability of action by the Washington government looking to recognition of the soviet, although the hope was expressed that conditions in Russia would change in a way which would make America's helpfulness available to the people of that country. It is his dominant thought, Mr. Hughes said, to find a ground for helpfulness, recuperation and restoration of peace in Russia.

Secretary Hughes' remarks to the delegation, which contended that world peace and the stability of Europe depended on immediate recognition of Russia by the United States, follow in part:

"It gives me great pleasure to receive you, and I want you to know that I deeply appreciate the sincerity and the earnestness with which you speak. I know how deeply interested you are in promoting the cause of peace and I can assure you that I am profoundly in sympathy with your desires and aims. I have done the best that I could in the discharge of my official responsibilities to serve that cause, which is very close to my heart.

"Not only do we not desire to interfere with the internal concerns of Russia, not only do we recognize the right of the Russian people to develop their own institutions, but such interference would be futile.

"The salvation of Russia cannot be contrived outside and injected. Russia's hope lies in Russia's action. It is absolutely impossible to deal with matters which are in the control of the Russian people and which, until they are adequately dealt with, furnish no ground for helpfulness, no ground for Russian recuperation.

"Russia needs industry and trade, but industry and trade cannot be created by any formal political arrangements. However important may be the facilitation of the transactions of industry and trade through political arrangements, still those arrangements do not create the transactions or supply the essential basis for them. You can't support what does not exist.

"We have in the case of Russia the need of investment. It would not help the Russian people to encourage adventurers or those who wish to go into Russia for the purpose of exploitation. The benefit to Russia, through which her productivity can be increased and the basis of industry and trade provided, must come from those who make a permanent investment in Russia, who are there to see their transactions through on a basis of permanent relations, and who consequently, so far as they are foreigners, can be assured before they will contemplate such investments that there will be secure and worth while. The conditions which would invite the foreign assistance which you point out is so necessary are in the control of the Russian authorities. They cannot be in the nature of things supplied from the outside.

"Now I may say that there is a good deal of fallacy in what is said about trade between Russia and other nations. Of course, other peoples are trading with Russia and our people are trading with Russia. Trade is going on, so far as it can go on, but it is relatively insignificant. If you will examine statistics you will observe that it makes very little difference whether or not any particular government has recognized the soviet authorities with respect to the actual trade that is being conducted. If Russia buys, she must be able to have something to buy with; that is, she must produce so that she can buy.

"I recognize fully the distinction between matters exclusively of economic import and the question of diplomatic relations. As I said to the representatives of your organization a year ago, the fundamental question in the recognition of a government is whether it shows ability and a disposition to discharge international obligations. Stability, of course, is important; stability is essential. Some speak as though stability was all that was necessary. What, however, would avail mere stability if it were stability in the prosecution of a policy of repudiation and confiscation?

"In the case of Russia we have a very easy test of a matter of fundamental importance, and that is of good faith in the discharge of international obligations. I say that good faith is a matter of essential importance because words are easily spoken. Of what avail is it to speak of assurances if valid obligations and rights are repudiated and property is confiscated? This is not a question of the rich or of the poor. It's a question of principle.

"Our own government, after the first revolution, loaned about $187,000,000 to Russia. I may say that we were the first to recognize the Kerensky government; that government did not profess a policy of repudiation. Now what did the soviet authorities do? In their decree of Jan. 21, 1918, they made this simple statement: 'Unconditionally, and without any exceptions, all foreign loans are annulled.'

"What was loaned to Russia out of our Liberty bond proceeds, and the war loans obtained by Russia before the revolution to enable Russia to continue the war were simply annulled! Now the United States is not a harsh creditor. The United States is not making its press debtors who seized our property their means. But indulgence and proper arrangements are one thing, repudiation is quite another.

"I have yet to hear of any change in this announcement of the soviet authorities. Suggestions which have been reported have always been coupled with impossible qualifications. This strikes at the heart of some of the suggestions which you have made in the interest of the principles of religion, which we all have at heart—good faith is the very essence of brotherly kindness. There is no hope for the success of your gospel—our gospel—of brotherly kindness in a world of hatred and in a world which is not animated by the sincerity of good faith.

"Not only would it be a mistaken policy to give encouragement to repudiation and confiscation, but it is also important to remember that there should be no encouragement to those efforts of the soviet authorities to visit upon other peoples the disasters that have overwhelmed the Russian people. I wish that I could believe that such efforts had been abandoned.

"I desire to see a basis for helpfulness. We want to help. We are just as anxious in this department and in every branch of the administration as you can possibly be to promote peace in the world, to get rid of hatred, to have a spirit of mutual understanding. But the world we desire is a world not threatened with the destructive propaganda of the soviet authorities, and one in which there will be good faith and the recognition of obligations and a sound basis of international intercourse."

HEAD OF R. C. CHURCH IN RUSSIA ON TRIAL

Moscow, March 21.—(By the A. P.)—The second of Russia's great church trials began today when Archbishop Zepliak of Petrograd, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, and 16 priests were arraigned in the Hall of Nobles in Moscow. They are charged, first, with opposink the decree separating the church and state; second, opposing the sequestration of church treasures, and, third, engaging in a campaign of agitation among the Catholic clergy and parishioners with the object of closing the churches, which might inconvenience the soviet government before the pope and impair the terms of the Riga treaty with Poland.

Nikolai Krylenko, president of the supreme revolutionary tribunal, is sitting as prosecutor, as was the case in the Orthodox Russian church trial.

The soviet press says the trial is not against the church, but is for the purpose of demonstrating that clergy and parisioners must obey the laws of Russia.

ASK FOR SHORTER HOURS AND INCREASED WAGES

Thompsonville, Conn., March 21.—Shorter hours and increased wages were asked for the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Company, in a new scale prepared tonight by the Brussels weavers and fixers' Association of Thompsonville, effective April 1. It was also reported that the company has announcedea 10 Per Cent increase in the cost of its product effective April 2.

There are 225 members of the Association, who ask a 20 Per Cent wage increase to replace cuts which the company has made in wages during the last two years. For several months because of increased business the mills have been operated on a 55-hour weekly basis and the employes ask for a 48-hour week.

Hartford.—Having acquired two wives within eight months, without having been legally separated from the first before wedding the second, John Martin Vanzoeren, 53 years old, was bound over to the next term of the superior court.

Coming To United States To Advocate League

Lord Robert Cecil, whom Lloyd George has referred to as "that most intolerant of the League of Nations", who will visit the United States on the invitation of the newly formed Non-Partisan Committee for the League of Nations.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

George J. Gould Improving

Nice France, March 21.—(By the A. P.)—George J. Gould of New York, who is ill at Cap Martin, near here, is improving, it was announced late this afternoon.

DOROTHY KEENAN HAD AN ELDERLY ADMIRER

New York, March 21.—The question "Who is John Marshall of Boston?" tonight vied in public interest with that of "Who killed Dorothy Kennan?" When the police ended a week's investigation, apparently as baffled by the crime as when the started.

"Mr. Marshall" has achieved the seemingly impossible—he has preserved his incognito in the midst of the tragic affair in which all Broadway is interested.

At least five persons know the real name of the dead model's elderly admirer—who was with her a few hours before she died—but all refuse to break the web of secrecy woven about his name.

First there is "Billie" Bradford, Miss Kennan's maid, who found her mistress, clad only in the torn shreds of a silk night gown, lying dead across a bed in her studio apartment on West 57th street, with an empty chloroform bottle nearby But "Billie" won't betray "Mr. Marshall." he was "too nice" to her, she says.

Then there is Alfred Guimares, close friend of the erstwhile butterfly of Broadway, who has been indicted in Boston, in connection with a stock deal. Guimares said he knows, and that "Marshall" should not be kept under cover while he is the limelight, but that it is up to the district attorney's office to do any talking.

The third to know is an unidentified friend of Guimares. Asked by newspapermen whether "Mr. Marshall," at first described as "a millionaire tire manufacturers of Boston, Philadelphia and New York," was a certain automobile man whose name has been among the rounds, this friend said "No, he's a bigger man than that; in fact, he is one of the biggest men in the country," but he hurried away without uttering the name.

Nelson Olcott; "Mr. Marshall's" lawyer, is the fourth who knows. He also remains silent.

Finally there is Assistant District Attorney Pecora, in charge of the case, who has been asked pointedly by several newspapers why he shields "Mr. Marshall."

"I can see no good that would come from revealing his name, but only needless humiliation and suffering to his family" is Mr. Pecora's final word.

COMMITTEE TO TOUR NEW HAVEN SYSTEM

Hartford, March 21.—A report of the investigation of the "New Haven" road by the legislative committee on railroads, including recommendations for the general improvement of the service, and the benefit of the public," will probably be published before the present session of the general assembly adjourns, it was stated tonight by Senator Frederick De Peyster, of Portland, chairman of the committee.

The committee is also planning to take a trip over the "New Haven" system, probably about the middle of April, Senator De Peyster said tonight. As far as is known now, no bills will be reported to the general assembly as the result of the committees' investigation of the road.

An executive session of the committee was held today at which President Pearson, of the road was present. He said that the general situation of the road was improving and he expected that it would continue to do so. The railroad, he said, was confident that it could master sabotage on the system. He discussed the general condition of the road with the committee.

HUNTING THE RENEGADE BAND OF PIUTE INDIANS

Salt Lake City, Utah., March 21.—Four white settlers, members of a posse which left Blanding, San Juan county, last night, to trail the Allen Canyon band of warring Piute Indians, failed to return this morning, according to word received here.

The fate of the missing possemen is unknown.

At dawn this morning a new posse of 30 men left Blanding to continue the hunt for the Indians, who are said to have taken refuge in the mountains north of the town where they are familiar with every trail and canyon. Upward of forty Indians are reported to be virtually prisoners of the white residents of Blanding. They have been placed under heavy guard to prevent any possibility of their joining with the renegade band.

Yesterday there was a running fight between the Indian band—said to number twelve—and white possemen. The Indian youth known as "Joe Bishop's boy," was shot and killed and two Indians were wounded. There were no casualties among the whites.

GEN. SCOTT READY TO END TROUBLE WITH RED MEN

Camden, N. J., March 1.—General Hugh L. Scott, who has figured in the settlement of many disputes with the Indians, said today that he could bring to an end the present trouble with the Red Men in South Utah.

General Scott, who is one of the newly appointed New Jersey state highway commissioners, said he had wired Commissioner Burke of Indian Affairs at Washington offering his services.

MRS. BECKWITH DIED FROM NATURAL CAUSES

New York, March 21.—The police today briefly considered the case of Mrs. Frances Love Beckwith of Philadelphia, former chorus girl who died yesterday in the Roosevelt hospital, and decided that she had met death from natural causes.

Peritonitis was at first held responsible for the girl's sudden end, until bruises on her side were discovered. An autopsy performed today showed that a vital organ had been ruptured and that, either from fall or blow, Mrs. Beckwith had received an injury such as had killed Virginia Rappe, movie actress, in San Francisco about two years ago.

The police, after a brief investigation, however, decided there was nothing suspicious in the case.

Power Situation In New England

To be Surveyed by Charles T. Main, of Boston, an Industrial Engineer.

Boston, March 21. — Charles T. Main, of Boston, an industrial engineer, has accepted the chairmanship of the committee authorized by the executive committee of the associated industries to make a survey of the power situation in New England, it was announced today. Associated with him will be Professor Dugald C. Jackson, head of the department of electrical engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Henry I. Harriman, president of the New England Power company; B. Preator Clarke, vice president of the Plymouth Cordage company, and and George L. Finch, engineering superintendent of the Hood Rubber company.

The inquiry will be directed toward ascertaining in general the kinds and amounts of powers now used in New England, the cost of each and the increase in that cost in the last ten years; the available new sources of power both within and without the borders of the New England states, the probable demand in New England for such power and the cost of supplying it to the industries and public utilities of Massachusetts.

FRANCE CONSIDERING THE NAVAL AGREEMENT

Paris, March 21 B(y the A. P.)—Deputy Charles Gueernier, the official reporter of the Washington naval treaty, today made his long deferred report to the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies. While his conclusions were favorable to ratification by France, his exceptions and reservations were such that a majority of the committee thought it necessary to give Aristide Briand and Rene Viviani, the former of whom headed the French delegation to the Washington conference, but later was succeeded by M. Viviani, a chance to be heard before the committee made its recommendations.

It was also decided by the committee that Premier Poincare should be afforded an opportunity to present the government's definite viewpoint on the agreement, and on motion of Deputy Soulier it was decided to postpone any further deliberations until invitations had been sent to M. Poincare, Briand and Viviani to appear before the commission. The invitations will be despatched tomorrow and it is expected the three men will be heard by the committee on Friday.

PAUL PAPPAS GRANTED A SHORT REPRIEVE

Boston, March 21.—Paul Pappas, sentenced to die at midnight for the murder of Alice Arsenault, keeper of a lodging house, on Christmas day, 1919, has been granted a short reprieve. The execution will be deferred while Judge Keating in superior court considers motions for stay of execution and a new trial for Pappas.

After a two-hour hearing late today the judge announced that he had taken the motions under advisement. Later the warden of Charlestown state prison, where Pappas is confined, said that "nothing" would be done tonight.

The defense motions are based on the discovery of a new witness, who appeared at the hearing before Judge Keating. She is Mrs. Clara D. Ditson, describing herself as a public stenographer and real estate agent. She said she was a former resident of Worcester, where she had once worked in the house of Judge Webster Thayer of the superior court. Mrs. Ditson testified that she called at the lodging house kept by Mrs Arsenault on the afternoon of Dec. 26, 1919. On cross examination, Mrs. Ditson admitted that she had a lawsuit nending against a woman who had testified for the state in the Pappas trial.

DENIES COMPLICITY IN $5,000,000 LIQUOR FRAUD

Philadelphin, March 21.—Taking the witness stand in his own bdefense at the close today of the government's case in the alleged $5,00,000 liquor fraud, Matthew F. Griffin, former head of the United States secret service in the Philadelphia district, denied absolutely any connection with the plot to substitute water for whiskey and alcohol in a large snipment of liquor to Greece. Griffin, with eleven others, is charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

Once the foe of counterfeiters, presidential guard from 1888 to 1920 and considered one of the cleverest detectives the treasury department ever had, Griffin today sat in the same witness chair from which he had in former years given testimony that sent others to prison for long terms. He appeared broken in health and on the verge of collapse. His counsel had made an attempt to have the trial postponed, but after an examination by a physician, the court ruled that Griffin was physically able to appear.

THIRTEEN MINE WORKERS ENTOMBED IN CAVE IN

Nesquehoning, Pa., March 21.—Thirteen mine workers were entombed at Nesquehoning when sixty feet of the gangway at No. 1 drift of the Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation Company's workings caved in. Rescue parties were at once set to work and at 9 p. m. word was received that none of the miners had been injured and that they would be released within an hour.

Ten of the men were foreign-born workmen and the others were Assistant Foreman George Dingman and John Ludlow and George Hughes, miners. The spring thaw loosened a large amount of top earth, causing a crush in the main gangway.

FIVE CIGAR FACTORIES CEASE WORK IN HAVANA

Havana, March 21.—Several thousand workers were thrown out of employment today when five large cigar and cigarette factories in Havana ceased operations. Reports from Santiago De Cuba say several factories there have closed down during the past few days.

Manufacturers give as the reason for the suspension a shortage in revenue stamps. On the other hand contractors who furnish the government with these stamps assert that they are waiting for pack payments from the government for their work and that they will be unable to resume operations until their bills are met. A. P. Dis.

Giulia Abandoned; Crew of 40 Saved

Rescue Work Performed by the Steamers Presidente Wilson and West Lake.

New York, March 21.—(By the A. P.)—The talian freighter Giulia, reported in distress yesterday about 600 miles off Boston, has been abandoned at sea and her crew of 40 rescued by the President Wilson and West Lake.

A wireless message conveying this news was received late this afternoon from the Presidente Wilson by agents for the freighter.

The Giulia a vessel of 4,337 tons, sailed last Saturday from Portland, Me. for Girgentil and Trapani, Italy, with a cargo of grain. The first distress call from her was picked up at 5 a. m. yesterday. Two other calls, one giving her position, from which she was drifting continuously, were received later in the day.

Captain N. Coretti commanded the Giulia.

YOUNG GIRLS MISTREATED IN THE HOUSE OF DAVID

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 21.—(By The A. P.)—Additional testimony that Benjamin David Purnell, head of the House of David at Benton Harbor, mistreated young girls; that he feared exposition of alleged conditions within the colony and had made preparation for flight through a tunnel and by means of a fast motorcar, and that he dictated the manner in which members should vote in local and state elections, was offered today in the suit of John W. Hansell, former member, who seeks a financial accounting with the cult.

Mrs. Isabel Prichard of Chicago, a former member of the cult, renewed today the charge that Purnell mistreated young girls, explaining to them that his act was "a sacred rite."

"You have ruined my faith and my children," Mrs. Prichard told Benjamin Purnell following the confession to her by her two daughters, that they had had immoral relations with the head of the cult.

In the midst of her recital, the woman, white haired and nearing 70 years of age, broke down. A moment later, however, she continued her testimony.

So great was the faith in Purnell, she testified, that she would not believe her daughters' story and compelled them to bring a Bible and swear to her with a hand upon the book that they were telling the truth. Then she protested to Purnell and began preparations to leave the colony.

Mrs. Prichard, her daughters and their husbands left the colony seven days after she learned of the alleged immoral practices. Because they refused to sign papers desired by Purnell, they were not given traveling expenses and the husband of Irene paid their way with money he had earned outside of the colony.

Mrs. Prichard brought into the testimony the first evidence of pressure of the votes of the colony, declaring that Purnell in one of his public addresses to the members "told them to vote as he dictated or pack their grips and get out." She was unable to fix the date but said it was before women were granted suffrage.

Mrs. Prichard said the price paid for group marriages in the colony was 50 cents apiece.

The tunnel, dug at the direction of Purnell, to facilitate a hasty escape, ran 50 feet north and 100 feet east from Shiloh, Emil Rosetta testified. He said Purdell told him it was for flight. He also testified that a big car was at the disposal of Purnell and that the latter told him that "the son of man might have to make his escape" and that the car was "as infallible as a fox."

15,000 QUARTS OF LIQUOR POURED INTO SEWERS

New York, March 21.—Down to the sea in sewers today went 15,000 quarts of liquors, poured into the gaping mouth of a manhole at an East Side corner by a police whiskey demolition squad, while hundred of cheering, jeering and sobbing folk looked on.

The liquor, said to have been the product of bootleg distilleries and unfit for medicinal use, was but a small parcel of the amount seized by the police in their raids of the last six months. At the appointed hour for the pouring, the crowds were so great that reserves were called to hold them in check. Nearby roofs were crowded and necks craned from a thousand windows.

TO DISCONTINUE MAINE NAVAL RADIO STAAION

Boston, March 21.—The naval radio station at Otter Cliffs, Maine, used as a relay point through which trans-Atlantic messages were transmitted, will be discontinued except as a coastal and compass station on April 30, it was learned tonight.

Most of the work formerly done by the Otter Cliffs station will be transferred to a new navel building in Washington, it was said.

The radio receiving apparatus at Otter Cliffs is said to be the most powerful on the Atlantic coast.

CONDITION OF LENINE IS STEADILY IMPROVING

Moscow, March 21.—(By The A. P.) —The condition of the soviet premier, Nikolai Lenine, is steadily improving, according to the official bulletin issued durng the past few days, and no immediate fear of his death is expressed in any official circles.

Lenine is living in a little apartment within the Kremlin walls and remains cheerful.

It is frankly admitted that the present daily improvement may not signify complete recovery, but the outlook certainly is more hopeful than a week ago.

OWNS AMERCA'S BEST AMATEUR RADIO STATION

Hartford, March 21.—The Hoover cup, awarded annually to the owner of America's best radio station, under the auspices of the American Radio Relay League board of direction, this year went to Frederick B. Oatman, of Ridgewood, N. J. Announcement that his station had been chosen as the winner for 1922 was made at the league headquarters here today by a committee of three judges selected by Hiram Percy Maxim, president of the A. R. R. L.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Jury service for women received a favorable vote by the Massachusetts legislative committee on judiciary.

An air mail service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland and the mainland is under consideration.

William Sutton, 65, president of the Sutton mills in North Andover, Mass., died in Augusta, Ga., according to a telegram received at the mill.

A bill designed to repeal the tax on anthracite coal was passed by the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature after a spirited debate.

The Sher button factory, one of the largest industries in Rutherford, N. J., was destroyed by fire, causing damage estimated at more than $100,000.

The election of Calvin Austin, president of the Eastern Steamships Lines, Inc., as president of the Old Dominion Steamship company, was announced in Boston.

Bankruptcy petitions filed yesterday included The Warsaw Wholesale Grocery company of New Britain, with liabilities of $46,058 and assets of $8,339.

A bloodhound is being used to locate a mine worker lost since Saturday night in the underground recesses of the Stanton mines in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Fourteen persons were injured in Pittsburgh, when an elevator in the Murdoch-Kerr & Co., Inc., building dropped from the third floor to the basement.

The Vermont house of representatives killed a bill to levy a six per cent tax on income of intangibles and two per cent. on other income. The vote was 112 to 105.

The museum and biological laboratory of Wesleyan university has received an interesting addition to its collection in the form of a series of casts of prehistoric man.

The four masted schooner Melissa Thurlow, bound from Baltimore for Stockton Springs, which went ashore at Northport, Me., was floated. She was apparently undamaged.

Beacon Hill, Boston, was wet down with beer when 50 barrels seized by state police officials were smashed and the content allowed to run out of an areaway of the state house.

Repeal of the Wisconsin eugenics law requiring an ante-nuptial physical examination before issuance of a marriage license, was voted by the lower house of the legislature.

The Massachusetts senate passed over Governor Proctor's veto the bill to prohibit introduction of foreign fats into milk, and to regulate the sale of evaported and condensed milk.

Attorney General Daugherty, commenting on his announcement Saturday that Presidents Harding would be a candidate in 1924, declared that his re-nomination without a contest was assured.

Mrs. Ruth Whitcomb, of Portland, Me., and Lowell, under federal indictment at Portland for forgery on a pension check, gave bonds of $500 for her appearance at Portland to answer the charge.

A plan of scholarships and self-help which Dean Allard L. Sperry says will throw the burden of initiative and responsibility on the students is being arranged by the Harvard Theological schools.

President (emeritus) Charles W. Eliot of Harvard university, beginning his 90th year Tuesday in good health, found time between congratulations to give a few words of advice to those who would do likewise.

Clothing left on the bank by a young woman, who leaped into Bronx river and was carried to death over an artificial waterfall, was identified as the property of Hermina Wallus, a house maid, 29 years old.

It was lucky for James F. Ryan that he fell into the hand of the police in Somerville, Mass., in stead of robbers. When he was locked up at the police station for drunkenness a search of his clothing revealed $1,005 in cash.

Nicola Sacco, convicted murderer who is a patient at the Boston Psychopathic hospital for observation of his sanity and treatment to overcome the effects of a month-long fast, became violent early yesterday and had to be restrained.

William Gately pleaded guilty in New York to swindling numerous clergyman by posing as an army lieutenant who had killed a man in camp and needed railroad fare to return and surrender himself.

Members of the general assembly of Waterbury and surrounding towns delayed over an hour at the local railroad station by a late train, staged an indignation meeting in the Waterbury division offices.

Public houses in England—the surviving representatives there of that American institution now extinct, the saloon—have been forbidden to install radio sets and regale their customers with concerts and beer simultaneously.

Miss Hortense O. Young, or nearly forty years a teacher in the Harvard Grammar school of Cambridge, Mass., died in Providence. She was born in Berkeley, Mass., and for ten years taugh in Fall River before going to Cambridge.

Word was received in Boston of the death of Captain Peter H. Crowell at Wilbur, Fla. Captain Crowell, who was born in West Dennis 87 years ago, went to sea at 13, became master of a ship at 19 and sailed to all parts of the world for 30 years.

Robert Gappone, proprietor of a West End tea room in Boston, was found trussed up and badly beaten on Brush Hill road. He said he had been robbed of several hundred dollars by three men and a woman who at gun point forced him to enter an automobile which the woman was driving.

Nicholas Butler, a Nova Scotian lumberjack who came down from the Maine woods to see the sights of Boston, is in a hospital in Somerville, recovering from the effects of blows on the head received when two men robbed him of a roll of $355.

William Petropoulas, who had pass-nominations in New England that he od so many 25 bills raised to 30 dehad half a dozen secret service agents on his trail at one time, pleaded guilty in the federal court in Boston and was sentenced to two years in Plymouth jail.

60,000,000 MARKS SEIZED AT DUSSELDORF BY THE FRENCH

Are Conducting a Systematic Collection of Funds to Cover Expenses Resulting From German Sabotage—27 Officials of the German Customs and the Tax Collector Have Been Arrested for Disregarding the Franco-Belgian Regulations.

Duesseldorf, March 21 (By the A. P.).—The systematic collection of funds to cover the expenses of repairing the property damaged by German sabotage began today, when the French seized 60,000,000 marks from the Duesseldorf city treasury and main postoffice.

Twenty-seven officials of the German customs and the tax collector of Duesseldorf were arrested by the French, charged with attempting to disregard the Franco-Belgian regulations.

Hans Sachs, a young German workman, courtmartialed on the charge of shooting and wounding a French soldier near Essen, has been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment—the heaviest sentence imposed since the beginning of the occupation. Sachs will be taken to Metz or elsewhere in French territory to serve his sentence.

HOPE ABANDONED OF STABILIZING THE MARK

Berelin, March 21 (By the A. P.).—Up to the time of the Ruhr invasion it was still thought in Germany that the mark could be successfully improved and stabilized with the help of foreign financial groups, but the Germans now have found that they must help themselves. This is the explanation of Germany's new $50,000,000 treasury bond issue, as given by Max Warburg of Hamburg, leading German banker, in an article in the Allgemeine Zeitung.

"The most recent political events," he writes, "have shown us again how isolated Germany stands in the world, how inconsiderately—indeed; maliciously—France strives for her goal of cutting Germany to pieces, and how timidly and egoistically the other countries think and deal."

Although disarmed, the Germans are again in a sort of war array, he adds, and again everyone must aid the nation, this time by subscription to the treasury loan instead of to a war loan. The $50,000,000 will enable the republic to ward off panicky changes in the exchange rates, he declares, and so organize currency that it can buy abroad the coal and foodstuffs and other necessities that Germany so urgently needs.

The present issue represents only a beginning, the banker asserts, as it will be followed by the removal of all the bureaucratic hampering of production and export and also by the sharpest retrenchment in order that Germany can recuperate.

Urging individual and collective cooperation in resisting the Franco-Belgian operations in the Ruhr, he declares that "we dare not again make the mistake of signing conditions which we cannot fulfill."

SUING FOR COMMISION FOR SALE OF LIQUORS

New York, March 21.—An "oasis" in Cuba, which they said was owned by Charles A. Stoneham, part owner of the New York Giants, was described today by witnesses testifying in a suit against Mr. Stoneham to recover commissions for sale of 5,100 cases of whiskey.

The suit was brought by John M. Bahmeann, Jr., on an assigned claim of Hugh C. Kendall Hester, who was identified as the agent employed by Mr. Stanham to sell liquor.

Hester testified that in March 1920, he made a flying visit to Cuba with a message to Harry J. Levin, who was then Mr. Stoneham's representative at the "oasis."

Upon his arrival at Marjano, he said he found himself in the midst of a vast collection of fine liquors, with original labels and everything.

"There were bottles loose and in cases and barrels, barrels everywhere," he said. "There were six thousand barrels—I mean barrels of whiskey."

Very much impressed, he said, he returned to New York and began trading from his rooms in the Hotel Claridge.

He added that he contracted for the delivery to the oasis of 273 gross of empty bottles from a firm headed by a former sheriff. The empties, he testified, were to be used in an operation under which the barrel liquor on hand, from 102 to 114 proof, was to be toned down to about 90 proof andbottled before delivery.

OPENING IN NEW YORK OF GRAND CENTRAL GALLERY

New York, March 21.—The Grand Central gallery, occupying a floor of the Grand Central railway terminal, said to be the largest art gallery in the world, was opened today with a reception given by the painters and sculptors asociation, a non-profit organization of 100 business men and women formed with the intention of promoting the sale of American art. Work of nearly 100 American painters and sculptors were on view at the opening.

THREE MEN KILLED, SEVERAL WOUNDED IN A GUN FIGHT

Havana, March 21.—Three men were killed and several wounded in a gun fight at Sagua De Tanamo, Oriente province, yesterday. The fight was due to a political quarrel. The men killed are reported to be Antonio Garriga, liberal candidate for mayor; Pablo Herrera, president of the municipal popular party, and Enrique Casasa, a member of the popular party.

Two men alleged to have held up the jewelry store of Edward O. Zernitz in State street in New Nw Haven about 9 o'clock yesterday morning were arrested later in Meriden.

New Governor Of Porto Rico

Horace Mann Towner, of Iowa, who was nominated by President Harding to be Governor of Porto Rico, succeeding E. Mont Reily. Mr. Towner has been a Representative from Iowa for the past twelve years, and for the past four years has been Chairman of the House Committee in Insular Affairs, a post which has given him much experience that will be of value to him in his new position.

12 1-2 PER CENT WAGE RAISE BY AMERICAN WOOLEN CO.

Boston, March 21.—Announcement of a wage increase of 12 1-2 per cent. to all the operatives of the American Woolen company, made today by President William M Wood, added about $4,000,000 a year to the aggregate payroll of 25,000 persons and marked the first action by any of the principal groups in the textile industry to meet the movement among operatives for more pay. The advance is effective April 30. It was granted without demands having been made.

The American Woolen company operates sixty mills in New England states, New York and at Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Wood recently was made director general of the Consolidated Textile corporation. Efforts to learn whether the policy of paying employes "all the money you can earn and we can afford to pay" announced in his letter to American Woolen company employes today, would bring additional wages to operatives in the many cotton mills of the consolidated, were without success.

President James Tansey, of the Fall River Textile Council, which has a demand for a 15 per cent. wage advance in the cotton mills of that city pending, hailed the American Woolen company's announcement as "encouraging." President Thomas F. McMahon, of the United Textile Workers, which has made a demand for a 22 1-2 per cent. increase in Fall River, in a statement there Monday night, predicted that a settlement on a basis of 12 1-2 per cent. increase—the amount announced by the American Woolen company today—would be offered by the Fall River cotton mills.

N. Y. C. ROAD ORDERED TO DISCONTINUE PIECEWORK

Chicago, March 21.—The New York Central railroad was ordered to operate its shops on an hourly basis instead of a piecework basis as they have been operated, in a decision handed down by the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The case was brought before the board by the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, claiming to represent about 9,000 shop craft employes of the New York Central.

The decision asserted that the piecework basis of pay was installed without compliance with the provisions of the transportation act and ordered the hourly basis continued until some other method was adopted by the processes provided by law.

For the period of time employes have been working on a piecework basis, the board ordered that they be compensated at a rate of pay, the average of which shall not be less than the hourly rates of pay established by decisions of the board.

NEWFOUNDLAND SWEPT BY EQUINOCTIAL GALE

St. John's N. F., March 21.—Railroad and steamship traffic was paralyzed as a furious equinoctial gale swept Newfoundland today. The severity of the storm exceeded any in recent years and the temperature dropped to about zero. Fear for the safety of vessels off the coast was expressed by shipping men.

The gale continued until well into the night, playing havoc with railroad schedules throughout the island and endangering vessels at sea caught in the grip of the storm.

The sealing fleet which has been meeting with misfortune since it left this port, was enclosed in the ice pack again today, according to radio messages received by the owners.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR FORMER IMPERIAL WIZARD

Atlanta, Ga., March 21.—A bench warrant was issued today for the arrest of Edward Young Clarke, former imperial wizard pro tem. of the Ku Klux Klan, it was said at the office of the United States district court for the northern district of Georgia. Clarke failed to appear yesterday for trial on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

TO PROBE NEW ENGLAND VETERANS BUREAU SUIT

Washington, March 21.—Director Hines, of the Veterans' bureau will go to Boston tomorrow to make a one-day investigation of the [illegible] the New England Veterans' [illegible] district, he said today, [illegible] here to Washington.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
51 Church Street Telephone 1023

John B. Oakley, Jr., 60 years old, died suddenly Wednesday morning at 1.40 o'clock while at work at the plant of the S. C. S. Box Company, Inc. Mr. Oakley was a machinist by occupation and was in the act of repairing a machine when he dropped to the floor and died. Dr. Robert C. White was called but the man had expired and Dr. Louis L. Mason, medical examiner was called and gave the cause of death as angina pectoris The body was turned over to a local undertaker.

Mr. Oakley had been in poor health for some time past. He is survived by a widow, who resides at 18 Bellevue street. The deceased was born in Ellenville, N. Y., October 10, 1860, the son of John B. and Cynthia (Gray) Oakley an dhe had been a resident of this city for the past two years. He was a charter member of Catskill lodge, No. 468, A. F. and A. M.

Judge Frank H. Foss of the local police court ordered seven cases continued at the Wednesday morning session of police court. In his court order for a continuance Judge Foss stated that he would continue the cases and that in the meantime the accused are to return the wood which they had taken from the freight station to their homes.

Disposition of the cases will then be made. The cases were those of four men and two boys who on Sunday afternoon had made a raid on timbers which had been left on a train of flat cars which had come to a stop near the freight station. The lumber was taken to be used for firewood at various residences on Winter street, Arnold's lane and the Brick Row.

The theft was noticed by the railroad and Monday and Tuesday a number of railroad detectives were on hand and investigated the cases.

The following is a list of the adults brought before the court on the charges of trespassing on railroad property: Stanley Kenicek, Frank Smagacy, John Gierer and Michael Dennehey and two small boys between the ages of 10 and 12. Gierer and Smagacy pleaded guilty. Dennehey entered a plea of not guilty and Kenicek stated that he had nothing to say. The two boys who were in charge of guardian ad litem, Probation Officer S. Arnold Peckham admitted that they were on the railroad property.

The men claimed that they had received permission from certain railroad men that they could have the timbers, which was denied by railroad officials.

Henry Clouthier was before the court on the charge of breach of the peace and he pleaded guilty. His case was continued until Thursday morning to allow him time to secure counsel. Clouthier was arrested by Officer Grady following an argument which he had had with a man in the New York lunch on Railroad street.

There were twenty-three deaths in the town of Windham during the month of February according to the returns filed at the office of Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton. The list follows:

3—Sarah L. Ellis, acesis diabetes mellitus.
8—Margaret Denehy, 25, acute arterior golio myeritus.
9—Mary Rose Webb, 21, pyelitis.
9—Guilford Smith, 83, old age.
10—Johnnnah Sullivan, 76, chronic intestinal nephritis.
12—Mary Haywood, 85, congestion of the lungs.
13—Thomas N. Sterry, myocarditis.
14—Eugene B. Walden, 72, valvular heart disease.
15—Frederick N. Green, 52, aoritic regeneration of the heart.
15—Frederick Backus, 66, acute cholecystitis.
16—Leda Johnson, 28, gastrorrhage.
16—Ovila Trudeau, 63, asthmatic bronchitis.
17—Marie Jeannette Marguerite Champigny, malnutrition.
18—John Weldon, 64, broncho pneumonia.
19—Mae M. Richardson, 9, diabetes.
19—Louise P. Holt, 77, cerebral thrombosim.
20—Nellie M. McCruhan, 47, nephro pyonephris.
22—Emma H. Johnson, 72, arterio sclerosis.
23—John H. Wheelock, 37, tuberculosis of the lungs.
25—Theodore Gates, 82, arterio scerosis.
26—Frank Touchette, 56, cerebral hemorrhage.
27—Christina Page Hartmann, 84, arterio sclerosis.
28—Marie Louise Delage, 49, past operative acidosis.

Three more persons charged with attempting to evade the payment of personal taxes were before Justice of the Peace George H. Andrews of the Mansfield town court Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Sarah Kapian who resides just over the city line, resorted to tears and words of implication at the court session, saying that she was a poor woman and found it hard to get by. The court, however, decided that if she could pay for her other dismeanors, she could pay for her personal tax and the case against her was nolled on the payment of costs amounting to $14.26 and her personal tax. Josef Warrenoon of Atwoodville payed the costs of the court amounting to $17.26, plus the two dollar tax assessment.

John Rankin of this city was also brought before the court. Mr. Rankin was enumerated in Mansfield last fall. His case was nolled on the grounds that he had not received proper notification of his being liable for the payment of tax.

At the regular meeting of the Willimantic camp, No. 85, Woodmen of the World, held at Labor Union hall it was announced that the Woodmen of the World War Memorial hospital in San Antonio, Texas, would be officially dedicated on July 4th, when the sovereign camp will be in special session and the Texas uniform rank will hold its annual encampment on the hospital grounds. A barbecue of one hundred steers for the delegates and the representatives of every camp in this country and Canada will take place.

A smoker was enjoyed after the meeting. It was announced that the local charter will be open until June 1. New members will be received until that time who will have special privileges during the hospital campaign in this city.

The hospital will cost $3,000,000 when completed and will house 8,000 patients. The WWoodmen of the World has refunded to its members over $3,500,000 since 1920, its surplus profits, as required by law.

A delightful St. Patrick's Day minstrel show was staged Wednesday afternoon by the eighth grade before the civic league at the Windham Street school. The case were attired in green and white costumes and the jokes were either a bost or a knock for members of the faculty all provoking much laughter. Parker Irwin was the intercocutor and the end men were Francis Ahern, Harry Gilbert, Merrill Ide, Thurston Brown, Edward Ashton and John Buck. The remainder of the class composed the chorus.

The Freshmen won from the Juniors 15 to 11 and the Sophomores beat the Seniors 44 to 11 in the two interclass basketball games staged at the Windham High school.

The Freshment vs. Juniors game was an exciting one and the the scores were neck and neck until the last few minutes of play.

The line-up follows:

Freshmen.		Juniors.
S. Williams		Levine
	Left Forward
Jackson		Williams
	Right Forward
Nichols		Caillouette
	Center
Sawiki		Fryer, Noyes
	Left Guard
Rosen		Golberg
	Right Guard

Goals from floor: Nichols 3, S. Williams, Jackson, Caillouette, 2, Williams. Goals from fouls: Nichols 4, Sawiki 1, Caillouette 5. Referee A. Sullivan. Time four 8 minute quarters.

The Sophomores were too fast for the Seniors and their scoring was done at will. The following is the line-up:

Sophomores.		Seniors.
Meikle		Rabinowitz
	Left Forward
Burton		Krug
	Right Forward
Prater		Dodge
	Center
Bernet		Atkins
	Left Guard
Cavoli		Rothblat
	Right Guard

Field goals: Cavoli 8, Meikle 7, Burton 3, Rabinowitz, Krug, Rothblat 2; fouls, Cavoli 8, Rabinowitz 3. Referee A. Sullivan. Time four 8- minute quarters.

There has been considerable dissatisfaction manifested at the Mansfield Training School and Hospital by the attaches, in regard to the method that has been taken to collect the payment of personal taxes. A number of the employes have their names in other states, and not a few are ex-service men.

But few of them receive any notification of the tax being due. About twelve of the attaches have been arraigned before the Mansfield town court and forced to pay costs of court and the two dollar tax. The matter has been brought to the attention of Attorney General Frank E. Healy for his opinion by an official of the institution.

Clinton C. Rood has instituted civil proceedings against Dominick Menditto to recover damages of $100 and the case is to he hear dby Justice of the Peace Curtis Dean on April 2. The suit is the result of an automobile collision on December 16, last. At the time of the accident the defendant's car was being driven by his son, Michael Menditto.

The Girls' Glee club and the Windham High School orchestra will render their annual joint concert this week in the High School auditorium. Charles H. Caswell, supervisor of music, will direct.

Reports were being circulated around town Wednesday morning that the ice on the pumping station pond at Mansfield was breaking up into large cakes which were floating over the dam and were endangering the structure. Some of the cakes were reported to be two feet in thickness. The superintendent of the pumping station, Willard N. Bowen, denied these reports. The ice still remains intact on the pond and is from 18 to 20 inches thick. The ice in the river above the Kirby Optical company plant north of the pumping station pond at Mansfield Hollow has commenced to break up. Large cakes of ice went over the small dam near the plant Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Taylor spent Wednesday in New London.

Mrs. Edward S. Russ of Valley street recently entertained a sewing circle.

Contractor Fred L. Yeomans was in Hartford Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugent Lincoln of North street recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Martin and Mrs. C. F. Spencer of North Windham.

Mrs. H. C. Murray who is spending the winter at her home in Orange City, Fla., is now at Palm Beach with two sisters, a brother and a nephew and his wife.

Mrs. George K. Nason of Church street recently sold a ten acre wood lot at Orange City, Fla., and is negotiating the sale of a building lot. This leaves her two splendid house lots in he same city, on one of which her grapefruit trees are bearing for the first time.

A prize rooster was stolen in the early hours of Wednesday, from a hen house in the rear of the home of George Shepaum on South Park street. Mr. Chepaum reports the loss of several other prize birds within the past year.

Derby.—The local police have been asked to investigate the disappearance of $135 from the room of Miss Iua Von Werder, a local store clerk, who missed the money from her room in the residence of Dr. H. A. Richardson on Minerva street.

REMARKABLE CASE OF RAPID RECOVERY AFTER SERIOUS BREAKDOWN

Woman Had Grown Weaker and Weaker Under Constant Care of Physician

"I had a severe break-down. I could neither eat nor sleep and I am truthfully say that I did not touch any solid food in four weeks. I had no appetite and the sight of food sickened me. I was constantly under my Doctor's care and there was not the slightest change in my condition. I grew weaker and weaker. I saw your advertisement in the paper one day and purchased a bottle. I felt the first effects in getting a good night's sleep and then gradually my appetite returned and after taking three bottles I again felt as well as ever. I always recommend Wincarnis to my friends."

(Mrs. L. Brown, 78 Pulaski Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y.)

WINCARNIS
At all Good Druggists.
Two Sizes, $1.10 and $1.95
SEND FOR FREE HEALTH BOOKLET
to EDWARD LASSERE, INC.
44 West 33rd Street, NEW YORK

DENTIST
Dr. F. C. Jackson
SPECIALIZING IN PAINLESS EXTRACTING
715 MAIN STREET, WILLIMANTIC

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
814 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

JAY M. SHEPARD
Succeeding Fillmore & Shepard
Funeral Director & Embalmer
55-62 NORTH ST. WILLIMANTIC
Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
55 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 291 (Lady Assistant)

RHEUMATISM
MUNYON'S

Your money refunded if it fails.
Rheumatism Remedy relieves pains in legs, arms, back, stiff or swollen joints, in a few hours.
Powerful relieves in a few days. Contains no morphine or drug to deaden the pain, but neutralizes the acid and drives out all rheumatic poison from the system. "Guide to Health," free.
MUNYON'S, Scranton, Pa.

THE H.C. MURRAY CO.
MURRAY'S BUSY STORE
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

A CLEAN HOUSE FOR EASTER
A HOOVER Will Do It With Ease
It will take only a short time for the Hoover to prove to you how really essential it is in your home—once you use it you will understand that it truly is a necessity.
You May Own The HOOVER On Easy Terms of Payment.
And while you are making your payments your Hoover is more than earning its cost in cleaning bills; it saves in the hours of freedom it gives from housework and in the years of added life and [illegible] to your rugs.

A RAW, SORE THROAT
Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole
And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.
Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest. Keep it handy for instant use. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.
Better than a mustard plaster
MUSTEROLE

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS
Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets
If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.
To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.
They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

It's toasted
LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Dr. G. Percival Bard and A. I. Mitchell have returned from their southern trip.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Bean were visiting friends in town Wednesday. Dr. and Mrs. Bean formerly lived in Rockville. They moved to California last June, where they expected to remain but they have abandoned the idea of making California their permanent home and will again take up their residance in Connecticut.

The high school seniors will leave on the 5.26 p. m. train Friday, March 330th for the Washington trip. They will go by boat from New London to New York. They expect to spend part of Saturday in Philadelphia and will arrive in Washington at 6.30 in the evening. On the return trip they will leave Washington Wednesday morning and will spend Wednesday afernoon in New York. The class will be accompanied by Principal Philip H. Dow and Miss Florence Uncle, teacher in the commercial department.

William H. Held was in Hartford on business Tuesday.

Lenten services were held in Grace Episcopal church Wednesday morning at 9.30.

JEWETT CITY

Mrs. A. M. Clarke entertained the mothers of the primary class of the Baptist Sunday-school at a mothers' meeting at her home Tuesday afternoon. Twenty mothers were present. The first part of the program was suited to the mothers' ages, and the second part was children's stories, which had been carefully selected by Mrs. Clarke. In the first part, Mrs. A. D. Tripp read Mother's New Year's Resolution. Mrs. Lewis Gill read Guarding the Family Treasure, which proved to be the mother's disposition, and Mrs. Samuel Cathcart read a poem entitled Two Ways. The first of the children's stories was Little Laddie and the First Christmas, read by Mrs. E. E. Scates. Mrs. Robert Willis read Little Friend New Year. Mrs. John MacLaren read Mrs. Teeny Mouse and Mrs. E. E. Gilbert Annabel's Geranium. Mrs. Clark read the beautiful poem, God's Dark. A Bible story guessing contest proved very interesting. The hostess served sandwiches, cake, ice cream and hot chocolate sauce, cookies and candy kisses which contained cute sayings of children were distributed, the sayings were read by each mother. It was a delightful afternoon very carefully planned.

Miss Alice Driscoll R. N. is employed as a corporation nurse at the Lawton mills.

Mrs. Walter Marshall entertained the G. L. P. club at her home on Tuesday afternoon.

The value of the district nurse cannot be estimated in a town where there are so few even practical nurses in a time when there has been so much sickness. Calls for nurses cannot be filled in the cities, even. Wednesday, a call came from Central Village for assistance in locating a nurse of any kind. Norwich, New London or Providence could not furnish any. A nurse who has been attending a case in the borough received 12 calls in one day and five the next day to go to other cases. Griswold is fortunate to have a graduate nurse ready at any time to help in any case.

In the case of a very sick baby every effort was made to secure a nurse. None was available, and the district nurse with Mrs. J. H. McLaughlin stayed night after night in turn, using all their skill to save the child. Miss Leyden attending the case after working all day with other visits. Backus hospital can take only emergency cases at the present time, all the beds being taken. The town tax was not increased over last year, and even in the short time, the benefit to the health of the town is untold. Not only that but the feeling of security, that in case of necessity, the country will not need to be frantically searched for a nurse who cannot be found, is worth the money.

Many of the older resident of the town will remember the handsome white horse C. W. Reynolds used to own.

Charles Edward Prior of Hartford, has sent to a Jewett City man a photograph of Mr. Reynolds and his horse, taken in 1891 in front of Anthony's machine shop, then opposite his stable on Anthony street.

Tenement 5 rooms and bath to rent. Inquire Fred Wheeler.—adv.

The spring song of blue birds and robins was heard about the borough Wednesday. Mr. Red Breast looked as plump and happy as ever. Possibly he hasn't been out of the town all winter, or he may be just in from the south. Who can tell?

A man in town the other day, who has lived in Jewett City a considerable number of years, thinking of purchasing an oil stove for summer household needs, said it was too bad that there was no gas to be had in the borough. This man had lived where he knew all the benefits of gas as a fuel for summer cooking. Many of the younger residents here are not aware that gas was made here, previous to the flood of 1886. Slater's mill was illuminated with gas for years, and some of the houses including Slater's store. There was a gas street light in Sylvandale, and somewhere down under Main street, there are the pipes today that used to carry gas to A. A. Young's residence. One man thought a gas company here would be a paying investment.

Jewett City bowling scores for March 20.

Ashland

Lefavro	115	93	120—328
Jarvis	99	107	104—310
Gilbert	111	108	102—321
Bissonette	93	126	85—304
Gingras	94	106	129—329
Totals	512	540	540 1592

Jolly Five

J. Smith	113	116	93—322
W. Blake	106	100	99—305
J. McCarthy	102	101	105—308
H. Howes	102	99	98—299
F. Smith	82	103	112—297
Totals	505	519	507 1531

WINDHAM

At the meeting of the Woman's Missionary society held with Mrs. H. C. Lathrop there were ten members and several guests present. The devotional exercises were led by the president, Mrs. F. E. Guild. In the absence of the secretary, Miss Dorothy Brown, Miss Gertrude Arnold served temporarily. Miss Clara Johnson reported $13.25 in the home treasurey and $5.69 in the foreign. Mrs. A. W. Clifford gave the second chapter from The Trend of the Races in her usual interesting manner. Tea was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Charlotte Lathrop and Miss Florence Tirrell.

Rev. Wm. E. Hooker of Middletown had charge of the services at St. Paul's on Sunday.

Mrs. F. R. Lack and infant daughter went to Cambridge Saturday to join Mr. Lack, who is taking a special course at Harvard.

Mrs. Lack's mother, Mrs. Walter Abbe accompanied her and will remain until their new home is settled. Mr. Abbe is with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Guilford Smith of South Windham.

Miss Julia Burnham is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Warren Bartlett of Hartford for a few days.

Owing to the rain storm of Friday the Girl Scouts' food sale in the new school house and the C. E. society St. Patrick's day social in the chapel were not largely attended.

Mrs. A. E. Harvey was in Providence Sunday.

Services which have been held in the chapel during the winter will be resumed in the auditorium of the Congregational church Sunday.

The hostesses for the bean supper were Mrs. A. W. Clifford, Mrs. H. F. Robinson, Mrs. S. C. Higbee, Mrs. Chauncey Wilson and Mrs. R. T. Bixby and Miss Dorothy Brown.

The decorations were green in recognition of St. Patrick's day. Miss Margaret Bixby gave an account of her trip to Europe last summer.

Mrs. Herbert Robinson received word on the 11th of the death of her brother, Georgd E. Kenyon at the Hartford hospital where he had been an invalid for some time. Mr. Kenyon was born March 25, 1851, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kenyon of Windham.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Emma Kenyon Robinson of Windham and one brother William of Alaska. Mrs. Robinson went to Hartford and returned with the body which was placed in the receiving vault. A committal service will be held at the burial later.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Woods returned to New York Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Woods will remain there for three weeks before coming back for the summer.

Mrs. Halsey Kelley of New York is the guest of her sisters, the Misses John and Mrs. H. C. Hatch for a few days.

Miss Marie Rizzo entertained a few friends at auction. Her guests were Mrs. Halsey Kelley of New Haven, the Misses Clara and Sarah Johnson, Mrs. H. C. Hatch, Miss Emma Neale, Mrs. Ada Larrabee and Miss Gertrude Arnold.

Eldeh Cook and Alfred Abbe had a narrow escape from serious injury recently when the Ford car driven by Mr. Cook was run into by a truck near Manchester. Both men were thrown out, but fortunately landed in the mud and escaped with more damage to their clothing than themselves. The car was somewhat injured, but was able to proceed under its own power.

Mrs. Helen Borchert has been staying with Miss Bingham until the Borchert household furniture is taken to Edgewood, R. I., having been delayed because of traveling conditions. Rev. W. A. Borchert has assumed his duties in Edgewood and Mrs. Borchert and infant daughter are with Hartford relatives. It is an interesting coincidence that the members of the Congregational church of Edgewood, of which Rev. M. R. Plumb, formerly of Windham, is pastor and the members of the Episcopal church of which Mr. Borchert is now rector have been for some time holding union services Sunday evenings, alternating between the two churches and each man preaching in the other's church. Mr. Plumb and Mr. Borchert were close friends while they were in Windham.

LYME

Miss Inez Peck, who teaches in the Old Lyme graded school, is ill.

The St. Patrick's social given by the L. B. S. Saturday evening was a very enjoyable event. Supper was served from 6 to 8, after which games were played.

Miss Ada Harding spent the week end at her home in Sterling City.

Mrs. May Daniels of Norwich and Mrs. Guy Wiggans and children of North Lyme went to Bridgewater, Mass., last week, where they are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albion Holmes.

Miss Ora Harding is spending the spring recess at her home in Sterling City.

Mrs. J. W. Martin has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lester Fowler, in Middlefield.

Mrs. Ida Harding has returned to her home in Sterling City after spending the winter on Bill Hill with her son, Ray Harding.

The Bill Hill school has been closed as there are three families with scarlet fever cases.

Walter Tisdale of New London was a guest of Mrs. Ida Harding over Sunday.

Willis Hall is ill with a complication of diseases. Dr. Ely and Dr. Bradeen of Essex are attending him.

Rev. Robert Bartlett was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harding last Sunday.

George Adams and family of Norwich spent Sunday with Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. J. W. Martin.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Derby.—A real estate transaction has been consummated whereby the building of the Sterling Piano company, known as the "player plant," has been sold to the Birmingham Iron foundry.

Avon.—The huge tank for the water system on the Curtis farm which is being installed by the Ensign Bickford company arrived this week. It weighs four tons and has a storage capacity of 3,000 gallons.

New Haven.—Prohibition Enforcement Agent Frank Putney made a raid and found a man who was using hot water bottles in which to keep liquor. "I've seen moonshine hid in many places, but this is the first time that I've ever seen a hot water bottle used," he said.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

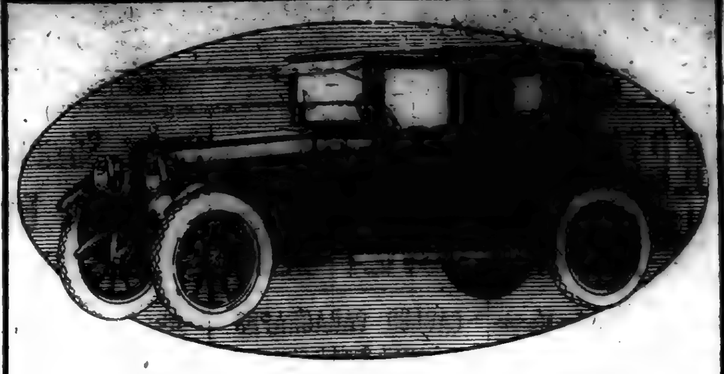
At the Broadway

The B. F. Keith vaudeville program at the Broadway theatre for the last half of this week is as follows:

Three Bangards in a musical offering; Will Morris, cycling comedian; Landard & Hany, comedians; Tabor & Green in A Lesson in Grammar; and Taylor, Howard and Theur in Males & Females, a different sort of comedy act.

A thrilling new Paramount picture, Drums of Fate, featuring Mary Miles Minter supported by George Fawcett, Maurice B. Flynn, Robert Cain, Bertram Grassby and Casson Ferguson, will be shown at the Broadway theatre next week. This is said to be one of the strongest pictures in which Miss Minter has been seen this season.

In order to grow old gracefully a woman must cultivate the art.



Closed Car Advantages
Costly Car Performance
$1525 Freight and Tax Extra

In the Coach, Hudson for the first time made possible a closed car under $2,000 on so great a chassis as the Super-Six.

By every proof—official records and the satisfaction of more than 140,000 owners—Hudson holds place among the few truly great cars. It has outsold all fine cars for nearly eight years.

Now, with the new motor, it is the greatest Hudson ever built. It is smoother, quieter, more enduring and reliable. With its superb mechanical excellence the Coach gives every essential closed car advantage, at little more than open car cost.

Speedster $1425 7-Pass. Phaeton $1475 Coach $1525 Sedan $2095
Freight and Tax Extra

Hudson-Essex Service Station
191 North Main Street Phone 1780

5213

HUDSON

What Is Going On Tonight

Norwich Mahoney Mahoney Auxiliary, No. 6, meets in Buckingham Memorial.

Norwich Lodge, No. 426, B. P. O. E. meets in Elks' Home.

Clover Temple, No. 9, P. S., meets in Buckingham Memorial.

Victory Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. L., M. U., meets in Steiner Hall.

Union Church Service at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Sunday, Mon. and Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.

Moving Pictures at Bijou Theatre.

Moving Pictures at Broad Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Porto Rico observes today as Emancipation Day.

John Drew makes his first appearance on the stage fifty years ago today.

The counter divorce case of Carl E. Akeley, famous hunter and naturalist, and his wife, no less renowned as a hunter in the jungles of Africa, each charging the other with desertion, are scheduled for hearing in court in Chicago today.

Papers on geology and oil of Arkansas, the Gulf coast country and Mexico will furnish the principal subjects for discussion at the annual convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, meeting today at Shreveport, La.

Senators Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Massachusetts, respectively chairman and minority member of the committee appointed to investigate the Veterans' Bureau, are to meet in Washington today to discuss plans for beginning the inquiry.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Bijou Theatre

Several players who contributed to past screen successes of Charles Chaplin support the famous comedian in his latest First National feature comedy, The Pilgrim, which is the feature at the Bijou theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

They are Edna Purviance, again the comedian's leading lady; Sir brother, Sydney Chaplin; Mack Swain, "Chuck" Reisner, Loyal Underwood, Tom Murray and Phyllis Allen. Others who appear in support of the stars Kitty Bradbury, Dinky Dean and Mae Wells.

Chaplin plays the role of an escaped convict who masquerades in the clothing of a minister. But this deception brings the most excruciating complications down on the head of The Pilgrim, for as a result he is compelled to take charge of a church in a small town.

Still more amusing situations arise when a crook who had served time in the pen with the pseudo parson, comes to the same town, recognizes his old "college chum" and worms his way into the social set.

A touch of romance and a dash of pathos have also been worked into the plot.

For the second feature the Bijou will present The Forgotten Law. This is a drama of the conflict of love and distrust and is heralded as the most forceful drama of a decade. It is directed by a sterling cast, including Milton Sills, Cleo Ridgely and Jack Mulhall.

Scenes in Colors Make Adam's Rib Novel Photoplay

Color photography carried to the most logical degree yet reached is a special feature of "Adam's Rib," Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount picture featuring Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter—Theodore Kosloff, Anita Nilson, Pauline Garon and Julia Faye which will be presented at the Broadway theatre starting Sunday.

"All over" color photography carried to the tints of the skin is admittedly still to come in its final perfection. Color "spotted" through the regular blacks, grays and whites of the celluloid is a point, however, to which real perfection is said to have now been reached through a color registering system perfected by Paramount and used for the first time in "Adam's Rib."

The scene in which the spotted color appears is a night ballroom scene showing a large group of dancers. The pairs of dancers are furnished with Japanese lanters. The main lights of the room are turned out and the lanterns lighted. Each lantern has been "spotted" a different color, red, blue, purple, a myriad of tints. And the color is reflected on the faces of the individuals carrying the lanterns. These moving, dipping, dodging bits of color appearing in the darkened room, with their reflections on white shirt fronts, faces and dainty frocks, are said to give a marvelously beautiful effect, something that makes it possible to say that there is truly "something new under the sun."

Jubilee Week Double Features at Strand

What is the biggest laugh in Charles Chaplin's latest First National picture, The Pilgrim, the comedy of a thousand laughs at the Strand theatre? Thousands insist a plum pudding wins it.

Chaplin as an escaped convict wearing a minister's clothes, is mistaken by the small town congregation as their newly-arrived parson. At the home of one of the members a special dinner is prepared for him. Visitors arrive, including a couple with a mischievous boy.

The festivities in honor of the new "parson" are somewhat spoiled because the precocious youngster uses his fathers derby as a covering for the plum pudding. The unsuspecting Charles pours the sauce over it.

The pudding is a sight to make one's mouth water, but Old Man Trouble jumps in with both feet when dad discovers the parson and the guests eating his hat!

Why is it that the appeal of the theme of a boy's rise from rags to riches is eternal and unfading, having a powerful hold on young and old alike? And why is its message universal? The answer to these questions is given in "Rags to Riches" the Harry Rapf production sponsored by Warner Brothers, which is announced for a run of three days at the Strand theatre, beginning today will be second feature.

Freckled, inimitable Wes will be remembered by all who saw him in School Days. He typifies the unconquerable spirit of youth and its adventurous strain, which he always succeeds in communicating to his audience.

"Rags to Riches," adapted from Charles A. Taylor's celebrated stage play centers about young Marmaduke Clarke, a wealthy little child, who frets under the artificial formality of his home, and pines for a little action. He gets his chance upon discovering a burglar in the house. When the second-story artist escapes Marmaduke pursues him and becomes his pal. Then the two roam through the country, while a gang of desperate crooks shadow them for the tempting reward offered for Marmaduke. How the lad helps to corral the crooks makes for a climax which is exciting and refreshing.

Other members of the cast are Niles Welch, Ruth Renick, Russell Simpson, Mrs. Misha D. Redman, Richard Tucker, Bonnie Jason, Jane Keckley, Sam Kaufman, Dick Sutherland and "Jimmy" Quinn. The story is by William Right and Walter De Leon and the direction by Wallace Worsley.

A news [illegible]

The Onward Sweep of "SALADA" TEA into every home in the United States is a silent compliment to its Delightful Flavor and High Quality.
BLACK [illegible] MIXED or GREEN

GRAEB, COLUMBIA TRACK STAR, TAKES FEATURE EVENT IN A. A. U. MEET

Newark, N. J., March 21.—Victor Graeb of Columbia University, won the sixty-yard run by only a few inches in the national indoor championships of the A. A. U. tonight, stepping the course in seven seconds. He was followed closely by Josi M. Carol, of Lehigh university.

Camelia Sable of Newark, failed to equal her own recent record of 9 seconds in the Metropolitan district 50-yard low hurdle trial matches, but won the heat at 9 1-5 seconds. Virginia K. Rothwell, of the Prudential Insurance Company Athletic association, was a close second.

Summaries follow:

Six hundred yard run: Won by William Reed, Newark A. C.; second, F. A. McGrady, Meadowbrook club; third, Harry Braverman, Morningside A. C. Time, 1 minute 19 3-5 seconds.

300 yards run—Won by J. O. MacDonald, Lafayette; second, James Burgess, West Side Y. M. C. A.; third, Harold Ray, Newark A. C. Time 34 2-5 seconds.

Standing Broad Jump—Won by Herbert Winter, unattached; second, J. H. Vickers, West Side Y. M. C. A.; third, Fred Spann, Newark A. C. Height 9 feet, 11 1-2 inches.

BENTLEY READY TO REPORT TO GIANTS

Baltimore, March 21—Jack Bentley, former left handed pitcher and first baseman of the Baltimore Orioles is expected to leave for San Antonio, Texas, tomorrow to join the New York Giants.

Bentley recently was sold to the New York team for $65,000 and two players but announced he would not join the National league club until he received a "portion" of the purchase price. After a conference with Oriole officials yesterday he decided to leave for the Giants' training camp soon as he could clear up his business in this city.

Although Bentley and other who took part in yesterday's conference, refuse to state whether he received $5,000 for which he had been holding out, persistent rumors are to the effect that he received the bonus. One report stated John McGraw, manager of the Giants, agreed to give him $2,500 and Jack Dunn, owner-manager of the Orioles, the other half.

WESTERN ICE KINGS READY FOR BOSTON CLASH

Boston, March 21.—The St. Paul Athletic club hockey team was in Boston tonight prepared to clash with the Boston Athletic association, winner of two games in the Minnesota city last week. In the windup of the series for the amateur hockey championship of the United States. The first of the two games here will be played tomorrow night.

The Minnesotans arrived late this afternoon and were unable to spend the evening practicing owing to the delayed arrival of their equipment. The squad consisted of nine players in charge of Manager Fitzgerald.

REFEREES NAMED FOR TITLE HOCKEY MATCH

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 21.—Harold Mitchell, of Toronto, and John McGrath of New York, were named today by Secretary Roy B. Schooley to act as referees in the games scheduled for Thursday and Saturday nights between St. Paul and Boston for the championship of the United States Amateur Hockey association. The games will be played at Boston.

The first two games of the four-game series, played at St. Paul, were won by Boston.

RAIN PREVENTS PRACTICE BY RED SOX AND PIRATES

Hot Springs, Ark., March 21.—Intermittent rain today kept the Boston American and Pittsburgh National teams indoors. Clear skies hoped for tomorrow will enable the Red Sox and Pirates to continue their training.

Saturday has been agreed upon by Frank Chance and Bill McKechnie as the date for the first exhibition game between the two major league squads.

The Pirates are rated as having much the heavier hitting combination but Chance's players are more advanced in the stage o ftraining than the Buccaneers are.

HERMAN AND M'AULIFFE MATCHED FOR MAY 12

New York, March 21.—Jim Herman of Omaha and Jack McAuliffe of Detroit were matched today by Rickard to meet in a preliminary to the Jess Willard-Floyd Johnson bout at the Yankee stadium on May 12 for the benefit of the Milk Fund. They are light heavyweights.

GENARO SUES SQUARE CLUB FOR $3,000

New York, March 21.—Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion, filed suit against the Madison Square Sporting club today for $3,000 he alleged was withheld from his portion of the purse when he won the title from Pancho Villa three weeks ago. Genaro claimed he received $5,463.24 for the fight instead of $5,463.24 to which he was entitled in accordance with his contract to receive 13 1-3 per cent. of the gate receipts.

You get more mileage, smoother going, better distribution of load, longer-lasting tire carcass, and curb and rut-resisting side-wall strength in the new Goodyear Cord Tire with the beveled All-Weather Tread. It's the greatest tire Goodyear ever made. We have your size now in stock, and give you real service.
T. J. MEALEY
272 Main Street
THE A. C. SWAN CO.
3 Cliff Street
GOODYEAR

EXHIBITION GAMES.

New Orleans, La., March 21.—

New York (A)	1	5	2
New Orleans (S)	2	6	3

Batteries: Roetteger, Spates and Schang; Hoffman, Miller, craft and Mitzie, Dowle.

Bradentown, Fla., March 21.—

St. Louis (N)	17	19	3
Philadelphia (N)	5	7	3

(8 innings, by agreement).

Batteries: Tony, Pfeiffer, Stiely and Ainsmith, McCurdy; Hubbell, Weinert, Ring and Wilson, O'Brien.

Montgomery, Ala., March 21.—

Milwaukee (A)	2	7	0
Philadelphia (A)	0	4	2

Keefe, Lindsey, Higgins, Bigbee, Lengrel and Gossett; Harris, Jones, Shillings and Rowland.

Philadelphia (Americans) 13.
University of Alabama 2.

Rommell, Lloyd, Naylor and O'Neil, Perskins, Bruggy, McMillan; Cunningham, Steed, Tubbs and Hubert, Cruise.

SEVERAL UPSETS AMONG AMERICAN BOWLING LEADERS

Milwaukee, Wis., March 21 (By the A. P.)—Changes in the leaders of the singles and doubles events was the feature of today's play in the American Bowling Congress tournament, with the honors going to Canton, Ohio, and Milwaukee, respectively.

K. Scharlo of Canton, took the lead in the singles when he totalled 695, topping Elmer Lee of Milwaukee, who was leading with 693, two pins. Scharlo had games of 244, 208 and 242. E. Mueller and S. Summers of Milwaukee, rolled into the lead in the doubles when they counted 1273 pins, Mueller coming through with 617 on games of 219, 198 and 200. Summers carried his partner with 656 pins on counts of 203, 266 and 187. In his last game he had three splits, which accounts for his low score. L. Bonin and O. Berkley of Eau Claire, Wis., totaled 1250, tying for third place in the doubles. Berkley, who is a 19-year-old boy, attending his first tournament, was high man of the team with 675 pins to his credit. His game scores were 214, 235 and 226.

M'TIGUE PLANS TO COME TO U. S. SOON.

New York, March 21.—Mike McTigue, Irish-American boxer who won the world's light heavyweight championship by defeating Battling Siki at Dublin on St. Patrick's day, expects to return to the United States in the near future to defend his title, according to his manager, Joe Jacobs, who today announced receive of a cablegram from the pugilist.

McTigue, Jacobs said, would not accept Siki's challenge for a return bout in Europe nor offers for any other matches before returning to this country. He added that he had notified McTigue of Tex Rickard's terms for an open-air bout here in June or July with Georges Carpentier.

HONEYCUTT TO LEAD AMERICAN FENCING TEAM

New York, March 21.—Appointment of leaders for the American fencing team which will defend the Robert Thompson trophy in a series of matches with British swordsmen in London next July was announced today. Major Francis W. Honeycutt, U. S. A., will act as captain and F. Barnard O'Connor, of the New York Athletic club, A. D. Leon Schoonmaker, of the New York Fencers' League, as managers.

The American team will consist of twelve men, to be selected from among the leading contenders in the national championships held here in April 17.

CINCINNATI RECRUIT IS ARRESTED FOR DESERTION

Orlando, Fla., March 21.—Danny Deaver, recruit player, with the Cincinnati National League club in training here, was arrested today, charged with desertion from the United States army. Deaver admitted the charge, it was reported.

Louis Widings, treasurer of the Cincinnati National Club, endeavored to secure bail for Deaver's release. Widings was informed the charge was unbailable. Deaver told the Associated Press he enlisted in the army in February, 1922, and served ten months, being stationed at Fort McDowell on the Pacific coast. He declared a scout for the club promised to obtain his release from the army.

GOVERNING BODY REFUSES TO REINSTATE VON ELM

New York, March 21.—Despite pressure which has been brought to bear by western golf authorities, the United States Golf association's executive committee, it was said today, had declined so far to reinstate George Von Elm, of Salt Lake City, former trans-Mississippi and Pacific Northwest champion, who was suspended from amateur competition last August for his connection with a sporting goods firm.

N. Y. U. RIFLE TEAM TO SHOOT IN COLLEGE MEET

New York, March 21.—The reserve officers training corps rifle team of New York University has been designated by the war department as one of three teams to represent this corps area in the national intercollegiate team matches to be held this spring, according to a notification just received by Lieutenant Colonel S. A. Campbell, head of the department of military science and tactics.

The other teams in the senior group designated by the war department are those of the University of Delaware and Syracuse.

MISS COLLETT WINS WITH BRISTOL PARTNER

Pinehurst, N. C., March 21—Miss Glenna Collett, national women's golf champion, went around the championship course in 40-44-84 at Pinehurst, today in a match in which Miss Collett and Herbert Lagerblade of Bristol, Conn., won over Miss Collett and Herbert Lagerblade of Bristol, Conn., won over Miss Louis Fordyce of Youngstown, Ohio State champion and Emmett French, Youngstown professional, one up.

Mrs. Mallory Wins.

Cannes, France, March 21 (By the A. P.)—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory defeated Mademoiselle Viasco, 7-5, 6-3, in today's play in the lawn tennis tournament here.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION
BELLANS
Half-a-tablet Gives Relief
BELLANS
25¢ and 75¢ Packages Everywhere

Training Camp Talks
by STONEY McLINN

Bradentown, Fla., March 22—How many men have been seen at baseball players batting, throwing, infielding, catching, running bases, shagging flies, playing hi-lo and doing the many things that diamond pastimers do on one playground at one time? If this question were directed to male citizens who follow baseball exclusively in order that they may purchase coal radio sets and other necessities of life, there would be few who could truthfully answer in the affirmative. We saw this very thing when we visited the training camp of the St. Louis Cardinals in this Florida town.

Not all of them were owned by the Cardinals directly. A number were striving for positions on the Syracuse International team; others will play with Fort Smith in the Western Association and Houston in the Texas League. Still others may remain in Bradentown to pastime in the Florida State League.

But the fact remains that seventy-five athletes, including five coaches, were on that ball field and everyone of them was striving to earn the right to receive a pay check from the St. Louis National League club. Each "baseball bully" knew that the eyes of Field Marshal Branch Rickey were upon him, and that the Cards' manager has the discern-ist pair of see-ers in the baseball world.

Rickey, not so many weeks out of a hospital where he had lost one appendix, rated a "spot" by the surgeon, was sitting in the grandstand. He was telling us all about his prospects for 1923. But we had much difficulty in following his story, for every thirty seconds he interrupted himself to say, "See that boy; I just can't keep him off the club," or "Look at that chap run those bases, the fastest man in the squad," and so on indefinitely, always giving the name, age and previous experience of the player.

Hired Hands Must Work.

Branch Rickey pays the expenses of a flock of athletes at the Southern camp—and he expects, yes demands, in return that the boys work. Spring in the south with the Cards is by no means a vacation. Arising at 7:15 the pastimers punch the clock at the ballyard not later than 9 o'clock. From 9:30 to 10 Rickey gets from his young men what he refers to as "my half hour." In that thirty minutes Branch puts on one of his b. b. lectures—and the lads prefer that chin record to any Whiteman jazz number you might grind out. For Major Rickey talks so sincerely and so entertainingly that if he told you St. Louis was in Japan, and drew verbal pictures of the flowers, kimonos, rickshaws and chopsticks, you'd be in the Orient before he finished. That's a fact, too!

After Rickey's lecture come two hours of sliding, batting, bunting, base running—fundamentals. Then lunch. At 2 o'clock the boys return to the park for more batting and fielding practice and a game. By 5:30 or 6 o'clock, when they call it a day, the athletes are so tired that after dinner and an evening cigar, they are glad to sleep between the sheets so they may be as ready as possible for that 7:15 call.

Bottomley Planted at First

First base is allotted. It will require an explosion to tear that sack away from Bottomley. This tall, rangy, agile and rapid-thinking athlete was with Syracuse last season and he batted .348 two one thousandths of a point below Jack Bently, who cost McGraw $65,000. On the attack and defense Bottomley does everything the left-handed way. He does everything well, too. A prediction: Bottomley will be more talked about by midseason than Bentley, though he had no $65,000 publicity to cram him into the public eye.

Milton Stock, a hardy old vet, gets first call at third. But we look for F. M. Rickey to use a kid named Blades in that position—he hails from Houston, where he batted .330, hitting twenty triples. The kid bats left or right and the fact that Rickey said: "I just must find a place on my team for that boy," and asked Buck Herzog what he thought of Blades "as a lead-off man" inclines us to the opinion that the Houston kid will play regularly, perhaps at third, maybe at short.

At second base—that's it. Rogers Hornsby, and unless the king of the N. L. batsmen strains his Adam's apple or some such calamity befalls him he'll do all the second-basing the Cards will require this year. George Toporcer, he of the specs, will have a reserved seat on the bench and do his bit if Hornsby communes with Jehosaphat Jinx. The four-eyed wonder also will do some pinch hitting, for it is at bat that he shines.

Hi Myers for whom Rickey expressed Fournier, yet first sacked, to Brooklyn, is sure of an outfield berth because of his defensive skill—he also bumps the apple well. Branch likes Hi. Max Flack may be another regular in the pasture. Jack Smith is leading candidate for the third outfield post.

But with Leslie Mann and Joe Schultz, veterans, and a covey of lads who looked good in the south, Rickey may be expected to do some experimenting in the gardens.

Peek at Pitching Staff

It is practically impossible to give any real information about Rickey's pitching staff at this time. Bill Doak, Jess Haines, Bill Pertica, Lew North and Ed Pfeffer, right-handers, and Bill Sherdel, southpaw, are men of experience who have returned and all are going great guns this spring. Fred Toney, who will join the club, is rated awfully high by Rickey.

Branch raves about Fred Stiely, a Philadelphia semi-pro. He also says kind words about Lester Sell from Syracuse, and Fred Wingington from the Nebraska State League. He insists Ed Dyer, a left-hander who graduated from Rice Institute in Texas and who pitched left-handed curves for Syracuse last season is the best young pitcher in the camp.

Copyright, 1923 by Public Ledger Co.

FLAHERTY TO COACH PITCHERS AT PRINCETON

Princeton, N. J., March 21.—Princeton's baseball squad will have an assistant coach this year for the first time, it became known today. He is P. J. Flaherty.

Flaherty has been in the major and minor leagues, pitching for the Boston Red Sox. He also was a member of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati clubs.

PLAINFIELD MERMEN WIN CLEGG CUP IN "Y" TRIANGULAR SWIMMING MEET

The Plainfield swimming team defeated the local Y. M. C. A. swimmers in the finals for the Clegg cup at the local pool on Wednesday evening, in the triangular meet between Plainfield, Norwich and Jewett City. Jewett City was eliminated in the first meet. The result of the meet gave Plainfield 122 points, Norwich 66 and Jewett City 3. Plainfield took all the events on Wednesday evening with the exception of three, the men's plunge for distance, which was won by Bushell with 57 feet, the boys' 20-yard swim, and the boys' 8 plunge for distance.

Green of Plainfield was the star performer winning the most individual points for his team. Bushell featured for Norwich in the plunge. Secretary Edwin Hill presented the cup after which refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clegg. The summaries:

20-yard semi-finals—Boys — Williams (N), Tombari (N).

20-yard semi-finals — Boys—Peterson (P), Jarvis (P).

20-yard semi-finals — Boys—Peterson, Jarvis (P) Williams (N).

20 yard Swim—Men—White (P), Bushell (N), McNamara (N).

Plunge for distance—Men—Bushell (N), 57 ft.; Green, Marston (P).

20 yards backstroke—Boys—Peterson (P), LaMonthe (P), Fellows (N).

Plunge for distance—Boys—Fenton (N) 21 1-2 ft.; Driscoll, Gromko (N).

60 yard Swim—Men—Green (P), Bushell (N), Kundig (N).

20-yard swim—back stroke—Men—Green (P), J. Kundig (N), Vincent (P).

Men's Relay—Plainfield.

Boys' Relay—Plainfield.

Fancy Diving — Men — Coushon, Jarvis, Jodian (P).

Fancy Diving—Men—Green (P), MacNamara (N), Vincent (P)

MRS. CHAPMAN WINS FINALS AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., March 21.—Mrs. John D. Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., today won the final round in the annual silver foils golf championship tournament and the major trophy, with the unusually low score of 173 for the 36 holes of play. She led the field by a margin of six strokes.

Mrs. Joseph Bydolek of Buffalo, took second honors with 92-87—179, and she was followed at 180 by Mrs. M. Johnson Scammell of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of Philadelphia.

YALE MERMEN DEFEAT WESLEYAN 46 TO 20

Middletown, Conn., March 21—The Yale swimming team defeated Wesleyan, 46 to 20, in a post-season meet here tonight. Yale took six firsts. Southwick of Wesleyan lowered the record for the pool for the fourth time this year. He made the sixty feet in 20 seconds flat, 2 2-5 seconds better than his previous record.

What's the Matter, Battery?

The manager of Spencer's Colts wants to know what is the matter with Battery B that they do not accept the Colts' challenge for Monday evening but go out looking for other teams. Manager Spencer is of the opinion that the soldiers have been frostbitten by the blustering March winds. How about it, Battery?

New Haven Hockey Team Wins

New Haven, March 21—The New Haven Hockey club defeated the Aura Lees of Toronto 7 goals to 3 in an exhibition game here tonight.

Some man got an awful jolt when they fell in love.

TODAY'S SPORTS.

Racing.

Meeting of Business Men's Racing Association, at Mobile.

Meeting of Cuba-American Jockey club at Havana.

Meeting of Tijuana Jockey club at Tijuana.

Hockey.

Allan Cup finals, at Winnipeg.

Bowling.

Annual tournament of American Bowling Congress at Milwaukee.

Golf

Annual Tin Whistle championship closes at Pinehurst.

Bellair amateur championship tournament opens at Bellair, Fla.

Handball

National A. A. U. senior championship, at St. Paul.

Boxing.

Middle Atlantic States amateur championships, at Philadelphia.

Mickey Walker vs. Pete Latzo, 12 rounds, at Newark.

Midget Smith vs. Pee Wee Kaiser, 10 rounds, at St. Louis.

Pancho Villa vs. Battling Murray, 12 rounds, at Waterbury.

Willie Herman vs. Georgia Brown, 12 rounds, at Passaic.

Shamus O'Brien vs. Johnny Clinton, 10 rounds, at Lowell.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT
By DAVID CORY

Bunny and His Lollypops

As the little bunny went hipperty hop, clipperty clop through the woods, the knapsack on his back bounced up and down. It made such a funny noise, that, being a curious little boy, I asked:

"What makes that funny noise in your knapsack, little bunny?"

It went:

Clinkerty, clinkerty, clink, clink, clink, clinkerty, clinkerty, clink, clink, clink.

"Lollypops!" answered the little bunny.

"Lollypops!" I gasped.

"Yes, lollypops. Red and pink, yellow and the loveliest one that you have ever seen!" laughed the little bunny boy rabbit, hopping along faster than ever.

"Oh take me to the Lollypop Tree!" I cried.

"Wh—wh—ere, Wh—ere did you get the lollypops?" I asked, all excited.

"Oh, don't you know that the lollypops grow on the lollypop tree? The little stick has a lollypop at one end and the other end grows from a little twig that grows on a little branch that grows on a little limb on the lollypop tree that grows in a hole in the ground with the green grass growing all around, all around, by the big bear's cosy cave."

"Oh take me to the lollypop tree!" I cried.

"Not this afternoon," answered the little bunny. "I must get home in time for supper. Mother always worries for fear Danny Fox or Mr. Wicked Wolf or Old Man Weasel will catch me," and away hopped the little bunny, clipperty, clip, lipperty lip, down the forest path, in and out among the trees, until:

After a while,
And a hop and a skip,
And almost a mile,
We came out on the woods.

To the sunny meadow.

Then, away he hopped across the grass, so fast that I could hardly keep up with him, until pretty soon, we came to the corner of the Old Rail Fence, to a Big Bramble Patch.

Plat! went the little rabbit through the brambles and I couldn't see him anywhere. I peeked in here and there, trying to see where he had gone, but the brambles were so thorny that I couldn't press them apart.

"Oh, dear," I said to myself, "I've lost my little bunny friend, "what shall I do?"

Right close by stood a big tree and the next minute I was climbing up the trunk and out on a big limb, hanging on to a branch overhead. Stepping out as far as I dared. I looked over the tops of the bramble bushes and there, just below me, right in the middle of the bramble patch stood a little white bungalow. It has a little red chimney, and a tiny front porch and just then up the little winding path, through the brambles came the little rabbit, clipperty clip, lipperty lip, his little knapsack bouncing up and down on his back and the little red striped candy cane swinging from his paw.

And tomorrow morning you shall hear what happened after that.

(Copyright 1923, by David Cory)

Onions grown in warm countries have a milder and more agreeable flavor than those raised in colder latitudes.

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Norwich, Thursday, March 22, 1923.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this paper as well as all the telegraph news dispatches.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

CIRCULATION

WEEK ENDING MARCH 17th, 1923

11,960

PROMPT AND CORRECT.

That the education [illegible] should have indicated promptly that it was opposed to the [illegible] sought to restrict the [illegible] papers by bona and [illegible] keeping with the strength of the [illegible] position and the importance of [illegible] trying to them the right to [illegible] thing that would put [illegible] into the pockets of [illegible] families.

Great stress has been laid by the proponents of the measure upon the effect which such work has upon children. Most effective was the statement of Principal Aaron of Brown school in Rockford when he said: "I need not tell these boys to be [illegible] 50 years, and I would find I [illegible] a truster if I went back on them now. I think these boys are the backbone of our citizenship and I'm ready to defend them at all times. This work teaches them the principles of honesty, thrift and courtesy. It is the greatest safeguard and protection to give these boys something to do at stated intervals. The greatest safety for the morals of the boys is plenty of honest occupation. The boys who are getting into mischief are those in the back alleys with nothing to do."

Principal Aaron, who termed himself a friend of the boys, declared it incorrect that such employment injured them or made them deficient in their studies. This sensible view of the matter is in keeping with the regards of those throughout the country today who used to carry papers in their younger days, when there was a waiting list of those eager to engage in such employment. They were not injured by it. They are not advocating the restrictions.

This effort has bobbed up at the last few sessions of the general assembly only to meet with similar opposition. The efforts cannot be regarded as other than well-meant. The danger for these [illegible] in carrying papers is slight [illegible] with those who are [illegible] for lack of something to do, to [illegible] idleness and mischief.

The committee has acted well and the effort henceforth should rest in peace.

CONSIDERABLY EXAGGERATED.

Whether through misinformation or intention, those who undertook to show the American attitude concerning the taking over of French territory in the West Indies went far from the mark, and from the manner in which Secretary Hughes dealt with it seems impossible to regard it otherwise than distortion or misrepresentation.

So far were the statements attributed to the secretary of state and published in France, from the facts that it was with amazement that he heard the items as published in Paris. It was not long ago that there had been talk about the United States taking over British islands in part payment of the debt. The idea was frowned upon both in this country and in Great Britain. This government stated that it did not desire to acquire either British or French territory among the West Indies. On top of that, to have Secretary Hughes quoted as saying that the ambition of this country was to secure the French Antilles and work into the story the claim that they were wanted to make us more secure under the Monroe doctrine must have been regarded as a tremendous revelation in Paris, and possibly in South American countries, inasmuch as it was on his South American trip that it was claimed the secretary of state made such a wild statement.

The outlandish claims made in the statement branded it as a deliberate fake. It was plainly intended to stir up feeling. It was, however, such an exaggeration that it couldn't fail to amuse the secretary, although he made the most of the opportunity to declare, in as emphatic words as possible, that it was without any basis of truth. It was apparently one of those instances where the spreader of the tale was trying to see how much he could tell that wasn't so.

A REAL WASTE.

No wonder Senator Moses has come out strongly against the lavish expenditure of money for the publication of the Congressional Record. He is simply taking up the complaint that has frequently been registered. It is not to be supposed that he or others favor the abolition of the Congressional Record, for it is important that there should be a daily journal containing the complete doings of both houses of congress. But there is good and sufficient reason for opposition to the great volume of undelivered pedestal mail material that is allowed to be printed therein, which has no relation to the doings of the national legislative body. It is a waste of time, money and white paper.

For the purpose of eliminating a needless expense congress did away with the free seeds for which over $250,000 had previously been appropriated. In the publication of the [illegible]

THE COAL TAX.

From the [illegible] tax [illegible] taken by [illegible] of the Pennsylvania [illegible] it will make [illegible] time [illegible] of coal [illegible] of the [illegible] have been able to [illegible] this year.

GET DOWN TO BUSINESS.

That all [illegible] in Germany is not back of the governmental policy in connection with the Ruhr problem is followed by the demand of the German people, as the result of resolutions adopted, that the government "leave no possibility unexhausted to end the Ruhr battle and settle the reparations crisis through negotiations."

This is plain talk. It shows the attitude of those who are directly affected. It indicates a desire to have done and get to the present situation. Furthermore it shows the basis upon which [illegible] to do it by [illegible] which to [illegible]

The German [illegible] has given indications that it was willing to take up negotiations. It has even disclosed its proposition to other nations, but it has not taken up the matter with France. There is the feeling that has precipitated the Ruhr problem and it is with France that direct dealing should be undertaken. Without any question France would listen to the German proposition. Likewise it would have something to say in its own behalf. Out of it there might come an adjustment of the matter.

When France insists that negotiations should be carried on directly it holds to the view that it is able to look after its own affairs, that it is prepared to go through with its programme and that it wants no interference. The action of the German miners strengthens the French position. Having indicated its willingness to enter into negotiations, Germany should proceed in its own behalf, remembering that it is France with which it must do business.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

That [illegible] the groundhog was right there's no need of rubbing it in at this late date.

We have probably noticed how much nearer to the beautiful spring every cold wave brings us.

Berlin says the door to peace is open. But has it brought that fact to the special attention of Paris?

The man on the corner says: Now that spring is officially here keep your eye open for the first dandelion.

"After Lenine, What?" is asked. Lenine is one of those who has been down frequently, but thus far he has never been out.

The prince of Wales has had his chin from his horse. Probably the former kaiser would advise him to stick to a shipyards.

With Italy considering the turning over of its railroads to private owners, it is again shown what a great teacher experience is.

Having killed 200 tons of rats in Virginia during a special campaign, the result is enough to arouse the envy of the pied piper of Hamlin.

Three boys drowned when a canoe was upset at Providence. That starts the beginning of a list that will be very much longer before the last winter's snow flies.

With the net income from tobacco last year $50,000,000 more than the year before those working for prohibition of tobacco are apparently wrestling with their racers.

If what Chairman Hull of the democratic national committee says about the Harding administration were actually so he had a right to feel pleased over the claim that the president would be renominated instead of being posted.

Today's Anniversaries

1290—Sir Anthony Van Dyck, the great Flemish painter, born in Antwerp. Died in London, Dec. 9, 1641.

1758—Jonathan Edwards, one of the most famous of American theologians, died at Princeton, N. J. Born at East Windsor, Conn., Oct. 5, 1703.

1854—The English and French allies repulsed the Russians in a desperate engagement at Balaklava.

1873—The Kentucky Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was incorporated.

1890—The Maine Court of Inquiry closed its sessions at Key West.

1913—Governor Ralston of Indiana vetoed the "blue-sky" law which had been passed by the legislature.

1914—Five million dollars in property was destroyed and 10,000 persons made homeless by a fire at Paris, Texas.

1911—Enrico Caruso, at the Metropolitan Opera House, celebrated the 15th anniversary of his appearance in opera.

1922—Five lives were lost when the flying-boat, "Miss Miami" sank in the Gulf of Mexico.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Robert Woods Bliss, the new United States minister to Sweden, has been serving for some time as third assistant secretary of state at Washington. Mr. Bliss has had training in both the diplomatic and consular service as well as in the department of state. He was born in St. Louis in 1875 and after graduating from Harvard in 1900 began his career as secretary of Porto Rico. Later he served as consul at Venice, second secretary of embassy at Petrograd and secretary at Brussels and Buenos Aires. In 1913 he went to Paris as secretary of embassy, later becoming consellor. He was sent to Holland as charge d'affaires in 1918, returning to his post in Paris at the end of the year and remaining there during the negotiations of the peace conference in 1919. His services in various capitals of Europe prior to and during the war gave him valuable diplomatic training in one of the most critical periods in history.

Today's Birthdays

Emilio Aguinaldo, leader of the insurrection in the Philippines in 1899, borne at Cavite, 51 years ago today.

Herman H. Kohlsaat, former Chicago newspaper publisher and intimate friend of presidents, born at Albion, Ill., 76 years ago today.

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, winner of the 1922 Edison Medal for "meritorious experimental achievement in electrical science," born at Morrison, Ill., 55 years ago today.

Laura Jean Libby, whose tales of fiction have entertained two generations, born in New York city, 61 years ago today.

Henry F. Sullivan, celebrated long-distance swimmer, born at Lowell, Mass., 31 years ago today.

Wives of Famous Men

Eliza McCardle, Wife and Andrew Johnson

Andrew Johnson, 17th president of the United States, married a girl, who like himself, was a Southerner. Johnson was very young when Eliza McCardle, herself only 16 years of age at the time of her betrothal, became his bride.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Tennessee in the year 1810, and was living in the City of Rome with her widowed mother, when Johnson first met her. They were married in May, 1826, which was Johnson's 18th year. It seems strange that one as young as Mrs. Johnson should have so little desire for high social life, but it is true, nevertheless. What interested her far more were her husband's welfare and success. It was to his career that she devoted all her time and energy. She never lost an opportunity to aid him in his work and it is to her that he owned not a little of his later successes in life. He was a self-educated man, and his wife had as much to do with his improvement of position and increase in knowledge as he did himself.

Mrs. Johnson's rather poor health, made it impossible for her to travel with her husband wherever he went, so she remained at Greenville when he moved to Washington as a senator, only visiting him for a few months. At one time she received an order permitting her to pass the confederate lines and reach her husband, but she was too ill to travel at the moment, and consequently she did not see him for quite some time. Later, however, she managed to meet him at Washington, where she stayed with her husband at the White House. But even here she avoided the social life as much as it was possible for the First Lady of the Land to do so.

Andrew Johnson died in 1875 at the age of 67. His wife did not have long to live without him. Her health never strong, utterly failed, probably from grief at the loss of her husband, and she followed him to the next world a year later.

WHOOPING COUGH

No "cure"—but helps to reduce paroxysms of coughing.

VICKS VAPORUB

Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

"No, no turkey for me, thank you," said the young artist with the Burne-Jones expression. "I'll take fried mush please." She tittled from the rather surprised waitress to her equally surprised friend. "I am finished forever with turkey."

"Well, it is a little heavy," admitted the friend. "Especially with the dressing and everything. Did you overeat?"

"Overeat?" repeated the Burne-Jones girl. I didn't eat a bite of it and I don't believe I ever shall again."

"Sounds mysterious," commented the admiring friend.

"My conscience wouldn't permit me to eat it. It makes me almost ill to see that portion of turkey breast and dressing on your plate, my dear. But I'm going to tell you why.

"You know, Alfred Sherrill and I are so proud of our little studio apartment that we decided to give a dinner party in it. We have had great duck hunting steak and making biscuits and waffles, and we saw no reason why we shouldn't undertake a turkey and have a few other detached people to eat it with us.

"It occurred to Albe that we could get a wonderfully fine bird by sending to a farmer up at Lake Ripley, where he stabled last summer. So she wrote to him to send one of those young

"Albe had once put a pet guinea pig out of misery, so was only too glad to have her apply the chloroform to the turkey, whose wildly struggling body I held in my arms until the saturated handkerchief had done its deadly work. I began gradually to lose my appetite for turkey when we were hurriedly picking the feathers from his limp and prostrate form. It seemed as if we would never get them all off, and at last Albe suggested that we leave the pin feathers until morning, when we could singe him after cutting off his head and drawing him.

"'Cutting off his head and drawing him,' I echoed. 'Oh, we can never do it, Albe,' I cried.

"'Nonsense, Laura; we have to,' she said firmly. 'Don't be so finicky.' So I said no more, but I envied Albe's strength of character. It was marvelous to be able to look forward to the morning's ordeal as calmly as she did. But, as the old story books say, little did she know, or I either, what the morning was to bring forth.

"Well, it brought forth something all right. When I opened the door of our cold closet, which takes the place in our apartment of a refrigerator, I nearly fainted to see a live, wan and nude turkey step forth on tottering legs. I screamed and Albe, at the other end of the studio, rushed to me, and when she saw that poor ghostlike, woebegone bird she uttered even a more piercing shriek than mine. It did me good. I was relieved to find that I wasn't the only delicate female present. The janitor, who was sweeping the porch, heard our outcries and hurried to our assistance.

"'My gosh, where'd you get him?' he asked. 'What you goin' to do with him?'

"'Nothing, nothing,' I answered. 'Please take him away! Please!'

"'Sure,' said the janitor, easily capturing that miserable, shivering fowl. It seemed to me that he cast a reproachful eye upon us when the janitor carried him from the room to a second death.

"That glance haunts me yet. We regaled our guests on eggs and bacon, and as we ate the nuts and raisins we told them the tragic tale of the turk. Now you understand why I prefer fried mush to turkey. Never again for me!"

"I understand, dear," said the other girl. "It was a perfectly shocking adventure."—Exchange.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Women Preachers.

Mr. Editor: The manifest desire of M. B. M. which he evinced in his letter to you dated March 11, 1923, for me to prove certain questions is easily met. The problems that he wishes me to solve are easy ones. I quote from his letter: "I am well aware that it (Bible) speaks of prophetesses but it does not say that one of them preached, or taught or prophesied in the church. I wish she would prove that they did if she can or that any of them was ordained for this purpose."

I am glad that M. B. M. has admitted that the Bible records the fact of women prophets and that also so that those women could preach, teach or prophesy. His first doubt in the paragraph refers to the place of preaching, his question centering in the clause "in the church." His second query is whether they were ordained for preaching.

Strongest evidence bearing on the two problems is found in the first two chapters of the Acts of the Apostles.

Christian believers possessed not at that time large edifices in which they could conduct their services. They convened in rooms of private houses. Acts 1:13-26. Acts 2:2. Those rooms constituted the material church. The believers formed the spiritual church. There were about 120 members of the church. Acts 1:15.

Women were of the church membership. Acts 1:14. At the day of Pentecost they were all in one place or house. Acts 2:1, 2.

They were all filled with the Holy Ghost. Acts 2:4. They all spoke with tongues as the Spirit gave them utterance. Acts 2:4. Note the word all (women, too). The amazement of the Jewish crowd that then assembled was answered by the explanation of Saint Peter "this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Joel." Acts 2:16. Note the words, "this is that."

Saint Peter recognized the phenomenon, as being the fulfillment of Joel's prophecy, written 88 B. C. Joel's prophecy to which reference is made is embodied in his book thus, "and it shall come to pass * * * that I will pass out My Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy * * * and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit." Joel 2:28

Here then is an undeviating line of argument that proves conclusively that women spoke in the church at the occasion of its inauguration. Women at that time spoke with tongues of fire from Heaven. Read Inspired Record as found in Acts 2:3, "there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire and it sat upon each of them." Note the words, "each of them" (women, too).

This context should satisfy M. B. M.'s first and second inquiries. Woman spoke in the church. She was ordained by Heaven thus to speak. Acts 2:2, 3. No higher credentials than those are needed to invest woman with authority to speak in the church God's message to the people.

St. Paul accords with this exposition of Scripture as seen in 1st Corinthians 11:5.

He writes, "every woman that * * * prophesieth with her head unmuzzled dishonoreth her head." He is instructing the women how to prophesy, thus making the strong implications that it was the custom for women to prophesy in the church.

The words prophesy, preach, teach are used interchangeably for the fundamental idea of the work of prophesying is to preach or to teach God's will to the people. Here then we have the facts of woman prophesying in the cardinal church of history, speaking in other vernacular than her inborn tongue, ordained by Heaven with fire; and of the testation of the prophet Joel, St. Peter and St. Paul to the validity of women as preachers.

When St. Paul wrote in the same letter I Cor. 14:34 "let your women keep silence in the church * * * if they will learn * * * let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church," and in I Tim. 2:11, 12, "Let the women learn in silence * * * but I suffer not a woman to teach nor to usurp authority over the man but to be in silence" he was referring to a different condition.

St. Paul wrote that it would be a good thing if all prophesied. I Cor. 14:24.

St. Paul might have written that children are to keep quiet in church meetings. That would have been proper instruction. He would not have meant by that statement that children are to be debarred from reciting Bible verses at proper church occasions. That is a sound parallel to the case of the women.

These two principles of women being allowed to speak in church and being forbidden to speak in church were exemplified in a meeting that I attended. The preacher gave permission for a woman to speak of an important notice. In a quiet, dignified, authoritative way she responded. That was approximating to an example for the Pauline injunctions "every woman that * * * prophesieth * * * let her * * *." I Cor. 11:5, 6, which carries the seal that women may speak in church.

During a later pause in the preacher's remarks an ignorant woman precipitately exclaimed as to her views of the subject that he was teaching. That was illustrating St. Paul's meaning when he wrote, "let your women keep silence in the churches * * * it is a shame for women to speak in the church," and "I suffer not a woman to * * * usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence." I Tim. 2:11, 12. Paul had in mind rules to avoid disturbance of meetings.

I hope M. B. M. will studiously follow this line of argument and if he can upset the logic of this thesis let him advance proof texts showing that women never preached in the apostolic church.

MRS. GEO. H. STROUSE.
Waterford, March 20, 1923.

Doesn't Like Idea of Subjection.

Mr. Editor: In Mr. Coffey's letter in The Bulletin this morning he replies to my former letter in the words of the apostle Paul: "Let woman learn in silence with all subjection." I shall not follow this admonition according to the letter, as, strictly construed, it would be a poor way, in my opinion, for me to grow. I hesitate to take up any more space in newspaper discussion but I believe in speaking in defence of an absent friend to whom injustice is being done, and it does seem to me that the apostle Paul is not getting a square deal through this quotation unaccompanied by details of the customs of his time. I am quite confident that were he living here in Norwich now and well informed as to the progress made in all lines since his missionary journeys, if he knew, especially how women have emerged from the obscurity to which they were relegated then, how bravely they have fought for knowledge and a "place in the sun" with their brothers, how they have forged ahead and made good, I feel sure he would be among the foremost to say to them: "You have fought a good fight; you have done wonderfully with the limited opportunities you have had and you can safely be trusted with the larger opportunities before you. I bid you Godspeed." I cannot, I will not, believe he would be a reactionary were he living in 1923. Many exhortations regarding mercy, love, truth, justice, and the like seem equally applicable in all ages but silence and subjection as used in this quotation must change with progress as modes of travel, dress and the like change. So, I cannot imagine Paul saying these words to me were he here today. Rather, I firmly believe he would rejoice with women that they have made such wonderful advancement. There is much truth in the words: "New occasions teach new duties." I regret taking so much space but there is something about the advocacy of subjection for women that stirs my blood, and I feel in some degree, at least, as Lincoln felt when he said of slavery: "If ever I get a chance to hit that thing, I will hit it hard!" Small power, indeed, is mine either of voice or pen but I feel the compelling force of those inspiring words: 'Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I unto thee."

A "QUEEN OF THE HOME."
Norwich, March 21, 1923.

A GREAT SALE OF CORSETS

La Resista CORSETS

It will begin this morning and continue throughout the week.

Wear your figure young

1200 pairs of the well-known "La Resista" Corsets will be offered in a special sale. This offering comprises models for all types of figures, and are subject to slight irregularities in making, but nothing that will impair their serviceability. Divided into four special groups:

Group 1—At $1.69 a Pair

This lot includes Corsets of flesh and white Coutil, Pekin stripes and pretty bordered effects—genuine $3.50 and $4.00 corsets at... $1.69

Group 2—At $2.69 a Pair

In this lot are front and back lace models, made of best quality, in flesh and white — Also in satin and brocaded effects—genuine $3.00 and $6.00 corsets, at $2.69

Group 3—At $3.49 a Pair

These are offered at practically half the regular prices and include front and lace back models, of best quality Coutil, Pekin stripe and brocades, in flesh and white — genuine $6.50 and $7.00 corsets, at $3.49

Group 4—At $4.69 a Pair

The corsets offered in this lot are made of beautiful Silk Brocades and Silk Tricot, in models for all types of figures, in flesh color only. They are amongst the highest grade corsets made by the La Resista Co., and are genuine $8.50 to $12.00 corsets, at $4.69

NOTE — This Sale will begin this morning. Everything will be in readiness when the store opens at 8:30. In consideration of the extremely low prices at which we are offering these corsets, we cannot give fittings, neither can we send any on approval.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Stories That Recall Others

Starting In Young.

The civic teacher of a certain school recently required the pupils to hand in statements showing their schedules of classes.

One boy noted on his slip a course in "forgery."

His teacher was much astonished. Investigation showed the boy had forging in one of the foundry classes.

Basket of Meat Missing.

A young business man returning from a trip recently, unthoughtedly boarded the wrong car. The usual evening crowd caused him to stand on the platform. He saw a woman acquaintance, who had been downtown shopping, and knowing she had to change cars helped her off, and in doing so picked up a basket filled with fresh country pork. He handed her the basket but she said it did not belong to her. The man took the basket of meat to a friend's place of business nearby, thinking someone might call for it. The next morning he inquired of the street railway office for the owner. The owner was not found and several persons took some of the meat to their homes. The young business man would not take any of it, but he believes he is in debt to the owner.

People who talk too much receive little attention.

Remove the Cause of COUGHS

BREATHE for Three Harmless Healing

Hyomei

A recognized germicide. Kills germs. Relieves congestion. INHALE medicated air to remove membrances of nose, throat, lungs.

Sold by all druggists. Guaranteed. Money back.

For Sale by The Lee & Osgood Co.

FISHING TACKLE

The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.

SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS

All Agate Guide Casting Rods. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD

BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET

Safe Milk

Pure Refreshing Nourishing Delicious

The Original Food-Drink for All Ages. Quick Lunches Home, Office and Fountain. Rich Milk, Malted Grain Extract in Powder & Tablet Forms. Nourishing—Upbuilding. Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

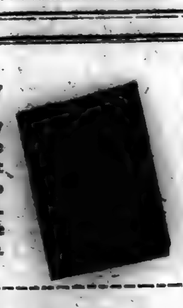
Corns Go

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. Stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in clear liquid and in this plaster. The action is the same. At your druggist

Blue-jay

Saving Made Easy

It's not so hard—Uncle Sam is ready to tell you how in his New Free Book. Send for it today and get the "know-how" of what seems to be the hardest thing in the world. Treasury Savings Certificates make it easy and safe. Get your copy now.



To get the book mail this coupon to
The United States Government Savings System
Treasury Department
Washington, D.C.

Name
Address
City
State

Quickly Drives Out All the Rheumatic Poison

Acts on Kidneys, Liver, Stomach and Blood First Day—That's Rheuma's Way.

The second day you take Rheuma, the doctor's remedy that is selling so rapidly, you'll realize that when Rheuma goes in uric acid goes out.

It matters not whether you are tortured with pain, crippled with swollen joints or distressed with occasional twinges, Rheuma is guaranteed by Lee & Osgood to end your rheumatic trouble or money back.

Rheuma is just as effective in cases of lumbago, sciatica, arthritis and chronic neuralgia.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease. It often affects the heart and causes death. If you have it in the slightest degree get a bottle of Rheuma from your druggist today and drive it from your system right now.

WHAT! Only $15.00 For a Dinner Set

Yes, and a Good One at

CRANSTON'S

NICE VARIETY OF FRESH FISH FOR THIS WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

Native Striped Bass, Roe Shad, Yellow Perch, Fresh Mackerel, Fillet of Haddock, Steak Cod, Eastern White Halibut, Salmon, Vile Fish, Boston Blue, Haddock, Flounders, Smelts, Cod Cheeks, Finnan Haddies, Salt Mackerel, Salt Herring, Salt Cod, Smoked Halibut and Salmon, Boneless Herring, Scallops, Clams and Oysters. Everything is the very best that money can buy at a price very reasonable considering quality. We deliver everywhere in the city. We give trading stamps.

BROADWAY FISH MARKET

40 Broadway

LOCAL WOOLEN WORKERS IN PAY RAISE BENEFITS

Between 900 and 1,000 employes in the Thamesville and Yantic mills of the American Woolen Co. will benefit by a 12 1-2 per cent raise in wages which will go into effect on April 30 for all American Woolen company mills, according to an announcement Wednesday by President William M. Wood.

In a letter addressed to the employes of the nearly 40 mills of the company President Wood said that they had been enjoying steadier work than the average and that the company wanted them to earn all the money they could earn, that the company could afford to pay.

The Thamesville mills, where about 600 are employed, are now running all day and all night, while the Yantic mill, where from 250 to 300 are employed, is working overtime, although not running on a 24-hour schedule. The same sort of rush work, it is reported, is now being carried on in all the mills of the American Woolen company in order to catch up with the immense volume of orders on the books of the company.

Arrested By Traffic Officer.

Herbert L. Harris of the East Side came near running down Traffic Officer Thomas Murphy about 4.45 Wednesday afternoon as he was driving his wagon around Shannon corner and the officer arrested him for intoxication, taking him off the wagon after he had brought it to a stop in Main street near Market. Harris resisted arrest and struggled against being taken to police headquarters, balking and trying to lie down on the sidewalk several times on the way. Charles Topliff helped the officer get the man to the lockup.

Smallpox Still Present.

Under normal conditions Connecticut has no native smallpox. For sixteen months Connecticut has had smallpox and the disease was wiped out in every community except Bridgeport. It looked as if Connecticut would be clean of smallpox during the late fall and winter of 1922, but recent events have shown how difficult it is to stem the disease in a population where susceptible people are living, who have not been immunized against smallpox.

Men Study Bible at Y. M. C. A.

A group of interested men enjoyed an hour of Bible study at the local Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. The topic of the study was "The greatest privilege of life". The scripture used was the story of the "good Samaritan" in the book of Luke.

Apply Sulphur to Heal Up Your Skin

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Norwich, Thursday, March 29, 1923.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 6.31 o'clock tonight.

New 30 cent, 67 and $5 stamp issues were put on sale at Washington Wednesday.

Today we have a trifle over three hours more direct daylight than we had on the first day of winter.

It was reported that an adverse report may be expected from the legislative judiciary committee on the so-called birth c f ol bill.

Best finnan haddie, smoked salmon, scallops, clams, oysters and all fresh caught fish at Powers Bros.—adv.

At an address in Stamford, Gov. Templeton verified a report that he intended to veto the Sunday sports bill, if it should be passed by both houses of the legislature.

The state medical examining board will meet Saturday at the capitol to act on the results of examinations held last week for applicants for licenses to practice medicine.

The fishing boat which is under construction at the Rogers' yard in Noank for Lorne Ellis will be ready for launching in the early spring. The boat is 38 1-2 feet long with 10-foot beam.

Miss Mildred Louise Pond, 1923, of New Haven, and Miss Margaret Dixon Riggs, 1922, of Wallingford, are among the students elected to the Phi Beta Kappa society at Mount Holyoke college.

Principal Miss Amanda Allen of the Groton Heights school announced that the annual Easter vacation for the school will begin on March 29, closing for Good Friday and will open again on Monday, April 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mabray of Ocean Beach, who have been spending the winter at St. Petersburg, Fla., entertained at a large bridge at their winter home there, 403 Fourth avenue, north, on March 16.

Sixteen member of the Altruist class and two visitors were entertained by Mrs. Harvey Hewitt of Groton. Plans were discussed for an Eastern concert and Mrs. Nette S. Crandall was appointed committee chairman.

At Trinity college Tuesday the sophomores voted to compel four of their classmates who absented themselves from the St. Patrick's Day scrap, to wear the flaming blue and orange freshman caps for a month.

About 46 weavers of the Paweatuck Woolen mill in Potter Hill went on strike Monday. It is understood that their action was caused by the introduction of a new schedule which was to do away with the old bonus plan.

Knights of Columbus last call, cards for communion Sunday must be returned by Friday—adv.

In orders issued from the adjutant general's office by authority of the secretary of war First Class Private D. A. North and Private H. G. Applebad, Company A, 170th Infantry, will be discharged from service.

The human race is 500,000 years old, perhaps, more according to Raymond V. Sutcliffe, sales promotion manager of the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., who talked to the Hartford Advertising club at its luncheon Tuesday.

The same high quality sea food on hand now, as we supplied you during the scarcity of the past winter. Depend on Powers Bros. for quality and service.—adv.

New incorporations include: The Tiernan Realty Co., West Haven, capital $20,000; to begin with $20,000; John T. Tiernan, Madeline R. Bitzer, Edward G. Tiernan, James E. Tiernan, Robert Tiernan, Francis Tiernan.

An old record book of the First Company, Governor's Horse Guard, and a photograph album containing many pictures of members of the guard, were presented recently to the State Library by Lieutenant Colonel James L. Howard.

John J. Comstock, 74 years of age, a resident of East Lyme for all but a few years of his life, died Wednesday of heart disease. He had been in ill health for two years but his condition was not regarded as serious until a short time ago.

Miss Alice Wyman of New Haven was elected president of the Bates Alumnae of Connecticut at the annual meeting in Hartford. Mrs. H. W. Tanner of Hartford was elected vice president and Mrs. Sidney Stockwell secretary and treasurer.

All newspapers, magazines and periodicals entitled to the second-class mailing privilege may now send advertising proofs to advertisers at the special rate of 2 cents a pound for the first and second zones under the terms of a new order.

An application has been made to Governor Templeton by the Bridgeport police for a requisition on the governor of New York for the return to this state of Edward Teres who is under arrest in New York city, and is wanted in Bridgeport for theft.

Philip B. Gale, president of the Connecticut Children's Aid society, will preside at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the society to be held at Hartford Thursday. This will be the first meeting at which Mr. Gale has presided since his election.

P. Erastus Clark celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary on March 18 at Old Saybrook. A steady line of callers were coming all the afternoon to congratulate the aged gentleman on reaching four score and ten years in such unusually good state of mind and health.

A few minutes after Roscoe Doane of Essex, let his cattle out Saturday morning to drink from a brook three blooded cows and a valuable steer dropped dead. Investigation showed that the rain had washed cyanide of potassium from a nearby factory into the brook.

A new 12-cent stamp issued in commemoration of President Grover Cleveland, whose birthday anniversary was Tuesday was put on sale Wednesday for the first time at Washington, D. C., Boston, and Caldwell, N. J., former President Cleveland's birthplace.

State Highway Commissioner Charles J. Bennett was unanimously elected general manager and superintendent of the Edward Balf Co., at the annual meeting of the company in Hartford. He will take office at the close of his term as highway commissioner, July 1.

Superintendent Robert T. Hurley of the state police department, who under the terms of the emergency fuel law, is still maintaining oversight over fuel and its distribution in Connecticut, said in speaking of the fuel situation that his reports indicate a general improvement in conditions.

Paid Fines in Police Court

In police court Wednesday morning two men paid $16.21 each for fighting in a lunch room in Greeneville. Another man was found free from guilt and was discharged. The case of breach of the peace against Constandi Trebondis went over until March 24 for adjucation.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Walter Rogers of Union St. has returned from a visit to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Geotge C. Spooner of Sterling left on Tuesday for California where they are to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donohue of Brooklyn, N. Y., have been guests of Mrs. Nellie Moore for the past few days.

Mrs. Annie M. Counihan and daughter Mary E., leave Saturday for Providence to take up their new residence there with Mrs Counihan's daughter Mrs. Frank E. Calyon of Elmwood.

After spending a week's vacation at his home Avery H. Stanton, class 1918 Massachusetts Institute of Technology with his classmates, Edward Johnson of Troy, Ohio, returned to Boston on Wednesday.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Paul Cardin

The funeral of Mrs. Paul Cardin was held Wednesday morning from the home of her son Delore E. Hebert of 6 Huntington avenue, Norwich Town, relatives and friends attending from Bridgeport, New Haven, Oxford, Mass., Willimantic and other places. There were many floral pieces, among them a large form from the children of West Town street school.

Requiem mass was celebrated at Sacred Heart church in Norwich Town by Rev. Charles W. Brehaan. Miss Elizabeth A. Malone presided at the organ and at the offertory Miss Buckley sang Pie Jesu. At the close of the mass Miss Buckley rendered Jesus Lover of My Soul, and as the body was taken from the church, the choir sang Nearer, My God to Thee.

Burial was in the family plot in St. Joseph's cemetery where Rev. Father Brennan conducted a committal service. The bearers were Louis W. Fedler, August Juneau of Bristol, William W. Weeks of Willimantic, D. E. Shahan, Charles P. Bradley and Samuel Cardin.

Arrangements were by Cummings & Ring.

Mrs. William Close

Funeral services for Mrs. William Close were held Wednesday afternoon from the parlors of Henry Allen and Son company with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The service was conducted by Rev. Charles H. Ricketts, pastor of the Greeneville Congregational church. Burial was in West Plains cemetery beside the body of her husband, Rev. Mr. Ricketts reading a committal service at the grave. Relatives acted as bearers.

NEEDY BABIES SEWING CIRCLE HAS DISCONTINUED

The Needy Babies After-Care Sewing Circle at a meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. J. N. Rosenberg voted to discontinue its meetings for the present. It was also voted that the balance on hand, together with the unused material be given to the Backus hospital for the use of needy babies.

The circle was started in the fall of 1919 by Mrs. Adolph Levy and Mrs. H. E. Higgins.

By means of donations of material and money from several local merchants, together with money collected from the members at meetings it was able to carry on operations until the present time. In all about eighty-five layettes have been completed. These consisted of two dresses, two wrappers, six diapers, two petticoats, three woolen shirts, three pairs of stockings, two caps, three bands, two woolen blankets, also a bag containing soap, washcloth, powder and safety pins.

The boxes were sent to the Backus hospital and distributed to the needy through the physicians of Norwich.

The officers of the circle are grateful to all those who so liberally gave —so that this work could be carried on.

HABEAS CORPUS GETS MAN OUT OF JAIL

Judge Christopher L. Avery in the superior court in New London late Tuesday afternoon ordered the release from jail of William Blanchard, Preston, on a habeas corpus writ. Blanchard had been held at the Norwich jail on a charge of theft.

Blanchard was arrested in February, charged with stealing a pair of eye glasses from a patient at the Norwich state hospital, and was brought before Justice of the Peace Appleton Mann, who sentenced him to six months in jail and fined him $100 at a hearing held February 12.

As the powers of a justice of the peace are limited to binding an accused over to the higher court or to a maximum penalty of 30 days in jail and a fine of $7, Attorney Quinn of Norwich made application for the release of Blanchard, who had served his thirty days. The discharge of Blanchard followed.

The justice of the peace exceeded the jurisdiction of his court in imposing the sentence he gave.

CIVIC PROGRAMME AT ELIZABETH ST. SCHOOL TODAY

All the classes in the Elizabeth St. school will unite this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium when a civic programme will be carried out. Mayor Mile R. Waters and several officials of the city are to be present and invitations have been extended to the parents of the pupils to attend.

On Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the pupils of the primary department are to give an entertainment for parents and friends in the school auditorium.

ADDITIONAL CONTRIBUTORS TO SALVATION ARMY

The following are additional contributors of $5 and upwards to the recent successful drive of the Salvation Army for its $15,000 building and budget fund, as reported by treasurer Arthur E. Story:

Phoenix Fire Extinguisher Co., Totokett Mfg. Co., employes, Turner & Stanton Co., Mrs. H. Blackledge, First Congregational church, Scotland road resident, Grace A. Hilton, Charles Cobb, residents of Baltic, W. Houghton, collector, chain, Mrs. R. B. Sherman, collector.

Fletcher Post Auxiliary Social

Fletcher Post Auxiliary held a social evening Monday at the American Legion rooms on Main street. Whist was played, the prizes going to Mrs. Muriel Roessler and Mrs. Minnie Amburn, the consolation prizes going to Louise Liepold and Mrs. Effie House. Mrs. Alice Siewick of Providence entertained with piano selections and later refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. The prizes were donated by Mrs. Frank N. Kimball. The entertainment committee announced that another whist would be held in the near future.

Entertains for Grandmother

Mrs. Susan Lewis of Moosup, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Frank H. Henderson of 340 West Main street, celebrated her 81st birthday Wednesday. Mrs. Lewis with Mrs. Henderson and her daughter, Mrs. Louis Louges, were entertained at luncheon in honor of the occasion by Mrs. Clifford C. Oat of 2 West Pearl street, a granddaughter of Mrs. Lewis.

The glad hand grasps the jackpot.

ADVISORY COUNCIL SEES FAVORABLE TC BULKELEY ACADEMY FACILITIES

A general trend of opinion that the solution of meeting the need for more high school accommodation for the town of Norwich lay in some plan to utilize the facilities that the Norwich Free Academy offers rather than to establish a new and separate town high school system was indicated Wednesday night by members of the advisory council of citizens who had been invited by the town school board to meet with them for council.

The meeting was held in the common council chamber with the attendance of twenty-two of the thirty members of the council.

Dr. A. B. Meredith of Hartford, state commissioner of education, also attended the meeting, being included on the advisory council, and he gave an instructive talk upon the changed point of view regarding the upper elementary grades in the last few years.

Several of the council expressed themselves in favor of the Academy's proposition to alter one of its large assembly rooms and raise the two wings of the present building, which would provide extra room for about 200 pupils. This would be at an estimated cost of $50,000 and the Academy would charge the town $50 next year for Norwich pupils.

After a meeting that lasted two hours and a half, adjournment was taken to a latter meeting at the call of the president of the school board for further discussion.

Thanks Citizens For Attending.

President Walter F. Lester opened the meeting with a brief, but cordial expression of thanks to the citizens who had accepted appointment on the advisory council and were giving their services in this very important matter. He felt that the town was to be congratulated for such a gathering of its representative citizens that would give the board a feeling of reinforcement and security in the decisions it would have to make. The board was not committed to any position, he said, but wanted the advice of the council.

He called attention to one of the alternatives, which was that of an intermediate school, which he said was not a recommendation, but was merely for information.

Intermediate School.

President Lester asked Superintendent E. J. Graham to explain the intermediate school.

Mr. Graham said that Norwich now needed more grammar school room at Yantic, Norwich Town, West Town and Bridge schools. For ten years there has been a call for vocational training. The intermediate school would provide the increased room and the vocational training. He would make intermediate schools of Greeneville and Elizabeth, build a new intermediate school in the center of the city at a cost of $300,000 and $50,000 for site. The current expenses for the intermediate school system would be about $35,000. This would include $17,500 interest of $350,000, salaries of $20,000 for ten teachers, $2,000 for janitor, $2,000 for heat, etc. He would take the 7th and 8th grades out of West Town, Norwich Town and Broadway, putting them into the intermediate school, which would provide the room needed now in the four schools previously mentioned. Deducting from the $47,000 running expenses the amount now paid the Academy for pupils that would be withdrawn from there, would make the intermediate school cost about $35,000. This plan would cost 2 mills and could be paid for in 15 years.

Council Members Speak.

President Lester called for opinions from the members of the advisory council. S. B. Palmer stated for C. D. Noyes, an absent member, that he was in favor at first reading of the Academy plan, but was open to conviction. For himself, Mr. Palmer said he had not entirely made up his mind but would like to hear more of Supt. Graham's plan. F. H. Pullen also stated that he had not made up his mind but wanted more information.

Rev. Alexander H. Abbott discussed the several plans, saying he could not at present see complete satisfaction in the intermediate school, but he realized this was an inadequate judgment. He didn't like the solution that only seemed to postpone the ultimate question. We ought as a community to consider how far it is legitimate to pass to a private board the absolute control of a public institution and the public duty of high school education and this he said was without any feeling of antagonism towards the Academy.

If there were some way by which the Academy board could enlarge its executive committee to five and allow on it two elected citizens to participate in government and control of the whole educational policy he should be heartily in favor of the town cooperating with the Academy in such divided control.

Mrs. Willis Austin expressed her feeling that she should feel very much relieved if the situation was such that some one had endowed the Academy with funds enough to take care of all the children of Norwich.

Wallace S. Allis said he thought it ought to be considered if some way could be found for co-ordinating with the Academy other than accepting the Academy plan. He didnt know any reason why the Academy could change the number of its trustees but he presumed they would want to elect them from the corporators. If the mayor of selectmen were made trustees, it might happen at some time they would have a controlling power or vote. There was a possibility to be thought of. Another question is the effect with regard the Academy if the town might be left at the end of a series of years.

Increase Academy Attendance.

To a question from Grosvenor Hly Mr. Meredith answered that the establishment of intermediate schools had been shown by experience to increase the high school attendance.

Robert W. Perkins gave it as his opinion that he didn't see how the Academy could afford to finance the proposition under under a long time contract with the town. He thought Mr. Graham's plan might be good but then would come up again the question of enlarging the Academy. He thought it would be unfortunate if there should be any class distinctions created by establishing a town high schools. If there is any way of cooperating with the Academy it ought to be done. This institution is in a unique relation to the town and we ought to make use of it in every way possible.

Judge Nelson J. Aylley's opinion was that the intermediate school would not solve the high school problems and in any event we would have to have the new grammar school rooms. The town ought to take advantage and it would be its best policy to co-operate with the Academy.

E. P. Bishop said there seemed to be the fewest obstacles in standing by the Academy, getting for the town the largest educational return in this way for the money expended. It will give better than anything the town can provide independently.

H. M. Lerou said he was strongly in favor of the Academy proposition and he failed to see where the intermediate school relieved the situation. Give the grammar schools more room if they need it, and give the Academy the money it needs for maintaining its teaching force.

Judge Allyn L. Brown said he felt strongly that the town ought not to parallel the Academy. He believed the money would be well spent in meeting the Academy plan for the five year period and the town should not go to the tremendous expense of a new school building.

In reply to a question from Mrs. F. L. Farrell, Commissioner Meredith said he would not advise restoring the ninth grade in the schools.

Arthur M. Brown said it was his opinion it could not be a success to have the governing body of the Academy partly private and partly public. If necessary, leave it all private and make the best you can out of that.

John M. Lee said he thought the intermediate school a good plan but that was a separate question. He thought the Academy plan ought to cover longer than five years. He expressed appreciation of the Academy and said he would like to see a plan for a longer period.

Charles R. Butts asked some questions about costs from Mr. Graham and said he figured it out that it would cost $45,000 per year for the intermediate school plan and the cost $180 per pupil instead of $119 per pupil. He advised to make the best arrangements possible with the Academy.

Building Costs Too Much Now.

F. W. Cary said it was not an opportune time for expensive building now. He quoted a statement that building costs are to be 20 per cent. over any previous peak, on account of which the government is cancelling contracts, as it would be a waste of the people's money to erect buildings now. He favored the Academy plan with some system of representation to be worked out.

Mrs. W. K. Tingley and Miss Louise C. Howe both spoke of their interest in Mr. Grahams plan, and James L. Case said he believed the Academy was the solution with some modifications to be worked out.

The junior high school plan had been thoroughly thrashed out several years ago, said Dr. J. J. Donohue, and he thought public opinion was pretty well settled on that. The cost eliminates any suggestion of duplicating the Academy. He said he thought it would be popular if the city and town could have representation, but not by mayor or selectman, but rather by an appointive representative for a term of years.

Grosvenor Hly called attention to the need for doing something soon and said he thought it would be advisable to provide for the immediate needs and what would be done to give accommodation for 200 more pupils would work into any eventual larger development.

Rev. J. Harlow Graham spoke of his experience in a somewhat similar situation in Braintree, Mass., and said it was his opinion that the junior high school is the solution of our educational problems especially in relation to the child. He would like to see a comparison of the costs under the Academy plan and the intermediate school.

After a request from Mr. Allis for more facts at a future meeting as to the intermediate school, which President Lester said the board would endeavor to furnish, the meeting adjourned.

Christmas for Academy Students.

To grant in the discretion of the matron, the town sewer shall furnished to the members of the advisory council the following statement when enrolled practically all the information in the hands of the board.

Norwich as a community during the past thirty-seven years has enjoyed a unique advantage through the responsibility of some of its citizens, for the foundation of the Norwich Free Academy which has been a memory for hours, for all educational purposes of thirty years, while from an economic standpoint the financial outlay has certainly run into the millions.

This may not have been an unalloyed advantage, however, for true to the Yankee nature which tends to minimize the value of things taken for granted, it has undoubtedly indulged some apathy toward mat-

(Continued on Page Seven, No. Four)

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Nelson D. Robinson.

The death of Mrs. Amoret McCall widow of Nelson D. Robinson, late American McCall, lineal descendant from many of the passengers of the Mayflower on its memorable 1620 voyage, through alliances with the Brewster, Warren, Alden, Mullens, Howland and Tilley families, and through Puritan ancestry, descendant from the Royal House of Wessex, occurred Wednesday morning at 4.30 o'clock. She had been in gradually failing health for some time, having fallen and broken her hip about two months ago and later suffering a shock.

Born in Bozrah, October 5, 1832, the first-born of Stephen Titus and Judith Ann (Slink) McCall, in a house which then stood by the side of the road on the west side of the Fitchville pond, she moved with her parents to Yantic when but a child, living in the house now owned by Grace church and used as a parish hall.

Mr. McCall was a carpenter and master builder and had charge of the construction work of the woolen mill in Yantic in 1864-1866.

MRS. NELSON D. ROBINSON

Miss McCall became a school teacher and taught successfully in Bozrah, Yantic and later in Norwich Town under the principalship of Amos A. Dewitt.

On April 12, 1858, Miss McCall was united in marriage to Nelson Dexter Robinson, youngest child of Asa Robinson of Franklin. They resided in Yantic in the house which stands to the east of the boarding house (formerly owned by Owen Smith, but now owned by the American Woolen Company). Mr. Robinson had resided in the village ten years previous to the marriage, having been clerk in a store which then stood opposite the Dr. Phinney house and in a wagon making shop which then stood between the boarding house and the Yantic river. He continued this work in Norwich, New York and at Unionville and Colchester. Later, with a partner, he conducted a wagon shop at the Norwich Falls, near the William M. Williams Fire Engine Company's house. Mr. Robinson was an officer in the company at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson moved to Nebraska and they lived there for a few years but returned to Connecticut around 1870 and located at Norwich Town where Mr. Robinson built a wagon and blacksmith shop near the railroad station and also a home (which has been occupied by Mrs. Robinson since the death of Mr. Robinson.) Mr. Robinson became traveling passenger agent for the Central Vermont railroad and a southern road—The Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West—work which carried him through the eastern, central and southern states many times. He died December 6, 1900.

Mrs. Robinson was very active in historical societies and when the Society of Descendants of the Mayflower was formed was one of the first local members and very seldom was she absent from a meeting.

She became one of the early members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Faith Trumbull chapter, through the patriotic services in the Revolutionary war of her great grandfather, Captain Veach Williams of Lebanon. (The seventeenth member of the D. A. R. had the same ancestor). Mrs. Robinson's father's family was one of the families that had been located in Goshen Society, Lebanon, for more than a hundred years.

Mrs. Robinson had two brothers and one sister, all deceased. Her brothers, Dwight and John, were both officers in Connecticut companies during the Civil war and as her grandfather, John McCall, had located in Georgia previous to the war it is supposed that cousins fought against them on the Confederate side of the conflict, a fact always annoying to her.

Lieutenant Dwight McCall was a member of the 18th Connecticut Regiment. This regiment was part of the force that went to New Orleans with General Butler. He was one of the two companies that were ordered into Fort Jackson and as a souvenir of his entry into the fort Mrs. Robinson had a glove which contained a ring and a lock of hair which he picked up while leading his men into the fort. He was in the army more than three years receiving his discharge after being wounded at Winchester, Virginia. He married Harriet Pray, a native of Yantic, they located in Washington where he had a government position and one daughter was born, May, who died in her thirteenth year.

John McCall was in the 5th Connecticut Regiment, a regiment which saw a great deal of service. He was mustered in September, 1861, won promotion several times and was only in the service a year when he had become a first lieutenant. He was wounded in the battle of Antietam and taken prisoner. The following spring he was back in service, captain of Company K and was killed in action at Drury's Bluff, Virginia, May 16, 1864.

Mrs. Robinson's only sister, Sarah, married De Forrest Spofford, a soldier in the Civil war, who lost an arm in service. He was employed in Norwich in the Otis Library (then a private library) and then moved to Washington, D. C., as he secured a position there as a government clerk, a position he held until the time of his death. As they owned a home in Washington Mrs. Spofford preferred to live there and secured employment in the pension office, in the department of southern claims and was considered an authority, and commanded one of the highest salaries paid women clerks at that time. She spent the last year of her life with her sister at Norwich Town. The only one to inherit Mrs. Robinson's estate, outside of personal bequests is an adopted daughter of Mrs. Spofford, a Mrs. Frank of New York.

FORMER NORWICH GIRL DIES ON AFRICA MISSION FIELD

Norwich friends have received word of the death on March 9 at Aba, Congo Belge, Africa, of Mrs. Paul F. E. Hurlburt, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Morse, a former resident of this city and a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy, class of 1903.

Mrs. Hurlburt was a medical missionary and had been at this station for a number of years. Her death was caused by the dreaded African sickness known as blackwater fever. She was the daughter of the late Rev. Oliver C. Morse. She is survived by her husband, two children, Rebekah, aged 3, and Charles Erwin Hurlburt, aged 18 months. She also leaves her mother, now a resident of Clinchburg, Va., three brothers, Richard, Oliver and Nate, and two sisters, Marguerite and Rebekah.

Mrs. Hurlburt graduated from Mt. Holyoke college, class of 1907, from Pennsylvania Medical college and completed her study in London before going to Africa as a medical missionary. She was in charge of the hospital at Aba.

Last of Lenten Services Tonight

The last of a series of Thursday evening United Services of Christ Episcopal and Trinity Episcopal churches is to be held this evening at the Trinity Episcopal church. The speaker is to be Rev. G. E. Tobie, rector of Christ Church, Westerly, R. I.

REDUCE YOUR FAT WITHOUT DIETING

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still reduce steadily and easily without going through long siege of tiresome exercise and starvation diet. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists the world over at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Co., 4613 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Only Ten Days to EASTER

Select Your Easter Cards Today

Beautiful Designs Choice Sentiments at

CRANSTON'S

Cure of the Hair

A New York woman writes: I have used Parisian Sage two weeks, and my hair has wonderfully increased in beauty, means much, luxuriance, and is entirely free of dandruff." Lee & Osgood Co. guarantees it.

New Spring Styles In Young Men's Suits—

It's early to be showing them, but our customers are style leaders—want the new things first.

They're all here now.

Sport Suits, Norfolks, 2, 3 and 4-button sacks.

Come in and have a look.

Suits..... $30 to $45

Top-Coats $25 to $35

Hats... $3, $4 and $5

Murphy & McGarry

207 Main Street

DATA RELATIVE TO 14 HIGH SCHOOL SYSTEMS

	Town	Popu't'n	Stud'ts	Tch'rs	Av.Sal.	Cost per Capita	Charge to Outside St'dts.
1	Ansonia	18,000	590	27	$1,370	$100.00	none
2	Bristol, Conn.	30,620	587	25	1,308	107.15	$150
3	Greenwich, Conn	22,123	529	29	2,018	139.17	none
4	Meriden, Conn.	34,764	860	46	2,100	89.33	120
5	Middletown, Conn.	22,139	700	35	1,941	166.50	130
6	Norwalk, Conn.	27,743	500	20	1,980	60.00	90
7	Stamford, Conn	40,067	1,016	46	3,096	121.00	150
8	Torrington, Conn.	25,055	568	25	1,870	118.00	140
9	Chicopee, Mass	36,314	878	23	2,088	100.00	100
10	Fitchburg, Mass.	41,029	1,225	56	2,056	100.00	100
11	No. Adams, Mass.	23,282	530	30	1,970	125.00	100
12	Taunton, Mass.	37,137	882	40	2,027	100.00	100
13	Newport, R. I.	30,255	859	28	2,178	100.00	100
14	Woonsocket, R. I.	43,496	469	18	2,088	100.00	100
		9729 average per teacher	447	$28,187 average average		$1476.23 average average	$1288 average
				$2,013.88		$105.45	$111.86

DATA RELATIVE TO 9 RECENTLY ERECTED BUILDINGS

	Town	Population	Capacity	Cost
1	Bristol, Conn.	30,620	1,500	$ 857,295
2	Plainfield, Conn.	7,926	300	300,000
3	New Haven, Conn	162,537	1,800	900,000
4	Torrington, Conn.	22,055	900	550,100
5	Waterbury, Conn.	91,175	1,300	1,000,000
6	Chicopee, Mass.	36,214	1,000	948,140
7	North Adams, Mass.	22,282	800	450,000
8	Newport, R. I.	30,255	1,125	691,000
9	Woonsocket, Rc. I.	43,496	600	501,520
			9,125 Cost per student Capacity $606.21	$5,854,657

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pains in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments, and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for children, adults, the aged. Sold everywhere. Lee & Osgood Co.

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds

Subscription to all American and European Publications

SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU UNION SQUARE

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Superintendent Leon M. Farrin of the schools in Killingly and Brooklyn announced Wednesday that some boys from the Casey Creek Community center of Kentucky are coming to Danielson on March 29, and that the public is invited to hear them when they speak at the Danielson grammar school at 10 a. m.

The object is to furnish an opportunity for pupils in the schools here and also the public at large to observe how children under great disadvantages have been able to make something of themselves. A real interesting treat is promised all who attend. No funds will be solicited and there will be no propaganda of any sort. These boys have been speaking all over the country in many large cities and towns and have been of great interest everywhere.

Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock funeral services for Mrs. Ethel Flood, wife of John Flood, were conducted at the undertaking rooms of L. E. Kennedy by Rev. Walter B. Williams of the Westfield Congregational church. The funeral was private. Burial was at Westfield cemetery. Relatives acted as bearers.

Chief John McFarland has ascertained from Edgar White, the victim of the holdup at Little Rest a week ago, that he was robbed of $100 by three men who had an automobile. Mr. White was riding along in the rear of his truck and was nearing his home when a man called to him to stop. He did not hesitate to do so, thinking that a neighbor was hailing him, as is his frequent custom. When he opened the door of the cab he was looking into the barrel of a revolver and there was nothing to do but come across with his roll.

Another holdup on the same highway, which is lonely over long stretches, has been reported here. These affairs are disturbing to the general public, especially to the large number of motorists who use this new and fine route to the Rhode Island capital and suggests that it might be dubbed the Apache Trail. If holdups are going to be a regular thing on this fine highway as the season opens, it would appear necessary to have it patrolled. The route offers few side roads over which highwaymen might slip away in an automobile, so given reasonably prompt warning a patrol would quickly put an end to the wild west work that is getting away to a lively start.

It appears to be a tremendously difficult thing to arouse the interest of borough residents in affairs that have to do with selecting nominees for borough officers for the ensuing year. After all the urging of individuals by individuals and the publicity given the annual caucus only about 40 at- [illegible] of approximately 1500 voters, and the women voters who were represented by only a small group, were as negligent as the men. It so happened that everything ran smoothly and there was no attempt to stampede the caucus for some experimental purpose. Trying to explain why the voters do not attend is both difficult and unsatisfactory, for one might advance a score of explanations and still not be right. The fact is that the voters will not enthuse over borough caucuses and show little more interest in borough elections, one of which is just ahead.

Many tributes were paid by his fellow townsmen on Wednesday to the memory of Hector McConnell, superintendent at Baltouville for the Attawaugan company. His sudden death was especially untimely, coming on the very day when he had filled his resignation and was to prepare for a well earned and deserved period of retirement from work and indulgence in travel. Mr. McConnell was not a man who gave much of his time to social activities, being occupied chiefly with his home and business, but during the years he lived in Danielson he was a helpful citizen of the community, a [illegible] citizen, standing always for [illegible] and [illegible]. He was kindly and just in the administration of his duties and his passing is regarded as a personal loss to everyone in the community where he lived and labored.

Plans of Elmo council, K. of C., have not planned an Easter week ball this year, deferring the event until the latter part of April. The committee having charge of the arrangements is made up of Bernard Casey, Pierre Gameau, Oscar Bernier, Jeremiah Elliot, Henry Welmard and James T. Melville.

Next Sunday will be observed by the council as annual communion Sunday, and the members will gather at their hall at 8:30 a. m. to march to St. James' church to attend the 7 o'clock mass, at which they will receive communion in a body.

On Wednesday every effort was being made by forces of the state highway department to get the stretch of state highway between Main avenue and Elmville in an improved condition, and much was accomplished. Dry and breezy weather that dried out the wet places to some extent helped the workers and by Wednesday evening the road was in much better condition than has been the case since the snow began to go.

The first building operation in the business section this spring is being undertaken by the Dayville Grain and Coal company, which will erect an addition to its local headquarters, formerly the freight office of the Rhode Island company when it was operating trolley express cars into Danielson. There is also promise of activity in the near future, in the way of building on the Davis property on Railroad square.

Wednesday evening the Treble clef club, which has been meeting throughout the winter, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Davignon on Main street for the weekly rehearsal. For the first time since the club has been organized an orchestra was in attendance. The club is to present a cantata and groups of songs in the near future.

Over 200 women who attended the lecture given by Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen, guest of the Killingly Woman's club Wednesday afternoon came away delighted with the affair and warm in their praise of Mrs. Allen.

A coincidence of Mrs. Allen's coming to this, her native town, to address a representative gathering of women was that in a Tuesday evening edition of a New York paper there appeared a displayed interview with her on the matter of home economic. In the course of this interview Mrs. Allen is quoted as saying: "from cradle to marriage, both sexes should be trained in home economics". With the story was a picture of Mrs. Allen teaching her little daughter, Ruth Elizabeth, the art of cooking.

Gaston A. Maindon is a new nominee in the list named at the annual borough caucus for burgesses during the coming year. Mr. Maindon has been a resident here since his childhood and is thoroughly familiar with the borough and its public needs.

A mid-week Lenten service will be held at St. Alban's church this (Thursday) evening.

Under the auspices of the Danielson Rod and Gun club pictures of activities in field and stream are to be shown at a local theatre in the near future.

Joseph J. Brennan, a patient with an injured knee at the Day Kimball hospital, is making progress toward recovery.

And now that taxpayers of Killingly know this morning what the rate is for this year they can busy themselves to get the money to pay the town.

For the past two days limbs broken off large trees during the gale of Monday night have been cleared up and reduced to fire wood.

There is a prospect that the Service battery of the 192nd field artillery will go to Maryland next September for its annual tour of duty.

William A. Pelky of Woonsocket was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Wednesday.

Misses Charlotte and Barbara Bullard of Boston are spending a few days in Danielson.

Frederick Warren, formerly a resident of Danielson, is dead at his home in Fall River, where he had been engaged as a photographer. He had been ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Warren before her marriage was Miss Carrie Gilleny, resident on the West Side.

HANOVER

The young men of the "Y" group have been invited to the Norwich Y. M. C. A. next Saturday afternoon to enjoy with other groups of the vicinity the gymnasium and swimming pool in the new building.

The C. E. posters which have been displayed by the young people of the society in the church vestibule have been causing considerable interest. One this week, C. E. in Every Land, is of special interest as it is hand painted. It is the work of Miss Elsie Freeman.

Lenten services on the Psalms are being held in the vestry of the Congregational church every Thursday evening until Easter.

A spinster who says that she is glad of it may make everybody believe it but herself.

Swamp-Root for Kidney Ailments

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed a thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

WEAK, RUNDOWN AND AILING

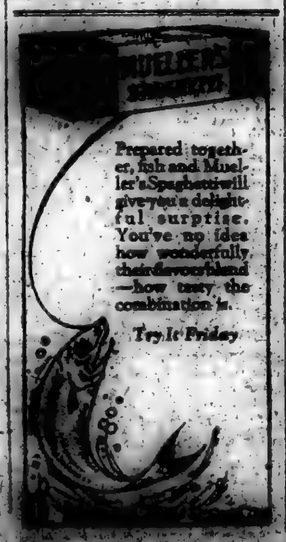
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I was weak and run-down and had trouble with my side. I had been taking medicine for a long time and nothing seemed to do me any good. My husband went to the drug store and he said to the clerk, 'I want the best medicine you have for women's troubles.' He gave him a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me. In a short time I was able to do my housework, and now I am not only able to do every bit of that and washing and ironing, but I help my husband at the store."—Mrs. L. K. MYERS, 1409 E. 14th St., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Feels New Life and Strength

Keene, N. H.—"I was weak and run-down and had backache and all sorts of troubles which women have. I found great relief when taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am able to do my work and feel new life and strength from the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. A. F. HAMMOND, 72 Carpenter Street, Keene, N. H.

DANIELSON CASINO
STARKWEATHER BLDG.
BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
FOUR ALLEYS THREE TABLES
WEDNESDAYS LADIES' DAY.
Bowling is the sport for all. Prizes given every Saturday.



Prepared together, fish and Mueller's Spaghetti will give you a delightful surprise. You've no idea how wonderfully their flavors blend—how tasty the combination is.
Try It Friday

COAL

Nut Stove
$16.00 Per Ton
Boulets
$15.00 Per Ton
Buckwheat
(Extra Large Size)
$12.00 Per Ton

50c per ton extra if coal is carried in baskets.

The above prices are for immediate delivery.

PLACE YOUR ORDER FOR YOUR NEXT WINTER'S SUPPLY NOW, WITH US, AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO HAVE COAL.

Telephone 2208

SHETUCKET COAL & LUMBER CO.

PUTNAM

Directors and officers of the chamber of commerce were guests of the Rotary club at the club's weekly noon luncheon at the Putnam Inn Wednesday. Particularly interesting addresses featured the meeting. Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the Norwich chamber of commerce gave a talk on the co-operation existing between the chamber of commerce in that city and its Rotary club and cited what splendid results had been obtained through the co-operation of chambers of commerce and Rotary clubs not only in Norwich, but also in New London and Willimantic. He expressed his belief that the same results could be obtained in this city.

Another fine talk was given by R. H. Gray, New London, district commercial superintendent for the Southern New England Telephone company. Co-operation was a theme in Mr. Gray's talk and he specified as to how this had worked out in dealings between the company he represents and chambers of commerce and Rotary clubs.

A Newton Vaughn, as its president, spoke for the Putnam chamber of commerce, and on behalf of that organization welcomed the Rotary club only recently organized to the city. There was ever evidence in Mr. Vaughn's talk of his desire for a spirit of co-operation, and all those who attended the luncheon are convinced that the two organizations, working together, can and will do much for Putnam.

Nearly a score of Putnam men stand to lose a total of several thousand dollars through the action of the house in Hartford in rejecting the bill providing for the reimbursement of those who held liquor licenses when war-time prohibition went into effect, forcing the closing of their places on June 30th, 1918, whereas the licenses they had paid for in November, 1917, were issued for the period up to and including October 31, 1918.

By many who have no financial interest in the liquor business or never did have the action of the legislature is regarded as stubbornly unfair. The argument that the liquor dealers knew what chances they were taking is regarded as mere subterfuge. One does not regard himself as taking chances with his money when doing business with the state. The state collected the license money a year in advance. If the state wished to be as wholly righteous as it is now represented to be and had what was common knowledge as to impending prohibition, the state could have issued licenses for a period of six months. But it did nothing of the kind. It took the full fee for a full year. It did not fulfill its contract. And individuals that do such things win no extra honors by such a course.

The state may keep the money, but in the process it leaves a bad impression with great numbers of citizens who like to see fair play, no matter whose interests are at stake.

French Americans of this city and all the surrounding territory were delighted Wednesday over the fact that the committee on education of the legislature has so re-arranged the bill pertaining to teaching of foreign languages in public and private schools of the state so that it will be favorably reported in a form that will permit of teaching foreign languages in all grades of elementary schools for one period not to exceed one hour each day.

This concession was made by the committee in advance of the hearing, which brought 150 French Americans to Hartford from towns in Windham and New London counties, and with a sprinkling of representation from Waterbury and Torrington.

The bill as originally drawn would have entirely prohibited the teaching of any foreign language in any public or private school in Connecticut in grades below the sixth, and this was what stirred the French-American Union of Connecticut, representing 40,000 people, into action with the satisfactory result obtained.

No representatives of groups speaking other foreign languages than French appeared at the hearing.

Among those who addressed the committee in favor of the bill, as it will be reported out of the committee, were Representative Luther M. Keith and Postmaster Archibald Macdonald of this city, Representative Charles S. Hyde of Brooklyn, Representatives Frank Fenton and Pierre Laramee of Willimantic, Representatives Walker and Bodo of Plainfield, Representative E. L. Darbie of Killingly. These well known figures in various important communities of Windham county have the thanks and appreciation of the many thousand French American residents of the territory for their support of the measure interpreted in reasonable form.

As everything was so harmonious at the meeting, Rev. U. O. Bellerose of Taftville and Alma Forcier of Goodyear, who were to have spoken in favor of the measure as it is in its new form did not say more than was necessary in expressing their thanks to the committee for its very courteous and considerate treatment of the matter under discussion and the delegation in attendance.

The body of Miss Beatrice Forsyth, who died in New York, was brought to Pomfret for burial in the plot where her parents rest. The Forsyth family were summer visitors in Pomfret for a great many years and as long as 30 years ago spent seasons at an inn in that place. Though they were New York people, they expressed a preference to be buried in Pomfret.

Much interest will be going on today and tomorrow back of the drawn shades on many of the show windows of stores of this city, for the window dressers are in competition to win the prizes that are offered for the best window display in connection with the spring-time opening scheduled for Saturday. Some very artistic effects are promised and they will have all the appeal that comes with the vernal season, forecasting the blithesome period of the year.

The wind was almost directly in the south in this city when the sun crossed the tropic of Cancer at 10:29 Wednesday morning, and according to those versed in weather lore, this forecasts the prevailing wind direction for the entire spring period.

It appears that a pretty political battle is developing in the town of Thompson over the proposition that the town appropriate $35,000 to meet the cost of erecting a four-room school in Mechanicsville, one of the textile centers of the neighboring town. The meeting that is to decide the matter, or at least is expected to decide it, is set for March 29.

Those favoring the appropriation assert that the present school at Mechanicsville is inadequate to present needs, is antiquated and poorly located and, furthermore, that Mechanicsville is entitled to much better school accommodations. Those opposed say that $35,000 is altogether too much to spend on a four-room school building for Mechanicsville, and are very positive about it.

The fact is that the coming meeting is stirring up much more interest than usually is attendant upon the coming of a town meeting in Thompson, and some fireworks are promised when the 29th rolls around.

It was announced Wednesday that the republicans of the First ward will propose to the common council the appointment of W. F. Penny as a successor to the late John G. Johnson in the council. Mr. Penny is in charge of the mechanical department of the Manhasset manufacturing company and formerly was a member of the faculty of the state trade school in this city.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Dorcas Meredith Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Bartlett, and Thomas W. Dobson of this city. Both are graduates of Putnam High school. Miss Bartlett in the class of 1919, Mr. Dobson in the class of 1920.

James Mahoney has arrived here from Florida, after motoring the entire distance in Ernest L. Davis' car. Mr. Davis is now en route to Putnam and is expected to arrive here before the end of the week.

Only a little more than a week now intervenes between the time when the post-Lenten series of festivities and amusements will be in full swing. There will be an entire schedule of dane ceevents, the first of these coming on Easter Monday evening.

One hears considerable talk in political circles in this corner of the state relative to appointing Senator Macdonald of New Haven, former highway commissioner of Connecticut, to succeed to the place. Senator Macdonald is well known in this corner of the state.

On the season's record of victories, Putnam High school's basketball team claims the championship of the Quinebaug league, winning out over its nearest rival, Killingly High school, by a narrow margin.

A group of twelve young men returned early Wednesday with new automobiles brought over the roads from Tarrytown, N. Y., where there is an assembling station.

The Adams Manufacturing company is undertaking extensive improvement operations at the mills it acquired in this city a few months ago from the Nightingale-Morse company.

George A. Levinson of Boston was a visitor with friends in Putnam on Wednesday.

It was noted by not a few that though Wednesday was the first day of spring, plenty of snow and ice remains in the section of southern New England, and it is said that there are places in the woods where the snow is a foot deep.

DANIELSON TOWN MEETING LAYS TAX OF 20½ MILLS

(Special to The Bulletin)

Danielson, March 21.—The annual adjourned town meeting held in the town hall Wednesday evening laid a tax of 20½ mills. This is an increase of 2½ mills over the rate for last year and the advance is chiefly due to the fact that Killingly unexpectedly has to pay a county tax of more than $7,000 this year, as it had to meet special road appropriations, replace bridges washed out by floods last summer and a foot bridge over the Five Mile river. The meeting did not take kindly to the increased tax rate but faced the necessity of meeting budget requirements. The budget this year amounts slightly more than $134,000.

At a special town meeting following the first meeting the matter of a soldiers' memorial was discussed and plans of tablets shown at the meeting. Selectman John A. Gilbert, representing a special committee, reported on the memorial. The meeting voted to accept the report of the committee but took no further action following a suggestion of F. B. Cuneen that it would be better to wait a time when the town can erect a more suitable memorial as the form of a community house that might be used as headquarters for the towns World war veterans and for other public purposes. F. B. Cuneen was chairman of the meeting and Frank T. Preston, clerk.

The tax levied will be due on the second Monday in April.

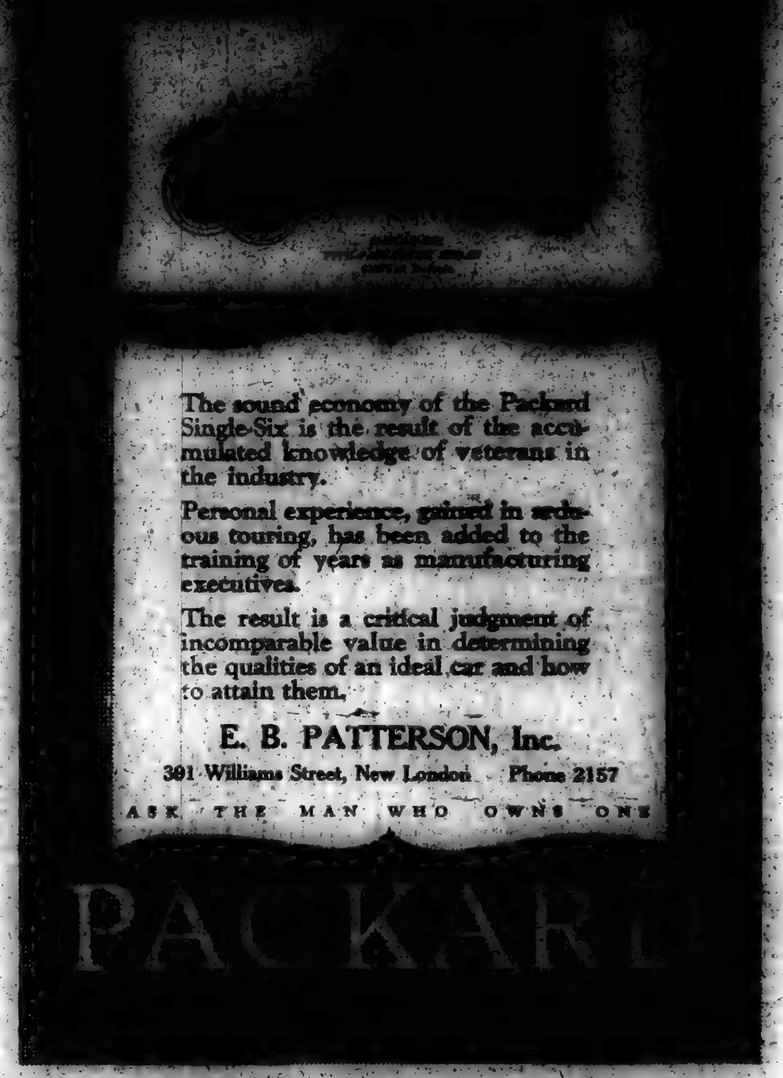
Eczema In Rash For Several Years Cuticura Heals

"I was troubled with eczema for several years. It first started with a slight itching of the lower limbs and arms, and later broke out in a rash. It ached and burned causing a great deal of annoyance and loss of sleep, especially in damp weather.

"I tried several remedies without satisfactory results. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment which gave immediate relief, and after a few months' treatment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. S. E. Noble, 47 Gray St., Boston, Mass.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for every-day toilet purposes. Touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment; bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and dust lightly with Cuticura Talcum.

Sample Each Free by Mail, Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.



The sound economy of the Packard Single-Six is the result of the accumulated knowledge of veterans in the industry.

Personal experience, gained in arduous touring, has been added to the training of years as manufacturing executives.

The result is a critical judgment of incomparable value in determining the qualities of an ideal car and how to attain them.

E. B. PATTERSON, Inc.
391 Williams Street, New London Phone 2157
ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

SOUTH WILLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Wondasek of New York are visiting here.

The three children who have been confined to their homes with scarlet fever are all getting along very nicely at present. No more cases have been reported.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dimock and son Junior returned home on Wednesday of last week after a visit in Bridgeport.

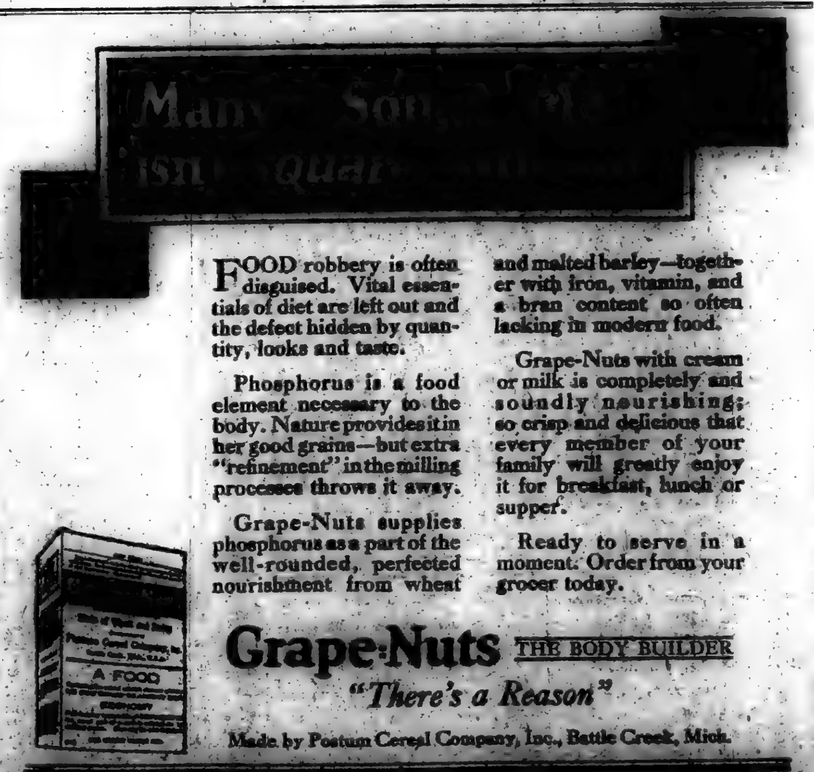
Adler Potter, who is a patient at the Johnson Memorial hospital, is reported to be improving.

UNION

Mrs. H. J. Tyler and son Earl are spending a few days with relatives in Portland.

H. J. Tyler was in Hartford recently.

The female bargain hunter knows all the counterfeits.



FOOD robbery is often disguised. Vital essentials of diet are left out and the defect hidden by quantity, looks and taste.

Phosphorus is a food element necessary to the body. Nature provides it in her good grains—but extra "refinement" in the milling processes throws it away.

Grape-Nuts supplies phosphorus as a part of the well-rounded, perfected nourishment from wheat and malted barley—together with iron, vitamin, and a bran content so often lacking in modern food.

Grape-Nuts with cream or milk is completely and soundly nourishing; so crisp and delicious that every member of your family will greatly enjoy it for breakfast, lunch or supper.

Ready to serve in a moment. Order from your grocer today.

Grape-Nuts THE BODY BUILDER
"There's a Reason"
Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

JURY GIVES WATERFORD WOMAN VERDICT FOR $1,000 DAMAGES

(Special to the Bulletin)

New London, March 23—In the superior court here this morning the action for $5,000 damages brought by Annie Watson of Waterford against the Connecticut Company, for injuries she sustained a year ago by being struck by an automobile that had been in collision with a trolley car, was finished by the jury returning a verdict of $1,000 judgment for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Watson sustained her injury when she was walking along Main street. A trolley car that was passing struck an automobile, the impact of the collision forcing the auto upon the sidewalk and hitting Mrs. Watson. She received among other injuries a fractured leg.

This afternoon the court is engaged with the suit of Krigmon against the Colchester Farm Products Company to recover the principal on a note.

The action of Isaac Merran, a New London butcher, against John Sellers of Deep River, was ended in the superior last night when the jury rendered a verdict of $30 for the plaintiff. The costs of Merran bringing the action exceed the amount of judgment.

Suit was brought for $5,000 and eminated from an alleged attack Sellers made on Merran at the former's home, when Merran went there and remonstrated with Sellers because it was claimed that the Deep River man had sold Merran eggs that were not strictly fresh. A fight is alleged to have occurred in which Merran received a beating.

Funeral services for Cornelius S. Holmes, a former letter carrier, were held last night at his home, No. 22 Garfield avenue and were attended by a large gathering of mourners, among whom were many employes of the federal service. The body was taken to Middletown this morning, where the interment took place this afternoon.

Mrs. Cecelia H. Hammond of Elmmas Hill, wife of Detective Sergeant Charles E. Hammond, has been summoned to Danbury by the death of her brother-in-law, Alexander Cummings which occurred this morning. Detective and Mrs. Hammond will leave here tomorrow morning to attend the funeral services.

Henry C. Holmes, who was until the Volstead act became effective, conducted what was known as "Hyer's" on Bank street, is confined to his home. He was a painter in his early days and then opened a cafe on Bank street, a few doors below the place he operated so many years. He is approaching 80. He had a very large patronage at his place of business and accumulated considerable money.

Nathan Peck of Hunting street and proprietor of a small store at the navy yard, besides being the operator of a bus between the submarine base and Norwich, together with three sailors, was arraigned in the Groton town court this morning, the former charged with promoting gambling and the latter with being players. Judge Cornelius C. Costello imposed a fine of $5 and costs in each case, accepting in the case of one sailor, who submitted proof that he was a spectator and not a participant of the gambling, and then remitted the fines. As the costs amounted to more than the fines Peck and the two sailors had to pay the penalty approximately $15 each. The raid was staged by a force of state policemen headed by M. E. Starling.

A Norwich woman, Annie Levine, has brought a piece of real estate in New London that has been in the market a long time and which was considered many times by fraternal organizations as the site for a home for them. The property is at the northeast corner of Main and Masonic streets and was for many years the home of the late John Dennis and family. It was considered "some" property in those days. Mr. Dennis was the proprietor of a meat market that had the trade of the city and which was located just south of what is now the Hull building, which occupies the corner opposite. Mr. Dennis acquired a considerable fortune in his business as did his associate, the late George Fenner. It is located on one of the principal business streets of the city and on one where business is extending year after year.

John Comstock, an old and respected resident of East Lyme, died at his home this morning, following a lingering illness.

Mrs. Mary Holmes of Winthrop street has concluded a several days visit with Mrs. Emma Coe of Hartford.

Lorne Chesbro of Noank, Mrs. Walter Beebe and daughter of Connecticut avenue, Mrs. Joseph de Braggo of Stonington, Miss Thelma Beebe of Niantic, Raymond Smith of Wall street, Miss Rose Campani of Bank street and Leo Domenedi of Douglass street, were patients discharged at Lawrence Memorial Associated hospital today.

The condition of Mayor John F. Murray, seriously ill of pleurisy at his home on Blackhall street a week, is reported this afternoon as being slightly improved. Mayor Murray suffered a restful day and his pulse was slightly lower.

The operator's license of Charles A. Fyne of the Golden Spur has been suspended by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel.

Lucy A. Maynard has sold a house and lot on Jefferson avenue to Laura A. Wragg.

It is estimated that more than $75,000 worth of automobiles were lined along the curbing of Green and Starr streets last evening while the ceremonies were in progress at the Masonic temple. The machines extended from Pearl street to Washington street on the east side of Green street and on the south side of Starr street.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

Coughs and colds are contagious and require prompt treatment, as they spread or develop into flu and grippe. Take no chances when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar for a few cents and quickly check coughs and colds. The constantly increasing demand for Foley's Honey and Tar for three generations has made it the largest selling cough medicine in the world. Contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon Foley's Honey & Tar. Sold by Lee & Osgood Co.

MR. AND MRS GOOD CITIZEN

Are you interested in the Salvation Army?

Do you want to help in its great task?

READ THE WAR CRY!

Sincerely,

Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

troubles before Judge Prince for additional judgment. The action involved the husband and wife, the former until recently identified in the real estate and insurance business.

Late this afternoon the wife lodged a complaint with the authorities that her husband had kept her and requested his arrest, stating that any money received from when he was arrested should be turned over to her. Some time later the husband appeared at the police station and before officers could locate the warrant the latter appeared at the station and informed the police that his wife had pursued him from the court house to his home and had threatened him with a gun. The husband was cautioned about returning home and indulging in further trouble with his wife, with the latter that he would be locked up on the charge of such an occurrence happening. He declared that he was not going to return home but that he would keep out of sight of both for the night. Later he returned to his home and his wife left the city.

Another disgruntled household results in Groton for the arraignment in court of that place tomorrow of the young couple, declaring that his wife left home last night taking their three children with her. He sought the help of the courts and it was found by an acquaintance where they were living in Montville and the wife was served with papers and ordered to appear in court. She was advised to keep five from his family tonight, but to test the law as regards Officer Richard W. Stanchfield in the morning.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS

EARLY START BY USE OF COLD FRAME

Almost every garden should have a cold frame, because it will enable the gardener to gain three or four weeks and sometimes more of early vegetables such as beans, peas, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, kohlrabi, lettuce, parsley, radishes and spinach.

There is often some confusion caused by people misunderstanding the difference between a hotbed and a cold frame. A cold frame is a box-like frame, covered usually with glass, although sometimes with cloth, that is used for plants in advance of their normal season. There is no heat except from the rays of the sun. The frame resembles very much that of a hot bed, but the sides of a cold frame are placed on the surface of the soil and are not imbedded in it.

Like a hotbed, cold frame is so arranged that the sash slopes towards the south, in order to take advantage of the direct rays of the sun. The board that forms its north side is usually not over twelve inches wide, and that on the south side is usually about eight inches wide. These boards, which may be of any kind of lumber, are usually one inch thick. They are held in place by stakes driven about four feet apart, on alternating sides of the board. The stakes are usually six inches wide, one inch thick and from eighteen to twenty-four inches long.

Cold frames are sometimes made temporary, so that they can be removed as soon as the plants are taken from them. In market gardens such frames are often located in the field where plants are to be grown and are moved as soon as the plants are transplanted.

Some times a hotbed, in which the heat has been exhausted, is used as a cold frame.

Cold frames are usually made of the same dimensions as hotbeds; that is, six feet wide and some multiple of 3 feet long. A cold frame, three by six feet, is usually ample for a small garden.

The soil on which a cold frame is to be put up should be well fertilized before the frame is built. Sash and mats are used on cold frames as on hotbeds. If the weather conditions are likely to be severe, it is usually desirable to bank the lower part of the frame with manure or with soil.—S. W. Shoemaker.

HINTS ON SELECTING CALVES FOR RAISING

"Is my calf worth raising?" is a question continually asked by farmers throughout the county. It's no easy question to answer, for there are so many possibilities in an individual animal that it is difficult to predict just what combinations are going to predominate.

The best way for each breeder to tackle the problem is to consider carefully these points: First, not, whether the calf has promise of constitutional vigor, and capacity to produce; second, see if its sire has any producing daughters that are worth while, or better than their dams; third, find the production of the calf's dam, and of the dam's dam; fourth, look up the production of the sire's dam. In looking up pedigrees, by the way, don't become too enthused over a calf simply because his great-grandsire or his great granddam was a "world beater." The nearest dams and sires are far more important.

WARNS AGAINST SPREAD OF BEE DISEASES

Dr. Burton N. Gates, Massachusetts inspector for apiaries warns not only all bee club members, but adult bee keepers to close absolutely tight all hives in which the bees have died during the winter and then move these hives inside where they will be further protected from bees. This must be done not later than April 1.

Dr. Gates points out that bee diseases spread rapidly and that if old hives in which bees have died are left open, bees from diseased hives will enter in order to get what honey might be left and by these visits carry disease to the hive; then when the beekeeper puts a new swarm in this hive or uses up other hives, the good healthy bees are given disease. On the other hand, some of the empty hives may be diseases and in some way visiting bees carry the disease home with them.

SHOULD PREPARE NOW TO INOCULATE LEGUMES

Now is the time to secure inoculation material for all legumes to be grown this season. The cost is little and results are likely to be great.

Inoculation alone, of course, is not the only prerequisite for a good clover crop. Good seed and proper condition of soil are essentials. But one cannot afford to plant legumes on the average soil without the use of inoculation.

Clover and alfalfa are members of the legume family. This family is able to obtain its nitrogen requirement from the air, through the friendly assistance of bacteria which live in colonies found within small nodules, or enlargement which occur on the roots of these plants.

There are two necessary conditions for the development of thesenodule-forming and nitrogen gathering bacteria. First, bacteria must be present in the soil. Second, soil conditions must be right. These conditions relate to the acidity, drainage, etc., of all the soil. It will pay to use inoculation for legumes in many soils. This inoculation may be accomplished in several ways.

Commercial companies manufacture both the liquid culture and the soil culture.

PRUNING TIME IS NOW ALMOST HERE

The milder days between now and the time growth starts are the orchardists' favorite time for pruning, which, in the case of apples, pears and plums is likely to be in about three weeks from this date, according to one horticulturalist. Sprays should be sprayed at once, trees still entirely dormant, even if there are not pruned.

In order to prune properly, it is always a good plan to consider what we may reasonably expect to accomplish by pruning.

In general, prune to keep the tree within bounds, to improve its form and to remove dead wood; to induce the tree to bear fruit in the form, size and quality desired; to make picking easier; to promote fruitfulness; to improve the size and quality of the fruit; to improve the color of the fruit.

In all cases of pruning, it is well to remove first dead and diseased branches. If such trees be follow this up with removal of those branches and most of the suckers or water-sprouts; lastly to thin out the brush or smaller branches on the ends of the long limbs. Old trees should be cut back hard. It will often pay to take out a portion of the living top, to try to reduce the height for more convenience in picking fruit and spraying.

An important principle in pruning is to make all cuts close, in other words, never leave stubs, which invariably die out and decay. Where fruit trees are sprayed, as they should be, it is not worth while to paint over any but the largest cuts, those over three or four inches across the face.

Care must be taken, however, not to prune too much. This can be done easily. We must always bear in mind that fruit can only grow on branches, and that we may easily, in our enthusiasm for pruning, unnecessarily reduce the crop by cutting off too many branches. Let us have a reason back of every cut and every branch that is removed.

HOW TO DISCOURAGE HENS THAT SHOW DESIRE TO SET

Every trade has its tricks and the poultryman must know a lot if he is to keep up the egg production of his flock up to the standard necessary for this time of year if a profit is to be made. One of the things he has to contend with is the inclination that hens may show during the late winter to set.

There are many effective ways of breaking up the setting hen. Any way is good that insures the continuing of egg production, at the close of the "breaking up" process. This one all-important factor is overlooked by most poultry farmers, but not by real poultry men. To insure egg production after this period she should feed the setting hen liberally or her physical condition will be such that it will be impossible for her to produce eggs.

One of the best ways to "break up" the setting hen is as follows: Make a crate of laths that will hold about four or five birds comfortably, then nail this crate on the side, or from the top, of the house, inside. Have two dishes fixed on the outside of the crate. Fill one with water and the other with the regular mash so that the bird can feed at any time. If kept in this place two or three days she will be ready to lay again.

NUMBER FOUR

(Continued from Page Five)

ters of higher education. For this reason, when the Free Academy is facing the situation, having gone through successive stages of increasing congestion, and apprehending its inadequacy to provide in the future for the constantly augmented number of high school students, the revelation proves to be somewhat disconcerting.

Gratitude to Academy.

Whatever may be the final disposition of the matter in the best interests of the town the present should be taken as an occasion to express to the Norwich Free Academy the most profound gratitude of our townspeople for what this beneficent institution has done for the community in the past. Hardly a family which has lived in Norwich for any length of time but has had or still has either directly or indirectly some connection with the Academy. The sentiment thus developed will make it doubly difficult for our constituency to arrive at an unprejudiced decision, particularly if it involves a plan which is not in some manner cooperative with the Academy.

Principal Tirrell's Statement.

That the exact conditions at the Academy might be concisely known the school board asked Principal Tirrell to furnish the written statement which follows:

March 8, 1922.

Mr. W. F. Lester, Chairman of Town School Board, Norwich, Conn.

Dear Mr. Lester: In response to your request of March fifth I am glad to present a brief outline of the situation as I see it. This outline I shall gladly supplement by further statements, if you so desire, either in writing or in a personal conference. May I assure you that in my own feeling and I believe that of all Academy trustees is simply a desire to serve the town in any way possible?

There can be no disagreement. Whatever may be decided by the town the Academy will continue to do its best in service to the community.

I. The Academy has for many years furnished a high school education to local pupils at far less than cost. All available income (there are of course some funds specially used as designated by donors) has been used for lessening the charges to pupils. For quite a number of years this income has been used entirely for Norwich pupils, out-of-town pupils having been required to pay all the cost. The Academy makes no money, but, as a rule, shows a deficit annually.

II. The income of the Academy is sufficient to furnish free education to about 250 pupils; that is, the cost of education of 500 pupils, one-third the cost of 750 pupils, etc. Therefore as the number increases it becomes necessary for the Academy to add to its tuition charges. For the present year it is expected that we shall show a considerable deficit, and for next year shall have to increase charges, even if the number of pupils remains stationary. That it will so remain is highly unlikely, in view of the fact that in five years the number of pupils from Norwich has increased from 385 to 500 (75 per cent approx.). The fact that the Academy admits the lower half of grammar school graduates (based only on examination the Preparatory limited enough to the number it is) tendance at the Academy.

III. The Academy trustees, realizing the need of more high school accommodations in the near future, offer to meet this need, if the town expresses a desire for them to do so and a cordial willingness to meet the increased cost. A precise statement of this cost to Norwich is impossible to prophesy. The trustees would guarantee to use all funds as heretofore for lessening costs to Norwich pupils.

IV. In order to avoid any legal question of appropriation for a private enterprise it seemed best to ask for the same form of vote as has been passed annually for ten or more years, simply increasing the amount. If this objection be made that this is not really a tuition charge but rather a disguised charge for a new building, the answer is that out of the Academy funds, now used to reduce tuition, enough would be laid aside to finance a new building, and the amount charged to pupils would really be tuition.

V. In view of increased costs to the town the corporators recently passed a vote that in case a comprehensive building plan should be ordered by the town, the first selectman of the town and the mayor of the city should be ex-officio trustees of the Academy. It was the intention of the corporators to appoint these men as representatives of community interest and guarantors that town money was honestly spent, and not in any sense as administrators of the Academy routine management. If the town desires to substitute the chairman of the school board for the mayor of the city, presumably the corporators would consent. A brief comment may be helpful. By its charter the Academy corporation is a self perpetuating board of twenty-five corporators. In accordance with the by-laws of the institution these corporators elect trustees (nine in number although). The trustees elect an executive committee of three, who manage the details of the school. While there would be nothing to prevent any trustee from being elected to the executive committee, it seems very unlikely that the trustees would elect either of the town representatives to do this work, unless they felt that he personally was better fitted than other trustees for such work. If, therefore, the chairman of the school board were appointed a trustee instead of the mayor of the city this would not in any sense mean that the trustees intend to give up their present plan of private management.

VI. Since the first public announcement of the trustees in November it has become evident that no new building can be available by September. It will therefore be necessary to make some temporary arrangements available for one year or more. It strikes me that if the Academy were to allow one of its large assembly rooms, and also to raise the two ends of the present building, extra room could be provided for the public.

five years at least. On an estimated cost of $50,000, with new teachers added, I judge that the Academy would charge for next year $80 to Norwich pupils, and $120 to out of town pupils. The discussion of what sort of education is most needed to supplement the work of the Academy interests me, but is hardly open to discussion in this paper. There have been so many misunderstandings of the situation that I have no hope of clearing them up in this statement. The situation in brief is this: The Academy trustees composed of men interested in the welfare of Norwich, though not elected by the public, have offered to aid the town, if the town desires it. If the town does not desire it, certainly no trustee can be offended. Whatever the Academy can do for Norwich it will continue to do. The institution is not in any difficulty. It has funds enough to manage a high grade school of limited numbers. My own personal opinion is that it is best for the community that children of all creeds and races grow up together through the period of secondary education. I also feel that the Academy possesses certain advantages of position and equipment that would enable it to give a maximum of service for any money expended on Norwich pupils.

Again I assure you of my willingness to cooperate in every way.

Yours truly,

HENRY A. TIRRELL.

This statement on the part of the authorities of the Academy is very concise and of course leaves no doubt whatever as to their position; nor the immediate necessity for construction or reconstruction of some nature. Probably the reference to reconstruction and addition to the present Academy building at a cost of $50,000 (at the expense of the Academy) with an approximate cost of $80 to Norwich pupils for the next four or five years is the most economical proposition yet brought up for consideration.

It is a matter of open conjecture, however, on the part of many whether immediate economy in this important matter should be allowed to intervene to affect our judgment, if it is deemed best to conserve ultimate economy and the educational advantages of the community for the town to construct its own high school plant, very careful attention of course is necessary in the matter of finance.

Cost of High School Plants.

In furtherance of the investigation in this direction the local school board made an exhaustive research in connection with construction costs, etc., relating to high school plants in nearby places. Consideration was given mainly to such towns as were of nearly the same population and other characteristics as Norwich. The information thus procured relates to high schools in Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, and relates to schools having capacity for 1,000 pupils and over. The cost per pupil capacity ranges from $587 to $1,185. The average number of teachers per school is 41 and the average number of pupils per teacher is 24 and average teachers' salary including principals $2013.33.

A school of 1000 capacity would call for 45 teachers, making an annual payroll of $90,600. To this should be added for maintenance 25 per cent, which seems to be an average of the figures shown, which is $22,650, or a total maintenance of $113,250. This produces an average per capita cost of $113.25.

Nine schools of recent erection with total capacity of 9,185 cost $5,354,657, which makes a cost per each student capacity of $556.81. This would of course make the total cost of a building with capacity of 1,000, $556,810.

Per Pupil Cost of $587 in Building.

Not being positive that these figures would represent with sufficient certainty actual per capacity costs the board employed William Thomas Towner of the School Plan Service Bureau, Incorporated, of New York, one of the best known and proficient school architects' offices to make a more fundamental investigation and report. Mr. Towner's report shows a cost per pupil capacity of $587, as will be noted in connection with deductions made from cost of 14 buildings erected in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York, all in the year of 1919, but one, which was in 1920. Mr. Towner's report is very complete and is as follows:

March 17th, 1922.

Mr. W. F. Lester, Chairman, Town School Committee, Norwich, Conn.

Proposed High School Building.

Dear Mr. Lester: I am pleased to report to you the result of my investigations in the above matter and wish to say that I have assumed that the project involves at the present time the three following questions and answers thereto:

First: What comprises a high type of a modern high school building?

Second: What will be the cost of such a building to accommodate 1,000 pupils?

Third: What has been the experience of other communities of like size and accommodations as to the cost?

Highest Type of Building.

To the first question I will answer as the highest type of a high school building requires not only the necessary class room or recitation room unit, but also study halls, laboratories, lecture rooms in connection with the same, which laboratories should be of the limited physical and chemical but must also take in physiography, biology, floral work, aquarium work.

It should include a complete commercial department with typewriting and stenography, bookkeeping, banking and allied courses. It should also include facilities for teaching practical mechanics with opportunity for instruction in drafting, manual teachers, making an average number of students per teacher 22 and average teachers' salary including principals $2013.33.

A school of 1000 capacity would call for 45 teachers, making an annual payroll of $90,600. To this should be added for maintenance 25 per cent, which seems to be an average of the figures shown, which is $22,650, or a total maintenance of $113,250. This produces an average per capita cost of $113.25.

Nine schools of recent erection with total capacity of 9,185 cost $5,354,657, which makes a cost per each student capacity of $556.81. This would of course make the total cost of a building with capacity of 1,000, $556,810.

Per Pupil Cost of $587 in Building.

Not being positive that these figures would represent with sufficient certainty actual per capacity costs the board employed William Thomas Towner of the School Plan Service Bureau, Incorporated, of New York, one of the best known and proficient school architects' offices to make a more fundamental investigation and report. Mr. Towner's report shows a cost per pupil capacity of $587, as will be noted in connection with deductions made from cost of 14 buildings erected in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York, all in the year of 1919, but one, which was in 1920. Mr. Towner's report is very complete and is as follows:

March 17th, 1922.

Mr. W. F. Lester, Chairman, Town School Committee, Norwich, Conn.

Proposed High School Building.

Dear Mr. Lester: I am pleased to report to you the result of my investigations in the above matter and wish to say that I have assumed that the project involves at the present time the three following questions and answers thereto:

First: What comprises a high type of a modern high school building?

Second: What will be the cost of such a building to accommodate 1,000 pupils?

Third: What has been the experience of other communities of like size and accommodations as to the cost?

Highest Type of Building.

To the first question I will answer as the highest type of a high school building requires not only the necessary class room or recitation room unit, but also study halls, laboratories, lecture rooms in connection with the same, which laboratories should be of the limited physical and chemical but must also take in physiography, biology, floral work, aquarium work.

It should include a complete commercial department with typewriting and stenography, bookkeeping, banking and allied courses. It should also include facilities for teaching practical mechanics with opportunity for instruction in drafting, manual dity for the instruction of all branches of household arts, including cooking, sewing, millinery, dressmaking, household accounts and laundry work. There should be a demonstrating apartment of four rooms: living room, dining room, kitchen, bedroom and bathroom; and a room should also be provided where costume designing can be taught.

It should include perfect arrangement for free hand drawing, art work, clay modeling, pottery, interior decorating and contemporary subjects.

Large library space should be afforded, not only for the uses to which it can be put in the administration of the school but also for the instruction of library administration.

Ample rooms for men and women teachers, medical, dental and optical clinic; rest and nurses' rooms, and in connection with the latter it is well to include fresh air class rooms for use in connection with any proposed system of district nursing.

The "shop work" of a high school building, will, of course, vary in different communities in its scope, as for instance, in the case of a junior high school department, this work should be more extensive than in the case of a purely academic school, but even in the latter case such work as ordinary manual training, mechanical drawing, woodworking, motor activities should be incorporated.

A cafeteria to accommodate several hundred pupils should be located in a pleasant part of the building with separate kitchen well equipped and run independently of the household department but under its executive function.

Auditorium For 1,250.

An auditorium of a size sufficient to seat comfortably at least 1,250 people with a stage of ample capacity to take care of several classes of pupils demonstrating any physical exercises as well as for the production of any theatrical project. In connection with this auditorium there should be retiring rooms, for men and women, a large music room for instruction as well as for small recitals, a room so located that it will not disturb the pupils at recitation or study and one that can be reached outside of school hours. This auditorium should be so placed that it can also be reached by the public without passing through the school building proper and it should be heated separately and independently of the school building. Perfect [illegible] should be ensured.

Too much attention cannot be given to this feature of every high school proposition as, this is properly as much of a community asset as it is of the strictly school part of it.

The socializing and [illegible] possibilities of the

To Wear Thin Waists or Sleeveless Dresses

(Beauty Topics)

With the aid of a delatone paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.

Enjoy This Now

Combat that film on teeth

Watch the new beauty come

Go ask for this free test.

The results will delight you. They will show you a way which millions have found to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth.

All in your home should know it. Show them at once what it does.

Why teeth grow dingy

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it.

That film is the teeth's great enemy. It absorbs stains, then forms a dingy coat. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why 49 in 50 suffer from tooth troubles. Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Now you can combat it

Dental science has in late years found two film combatants. One gets to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Prettier teeth seen everywhere

You see prettier teeth now wherever you look, for millions are fighting film. So it is the world over. Careful people of some 50 nations now use Pepsodent every day. This test will show you why. No one can see the Pepsodent results without wanting them continued.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

PAT. OFF.

Pepsodent

REG. U.S.

The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific tooth paste based on modern research, free from harmful grit. Now advised by leading dentists the world over.

FREE

At Local Stores This Week

A 10-Day Tube. See Coupon

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. These two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Careful people the world over now use it, largely by dental advice.

A new dental era

Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus it gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents. These combined results mean a new dental era.

You will be amazed

This test of Pepsodent brings a new conception of what clean teeth mean. Present the coupon for it. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

In a week you will know what is best for you and yours—the old ways or the new. That decision is important. Cut out the coupon now.

10-Day Tube Free

This week only at your store

Insert your name and address, then present this coupon this week to any store named below. You will be presented with a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

If you live out of town, mail coupon to The Pepsodent Company, 1104 So. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and tube will be sent by mail.

Your Name

Address

Present coupon to

THE LEE & OSGOOD CO.,

133 MAIN ST., NORWICH

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET FLUCTUATED

New York, March 21.—Speculators for the advance assumed control of today's stock market from the start, bidding up prices in all sections of the list and carrying more than a score of shares to new high levels for the year. Profit taking sales brought about a partial reaction in the late dealings.

Operators on the long side of the market were encouraged by the splendid resistance shown by yesterday's market to the selling pressure occasioned by the violent fluctuations in Piggly Wiggly, by the strength of French francs, by the sales of copper at 17 1-2 cents a pound, a new high price; and by the optimistic nature of the weekly steel and iron trade reviews.

Some uneasiness was caused by the announcement of a 12 1-2 per cent. wage increase to the 40,000 employes of the American Woolen company because of speculative fears that other wage advances with a possible reduction of earnings were impending in other industries. American Woolen stock, which established a new high record at 109 5-8, slumped 2 points on the announcement, closing at a fractional loss on the day.

While the annual report of the United States Steel corporation showed that the corporation had failed to earn all its dividends last year, it disclosed an excellent cash position as of December 31 and revived interest in the steel group. United States Steel common touched 109 5-8, a new top, but closed more than a point below that figure or a net gain of only 1-4. Gains in Bethlehem B, Crucible, Republic and Gulf States, which had been as high as 5 points, also were reduced to fractions. Otis Steel preferred closed 2 points higher.

Equipments were in supply at the higher levels, American Locomotive dropping more than a point to 136 3-8 and Baldwin slipping back to 141 3-4 after having sold as high as 143 5-8. Rubbers showed consistent strength, Kelly Springfield creating a new top at 61, up 2 7-8 points, and United States Rubber closing 5-8 higher at 63 1-8. Some of the other industrial strong spots were American Brake Shoe, California Petroleum, Case Threshing Machine, Pacific Telephone and Fisher Body, up 2 to 5 points.

New Orleans, Texas & Mexico, up 5 1-2 at 100 3-4, was the individual feature of the railroad list. Other strong spots in which were Baltimore & Ohio, Peoria & Eastern preferred, Chicago & Eastern Illinois preferred and "Soo" preferred, up 1 to 2 points.

Call money opened at 5 per cent, advanced to 5 1-2 and then dropped back to 5. The time money market continued in a virtual deadlock with brokers bidding 5 1-4 and bankers asking 5 1-2 for all maturities. The commercial paper rate was unchanged, prime names commanding 5 per cent.

Another 30 point rise in French francs, which carried them above 6.30 cents, features the foreign exchange market. Belgian francs jumped 40 points to 6.00 cents, other gains being of a nominal character. Hungarian exchange dropped to 02 1-2 cents, a new low record.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	Sales	High	Low	Close
Al Chem & D	77⅝	75⅝	76⅝
Allis Chalmers	50¼	50	50
Am Ag Chem	33½	33½	33½
Am Beet Sugar	46¼	45⅝	45⅝
Am Beech Mag	56⅛	54½	54½
Am Can	103	102⅛	102⅛
Am Car & F	183¼	183	183½
Am Cot Oil	16⅞	16½	16⅝
Am Cot Oil pr	30½	30	30
Am Hide & L	12⅝	12⅜	12⅝
Am Hide & L pr	71⅝	71⅜	71⅜
Am Tel & Tel	123	122⅝	122⅝
Am Tobacco	156¼	155¼	155½
Am Wool	109⅜	107½	107⅜
Am Wool pr	111½	111½	111½
Anaconda	52¼	51¼	52
Associated Oil	125	123½	123½
Atchison	105	104	104¼
Atchison pr	90	89¾	89¾
Balt & Ohio	56¼	54½	55⅜
Balt & Ohio pr	60⅞	60⅞	60⅞
Beth Steel	67½	67½	67⅞
Beth Steel B	70	68⅝	69
Beth Steel 8 pr	109¾	109¾	109⅝
Beth Steel new pr	95	95	95
Brook Rap Tr	7¼	7	7
Brook Rap Tr ctf	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜
Butte Cop & Z	10½	10⅜	10⅜
But & Sup Cop	35¼	35	35
Canadian Pacific	150	149	149½
Cent Leather	29¼	28½	28⅝
Cent Leath pr	78⅞	78¼	78⅜
Chand Motor	73⅞	73¼	73⅞
Ches & Ohio	74¼	73½	73⅞
Ches & Ohio pr	103⅝	103¾	103⅞
Ch & Gt West	6	6	6
Ch & Gt West pr	15	15	15
C M & St P	26¼	25½	25⅝
C M & St P pr	45¼	44⅛	44⅛
Ch & N W	87¾	86½	87
C R & P	37⅞	37½	37⅞
Chile Cop	29¼	28⅞	29
Chino Cop	31⅛	31	31⅛
Cosden	61	60⅛	60½
Crucible St	84½	83	83
Del & Hud	119⅝	119½	119½
Dome Mines	42¼	42	42¼
Erie	13	12⅞	13
Erie 1 pr	20⅝	20¼	20¼
Erie 2 pr	14½	14¼	14¼
Fisher Body	183½	183¼	183¼
Fish B p r	20	18⅝	19
Fish B Oh pr	98⅞	98⅞	98⅞
Gen Elec w i	11⅝	11¼	11⅜
Gen Motors	15¼	14⅞	14⅞
Great North pr	78⅞	78	78
Great North Or	36	35⅝	35½
Hudson Motor	32	31½	31½
Hupp Motor	29¼	28¼	28⅛
Illinois Cent	116⅜	115⅞	116
Inspir Cop	40⅝	40⅜	41¼
Int Harvester	92½	92⅛	92⅛
Int Mer Mar	10⅝	10⅜	10⅝
Int Paper	56⅝	55	55⅝
Int Paper stpd	72	72	72
Kennecott	43⅞	43½	43¾
Keystone Tire	9⅝	9⅛	9⅛
Lehigh Valley	68	67⅜	68
Maxwell Motor A	60¼	59½	59⅝
Miami C Cop	29¼	28⅞	28⅛
M S P & SS M	73¾	72½	73¼
M S & PSSM pr	100	99	100
M K & T new	16	15¾	15⅞
M K & T S pr ne	43	42⅞	42⅞
Mo Pacific	18⅝	18	18
Mo Pacific pr	48¼	47⅜	47⅞
Nat End & St	72⅝	71⅜	72
N Y Air Brake	38	37⅜	37⅝
N Y Air Brake A	49	48⅜	49
N Y Central	99⅜	98⅜	98⅝
N Y N H & H	20½	20¼	20¼
Nor & West	113⅜	113¼	113¼
North Pacific	79¾	78¾	79
Pacific Oil	45¼	44⅜	44⅜
Penn R R	46⅝	46¼	46½
Pierce Oil	5⅛	4⅞	4⅞
Pierce Oil pr	42½	42½	42½
Ray Con C	16⅛	16	16
Reading	79½	78⅝	78⅝
Reading 1 pr	51⅝	51½	51⅝
Reading 2 pr	52	51	51
Rep I & St	66⅜	64¼	65¼
Rep I & St pr	92⅞	92½	92⅞
South Pacific	94⅜	93⅜	93⅝
South Ry	35⅜	34⅝	34⅞
South Ry pr	70⅜	70⅜	70⅜
Tenn C & C	12⅝	12¼	12¼
Tobacco Prod	56⅜	56	56⅛
Tob Prod pr	110	110	110
Tobacco Prod A	83¼	83	83
Union Pacific	143⅝	141¾	142¼
Un Pacific pr	74⅛	74	74
U S Rubber	62½	62⅝	63¼
U S Steel	109Z	108¼	108⅝
U S Steel pr	119⅝	118¾	119⅜
West El pr	112½	112½	112½
West Pacific	19¼	18⅞	19
West Un Tel N	115½	115	115
West Mfg	67⅛	65	65⅞
Willys O'land	7⅝	7¼	7⅜
Willys O'land pr	52½	52⅜	52⅝
Worth P & M	39	39	39
W P & M pr A	93	93	93

BOND MARKET

New York, March 21.—While foreign government obligations and some of the speculative domestic issues showed improvement, bond prices generally were reactionary in today's dealings on the New York stock exchange. Most of the European government bonds were up fractionally, and Mexican 5's advanced 1 3-4 points. United States government bonds continued to sag, all of the active issues being down except the Liberty 3 1-2's, and the Victory 4 3-4's, each advancing two cents on $100.

Industrial bonds were active but mixed, Bethlehem Steel refunding 5's, up 2 points, and American Waterworks 5's up 1 1-4, being the outstanding bright spots. Punta Alegre Sugar 7's registered a two point loss, and Chile Copper 7's and Union Tank Car 7's, each were off 1 1-4 points. Railroad mortgages were in fair demand, advances of from 1 to 1 1-4 points being registered by Central Pacific first 4's, New Orleans, Texas & Mexico income 5's, and "Katy" prior lien 6's.

Total sales (par value) were $11,423,000.

Public offering was made today of $6,600,000 Seaboard Air Line 6 per cent series "V" equipment trust gold certificates, maturing serially 1923 to 1935, at par.

Liberty Bonds.

	Range	Low.	Close
U S Lib 3½s	101.00	100.94	100.96
U S Lib 1st 4¼s	97.74	97.64	97.64
U S Lib 2d 4¼s	97.76	97.52	97.52
U S Lib 3d 4¼s	98.34	98.22	98.22
U S Lib 3d 4¼s	98.34	98.22	98.22
U S Lib 4th 4¼s	97.80	97.66	97.70
Victory 4¾s	100.08	100.04	100.06
Treas. 4¼s	99.14	98.84	98.96

Quoted in dollars and cents per $100 bond.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

	Yesterday.	Year Ago
Sterling—
Demand	$4.69¾	$4.39¾
Cables	4.69½	4.39¾
Francs	6.38	9.07½
Guilders	39.40	37.80
Marks	.0043¼	.32⅝
Lire	5.04	5.12
Swis francs	18.41	19.46
Pesetas	15.42	15.61
Belgian francs	6.10	8.53
Kronen	.0014	.014
Sweden	26.56	26.18
Denmark	19.09	21.30
Norway	18.05	17.45
Greece	1.10	4.28

Metal Market

New York, March 21.—Copper strong, electrolytic spot and futures 17 3-8 @ 17 1-2. Tin easier, spot and nearby 48.87; futures 48.62. Iron steady; prices unchanged; lead, steady; spot 8.25 @ 8.50. Zinc steady, East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 8.00. Antimony, spot 8.75 @ 8.87.

MONEY

New York, March 21.—Call money firm; high 5 1-2; low 5; ruling rate 5; closing bid 5 1-2; offered at 5 3-4; last loan 5 1-2, call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

COTTON

New York, March 21.—Cotton spot quiet; middling 30.55.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 21.—Estimates that 800,000 bushels of wheat, including 200,000 bushels of durum had been bought for shipment to Europe exercised a bullish influence today in wheat market here. Prices closed steady at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2 high with May $1.21 7-8 to $1.22 and July $1.16 3-4 to $1.18 7-8. Corn finished at 1-4 @ 3-8 to 1-2 decline; oats unchanged to a shade lower, and provisions at setbacks ranging from 12 @ 15 to 27.

Buying on the part of houses with eastern connections gave an early index that export business was in progress, an d helped to lift wheat values to within a fraction of the highest point reached so far this season. Higher quotations at Liverpool counted also as a bullish factor, and so too did an advance in French exchange rates, a popular opinion being that more stable economic conditions in central Europe were perhaps at hand.

In the last half of the day, active profit taking on the part of holders of wheat led to downturns in prices, but on the declines renewed buying support developed and rallies ensued. The selling was due more or less to gossip that 250,000 bushels of wheat afloat here had been ordered to be unloaded, and that more wheat was being bought in Omaha for shipment to Chicago. Besides, heavy snow in western Nebraska was reported and there were predictions of rain or snow for the dry section of Kansas.

Slowness of shipping demand here weakened corn and oats after an early advance. The initial strength was ascribed to smallness of receipts and of rural offerings.

Provisions were depressed by the action of the hog market, in addition packers and eastern interests were sellers of lard.

Day's total sales 1,343,000 shares.

20 industrials averaged 105.23, net loss .15. High 1923 105.38; low 96.96.

20 railroads averaged 89.67, net gain .07. High 1923, 90.63; low 84.53.

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
May	122⅛	121⅝	122
July	117⅝	116⅜	116⅞
Sept.	115⅝	115	115
Corn—
May	75⅛	74⅛	74⅝
July	77¼	76⅛	76⅝
Sept.	78⅝	77⅛	77⅜
Oats—
May	45⅛	45¼	45⅛
July	45¼	44⅜	44⅞
Sept.	43⅝	43¼	43¼

For Colds, Influenza and as a Preventive

Take

The First and Original Cold and Grip Tablet

The box bears this signature

E. W. Grove

30c.

PUTNAM & CO.

MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

SUCCESSORS TO RICHTER & CO.

6 CENTRAL ROW

HARTFORD, CONN.

We Offer Subject to Sale

Connecticut Light and Power Company

7% Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds

Due May 1st, 1951

Price to yield 6.05%

NEW TRUSTEES OF STATE SCHOOL AT MANSFIELD

Hartford, March 20—Governor Templeton this afternoon announced the appointment of former Governor Everett J. Lake, of Hartford, and Mrs. Louise Merritt, of Stamford to be the trustees of the Mansfield state training school for terms of four years. The governor notified Mr. Lake of his appointment when the latter called at the capitol today.

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

COMING! "THE BEAUTIFUL AND DAMNED"

TODAY—FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

THE PEAK OF ENTERTAINMENT!

HERE HE IS! — HERE HE IS!

SEE HIM AT THE STRAND TODAY

CHARLES CHAPLIN in The Pilgrim

CHILDREN MATINEE 10c

ADDED ATTRACTION DE LUXE

·WARNER · BROS·

present

WESLEY BARRY

in

"RAGS TO RICHES"

Packed With Action, Thrilling Scenes and Stirring Adventure—Interwoven in a Beautiful Story of Romance, Pathos, and Laughter.

A MARVELOUS PRODUCTION IN EVERY WAY

ALSO UP-TO-DATE NEWS

WESTERLY

Incorporation of the Westerly and Atlantic Traction company to take over any and all of the present lines in Washington county of the insolvent Shore Line Electric railway, now operated under receivership, is given as a means of saving trolley facilities for Westerly and vicinity. This statement was made Tuesday before the senate corporation, at a hearing to incorporate the new company.

The bill as originally drawn provided that "all" of the lines be taken over, and Attorney John J. Dunn who appeared for the petitioners, asked that the bill be amended to provide for the taking over of "any or all" lines, declaring that it might become necessary to discontinue some portions of the lines in order to provide year-round service for some of the other lines. In answer to a question by Senator Riezel, as to whether there would be all round service to Pleasant View and Watch Hill, Mr. Dunn said he was of the opinion that all year service would be permitted between Westerly and Watch Hill.

The act authorizes the company to purchase or otherwise acquire all of the present line of railway in Washington county owned by the Shore Line Electric Railway company, including lines from Westerly to Watch Hill, to Ashaway and to Pleasant View.

The capital stock is fixed at $100,000 with the right to increase to not exceeding $500,000. The company would be managed by not less than three nor more than nine directors, who must be stockholders.

Under the terms of the act, all franchises, powers and privileges extended or granted to the Norwich and Westerly Traction company, the Ashaway and Westerly Railway company, would be extended and granted to the Westerly and Traction company wherever such franchises, powers and privileges may remain in force. The incorporators named in the bill are Robert W. Perkins, of Norwich, Edward M. Day of Hartford, Charles B. Whittlesey of New London and Herbert W. Rathbun of Westerly.

The Cittandi Calabro Americani of Westerly are to tender a dinner and reception to their fellow member, Judge Michael Turano of Westerly, April 15th at Pleasant View. Several attorneys from Providence and one or two local attorneys have been invited to be the guests of the society on this occasion.

A special session of the probate court was held Wednesday morning with Judge Edward M. Burke presiding. The following estate were acted upon:

Estate of Foster Jagger. Petition of Mary E. Jagger and the Washington Trust Co. for the admission of the will to probate, granted. Will admitted and Eugene B. Pendleton appointed appraiser.

Estate of Mary M. Crandall, petition for the probate of the will, continued to March 21.

Estate of Susan G. Williams. Petition for the probate of will. Continued to March 21.

Estate of Susan H. Champlin. Petition for the probate of will, granted. Edna C. Steadman appointed executrix with Eugene B. Pendleton appraiser.

Estate of John Benson. John L. Breen appointed administrator and Harry J. Nichols appraiser.

Estate of Alfred G. Vars. First and final account allowed and ordered recorded. Petition for order of distribution allowed.

Estate of Charles H. Webster. Amount of $6580 received and placed in register of court in name of Harold M. Smith.

Estate of Antonia Gentrile, alias. Inventory received and ordered recorded.

Estate Nancy E. Farrell. Inventory received and ordered recorded.

Estate of Leon W. Saunders. Final account of Wayland A. Saunders, Guardian continued to April 3.

Estate of Mary M. Crandall. Petition fo rthe probate of the will. Continued to May 1.

Estate of Susan G. Williams. Petition for the probate of the will granted. Mabel L. Browning appointed executrix. H. Browning appraiser.

Sheriff John R. Wilcox was a caller in town Wednesday afternoon.

Ellery Barber, former overseer of poor of Westerly, died at his home on Main street Wednesday morning after a long illness. Mr. Barber was 80 years of age being born in Westerly Sept. 9, 1842. He was the son of Matthew S. and Rhode B. Barber. Mr. Barber is a veteran of the Civil war. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. John Ingram and Mrs. Donald Ferguson, both of Westerly and four brothers, James A., Isaac and Edwin of Westerly and Charles Barber of Noank; and three sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Beebe, Mrs. Benjamin Merritt and Mrs. Otis Champlin, all Westerly.

BROADWAY

KEITH VAUDEVILLE AND EXCLUSIVE PHOTOPLAYS

TODAY — FRI. AND SAT.

THREE BANGARDS

BLUE DEVILS OF MUSIC

WILL MORRIS

CYCLING COMEDIAN

LANDARD and HANY

COMEDIANS

TABOR and GREEN

A LESSON IN GRAMMAR

TAYLOR, HOWARD AND THEM

In 'MALES and FEMALES'

A DIFFERENT COMEDY ACT

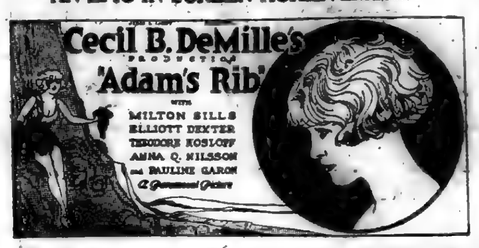
PHOTOPLAY FEATURE

MARY MILES MINTER

In "DRUMS OF FATE"

SUNDAY—MONDAY—TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

AN EPIC IN SCREEN ACHIEVEMENT!



DE MILLE SHOWED YOU ONE SIDE OF THE MODERN GIRL IN "MANSLAUGHTER." HERE'S THE OTHER, THE BETTER SIDE. The Story of a Millionaire Family-Romance Seeking Young Wife, Money Seeking Husband, Thrill Seeking Daughter—and the Fascinating "Other Man" Who Forced Their Restless Lives to a Dramatic Crisis. Told In De Mille's Most Sumptuous Style, With the Most Amazing Settings Ever Assembled—10 ACTS.

Direct From a Successful New York Run

MONSTER DOUBLE BILL

BREED THEATRE

THREE DAYS ONLY

TODAY—FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

THE LARGEST LAUGH THAT'S STRUCK THE BREED STARTS TODAY

CHARLES CHAPLIN

IN HIS GREATEST SCREEN CLASSIC

"THE PILGRIM"

The Laugh of a Lifetime—For Everybody—Not Just a Comedy, But a Classic. A full Four Reels — Four Reels You'll Revel In. Enacted and Written by Chas. Chaplin—That's Why!

—ALSO—

THE FORGOTTEN LAW

A Drama of the Conflict of Love and Distrust, With

Milton Sills — Cleo Ridgely — and Jack Mulhall

SOME SHOW! — SEE IT IN COMFORT AT THE BREED

CHILDREN AT MATINEE 10c

NOANK

The second game of pool between the Mystery Five and Diamond Five was played in the fire companys room and the lineup was as follows: Mystery Five—Bocchicio 34, Rollins 27, Smith 29, McDonald 32, N. Morrison 30; total 152. Diamond Five—Oles 26, Wolverton 33, Ward 31, Rathbun 28, Ebbetts 30; total 148. The score for both games was a tie, 300. The next game will be played in Mechanics hall. A large crowd attended the game and sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by O. W. Beebe.

Judge A. P. Anderson has returned from a business trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Cecelia Salois was given a surprise party at the home of her parents and a most enjoyable time is reported. Music, games and dancing were features of entertainment and a buffet luncheon was served. Those present were Misses Marian McDonald, Beatrice Tourjee, Sarah Ellis, Jennie Robertson, Thelma Meister, Louise Salois, Helen Salios, Josephine Arnold, Alice Iante of Arctic, R. I., Arthur Di Biasi, Bruno Bracchi, H. Bracchi, Hubert Ellis, Keith Ebbetts, Curtis Brown, Jasper Murphy, Harold Robertson, Louis Barre of Montville, Arthur Guarino, Michael Vacca, Louis Maggo of Westerly, R. I., Kenneth Steele and members of the seventh grade in the grammar school.

Mrs. Frank Carpenter has entered the employ of the local plant of the Rossi Velvet company.

The Silver Link society of the Methodist church are to hold their birthday social this week.

Mrs. Fred Brannigan of Mystic is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLeod, of Prospect Hill.

Ansonia.—Former City Sheriff Henry Liftig was arraigned in the city court, charged with abandonment and check raising, and was fined $150 and costs by Judge Robert L. Munger. The judgment was conditioned on Liftig's paying $1,071.55 to the city for the support of his wife and children.

MYSTIC

The emergency bridge north of the new bridge over the Mystic river, which was placed there about six months before the draw bridge was removed, has been torn down. A sign is still left up at the upper end of Pearl street.

The Park homestead on High street has been sold to a Mr. Fuller of Willimantic. As soon as the necessary changes and repairs are completed Mr. Fuller and his family will come here to reside.

The Mistuxet club of Stonnington, captured from the Mystic Hook & Ladder Co. the bridge game last week, winning by 814 points. They have also won three out of four games with the Mystic opponents and the series by a total of 2,003 points.

Petitions calling for another town meeting for the purpose of reconsidering the action of the former meeting of March 5, at which the town turned down the proposition to construct a connecting link in the trunk line highway through Mystic, are being circulated.

Contrary to report the opinion of Mystic residents has not changed about spoiling the best residential section of the village for this purpose and why, with two other streets within 400 feet of each other, it is necessary to build another road between, cannot be understood here.

STONINGTON

The old town is having a series of changes this year. Elm street, which has long been slow in building up, has now several new houses completed and some are under construction. The med Dutch colonial house which has been built north of the residence of William W. Ledward is having its finishing touches put on and will no doubt be occupied next month. Work is progressing rapidly on the large house and garage for Edmund P. Hyde. Henry M. Friedman will build a Colonial house just beyond the home of J. Benjamin Brown, this spring.

Elm street is becoming the residential part of the town. It is on the state highway and before the next ten years have elapsed the whole length of Elm street to Wequetequock will be built up. When there has been plenty of land available there are but few lots left.

Rev. R. R. Graham, rector of Christ Episcopal church, Norwich, preached the Lenten sermon at Calvary Episcopal church here Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Hammond of Pawcatuck spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hammond.

Miss Bessie Duntor of Philadelphia, who has been a guest of Rev. and Mrs. William W. Williams at the Calvary church rectory, has gone to Narragansett Pier to visit friends and relatives and will return to spend Easter here.

The borough and town officials are considering another location for the borough lockup and the new location will be on the ground floor of the Steamboat hotel building.

Saturday night about midnight Patrolman Walsh was notified to stop a Ford machine containing four men, that was headed toward Stonington from Pawcatuck. The patrolman went to the corner of Main and Williams streets and stopped a Ford car. The driver stopped but as soon as the patrolman stepped toward the car the driver backed the machine and then put on all power, turned the corner and went up Main street. The patrolman got into another Ford that came along and started up Main street nearly to Eugene Edwards' place, but was unable to catch the machine.

Richard Richmond will address the Stonington High School students this (Thursday) morning at Assembly hall.

Charles Waite and George Curtiss of Boston who spent the week end with relatives here, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. Merton P. Clark returned to Spencer Mass., Monday after a visit with relatives here.

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and diseases symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

NUXATED IRON

is an eminent physician's best blood prescription, standardized. It is recommended for all anaemic and run-down conditions. It has helped thousands of others. It should help you. Ask for it at any drug store.

Lee & Osgood Co., Geo. G. Eagles, H. M. Laroe and A. McLaughlin

ATTENTION!

PALMYRA ENCAMPMENT, No. 3, I. O. O. F.

Every member is requested to be present on THURSDAY EVENING, March 22, 1923. An official visit by the Grand High Priest and work in the Golden Rule Degree.

By order of the C. P.

JOHN F. AMBURN, Scribe.

Will Be Completed In Two Weeks

VENICE

Formerly known as the Chelsea Boat Club has been remodeled and turned into a beautiful Open-Air Dancing Pavillion for Summer — Gas, steam heated for Winter—Also a beautiful Lodge Meeting Room. We are ready to rent the entire premises to a responsible party. See A. M. Pasnik of The Pasnik Co., Norwich.

Ansonia.—Former City Sheriff Henry Liftig was arraigned in the city court, charged with abandonment and check raising, and was fined $150 and costs by Judge Robert L. Munger. The judgment was conditioned on Liftig's paying $1,071.55 to the city for the support of his wife and children.

AUCTION!

A. B. PERKINS, Auctioneer

I WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION ON

Tuesday, March 27, 1923

AT 10 A. M. SHARP

The Entire Stock of

THE ELECTRIC CONTRACTING AND SUPPLY COMPANY

247 STATE STREET, NEW LONDON, CONN.

About $10,000 Worth of Electrical Merchandise to Be Sold Without Reserve or Limit

Store Fixtures	Gas Ranges	Office Furniture
Wall Cases	Table Lamps	Electric Ranges
Safe	Show Cases	Ironer
Electric Fixtures	Counters	Glassware
Electric Fireless Cookers		Wireless Materials
Appliances		Wire Measuring Machine

Many Other Articles Not Mentioned Here.

This auction will be of especial interest to all electrical contractors and dealers.

SALE RAIN OR SHINE, TUESDAY, MARCH 27th

POETRY

THE MEETING OF THE WATERS.

There is not in the wide world a valley so sweet
As that vale in whose bosom the bright waters meet,
Oh! the last rays of feeling and life must depart,
Ere the bloom of that valley shall fade from my heart.

Yet it was not that Nature had shed o'er the scene
Her purest of crystal and brightest of green;
'Twas not her soft magic of streamlet or hill,
Oh! no—it was something more exquisite still.

'Twas that friends, the beloved of my bosom, were near,
Who made every dear scene of enchantment more dear,
And who felt how the best charms of Nature improve,
When we see them reflected from looks that we love.

Sweet vale of Avoca! how calm could I rest
In thy bosom of shade, with the friends I love best,
Where the storms that we feel in this cold world should cease,
And our hearts, like thy waters, be mingled in peace.

THE MAN WHO FRETS AT WORLDLY STRIFE.

The man who frets at worldly strife
Grows sallow, sour and thin;
Give us the lad whose happy life
Is one perpetual grin;
He, Midas-like turns all to gold—
He smiles when others sigh
Enjoys alike the hot and cold,
And laughs through wet and dry.

There's fun in everything we meet—
The greatest, worst and best;
Existence is a merry treat,
And every speech a jest;
Be it ours to watch the crowds that pass
Where mirth's gay banner waves;
To show the fools through a quizzing glass,
And bastinade the knaves.

The serious world will scold and ban
In clamor loud and hard.
To hear Meirs called a congressman,
And Paulding styled a bard;
But, come what may, the man's in luck
Who turns it all to glee,
And laughing, cries with honest Puck
"Good Lord! what fools ye be!"

—Joseph Rodman Drake.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Hub—I hear that you told Mrs Gadd that I was a second hand husband.

Wife—Now don't get huffy dear, I meant you were like the second hand of a watch—so awfully quick getting around.—Boston Transcript.

Insurance Salesman (over phone)—Is this Mr. Jones? How would you like to have your wife and child receive $50 a week after your death? Now out—

Jones—Very much indeed, thank you. I wish 'em luck. By the way, do you supply the wife and child?—American Legion Weekly.

Edgar wanted to go in swimming.

"But," protested the father, "I'm afraid it will not be good for you Edgar. Only this morning you complained of a pain in your stomach."

"That's all right, papa," the boy replied. "I know how to swim on my back."—Chicago News.

"So you asked Geraldine to marry you?" asked a man of the other.

"Yes, but I did not have any luck," replied his friend. "She asked me if I had any prospects."

"Why didn't you tell her about your rich uncle?"

"I did hang it all! Geraldine is my aunt now."—London Mail.

wtetaoin shrdlu cmfwy

Policeman (to autoist driving wrong way on a one-way street)—Here, can't you read those signs?

Autoist—Yes, but the road is so rough I can't tell whether I'm coming or going.—Ottawa Citizen.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Red-haired persons are said to be less subject to baldness than others.

In tropical countries the leaves of the banana plant are used as table cloths.

The great snowy owl of the arctic sometimes measures six feet across the spread of the wings.

More than 5,000 octopuses were landed in one week recently by the fishermen of northern France.

The books of the Romans were originally in the form of rolls wound round small wooden rollers. These "roll books" were called "volumina," and from this has grown the English word volume.

In parts of Australia, where the average annual rainfall is not more than ten inches, a square mile of land will support less than a dozen sheep. In parts of Argentina the same area with something like thirty-five inches of rain, supports as many as 1,560 sheep.

The ancient Egyptians, it is said were forbidden to eat the onions, garlic and leeks. According too the priests of Pelusium, the onion was barred because it caused a flow of tears, hunger and thirst; hence was manifestly out of place in fasts and during religious ceremonies.

Along the Atlantic coast country of France it is common to see the fields fenced with willow stumps six to eight feet high, which are fairly bristling with small shoots and branches. The trees are planted in close rows and permitted to grow until the trunk is twelve inches or more in diameter. They are then cut off to an even height which causes them to send out hundreds of shoots from the stump. These new branches are cut every fall and supply the farmer with his firewood for the winter. The scarsity and high price of wood and the comparative low value of labor makes this a profitable method for him to get his fuel.

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST TRY OUR HOME-MADE SAUSAGE

THUMM'S DELICATESSEN

40 Franklin Street

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

LEIPER—In New London, March 10, 1923, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Leiper of New London.

REED—In Montville, March 17, 1923, a daughter, Shirley Florence, to Mr. and Mrs. David J. Kerr of 10 Church street.

FORTEOUS—In Norwich, March 21, 1923, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Forteous.

DIED

TURNER—Entered into rest, in this city, March 21, 1923, Jean Bothwick, wife of Edward L. Turner.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

BRADFORD—In this city, March 21, 1923, Annie Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bradford of 191 New Yorge, Plainfield, aged 11 years.

HURLBURT—At Aba, Congo Belge, Africa, March 9, 1923, Mrs. Paul F. E. Hurlburt (Elizabeth Morse, formerly of Norwich).

FUNERAL NOTICES

PALMER—In Ledyard, March 21, 1923, George W. Palmer, aged 56 years.
Funeral services at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Phoebe L. Norman, Allyn's Point, Friday, March 23, at 2 p. m. Burial in the Palmer cemetery.

ROBINSON—Entered into rest, in this city, March 21, 1923, Amoret McCall, wife of the late Nelson D. Robinson.
Services at Gager's funeral parlors, 74 Franklin street Saturday afternoon, March 24, at 2 o'clock. Burial in family plot in Yantic cemetery.

MAC CONNELL—In Ballouville, March 20, 1923, suddenly, Hector MacConnell, aged 62 years.
Funeral services at his home Friday at 2 p. m. Burial in Westfield cemetery, Danielson.

CARD OF THANKS

When the angel of death called from this life our most devoted mother and left us in sorrow, kindly acts by relatives and friends showed the spirit of the Good Samaritan and our burden seemed more lighter. To all we express grateful thanks; also to those who sent flowers, and especially the children of the West Town Street School. All these deeds will be cherished by us.

D. E. HERBERT,
MRS. FEDLER,
MRS. JUNEAU,
MRS. WEEKS,
MRS. MYERS.

Church & Allen
16 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 410-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

FLORISTS

Plants, flowering shrubs, plants and cut flowers. Rosebrook Nursery Co. Tel. 916-2. Free delivery. apr14

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

JOHN V. ARGUEY & CO., painting, paperhanging and decorating; estimates cheerfully furnished. 190 Laurel Hill Ave. mar15d

CRAIG WALLPAPER CO., 51 Willow St., next Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, 20c goods in combination new best of stock. T. F. McClenahan, Mgr. jan21d

FOR SALE—Paint, $1.35 per gal, regular ready mixed grade, wallpaper, 10c per roll. Bargains in combination new best of stock. Paint Store, 183 West Main St. next to Five Corners. my14

BUILDING

HARDWOOD Flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Nelson, 157 Maple St. Phone 669-13. jan16d

WILLIAM E. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Jobbing. 19 West Main St. Phone 911. apr3d

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (Arch Your Feet). Suite 7-8 Allen Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1146-4. jan31d

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MONEY FOR FAMILY MAN

A man's family oftentimes needs credit that can only be met out of future earnings. We help family men meet emergencies and pay off old debts by lending them up to $300, at legal rates on home furniture without removal, repayment in easy installments. Our aid is immediate and confidential. Call, write or phone 1-6-6-4.

Beneficial Loan Society
58 STATE STREET
NEW LONDON, CONN.

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 107-4
Cello Pupil of Wm. J. Kraft
Cellist in Park Theatre Orchestra

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Girl for telephone switchboard. The Bostwick Hotel. mar23d

WANTED—Young lady to work in store; must be over 20 years of age. Apply to Mrs. Frothingham, Mgr. Z. F. Peterson, Inc., 169 Main St. mar23d

WANTED—An experienced saleslady for Saturday afternoons and evenings. Gately & Brennan, 30 Shetucket St. mar22d

WANTED—Competent woman for general housework; Sundays free. Mrs. W. Lyman, Montville. Tel. 110-14. mar20d

WANTED—Maid, white or part time. Phone 1596. mar21d

WANTED—A competent, housekeeper and wages. Apply 19 Washington St., evenings to Matron. mar21d

WANTED—Housekeeper in family of two. Tel. 11-5 Jewett City. mar21d

WANTED—Two neat appearing young ladies to travel with crew manager canvassing; good paying proposition. See Al Lapham, 3.55 p. m., Ahlowayan Hotel, Danielson, or call 371 for appointment. mar20d

WANTED—A girl for restaurant work; come ready to work. Dewdrop Inn, 119 Franklin St. mar20d

WANTED — Chambermaid, for the American House; middle aged colored woman preferred. Apply 19 Slater Ave. mar20d

WANTED—Maid for general housework, competent cook; references required. Mrs. W. B. Young, 10 Huntington Place. mar20d

WANTED—Saleslady wanted by F. W. Woolworth Co.; must be able to furnish references. Apply to Manager, F. W. Woolworth Co. mar20d

WANTED—Girl or woman for general housework; can go home at 2 o'clock. Call 306 West Main St. mar20d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to assist with light housework. Address M. V., care of Bulletin. mar14d

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Office boy. Apply American Thermos Bottle Co. mar23d

$100 to $200 a week; men with slight knowledge of motors who can teach car owners can earn $200 weekly without making a single sale; if they can also make sales, prices may reach $25,000 yearly; only proposition of its kind ever offered. Phillips, 225 West 39th St., New York City. mar22d

WANTED—Man on dairy farm. W. F. Clark. Phone 18-4 Lebanon. mar22d

WANTED — A cook. McBroonee's Restaurant, Jewett City. mar22d

WANTED—Short order cook, and also boy to wash dishes. Apply City Lunch. mar21d

WANTED — Thoroughly experienced shoe salesman. Apply Mists Boot Shop, 168 Main St. References required. mar21d

WANTED—Experienced truck drivers and helpers. Apply Thames Coal Co., Thames Square. mar20d

WANTED—Middle aged man for clerical position in hotel; state references. Write Box 70, Bulletin. mar20d

WANTED—Man to take care of furnace and horse and do the work around the place. Phone 35-4 Willimantic Div. mar16d

WANTED
Spoolers and Spooler Tenders
THE FALLS COMPANY
Yantic Street

WANTED
SPINNERS for Night Work, on Davis and Furber Mules. Apply Joseph Hall & Son, Inc., Trading Cove Mill.

WANTED
ROPING CARRIER
JOSEPH HALL & SON, Inc.
Trading Cove Mill

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—One gray horse, good worker, single or double. 4 years old. Philip Dudek, Jewett City, R. D. 1. mar21d

JUST ARRIVED
Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think they are as good a car of horses as I have ever had—gentle and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER E. PIERSON.
Tel. 526-3. mar12d

POULTRY

FOR SALE—White Leghorn hatching eggs from state tested and certified stock. Fred L. Kaufman, Route 4. mar20TuThS

DON'T KILL your baby chicks with makeshift chick feed. It's much cheaper in the end to use reliable Park & Pollard and Worthmore chick feed. Boston Grain Co., Willimantic. mar17SuTuTh

FOR SALE—Big bargain sale of laying White Leghorn pullets and hens, $150 100. D. D. Cavanaugh, North Windham. Conn. Phone Willimantic 642-13. mar21d

FOR SALE—White Leghorn chicks from 2 and 3 year old hens, excellent layers, March 25 and 31, $20 per 100, $10.50 per 50, delivered; R. I. cockerels, $5 each; Queen incubators and brooders; catalogue. Paul Jansen, Mansfield Center, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—S. C. R. I. Red eggs for hatching, from White Leghorn tested stock. W. W. Service, Norwich, R. D. 1. Tel. 1852-2. mar18d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; gas proof feature; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. Phone 758-14 New London. feb2d

BABY CHICKS; free feed; popular breeds; prepaid guaranteed delivery; send for catalog. Roy Clark, E. Hartford, Ct. jan3d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks; White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks promptly; catalogue. A. J. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. oct25d

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Bags, Cases, Etc.

CIGARS

Wholesale agency at 71 Pk. for Stonehill, J. F. Cahill, 12 Broadway St.

OPEN 100 CIGARS at 10c. Fifty blends pass before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—Sunday dander, plubber tender and card grinder for day work, also four weavers and two drawers for night work in cotton mill, Vernon, Conn. Boarding house and tenements available. mar23d

WANTED—Household goods of all kinds, C. J. King. Phone 3113. mar22d

WANTED—Four or five room tenement by couple. Address 74 Thames St. mar22d

WANTED—Tailor or presser on Hoffman machine; steady. G. Lackenbach, 3 Washington Sq. mar22d

WANTED—22 calibre heavy target rifle with double set triggers. Dean Balbo, Jewett City. mar22d

WANTED—More salespeople in towns and cities; 150 products, extracts, spices, soaps toilet articles; easiest sellers; no advance in prices; on market 34 years; no bond required; hustlers make $1 hour. Write W. T. Rawleigh Co., Ct. 850, Memphis, Tenn. mar16d

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, etc. Ward Bros., 45 Jackson St., Willimantic. Tel 422-3 mar14TuThS

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 189, Norwich. fy13TpThS

IF YOU WISH a wealthy young wife, write, enclosing envelope, Violet Hay, Dennison, Ohio. feb28Th

IF YOU are ruptured it will pay you well to address P. O. Box 51, Norwich, Conn. mar21d

IF YOU HAVE a temperature of 114, look for a hot water bag. If you want a good cigar, try Dela Case mild cheer, 10c straight; Amodora 7c, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop.

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2168. feb21d

WANTED — Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. jan11d

INTERNATIONAL S. S. and Reality Agency, real estate of all description, fire, marine, steamship tickets, notary public, John G. Chaneski, Agt., 140 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. nov14d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools of me before selling. N. Weisinger, 12 Market St. Phone 537-2. 17d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture, best prices paid. A. Brucker, 102 Franklin St. Phone 712-5. my16d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. S. Tiger, 65 Franklin St. Phone 717-3. jan16d

WE BUY and pay highest prices for second hand furniture and books. Kreisels, successor to King, 42-50 Water St. Phone 1205. sept2d

WANTED

By manufacturer of food products, about 2,500 square feet, on ground floor, for use as warehouse and distributing agency; preferably with side track facilities. Write Box 35, Bulletin. mar16d

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Black and tan shepherd dog. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Arthur Goyette, Box 261, Baltic, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Two Ford cars, cheap. Noyes Garage, Laurel Hill Ave. mar22d

FOR SALE—1921 model 4 Overland, with full equipment and 6 tires, mechanically as good as new; must be sold at once; a bargain. Phone 837-12 for appointment. mar22d

FOR SALE—Overland 4 touring car in good running order; cheap if taken at once. Box P., this office. mar22d

THE D. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your car; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 375 Main St. Phone 1449-4. mar2d

FOR SALE — Sport model Cadillac (phaeton) 1917, in very good condition and at an attractive price; two spare tires and much extra equipment; here is a great buy. Write Box 283, Danielson, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar20d

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 43 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1915 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 20,000 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 305 Broadway. mar3d

AVAILABLE

4-Cyl. 1922 Buick Touring
Overhauled and Painted
A Rare Value!

We have a few other reconditioned cars of various makes, all of which offer an exceptional opportunity to those who want real value.

Julian L. Williams
25 TOWN STREET
NORWICH, CONN.

AUTO WRECKING
PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2110

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-3

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Hard wood four feet long, delivered on car of C. V. anywhere between Willimantic and New London. Tel. Willimantic Div. 619-14. William J. Bowler, West Willington. mar14d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; baskets or cords; lowest prices. Phone 515. jan18d

COAL AND SEASONED WOOD and kindlings in large or small quantities. Phone 884 or 1235-2. R. Shapiro, Willow St., formerly Durkee Lane. oct11d

BEAUTY PARLOR

ELECTROLYSIS — Superfluous hair, warts and moles removed by electric needle, by appointment, at 62 Asylum St., or at your home. Tel. 951. mar21d

GIRLS—Free for a limited number of days, a complete course in beauty treatment. Write Perdiax, 149 Franklin St. mar15d

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAD, Architect, Room 5, May Bldg., Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb19d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

MAY—About 10 tons hay and about 15 tons straw for sale. Apply to Hollis H. Palmer, [illegible] Barnes, R. F. D. No. 1, Norwich. Tel. 1363-12. mar12d

FOR SALE—Two cows, one Holstein cow, new milch, also three yr. heifers (two Holstein and one Ayr.). A. Brynolson, Norwich Town. Tel. 1417-2. mar22d

FOR SALE—Light sedan, cabinet, Victrola, made to fit any car, cheap. Can be bought from Hilton Victrola Co., Baltic. mar22d

FOR SALE—Bungalow, 5½ rooms, modern conveniences, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $4,000. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 7 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $4,000. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 5 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $3,000. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 5 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $2,500. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 5 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $2,000. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 5 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $1,500. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 5 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $1,000. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Cottage, 5 rooms and bath, fine location, 10 minutes from Norwich; $500. Inquire Box 27, Bulletin. mar22d

$500 CASH will secure a pleasant little home in a central location; balance to suit. Address Apply to Owner, 83 Broadway. Phone 1349. mar19TuThS

FOR SALE—House of eight rooms, with steam, and barn and land belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. S. E. Olcott, 535 Main St. Inquire 502 Main St. Phone 475. feb27d

FOR SALE—Three cows, one fresh soon, and two coming fresh in March. William Stoll, 145 Otrobando Ave. Tel. 1153-4. mar21d

FOR SALE—Buy this three-family house located in the city of Norwich; a good investment as well as a home; terms may be arranged to suit purchaser; price $4,600. Do you realize that Burdick & McNicol can help you buy such a property as this, even though you do not have all of the money to pay down? Come in and talk it over with us. We are sure we can help you. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. mar21d

FOR SALE—Brushes of many kinds; specialty floor brooms and counter dusters made of horsehair. John Hallberg, Box 55, Wauregan, Conn., close to Wauregan R. R. station. mar21d

FOR SALE—New full scale guaranteed upright pianos, $248 and up, on easy weekly terms; choice of many leading makes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Kroeger mahogany upright piano, slightly used, but in perfect condition, a $440 value, can be bought for $300, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Bacon & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Large table model talking machine, in first class playing condition, $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Pedigreed collie pups. Tel. 13-14 Jewett City, Conn. mar20d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Jacha, 370 Asylum St. mar16d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Delawares, Cobblers and Spaulding Rose. J. M. Young & Son. mar16d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $85 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—A Victrola IV, installed in a beautiful console cabinet; $72.50 cash buys it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, special at $75 cash; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 24, Bulletin mar6d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer. $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE—Buescher saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukeleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Tanking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 50x100 feet; price for quick sale $6,000. Phone 141-2. jan9d

FOR SALE — Herring - Hall - Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR SALE
Two-store and four-apartment house, with all modern improvements, two minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO.
Real Estate, and Fire Insurance.
Tel. 1527-3. 195 Clif St.

You Need Pants

To Work In — To Dress Up, and to match your coat.

We carry a large assortment at the lowest prices.

Every Pair Guaranteed To Fit.

L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
Opposite Post Office

FOR SALE

6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 2288

FOR SALE

New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 50x109 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
40 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 876

Just Off the State Road
40 acres good orchard, 600 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $8,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, borders on river. Price only $5,500, cash $1,500.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE

FOUR TENEMENT HOUSE AND LARGE BARN ON LAFAYETTE STREET IN GOOD REPAIR; ANNUAL INCOME ABOUT $1,000. PRICE ONLY $5,500. NICE LOCATION AND GOOD INVESTMENT.
THOS. H. BECKLEY
276 MAIN STREET
PHONES

FOR SALE

Very choice modern, up-to-date four-apartment house, located in the best part on Broad St., present earning capacity $2,300 per year. For a quick sale $25,000 will close it. A gilt-edge investment. Can be financed very liberally.
For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation. Keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head, several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings! 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phone. Norwich.

For Sale

Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 10 cars, located on Broadway; monthly rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one and two-family houses; finest of locations; prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 20 acres level land, on state road.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments,
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

TO RENT

TO RENT—Light housekeeping rooms, 43 Union St. Cal. evenings. mar22d

TO RENT—Apartment, very pleasant, all modern improvements. Apply Box 45-100, this office. mar22d

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms, single or double, good location, steam heated, with or without board. Address Box 49, Bulletin. mar21d

FOR RENT — Good tenement, 168 Chestnut St. Bard Union Co. mar21d

TO RENT—Room with kitchenette, 27 Division St. mar21d

TO RENT—Six-room flat, all modern improvements, 2 Thames Square; also six-room flat, all improvements, 12 Thames St. Apply Thames Coal Co. mar20d

TO RENT—Large furnished front room, $2.50 per week; front bedroom and parlor, $5 per week; private entrances; references required. J. Kern, 76 Boswell Ave. mar20d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping, 31 Elm St. mar20d

TO RENT—Lower flat, 39 Orchard St.; space for small car. Inquire upstairs. mar17d

TO RENT—Five-room flat, bath and storeroom, to small American family of adults. 12 Washington St. mar15d

TO RENT—A beautiful modern five-room flat, in best location in city, heat, hot water and janitor service; $45 per month; 50 Broad St. Inquire at Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

TO RENT—Apartment of four rooms and bath, for adults; heat and hot water furnished. 175 Broadway. Phone 3055. mar1d

FOR RENT

STORE ON FRANKLIN STREET
In Alling Block
Inquire of
N. Tarrant & Co.
Phone 170—117 Main St.

TRANSPORTATION

CUNARD-ANCHOR

Boston, Queenstown, Liverpool
LACONIA ..... Apr. 7, May 12
CARMANIA ..... Apr. 28
New York, Cherbourg, Southampton
AQUITANIA Apr. 10, May 1, May 22
MAURETANIA Apr. 17, May 8, May 29
BERENGARIA Apr. 24, May 15, June 5
New York, Queenstown, Liverpool
CARMANIA Mar. 24, Apr. 21, May 19
SCYTHIA ..... Apr. 7
CARONIA ..... May 5
New York, Londonderry, Glasgow
COLUMBIA Mar. 17, Apr. 14, May 12
CAMERONIA ..... Mar. 31
FUSCANIA ..... Apr. 7
ASSYRIA Apr. 26, May 19, June 16
N. Y., Plymouth, Cherbourg, Hamburg
SAXONIA .....Mar. 31, May 19
TYRRHENIA Apr. 18, May 23, June 20
ANTONIA ..... Apr. 21
CUNARD & ANCHOR S. S. LINES,
126 State St., Boston 1, or Local Agents.

NEW YORK
VIA
NEW LONDON LINE
FARE Comfortable Stateroom Ready for Occupancy at 9:00 P. M.
$3.38
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y. Pier 14, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passengers.
The Main Eastland Steamship Co.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUCTIONS

WATTER BROS. ..... Auctioneers
Office and Salesroom, No 41 Main Street, Danielson, Conn.

30 — HORSES — 30
—AT—
AUCTION
THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1923,
at 10 o'clock A. M. Rain or Shine at the so-called Sprague Stables, near Railroad Sidings, Moosup, Conn. It seems to be the style this spring to sell horses at auction, therefore I will sell the following described lot at public sale of the above date:

30 — WESTERN HORSES — 30

Thirty head of choice, big, young, well-matured western chunks and high grade grown on the western prairies, consisting of single horses weighing from 1000 to 1600 lbs., also several pairs of well matched mares with enough to go right into any showing in the country and weigh about up to 2800 lbs or heavier. These horses are now all acclimated and ready for work and take.

20 — USED HORSES — 20

All right out of the shops, that will carry a trademark right on top of the neck where the collar goes, these horses weigh from 1100 lbs. to 1600 lbs. and perform like a good horse should.

HARNESSES, COLLARS AND BLANKETS

A large and useful variety to select from, both new and second-hand. These harnesses and single express (all kinds).

Conditions of Sale: Terms cash, unless otherwise arranged. If storm, sale to be postponed and same will commence at 10 o'clock next fair day.

P. H. WATTER, Jr., Owner.

Auctioneers' Statement: We wish to state that we have personally inspected the Johnson's horses and find them to be right up to the standard and we have personally selected these animals ourselves from a number of offers made, and know that we were after and got the best. These horses are without doubt as choice a lot as ever passed through an auction door. If for your purpose to own a high class team, be sure and attend the sale. This is the sixth time we have conducted Prescott and Johnson's sales for them, and we always have a good clean, honest sale—no monkey business—no shills on the go boiler; sell it—for the high dollar.

LOWELL J. WILCOX ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION

Charles E. Ellis will sell at public auction
MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1923,
at 2 o'clock,

at his farm at East Great Plain, opposite Maplewood Cemetery, the following described property:

One pair horses, weight 2800 lbs., work double or single, sound and gentle; 10 head of cattle, some to freshen, this spring; 1 extra Guernsey heifer, freshen soon; 1 thoroughbred Guernsey bull 5 months old; 2 sheats, 50 choice White Plymouth Rock hens, 1 team wagon, 1 dump cart, 1 surrey, 1 Concord buggy, 1 market sleigh, 1 two-horse sled, 1 mowing machine, 1 horse rake, 1 tedder, 1 disk harrow, 1 wheeler, 1 manure spreader, 1 lime spreader, 1 smoothing harrow, 1 two-horse cultivator, 2 one-horse cultivators, 1 field plow, 1 side-hill plow, 1 express harness, 2 light driving harness, 2 pair heavy team harness, 2 collars, 1 two-horse scoop shovel, 1 large iron kettle, 1 separator churn, pails, hoes, shovels, forks, chains, whiffletrees and eveners, light pole, drag, carpenter's tools some household goods, and other things too numerous to mention.

If stormy, sale will be next fair day.
mar17SuTuThS

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

FOR SALE—Tires, 30x3 ½ $7.50; 32x4, $13; 32x4, $14; 34x4, $15; all fresh, guaranteed. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St.

FOR SALE—Ford honeycomb radiators, all brass, guaranteed, $11 up. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St., Norwich. feb1d

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop, all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Pond St. Phone 1287. oct13

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, slip covers and tire covers, reupholstering, all kinds of auto work. Joe Arpin, Fort St. Phone 1287. jan4d

That worn wrist pin scores the cylinders because it works loose—have us fit NEW pistons and REGRIND the cylinders.

Our modern equipment and exacting care and proven make of new pistons assure dependable, perfect results.

HEEBNER-BROS.
31 CHESTNUT STREET

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK

OF ALL KINDS

Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts

Mechanical Rubber Tires, Painting, Upholstering and Wood Work Blacksmithing. for All the Famous

Scott & Clark Corp.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

FURNITURE

Purchasers of all kinds promptly supplied with [illegible] marble

INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
38 Shetucket Street
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

All persons liable to pay taxes in the town of Montville are hereby notified that a tax of fifteen mills on the dollar on the list of 1922, has been voted by the Town that of fifteen mills on the dollar on the list of 1922, has been voted by the Town of Montville, and the Tax Collector is now ready to receive said taxes. I will be at the Uncasville Postoffice on Monday, the 9th day of April, 1923, from 9 a. m. until 12 m.; also on the same day at the store of Charles N. Rogers, in Mazeaska, from 1 p. m. until 3 p. m. On Tuesday April 10th, 1923, at the store of Charles Perrin at Trading Cove, from 10 a. m. until 12 m., and on the same day at Leffingwell, at the house of Hiram Amerman, from 1 p. m. until 3 p. m. On Wednesday, April 11th, at the house of Susie M. Wood, in Palmertown, from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m. On Thursday, April 12th, 1923, at the store of John Kenyon, in Chesterfield, from 11 a. m. until 12 m.; also on the same day at the Postoffice in Oakdale from 2 p. m. until 4 p. m.

All persons neglecting this notice will be charged legal additions and travel fees.

SUSIE M. WOOD, Collector.
Dated at Montville Conn., March 14th, 1923. mar19Th

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to all persons liable to pay taxes in the Town of Lebanon that a tax warrant for levy and collect a tax of twenty-one (21) mills on the dollar on the grand list as last perfected, and that said tax is due and payable on the first day of April, 1923.

For the purpose of collecting said tax the Collector will be at the Probate Office on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 3d, 4th and 5th, 1923, from 9 o'clock a. m. until 4 o'clock p. m.

On Saturday, April 14, he will be at the store of Orville W. Gurley from 1 o'clock until 4 o'clock p. m.

On Saturday April 21, he will be at the Waterman school from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock p. m.

On Monday, May 7, he will be at the Town Hall in said Lebanon from 10 o'clock a. m. until 3 o'clock p. m.

Dated at Lebanon, Conn., March 7, 1923.

GEORGE F. BRIGGS,
mar8Th Collector of Taxes.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the matter of the confirmation of the undersigned as Temporary Receiver of Lake Rubber Co., Inc., of Norwich, Conn., will be heard in the Superior Court, Room 10 in the Courthouse at New London, Conn., on Friday, March 30th, 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

JOHN A. CUNNINGHAM,
Temporary Receiver.

NOTICE

FOR SALE: By order of the Honorable Court of Probate for the District of Norwich, we will sell the interest of E. Byron Sweet, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased, in the real estate situated in the Towns of Griswold and Voluntown, in said District, consisting of several parcels and being fully described in the application to sell on file in said Court. For more particular description see said application.

ELISABETH H. LEARNED,
MARY E. SWEET,
mar22d Administratrices.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Ledyard, within and for the District of Ledyard, on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1923.

Present—BILLINGS F. S. CRANDALL, Judge.

Estate of Leede Main, late of Ledyard, in said District, deceased.

The Administrator d. b. n., with will annexed, appeared in Court and filed a written application alleging that said estate is now in settlement in said Court, and praying for an order to sell certain real estate belonging to said estate, fully described in said application.

Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 24th day of March, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said application, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to the Court.

BILLINGS F. S. CRANDALL, mar22d Judge.

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss. Probate Court, March 19th, 1923.

Estate of Carleton H. Skinner, late of Colchester, in said District, deceased.

Upon the application of Nellie J. Skinner, praying that administration of said estate might be granted to her as per application on file more fully appears it is Ordered That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Colchester, in said District, on the 26th day of March, A. D. 1923, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and that public notice be given of the pendency of said application, and the time and place of hearing thereon, by publishing a copy of this order once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, and by posting a copy thereof on the public signpost in the Town of Colchester, in said District, at least five days before said day of hearing.

JOHN CONDON,
mar22d Judge.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1923.

Present—NELSON J. ATLING Judge.

Estate of Michael J. Cummings, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.

The Executrix, appeared in Court and filed a written application alleging that said estate is now in settlement in said Court, and praying for an order to sell certain real estate belonging to said estate, fully described in said application.

Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 24th day of March, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said application, and of said hearing thereon be given by the publication of this order once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least two days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to the Court.

NELSON J. ATLING, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, mar22d Clerk.

WHEN YOU HAVE SOMETHING to sell, the best place to find a buyer is through the columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will

RADIO PROGRAMS

Thursday, March 22.

WJZ Newark (360 Meters).

2 p. m.—Jack Rabbit stories by David Cory.

2:30 p. m.—Concert by Mabel Jamison, tenor.

3:45 p. m.—Some of My Experiences, by Henry Morgenthau, former U. S. Ambassador to Turkey.

4 p. m.—Continuation of program by Mabel Jamison.

4:15 p. m.—Sports, by W. J. Stuhldreher.

5:15 p. m.—Amploo series of distinguished artists' conc

GLOUDY TODAY; RAIN AT NIGHT AND TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

The Bulletin

Norwich, Thursday, March 22, 1923.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

The disturbance that was central over Colorado Tuesday night has moved slowly southeastward and its center was over western Texas Wednesday night but pressure was low and falling thence northeastward to the upper Lake region and rain had set in by 8 p. m. Wednesday as far east as Georgia and as far north as the Ohio and middle Mississippi valleys.

The weather became much warmer in the eastern and Gulf states.

The Texas disturbance will move northeastward and will be attended by rain almost generally over the states east of the Mississippi river Thursday or Thursday night and on Friday mild temperature will continue throughout the Washington forecast district Thursday and in the Atlantic states.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook, Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh southerly and weather overcast Thursday; rain Thursday night.

Forecast.

For southern New England, east New York, New Jersey: Increasing cloudiness Thursday followed by rain Thursday night and Friday, not much change in temperature.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and baromatic changes Wednesday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	38	30.30
12 m.	48	30.30
6 p. m.	46	30.30

Highest 48, lowest 38.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Wednesday: Fair and warmer.

Wednesday's weather: As predicted, southerly wind.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

	Sun		High	Moon
Day.	Rises.	Sets.	Water.	Rises.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
19	5.55	5.57	11.19	3.06
20	5.53	5.58	11.59	3.56
21	5.52	6.00	12.35	5.00
22	5.50	6.01	12.55	10.44
23	5.48	6.02	1.39	11.37
24	5.47	6.03	2.28	Morn.
25	5.45	6.04	3.24	0.29

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Luther D. Packer of North A street has returned from a few days stay with friends in Philadelphia, Pa.

The Ladies Benevolent Society met Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of the Taftville Congregational church. Following the business session at which routine business was transacted, a social hour took place.

A. W. Buchanan, of Mansfield, Ct., a member of the state board of education has been a visitor in town this week.

The Dramatic club met Wednesday evening in the Ponemah hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaspard Rondeau of Providence street were Wednesday visitors in Willimantic.

Professor Frank L. Farrell of Norwich was a caller in the village Wednesday.

The football fans of Taftville are going to see one of the best games of soccer on the Providence street grounds, Saturday, that has been played there for some years, when the South Manchester Olympics, who will be here to play the local team in the second contest for the U. S. A. amateur cup. The visiting team is without doubt, one of the best teams in the state and the Taftville team, has been strengthened for the coming season. Secretary Brooks has received a selected list of the Olympic players, who are mostly men who learned the game on the other side, and who are in the game for the love of it. But those who are on the inside, predict that Taftville will be right in the game when the final whistle is blown. The game will be in charge of Referee Pearson of the Connecticut State Football league, and he comes well recommended as a first class referee. The South Manchester team will be picked from the following: Stewart, Cordner, Dickson, McVeigh, McCavanagh, Potts, Chalk, Hyde, Boyce, McMullan, Hewitt, McDowell and Taggart. The local team will not be chosen until Saturday night, but all are reported to be in first class condition.

NORWICH HAS FEW COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

According to the morbidity report issued by the state department of health for the week ending March 17th, the following cases of communicable diseases were reported from Eastern Connecticut: diphtheria, New London 1, Norwich (T) 1, Waterford 1, Rockville 1; whooping cough, New London 26; scarlet fever, Ledyard 1, Lyme 1, Old Lyme 4; measles, Groton (T) 26, Ledyard 10, New London 28, Norwich (T) 12, Old Lyme 1, Stonington 14, Killingly 12, Danielson 3; typhoid fever Thompson 4.

State totals for the week compared with those of the week previous were as follows: diphtheria 46, last week 43; whooping cough 63, last week 59; scarlet fever 76, last week 92; measles 319, last week 373; smallpox 5, last week 1; typhoid fever 6, last week 1.

There have been 10 cases of typhoid reported so far this year. Of this number 11 cases have been residents of Putnam and Thompson, who have apparently received their infection in a mill in Dudley, Mass. Several possible sources of infection have been investigated by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health at the Dudley mill but no definite cause of the outbreak has been ascertained.

HEALING CREAM IS A QUICK RELIEF FOR NASTY HEAD COLDS

Colds and catarrh yield like magic to soothing, healing antiseptic cream that penetrates through every air passage and relieves swollen inflamed membranes of nose and throat. Your clogged nostrils open right up and you can breathe freely. Hawking and snuffling stop. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist. Apply a little in the nostrils and get instant relief. Millions endorse this remedy known for more than fifty years.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

LEGISLATIVE CALENDAR BROUGHT UP MOST BILLS OF THE SESSION

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, March 21.—The calendar in both houses today contained the largest number of bills starred for action of the session thus far. The committees that have been holding back bills for consideration will from now on make reports. The session thus far has been marked by the rapidity with which business has progressed. Senator Rogers of the appropriations committee has announced that all bills on their tables had been heard and urged that all bills that carried appropriations be put in their possession without delay as they were now laying the foundation of the general budget bill and they wished to get that completed as soon as possible.

Bills were passed authorizing the city of Willimantic to issue refunding bonds to not exceed $75,000, bearing interest not greater than 4 1-2 per centum. They are to be of serial form and are to be paid within twenty-five years from date of issue.

A bill favorably reported, was tabled which concerned the conservation of water supplies and provides that: Any water company supplying water to the inhabitants of any city, town, village or borough, for domestic, manufacturing or fire protection purposes, may refuse to furnish water except by metered measurement at established rates, to the owner or occupant of any premises upon which water is allowed to be wasted, by reason of defective fixures or otherwise, after notification to such owner or occupant, and reasonable time given to him to make necessary repairs.

Park Gifts to Putnam.

A bill passed from the calendar that affects the city of Putnam provides that the city is authorized to accept gifts of money or property for the purchase and maintenance of a public park or parks and of lands to be used for winter and summer sports, and for the construction and maintenance of swimming pools, and is authorized to acquire lands for any of such purposes in the manner provided by section 5183 of the general statutes for condemnation of land for municipal purposes.

The bill by which the Good Will club of Hartford may hold property up to $50,000, exempt from taxation was amended to allow exemption up to $500,000, brought generous endorsemnet of the bill from Representative Schatz of Hartford, Christ of New Britain, of the finance committees who reported the bill and Merz of North Haven. The work of the club is entirely among boys, has no dues, provides recreation in various forms and has been an agency of great good.

Toll Bridge Exemptions.

The bill freeing all highway bridges from tolls, explained by Mr. Ridgecomb as a unanimous vote of the committee was passed without dissent. House bill 373 as passed today changes the rule which has hitherto prevailed that in the simultaneous death of husband and wife, the woman being the weaker, died first. Is now changed. The bill passed today reads, It shall be presumed that the deaths of husband and wife were simultaneous when there is no evidence to indicate the priority of death of either. Sec. 2. This act shall not affect estates in process of settlement August 1, 1923.

Sunday Sports Bill Tabled.

The bill concerning the observance of Sunday, allowing the playing of professional baseball and football on that day which came from the judiciary committee with a favorable report and on the calendar for action was on the motion of Mr. Buckley tabled. A rising vote was taken and resulted in 142 in favor of his motion and 8 against.

It is currently reported that the bill if passed would be vetoed by Governor Templeton. Bills of the same purport were vetoed by Governors Holcomb and Lake.

Bills concerning the sale of bread, and an act concerning witnesses were re-committed to the judiciary committee.

Bills concerning retirement of state employes and an act concerning municipal water supplies were temporarily tabled.

The act concerning the establishment of bureaus in the health department provides for departments of vital statistics, preventable diseases, sanitary engineering, child hygiene, public health nursing and public health instruction. By thus defining these departments, while the state will pay $30,000, it will result in the payment in the national government paying an additional sum of $29,000.

Several bills amending the charter of New London were rejected, the committee reporting that they had been withdrawn.

The house was called to order at 11.15 by Speaker Nickerson.

On favorable reports, forfeited rights were restored to W. B. Martin of Rockville, Joseph Brown of New Haven and A. A. Greenberg of New Britain.

The judiciary committee reported unfavorably on bills on presumption of death, public concerts on Sunday, tax on water supply reservoirs, reducing the number of county commissioners in New Haven to one, dividing the town of Ansonia into voting districts. Bills concerning the adulteration of gasoline, pedestrians on the highway, use of the streets for amusements and recreation, disposition of diseased animals, and the birth control bill.

The committee of the judiciary were of the opinion that of the bill introduced by Mr. Bliss of Clinton validating notice of taxes made by the assessors on that town, whereby they had added valuations to non-residents who had summer homes erected there. It was admitted that the valuation of property in the town was only 59 per cent. of its fair market value, but that the shore property had been jacked up far beyond its market value. The assessors had failed to give notice of the increased valuation till it was too late for an appeal to be made for relief. The bill was rejected.

Unfavorable reports were made on allowing Waterbury to issue sewer bonds, and authorizing the highway commissioner to complete all trunk line highways leading to state lines.

Concurrence was voted with the senate in rejecting bills that failed in the senate yesterday.

Hadlyme to Norwich Road.

Among the favorable reports made was the bill including in the trunk line system the highway leading from Hadlyme to Norwich. With the passage of the bill it will be possible for the highway commissioner to build the road from the trunk line appropriation.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON DENTAL SUBJECT

Systematic Infection Resulting from Abscessed Teeth, was the topic of an interesting and instructive talk by Dr. Edward Kirby at the noonday luncheon of the Norwich Rotary on Wednesday at the Wauregan hotel. Dr. Kirby was thoroughly conversant with his topic which has become one of the paramount subjects in the diagnosis of many medical cases. Dr. Kirby was introduced by Dr. Alfred Richards who had charge of the programme for the day. Dr. Kirby spoke as follows:

I will give you a short talk on systematic infections caused by abscess teeth.

Abscessed teeth in most cases are caused by dead nerves. The nerves have been forced to die through decay eating into their structure or by the closeness of large fillings. These abscesses are always found on the end of the roots of teeth or close by. Some abscess teeth can be recognized by the individual due to the soreness of the tooth swelling or dull pain.

Most of these are tended to by extraction or treatment. If not, poisonous toxins are absorbed into the system through the blood.

Which corresponds to the one just mentioned, only it is not so active. These abscesses as a rule are not recognized by patient as they show no symptoms at all. The reason for no annoying symptoms in these, is due to the fact they throw off these poisonous germs in such a slow manner that they are taken up by the blood stream and carried to pray upon difficult parts and organs of the body.

To determine what teeth are abscessed it is necessary for a thorough examination of the mouth by observation and X-ray.

In persons suffering from scroic impairment of health all abscessed teeth as shown by X-ray and those also that are shown to be dead but appear to be in a healthy condition should be taken out as it has been proven by clinics that 85 out of 113 were infected when cultures were taken and examined.

Arthritis, or rheumatism, infection of blood stream, ulcer of stomach, heart myrotis or soreness of the muscles, or insanity.

In above cases I will site one instance of Arthritis there are a great many others, I could site but have not the time. This case was taken from the Mayo Clinic.

A woman 39 years of age was suffering from multiple Arthritis or rheumatism in practically all the joints. Her general examination of the rest of the body was found to be negative. Her teeth were examined. She had seven infected teeth. She did not have all teeth removed at once but gradually improved after all were taken out. About a week after extraction, patient was able to walk around room, and gradually became cured in a few months.

To further prove that the infection came from abscessed teeth. The germs taken from her abscessed teeth were made into cultures and injected into six rabbits all these developed multiple arthritis in a few days. Showing that germs had a special affinity for some organs and tissues in animals as it did in a human body. All these other diseases have been proven to come from the same cause by the same careful diagnosis.

Not all these diseases always come from infected teeth. People have them whose teeth are in perfect condition, but they have a good percentage in all the cases are taken. This last test was made by the Mayo Brothers hospital. These same tests are made in other hospitals equally as good, but I just took this one as an example.

I think without a doubt this proves that no matter where the infection comes from it has the same poisonous effect on the general system and it is imperative to have a proper diagnosis of the teeth and surrounding tissues.

At the conclusion of his talk Dr. Kirby was given a rising vote of appreciation by those present.

At the business session Dr. Hugh B. Campbell presided in the absence of Senator William G. Park, president of the club. Russel A. Clapp acted as song leader during the luncheon. There was a number of guests including several of the dental profession. Chairman Charles A. Saxton, chairman of the Ladies Night committee reported progress and guaranteed to the members that the night of April 4th would be one long to be remembered in the annals of Rotary. He said there were many surprise stunts planned and that it would be a real large evening.

Secretary Weymouth made a very comprehensive report of the spring conference that was held last week in New Haven. Grosvenor Ely also made an enthusiastic report of the social activities at the conference. The fall conclave will probably be held at Rutland, Vt. Secretary Weymouth announced that Wednesday was the third anniversary of the local club and read a letter from Mrs. John S. Blackmar enclosing a contribution to the Boy's Fund named in honor of her late husband.

There were several musical selections by the dentists and guests and visiting Rotarians, Henry J. Fontaine, club pianist and soloist rendered a very pleasing solo.

Burnsteads Worm Syrup

"To children an "angel of mercy." When directions are followed, IT NEVER FAILS. Purely vegetable and guaranteed. Sold at DAVIDSON'S. If enclose full dime, stamps, silver or coin, 25c, mailed everywhere by mail, 30c a bottle.

Jos. G. A. Voorhees, M. D., Philadelphia

SHERMAN TAKES LEAD IN COLONIAL PINOCHLE

Higgins lost first place in Tuesday evening's play in the Colonial Club Pinochle tournament, Sherman taking his place, although Pierson was high for the evening and moved from fourth to second place. Scores for evening: Pierson 8,045; Sherman 7,935; Harwood 7,930; Lamb playing for R. B. S. Washburn 7,840; Willis 7,580; Royce 7,410; Amburn 7,335; Allen 7,265; Church 7,115; T. G. Washburn 7,040; McNaught 7,035; Tracy 6,945; Huntington 6,765; Higgins 6,655; Oat playing for Davis 6,565; Kenefick 6,210. Scores to date: Sherman 30,305; Pierson 29,520; Higgins 29,510; Huntington 29,225; Harwood 28,745; R. B. S. Washburn 28,710; Church 28,045; Amburn 27,945; Willis 27,945; McNaught 27,880; Allen 27,445; Tracy 27,460; T. G. Washburn 27,380; Royce 27,040; Kenefick 26,315; Davis 24,385.

Tariff receipts are rapidly approaching a mark of $2,000,000 a day, unprecedented in the history of American customs collections.

NUMBER FIVE

(Continued from Page Seven)

and while this is true it must be borne in mind that only those of medium size are of any real value in this respect in cities of the size of Norwich and for that reason I advise the size mentioned above, 1,250.

Under no circumstances of course should the auditorium be placed at any other level than the ground floor.

Well Equipped Gymnasium.

The gymnasium is not the least important part of any high school building although it may be true that some parts do not function as they should such as for instance too many showers may be placed in the locker rooms and it must be admitted that it is a question as to whether the use to which the swimming pools are put, or rather, may I say, not put, really justify the expense involved, and at this point I might say that in any ordinary size high school building, that is from 500 to 2,000 pupils the cost of a swimming pool will be about the same: to wit, from $12,000 to $15,000.

There should be no question at all, however, as to the inclusion in any such program of a well equipped gymnasium for just as true is it of this as it is with the development of the mental faculties of the pupils, that the physical development is essential to the building up of the best type of citizenship. This gymnasium should be at least 50x70 feet and not less than 20 feet high. There should be bleachers or balconies around the sides to seat at least 350 pupils. There should also be rooms for the gymnasium office which are large enough for weighting machines and other equipment for the keeping of records. There should also be rooms for the male and female physical directors with separate toilets and showers. Rooms must also be provided for lockers and showers for the pupils and these should be reached with the greatest ease from the gymnasium floor. A large room must also be found for the storage of such apparatus as is used in the gymnasium.

A desirable arrangement of the gymnasium is that where the auditorium adjoins the gymnasium so that the floor of the latter can be used as the stage of the former. This is easily accomplished by the use of large folding doors of fireproof and sound deadening material.

The recreational advantages offered to the community greatly outweigh the expense incurred by covering a completely furnished gymnasium.

In a general way the above description fits such a building as should be built by any community of 30,000 to 35,000 inhabitants desirous of fitting its school population with the very best advantages that can be obtained by school construction.

Cost of Building.

In answer to the second question as to the cost of such a building to accommodate 1,000 pupils I will say that for any building of such a description given above it may be safely estimated that 1,400 cubical contents are required per pupil. I am giving you this basis of estimating for the following reasons. While it may be true that the average of several other places experiences will give some idea as to the cost per pupil it cannot be considered in any way a scientific manner of arriving at the probable cost of any similar operation.

The cost per cubic foot is the only accurate way to arrive at the cost of such a proposition as the one under consideration and with the cubic foot allotment per pupil of 1400 feet it remains only to determine the cost per cubic foot to get at the total cost.

The cost per pupil capacity may be a second method of arriving at a probable expenditure but it is misleading for at least two reasons:

First: There is no uniform basis for counting the pupil capacity with the varying needs of special rooms, etc.

Second: The pupil capacity cost will vary according to the number of pupils accommodated. A high school building to house 300 pupils will cost more per pupil than one to house 1,000 so that to repeat, in the absence of an actual quantity survey for all buildings of a given type of construction the cost per cubic foot will be practically the same whether for a large or a small building.

Building for 1,000 Pupils.

Assuming therefore that the building is to house 1,000 pupils and taking the cubical contents required for each child as 1,400 it will require a building of 1,400,000 cubical contents and the next thing is to find what the cost per cubic foot is and multiply the cubical contents by that sum and you have the total estimated cost.

The test of a committee's judgment of course will lie in its ability to produce a building to house a certain number of pupils with all the essential rooms and departments within the smallest number of cubical contents.

It is assumed, of course that only the highest type of construction will be used.

Dependence to get a building down to a lower cost than some other certain one must not be placed on using cheaper material or labor but on using economy in planning so that space is properly utilized and nothing wasted, that every bit of space and material is doing its full duty and only by special study can the result mentioned, (of getting a building within the fewest cubical contents) be procured.

The cost of the New York schools at the present time is running about 55 cents per cubic foot but this cost is due to New York labor conditions and also to the fact that these buildings are several stories in height sometimes five whereas no such height is necessary or advisable in districts outside of the city.

In Philadelphia the cost is running about 38 to 40 cents and while the buildings there are sometimes as high as they are in New York, the labor situation is not as burdensome and that city is a little nearer to much of the material used in the schools.

In Cleveland, Ohio, the cost is now running about 35 cents per foot, while in Columbus the cost is about 30 cents, and in Buffalo about 39 cents. I mention these places because the school construction program in those cities aggregate possibly $250,000,000, of which amount the city of New York, is expending more than 60 per cent. The farther west we go the lower cost per cubic foot we find.

In New England taking Boston, Springfield, Worcester, Chicopee, Mass., Manchester, Nashua, N. H., Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, New Britain, Bristol, Conn., Providence, Woonsocket, R. I., the cost averages at the present time about 40 cents per foot, while this rate will obtain for very nearly all districts outside of the city of New York and within a radius of 150 miles of Norwich.

Building Cost About $661,200.

From my own personal experience and knowledge I am satisfied that the sum of 40 cents per foot is a safe one to use on your proposition, which will make the proposed building cost exclusive of site, not including the architects' fee and an additional 12 per cent or $67,500 for equipment, which is about the average for high schools, and you have the total of $661,200 exclusive of land. High school equipment will of course cost more than that for a grade building the latter averaging about 8 per cent., although the Elizabeth Street school I think cost a little less than that unless the grading is included.

Included in the above mentioned cost of 40 cents is included every other item such as heating, etc., in fact the 40 cents is made up in about the following manner:

General construction 32 cents per cubic foot.

Heating and ventilating 4 cents per cubic foot.

Plumbing 2 1-2 cents per cubic foot.

Electrical work 1 1-2 cents per cubic foot.

As a check only I am using the pupil capacity method below applied to the above figures.

The cost of the building being estimated at $661,200 for 1,000 pupils it will be seen that cost per pupil will run about $661.20 without the land.

Comparative Building Costs.

In answer to the third question I regret to say that there is but little information at hand as to the cost of high schools in the state of Connecticut as very few have been built within the past five or six years and those now under consideration are not sufficiently advanced to get accurate figures so that I have taken several buildings known to me in size and cost all within a radius of 150 miles of Norwich and give them to you so that you may compare them with the estimate made above for your proposed building:

	Pupils.	Cost inc. eqpt.	Cub. contents
Nashua, N. H., 1920	775	$428,000	$1,200,000
Beverly, Mass 1922	1500	1,000,000	1,800,000
East Side, Hartford, 1922	1500	1,240,000	1,960,000
New Haven	1800	705,000	1,650,000
Bristol, Conn., 1922	1500	900,000	1,830,000
Waltham, Mass., 1922	500	330,000	900,000
Port Jervis, N. Y., 1922	800	400,000	1,115,000
Hempstead, N. Y., 1923	1000	656,000	1,600,000
Hornell, N. Y., 1922	750	350,000	800,000
Rockville Centre, N. Y., 1922	1200	400,000	850,000
Brookline, Mass., 1922	1500	1,100,000	1,800,000
Plainfield, Conn., 1922	300	300,000	600,000
Totals	13,125	$7,709,000	$16,155,000

From the above you will see that the cost per pupil is about $587 while my estimate made above is $661.20 but in only one-half of the buildings mentioned above is there a swimming pool and if the cost per pupil is used to eliminate the swimming pool in the present case it would bring the cost per pupil down to about the average arrived at above.

You will also note from the above that the average cubic foot per pupil is about 1333 against my estimate of 1400 but that is accounted for, too, by the absence of swimming pools in one-half the cases above.

You will note a difference in the cost per cubic foot the average above being about 47 cents while my estimate is 40 cents and the latter figure is ample as you will agree by analyzing the figures on the Plainfield school at Central Village, which runs a little less than 35 cents per foot [illegible] little over the $661.20 per pupil but that latter difference is made up as I have before stated, because the smaller the school the greater the cost per pupil, while the difference [illegible] about 5 cents per foot between the average above and my estimate is caused I think by very expensive ornamentation work in the case of the Hartford, Beverly and Bristol schools.

I think I have covered all of the points you wanted covered but if not will you please advise me and I will be glad to do anything further to assist you and the committee in this matter.

Thanking you for your confidence and courtesy and with best wishes, I remain

Yours truly,
WILLIAM THOMAS TOWNER,
Consulting Architect.
School Plan Service Bureau Inc.

Deductions.

The deductions from this report are obvious and clearly indicate the fact that if new construction is attempted by the town an expenditure of from $500,000 to $750,000, including cost of site and equipment will be entailed. Also from previously quoted figures it is apparent that the annual maintenance cost would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000. A matter of this magnitude will require the utmost care in weighing the advantages as against the great expenditure. It will be of serious moment to the town, and must not be submitted to the voters without diligent consideration of every factor. This of course relates entirely to the provision of a municipal unit high school plant. Very possibly an intermediate school enterprise might be developed for a less expenditure. This plan is referred to on a later page.

For self-evident reasons definite figures relating to sites cannot now be made. The school board has felt it to be its duty to give thought to this phase of the situation, however, and has arrived at the conclusion that provision of proper facilities in this respect would be a difficult matter. Necessary ease of access, proximity to lines of transportation, combined with the demand for large level areas for building and athletic purposes, create in themselves a grave problem.

The town school board in accepting the responsibilities imposed upon it at the recent special town meeting, realizing the requirements of the situation, felt that it needed —and the interests of the town called for—counsel and advice from as many sources as possible, has invited to sit with it as an advisory council certain citizens whose experience has been such as to afford particular qualification in the matter in hand. This advisory council is made up of the following: Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, Wallace S. Allis, Mrs. Willis Austin, Judge Nelson J. Ayling, E. P. Bishop, Judge Allyn L. Brown, Arthur M. Brown, Charles R. Butts, Frederic W. Cary, James L. Case, Dr. James J. Donohue, Grosvenor Ely, Mrs. Frank L. Farrell, Rev. J. F. Graham, Miss Louise C. Howe, Martin E. Jensen, Rev. William A. Keefe, John M. Lee, Herbert M. Lerou, Judge Arthur F. Libby, Timothy C. Murphy, Charles D. Noyes, Shepard B. Palmer, Robert W. Perkins, R. C. Plaut, Frank H. Pullen, Frank B. Ricketson, Charles A. Saxton, Rev. Joseph H. Seiden, Mrs. W. K. Tingley, all of Norwich; also Dr. A. B. Meredith, commissioner of education, Hartford, Conn.

Questions For Consideration.

There appear to be three main divisions logically to be made of the subject:

1—Support of the so-called Academy plan, without any intention of the town erecting a high school plant.
2—Build a unit high-school plant.
3—Cooperate with the Academy.
Or alternate plan
4—Build intermediate school plant.

Under the first caption:

1—Support Academy plan.
- a—Give financial assistance and expect representation on Academy governing board.
- b—Give financial assistance without representation.
- c—Give no financial assistance but pledge good faith, agreeing to pay Academy required cost per pupil.
- d—Establish precedent by which inference would be to assist again in the future.
- e—Possible imperfect coordination with elementary system.

2—Build a unit high-school plant.
- a—Expenditure of $500,000 to $750,000, with maintenance cost of about $100,000 annually.
- b—Coordination with elementary system.
- c—Control of teaching force and curriculum.
- d—Provide better technical, vocational trades, commercial and manual training than Academy will probably ever offer.

3—Cooperate with Academy.
- a—Secure from Academy agreement to combine with educational interests of the town.

4—Build intermediate school plant.
- a—Virtual re-establishment of the grammar-school ninth grade, abolished a few years ago.
- b—Coordination of junior high-school with elementary system.
- c—Doubtful coordination of junior with senior high-school grades.
- d—If adopted and Academy cooperated to the extent of reducing their course from four to three years would necessitate a possible reception into town system of students who wished to later enter Academy but whose home town took them only to the eighth grade.
- e—Probable expenditure of $300,000 to $350,000 with maintenance cost of $60,000 annually.
- f—Possible solution of present elementary system congestion.

This synopsis is not offered as a perfect captional outline, but merely suggestive as a basis of discussion. In relation to the fourth caption it should be understood that new construction will shortly be imperative in the elementary system if relief is not otherwise gained.

All of the foregoing is presented by the town school board solely for the purpose of expediting deliberation at its joint sessions with the advisory council, and embodies practically all of the data and information in the hands of the board. It is hoped that it will prove of value to you.

W. F. LESTER, Chairman,
T. J. KELLEY, Secretary,
ROBERT M'NEELEY,
W. P. M'GARRY,
E. J. BROPHY,
J. C. MACPHERSON,
Town School Board.

RELIEVES RHEUMATISM

Relief—Blessed relief comes when good hot applications are used. The best and hottest is

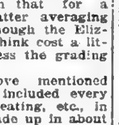
PEGY'S MUSTARINE

Just rub it on—it won't blister—Neuritis and neuralgia also—30c—60c—yellow box.

Best Home Brew

Brew some tonight for the whole family—regulate the bowels — put liver and stomach in fine condition —sleep better. Purely vegetable, 30c package. There's health in every cup of

An Easy Way To Own A Genuine Victrola



Don't deny yourself the pleasure of owning a Victrola. By our special "selling plan you can own any Victrola in our large stock on terms so easy you will not feel paying for it. We have all models from $25 up, being the largest dealers in Victrolas in Eastern Connecticut.

THIS COUPON WILL BRING YOU FULL DETAILS.

CUT IT OUT AND MAIL TODAY.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.,
135-143 Main Street, Norwich, Conn.
Please send me full particulars regarding your special easy payment plan of owning a Victrola.

Name.....
Street.....
Town.....

The Boston Store Norwich Reid & Hughes Co. Inc.

The Boston Store Boys' Shop

BOBBY SAYS:—
"If people thought more about what a Boy's Clothes ought to do, instead of what a boy ought to do, everybody'd get along better, and so would the clothes."

BOYS' SUITS
FULL OF SPUNK

Maybe you think that boys can have too much of it but certainly their clothes can't. The fabrics have been selected for their resistance to wear, and the tailoring is the sort that will do the same thing. You haven't seen a complete line of Boys' All-Wool Suits until you have examined and priced—

The Boston Store Double Service Suits
Of All-Wool Materials
$8.50 to $18.00

Sizes 6 to 10, the Juniors, are sturdy and serviceable, with full lined knickers — two pair of them. Materials, Tweeds and Mixtures Prices from $8.50 to $10.00.

For the older boys, there are the Tweeds, Serges, Mixtures and Herringbones. Coats lined with alpaca—two pair of trousers, one knicker and one golf style—both fully lined, the prices from $8.50 to $18.00.

Burns and bruises? MENTHOLATUM cools and heals.

Itching Piles

Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Stops Irritation, Soothes and Heals. The first application gives ease and rest. 60c.

Norwich Bulletin

VOL. LXV—No. 71 POPULATION 29,686 NORWICH, CONN., FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1923 14 PAGES—106 COLS. PRICE TWO CE

NEW PLAN OF PAYMENT FOR THE U. S. RHINELAND ARMY

Proposal Made by Allied Delegates is Based on Twelve Annual Payments to be Made From German Reparations, When or If Paid—United States to be Given Priority—Would Have Armistice Material Taken Over by the U. S. Credited as 55,000,000 Gold Marks—Mr. Wadsworth Contends That the United States be Paid Its $225,000,000 if Germany Floats a Big Reparation Loan.

Paris, March 22.—(By the A. P.)—The allied delegates to the conference on the cost of the American Rhineland army submitted a new payment plan to Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the United States treasury, for transmission to Washington.

The new plan, evolved at a session lasting nearly four hours, deals with the question on the basis of twelve annual payments and goes into the mechanism by which these payments can be made from German reparations, when or if paid, giving the United States priority.

Mr. Wadsworth made a number of objections to the new plan and asked if interest would be paid if the instalments were not forthcoming during the twelve years.

The plan proposes that the armistice material taken over by the United States should be accepted as a credit to the amount of 55,000,000 gold marks. The suggestion that the German vessels seized by United States should count as a credit was dropped.

The conference will meet again next Tuesday, and meanwhile the allied representatives will confer with a view to overcoming certain objections made to the present plan. Mr. Wadsworth hopes to have a reply from Secretary Hughes in time for Tuesday's meeting.

Mr. Wadsworth is understood to have demanded that, if Germany floats a big reparation loan, the United States be paid its $255,000,000 therefrom.

The impression gained from talking with the conferees after the meeting was that the conversations are becoming very complicated and there was the further suggestion that they are not going as smoothly as before.

The absolute priority on future German reparations demanded by the American representatives seems to have aroused some opposition among the allies. It is pointed out that such priority might mean that the United States would get a very large percentage of the German payments during those years in which the payments were not very great, and thus dissatisfaction would be caused among those countries which other wise would receive this money as reparation.

MRS. BUZZI ARRESTED FOR MURDER OF SCHNEIDER

New York, March 22.—The pistol with which Frederick Schneider, wealthy Bronx contractor, was slain on February 26 and which was left behind by the murderer, furnished the clue which led to the arrest today of Mrs. Anna Buzzi, housekeeper for Schneider, on a charge of homicide, and the arrest of William Turc, a chauffeur and Mrs. Buzzi's brother-in-law, as a material witness.

Immediately after the slaying of Schneider, who was shot to death at the wheel of his automobile on a lonely Bronx road, Mrs. Buzzi was held for several days without bail as a material witness and later released. Two witnesses told of seeing a woman leave the scene of the murder, but neither was able to identify her.

The pistol with which Schneider was shot, detectives said today, had been traced to Turc. His wife, another woman, and three other men whose names were not announced were called to the district attorney's office for questioning.

Turc was said by detectives to have admitted to the district attorney that he owned the pistol and had loaned it to Mrs. Buzzi two days before Schneider was slain.

Captain Bruckman of the Bronx detective bureau said the pistol was found to have been stolen from an armory in Toledo, Ohio, brought to New York by the thief, and owned by two other men before it had been given to Turc.

Arraigned before Magistrate Silberman, Mrs. Buzzi was held without bail, for examination March 24. Turc was held in $50,000 bail as a material witness by County Judge Gibbs.

James F. Donnelly, counsel for Mrs. Buzzi, said his client had obtained additional evidence to prove she was in her apartment from 11 a. m. until she was arrested the day Schneider was shot. He said he was ready at any time to go to trial.

Captain Bruckman announced that the case would be presented to the Bronx grand jury on Monday.

GUN FIGHTS BY RUM PIRATES AND RUNNERS

Highlands, N. J., March 22.—(By The A. P.)—Rum pirates and runners returning from Rum Row engaged in two gun fights last midnight, one in Sandy Hook Bay near the mouth of Shrewsbury River and another several hours later on the shore near Belford, according to a story told by members of the smuggling band. One of the pirates was badly wounded.

In the first encounter, in the bay, the runners, with 150 cases of liquor in their boat ran the craft ashore and fled over the sands. Believing the pirate to be a prohibition chaser they had ignored two commands to halt and returned a brisk pistol fire.

Later, upon discovery that they had been chased by a pirate, the fastest bootlegger boats, loaded with armed men, followed the chaser and routed its crew as they were unloading the captured runner on the shore at Belford, recapturing the cargo.

According to the smugglers, the craft chased by the pirate was leading several other runners in the return from Rum Row.

A NEW TREATMENT FOR PNEUMONIA ANNOUNCED

Hoboken, N. J., March 22.—Perfection of a new treatment for pneumonia whereby high frequency electric currents are inducted into the patient's body, was announced today by Dr. H. V. Droesser, a Roentgen ray specialist, attached to St. Mary's hospital, who for ten days has been carrying on experiments with pneumonia patients, under the observation of a group of New Jersey lung specialists.

The new treatment, known as the Diathermic method, was said by Dr. Droesser to relieve congestion by electrically producing body heat and by driving blood to the affected organs.

Nine patients were subjected to the treatment and all recovered so rapidly that they will be discharged from the hospital within a few days.

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF MRS. JOHN W. WEEKS

Brunswick, Ga., March 22.—A special train for the east left here tonight with Mrs. John W. Weeks, wife of the secretary of war, who was taken ill on board the yacht Everglades off the Georgia coast last night. Mrs. Weeks is being taken to Washington. A bulletin issued by attending physicians early tonight said her condition had improved since her arrival here.

SETBACK IN HOPES FOR BALANCED BUDGET

Washington, March 23 (By the A. P.)—Administration hopes for completing the fiscal year ending June 30 with a balanced budget suffered a setback tonight with a computation by Director Lord, of the budget, indicating a deficit for the twelve months of $180,000,000. His previous estimate of a deficit was around $117,000,000, but, because it now appears likely that any interest payments by the British government will be made in Liberty bonds instead of cash, funds from that source cannot be counted on to oald in cutting down the excess of expenditures over receipts.

It had been expected by the budget bureau that about $69,000,000 would be paid in cash by the British government before the end of the fiscal year, as interest on that country's debt and that this could be applied to current treasury account. Completion of the refunding agreement which permits Great Britain to purchase American government bonds in the open market and turn them over to the treasury, has obliged the budget director to alter his calculations.

Director Lord announced a new campaign today to further curtail the federal expenditures, although simultaneously with his announcement came an official statement from the treasury that collections of income and profits taxes between March first and March 15th would aggregate between $425,000,000 and $450,000,000. In computing the deficit of $180,000,000, Director Lord estimated, as did the treasury, receipts from this quarterly tax payment of $400,000,000.

AVIATORS DRIVEN BACK BY SEVERE RAINSTORM

San Janu, Porto Rico, March 22.—(By the A. P.)—Captain Lanphier, commander of the army aviators who reached here from San Antonio, Texas, on Monday, today attempted to fly over the Virgin Islands in company with Lieutenant Austin, but was turned back by a severe rainstorm when within sight of St. Thomas.

The aviators plan to take off tomorrow morning on their return trip to the United States, retracing their course as far as Florida, and flying thence to Washington, with every prospect of a speedier journey than before.

With the exception of the Virgin Islands the army planes landed in the easternmost possession of the United States in the Atlantic for the first time.

The actual flying time for the outward trip of approximately 3,000 miles, as revised, is about 24 hours. The airmen expect to average from 120 to 140 miles an hour on their return.

FOR FAIR COMPETITION IN TOBACCO INDUSTRY

Washington, March 22.—The American Tobacco company was cited again by the federal trade commission today "in its efforts to secure fairer methods of competition in the tobacco industry by the discontinuance of alleged price-fixing agreements." P. Lorillard Co., Inc., and the Tobacco Jobbers' association of Western Pennsylvania, were named as co-defendants in the complaint.

Several days ago a complaint was issued against the American Tobacco company, together with the Midwest Tobacco Jobbers' association and others, charging price-fixing agreements.

Today's complaint alleges that the American Tobacco and the Lorillard companies "separately in conjunction with the Tobacco Jobbers' association of Western Pennsylvania," through agreements abided by certain specified standard prices at which tobacco products should be re-sold and that they agreed to refuse to sell to dealers who did not adhere to such prices.

OBITUARY.

William H. Golden.

Meriden, March 22.—William H. Golden, who represented Meriden in the Connecticut house of representatives in 1883-4 and in the senate in 1885-6, died at his home in this city today from the effects of a shock. He was 78 years old and was with the International Silver Company for 56 years. He leaves a widow, two brothers, one of whom is state senator Eugene P. Golden, of this city, and a sister. He was a prominent democrat some years ago and was an assessor and a member of the board of relief in this city. The funeral will be held Saturday with burial in Madison.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Turkish Decree to Greeks.

Constantinople, March 22. — The Turks have issued a decree providing that all Greeks desiring to emigrate must depart by May 15, as after that date permits to leave will be refused.

Congressional Party at Port Au Prince.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, March 22.—The American congressional party on board the steamer Cristobal arrived here today from Jamaica and later sailed for Havana.

Egyptian Police and Soldiers Clash

Cairo, Egypt, March 22.—Thirty persons were wounded, mostly police, in a fracas today between Egyptian police and Egyptian soldiers at Tanta, capital of Garbieh province. It is declared that no political significance attaches to the clash.

Norway Prohibits Heavy Wines

Christiania, Norway, March 22.—The Lagting, the first section of the storting, today adopted the bill for the prohibition of heavy wines in Norway. The bill was adopted by the Odelsting, the other section of the storting, by a small majority on March 19.

DIED ON GOLF LINKS FROM A CEREBRAL HEMORRHAGE

Washington, March 22.—A cerebral hemorrhage proved fatal to Milo D. Campbell of Michigan, recently appointed to the federal reserve board, death occurring late today before he could be removed from the golf links of the Columbia Country Club, where he had collapsed.

Mr. Campbell, in company with former Senator Townsend of Michigan, had just completed four holes of golf when he was stricken. He died within ten minutes. Though complaining of a cold, Mr. Campbell otherwise had been in the best of health. He attended a board meeting in the morning.

Mr. Campbell was sworn in as "dirt farmer" member of the reserve board only a week ago. He is survived by a widow.

Mr. Campbell, who was 71 years old and whose home is at Coldwater, Mich., was president of the National Milk Producers Association and was widely known as a practical farmer.

STONEHAM VINDICATED IN LIQUOR CONTRACT CASE

New York, March 22.—Charles A. Stoneham, part owner of the New York Giants, and defendant in a suit for breach of contract involving an alleged failure to deliver 5,000 barrels of whiskey from a cache in Cuba, was awarded a verdict by a jury in supreme court today.

The plaintiff was John M. Bachman, Jr., to whom had been assigned the claims of H. C. Kendal Hester, liquor distributor.

Stoneham took the stand, shortly before the jury retired, to deny that he had agreed to part with all or any part of 5,000 barrels of whiskey, either bottle or in bulk, or that he had made any negotiations with Hester in Cuba. His agent was recalled to corroborate Stoneham's testimony that the custom house there was closed at noon—the place and time when the baseball magnate was alleged to have closed the deal.

WOULD EXTEND THEIR FIELD OF INSURANCE

Hartford, March 22—Permission to insure against damage to dirigibles and seaplanes from any causes and against damage to trees and growing crops from attacks by insects is sought for the Travelers Fire Insurance company of this city in a bill pending before the legislative insurance committee of which Senator Doty, of this city is chairman.

The company would also be authorized to insure against losses by earthquake, tidal wave, sabotage, war, invasion of insurrection, in addition to the rights granted it in its original charter adopted by the 1915 session of the legislature. The original charter would be superceded by one incorporated in the pending bill, which also proposes to extend from $2 000,000 to $5,000,000 authorized capitalization of the company.

FATHERS WHO DRINK SETTING BAD EXAMPLES

Danbury, Conn., March 22—Fathers and mothers who violate the prohibition laws and drink "rum" before their children are not setting examples worthy of good citizens, said Governor Charles A. Templeton at a dinner here tonight given in his honor by the local republican club. About 500 guests including many senators and representatives heard the governor speak on "good government."

Governor Templeton also said that while he was a baseball enthusiast himself, he could not approve of the bill now before the general assembly which would make Sunday baseball legal.

Other speakers were Lieutenant-Governor Hiram Bingham, Congressman John Q. Tilson and Comptroller Frederick M. Salmon.

PRAISE WORTHY FEAT OF A DEVOTED HUSBAND

North Adams, Mass., March 22.—When his horse was unable to plough through the high drifts of Florida mountain this morning, Leroy Shippe, a stalwart farmer living in the Mohawk Trail section, hitched himself to the sleigh and dragged his sick wife eight miles to a hospital in this city. The trip down the mountain road was made in semi-darkness and under extreme difficulty, and required three hours. Shippe was practically exhausted when he reached the city limits. He and his wife were taken to the hospital in an automobile.

Shortly after Mrs. Shippe arrived at the Hospital a boy was born.

HAS FEAR OF PERIOD OF CREDIT INFLATION

Washington, March 22.—Apprehension that the United States, as a result of restored business confidence, may be on the verge of a period of credit inflation, was voiced by George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City bank, New York, in an analysis of America's business recovery submitted at the international chamber of commerce meeting in Rome.

The text of Mr. Roberts' report, made public here today, byt the American section of the international chamber, contained the prediction that over enthusiasm among American business men might cause excessive competition for labor and industrial material.

Story of Theft of Gems Valued at $500,000

Matthew Biddulph Reiterates Confession of Complicity in Robbery of Mrs. Schoellkopf.

New York, March 22.—Matthew Biddulph, testifying today against Charles J. Hughes, charged with harboring two men alleged to have stolen $800,000 worth of jewels from Mrs. C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf of Buffalo at a New Year's eve party in New York, reiterated his confession of complicity in the crime.

Biddulph said he had discussed with Hughes original plans which called for a trip to Buffalo for the purpose of robbing the wealthy business man's wife, but that Hughes had said he could not get through the roads with their car because of the snow. Biddulph testified after Mrs. Schoellkopf had left the stand.

A flurry was caused during the trial when Frank B. Carman, Mrs. Schoellkopf's host at a party on the night of the robbery, was barred from the courtroom. He insisted he was only a spectator, but he was refused admittance on the ground that he might be called.

Biddulph said he lived with Eugene Moran and Albert Horowitz, his confederates in the robbery, and that they had made a living selling liquor. He said they had watched Carman's apartment for some time, and moved in the aptrement below Carman's with a view of making a haul.

He took champagne to the party in Carman's apartment New Year's eve, engaged in the card game and maintained communication with Moran and Horowitz, giving them the tip when Mrs. Schoellkopf prepared to leave, he added. Soon after her departure he went downstairs and found her bound, lying on the bed, with Moran and Horowits stripping the jewels off her fingers and clothing and neck.

Hughes then drove them to a hotel in White Plains, where his confederates, with the jewelry, took leave of him, he continued. He remained at the hotel a week, he said, then telephoned Hughes and the latter came to see him.

Biddulph said Hughes expressed concern about money from the sale of the jewels and that he told him not to worry, that Moran was "square." He said he went to Albany with a letter from Hughes to a man who would "take care" of them.

Mrs. Schoellkopf testified that she had known Carman for about a year and that she and her husband had travelled with him in Europe. She said she met Biddulph at Carman's party, but that he was introduced to her as "Marshall." He brought champagne to the party, she added, but she did not drink any of it.

In the poker game she said she lost about $40. Biddulph also lost, and when he offered a check for $60 to pay for his losses some of the other players objected and a fight started.

Mrs. Schoellkopf said she then left the apartment and was accosted by a man in the hallway who pointed a pistol at her and forced her into a bedroom.

The jewels taken from her, she said, were valued at about $230,000 and included a diamond necklace worth $125,000.

Mrs. Schoellkopf appeared in court attractively attired in black. She was calm and self-possessed when testifying, but spoke almost in a whisper. She said she had been a resident of Buffalo for seven years.

STEAMER TEXAN ON THE ROCKS AT BLOCK ISLAND

Boston, March 22.—The coast guard cutter Acushnet, speeding from her station at Woods Hole to assist the steamer Texan, which went aground off Clay Head, Block Island, today during a thick fog, ran aground soon after leaving the station from Block Island reported the Texan in no immediate danger, although in urgent need of assistance

Tonight the Acushnet was at anchor at her station undamaged, and will proceed at daybreak tomorrow to Block Island. A wrecking lighter with all the equipment necessary to refloat the Texan left Boston tonight.

The Texan, which operates in the American-Hawaiian line service of the United American lines, arrived in Boston from Hamburg several days ago and sailed last night for New York and Pacific coast points.

She struck on a rocky bottom about 300 yards from the beach at Clay Head, about 9.30 o'clock this morning. Messages received here tonight said she had taken considerable water, but under present weather conditions was not in danger.

SPEEDY WAY TO SHOW LATITUDE AND LONGITUDE

Washington, March 22.—(By the A. P.)—Accurate calculation of the position of ships at sea and of airplanes with almost lightning speed is said to be possible under a new method of determining latitude and longitude, worked out by the hydrographic office of the navy department.

Complete computations, according to G. W. Littlehales, hydrographic engineer who devised the new system, can be made within three minutes whereas calculations by methods now in vogue is usually a somewhat tedious procedure. Three years of work, involving more than a million and a half calculations and the solution of millions of spherical triangles, is represented in the new tables which naval experts declare will be of particular value in determining quickly the position of fast moving water and air craft.

All data needed in making calculations under the new system is contained in a single, compact volume.

DIED ON N. Y. CENTRAL TRAIN IN TOLEDO

Toledo, Ohio, March 22.—L. R. Steel of Buffalo, nationally known business man, died from natural causes on a New York Central train entering the union depot yards here early today, according to Coroner Charles J. Heneseler, who conducted a post-mortem examination. Death was caused by a ruptured blood vessel in the brain, the coroner found. The body was prepared for burial this afternoon and despatched to his home in Buffalo.

Mr. Steel's death came while he was en route to Chicago after conferences with Pittsburgh and Cleveland financiers in an effort to raise $1,000,000 which, has associates said, he believed would prevent his firm from going into receivership. His efforts to raise the money were futiel, it was said, and, giving up in despair, Mr. Steel started for Chicago to rest.

$1,000,000 Bootleg Liquor Conspiracy

Frustrated by Authorities at the Pershing Warehouse Corporation's Bonded Storage in New York.

New York, March 22.—A million-dollar conspiracy of bootleg liquor withdraw from bond upon permits bearing forgeries of the name of E. C. Yellowley, acting federal prohibition director for New York state, was reported by authorities to have been frustrated tonight in the seizure of the Pershing Warehouse Corporation's bonded storage.

Ralph and Charles Sabbatino, brother-owners of the warehouse, were arrested by Acting Prohibition Director John A. Murphy, turned over to the police and held without bail.

Bonded liquor valued at $10,000,000 had been stored in the warehouse by the department of internal revenue and the withdrawals today, fifty barrels in two trucks, were to be the first in a scheme to remove $1,000,000 Murphy said.

The conspirators were thwarted and the plot uncovered, prohibition authorities explained, through the pretended connivance of John A. Murphy and Lester A. Reeves, assistant prohibition directors, each of whom accepted $10,000 in the office of Director Yellowley, for liquor permits on which the forgeries were made. The money was accepted with Yellowley's approval while he was out of the city in an endeavor to trap the men "higher up," it was stated.

On the forged permits for the interrupted withdrawals were written the name of a prominent wholesale drug company, officials of which had no connection with the fraud and were unaware of the use of the firm's name, prohibition authorities said.

Additional permits were said to have been delivered to the conspirators near Borough hall, Brooklyn, today for $20,000 for which they were to have been privileged to withdraw 100 barrels in the name of another drug company. Prohibition officials declared the conspirators often talked of withdrawing the entire $10,000,000 worth in the warehouse of the first attempt proved successful.

The barrels contained whiskey six and seven years old, valued at $2,000 a barrel, it was said.

RUM FLEET OPERATING ALONG ENTIRE COAST

New York, March 21.—(By The A. P.)—Reports that six more rum laden vessels had left the Bahamas for American waters and that three schooners believed to be the advance guard of a spring rum fleet from St. Pierre, Miquelon, had dropped anchor off the Rhode Island coast, today added to the worries of prohibition enforcement authorities, already harried with tales of wholesale rum running, piracy within the territorial waters of the United States, and the mysterious flashes of coded wireless messages.

R. S. Merrick, newly appointed zone enforcement chief, met the news with the statement that there was nothing he could do about it. The federal prohibition enforcement office has no fleet to send out to cope with the situation, he said, and was compelled to rely on the coast guard and customs service to break it up.

Captain Reed, coast guard commander for the New York division, said there were three coast guard vessels in his district—which has a coastline of about 200 miles—doing "occasional" work against the rum runners. He emphasized that these three vessels however, were offering resistance to the rum runners only "incidentally," pointing out that the coast guard had other duties to perform.

"Why," he wanted to know, "aren't the prohibition enforcement authorities doing anything? What are they doing with the $10,000,000 congress provided for their work? Isn't any of it for use in New York?"

Customs authorities said they has the cutter Lexington on the trail of the rum runners, but declared she was far from able to cope with the traffic.

Captain Reed admitted his information about the scope of the rum fleet off the coast was vague. The last authentic report he had, he said, was on Tuesday, when one of his boats reported the presence of three rum runners off Atlantic Highlands. He said he had been told a part of the Highlands fleet had moved to the Rhode Island coast.

"There is no doubt, however," he said, "that the liquor smugglers are discharging their cargoes to small boats along the coast, and that a good many of them are making landings."

Another captain of the coast guard service in this division, who refused to be named, declared that information coming to him indicated that Atlantic Highlands, Sag Harbor and Block Island were not the only points off which liquor laden vessels were lying.

"The entire coast, where they are any landing places, is fringed with them," he said, "and the number of small boats engaged in bringing the stuff ashore runs well into the hundreds. It seems as if nearly every small boat on the New Jersey and Long Island shore is engaged in rum-running."

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF "HOME, SWEET HOME."

Rochester, N. Y., March 22.—The original manuscript of "Home, Sweet Home," written 100 years ago by John Howard Payne, has been presented to the University of Rochester by Hiram W. Sibley, of this city, it was announced tonight.

The folio, which was purchased for Mr. Sibley at the recent dispersal sale of the library of Mrs. Luther Livingston, is said to be one of the most valuable music manscripts in existence. It is now in the sibley musical library of the Eastman School of Music.

PROHIBITS IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

Lisbon, March 22.—The high commissioner of Angola, Portuguese possessions in Western Africa, has prohibited the manufacture of alcohol within the colony and has ordered that the copper stills heretofore used in making alcohol shall be melted and made into coins of the colonial currency. He has also forbidden the importation of foreign alcoholic beverages

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

A branch of the Italian fascisti, numbered 65 persons, has been formed in Chicago as a social club.

Total arrests for drunkenness in the state have decreased from 14,964 in 1917 to 7,911 in 1922.

A Mexican scholarship in engineering at Yale has been endowed by John Hays Hammond, chairman of the federal coal commission.

Bankruptcy petitions yesterday included, James McGehan, butcher, of New London; liabilities, $4,688; assets, $3,000.

Incorporation papers for the Bee Line, Inc., an aviation business was filed in the town clerk's office in Naugatuck, and are to be filed in the secretary of state's office.

Death of Frederick L. Lewis, former New York police commissioner, was announced at his home in East Orange, N. J. He died at the age of 91 years.

Rain-making in the official opinion of the United States weather bureau, is an entirely futile undertaking, as are other schemes for artificially affecting atmospheric behaviour.

Wireless messages flashed between the rum fleet off the Jersey coast and a well known hotel on Times Square in New York set every coast guard station on the alert.

Dr. John McLaren McBryde, Sr., 82 of Vicksburg, Va., president emeritus of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, died in New Orleans as the result of a fall three weeks ago.

The estate of James S. Coward, of Bayonne, prominent shoe manufacturer, was estimated at $3,000,000, according to his will, filed in surrogate's court in Jersey City, N. J.

The storm that had been raging over Newfoundland for the past two days blew itself out yesterday, leaving Newfoundland badly blocked with snow and ice.

Lucien M. Archer, a New York broker charged with embezzlement, was held for New Haven authorities, to await extradition. He was alleged to have misappropriated funds of W. T. Fields Co., at New Haven.

Two hundred employes of the fire door department of the Coburn Trolley Track company, in Williamsett, Mass., went on strike yesterday, after the company had refused to redress several grievances.

A shake-up among prohibition agents in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, to be followed by an intensive enforcement campaign in those states was forecast at prohibition headquarters in Washington.

A movement to create a student loan fund in memory of Samuel Sivitz, Pittsburgh newspaper writer, who died recently in Los Angeles, has been launched in Pittsburgh by prominent business men and educators.

The appearance of a British peeress as a professional singer on a concert stage is a rare occurrence, but on Easter Sunday the Countess of Westmoreland makes her debut in London as a professional soprano.

A wage increase of 12 1-2 per cent. effective April 30, was announced in four textile mills in Sanford, Me., one at Kennebunk and one at Waterboro, all owned by the Goodall mills. The increase will affect 4,000 operatives.

Ganna Walska, opera singer, wife of Harold McCormick, will not sing in Chicago within the near future. She made that announcement as she prepared to depart from Chicago for New York with her husband.

Decision to recommend the construction of state armories in New haven, Bristol and Manchester involving appropriations aggregating $900,000 was reached by the legislative committee on military affairs.

It is reported that Eamonn De Valera had another narrow escape from capture in Dublin. It is asserted that so close was he being taken into custody that he left behind documents alleged to be of some importance.

Exports from the United States during January, according to final figures reported by the commerce department amounted to $325,539,192 compared with $278,848,469 for the same month last year.

Germany's dye industry has sufficient stocks on hand to meet the market demands for six months at least, according to a statement issued by Dr. Carl Duisberg, general director of the Leverkusen dye works.

An intersectional debate between Yale and Washington University, at St. Louis on March 29, has been agreed upon, it was announced in New Haven. The question will be "Resolved that trade unionism is essential to the progress of civilization."

A report of the public health committee of the New York Academy of Medicine made public, declared that certain section of the metropolis have been made dangerous to human health by the exhaust from automobile engines.

The group of the international chamber of commerce charged with the study of industrial questions during the present congress in Rome unanimously endorsed a resolution in favor of choosing a fixed date for Easter.

Jazzing individuals of the modern dance crowd are a "bunch of careworn washed out rags, making rotten attempts to drive dull care away," Rev. John McNeil, Scotch preacher, declared in a noon Lenten sermon in New York.

Deputy Minister of Public Works declared his belief that the recent outbreaks of fire in many churches and religious buildings in Quebec was due to faulty installation of heating apparatus, and not to incendiarism, as had been hinted.

The public utilities committee hearing on a change from the present five cent fare in Bridgeport to a 7 1-2 cents token fare with transfers in Bridgeport, came to a close with every indication that the commission will recommend the new rate of fare.

It is a "hopeless illusion," that a flow of money or business toward Russia would follow recognition of the soviet government by the United States, Secretary of Commerce Hoover stated in a letter received today by C. V. Hibbard, associate general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. international committee.

PROJECT TO DISMEMBER THE STATE TROLLEY FRANCHISES

Hearing Before the Legislative Committee on the Judiciary on a Bill Which Would Permit Organization of Corporations to Buy Sections of the Connecticut Company Franchises—Bill Was Advocated by a Group of Bridgeport Business Men—No Objection From Trolley Company if the Negotiations Are Made "Permissive and Not Compulsory".

Hartford, March 22.—The advisability of returning to local control and operation of the trolley system in some cities in preference to a uniform state-wide control was suggested today at a hearing of the committee on the judiciary on a bill which would permit the organization of corporations to buy sections of the Connecticut company franchises. The bill was advocated by a group of business men from Bridgeport who believe that the trolley system in that city can be run more efficiently as a unit and not as part of the Connecticut company.

Proponents of the bill frankly confessed that such "local control" would be an experiment that might in time, however, help other large communities to solve their traffic problems.

The bill was opposed on the ground that it would destroy the unity of the state's trolley system and would starve out the interurban lines by removing the best paying sections of the road, which are in the cities.

A similar bill was introduced in the general assembly two years ago but did not come up for consideration.

The plan of the Bridgeport men is to buy or lease from the Connecticut company the right to operate the trolley system in that city. They believe that by efficient management the road there can be made to pay on a five-cent fare basis operating on a longer line than at present and giving better service to the public.

George D. Watrous, representing the board of directors and the trustees of the Connecticut company, said that neither body objected to the legislation, holding that it made negotiations "permissive and not compulsory." N. S. Buckingham, representing the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, which has a "service interest" in the trolley company, said that his organization did not oppose the bill.

Martin M. Marsh of Bridgeport said that the measure was simply to give local corporations the right to negotiate for a portion of the road, to run it by local men under local control, and to operate it as it best fitted the needs of the community. He declared that there was nothing in the bill to force any sale, while all actions would be subject to the federal [illegible] the [illegible]

In [illegible] that there was no attempt to [illegible] the bill to gain control of the Connecticut company or to take over the Bridgeport lines as part of a larger scheme. To a certain extent, he said, it was largely an experiment which might prove of value to other cities.

Walter A. Lochar, president of the American Chain company; Edmund S. Wolf, president of the First National bank of Bridgeport, and George H. Ames of the Singer Sewing Machine company, and president of the Manufacturers' association, appeared in support of the bill with promises of financial support for the proposed corporation.

Senator Challenger of Bridgeport and George Waldo, Jr., publisher of the Bridgeport Post, appeared in support of the bill.

S. C. Morehouse of New Haven, representing the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company, appeared in opposition to the bill. He contended that it would break down the entire trolley system in the state and would be going contrary to the policy of the legislature in building up the trolley company financially. He declared that the company was just beginning to get back on its feet and that the proposed legislation would undo that work. He also said that the company would probably revert back to the railroad, which would cause confusion in operating a separate company. He characterized the project as a "dream" which would end in the dissolution of the state's trolley system.

Mr. Morehouse also pointed out legal difficulties which he said would arise inasmuch as the original franchises for the trolley lines in Bridgeport were owned by his company and were merely leased to the Connecticut company.

HEARING ON VOLSTEAD ACT PROTEST NEXT THURSDAY

Hartford, March 22.—The legislative committee on federal relations this afternoon set for a hearing on Thursday afternoon next the resolution of Senator McGrath, democrat, of Waterbury, to memorialize congress for modification of the Volstead act. Keen interest is expected in the hearing.

The committee on fish and game is understood to be ready to report in a bill to require fishermen in inland waters to pay a license fee of $1.25 a year, minors under 18 excepted, and to have the money derived from the license spent entirely for restocking public streams. It is also said to favor reopening Alexander's lake, near Danielson, for fishing.

The committee on roads, bridges and rivers is understood to have decided to report a bill to create a commission, without administrative powers, to examine the work and operation of the state highway department with a view to making recommendations to the 1925 session for a reorganization of that department with drafts of necessary bills to put such reorganization through. In view of the attitude of the committee, it was predicted today that Senator James H. Macdonald, chairman of the committee and former highway commissioner, would be a potential candidate to succeed Commissioner Bennett, who has declined reappointment.

The Sunday professional baseball and football bill was not taken up by the committee today. There was a growing belief among house members that the bill will remain on the table until the close of the session because of the announced attitude of Governor Templeton to veto this bill should it be sent to him for signature. The opinion is held largely among members of the house that the bill can be passed in concurrence with the senate, but if it is to be vetoed it would be a waste of time to open debate upon it. Two years ago the judiciary committee drew up a Sunday professional baseball bill which both branches adopted, but it was vetoed by Governor Lake, and the house sustained that veto

SURMISE ON MURDER OF DOROTHY "KING" KEENAN

New York, March 22—The theory that Dorothy "King" Keenan was murdered because of her refusal to participate in a blackmail plot was given more support in a statement by George P. Lebrun, secretary to Chief Medical Examiner Norris who was among the first to visit the model's apartment after her body was discovered eight days ago.

Mr. Lebrun said one of the things he found in the apartment was a photograph of a man, said by Miss Keenan's mother to be a friend of Dorothy's, but with whom she had quarrelled.

"The mother said that this man whom she called a Portuguese," Lebrun said, "had made a proposition to Dorothy to get some money out of Dorothy's friend, who had been very kind to her. The maid called him 'the millionaire.'"

Lebrun said Mrs. Keenan told him Dorothy would not agree to this proposal and that Miss Keenan's oldest brother told him that "this Portuguese had maltreated his sister and he seemed to be very bitter against the man."

Lebrun said he had been led to visit the apartment through a telephone call from a friend who had asked him whether he had any information as to the death of a young woman on West Fifty-seventh street.

This friend, Lebrun said, told him the next day that he had inquired at the request of "Mr. Marshall's" attorney, who was also his friend. Lebrun's friend said the attorney had told him he had learned, but did not say how, that Miss Keenan was dead. Lebrun refused to make public the name of his friend.

Quarrels between the [illegible] and the model were [illegible] by Lebrun [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN

Henry Cloutier was before the local police court Thursday morning charged with breach of the peace to which he pleaded not guilty. He was represented by Attorney H. S. Gaucher. Officer Thomas Grady, the first witness called, testified that on Tuesday afternoon he was standing on the sidewalk on the east side of Railroad street about five o'clock in the afternoon when he heard shouting on the opposite side of the street and many persons to investigate. Under the impression standing by an automobile was Harold Cahill. The officer asked Cahill what was the trouble and at the same time saw Cloutier standing on the curbing in front of the New York lunch swinging his arms and swearing. He crossed over to Clouthier and asked him what the trouble was. According to the officer, Clouthier was swearing vociferously and kept pointing towards Cahill, saying that nobody could run into his car and get away with it and that he (Cahill) was no good and also that the whole "bunch" was no good. The officer told him to keep quiet but Clouthier persisted in arguing and swearing. The officer escorted Clouthier up Railroad street and up Main as far as the J. P. Carr Company store where he tried to reason with him but Clouthier still kept up his loud talk. According to the officer he told Clouthier that he had been drinking to which the accused replied, "Well, if I have, lock me up." He was accommodated in this respect. There were several people passing on Railroad street while the loud talking was going on according to the officer.

Harold Cahill stated that he was a driver on the Willimantic-Hartford jitney line and that he was standing in front of the New York lunch room when Clouthier came out a few minutes after five o'clock. Clouthier said, "I would like to know the guy that ran into my car." He then started to argue with the witness, calling him vile names. Cahill said that he did not want to argue with Clouthier and went under the footbridge to look after passengers for his car. Cahill said that he knew Clouthier, but never talked with him. He denied that he threatened to strike Clouthier or offered to fight with him.

John Navin, another jitney driver said that he was standing on the steps of Blanchette's store where the Hartford-Willimantic jitney office is located, the distance being about forty feet from there to the curbing in front of the New York lunch. He heard the loud talking but could not tell what was said. He saw Clouthier waving his hands and saw the officer come and talk to Clouthier and escort him up the street.

In his own behalf, Clouthier said that he had been in the public service business about two weeks. He arrived at the footbridge, he said, about 4.35 or 4.40 p. m. and parked about twelve feet from the abutment. He went into the New Yory lunch room and had a cup of coffee and had a ten dollar bill changed. He then came out in less than five minutes and going to his car saw that the left front fender was bent, apparently due to a collision with another car. This made him somewhat angry and he remarked, "I would like to know the guy that hit my car." Cahill, he said, stood by and said, "What's the matter with you beefing. Get off the street." The witness said that he could not sand that line of talk and retorted that he had a perfect right to be there and that whoever hit his car should be man enought to tell of his action.

Clouthier said that he did not accuse Cahill of doing it but was of the opinion that if anybody in the vicinity knew who did the act they should let him know. Clouthier accused Cahill of threatening to whip him and that Cahill challenged him to come over the bridge and settle the matter. "I told him," said Clouthier, "That if he wanted to trim me to start there." Clouthier said that he knew Cahill and that he had talked with him at times. He accused Cahill of making the statement that he would run him into the ditch when he got the first chance. Clouthier then pointed to Officer Grady and said, "He heard Cahill challenge me to come over the bridge and fight. He can tell that if hi will."

Clouthier denied that he accused Cahill of being the person who damaged his car. He told Judge Foss that when he went into the restaurant there was open space between his car and the abutment but when he cam out there was another car alongside but it was not a Willimantic-Hartford jitney car. Clouthier said that he did not know who owend the car in question nor did he take the license number of this machine.

Following short arguments by the attorneys, Judge Frank H. Foss told Clouthier that it was only a few days ago that he was before the court on a charge of assault to which he had pleaded guilty. "The trouble with you, Clouthier," he said, "is that when you get vexed, you let your language get the best of you. Yo will have to change your tone. I don't doubt but that your car was damaged but your language from the officer's testimony has at least shown that you are guilty of a technical breach of the peace. I therefore find you guilty and impost a fine of on edollar and costs. The assessment which amounted to $10.55 was paid.

Morris Sussman, the West Main street junk dealer was charged with failure to display the figures of the capacity of his one ton Ford truck and overloading the same on the date of March 20. On that date State Policeman Fred T. Caron saw Sussman driving along the street with a load of metal with one of the tires of the truck flat. The officer in court Thursday morning stated that the total gross weight of the truck and load was 4,800 pounds. The weight of the truck alone being 3,600 would leave an excess of about two hundred pounds. Sussman stated that he had not used the truck for seven months until Tuesday. He said that he was on his way to have the load weighed at the Parker & Elliott Coal Company yard. He had gone but a short distance from his junk yard when one of his tires went flat. As to the capacity numbers he said that he had had the numbers printed on the car with chalk but that they were erased without his knowledge. Sussman was cautioned by the court to be more careful in the future. A fine of ten dollars and costs was imposed amounting to $15.75 which was paid.

Attorney Frank H. Foss was a Hartford visitor Thursday.

John Goodsell returned Thursday to his home in New York city following a visit at the home of J. F. Bocash of No. 122 Chestnut street.

Mrs. Emma Hovey, Mrs. Harold Foote's mother, has gone to East Hampton to be the guest of her son, George Hovey for an extended visit.

Miss Madelyn Shepard, a student at Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass., came Thursday to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Keigwin of Bridge street for her vacation.

Fred H. Williams of No. 36 Lebanon avenue represented Obwebetuck lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., at the home incorporators' meeting of the order held Wednesday afternoon in New Haven.

The Misses Lucy and Jennie Chandler of the faculty of the Misses Masters' school at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., came Thursday evening to spend the Easter vacation with her mother, Mrs. T. C. Chandler of Chestnut street.

Mrs. William Hendry's mother, Mrs. E. M. Dickson, left Thursday for Grand Gorge, N. Y., where she is to spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. F. Bartholomew and other relatives.

The South Coventry trolley car omitted one of its scheduled trips Wednesday morning, the cause of the omission being motor trouble.

Engine Company No. 1 was called out Thursday forenoon at 11.25 o'clock to fight a chimney fire in the residence at No. 843 Pleasant street owned by William Johnson and occupied by Mrs. Dyer. Six gallons of chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze.

Mrs. Frank H. Foss entertained at dinner Thursday afternoon at her home, No. 208 Summit street in honor of her son, Halsey Foss, whose birthday it was. The tables were prettily decorated in yellow and white and favors were at each plate. The guests were Ralph Welmer, Louis White, Ansel Arnold, Ralph Williams and Mason Lincoln.

Mrs. William A. Burleson of Washburn street entertained a card club of auction at her home Thursday afternoon. All of the members were present and Mrs. Harold F. Taylor won the prize. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. George W. Hickey of Summit street.

The Ladies' society of the First Congregational church served an excellent supper Thursday evening. There was a large attendance, more than 150 persons partaking of the fine spread. The tables were handsomely decorated with daffodils and tulips. Mrs. William A. Dawson was the chairman of the supper committee.

J. B. Davis of Hartford, inspecter of schools for the state board of education spent Wednesday at Windham High school making preliminary inspection of the teaching methods and marking records in connection with the vote of the school board one week ago, following the appearance of certain people before the board protesting against some of the methods carried on at the school. Mr. Davis would not commit himself as to the result of his investigation. He is to return Friday to continue his investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peck of Chapman street have returned to this city after a ten months' absence in Asbury Park and Lakewood, New Jersey.

At a special meeting of the Hampton school board held Monday night in addition to the hearing of reports the following persons were elected members of the hiring committee for the coming year: Dr. A. D. Marsh, Judge R. P. Fuller, Clifford L. Brownell is a member ex-officio.

At the Little River grange, Hampton, Friday evening, County Agent Frank L. Davis will give an address on "The Windham County Farmers' Association Plan of Organizing Agricultural Development." Mr. Davis will also conduct a question box. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jewett will be host and hostess.

Roswell Chamberlain's beautiful residence near North Westchester was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin together with its contents last Tuesday while Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, parents of Miss Belle Chamberlain, former teacher at "The Ridges," school were attending the funeral of H. P. Buell in Colchester.

A cow belonging to Joseph Foy of Scotland gave birth Wednesday night to twin heifer calves.

James Walker left for Erie, Pa., Thursday where he is to be employed in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Gilman have returned from a trip to New York city, New Rochelle and Long Island.

Miss Laura Young of Springfield, Mass., is at her home, No. 293 Windham road with her mother, Mrs. H. Estelle Young, who has suffered a relapse after several weeks' illness.

Funeral services for John S. Oakley, Jr., were held Thursday afternoon at three o'clock from the late home, No. 18 Bellevue street. Rev. Harry S. McCready, pastor of the First Congregational church officiated. The body will be taken to Catskill, N. Y.

A conference of deputy fire wardens and assistants of Tolland and Windham counties was held Thursday in the Chamber of Commerce assembly hall with sessions in the forenoon and afternoon. Fifty per cent. of the thirty districts were represented. The conference was held in conjunction with representatives of the New Haven railroad. Methods of the fighting of forest fires were thoroughly discussed and it was acknowledged that numerous fires were caused by locomotives and hunters. Railroad section foremen also took part in the conference.

At the morning session held at 10.30 o'clock the following were heard: A. F. Hawkes of Hartford, state forester, on "The Forest Fire Problem in Eastern Connecticut;" R. M. Hick of the Connecticut Agricultural College Experiment Station on "The White Pine Blister;" James Stocking, assistant state forest fire warden on "Methods of Fighting Fires," and Alfred P. Abbe in charge of the Windham Equipment station on "Co-operating With the Lookout Station." At noon luncheon was served.

The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock, the following being heard: W. J. Backes, superintendent of maintainance and way department and W. J. Barber, fire claim agent of the New Haven railroad and C. H. David, road foreman of the Central Vermont Railway, who spoke on "The Railroad Fire Problem;" A. T. Moss of the Connecticut Agricultural college on "The Effects of Forest Fires on Wild Life," Holcomb Howard, fire warden in the town of Union on "Co-operation With the Lookout Stations," and G. A. Wildman, state fire patrolman, on "Enforcing the Fire Laws." Others who spoke included Frank Whipple, who is in charge of the equipment station at Putnam and C. S. Hurbert of West Stafford.

The thirteenth annual Old Folks' concert was given at the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening before a capacity audience. The grand entry of the chorus from the vestry to the auditorium began at 7.45 o'clock and two solid hours of harmony so dear to the hear of the old folks followed. The singers and soloists had seats on a platform built in front of the organ loft. Music was furnished by a seven piece orchestra. The Connecticut Agricultural College Glee Club quartet was heard in several numbers that pleased. There were also anumber of sole selections rendered.

Francis S. Long post, Woman's Relief corps held its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall Wednesday evening and had the honor of entertaining the largest number of state department officers which ever visited any corps at any one time. Those present included President Bertha A. Morse of Hartford, Vice President Eva E. Ruoff of Glastonbury; Chaplain Cora M. Starr, New Britain; Inspecting Officer Iola Blumstrom, Norwich; Counselor Anna Clark, New London; Installing and Instituting Officer Lena Munroe, Putnam; Senior Aide Dorothy Hanover, West Haven and members of the executive board, Margaret Eldredge, Mystic, Leah A. Pukallus, Norwich and Mrs. William Parker, president of W. W. Perkins corps of New London.

Previous to the business session supper was served to about ninety, under the direction of the executive board in charge of Mrs. Fannie Larkin. At eight o'clock the officers were escorted to their stations by the color bearers, using for the first time the silk flags which wee recently purchased by the local corps. Visiting officers were presented the to the corp's president, Mrs. Margaret MacArthur, by the conductor, Mrs. Minnie Jones. Reports of the secretary, treasurer and committees were read and approved.

The following candidates were initiated: Lydia Towne, Edna McLean, Marietta Johnson, Frances McKenna, Amelia Thompson, and Lillie Ladd. The chairman of the relief committee reported the sending of Easter tokens to shut-in soldiers and widows of soldiers, the making of twenty calls to various members and the death of a veteran who was past ninety years of age. Communications were read from two department officers regretting their inability to attend the gathering and letters of appreciation for flowers received by sick members and for one funeral. Interesting remarks were given by the different department officers and new members, complimenting the local corps for perfect drills and degree work and the beautiful supper.

It was announced that the annual state convention will be held in Hartford this year on May 9th and 10th, further details to be given out later. Reports of the department visitors who had been to the Home in Noroton were satisfactory and also a word of appreciation from the children in the home at Newington for the boxes of gotis and clothes sent to them.

A reading, "How Did We Make the Flag," by Bertha Morse was ably rendered as was "The Market Man," by Lena Monroe. Chaplain Cora Starr remarked on work the W. R. C. accomplished and its aim to help and the senior aide thanked the local corps for their help in raising the $259 collected) by aides from all the corps in the state. The New London corps president, Mrs. Parker, brought greetings from her own corps and an invitation to visit them. Anna Clark gave a very interesting report of the Allington Hospital fund and a good description as to the ways money was expended for the comfort and recreation of the patients there. The meeting closed with the singing of "America."

ELLINGTON

Mrs. Harry Cahoon and Mrs. Walter Button and children of Warren, Mass., spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bancroft.

Arthur Farnham, who bought the place formerly owned by M. R. St. John and came here last fall to live, has returned to Warehouse Point to live on his farm.

The Woman's club met with Mrs. G. J. Clark on Monday afternoon, the subject being English Cathedrals. Musical numbers were furnished by Evelyn Clark and Ruth Charter, after which refreshments were served.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Elliott was held at her home Monday afternoon, Rev. J. T. Nichols officiating. Burial was in South Glastonbury.

Mrs. Adaline Edwards is confined to her bed as the result of a fall.

Mrs. G. M. Rose has returned from Pittsfield, Mass., where she went to attend the funeral of her aunt.

Rev. J. T. Carter of Northbridge, Mass., formerly pastor of the Congregational church here, is the guest for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buell.

Robert Cooley has left home to accept a position in Worcester, Mass.

Miss Jennie Hyde of Bristol is the guest of Mrs. L. C. Edwards.

Morton E. Thompson is in the Hartford hospital for treatment.

The Tobacco Growers' association held a well attended meeting in town hall on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hale were visitors in Hartford on Thursday.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn.

Thousands who have piles have not the same for you.

Learned that quick and permanent relief can easily be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription is HEM-ROID, a tablet medicine, taken internally, that is now sold by druggists generally. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent., and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Lee & Osgood today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands of people, and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
814 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

JAY M. SHEPARD
Succeeding Fillmore & Shepard
Funeral Director & Embalmer
99-02 NORTH ST. WILLIMANTIC
Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
26 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 259 (Lady Assistant)

Today's Beauty Talk

Beautiful hair, thick and lustrous, is easy to have if you use Parisian sage. It's a positive remedy for dandruff, excess oil and itching scalp. Lee & Osgood Co. guarantees it.

Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN —that's why it relieves constipation!

Half-way measures mean nothing in this case. Unless you make your bowels internally clean the habitual clogging of the elimination channels Foods with only part bran can never clean and sweep the intestines in the same way as does Kellogg's Bran, cooked and toasted.

And, Kellogg's Bran is as delicious in flavor as it is positive in its action. If it is eaten regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases, with each meal—it will permanently relieve the most aggravated case.

Your health will be greatly improved within a brief period if you will eat this delicious Kellogg cereal. Know what Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, will do for you and for your loved ones. There is no time to be lost in getting the relief that Kellogg's Bran renews.

Kellogg's Bran is delightful as a cereal, sprinkled over day hot or cold cereal, or served in countless appetizing ways in baking and cooking. It makes the best sort of pancakes, muffins, raisin bread, macaroons, etc., you ever ate. And, each mealful contributes to health! Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. Kellogg's Bran works for you all the time! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran for constipation.

A pimply complexion or an offensive breath can both be overcome by the regular use of Kellogg's Bran, which is sold by grocers everywhere.

WOMEN'S SPECIALTY SHOP
"THE SHOP OF NEWEST CREATIONS"

The Newest Trend of the Spring Mode In Smart Attire For Women

Pre-Easter Sale

Women's Wrap-Around COATS AND CAPES

Of fine twill, velvety-piled fabrics or silk crepe, featuring every fashionable type of silk or braid embroidery, the wraps fastening at the side, the capes smartly collared with self or caracul fur. Superbly tailored and crepe silk lined—AT REMARKABLY LOW PRICES—

$16.75 and up

Two and Three-Piece Costume Suits

Of fine twill fabrics, with knee-length, tie-to-side, Mandarin and box coats, lavishly embroidered or bordered with grosgrain ribbon or silk braid. Separate blouses of printed crepe silk. Superbly tailored and crepe silk lined—

At $19.75 and up

NEW SPRING FROCKS

Every new fashion note ushered in by Spring finds varied expressions in this altogether lovely presentation.

FABRICS:—Printed Silks, Flat Crepe, Cantons, Taffetas, and Laces.

COLORS: — A veritable rainbow of new Spring tones.

At $16.75 and up

FOR SPORT WEAR

Box Coat Suits of Camel's Hair and Velour Checks, Tweed and All-Wool Top-Coats—

$15.00 and up

Now showing—A wonderful selection of SPORT SKIRTS

"FOOTWEAR OF WORTH"
Smart New Shoes For Easter

Custom decrees that on one day in the year, a woman must look her best—and that day is Easter.

"Footwear of Worth" will add to the smartness of the costume of the well-dressed woman.

74 MAIN STREET Phone 2239 NORWICH

TODAY'S EVENTS

Celebration of Spring and anniversary of the birth of Gustus H. Williams, Grove Statesman and attorney-general in Grant's cabinet.

Mr. Joseph D. Bass, eminent Canadian railroad builder and industrial leader, celebrates his seventieth birthday today.

The Police of Wilkes have accepted an invitation to attend the carnival and ball to be given tonight by the American Legion post in Lanford.

Plans for the development of business and professional women's clubs in the far west are to be discussed at a conference opening today in Oakland, Calif.

America's foreign policy is to furnish the subject for a triangular debate tonight among student teams of Yale, Harvard and Princeton universities.

The interstate commerce commission is to conduct a public hearing at Helena, Mont., today on the proposed consolidation of railroads in the far west.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania has invited the governors of all the states to send representatives in a conference at Harrisburg today for the interchange of ideas on road building policies and practices.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IDEAL COTTON STORES
OPENING IN NORWICH

The Ideal Cotton Stores have opened their new store at 119 Main street and are ready to furnish the trading public of Eastern Connecticut with a full line of sheets, pillow-cases, and all kinds of domestics, as well as draperies, curtains, and piece goods.

The Ideal Cotton Stores have branches in various cities in New York state and thus are able to purchase materials at low prices and offer them at correspondingly low prices to the public. The Norwich store will be managed by Morris A. Epstein.

Great Scenes in Film "Adam's Rib."

In Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount production, "Adam's Rib," the Chicago Board of Trade with its wheat and corn pits, is reproduced with absolute fidelity to make real the scenes where Milton Sills, one of the five featured players in the picture, wins and loses a fortune in grain trading. Scores of trained brokers are used in these scenes to give a realistic touch to the excited action in the pits.

Then there is the Natural History Museum where Elliot Dexter and Pauline Garon start a pleasing love romance. Great, towering, thirty-foot dinosaur skeletons put this scene in a class by itself as a novelty.

Closely related to this pre-historic display is the expected and far-famed De Mille "cut-back" or "vision" scene in which the life of man of the time of the stone age is depicted. A huge redwood forest, the largest indoor set ever built for a motion picture, forms the background for the dramatic action. Seen in cave-day costumes of furs and thongs, are Elliott Dexter, Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Pauline Garon and Julia Faye, the featured players.

Broadway Theatre.

A very fine programme of B. F. Keith vaudeville was presented at the Broadway theatre yesterday to please crowds.

Will Morris opened with a comedy bicycle act that showed this clever man's ability. Redman and Leonis followed with a song and dance act. Taylor, Howard and Thom offered a different comedy act, "Males and Females," that was well taken. Tabor and Green are excellent comedians and pleased very much. The Three Bamfords closed with a very good musical act.

New York society ballrooms and the lush jungles of darkest Africa are blended in the latest Mary Miles Minter romance. "Drums of Fate," which is the feature attraction at the Broadway theatre today. George Fawcett, Robert Cain, Bertham Grassby and Letty Flynn are seen in the supporting cast. It's a Paramount.

Dr. J. Romeyn Danforth Speaks at Y. M. C. A. This Noon.

The fourth in the series of noon luncheon talks by Dr. J. R. Danforth of New London will be given this noon at the Norwich Y. M. C. A. The topic will be Pirate's Verdict. A buffet lunch will be served promptly at 12 o'clock, and this will be followed by the talk, the meeting closing at 1 o'clock sharp. This series is creating a deep interest among the business men, who attend in good numbers.

Talo Hatas, young Polish artist, who is now in New York, does not consider himself Charlie Chaplin's rival for the affections of Pola Negri, but he does claim to be her devoted friend. The artist and the temperamental star in Paris, where he began her portrait. Later in a New York picture Gallery it was hung with scores of his other works. When the announcement was made of an engagement between him of an engagement between Miss Negri and Chaplin, he withdrew the picture, saying he wished to keep it as a memento for himself.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Ladies' Society of the First Congregational church holds a sale this afternoon. Many attractive and useful aprons will be found on the utilities table, Mrs. F. H. Fuller, chairman. A great variety of food from many of Norwich's best cooks will be sold under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. H. Blackmer. Mrs. B. Allen is in charge of the candy table and Mrs. Frank Clapp the afternoon tea.

Breed Theatre.

"The Pilgrim," a comedy classic in which Charles Chaplin rises to even greater heights of subtlety than he has ever before attained began a three days' engagement at the Breed theatre yesterday that threatens to rival in point of popularity his unforgetable feature "The Kid."

A four-reel "feature" production, rich in true humor, it provides entertainment that appeals to all classes of theatre-goers and again reveals Chaplin as the greatest living pantomimist.

Thrills, humor and pathos permeate every foot of this film that at once convulses and intrigues the onlooker.

The story is that of a escaped convict who wends his way to Texas after donning the clothes he has stolen from a minister. At the small town where he leaves hhy train he is mistaken by the congregation of the church for the young minister who had been assigned there.

Thus is "The Pilgrim" unwittingly forced into the pulpit and takes into the home of church leaders. The complications that follow are screamingly funny. There is a precious situation concerning a plum pudding and a derby hat, while Charlie's pantomimic rendering of the story of David and Goliath from the pulpit without the aid of subtitles, is a bit of incomparable acting.

As for more about the plot—no! It is too delicious a picture to be spoiled in the telling.

Chaplin, of course, wrote and directed "The Pilgrim," which is a First National release. Edna Purviance is again his leading lady and brother Sydney Chaplin and others who have appeared with him in the past are once more to be seen.

"The Forgotten Law," a Metro photoplay, was seen as the associate feature. It proved to be everything its producers said it would be. It is highly dramatic, exceptionally powerful, and unusually well acted. Large audiences greeted it enthusiastically yesterday, and it is safe to say that it will establish itself firmly in popular favor wherever it is shown.

The dramatic effect of the motion picture is due in part to its really absorbing theme. The photoplay is based on a popular novel by Caroline Abbott Stanley, "A Modern Madonna," which aroused a great deal of discussion when it appeared several years ago. It successfully showed up the workings of a cruel statute, a relic which had been handed down from old English legislation.

An excellent cast has been selected to portray the roles in the film. Among them are Jack Mulhall, Milton Sills and Cleo Ridgely. The photoplay was produced under the supervision of Max Graf. It was adapted by Joseph Franklin Poland and directed by James W. Horne.

Ruth Roland in "The Timber Queen" and the Pathe News make up the remainder of the bill.

Charlie Chaplin at The Strand.

Charles Chaplin has a tough time in "The Pilgrim" the First National comedy-classic at the Strand theatre this week.

In the big denouncement Chaplin posing as a minister, is exposed by the sheriff of the Texas town in which he has sought refuge as an escaped convict.

But the sheriff is a tender-hearted cuss, and, leaving that "The Pilgrim" has turned over a new leaf and saved the stolen mortgage money of a poor old lady, he takes Charles to the border and turns him loose in Mexico.

At last "The Pilgrim" thinks he has found a haven of peace.

But when revolutionists get busy on all sides he changes his mind. He can't live in Mexico and he can't live in the United States. His is a baffling problem with an unique solution.

Wesley Barry, the thirteen-year-old boy star of screendom, came to town yesterday by way of the picture in which he is featured, "Rags to Riches," and completely captured the audiences at the Strand theatre, where it began a run of three days.

The picture, with its wholesomeness and spirit of adventure, went straight to everybody's heart. One wonders who enjoyed it most—the young or the old, the men or the women. Certainly it is hard to say, for the children came out wanting to emulate their boy hero, the women wanted their lads or brothers to be as plucky and fine, and the older men grew reminiscent over their youthful days.

"Rags to Riches" is a Harry Rapf production, sponsored by Warner Brothers, and is adapted from the celebrated stage success by Charles A. Taylor.

Without decrying his other wonderful pictures, "School Days," for example, it is not too much to say that Wesley does some of the finest acting of his young career in this picture. And praise is due the other members of the cast: Miss Welch, Ruth Renick, Russell Simpson, Mrs. Minna D. Redman, Richard Tucker, Eulalie Jenson, Jane Keckley, Gene Kaufmann, Dick Sutherland and "Jimmy" Quinn. Wallace Worsley's direction leaves nothing to be desired.

ARE YOU TIRED DULL, LANGUID?

Does your head ache, are you [illegible] Then you have [illegible] Your blood [illegible] Your kidneys [illegible] Your liver [illegible] Your bowels [illegible] Your stomach [illegible] Your whole system [illegible] Then you have [illegible] and you need [illegible] Grade's Pe[illegible]

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.
MURRAYS BOSTON
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

Spring and Easter Review

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MARCH 23rd and 24th

AN EXPOSITION OF SPRING STYLES WHICH ACCURATELY REFLECT THE NEW FASHIONS

There has been assembled for this display what will probably prove to be the most magnificent line of Women's Attire that was ever brought into this store.

Like a rose that blooms forth in all its splendor, revealing as it does the hidden beauties that have been kept a secret. So likewise will this display reflect the secrets of style which one could only hope to find in a display of such importance.

You Are Cordially Invited

PAUL TAKES THIRD GAME FROM BOSTON FOR U. S. HOCKEY TITLE

Boston, March 22—St. Paul Hockey club almost in the last minute of play tonight tied the score and then won from the Boston Athletic association in the series for the national amateur hockey championship. The score was 2 to 1. The series now stands: B. A. A., 2 games won; St. Paul 2 games won. Three wins are necessary to gain the championship.

The first two periods were scoreless but in the third Geran put Boston ahead after 2 minutes and 53 seconds of play by a dash through the entire St. Paul team to score. For 11 minutes thereafter the teams battled without scoring. It was not until Boston was caught one man short with Enwright off the ice on a penalty, that Gehoen, St. Paul left wing, went through the rest of the Boston team to the threshold of the goal. There he drew Lacroix out and passed to Breen who scored, 13 minutes and 54 seconds after the period opened.

Immediately after the succeeding face off Gohoen obtained the puck again, sprinted 20 feet and shot 2d more for a goal.

In the first period St. Paul had the Boston goal under constant attack with Abel and McCormick starring for the visitors. Lacroix in goal for Boston made sensational stops. In the second period Boston took the offensive but also went scoreless. In the third period after Geran had gained Boston's only goal and St. Paul had moved up every man but the goal tender, contacts became hard and penalties for fouls were frequent.

The lineup:

B. A. A.		St. Paul
	LQ
Rice		Goheen
	C
Geran		Clarke
	RW
McCarthy		McCormick
	LD
Small		Breen
	RD
Smith		Abel
	G
Lacroix		Elliott

First period no score. Second period no score. Third period Geran (B. A. A.) 2 minutes 53 seconds; Breen (St. Paul) 13 minutes 57 seconds. Referees Harold Mitchell of Toronto and John McGrath of New York. Time three 15 minute periods.

Exhibition Games

Orlando, Fla., March 22.—

Cleveland (A)	3	7	0
Cincinnati (N)	4	10	0

Smith, Coveleskie and Myatt, O'Neill; Luque Rixey and Hargraves, Wingo.

At Birmingham—

Toronto (International)	2	6	2
Birmingham (So. At.)	3	10	1

(Game called eighth—rain.)

Lynch, Raise and Hill, Kenyon; Stewart, Hodge and Brandon.

At Bradentown, Fla.—

St. Louis (N)	8	15	2
Boston (N)	1	6	0

Sherdel, Sell, Barfoot and McCurdy, Ainsmith, Clemons; Goecher, McNamara, Genewich and Gowdy, O'Neill.

At Tampa, Fla.—

Brooklyn (N)	3	9	1
Washington (A)	4	8	4

Ruether, Harper, Vines and DeBerry, Taylor; Hankins, Russell and Lapan, Hargraves.

At Montgomery, Ala.—

Milwaukee (A A)	11	15	1
Philadelphia Americans	6	11	3

Gearin, Schaak, Lingrel, Bigbee and Shinault; Hasty, Harris, Ogden and Rowland, Bruggy.

WALKER WINS EASILY FROM PETE LATZO

Newark, N. J. March 22—Mickey Walker retained his title of world's welterweight champion at the end of a twelve-round no decision bout with Pete Latzo of Scranton, Pa., tonight. The champion received the unanimous verdict of newspapermen at the ringside.

The champion was in command all the way, and although Latzo fought strenuously he was kept mostly on the defensive taking a severe body beating. At the end of the bout the challenger's right side was a mass of red welts.

With a left hook to the jaw Walker sent the Scranton man to the floor for a count of three in the fourth round and in the ninth round he landed a right hook to the jaw that sent the challenger reeling across the ring where he clinched and recovered.

Ten thousand people saw the bout.

GALTIC WINS HARD GAME FROM EMERALDS

Wednesday night on the Baltic gym surface, before one of the smallest crowds of the season, the Baltic Wanderers defeated the Emeralds of New London by the score of 38 to 37 in a fast and rough game. In the first half the Emeralds led 26 to 21, but in the second, half the Wanderers pulled together and by a desperate rally in the last minutes of play scored the winning basket. Simineau and Ridgeway were high scorers for the winners, while Reagan, for the losers, with 7 field and 3 foul baskets, was the shining light.

The lineup:

Wanderers—Ridgeway rf, Simoneau rf, St. Germain c, Swanson rg, Robitor lg.

Emeralds—Edmonds rf, Boyle lf, Griffen, Monarty c, Reagan rg, H. McDonald, W. McDonald lg.

Field baskets, Ridgeway 5, Simoneau 6, St. Germain 4, oRbitor 3, Edmonds 6, Boyle 1, Reagan 7, W. McDonald 3; foul baskets, Ridgeway 2, Reagan 3, referee, Albert Taylor; timer, Walter Charron; scorer, Joseph Simoneau.

In the preliminary game, Battery B swamped the Bantams by the score of 29 to 12.

TEN ENTRIES FOR GYM TITLE AT ANNAPOLIS TONIGHT

Annapolis, Md., March 22.—Ten institutions will compete at the United States naval academy tomorrow in an endeavor to gain the intercollegiate gymnastic title.

The midshipmen, who have won the honors for the last three years, are again favored to win the title. The institutions will battle for both the team and individual championships.

John B. Pearson, Jr., captain of the navy team, has held the individual title for two years.

The Harvard team of 12 men arrived here tonight and are guests of the naval academy. Other teams will arrive tomorrow.

Besides Navy and Harvard those entered are Yale, University of Pennsylvania, New York university, Rutgers, Massachusetts Tech., Princeton, Dartmouth and Haverford.

OVER 100 ENTERED FOR NORTH AND SOUTH TITLE

Pinehurst, N. C., March 22.—More than 100 contestants are entered in the qualifying round of the 21st annual north and south women's golf championship tournament starting tomorrow.

Among the favorites are Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, national and north and south titleholder; Miss Marion Hollins of East Islip, N. Y., who was Miss Collett's predecessor in the national championship; Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of Philadelphia, several times holder of the north and south title, and Mrs. John D. Chapman, who won the silver foils championship title here yesterday.

GRAND JURY URGES MORE MODEST ATHLETIC UNIFORMS

Quitman, Miss., March 22.—Clark county officials face the task of an inquiry to determine exactly the damaging effect of men's athletic uniforms on public morals. The county grand jury, in its final report, urged that the current models in track suits, basketball outfits and swimming trunks were too abbreviated, suggesting "efforts to establish more modest uniforms" in the county high schools.

Bowled on Elks' Alleys

Enos	89	96	84—	269
Purdon	104	92	90—	286
Osten	83	93	74—	250
Combies	88	80	120—	288
Dugas	98	114	95—	307
Totals	462	475	463	1400

Taftville Blackbirds

Jodoin	92	86	81—	259
Fitz	82	81	88—	251
Murphy	86	113	90—	288
Coleman	91	81	92—	264
Edwards	79	85	100—	264
Totals	429	446	451	1326

STRANAHAN AND MORSE REACH BELLEAIR FINALS

Belleair Heights, Fla., March 22—R. A. Stranahan, of Inverness Toledo and George Morse, of Rutland, Vermont, are the finalists in the Belleair amateur championship. Stranahan defeated G. A. Robert, of Arcola, today, 3 up.

Morse had a close battle with Hugh Halsell, of Sleepy Hollow, the former senior champion who defeated Morse in the first tournament of the season here. Today Morse had a lead of four up at the turn.

CANADIANS MAY PLAY U. S. HOCKEY CHAMPS

Winnipeg, March 22—The Canadian amateur hockey association today approved a proposal for the winner in the championship game tonight between the Toronto Granitos and Saskatchewan University to meet the United States champions, to be decided tonight between Boston A. A. and St. Paul, for the Wills cup. The winner of the Canadian championship will be awarded the Allan cup.

COLUMBUS TEAM HAS CHANGED OWNERSHIP

Columbus, Ohio, March 21.—For a consideration said to be around $125,000, a group of Columbus men today obtained control of the Columbus American Association baseball club by acquiring the holdings of Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago, who owned 80 per cent. of the stock.

Chapman Wins Tin Whistle

Pinehurst, N. C., March 22—John D. Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., won the Tin Whistles championship today by a margin of two strokes over the field of nine-two contenders in the annual tournament of 72 holes over the four Pinehurst courses. Chapman's medal score was 319.

The defending champion Donald Parson of Youngstown, was second with 321.

Pell and Coulter Lose

London, March 22—Clarence C. Pell and Charles J. Coulter, the American racquets players were defeated in the semi-finals of the amateur doubles championship today at the Queen's club by C. N. Bruce and H. W. Leatham. The score was 15-4, 15-7, 15-12, 18-11.

Mathgo Traded for St. Angelo

New Haven, March 21—Nathan Mathog, formerly of New Haven, now an outfielder with the Wilson club, of the Virginia league has been acquired by the New Haven club of the Eastern league in a trade which sends Harry St. Angelo, of the local club

WE ADVERTISE EXACTLY AS IT IS

SPRING—

Some folks look for the first robin. Others set great store by the first pussy willow. The first hurdy-gurdy means Spring to many.

ALL BUNK—

Most young men know that Spring has arrived when the first showing of new Spring Suits is made.

IT'S HERE—

The liveliest, smartest showing we ever made of young men's styles.

Whether or not you are thinking of buying right now, you'll enjoy seeing the new models.

Suits $30 to $45

Murphy & McGarry

207 Main Street

TODAY'S SPORTS.

Racing.

Meeting of Business Men's Racing Association, at Mobile.

Meeting of Cuba-American Jockey club at Havana.

Meeting of Tijuana Jockey club at Tijuana.

Gymnastics

Eastern intercollegiate championships, at Annapolis, Md.

Golf

United North and South amateur championship for women, at Pinehurst.

Bench Show

Annual show of Pierce County Kennel Club, at Tacoma.

Polo

Pacific coast championship tournament open at Del Monte, Calif.

Swimming

National indoor interscholastic championships, at Evanston, Ill.

Eastern intercollegiate championships, at Princeton, N. J.

Track

Missouri Valley conference indoor championships, at Kansas City.

Basketball

Missouri Valley interscolastic tournament, at Manhattan, Kas.

Pennsylvania interscholastic championship, at State College, Pa.

Bowling.

Annual tournament of American Bowling Congress at Milwaukee.

Handball

National A. A. U. senior championship, at St. Paul.

Wrestling

Eastern intercollegiate championships, at Itahaca, N. Y.

Boxing.

New England amateur championships, at Boston.

Clem Johnson, vs Tut Jackson, 12 rounds, at Barberton, O.

Johnny Darcy vs Wildman, 10 rounds, at Woonsocket.

BROWN WINS COLLEGE WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIP

Cambridge, Mass., March 22.—Brown won the New England intercollegiate wrestling championship meet here tonight with a score of 18 points. Massachusetts Institute of Technology was second with 13, Harvard third with 11, and Dartmouth scored 8 points.

Harry Bruner of Tech., N. E. A. A. U. champion, retained his intercollegiate championship in the 115 pound class, while Capt. H. J. Freedman of Harrard retained his intercollegiate title in the 135 pound class, and Captain Thomas Dustin of Brown won the intercollegiate championship in the 145 pound class for the second time. Capt. Rockwell Hereford, M. I. T. star, defeated Bauman of Dartmouth in the shortest bout of the night, which lasted but three minutes, 56 seconds.

WARNER ELIMINATES REED IN FLORIDA TOURNEY

St. Augustine, Fla., March 22.—An upsetting of expectations and an extra hole match today marked the second round of the tournament on the St. Augustine links for the championship of Florida. Charles A. Warner of Bridgeport, Conn., eliminated K. M. Reed of Scarsdale club, New York, four and three, and Roy Culver and Sam Grandin, both of New York, decided their match with a victory for Culver on the 20th green.

C. N. Phillips of Atlantic City continued his journey to the finals by defeating Ray McCarthy, two and one. William Moffatt of Utica, N. Y., defeated S. R. Overall of St. Louis, three and two.

In the second 16, J. D. Hoxe of Boston, victor in the last tournament, defeated E. W. Demoe of Evanston, Ill.

FLANAGAN RECEIVES JUDGES DECISION OVER ANGELO

Danbury, Conn., March 21—Tommy Flanagan, of New Brunswick, N. J., received the decision over Young Angelo of Stamford in a 10-round bout here tonight. Marty Miller of Waterbury received the decision over Joe Hall, of Bridgeport.

Englishmen Win

Pinehurst, N. C. March 22—The English international polo team defeated the Sand Hill Greens today, 13 to 7.

Giving their opponents five handicap goals, the Britishers played a faster and more aggressive game than they did in the first game of the outdoor season with the Sand Hill Blues last Tuesday, when they were defeated.

Captain Kenneth McMillin, No. 1, scored six of the 13 goals.

Yale Man Wins Two Bouts

London March 22—At Hoxton tonight Edward P. Eagan, Yale-Oxford University, who won the light heavyweight boxing title in the Olympic games in 1920, defeated A. J. Clifton of the Port of London Police on points in both the light-heavyweight and heavyweight classes. This qualifies Eagan for the amateur boxing championship tournament which will be held at Alexandra Palace April 18.

Bentley Mails Contract

Baltimore Md., March 22—Jack Bentley, southpaw pitcher and first baseman, today mailed his signed contract to John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, at San Antonio, Texas. Bentley stated definitely today that he would leave for the southern training camp tomorrow.

Training Camp Talks

by STONEY McLINN

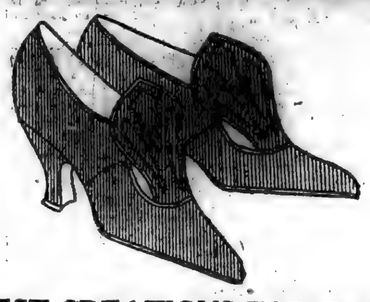
(Special to The Bulletin.)

Clearwater, Fla., March 23.—Any baseball season that doesn't find our Uncle Wilbert Robinson with a competent staff of curve ball throwers is likely to be historical for its earthquakes, hook worm epidemic, or some other strange and unexpected punch from the hand of fate. The Brooklyn manager, in the opinion of the b. b. big wigs, is the most skilful developer and conditioner of pitchers who ever strapped a windpad over a rotund belly.

Therefore, we shall not insult the intelligence of the reader by predicting or opining that Unk Robbie will have the usual efficiency in the hurling department this year; that is a foregone conclusion. But it so happens there must be seven players who will lend aid and comfort to a flinger when he is toiling under a summery sun. It was the seven cooperators aforementioned that Robbie's curving corps did not have last season.

Johnston Hit for .310 Last Year.

James Harl Johnston has performed virtually all services demanded of him except to stone-wall gate crashers at the pass turnstile, since he joined Squire Ebbets' in-and-outers in 1916. He started as an outfielder, but in '19 played the four infield positions at one moments notice, and in '20 [illegible]



LATEST CREATIONS FOR EASTER

They have the sparkle of style, and good taste, and possess perfect fitting qualities, economy in wear and leadership in fashion.

We have these models in Patent Leather, Gun Metal, Calf, Brown, Gray, Black or Beige Suede, in Oxfords and Pumps, high and low heels, and very reasonably priced

It Will Be Our Pleasure to Show You These Styles.

Shoes of Distinction For Men, Women and Children.

Ableman's Shoe Store

310 MAIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

M'GUINESS' WHIRLWINDS ADMINISTER TERRIFIC BEATING TO COMBAT TRAIN

McGuiness' Whirlwinds set a new high score record at the state armory Thursday evening, when they slaughtered the Combat Train indoor baseball team to the score of 51 to 15. It was a pitiful game to watch, so hopelessly outclassed was the service team. The Whirlwinds showed no mercy or heart at any stage of the game and kept everlastingly pounding the ball to every conceivable corner of the big drill shed.

Capt. Burdick pitched good ball but his support was terrible and the result was discouraging to any pitcher. The outfielders of the service team might as well have been up in Mohegan park for all the good they did. Ball after ball came to them, hit them on the feet, head and body, but not a putout was made in the outer garden. With the exception of Capt. Burdick, Billy Dixon and Al Peanuta, the rest of the team could well have been dispensed with.

On the other hand, the Whirlwinds played almost perfect ball and only two or three glaring errors were made. The hitting of the Thamesville gang was terrific every other ball banging up against the back wall of the drill shed. Red Lesseman and the Woodmansee boys, with Danny O'Connell, featured both in the field and at the bat. Jack Clabby played first base with the ease of a big leaguer and his hitting was a sight for sore eyes.

The game consumed two hours and 15 minutes of time, but provided an unlimited amount of fun. Duke Shea and Herb Broadhurst also did their share in the gymnastics.

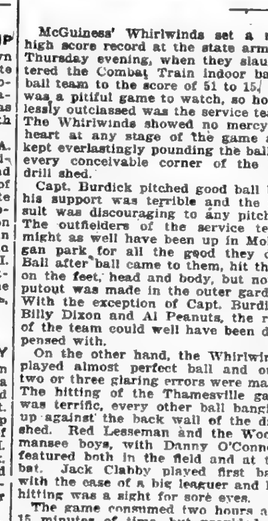
The score by innings:

Whirlwinds ..1 0 11 3 14 0 5 7 10—51

Com. Train ..3 6 0 3 0 1 1 0 1—15

Batteries: Aubrey and Gashouse for the Whirlwinds, Burdick and Morrell for the Combat Train; umpire, Malcolm.

Makes New World's Record For Three Mile Run



The grin of victory, on the face of Willie Ritola, of the Finnish-American Athletic Club, at the K. of C. games in Twenty-second Regiment Armory, New York, after he had beaten the "unbeatable" Joie Ray in the three mile run. The Flying Finn on his race in the final spurt, passing the Illinois A. C. star about 25 yards from the tape and winning by a scant yard. His time for the distance was 14:15 4-5, or 3 2-5 seconds under the previous world's indoor mark of 14:18 1-5, which was made in Brooklyn in 1918 by one of Willie's compatriots, the great Hannes Kohlemainen, and 2 4-5 seconds better than the outdoor record, which has stood since Al Shrubb made it in England in 1913.

my should have a permanent berth as he nears the big league pinyers' exit and expects it will be shortstop, although it might be second base, or even third. Jimmy batted .319 last campaign; he fields well wherever posted.

When Robbie obtained Jacques Fournier, giving such a capable, though ancient outfielder as Hi Myers to the Cardinals in exchange, the guess was that M. Fournier would play first base. Maybe he will, some of the time, for the big Frenchman wields a vigorous willow. But it now comes to light that our Uncle Wilbert is elated over the prospects of training Schleibner, a husky who batted .354 for Little Rock in the Southern Association last year, to compel the critical grandstand managers in Brooklyn to bail him as a worthy successor to the lamented Jacob Ellsworth Daubert.

The strange facial map at third base on opening day in Flatbush will belong to a young Irishman named Mullen. He arrived in Clearwater, highly touted, fresh from an infield polish administered by Bert Niehoff, former N. L. laborer, who now manages Mobile in the Southern. Mullen, last season batted .312 and led in the number of chances accepted by third basemen. Andy High, the Superbas' regular at the position last season, will be held in reserve.

Zach Wheat's Fifteenth Season.

The Griffith boys, Bert and Tom, will join forces to protect the vast expanse of territory known as center and right fields by b. b. people, even in Brooklyn. And good old Zach Heat, who promises to be the Superbas' left fielder when your kiddies are using safety razors, will start his fifteenth season in the same pasture—and, no doubt, be right there at the finish.

That gives Uncle Robbie three better than .300 batsmen, and two very competent fly chasers—Wheat and Bert Griffith—in his outfield. He also has Barber, obtained from the Cubs; Neis, who was a reserve last season, and Bailey, a recruit who played in the Texas league in '22. All have been laboring faithfully to land emergency men assignments this campaign.

DeBerry, who caught the majority of the games for Brooklyn last year, will be the first-choice backstop in '23. Hungling, also one of Unk Robbie's Flatbush nephews last season, will be first aide to DeBerry. Both are young and lads of promise defensively. DeBerry hit .301 last year. Hungling needs to improve in stickwork. Hargreaves, who comes from Pittsfield in the Eastern league looked so good in Clearwater that he may get a regular assignment.

Pitching Staff Strong.

And speaking of pitchers, as we were when we started to tell this story in cold type, let's look 'em over. First, take the Big Four—Dutch Reuther, Dizzy Vance, Leon Cadore and Burleigh Grimes. There you find the makin's of sixty and more victories, if the remainder of the team fulfills its obligations.

Reuther, the southpaw of the party, has been indulging in a war of stipulations with Squire Ebbets this spring. Among other stipulations by the Squire was one which would cost the left-hander some jack if he was not a good big boy. Reuther declared that he would confine his footprints to the straight and narrow if he had the money in hand; that he would not have such childish matters appearing as a part of his contract.

Harry Harper on Job.

Whenever Dickerman's name is mentioned Robbie bursts forth into unrestrained chuckles of joy. Enough! Harry Harper, who retired for a season to found a trucking business that would insure his future, is southpawing for Sir Wilbert and pleasing the old gent. Robbie, who well remembers how George Smith won four out of five for him when he was loaned to Brooklyn by the Giants, is getting along famously in Clearwater. The boss insists upon George using the side-arm motion exclusively, and it is darned effective, so far.

Albert Mamaux, Schreiber, Brown, Vines and Ollinger are other b. b. tossers who toiled in the magnificent ball yard built especially for the Brooklyns by the city of Clearwater. That ball park, by the way, has the finest grass diamond we have seen in the south, not excepting that in Augusta, and there is a comfortable clubhouse, fully equipped, and a grandstand seating two thousand persons.

(Copyrighted, 1923, by Public Ledger Company.)

McTIGUE NOT TO COME HERE FOR TWO MONTHS

Dublin, March 22.—(By the A. P.)—Mike McTigue, the new world's light heivyweight champion, declared today that he is not returning to the United States for two months. He has made no arrangement for future fights, although he is aware that efforts are being made to match him with Georges Carpentier.

In view of published reports that Siki did not lose the championship to McTigue because the men fought at catchweights, McTigue said he desired that it be made known in America that at three o'clock on the afternoon of the fight he weighed in, in the presence of witnesses, tipping the scales at 169 pounds.

SMITH IS SENT TO YANNIGANS FOR DISCIPLINE

San Antonio, Tex., March 22—Catcher John Anderson, dispatched yesterday with the second team of the New York Giants, [illegible]

Damaged By Water Sale

Reprint from Norwich Record March 15, 1923

MAIN ST. TOGGERY SHOPPE DAMAGED BY WATER

Harry Lahn's Toggery Shoppe was badly damaged by water Saturday afternoon and evening on account of having a leaky roof. The lights were short circuited and business was discontinued for sometime. Monday's had rain storm made conditions more serious.

LAST 3 DAYS

—AT—

HARRY LAHN'S TOGGERY SHOPPE

COME NOW—HERE IS YOUR LAST CHANCE

—TO GET GENUINE BARGAINS!

MEN! NOW IS YOUR CHANCE TO BUY SHIRTS--4 Big Lots

BE SURE AND SEE THESE SHIRTS

LOT No. 1 Broadcloth Silk — In four colors—White, Blue, Gray and Tan — Colors guaranteed..... $2.59

LOT No. 2—HIGH-GRADE Silk Shirts — Of Baby Broadcloth, Crepe-de-Chine, China and Jersey Silk—regular up to $8.50 — All to go at—each..... $4.95

LOT No. 3 BIG LOT OF Silk Striped Shirts — Regular $2.50 values ALL TO GO AT..... $1.69

LOT No. 4 BIG LOT OF White Shirts — YOUR PICK AT EACH..... $1.00

1 LOT OF FLANNEL NIGHT SHIRTS $1.00 Each — Regular $2.00 Value

Handkerchiefs 5c Each

Bath Robes $5.95 — Regular $9.50 Value

COLLARS — Triangle Make—Semi-Soft — WILL NOT WRINKLE — Regular 25c value 6 FOR $1.00

COLLARS — Van Husen Collars — REGULAR 50c SELLER — 3 FOR $1.00

TODAY—SATURDAY AND MONDAY LAST 3 DAYS

Remember Last Three Days of Sale

Harry Lahn's Toggery Shoppe

WIVES Take Advantage Last 3 Days For This Sale A Saving On Every Article

SYMON SERVICE 164 MAIN STREET Opposite Woolworth's 5c and 10c Store

gans, it is reported here, for alleged breach of training rules. It is said Pitcher John Scott has been fined $100 by the Giants management for similar infraction of rules.

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

University of California has six letter men for its tennis team this year.

Canada has joined the International Tennis Federation, the world governing body of the net game.

Montreal, Canada, claims to have the best equipped indoor tennis courts in the world.

More than 300 tournaments will be held under the auspices of the U. S. N. L. T. A. this year.

More than a million and a half dollars is being expended in and around Washington on golf clubs.

Consistency at batting was the thing that Larry Lajoie did nothing else but. He almost never had a slump.

All of the 18,000 seats have been sold for the tennis classic at Wimbledon, England, although the event does not start until June 26.

Oxford and Cambridge tennis players will meet a team representing universities of Belgium in London, England, on April 30.

New South Wales Tennis association, opened grounds at Huscutter Bay, Sydney. It has 46 courts, costing $250,000.

Florida boasts of 54 golf clubs, Miami sets the pace with five 18-hole and talk of two more, one to be used as a public links.

In 1901 Lajoie finished the season with an average of over .400 and he never once fell below .400 during the entire year's campaign.

Spain, France, Australia and Japan are expected to give the United States the biggest argument this year for the classic Davis tennis cup.

Specifications have been drawn for Harvard's new $100,000 swimming pool, work upon which will be started before the college term has expired.

Malino J. Bobadilla, native of the Philippines, goes in for the sprints, hurdles and shot-put. He engaged in these events while going to school on the islands.

"Correct pivoting is as essential for a good golf swing as a straight left arm," Gene Sarasen, national champion, says. "The amount or degree of pivot depends on the individual."

Harry Potter of Manistique, Mich., star halfback [illegible] of the institution in as much as he had taken part in games for a period of four years.

J. N. Lawry, captain of the Cambridge University team, England, is a New Zealander. He may come to America in the spring to take part in tennis tournaments.

Schoolboys and girls are taking up tennis in large numbers in New Zealand. The Wellington Tennis Association in that country is building 50 grass courts.

A bill authorizing a state loan of $160,000 to the Michigan Agricultural College for the erection of a new stadium was presented in the house of representatives this week.

A National Municipal Golf Association may soon be formed according to Standish, who is chairman of the public links committee of the U. S. G. A. Public links players are being organized in many cities.

Six-footers are often seen among Australian tennis players but England lays claim to a record in a recent tournament, when the aggregate height of four contestants reached within half an inch of 25 feet.

Bedford Golf and Country Club will open about April 15. Davis Robertson, the new pro, and William Fieldlock, the new master, will be on hand for what promises to be an active season.

Mike Reinke, who won the freshmen cross-country championship last fall, is a brother of Charles Reinke, Michigan varsity star. Young Reinke, in recent freshmen track trials, won the half-mile run in time of 1.10.4.

Naming of the field house after Fielding H. Yost, as requested in numerous petitions received by the board in control of athletics at Michigan, has been deferred by the board. The proposal pends further discussion at a board meeting about April 15.

The youngest baseball player in history! That's Dicky Coleman's distinction. He is one year old. Dicky's dad has given Del Howard, business manager of the Oakland club, Pacific Coast League, the "young man's" signed contract, drafting Dicky's service in 1940.

The old Sheepshead Bay race track may be converted into a city park, including two 18-hole municipal golf courses. New York park commissioner is negotiating to purchase the track and adjoining land of the Harry Harkness estate, comprising 626 acres. This is the last large available tract of undeveloped park land in the borough of Brooklyn.

Announcement that Miss Joyce Wethered, woman's golf champion of England, will compete in the women's national tournament in this country next fall, at Wa[illegible] year, but Miss Wethered's visit here will undoubtedly give the two champions a chance to battle for supremacy. Miss Wethered is a sister of Roger Wethered, British amateur star.

She Was.

A little light flattery, no mean article in these days, had been bestowed upon Mrs. Smith on account of her ability to use either hand indifferently in the execution of her duties, which were charing. "Lor' bless, you, ma'am," said the genial soul, not without condescension, "I've always been like that. I'm aspidistras."—London Tit-Bits.

New Record For Seventy Yard Dash

Harold Lever, captain of the University of Pennsylvania track team, who broke the world's record in the 70 yard dash at the Intercollegiate Indoor Championships meet in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory, New York. "Boots" Lever made the seventy yards in seven and one-tenth seconds, just beating out Alfred J. La Grasy, of Kentucky, who held the previous record of 7 1-5-10. At the [illegible] games in order

1796 1923

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Norwich, Friday, March 23, 1923.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MARCH 17th, 1923
11,960

THE NORWICH-HADLYME ROAD.

Favorable action by the committee on roads, rivers and bridges concerning the adding of the highway from this city through Montville, Salem and Hadlyme to the Connecticut river, as part of the trunk line system of the state indicates a recognition of the need of bettering this stretch of highway. Favorable action is to be hoped for, based upon the needs and the recommendations of the committee.

Aside from the need of giving the towns through which the road will pass the benefit of an improved highway, it is to be realized that it will mean an important relief to the congestion that now exists on the other trunk lines, a fact which cannot be disregarded in these days of growing highway traffic. This is a short cut to the Connecticut river and beyond, but its use is prohibited under the present conditions.

It likewise reaches into a section of the county that is not blessed with an overabundance of physicians. Dependence to a large extent is placed upon the doctors of this city. All possible efforts to get there are made even in the extremely bad weather, but under severe and discouraging handicaps that would be removed by the building of a state road.

It is in just such sections as this that highway improvements are loudly called for at this time. The committee has taken the same view in regard to this road that it did concerning the one in the southern part of Windham county where traveling conditions have long been deplorable, and any who know the roads or make a trip over them are certain to endorse the favorable report.

ALTERING OUR SHIPS.

When the information was furnished by the navy department and read by Secretary Hughes to the effect that the British had made important changes in their battleships since the war, it was supposed to be correct. When Great Britain declares that such is not the case and that the information was incorrect, there is nothing to do but to withdraw the statement and explain that it was supposed it was based upon facts.

That is what has been promptly done by Secretary Hughes and it should serve to clear up any embarrassment which has been experienced by the British relative to the strength of their fleet. We have accepted the correction and said so. It makes it certain that it was not our purpose to misrepresent.

Just what effect this will have upon the work that was authorized concerning 15 of our battleships remains to be seen. On these it was proposed to send the six and a half million already appropriated in giving added protection against torpedoes, increasing the elevation of the guns that they might cover a greater area and providing more protection for the decks in case of aerial attacks.

In obtaining this appropriation it was urged that this country should do what other nations are doing in this direction, and it was pointed out that the British had made such changes in its vessels as the result of the lessons taught by the Jutland engagement and other developments.

The appropriation was made with the understanding that no attempt should be made to exceed the provisions of the naval agreement, and that if it could not be done without violating those terms it should not be done. Thus while the appropriation was made it was made with an important proviso. That remains to be determined, but if Great Britain has not done such work, the dependence on what that country was thought to have done, as a basis for what we proposed to do, seems to have been knocked into a cocked hat.

THE STRUGGLE FOR OIL.

The importance of an oil supply for the future cannot be too seriously considered. No one intimates that there is an inexhaustible supply, and it is perfectly evident that the demand for it in its various grades is increasing each year. The question is to see that there is a supply that will meet the demand.

The oil problem is one that concerns other countries as well as this, but there are different ways of looking at it. It is possible to endeavor to establish a world monopoly, or a monopoly in certain areas, and it is also possible to take the view that all should be given a chance in the matter of development.

While it has established certain reserves for protection of its own requirements this government has taken the view that foreigners could operate American oil lands as well as citizens of this country, and advantage has been taken of it. When it comes to the open door to Americans to engage in the development of foreign fields a different attitude is encountered. In Dutch and British possessions Americans oil interests have found the door closed.

That of course jeopardizes the fight in relation to oil. It puts the success back of the decision of Secretary Fall, before leaving the interior department, in denying a foreign corporation the right to work oil lands in this country. If Americans cannot enter the territory controlled by other countries where oil is likely to be found, it is not unreasonable for this country to decide that the subjects of those nations cannot do an oil business in this country. It is a case of tit for tat that has been fostered by the policy of those countries to maintain control over the oil supply quite the same as the British seem to have done concerning crude rubber.

It isn't that this country seeks to obtain special privileges for American oil companies but that it believes there should be an opportunity permitted to all to engage in the development of oil lands. It was a policy that we practice das well as preached as long as Americans were not shue out elsewhere.

THE SHIP PROBLEM.

Because the shipping board was unable to get an endorsement of the plan which it believed ought to be carried out in connection with our merchant marine, it has not thrown up its hands in disgust. It recognizes its responsibilities and isn't ready to believe that the country desires to wreck the merchant marine which has been sought for so long and which it has cost so much to obtain.

It was most unfortunate that the proposition it presented was not permitted to come to a vote. But through the efforts of a small minority it was blocked and the result is that the board is faced with the same problem that it was before measures for relief were sought. It must do its best to effect what retrenchments it can to prevent going into the hole at the rate of $50,000,000 a year.

Forced to make new efforts it proposes to call into conference the chief interests in the shipping industry, the steamship owners' association, the operators' association and the American shipbuilders' council for the purpose of getting the views of these business men, engaged in the shipping industry as to whether they believe purchasers could be obtained for the government vessels who would guarantee to maintain them in a certain service if the sale price was below the world market value, how long a period such a guarantee should cover, what price could be obtained for vessels to go in unrestricted service, whether there should be consideration of sale to aliens and what the condition is for getting capital for shipping in the present financial market.

Some of these things it might seem the board might obtain for itself otherwise, but there is an advantage in getting close to those in the shipping interest and getting their views of the situation. The board has a difficult task. If it can preserve the merchant marine and cut the present cost it will do well.

RELIEVING DISTRESS.

The pleas in behalf of the unfortunate children in certain sections of the world do not cease. Work in their behalf is still being continued, but the necessity for it is being urged by various organizations. This country is to be visited by a special representative of the starving children of Russia to seek more aid in their behalf, even though the American relief association is to continue its help to and possibly through the summer.

Inasmuch as Russia finds itself able to export foodstuffs to other countries instead of devoting it to the relief of the distressing conditions, does fail to register in the minds of those who have given support to such work, especially when it is material of the same kind that is being sent to that country that Russia is exporting.

But it is not solely from Russia that the cry for aid comes. There is the problem of the near east with its many refugees which has not been solved. They are being cared for the best that is possible but these refugees are in a much worse plight than those whose government thinks more of fattening its treasury for other purposes than feeding the coming generations. They have none to look to for such help except those who will not see humanity suffer and starve. Pleas in behalf of such children seldom go unheeded. Conditions in the near east have been much improved but they are very far from satisfactory.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There's more than one counting the days to the opening of the fishing season.

New York barbers want a day of rest. They ought to have little difficulty in scraping that up.

With the government moving against some of the big, alleged tax dodgers the little fellows feel better satisfied.

The eugenic law of Wisconsin is to be repealed. Its greatest success was in driving couples to other states to be married.

The man on the corner says: From the radio fans there doesn't come the demand for the broadcasting of a brisk March windstorm.

Bishop Manning is opposed to divorce. Dr. Grant declares in favor of it. Can you guess which one wants to marry a divorcee?

American fascisti have organized, but ought not Americanization to stand at some other than last place on the list of objects to be sought?

With one branch of the Pennsylvania legislature voting for the repeal of the anthracite tax the consumers of coal will feel that a fine beginning has been made.

Out in the midwest a maid gathered up about $13,000 worth of jewelry before the family noticed it. And yet there is wonderment over the difficulty keeping servants.

Uncle Sam's income is increasing so rapidly that the indicated deficit may be wiped out. All income and other federal taxpayers can applaud themselves for their good work.

With a league team coming here to train, it wouldn't be strange if Norwich developed the fever for another league team of its own. Winning and having are of course quite two things.

BEATING HIM TO IT

"Dinner's all ready, Hugh," remarked Mrs. Ballister as soon as her husband had removed his coat and hat. "I've got some nice hot corn bread for you tonight."

"Fine!" he responded. "I hope you have lots of hot coffee, too. I'm chilled to the bone. These old curtains on the auto are hardly any protection at all. I'm going to—"

"I made an extra quantity of coffee tonight and it's strong, the way you like it. Just drink a cup of it now while I put the dinner on the table."

"Say that coffee's great! Why can't we always have it strong like this? I feel better already. I should have had new curtains on the car long ago, but—"

"I baked some ham, with a brown sugar crust," broke in Mrs. Ballister. "And I have some sweet potatoes to go with it. You always like that combination."

"I surely do. Baked ham and sweet potatoes! I'm in luck tonight. By the way Letition, I've found just the kind of winter curtains I want for the car. Good and durable, with beveled glass in aluminum holders—"

"Here's some of that pickle I put up last fall. It's the sort you like especially well, the sweet-sour kind."

"Gee, Letitia, what's come over you today? You've got everything for dinner that's on my list of favorites! As I was going to say, I might just as well hurry and have those new curtains put on the car, now that I have the price. You know how I've been saving since last fall for them, and yesterday I added the last $10 necessary to complete the $185 they cost."

"Hugh, wouldn't you like some more cauliflower? There's plenty of it, and I know you are hungry."

"Yes, I'll have a little more. I see you have forgotten how I like it prepared. And slip me another chunk of that ham. You see, Letitia, its not only that those old curtains look so disreputable, but the wind blows in through the torn places and through the holes where the celluloid pieces are broken out, and consequently I nearly freeze."

"I see you are ready for your dessert. What do you suppose it is?" as she bustled out into the kitchen and returned.

"O-o-h! Home made apple pie all dolled up with pink ice cream! Is it—is this your birthday or something?"

"Oh, no; just a simple home dinner, and I'm glad you enjoyed it, even if it did give me a little extra work. Why shouldn't I cook nice meals for the best husband on earth?"

Ballister was too busy to make a blushing reply. Finally he leaned back and sighed. "That was some dinner!"

Suddenly he looked up. "Letitia, I don't suppose you have bought your new coat yet. I saw some nifty-looking coats in Skinner's window for $95. Good, substantial cloth, with nice fur collar and cuffs. Want to go down and look at them tomorrow?"

"Why Hugh, I've bought my coat. Got it today."

"Good! I see that I'll have to step lively if I want to keep up with you, so tomorrow I'll order those curtains I've needed for the car all winter. At last I've got the $185 to pay for them."

"Why, you see, Hugh, er—just a minute, till I show you my coat."

"Letitia! A fur coat! What—where did you ever buy that coat for $100?"

"Don't be foolish! This coat cost considerably more and it was marked down from a still higher figure. I wore it home so you could see it tonight."

"But," perplexedly, "where did you get the money for it?"

"From the desk where you kept it. You see, Mrs. Spender stopped in for me to go shopping with her this morning, and before we left she told me about the war prices were being slashed on fur coats, this being the end of the season, so I took that $185 along in case I saw a bargain. That, with the $100 you gave me, and some bills I had in my purse, made enough."

"But the curtains for the car!"

"I don't see what you want with winter curtains now that we're having such mild weather. You can put on a sweater under your overcoat, and I'll be warm in this fur coat, so we won't really need those new curtains on the car at all."

"Oh, well," Ballister told himself, "I got a good dinner, anyway, for my $185."—Chicago News.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Troland's Answer.

Mr. Editor: It must be well understood by your readers that Mr. Troland is not out on a forlorn hope of convincing Mr. Coffey nor M. B. M. nor any of those professional doctrinaires of Biblical secrets, who like Goldsmith's schoolmaster, "even when vanquished they can argue still." My purpose is to give true authority to what the apostle wrote about the proprieties in both women and men speakers in public assembly. That he was objecting only to the abuse of privileges, any reader of his admonitions can clearly see, if he will, and my points are these:

First. Because some women in the Corinthian meetings were abusing their liberty, this became occasion for St. Paul's directions to exclude them.

Second. His prohibition seems to be only directed against married women, because he wrote they should not ask questions in meeting, but inquire of their husbands at their homes.

Third. This was in the interest of order, and to prevent what the British call "heckling" a speaker in a public meeting.

Fourth. Waiving Mr. Coffey's challenge to give one individual example of a woman's teaching in the time of Paul I will give him the instructions laid down by the apostle himself, governing her personal appearance when she exercised the function of teaching and preaching, viz; I Cor., chapter 11, which proves the fact. The apostle's prohibition, as we have said was to prevent irregular conduct which showed that the speaker was not under the influence of the Spirit of God.

It seems hardly credible that in this country, where all the most cultured, connected to worship because powerful semi "trusts" who usurp their privileges in the Christian church on assumed scriptural grounds.

Respectfully,

JOHN TROLAND.

Norwich, March 21, 1923.

Church Rules and Regulations.

Mr. Editor: In a recent copy of The Bulletin I note that Mrs. Stroube has branded one of my previous letters as "trash." I feel sure, however, that this is not the general consensus of opinion. I also feel sure, from the statements made by Mrs. Stroube, that she is a preacher and that her mind was already fully made up as to the incorrectness of my position. Hence her method of explaining away the scriptures to fit her own ideas clearly discernable to the person possessed of normal reasoning faculties.

No one at all acquainted with the teachings of Christ and the apostles will dispute the statement that women as well as men are called to be members of the church ("the body of Christ"). All who respond to this call and are accepted by Christ receive from him a commission to preach the gospel. These are to preach in whatever manner and way the Lord may direct—by prophesying, which is preaching by word of mouth, or otherwise. No doubt Philip's four daughters were doing a missionary work of prophesying (preaching) to the unbelievers thereabouts. Acts 21:9. There is no scripture to controvert such an assumption.

It was the divinely given privilege of the Apostle Paul to prescribe certain regulations to govern the church throughout the gospel age. The force of his argument in I Cor. and elsewhere goes to show that while it is proper for men, and women as well, to engage in the work of preaching the gospel; yet that it is not proper for women to preach to the Lord's people themselves or to lead in their services when there are men in the congregation competent to perform such services. It is clear from his argument that to do so would be to usurp authority over man. Where there is no brother in the congregation competent to lead then it is that the regulation in regard to women having her head covered is applicable. I Cor. 11: 5, 6. Regardless of the significance of this as an oriental custom it clearly pictures that such a woman recognizes man as her head. This regulation is to further show the relation the entire church bears to Christ, its head. The headship that Christ exercises over the church is a rule to which no honest Christian can find objection. It is beneficial from every point of view. The headship the husband should exercise over the wife should likewise be governed by the precepts and teachings of Christ and the apostles, and, if this were the case in each Christian family, we would never hear of divorces or other family troubles. It is because the churches of Christendom as a whole have adopted man-made rules and regulations instead of the more simple and better rules laid down by the Lord Jesus and the apostles that these churches are fast losing their hold on the masses of the people.

H. E. COFFEY.

Burnet, Texas, March 17, 1923.

Tolland—Rev. William Darby returned from visiting his uncle in Springfield this week. He is much improved in health and hopes to soon resume his duties as pastor of the Federated church.

Wives of Famous Men

Mary Devlin, Wife of Edwin Booth

Mrs. Edwin Booth, nee Mary Devlin, was, like also her husband, a player. But her talent was rather for singing and her parts on the stage were usually musical. Her education was directed along that line. Born in Troy, N. Y., she spent her childhood in that city. She was educated in New York city and her tutor in music was the famous English opera star, Mrs. Seguin, and when she left this lady's care she was well grounded in the art. She was not only talented in this line, but she showed an inclination to go on the stage early in life. Her first public appearance was in Troy. She was successful from the start. In the beginning, her parts were in musical plays such as "Guy Mannering" in which she portrayed Lucy Bertram. Later she took speaking parts and was equally successful in these roles. She starred in "Romeo and Juliet" and her grace and beauty became known far and wide.

Mary Devlin met Booth in New York where he was playing at the Richmond Theatre, in 1860. They were betrothed the following year and in July 1860 they were married in New York. They went to England shortly after the wedding and Mrs. Booth never returned to the stage. Their married life was one of perfect peace and happiness. They loved each other dearly and into the short space of time they had together they crowded the joys of ages. Mary was—as one biographer describes her—"a gentle creature, the incarnation of sunshine who by the unconscious loveliness of her life seemed born to give happiness and hope."

To the end her husband was most devoted to his Mary. They settled in Dorchester when they returned from England and when Booth left his home to resume his stage career, Mrs. Booth's health did not permit her to accompany him. She did not seem to be in any danger and he was in no way worried when he left. But he never saw his wife again. Her illness became suddenly worse and she sank so rapidly that before Booth could reach her bedside she had died.

She was buried at Mount Auburn, where, 30 years later, her husband was laid beside her. Booth married a second time, but he never forgot Mary, for long after his second marriage he placed a memorial window in the Berkeley Memorial church.

Free to Asthma and Hay Fever Sufferers

Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Chronic Asthma or Hay Fever, you should send for a free Trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with Asthma or Hay Fever, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it Today—you even do not pay postage.

FREE TRIAL COUPON
FRONTIER ASTHMA CO.,
Room 21-Y Niagara and Hudson Streets, Buffalo, N. Y.
Send free trial of your method to:
.....
.....
.....

FISHING TACKLE

The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.
SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS.
All Agate Guide Casting Rods. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD
BULLETIN BUILDING
74 FRANKLIN STREET

Today's Anniversaries

1815—Prince Oscar Lapham, son of the prophet of Mormonism and plural marriages, born in Norway. Died in Paris, March 8, 1882.

1815—Signing of the treaty of Vienna restoring to Austria the Italian provinces and annexing a new kingdom between Great Britain, Austria and Russia.

1831—George H. Williams, United States senator from Oregon and attorney-general of the United States, born at New Lebanon, N. Y. Died in 1910.

1849—A maritime commercial Milan, and Sardinians, led by King Charles Albert, took possession of the city.

1877—Execution of John D. Lee, Mormon bishop, convicted of being the main instigator in the Mountain Meadows massacre.

1891—The Ontario Farmers' Union was organized.

1909—Federal supreme court declared the railway rates laws of Minnesota and North Carolina unconstitutional.

1922—Prince of Wales arrived in Ceylon.
U. S. House of Representatives passed Soldiers' Bonus bill.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Something more than a decade ago two men, without capital, amazed the world by building a railroad across the continent in Canada in competition with the Canadian Pacific and the grand Trunk. The road was the Canadian Northern. The builders were two Scotch Canadians, formerly known as Bill and Dan, later as Mackenzie and Mann, and now by virtue of honor bestowed by King George they are Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann. The last-named today is in line for congratulations on his 70th birthday. The two became partners in their youthful days. Both were brought up on farms and both went west to seek their fortunes. In the beginning Mackenzie was a carpenter and a bridge builder. Mann was a woodchopper, a timber cruiser and later a tie contractor. How the two partners succeeded in their gigantic undertaking without putting a share of stock on the market is one of the romances of modern business and finance.

Today's Birthdays

Cardinal Bourne, archbishop of Westminster, born at Clapham, England 67 years ago today.

Sir Donald D. Mann, eminent Canadian railroad builder, born at Acton, Ont., 70 years ago today.

Dr. Charles H. Richards, president of Lehigh University, born at Clarkshill, Ind., 52 years ago today.

Thomas S. B. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, born at Aberdeen, Md., 52 years ago today.

Hazel Dawn, popular photoplay actress, born at Ogden, Utah, 33 years ago today.

Stories That Recall Others

Going Home.

A professional man had been kept at the office overtime. His wife had invited friends for dinner and he was in a hurry to get home. He got an auto, the driver of which said he was very fond of horses. With the neighborhood where the man lived was Central Park. Every where it was "Whoa, nellie!" and "Gid-dap!" all the time. The driver said no, pass over the fence of the park, there are just as many horses there. He paid that the man carefully removed his overcoat for the gentleman's benefit, rather than let them misrepresented.

Wanted to Clear Family of Debts.

Mrs. A. and Mrs. B. are sisters, the B. family living in another city. In each family there are three grown daughters.

Now all three of the B. girls have been married since fall and Mrs. B. has written her sister long letters describing the weddings and new hopes of her daughters. The letter about the youngest daughter's wedding came to the A. home the other evening and Mrs. A. read it aloud to her three single daughters, her youngest son and his father.

"Now that Gladys is married, I suppose we'll get a long rest from Aunt B.'s letters," said one of the girls, rather sentimentally.

"Yes, I suppose so," agreed the younger brother, and while Aunt B. is reading, he looked meaningly at the three girls. "I imagine mother would like to write her some less letters of the same kind herself."

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

The Nicaraguan Canal Route.

Whether a Nicaraguan Canal will be built is a question which only the future can answer; but it has been so continuously discussed and its possible site so thoroughly surveyed that the term "Nicaraguan Canal route" is easily described. This route, in which interest has been reawakened by the recent signing of a protocol between the United States and Costa Rica, relating to the proposed canal, is the subject of the following bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society:

"The Panama Canal, if one leaves its locks and small artificial lake out of consideration, may be considered the American Suez; for it is relatively short and direct," says the bulletin. "The Nicaragua route—again ignoring locks—must be compared with the Turkish straits; it is relatively long, and has in its course a great natural inland sea from which narrow ship-ways are projected.

"A Nicaraguan canal would be less a man-made affair than the Panama Canal, where at every turn nature had to be thwarted and subdued by engineers. There ships now move every foot of the interocean way through great ditches that were dug, or a lake that was created by men. The Chagres river was turned aside to make a lake and even its bed was discarded. If a Nicaraguan canal were built according to existing plans, it would entail much excavation and lock building, but work that nature has already done would be utilized to a marked degree.

"From the Atlantic end a canal would have to be excavated, largely through lowlands, for some 50 miles; for the lower reaches of the San Juan river are clogged with sand brought down from the uplands of Costa Rica. Locks would then raise the waterway to the 109-foot level of the lake. Ships would be transferred into the San Juan river, dammed at this point, and would move up its slack water for [illegible]

Collinsville—The Canton Academy Memorial Association held their annual meeting in the public library. The officers for the ensuing year were elected. They are: President, F. J. Heuer; vice president, William Strong; secretary, F. E. Wilder; treasurer, W. J. Sondaet.

FRECKLES

March Worst Month for This Trouble—How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all Summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

"COTTON SPECIALISTS"

COTTON IDEAL STORES
FROM MILL TO YOU

119 Main Street, Corner Market Street Norwich, Conn.

OPENING SALE CONTINUED

FOR THE BENEFIT OF SOME FOLKS THAT HAVEN'T HAD AN OPPORTUNITY TO VISIT OUR NEW STORE, WE ARE CONTINUING OUR OPENING SALE. IF YOU HAVEN'T VISITED US, IT WOULD BE BENEFICIAL TO YOU TO DO SO NOW. MUCH MORE MERCHANDISE HAS BEEN ADDED TO OUR STOCK SINCE THE OPENING.

SASH CURTAINS—Of fine Checked Marquisette, trimmed with lace edges—white or ecru—PAIR..... 59c

CRETONNES—Light and dark patterns to select from—36 inches wide—YARD..... 19c

MARQUISETTE—Tape cord borders for pretty curtains—36 inches wide—white or ecru—YARD..... 19c

DRESSER SCARFS—Filet lace with tan or white centers — Also some lace edge with white Linene centers—Opening Sale, Each..... 59c

REVERSIBLE TAPESTRY—For pretty drapery hangings or furniture coverings — Priced regularly at 89c a yard—NOW YARD..... 59c

TERRY CLOTH—New Spring patterns for pretty hangings, reversible individual patterns on both sides—36 inches wide, at yard..... 95c

54-Inch Round Cloths—Scalloped edge, with lace insertions and medallions—NOW..... $1.25

CURTAIN MADRAS—Pretty patterns, yard wide, white or ecru, sells at 49c a yard—NOW YARD..... 39c

MERCERIZED SUNFAST—High lustre, yard wide, in rose, Blue and green—YARD..... 79c

CREPONGE RATINE—In rose, blue, white and tan, for dresses and sport suits—YARD..... 59c

PAISLEY VOILES—Oriental and King Tut patterns, light and dark—YARD..... 59c

LINGERIE CREPE—Flowered striped and plain colors, pink, blue, orchid, white—YARD..... 29c

DRESS GINGHAMS—In a assortment of most wanted checks—32 inches wide—YARD..... 29c

TABLE DAMASK—64 inches wide—satin finish, snow white—2 YARDS..... $1.00

DINNER NAPKINS—Pretty patterns of good damask, 13-inch..... 12½c

TURKISH TOWELS—Extra large and heavy, plain white—Also colored borders—NOW..... 49c

LARGE HUCK TOWELS—Fast color red stripe borders, close weave..... 12½c

DRESS LINENE—For dresses and Suits, nice for street wear—rose, green, orchid—YARD..... 29c

CRIB BLANKETS—Pink and blue checks—A double pair for..... 69c

CROCHET SPREADS—Double bed size, heavy weight, clear of dressing—SPECIAL AT..... $2.29

Embroidered Pillow Cases—42x36, on good quality muslin—OPENING SALE..... 49c

KITCHEN TOWELS—Hemmed and looped with blue stripe border—EACH..... 15c

PLAID BLANKETS—In pretty color combinations, deep blue blankets, wool finish, 64x76—A PAIR..... $3.00

COMFORTERS—Double bed size, silkoline flowered, clean cotton filling..... $2.50

PILLOW CASES—A good quality muslin, 42x36, hemmed—EACH..... 25c

FEATHER PILLOWS—Of clean new feathers and good ticking—EACH..... 79c

TABLE CLOTHS—Bleached, hemstitched of fine quality cotton..... $1.00

BED SHEETS—Made of firm bleeching..... 95c

TOWELINGS—All pure linen crash, hemmed and all stripes for extra use—YARD..... 15c

Buy Direct From the Factory

If you are in need of a Men's, Young Men's or Boys' Suit, Pants and a complete assortment of Clothing and Furnishings, we invite you to examine our line of merchandise before buying. By trading here you save the middleman's profit.

MEN'S SUITS

We carry a large and complete assortment of Men's and Young Men's Suits, in all models and styles—

Priced $10.00 to $25.00

BOYS' SUITS

500 Boys' Sample Suits—Just received from our salesmen. All this season's materials and styles—all sizes—

Priced $3.75 to $7.50

This lot includes all grades of material—Tweeds, Serges, Cassemeres and Flannels.

Boys' Blue Serge Juvenile Suits, in sailor style—sizes 3 to 8 years..... $4.00

Boys' Juvenile Tweed Suits—ages 3 to 8 years..... $3.98

Boys' Mixture Caps..... 75c

Boys' Serge Caps..... $1.00

12 pairs Boys' Pants—assorted materials—we have assorted them in three lots—

50c—75c—$1.00

Boys' Extra Size Knee Pants, ages 17, 18, 19, 20 years, pair..... $1.75

Girls' Tweed Knickers, sizes 27 to 32 waist..... $2.95

We have just listed a few of the many items we carry. Notwithstanding the present advancing market, many of the items listed are below present wholesale prices.

The Norwich Bargain House
MORE FOR LESS
3-7 Water Street, Cor. Washington Sq., Norwich, Conn.

TWENTY-FIVE years of indigestion was ended for her when she took Tanlac, declares Mrs. M. F. Streeter, well known resident of Newark, in remarkable statement to the public.

"Tanlac has made me feel like a new person and I wouldn't be without it," declared Mrs. M. F. Streeter, 213 S. 9th St., Newark, N. J.

"Off and on for twenty-five years I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. My food disagreed with me and often I could hardly retain a thing. Gas bloated me till my heart palpitated so badly I feared I had heart disease. My nerves were on edge, I couldn't sleep, suffered awful headaches and was simply all worn out.

"But five bottles of Tanlac put me in the finest health. I eat hearty without trouble afterwards, sleep soundly and have no more nervousness or headaches. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

DISASTROUS FLOOD IN THE MISSOURI RIVER BOTTOMS

Sioux City, Ia., March 22.—Seven persons are reported dead, hundreds of head of livestock drowned and scores of farm dwellings swept away as the result of a sudden flood in the Missouri river bottoms south of here, caused tonight by a five-mile ice gorge.

Airplanes bombed the gorge tonight without result. Dynamite charges also were ineffective. Unless the ice gorge is broken by morning flood stage will be reached at Sioux City.

Sudden bursting of the ice pack is imperiling the lives and the property of hundreds of people in the lowlands along the banks of the Missouri river south of the gorge.

OLD BATTLESHIP IOWA SUNK BY THE MISSISSIPPI

Aboard U. S. S. Maryland, Panama Bay, March 22.—(By Radio to The A. P.)—The old battleship Iowa, radio-controlled, was sunk today by shells fired from the big guns of the super-dreadnaugh Mississippi, during the final phase of extensive battle drills of the United States fleet.

ITALIANS ADVANCE IN NORTH AFRICA

Rome, March 22.—A despatch from Bengazi, North Africa, says the Italian detachments operating against the tribesmen have occupied Carcoura and Tcheleidima, thus extending for 100 kilometers southward the Bengazi zone of direct control on the western plain of Libya.

France's Troubles.

France must be fully aware that the name Germany that owns the Ruhr matches clear to Poland and Czecho-Slovakia.—Boston Herald.

Especially If He's Fat.

"People are not apt to envy those beneath them," remarks a writer. But how about the man in the upper berth of a Pullman?—Boston Transcript.

Bonds were fixed at $10,000 each in the cases of Edward Boyle, 20, and Lester Boyle, 17, when they were brought into city court in New Haven on charges of robbery with personal abuse and carrying concealed weapons.

Three-Piece Costume Suits

Richly trimmed, graceful designs, suited to every figure. You will like them as much for their feminine charm as for their very attractive price—

$20.00 and up

CARON'S Specialty Shop

140 MAIN STREET

1758 [illegible] 1922

Norwich, Friday, March 23, 1922.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light Vulcan lamps at 5.33 o'clock tonight.

Next Sunday will be Palm Sunday, the next to last Sunday in Lent.

A certificate of dissolution has been filed by the Wallingford Realty Co.

Sale this afternoon, Park church, aprons, food, candy, afternoon tea.—adv.

The state boy scouts meet will be held in Waterbury, May 19, it was decided at a meeting of state scout executives held in Bridgeport.

Mrs. Elisha Payne entertained the members of Lady Stratcona lodge, Daughters of Scotia of Groton, at her home in New London Wednesday.

Mrs. Frederick W. Haist entertained members of the Parish Aid society of the Bishop Seabury Memorial church at her home in Groton Wednesday.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive assembled stenographer-typist examination for men only, at Westerly on April 14.

Trinity Episcopal food sale, tomorrow (Saturday) 10 a. m., Pendleton's store.—adv.

Waterbury's grand list is $149,510,-337, and its taxable grand list $131,-430,007, according to the grand list recapitulation as issued by the board of tax commissioners and assessors.

About 500 men will be cut from the force at the Naval Torpedo station, Newport, by July 1, the beginning of the government's fiscal year, according to an order issued by the navy department.

The Rev. David P. Gaines, pastor of the First Baptist church of Waterbury, will leave for Stockholm, Sweden, some time in July. He will be a delegate to the Baptist World Alliance.

In connection with the plans that are being formulated for the Centennial celebration at Trinity College in June and the annual commencement exercises, two committees have been announced.

Removal sale, newest millinery, trimmed hats at lowest prices. Come and see. 44 Broadway, Fournier.—adv.

The Young Women's Social circle of the Groton Heights Baptist church, met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Brown, Smith street, and planned for a penny social, the last of April.

The death of Mrs. Mary J. Burrows occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Palmer in Noank Wednesday. She was born in Waterford, June 12 ,1827, the daughter of Rouse and Desire Davis.

Waterbury's population suffered a considerable decrease by reason of births and deaths during the year 1922, according to a survey made of the records in the comptroller's and town clerk's office.

A farewell party was tendered Wednesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. John Rankin of Poquonnoc, who are soon to move from the village. The guests gave the Rankins a 10-piece luncheon set as a token of their esteem.

Helping Hands baked bean and salad supper, Spiritual Academy, Park st., Saturday, March 24, 5 to 7 p. m. 35 cents.—adv.

The Hartford food commission, created during the war, passed out of existence, no provision having been made for it in the 1923-1924 budget. The commission held its final meeting and wound up its affairs.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Robert A. La Place Post, American Legion, in Essex, this week, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for appropriate Memorial Day services including a parade.

Three steel buoys are to be reestablished on or about April 1 by the U. S. lighthouse commission within a short radius of Little Gull island lighthouse in Long Island sound. They will be placed in about seven fathoms of water.

Will open tomorrow, latest millinery and trimmed hats, 29 Franklin st., opposite Talking Machine Shop, Mme. Fournier.—adv.

A certificate of dissolution has been filed at the office of the secretary of the state by the State Loan Company of Hartford. The certificate was signed by J. L. Warner, Harry Middleton and Everett E. Warner.

Trinity College's chorus and glee club is going to be one of the largest singing bodies in the more recent history of the college. At the recent rehearsals there have been nearly 100 men reporting for instruction.

Mrs. Susan Kincaid Noel, assistant professor of history at Connecticut College for Women, was on Wednesday afternoon given a leave of absence to seek recovery of health and it is hoped rest and entire change will restore this.

The legislative committee on claims voted unanimously to recommend the rejection of a claim of $2,-632.44 in behalf of Charles A. Platt, a New York landscape architect, for preparing plans for changing the layout of the capitol ground.

Articles of association have been filed by the Supreme Social and Athletic Club of Hartford. The following names were signed to the document: Michael Vasquenza, Rocco Fillippo, James Vasquenza, Charles Fabrizy and Lawrence Galliot.

Judge Harlan B. Howe of Burlington, Vt., who, at a recent session of the United States district court in Hartford dismissed fifty-two liquor cases in as many seconds, will sit again at a session of the court which opens in New Haven, April 2.

Decision was reserved by the state banking commission following a hearing on an application for a charter for a proposed bank in East Haven to be known as the East Haven Bank and Trust company. The capital stock would be $25,000.

The original Orderly Book for Captain John Spalding's Company in Major General Phineas Lyman's Regiment in the Campaign of 1761 at Crown Point, Canada, has been presented to the state library by Mrs. Charles F. Burrows of Moosup.

Notice was received by Frank E. Doyo, secretary of Samaritan lodge, I. O. O. F., Danbury, that there is a vacancy in the Odd Fellows' Home, Groton, and that Dr. Allen P. MacDonald, who has made application for admittance will be accepted.

The physical benefits resulting from the navy's system of physical culture, combined with a scientifically planned diet, is shown in a striking manner by the records kept of a group of 127 recruits at the Naval Training Station at Newport, R. I.

James S. McCandless of Honolulu, Hawaii, imperial potentate of the ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine of North America, was a guest at a luncheon with Governor Templeton, Lieutenant Governor Bingham, Speaker Leonard J. Nickerson and Senator John H. Trumbull Tuesday night.

PERSONALS

J. H. Caron has returned from a business trip to New York.

William E. Mayo is ill with a severe cold at his home at 178 Franklin street.

Herbert W. Lucas of this city has reached Seattle, Wash., on his western trip.

OBITUARY.

Annie Brailsford.

Annie Brailsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Brailsford of 119 New Village, Plainfield, died Wednesday in this city after an operation for appendicitis. She was born eleven years ago in Warren, R. I. She attended the public school in Plainfield and is survived by her father, mother and ten children.

George W. Palmer

After an illness of about one week George W. Palmer died Wednesday afternoon at 1.15 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Phoebe L. Norman of Allyns Point. Mr. Palmer had been suffering with ptomaine poisoning.

Mr. Palmer was born in Ledyard, on the road to Meeting House Hill, on May 24, 1846, the son of Daniel E. and Lucy Stoddard Palmer and spent the greater part of his life in Ledyard.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Phoebe L. Norman of Allyns Point, and one brother, Perry Palmer, who is now on a boat bound for New York from the East Indies.

News of the death of Mr. Palmer came as a shock to his many friends in Ledyard. He was a true brother and friend and there are many who sympathize with his relatives in their time of sorrow.

Mrs. Edward L. Turner

After an illness of about one week the death of Jean Borthwick, wife of Edward L. Turner, occurred Wednesday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock at her home at 314 Central avenue.

Mrs. Turner was born in Kaivendale, Scotland, May 31, 1846, the daughter of Alexander and Helen Henderson Borthwick. When five years of age she came to this country with her parents, locating near Poquonoc. After residing there for one year she came to Norwich with her family and made her home in this city practically ever since.

About 56 years ago in Chaplin she was united in marriage to Edward Lyman Turner of that town, by Rev. Mr. Williams, pastor of the Chaplin Congregational church. She is survived by her husband two children, George E. Turner and Mrs. Henry W. Lane of Norwich, three grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Duncan Gilmour of Orange, Mass., Mrs. Helen Hough of Boston, Mass., Mrs. John Reaugh and Mrs. Joseph Marsh of Norwich; also an uncle, James Henderson of Prospect street.

Mrs. Turner was well known to many in this city. She was a loving wife and mother and a friend to be prized. Her death came as a shock to her many friends for by her kind acts she had come to mean much to them all. Her family have the sympathy of all in their days of sorrow.

Mrs. E. A. Douglas

Friends were saddened by the death of Mary Mason Douglas of Sterling Hill, wife of Judge Eugene E. Douglas, which occurred March 16th at a private sanatorium in Providence, the result of pneumonia. Mary Mason Baker was born in Natick, R. I., September 30th, 1853. After attending the state normal school in Providence. She had a career as a successful and popular teacher. Since her marriage in 1889 her home has been on Sterling Hill, where her influence has always been felt in every good cause. A firm adherence to the right and unshakable faith in God and in eternal life, a deep religious devotion have distinguished an unusually strong character. For nearly half a century she has been a loyal worker in the Sterling Hill Baptist church. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union and all missionary causes lose an ardent supporter. The memories of an unselfish and loving personality in the home embodying always the highest ideal will ever be cherished by those whose privilege it was to know her intimately.

The funeral was held at her home March 20th at 1 p. m. Rev. E. W. Darrow of Holyoke, Mass., officiated, assisted by Rev. Charles Nightingale. "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," was sung with deep feeling by Mr. Darrow. The bearers were relatives, J. Leroy Frink, George E. Middleton, Howard T. Byles and E. E. Freman. Flowers in beauty and abundance testified to the high place in which she was held by those who knew her. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery. Among those who mourn her loss are a husband, two daughters, Mrs. H. T. Byles of Evanston, Illinois, Miss Florence E. Douglas and a niece, Mrs. J. Leroy Frink.

Mrs. James Martin.

Mrs. James Martin, a former resident of this city, died Monday at her home in Meriden after a lingering illness. She owned a summer cottage, Leisure Hour, at Gales Ferry, where she had passed many seasons.

Mrs. Martin was born in Scotland, but came to this country in early life. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Sperry, of Bridgeport, and a son, Herbert, of New York city.

BRANDEGEE TO REMAIN IN WASHINGTON TILL SUMMER

Senator Frank A. Brandegee of Connecticut thinks Washington is without a peer as a place for idling congressmen, so he will remain here until the heat drives him to New London in the summer. At present he finds even the capital's capricious climate preferable to the deep winter conditions prevailing throughout his sector of New England. Brandegee, who breathes fire and brimstone at the mention of the league of nations or international conferences, was at a private luncheon party the other day, which developed into a Kilkenney over world court conversation. He had to leave the company early, and, departing, said: "There's nothing like stretching our legs under the conference table to reach unanimity on controversial issues."—Frederick William Wile in Washington Star.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF DEAN OF BALTIC ACADEMY

The golden jubilee of Mother Mary Frances, dean of the Academy of the Holy Family at Baltic, was celebrated Thursday with a large attendance of alumnae from all parts of the state. As a testimonial of the high regard in which the dean is held by the alumnae she received from them the gift of a golden casket containing $1,000. The presentation was made by Mrs. M. A. Bailey of Hartford.

Willimantic Tenor Will Sing.

Charles B. Jordan, tenor of Willimantic is to sing Friday evening at the special Lenten service at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Mr. Jordan is well known as a soloist through his association with the Old Folks Concert of Willimantic.

Easter Vacation Beginning.

Easter vacation for the public schools begins at the close of the school sessions today (Friday). The schools will reopen Monday, April 2.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE CIVIC PROGRAM WITH ADDRESS BY MAYOR WATERS

An interesting civic program was conducted Thursday afternoon at 3.45 o'clock in the auditorium of the Elizabeth street school, which was filled to its capacity by the pupils and their friends. Principal J. B. Stanton presided.

Musical numbers, recitations and exercises by the pupils were on the program, at the close of which Mayor Milo R. Waters gave an instructive talk on the management of city affairs.

Others to speak briefly were Chief Howard L. Stanton of the fire department, James C. Macpherson and Robert McNeely of the school board, Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the Chamber of Commerce, Rev. J. Harlow Graham of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church and Scout Executive F. E. Benton.

The following was the program: Music, March, school orchestra; music, a. Blue Danube, b. To Thee, O Country, eighth grades; music, America the Beautiful, school; prize essay, Norwich, Gertrude Weinstein; recitation, Putting Out Fire in Celestial Times, Rose Khanbar; The Schoolhouse Stands by the Flag, Meyer Segel; The Community Beautiful, Lillian Blinderman.

Moving picture demonstration, The Public Health Department, Orrin Herts, Anna Tait, Virginia Young, Clara E. Rudnick; Gladys Schwartz, Yossles Gordon, Morris Goldblatt, Louis Zierler, Lucile Morse, Mary Farrell, Abraham Belson.

Recitations, Beautifying the Streets, Irene Broadhurst; Which? Francis McCarthy; music, Santa Lucia, Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes, school; recitations, Honest and True, Yetta Cohen; How We Can Help, James Mullin, William Mahoney, Anna Cupsak, Joseph Gordon, Eva Burchman, Dorothy Parsons, Sophie Andrews; Making a Town, Alice Parsons; Which Are You? Helen Snow; Give Them a Place to Play, Herman Johnson; Camp's Daily Dozen, pupils from different classes; The American Bond Question Box, school; music, The Star Spangled Banner, school.

RECTOR GRAHAM PREACHES AT UNITED SERVICE

The last of the united Lenten services was held Thursday evening at Trinity Episcopal church the sermon being delivered by Rev. Richard R. Graham rector of Christ Episcopal church, in the absence of Rev. G. E. Tobin, rector of Christ church, Westerly, R. I., who is confined to his bed because of illness.

Rev. Mr. Graham took his sermon from John, 14th chapter, 8th verse, "Lo, show us the Father and it suffices us." In reading this quotation, he said, we must remember that condition under which Philip was when he spoke the words to Jesus. All were assembled in the upper chamber that night and everyone felt that there was some impending danger surrounding them but they could not ascertain what it was. Even Christ himself seemed to be held by the spirit and was troubled, although he spoke to the disciples and told them to fear not. Every one of the disciples, Philip also, would gladly have given their lives for Christ, but they were like unto men groping their way in a fog, and Philip, rather than to continue in this way, wanted to find and easy way out, and he asked the question.

Christ gently rebuked Philip and said that after he had gone someone would come to be a comforter to them and guide them. Christ admits that he spoke in parables and we can sympathize with Philip and see why he asked the question. How often do we long for a clearer vision of God than we have been shown. Everyone has felt at times, in reading the words of Christ, that it would have been easier to understand had he talked straight to the point instead of using the parables. This same feeling comes to us all who live so far from the center of things.

We would also sometimes ask, show us the Father and it suffices, show us out once the hand that guides all things, let us see what is before us, let us see what is to become of us, show us the life everlasting, not alone the material things that are liable to our ways.

Jesus said he came to earth to reveal God to man. Philip did not understand all that Christ had taught and he was justified in asking the question in a way. We must remember that Christ always refused to tell of or give a sign from heaven.

To Philip, Jesus said, "He who hath seen me hath seen the Father," there is no need of a sign of power. The disciples had seen Christ heal the sick, make the blind see, cleanse the leper, and raise the dead to life. They had seen the wonderful kindness of Christ, his wonderful personality. Christ said he who hath seen me hath seen the Father; what sign could be given that could show more of the Father? Christ refused to show God, not because he could not do so, but because God was revealed in his own person.

Christ had told them of the home of many mansions, and they were satisfied. He had said, "I am the way, the truth, and the light." Philip couldn't see in spite of Christ's teaching and did not hesitate to say so. It might be well if we were as true and asked when we were in darkness, owned up to our failure to understand.

Many times we pray foolish prayers to God and wonder why they are not heeded. Christ when the disciple asked the question which was foolish said, "Have I been so long with you that you do not know me?" Philip in asking the question showed that it was vital to him. Philip believed in Christ loved him, yet longed for a greater knowledge of God. It would be well did we also long as did Philip for greater enlightenment.

Moses at one time when leading the children of Israel to the promised land found them getting out of hand and prayed to God for a fuller revelation of Himself. He prayed that God might show him His glory, his might and majesty. God could show us his power if he desired but is that the God he really is? Through Jesus he showed us his real personality, perfection in holiness and love. He that would know the will of God must walk in the way of holiness and love, for Christ said, "If a man love me, my Father will love him, and we will come and make our home with him."

The scripture reading was by Archdeacon J. Eldred Brown, rector of Trinity Episcopal church.

WATCH WEATHER FOR SUMMER PREDICTION

A Norwich man who professes to read the weather signs said Thursday that today (Friday) would give a sure sign for the kind of summer we are to have. If the wind stays in the south, it will be a sure sign of a hot summer.

Discussed Norwich Traffic Club.

E. C. Farnum, traveling agent of the New Haven railroad, and a member of the traffic club of the Providence Chamber of Commerce, addressed a meeting of about 25 Norwich shippers Wednesday evening in the chamber of commerce rooms on the formation of a Norwich Traffic club. It was voted that Russell A. Clapp, chairman of the transportation committee of the chamber, should appoint a committee of ten to investigate the advisability of forming a club here.

A traffic club might discuss for the mutual benefit of all the shippers of this community, such subjects as rate adjustments, classification matters, general transportation, regulation matters, embargoes, local transportation conveniences and facilities, securing proper rates to permit meeting competitions routing inbound and outbound shipments so as obtain best service at lowest cost and tracing delayed shipments, etc.

Six hundred aerial photographs were taken to make a map of Kansas City, Kan.

COLCHESTER SUIT ON TRIAL IN SUPERIOR COURT

The superior court at New London Thursday before Judge C. L. Avery and a jury was engaged all day in the trial of the suit of Moses Killgon of Colchester against the Colchester Farm Produce Co., and others. When court adjourned for the day the testimony was all in except for one witness for the defense who is to come on next Tuesday morning.

The suit is to recover payment of a balance of $6,000 on a note for $13,000, dated Oct. 15. Ten defendants, officers and directors of the Colchester Farm Produce Co., named in the suit. They are J. Nelkin, admr., of the estate of F. Nelkin, Samuel Gellert, Abraham Jaffe, Isaac Neleber, Harris B. Minsk, H. Gilman, Max Cohen and Benjamin London of Colchester and Morris Villensky and Jacob Leyin of Lebanon, who were endorsers of the note.

Motion for a non-suit as to Nelkin, Levine and Villensky on the ground that the note had not been presented to them for payment, was granted.

Attorney E. W. Perkins and Charles V. James appear for the plaintiff and Attorneys Arthur L. Libby and Thomas M. Shields appear for Gellert, Jaffe, Neleber, Minsk, Gillman, Cohen and London.

SUES TO RECOVER FOR TWO ALLEGED FORGERIES

Sarah E. Moran of this city has brought suit in the superior court, returnable in April, against Joseph J. and Louis H. Swartzburg, both of Norwich, to recover damages for two checks, each of for $300, alleged to have been forged by the defendants in the name of the plaintiff. A large touring car belonging to Louis Swartzburg has been attached by Deputy Sheriff George H. Stanton, who served the papers.

It is alleged in the complaint that on March 16, 1920, the two defendants forged and uttered a check for $300 payable to the order of Joseph Swartzburg and signed with the name of the defendant without her knowledge or consent. It is claimed that the check was cashed at the Thames National bank, charged to the account of the plaintiff and she was obliged to pay it. The date of the second check is given as April 12, 1920, payable to the order of Louis Swartzburg. The plaintiff's loss is $600 and she claims double damages as by statute provided.

TWO B'NAI BRITH LODGES ENJOYED GALA EVENING

The two B'nai Brith organizations Rose of New England lodge, No. 558, and Auxiliary No. 40, enjoyed a gala evening Thursday in a joint social at the Buckingham Memorial with an attendance of about 100.

A delicious supper was served at 8 o'clock, during which the musical feature were songs composed by Mrs. A. H. Manes, who rendered the verses while the company joined in the choruses. The words were appropriate for a B'Nai Brith gathering and were written to the tunes of There's Music in the Air, Three O'Clock In the Morning and Everybody Works But Father. An inspiring address upon The Inner Light was made by Max Hanover. The evening closed with dancing.

The arrangements were successfully carried out by Elkin Smith and Mrs. A. H. Manes, chairmen of the lodge committees.

VISITED JOHN SHEEHY IN DANBURY HOSPITAL

Frank Murdy, Henry Brown, Edward Connelly, Earl Christman, Joseph McCarthy, Louis Masse, Louis Trachtenberg, Charles Appleby, John Fontaine, George Dolan and George J. Meyer, agents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, called on John Sheehy, formerly assistant superintendent of the local office, Wednesday. Mr. Sheehy is a patient in the Danbury hospital having been injured in an automobile accident over a month ago. Mr. Sheehy suffered injuries to his leg and the member has been amputated above the ankle. Mr. Sheehy is now manager of the Danbury office but resides on Prospect street in this city. The trip was made in automobiles furnished by the agents.

HEAVY ORDNANCE HAS PASSED GOOD INSPECTION

Heavy ordnance inspection for Battery B and the Combat Train, 192nd Field Artillery, was conducted at the state armory Wednesday evening under Major Lewis Nickerson, ordnance officer of the First Corps Area at Boston. The inspection was by a first class ordnance mechanic, covering the big 155 millimeter gun and the tractors, all of which were reported to have been found in excellent condition.

GRANTS DIVORCE TO HUSBAND FOR DESERTION

Clifford E. Smith of New London was granted a divorce from Florence Bloomer Smith, also of that city, by Judge Christopher L. Avery in a decision handed down in the superior court Thursday. Judgment was entered on the grounds of desertion. Judge Avery heard the case at a short calendar session recently. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married on October 4, 1913.

College Professor in Hospital.

Reported to have suffered a nervous breakdown, Mrs. S. K. Noel, professor of history at Connecticut College for Women, has become a patient at the Norwich state hospital for two weeks' observation. She has been professor of history at the college since 1917.

A military tank which can travel on land or water has been demonstrated before officers of the U. S. War and Navy departments.

TO SUPREME COURT FOR ABANDONING BABY

Fred E. Weeks of Norwich and Hilma Clady of Lebrett were found guilty in the court this week charged with abandonment of an infant child and perjury for swearing under their oath. The Connecticut town officials were unable to secure jury of the three justices of the peace to hear the case and the services of Justice of the Peace Thomas J. Kelley of Willimantic were secured. The hearing was held in the office of Town Clerk Frank C. Lenahan. Grand Juror Frank Langdon acted as prosecuting attorney.

According to the testimony introduced by the state, Weeks and the Clady woman came to Chaplin in November, 1921, with a six months' old baby, which they brought to the home of Weeks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weeks. The Clady woman was desirous of securing a boarding place for the infant, saying that she had to work and had no place to leave the child. Her companion said that he would help support the infant and paid two weeks board in advance. Weeks and the Clady woman then left Chaplin and did not return, neither did the Weeks family receive any money for the support of the child.

Mrs. William Weeks wrote several letters to her son and the Clady woman requesting them to come and take the baby or pay for its keep but received no answers. Mrs. Weeks then put the matter up to the Chaplin town officials who were of the opinion that Chaplin was in no way liable for the keep of the child as it belonged to a non-resident and was born in another town.

Mrs. Weeks, however, placed the child on the town and then the officials got busy and after receiving legal advice warrants were made out for the arrest of Weeks and the Clady woman and placed in the hands of State Policeman Russell I. Harmon and Constable Samuel Stimpson. Both were arrested and brought to Willimantic. It took some little time to arrange court proceedings and the securing of a justice of the peace to hear the case. All concerned then autoed to Chaplin where the hearing was held. Probable cause was found on the charge of abandonment of a child and Weeks and the Clady woman were bound over to the next term of the Windham county superior court under bonds of $200.

RHODE ISLAND REDS ARE HOLDING LEAD

The outstanding feature of the last week of the contest are the maintenance of the lead by a pen of Rhode Island Reds from Fernside Farms at Foxboro, Mass., who have now laid 841 eggs, and the absence of any great increase in egg production in the contest as a whole. The egg production for the week was 3,944 or only 70 eggs more than last week. The usual spring boom in egg production which ordinarily takes place about this time of year is not so evident in this season as the use of electric lights has tended to equalize the egg production of the winter and spring months. Although the egg production last week was 671 eggs less than the production for the corresponding week last year, and it was only 198 eggs less than the eight-year average.

For the past week the best pens were as follows: Rhode Island Reds from Fellows Bros., Norwich Town, Conn., 58 eggs; Rhode Island Reds from Charles H. Lane, Southboro, Mass., 57 eggs; Barred Rocks from Keewaydin Farm, Darien, Conn., 56 eggs; Barred Rocks from Ontario Agricultural college at Guelph, Ont., 53 eggs, and Barred Rocks from Jules F. Francais at Westhampton Beach, L. I., 53 eggs. The heavy breeds, it will be noted, made a clean sweep for the week. This is the time of year when the heavy breeds are getting into their highest production of the year. Rocks, Reds and Wyandottes reach the peak of production in March and April, where as the Leghorns do not attain their highest production until May.

The four leading pens in each of the principal breeds are as follows:

Plymouth Rocks.

Daidson Bros. (White), Upton, Mass.	746
G. B. Treadwell (Barred), Spencer, Mass.	966
Jasper E. Guptill (Barred), Berwick, Me.	617
W. H. B. Kent (Barred), West Lafayette, Ind.	909

White Wyandottes.

Frank P. Matteson, Daviaville, R. I.	827
Lady Anderson, Harrold, England.	825
Woodbridge Orchards, Woodbridge, Conn.	797
Obed G. Knight, Bridgeton, R. I.	704

Rhode Island Reds.

Fernside Farm, Foxboro, Mass.	841
Hall Farm, North Bennington, Vt.	747
Fred H. Sampson, Springsted, Mass.	716
Jacob E. Jansen, North Haven, Conn.	697

White Leghorns.

Sunny Willow Egg Farm, East Moriches, L. I.	779
Roy H. White, College Park, Md.	766
Hilltop Farm, Suffield, Conn.	749
Stapp's Leghorn Farm, Atlantic Highlands, N. J.	726

HAD ROUGH RETURN VOYAGE FROM BERMUDA

Dr. John W. Callahan, Henry Vignot, Frank Sisk and Bernard Ring returned Thursday after an enjoyable trip to Bermuda. They left Norwich on March 13th and sailed from New York March 14th.

On the trip north very heavy seas were running due to the northeaster which was raging on the coast. The Norwich party proved themselves good seamen and enjoyed the rough going.

STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT OF PIGGLY-WIGGLY STORES

Memphis, Tenn., March 23.—Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly-Wiggly Stores, Inc., expects "short sellers" of the corporation's stock to settle "on the proper basis" without court action, he declared tonight when questioned about the progress of settlements. He could not believe, he said, that the New York stock exchange "was a welcher or would allow its members to welch on contracts."

Action of the exchange in giving members a five-day extension in meeting calls for stock, he asserted, made its position the same as that of a bank "that would be unable to meet its clearings."

Mr. Saunders is known to have had a telephone conversation with E. W. Bradford, his New York counsel, tonight, but he declined to comment on its nature.

Resources of the pool backing the Piggly-Wiggly Stock, he declared, were "around a hundred million dollars."

No information had yet reached him, Mr. Saunders said as to the proportion of shorts who had settled by the stipulated time of 3 o'clock this afternoon at the designated price of $150 per share.

Saunders, 43 years old, a native of Amherst county, Virginia, began his business career in Memphis less than twenty years ago when he came to this city from Clarksville, Tenn., where he worked as a [illegible]

It's Our Service That Counts

Fitting glasses is comparatively easy, but to fit them CORRECTLY and ACCURATELY is another matter. Our practical experience and right conception of optometry prevents the possibility of errors and incompetency in refracting.

C. A. SPEAR
OPTOMETRIST
Franklin Square,
Norwich, Conn.

THE THREE GRACES

that reflect the high character of our dental work are the best materials, expert workmanship and prompt, careful attention.

GOOD TEETH

are so essential to good health as they are to good looks. No one who values his appearance or his health should neglect to keep his teeth in perfect condition.

Why not make an appointment with us this week?

Paul A. Schwartz
D. M. D.
DENTIST
SOMERS BLOCK
"On the Square"
TELEPHONE 122

wholesale grocery. Clarksville was "a move up" from Palmyra, a neighboring village where he worked in the town's grocery.

When he came to Memphis, Saunders went to work as a salesman for a wholesale grocery firm and in 1916 established a firm of his own to operate as wholesalers to sell for cash only.

In 1916 he devised the "cash and carry" and self-serving system of grocery. This he called Piggly Wiggly. The idea took and he gradually built up a nation-wide chain of such stores, which are reputed to have brought him millions.

80 PER CENT. DIVIDEND BY GERMAN ELECTRICIANS

Berlin, March 23.—The Siemens and Halske Company, manufacturers of electricial apparatus, has declared a dividend of eighty per cent. as compared with twenty per cent. last year. Karl Fredericks Von Siemens, managing director of the company, in announcing the dividend, called attention to the fact that this dividend yields .01 per cent. interest in gold on 1,000 marks shares, or one twenty-fifth of last year's gold interest. He said such instances as this, where the dividend in paper marks apparently was high, was apt to cause an entirely false impression abroad regarding the actual state of affairs.

Continuing, Herr Von Siemens said the receipt of orders had notably dropped off owing to the fall in the dollar exchange rate on the mark and to the hope of price reductions on goods.

The supplies of materials were so great he declared, that the occupation of the Ruhr had so far only slightly affected the operations of the company's plants.

FORMER BROKER GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY

New York, March 23.—Another victim of last spring's cleanup of New York bucketshops awaited sentence tonight after the appearance of James A. Hahs, former broker, to plead guilty to attempted larceny.

He changed his plea from "not guilty" and threw himself on the mercy of Judge Morris Koenig, just as his trial was about to begin in general sessions, and was taken to the Tombs for sentence next Thursday.

Haines, as the head of Haines & Company, formerly of Rector street, was alleged to have stolen from William F. Hill of Caldwell, N. J., 700 shares of Radio Corporation of America, stock.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pains in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments, and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for constipation, biliousness, headaches, and sluggish bowels. Lee & Osgood Co.

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED Ribboncraft For Easter Gifts?

Exceedingly Appropriate
Moderate In Price
—At—
CRANSTON'S

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A bit of good news is that there is strong probability of settlement of the interesting case of Miss Gertrude A. Wardell vs the town of Killingly. Negotiations for a settlement are pending between counsel for Miss Wardell and counsel for the town.

In this particular law suit Miss Wardell is claiming $5,000 damages against the town of Killingly. Several years ago she was a supervisor of music in the public schools of the town of Killingly. She worked a full school year, was re-elected for another year at an advance in salary and served from September until February, when she was summarily dismissed on order of the then superintendent of schools, Horace A. Turner.

Prompt legal action followed her dismissal. She brought suit, alleging among other things that her reputation as a teacher had been injured by being so unceremoniously released from her position here and that as a result of her unexpected going from Killingly she experienced difficulty in getting positions elsewhere.

Every legal barrier at the hands of counsel for the town were set against the case coming to trial and it has dragged on for several years. It was set up that Miss Wardell had no teacher's certificate, a point that was argued out on several occasions in the superior court and eventually went to the supreme court of the state for decision, in a complicated legal maze that means little to a layman.

Following a supreme court decision favorable to Miss Wardell the case was put on the calendar of the superior court of Windham county, but has never come to trial. In the meantime proposals for a settlement out of court have progressed.

The affair have been an expensive one for the town andone that has aroused wide interest among the town's people, especially the taxpayers, who foot the bills. Announcement that it finally has been disposed of will be welcomed with joy, even by those who always have felt that the suit was entirely avoidable.

There is no joy among the membership of the board of selectmen because it has been necessary to advance Killingly's tax rate from 18, the rate last year, to 20 1-2 mills. Selectman John A. Gilbert, ranking member of the board, said that he regrets the necessity of the advance, but that it is unavoidable in view of unlooked for and extraordinary expenses that have developed during the year. No one could foresee the washing out of bridges that deluges took out since the beginning of the fiscal year; no one knew anything about the county tax of more than $7,000 that accounts for more than a mill of the advance in rate now being faced, and there were other things in the way of expenses, including the payment for the new footbridge over the Assawaga river that figures in the upward move of the tax rate The selectmen would be happy to report that the town could meet its obligations with a tax based on any figure lower than it is now fixed at, but the state requires each town to pay as it goes, so Killingly's fate for this year is to pay 20 1-2 mills.

It is held by many taxpayers, and seems a reasonable proposition, that the town's budget for a fiscal year, beginning in Killingly on August 1, should be prepared and presented not later than the annual town meeting on the first Monday in October, not late in March when at least 75 per cent. of the town's money for the year has been spent. When bills have been assumed they must be paid. There is no turning back them. But in early October a meeting might say a road appropriation was too high, if it wished, and scale it down—and so with any other estimate. Big corporations, whose operations run into many millions of dollars, make advance estimates of their money needs for the year and that being so there seems to be no real obstacle in Killingly doing likewise. Expenditures of an extraordinary nature that might develop could be taken care of by special appropriations.

Killingly is no worse after all as to tax rates than many other towns in Connecticut, but there is streng opposition to a high and steadily maintained tax rate. Little expression is given to this feeling in town meetings because few men—or women either—like to address a public meeting, however much their feelings clamor for vocal release where it will do the most good.

The applause given F. E. Cuneen when he addressed a special town meeting Wednesday evening relative to erecting a more suitable memorial to Killingly's World war veterans than the one at present gracing Davis park was indicative of the fact that he has the right idea on this subject—not to waste any more money on puny memorials, but to create a real fund for a purpose that anyone with a spark of patriotism or a wisp of appreciation of the service these young men rendered their country can honestly oppose

Mr. Cuneen advocates a monument in the form of a community house—to Killingly's World war veterans that will do credit to the town and express its pride in their service and the town's glory for future generations to see in the splendid record they made when the nation called them.

Set aside a stated sum each year—$3,000 to $5,000—Mr. Cuneen suggests, or any other sum that the town decides and at the proper time use it to build a community house which would be a home for all the town's service men of all wars—their headquarters—where they could gather for meetings or socials and where, on other occasions, the public too could assemble for recration, for public forums or other suitable and worthy purposes.

Those who have ridden about New England and have given consideration to the subject must have been impressed on many occasions in viewing memorials that have been set to honor World war veterans that these memorials have seemed entirely inadequate as an expression of appreciation of the service. The good will is there, but not the grandeur that one might expect. Killingly has a suggestion that it may adopt and develop into a lasting and impressive tribute to its young men who served the nation in one of the most critical periods of its history. For the present the memorial matter rests quietly in town, but it will be heard from later.

An auction sale conducted by Witter brothers at the Freemont Burdick place in Pomfret Thursday attracted many from this section. Mr. Burdick is retiring from his farm and is to make his home in Danielson.

In the Sixth district court at Providence Noe Provost paid a fine of $50 after he had pleaded guilty of transporting liquor in an automobile, en route from Pawtucket to Danielson. He was arrested last Saturday evening on Hartford avenue in the Olneyville section of the city. Provost claimed the 5-gallon jug of moonshine in his car was for his own use.

Henry A. McEwen will be at Fall River today (Friday) attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, Frederick Warren, formerly a resident of Danielson.

Rev. J. C. Stoddard, pastor of the Baptist church at Putnam, will address a meeting of the federation of churches at the Baptist Sunday afternoon.

C. A. Hamilton has been appointed mail messenger and now has charge of transporting mails between the postoffice and the railroad station.

Mrs. E. H. Keach of Broad street will have the members of the Ladies' Sewing circle and the Altar chapel of St. Alban's church at her home for a meeting this (Friday afternoon.

Rev. J. E. Shelley, M. E., preached the sermon at the Lenten services at St. James church Thursday evening.

Danielson's federatipn of churches has arranged a series of special services for Holy Week. These services are to be held at the Congregational Methodist and Baptist churches.

WAGE INCREASE FOR ASSAWAGA WOOLEN EMPLOYES

(Special to The Bulletin)

Danielson, March 31.—The Assawaga Woolen company at Dayville was prompt in following the lead of the American Woolen company in announcing an advance in wages to its employes. Notices were posted at the mill Thursday announcing a wage advance that will amount to 12 1-2 per cent, and will be effective April 30. This matches the raise of the American Woolen company and will benefit 250 operatives of the plant who were jubilant when they learned that they are going to receive an eighth more each week for their work.

It so happens that the Assawaga Woolen company is one of the most successful concerns operating in its line in Connecticut. In taking the lead among the independent woolen and worsted mills in eastern Connecticut it has set an example that it is expected with all confidence will be emulated by other woolen and worsted mills in the territory sometime between now and April 30, when the new wage scale becomes effective.

The news of the more money scale at the Assawaga company had a tremendous stimulating effect on local business interests and they are delighted over the announcement. It will not be overlooked, of course, that the Whitestone mills at Elmville—an American Woolen company plan—will also pay its employes the higher scale after April 30.

Inquiries among men during Thursday indicated that it is regarded as practically certain that other woolen and worsted mills in the territory will follow the lead of the mills that already have announced a new and higher wage scale. Many thousands of dollars more money will be paid out during the remainder of the year after April 30 in this territory than would have been the case if the present wage scale remained in force.

ROAD SOCIETY

C. S. Noyes, Jr., of Westerly spent Tuesday evening with relatives here.

Miss Emma Williams of New London has been at her home on Quaquataug Hill for a few days.

Dr. Ira H. Noyes of Providence motored here Sunday and was the guest of his father.

Donald Wheeler of Boston is spending his vacation at his home on Cherry Hill.

The grange meeting was held Wednesday evening.

Master John Alton is recovering after a long illness.

Charles S. Noyes was a dinner guest at Seth N. Williams' on Thursday.

Miss Dorothy Wheeler of Trenton, N. J., arrives home for the Easter vacation on the 26th.

John Kane of New London, Oliver Duncan, Henry Townsend and Charles Horton of Mystic were guests of Horace Finn Sunday.

Amos G. Hewitt has been a guest of his brother, Dr. C. E. Hewitt, in Chester, Pa.

Miss Marie Wheeler is recovering from an attack of pleurisy.

TOL
HONEY TAR
Quick Relief!
Stop Your Cough
Foley's Honey and Tar stood the test of time serving three generations
Largest Selling Cough Medicine in the World

LEE & OSGOOD CO.

F. W. TILLINGHAST & SONS,
Successors to
F. E. & F. W. Tillinghast,
Central Village, Conn.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
and EMBALMERS.
Tel. Moosup 61-5. Night Call—Residence 51-4.

LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Special Attention to Every Detail.

Bugbee and Hull
DEPARTMENT STORE
PUTNAM, CONN.

Spring Opening

DRESSES
COATS SUITS
CAPES
WRAPS
BLOUSES
SKIRTS
SWEATERS
JACQUETTES

Different and Distinctive

Our garments were selected with great care from some of the best manufacturers of New York and Boston, and priced to give you style with economy.

SHOE DEPARTMENT

THE CHARM OF A WELL SHOD FOOT

It's as natural for women to love smart shoes, as for flowers to love sushine, for there is no denying that a well shod foot adds immeasurably to one's chic.

We are now showing the very latest shades of Gray and Brown Pumps and Oxfords which are the last word for Easter—

Prices $6.75 to $9.00

COAL

Nut Stove
$16.00 Per Ton
Boulets
$15.00 Per Ton
Buckwheat
(Extra Large Size)
$12.00 Per Ton

50c per ton extra if coal is carried in baskets.

The above prices are for immediate delivery.

PLACE YOUR ORDER FOR YOUR NEXT WINTER'S SUPPLY NOW, WITH US, AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO HAVE COAL.

Telephone 2208

SHETUCKET COAL & LUMBER CO.

PUTNAM

A steam shovel now biting its way into the soil of the mill yard at the old Nightingale plant near Providence street marks the opening of activity that is to give this city an important addition to one of its manufacturing plants—a plant that has been closed for more than a year, and which, a few months ago, was taken over by the Adams Manufacturing company of North Scituate, R. I., with 40 tenements and other property.

The excavating now under way, and making marked progress during Thursday, is for an addition that is to be of brick, two stories in height and 112 1-2 by 104 1-2. This addition is to be built at the southerly end of the Nightingale mill, a stone structure that has been operated for many years.

Soil that is being scooped out in great shovelfuls is being carted to the southerly end of the mill yard, where a bigg filling operation is under way, and when completed will make dry land of a certain area where the river is now flowing in a graceful curve as the stream bends to straighten out for its run southward through the city.

A concrete retaining wall will shut the river out of a triangular section that extends from the waste house on the mill property southeasterly to a point on Main street at the line of the Zaltas property. To fill in behind this wall will be a big operation, but when the work is completed a new level area will have been created, bringing the fill up to the grade of Main street and supplying a location for six new tenement houses that the Adams company plans to construct.

The present plant is receiving a general overhauling and it is likely that its size will be increased by building another story on the northerly part of the mill and by increasing the size of the old brick mill.

Residents of the northerly section of the city are delighted with the fact that work actually has begun to develop the Adams company property as it is planned to have it. This means employment by an old established concern with a splendid business for scores of Putnam workers.

The Adams company manufactures, among other things, shoe laces, corset laces, scrims, buckram and a material used in covering fields of shade-grown tobacco.

Taxpayers are not taking kindly in various towns of Windham county to paying the county tax of $50,000 that has been apportioned among them, not that they do not realize that it must be paid, but because they have been hoping against hope for lower tax rates and the tax has come along to figure in advanced rates instead of reduced ones.

While in official circles in various towns there is regret that the tax is necessary, there was no way of avoiding it if the county is to discharge its obligations and pay its bills. Putnam, Windham, Killingly and Plainfield are the four towns of the county that will pay by far the heaviest proportion of the tax, on account of their larger grand lists, but in the other 11 towns of the county the tax is burdensome, though the grand lists are smaller. Of the amount raised from the tax, approximately $25,000 will go toward meeting the cost of an addition to the Windham county temporary home for children, located in the Sawyer district of Putnam.

This is a week of speculation in Putnam as to what extent building operations will be undertaken during the spring and summer. It is known that certain negotiations are under way that may definitely upset what was taken two weeks ago as a fixed plan for building business blocks in Putnam this year. Only one of the big deals talked of during the past month has gone through—the purchase by Charles Seder of the Hopkins property on Main street, opposite the Congregational church.

One now hears of offers for this or that site and of plans to put up more new business blocks. Some of the plans that are in the works may be consummated and some of the offers that have been made for properties

Red Cross Shoe

Fifty Attractive New Styles in Spring Pumps and Sport Oxfords

THIS VARIETY IS WONDERFUL — OUR SPRING MODELS REFLECT THE LATEST STYLE THOUGHTS OF THE DAY—WHEN YOU WEAR MODEL BOOTERIE'S SHOES YOU ENJOY THE CONCIOUSNESS OF BEING CORRECTLY SHOD.

NEW ARRIVALS IN GRAY OTTER AND CAMEL SUEDE PUMPS, IN ALL THE LATEST MODELS — ALL REASONABLY PRICED

$5.50 to $8.50

MODEL BOOTERIE, 132 Main St.

just now there appears to be a period of waiting and bidding.

Every textile worker in this city, whether employed in woolen or cotton mills, was highly interested Thursday in the American W olen company's announcement of a 12 1-2 per cent. advance in wages, effective April 30. Frankly, their hope is that the advance in pay by the great mill corporation will be reflected in advances in mills in this territory. Certain millmen in this territory, while not willing to say anything for publication on Thursday relative to this matter, agreed that the American Woolen company's action would have a tendency to boost wages all along the line in the woolen and worsted industry, though there did not appear to be so much certainty about the cotton mills, though it was admitted that operatives in them might benefit, too, through the upward tread of wages in mills in New England.

In all quarters the advance is taken as an evidence of prosperity in the woolen industry and as an assurance that 1923 is going to be a highly prosperous year.

P. J. Sheridan, owner and manager of Wildwood park, the popular summer resort at Alexander's lake, said Thursday that he has not decided just yet as to his plans for the 1923 season, the opening of which is only about two months ahead. Manager Sheridan has plans in mind for an enlarged dancing pavilion and for other changes that will make the park more attractive than ever, but his decisions as to exactly what he will do may not be made for two weeks or more.

Edward Girard and A. N. Bellarose have been elected as delegates and Joseph Larrow and William Gauthier as alternates to the state convention of the Foresters of America from Court City of Putnam, the convention to be held at Torrington on May 9.

When the Baptist church holds its annual roll call on April 5 the speaker of the evening will be Rev. A. E. Stone, United States navy chaplain, stationed at the submarine base at New London and formerly pastor of the Baptist church of this city.

Dr. Peter MacQueen, F. R. G. S., is to give a lecture this (Friday) evening in the auditorium at Putnam High school. His subject, illustrated, is to be Japan of Beauty and Perplexity.

A company of 20 Willimantic people is coming to Putnam early in April to give an old folks' concert at the Methodist church.

Special Deputy William Jarvis and County Game Warden Charles Letters were engaged in Sterling Thursday rounding up unregistered dogs and roaming dogs.

Officials of the Putnam Savings bank have adopted memorial resolutions relative to the deaths of John G. Johnson and Philip Wolsard, both members of the board of trustees of the institution.

Just to show that it could be done so late in the season, some small boys went skating on a small pond near Putnam Thursday—and lived to tell of it! The risk in doing this now is very great, for the ice is in porous condition in many places and may break through.

Supt. Hector MacConnell of the Baileyville mills, dead at his home, was well known in this city, where he has been a frequent visitor for a number of years.

An indication of what the style show is to be tomorrow could be obtained Thursday from glimpses of pretty show windows being made ready for the display.

Miss Mildred Kelliher, operated upon for appendicitis a week ago at the Day Kimball hospital, is making steady progress toward recovery.

Numbers from this section attended the auction Thursday at Freemont Burdick's farm in Pomfret. Certain antiques offered in the sale attracted numbers who were present.

Special Lenten services will be held at St. Mary's church this (Friday) evening.

Physicians in this territory held one of their periodical gatherings this week with Dr. R. C. Paine of the town

BALTIC

Court Sprague No. 90, F. of A., held its regular meeting Tuesday evening and during the meeting initiated three candidates.

Eugene Dion is at St. Joseph's hospital, Willimantic for treatment.

The little friend of Everlyn (Charley) Morin are glad to greet her after an illness of four weeks.

Copies of the Proclamation for Fast —to be distributed, one to each clergyman having charge of a congregation, have been received at the town clerk's office.

Council Monsignor Synott, K. of C., held an interesting meeting recently at their rooms on High street, the first degree was conferred on a class of 17 candidates.

The members showed considerable interest in the attendance. Next Sunday morning, March 25th, the council in a body will attend communion at Immaculate Conception R. C. church.

It is with regret that friends here of Hector McConnell, superintendent of the mills at Baileyville, learned of his sudden death. Mr. McConnell while in Sprague was an esteemed resident and the holder of many political offices. At one time he was chairman of the republican town committee.

The Lenten sermon in the Roman Catholic church Wednesday evening was preached by Rev. Normand Meunier of Woonsocket, R. I.

LEFFINGWELL

Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Taylor were Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Palmer and children, Eleanor, Natalie and Harry of Moosup.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bedat were Mrs. Justine Bedat of Maple street, and Miss Eleanor Harrington of Ann street, Norwich.

Jesse Rogers and John Rogers have been ill with the grippe.

Nine were present from Leffingwell Saturday evening at the dance given by the Odd Fellows in Norwich.

Sunday callers at The Old Homestead farm, were Mr. and Mrs. C. Emile Geoffrey, Miss Elsie Beard, Herbert E. Brown, Frank Huntley and Fred V. Amburn.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Durr entertained at a dinner party Mr. and Mrs. C. Emile Geoffrey and Miss Ida H. Leffingwell and Roger Bullard.

About eight o'clock 30 friends walked in and surprised Miss Leffingwell and Mr. Bullard by giving them a miscellaneous shower, consisting of pyrex ware, aluminum ware, house linen, fancy doilies and glass ware. About 35 were present and refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, cake, cookies and coffee.

BOLTON NOTCH

Mrs. Estelle Reed went to Boston Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Bacon.

Miss Laura Brownell of Hartford is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Brownell.

Marshall Taylor has gone to his home in Boston for a few days.

Clifford Griswold was a Hartford visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Helen Valentine of Manchester was a guest of Mrs. Ida Moran Tuesday.

The Willing Workers are to meet at Mrs. Ida Moran's Thursday night.

Mrs. Viola McMorrow was a Hartford visitor Saturday.

What most churches need is ministers who are able to waken men.

Brunswick

New Records just on Sale

Arnold Johnson and His Orchestra
3277—Cinderella Days—Fox Trot—from "Music Box Revue of 1922-23"
Away Down East in Maine—Fox Trot

Ortelle Terrace Orchestra
3276—Journey's End—Fox Trot—Introducing "He Up' from "Up She Goes"
Pussyfoot Mabel—Fox Trot—From "Music Box Revue of 1922-23"

Florence Easton (Soprano)
15035—Prayer (Dich teure Halle) from "O Ada of the Stars Entwined) Mexican Folk Song
El Cielito (The Zephyr) Mexican Folk Song

Herbert L. Clarke (Cornetist)
3267—Carnival of Venice (Airton)
Stars In a Velvet Sky (Clarke)

Ernest Hare (Baritone)
3272—In a Corner of the World
November Rose

White Way Male Quartet, Billy Jones (Tenor)
3273—Georgia Cabin Door
Who Did You Feel After All

NEW BRUNSWICK RECORDS
Released Daily

No more waiting to the end of the month. Always something new at Brunswick Shops. Brunswick Records can be played on any phonograph. Hear! Compare!

The Porteous & Mitchell Company

WE ARE READY TO SUPPLY ALL YOUR EASTER NEEDS

Visitors to the Store this week-end will find a great showing of Beautiful Apparel and all the Accessories that are necessary to make the Easter Toilet complete. We invite inspection.

AN EVENT OF NOTE

Our Exhibit of New Spring Clothes

Those of our customers who have been waiting for this announcement can now select their Spring Suits from a style array unexcelled in brilliance and distinction. The new season's models from the House of Kuppenheimer fulfil every demand of the exacting dressers.

Individual taste has full sway. Fashion favors form-fitting suits or the loose, loungy English effect. Colors include all shades of grays, tans and blues. Patterns are solid grounds, fancy weaves in stripes, checks, diagonals and shadow plaids.

KUPPENHEIMER GOOD CLOTHES

FOR SPRING ACHIEVE MASTERLY DISTINCTION IN EVERY FEATURE. THEY'RE PARTICULARLY STYLED FOR MEN OF ALL PROPORTIONS, PERFECT FIT IS ASSURED.

We're proud to make this announcement. We're glad to be able to give our friends the opportunity to make their selection from such a wide and interesting assortment. Prices are absolutely the lowest commensurate with standard Kuppenheimer quality. See the sterling values in—.

Kuppenheimer Suits At $40, $45, $50 and $60

OTHER GOOD SUITS, AT $30 AND $35

BOYS' EASTER APPAREL

Boys' Golf Caps, in newest styles, at $1.49, 95c and 59c

Boys' Spring Hats, all the new shapes, at $1.95, $1.49, $1.25 and 95c

Boys' Blouses, all the best known makes, at $1.95, $1.49 and 95c

Boys' Washable Suits, extra good values, at $2.50, $1.95 and $1.29

Boys' Navy Serge Middy Suits, sizes 3 to 8 — extra good values, at $4.65

Boys' Junior Norfolk Suits of navy serge and mixtures, with two pairs of trousers, sizes 4 to 8—Special value at.... $7.50

Boys' Norfolk Suits, with two pairs of Knickerbockers, neat mixtures, sizes 8 to 17—Special value at $6.75

Boys' Navy Serge Norfolk Suits, with two pairs of Knickerbockers, sizes 7 to 18 — Special value at $9.50

Boys' Norfolk Suits, stylish mixtures, with two pairs of Knickerbockers, sizes 8 to 18, value $16.50—Special price $14.50

Boys' Spring Reefers, sizes 3 to 8, extra good values at $5.00 to $8.50.

GOOD SWEATER VALUES

Women's and Misses' Slip-on Sweaters—good values at $1.95, $2.50, $3.50 and $4.95.

Women's Tuxedo Sweaters, in navy, brown, tan and Harding blue — Special value at $6.95.

Women's Tuxedo Sweaters, in better grades—at $7.50 and $8.50.

Women's Stylish Sport Coats and Jacquettes, at $5.98 to $8.98.

Easter Gloves At Moderate Prices

In our extensive collection of Gloves for the new Spring season, many different needs are met. At Easter time, when new apparel blooms everywhere, Fashion looks with special favor on smartly gloved hands. We show Gloves for all occasions — Silk, Chamois finish and Kid Gloves —long and short—in all the wanted colorings. We especially feature the "Trefousse" French Kid Gloves—there are none better.

2-clasp "Dorothy" Kid Gloves, fine quality Trefousse French Kid Gloves, with self color and contrasting stitching, colors are black, white, mode, beaver, brown, black with white and white with black, at $2.50

The Trefousse "De Lorme" Kid Gloves, in black, white and shades of brown, at $3.00

The Trefousse "P. K." Gloves, with handsome embroidery, in shades of beaver and brown, at $3.50

Strap-Wrist French Kid Gloves, very fashionable, in black, white and mode, at $3.25

Women's Strap-Wrist Suede Kid Gloves, a very stylish gloves for Spring, handsomely embroidered at $3.50

Color Linen Easter Handkerchiefs

We show a great variety of handsome novelty effects in Handkerchiefs for Easter. Our line of Women's Colored Linen Handkerchiefs, with embroidered corners at 25c, are marvelous value. We invite inspection of our Easter showing.

EASTER CANDY

Bunte's quality Easter Eggs, assorted, choice of three sizes —Special price a pound 25c

Walnut or Ginger Stuffed Dates 25c

Bunte's Diana Staff Candies, a big assortment of pure fruit flavors 40c

Assorted Chocolate Creams — 2 pounds for 25c

Mixed Chocolates—Special price 30c

Milk-coated Chocolates, assorted 40c

Lovell & Covell's Blackstone Chocolates — select your own assortment 40c

Lovell & Covell's Reputation Chocolates, all flavors 50c

Lovell & Covell's Masterpieces, the finest chocolates made.... 75c

TOILET GOODS

Hind's Honey and Almond Cream 5c

25c Pond's Cold Cream 20c

Colgate's Talcums, assorted odors, small Vial of Perfume FREE 25c

Mary Garden Talcum 25c

Mennen's Shaving Cream.... 25c

50 Djer-Kiss Face Powder.... 39c

50c La Blache Face Powder... 39c

50c Jergens' Lotion 39c

Ivory Dressing Combs..... 25c

60c Creme Elcaya 49c

Borden's Malted Milk 49c

75c Harriet H. Ayers' Face Powder 59c

$2.00 Minerlava Beauty Clay $1.69

NEW JEWELRY

Ear Rings, in the new shower effect and Egyptian patterns, all colors, in three price groups—at 69c, $1.00 and $1.25.

Novelty Beads, graduated, in plain reds, greens, blue, amber and combination colors — at 39c, 69c, 98c, and up to $2.98.

ROSARY BEADS

5-year guarantee, at 79c

10-year guarantee, at $1.19

20-year guarantee, at $1.98

EASTER HAND BAGS

Moire Silk, Velvet and genuine leather Hand Bags, some wonderful values that sell regularly at $1.50 and $2.00—Special price $1.00

Some of the newest styles in Hand Bags, Paisley and Egyptian effects —at $1.00 to $2.98.

Imported Beaded Bags, with draw-string, in a dozen beautiful patterns, value up to $8.50 —Special price $4.98

COLORED UMBRELLAS

Women's Tape Edge, Cotton Taffeta Umbrellas, in blue, green and purple — Special price $2.98

Women's Colored Silk Umbrellas, with novelty Bakelite handles to match the silk — Special values at $3.95, $4.95 and $6.95

WOMEN'S NECKWEAR

Collars in these styles—Bertha, Bib, "East is West," Bateau, Bramley, and Lace Collars in both roll and flat—50c to $3.00.

Vestees, in Paisley, Lace, Muslin and Linen—50c to $4.50.

Scarfs in Silk, all the new Spring shades—at $2.50 to $5.00.

The new Bandana Kerchiefs — at $1.25 to $4.50.

Veilings in plain colors and the new color combinations—Also the new narrow nose veiling — at 25c and 50c a yard.

Made Veils, in all the newest ideas and in all the Spring shades.

HOSIERY FOR EASTER

Infants' Mercerized Lisle Ribbed Hosiery, in black, white and cordovan, all sizes—Price a pair 25c

Children's Mercerized Lisle Ribbed Hosiery, in black, white and cordovan, sizes 6 to 9½—Price a pair 39c

Children's English Ribbed Mercerized Lisle Hosiery, black, white, cordovan, russet, gray and champagne, sizes 6 to 9½ —Price a pair 50c

Children's Three-quarter Sport Hosiery, "Phoenix" make, black, cordovan and Camel's Hair, sizes 7 to 10—Price a pair..... 75c

Women's Silk Lisle Hosiery, seam in the back, black and cordovan, value 45c—Special price 39c

Women's Panel Back, pure Silk Hosiery, black only, value $1.65 —Special price a pair..... $1.29

Women's "Gotham Gold Stripe" Silk Hosiery, in black, at $2.75, $2.50 and $2.49

FOR EASTER WEAR

DISTINCTIVE STYLES IN WOMEN'S AND MISSES' SPRING APPAREL

Smart Suits for Spring wear—trim Box Coats, braid or embroidery trimming, of good quality Tricotine or Poiret Twill —smartly Tailored Suits in the longer, straight line models — at $25.00, $32.50, $35.00 and up to $65.00.

Women's Wraps of unusual charm, made of handsome cloths, in graceful models—at $27.50 to $75.00.

Women's Wrappy Coats, in grays, tans, navy and black — Special values at $25.00 and $35.00.

Women's Coats, in new Plaid Sport models, specially priced for Saturday—at $15.00, $25.00 and $35.00.

Women's Silk Dresses, in a remarkable showing of newest styles, sizes 16 to 46. The materials include the new Printed Silks, Flat Back Crepe, Canton Crepe and Tricoshan — extra good value Silk Dresses at $25.00.

Women's Dimity Blouses, sizes 36 to 46—extra special value at $1.95. Be sure and see these good value Blouses.

CHILDREN'S GINGHAM DRESSES

For Saturday we offer two very special values in Children's Gingham Dresses, in a variety of attractive models, all with four-inch hems, sizes 8 to 14 years:

AT $1.95—Children's Gingham Dresses, that sell regularly at $2.50.

AT $2.98—Children's Gingham Dresses, that sell regularly at $3.50.

1200 Pairs of Women's High Grade Full-Fashioned Silk Hosiery

EVERY PAIR PERFECT

IN A SPECIAL PRE-EASTER SALE

The Hosiery included in this sale are from some of the best known makers of fine Silk Hosiery, including McCallum, Pointex, Lehigh, Butterfly, Van Raalte, and others. The assortment includes black, white, cordovan and a good range of wanted Spring shades. On sale beginning Saturday—

At $1.85 a Pair

Included in this offering are qualities that sell regularly up to $2.95 a pair.

Colorful Ribbons For Easter

Ribbons this Spring have reached amazing possibilities as Dress Accessories, Millinery, Ornaments, etc. We have many suggestions at our Ribbon Department that are sure to interest you. We invite inspection of our showing of Easter Ribbons.

Tomorrow — Saturday

Great Pre-Easter Sale of SPRING HATS

FEATURED AT

$5.95

ONLY

REAL STYLES — REAL VALUES

The Colors:	The Styles:	The Fabrics:
ALMOND	MUSHROOM	VIOGA BRAID
COPEN	POKES	MILANS
POPPY	OFF-THE-FACE	HEMP
PEARL	BUSTLE	JAPANESE HEMP
SAND	CLOUCHES	SILK AND STRAW
BROWN	TURBANS
BLACK	SAILORS

Very Special

$3.95 A GROUP OF NEW HATS

ESPECIALLY SELECTED FOR TOMORROW'S SELLING

INCLUDING SPRING'S NEWEST COLORS AND MATERIALS.

EVERY ONE WORTH MUCH MORE!

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK NOT HOPEFUL WITHOUT THRIFT

(Written Specially For The Bulletin.)

"Thrifty."

Not one out of five of the modern young people I meet knows what the word means. Not one in ten companions with the thing. It seems to be an out-worn virtue. It has no place in the life-plans of the twentieth century youth of either sex.

You may remember that noble poem of Whittier's on Abraham Davenport, wherein, after telling how "in the old days, the people sent their wisest men to make the public laws," he can't refrain from adding that this was "a custom laid aside with breeches and cocked hats."

Likewise, in the old days, every boy and girl was born, bred and educated in an atmosphere of thrift. He or she inherited the tendency from thrifty ancestors; was taught its fundamentals even before learning the A B Cs; was trained in its exercise from the very first top-spinning, doll-cuddling days.

Thrift was regarded as being quite as essential as industry in labor, or energy in action, or honesty in business. Indeed, it was a New England characteristic in the days when New England set the pace for the world.

But now-a-days one hardly mentions thrift to ears polite, any more than Pope's famous dream mentions hell. If he does, the average young man assumes that he means stinginess, and the average young woman that he's a "cheap skate," and not likely to be profuse with auto rides and boxes of chocolates or bouquets of roses.

Merely to indicate that a young person is "thrifty" in the presence of other young persons is a sort of slander, closely verging on libel. It is the sort, also, which explains the old English law that "the greater the truth the greater the libel." For it is a bar to social success to be charged with thriftiness; a practical exclusion from desired association with one's compeers to be proved guilty of it.

I don't know when I have been so much surprised as the other day, when I noticed "A Little Talk On Thrift" in The Bulletin, credited at the end to the "American Thrift Society." It wasn't the publication in The Bulletin which surprised me. Knowing the good common sense of The Bulletin's managers and editors, one would naturally expect them to print good sense wherever they found it. But that there could be in actual existence such an organization as a "Thrift Society!" That was what got my goat.

You know, I had almost reached that point where I felt myself a lone, lorn, isolated and quarantined example of the fogyism, just because of my confessed admiration for thrift. Once in a while some other veteran of the old wars, some equally decrepit octuagenarian would gently pat my back and softly whisper a "Well Done," at some pro-thrift outburst. But the listeners of the on-coming generation were either silent or else openly contemptuous. "Oh, he's just another back number," was their attitude if not their expression. To find that there are actually others in America who not only believed in thrift, but have energy and patriotism enough to form a society for its propagation, this was the surprise of my waning life.

Personally, I can't take over-much stock in societies and organizations for uplift. They're often composed of that wholly undesirable class described by a one-time humorist as consisting of "long-haired men and short-haired women." They're apt to be made up of a nucleus of well-meaning but impracticable dreamers, surrounded by a circle of dogmatic bullies, and half-hidden in an outer nimbus of hypocrites, fringing the entire circumference.

But I can't imagine a society in the interests of thrift trying to formulate its theories into statute law and shackle them on to an unwilling people. For thrift is not, primarily, so much a course of conduct as it is a motive. It is in one sense, and speaking with utmost reverence, like the Kingdom of God, i. e., it is something within us and not without. It cometh not with or, from legislation, but is the offspring of the spirit; the outgrowth of a mental condition. It may be instigated by argument and stimulated by exhortation, but it can never be enforced by a statute law or courts or armies.

Therefore a society for its vindication is hardly likely to attract to itself wall-eyed and one-idead dogmatists, or vinegar-blooded bigots, or slimy hypocrites, hanging on the edges for such crumbs of graft as may chance to be spilled within their grasp.

If I am right in this judgment, then there can be imagined no society for which there is greater national need.

What is thrift?

Too many young people think it is a synonym for stinginess. Some others think it means bargain-hunting. There are those to whom it inevitably suggests petty meanness. A few conform it with sharp practice and short-weighting and profiteering.

Yet it means absolutely none of these things. In truth, it is the very antithesis and opposite of them. According to that question from the Thrift Society to which I have referred, "Self-reliance, courage, determination, economy of money and health, self-respect; these are the qualities any young man must have if he accomplishes real success. And when we analyze them we find that they comprise, true, constructive thrift."

That seems a safe and sane definition. Read it over again, please. Confess, now, young man or young woman, don't you think the combination is a pretty good one? Do you see anything in it to oppose or even to sneer at? Don't you, down in the bottom of your own heart, rather admire self-reliance, and courage, and determination, and economy—which is not stinginess—of money and health? Don't you think, speaking confidentially, that the country would be better off if there were more of those qualities, more widely manifested in the conduct of more people?

There has risen a whole new school of thought and action in this country, with the coming into our national life of that European, shibboleth, "the proletariat." Whatever compensating good free immigration may have brought, it has imported an unmitigated curse in that pestilential phrase. Yet it is here and its advocates and apologists and proselyters are there. The poison they spread is burrowing along under the skin of too many who ought to be immune to it.

The very idea of thrift is incomprehensible to these agents of a foreign, un-American, anti-American classification. They start out with demanding a larger share of the earth for its workers. But they propose to secure this larger share by taking it from others, not by saving it themselves. Their motive of action is spoliation, not thrift.

The other day I read in one paper that certain plasterers in Buffalo, N. Y., are on strike because the contractors won't give them $12 a day and a five-day week. The same day I read of a clergyman actually declaring that "you can remove the causes of poverty in the great majority of cases by destroying the present system of industrialism. If the laborer * * * could receive some of the profits of business, that would remove poverty."

Great Heavens! When a man supposedly intelligent enough to be admitted to the clergy can talk such blatant nonsense, what wonder that scores of less educated men fall for the same fallacy?

It is about as plain as anything can be that thrift has nothing whatever to do with the amount of one's income, salary, wages—whatever you choose to call it. It is not concerned with what he gets, but with what he saves. It is just as applicable to the twelve-years old boy starting life as a sweeper-out in Marshall Field's big store at $2 a week, or the Irish immigrant working on a New York dairy farm fifty years for a dollar a day, as to the plasterer demanding $12 a day of eight hours, and five days only a week.

The boy with his $2 a week who has courage and self-reliance and determination and who practices economy of money and health—which is thrift—rises to be made manager of the whole great store. The plasterer who gets $12 a day and spends the last red cent of it remains a plasterer all his life, neither attaining nor seeming to desire the attainment of anything better.

I've already told you the story of one of my neighbors who never earned more than $300 a year, yet who so thriftily managed that pittance as to leave his surviving children a comfortable home and a tidy sum in the bank. Only within the last week I have heard the story of another neighbor. During the war, this last neighbor demanded and got very high wages. He actually obtained four times as much money for his week's work as he had earned in pre-war days. Nobody has questioned his industry or faithfulness, either. Nor have I ever heard him charged with intemperance.

But he had no sense of thrift. His money came easy; it went easy. As fast as he got it, he spent it. His motto seemed to be that there'd be more coming next week, so why save anything this week? He had an income at one time of sixty or seventy dollars a week. And he promptly started living on a scale of sixty or seventy dollars a week.

This was all very pretty for a time. But, as all farmers and many of the more intelligent city dwellers know, when the war ended the thing the economists call "deflation" struck the rural districts, and struck them hard. Prices of all farm products dropped like ballast from a balloon. Workers who had been in urgent demand at any figure they chose to name found that their former employers couldn't scrape together the money to pay even half as much. In fact, many former employers had to give up hiring any help at all, at any wages, no matter how low. In these different conditions the neighbor I am now speaking of, with no reserve laid by from his flush times, finds himself in actual need and dependent for his children's bread on such odd jobs as he may chance to pick up at uncertain intervals and at almost starvation wages.

He has unusual strength; he is admittedly industrious; he is faithful to the interest of his employer; he is sober; he has no great vices.

But—

He lacks the one saving virtue of thrift, without which honest success is harder than the famous stunt of driving a camel through a needle's eye.

And he seems to be representative of a vast number of his fellow Americans.

I don't know whether organized societies and earnest exhortations will be of any avail in restoring thrift to the list of our national virtues. There are no other means at hand.

Yet it is daily becoming clearer that, without some renewal of this old-time habit, the economic outlook is not hopeful.

When a whole nation deliberately chooses the road of "Get-rich-quick" rather than the road to honest competence it's high time for wise woodchucks to hunt their holes and stay in them or mighty close by them.

THE FARMER.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Friday, March 23.

WJZ Newark (360 Meters).

7.30 p. m.—Dance Music by the "Red Caps" from the Hotel Pennsylvania Grill.

8.30 p. m.—Literary talk.

8.45 p. m.—Concert by Firth Lee, baritone; Sol Alberti, accompanist.

9 p. m.—Literary talk.

10.01 p. m.—Concert by Buddy Pagliuca, pianist.

KDKA Pittsburgh (360 Meters).

6.15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the trio of KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra.

7 p. m.—Current events.

7.20 p. m.—Deep Fat Frying, by H. V. P. Francis.

7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.

8.10 p. m.—John Galsworthy, a Social Dramatist, by Marjory Stewart.

8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Lyric club of the Indiana State Normal school, Indiana, Pa. Robert Bartholomew, director; assisted by Irma Bartholomew, soprano; Pearl Reed, violin; accompanists, Gladys Washburn and Martha Ames.

WGY Schenectady (370 Meters).

2 p. m.—Music and household talk.

6 p. m.—Produce and stock market quotations; news bulletins.

6.30 p. m.—Pallophotophone address, Jackie Coogan, motion picture star.

7.40 p. m.—Health talk, Breaking Quarantine, New York State Department of Health.

7.45 p. m.—Radio drama, John Ferguson.

Act I. Late afternoon in the house of John Ferguson.

Act II. Same as Act I.—one hour later—dusk.

Act III. The morning of the day after.

Act IV. Late afternoon of the day a fortnight later.

Pallophotophone address, Ellis Parker Butler, Some Impressions of Humor.

10.30 p. m.—Musical program.

WBZ Springfield (422 Meters).

7.30 p. m.—Uncle Wiggily bedtime stories.

7.45 p. m.—The Necessity of Keeping Good Records, by Thomas McCarry, tax consultant.

8 p. m.—Concert by Fenway Novelty Orchestra; George Fountain, violin; Dewey Premo, trumpet; Frank Boero, trombone; Arthur Besette, banjo; Harold Miller, saxophone; Lewis Berchand, bass, Clarence Schnare, drums; George Settle, pianist and manager.

KYW Chicago (400 Meters).

(Central Time.)

6.30 p. m.—Children's bedtime stories.

8-9 p. m.—Musical program: Emily Wilkinson Clarke, contralto; Ethel Kulp Skipworth, pianist; Jean Burns, reader; Lila Butler, pianist (accompanist). Price Trio (Hawaiian guitars): Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Price, guitars; John Price, guitar; Isham Jones and his orchestra.

9 p. m.—News, sports and weather reports.

9.05-9.35 p. m.—Review of the latest books, by Llewellyn Jones, literary editor of the Chicago Evening Post.

10 p. m. to 1 a. m.—Midnight show.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 meters)

6 p. m.—Late news flashes, Early sports news.

6.15 p. m.—Code practice, Lesson No. 24.

6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports. Amrad bulletin board.

9.30 p. m.—Evening program. 1. Travelogue, by David M. Cheney; 2. Concert by Ida Mae Werby, dramatic soprano; Chevalier Rudolpho Ferrari, baritone; Raymond Hill, pianist and accompanist.

LEBANON

The third sermon in the series was given Sunday morning at the First Congregational church by the pastor, Rev. W. O. Foster. Subject, Spiritual Sight. The text was Luke 11: 35, showing that our "abiding riches are spiritual and moral" and "as blindness shuts the light from the eyes, so sin shuts the light from the soul." The fourth and last sermon of the series will be given March 25th. Buject, My Wish for Lebanon.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

At the Y. P. S. C. E. service in the evening it was voted to enroll the names of the pastor, Rev. W. O. Foster, and the president, Mrs. Hattie Madley, at the national convention of C. E. to be held at Des Moines, Iowa, in 1923.

The Ladies' Aid met for sewing in the parlors of the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Hatfield of Norwich met the committee in charge Saturday evening and the Y. M. C. A. was reorganized. The following officers were elected: Leader, Rev. W. O. Foster; president, Clark Standish; vice president, Chester Starr; secretary, Wallace Blakeslee; treasurer, Harold Madley. All young men and boys have been invited to the Y. M. C. A. meeting at the town hall Saturday evening.

YANTIC

The members of the Yantic Fire Engine company are busy on rehearsals of The Orphan Waif, a drama they are to present some time in April. There are twelve members in the cast—nine members of the fire company and three young ladies of the village.

The recent rain storms have helped take away the greater part of the snow, but there is plenty of ice, and all the roads are in very poor condition.

Charles K. Carden is spending some time at Broadview with H. E. Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Oliver have returned to their home in South Manchester, having been the week end guests of Mrs. Oliver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamilton.

Miss Josephine Hill, Miss Marion Gibbs, Miss Phyllis Irvine and the Misses Hill have returned from an enjoyable week end trip to New York.

Mrs. Rowland Hewitt of Stonington is spending the week in town with her sister, Mrs. Elias Stockett, who is confined to the house with a severe attack of grip.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

Mrs. Adolph Ploettner has returned to her home in Providence after a brief visit here with her daughter, Mrs. R. V. Congdon.

Miss Anna Coughlin has returned to New Haven after a stay of several days at her home here. Joseph Coughlin has returned to his home in Fiskdale, Mass., and Mrs. M. F. Scanlon has returned to her home in Westerly, having been called here by the death of their father, John Coughlin.

Sister M. Perpetua of Danbury and Sister M. Raphael of Hartford were recent guests of their niece, Miss Margaret Coughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin have returned to Hartford, having spent the week end with relatives here.

Mrs. Ellis Bonnine of New York was a recent guest at Pine Tree cottage.

P. J. Loughlin of Stamford was a recent guest of local friends.

New Hartford—Jacob Adams, 64, was found dead in bed. He was a native of Austria-Hungary but came here about three years ago from Wisconsin and was employed by the Standard Brush company. He leaves a wife, a son and a daughter.

MONTVILLE

The Tall Cedars of Lebanon will be represented by a large delegation at the meeting of Tall Cedars in Plant hall on Thursday evening, when the degree team will work upon a class of candidates.

Ernest Bonville was a visitor in New London on Tuesday.

Shiloh lodge, N. H. O. P., of Norwich, held a St. Patrick's social at the home of Mrs. Roy Johnson of Palmertown on the evening of March 15th, with an attendance of 20, the guests coming from both Norwich and Montville. A salad and baked bean supper was served and there was also a large chocolate covered cake with a star (the emblem of the order) in gum in the center of the cake. After the supper music both vocal and instrumental was enjoyed and the party broke up at a late hour, all having enjoyed a fine evening.

Miss Winnie Turner of New London was the guest of friends in town Sunday.

Miss Sarah Latimer of Gales Ferry was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lyman on Sunday.

DID YOU KNOW THAT
Holt Power-Light
GENERATES 110-VOLT CURRENT
OPERATES 20-25 WATT LAMPS
HAS NO STORAGE BATTERIES
HAS A 3-INCH PULLEY FOR POWER
WAS THE MOST ECONOMICAL PLANT ON MARKET TO OPERATE.
PRICE $285.00, F. O. B. DETROIT.
F. O. PLUMMER, Agent
STERLING, CONN.

COUGH Try PISO'S

Easter Apparel of Distinction
Coats Suits Capes
Dresses Furs Hats

It gives one a keen joy to know, when in smartly attired company — when fashion is eyed most critically—that one's appearance gives poise. Self-confidence and personality are also interpreted by the very "stunningness" of one's apparel.

Come in and choose from our distinctive assortment a cape or wrap that will fully express your individuality and faultless taste.

Broadway Smart Shop
35 Broadway

There's no surer or more interesting way to earn extra money than by installing a few industrious hens in your back yard.

The eggs they lay are in demand the year 'round—and the chickens you raise bring top prices from your neighbors.

Write for the Wirthmore Poultry Book and see how others are doing it. It's FREE—on request.

St. Albans Grain Co. St. Albans, Vt.

SMART SHOES for SPRING WEAR

Never before has Dame Fashion presented the wide variety of footwear styles for Easter to be seen this season—and never have these styles been more uniformly beautiful. At MINTZ'S BOOT SHOP you will find a seemingly endless variety of models, selected with the utmost care and featuring the season's most authentic style notes. We call your particular attention to our prices, in the firm belief that—style and workmanship considered—every price represents a substantial saving. Mentioned below are just a few of the many late Spring creations in footwear.

Patent Coltskin Suede Inlay Baby Spanish heels..... $6.00

Black Satin Suede Trimming..... $6.00

Gray Suede, black Satin or Patent Leather Lattice Pumps..... $6.00

$5
Style and comfort combined in this Tony Red — Harness Stitch Shoe — rubber heels attached. Same style in Oxfords.

$6
In either Oxford or High Shoes—Russian Calf—French and medium toes — rubber heels attached.

$5 MINTZ'S BOOT SHOP $6
MAIN ST.- OPP. WOOLWORTH'S
NORWICH — CONN.
SIMON SERVICE

LEGISLATORS SPECULATE ON WHAT WILL BE FATE OF SUNDAY BILL

(Special to The Bulletin)

Hartford, March 22.—The talk of the corridors this morning was on the probable fate of the Sunday bill which was tabled yesterday on motion of House Leader Buckley. There are almost as many minds on this question as there are members in the assembly. Business moved rapidly in the house today which was called to order at 11.15 by Speaker Nickerson. The selection of bills that had been adversely reported, was a large part of the day's work.

Adverse Reports from Senate

From the senate came several adverse reports by the committee on labor and the house concurred in their rejection.

Included in them were H. B. 183 concerning hours of women and children, introduced by Mrs. Nevins of New Fairfield; H. B. 241 introduced by Mr. Walker of Plainfield, restricting hours for minors under sixteen and women to 48 hours a week; H. B. 510 providing tagging machines with price to be paid operator on piece work and for posting rates to be paid were rejected. In explanation Chairman Andrews of the committee said the bill was of considerable merit but that the committee did not feel justified in recommending it in its present form. They had however, referred the matter to the labor commissioner and had requested him to make an investigation of the matter and to report his findings to the next general assembly.

He said that the committee had found that only 24 per cent. of the employes were working more than forty-eight hours and seventy-six per cent. less than that number. In the present unsettled condition it was unwise to make a change at this time.

The committee on fish and game presented adverse reports on H. B. 103, allowing training of hunting dogs in the woods. While the bill had merit it was unwise. H. B. 409 concerning hunters' license; H. B. 407, changing close season on woodcock, quail, grouse and Hungarian partridge. But one person appeared in favor while several had opposed it on the hearing. H. B., concerning the killing of deer with shot gun. Matter would be taken care of in substitute bill, and H. B. 552, concerning sale of wild birds and quadrupeds. Bills, concerning the building of armories at Manchester and Bristol were reported favorably and were referred to the committee on appropriations.

The committee on judiciary was not in favor of the bill transferring women prisoners from the state farm for women. They were of the opinion that appropriate arrangements could be provided at the prison. H. B. 71, proposing that applicants for restoration of forfeited rights should first apply to the state board of pardons and be approved by a majority of that board and by the committing magistrate.

The bills amending the charter of New London was characterized as a one-man bill. A number had appeared against it. The bill was rejected.

The committee on state parks and reservations were not in favor of the bill creating a state park at Reading as it carried an appropriation of $25,000. A resolution was passed that a committee of one senator and two representatives should be appointed to investigate the ballot law. Full power is given to obtain the ballot boxes and examine all defective ballots cast in any town at the elections held in November, 1923.

Griswold Court Salaries.

The bill increasing the salary of the judge and prosecuting attorney of the town court of Griswold from three hundred to six hundred dollars each and the deputies to three dollars per day, when engaged, was passed.

Under suspension of the rules the house passed a bill authorizing the Mystic Power company to increase its capital stock to $400,000, and a bill ratifying the authority of the Eastern Connecticut Power company to operate electric transmission lines.

Resolutions were adopted appointing Robert L. Munger judge and Milton C. Isbell, deputy judge of the city court of Ansonia.

The committee on forfeited rights reported unfavorably on the petitions of William Kyle, William Gray, Cornelius Gorham and Antonio Amato for restoration of rights and they were denied.

From the judiciary committee came adverse reports on the bill providing that all judges in the courts should be appointed by the governor and the bill making it illegal for a corporation to practice law or to advertise that it will furnish legal advice.

Conserving Water Supplies.

Among the bills passed from the calendar was one concerning the conservation of water supplies. It reads:

Chapter 143 of the Public Acts of 1921 is amended to read as follows: Any water company supplying water to the inhabitants of any city, town, village or borough, for domestic, manufacturing or fire protection purposes, may refuse to furnish water except by metered measurement at established rates, to the owner or occupant of any premises upon which water is allowed to be wasted, by reason of defective fixtures or otherwise, after notification to such owner or occupant, and reasonable time given to him to make necessary repairs.

The appropriations committee reported favorably on the bill which had been referred to them by the roads, rivers and bridges committee, providing for the planting of shade trees along newly built highways, and the committee on education reported favorably on a bill providing for a codification of all school laws.

From committee on military affairs and favorable report on H. B. 520, concerning care of graves of soldiers and sailors, providing that mayor or selectmen take charge of keeping graves of soldiers and sailors suitably cared for.

The house adjourned until Friday at 11.15.

SENATE.

The committee on finance reported unfavorably on the bill exempting from taxation, gasoline used in certain motor boats, providing for relieving of fishermen from the gasoline tax; and on an act concerning certificate of financial ability of auto owners. The reports were accepted and the bills rejected. Senator Trumbull stated that the former bill was a duplicate and its subject matter would be covered in another bill.

The committee on the judiciary reported unfavorably on the bill creating a state real estate commission with the power to grant licenses to engage in the real estate business. The bill was rejected.

On the unfavorable report of the committee on agriculture the bill concerning the establishment of the accredited state herd test. The bill was rejected.

The committee on finance reported unfavorably on the bill authorizing the city of Bridgeport to issue East Washington avenue bonds to the amount of $250,000. Tabled for calendar.

Unfavorable reports were received from the committee on the judiciary on the following bills: Concerning aeronautics and to make uniform regulations in relation thereto; concerning the manufacture, storage, transportation and sale of explosives; concerning request for proposed finding and counter finding; concerning summary process, the setting aside of verdicts; concerning procedure where two or more persons are injured. The bills were rejected.

Executive Secretary McCook presented a communication from Governor Templeton appointing Former Governor Everett J. Lake of Hartford and Louise H. Merritt of Stamford trustees of the Mansfield Training School and hospital for four years each from July 1, 1923.

The communication was referred to the committee on executive nominations.

The committee on humane institutions reported unfavorably on the bill which provides that in lieu of the percentage on the sale of Christmas seals the state tuberculosis commission shall receive $16,000 from the state. The bill was rejected.

Calendar.

Passed: Amending the charter of Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing company by allowing it to engage in general manufacturing and to all a percentage of its stock to employes by fixing the salaries of the officials of the town court of Fairfield as follows: Judge and prosecuting attorney, $1200 each, deputy judge and assistant prosecuting attorney, $300 each; that the board of contract and supply in Hartford shall award contracts to lowest responsible bidder; fixing the compensation of court interpreters at $5 a day; that officers in civil and criminal cases may charge 50 cents per page for copies of writs, and 25 cents for endorsing; reviving the franchise and rights of the Meriden, Middletown and Guilford Electric Railway company.

Authorizing the Second taxing district of Norwalk to issue bonds to the amount of $300,000; authorizing the city of Norwalk to issue school bonds to the amount of $250,000; that the building line in the city of Danbury shall be 30 feet from the highway; concerning a public green at or near Main and Academy streets in the town of Southington; authorizing the Rockville Water and Aqueduct company to issue bonds of $150,000; incorporating the West Suffield Cemetery association; authorizing the town of Windham to issue school bonds to the amount of $30,000; authorizing the Second taxing district of Norwalk to issue bonds to the amount of $78,000; that the state shall pay for the costs in cases of contempt; authorizing the comptroller to purchase buildings at the state library grounds for $55,000; that polls in towns shall not be closed earlier than 2 o'clock in the afternoon that the city of Hartford shall lay a tax of one-quarter of one per cent for the sinking fund.

The senate adjourned to Friday at 11.15.

STAFFORDVILLE

Mrs. Rose Silk visited her relatives in Springfield, Mass., over Sunday.

Mrs. Harold Tallman, who has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rishton, for a few weeks, visited friends in Hartford a few days this week.

Miss Helen Hulett of Springfield visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hulett, over the week end.

Mrs. Elvira Ryder and son, Thurber Ryder, and Mrs. Everett Ryder and Fred Belcher attended the funeral of Leon Booth in Union March 15th.

Mrs. Lawrence Sartori was operated upon at the Johnson Memorial hospital at Stafford Springs recently. She is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Siswick and two children moved last Saturday from Springfield into one of Mrs. Edith Mathews' tenements.

Mrs. Edith Mathews is visiting relatives in Hampden, Mass., this week.

Middletown — Former Governor Frank B. Weeks has arrived home after a week's stay at Atlantic City, N. J.

The first taste tells you why LIPTON'S TEA has the largest sale in the world

STOP RHEUMATISM WITH RED PEPPER

When you are suffering with rheumatism so you can hardly get around just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Instant relief. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Frees the blood circulation, breaks up the congestion—and the old rheumatism torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Use it for lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, colds in chest. Almost instant relief awaits you. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

Society Brand

The Service That Goes With Quality

Here we offer you Society Brand Clothes, because they are the kind that will give you satisfaction. It's a matter of pride also to have variety of style and fabric, so your fancy will be suited as well as your pocketbook; and to offer you intelligent help in your selection.

Theodore Lowenberger

"THE MANHATTAN"

STETSON HATS MANHATTAN SHIRTS

Rockefeller Representative Blamed By Anti-Saloon League Leader

Raymond B. Fosdick, who was blamed by William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, for his present troubles, during a recent sermon. Mr. Fosdick, who represents Rockefeller interests, is said by Mr. Anderson to be "wet talking" and "personally hostile" to the League, but this Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., emphatically denies. The financier is said to have stated that if Mr. Fosdick is guilty, he too is guilty. The latter is said to have the confidence of both Rockefeller Junior and Senior.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

Brighten Your Home For Easter With Good Furniture and Good Music

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR LIBERAL CREDIT TERMS. THERE IS NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR THIS GREAT CONVENIENCE.

INCLUDE YOUR HOME IN YOUR SPRING PLANS FOR BRIGHTENING UP. AND REMEMBER—IT'S THE FURNITURE YOU SELECT THAT MAKES THE "HOME BEAUTIFUL." AND IT'S MUSIC THAT MAKES HOME-LIFE BRIGHTER AND ENJOYABLE.

LET US HELP YOU ENJOY GOOD FURNITURE AND GOOD MUSIC. OUR COMPREHENSIVE SHOWING OF THE NEWEST STYLES IN BEAUTIFUL GUARANTEED FURNITURE AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS OF ALL KINDS WILL SIMPLIFY YOUR SELECTION, GUARANTEE SATISFACTION AND SAVE YOU MUCH MONEY.

Special Easter Offer in NEW PLAYER OUTFITS

Consisting of:

New 88-Note Guaranteed Player-Piano, Free Bench to Match, Free Scarf, and Free Player Rolls

Delivered to Your Home At Once For $495 On The Easiest Possible Terms

Here is an exceptional opportunity to have a new high grade Player-Piano in your home for Easter at a special low price and on unusually easy terms. This instrument is designed and constructed according to the most modern methods and finished in mahogany with all the skill and care employed in the production of players of the highest class. It has a beautiful, enduring tone and is fully guaranteed.

Small Down Payment — No Interest

LIBERAL ALLOWANCE FOR YOUR OLD PIANO OR PLAYER-PIANO TAKEN IN EXCHANGE

New Upright Pianos $245 Up
Used Upright Pianos $95 Up
Used Player-Pianos $225 Up

The Fine Pianos You Will Find Here:

THE AMPICO IN THE CHICKERING UPRIGHT
THE AMPICO IN THE FISCHER GRAND

CHICKERING, HARDMAN, STEINWAY, AUTOPIANO, BEHR BROS., HAINES BROS., HALLET & DAVIS, WASSERMANN, CRAWFORD, and Many Other Well-Known Guaranteed High Grade Makes.

Silk Shade FLOOR LAMPS

The shades are 24 inches wide, have silk fringe and are in a variety of handsome colors. Mahogany standards of attractive turned design. Complete with cord and plug—

$18.50

BIRD'S EYE MAPLE DRESSER

The design, unusually fine construction and exquisite finish of this dresser will appeal to you. Has fine quality oval mirror, two large drawers and two half width drawer $43.50

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

BANJO-UKELELE, with maple rim and resonator on back. Trimmed in black with purfling around top and bottom edges and neck. Regular $15.00 value — Special $10.80

B-FLAT CORNET, with attractive brass finish. High pitch with low pitch slide. Regular $30.00 value — SPECIAL..... $22.00

GUITAR of birch finish, in mahogany with decal comania around sound hole. Exceptional value for only..... $5.00

DEAGAN, JR. XYLOPHONE, complete with stand and mallets and free course of instruction — SPECIAL AT..... $25.00

UKELELE, of birch with dark stained finish. Exceptional value at..... $3.90

Latest Popular SHEET MUSIC At Lowest-in-the-City Prices

Latest Popular Hits In PLAYER ROLLS

Four Beautiful High Grade Bedroom Pieces in Rich Mahogany

Full size four post bed, large dresser, chiffonette, and triplicate mirror toilet table of superb workmanship throughout. Of a distinctive design, richly finished in mahogany. A very handsome suite anyone should be proud to own $179.00

Eight-Piece Queen Anne Dining Room Suite in American Walnut

Consists of 50-inch buffet, 48-inch round extension table, one host's chair and five side chairs with seats upholstered in genuine leather. The construction is of the best, assuring long service and each piece is handsomely finished..... $142.00

Three Luxurious Overstuffed Pieces in Tapestry or Leather

Here is a suite that will appeal to those who like quality and want to enjoy the utmost comfort. Consists of spacious sofa, chair and high back wing chair of spring construction throughout with spring pillow arms and removable spring cushions. Upholstered in tapestry or genuine brown leather... $225.00

3-PIECE TAPESTRY OVERSTUFFED SUITE

$137.50

Of spring construction throughout with comfortable roll arms. Built to provide the utmost service and comfort. Has removable spring cushions and is splendidly upholstered in long wearing tapestry of pleasing pattern.

50-PIECE DECORATED DINNER SETS

Choice of two patterns with gold or blue and gold decorations. Made of excellent quality china, assuring excellent service. If you need a dinner set, take advantage of this remarkable value —50 pieces— SPECIAL..... $9.90

MAHOGANY SERVING TRAYS

Size 11x18, equipped with handles and attractively decorated — Regular $3.00 value — SPECIAL..... $1.00

Get Your Easter Victrola or Grafonola Here Now

Small Deposit Delivers a Complete Outfit to Your Home—Pay the Balance on Terms to Suit Your Convenience — Complete Stock of All Models to Choose From.

This Popular Victrola No. 100

Complete With

6 Double-Faced Records (12 Selections, your own choice)—Record Album, Record Brush, 3 Packages Needles, Bottle of Oil—

For Only $156 Easy Terms

This Popular Grafonola G-2

Complete With

6 Double-Faced Records (12 Selections, your own choice)—Record Album, Record Brush, 3 Packages Needles, Bottle of Oil—

For Only $131 Easy Terms

VICTOR RECORDS FOR EASTER

A Few Selections Taken At Random From Our Complete Stock of Victor Records For Easter

Hosanna (In French)	Caruso
Les Remaux (The Palms)—In French	Caruso
Christ the Lord is Risen Today	Homer
Crucifix	McCormack-Werrenrath
Open the Gates of the Temple	Williams
The Palms	Werrenrath
The Lost Chord	Werrenrath
Messiah—He Shall Feed His Flock	Elsie Baker
Messiah—Come Unto Me	Lucy Isabelle Marsh
Stabat Mater	Lambert Murphy
Stabat Mater	Lucy Marsh-Victor Oratorio Chorus

Jewelry Dep't Specials

ROSARIES — Wonderful assortment of varied colored beads. In attractive lined boxes — PRICED FROM $1.50

CRUCIFIXES — Finished in polished silver, gun metal, gold $2.75 and $4.50

PRAYER BOOKS ..... $3.00 UP

SILVER CANDLESTICKS. $3.00 and $3.50

8-DAY MAHOGANY MANTEL CLOCK

A fine looking clock, fitted with reliable movement. Has gong strike—

$12.75

Beautiful Mahogany Boudoir Clocks.. $5.00

12-Piece Set Silver Plated Tableware

Consisting of 6 knives and 6 forks—guaranteed to give long service— SPECIAL AT $6.50

26-Piece Sets Silver Plated Tableware At All Prices Up to $45.00

Ladies' 15-Jewel Bracelet Watch

Convertible style, with 25-year gold filled case, fitted with reliable movement SPECIAL.. $15.00

BOYS' WATCH

7-jewels, with cases finished in nickel, gun metal or satin... $5.00

Men's 17-Jewel Illinois WATCH

Made of the best materials and guaranteed an accurate timekeeper. Beautiful gold filled case with 20-year guarantee— $31.50

The Plaut-Cadden Co.

Main St., Norwich "KNOWN FOR QUALITY AND SERVICE — SINCE 1872" Bank St., New London

MOVE TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC CONGESTION IN NEW LONDON

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 22.—There are indications at last that the city planning board intends to do what it can and not incur a large expense to relieve the congestion that occurs every summer on State and Bank streets. It is reported on good authority that the board is contemplating the widening of North Bank street by cutting a couple of feet or so from the sidewalks on either side of the street, throwing the space thus obtained into the highway. The purpose is understood to be to have the city buy the land and the buildings on them at the corner of Main and Federal streets and to continue North Bank street to Main street. This would enable autos and other vehicles to come directly from South Bank street through a direct route to Main street and would relieve congestion that has prevailed on that section of State street south of Main street where the trolley cars make their terminal and which now takes the travel from all the section east of North Bank street.

The change will no doubt bring about the paving of North Bank street, thus improving that thoroughfare very much, and the placing of a street surface there that will last for many years without a dollar of expense in the way of repairs or maintenance. There has been much talk of making Bank street, south of State street, a one-way street in order to relieve travel but the change that is contemplated in the extension of North Bank street would obviate the one-way restriction on South Bank street.

The one-way idea has met with determined opposition in that the merchants on that street will oppose the one-way idea to a man. Merchants on Golden street are awaiting a hearing of their protest against the continuance of the parking restrictions on that street. They claim that the street has become a business street and one on which many wholesale houses are located. These houses deal largely with people who come in conveyances, either teams or autos, and they are prevented now from parking on the north side of the street. This, the merchants claim, is a detriment to them and they have asked for a hearing that will bring relief.

Four cloth peddlers, Syrians by nationality, struck town yesterday and proceeded about their business of selling the goods they carried. At night they met at their boarding places on Golden street and soon a quarrel was started over the division of the profits. Police Sergeant Samuel Eick and Patrolman Thomas Cavanaugh took a hand in the fracas and the four peddlers were placed under arrest. In the police court today they paid $25 into the treasury for their experience.

The Gager & Crawford company are preparing their property on Main street for occupancy, moving from the Goldsmith building at the corner of State and Main streets to a location just north on Main street. Today the Gager & Crawford company began excavations for an electric conduit that will carry wires into the building and in that work they tore up the sidewalk. This brought a protest to the police from Mr. Goldsmith and then it was learned that Gager & Crawford were proceeding according to the requirements of the ordinances of the city and had obtained permission to do what they were attempting to do.

A danger spot exists at the corner of Broad street and Connecticut avenue where a cellar has been excavated for a dwelling. Work ceased on it during the rain and as a result the excavation filled with water and children from the school nearby were in danger of falling into the water-filled excavation. Notification from the police to the owner of the land was that a fence must be erected about the cellar to remove the danger. That remedy is expected to be applied today.

It was anticipated that some 300 or more autos that are to be sent to Australia from the state pier at East New London would be on their way now for a steamer was due here from New York to take the cargo. Information was received today that the steamer would not come here until Monday so the autos are still here.

A queer situation has arisen in a suit for damages that has just been commenced. Memorial park abuts the property of Mrs. Annie O'Meara and Cornelius Leary on Franklin street. The park has a faced wall of Granite on the Franklin street side perhaps two stories high. But the water from the park finds its way to the O'Meara land and then it goes to the property of O'Leary, and try as the O'Meara people will they have not been able to divert the water. Complaint was made to Mrs. O'Meara by Mr. Leary, but no remedy was applied though one was sought in placing ashes to stop the flow of the water from the O'Meara land to that of Leary. Now Mr. Leary has brought suit for damages.

The first robins ventured into the city from the woods in the rear of Hillside Home today and were seen by various people.

Morris Furth, an aged sewing machine agent, is confined to his home on Colt street with neuritis.

Up from Ocean beach comes a well authenticated report that a divorce suit is in the making and that the plaintiff is a well known and long time resident of this city. There have been many family differences there and now their trouble is to be aired in the court. The couple have one child.

It is estimated that there were $50,000 worth of automobiles standing about the streets of New London early last evening with no watch upon them. At the auto show there were some fifty machines along the curbing of Colt street, Washington street and adjoining thoroughfares while their occupants were inspecting cars inside the building. On Bank street the west side of the highway was lined with autos from State street nearly to Pearl and on State street both sides of the highway was the parking place for cars.

Embargoes on the railroads of the west is said to be seriously hindering the arrival of materials for New London builders. Nearly all the constructors are delayed in their work by the non-arrival of material. A large order for shovels was cancelled this week because it was impossible to obtain them.

There is a strong agitation for the purchase of the Williams property by the United States government will be brought to the attention of the government that a federal building could be located there and house the post office, the custom house, the internal revenue collectors and the engineers' office, and that saving in rent could be effected and at the same time have all the government offices.

Funeral services for Sidney Lester, whose death occurred at Flanders several days ago, were held this afternoon, a prayer being conducted at 1.30 o'clock at Mr. Lester's former home at 2.30 with services in Flanders Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Leathers, pastor of the church, officiated. A delegation of members of Nameaug Engine company, of which organization Mr. Lester had been a member many years, were among the mourners. Burial was in Flanders cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Rheaume, wife of Michael Rheaume, was held this morning at 9 o'clock with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Joseph's church and was attended by a large gathering of mourners. Rev. John Quinn was celebrant. Rev. Myles P. Galvin was deacon and Rev. Rocco Guerriero, sub-deacon. The bearers were Messrs. Maloney, Walsh, Harrington, Morin, Coffey and Doyle. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Montville.

Patients discharged at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital today were John Carney of Bank street and A. Johnson of the United States Coast Guard academy.

A fire that occasioned but slight damage occurred shortly after 9 o'clock this morning when a blaze was discovered in the cellar of a dwelling house on Eastern avenue. An alarm was rung in from Box 15 and with the arrival of the department the blaze was quickly subdued with chemicals.

The action of Krignon against the Colchester Farm Products company and others, a suit to recover the principal of a note, is still on trial in the superior court today. The action was started yesterday and it is improbable that it will be concluded this week.

A still alarm summoned several companies to the building of Thomas Ragonese on Lower Bank street last evening. The first was of slight consequence with no damage.

George Goldie has acquired a ten-acre apple orchard in Salem and is to cultivate the fruit for the market. He anticipates that in three years he will have a crop that will be very profitable for him. Mr. Goldie was in the tailoring business in New London with a store on State street prior to the outbreak of the World war. Then he went into the service as a commander. He is an authority on boat and navigation, and has made long trips along the coast in small boats.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW LONDON POLICE BILL

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 22.—The bill before the legislature providing for the holding of office by the New London police force members during their good behavior and that charges, if any should be made against any member of the force, shall be determined at a hearing before a commission, will come up in the house of the assembly tomorrow. There is much interest felt in the measure as it is believed to be one of absolute fairness. The bill making the tenure of the office of policemen was introduced in the legislature by the late Robert Colt, one of the most competent legislators this city ever sent to Hartford and it has prevailed until now when a change is sought that will give the power of removal to the city manager.

Origin of Widow's Cape.

Widows wore caps, says one authority, at the time of the Roman conquest of England, because they shaved their heads as a sign of mourning; as woman would not allow herself to be seen with a bald head, she made herself a pretty cap. Though the necessity for it has long since passed away, the cap still remains. Why do we wear heels on our shoes? Because the sandal-like footgear of olden times was not adapted to horseback riding, and when the high boots were introduced heels were put on for the purpose of giving the foot a good hold on the stirrup.

EAT NO SWEETS IF YOU ARE RHEUMATIC

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respector of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

No Corn Can Resist "Gets-It"

No matter how long you've had your corns, how bad they may be, whether hard or soft, or what you have tried, believe this—"Gets-It" will end corn pains at once, and quickly you can lift the corn right off the toe or foot, with the fingers. It ends callouses, the same simple way. Millions use it. Money back guarantee. Costs but a trifle—everywhere. E. Lawrence & Co., Mfr., Chicago. Sold in this city by Pitcher & Service and Lee & Osgood Company.

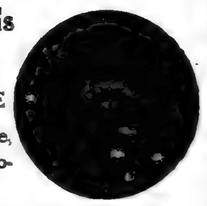
New Brunswick Records Are Sold in Norwich

EXCLUSIVELY AT OUR STORE

There are no better records made, and they will play on and Phonograph.



Another New Victrola Model

This instrument has every feature of the large expensive models, such as powerful guaranteed motor, album, automatic stop; case work in genuine mahogany, oak, or walnut, and it is priced right.

$115.00

Terms as low as $1.00 per week, without extra interest charges of any kind.

Only at our store can you hear both the Victrola and Brunswick Phonographs in proper comparison. Come in and ask about out FREE TRIAL OFFER.

THE ONLY MUSIC HOUSE IN NORWICH

The Talking Machine Shop

24-34 FRANKLIN SQUARE

Pianos, Victrolas, Violins, Saxophones, Ukeleles, Etc.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy, and youthful with Sage Tea and Sulphur

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

KALEIDOSCOPE

The longest average of human life is to be found in Norway.

The Mexican government has issued an order that operators take precautions to prevent the loss of natural gas.

Women's jewelry in the Egyptian life of 5,000 years ago often bore a close resemblance to the present-day ornaments.

Although it is nearly thirty years since New Zealand gave women the vote, no woman has been elected to parliament.

Iron, copper, zinc and practically every other element known to be on earth has been detected on the sun in a gaseous state.

It was an ancient belief that nine grains of wheat laid on a four-leaved clover, enabled one to see the fairies.

The director of public health of Peru has announced that that country is now free from yellow fever for the first time in its history.

The chemical analysis of a faint star can now be made as quickly as an equally complex substance can be analyzed in the laboratory.

A large proportion of the upper classes in China are near-sighted and, because of their flat-bridged noses, prefer spectacles to eyeglasses.

Three presidents of the United States were graduates of Harvard university, John Adams, John Quincy Adams and Theodore Roosevelt.

W. E. Sanderson, of the New York State College of Forestry, has a record of having planted nearly 1,200,000 baby trees in demonstration forests.

Tay Pay O'Connor, celebrated journalist and "father" of the British house of commons, confesses that to have to make an after-dinner speech fills him with terror.

The vitamines contained in cod liver oil come from the floating microscopic green plants of the sea which are eaten by small crustacea, which in turn are eaten by codfish.

Lord Beatty, one of Britain's naval heroes in the last war, established something like a record when he became a captain. He rose to this rank before he was thirty.

It is well known that many jewels are susceptible to the changes in health of their wearer. Amethysts change from rich purple to violet with failing health, opals shrink and pearls lose their luster.

Signor Nitti, Italian statesman and former premier, is an inveterate smoker, and to safeguard his health he has adopted the novel plan of smoking one year and then entirely abstaining from tobacco the next.

Only 75,066 Confederate veterans out of more than 1,000,000 who fought for the south during the civil war, are now living. Of this number 65,707 are drawing pensions, 1,859 are in soldiers' homes and the residences of 7,500 are unknown.

Stanley Baldwin, the chancellor of the exchequer, in the British government, who recently visited America, has represented one constituency for sixteen years, and his father sat for the same constituency sixteen years before that.

It was Sir Howard Grubb, the Irish telescope maker, who invented a most ingenious form of telescopic sight for use with a rifle. Neither fore nor back sight is employed with this contrivance, but the shooter in taking aim, looks through a small lens which, by an optical device, throws an image of a bright little cross in front of the gun and in line with the barrel. The image serves as a foresight, and by simply holding the center of the cross upon the object aimed at the marksman takes his aim.—Washington Star.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

An Italian who kept a fruit stand was much annoyed by possible customers who made a practice of handling the fruit and pinching it, thereby leaving it soften and often spoiled. Exasperated beyond endurance, he finally put up a sign which read: "If you must pincha da fruit—pincha da cocoanut!"—The Crow's Nest.

Wife—John, with everything so high, do you think you ought to smoke cigars any longer?

Hub—Why, yes, my dear—twenty or thirty puffs longer, and in future I shall make it a point to do so.—Boston Transcript.

Excitedly the manufacturer of the world's greatest insect exterminator powder burst into the export manager's office.

"Hey!" he bellowed. "Have we got an agency in Egypt?"

"Why—er—no, sir."

"Well, why ain't me? I see a movie of them pyramids las' night and it says they was covered with millions of hieroglyphics." — American Legion Weekly.

Her Betrothal Rumored

Little Princess Ileana, of Roumania, who is only 14 years old, and is already considered by many the most beautiful of feminine royalty, is to be engaged. Rumors from the Continent point to King Boris, of Bulgaria, and Queen Marie, of Roumania, is said to have spoken over the proposition with Premier Stamboulisky, of Bulgaria. Evidently neither the King or the Princess will have a say-so in the matter—and a marriage is contemplated for the "good of the state".

EASY WEEKLY PAYMENTS

CHARGE IT

EASY WEEKLY PAYMENTS

EASTER CLOTHES

Right now when most people are carefully considering their Easter Clothes, we are showing the most complete and varied stock we have ever carried—all smart, up-to-the-minute styles from America's leading makers. And there's such a wide range of prices that everybody in the family can suit their own particular needs at just the price they wish to pay.

BUY NOW YOUR TERMS OUR TERMS

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' COATS, SUITS AND DRESSES

There are many new arrivals in Coats, Suits and Dresses, in fact, we have a wonderfully large collection of all the season's loveliest models.

WRAPS, CAPES and COATS, of Lustrosa, Bolivia, Overplaid, Camel's Hair and Polo Cloth.

SUITS, of fine quality Poiret Twill, Tricotine, Tweed and Polo Cloth.

DRESSES, of Canton Crepe, Printed Crepe, Paisley Silk, Taffeta and Crepe Satin.

ALL SIZES, AND ALL COLORS.

SPECIAL SHOWING OF MEN'S SUITS AND TOP-COATS

Smart style, with snap and distinction. Models to please young men, as well as the conservative dresser. The largest and finest assortment we have ever carried—all the leading materials, newest shades, and latest patterns, from the best New York tailors.

SUITS, of splendid all-wool fabrics. Various striped, checked and mixed worsteds, cassimeres and flannels.

TOP-COATS, of extra quality Oxford, Cheviot, Tweed and Whipcord.

Also Exceptional Values In Boys' Suits and O'Coats.

OUR POLICY: — Value, Service, Reliability, Economy, Courtesy.

BIG VARIETY LOWEST PRICES EASIEST TERMS

GATELY & BRENNAN

BIG VARIETY LOWEST PRICES EASIEST TERMS

Open Saturday Evenings

29 and 31 Shetucket Street, Norwich, Conn.

LIFE'S MIRROR

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give the world the best you have
And the best will come back to you.

Give love, and love to your life will flow.
And strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind.
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.

For life is the mirror of king and slave,
'Tis just what you are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

—By MADELINE S. BRIDGES.

Bechuanaland.

"African history crops out in queer places; in the rock tomb of Tut-ankh-amen, for example, and again in the death of King Khama of Bamangwato, Bechuanaland," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"There is some accounting for Pharaoh Tut, but if one were seeking the 'greatest native of Africa' he would likely look last in the half-mapped, thinly-peopled, malaria-ridden and beast-infested region circled by the Union of South Africa, the Rhodesias, and southwest Africa.

"A glance at a map of Africa will show these border countries besprinkled with towns, populous and historic, whose sons often attain world fame. Already they are netted with railways, and more are building.

"On the other hand, Bechuanaland is a South African Sahara in its lack of settlements and railways. The Cape-to-Cairo line crosses its southern frontier at Mafeking, and elbows its way along its eastern boundary until it emerges again at Plumtree.

"The latter name sounds like a town of our own west in Bret Harte days, and appropriately so. For west of Plumtree stretch the 'bad lands' of Bechuanaland—a vast waste of salt marshes with the Great Makalakari Salt Lake in the foreground and farther inland the Lake Ngami country. Here, in the Kalahari desert, live a people who have been called the most backward in Africa. And this desert, it has been said, is their fortress 'whose walls are the want of water.'

"Through numberless isolated centuries the Bakalahari have developed a sort of sixth sense for water finding. They draw it through reeds from near-surface streams, by suction, and use gourds and ostrich egg shells to collect the precious fluid.

"To the south of Bechuanaland's Great Salt Lake, not far from the great trunk line railway's dusty Bechuanaland sector, nor from the crossing of Capricorn and the Limpopo, is Serowe, native metropolis of the Bamangwato branch of the country's Bantu-Negroid peoples.

"Much further advanced than the northern desert dwellers, Bamangwato's patriarchs still can tell of times when sickly children were killed, blind babes were strangled and girls were introduced to womanhood by Spartan tests and Bacchanalian practices.

"Among this tribe was born, about 1830, a bright black boy who at the age of 12 met David Livingstone. How one contact with civilization affected this black son of a backward tribe is a rare adventure in human nature. Khama is the one native of Africa whose biography is worth the writing, one writer asserts.

"Khama ruled as an autocrat in peace because he had been mighty in war. He obtained aid from the British government against incursions of the Boers and he beat back his neighbor Matabele tribesmen so effectually that his people thereafter were immune from their periodic raids.

"Khama's conversion was no emotional or mystical camp meeting affair. He seized upon a few practical virtues and enforced them so literally that visitors to his clean, prosperous capital usually are amazed. He first set about making his people sober and honest. Even missionaries are said to have remonstrated with him about his sudden banning of native beer; but the grim old autocrat said that some beer might be all right for white folks but no beer was the only salvation of his tribe.

"Many stories are told of his rigid honesty. On one occasion he sold, for a good price, a horse which died a few days after delivery to the purchaser. Khama returned the purchase price, saying that his inquiries showed that the horse had contracted the fatal illness while still in his possession.

"A visitor to his domain wrote, 'Khama regulates the price of the goat you buy; and the milk vender dare not ask more than the regulation price, nor can you get it for less. He has put a stop to the existence of witch doctors. He pervades everything in his town. He is always on horseback, visiting the fields, the stores, and the outlying kraals. He is a veritable father of his people, a curious and unaccountable outcrop of mental power and integrity among a degraded and powerless people.'

"The whole of Bechuanaland, an area somewhat larger than Texas, affords a lesson in conservation. Its dryness is attributed, in large part, to the continual cutting away of its trees. Most of its rivers are intermittent; many of them seep away in the desert stretches. Fish burrow into the mud in rivulet beds during the time the streams go dry."

Cardamon, found principally in Malabar and Ceylon, is fruit of the ginger family.

LATE WINTER COLDS OFTEN FATAL TAKE NO CHANCES—USE VAPOR-EZE

Eminent medical authorities have recently called attention to the fact that the greatest number of deaths from pneumonia occur during the late winter and early spring. That is why it is of the utmost importance, at this time of year, to get rid of a cold as quickly as possible. Give it no chance to develop into pneumonia or influenza.

Sterling's Vapor-Eze acts on a cold, in head or chest, in two ways at once. First, its antiseptic properties destroy the germ that causes the cold, and, secondly, its healing, soothing vapors penetrate deep down into the air passages restoring the membranes to a normal, healthy condition and thoroughly breaking up congestion.

Simply rub Sterling's Vapor-Eze on the throat and chest at bedtime, and place a little of this healing antiseptic ointment up the nostrils and breathe that cold away. Be sure to get the genuine Sterling's Vapor-Eze from your druggist. A 25 cent jar will do the trick. Look for the name "Sterling."

WESTERLY

Benjamin Dower, for over forty years a resident of Westerly, died at his home Thursday morning after a lingering illness. Mr. Dower was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dower and was born in Cornwall, England. He was recently employed by C. E. Cottrell Soon Press Company. He is survived by his wife and son, W. Emsell Dower, Deputy of Internal Revenue, a daughter Miss Charlotte Dower who is a trained nurse in Providence and two brothers James and Nicolos of Westerly. He was 64 years old.

Honors have been awarded to the following students who graduated from the Westerly High School in the year 1923. Miss Frances Andrews and Miss Mildred Saunders have been awarded the highest scholastic honors in the senior class. Miss Andrews has been chosen valedictorian and Miss Saunders salutatorian.

The speakers who have chosen for the annual class night are a follows: Presidents address, by Harris Browning; history, Miss Mildred Palmer; Dorothy Krebsft prophecy, Miss Constance Rathbun; gifts, Randolph Holt, poems, competitors; songs, competitors; class ode, competitors; statistics, Clarence Stenbouse; degree, Robert Blake; last will and testament, Miss Ruth Patton.

At a recent meeting of the Westerly lodge, No. 12 Royal Order of Moose, the following members were elected to office by Deputy Supreme Dictator John A. Jones; James Shea, past dictator; James Perfit, dictator; James Donovan, vice dictator; Harry Pellepp, prelate; Albert Sylvia, treasurer; Andrew Menick, trustee; Noyes D. Morse, sergeant at arms; Frank Murray, inner guard, Harry Pellepp, James McCormick, John W. Johnson, auditing committee.

The members of Deborah Chapter No. 7, Order of Eastern Star, held a social in the Masonic rooms on High Street Wednesday evening. There was about 200 present and a paper was read by Mrs. George O. Murphy.

P. Edwin Grove of Beverley, Mass., is spending a few days in Westerly.

Narragansett lodge, No. 21, K. of C., are making plans to hold their annual banquet at the Elm Tree Inn on West Broad street. They will observe the 38th anniversary of the order. The committee on arrangements is James McCormick, James Spellman, Lester O'Brien, M. Walter Flynn.

GURLEYVILLE

District Superintendent W. H. Bath of Norwich held the fourth quarterly conference in the church here last Sunday. The pastor Rev. Franklin Frye was requested to return another year.

Miss Alfreda Walker is pending part of her Easter vacation with relatives on Knowlton Hill.

E. A. Walker and daughter, Alfreda, were recent visitors at the home of Miss Whitney of Storrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Beebe from Vermont attended funeral of Mr. Beebe's mother in Norwich. Mrs. Beebe is spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Dimock.

JEWETT CITY

Edward Blanchard, the owner of the famous and historic Button Tavern, is perfecting plans, which he intends to put in operation in a few weeks for an addition which is to be placed on the front. This is the building, with the wonderfully artistic doorway, about which so much has been said and written. Mr. Blanchard, plans to remove the part of the western front which shall include the saving of the doorway intact, which for handsome design and architectural beauty, stands without a peer. Admirers of art have secured many photographs and enthusiasts in architecture have made notably fine offers, for this unsurpassed work of the designers skill.

A. M. Clark is in Boston and Thursday evening, attended the Omar Grotto celebration. He was the guest of his son, Fred C. Clarke, of the Masonic club.

Morton Brown and Kathleen Dearnley of Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass. David Clark of the Moses Brown school in Providence and Ellen Faust of Abbott academy, Andover, Mass., will be home this week for the Easter recess.

Jewett City is noted among other things for its "inserts". Reports are at hand from the several secret societies in town, telling of large classes to take the degrees, and many applicants seeking admission into the orders.

The K. of C., Masons, K. of P. and Odd Fellows all have their quota on their waiting lists.

A number of local radio fans were able to get Louisville, Ky., with unusual distinctness Wednesday evening. In the middle of the song Genevieve, which was being broadcasted from that distant city, and it was coming in fine, some one from over Schemechtady way yelled out—"When you stir your fudge take it off the fire."

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Whiting were visitors in Westerly Wednesday.

Thirty bushels of potatoes were sold in the borough this week by three different farmers at $1.25 per bushel. A problem is presented how the farmer gets by at that price, considering the present high cost of help and fertilizer.

Food and agricultural products from the state will be displayed in the state exhibit at the Sesqui-Centennial in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Edith Gallup is spending a few days with her sister in New Haven.

Dr. Hugh Campbell still holds his clinic at the Red Cross room next week Friday morning. The last Friday in the month is to be his date in Griswold.

Mrs. D. F. Egan, Jr., has returned from a New York hospital, where she has been three weeks.

Isabel Hancock who has been very ill is improving.

PLAINFIELD

Miss Ruth A. Hall, instructor in mathematic at Rose Mary Hall, Greenwich, N. J., is spending the Easter vacation with her people, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall.

At the meeting of the First Ecclesiastical society held in the vestry of the Congregational church Wednesday evening, Walter Kingsley was chosen chairman and James Boyth reported for the committee of theseciety in the absence of the chairman, W. P. Barstow. Important matters were taken up and acted upon, the following committee being appointed to bring in definite estimates on the proposed improvements in the auditorium, W. R. Barstow, S. T. Butterworth, Charles F. Heap, two new members were added, A. C. Tillinghast and George Babcock. The meeting adjourned to Thursday, March 29.

Mrs. Frances Ashley has been quite ill with the grippe and is still confined to her bed.

Miss Lydia Walker has recovered so far from the grippe that she was able to go out for a short time on Thursday.

A very pleasant gathering was the birthday party given Mrs. Arthur Moffitt on Gallup avenue Tuesday evening when a large number of neighbors and friends met to celebrate the occasion. Mrs. Moffitt gave selections on the violin accompanied by Harold R. Barstow, pianist. There was singing by a chorus of young people. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening, and there were many lovely presents.

Ralph Barstow has resigned his position with Henry Dorrance for whom he has worked for a year and a half, and has taken a responsible position on the Paine farm at Chestnut Hill. Mr. Barstow left on Wednesday for his new work. Mrs. Barstow and the two children remaining to spend a week with Mrs. Harold R. Barstow.

Matched games on the bowling alleys at the Community house on Monday evening.

	Red Sox
Hopkins	105	90	110	93	96	109	603
Seamell	128	139	102	120	108	149	746
Mathewson	108	91	102	115	88	125	629
Pechie	107	98	126	118	119	113	671
Moffitt	109	126	118	98	138	128	709
Totals	657	546	548	544	539	625	3358
	High Rollers
Janney	113	107	125	124	112	104	700
Leahy	98	95	107	103	123	94	620
Jodoin	94	83	116	107	101	106	611
Leathers	103	102	103	96	100	118	622
Allard	94	117	96	108	124	97	627
Totals	509	509	547	549	560	518	3190

TRIAL OF ARCHBISHOP AND 16 PRIESTS AT MOSCOW

Moscow, March 22.—(By the A. P.)—The testimony at today's session of the trial of Archbishop Zepliak of Petrograd, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, and sixteen priests, showed that the soviet officials encountered sharp resistance when they attempted to requisition the valuables in the Catholic churches of the former capital.

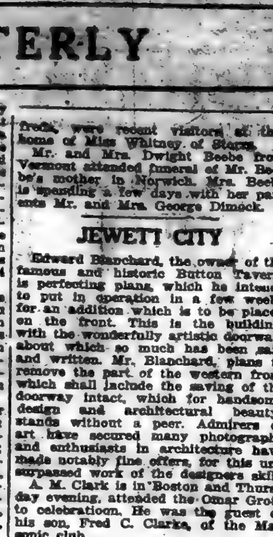
The churchmen are charged with opposing the decree separating the church and state, and resisting the sequestration of church treasures.

The Russian agents in their work requisitioning valuables found the sturdy, clean-shaven young Catholic priests far different from the bearded clergy of the Russian Orthodox church, most of whom even assisted in the requisition, the testimony indicated.

The young priest Eismond, at the Church of St. Casimir, Petrograd, halted the requisitioners when they sought to examine the Host, declaring that they could pass only over his dead body.

Archbishop Zepliak, wearing a red hat and red belt, is the center of the group of defendants, most of whom are young.

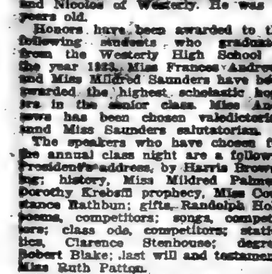
A "Duchess To Be"



Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, youngest daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, whose engagement to the Duke of York, second son of King George and Queen Mary, was recently announced by a court circular. Lady Elizabeth has taken two years in which to make up her mind, and the Duke found it anything but smooth sailing to get her to say "yes". She is an intimate friend of Princess Mary and has known the Duke since childhood.

For Colds, Influenza and as a Preventive

Take



Laxative

Bromo Quinine

tablets

The First and Original Cold and Grip Tablet

The box bears this signature

E. W. Grove

30c.

ANNOUNCEMENT

THE PRINCESS SHOP

The Newest Store in Norwich announce because of numerous delays due to construction, necessitating the postponement of our new store—will offer on its Opening Days—the early part of next week, A SPECIAL DISCOUNT ON ALL EASTER MERCHANDISE, to the Women of Norwich and vicinity.

The Princess Shop will carry a complete stock of Distinctive Women's and Misses' Ready-to-Wear and Up-to-the-Minute Millinery.

WATCH FOR FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"Get Your Easter Apparel at The Princess Shop"

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Hustling for Supper

Oh, where, oh, where is my thinking cap,
Since I started to tell this tale?
Someone is wearing it, I am sure—
Maybe a great, big whale!

A story or two ago, I began,
To tell how I met bunny chap.
Won't somebody tell that big, old whale
To return my memory cap?

Oh, yes, now I remember. Just as the little bunny boy hopped up the two little steps to the front porch, a canary bird in a gold cage that hung by the front door began to sing such a pretty song. She opened her little yellow bill and twittered:

He washed his little face and that's how Little Jack Rabbit got his name.

"Home again, home again,
Through the sunshine or the rain,
Home is the dearest place to stay,
After you have played all day."

"I think so, too," laughed the little rabbit, hopping around to the kitchen door. Turning the knob, he pushed it open and I saw from the treetop such a neat little kitchen. The floor was all shiny and so was the little black stove and whom do you suppose was standing? Why, the prettiest little lady rabbit bunny mother you ever saw. She had on a gingham apron that reached from her little white throat down to her little pink toes, and she was stirring a lollypop stew!

Boys and girls, did you ever smell fudge when it was being cooked? Well, lollypop stew smells twice as nice. Why I almost fell out of the lollypop tree as I leaned far out, trying to get more of the fragrance that drifted up from the pink and yellow and green lollypops as they bobbed up and down in the boiling, syrupy water.

Just as the little rabbit hopped over the door-sill, his pretty bunny mother turned and said:

"Hurry up, Little Jack Rabbit. Supper's almost ready. Wash your hands and face and part your hair down the middle of your back."

So the little rabbit hopped over the little tiny iron sink in the corner of the kitchen, and working the handle of the pump up and down, washed his little paws and then his little face and after that, he hopped over to where a little towel ran around and around on a rolling pin. Pressing his little face up against the front of the towel, he pulled it down, from the back with his little paws and so wiped his face up and his little paws on the way down. Then, taking a little chip out of his pocket he parted his hair down the middle of his back, right down to his little cottontail, and, hopping across the room, sat down at one end of the table on which his mother had already spread a nice red table cloth, all covered with big white roses and edged with fringe.

Just then, out of the woodbox by the kitchen stove jumped four little people, one a tiny black cricket and three funny grasshoppers, who, at once started to play on their fiddles. You know how a grasshopper plays on his fiddle? But this is all for tonight, little girls and boys. Tomorrow we shall hear what happened after that.

(Copyright, 1923, by David Cory)

WOULD HAVE BANKS FORM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

Washington, March 22.—Suggestions that country banks may legally organize loan associations under state laws as adjuncts to meet competition anticipated from the new intermediate credit banks soon to operate under the agricultural credits act, were given tonight, in a formal statement by the federal farm loan board. The statement, it was indicated, was intended to give assurance to the thousands of country bankers that it was not desired that they should be driven out of business by the governments credit program.

It is the aim of the farm loan board in administering the new law to facilitate the service of the country banks rather than interfere with them, the statement explained, adding hat the country banks, obviously ca ameet the expected competition by use of rediscounts, although this course appeared to the board as questionable.

MORE THAN 1,300,000 UNEMPLOYED IN BRITAIN

London, March 22 (By the A. P.)—The ministry of labor gives the number of registered unemployed in Great Britain at the present moment as more than 1,300,000. Despite these huge figures unemployment throughout this country has been for a considerable time unusually free from serious labor disputes, mainly owing to the fact that the big trade unions, whose funds have been seriously depleted by previous trade struggles, find themselves no longer able successfully to resist the continued fall in wages, which is shown to be necessitated through the country's stagnant trade.

Recently, however, a number of strikes have developed with spread and or active strikes in several trades, notably the engineering, building and shipbuilding and electrical workers and farm laborers. At times the very extensive movements involving the miners and dock workers.

The output of coal from the British and Welsh coal fields has increased approximately 1,000,000 tons weekly, as compared with last year, while the imminent difficulties in the Ruhr have caused a brief pessimism with regard prices. The miners consider they are entitled to a share of these profits, more especially as with the exception of the agricultural laborers, they are probably the worst paid laborers in the country. But as it is neither to the interest of the employers nor the workers to have a coal strike at the present time hopes are entertained that this question will be amicably arranged.

RADICAL FOSTER MUST FACE JURY'S DECISION

St. Joseph, Mich., March 22 (By the A. P.)—William Z. Foster, charged with violating Michigan's criminal syndicalism law by assembling with the national communist convention last August, must face a jury's decision as to whether he shall go free or serve ten years in prison, or pay a fine of $5,000 or possibly both.

Judge Charles White today overruled a motion by Frank P. Walsh, chief of counsel for Foster, that the court direct the jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

Mr. Walsh submitted argument that no case had been proved against Foster. He also cited court decisions in Michigan and Kansas cases to sustain his position, but Judge White held there was no similarity between the legal literature cited and the present trial.

The court also held that the law was not in the constitutionality the Michigan law against syndicalism and that for the purpose of the trial he would declare it constitutional.

Mr. Walsh made his motion immediately after the state rested.

The defense declined to state tonight who its witnesses will be.

COUNTERFEIT QUARTERS AND HALF DOLLARS

New York, March 22.—Circulation of counterfeit quarters and half dollars, beautifully moulded and of such fine tone that only experts could detect them, recently put secret service operatives on the trail of Salvatore Romano, a former offender known for his skill. He was arrested today while trying to buy a newspaper with one of the spurious coins, seven of which the authorities charged were found in his pocket.

Romano was suspected, Captain John S. Tucker said, because of the excellent workmanship of the coins. The prisoner was one of the most skilful counterfeiters in the country, he declared, and had been sentenced to 15 years in the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, but a year ago had been released on parole.

GREAT PRODUCTION OF AUTOMOBILES IN FEBRUARY

Washington, March 22.—Automobile production was larger in February than in any month since last June, department of commerce figures announced today, placing the output of passenger cars at $254,415, compared with 223,706 in January, and 109,171 in February, 1922. Trucks produced totalled 21,354, compared with 19,376 in January and 13,196 in February last year.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

Coughs and colds are contagious and require prompt treatment, as they spread or develop into flu and grippe. Take no chances when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar for a few cents and quickly check coughs and colds. The constantly increasing demand for Foley's Honey and Tar, for three generations, has made it the largest selling cough medicine in the world. Contains no opiates—ingredients are printed on the wrapper. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon Foley's. Lee & Osgood Co.

MR. AND MRS GOOD CITIZEN

Are you interested in the Salvation Army?

Do you want to help in its great task?

READ THE WAR CRY!

Sincerely,

Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

HOUSE OF DAVID IS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 22.—(By the A. P.)—Declarations that the Israelite House of David bribed a prosecuting attorney in Berrien county to avert an investigation of alleged immoral conditions within the domain of the cult and that an appeal was once made to the governor of Michigan to prevent an inquiry by federal agencies, marked the testimony today of Mrs. Esther Hansell in the suit for a financial accounting brought by her parents-at-law, who charge they were made the victims of fraud by the colony.

Mrs. Hansell brought her testimony to a climax with a passionate plea for action against the House of David, and a challenge to attorneys of the cult to bring into court girls she declared had been mistreated by its leader, Benjamin David Purnell. Girls of tender age, now in the colony, she declared, would bear out the sensational charges of immorality practiced under the guise of religious ceremonies.

GUILTY OF SUBSTITUTING WATER FOR WHISKEY

Philadelphia, March 22.—Matthew F. Griffin, formerly head of the United States secret service in the Philadelphia district, and six other defendants were found guilty by a jury in the federal district court today of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with an alleged plot to substitute water for whiskey and alcohol in a large shipment to Greece. They were held in $10,000 bail each pending argument on a motion for a new trial. Had the plans of the alleged conspirators gone through it was said they would have made at least $5,000,000.

Cuticura Soap Complexions Are Healthy

Sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment free. Address: "Cuticura, Dept. X, Malden, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c.

CLOTHES OF MERIT

Of course you are thinking of buying a new Spring Suit or Top-Coat. You are always sure that any suit or top-coat you select here is correct in style, workmanship, and material the best.

We not only give unusual values, but you have selections from a large stock. Our overhead expenses are exceptionally low, that we are able to offer these advertised brands AT A GREAT SAVING.

"Ell-Ess System" Clothes In the Newest Styles and Shades

If you have worn this brand of clothing before, you are sure to call for it again. These suits show the newest styles, and are beautifully tailored, very specially priced—

$34.50 to $38.50

Biltmore Clothes, Artcraft Clothes, H. G. System Clothes

These brands of clothing made of serviceable fabrics, smart styles, skillfull tailoring, at popular prices—

$24.50 to $32.50

We invite your inspection and will be pleased to show you our line of MEN'S SUITS and TOP-COATS, whether you intend buying or not.

Salomon's Surprise Store

"BETTER VALUE FOR LESS MONEY"

244 MARKET STREET CORNER MAIN NORWICH, CONN.

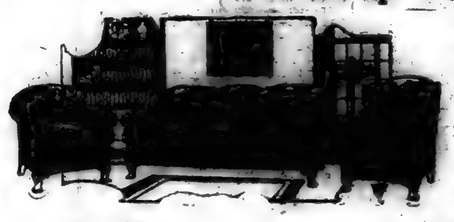
SCHWARTZ BROS., Inc.

March Sweeps in with

A Host of Bargains

March winds blow a hurricane of furniture values! Reductions that spell savings of the most exceptional character. Even at this store, where low prices are the rule, this remarkable selling event has created a stir. Buy all the furniture you are going to need for a long, long time while prices are still down to the lowest levels.

A Fine Display of 3-Piece Overstuffed Living Room Suites At $139.00 up to $475.00



Why not start your better home with the purchase of a living room suite that is really worthy of your ideal? A handsome 3-piece suite including a davenport, arm chair and rocker upholstered in combination tapestry or velour, can now be secured at this extremely reasonable price—$139.00.

WHITNEY PULLMAN SLEEPERS—$35.00

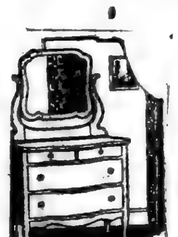
Finished in the latest style brown or blue, with a closely woven fibre hood and body, easy springs and wood wheels. Extra special at only $35.00.

Dining Suites of Quality—$145.00

You'll be delighted with the appearance of the new designs in dining furniture. Splendid nine-piece suites including large oblong table, five chairs and host's chair upholstered in tapestry, a large buffet and china cabinet to match are a sensational value right now. Extra special for only $145.00.

4-Piece Bedroom Suites—$154.00

You will be charmed by the new modes in bedroom furniture. This suite is Queen Anne in design, graceful and dignified. Included is a full size bow end bed, a handsome semi-vanity, chiffonette and dresser with large mirror. Splendid value now at this extremely moderate price.



DRESSERS

Just in! A big shipment of the very latest designs in dressers from one of most famous manufacturers of quality furniture. Beautifully finished in oak, walnut or mahogany—

$18.50 for Oak Dresser

FIBRE ROCKERS AT $13.95

These fibre rockers will prove very attractive to March buyers and the price represents a distinct reduction from the former low level.

Roll Edge Mattress—$12.75

Built for sleeping comfort! This mattress is deeply tufted with roll edge construction and ordinarily sells for a far higher price. Better come early if you want one as they're a wonderful bargain at this low figure—$12.75.

WHERE YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD

SCHWARTZ BROS. Inc.

76-78-80-82 MAIN ST.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales 1,137,600 shares. 20 industrials averaged 105.09, net [illegible] high 1923 105.82; low, 94.96. 20 railroads averaged 89.46, net [illegible] 87, high 1923 90.63; low 84.53.

MARKET WAS ACTIVE

New York, March 23—Speculative apprehension over the possibility of [illegible] federal reserve rate brought a large volume of selling orders for both accounts into today's stock market, but fair buying support was forthcoming and the reactions in most of the popular industrial issues were held to fractions. Operations on the short side of the market also were encouraged by the weakened technical position of a number of stocks resulting from the rapidity of their recent advance.

Stiffening of the time money rate to a virtual 5 1-2 per cent. basis for all maturities and the striking up of the call money rate to 6 per cent. after a renewal rate of 5, called attention to the increasing stringency of the money situation, which was also reflected in the further depreciation of bond values. Although brokers had been bidding 5 1-4 and bankers asking 5 1-2 per cent. for time money for some time, few large loans at the higher rate had been made prior to today when several such transactions were reported.

Independent strength was shown by several issues in the oil, sugar and rubber and motor accessory groups. Mariand oil was heavily bought on the announcement that the company had closed a contract with the Standard Oil Co., of New Jersey whereby one of the latter's subsidiaries will purchase between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000 of its surplus crude oil and gasoline. The stock jumped 2 1-2 points to 53 1-4, a new peak price. California petroleum touched 102 3-8, also a new top, but later fell back nearly 2 points, closing at a small fractional gain. Phillips petroleum also and the Barnsdall issues were strong, but the other oils were heavy.

Kelly-Springfield, United States Rubber and Lee Tire all soared to new high records, but they were unable to maintain all their gains.

Some of the other individual strong spots were Cluett Peabody, Granby Mining, Kresge, Case Threshing machine, South Porto Rican sugar, and Union Bag and Paper, up 1 3-4 to 5 points. Reynolds Spring, Fisher body, and American Cotton Oil common and preferred were among the outstanding heavy spots.

Lack of good buying support caused moderate recessions in a number of the rails, particularly Canadian Pacific, Texas & Pacific, and Delaware & Hudson, but Western Maryland second preferred moved up over a point.

Indications that the recent rise in the French franc had been too rapid were seen in today's 16 point break to 6.66 cents. Other continental exchanges also weakened slightly while demand sterling was virtually unchanged, selling just above $4.69.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 3 P. M.:

	Highest	Lowest	Close
Al Chem & D	77	75¾	76½
Allis Chalmers	50	50	50
Allis Chal pr	97⅞	97⅛	97⅞
Am Beet Sugar	46½	45⅝	45⅞
Am Bosch Mag	55½	55	55
Am Can	102⅝	101½	101⅞
Am Can pr	111½	111½	111½
Am Car & F	183¼	183	183
Am Car & F pr	119¼	119¼	119¼
Am Cotton Oil	16	15¼	15¼
Am Cotton Oil pr	29⅞	28½	28½
Am Hide & L	12¾	12¼	12¾
Am Int Corp	29¾	28½	28⅝
Am Tel & Tel	122⅞	122⅝	122⅝
Am Tobacco	156⅝	156⅜	156⅝
Am Woolen	108	106⅝	107⅝
Anaconda	52	51¼	51⅞
Atchison	104¼	103½	103⅝
Atchison pr	89¼	89⅛	89½
Balt & Ohio	56¾	55¼	55¼
Balt & Ohio pr	60⅝	60⅛	60⅛
Beth Steel	67	67	67
Beth Steel B	69⅝	68¼	68⅜
Beth Steel new pr	94⅛	94⅛	94⅛
Brook Rap T ctfs	6⅜	6¼	6⅜
But Cop & Z	10⅜	10	10¼
But & Sup Cop	35⅜	35	35
Canadian Pacific	149⅜	149⅜	149
Cent Leather	38⅝	38½	38½
Cent Leather pr	78⅝	78	78⅝
Chand Motor	73¼	73¼	73¼
Ches & Ohio	73⅞	73⅝	73⅞
Ches & Ohio pr	103⅜	103⅜	103⅜
Ch & Gt West	6	6	6
C M & St P	25⅜	24⅞	25
C M & St P pr	44⅜	44	44
Ch & N W	87	86½	86½
C R I & P	37⅝	37¼	37½
Chile Copper	29¼	28⅞	28⅞
Chino Cop	31¼	30⅝	30½
Coseden	60⅝	59¼	60
Cruc Steel	17⅞	17¼	17⅝
Del & Hudson	119	118¼	118¼
Dome Mines	43½	42¼	42⅜
Erie	13½	12⅝	12⅞
Erie 1 pr	20⅝	20¼	20¼
Fisher Body rts	19⅝	18½	19⅜
Fisher Body	187	185	185
Gen Electric	186¼	186	186
Gen Motors	15	14⅝	15
Gen Mot 6 p c	84	84	84
Great North pr	78	78	78
Great North Or	35⅝	35⅝	35⅝
Goodyear Tire pfd	96⅝	96⅝	96⅝
Hudson Motor	31	30⅝	30⅝
Illinois Cent	115⅝	115⅝	115⅝
Inspir Cop	41¼	41	41
Int Mer Mar	11	11	11
Int Mer Mar pr	42⅝	42	42⅝
Int Paper	56	55	55
Kennecot Cop	43⅝	43⅛	43⅜
Keystone Tire	10⅝	9¾	10⅛
Lehigh Valley	67⅝	67⅛	67⅝
Max Motor A	59¾	58¾	58⅝
Mex Petrol	270	270	270
Miami C Cop	39	38⅝	39
M K & T new	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
Mo K & T pr a	42	42	42
Mo Pacific	18	17⅝	17⅝
Mo Pac pr	47⅝	47	47
Nat En & St	73⅝	71⅝	72
N Y Air Brake	37⅞	37½	37⅝
N Y Air Brake A	49⅝	48⅝	49⅛
N Y Central	99⅜	98⅝	98⅝
N Y N H & H	20¼	20	20¼
Nor & West	113¼	113⅜	113⅜
North Pacific	79	79	79
Penn R R	46⅝	46⅜	46⅝
Pierce Oil	5	4⅞	4⅞
Ry St Sp	131⅜	131⅜	131⅜
Ray Con C	16	15¼	15⅞
Reading	75⅝	74⅝	75⅛
Reading 2 pr	51⅝	51⅜	51⅜
Rep I & St	66	64½	64½
Rep I & St pr	96⅝	96⅜	96⅝
South Pacific	93⅜	93¼	93⅜
South Ry	34⅜	34¼	34⅝
South Ry pr	70⅝	70⅜	70⅝
Tobacco Prod	56¼	56	56⅛
Tobacco Prod pr	110	110	110
Tobacco Prod A	83	82⅝	83
Union Pacific	142⅜	141¼	142
Union Pacific pr	74½	73⅜	74⅛
U S Rubber	64⅜	63⅛	63⅞
U S Steel pr	108⅝	108⅛	108⅛
West Un Tel	115¾	114⅞	115
West Ftg	65⅛	64½	64⅝
Willys O'land	7⅜	7¼	7⅜
Willys O'land pr	52⅝	52⅜	52⅝

BOND MARKET

New York, March 23—Bond prices were generally reactionary in today's dealings on the New York stock exchange, although some of the cheapest issues were in demand by speculative interests. Failure of the higher securities to advance on a bullish market in stocks was construed in some quarters as due to selling in order to provide funds for stock speculation.

U. S. Government bonds were irregular, fluctuations being confined to narrow limits. A gain of one point by Czecho-Slovakian 8s was the outstanding bright spot in the foreign group in which trading was dull and irregular. Railroad mortgages continued heavy, losses of one point being recorded by Oregan & Washington 4s and 1 5-8 points by Great Northern 5 1-2s. Denver & Rio Grande refunding 5s gained 1 1-2 points.

In the industrial group recessions continued to predominate. Mariand Oil 7 1-2s were a notable feature rising 4 1-2 points. Punta Alegre sugar 7s were also up 1 1-4, but losses of 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 were registered by Colorado Industrial 5s, American waterworks 5s and Montana Power 5s.

Total sales (par value) were $12,127,000.

Public offerings was made of $3,000,000 national motors corporation first mortgage 7 1-2 per cent. sinking fund convertible bonds, due July 1, 1923, at 98 1-2 and interest to yield about 7.70 per cent.

LIVESTOCK MARKET

Chicago, March 22—Cattle, receipts 15,000; beef steers slow, unevenly generally fifteen to 25 lower; killing quality plainer than Wednesday; top matured steers 990; lighter kind 975; bulk beef steers 800 a 925; beef heifers fairly numerous, largely 25 lower; several load lots 700 a 775; plainer kinds downward to 600; beef cows weak to 25 lower; canners and cutters weak; bulls weak to 15 lower; spots more; many yealers arriving late unsold at noon; stockers and feeders scarce, about steady; several lots out of first handins 750 a 800; choice about 974 pound feeders to country late yesterday 820.

Hogs, receipts 53,000; 15 to 25 lower; closed uneven, strong at day's decline; bulk 150 to 200 pound average 820 a 830; top 835; bulk 225 to 350 pound butchers 790 a 815; packing sows around 725 to 740; common to medium pigs 650 a 725; choice weight up to 800; estimated holdover 12,000.

Sheep, receipts 12,000; fat lambs 10 to 25 lower; top 1525; bulk desirable wooled lambs 1400 a 1500; clipped lambs mostly 1175 a 1240; fall shorn up to 1275; about 53 genuine forty pound spring lambs 1800; one load 87 pound fed yearling wethers 1325; one load mixed yearlings and two year olds 1150; desirable 108 pound fed ewes 900; three loads choice 109 pound clipped ewes 740; two loads 89 pound shearing lambs 1460.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 22—Although foreign buying of future deliveries helped give a moderate lift to wheat prices today, the effect failed to last in the face of late selling here against buying at Winnipeg. The Chicago market closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-4c lower, with May $1.21 7-8 to $1.22 and July $1.16 5-8 to $1.16 3-4. Corn finished a shade off to 1-8c up; oats at a shade decline to a like advance and provisions down 10c to 1⅛c.

After starting at a transient downturn in sympathy with lower quotations at Liverpool, the wheat market here advanced soon with offerings readily absorbed and buyers outnumbering sellers. demand for wheat available to be shipped at once appeared, however to lack volume as compared with yesterday and bulls were at a further disadvantage owing to word that a little moisture had been received in the dry sections of Kansas Then came spreading operations between here and Winnipeg, leaving prices here slanting downward in the final half hour.

Sales of 200,000 bushels of wheat to be put into storage here contributed in some degree to the weight on the market at the finish. In addition announcement was made that all of the rye afloat in the Chicago harbor, 306,000 bushels, had been ordered unloaded into public elevators, thus increasing the amount of breadstuffs ready for delivery on May contracts. Continued liberal shipments from Argentina was the chief reason given for weakness at Liverpool.

Confined within narrow limits, corn and oats reflected the action of wheat, notwithstanding that corn at Omaha commanded prices equalling the highest record this season.

Provisions were lower in line with hog values.

METAL MARKET

New York, March 22—Copper firm, electrolytic spot and futures 17 3-8 a 17 1-2; tin firm, spot and nearby 49.50 futures 49.25; iron steady, prices unchanged; lead steady, spot 8.25 a 8.50; zinc steady, east St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 8.00; antimony spot 8.75.

MONEY

New York, March 22—Call money, stronger; high 6; low 5; ruling rate 5; closing bid 6; offered at 6 1-4; last loan 6; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

COTTON

New York, March 22—Cotton, spot quiet; middling 30.70.

WILSONVILLE

Mrs. Ed. Keegan was in Oxford Monday.

Mrs. Kate Haggerty went to North Grafton Wednesday for a few days' visit with relatives.

Belle Langelier was in Webster on Sunday with relatives.

John Vignone of Worcester called on friends here Saturday.

The Pampered Zone.

Christopher Morley remarks that "the fat man is his sone enemy." Apparently, then, he obeys the injunction to love one's enemies.'—Boston Transcript.

All the World at Work

This country exported more than $32,000,000 worth of rubber products in 1922.

Antwerp.

The Belgian port of Antwerp from which, the last of America's "doughboys" sailed homeward, becomes the last town of the many from Bordeaux to St. Mihiel and Cantigny to Coblenz, in which the American Expeditionary Forces have played a part. The city is the subject of the following bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society:

"Antwerp might be taken as a classic example of how physical, economic, governmental and religious developments—and plain luck—affect the growth and prosperity of cities," says the bulletin. "It's history is a sort of epic of the poor but honest little village that worked hard, attracted a fairy godmother, grew up into riches and power, was thrown into rags by an ogre and then 'came back' all over again.

"An inconsequential inland village on a sluggish creek until before the twelfth century, Antwerp suddenly was given by a sea storm a broad estuary with a deep tide. A ridge of sand dunes, washed away, turned a long, tortuous channel into a short straight one. Through the years engineers constructed embankments, bettering the channels. But still the town remained relatively unimportant because of the competition of Bruges. Then Bruges' channel silted up, and Antwerp, twice the beneficiary of luck, came into its own.

"In 1503 the first foreign factory was founded by the Portuguese. Others followed, and in a little over fifty years the town had a population of more than 100,000, and was one of the most prosperous commercial centers in the world, with a hundred vessels borne in on every tide. It soon snatched the mantle of old Venice as the world's banking center, while its daily quota of ships reached 500.

"Europe, north of the Mediterranean countries, had never before possessed a city so prosperous and splendid as Antwerp. In the city merchant princes made their millions of florins; thousands of handsome dwellings were built; churches and public buildings were erected; and some of the world's most notable works of art were wrought. The cathedral, with a great tower rising over 400 feet, is an example of the best of Gothic architecture.

"One significant feature of Antwerp's rapid development in the sixteenth century was the fact that commercial liberalism, individualism and capitalism were somewhat more emphasized than in cities that had grown up before. The gild system was dying. Old Antwerp can be looked upon therefore, as a kinsman to the commerce-built cities of our own day and our own economic system. Foreign merchants, because of liberal laws and customs, found little interference with their comings and goings and their various enterprises.

"Commercial liberalism led to religious liberalism. Then came the Spanish conquest and Antwerp's power was soon shorn. Religious strife led to the separation of Holland from Belgium. The former retained control of the mouth of the Scheidt, Antwerp's channel, and kept the once powerful city from free access to the sea for two centuries. During this period of political and economic reverses Antwerp went into eclipse, while Amsterdam grew at its expense.

"Antwerp took its first step toward recovery when Napoleon, gaining possession of it, planned to build it up and make it 'a pistol directed at the heart of England.' He accomplished little, but Antwerp advanced slowly under the Dutch after Waterloo. In 1830 came the revolution which created Belgium and again Antwerp's situation improved. But the Dutch still controlled the mouth of the Scheidt and charged a toll on ships to Antwerp which operated like a 'differential' in favor of their own ports. This economic barrier alone, the Belgians felt, was holding Antwerp back from reaching its old estate. Finally in a transaction that deserves to rank with the purchase of the right-of-way for the Suez canal or our own Panama canal, the Belgians in 1863 bought free right-of-way through the Scheidt for 36,000,000 francs. From that time Antwerp forged ahead until just before the World war it was the greatest port of continental Europe except only Hamburg. Since the armistice it has probably reached first place on the continent, while surpassed in the world only by New York, London and Liverpool.

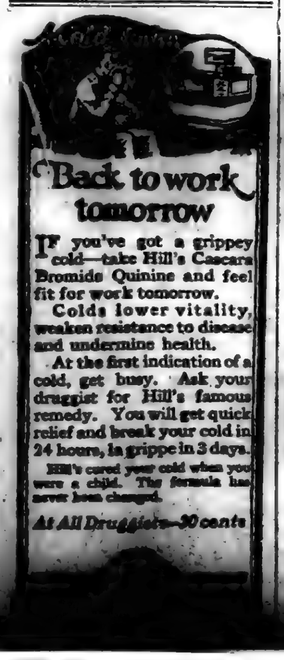
"Before the World war Antwerp was one of the most heavily fortified cities in Europe and was considered impregnable. The Belgian government and army retired there to make resistance, and it became one of the first cities on which Zeppelins rained bombs. Though the city was later bombarded by German siege guns and the defenders driven out, arrangements made through the American minister prevented the destruction of the city's cathedral and other irreplacable monuments.

"In speaking of 'Antwerp' we take the old Flemish name. The Belgians are interested in pushing to world leadership the same city by quite a different name. The American first abroad who has taken the English equivalents in his textbooks too seriously is like to wake with a start when he finds himself not in 'Antwerp' but in 'Anvers'".

Katerina Kalinin, wife of Michael Ivanovitch Kalinin, peasant president of the Russian soviet republic, has accepted the invitation of the American committee for relief of Russian children to make a two months' tour of the United States, appealing for aid for the famine orphans of Russia.

The New "Premier" Of Palestine

Brig.-Gen. Sir Gilbert Falkingham Clayton, who is to succeed Sir Wyndham Deedes as Chief Secretary of the Palestine Government. Sir Gilbert, who has been British Advisor to the Ministry of the Interior of Egypt since 1919 and who was Chief Political Officer of the Egyptian [illegible] during the



IF you've got a grippey cold—take Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine and feel fit for work tomorrow.

Colds lower vitality, weaken resistance to disease and undermine health.

At the first indication of a cold, get busy. Ask your druggist for Hill's famous remedy. You will get quick relief and break your cold in 24 hours, la grippe in 3 days.

Hill's cured your cold when you were a child. The formula has never been changed.

At All Druggists—30 cents

HOME SEWING WEEK

$2.00 Makes You A Member

$2.00 Makes You A Member

SEMI-ANNUAL NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CLUB

There are two reasons why you should join this New Home Club. First: You receive the finest sewing machine made. Second: You pay for it on small weekly installments. For over sixty years the New Home has faithfully delivered and is more than ever the dependable and helpful friend in five million of the world's best homes. We've sold New Homes for 28 years and many of our old customers are still operating their machines.

Four Drawer New Home

(Illustrated above)

See the new improvements on this machine. The Steel Pitman, the Bed Lock that holds the head of machine firmly to woodwork, the Shuttle Ejector which enables the operator to remove the shuttle easily—and then just try sewing a few stitches. You'll be convinced that it's the finest machine you have ever operated.

The Different Models

Any machine listed on Club Terms.

FOUR DRAWER, automatic drop head machines, OAK CASES.

SIX DRAWER, automatic drop head machines, OAK CASES.

CABINET MODELS, automatic drop heads, OAK CASES.

TABLE-DESK electric models, MAHOGANY FINISHED CASES.

TABLE-DESKS, electric models, FUMED OAK CASES.

Any Model on Our Floors At Club Terms

WINDOW DEMONSTRATION

Mr. McGuinness, from the New Home factory, will demonstrate in our window all week. Come in and meet him. He'll show you the other exclusive New Home features.

SCHWARTZ BROS., Inc.

76-78-80-82 MAIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

TODAY AND SATURDAY
MATINEE, CHILDREN 10c
DOUBLE FEATURES

CHARLES CHAPLIN
The Pilgrim

4—GREAT ACTS—4

—ALSO—

Wesley Barry
—IN—
Rags to Riches

Packed With Action, Thrilling Scenes and Stirring Adventure, interwoven in a Beautiful Story of Romance, Pathos and Laughter.

UP-TO-DATE NEWS

COMING—MON., TUES., WED.
THE BEAUTIFUL AND DAMNED
Story by F. SCOTT FITZGERALD

BROADWAY

TODAY AND SATURDAY
B. F. KEITH VAUDEVILLE
5—Star Acts—5
PHOTOPLAY FEATURE
MARY MILES MINTER
—IN—
DRUMS OF FATE

SUN., MON., TUES. AND WED.
ADAM'S RIB

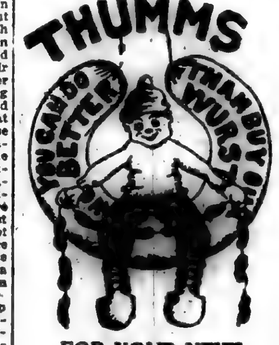
BIG DANCE

WILLIMANTIC
WASHBURN HALL
SATURDAY, MARCH 24th

Will Be Completed In Two Weeks

VENICE

Formerly known as the Chelsea Boat Club has been remodeled and turned into a beautiful Open-Air Dancing Pavillion for Summer — Gas, steam heated for Winter—Also a beautiful Lodge Meeting Room. We are ready to rent the entire premises to a responsible party. See A. M. Pasnik of The Pasnik Co., Norwich.



FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST TRY OUR HOME-MADE SAUSAGE

THUMM'S DELICATESSEN
40 Franklin Street

BROADWAY

SUNDAY—MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

SPEAKING OF LOVE—

MILTON SILLS
ELLIOTT DEXTER
THEODORE ROBLOFF
ANNA Q. NILSSON
and PAULINE GARON

Cecil B. DeMille's PRODUCTION

'Adam's Rib'

A Paramount Picture

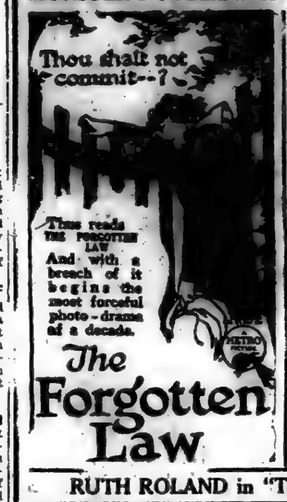
10—GREAT ACTS—10 SHOW THREE TIMES DAILY Sunday at 7:00-9:15

HOW SHALL WE TREAT OUR MODERN GIRLS? CARESS THEM WITH A CLUB, LIKE A CAVEMAN? OR YIELD TO THEIR SAUCY, SILKEN WILES? HERE'S A LUXURIOUS PICTURE THAT TELLS YOU MORE ABOUT FLAPPERS THAN YOU EVER IMAGINED.

DIRECT FROM A SUCCESSFUL NEW YORK RUN!

BREED THEATRE

MONSTER DOUBLE BILL—TODAY and SATURDAY



Thou shalt not commit--?
Thus reads THE FORGOTTEN LAW
And with a breach of it begins the most forceful photo-drama of a decade.
The Forgotten Law

CHARLES CHAPLIN
—IN—
The Pilgrim

"THE KID'S" ONLY RIVAL
4 GREAT REELS

PATHE NEWS

RUTH ROLAND in "THE TIMBER QUEEN"

CONTINUOUS SHOW SATURDAY, 1:00 TO 10:30
CHILDREN, MATINEE 10 CENTS

SEE the Clothes you Buy. BUY AT HOME

When you buy from us you see our GOODS and try them on and you know they fit BEFORE you pay for them.

We are here on the spot to cheerfully make good on anything we say.

And don't forget, you get what you buy the day you buy it—and you don't have to pay any FREIGHT.

Trade at home where your own intrests are.

Wear our good, "Nifty" Clothes.

QUINN & DESMOND

E. M. GRANGER, THOMPSONVILLE, CONN., AUCTIONEER

AUCTION

OF NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU HORSES
AT BROWN'S BARN, Coggswell Street, Westerly, R. I.
Tuesday, March 27th—1:00 O'Clock P. M., Rain or Shine

28—HORSES—28

OF THE RIGHT SIZE, SHAPE AND AGE

Direct From the North Dakota Farms to the Eastern Users

This will be an exceptional good lead of horses, and the last to be sold in Westerly this spring. Plan to be there at 10 A. M., the morning of the sale, and see these horses fitched. Seeing is believing. Every horse sold with a positive guarantee, and everyone positively guaranteed to be sold. A good chance to get the horse you want at the price you want to pay.

E. S. DeLANEY, Supt. of Horse Sales
[illegible] NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU

The Woodstock Dairy

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

OTTO STAHL'S PURE

LEAF LARD

2 lbs. 27c

THIS IS OUR REGULAR HIGH QUALITY LARD WHICH IS SELLING AT RETAIL FOR 16c POUND

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

LEFFINGWELL—In Norwich, March 22, 1923, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Leffingwell of Brook street.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MARTIN—In Central Village, March 22, 1923, Christopher Martin, in the 32d year of his age.

Funeral services will be held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Saturday afternoon, March 24, at 2 o'clock. Burial in Evergreen cemetery.

TURNER—Entered into rest, in this city, March 21, 1923, Jean Bothwick, wife of Edward L. Turner.

Funeral at her late residence, 214 Central avenue, Saturday afternoon, March 24, at 3 o'clock. Burial in the family plot in Maplewood cemetery.

PALMER—In Ledyard, March 21, 1923, George W. Palmer, aged 56 years.

Funeral services at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Phoebe L. Norman, Allyn's Point, Friday, March 23, at 2 p. m. Burial in the Palmer cemetery.

ROBINSON—Entered into rest, in this city, March 21, 1923, Amorst McCall, wife of the late Nelson D. Robinson.

Services at Gager's funeral parlors, 76 Franklin street, Saturday afternoon, March 24, at 3 o'clock. Burial in family plot in Yantic cemetery.

MAC CONNELL—In Baltonville, March 19, 1923, suddenly, Hector MacConnell, aged 63 years.

Funeral services at his home Friday at 2 p. m. Burial in Westfield cemetery, Dunkhead.

O'KEEFE—In Taftville, March 22, 1923, Bridget Gallivan, widow of Patrick O'Keefe.

Funeral at her late home, 18 South A street, Saturday, March 24, at 8.30 a. m. Requiem high mass at Sacred church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
332 Main Street
Phone 723-3 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
30 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 418-3
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Est. 1866. Franklin St., Taftville.

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

FLORISTS

HERBS, flowering shrubs, plants and trees. Maplewood Nursery Co. Tel. 906-2. Free delivery. apr1d

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

SAMPLES taken for New Haven Wall Paper Co. Call and see samples. Mrs. A. M. Kennedy, 50 Union St. mar14WFM

JOHN F. AMBURN & CO., painting, paperhanging and decorating; estimates cheerfully furnished. 180 Laurel Hill Ave. mar15d

CRAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of value. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. jan21d

FOR SALE—Paint, $1.85 per gal., regular $2.50 grade; wallpaper, 10c per roll. Max Blazer, 183 West Main St., next to Fire Station. my1d

BUILDING

HARDWOOD flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Ivar Johnson, 157 Maple St. Phone 609-13. jan16d

WILLIAM C. YOUNG, Contractor and Builder, Mill Work and Jobbing. 50 West Main St. Phone 971. dec6d

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8 Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1344-4. jan31d

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MONEY FOR FAMILY MAN

A man's family oftentimes needs credit that can only be met out of future earnings. We help family men meet emergencies and pay off old debts by loaning them up to $300, at legal rates on home furniture without removal, repayable in easy installments. Our aid is immediate and confidential. Call, write, or phone 1-6-8-4.

Beneficial Loan Society
56 STATE STREET
NEW LONDON, CONN.

TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK
VIA NEW LONDON LINE
FARE $3.38
Comfortable Staterooms Ready for Occupancy at 7:30 P. M.
Leave New London Daily (Except Sunday) 11 P. M.
Due N. Y. Pier 40, N. R., 7 A. M.
Reduced rates on automobiles when accompanied by passenger.
The New England Steamship Co.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Young lady to take care of books and assist in selling; steady and good paying position to the right party. Apply in own handwriting to Box 23, Bulletin. mar23d

WANTED—Young girl to do general housework; good home and board, also salary to right party. Apply Mrs. S. Diamond, 143 Grove St., Putnam, Conn. mar23d

WANTED—Young lady to work in store; must be over 20 years of age. Apply to Mrs. Fredia, Mgr., S. F. Peterson, Inc., 300 Main St. mar23d

WANTED—An experienced saleslady for Saturday afternoons and evenings. Gately & Brennan, 29 Shetucket St. mar22d

WANTED—Maid, whole or part time. Phone 1596. mar21d

WANTED—A competent housemaid; good wages. Apply 99 Washington St., evenings to Mairen. mar21d

WANTED—Housekeeper in family of two. Tel. 11-5 Jewett City. mar21d

WANTED—Maid for general housework; competent cook; references required. Mrs. W. B. Young, 10 Huntington Place. mar20d

WANTED—Girl or woman for general housework; can go home at 5 o'clock. Call 306 West Main St. mar20d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to assist with light housework. Address M. D. V., care of Bulletin. mar14d

WANTED—Male

WANTED—First class cook. Apply at City Lunch. mar23d

WANTED—Man to work on farm. Charles E. Maynard, R. D. 1, Phone 1564-4. mar22d

WANTED—Married man to work on farm; tenement furnished. John W. Stott, Plain Hill. Telephone 462-5. mar22d

WANTED — Thoroughly experienced shoe salesman. Apply Mintz Boot Shop, 162 Main St. References required. mar21d

WANTED—Middle aged man for clerical position in hotel; state references. Write Box 79, Bulletin. mar20d

WANTED—Man to take care of furnace and horse and do the work around the place. Phone 35-4 Willimantic Div. mar16d

WANTED
Spoolers and Speeder Tenders
THE FALLS COMPANY
Yantic Street

WANTED
SPINNERS for Night Work, on Davis and Furber Mules. Apply Joseph Hall & Son, Inc., Trading Cove Mill.

WANTED
ROPING CARRIER
JOSEPH HALL & SON, Inc.
Trading Cove Mill

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—One grey horse, good worker, single or double, 4 years old. Philip Dudak, Jewett City, R. D. 1. mar21d

JUST ARRIVED
Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think they are as good a car of horses as I have ever had—gentle and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER R. PIERSON.
Tel. 536-3. mar12d

POULTRY

FOR SALE—An 1,800-egg Candee incubator, with nursery brooder. Tel. 1652. mar23d

FOR SALE—Two hennoops, cheap if taken at once. Blanchard Bros., Jewett City. mar23o

FOR SALE—Big bargain sale of laying White Leghorn pullets and hens, $150 100. D. D. Cavanaugh, North Windham, Conn. Phone Willimantic 642-12. mar21d

FOR SALE—White Leghorn chicks from 3 and 8 year old hens, excellent layers, March 26 and 31, $20 per 100, $10.50 per 50, delivered; R. I. cockerels, $5 each; Queen incubators and brooders; catalogue. Paul Jansen, Mansfield Center, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—S. C. R. I. Red eggs for hatching, from white diarrhea tested stock. W. W. Service, Norwich, R. D. 1. Tel. 1852-3. mar14d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom automatic draft control is patented; gas proof feature; chicks thrive better; get catalogue from agents; discount prices. C. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. Phone 758-14 New London. feb8d

BABY CHICKS; free feed; popular breeds; prepaid guaranteed delivery; send for catalog. Roy Clark, E. Hartford, Ct. jan3d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; heavy laying strains; chicks postpaid; catalogue. A. B. Hall, Wallingford, Conn. dec29d

AUCTIONS

WILTON RICE, ... Auctioneer
Office and Salesroom, No. 42 Main Street, Danielson, Conn.

AUCTION

SATURDAY, MARCH 24, 1923,
at 1.30 o'clock p. m.; rain or shine,

I will sell the following described personal property at my place of residence, near the Fair Grounds, at Brooklyn Village: One good two-horse farm wagon, 1 first class four-wheel tip cart, 1 Concord buggy, 1 sleigh, 1 lot of harness, 1 two-horse McCormick mower, 1 swivel plow, 1 disc harrow, 1 corn marker, and 1 manure fedder cutter with 30-foot carrier.
Terms cash. Sale rain or shine.
SAMUEL HARRIS.
Brooklyn, Conn. mar20TuF

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Hard wood four feet long, delivered in car of C. V. anywhere between Willimantic and New London. Tel. Willimantic Div. 819-14. William J. Bowler, West Willington. mar14d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; bushels or cords; lowest prices. Phone 542. jan16d

COAL AND SEASONED WOOD and kindlings in large or small quantities. Phone 864 or 1325-2. R. Shapiro, Willow St., formerly Durkee Lane. oct11d

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Willimantic Cigars are $70 per thousand. J. E. COGANT, 11 Franklin St. oct11d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—Two wheel or dump cart. Phone 1861-13. mar24d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, any property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chenoski, Agt., 160 North Main St., Putnam Trust Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

WANTED—To furnish 75 to 100 quarts of milk per day, by wholesale, either mornings or evenings, after April 20th. T. W. Allyn, R. F. D. No. 6, Norwich. Phone 1881-14. mar22d

WANTED—One or two persons to board in private family; rates very reasonable; centrally located. Box 99, Bulletin. mar23d

WANTED—To list your property of every description on a commission basis; we may have just the buyer for your place; we do not charge for listing and will do our best to satisfy you, the same as we have for many others Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich, Conn. mar21WFStuThS

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, Box 359, Norwich. jan5FMW

WANTED—Speeder tender, slubber tender and card grinder for day work, also four weavers and two spinners for night work in cotton mill, Vernon, Conn. Boarding house and tenements available. mar22d

WANTED—Household goods of all kinds. C. J. King. Phone 2113. mar23d

WANTED—Four or five room tenement by couple. Address 74 Thames St. mar22d

WANTED—Tailor or presser on Hoffman machine; steady. G. Lackenbach, 9 Washington Sq. mar22d

WANTED—22 calibre heavy target rifle with double set triggers. Dona Ballou, Jewett City. mar22d

IF YOU are ruptured it will pay you well to address P. O. Box 51, Norwich, Conn. mar21d

IF YOU HAVE a temperature of 114, look for a hot water bag. If you want a good cigar, try Dela Casa mild cigar, 10c straight; Anndora 7c, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop. mar20d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2162. feb21d

WANTED—Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. jan11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 22 Market St. Phone 537-2. jy6d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture; best prices paid. A Bruckner, 102 Franklin St. Phone 712-5. my30d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-4. jan31d

WE BUY and pay highest prices for second hand furniture and books. Kremens, successor to King, 42-50 Water St. Phone 1305. sep18d

WANTED
FINISHING ROOM HELP.
SAXTON WOOLEN CORP.,
BEAN HILL MILL.

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Two Ford cars, cheap. Noyes Garage, Laurel Hill Ave. mar22d

FOR SALE—1921 model 4 Overland, with full equipment and 6 tires, mechanically as good as new; must be sold at once; bargain. Phone 827-12 for appointment. mar22d

FOR SALE—Overland 4 touring car in good running order; cheap if taken at once. Box P, this office. mar22d

FOR SALE — Sport model Cadillac (phaeton) 1917, in very good condition and at an attractive price; two spare tires and much extra equipment; here is a great buy. Write Box 283, Danielson, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar20d

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1915 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 20,056 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 305 Broadway. mar9d

FOR SALE — 1915 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 20,056 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 305 Broadway. mar9d

AUTO PARTS
FOR NEARLY EVERY MAKE USED CARS
TIRES—New and Used
GEARS — AXELS — SHAFTS
BEARINGS
ALL MAKES AND SIZES
STARTERS AND GENERATORS
BOSCH MAGNETOS
And Other Makes
MOTORS—TRANSMISSIONS—
REAR-ENDS
Bodies, Tops, Fenders, Windshields, Frames, Wheels, Rims, Radiators — Anything for Automobiles.
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
"We Tear 'Em Down and Sell the Pieces"
Tel. 2110 471-473 N. MAIN STREET
First Attention Given Mail Orders

AVAILABLE
4-Cyl. 1922 Buick Touring
Overhauled and Painted
A Rare Value!
We have a few other reconditioned cars of various makes, all of which offer an exceptional opportunity to those who want real value.
Julian L. Williams
25 TOWN STREET
NORWICH, CONN.

AUTO WRECKING
PARTS FOR ALL CARS
NEW AND USED TIRES
Norwich Auto Wrecking Co.
471-473 NORTH MAIN STREET
Near Scott & Clark Phone 2116

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH
ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE
T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING
W. LAMBERT, PAINTER
122 WEST TOWN STREET
Telephone 818-3

BEAUTY PARLOR

ELECTROLOSIS — Superfluous hair, warts and moles removed by electric needle, by appointment, at 62 Asylum St., or at your home. Tel. 981. mar21d

GIRLS—Free for a limited number of days, a complete course in beauty treatment. Write Porelax, 149 Franklin St. mar23d

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Laurel Hill section, six-room cottage in A-1 condition, brand new chicken coop, owner leaving town will sacrifice for $2,240; see me at once for this bargain. Polish Roman Catholic church section, two-family, 5-5 rooms, large lot, various kinds of fruit trees, hen houses, at bargain price of $4,500; do not miss this chance. For sale, farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chenoski, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

FOR SALE—China closet, good as new. Can be seen evenings, 2 Church St., upstairs. Phone 863-2. mar23d

FOR SALE—Dahlia bulbs, won first prize finest display, Worcester fair and Beverly, Mass., last year; send for catalogues; prices from 25 cents up. Success Dahlia Gardens, Lawrence, Mass. mar23d

$1,700 buys a six-room house, with 100 feet of land, facing the Thames. Coates, Broker, 63 Broadway. Phone 1349. mar21d

HAY—About 50 tons hay, also about 15 tons clover for sale at the well known Hollis H. Palmer farm, Preston. H. L. Barnes, R. F. D. No. 3, Norwich. Phone 1862-12. mar23d

FOR SALE—Two extra nice Holstein cows, new milch, also three nice turkeys (two hens, one tom). I. E. Browning, Norwich Town. Tel. 884-13. mar22d

FOR SALE—Latest model cabinet Victrola; must be sold at once; can be bought right. Address, Victrola, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Bargain; six-room cottage, near Conn. college, not far from Thames river, five minutes from trolley, an ideal summer home or can be used for all year round house; has furnace, electric lights, etc. For particulars, 'phone 480, or write Cottage, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Three cows, one new milch, calf by side, two soon to freshen. William Stott, 146 Otrobando Ave. Tel. 1153-2. mar21d

FOR SALE—Buy this three-family house located in the city of Norwich; a good investment as well as a home; terms may be arranged to suit purchaser; price $4,500. Do you realize that Burdick & McNicol can help you buy such a property as this, even though you do not have all of the money to pay down? Come in and talk it over with us. We are sure we can help you. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. mar21d

FOR SALE—New full scale guaranteed upright pianos, $245 and up, on easy weekly terms; choice of many leading makes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Kroeger mahogany upright piano, slightly used, but in perfect condition, regular $600 value, can be bought for $250, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $25. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Large table model talking machine, in first class playing condition, $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Pedigreed collie pups. Tel. 13-14 Jewett City, Conn. mar20d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Jochs, 370 Asylum St. mar16d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Delawares, Cobblers and Spaulding Rose. J. M. Young & Sons. mar16d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $85 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar16d

FOR SALE—A Victrola IV, installed in a beautiful console cabinet; $73.50 cash buys it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, special at $75 cash; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 34, Bulletin mar6d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE—Buescher saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukeleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Tanking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 50x100 feet; price for quick sale $6,000. Phone 141-2. jan9d

FOR SALE — Herring-Hall-Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR SALE
Two-store and four-apartment house, with all modern improvements, two minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO.
Real Estate and Fire Insurance.
Tel. 1527-3. 198 CliffSt.

FOR SALE
6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 2286

FOR SALE
New 7-Room Cottage
No. 124 Orchard Street
LOT 60x100 FEET
LIBERAL MORTGAGE IF YOU ACT QUICKLY.
PRICE $6,000
James L. Case
40 SHETUCKET STREET
Telephone 576

Just Off the State Road
40 acres good orchard, 500 cords of wood, fine spring, 11-room house that would cost $6,000 to build—large barn, poultry house, borders on river. Price only $3,500, cash $1,500.
TRYONS AGENCY
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich
Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Brief Cases, Etc.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

EASTER SUITS
$19.50 — $24.50
One of the season's winners—and why not? Its popularity is justified for it has style, quality and real tailoring combined. Made of fine quality, all-wool and worsted, in light and dark shades. Made for the man who wants something better.
L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE

DURABLE WORSTEDS $2.45

Men's Durable Wool and Cotton Worsted Trousers, in gray with black stripes, medium brown and dark navy blue. They are comfortably fitted, finely shaped, strongly sewed and thoroughly tailored.
L. POLLOCK
327 MAIN STREET
Opposite Post Office

FOR SALE
Very choice modern, up-to-date four-apartment house, located in the best spot on Broad St.; present earning capacity $3,200 per year. For a quick sale $30,000 will close it. A gilt-edge investment. Can be financed very liberally.
For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head; several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square.
For particulars,
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phone. Norwich.

For Sale
Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 10 cars, located on Broadway; monthly rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one and two-family houses; finest of locations; prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 30 acres level land, on state road.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments,
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

TO RENT

TO RENT — Light housekeeping rooms, 43 Union St. Call evenings. mar23d

TO RENT—Fifty acres good rich pasture. Louis Paster, Norwich, Conn., R. F. D. 1, on the Charles Gosda place. mar23d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping at 7 Oak St. mar22d

TO RENT—Four tenements, with all improvements; two stores, suitable for any business. Tel. 477-2. mar21WFS

TO RENT—Six-room tenement, all improvements; garage if desired. Inquire 66 Mt. Pleasant St. Mopelok. mar16FMW

TO RENT—Light housekeeping rooms, 42 Union St. Call evenings. mar22d

TO RENT—Apartment, very pleasant, all modern improvements. Apply Box B-100, this office. mar22d

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms, single or double good location, steam heated, with or without board. Address Box 49, Baltic. mar21d

FOR RENT — Good tenement, 103 Chestnut St. Bard Union Co. mar21d

TO RENT—Room with kitchenette, 27 Division St. mar21d

TO RENT—Lower flat, 39 Orchard St.; space for small car. Inquire upstairs. mar17d

TO RENT—Five-room flat, bath and storeroom, to small American family of adults. 12 Washington St. mar15d

TO RENT—A beautiful modern five-room flat, in best location in city, heat, hot water and janitor service; $65 per month; 50 Broad St. Inquire at Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

TO RENT—Apartment of four rooms and bath, for adults; heat and hot water furnished. 175 Broadway. Phone 2055. mar21d

FOR RENT
STORE ON
FRANKLIN STREET
In Alling Block
Inquire of
N. Tarrant & Co.
Phone 170—117 Main St.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Between Jewett City and Wauregan, one bale furniture pads. Reward to finder. Hourigan Bros., Norwich. mar23d

FOUND—Tire, one 34x4 United States solid tire. Phone 1299. mar23d

LOST—On Newent road to Jewett City, tire and rim. Notify Shea & Burke. mar23d

LOST—Sum of money was lost in pay envelope on Tuesday morning, arch 20, 1923, between her home in Lemrick and Occum mill. Return and receive reward from Mrs. Sophie Kosiol, Occum. mar23d

FOUND—Black and tan shepherd dog. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Arthur Goyette, Box 261, Baltic, Conn. mar23d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 74 Franklin St. my21d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

FOR SALE—Tires, 30x3 1-2, $7.50; 32x4, $13; 32x4, $14; 34x4, $15; all first, guaranteed. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St. mar7d

FOR SALE—Ford headquarters, motors, all brass, guaranteed, $21 up. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St., Norwich. feb5d

NORWICH Auto and Trunk Paint Shop, all work guaranteed. Joseph Perry, Prop., 81 St. Phone 1397. jan11d

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, side covers and tire covers manufactured, all kinds of autos. Jos. Angwarsa, Pond St. Phone 1397. mar23d

THE ENGINE
Of your car, no matter if it is a four, six, eight or twelve cylinder one, can be made to deliver more power, run like new by our
CYLINDER REGRINDING
A process that actually renews your motor at a minimum cost and in least time. Get our estimate.
HEEBNER BROS.
31 CHESTNUT STREET

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing In All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

INSURANCE

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy to day.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1923.

Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

Estate of Emma E. Wetmore, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.

Ordered, That the Administratrix cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order, on the signpost nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt, and in the said Town, and by publishing the same once in a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and make return to this Court.

NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.

NOTICE.—All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at R. F. D. 2, Norwich, Conn., within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.
ALICE A. PERKINS,
mar23d Administratrix.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE
TO THE TAXPAYERS OF THE TOWN OF SPRAGUE—

All persons liable to pay taxes in the Town of Sprague, State of Connecticut, are hereby notified that I have a warrant to levy and collect a tax of eight (8) mills on the list as made by the Board of Assessors and perfected by the Board of Relief of said Town for the year 1922, due and payable April 1, 1923.

All persons receiving this notice will be proceeded against as directed by the laws of this State.

For the purpose of collecting this tax I shall be at the Town Clerk's Office, Baltic, in said Sprague, all Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays during the month of April, from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m., and at the Parish House in the Village of Hanover, April 11, from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m.

After May 1st, 1923, interest at the rate of nine (9) per cent. will be added from the time these taxes became due. All taxes must be paid direct to the Tax Collector, and all bills receipted by him. If by mail, enclose postage if you wish receipt.

Dated at Sprague, Conn., this 8th day of March, 1923.

JAMES M'GUIRE, Collector.
mar9F

NOTICE
is hereby given to all persons liable to pay taxes in the Town of Bozrah that I have a warrant to levy and collect a tax of 15 mills on the dollar on the list last completed, due and payable April 1st, 1923, and for the purpose of collecting same will be at the store of John F. Fields, April 2d, from 2 o'clock till 3 p. m., and Bozrahville store from 3.30 p. m. till 4.15 p. m., and at Mrs. C. Wheeler's, Friday, April 6th, from 2 o'clock till 4 p. m.

JOHN K. PROCTOR,
Tax Collector Town of Bozrah.
mar16T

Notice to Taxpayers
TOWN OF VOLUNTOWN.

The taxpayers of the Town of Voluntown are hereby warned that I have a warrant to collect a levy of 40 mills on the grand list of 1922; also the personal tax. For the purpose of collecting the same, I will be at Benjamin Gallup's Monday, April 2, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., and at Warren Tanner's Tuesday, April 3, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. At all other time I will be at the Town Clerk's Office. An interest of 9 per cent. will be added to the tax if not paid before Aug. 31st, 1923.

Dated at Voluntown, Conn., March 22, 1923.

WILLIAM H. KAUFMANN, mar23FMS Collector.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1923.

Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

Estate of C. Leslie Baldwin, late of Franklin, in said District, deceased.

The Administratrix appeared in Court and filed a written application alleging that said estate is now in settlement in said Court, and praying for an order to sell certain real estate belonging to said estate, fully described in said application.

Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1923, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said application, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to the Court.

NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.
mar23d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 22d day of March, A. D. 1923.

Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

Estate of Mary Mahoney, late of Sprague, in said District, deceased.

John Mahoney of Sprague, Conn., appeared in Court and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased be admitted to probate.

Whereupon, It Is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 26th day of March, A. D. 1923, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District at least three days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.

NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.
mar23d

ARCHITECTS

W. T. MEAD, Architect, Room 5, May Bldg. Buildings, supervisions, appraisals. feb16d

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

Bulletin's Pattern Service

4084

Figured percale is here shown, with collar of white linene, which is also used for the string girdle. This style is also good for crepe, for gingham and for the new prints and linenes. The skirt may be finished with straight or shaped hem edge. The width at the foot is 2 1-2 yards, with plaits extended.

The pattern is cut in seven sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches, bust measure. A 38 inch size will require 6 1-8 yards of 32 inch material. Collar of contrasting material requires 1-2 yard.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Send your order to The Bulletin Pattern Dept., 1135 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Berlin—Russell Dean of Kensington, 25 years old, died at his home. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reticus S. Dean, owners of a dairy farm.

Thomaston—The receiving vault at the Plymouth cemetery is nearly filled to capacity, there being one room for one or two more bodies in the vault.

Portland—At the meeting of the board of education Marshall N. Jarvis was unanimously elected to succeed the late Daniel Wilkins as a member of the board.

Branford—Mrs. Robert Connell died after a short illness of pneumonia at her home in Stony Creek. She was 32 years of age and a native of this place, being a daughter of Selectman Owen C. Kelsey and Ella M. Foote.

Litchfield—Clarence Titus of Morris, who is a member of the senior class in the local high school met with a severe accident at his home when he was kicked by a horse, breaking his leg above the knee.

Milford—At a meeting of the publicity and transportation committee of the Milford Chamber of Commerce held at the home of William T. Hoyt on Golden Hill, much progress was made pertaining to the "Boost Connecticut" campaign.

Shelton—Nicholas Wolat of Maple street died at the Griffin hospital, where he had been a patient for several days. He is survived by his wife and two children. He was employed for several years in the factory of the American Brass company in Ansonia.

Bethel—Bethel was plunged into darkness when one of the feed wires leading into the electric plant of the Danbury & Bethel Gas & Electric Light company in Danbury, from Stevenson was broken. It was nearly an hour before the broken wire was repaired.

Derby—That Dr. Barnard Shield, a Derby dentist, broke a needle in his lower left jaw and the injury has so marred his facial expression that he no longer will be able to smile, was charged by Pasquale Lepone, of Waterbery, in a suit for damages of $7,500 filed in superior court.

NEW TRUSTEES OF STATE SCHOOL AT MANSFIELD

Hartford, March 20—Governor Templeton this afternoon announced the appointment of former Governor Everett J. Lake, of Hartford, and Mrs. Louise Merritt, of Stamford to be the trustees of the Mansfield state training school for terms of four years. The governor notified Mr. Lake of his appointment when the latter called at the capitol today.

MAIL-AD
FILL OUT AND MAIL TO THE NORWICH BULLETIN
NORWICH, CONN.
10c a Line, Average

RAIN, WARMER TODAY; COLDER TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

NORWICH, CONN., FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1923.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS AND NEWS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.
Norwich, Friday, March 23, 1923.

THE WEATHER

Conditions

The disturbance that was central over Texas Wednesday night has moved rapidly northeastward to the lake region. Attended by rains almost generally east of the Mississippi river. Another disturbance was central over northern Manitoba Thursday night and moving southeastward and it was being closely followed by another area of high pressure and decidedly colder weather which has advanced southeastward from Alaska.

The temperature continued to rise Thursday almost generally east of the Mississippi river except in Wisconsin and Michigan while cold weather overspread the upper Mississippi and the lower Missouri valleys, Oklahoma and the interior of Texas. The indications are for rain almost generally in the Atlantic states Friday. Followed by generally fair weather Saturday. Mild temperature in the Atlantic states Friday will be followed by colder weather Friday night and Saturday.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook and Sandy Hook to Hatteras, fresh to strong south and southwest and weather overcast and thick with occasional rains Friday.

Forecast

Northern New England and Southern New England, Eastern New York. Rain with mild temperature Friday, followed by colder Friday night; Saturday partly cloudy and colder.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observation show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Thursday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	38	30.30
12 m.	53	30.20
6 p. m.	56	30.10

Highest 56, lowest 38.

Comparisons

Predictions for Thursday: Increasing cloudiness followed by rain.

Thursday's weather: Cloudy and mild.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
19	5.55	5.57	11.19	8.06
20	5.54	5.58	11.59	8.56
21	5.52	6.00	12.35	9.48
22	5.50	6.01	12.55	10.44
23	5.48	6.02	1.39	11.37
24	5.47	6.03	2.28	Morn.
25	5.45	6.04	3.24	0.29

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Miss Ella Fitzgerald, who is studying nursing in New London, was a visitor this week at the home of her mother, Mrs. George Jarvis of Occum road.

Miss Anna Rondeau of Providence street is very ill at a Willimantic hospital.

The Thursday Evening Basketry class met Thursday evening in the Red Cross rooms in the Ponemah building.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peltier of Norwich avenue have as their guest, Mrs. Peltier's brother, Alphonse Dussiere of Hartford.

Miss Gertrude M. Young of North Third avenue has left town to pass the next two weeks in Auburndale, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott and family of Providence street are moving to a house on Norwich avenue.

Alexis Scott is ill at his home on Norwich avenue.

Mrs. Bridget Gallivan O' Keefe, widow of the late Patrick O'Keefe, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her step-son John Keefe of South A street. Mrs. O'Keefe was born in County Kerry, Ireland in 1871 and came to this country 52 years ago. In 1894 she was united in marriage to Patrick O'Keefe and with the exception of a few years spent in Baltic after her marriage her whole life in this country was spent in Taftville. She had three children all deceased. Although seriously ill and confined to her bed for three months her mind was remarkably clear and she remembered in detail the celebration of the first mass for the Roman Catholic people in Taftville. The Fiftieth anniversary of which was observed March 17. Mrs. O'Keefe was an attendant at the service and an accurate account of it furnished valuable information to the parish this month. She was a devout member of Sacred Heart church and a highly respected member of the community. She is survived by two step-sons John and Morris Keefe, both of Taftville, six nieces and one nephew.

State Directory of Farms.

Connecticut's agricultural resources and the opportunities that await the purchaser of farm property in this state are extolled in a directory of farms for sale which is being prepared by the state board of agriculture through its secretary, Leonard H. Healey, and which is the fourth of its kind to be sent broadcast throughout the country.

The list of farms for sale will be arranged by counties. The inducements available for prospective Connecticut residents will be presented and, in a comprehensive way, an explanation of the state's agricultural efforts in all directions will be set forth.

Secretary Healey said yesterday that the board would welcome the receipt of data from all desirous of offering their properties for sale, and emphasized the fact that the farmer was obliged to pay absolutely nothing in return for the service rendered.

The board will forward blanks for listing farm properties on request.

Raisin Bread De Luxe

Raisin bread de luxe—generously filled with luscious seeded raisins—is now available at grocery and neighborhood bake shops.

Real raisin bread with at least eight tempting raisins to the slice—the kind you like.

Order now and serve tonight for dinner.

Made with

Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins

the best raisins for bread, and all home cooking uses.

Had Your Iron Today?

STATE KEPT HIGHWAYS OPEN THROUGH WINTER AT EXPENSE OF $250,000

Connecticut roads have been kept snow free at an estimated cost of $250,000, according to a statement issued by Commissioner Bennett. That figure represents the actual cost of clearing the roads and of keeping them clear all winter. It does not cover the necessary spring repairs, which will probably take another $250,000 before the highways are wholly prepared for summer travel.

Without hiring extra men or using any outside equipment, between 1,500 anod 1,600 miles of Connecticut highways have been kept open for automobile traffic all winter. The longest period of absolute snow blockade on any state highway this winter has been 24 hours in a single instance.

There have been eight feet of snow on some of the roads in the northern part of the state and yet such Massachusetts concerns as the Fisk Rubber Co., of Chicopee, the Skinner's Satin Co., of Holyoke and the central office of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., in Springfield have been able to transport their products to Connecticut cities and through Connecticut to New York without excessive difficulty every day this winter.

To do this work, the highway department has relied chiefly on snow plows attached to the front of auto trucks such as are used in the regular highway work during the summer months. The department has between 85 and 150 trucks in commission at all times. Besides these, there are about 15 tractors that the department uses to haul ordinary road machines and in some cases to push the plows. Most of this truck equipment is army material obtained from the federal government. Occasionally horses have been used, but this has been found to be unsatisfactory because of the danger of straining or otherwise injuring a good animal in deep snow.

The department uses two men on each snow plow; one to drive the truck or tractor and the other to manage the plow itself. These trucks and plows are kept in various parts of the state and are in charge of the highway section foremen of the department. The roads of the entire state are divided into eleven districts and there is a supervisor in charge of the work in each. The districts are divided into sections and a foreman is in charge of each of these. The foremen are responsible to the supervisors and the supervisors come under the direct oversight of Mr. Ulrich at the state highway department in Hartford. Mr. Ulrich is of course responsible to Commissioner Bennett.

Both Commissioner Bennett and Mr. Ulrich agree that the secret of success in clearing highways of snow is to keep a little ahead of the job all the time. This is done by never letting the snow lie on the main highway until motor traffic has packed it down and rendered it almost as solid as ice itself. In the Connecticut department there is an automatic order effective for all section foremen all winter. It is to begin work as soon as the snow reaches a depth of three inches. Without this policy, Mr. Ulrich says it would have been impossible to have kept the roads of the state open more than a few weeks this winter.

There have been days at a stretch when the gangs on the snow plows of the state department have been working in two shifts and have never permitted the work to halt for a single hour. At one time this winter a tractor was driven through a particularly important but difficult stretch of road on a night so cold that men could not stand more than a ten-minute period in the driver's seat. A closed car was kept alongside the tractor and as the drivers became chilled they went to this machine and rested inside for a brief space of time. It was hard work for the road gang, but it was great for the taxpaying citizens of the state who want to realize on their highway investment all the year around.

It is estimated by Mr. Ulrich that about 10 per cent. of the highway clearing equipment is put out of commission during the work that follows each of the big storms; that is a snowfall of eight inches or more. The department uses several garages throughout the state and in these are the equipment promptly made ready for use again, but Mr. Ulrich estimates that 10 per cent. of the entire equipment will have been totally used up by the end of the winter. But here again, the answer of the Connecticut citizen who owns an automobile is: "Well, it's worth it."

The statement that Connecticut's roads have been open and have been used throughout the winter season is not a guess or general statement. It is a fact substantiated by a traffic census taken within a month by the state highway department on the main road leading into Massachusetts at Thompsonville. This census brought out the astounding fact that with the roads in the splendid condition they have been this year, even in midwinter motor truck traffic is within 10 per cent. of what it is in midsummer. A census taken at the same point last summer and carried on for a week, showed that 308 motor trucks passed over the road during that time. The census recently completed showed traffic amounting to 275 trucks, although either side of the highway was flanked with snow banks high enough to have buried all until the April shaws brought the trucks, their drivers, loads and all to the light again.

So great has been the highway efficiency in this state that it is said any Springfield factories and merchants with motor truck loads destined for delivery in Pittsfield, Mass., have found it expedient to drive to Hartford and thence west through Winsted, Norfolk and North Canaan and thus to Pittsfield keeping within the Connecticut boundary as long as possible.

Under the Connecticut law, motor registration fees are all paid into the treasury of the highway department and the money thus obtained has to be used in actually building or repairing the state roads. The law also provides that automobile registrations that are taken out later than the first day of April each year shall be prorated so that no auto owner pays for registration longer than he is actually using the roads of the state.

This year has convinced hundreds of motor drivers of Connecticut that there is no reason for putting up their cars during the winter and as a result the state highway department will, and has already received thousands of dollars more than would have come in, had the motorists been unable to use the roads freely until the slow processes of sun and rain had cleared the highways.

In short, from this year on a part time highway will be looked upon in Connecticut as a modern housewife regards the old part time parlor of her grandmother's day. Connecticut railroads, like those of the rest of the country, may be suffering from chronic disability but her highways are dependable transportation routes, adequate, safe and open 365 days a year.

CONNECTICUT IN LEAD IN ACCIDENT PREVENTION

Dismaying results are reported by the officials of the Connecticut department of motor vehicles in their attempt to secure nation-wide figures to be used in safety work. And from a summary of the Connecticut department's report it appears that this state is probably more advanced than any other in the country in statistical work and in accident analysis and prevention.

Only one state in the country has been able, so far, to furnish figures that are complete enough to be compared with the Connecticut figures. All the rest of the states either have figures that are too poor to be used, have no statistics whatsoever, or have not replied to Commissioner Stoeckel's letter.

Over two weeks ago letters were sent out by the Connecticut motor vehicle officials to all governors and secretaries of states in the country. Of the replies received only one is entirely satisfactory. Maine was able to furnish partial figures on fatal accidents only; Maryland returned very minor and superficial figures; Vermont returned figures nearly as complete as the Connecticut figured, but only Massachusettes has sent in anything that is completely satisfactory and that comes at all up to the statistical records of the Hartford motor vehicle office.

Iowa, Arizona, Idaho, Wyoming, North and South Carolina, Delaware, Florida, Alabama, Texas, Kansas, North Dakota, Minnesota, Oklahoma and California keep no records or statistical information of accidents.

SALVATION ARMY HEAD GRATEFUL TO NORWICH

Col. W. A. McIntyre, of Boston, commanding the Salvation Army forces in New England has written letters of appreciation for the manner in which the Norwich people put over the drive recently in this city, when over $15,000 was raised. Mrs. Eben Learned, chairman of the Women's committee has received a letter of thanks that she is to convey to all the women who worked in the drive, and Chairman Harry M. Clark who directed the campaign is also asked to convey the thanks of Col. McIntyre to the workers of the various teams. In a letter to the newspapers, Col. McIntyre thanks them for their splendid support, stating that he fully appreciates the value of the local press in connection with the drive. W. A. Nicol, the campaign director, and Chairman Harry M. Clark also expressed their appreciation of the work done by the press.

RAYMOND WILCOX ELECTED AT WORCESTER POLYTECHNIC

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Worcester, Mass, March 21.—At a meeting held this noon the Skull society, the honorary senior society at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, elected Raymond G. Wilcox, a resident of Norwich, to membership. Mr. Wilcox is assistant manager of baseball this year, has won his letter in football the past two seasons, and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Workmen's Compensation.

The following workmen's compensation agreement has been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue: Versailles Sanitary Fibre Mills, Inc., employer, and Fred Irons, employe, jammed middle finger of left hand, at rate of $13.22.

Superior Court Short Calendar.

The short calendar and motion list session of the superior court which is to be held in New London this (Friday) morning will be the last of this session of court.

CONNECTICUT TIGHTENS UP ON GRANTING DIVORCES

Connecticut is not likely to contest with Nevada for the notoriety that the western state has gained as the country's divorce mill. Two recent decisions of the supreme court of errors, and the attitude of superior court judges in divorce actions since the highest court made its findings, tighten the interpretation of the law and revise the custom that heretofore has been accepted in establishing "intolerable cruelty," as a cause of action. Following the course taken in the most recently tried cases, this popular cause soon is apt to give way to some other complaint or the number of divorces will be considerably lessened.

Intolerable cruelty as a divorce ground must in the future, according to the supreme court of errors, amounts to unbearable cruelty, as determined by the effect, "physical, mental, or both, upon the victim. In the case in which this cause was thus definitely pointed out, Sweet vs. Sweet ,the court considered the action of a plaintiff husband against his wife. The defendant was charged with conducting herself in an offensive and disgusting way and with using insulting and indecent language. The trial disclosed the fact that the husband at times resorted to reciprocal treatment. He appeared in good health and the court said that there was no evidence to warrant a legal conclusion that he had suffered "physically, mentally or both."

In Fairfield county two cases within the past fortnight, brought upon the intolerable cruelty ground, have been dismissed. In the first of these cases a husband charged that his wife refused to live with him as a wife for a period of 18 years. The length of time, said Judge Hinman, was evidence that the plaintiff more or less condoned the offense, if it was such, and removed the possibility of it being made a divorce ground. In the second case a Bethel man charged that his wife made him sleep in a cold attic room while she and their daughter occupied a warm room. The court viewed these acts as "un-fortunate" rather than intolerable cruelty and because the plaintiff showed no serious physical or mental effects the decree was denied.

Incompatability of temperament was once a popular cause for divorce action in Connecticut. So popular did it become that August Daly used the subject for a play vehicle. But it has passed on.

CAN'T PLACE GATES IN CENTRAL WHARF STREET

Ruling that the Edward Chappell Co. and others had no right to erect an obstruction across the right of way on Center street on Central Wharf by means of a fence and gates was given by Judge Allen L. Brown in a decision handed down by him Thursday in the case of C. L. Stewart, administrator, against Edward Chappell Co. and others, which was recently tried before Judge Brown.

Mr. Stewart as administrator of the estate of the late John C. Morgan which owned property adjoining the Chappell property brought suit after the Chappell Co. had erected a fence on the property line and had placed posts in the 50 foot right of way on which it was intended to hang gates.

In his memorandum of decision Judge Brown points out that there is another way in which the Chappell Co. may accomplish the purposes of protecting its property at night.

The following is the memorandum of decision:

It is conceded in this case that none of the parties owns the land over which the way in question exists. Speaking in general terms, the plaintiffs and defendants have rights of way in common over it. This then is not a case of the owner of the servient estate attempting to build a fence across the way for the benefit of his servient estate, but, rather, of one of two dominant owners in common attempting to build such a fence with gates to serve its own ends and for the benefit of its own dominant estate.

No authority has been cited by counsel for the defendants justifying such a course and I am satisfied that under all the circumstances here the defendants had no right to erect such a structure which would materially burden and interfere with the lawful use of this way by the plaintiffs. I find therefore that this conduct constitutes an interference with the enjoyment of the plaintiffs' rights which entitles them to relief in equity.

Upon the evidence presented under the allegations of the complaint, the plaintiffs are entitled to have the posts and other parts of the existing structure in the way removed, as well as to have an injunction against the interference with or obstruction of the way by any of the defendants in the future. Should the plaintiffs therefore so desire, they may amend their prayers to include a request for such relief, and a decree may then be prepared making the present injunction permanent, and including a mandatory injunction ordering the removal of the posts and rail now standing in the way.

I am convinced that the defendants proceeded as they did, believing that they owned the land in fee over which the way exists, and that they were within their rights in erecting this structure. Their commendable purpose to better protect their property can apparently still be accomplished by them, by fencing along their property lines on both sides of the way. Instead of across it, by which method they would not interfere with the rights of the plaintiffs.

Under the circumstances, no costs are taxed against the defendants.

Judge Gardiner Greene and Judge H. H. Pettis were counsel for the plaintiffs and Brown and James for the defendants.

CELEBRATED THEIR 40TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Benjamin celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Wednesday afternoon at their home in Preston City. About 75 guests were present, including relatives and friends from other places.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin were married in Norwich on March 21, 1883, by Rev. J. D. Herr. Mrs. Benjamin was before her marriage Miss Georgiebelle Park.

A supper consisting of oysters, several varieties of cake, coffee and tea was served to the guests by the hostess, assisted by Mrs Howard Peckham, Mrs. Herbert Benjamin, Mrs. George Pendleton, Mrs. Albert Bennett and Miss Edith Benjamin.

The house was decorated with carnations and cenerania. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin received a number of gifts, consisting of money, silver, glass, etc.

LEDYARD ELECTRIC CO. IS ENDING EXISTENCE.

The Ledyard Gas & Electric Light Co., a corporation which never came into being except for the name, is now preparing to wipe out even the memory of its nomenclature by a process of dissolution. A certificate of dissolution has been filed with the secretary of state by Courtland E. Colver of New London, who was one of the incorporators and officers.

Mr. Colver said Thursday that it was formed with the purpose of furnishing gas and electricity in this vicinity, but the field is now occupied by the Eastern Connecticut Power Co., and there is no opportunity for another concern of this nature here.

Wonderful for Piles Says Peterson

If you received every week a dozen or more letters like the ones below from people who have suffered torments from piles, wouldn't you feel happier than the man whose life is devoted to money grabbing?

"Gentlemen—I have been suffering with a fistula for the past twenty years. During that time I have tried numerous remedies, all of which have failed.

"Two months ago I determined to give Peterson's Ointment a trial. The improvement was so decided after using one box, that I have continued, and on the completion of the fifth box am now entirely cured.

"This is written with the view of passing along the good word to other sufferers." Very truly yours, Chas. E. Caswell, 282 Third St., Albany, N. Y.

Here's another from Mr. Edgar Thomas, age 76, of Hemlock, N. Y. He writes:

"I had the itching piles, also high blood pressure. I saw Peterson's ad in the paper. I used one box and a half of Peterson's Ointment for itching piles and the piles disappeared, also the high blood pressure." 35 cents a box at all druggists.

MOTOR VEHICLE OFFICE PREPARING FOR RUSH

Commencing April 1 of each year there is always a rush to procure motor operator's licenses and registrations. This is due to the fact that many people do not care to drive their cars in the winter months, and registration is not taken out on Jan. 1 because a rebate is obtainable after April 1. Operators' licenses run to the last day of February each year and while the saving in this instance is nothing, many do not take out a driver's license until they are ready to operate the car. In order to accommodate the rush which is expected to set in between now and April 1, the branch office of the motor vehicle department in New London will be kept open, commencing next Monday, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. up to April 1.

RESIGNS AS SECRETARY OF I. O. O. HOME CORPORATION

Wallace R. Johnson of New London resigned as secretary of the Odd Fellows' Home corporation at its annual meeting in New Haven Wednesday after 20 years of service in the office in order to give more time to his private business. He is succeeded by William S. Hutchison of New Haven, grand secretary of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Connecticut.

Mr. Johnson is past grand of Pequot lodge, No. 85, I. O. O. F., of New London and several years ago held an appointive office in the grand lodge. The corporation elected the following officers:

President, Dorr R. Whitney, of Bridgeport; first vice president, Thomas Kassenbrook, Hartford; second vice president, Oscar Olsen, of Danbury; third vice president, Ernest E. Gadd, New Haven; secretary, William S. Hutchison; treasurer, Clarkson N. Fowler, Hartford; chaplain, Rev. Charles H. [illegible], Granby, Mass. Samuel Prince and Harry Hirsch of New London were re-elected as members of the board of directors.

Harry Hirsch was nominated for president of the corporation, but declined the office. A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions appreciative of the services of Secretary Johnson and President Grant U. Kierstead, who retired. It was voted to approve the plans made by F. W. Whiton for a combined dormitory and infirmary at Fairview which would provide accommodations for 75. The plans provide for the use of the first and second floors for dormitory purposes and the third floor for the infirmary. Superintendent Phillips will assume charge of the home on April 1.

It was voted to continue the assessment for the purpose of raising money for the home. It was reported that $90,000 has already been collected and is available for use. Out of the 93 lodges in the state, 84 were represented at the meeting of the corporators.

BISCUIT CO. SALESMEN ON THREE DAY TRIP

The sales force connected with the Norwich Branch of the National Biscuit Company are this week on a three days' trip to New York as guests of the sales department for the purpose of getting in closer touch with the executives at headquarters and also to visit the factories in order that they may become better informed regarding the baking of the well-known products of this company.

The trip was earned as the result of these men having made a certain percentage of increase in sales for the month of October, November and December, 1922, over the corresponding months of the year previous.

The party is made up of the following: G. W. Mitchell with headquarters at New London, G. J. St. Onge, and J. T. Gleason with headquarters at Norwich, L. W. Champlin with headquarters at Westerly, H. H. Hutchins with headquarters at Willimantic and C. W. Nay, sales agent.

Given Fines in City Court.

In the city court Thursday morning one man was fined $5 and costs for intoxication and given thirty days in jail for breach of the peace. Another man paid a fine with costs for drinking, and the case of another man was continued as he failed to appear at court. Another man who was too poor to pay his fine for being drunk went to jail to work it out.

PRIZE SPEAKING CONTEST IN POQUETANUCK SCHOOL

Clifton Taylor was the winner and honorable mention was given to Julia Marcinick and Raymond Taylor in the annual speaking contest held at Poquetanuck grammar school Wednesday afternoon with twelve contestants. The judges were Mrs. Lillian F. Lucas and Rev. T. H. M. Ockford.

The following was the programme: America, For Me, Steve MacCrearty; If, Arthur Muench; Horatius At the Bridge, George Rodgers; The Song of the Camp, Mary Matejek; The Chameleon, Henry Billodeau; The Charge of the Light Brigade, Peter Sochs; The Blue and the Gray, Harry Rodgers; The Circus-Day Parade, Raymond Taylor; The Glove and the Lions, Hazel Fish; The Corn Song, Julian Marcinick; Don't Die On Third, Clifton Taylor; Boy Wanted, John Rodgers.

Left Son in Pomfret.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, widow of Isaac H. Brown of Cazabridge, Mass., who died there Tuesday, left two sons, Dr. Percy Brown of Boston and Charles H. Brown of Pomfret, this state. She was in her 78th year. She also leaves a brother, Frank A. Kennedy of Windsor, Vt., and a sister, Mrs. Anna L. Cheney of Cambridge.

Settles Stomach Trouble Quick

MI-O-NA Tablets act in a fifty because they are packed in sanitary, air-tight tape which preserves full strength. Overcome at once acid stomach, the cause of headaches, gas, heartburn and palpitations, indigestion and dyspepsia. Don't let these conditions become chronic, when harmless MI-O-NA is so easy and economical to take. Guaranteed and sold by all druggists.

Mi-O-NA

The Lee & Osgood Co.

SPECIAL
Rubber Kitchen Aprons
29c
One to a customer

WE OPERATE FIVE STORES
THE PASNIK CO.
Norwich, Willimantic, Putnam, Danielson and Westerly

Ladies' Gowns and Ladies' Embroidered Petticoats
50c

Moderately Priced Easter Apparel
One of the Feature Values
ALL WOOL SUITS
For Women and Misses
Poiret Twill $24.50 Silk Lined Worth $37.50

Sale of New Spring DRESSES
$11.75
Fine Satin, Cantons, Flowered Crepes, Taffetas, Twills.
Made to Perfection

TRIMMED HATS
SAMPLES—NO TWO ALIKE
WORTH UP TO $10.00
$3.97 and $4.97
HUNDREDS TO CHOOSE FROM

NO FINER LINE OF CHILDREN'S COATS SHOWN ANYWHERE — THE ONLY DIFFERENCE IS THE PRICE.

THE PASNIK CO. Sell for Less
NORWICH STORE OPPOSITE WOOLWORTH'S 5c AND 10c STORE

The Boston Store
Norwich — Reid & Hughes Co. — Conn

Charming Spring Frocks
AT A WEE PRICE
$10.00

COLORFUL, dainty, different from the ordinary. Some very jaunty and debonair—some very demure, but with a suggestion of sparkle, sort of flirtatious as it were.

Many are made of Alltyme Crepe, with Paisley or Persian bodices, and plain or pleated skirts. There are handsome Wool Cantons, too, fine Jerseys and Silky Paulettes—a truly representative assortment of styles and materials, and

EACH DRESS IS AS PRETTY AS CAN BE
YOUR CHOICE FOR $10.00

GIVEN AWAY — FREE
IN THE TOILET GOODS DEPARTMENT
A 75c Jar of "Amami" Skin Cream

Friday and Saturday we will give away one jar of this remarkable cream to every purchaser of 75c worth of "Amami" Toilet Products

"Amami" Toilet Preparations are used by hundreds of Norwich women who appreciate the beneficial effects of the very highest grade Creams, Face Powders, Rouge, Shampoos, etc. To introduce them to those of you who are as yet unacquainted we make this offer. Friday and Saturday are the days. Don't forget.

FOOD SALE TODAY IN THE DOWNSTAIRS STORE
The Missionary Society of the Third Baptist Church of Greeneville, will hold a FOOD SALE Friday, March 23rd, at 2 o'clock, in the Downstairs Store.

Norwich Bulletin

VOL. LXV—No. 72 POPULATION 29,685 NORWICH, CONN. SATURDAY, MARCH 24, 1923 14 PAGES—182 COLS. PRICE TWO CENTS

TEXTILE COUNCIL IS ASKED TO WITHDRAW WAGE DEMAND

Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Fall River Has Presented Arguments to Show That the Present Time is Inopportune for 15 Per Cent. Increase—Council is to Report to Its Six Constituent Unions, Which Will Pass on the Report Individually—The Time Limit of the Textile Council's Demand for a 15 Per Cent Increase is April 2—The Manufacturers Request the Unions to Defer Negotiations Until April 20—Unions Are to Meet Sunday to Consider Manufacturers' Proposals.

Fall River, Mass., March 23.—The Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Fall River today requested the textile council to withdraw its demand for a wage increase of 15 per cent in 111 mills in this city. In a lengthy report presented at a three-hour conference between the two bodies the manufacturers reviewed the textile situation in Fall River and present arguments tending to show that the present time was inopportune for the increase.

The manufacturers requested the unions to defer further action in the wage negotiations until April 20, when another conference would be held.

The textile council presented its demand for a wage increase, and afterward the manufacturers introduced their objections in the form of an exhaustive report on local conditions. The council now will report the results of the conference to its six constituent unions — carders, mulespinners, slasher tenders, yarn finishers, weavers and loomfixers—which will pass on the report individually.

In its statement the Manufacturers' association argued that the textile situation in Fall River should be considered by itself, as differing from conditions in other New England mill centers, because of the character of goods manufactured here. The great increase in the number of spindles in the south was cited in contrast to the position here in that respect, the number of spindles in this city showing little change over a period of years. South Carolina alone, it was argued, has reached the point where it exceeds by a large margin the number of spindles in Fall River.

The manufacturers asserted that dividends paid by Fall River mills in the past few years had been taken from accumulated earnings during the war period and that the great majority of the textile corporators had lost money in the years cited.

In defense of their action in refusing an increase the manufacturers also contended that last year the mills in Fall River had refused to be a part of the movement almost general throughout New England early to reduce the wages of operatives 20 per cent and return to the 54-hour week.

The report was discussed at length by both sides but with no definite results and the conference adjourned. In addition to members of the executive committee of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association and the textile council, five citizens were present at today's meeting, but took no part in the deliberations. These public representatives were invited at the suggestion of the manufacturers and were selected jointly by manufacturers and council.

While no official views were expressed tonight, pending the decision of the six unions on today's developments, it was the general view that the events of the day would serve further to complicate the local textile labor situation. The time limit of the textile council's demand for a 15 per cent increase is April 2. A demand has been made by the United Textile Workers'—controlling the dofters, sweepers, third hands, and a number of workers in other mill trades—for an increase of 29 1-2 per cent., which would restore wages to the 1920 level. Spokesmen of the council said nothing as yet about strike possibilities. Incidental to the movement for a wage increase is a struggle between the two rival union organizations for contro' of the labor situation in Fall River mills. For many years the textile council, composed largely of delegates from unions affiliated with the American Federation of Textile operatives, has been the recognized leader of the organized workers, and has proceeded towards wage adjustments by conference with the manufacturers.

President McMahon of the United Textile Workers now has challenged the numerical superiority of the council's unions, and, with the support of the stationary firemen, a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has claimed that he would be able to close the mills in this city in the event of a strike of United Textile operatives.

Unions affiliated with the textile council of Fall River will meet next Sunday afternoon to consider the action of the Manufacturers' association.

According to President James Tansey, of the Textile Council who issued a statement tonight after a special meeting of that body held to consider the manufacturers' reply, the labor unions will pass on two propositions. The suggestion of the manufacturers that union action on the refusal to advance wages be deferred until April 20, will be voted on first. If that suggestion does not meet with the approval of the unions a strike vote will be taken. Mr. Tansey's statement was:

"The request of the textile council for an advance of 15 per cent has been refused by the manufacturers. Their request suggesting that the unions defer action on the refusal until April 20, when they desire to meet us again in conference, will be taken up at special meetings of the unions to be held Sunday afternoon, March 25, at 2 o'clock.

"After reports of the delegates to the conference have been accepted a vote will be taken on the proposition of the manufacturers to defer action. If this proposition does not meet with the approval of the unions a strike vote will be taken."

PIGGLY WIGGLY "SHORTS" SETTLE THEIR ACCOUNTS

New York, March 3.—Piggly Wiggly, which has been one of Wall Street's leading topics for the past few days, virtually dropped out of sight today, when a majority of those caught "short" Tuesday when trading in Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., class A common stock was suspended on the New York stock exchange, settled their accounts on the basis of the $100 offer made by Clarence Saunders, president of the corporation.

While accurate information as to the number of shares of stock delivered to E. W. Bradford, counsel for Mr. Saunders, was withheld, it was stated that by far the largest number of the "shorts" took advantage of the lower offer. Yesterday they were required by Mr. Saunders to settle at $150 except when they were able to find stock on the outside at prices ranging from $110 to $145.

A few sales were made in the early forenoon today at $125 to $135 a share previous to receipt in New York of Mr. Saunders' instruction to the National Bank of Commerce, where he had a considerable supply of the stock, to permit the "shorts" to buy it for delivery to his representative at $100 a share. The outside market dropped with that announcement to $90 bid and $103 offered. Most of those who were short in the stock, visited the National Bank of Commerce and bought Mr. Saunders' stock at $100, immediately delivering it to Mr. Bradford.

TWO AMERICAN WOMEN IN PARIS GRANTED DIVORCES

Paris, March 23.—(By the A. P.)—Two American women were granted divorces from their American husbands by the Paris civil tribunal today. They were Mrs. Frederick H. Prince, Jr., who before her marriage was Mary Elisabeth Harding, daughter of W. P. G. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Boston, and Mrs. Eugene Van Rensselaer Thayer, of New York and Boston, who was Miss Gladys Baldwin Brooks. Both divorces were on the grounds of desertion.

Mr. and Mrs. Prince were married in Washington, July 14, 1917, having met while Mr. Prince, as a member of the Lafayette Escadrille, was serving with the French Aeronautic mission. When the war ended Mr. Prince refused to return to America to make his home. The court granted Mrs. Prince custody of the only child of the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer were married in Newport, R. I., September 3, 1903. It was brought out at the hearing that the respondent refused to comply with a formal request to return to Mrs. Thayer made on February 21 last. There was no issue from the union.

PROTESTS PINCHOT'S STAND FOR STATE TAX ON COAL

Boston, March 2.—Governor Channing H. Cox today made public a letter to Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, protesting against continuance of the district tax, of 1 1-2 per cent. levied by Pennsylvania on all anthracite coal mined in that state.

"I am informed," Governor Cox wrote, "that while the lower branch of the Pennsylvania legislature has approved a bill repealing the law, you, nevertheless, have announced your firm opposition to such repeal. One of our state department informs me that at the present rate of consumption under your present tax New England and New York would would be assessed $3,450,000 for the governmental expenses of the state of Pennsylvania.

"In my judgment the policy of your state to use its natural resources to build up Pennsylvania at the expense of less fortunate states is most dangerous. As the nation's non-replaceable natural resources become more completely discovered and developed such a policy of discrimination would result in economic disaster. If continued, it will lead, I am sure to a nation-wide issue as to whether or not a state may have supreme control of natural resources which happen to be located within its boundaries or whether these resources are for the common use of the entire nation."

CRIME IN BAY STATE TO SELL "FIREPROOF" COAL

Boston, March 23.—Governor Cox signed a bill today providing for seizure of "fireproof" coal by state or municipal authorities. The measure was drafted by Attorney General Benton and transmitted to the legislature by the governor with a special message urging passage by the senate and house. The bill contains an emergency preamble which makes it effective at once.

Under the bill a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both is provided for selling or possessing unfit fuel with intent to sell. Coal dealers giving short weight face similar penalties.

SPLIT IN THE MUSICIANS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

New York, March 23.—Withdrawal of more than 2,500 musicians, members of the Musicians Protective Association from the American Federation of Musicians' local organization was reported today as a preliminary step toward a strike which would involve nearly all the theatres, vaudeville houses and motion picture houses in the city. Members of the association will be canvassed, it was said, between now and next Tuesday on the question of a strike to raise the wage scale to a parity with that of the Chicago Musicians' organization.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Assailant of Joseph Smeets.

Cologne, March 23. — The police have arrested Carl Deutzmann, 28 years old, in connection with the attack last week on Joseph Smeets, the separatist leader. Deutzmann protests his innocence, but is said to have been identified by persons who witnessed the attack.

Salvador Mestre Resigns.

San Juan, Porto Rico, March 23.—(By The A. P.)—Salvadore Mestre has tendered his resignation to President Harding as attorney general of Porto Rico. It is reported here that Herbert P. Coats, former member of the New York state senate, will be his successor.

SUBSCRIPTIONS IN U. S. TO INTERNAL GERMAN LOAN

New York, March 23—Subscriptions in America to the $50,000,000 internal German loan, are being held up by Parson Son & Co., investment bankers, pending investigation of the loan by the commission on reparations. Drafts covering subscriptions are being held by the New York investment house, which already had announced the subscriptions would be accepted on a when, and if issued basis, and would be returned should it be found that authority was lacking for the pledging of the gold reserve of the reichsbank in support of the loan.

The New York house made it clear in announcing it would accept subscriptions to the loan that all orders were being received subject to allotment.

Announcement is expected from Berlin tomorrow, when the books are closed, as to the number of subscriptions. While no information would be given by Parson Son & Co. as to the number of American subscriptions, it was understood that the issue was meeting with good response in this country, particularly on the part of investors who have German mark holdings.

The proceeds of the loan were to be used in stabilizing the German mark.

SEEKING CONSPIRATORS IN LIQUOR WITHDRAWAL

New York, March 23. — Several more men alleged to have been interested in a conspiracy to withdraw $10,000,000 worth of liquor from a bonded warehouse are being sought by federal agents, it was announced today after Charles and Ralph Sabbatino, warehouse owners, and eight others, had been held for federal grand jury action on charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead law.

The Sabbatino brothers, arrested yesterday on warrants sworn out by Assistant Prohibition Enforcement Directors Murphy and Reeves, were charged with having attempted to bribe the directors to connive in the release of the liquor from the warehouse. Murphy and Reeves said they were paid $10,000 each by agents of the brothers on the delivery of forged withdrawal permits calling for 100 barrels of whiskey. The plot, in which a number of men were involved, according to the enforcement agents, called for the gradual emptying of the warehouse.

PULP AND PAPER WORKERS DEMAND WAGE INCREASE

Montreal, March 23. — A wage schedule calling for restoration of 1921 rates for skilled and semi-skilled workers and a thirty cents an hour minimum for unskilled men, was adopted today at a conference of representatives of pulp and paper workers of the United States and Canada. The schedule will be submitted April 1 for approval of the 30,000 workers involved.

The schedule calls specifically for restoration to skilled men of the scale in effect in 1921 previous to the 10 per cent. reduction order by a board of arbitration, and to semi-skilled men of the scale in effect previous to the board of arbitration's order cutting wages 5 cents an hour. Present wage agreements of the workers expire April 30.

CARGO AMERICAN COTTON FOR SOVIET RUSSIA

Berlin, March 23.—The first cargo of American cotton bought on Russian account since the soviet revolution is reported to have left Bremen for Russia in the shape of a consignment of 15,000 bales.

The purchase was the first made by Russia through the Bremen Cotton exchange since the war.

Trade circles call attention to the fact that Russia's textile plants have been able to increase their production to such an extent during the last year that the cotton yield in Turkestan, although now greater than ever, is proving insufficient to meet the Russian demand.

EXECTION OF PAPPAS POSTPONED TILL MAY 4

Boston, March 23.—The execution of Paul Pappas postponed from day to day this week and supposedly set for tonight, will be postponed until May 4, if Governor Cox grants the request made by Judge Braley, of the supreme court today. Pappas' counsel having filed a writ of error today, the court decided to hold for the full bench ruling on the statute which provides a year from the date of conviction to file a motion for a new trial. Pappas was convicted last June.

GERMAN NATIONTLIST LEADER SENTENCED

Werden, March 23 (By the A. P.) —Prince Friedrich Wilhelm Von Lippe, German nationalist leader, who was recently fined 7,000,000 marks by a French courtmartial on a charge of agitating against the forces of occupation, has been sentenced in civil court to eight months' imprisonment and a further fine of 500,000 marks.

The charge upon which he is to be imprisoned was that he did not immediately produce his passport when ordered to do so by the soldiers who arrested him.

PRESIDENT EBERT'S DAUGHTER ENGAGED

Berlin, March 23.—The engagement is announced of Amalie Ebert, only daughter of the president of Germany, to Dr. Wilhelm Jaenecke, an attache of the foreign office.

Dr. Jaenecke's father is the proprietor of one of Berlin's leading shoe firms. The establishmentt still bears the Hohenzollern coat of arms, its chief claim to fame being achievement to the formerly coveted position of purveyor to the royal court.

Five Immigrants Leaped Overboard

All Were German Stowaways Endeavoring to Avoid the Immigration Law—Rescued and Taken to Hospital.

New York, March 23.—Five passengers leaped into the sea from the desk of the steamship Emden as she arrived in Quarantine from Bremen tonight. All were rescued and taken to Staten Island hospital, where they refused to answer questions of United States officials or German interpreters.

Three of the quintet were found far from their goal by a police boat, and the other two, shrieking madly for help, were pulled out of the water a short distance from shore by men on the docks. The trio in care of the police lapsed into unconsciousness when taken aboard the cutter.

While awaiting an ambulance from Staten Island hospital an interpreter tried to question the other two men, but they refused to answer.

The five, all Germans, had attempted a superhuman feat in an endeavor to avoid the immigration laws. Shortly after the freighter dropped anchor in the Narrows, they obtained two life preservers—and dropped off, heading for where they thought land should be.

For an hour they fought against the outgoing tide, unusually heavy, and a choppy sea that obscured them from the rescuers. Shore was three-quarters of a mile away.

The trio found by the police boat had lost their lone life preserver.

BOOTLEGGER SECRETARY OF EARL REMINGTON

Los Angeles, Calif., March 23.—Oscar Lund of Hollywood, arrested at Long Beach yesterday in a liquor raid under the name of George Hogan, was identified by police here today as the secretary of Earl Remington, electrical engineer and illicit liquor dealer, recently slain under mysterious circumstances. Captain of Detectives George K. Home announced a new probe into the Remington slaying would be opened.

Louis Duurey, also under arrest, was declared by Prohibition Enforcement Agent Dolley to be "one of the most active and largest illicit liquor smugglers on the Pacific coast." The arrests, including that of John Miller, secretary and treasurer of a Vancouver, B. C., organization, Dolley said, would reveal large illicit liquor retailing operations.

Alexander B. Stewart, president of the Curtis corporation, fish packers, arrested in the raid, was released on $25,000 bail.

The 166 cases of imported liquor seized by the Long Beach police at the docks of the Curtis corporation, were consigned from Scotland to Enzenda, Lower California, via Vancouver.

A WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE FAVORED

Rome, March 23.—(By The A. P.)—The congress of the International Chamber of Commerce this evening passed unanimously the resolution introduced by the American delegates to the congress, favoring a world economic conference and also including pronouncements on the questions of reparations, interallied debts, interallied credits and budgets and exchange.

The resolution was presented to the congress by John H. Fahey of Boston, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who said it represented a statement of the principles on which all the Americans had reached a common ground; that it was a straight outline of the measures to be undertaken if international finance and trad ewere to be returned to normal.

The Italian delegation during today's session presented a memorandum on reparations and interallied debts. The memorandum said reparations hinged on the capacity of conquered nations to pay. It added that if the reparations question had been handled by practical persons much trouble would have been averted. Germany, it was declared, had only paid five per cent. of the value of German production, which was less than the sum saved by her by reason of her diminished army and navy.

TO DISSOLVE THE GERMAN NATIONALISTIC PARTY

Berlin, March 3 (By the A. P.)—The Prussian government has decided to dissolve the German nationalistic liberty party as a result of an investigation into the activities of former Lieutenant Rossbach, who was recently arrested on suspicion of being connected with the plans for reactionary Putsch, it was announced in the diet today by Minister of the Interior Severing.

Interesting, Informative, Profitable

Every time you buy a loaf of bread a necktie, a gallon of gasoline or a book, your life touches the widening circles of business. So the more you know of business news the better you are equipped to get the most from life.

You'll find the real news of business in the advertisements. Look them over in the columns of The Bulletin. They are the messages of business to you. They tell you of the new and wonderful things created for your convenience or pleasure—of merchandise gathered from the myriad markets of the world for you and your family.

It is worth while for you to keep abreast of this important business news. If it were not important good merchants and successful manufacturers could not afford to pay money for the privilege of telling it to you.

Read the advertisements in The Bulletin. You will find it an interesting and informative as well as a profitable practice.

In the past week the following news matter has appeared in The Bulletin's columns:

Bulletin		Telegraph	Local	General	Total
Saturday,	March 17.....	83	112	381	581
Monday,	March 19.....	84	79	358	531
Tuesday,	March 20.....	96	102	270	468
Wednesday,	March 21.....	95	110	346	551
Thursday,	March 22.....	96	83	255	414
Friday,	March 23.....	111	95	312	518
Totals.....		570	561	1932	3063

France Favorable To the Naval Pact

Foreign Affairs Committee to Recommend Ratification of Washington Agreement by the Chamber of Deputies.

Paris, March 23.—(By the A. P.)—Ratification of the Washington naval accords without essential reservations will be recommended to the chamber of deputies by its foreign affairs committee under an agreement reached today after a long debate on the report submitted to the committee by Charles Guernier, its official reporter.

M. Geurnier and some of the other members of the committee held out for absolute reservations, basing their argument on the precedent created by the United States senate in making reservations on the Pacific accord, but they were confronted with constitutional objection.

Deputy Mandel and M. Leygues, chairman of the committee, pointed out that, under the French constitution, parliament cannot collaborate in treaty-making, as can the United States senate, but can only ratify or reject.

As a compromise it was suggested that the report of the committee to the chamber might contain "interpretive" suggestions that would practically cover the points involved in M. Guernier's reservations. A provisional text incorporating this idea was drawn up, but it did ont come to a final vote because the committee out of respect for former Premier Briand, who has been ill for some time, wishes to give him a chance to state his views. M. Briand, as premier, was the chief French delegate to the Washington conference.

While no vote was taken, the entire committee agreed upon the compromise, and it will be formally sanctioned after M. Briand is heard, next Tuesday.

The question whether repairs to old ships are against the spirit of the Washington accords did not come up in committee, but member individually expressed the opinion that the agreement had been violated in spirit in several directions and that, if the remodeling of old ships were allowed, every signatory could make its navy entirely up-to-date, which they regarded as contrary to the spirit of the agrement.

NO LARGER GUNS ON FRENCH CAPITAL SHIPS

Paris, March 23.—(By The A. P.)—France to date has not increased the number or calibre of the guns no her capital ships, limiting repairs to improving the range of the guns by elevation or other means, according to information furnished today by the ministry of marine.

It was stated that this had been France's practice thus far, though no interpretation was put on the theory whether she has the right under the Washington treaty to rebuild or otherwise alter her old battleships.

Of the latter, France has six, two of which have undergone minor changes recently, and repairs now are proceeding on the dreadnaught Paris.

The point at issue now is whether the language of the last sentence prohibits such changes in elevation of the American batteries as are contemplated. Congress appropriated $6,500,000 for this special purpose, and it is understood that it did so with full knowledge of the treaty provisions on that point. If the usual practice were followed the navy department would feel obliged to carry out exactly the direction of congress.

As having a most important bearing upon the usefulness of the treaty, the action now being taken by the French chambers is also being watched here with the closest attention. Some of the reservations proposed are regarded as distinctly menacing to the vitality of the principles involved in framing the treaty, but in the absence of precise offcial information, criticism is reserved.

SIOUX CITY RESIDENTS FLEEING FROM FLOOD

Sioux City, Ia., March 23.—Four hundred homes in the Sioux City "bottoms" were menaced as the result of the overflow tonight of the Floyd river. Residents were abandoning their homes at midnight and fleeing to the high ground. The Floyd river, filled with back water from the Missouri river, as the result of the ice gorge at Sergeant Bluffs, Iowa, rose three feet in six hours. Lower floors of six buildings in the district were under water.

80-YEAR-OLD WOMAN AND HER DAUGHTER SHOT DEAD

Dublin, March 23.—An eighty-year-old woman and her daughter were shot dead today at Aughafin, Longford, by a raiding party. The daughter's husband is a national officer and it is believed he was being sought.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Fire caused damage estimated at $60,000 to the annex of the high school on Page street, Lowell, Mass.

The parish house of St. Peter's church, at Ricedale, Mass., was burned causing a loss estimated at $12,000.

Read Nichols, the oldest citizen of Bath, Maine, died yesterday. He observed his 101st birthday on March 11th.

The three-story frame Belvidere block in Edward E. Horr, Jr., square, near Revere Beach, was swept by fire causing a loss estimated at $80,000.

Ellen Sonnenthal, 22, an elevator operator, committed suicide by jumping from a window on the ninth floor of the Hotel Astor, New York.

Ownership of approximately one farm in sixteen in the country was transferred last year, while occupants on one out of five changed.

The Polish diet has ratified a 30-year petroleum agreement with Italy embodying a "most favored nation" clause.

Wage increases of 12 1-2 per cent. effective April 30, were announced by companies operating eight woolen and worsted mills in Rockville.

Charles H. Crandall, an author, was found dead in his barn near Stamford with a bullet wound in the right temple. Apparently he had committed suicide.

Investigation of an alleged price fixing combine in New York by poultry merchants in anticipation of the Jewish passover season was ordered by District Attorney Banton.

It is stated in naval circles at Malta that when the present Near Eastern crisis is settled the greater part of the British naval strength will be transferred to the Mediterranean.

Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, was elected chairman of the executive committee of the Republican club of Harvard.

Washington Bissell, aged 102, said to be the oldest Mason, oldest college graduate and oldest retired lawyer in the United States, died at Great Barrington, Mass.

Held by an ice gorge, five miles long formed at Brassfield's Island, south of Sioux City, Iowa, spring flood waters of the Missouri river threatened to sweep through parts of that city.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, left the Lenox Hill hospital, New York where he has been confined for more than two weeks with influenza.

The steamship Texan, aground off Clay Head, Block Island, R. I., remained hard and fast yesterday and arrangements were made to lighter part of her cargo for the Pacific coast.

The steamer Margaret Dollar, one of the Dollar Line round-the-world fleet, which left Boston last September, arrived in Boston yesterday with the body of her captain, C. R. Cross of Sanfrancisco.

The Daughters of 1812 held their annual meeting in Bridgeport yesterday. Rev. Russell Carlton addressed the meeting and delegates to the national convention at Washington on April 26 were appointed.

Mrs. John W. Weeks, wife of the secretary of war, is suffering from intestinal indigestion, but physicians declared on her arrival in Washington last night from the south that her condition was not serious.

Henry S. Hobson, member of one of the big gun crews on the U. S. S. Kearsage during the battle off the French coast in which the Confederate privateer Alabama was sunk, died at Palmer, Mas., aged 82.

Physicians of Port Huron Mich., ad-midded they are baffled by the strange case of Wanda Loope, 19 year old high school student, who has been in a comatose state for fourteen days.

Negotiations are under way between New York bankers and the Oriental Development company, a semi-official corporation in Japan, involving the lending of $20,000,000 American capital to be used in development projects in Korea.

The United States Steel corporation, through its subsidiary, the United States Steel Products company, may continue to operate steamships through the Panama canal under a decision by the interstate commerce commission.

Wesleyan college defeated Dart-mouth college last night in a debate in Memorial chapel, Middletown. The subject was "Resolved, That the French invasion of the Ruhr deserves the censure of this house." Wesleyan had the affirmative.

Co-operation between state prisons in the interchange of their products was urged by speakers at the conference in Washington of the national committee on prisons and prison labor, who pointed to the necessity of standardizing the institutions' output.

North Carolina has more textile mills than any state in the Union, according to M. L. Shipman, state commissioner of labor, who announced that latest figures, showing 393 cotton mills in the state, gave it a rank above Massachusetts.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, retired, national director of the United States veterans' bureau, who is studying conditions at the New England bureau headquarters, Boston, refused to tell whether he had selected a successor to Dr. Arthur E. Brides.

Depositions to be used at final hearing in Chicago May 2 of injunction proceedings brought by the government against the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, in connection with the 1922 strike case, are to be made in New York Monday.

DUBLIN THEATRE LOBBY WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

Dublin, March 23 (By the A. P.)—A violent explosion late tonight was followed by an outburst of revolver, rifle and machine-gun firing. The explosion was due to a mine which wrecked the lobby of a motion picture theatre. No one was injured by the explosion, but a man was seriously wounded in the course of the shooting.

AN AMERICAN FREIGHTER COLLIDED WITH RUM SH

Rum Schooner in the Ocean Traffic Lanes Without Lights or Signals on Foggy Night—Captain of the Freighter Received No Answer When He Asked if the Schooner Was in Need of Assistance—Positive Her Bow Was Smashed In—No Wireless Distress Call Was Received at Coast Guard Stations.

New York, March 23.—The American freighter Birmingham City arrived in Quarantine tonight with a big dent in the steel plates of her bow and a story about the menace of "wind-jamming" rum runners skittering across the ocean traffic lanes, full speed, without lights or signals, through a dark night weighted with fog.

The Birmingham City, inbound from London, was heading toward Ambrose channel at 4 a. m. today, feeling her way through the murk and booming her fog signals every few seconds, Captain Arnet related. Other foghorns were heard around her, but ahead the course seemed clear.

The freighter had reached a point about sixteen miles east of the Ambrose channel lightship, said Captain Arnet—the region of the ever-changing anchorage of the rum fleet—when suddenly and without warning a three-masted schooner appeared like a wraith directly in her course, coming head on, under a full spread of canvas. She carried no lights and sounded no whistles, the captain declared.

Lookouts on both ships raised cries of warning; the schooner veered a bit, the steamer reversed engines. They struck, prow to bowsprit; there was a crash of splintered wood and of groaning steel, and crews of both vessels made for the lifeboats.

Realizing at once that his vessel was much the heavier and was in no danger, Captain Arnet said he hailed the bridge of the schooner to ask her name and learn if she was in need of assistance.

"Although I am positive her bow was smashed, I received no answer from her," the skipper related. "Her canvas was still up, and she staggered away and off in the fog."

Coast guards and wireless stations said they had received no word of a schooner in distress.

STELLA LARRIMORE TO ASSERT HER INNOCENCE

New York, March 23.—Stella Larrimore, the 19-year old actress named as one of three co-respondents in testimony given by witnesses for Geraldine Farrar in trial of her divorce suit against Lou Tellegen, will appear personally in the case and prove her innocence of the charges against her, Louis Brodsky, her attorney, declared today.

Private detectives, employed by the former Metropolitan Opera star to watch the movements of Tellegen, have testified that he spent many hours in her Riverside Drive apartment and once remained all night. They also described a scene on a bench in Riverside Drive park after midnight. Miss Larrimore then was referred to in the testimony as "Miss L."

The other young woman named as as co-respondents were Miss Lorna Ambler, an Australian actress of "striking beauty" who was alleged to have spent a "month of bliss" with Tellegen in a shack facing Theresa on Long Beach, and a Miss Clifford, of San Francisco.

Mr. Brodsky appeared before Referee Mahoney at a hearing of the case today and was granted an adjournment of a week in which to study the papers. He denied Miss Larrimore, who is a sister of Francine Larrimore, Broadway star, desired to testify and would answer frankly any questions put to her.

Mr. Brodsky referred to one of the charges against Miss Larrimore as "that 42nd and Broadway bench episode."

"There wasn't any mention made of anything happening at 42nd and Broadway" Samuel Untermyer, of counsel for Miss Farrar, said.

"Well, 111th stret and Riverside Drive then," retorted Mr. Brodsky. "What's the difference? There's crowds of people passing both places all the time."

Mr. Brodsky claimed that Miss Larrimore had never been given a chance in the case. Counsel Miss Farrar knew where Mis Larrimore was, but did not notify her of the charges against her, he added.

Today's hearing was called primarily for the purpose of giving Arthur E. Schwartz, counsel for Tellegen, an opportunity to interpose a defense, but he did not appear. It was understood that he was under orders from Tellegen to leave the case undefended.

FOREST SERVICE WANTS PULP TIMBER FROM ALASKA

Washington, March 23.—Bids for 34,000,000 cubic feet of pulp timber on the Tongass national forest, Alaska, were asked today by the forest service. Offers must be by July 31, and not less than 60 cents per hundred cubic feet for Sitka spruce and 30 cents for hemlock and other species will be accepted.

Alaska, the forest service says, can supply one-third of the paper needs of the United States and with American use of paper growing each year, the Alaskan supply of pulp wood can be utilized to advantage.

One body offered for sale contains 250,000,000 cubic feet, located on Kupreanof and Kuiu islands, 40 miles from Cascade creek. The other contains 74,000,000 cubic feet, located within a few miles of Cascade creek. The creek is said to be one of the best water power streams in Alaska, and an ideal site for a pulp and paper plant, and navigable and sheltered waterways furnish a cheap and easy way for towing the logs.

The government, the forest service says, assures the successful bidder that accepted prices will hold good until 1930, with possible adjustment every five years thereafter.

ANOTHER ARREST FOR THE SCHECHINGER MURDER

New York, March 23.—Mrs. Rose Alton, young and pretty, was arrested by Brooklyn police tonight and charged with homicide as the suspected author of the "ransom" letters discovered in the shack where Ludwig ("Eccentric Lou") Schechinger was slain with a hammer and robbed of his $3,000 savings last Tuesday.

John Hanna, taken in custody with her, also was jailed on a homicide charge.

Mrs. Fulton, who is also known to the police as "Rose Smith," reluctantly admitted she was "an intimate friend" of the hammer victim. Under further questioning, said the authorities, she declared she was Schechinger's fiancee and was to have married him the day his mutilated body was found in his isolated little hut on the shore of Jamaica bay.

One of the clues which led to the captures tonight was a letter addressed to "Darling Louis" and signed "Beloved Rose," which reads: "Please send me $25 in a hurry. I am held for ransom. When I am free we will get them and I will see you in Brooklyn."

ADDITIONS NEEDED AT MANSFIELD STATE SCHOOL

Hartford, March 23.—The legislative appropriations committee, in an inspection today of the Mansfield state training school and hospital, was confronted with the urgent necessity of providing increased accommodations at the institution to remove from the streets of municipalities throughout the state nearly 300 mental defectives now awaiting admission.

Out of approximately 600 inmates now at the institution, 500 are liable to remain public charges as long as they live These are beyond hope of cure, according to Superintendent Charles T. Lamoure, and the most that the state can do for them it to keep them occupied and comfortable, training them as best it can in the lines for which they show the greatest aptitude.

Appropriations aggregating $1,365,000 have been requested for the institution, $520,000 for maintenance for the next two years, and $645,000 for new construction equipment and new projects. The dormitories are crowded and $100,000 has been asked for a building to accommodate 60 cases; $150,000 is requested, and for a nurses' home for 100 employes, $200,000. The other requests are as follows: Concrete cow barn for 150 head of cattle, $30,000; building for storage of farm supplies, $10,000; water tank of five million gallon capacity, $35,000; improvements at power house, $40,000; extension of coal trestle, $10,000; roads, grading and walks, $20,000; extension of concrete tunnels for steam pipes, $30,000; additional laundry machinery, $10,000.

"MR. MARSHALL" STILL REMAINS A MYSTERY

New York, March 23.—An anticipated glimpse of the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" who supplied Dorothy Keenan with jewels and money before her murder more than a week ago, was denied newspaper men who waited in the office of Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora late today.

Mr. Pecora had announced that he had summoned both "Mr. Marshall" and his equally mysterious secretary, 'Mr. Wilson" for further questioning this evening. Later, however, he said that owing to the lateness of the hour he had decided to postpone the interview until tomorrow morning. "Mr. Marshall's" attorney, Mr. Pecora said, has promised to have his client on hand.

It was indicated by Mr. Pecora tonight that the time was near when the identity of this man would be made public. "Mr. Marshall" is said to be a wealthy manufacturer who, while not particularly prominent himself, is married to a woman who is widely known socially and whose father-in-law occupies a much higher place than does his daughter's husband.

Mr. Pecora, who has admittedly shielded the identity of "Mr. Marshall" in order to protect the wife and her family from a public scandal, said he believed that sooner or later the real name of the man would have to be made public and that he believed "Marshall" was making it harder for himself each day that he kept his identity a secret.

AMERICAN ACQUITTED OF MURDER IN MEXICO

Mexico City, March 23 (By the A. P.)—Benjamin H. Turner, an American, was acquitted early this morning by the jury before which he had been on trial for the murder two years ago of Ramon Arguelles, a Mexican. He was the first North American to face a murder charge in Mexico in many years. The prosecution sought the death penalty.

Turner, who is 23 years old, shot and killed Arguelles two years ago when he was convinced the latter had swindled him out of 6,000 pesos, his savings of several years. Since his arrest Turner has been confined to a local prison, where he was known as The Hermit, because he declined to discuss the case. He even refused to give his United States address.

Favorable comment is heard in many quarters on the jury's decision, the newspapers giving much prominence to the fact that "there is justice in Mexican courts."

REDUCTION ON SUGAR DUTIES IS ADVOCATED

Washington, March 23.—Contending that the "present runaway sugar market, dominated by profiteers, owes its chief underlying original cause to the tariff price boosts," Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee tonight advocated a fifty per cent reduction in sugar duties.

"President Harding has in his own hands the most immediate and potent single remedy for the relief of the sugar situation," said Mr. Hull, asking that the president should direct the tariff commission, if necessary, to make an immediate report to him that the reduction asked to effect by executive action.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
81 Church Street Telephone 1023

The Windham county committee of the Connecticut Forestry Association held a meeting Friday morning at 11 o'clock in the rooms of the local chamber of commerce. A talk on the development of forest land and protection of trees was given by Henry L Baldwin of Hartford, secretary of the State Forestry Association. Plans for the forming of a county organization for the development of forestry and the protection of the same from fires and blight were outlined by the committee and Mr. Baldwin. An invitation was extended by the chamber of commerce to have State Forester A. F. Hawes of Hartford and others connected with forestry, to appear before the Willimantic Chamber and explain their plans for the advancement of forestry in this section of the state. It was voted to hold the meeting at the chamber of commerce assembly hall on Tuesday evening, April 17 at 8 o'clock.

That date coincides with the regular mid-month meeting of the chamber of commerce. In addition to Mr. Baldwin, those present at the meeting included: R. M. Hick of the Connecticut Agricultural College, who spoke, and the members of the committee: Allen B. Lincoln, Willimantic, chairman; Oliver A. Hiscox of Woodstock and Alfred Abbe of South Windham. The other members of the committee are: Irving W. Davis of Danielson and Frank L. Davis of Putnam, county farm agent.

There were twelve marriages during the month of February in the town of Windham recorded at the office of Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton, one of which took place in Norwich. Four of the ceremonies were performed by Rev. John E. Clark, two by Rev. Harry S. McCready and one each by Rev. Leonard Smith, Rev. John Pearce, Rev. H. C. Belec, Rev. E. A. Mathieu, Rev. Walter F. Borchert and Rev. I. Maciejewski of Norwich. The list follows:

3, Hubert Kegler, 19, and Mildred Moriarty, 22, by Rev. John E. Clark.

4, Royal Edwin Thompson, 18 (Mansfield) and Lillian May Poole, 1, by Rev. Leonard Smith.

7, Peter Withowski, 29, and Sallie Isbicki, 26 (Norwich) by Rev. I. Maciejewski.

5, John A. Lutton, 24, and Victoria Helen Ronson, 19, by Rev. John Pearce.

5, Francis Duchesnean, 20, and Marianda Laforce, 15, by Rev. H. C. Belec.

8, Ernest A. Holland, 20, and Eugenie M. Columbe, 21, by Rev. E. A. Mathieu.

8, John Daniel McGuinness, 41, and Alice Elizabeth Logan, 42, by Rev. John E. Clark.

10, Everett L. Richmond, 23, and Veronica J. Shawkey, 19 (Rockville) by Rev. Harry S. McReady.

12, Harold T. Robinson, 28 (Norwich), and Mabel R. Hardman, 25, by Rev. John E. Clark.

26, Gerald Brooks, 21, and Loora Evangeline White, 20, by Rev. Walter F. Borchert.

27, Paul Jurobaty, 60 (Andover) and Anna Podhrocky, 28, (Andover) by Rev. John E. Clark.

28, Oliver Leland Willard, 39, and Ethel Clark Smith, 33, by Rev. Harry S. McCready.

A sub-committee of the public works committee of the chamber of commerce was appointed, in accordance to a vote recently taken, to consider the revision of the city charter, the recommendations to be presented to the general committee. The sub-committee recently held its meeting with Chairman P. D. Donohue in charge. The members present consisted of Frank P. Fenton, George M. Graves, Pierre J. Laramee, John R. Pickett and Edgar W. Jacobs.

At the meeting preparatory work in relation to revising the charter was started and after the recommendations are completed they will be brought before the enlarged public works committee. Chairman Donohue stated that it was not the intention of the committee to attempt to revise the charter during the present term of the legislature for in the opinion of all concerned it is a matter which calls for a great deal of consideration, thought and labor.

The committee regret that such a large number of the local residents are looking on the matter of charter revision by the chamber of commerce with scorn, as it is a move made in the right direction with the prime object of betterment to the community welfare. The movement did not originate with dissatisfaction with the present form of government but with the idea that there was room for improvement. It is thought that the work on the proposed changes will be carried on throughout the entire summer.

A boom in the poultry business for farmers and others in Willimantic and surrounding towns is very evident for the coming spring. Extensive transactions in "baby chicks" are being carried on and in many instances the chicks are being purchased from distant hatcheries and arrive here by parcel post Twenty cartons, each containing 100 one-day old chicks, a total of 2,000, were received Friday by L. P. Oehring of Windham. A large number of the shipments are from Ohio and a peculiar feature is that very few of the chicks are found dead in the cartons. It is stated that chicks will live in transit for 72 hours without food or water. The postoffice officials stated that the first shipment arrived on February 24 and up to Friday afternoon a total of 15,000 chicks had been received with a casualty list of about twenty.

Mike Sadany, an employe of Joseph Emmons of Warrenville, was painfully injured Thursday afternoon while at his work in a wood sawmill. Sadany's right leg became wedged in the carriage and before its movement towards the buzzing saw could be stopped his leg had struck the saw and was badly cut. He was taken to Willimantic in an automobile and his leg was dressed by a local physician after which he was returned to his home in Warrenville.

Announcement was made by Supt. of Schools Egbert A. Case that all the public schools of the town were closed after the afternoon session on Friday for the annual spring recess and that classes would be resumed Tuesday morning, April 3. The state normal school also suspended sessions for a similar length of time.

Captain Joseph R. Morrison of Company C, 169th Connecticut Infantry, this city, announced Friday afternoon that two more recruits were enlisted in the company, bringing the number at the present time to 69 men, including three officers, which is above the minimum number. Captain Morrison and Lieutenants Ellison S. Smith and Edward A. Morrison are planning to attend the school for officers of the regiment to be held in Hartford on Sunday afternoon.

Arrangements are now completed for the banquet of Earl W. Greene Post, No. 52, American Legion, to be held at the town hall in South Coventry, Monday evening. The committee in charge has provided for a splendid program, including music and an address by an out-of-town speaker. Ex-service men of the town of Coventry have been invited to attend.

At the convention of the Order of Maccabees to be held at Los Angeles Cal., on June 3, 4 and 5, Mrs. Agnes Vegiard of 17 Oak street will represent the local body. The eastern representatives are to leave New York May 24th and stops will be made at all points of interest.

The Anne Wood Elderkin Chapter of the D. A. R. has sent a box to the D. A. R. detention worker at Ellis Island. The box contains articles to be used by the immigrants who become wearied from idleness lasting as long as three or four days. The chapter is packing another box which will be ready for shipment in the near future.

At the last regular meeting of the W. B. A. of the Maccabees, eleven new candidates were initiated into the organization. It was voted to stage a public supper in the near future.

Mrs. Phoebe Edson of the Card Home on Pleasant street received a sunshine box in honor of her 83rd birthday. Mrs. James H. Bentley and her class of nineteen at the Methodit church sent the gift. The W. C. T. U. gave Mrs. Edson a bouquet of sweet peas and Mrs. D. C. Barrows sent a fine birthday cake and fruit was received from Mrs. Charles Fenton. Mrs. Edson had many callers on her anniversary and received a shower of postal cards of congratulation.

A meeting of the Willimantic branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company was held Friday noon in the Union block and was attended by agents from several towns connected with the local branch. The work of the staff for the first quarter of the year was discussed. The meeting was presided over by Manager A. R. Robinson.

Frank Gervais of No. 29 Stone Row pleaded guilty to the charge of trespassing on railroad property of the New Haven railroad, Friday morning in the police court. Railroad Policeman John Collins testified that Thursday night he had seen Gervais walking along the railroad tracks with a can partly filled with coal. He assured Gervais and took him to the local police station.

In his own behalf Gervais stated that he did not think that he had done any wrong, as he had gone to coal from alongside of the tracks. The court was not the opinion that it was a technical charge of stealing. Gervais was fined $1 and costs amounting to $3.15. He did not have the required amount and later in the day he was taken to Brooklyn county jail.

State Policeman Fred T. Caron of the Stafford Springs barracks made his weekly call at the patrolmen's room in the town building Thursday to meet applicants seeking driver of motor vehicle licenses. Quite a number called, most of whom came from surrounding towns.

Charles B. Jordan, tenor, of Willimantic, sang Friday evening at the special Lenten service at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Norwich. Mr. Jordan is widely known as a soloist through his association with the Old Folks' Concert of Willimantic.

The Freshmen were the victors of the interclass basketball championship of Windham High school when they defeated the Sophomore quintet 19 to 8, in one of the best games this season at the school gym. Up to the last minute the issue was doubtful and the large crowd stood on edge. The lineup and summary follows:

Freshmen.		Sophomores.
Williams		Cavoli
	Left Forward
Jackson		Meikle
	Right Forward
Nichols		Burton
	Center
Sawiki		Sackowitz
	Left Guard
Rosen		Prater, Bernet
	Right Guard

Field goals, Burton, Cavoli, Williams; goals from fouls, Cavoli, Meikle 3, Nichols 8. Referee, A. Sullivan; time, four eight-minute quarters.

Everett Ladd, son of Mrs. M. S. Ladd of Church street, will arrive today (Saturday) from Swarthmore (Pa.) Prep school, where he is an instructor, to spend the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Jennie Curtis is moving from 290 Prospect street to New Haven. Her daughter, Miss Florence Curtis, will remain with Mrs. John Hardman of High street.

George H. Shafer, principal of the Normal school, has gone to Stroudsburg, Penn., to spend his Easter vacation with relatives.

Harley H. Shafer, who has been a student at Sheffield, has entered the Syracuse University School of Forestry at Wanakena, N. Y.

Thursday was visiting day for the Danielson teachers. Eleven teachers from that town were at the Natchaug grammar school to observe local teaching methods.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Twomey of Turner street have left for New York from where they will sail today (Saturday) for a three weeks' trip to Bermuda.

The appropriations committee of the state legislature of which Mrs. Fred O. Vinton is a member, visited the Mansfield State Hospital and Training School Friday.

Wilcox, son of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Wilcox of West Main street, and a student at Worcester Tech, are spending the Easter vacation at Mr. Wilcox's home.

Fred Little was in Boston Friday on business.

Miss Bessie Bradshaw with Robert, George and Natalie Ruth, little son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Feldman of Lincoln avenue, left Friday afternoon for Pymouth, Mass., where they will remain until after Easter.

Miss Sarah H. Abbe, a student at Wheaton College, Norton, Mass., arrived here Friday to spend the vacation with Mr. and Mrs. George F. Stiles of South Windham.

Mrs. Sarah A. Niles has returned fro ma several months' stay with her daughter, Mrs. Frank T. James of East Orange, N. J.

Miss Rose McQuillan attended a dance at the Roxbury school in Cheshire Friday evening.

Headaches from Slight Colds

Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets relieve the Headache, by curing the Cold. A tonic laxative and germ destroyer. The box bears the signature of E. W. Grove. 30c.

DAIRY SUNDAY SPECIAL

THIS WEEK IS FRUITED NUT CUSTARD. NEW HAVEN DAIRY DEALERS ONLY.

DENTIST
Dr. F. C. Jackson
SPECIALIZING IN PAINLESS EXTRACTING
718 MAIN STREET, WILLIMANTIC

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
214 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

JAY M. SHEPARD
Successor to Fitzpatrick & Shepard
Funeral Director & Embalmer
50-52 NORTH ST. WILLIMANTIC
Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
56 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 250 (Lady Assistant)

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.
MURRAY'S BOSTON STORE
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

EASTER TIME IS NEW CLOTHES TIME

It is the season of awakening. Nature discards her mantle of snow and ice, and clothes herself in verdant beauty—her fields and forests gem-set with nodding flowers.

AND SPRINGTIME has come into our store. Colorful irridescent displays of the new hold sway in every section—beckoning to all who are anxious to get in step with springtime.

NEW COATS
NEW WRAPS — CAPES
SUITS — DRESSES
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
ACCESSORIES
ARE HERE FOR YOUR SELECTION

Cuticura Soap Baths Are Refreshing

Cleanse and freshen your skin by bathing daily with Cuticura Soap. If there are any signs of pimples, redness or roughness follow with a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal. Dust with Cuticura Talcum; it perfumes as well as powders your skin.

Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

Italian Princess To Wed Belgian Crown Prince

Recent portrait photo of the beautiful Princess Mafalda, second daughter of the King and Queen of Italy. It is reported in Roman court circles that the Princess Mafalda is to wed Crown Prince Leopold, Duke of Brabant and heir to the throne of Belgium; and that the formal announcement of the engagement will follow, immediately, the coming wedding of her older sister, Yolanda, to Count Calvi di Bergolo.

COLCHESTER

The following three cases were tried before Justice F. E. Baker Thursday afternoon in Grange hall: State vs. Walter Pasternack, reputation of having liquor with intent to sell. Pasternack pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $77.97. State vs. Andrew Raczewski, manufacturing of spirituous and intoxicating liquors, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $94.53. State vs. Frank Ladika, for manufacturing moonshine, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs, amounting to $91.47. They all settled up.

James Davis of New York arrived at his summer residence here Thursday. Mr. Davis' family will come later. He was chauffeur for Dr. Cragin for 28 years and for Mrs. Cragin until her death.

Dr. John F. O'Connell of Hartford was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Connell, on Windham avenue Tuesday.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor F. E. Baker and staff and 18 members of Oliver Woodhouse lodge, K. of P., went to Lebanon Wednesday evening. The officers of George S. Hull lodge, No. 74, were installed by Deputy Baker. The second rank team of Oliver Woodhouse lodge conferred the rank of esquire on one candidate for George S. Hull lodge. After the work of the evening a lunch was served and a social hour spent. George S. Hull lodge was given an invitation to bring their candidates to Colchester April 17th, when the rank of knight will be conferred by the third rank team of Oliver Woodhouse lodge. The invitation was accepted.

Benjamin London of Dorchester, Mass., formerly of this place, is a guest of Max Cohen on Pleasant street.

Samuel Gellert of Granby was calling on friends in town Wednesday.

Max Cohen, Charles F. Brown, M. Klingon and several others were in New London Wednesday and Thursday attending court.

Daniel Rogers of Salem was a caller here Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry West was calling on friends in Norwich Wednesday.

Harry Friedman was a visitor in Hartford Wednesday.

Ernest Buckland of East Hampton was a Colchester caller Wednesday.

Frank H. Browning was a visitor in Norwich Wednesday.

Mrs. A. T. Van Cleve was a visitor in New London Wednesday.

Mrs. Barnet W. Kahn and daughter are visiting relatives in New York for a few weeks.

Charles A. Williams has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in East Hampton.

Jack Ehgart is visiting relatives in New York for a few days.

When the Best Is Wanted In Batteries, Electric Equipment, Service or Knowledge, You Can Receive It at The Windham Battery Company

You pay no more for the Best. We don't trust you to luck after we have sold you any of our merchandise. But we co-operate with you so that you get the longest life out of it.

WE SELL —

Willard Batteries for your automobile, farm lighting plant and radio receiving set. North East starters, generators, electric horns, ignition and coils.

Bosch starters, generators, spark plugs and ignition that we put in any car, even on a Ford, is a money saving to you.

We carry Brown reflectors that show the road, Connecticut coils and ignition, Delco and Remy parts.
We rebuild your battery, starter, generator, ignition, rewire your car, or any other electric trouble on your car.

Nine times out of ten it is not fault of the electrical apparatus that is the cause of your trouble but the fault lies with the man who makes it work and yet does not know whether it is right or wrong.—Just because an apparatus works does not mean that it is all right

THE WINDHAM BATTERY CO.
291 MAIN STREET WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

CANTERBURY GREEN

A meeting of the Poultry club was held at Grange hall on Thursday afternoon.

The Christian Endeavor service on Sunday evening will be at the Hawes home, James Towne leader. These meetings are being attended by the young people of the parish, who show much interest.

Mrs. Chauncey Frink and daughter, Mrs. Wright, motored to Chepachet, R. I., Monday to attend the funeral of a former schoolmate of Mrs. Frink.

Mrs. Frank Nelson and daughters have returned from New York and are entertaining Mrs. Nelson's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Kinney, who were recently married.

At the grange Wednesday evening the program consisted of a St. Patrick's entertainment. A cafeteria lunch was served. The committee for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, Miss Elise Hawes, Mrs. Emma Appley and Herbert Williams. Mr Wright and Mrs. Grace Towne received prizes in the games.

Merritt Hawes is confined to the house by illness.

WEST KINGSTON

Rev. Mr. Brady, superintendent of schools in this town, spoke before the Why and How club Thursday afternoon on the school question.

Mrs. George Young was a visitor in Providence Wednesday.

The country roads are very muddy. Some are almost impassable.

Joseph Bushee, an aged resident here, who has been ill for over a year, passed away at his home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. I. M. Kenyon visited her son, who is sick at his home in Providence, Wednesday. He is suffering from influenza, but is improving.

Mrs. Carol Arnold visited relatives in Wakefield Monday.

School closed in the grammar room Friday afternoon of last week to allow the principal to attend a meeting of the teachers to plan for a program for commencement in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Caroll Randall have moved to their new home.

LEONARD BRIDGE

The body of Mrs. Fred J. Brown was brought here Saturday afternoon from Colchester for burial in the family plot at Exeter cemetery.

Mrs. Steve Rettles is spending a few days in New Jersey.

Morris Velinsky was in New London Wednesday and Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. David Walsh have returned from a several days' visit with relatives and friends in Brooklyn, N. Y., and Stamford. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh witnessed the big parade on Fifth avenue, New York, St. Patrick's day. Their return trip was made through the Berkshire Hills, arriving home Tuesday evening.

Rexford E. Cummings was in Norwich Wednesday.

Several people from here attended the auction at Walter Burgess' at Kick Hill Wednesday.

Occasionally the right man in the right place occupies quarters in a building where the windows are nicely fitted with iron bars.

LEDYARD

The sudden passing on of George W. Palmer removes an active business man of this town. Sorrow hovers over the community as nearly everyone who knew him thought he was in the best of health. He has served the town as assessor and on the board of relief for a number of years. He was a member of the board of relief this year and was present at every meeting during the month of February. He was one of the largest real estate owners in town. All who knew Mr. Palmer spoke words of praise in his behalf. The writer, a member of the board of relief this year, found Mr. Palmer to be a man of sterling character and enjoyed pleasant relations with him in the duties connected therewith. He was never married and leaves one sister, Mrs. Phebe L. Norman, of Allyn's Point, and one brother, Percy Palmer.

Rev. G. F. Goodenough preached at the Woman's home in Niantic on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Frieda Goodenough of Smith college is spending her Easter vacation with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Goodenough.

Miss Ruby Swain, teacher in District No. 6, Church Hill, has been ill at her home in North Stonington during the past week. Her school has been closed during her illness.

All of the schools in town closed on Friday for the Easter vacation of one week. There will be one change in teachers for the spring term. Mrs. Sarah J. Corey, teacher in District No. 4, has resigned and Mrs. Fanny Clark has been engaged to teach the spring term.

The late Mrs. George Fanning of Hartford was the first president of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church.

Albert Selser has erected a large shed in addition to his barn. He has built this for the storage of his wagons and farming tools. Mr. Selser has erected this shed himself alone.

Some sections of road in town have been very bad this spring. Several automobiles have been stalled in the mud.

CHESTERFIELD

Mrs. Charles Tinker and son Ros returned home Saturday from the Lawrence hospital.

Miss Marguerette Rice of New London is visiting Mrs. Henry Smith.

Samuel Gruskin has moved his family to New London.

Joseph Litzel has returned from the hospital to his home here.

Stanley Tinker was given a surprise party Tuesday evening.

Mrs. L. Kozlosky and daughter attended church in New London Sunday morning.

Mrs. May Tinker is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Taylor.

SOUTH LYME

Mrs. Norman Rasmussen went to Groton this week to look at her new home. She will go there shortly to live, as her husband is employed at Midway.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Chapman were New London visitors this week.

H. Samson had a narrow escape recently when a load of ties slipped and frightened his horses, throwing him under the wheels and badly bruising him.

C. H. Waterhouse, who is employed at the Stetse farm, saw a flock of hundreds of red-winged blackbirds this week.

QUALITY GOES CLEAR THROUGH

DORT FOURS SIXES

A Group of Cars With a Famous Name

The New Six, true to Dort's proverbial reputation for quality, has proved an astounding revelation to all who have driven it. With its oil cushioned motor, typifying the latest advance in engineering accomplishment, it displays such amazing smoothness of operation, wealth of power and surprising celerity, that it dwarfs all previous conceptions of six cylinder motor car ability.

The Four, with its newly designed body lines of exceptional grace and charm, stands out more than ever, as a car of indisputably sound worth.

With Sixes and Fours in beautiful touring cars and roadsters, smart sport models in Lake blue and luxurious closed cars, Dort presents the greatest array of quality automobiles that have ever borne this famous name.

Dort Sixes: $1010 to $1465; f. o. b. Flint
Dort Fours: $870 to $1350; f. o. b. Flint

WILLIMANTIC MOTORS, Inc.
12 TEMPLE STREET Tel. 166 WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

DORT MOTOR CAR COMPANY, FLINT, MICHIGAN

Feed the Soil That Feeds You

Bearing a crop is work for the soil just as your daily duties are work for you. Without food you cannot continue long to work. Unless you return nourishment to the soil, in time it, also, will cease to produce.

Put lime or other standard fertilizer on your soil. In order to do this at the least possible cost, use a machine built for the purpose—the Van Brunt Lime and Fertilizer Sower. This machine covers eight feet of ground, carries ten bushels and distributes 150 to 3000 pounds per acre.

If you will just drop in at your first opportunity, we will be glad to show you the Van Brunt improved rotary wing force feed distributor.

THE JORDAN HARDWARE CO.
Telephone 760 Willimantic, Conn.

NAVY GYMNASTS FOR FOURTH TIME WIN INTERCOLLEGIATE GYM TITLE

Annapolis, Md., March 23—For the fourth successive year the gymnasts of the United States Naval Academy won the intercollegiate gymnastic championships contested here tonight. John B. Pearsons, Jr., captain of the navy team, carried off the individual honors. Pearsons has won the individual title three successive years.

The summary:

Horizontal bar—won by Pearson, Navy, 47 points; Dancy navy second, 46.7; Depue, Princeton, third, 27.8.

Side horse—won by Sheldon, Princeton, 51.6; Pearson, Navy, second, 51.3; Schmoer New York University, third, 19.6.

Flying Rings—won by Wood, Navy, Moxley, Massachusetts Tech, second, 51.3; Sinder, Navy, third; 50.5.

Navy registered a total of 31 points. Princeton, their nearest competitors scored 16. New York university tallied 4. Massachusetts Tech 3 and Dartmouth 1. University of Pennsylvania - Yale and Harvard representatives were hopelessly outclassed and failed to register a point. Eight teams were entered in the competitions. Rutgers and Haverford previously on the card withdrew.

Navy's victory was greater by two points than that of last season.

Pearson took the all-round championship with comparative ease, piling up the big score of 229, against 156.8 by Parker of the Princeton who was second and Wheelock, Navy went into third place with 146.8.

During the afternoon the annual meeting of the competing teams was held and it was decided to hold next year's tourney on the last Friday or Saturday in March. By regulations the captain of the New York university's team yet to be chosen, will be the president of the association and the leader of Massachusetts Tech will be vice-president.

E. E. Krause, University of Pennsylvania was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Next year's tournament will be held either in New York or Princetown and it was decided to add rope climbing to the list of events.

TAFTVILLE SOCCER TEAM PLAYS 60. MANCHESTER TODAY

The Taftville soccer team opens its season this afternoon at the Providence street grounds against the fast South Manchester Olympics in the second round of the U. S. A. Amateur Cup competition. Not since the days of the old Taftville soccer team has a game of this class been played in this vicinity. The South Manchester team includes some notable players, among them being Bernie McVeigh who is known all over the state as star fullback and Stewart Cordner, an old war-horse in the game. The rest of the team is a well balanced bunch of soccer players and will make the game worth seeing.

The South Manchester team holds the record in this state for high scoring as they beat the Meriden team 10 to 0 last December in a league game. Taftville however, is out to win and will make them go the whole way to win. The Taftville team has quite a galaxy of stars, among them, Alex Finlayson at goal, McCluggage and Hebert, fullbacks; Alexander, Jess Greenhalgh and Wragg, halfbacks. These players form a defense that South Manchester will have difficulty in breaking and the forwards are just as fast. South Manchester is bringing down a big crowd of rooters. Referee Pearson of the Connecticut State Association will officiate with the whistle. The game starts at 2 o'clock.

CREWS OF OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE READY FOR RACE

Putney, England, March 23—(By the A. P.)—For the 75th time since 1841, the Oxford and Cambridge crews are ready to dip oars in the Thames tomorrow to settle this year's interversity rowing supremacy.

Most of those who daily during the past fortnight have watched the eights practice over the historic up stream course from Putney to Mortlake are inclined to the belief that Cambridge this year has the better crew; but by all it is conceded that Oxford, stroked by W. P. Mellen, an American youth from Concord a student in Brasenose college, has its best eight since the war and they would not be surprised by a dark blue triumph.

Many American residents of England are hopeful of seeing the American pull the Oxford shell to its first victory since 1912. In a speed test over the course yesterday Mellen carried the crew at 41 strokes to the minute. Previously in a test the Oxford boat was sent over the full course of four and a half miles in near record time. Mellen is the lightest man in either of the shells, weighing only 155 pounds.

In the Oxonian boat is another American, R. K. Kane, a Harvard graduate, who pulls the number four oar. The entire Cambridge personnel is English.

In weight the crews are about equal, the Oxford oarsmen averaging 177 pounds and the Cambridge men 175. The railway officials estimate that their trains will carry nearly half a million persons to the course to witness the contest.

FIRPO TO MEET AN UNKNOWN NEXT WEDNESDAY

New York, March 23—Luis Angel Firpo, South American aspirant to a title bout with Jack Dempsey world champion heavyweight, will meet an opponent yet to be selected in a short bout at a charity carnival at the Rink Sporting club next Wednesday night. The event is for the benefit of the committee for devastated France.

A number of reigning and past boxing champions also will appear on the card being arranged by Tex Rickard, promoter, for Miss Anne Morgan. The list will include Benny Leonard, lightweight champion; Mickey Walker, welterweight champion; Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion; Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion; Johnny Dundee, junior lightweight champion; Harry Wills, colored heavyweight champion; Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, and Pancho Villa, former american flyweight champion.

MRS. BEAMISH ELIMINATES MOLLA IN SEMI-FINALS

Cannes, France, March 23—(By the A. P.)—Mrs. Beamish, British star, defeated Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, American lawn tennis woman champion, in the semi finals of the women's singles in the Cannes tournament today by a score of 6-2, 9-7. Mrs. Beamish will meet Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the California girl, in the finals.

CANADIAN HOCKEY TEAM REACHES DECISION TODAY

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 24—Roy D. Schooley, Secretary of the United States amateur hockey association, was notified today that the Toronto, Ont., hockey team, Canadian champions, would reach a decision tomorrow upon the proposal for an international series with the American champions at the conclusion of the series between the Boston and St. Paul's clubs to determine the American championship. Schooley was advised that the Canadian amateur hockey association had accepted the plan for an annual international series and would decide tomorrow whether to start this year or next. Should the series be staged, the teams will contest for the Wills international hockey trophy.

JOE FABER APPARENTLY MAKING GOOD WITH ORIOLES

That Joe Faber, Jewett City boy, who is at Winston-Salem, N. C., with the Baltimore Orioles, is making good is shown by the favorable comments of Baltimore sport writers. Rodger H. Pippin of the Baltimore News writes the following about Faber:

Up from a coal mine came Joe Boley to win a job with the Orioles and earn the reputation of being the best shortstop in minor league baseball.

Down from a cab jumped Larry Lajois to become famous as the second sacker of the Cleveland (American League) Club.

Driving a jitney bus two weeks ago in Jewett City, Conn. was Joseph Faber.

He took his foot off the gas to come South with the first bunch of Jack Dunn's Orioles. Today he is the most talked of recruit in Camp Oriole.

Another Joe Boley

In the first infield practice held Faber, who is a shortstop, startled the veteran members of the squad. Captain Fritz Maisel declared he was a second Joe Boley. Wickey McAvoy termed him another Rabbit Maranville.

On a soft infield the recruit looked like a million dollars. If he can do 75 per cent. as well when he gets on a hard infield Dunn has landed another star who may shine as brightly as Boley. The soggy infield here was not a real good test, but there is no denying Faber has a splendid pair of hands, that he can throw from any position and that he scoots over the ground very much as did Hans Wagner in his prime.

McAvoy Clubbed Pellet

Wickey McAvoy, batting the balls around to the infielders, did his best to knock base hits through Faber's position but the former jitney bus driver came up with the sphere every time. He handled 27 chances in succession without an error. Four times he ran over in back of Maisel at third to snatch apparently safe hits with his bare hand.

Maisel and McAvoy can hardly wait until they see Faber on a fast field, where it is difficult for the eye to follow the pellet. Then will come the acid test and the fans at home will know whether this story is about a morning glory.

Never Saw Big Game

Faber is beginning his baseball career much as Babe Ruth did. Until Jack Dunn took Ruth from St. Mary's School the home-run king had never seen a professional ball game and didn't know there was a National and American League. Faber has yet to see his first contest in organized baseball. Having heard much of the four-time champion Orioles he is curious to watch them in action.

The young infield sensation is what might be termed a big little man. He is only 5 feet 4 1-2 inches tall but he weighs 160. He has powerful hands and the shoulder muscles of a wrestler.

Corcoran Sent Faber

Tommy Corcoran, former Cincinnati player, sent Faber to Dunn. He saw the youngster play last year for the State Hospital team at Norwich, Conn., and decided he was worth a trial. In 1921 Faber played on the Navy team which won the championship at Norfolk.

His manager that season was Winn Clark, now bossing a nine in the Virginia League, and just two days after Faber had signed the contract sent him by Jack Dunn he received an offer from Clark.

Faber, who is 22, has been playing amateur and semi-pro ball for six years. He is of Polish descent.

Turbyville says:

"Joe Faber's hands are big and the right one hangs on as pretty a throwing arm as I've seen in training camp since Red Farrell burned them across the diamond at Goldsboro two years back."

STRANAHAN WINS BELLEAIRE OPEN TITLE

Belleair Heights, Fla., March 23—Robert A. Stranahan of Inverness, also of the Westport and Brooklawn clubs won the Belleair championship today when he defeated George E. Morse in a 36-hole final, two up. During the play there was never a difference of more than three holes between the pair. Morse proved to be the better general in the morning round over the two courses.

Exhibition Games

St. Louis (N)	9	12	2
Washington (A)	10	13	1

Wiginton Grimm, Parks, Bames and Clemons, Ainsmith, McCurdy; Warmath, Hollingsworth and Hargrave.

Brooklyn (N)	5	8	0
Cleveland (A)	6	11	0

Vance, Dickerman, Schreiber and DeBerry, Taylor; Metevier, Edwards and O'Neill.

Chicago White Sox	5	9	2
New York Giants	8	9	5

L. Blankenship, Connally and Schalk, Graham; Scott, J. Barnes Jonnard, and Snyder.

Hutchison Leads Field

Asheville, N. C., March 23—Jock Hutchison, with 136 for 36 holes, led a field of 24 playing here today in the 72-hole Asheville-Biltmore Forst open golf championship tournament. Today's rounds were played in a driving rain over a soggy course.

Walter Hagen was second with 138 and Joe Kirkwood, handicapped by badly strained shoulder muscles, third with 142.

Pool Match

After much difficulty in arranging a pool match between two Danielson pool shots to settle a long dispute as to who was the best man, Roland Baulame acting as promoter, has succeeded in bringing together Wellington Bitgood, Danielson pool expert and Joseph Norton, star pool shot of the Bohemian Club. Match to be held at Bohemian Club, Sunday afternoon.

Basketball Challenge

The Dare Devils of Taftville challenge any 18 year old basketball team in the state for the championship title in this class. The Dare Devils are Paquette, Murphy and Lemieux, forwards; Cardy center; Coleman and Breault, guards. Write to L. Burelle, Box 131, Taftville, Ct.

Basketball Tourney

Youngstown, O., March 23—In the afternoon games of the Y. M. C. A. international basketball tournament, Springfield, Mass., eliminated Parma, Ky., 50 to 31 and Cincinnati, Ohio state champions, defeated Sunbury Pa., 60 to 27.

Murray Meets Laswell

St. Paul, Minn., March 23—Joe Murray of San Francisco, and Maynard Laswell of Los Angeles, will meet tomorrow for the singles championship in the national handball tournament, both having come through victorious in the semi-finals today.

Quaker City Cricketeers Win

Hamilton, Bermuda, March 23—The first game of a series between the Philadelphia Cricket team and the Bermuda team was won by the Philadelphians this afternoon. The score was 133 to 80.

TODAY'S SPORTS

Racing.

Meeting of Business Men's Racing Association, at Mobile.

Meeting of Cuba-American hockey club at Havana.

Meeting of Tijuana Jockey club at Tijuana.

Bench Show

Annual show of Akron (O.) Kennel Club.

Handball

National A. A. U. senior championship, at St. Paul.

Rowing

Annual Oxford-Cambridge race on the Thames, England.

Chess

Frank J. Marshall vs. Edward Lasker, national championship match at Cleveland.

Polo

Opening of annual tournament of Camden (S. C.) Polo Club.

Track

Missouri Valley conference indoor championships, at Kansas City.

Swimming

National indoor interscholastic championships, at Evanston, Ill.

Eastern intercollegiate championships, at Princeton, N. J.

Basketball

Missouri Valley interscolastic tournament, at Manhattan, Kas.

Pennsylvania interscholastic championship, at State College, Pa.

Golf

United North and South amateur championship for women, at Pinehurst.

Wrestling

Eastern intercollegiate championships, at Itahaca, N. Y.

Bowling.

Annual tournament of American Bowling Congress at Milwaukee.

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

It is said there are ten college men among the regulars and recruits of the New York Giants.

"Babe" Ruth has reduced his girth to the extent that he comes pretty near being a "little fellow".

The Giants' uniforms are the same as last year—perpendicular stripes and "barber pole" stockings.

Willie Hoppe, billiard champion of the world, is one champ who made a real comeback and then proved it.

A number of light heavyweights on this side are eager to meet Mike McTigue, the conqueror of Battling Siki.

Its going to be an "old home week" in Chicago next May when Manager Frank Chance and his Boston Red Sox land in the Windy City.

Having gained a strong foothold in the East and middle West, soccer seems certain of becoming one of the major pastimes of the entire country.

Another Pacific Coast league pastimer, John Henry Sand of the Phillies, bids fair to make a name for himself in the big show this season.

A London boxing promoter is trying to arrange a bout between Johnny Dundee and Billy Matthews, the crack English lightie.

The Cleveland Indians appear to have landed several fast rookies who have been making the regulars go some in the big show this season.

Boxing sharps are of the opinion that Johnny Kilbane will find Eugene Criqui a worthy opponent when he meets the European featherweight champion next June.

Mrs. B. F. Coles of Boston upset the dope when she defeated the favorite, Miss Leslie Bancroft, for the women's national indoor tennis championship.

Jack Horner, the Oregan boxer who is 6 feet 6 1-2 inches tall and wants to fight Jack Dempsey, will have to pack more than exceptional height before he tackles the champion.

Having the advantage of several years' experience in the big leagues as player and umpire, "Moose" McCormick should be able to develop a real baseball team at Bucknell university.

The German swimming champion, Hans Luber, who is coming to America to meet Johnny Weismuller, is touted as a cracker-jack merman. And he will have to be all of that to defeat the Chicago wonder.

Training Camp Talks
by STONEY McLINN

(Special to the Bulletin)

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 24—Christy Mathewson! That is the magic name that has developed nation-wide interests in the Boston Braves this year. Matty will not pitch for, neither will he coach or manage the Massachusetts National League entry. In fact, he did not riek the train ride and change of climate to be with his team in this delightful spot, the Sunshine City of Florida. Big Six is president—that and nothing more. But that is sufficient to make the Braves, chiefed by Fred Mitchell, talked about as they have not been talked about since Miracle Man Stallings drove them to the top of the pennant ladder.

If the Braves can present a full complement of athletes without mar or blemish on bone or muscle throughout the season, or the greater portion of it—well, Mitch boldly proclaims to all who care to listen that favorites in baseball have been licked before and he has no scruples against having his bullies known as "dark horses".

One would not go so far as to say that the field marshal of the Braves expects to win the pennant. But he knows of no law on the baseball statute books that prevents a team from trying almighty hard. That is the thing the Braves will do—the boys will fight for Mitch, they will fight for Matty, they will fight to retain the whole-hearted and enthusiastic support that the smile-crackers of Boston are giving the team—in March mind you.

All this will be done, if present plans go through, with only one new rookie player in the Braves' lineup.

Shortstop is the position upon which Manager Mitchell centered his spring drive. At this writing it appears—and Mitch affirms—that Conlon, from fair Harvard and captain of his nine will be the regular shortstopper. The boy is clevah, a'bat and a'field. They teach the young men assurance at Cambridge and Conlon walked right in there and did all he was expected to do—in St. Pete—with poise and polish.

Conlon played semi-pro ball in New England last summer after he received his honorable discharge from Harvard. There is no line on him officially—but Mitch had him watched and was elated with the reports of his scouts. Padgett, who played shortfield for Charlotte in the S. A. L. and batted .323, in addition to performing his defensive tasks completely, stands second to Conlon in an effort to have the shortstop behind the name in the regular lineup.

Smith fielded well for New Orleans in the Southern last campaign, but did not shatter any boards in the fences with drives from his bat and Schmehl (pronounced with the German accent, please) was about in the same fix as Smith. Schmehl shortstopped for Waterbury in the Eastern. Then there is Larry Kopf, the veteran, a hard worker—"a good many to have on any ball club," Mitch puts it—who will play shortstop if all the kids fall down, physically or mentally.

John "Stuffy" McInnis will add strength to the Braves' infield, a young man who is certain to hit .300 or better and will field his position in rip-snortin' style and has the experience which will be valuable to the Boston club. Matty knew what he was doing when he acquired "Stuffy's" high-priced services. John Henry, who batted .343 or New Orleans last season and who is a sure comer, will profit by action as understudy to the "Toppy" McIntosh.

The regular second baseman will be Ford, who sometimes filled in at short in '22, but who belongs at the keystone sack and who is doing great work there in the preliminary exercising.

A third base, where their new heroes return to them in April, the Bostoneese will discover Boeckel. He was there last season when he was free from injuries received on the battlefield. And in the outfield will be Messrs. Cruise, Powell and Southworth, vets who do their work with neatness and dispatch. All are left-handed batsmen—and right-armed pitchers do not enjoy throwing a baseball when opposed to Boston.

Southworth is the only one of the outfield trio who hit .300 last season—but, again we say that Mitch likes his regular fly-chasing combination and he is the one who prepares the lineup. Nixon, who has been utility outfielder for two seasons in Boston, and Felix, who batted .305 for Shreveport in the Texas League in '22, probably will round out the Braves outfield department. Both bat the right way. Barwell, from Kansas, also showed his wares in St. Pete, as did Lavin, late captain of Syracuse University.

Henry Gowdy, first in war and first in the hearts of Boston fans, will again be the ole reliable behind the plate. The younger and less experienced backstoppers will be O'Neill and Gibson, both with the Braves last year. Cousineau, the Fordham guard, has big league ways, but may show 'em to minor league fans this year by way of gaining experience.

Mitchell likes left-handed hurlers and that is why six bullies who throw with the wrong arm toiled tirelessly in St. Pete. Three may get the reward—a place on the salary roll. Rube Marquard, who has found pitching more profitable than acting, enters his sixteenth National League season. He may not start so many games, but he may save plenty.

Cooney, who won nineteen and lost only three for New Haven last year, and Huffman, who arrived in Boston when the Giants thought they could use McQuillan, are the other southpaws we expect to see wearing the Indian head on the shirts.

Dana Fillingim who has soaked the kinks out of a bad knee at Hot Springs, Joe Oeschger, who lost ball games because of his erratic support last season; Bullet Miller and John Watson, both gluttons for punishment in '22, gave evidence of curving skill at the spring camp that will win them ball games, with first-class defensive assistance, when the big show opens. The four are right-handed veterans.

Mitch, however, was even more delighted over the cunning in the arms of Benton, a star with Memphis in '22 MacNamara, who traveled from Fordham to Boston in July and pitched three nice ball games in the fall, and Lansing, who was with the team but on the injured list. They are lads who sling the sphere the right way.

Mitch has the expert assistance of Dick Rudolph, Art Devlin and the Duke of Farrell as coaches. All become buoyant in spirits when they discuss the outlook for their Big Six machine.

Copyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Co.

MISS COLLETT TURNS IN LOW SCORE AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., March 23—Miss Glenna Collett, national champion, the first of 140 players to finish the qualifying round of the north-south women's golf championship today, turned in a card of 41-47—88. Miss Louise Fordyce, Ohio state champion, 45-44—89 and Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, Philadelphia, 46-44—90, were other low scorers.

Hartford After Games

The Cardinal A. C. of Hartford reorganizing and to put a strong amateur ball team in the field the coming season.

Saturday and Sunday games will be played, all out of town, with teams in Connecticut and Massachusetts that will furnish suitable guarantees. Bookings are desired now as the schedule will soon be completed. Write the Manager, R. A. Joyce, 288 Westland street, Hartford, Conn., giving definite date and amount of guarantee.

Brazil's 1922-23 cotton crop is placed at 553,700 bales of 478 pounds net in a cablegram received by the department of agriculture from the international institute of agriculture at Rome.

Great Favor Well Earned

More people are talking and thinking and buying the new Overland than ever before—because it is better value—and at the lowest price in its history. All-steel body, finished with baked enamel. Triplex Springs (patented) give easy riding comfort.

See the Overland Advertisement in the March 17th Saturday Evening Post

The New Overland Touring $525

Sedan $749 Roadster $525 Coupe $695 All prices f. o. b. Toledo

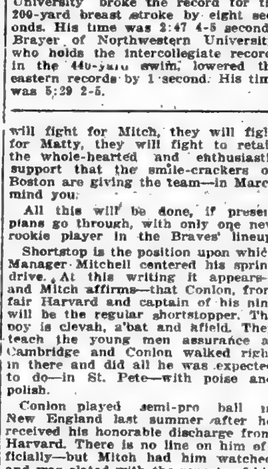
OVERLAND SALES AND SERVICE CO., 252 Franklin Street
Plainfield, Conn., Danielson, Conn., Railroad Avenue
H. H. STARKWEATHER, Sub. Agent.

DRIVE AN OVERLAND AND REALIZE THE DIFFERENCE

TWO INTERCOLLEGIATE RECORDS SHATTERED IN SWIMMING MEET

Princeton, N. J., March 23—Two eastern inter-collegiate swimming records were broken at the sixteenth annual intercollegiate swimming meet here tonight. Uberwonky, of Wisconsin University broke the record for the 200-yard breast stroke by eight seconds. His time was 3:47 4-5 seconds. Brayer of Northwestern University, who holds the intercollegiate records in the 440-yard swim, lowered the eastern records by 1 second. His time was 5:29 2-5.

To Fight For It With Regulars



Mike Cuengros, rookie twirler with the New York Giants, who is hastening southward, with the rest of the Giant line-up, for preliminary practice and thawing out at Marlin, Texas. Cuengros, who has been watched by baseball experts, is said to be McGraw's most valuable find of the season. Last year he played in several games and his work was considered so good that he will probably find no difficulty in getting a place in the ranks of the regulars when the season opens.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT
By DAVID CORY

WHEN THE SUN WENT DOWN.

Pretty soon, as the three little Grasshoppers played on their fiddles, making such sweet music that the hollyhocks by the garden fence nodded their pretty heads, the little black cricket began to chirp and the little rabbit's bunny mother, whose name is Lady Love, turned to her little bunny boy and said with a smile:

"Haven't we a nice little orchestra?"

After a while, when the lollypop stew was all gone, Lady Love, the little rabbit's mother, cleared the table, and, after washing the dishes, put them away in a tiny cupboard. Then, Little Jack Rabbit got out his spelling book and commenced to spell—p-l-a-c-e-t and d-o-g for the next day's lesson.

He kissed his Mother good-night.

By and by, the little cricket and the Three Grasshopper Fiddlers hopped back into the woodbox, when all of a sudden the cuckoo bird came out of her little clock house on the wall. Standing on her tiny front porch, she shouted, in a silvery voice:

"Time for bed,
You sleepy head."

"All right," said Little Jack Rabbit, closing his spelling book and putting it away on the shelf. Then, kissing his mother good-night, he hopped upstairs, and the little lady bunny mother closed the kitchen door and blew out the little candle.

All of a sudden, it grew very dark and I could only see the roof of the little white bungalow, and I suddenly remembered that I was only a little boy, way up in the tree-top and that the sun had gone down behind the western hill.

Quickly sliding down the tree, I scampered across the Sunny Meadow which wasn't sunny any more, out on the road, and down the hill to my house. Running around to the kitchen door, I opened it and found my own dear mother getting supper.

All out of breath and all excited, I tried to tell her what I had just seen, but I got all mixed up.

"Oh! mother!" I gasped, "I've just seen a little rabbit with a little knapsack on his back and a white bungalow in the middle of the Bramble Patch and a lady bunny rabbit making lollypop stew in a cuckoo house, and tomorrow, Little Jack Rabbit is going to take me to see the Lollypop Tree!"

"Oh, you fell asleep under the big chestnut tree and dreamed all this," laughed my mother. "Hurry up and wash your hands and face. Supper is almost ready."

"No, I didn't," I answered, "because tomorrow I'm going to meet Little Jack Rabbit and go with him to see the Big Brown Bear in his cosy cave!"

And now, dear boys and girls, this explains how I learned so much about all the little people of the Shady Meadow.

(Copyright 1923 by David Cory.)

POETRY

IT DEPENDS.

It's not so much the word we say,
It depends on how we say it.
It's not so much the game we play,
It depends on how we play it.
It's not so much the actor kind
As the motive that's behind it.
It's not so much the fault we find,
It depends on how we find it.

It's not so much the help we give,
It depends on how we give it.
It's not so much the life we live,
It depends on how we live it.
It's not so much the thoughts we think,
As the action which must follow.
It's not so much the way we drink,
It depends on what we swallow.

It's not so much the clothes we wear,
It's more the one who wears them.
It's not so much the foes we dare,
It depends on why we dare them.
It's not so much the wealth we spend,
It's more the way we spend it.
It's not so much the way we mend,
It depends on how we mend it.

It's not so much the victory won,
It depends on how we won it,
It's not so much the race we run,
It depends on how we run it.
It's not so much the ill we rue,
As the reason why we rue it.
It's not so much the work we do,
It depends on how we do it.

—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE END OF THE ROAD.

When I was young, with hope I gazed
Upon the path that stretched before;
The lengthening vista, beauty-hazed—
What heart could ask for more?

I hastened with impatient feet—
So much to win—ambitioned spelled.
The dew-wet Bay, the Myrtle sweet,
The lovely distance held.

But—now I'm old—Time's fingers rude
Have seared the grace of vistaed years
On withered petals that Hope bedewed
Dewdrops have turned to tears.

—Samuel Minturn Peck, in Boston Transcript.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Gladys—I am afraid you aren't a pretty as nurse.

Mamma—What makes you think so?

Gladys—We've been walking in the park a whole hour, and not a single policeman has said, "Hullo, babs; how's nurse?"—Pearson's Weekly.

Mrs. A.—I make it a rule never to ask mother to do what I would not do myself.

Mrs. B—But you would not go to the door yourself and tell a caller you were not at home.—Boston Transcript.

The teacher was trying to bring up the subject of drones.

"Tommy," she asked, "What are the ants called who don't do anything, and let the others do all the work?"

Tommy thought a few seconds.

"Uncles!" he exclaimed, triumphantly.—Detroit News.

KALEIDOSCOPE

A woman on every school board in the state is the goal set by the Illinois League of Women Voters for the coming elections.

Roumania is to present to the French General Berthelot, in recognition of his war service to Roumania, a castle in Transylvania.

Although Norway has enjoyed equal suffrage for a number of years, there is at present only one woman member of the Norwegian parliament.

The lowest castes among the Hindoos are known as the "Untouchables" because merely to touch them pollutes a Hindoo of a higher class.

In Uganda the price of a fowl is two yards of cotton cloth. Two eggs cost a needle, while several old beer bottles will buy as much firewood as a man can carry.

The oldest American veteran of the world war is Lieutenant William N. Williams, age eighty-six, of Washington, D. C. He served in the quartermasters department.

If the problem of using atomic energy were solved, instead of using a thousand tons of coal to drive a steamship from Liverpool to New York, the same result could be obtained from a bit as big as a walnut.

The mammoth oil industry of today owes its existence primarily to James Young, a British chemist, who in 1850 perfected the process by which illuminating oil was produced from crude petroleum for the first time.

Toys to play with, and a special little house for each dog, are included in the luxuries given to her Pekingese dogs by one London society woman, who believes in bringing up her pets to act like children.

Black or Oolong tea is becoming more popular with Americans and is displacing to some extent the green tea, formerly preferred, according to a report of the United States department of agriculture. Total imports of tea for the fiscal year 1922 showed an increase of 15,500,000 pounds over the previous year.

The suburban steam railroad system of Berlin now carries about 2,000,000 persons daily. In spite of a two-minute headway during rush hours, the congestion is very heavy, and growing worse. Electrification is recommended as a part solution, and may be undertaken. In 1913 the system cradled 281,000,000 passengers; in 1922 the number was more than 700,000,000.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

Better than a mustard plaster

MUSTEROLE

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Norwich, Saturday, March 24, 1923.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MARCH 17th, 1923
11,960

SOVIET RECOGNITION.

Some time ago Secretary Hughes insisted in reply to the efforts of others that the recognition of soviet Russia was a matter that rested solely with Russia. If Russia is ready to meet the requirements demanded by this government before recognition is extended there is nothing to stand in the way of resumption of relations. Until it is, however, there can be no thought of it.

Other countries have been urged to similar action. There are countries which have opened up commercial relations with the soviet government, but the result has been to gain through experience that soviet Russia is an economic bubble. The comment of a high British official was, after experimenting, that if you want to give your goods away send them to Russia under commercial agreements.

That was some months ago and it is not improbable that there has been some progress made in the meanwhile towards ending those conditions and gradually replacing them with better ones, but the soviet government needs a thorough rather than a partial housecleaning.

Those who paint such glowing pictures about what would result from Russian recognition and how much of a benefit would be obtained look only on the surface and consider only a favorable outcome. They want to take chances, give encouragement to the policies that have been put forth in that country by the present government without seriously thinking what the consequences may be.

Secretary Hughes takes the position that recognition by the United States should mean something more than complying with a request, direct or indirect. It is important that there should be a government worth recognizing, and when the secretary says that the salvation of Russia cannot be contrived outside and injected he puts forth a mighty truth concerning the question of soviet government recognition.

COLLECTING OUR RHINE COSTS

If it were possible to arrange a direct settlement with Germany, concerning the expenses incurred in maintaining the American forces on the Rhine, there seems to be little reason to believe but what a satisfactory adjustment could be made. Germany admits the debt, as do the other countries, but the matter is complicated a bit by the fact that reparation payments to other countries by Germany have stopped and there are certain priority features in regard to such payments which will call for an understanding among all the allied nations before a complete agreement can be perfected.

For the quarter of a billion dollars that Germany owes for our army expenses it is not expected that will be a lump payment. We expect it to be paid, and without reducing the amount by taking out a sum equal to the value of the German ships seized.

The American willingness to be reasonable is reflected in the suggestion that we accept $20,000,000 a year for a period of twelve years. That certainly could not be regarded as crowding Germany and in view of the fact that it was stipulated in the armistice that such expenses should be paid the allies have no reason to regard it as trespassing upon their reparations.

Had this government heeded certain appeals, including those of Germany, there would still be American soldiers on the Rhine and the bill would be mounting. Payments have been made to the other nations in which we should have shared but we were left out. The efforts which Assistant Secretary Wadsworth of the treasury department is now making in Paris conferences are directed to reaching an agreement concerning payment that will be satisfactory to all.

This country is simply after its interests. It seeks to embarrass no one. It is not disposed to cancel this bill any more than it has been inclined to wipe out the other debts contracted abroad during the war.

The attitude of this country is well expressed in the plan to extend payments over a period of years.

THE FARMERS' TROUBLES.

When it comes to having troubles the farmer is not exempt. Like everyone else he has his share of them. WWhen it is estimated that the crop yield for last year was $4,230,000,000 short of what it should have been because of the drought, plant disease, insect and animal pests it gives some concrete idea of what he has to contend with and how difficult it is to overcome all the handicaps that he encounters.

Such a loss represents enough to finance a good sized war, if it is looked at in that manner. Likewise it would go a long way toward the settlement of some big debts or the purchase of automobiles and farm machinery.

Because these losses have been experienced does not mean that the farmers have done nothing to deal with these pests. They have devoted [illegible] it is realized what the results would have been had there been little or nothing in the way of crops.

It is an everlasting fight that the farmer is obliged to wage. That the inability to reap such a harvest as might have been possible had these pests been inactive may have had some compensation in the way of price maintenance can be appreciated. It may have meant that less corn and other grain was turned because it could not be disposed of otherwise, and that quite as much return was gained from a good sized crop as would have been from a whopper, and with less effort. But it also shows how much more extensive plans have to be made in planting crops in order to obtain what is necessary.

One outstanding fact is that these pests cannot be neglected. They increase despite opposition, but a constant fight must be carried on in order to keep them from destroying crops to the value of twice as many billions as they were responsible for this year. There may be only a certain amount that can be done to prevent droughts but there is always a chance for telling blows against the disease and insect pests.

PROTECTING PRODUCTS.

The governor of Vermont had the courage of his convictions when it came to applying his veto to the bill which would have prohibited the using of substitutes in milk products. In a state where it might be expected that there would be opposition to anything that interfered with the legitimate dairy business both branches of the legislature were in favor of the legislation when presented to them. The governor doesn't believe that substitute fats should be placed in milk in place of butter fat and the product sold as milk, but he doesn't believe that an industry should be driven out of business in that way when it clearly discloses what the product consists of. He therefore vetoed the measure and even though it was promptly and overwhelmingly overridden by the senate, it was sustained by the house.

Protection for the producers of milk in its various forms when canned is certainly warranted. Nothing would be more unjust to the consumer, as well as the legitimate producer, than to have certain manufacturers work off a cheaper and an adulterated product for the real thing. And yet the product which is not milk, provided it does not contain anything injurious, seems to have a proper field provided it is sold for what it really is.

There was a strenuous objection to oleomargarine by the butter interests and dealers. It was proper that it should be forced to stand under its own name and without coloring so that it would not be mistaken for butter. But the efforts to bring about such identification were not justified in preventing the production of oleomargarine as such.

ATMOSPHERIC CONTROL.

There is no reason to believe that many people have lost any sleep over the claim that has been made that by the use of electrified sand sprinkled from an airplane it would be possible to produce rain.

Undoubtedly there has been fascination for some in such an announcement. They would like to see it done and realized that there might be times when such an effort could be used to good advantage. There are times when a rain is so badly needed that there would be no objection to the cost. But until it has been demonstrated beyond question that such an idea can actually be worked out it will not be a money-making proposition.

The weather bureau is skeptical. It quotes its meteological expert as saying that it is futile to undertake any such regulation of the atmosphere, and they are equally frank in maintaining that it is quite as useless to undertake the prevention of fog and rain.

Great things are being accomplished these days. Perhaps it will be possible to upset the laws of nature or to undertake to assist them in their regulation of conditions, but when we get to meddling with such things is there any reason to believe that we will be any better satisfied with the results?

What a howl would go up should some aviator, seeking to demonstrate the efficacy of his scheme, succeed in producing an all day rain on a holiday that promised fine, or when the pennant winners were battling on the final day of the world's championship. We are inclined to believe the weather bureau is right, but if it isn't that greater havoc might be caused by the meddlesome rainmaker than by a dry spell. Certainly anyone in that position must have broad shoulders.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The man on the corner says: Indications are that it's time to take 'em off.

Give spring credit on its formal appearance for the favorable impression it created.

Spring comes with such enthusiasm that it gives the impression it is summer.

Expecting that the weatherman would do this very thing, there is of course no disappointment.

The general assembly is showing what can be done when there is a close application to business and Friday sessions are held.

When it is possible to ride as much on the electrics as one desires for a dollar a week, trolley parties ought to be popular in Peekskill, N. Y.

If the New York authorities cannot find out who killed Dorothy Keenan perhaps they can determine to what degree she was responsible for the untimely end.

If you are making abnormal demands for sugar you are helping to put up and keep up the price. The government and the refiners agree that there is no shortage.

Even if there has been a decrease of eleven per cent in the number of horses in the country during the past year, it cannot be expected to put the brakes on the auto industry.

[illegible] we do.

[illegible] upon it.

[illegible] for real attainment we must be [illegible] all for a common interest. The [illegible] of it is that when we are really interested in what we do we will apply every faculty of mind and body to its accomplishment. It is [illegible] find the [illegible] mechanically is apt to be [illegible] drudgery, but what we do for real is real work. A striking illustration of this is the Salvation Army drive recently completed. Every part of the city [illegible] deal of marking time. Apparently slowly it got into the [illegible] things began to move. One [illegible] test of its success was the [illegible] reputation it made for itself in the World war. Both lads and lassies were "Johnnie on the spot." Their acts of moral heroism have already become historic.

Thoreau in his "Early Spring" expresses this exceedingly beautiful aspiration: "I pray that the life of this spring may utter its fair in my memory. May I dare say I have never done. May I persevere as I have never done. May I purify myself anew as with fire and water, soul and body. May my melody not be wanting in this season. May I gird myself to be a hunter of the beautiful that cannot escape me. May I attain to a youth never attained." This is the thought of a man who does more than see the external world with the natural eye. He sees what lies back of it; a rich something which responds to his spiritual vision. A man looks at the springtime rightly and interprets it correctly when it makes him feel that he ought "to dare as he has never done before." We interpret the works of God aright when they inspire to noble deeds.

When the settler builds his crude log cabin on the frontier of civilization the first rose planted near it kills the wilderness. Yes, one single rose will redeem it from utter desolation. There is a daintiness about the rose that savors of refinement and civilization, and somehow it lifts its surroundings out of and above the crudity of primitive pioneer life. The first notes of the bluebird do more to banish the idea of winter fro mour minds than anything else. If it is true that "coming events cast their shadow before them," then the peeptrogs singing in the nightfall, are the most reliable advertisement of the coming of warmer days and nights. The home of poverty (provided it is clean) with its copy of Shakespeare links it up in our imagination with the palace, and on the other hand, the home of mere wealth leaves the impression on the mind of the wilderness with its limitation and crudity.

In the writer's opinion the above paragraph opens up a wide field of suggestion, and one that is well worth exploring. Many a time have we discovered back of a homely face a spirit of such exquisite beauty that we have entirely forgotten the face, and on the contrary have we found the very pretty face only a mask that conceals an extremely poverty-stricken soul. Nothing hides up cheap clothing so effectively as rich conversation. No boy need ever be ashamed of his old coat if he can only talk in choice and refined English. This, of course, is not a plea in favor of seedy, threadbare garments. A man of real refinement has a right to dress accordingly. The point, however, is that for real beauty we ought to look at the real man rather than what he wears. If there is no beauty of spirit, then all the rest is a miserable sham.

What sort of service is it that best illustrates the fundamental idea of the Lenten period, so soon to enter upon its last and most important period? In the writer's judgment it is not a time for impassioned oratory, but rather a call for quiet, thoughtful meditation. The great thing that occurred on Holy week transcends human utterance. To dwell upon the gruesome details of the crucifixion arouses the morbid. How very impressive was the day following Good Friday! It has come to be known as the Day of Silence and Sorrow. It was the day that linked up the Cross with the Crown. It was the day that joined apparent defeat with certain victory. It was the blackest night that ever preceded so bright a dawn. It seems to the writer that the most helpful way in which Lent can be observed would be through music. Why not cultivate the grandest of the oratorios for the Lenten season?

The passing of the ice king and the coming of the kingbird urges one to resume his old-time rambles over fields and through forests. The sight of the grand old earth again after its long hibernation helps us to tolerate mud ankle deep. There is no time in the year when walking so strongly appeals to the pedestrian as in the springtime after the frost has disappeared and the ground settled. The urge is all the greater because we have crawled away from the steam heater over which we have huddled since the first snow in December. October is an alluring month, but we have been walking more or less all summer. But in early spring it appeals to us with all the freshness of novelty. It is a great pity that so few people comparatively love to walk. The automobile is making us so lazy that nature by way of revenge will soon produce a race of men without legs.

I do not know who the forceful gentleman was who said that "life is one d—n thing after another," but he was both wicked and accurate. A more genteel way of putting it would be "it never rains but it pours." Most of the things that come to us seem to run as an epidemic. If there is one fire in the city, it seems sure that there will be a number shortly. Lawlessness just like the measles is epidemic; so are revivals of religion, marriages and deaths. The balance seems to be struck between the bad and the good in that the latter comes in bunches as well as the former. I have said that just now there is creeping upon us the lure of the fields, that is, the desire to get out into the country. At the same time there is the urge to go to the big city and dine with the boys at the university club. The drawing card is not the turkey dinner, but to have the boys recall the days when X, Y and Z (the terrors of the class) worked as they never have since to get Deacon Andrews' cow up into the belfry of the college chapel.

It would be interesting for us to know definitely just how far mind has the power to dominate matter. That it does we know, but how far? It is mind that has harnessed the streams and has made gravity build up our various manufacturing plants. It is mind that has controlled steam and made it do such wonders on land and sea. It is mind that has conquered some diseases that were once terrors. But has it exhausted this field of endeavor? By a combination of will power and faith may not still greater things be done in the future? When Christ sent forth the Seventy he gave them power to "heal the sick, to cast out devils, and raise the dead." Is it recorded that Christ ever revoked this promise? If not, we ought to be doing the same, and if we do not it is either because we do not try, or because our faith is lacking, most probably the latter.

[illegible] to witness in Russia and [illegible] ing the World war. This [illegible] [illegible] nurse was recently told in [illegible] of her experiences [illegible] account with the [illegible] to her happy life at home [illegible] before the warbreak out. Ur[illegible] compassion for people in di[illegible] Miss Brandstrom abandoned [illegible] leisure, her home of plenty, and [illegible] into the most hazardous kind [illegible] relief work, facing suffering and [illegible] that she might alleviate the to[illegible] In the Siberian prison camp [illegible] her perseverance, bravery, [illegible] and almost superhuman [illegible] which have captured her multi[illegible] Sharing her girlish enthusiasm and infectious cheerfulness she has become generally known in the field of her activities as the "Siberian Angel" has been nominated for the Nobel Peace prize this year, has been called the Swedish Florence Nightingale and has been decorated seventeen times. But she wears none of the medals.

Her story reads like a novel. On her way to Siberia, for instance, she was arrested by the Russian white army as a spy, and with her companions taken back to headquarters. They rode in a box car, and an officer came into the car with the cheerful announcement that the evidence against them was conclusive, that they were spies and would be shot in the morning. Weaving her natural humor into the tale, Miss Brandstrom said that they took occasion to eat up everything they had of food, as they did not wish to leave anything for their captors, but with a spark of hope for escape from the firing squad Miss Brandstrom thought of her diary, in which she had notes that might be misconstrued against them. Drawing a blanket over her face, she began to tear up the diary into small pieces and eat them, and with much concealed effort she ate the whole book. "And I felt all right in the morning," she remarked, "but a glass of water would have tasted pretty good." In the morning they were taken before a military court, and, after several weeks of suspense, were released because the account which Miss Brandstrom gave of her activities in Russia was confirmed by telegraph.

Over snowy plains she was riding one day, sitting alone in the bottom of a sleigh that had a little straw for a seat; the sleigh hit a bump and bounced her out. Her driver did not notice it as he was standing in front heavily bundled in fur, and he did not hear her cries for help. It was an awful place to be left in, no houses or people for miles and miles, no chance to trace her way back, because the tracks were filled in by driving snow, and no signs of the driver returning. For two hours she paced to and fro in the deep snow, almost in despair, when the driver discovered the loss of his passenger and came back.

Russians Not Naturally Cruel—Libby prison, with all its horrors, would seem like Paradise in contrast with the prison camps Miss Branstrom ministered to in Siberia. Lest her narrative should be an unwarranted indictment of the Russian people Miss Brandstrom hastened to explain that the Russian people are not naturally cruel that they did not torture their prisoners out of a desire to torture, but because of an unbelievable lack of efficiency. They are so low in the

SUNDAY MORNING TALK

KEEP BY THE CROSS.

And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, He said, Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit. Luke 23:46.

Keep by the cross. What does this mean? It simply implies putting your full confidence in Him who died as a sacrifice for your sin, conscious of your guilt, self-condemned for innumerable transgressions against God's holy law, plead nothing of your own, but plead only the death of Jesus as your Surety. From first to last let this be your only hope. Humbly draw nigh to God resting in the Blood of Christ and assured that through Him, as your Propitiation, you may now be forgiven and accepted, and through Him may ever abide in the favor and love of God. Thus you will learn to hate all sin. Your sins and iniquities were the nails in the Saviour's hands and feet the thorns in His temples, the stripes on His body, the spear in His wounded side. Will you not abhor the evil that thus brought death to your best Friend? A Red Indian once killed another and in bitter remorse he buried the knife with which he had done the deed three yards deep on the north side of a tree, where the sun could never shine. Ah! he loathed and hated the knife which had been the instrument of death to his friend. Will not you hate the sin which crucified the Saviour?

Keep by the cross. It will teach you more love to the crucified One. As you think of His death, as you dwell on all He did for your salvation, by the grace of the Holy Spirit, you will learn to see how greatly He loved you, and this will kindle your love to Him. The remembrance of Christ's death will assist you in bearing patiently the cross that may be laid upon you. Behind the cross you will see the crown, and so you will rejoice even in the hour of trials. So you will be able to meet death with cheerful hope. He who died for you will stand by your side. He will hold your hand as you pass through the dark river; and washed in His most precious blood you shall join the white-robed throng before the throne, and share their song of praise and gladness. "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength and honor, and glory, and blessing." Rev. 5:12.

Look to Him, till the sight endears
The Saviour to thy heart;
His pierced feet bedew with tears,
Nor from His cross depart;
Look to Him, till His dying love
Thy every thought control,
Its vast constraining influence prove
O'er body, spirit, soul.

BAD BREATH
Coated Tongue, Biliousness
[illegible] does a bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, dull headache, sour, unsightly yellowish skin, sleepy appearance all tell the story of a disordered system and your immediate need of a purely vegetable corrective to prevent indigestion and a sick spell.
TAKE
[illegible]

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

[illegible] Rontgen, who has given [illegible] to the Royal Society for promoting scien[illegible] at the head of a great firm [illegible] the Clyde and is [illegible] a pioneer in the [illegible] high-speed [illegible] has not been [illegible] a great deal of re[illegible]ment, and his donation to the Society is not his [illegible] of this im[illegible] scientific investigation in [illegible] for the National [illegible] laboratory had to thank [illegible] provided the funds for the [illegible] up full-scaled experiment [illegible] has marked of great se[illegible] in improving the design of [illegible] of vessels. A short time [illegible] Alfred established at Cambridge a studentship in Assyrian, [illegible] a member of one of his sons [illegible] was killed in the war.

Today's Anniversaries

1821—Hector Tyndale who at personal risk obtained the body of John Brown and delivered it to his widow, born in Philadelphia. Died there, March 17, 1880.

1844—Bertel Thorwaldsen, famous Danish sculptor, died in Copenhagen. Born there, Nov. 19, 1770.

1857—James S. Hogg, governor of Texas, born near Rusk, Texas. Died at Houston, March 3, 1906.

1853—A proposal for woman suffrage was defeated in the Ohio legislature.

1873—Proclamation of President Grant ordering certain bands of armed men in South Carolina to disperse within twenty days.

1890—Mr. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, brought forward in the British parliament the government Irish Land Purchase bill.

1894—Japanese attempted to assassinate Li Hung Chang, the Chinese peace envoy, at Shimonoseki, Japan.

1919—Thirteen killed in mine explosion near Trinidad, Colo. United States senate ratified the four-power Pacific treaty.

Today's Birthdays

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury in President Harding's cabinet, born 68 years ago today.

Claude Kitchin of North Carolina, late minority leader in the U. S. house of representatives, born at Scotland Neck, N. C., 64 years ago today.

Frederick M. Hunter, superintendent of schools of Oakland, Calif., and ex-president of National Education association, born at Savannah, Mo., 44 years ago today.

Dr. Aven Nelson, president of the University of Wyoming, born in Lee county, Iowa, 64 years ago today.

Carroll P. Sterling, well known scientist and author, born at Sharon Springs, N. Y., 77 years ago today.

Stories That Recall Others

She Knew.

A very little girl was visiting where chickens were kept, not far from the house. One day she was chasing a hen and when told, "Don't do that, Edith, that hen wants to go in that [illegible]

Helping to Forget the Nightmare.

Because of the interior disturbances, the revolutions and counter revolutions, the [illegible] between the Red army and the White army, Miss Brandstrom received orders from Stockholm to leave Russia and go home, but she had been with the prisoners so long and had [illegible] frightful waste and suffering that she could not leave them in their condition. "I decided to disobey my orders and stick to the [illegible] as I could," she said. Now that the war is over the maimed and wretched prisoners have returned to their homes in Austria, Germany and Turkey, [illegible] hardly recognizes them and [illegible] support them, and Miss Brandstrom has deemed it her duty to go with them and continue her ministrations to them and to their families as well as to widows and orphans. She has opened an estate in Saxony and established an institution there for one class of helpless, and has opened another in-

CHILD TRAINING

Teaching Children to Agree.

By Marian Brownfield.

Teaching children to agree means so much to them all through life that it should really be one of the first principles in home-making. If children are taught to be fair and courteous with one another, they have a valuable equipment for popularity and success in the world at large.

Harmony in the home, too, means a happy ideal that will be cherished through many trials, struggles and hardships, an ideal that is an anchor as sustaining as religion.

In many homes, unfortunately, the one trial of family life, especially for the mother constantly in contact with it, is voiced in the wail, "If the children only wouldn't quarrel so!" Then sometimes it is added, "But I suppose it is natural, and they'll get over it some day!"

Whether it is natural for children to quarrel daily, really depends on the home training. If it is discountenanced at the very start a good beginning is made. Two little toddlers will often have their first quarrel over some plaything that one of them does not want to give up to the other. One will hold on tightly, while the other pleads, scolds or even uses little fists! Whoever loses then shrieks and yells. But even such tots can be taught fair play. "You have had it for a while, now let brother, or sister, have a turn!" said firmly whenever there is such a dispute, will soon be respected as a rule, if constantly adhered to.

Sharing is another appeal that cannot be underestimated for unselfish happiness all through life. Children, once they see the advantages of it, will make many amicable little arrangements themselves over personal belongings that avoid nerve-frazzling arguments and domestic storms. Sharing, indeed, is the most constructive remedy for children's quarrels. "If you let Johnny have half your candy he will let you take turns riding his coaster," can be a very peaceable settlement to a situation that might annoy not only a mother but even the neighbors.

A certain helpful encouraging atmosphere in a home also avoids quarrels. If every child is encouraged to rejoice in each member's success and to sympathize with defeats, the slings and slurs from petty jealousies that are almost as unendurable as violent quarrels, are avoided.

Equally lubricating for a frictionless home is sympathy, so "inexpensive" and yet so soothing to everyone. The writer well remembers her first day at school when something she did or said made the whole school laugh. Relating it almost in tears to the family at the noon meal, a younger sister immediately spoke up comfortingly, "If they laugh at 'oo,' laugh at 'um!" Surely practical sympathy for juvenile sensitiveness!

Children indeed need to be taught not to laugh at each other's misfortunes, but instead to help. The Golden Rule here is the preventive for many hard feelings and a "quarrelsome" atmosphere.

When children can share their food, their treats and amusements and clothes if necessary, they have very successfully assimilated the Golden Rule. If parents and relatives would always take particular pains to be impartial, also, this would prevent quarrels, for all children seem ready to accept "in turn." With children justice is the essential of peaceful work and play.

HEAD COLDS
Melt in spoon; inhale vapors; apply freely up nostrils.
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Dry Goods — Shoes — Enamel Ware — Aluminum Ware

Starting Events for Saturday Only

— AT —

Bokoff's Economy Store

MAIN STREET CORNER THAMES STREETS NORWICH, CONN.

Look Over These Prices, Then Come and Enjoy These Price Reductions

AUTOCRAT Coffee, lb.... 36c
CHALLENGE MILK, can.... 13c
BLUE LABEL Catsup, lge. bot. 24c
BIRD'S EYE Matches, 6 bxs. 27c
TALL CAN RED ALASKA SALMON.... [illegible]
BLUE ROSE RICE, lb.... 5[illegible]c
SUNBEAM SEEDLESS Raisins, 2 for.. 25c
15 Ounce Package
SUGAR 11 Pounds for $1.00

OUR LINE OF SHOES Would Be Hard to Equal at the Price.
A Reduction In This Dep't.
DRY GOODS
New Spring Designs in Percales, Ginghams, etc.
Rompers
Overalls
Dresses
Aprons, Etc.
For Young and Old.
Come Look Them Over.
Farmers' Dep't
POULTRY WIRE IMPLEMENTS
A FULL LINE OF SEEDS

Cal. Prunes
40-50 SIZE
1 Pound 15c
50-60 SIZE
1 Pound 12c
OCTAGON SOAP, bar..... 6c
Pearl Tapioca
10 Ounce Package
Only 7c
3 FOR 20c
CLOVERBLOOM BUTTER, lb... 54c
EGGS, doz.... 35c
3 Dozen $1.00

Ye Chocolate Shoppe

49 BROADWAY

SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY

Butterscotch Drops, lb...	25c
Horehound Drops, lb....	25c
1-2 pound	15c
Peach Blossoms, lb.....	39c
Assorted Hard Candies, lb.	29c
Peanut Butter Straws, lb.	39c
Assorted Mints, lb.....	39c
Assorted Chocolates, lb...	59c
Chocolates and Bon Bons pound	59c
Chocolate Wintergreen, pound	59c
Chocolate Mints, lb.....	59c
Caramellos, lb.....	59c
Jumbo Nougatines, lb...	59c
Fruit Nougatines, lb.....	59c
2 LBS. OF ANY OF ABOVE	$1.00
Chocolate Almonds, lb...	69c
Chocolate Dates, lb.....	69c
Chocolate Crackers, lb...	69c
Bon Bons, lb.....	69c
Scotch Kisses, lb.....	69c
Favorite Kisses, lb.....	69c
Cocoanut Kisses, lb.....	39c
Butter Creams, lb.....	49c
Cocoanut Creams, lb....	49c
Assorted Cream Mints, lb.	39c
Fresh Fudge, lb.....	49c
Peanut Brittle, lb.....	25c
Corn Crisp, lb.....	29c
Liquid Gum Drops, lb..	59c
Baby Gum Drops, lb....	39c
Assorted Gum Drops, lb..	39c
Mello-Mints, lb.....	39c
Salted Peanuts, lb.....	29c
Mixed Mints, lb.....	80c
Salted Almonds, lb....	$1.00
Paper Shell Jordan Almonds, regular $1.00, lb.	80c

We will fill and ship Easter orders to all parts of the United States and Canada.

Ye Chocolate Shoppe

49 BROADWAY

Norwich, Saturday, March 25, 1922.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 6.32 o'clock tonight.

The Health Products Corporation of the New Haven has elected officers as follows: President, Harry C. Regan, secretary, Carrie P. Parker.

The Brass City Barrel Co. of Waterbury has elected the following officers: President, Max Shealy, secretary and treasurer, James H. Lancaster.

The Colchester Community club met for a regular meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William E. Kenyon in the old Colchester road.

Plenty of smelts, scallops, clams, oysters, Finnan haddie, for today at Powers Bros.—adv.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for assistant in fisheries investigations on April 4. Entrance salary is $1200-$1400.

Louis Alexander, star forward of Connecticut Aggies five, and all round athlete, is now confined to the college infirmary at Storrs, because of a bad case of rheumatism.

The result of the Easter sale held Thursday afternoon in the parish house by the Ladies Benevolent society, at Old Lyme, was most pleasing. Over $90 was netted.

The Astna stamp works of Hartford has incorporated with capital of $15,000. The incorporators are: Frank E. Smith, Windsor; Martin Wilson and Gabriel Nelson of Hartford.

Out of 2,905,874 spinning spindles in place in Rhode Island during February, 2,728,793 were active during the month, according to a report issued by the U. S. department of commerce.

An interesting session of the Entre Nous club was held Thursday evening in the Robert B. Acker of Chester street, Groton, when 14 of the club members were in attendance.

The body of Arthur Clark, a former resident of Scotland, arrived there from New Britain for burial on Thursday. The services were conducted by Rev. Sherrod Soule of Hartford.

At the close of the regular meeting of the Daughters of America of Noank, Wednesday evening, a social was held at which time the rainy day bags were opened and the sum of $12 netted toward the building fund.

Mrs. Albert Stebbins of Chicopee, formerly Miss Ruth Pease, New London and Springfield, is seriously ill at the Chapin hospital in Springfield, where she underwent a surgical operation last Wednesday.

Educators in the state are interested in a report of a survey of the New Haven public schools by a committee of the chamber of comerce of that city, in which some of the school buildings were criticised.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark of Gilead road has been placed under quarantine due to illness of diphtheria of four of their children, Harold, 16; Ruth, 13; Georgie, eight, and Lenore, four years of age.

Fancy articles of all kinds, handkerchiefs, Easter cards. Order hot cross buns at Woman's Exchange.—adv!

The Cadets of the United States Coast Guard academy at Fort Trumbull will be hosts at an informal tea dansant at the academy this (Saturday) afternoon. Music for dancing will be furnished by the New Haven Marine band.

No word was received Friday from the freighter Cape Cod which was stranded about a week ago at Orient Point and later taken to Greenport, L. I. The vessel was to have sailed Thursday for New York, but the heavy fog interfered.

The legislative committee on claims overruled a protest of Attorney General Frank E. Healy against hearing a claim of James A. Shea for $450 damages to his automobile, alleged to have been caused by a defective road on Plymouth Hill.

Connecticut's agricultural resources and the opportunities that await the purchaser of farm property in this state are extolled in a directory of farms which is being prepared by the state board of agriculture, through its secretary, Leonard H. Healy.

About 75 members of Home Rebekah lodge attended the regular meeting Thursday evening at Groton, when a visit was received from a delegation from the New London lodges. The initiatory degree was exemplified for a class of three candidates.

A special bulletin has been issued by the Manufacturers' Association of Connecticut urging the attendance of those interested in the development of chemical research problems, to be present at the dedication of the Sterling chemical laboratory at Yale.

Governor Templeton has issued three requisitions on the governor of New York for the return to this state of Louis Seigerman, Sam Greenwald and John Crowley, who are wanted in New Haven for theft alleged to have been committed on February 19.

Trinity college is rapidly preparing to entertain several hundred high school and preparatory school boys from Connecticut and adjoining states. Detailed plans have all been made and invitations have been sent out to about 500 prospective Trinity freshmen.

The 434-ton government mail boat Postmaster General, built at Noank, in 1898, owned by C. J. Mills, 31 South street, New York city, was burned to the water's edge Tuesday evening in the Kill von Kull, between Bayonne and West New Brighton, Staten Island.

The second of the two organ recitals for the benefit of the endowment fund of Connecticut college and the choir fund of St. James' Episcopal church, New London, was given Thursday evening by Prof. J. Lawrence Erb, F. A. G. O. Mus. Doc., at the church.

The department of commerce announces that on February 28 there were $1,375,840 spinning spindles in place in Connecticut cotton mills. During the month of February 1,337,002 spindles were active in the state and the active spindle hours for that month were 281,834,974.

Evidence that the recent heavy freight congestion in the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, which was caused by bad weather, is clearing is shown by the lifting of the embargo by the Boston & Albany railroad, allowing freight to be shipped through Springfield.

Inability of citizens of Branford to decide upon a definite program in regard to its schools was reflected in a hearing before the legislative committee on finance on a bill to authorize the town to issue bonds totaling $200,000 to cover costs of new buildings and improvements.

In Hartford Manager N. J. Scott of the Connecticut company announced Wednesday that on April 1 when the new trolley fare goes into effect conductors may sell four tokens for 30 cents. The metal tickets may be bought in lots of two for 15 cents, also.

Atlantic cable weighs 3600 pounds a mile in the air and 2,400 pounds under water.

PERSONALS

Mrs. P. J. Hyman is a patient at the W. W. Backus hospital suffering a nervous breakdown. Her condition is greatly improved.

P. J. Morley who has been ill at his home on Washington street for the past ten days has recovered and is now back at his business.

GIVES HIS IMPRESSIONS OF THE PASSION PLAY

Rev. A. N. Foster, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Universalist, gave a most interesting account of impressions he received of The Passion Play of 1922, which he saw at Oberammergau.

In these days when most people are thinking of making money and that this policy in their right and sole business, when things are commercialized to a great extent, and people think in great sizes and study the gospel of force, it will do us well in this Lenten season, he said, to turn our thoughts to Oberammergau and The Passion Play.

Commercialism is entirely absent from the Passion Play. These people have scorned all offers to gain profit by the play. Another great thing about it is that it does not take place in some large city of the world, but takes place in a remote district in the Alps. Instead of preaching the doctrine of force this play pictures the spirit of good fellowship.

It is a beautiful play, nothing in it can ever cause criticism and in these days it is wonderful.

Two thousand years ago they asked can any good come out of Nazareth? I wonder, can any good come out of Germany. It seems that the Passion Play answers the question and in these days of commercialism it is wonderful to see the simplicity of these people carrying out the promise made by their forefathers to God.

Previous to the address of the meeting, Charles B. Jodan of Willimantic favored with several solos, and there was instrumental music by young people of the church.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS GAVE PRETTY RECEPTION

In the Wauregan house ballroom from 8 to 11 Friday night the high school dancing class of Mrs. William Beardsyne Penfield gave a pretty reception for the class and friends of its 35 members.

The programme opened with the grand march which was skillfully led by Jared Maples and Miss Lucille Perkins with Gilbert Denison and Miss Marguerite Sutthill as second couple. Class gifts were made to Mrs. Penfield, Miss Perkins presenting a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses and Mr. Maples a fine handbag.

The order of dances was as follows: March, one step, fox trot, plain; waltz, class dance, parade of the wooden soldiers, one step, waltz, fox trot, class dance—tango fox, waltz, fox trot, Paul Jones, intermission. Fox trot, waltz, fox trot, Paul Jones, fox trot, waltz, fox trot, one step, waltz, fox trot, waltz, Home, Sweet Home.

The following members of Mrs. Penfield's New London class were in attendance: Frank Corwin, Harold Hicks, Alfred Erickson, Lawrence Knowlton, Carlisle Rhodes, Misses Margery Miller, Ida Erickson, Constance Purdy, Lucy Ennis, Marion Law, and Mary Holoway.

JUDGE GREENE FOR REFEREE IN TWO CASES

Before Judge C. L. Avery in New London Friday morning at the last short calendar session of the present term of the superior court an order of reference was entered that the cases of Blankenfeld vs. Charmatz and Charmatz vs. Blankenfeld be referred to Judge Gardiner Greene as state referee.

Hearing on motion to set aside the verdict in Olaf vs Andrews was postponed to Tuesday.

Decree of foreclosure of a mortgage was entered in the case of the Jewett City Savings bank against Frank P. Sheronas of New York. The judgment was for $1,725.11 and the mortgage is on property in Norwich. The first Tuesday in May was fixed as law day for Sheronas and the following day was fixed as law day for other defendants.

Bonds of $75 for prosecution were ordered in the case of Donahue vs. Davis, et al.

Permission to amend the complaint was granted in the case of Mary S. L. Cole vs. Charles P. Cole.

An order of continuance for 30 days was entered in the case of Duhaime vs. West.

GAVE FURTHER HEARING ON $13,000 CLAIM

Thomas M. Shields, special master in bankruptcy, held a continued hearing Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the police court room in the matter of the Kolb Carton Co. claim against the Uncas Paper Board Co. of this city and others, which involves about $13,000 worth of machinery and supplies which the Carton Co. claims were exempted when the Ironsides Board paper mill at Thamesville was sold several months ago by auction to James E. Smith of Baltimore. The hearing was adjourned at 5 o'clock, to be continued at 10 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

Stenographer Moyer of the superior court is here from Hartford to take the notes of the hearing.

SET APRIL DATE TO INSTALL MOOSE OFFICERS

Norwich Lodge, No. 1950, L. O. O. M., held its regular meeting Friday evening at Moose Home on Laurel Hill avenue, Dictator George H. Goepfert presiding. There was a good attendance at the meeting and regular routine of business was transacted. Following the meeting a social hour was spent during which the social committee served coffee and sandwiches.

It was announced that the annual installation of officers would take place on Sunday, April 8, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED FOR TROLLEY CAR FIRE

The 7 o'clock car from the square bound for Yantic caught fire Friday night just as it was leaving the switch at the city line. The passengers alighted from the car and word was sent by Motorman Dufrense to the Yantic department and to Central Station in the city, both departments responding.

The bottom of the car and sides were burned and scorched and the car had to be towed in for repairs. Quick work by the firemen prevented serious damage. The fire started from motor trouble.

Superior Court Assignments

The following cases have been assigned for trial in the superior court at New London next week which is the last week of the session:

Tuesday—Klingon vs Colchester Farm Produce Co., et al. (on trial); Green vs Lewis; Futell vs Lewis; Cummings vs Connecticut Co.; Chapman vs Cruttenden.

Wednesday—Carpenter vs J. D. Avery, Inc.; Tobin vs Dugas.

Fourteen hundred fifty piles, from 46 to 70 feet long and treated by a cement gun, were used with success to take the place of reinforced cement at the port of Tacoma, Wash.

SHOW BACKUS HOSPITAL NEED FOR NURSES AND FOR CO-OPERATION

The needs of the Backus hospital for more student nurses and for public interest and co-operation were emphatically brought out at a supper given Friday night at 6.30 at the Community house on Church street under the auspices of the hospital committee of the Woman's guild of the United Congregational church, which is to raise $400 towards refurnishing a room at the hospital, including modern lighting equipment.

The color scheme for the tables was in yellow, carried out with baskets of daffodils and yellow candles, the flowers being sent to the hospital after the supper. An excellent chicken pie supper was served for the 300 present by the committee of which Mrs. William Wade was chairman.

Mrs. Walter F. Lester, chairman of the hospital committee of the guild, was toastmistress, first introducing Miss Kathleen A. Dowd, superintendent of nurses at the hospital.

Miss Dowd spoke upon the nurses' training school, declaring that nursing cannot be learned from books, or taking care of a friend. The training school is a necessity and the nursing profession offers to young women a field in missionary work, industrial work, school nurse work, public health work and training school instruction. If the trained nurse marries, she surely will make a wonderful wife and mother. The training teaches self reliance, self respect and sacrifice and teaches to spell self with a small "s." What the community can give to the student nurses will be returned many-fold. There have been times when not a nurse could be secured in either Norwich or New London, and there is need for trained nurses all over the country.

Miss Dowd appealed to the people of Norwich to do all they could to interest young women to take up nursing as a profession, and she invited her audience to visit the hospital and the nurses' training school and become acquainted with the wonderful preparation for service that is given there.

Tells Hospital Needs.

Supt. F. Leon Hutchins gave an instructive address upon some of the inner workings of the hospital and the reasons for growth in expenses in the last few years.

He also spoke of the modern demand for trained, experienced nurses, who can only be supplied through a nurses' training school. Good nursing, more often than the doctor's care, brings back the patient to a life of usefulness in the community and it is to the community's interest to see that young women are induced to enter the nurses' training school.

Taking up the difference in costs he made comparison with conditions at the Backus hospital in 1913, and last year. In 1912 there were 680 patients treated in the year. Since then the number has more than doubled. The work has doubled, the employes have doubled, and the nurses should have doubled, while the expenses have trebled. In 1912 the highest registration at the hospital in a day was 55. Within a short time the registration of patients at the hospital has been 83 and it has been necessary to announce that no more could be received until some had been discharged. In 1912 the cost per patient per week was $20. Last year it was $20.79. In 1912 the total running expenses were $36,122.50. Last year it was $83,075.98. The payroll and the coal bill last year would have nearly paid the entire 1912 running expenses.

The coal bill last year was $11,000, a great increase over 1912. There have been 54 more radiators added since 1912. Salaries in 1912 were $11,219.80, last year $24,850.97. Wages for maids have doubled and trebled and in order to get employes to come from other cities we have to offer the same wages as are paid there.

In 1912 ice cost $212.27, last year $1,450.50; groceries $905.36 in 1912, last year $5,512.40 meat and fish, $2,261.24 in 1912; last year $7,111.14; butter and eggs, $1,190.43 in 1912; last year, $2,510.55. In this connection Superintendent Hutchins stated that the hospital bought in Norwich, rather than anywhere else, everything that possibly could be bought here, and often at prices better than quoted in New York and Philadelphia. He believed this was the right policy for all Norwich institutions.

In 1912 the hospital had 16 pupil nurses and one probationer, with 55 as the most patients in a day. This winter there are 23 pupil nurses and the hospital is paying four graduate nurses, with 83 patients as the high mark. It should have 32 or 33 pupil nurses. There are seven more coming Saturday or Sunday, but the hospital should have some place to put them as some will have to live at some distance from the hospital and this increases the difficulty of arranging class work.

Charity Work

Last year, said Mr. Hutchins, over $14,000 was charged off on the books as charity work and this is one reason why the hospital should have a larger endowment.

Superintendent Hutchins spoke of important improvements that had been made at the hospital recently, among these being the purchase of an X-ray bedside unit, and the addition to the staff of young women to give anaesthesia.

The question is asked, he said, why don't you charge more for rooms. The present charge is $25 and $30, which compares with $65 which is charged in other places for the same thing. It is not likely that such a rate could be charged here, but it is probable that there will have to be some addition in the charges. He spoke of the need of a least ten rolling chairs at present, these costing from $45 to $60 apiece.

In conclusion, he spoke in high praise of the skilled service that is rendered by the doctors, surgeons and nurses, services whose value cannot be measured in dollars. Operations, which some surgeons would charge $1,000 for before they would touch the patient, have been performed at the Backus hospital without the doctor getting a cent. Yet there is criticism by those who are unqualified to criticise and cannot know what the doctor's or the surgeon's work is unless they actually see it.

Superintendent Hutchins spoke of the loyalty of the hospital staff and employes, where there are no limited hours and no requests for overtime pay, but a sense of duty to the community and to the community's hospital.

President Tirrell Speaks.

H. A. Tirrell, president of the hospital executive committee, was the concluding speaker, with The Interests of the Hospital to The Community as his subject.

He remarked that this meeting meant that the room at the hospital was going to be furnished as the United church always accomplishes what it sets out for.

He brought out the point that this is the age of organization and machinery and asked how the individual is to do his part in the modern machine. We don't want to lose the personal touch. We want strong organizations but we want the individual to grow strong. The Christian ideal for betterment is working through the centuries, a great mass movement that you and I can attach to and help. Let each put himself in the spirit of and get in touch with this betterment organization, the great Christian machine that is moving on in a thousand ways. The hospital is such a machine.

Birthday Cake.

During the supper hour Ex-Mayor H. M. Lerou was given a surprise when a big frosted birthday cake with 52 candles on it was borne into the room and presented to him, while the whole roomful applaudcd and cheered him.

Just at the close of the meeting a beautiful Nutting picture was sent up to the toastmistress who announced that it was a gift from the social activities committee to be hung in the room at the hospital.

Hostesses at Tables

The hostesses at the tables were: Mrs. Frank L. Woodard, Mrs. Archibald Mitchell, 3d., Mrs. Henry G. Peck, Mrs. Charles Tyler Bard, Mrs. B. P. Bishop, Miss Marion L. Bishop, Miss Marion G. Beebe, Mrs. Archibald MacDougall, Mrs. Wm. W. Sample, Mrs. Edward D. Fuller, Mrs. Albert J. Sinay, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Davis, Miss Susie C. Whittlesey, Mrs. Joseph A. French, Miss Clara E. Griswold.

Mrs. Albert F. Noren, Miss Edith C. Young, Mrs. W. Avery Gallup, Mrs. Alfred G. Bliven, Mrs. Clarence A. Spear, Miss Isabel H. Mitchell, Miss Mazie V. Caruthers, Mrs. Frederick S. Camp, Mrs. Walter T. Camp, Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Mrs. Edwin W. Biggins, Mrs. S. Elizabeth Sherman, Mrs. Frank A. Bill, Miss Florence A. Smith, Mrs. Frederick A. Friswell, Mrs. Edward A. Cudworth, Mrs. Harvey M. Briggs, Mrs. Herbert W. Gallup, Mrs. William C. Bode, Jr.

Mrs. Curtis Bernard, Mrs. Archibald Mitchell, 4th, Mrs. Roy D. Judd, Mrs. William A. Bottomley, Mrs. Herbert M. Lerou, Mrs. William S. Elliott, Mrs. Hugh B. Campbell, Miss Margaret Campbell, Mrs. Dwight L. Allen, Mrs. Robert H. Montgomery, Miss Elizabeth F. Pullen, Mrs. Arthur M. Thompson.

GRANTED TWO DIVORCES, RESERVED TWO DECISIONS

Florence M. Wilcox Smith of New London was granted a divorce from Lawrence C. Smith, formerly a second class machinist at the Submarine Base, now of parts unknown, by Judge Christopher L. Avery in the superior court in New London Friday morning. They were married on Sept. 26, 1917, and Mrs. Smith testified that her husband left her on Jan. 8, 1918, and she has not seen or heard of him since. She was granted a change of name to Wilcox. Attorney John H. Walker was counsel for the petitioner.

Gertrude C. Ball of New London was granted a divorce from Frederick O. Ball of Philadelphia and was allowed to resume her maiden name of Clendenen. They were married on Oct. 11, 1919, and the desertion took place nine days later.

Judge Avery heard the action of Flora Clark Hopf of Niantic against Carl Hopf of New London on a cross complaint alleging cruelty and he took the papers. Mr. Hopf originally brought suit against Mrs. Hopf on the grounds of adultery. They were married June 10, 1914.

Testimony was taken in the case of Georgie Staples Treadway of New London against Norris M. Treadway, also of New London, on the grounds of intolerable cruelty and Judge Avery took the papers. They were married on July 5, 1906, and cruelty was alleged from Jan. 1, 1919.

Some adobe houses of the southwest part of this country are known to be inhabited.

ANNA Q. NILSSON and THEODORE KOSLOFF in a Scene from Cecil B. DeMille's Paramount Picture "Adam's Rib"

AT BROADWAY THEATRE, SUNDAY, MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

WEDDINGS

A very pretty home wedding took place Friday evening at 8.30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hill at The Osgood, on Church street when their daughter, Evelyn Miriam, became the bride of Charles F. Schontzler of Bay Shore, Long Island. The house was prettily decorated with palms and, cut flowers, the color scheme being pink, white and green.

As the bridal party entered the front room Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Miss Mary Doore of Providence. Preceding the bride was the flower girl, Eunice Maher of Newport, R. I., a niece of the groom, the bridesmaids, the Misses Gladys Elisabeth Hill, sister of the bride, Elisabeth Schontzler of Newport, a sister of the groom, and Louise Evelyn Butler of Bridgeport, and the maid of honor, Miss Ethel May Jewell of Providence. The bride entered the room with her father, who gave her in marriage to the groom, who met the bridal party at the altar beneath an archway of palms, with his best man, P. Elmer Manchester, Jr., of Fall River, Mass. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Thomas Palmers, D. D., of West Newton, Mass., a former pastor of the First Congregational church of Manchester, N. H., who had baptized the bride in that church. The double ring service was used. During the ceremony Miss Doore played softly O Promise Me.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin with side draperies of Spanish lace, and with pearl beads. Her tulle veil was in coronet style, caught up with pearls and lilies of the valley, her only ornaments being pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of Easter lilies caught up with white chiffon. The maid of honor wore a gown of Nile green chiffon over canton crepe and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were gowned in organdie of pastel shades and carried basket bouquets of assorted sweet peas. The flower girl wore pale pink georgette crepe and carried a basket of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Hill, mother of the bride, was gowned in black satin with over draperies of black lace, her corsage bouquet being of violets and roses. Mrs. Schontzler, mother of the groom, wore purple satin, lace trimmed, and her corsage bouquet was of roses.

The ushers were L. Edwin Hill of New Haven, brother of the bride, and Raymond Lawton of Newport, a friend of the couple.

Following the wedding a reception was tendered at The Osgood at 8 o'clock to over 100 guests who came from Providence, Newport, West Newton, Mass., Fall River, Mass., Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, New York and other places. There was music by Swahn's orchestra and refreshments served.

The bride received many beautiful presents of gold, silverware, checks, linen, cut glass, electrical appliances and household articles.

Following the reception, the happy couple left by automobile for New London, from there to go to New York and Washington on their wedding tour. They will be at home after May 1st at their newly furnished apartment in Bay Shore, L. I., where the groom holds a responsible position.

The bride was born in Manchester, N. H., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hill, and is a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy, class of 1919, and of Bryant & Stratton business college, Providence.

The groom was born in Newport, R. I., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schontzler, and is a graduate of Koster school, Chicago, Ill. At present he is in business in Bay Shore, Long Island.

The bride is well known in Norwich among the younger set, all of whom wish the couple many years of happiness.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Michael F. Duff.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Duff, 55 White street, Haverhill, Mass., was held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, Lowell. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Dr. James Supple, curate of St. Patrick's church, former curate of Sacred Heart church, Bradford. The bearers were Richard Campbell, Edward Tole, Edward Thomas, James Sullivan, George Drenner and Henry Breausseau. The body was placed in the receiving tomb in St. Patrick's cemetery.

Mrs. Duff died Sunday of a cancer at the Gale hospital, aged 45. She was born in Wisha, Scotland, but has resided in this country since she was 12. Previous to coming to Haverhill in August, 1922, she resided for several years in New Orleans, La. She is survived by her husband, Michael F. Duff; one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Adams, New Orleans, La.; one son, Robert Duff; three brothers, James, Robtra and William Kane, and five sisters, Mrs. Richard Campbell, Mrs. Edward Tole, Mrs. Edgar Thomas, Mrs. Henry Breausseau and Mrs. George Drenner, all of Lowell.

Her husband has many relatives in and around Norwich. As a boy he lived in Taftville and worked in Greeneville and Norwich. He was also a well known baseball player.

Auto Numbers at Police Station.

Six different auto number plates that have been found on the streets have been brought to police headquarters but have so far had no claimants. It is believed some of them were lost off the cars during the snow, were buried under it and not brought to sight until the snow melted off. One of the lot is a complete set of two number plates.

WESTMINSTER

The pastor's text last Sunday morning was I. Corinthians, 3: 9, with the thought of Growth as his theme.

Topic for Home Prayer circle this coming week is The Fullness of Christ's Ministry. Scripture for the week, St. Mark 14: 27 through the book. The supreme tragedy of life is not only that Christ was crucified centuries ago, but that He is crucified daily by those He died to save.

There will be a Good Friday service at the parsonage at 10.45 on that day.

Many from this and other places in the vicinity have inspected the ruins of the Dewing place, destroyed by fire Tuesday of last week.

Gayhead school has its speaking contest Friday afternoon of this week.

Westminster Hill plans its contest for Friday evening, if not stormy.

Friends of Mrs. Lloyd and the work of the C. C. C. in the Kentucky mountains, among the 100 per cent Americans, regret not having her boys here, in this town, on next Thursday, March 29, the date on which she proposed to come. Any able to go to Central Village can have the privilege of seeing and hearing them on the date given—Thursday, March 29, at 1 p. m.

A meeting of the church committee has been called at the parsonage for Sunday morning at 10.30 to meet any candidates for church membership not present last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks, former of New Rochelle, N. Y., have had possession of their new home, the former Ladd place, several weeks ago, having come early in March.

Mrs. Jessie A. Meade is able to be out again, after her long and painful sickness.

Carl Jones of Amston has been in town this week.

MANSFIELD CENTRE

A large group of neighbors of Mrs. Phebe Hanks gathered at her home last Saturday afternoon as a surprise in honor of her eighty-fourth birthday. The guests presented her a beautiful pink cyclamen and served a lunch of cocoa and cake. Mrs. Hanks is a woman of rare depth of character and of unusual ability. For years she was a leading member of the Methodist church in Gurleyville, foremost in the work of Sunday school and choir, and now in spite of her years is active in the work of her home, and until recently has been caring for others in sickness. Her many friends are happy to do her honor.

The Men's club held an open meeting at the Center church Tuesday evening. An excellent supper was served by the Ladies' Aid under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Anthony, Mrs. Herbert Chappell and Mrs. Manning, the menu including escalloped potatoes, beef loaf, brown bread, baked beans, rolls, pickles, pies and coffee. Following the supper, Dr. H. K. Denlinger of Connecticut Agricultural college gave a scholarly address on The World Situation of Today, which was enjoyed by a good audience of men and women.

"Is the Old Method of Supervision in the Rural Schools or the New Method of State Supervision the Better?" was the subject discussed at a well attended meeting of the Young People's club at the church Wednesday evening. Miss Bertha Fuller, in an excellent original paper, presented the case for state supervision, and Charles G. Hall gave an interesting talk in behalf of "The Little Red School House." The chairman, Mrs. Raymond Olds also made an interesting contribution to the programme.

The club was fortunate in having as guest A. W. Grace, supervisor of the schools of Mansfield, who, in a very pleasing manner, told of state supervision as related to local conditions, and answered the questions ...ted. A lunch of coffee, cocoa and wafers was served.

The schools of the town closed Friday for the Easter vacation to open on April 2.

EAT AND GET THIN

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion; if you are likewise fond of the table, and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Company, 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.), and give him (or send them) one dollar. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure. He will hand you a case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription), one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat steadily and easily. Then continue the treatment until your weight is what you desire. Marmola Prescription Tablets are not only harmless but really beneficial to the general health. You don't need starvation diet or weakening exercises. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully, and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

FISHING TACKLE

The Famous Shakespeare Level Winding Reels. The best to be had.

SHAKESPEARE'S WEXFORD LINE SPLIT BAMBOO AND STEEL RODS.

All Agate Guide Casting Rods. Excellent for Trout Fishing.

The HOUSEHOLD

BULLETIN BUILDING

74 FRANKLIN STREET

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

URIC ACID

Does NOT Cause Rheumatism!

Furthermore, I claim that Uric Acid is a NATURAL and NECESSARY constituent of the blood—that it is found in the body of every new-born babe—that without it we could not live! Strange statements? Yes—to you, perhaps, because you have always been told differently.

But my book, "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism," just published, tells you the real truth about Rheumatism. Tells what actually DOES cause it and how it is now being successfully treated in all its different forms and stages by entirely new, advanced scientific methods.

The writing of this unusual book is the result of my twenty years' study, experimentation and research in this disease and I want every sufferer of RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, SCIATICA, GOUT, etc., no matter in what form or how chronic, to read it. Therefore, although valuable, I will gladly send one complete copy only of the book absolutely free if you will send your address or that of any sufferer you may know, plainly written, to

E. P. CLEARWATER, Ph. D.,
202-3 Water St., Hallowell, Maine.

AN APPEAL TO THE HARD WALKING PEOPLE

POLICEMEN, MAIL CARRIERS AND RAILROAD EMPLOYES, ETC. — FIGURE ON LONG WEARING SOLES.

THE PANCO SOLES

THAT WE GUARANTEE YOU TO GIVE A FULL SEASON'S WEAR, YOU GET STYLE, COMFORT AND WEAR, WHEN WE REPAIR.

SHOES MADE TO ORDER FOR IMPERFECT FEET

Shu-Fix INC.

145 State St., New London
Franklin Square, Norwich

What Shall I Buy For That Gift?

THE ANSWER WILL BE FOUND AT

CRANSTON'S

STOCK CONSTANTLY CHANGING

ASTHMA

Cured or You Pay Nothing

Over 85,000 cases of asthma have tried the remarkable discovery of a well known Kansas druggist. Thousands of letters testify results are permanent and that they are entirely well. Wheezing and the distressing tightness in the chest disappeared. The same amazing results obtained by others can be proven in your own case at no expense. Simply send your name today for a free trial bottle. Use it ten days and if cured send me $1.25. Otherwise you pay nothing.

C. LEAVENGOOD,
1096 S. W. Blvd., Rosedale, Kan.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A change in plans for the Casey Community Creek Center affair is announced by Supt. Leon M. Farrin of Killingly's schools. Since there is to be a meeting Thursday afternoon of next week at the Methodist church, which will be open to the public, the speeches by the visiting boys at the Danielson grammar school in the forenoon will be exclusively for school children.

At the Killingly teachers' meeting held this week, Mrs. Marion Evans Dakin, nutrition specialist at Storrs, gave an address. Supt. Farrin discussed the working of the physical education program in the schools and talked on the convention of the department of superintendence at Cleveland.

Attention of residents of Killingly and surrounding towns is called to the fact that what may be termed an open night—an annual event—is arranged to be held at the State Trade school in Putnam, where there are several Killingly students, on Tuesday evening of next week. All departments of the school will be in operation and the public is invited to inspect the building, its equipment and to learn of the great work it is doing to prepare young people for paying and practical occupations.

A St. Johnsbury, Vt., paper pays a tribute to the foresight of Lester A. Bill, son of Judge Arthur G. Bill of Danielson, in procuring early last fall for the Twin City Gas and Electric company, with which he is connected in an important capacity, an ample supply of coal for the company's needs during the winter months. Had not Mr. Bill piled up a surplus of coal for the lighting company, the hospital at St. Johnsbury would have been without coal during some of the worst periods of the past winter, as would other important public institutions. Notwithstanding the severity of the winter, the lighting company not only had sufficient fuel for its own needs, but such a liberal surplus that 250 tons were released for use of the hospital and other institutions that were in dire need.

St. Johnsbury is a far northern point in New England, only about 45 miles south of the Canadian border. It was one place where great difficulty would have been experienced in landing an emergency supply of fuel, so the fact that Mr. Bill's look into the future paved the day hospital has won for him the praise of the press of that city.

Philip Curtis, 71, a lifelong resident of the town of Foster, is dead at Hopkins Mills. He was born in Foster almost on the site of the home where he died, and with the exception of eight years that he was in Worcester, lived his life in the neighboring town. He leaves his wife, four sons, Lewis, John, Erlon, all of Providence, and Ernest of Foster; two daughters, Mrs. A. W. Lowell of Providence and Mrs. Marshall Hopkins, Jr., of Foster; a brother, Albert E. Curtis, and a sister, Mrs. Attaress Packard, both of Foster.

Friday afternoon at his home in Ballouville funeral services for Hector McConnell were conducted by Rev. J. W. Carter of the Methodist church at Attawaugan, where Mr. McConnell had been an attendant for years, the service attended by relatives and friends. The bearers were Frank L. Bennett, A. B. Simmons, William J. Lewis, Thomas Allshaw, George Pray and Ray Whipple. Burial was in Westfield cemetery, Danielson.

The floral pieces were beautiful and in great number and represented remembrances from the Attawaugan company and other manufacturing concerns with which Mr. McConnell had been associated, from friends among superintendents and agents of mills, from churches at which he had attended, from the employes of the Ballouville mill who so highly respected him, from the town school committee and from friends. Two automobiles were used in conveying the flowers to the cemetery.

A. F. Wood was the funeral director.

At her home in East Killingly Thursday afternoon funeral services for Miss Carrie M. Gordan were conducted by Rev. A. E. Gallup, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene at Danielson, and relatives and many friends were in attendance. During the service East Windsor quartet sang "No Burdens Yonder and Shall We Meet Beyond the River?" The bearers were Saville Harrington, L. S. Barnstow, William Warren and George Law. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

James Louis Brown, a resident of this town all his life, died Friday afternoon at his farm place in the Sparks district, near East Killingly. He had been in failing health for a long time and during the past three months his condition has continued to grow more critical, forecasting the approaching end.

Mr. Brown, 73, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Brown, his parents living in the section of the town where Mr. Brown lived and died. Throughout his life he has been engaged as a farmer. He was successful, as befitted his constant devotion to his occupation. Mr. Brown was a splendid citizen, held in the highest respect by all who knew him, kindly of spirit, and a person to whom one could turn for real and substantial assistance in time of need.

He is survived by his wife and by a daughter, Miss Annie Brown, who lives at home and who formerly was a teacher in Killingly's schools, and by a son by a former marriage, Jabez Brown, who lives in the Church street section of Brooklyn.

Spring continued to arrive during Friday. Several people called up to tell the cheering news of the appearance of robins and bluebirds in Danielson. The temperature hit up into the 60s, and the clouds that darkened the sky at times forecasted the coming April showers.

Members of the Roundabout club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. L. S. Anglass of the West Side. Pretty paper flowers were used as favors.

Notices of an advance in wages have been posted at the mill of the River Weaving company. At the Killingly Worsted company plant at Elmville, operated by the same interests as the River Weaving company, wage advance notices are also up. Thus four of Killingly's mill to date have announced wage advances to be effective in the latter part of April. At East Killingly Friday afternoon it was stated no notices have been posted as yet, although the mills there are expected to figure in the upward trend of wages now under way.

Fishermen here appear to be strongly in favor of the bill providing for fishing licenses, in view of the fact that the money obtained from these licenses is to be used in propagating fish for distribution in the streams of the state.

Rev. J. W. Houck, pastor of the Baptist church, gave an address Friday evening at the Baptist church in Putnam on Recent Experiences on the Continent, the address based upon his European tour of last spring.

Mrs. A. E. Withington of Spring street will have the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church at her home for a meeting next Tuesday.

Easter gifts for missions were received Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Baptist church with Mrs. Frank T. Preston of Broad street.

Dog officers are now giving their attention to the town of Sterling, where four dogs were found Thursday under such conditions as constitute violations of the law.

Local attorneys were in Putnam Friday attending a session of the superior court.

Palm crosses will be distributed to the congregation at the 10.45 service at St. Alban's church on Sunday.

Look at our window display for your new Easter footwear. Every pair you see marked at low as $4.98, $5.98 or $6.49 will be better than you can buy elsewhere, providing you are looking for quality, style and fit. Every shoe sold is fully guaranteed. Buy good shoes and save money. George F. Davignon, 116 Main street, Danielson. —adv.

Ice on the lakes about East Killingly shows no signs of moving out, though these bodies of water cleared last year on March 26, and in 1921 on March 10. Judge James N. Tucker said Friday that these bodies of water seldom are covered with ice as late as the first of April, though this has occasionally occurred.

State officers have issued a warning that number plates on motor vehicles must be kept clear of mud or other matter that makes it difficult to read them. Failing to keep them legible constitutes a violation of the law and is likely to bring a warning, if not arrest, to negligent operators.

Miss Ruth Francis, student at Cushing academy, is spending the Easter recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Francis.

The Danielson Federation of Churches has arranged Holy week services as follows: Sunday at 5 a. m. at the Baptist church with Rev. J. C. Stoddard as the preacher; Tuesday at the Congregational church with Rev. William C. Prentiss of Plainfield making the address; Wednesday evening at the Methodist church, with Rev. N. B. Burton of Putnam as the speaker; Thursday evening, services in each of the churches; Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Baptist church.

A glee club has been organized at Killingly High school and will rehearse music for graduation. Miss Evelyn Jette was elected chairman and Miss Madeline Cronin secretary.

The Danielson postoffice lobby will be closed all day Sunday on account of painters being at work.

Maidenly Caution.

"Oh, yes, we are engaged to be married; but I fear she has not that utter confidence in me that comes with perfect love." "Why so?" "Well, when a fellow looks back and sees her testing the diamond in her engagement ring on the window pane, don't you think he has good cause to feel a bit dubious?"

Coal is so greatly used in the production of food that it is estimated that 16,000 tons of the fuel come each day to our tables.

I've run a small "Buckeye" several years and I know it's the best machine on the face of the earth! Now I'm going in big and make money.
Everybody uses the BUCKEYE
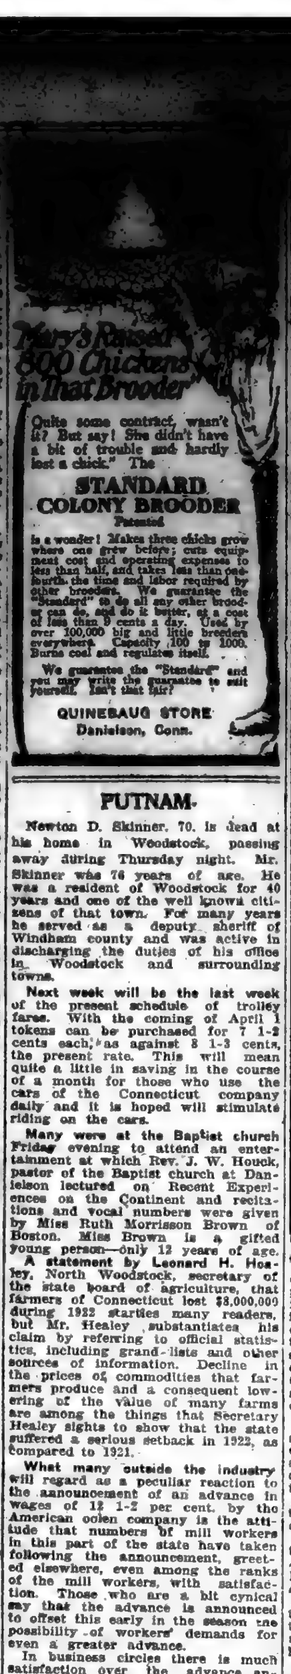
THE WORLD'S BEST INCUBATOR
Big breeders and little ones—10,000 chicks a year or 100. Endorsed by Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations. Operates automatically and can't go wrong. We are so sure of the "Buckeye's" never-failing performance that we guarantee it to hatch more and better chicks than any other incubator, regardless of price.
Come in and see how they work—or, we will send you a catalog.
QUINEBAUG STORE
Danielson, Conn.

ALBERTUS F. WOOD
Funeral Director and Embalmer
PHONE 147 DANIELSON

THE BROOKLYN SAVINGS BANK
STATEMENT, FEBRUARY 17, 1923
STATEMENT, FEBRUARY 17, 1923
DEPOSITS $3,969,965.33
SURPLUS AND PROFITS 354,073.54
TOTAL ASSETS $4,324,028.87
$1.00 OPENS AN ACCOUNT.
INTEREST RATE 4½ PER CENT. PER ANNUM.
YOU MAY DEPOSIT BY MAIL.
J. ARTHUR ATWOOD, President
WM. H. BURNHAM, Vice-Pres. SIDNEY W. BARD, Sec. and Treas.



Quite some contract, wasn't it? But say! She didn't have a bit of trouble and hardly lost a chick." The STANDARD COLONY BROODER
Patented
is a wonder! Makes three chicks grow where one grew before; cuts equipment cost and operating expenses to less than half, and takes less than one-fourth the time and labor required by other brooders. We guarantee the "Standard" to do all any other brooder can do, and do it better, at a cost of less than 9 cents a day. Used by over 100,000 big and little breeders everywhere. Capacity 100 to 1000. Burns coal and regulates itself.
We guarantee the "Standard" and you may write the guarantee to suit yourself. Isn't that fair?
QUINEBAUG STORE
Danielson, Conn.

PUTNAM

Newton D. Skinner, 70, is dead at his home in Woodstock, passing away during Thursday night. Mr. Skinner was 76 years of age. He was a resident of Woodstock for 40 years and one of the well known citizens of that town. For many years he served as a deputy sheriff of Windham county and was active in discharging the duties of his office in Woodstock and surrounding towns.

Next week will be the last week of the present schedule of trolley fares. With the coming of April 1 tokens can be purchased for 7 1-2 cents each, as against 8 1-3 cents, the present rate. This will mean quite a little in saving in the course of a month for those who use the cars of the Connecticut company daily and it is hoped will stimulate riding on the cars.

Many were at the Baptist church Friday evening to attend an entertainment at which Rev. J. W. Houck, pastor of the Baptist church at Danielson lectured on Recent Experiences on the Continent and recitations and vocal numbers were given by Miss Ruth Morrisson Brown of Boston. Miss Brown is a gifted young person—only 12 years of age.

A statement by Leonard H. Healey, North Woodstock, secretary of the state board of agriculture, that farmers of Connecticut lost $8,000,000 during 1922 startles many readers, but Mr. Healey substantiates his claim by referring to official statistics, including grand lists and other sources of information. Decline in certain pieces of commodities that farmers produce and a consequent lowering of the value of many farms are among the things that Secretary Healey sights to show that the state suffered a serious setback in 1922, as compared to 1921.

What many outside the industry will regard as a peculiar reaction to the announcement of an advance in wages of 12 1-2 per cent. by the American woolen company is the attitude that numbers of mill workers in this part of the state have taken following the announcement, greeted elsewhere, even among the ranks of the mill workers, with satisfaction. Those who are a bit cynical say that the advance is announced to offset this early in the season the possibility of workers' demands for even a greater advance.

In business circles there is much satisfaction over the advance announced by the American Woolen company and by the prospect of announcements of advances by mills in this section of eastern Connecticut. On the whole the effect of the American Woolen company's announcement has been hailed with satisfaction here and taken as forecasting a fine year of business.

An operetta, The Bells of Beaujolais, was given Friday evening by a student cast at the Tourtellotte Memorial High school in North Grosvenordale. Proceeds from this entertainment, successfully staged under the direction of Miss Marguerite Burns, will be added to a fund that has been raised throughout the school year to defray the expenses of the senior class on its Easter time trip to Washington. The class will go to the national capital at the end of netx week.

Allen Thayer has been elected as captain of the Putnam High school basketball team for next year and Edward Keefe manager. Both are members of the junior class. Thayer has played on the team the past two seasons and has given material aid in winning the championship for Putnam High in the Quinebaug Valley league season just closed.

The following is of interest to many residents of Putnam of Killingly:

Surrounded by five generations, Mrs. Abbie M. Granger celebrated her 95th birthday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Hewitt, 9 Channing street, Worcester. Mrs. Granger, hale and hearty, was the center of an interesting group of children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren. She was attentive throughout the entire course of the birthday observation and carried on an active conversation with every one of her guests.

A gigantic birthday cake, made in the shape of a four-leafed clover and decked with 95 tiny white candles, was lit in honor of the celebration.

Mrs. Granger was in receipt of many beautiful gifts from her children and from well-wishers.

Mrs. Granger was born in Killingly, Conn., March 17, 1828. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Fuller, and her entire family on both sides participated in many important American military engagements. Her grandfather was Major Peleg Heath, who took an active part in the Revolutionary war. Her husband, who was a captain in the Civil war, died 19 years ago at the age of 91. Longevity is an attribute of the Granger family, for Mrs. Granger's mother lived to be 90 years of age, while her grandmother died at the age of 100.

The following daughters of Mrs. Granger now living are: Mrs. F. H. Paine, 15 Chandler street; Mrs. H. E. Grimm, Whitmarsh avenue, both of Worcester, and Mrs. Adria Wright of 476 school street, this city. Mrs. Granger has four grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

During the past 35 years Mrs. Granger has never drunk water. When she is thirsty her beverage is cold tea and she attribute her long period of life to the fact that, during her grown age, she has never imbibed plain water. Until very recently she devoted much of her time to the reading of history, biography and travels. Mrs. Granger's days are active ones. She rises at daybreak and goes about many of the household duties, through the course of the day.

The great trees that were cut down a few days ago at the Johnson property recently acquired by Wolfe and Aminsky on Main street, have been cut into short lengths and will eventually be reduced to firewood size. It is estimated that the trees—some of them fine elms—will produce several cords of wood.

It is anticipated that the special town meeting to be held in Thompson next Thursday will draw the largest attendance of any town meeting held in Thompson for a considerable period. Two forces of the town will clash with their ballots to determine whether the town shall appropriate $35,000 for a new schoolhouse at Mechanicsville.

An increase in $400 in pledges over the amount for last year is reported following the Every Member canvass by the Methodist church and this has been very gratifying to the workers.

The Easter concert at the Baptist church will be given at noon Easter Sunday, following the regular service.

Sheriff Charles A. Gates of Willimantic was a visitor in Putnam on Friday.

Postmaster Archibald Macdonald is urging merchants, manufacturing concerns and professional men to get their daily outgoing mail into the office by 5 p. m. in order to facilitate the work of handling it, as the last hour of the day at the office is the busiest. Compliance with this request will give the office workers time to sort the mail and get it on its way to its destinations promptly.

J. J. Whitehead, Jr., is in New York for the week-end.

WINDHAM COUNTY COURT ENDS MARCH SESSION

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Putnam, March 23.—Cleaning up a few straggling ends on the short calendar list and granting one uncontested divorce, Friday morning, saw the conclusion of the March session of the Windham county superior court which was adjourned without day by order of Judge Allyn L. Brown of Norwich, a session which made the record of passing into the records without a single case being tried.

Maude L. Young of 54 West 106th street, New York city, was granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Elmer M. Young, of Willimantic, on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Young testified that she was married by a minister, who was also a justice of the peace, in Mansfield, in November, 1907. They began keeping house and lived together not quite four years. In November 1911 she left to visit her mother in Boston. Her mother was not there so she took a trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Chicago. She arrived home in about four weeks, reaching Willimantic at midnight so did not go to her home.

The following morning she stopped at her husband's store and he told her that there was no need of her going home for he had removed all of the furnishings and was not going to keep a home or support her any more. He said that he needed his money for other things.

Mrs. Young said that she then went to Baltic with her parents and from there to Staten Island, N. Y., where she was a housekeeper until 1913 when she opened a lodging house in New York city. When the war broke out she entered the service as a nurse and was for two years at Spartansburg, Va. After her discharge she returned to New York and has lived there since, doing hemstitching and embroidery on silk hose. She said that ever since her husband had refused to support her she had worked and supported herself.

Other witnesses were Sheriff Charles A. Gates, who served the writ on the defendant, and Raymond J. Jodoin of Baltic, both testifying that Mr. and Mrs. Young had not lived together in ten years.

On request of Attorney Harry E. Back of Danielson Judge James N. Tucker of East Killingly was appointed a commissioner of the superior court. Judge Tucker was for years deputy Judge of the town court of Killingly, but has now passed the age limit. He lives in a rural section of the town and wanted power to take acknowledgments of legal papers and to sign writs.

In the case of Alice C. Davis vs. Frank A. Davis, a contested divorce case, by agreement of counsel an allowance of $50 was ordered and alimony pendente lite of $12 a week beginning March 19th.

At half past 12 o'clock the March session was adjourned without day.

Original Oklahoma "Boomer."

David L. Payne, original Oklahoma "boomer," started the first colony of white men in Oklahoma in 1880, before the territory had been officially opened for settlement. He was arrested and expelled from the territory, and several other attempts at settlement were prevented by government troops. Wichita was the starting point of these expeditions. He died at Wellington, Kan., in 1884.

Bullets shot point first straight up into the air return with the points still upward and if fired base first they will come down base upward.

COAL
Nut Stove
$16.00 Per Ton
Boulets
$15.00 Per Ton
Buckwheat
(Extra Large Size)
$12.00 Per Ton
50c per ton extra if coal is carried in baskets.
The above prices are for immediate delivery.
PLACE YOUR ORDER FOR YOUR NEXT WINTER'S SUPPLY NOW, WITH US, AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO HAVE COAL.
Telephone 2208
SHETUCKET COAL & LUMBER CO.

What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Moving Pictures at Broadway Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Strand Theatre.
Moving Pictures at Breed Theatre.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Centenary of the birth of John Passmore Edwards, English publicist, philanthropist, and advocate of international peace.

One hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the death of the Earl of Crestefield, English statesman and one of the most celebrated wits of his age.

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury in President Harding's cabinet, celebrates his sixty-eighth birthday anniversary today.

With a complete city government, from mayor to aldermen, the Boy Scouts of Chicago are to "run" the city on their own for an hour today.

Eminent representatives of all the American republics will assemble today in Santiago, Chile, for the opening of the fifth Pan-American conference.

A special commission of sixteen members appointed by Secretary Hoover to inquire into agricultural export problems is to hold its first meeting in Washington today.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Records by Dort Six

The Dort Six has just established some remarkable records for speed, power and gasoline consumption in tests held in St. Joseph, Missouri.

These tests were conducted by Leonard Haptig and H. C. Reichard of the Standard Oil Company, E. W. Seifert of the St. Joseph Gazette, and R. L. Lindley of the Wolfley Automobile Company, Dort distributor.

In the speed test the Dort Six traveled over a measured mile in 61 seconds. In the power test three exceptionally steep hills were pulled in high gear from a standing start in high gear. Twenty-six miles over average roads at the average speed were made on a gallon of Red Crown gasoline.

This is but one of the few tests that are being made on the Dort six in different sections of the country. Recently, Feddy Hampstead, official tester for the Dort Motor Car Company, traveled from Portland, Maine, to Flint, Michigan, without refilling the radiator with water from the time he left Portland. He also made the famous Uniontown Pennsylvania, on high, while it was necessary for larger cars to shift into second.

ANNOUNCEMENT
MANHATTAN CLOAK APPAREL
DEPT. NEW YORK PURCHASES
The Manhattan Ladies Apparel Department, one of the leading lines of fashion for women in Danielson Competition, for many years conducted by S. Kronig and Son and sold by the late Leo Kronig, was sold on Friday to Samuel Weisler of New York. The sale assures the people of Norwich and vicinity who have looked to the Manhattan ladies department as their criterion of fashion that this long established business will not go out of existence but will continue even on a larger scale.
Mr. Weisler is a man of 18 years experience in the clothing manufacturing business has a thorough knowledge of clothing values, especially in women's goods. This is his first venture into the retail business, but with years of success back of him in the manufacturing end, it is certain that the local business will be conducted along the most successful lines. Mr. Weisler intends to bring to the Norwich buying public the very last word in women's apparel, both in fabric and mode. Mr. Weisler while conducting a business in New York has made his home in Connecticut for the past ten years and at present is residing at Uncasville.
The personnel of the store force will be practically the same as when under the old ownership. Miss Mary Bundy, who has so efficiently conducted the business since the death of Mr. Kronig will be retained in an official capacity as will Mrs. Bronaneine. Both of these young women have made many friends during their service with the Manhattan and it is gratifying to old patrons to know that they will continue with the store.
Mr. Weisler has leased the store for a long term of years. He expressed himself as well pleased with the location for such a business and the ideal arrangement for displaying his merchandise. Mr. Weisler also remarked on the cordial way in which he has been received by the Norwich people, especially his fellow merchants and feels that business in Norwich will not be simply a duty but a real pleasure.
The business transactions whereby Mr. Weisler becomes owner of the business were made through the agency of N. Tarrant & Co., and Louis Rosenblatt, also a successful clothing manufacturer, and life-long friend of Mr. Weisler.
The women's department was added to the Manhattan about 15 years ago by the late Samuel Kronig and upon his death was conducted by his son, the late Leo Kronig. Big improvements have been made from time to time in the store and business policies until it has become one of the leaders in the women's apparel business.

INDIAN FROM INDIA FOR Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Both men and women are invited to the Sunday afternoon meeting at 3.30 at the Y. M. C. A. when a remarkable message will be given by Daniel Swanidoss, an Indian from India, who has had a most remarkable experience.

Left as a small boy with his widowed mother in poverty, he has risen until today his name is a household word in hundreds of villages in his native land.

DANIEL SWANIDOSS

His mother, a simple, profound Christian woman, set herself to the task of giving her son a college education. He went through the village school and then to the high school and finally entered the University of Madras where he studies for four years. He was supported largely by his mother who became blind when he was nine years old. For a pittance she pulled a punkah practically day and night. (A punkah is a long, swinging fan in bed rooms, living rooms and offices of Indian buildings, pulled by a rope from the verandah outside.) He finished his course successfully and immediately received an offer of a position in government service, the Mecca of a large proportion of Indian university graduates.

He went out to his village home filled with joy at the thought of being able now to relieve his mother's poverty and to repay her in a small way for all the sacrifices she had made during his course of study. When he told her about it she said;

"Daniel, if you wish to break my heart you will accept this post. When you were a small boy, I promised the Lord that I would give you to His service." That was enough for Daniel and he became a teacher in a mission high school, leaving the school after several years of successful work. He soon gathered about himself a group of consecrated and educated men who are devoting themselves to the relief of villagers, both Christian and non-Christian from debt, disease and drunkenness and other elements of a poverty stricken life.

Mr. Swanidoss is a splendid speaker and has a gripping message.

Bird Weather Prophets.

Birds, some at least, are good weather prophets. The green woodpecker is known in some parts of this country as the "rain bird" because you hear his laughing cry so often before a downpour. The missel-thrush, again, has gained the name of "storm cock," because he sings before wind and rain.

You Know 'Em Like That.

Cynical Doctor (to chronic complainer)—Well, how are you feeling today? Is there anything that doesn't hurt you?—Nashville Tennessean.

Story of Intense Human Interest is Adam's Rib

A story with real human interest is Adam's Rib, Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount which is coming to the Broadway theatre for four days starting Sunday. The theme of the production is the metamorphosis of the attitude of a husband and wife by their young daughter, a typical example of the sensible type of the modern girl.

Anna Q. Nilsson, as Mrs. Ramsay, the wife of Michael Ramsay, a prosperous Chicago business man, played by Milton Sills, has taken a fancy to M. Jaromir (Theodore Kosloff), the exiled king of Moravia. Her husband, fearing that he is going to lose her, hits upon a plan to have Jaromir's country recall him to the throne.

Moravia is in need of funds, and Ramsay, an enormously rich man, buys up all the wheat in Moravia and in return they install Jaromir in his throne, and he is thus taken out of the way. His wife returns to him, after realizing that her interest in Jaromir was only a passing fancy.

The daughter, played by Pauline Garon, saves the mother from discovery while she is at the apartment of the king. Ramsay sees his wife's pocket-book on the table. Mathilde pops out from behind the curtain where she and her mother are concealed and says that she is the one that came to visit Jaromir.

Ramsay is completely taken back, and tells her that she is an outcast, and no man would marry her. Prof. Nathan Reade (Elliott Dexter) whom Mathilde had met at the customs inspection on her return from Europe steps up and professes his love. Mathilda and he are married, and everything turns out well in the end, thanks to the girl. Jaromir is punished by marrying a fat princess awaiting him in his native land.

Mr. De Mille in this production has inserted a sort of "vision" scene similar to the noted "bacchanal" scene in "Manslaughter," showing the life of primitive man as compared to that of present day beings. You will be surprised to note that while centuries have passed since the days of the cave man, the love affairs of the entire human race are now much the same as they were in the time of the "stegosaurus ungiatus," or in plain English—the armored dinosaur.

Other subjects will also be shown. The prices for this super special will be matinee 25c. Evening 25, 30, 40. Matinee 2.15; evening at 7.00 and 9.15.

Breed Theatre

Betty Compson stores heavily in her latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Green Temptation," which is the feature at the Breed theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Miss Compson proves herself a star of many well-developed talents. She portrays a versatile role of a woman whose life undergoes two big, vital transitions. She has three names in the picture and is really portrays three different characterizations.

First, she is the typical French Apache who loves the "rough" and is one of the most notorious female crooks in Paris; then, the theatrical dancer, the idol of the French capital, and during and after the war, the broad-visioned woman, whose complete regeneration has been brought about by the tragedies and horrors of the conflict.

Theodore Kosloff, noted Russian dancer and screen star, plays the heavy role—the Apache—Gerard. Mahlon Hamilton is leading man and others of note such as Edward Burns, Neely Edwards, Mary Thurman and Betty Brice, make up an unusually clever cast.

Topics of the Day and an Educational comedy will make up the remainder of the bill.

Today's bill consists of Milton Sills in The Forbidden Law, Charlie Chaplin in The Pilgrim, Ruth Roland in The Timber Queen, and the Pathe news. Continuous show today from 1 to 10.15.

Next Week in United Congregational Church

Members of the program committee of the Woman's Guild are asked to meet at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Edwin W. Higgins, 120 Union street, at three o'clock on Monday afternoon.

All officers and teachers of the church school will want to make a special effort to attend the supper at the Community house, at 6.30 Monday evening, when Wallace A. Woodin, secretary of the State Sunday School association, will be present, and speak on Things in Connection With Opening Services."

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Sodalitas will be held promptly at half past seven on Monday evening, this to be followed by the Lenten lesson in sewing and work.

Maundy Thursday evening service in commemoration of the Lord's Last Supper, will be held in the church at 7.45 on Thursday evening.

The Camp Fire will hold a ceremonial meeting at the Community House at half past seven on Friday evening.

There will be a Camp Fire hike on Saturday afternoon. All members are asked to gather in front of the Otis library promptly at half past two.

DANIELSON BOWLING ALLEYS
STARKWEATHER BLDG.
BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
FOUR ALLEYS. TENPIN ALLEYS
WEDNESDAYS LADIES DAY.
Bowling is the sport for all. Come and ASK every evening.

IN [illegible] FIFTY YEARS AGO

As Saint Patrick's Day fell during the week of March 17, 1873, local people of Irish descent celebrated it in big style. A fair street parade, a dinner and speeches filled the day.

Numerous other items of the week are taken from the files of the Bulletin as follows:

Monday, March 17, 1873—Many local people have been over to the Norwich and Worcester depot examining the base to the Soldiers' Monument soon to be placed at William's Park. It is expected that some time will elapse before the monument can be placed as workmen are having trouble in digging the setting for the base. The base which weighs several tons will also be a difficult thing to handle.

A high wind struck this city yesterday and raged so violently that the steamer City of Lawrence did not venture out from the wharf. Some damage was done to property near the city and the cornice of a building on Water street was ripped off and hurled to the ground. Pedestrians found considerable trouble in navigating the streets.

Several friends of William Greenman, whose shop and tools were burned recently have contributed $300 to make good his loss.

Arrangements have been made for a walking match at the Fairground, between the Reverend Berry Stetson and Dr. Thurber of Boston, for $100 a side.

Tuesday, March 18, 1873—St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in this city in royal style by sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle. Early in the morning the streets filled up with people all wearing the conspicuous color of the day. The Norwich Hibernians met their New London brethren at the railroad station and a big street parade was held. Following the outdoor festivities the companies returned to Uncas Hall, or to Breed Hall where a bountiful repast awaited them. Hon. John T. Wait was one of the speakers of the day, after which Seneca S. Thresher, John W. Murphy and W. H. Shields spoke. In the evening at Breed Hall an address on progressive Irishmen of the age was delivered by Hon. Richard McCloud.

The railroad bridge at Yantic took fire yesterday from sparks from a locomotive. The bridge was soon enveloped in flames and seemed doomed but an alarm to the Yantic boys was in time to save the structure.

Gen. Hy. William B. Greene and Judge Merwin are among those who are endeavoring to organize a rifle club in this city.

Rose bugs have actually appeared on the West Side of the city, a sure sign that spring is at hand.

Wednesday, March 19, 1873—The water in the Thames river is so low that the steamer City of Lawrence has been held in this city for several days. The Boston had to take her place and sail between New London and New York. The Lawrence and the Norwich are both heavily loaded with freight and will get underway sometime today.

The Rev. Treadwell Walden entered upon his duties as pastor of St. Paul's church in Boston, on Sunday, and from all accounts his congregation was more than pleased with his sermons.

Three thousand Bushels of Virginia oysters have arrived in the city, and life is temporarily brightened.

Thursday, March 20, 1873—The Norwich Suspender company which was organized some months ago with a capital of $24,000, has completed a building on Jail Hill and has begun the manufacture of elastic goods. The manufactury is run by steam power, it is expected that about 3000 yards of webbing will be woven daily when the machines are running full time. The finishing of the goods is practically all done by the prisoners at the jail, which is a good thing for the guests of Mr. Beckwith, the county and the manufacturers.

A new daily to be known as the Press is soon to be started in Worcester and one of the owners will be S. T. Stanton, formerly of the Bulletin.

An organization has been formed to see that St. Patrick's Day and the Fourth of July are properly celebrated in this city. The officers are M. McQuirk, president; Dr. P. Cassidy, vice-president; John W. Murphy secretary and W. H. Shields, treasurer.

There was a fire in the rear of L. W. Harvey and Co.'s brewery on Franklin street last night. The fire raged furiously in the barn in the rear of the brewery and before the flames were smothered damaged to the extent of $600 had been. There is no insurance.

Friday, March 21, 1873—The work of clearing out the debris from the building of Edward Chappell on Central Wharf, lately injured by fire, began yesterday. Hardly had the first pile of rubbish appeared outside when a crowd of men, women, and children gathered and carted everything away. They worked like ants all day despite the storm and by night the stock of fuel in many a poor home had been substantially increased.

At the annual conclave of the grand commandery of the state of Connecticut held Tuesday at the asylum of Crusader Commandery No. 10 of Danbury it was voted to hold the next conclave in Norwich. Among the officers elected were the following from Norwich: Em. Sir John W. Stedman, G. Rec.; Em. Sir C. W. Carter, G. St. B.

Last evening a vehicle appearing to be a large blanket, a basket and a meat axe and drawn by a donkey was ambling along going into a yard on the West Side, Railway suddenly broke down. In full of the storm the curious crowded around and saw within the thing, pans, stoves, household articles and even human beings. It was thought that they came from some far off country place, perhaps from Yehnstown and were making an early start for the sea-shore. After fixing their vehicle, so called, they resumed the trip, and were last seen out in the storm. Judging from their speed they should reach Noank by next fall.

The fair man arrested for burglary in Springfield has been bound over under bonds of $10,000. He claims a spirit makes him steal.

Saturday, March 22, 1873—A middle aged agriculturalist from Jewett City who raises cabbage had heard of the fame of a Franklin street saloon keeper in his far off land and came here during the storm of Thursday to dispose of $75 head of cabbage. When he arrived the saloon keeper who is wise in the ways of the world hesitated about the sale and offered the farmer something hot. The friends from up country said he was a deacon and didn't drink, but as he was chilled would take a smile. Instead as a new born babe he fell for the stuff handed to him and then the sale began. Three and one half cents a pound was asked first. More smiles followed and then the farmer feeling happy sold for a cent and a half per head. He then went to Franklin Square and left his oxen and team and went visiting. When last seen the farmer who had recovered his senses was on the New London turnpike in search of his steeds.

The Willimantic Journal says Leonard Uncas, a grandson of the celebrated chief Uncas and the last of his name, died in this village Wednesday night, aged seventy years. He has resided in this vicinity most of his life, was an expert fisher and hunter and a hard working man.

Two boat loads of coal bound for this city failed to arrive on time. The boats have been put in to Bridgeport having sprung leaks on the way up the sound.

ARE YOU TIRED DULL, LANGUID?

DOES your head ache, are you tired when you get up, is it hard to arouse enough ambition to do even the smallest tasks?

That's a sign of sluggish, impure blood. That's warning to get a bottle of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and purify your blood and build up new strength and energy. For over 30 years Gude's has been the favorite tonic and blood enricher of many thousands of people. Your druggist has it, in both liquid and tablet form.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan
Tonic and Blood Enricher

SUNDAY SUBJECTS

At Park Congregational church services by the pastor at 10.30 morning. Sunday school at noon.

At the Stalkmet Station, 38 Shetucket street, prayer and praise service at 10 a. m. Bible class, Sunday school at 1 p. m. Preaching at 3 and 7.30 p. m.

At the Christian Science reading room, 218 Thayer building, 10.45 a. m. service, subject, Matter. Sunday school 11.45 a. m. open to pupils up to age of 20.

At Grace Memorial Baptist church, Rev. R. L. Thomas, pastor, preaching morning and evening, by Rev. W. C. Morehead of Hartford, Conn. Sabbath school at 12.00.

At Trinity Episcopal church, there will be Holy Communion at 8.00 a. m., morning prayer at 10.30, church school at noon and evening prayer and sermon at 7.30 p. m.

At the Spiritual Academy, Park street, Rev. Belle C. Miller of Providence, counselor, will speak and will give psychic messages at 2.30 in the afternoon and at 7.30 in the evening.

At Y. M. C. A., 3.30 p. m., an unusual man, Daniel Swamidoss, an outstanding native leader of India, will deliver his wonderful message in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Both men and women are cordially invited.

At St. Calvary Baptist church, Rev. B. Elias Jackson, pastor, 11 a. m., theme, Bring Them to Me; 12.30, Sunday school; 6.45 p. m., B. Y. P. U.; 7 p. m., theme, The Great Commission. pastor will preach.

At the A. M. E. Zion church, 10.45 a. m., preaching by the pastor, theme, The United Christ, 12.30 church 7.45 p. m., Rev. W. C. Moreland of Hartford, will preach. There will be services every evening of Holy Week.

At St. Andrew's church Rev. F. C. Williams, pastor, Palm Sunday, there will be Holy Communion and sermon by the rector at 10.30; church school and confirmation. Instruction at 12; evening prayer and sermon at 7.30. In the evening, the G. F. S. will have their admission service to senior membership.

At the First Baptist church, Rev. E. C. Dunbar, pastor, at 10.30 morning, worship, subject, Marching With the King. Junior church at same time, 12 noon, church school, at 6 Young People's service, leader, Mrs. E. C. Dunbar; subject, Indian Christians; 7 o'clock worship, subject The Unbroken Circle.

At the United Congregational church Alexander H. Abbott, minister. Morning worship at 10.30. Mr. Abbott will preach. Childrens' talk, The First Shadow; sermon, The Memorable Day. Church school at noon. Home time, Community house at 6.30. Mr. Abbott will speak to the young people on One Week in the Life of Jesus.

At Central Baptist church, Rev. David A. Pitt, D. D., pastor. 10.30 a. m., morning service, sermon by the pastor; The Call to the Colors. noon Sunday school, City Bible class for men; 3.00 p. m., Sunday school at Preston chapel; 6.30 p. m., Young People's meeting; 7.30 p. m., evening subject, Excused. The Ordnance of Baptism.

At the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, J. Harlow Graham, minister, Palm Sunday, at 10.30 a. m., Morning worship with talk to children and sermon by the pastor, The Kingship of Christ. Church school at 12, John H. Stanton in charge. Epworth league at 6.30, leader, Isabel Rodier, topic, What Jesus Expects of Me. Evening service at 7.30, with sermon by the pastor, Marching to the New Jerusalem.

New London County

At St. Mary's church at the last Mass, Matthew, Mark Gazzetta, pastor, Crossbearer, Lewis A. Dorsi; Thurifer, Elmer H. Bates; Taperers, Moses Tatro; junior beadle, Peter E. Cote, Arabian, three years. Beadle LaChapelle; delegates to convention, William A. McGuire, Alfred T. Dupont; Alternates, Owen Rami, Charles A. Downing. The following committees were also elected: Amusement committee, chairman, Edmond St. John, Owen Rami, Eddie LaChapelle, Elijah Gaudette and Marshall H. Herbert; Foresters' Memorial day, chairman, Joseph Gravelin, J. Frank Hall and William A. McGuire.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. M. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Ritchotte and son William and Peter Magrey have returned home from Philadelphia, where they have been visiting friends.

Miss Agnes MacDonald of Providence is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDonald.

The supper given at the chapel on Tuesday evening was well attended.

Joseph Dupont of New York city and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Malmail of Baltic visited relatives in town on Wednesday.

Send this advertisement to The Plant-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

Lenten devotions were held at St. Thomas' church Sunday evening. Rev. Fr. McCabe of Jewett City was the preacher.

Several from the village attended the entertainment at Pachaug given by Pachaug grange on Thursday evening.

Do You Know Kapok

The former camphorwood or kapok has a pronounced camphor odor when fresh, says the American Forestry Magazine. It belongs to the dipterocarp family, nearly all of the trees of which are tuniferous.

FITCHVILLE

On March 21 many friends of Mrs. J. L. Barber gave her a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stark. It was an old-fashioned surprise. Games of various kinds were enjoyed, refreshments were served, and Rev. W. D. Hetherington, on behalf of her friends, presented her a money token of their high esteem. Mrs. Barber very fittingly replied.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

The C. E. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Stark. The subject was Factors for Making the World Better: How Can We Help? Matt. 5: 13-16.

ROAD SOCIETY

Dr. Thurman Main of North Stonington was a visitor here Monday.

Mrs. Park of Stonington has been at H. E. Townsend's a few days.

Two million gallons of gasoline can be produced from 800 pressure stills in one state by a single large oil company.

Windham County

Abington—There will be a morning service at the Congregational church Sunday. The Rev. Harvey M. Lawson of Union will preach.

Wauregan—At the Wauregan Congregational church. The next Lenten sermon will be on The Sufferings of Jesus. Evening sermon on A Living Example. Church school at 12. Young People's meeting Thursday evening. Teachers' training class Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Willimantic—At the First Congregational church, Rev. Harry S. McCready, pastor, the Sunday morning church school will meet in the Church House at 9.45 a. m. and the Disciples class will meet in the Grex room.

The morning worship will be at 10.45 o'clock and the subject of the sermon will be "Wings of the Morning."

At 7.00 p. m. the Sunday evening institute will meet in the Church House. The classes will meet for the last time this season and it is hoped that they will be largely attended.

Tolland County

Mansfield Center—Rev. H. W. Tillinghast will preach his last sermon as pastor of the Spring Hill and Mansfield Center churches Sunday, taking for his subject, The Church of the Living God. The Christian Endeavor service will be led by Mrs. W. R. Davoll, the topic being Educational Missions at Home and Abroad. At Spring Hill the leader will be J. S. Owens.

VOLUNTOWN

On Monday evening Court Liberty, No. 132, F. of A., held the annual election of officers, and the following were elected: Chief ranger, Alfred T. Dupont; sub-chief ranger, Charles A. Downing; treasurer, Louis H. Ritchotte; financial secretary, Thomas McDonald; recording secretary, J. Frank

Pure—Fragrant—Economical

"A [illegible] Tray, Sanitary and Convenient"

BLACK (Heavy Triple Cut) MIXED or GREEN

— JUST TRY IT —

DOCTOR IN DOVER COMMENDS "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

This Wonderful Fruit Medicine Relieved Torturing Eczema

Dover, New Hampshire.

"In 1916, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief. I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a siege of suffering.

My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen I could not do any obstetrical work or operations. It was about three months ago I chanced to read an advertisement of "Fruit-a-tives" about a person being relieved of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and "Soothe Salva." I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and one of "Soothe Salva" and am entirely free of Eczema.

My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the results that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies."

H. N. OLZENDAM, D. V. M.

"Fruit-a-tives" act so excellently on Eczema because these wonderful tablets, made from fruit juices and tonics first of all, rid the system of impurities. "Fruit-a-tives" regulate the bowels, correcting the Constipation which is usually present in Eczema. When the bowles, liver, stomach and skin are all regular and in healthy condition, the blood is pure and there are no impurities to be deposited on the skin, causing Eczema, Pimples and other Skin Blemishes.

If you have any skin trouble, such as Eczema, try "Fruit-a-tives"—50c. a box. 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent by

FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

Ottawa, Can. London, Eng. Christchurch, N. Z.

The S&W Self-Service Grocery Co.

272-274 Main Street Norwich, Conn.

153 Central Avenue, Corner Sixth Street, Greeneville, Conn.

Bedard Building, Prospect Street, Moosup, Conn.

Suggestions For Your Saturday Shopping

MEAT DEPT.

POULTRY

FRESH KILLED GOLDEN WEST FOWL, lb.... 39c

MILK-FED ROASTING CHICKENS, lb..... 38c

PORK

PORK LOINS Whole or Half, lb..... 20c

SMALL LEAN FRESH SHOULDERS, lb.... 14c

CORNED SHOULDERS Sugar Cured, lb..... 15c

HOME-MADE SAUSAGE MEAT, lb..... 25c

VEAL

NATIVE VEAL for Roasting, best cuts, lb. 25c to 28c

VEAL CUTLETS, lb. 44c

BEST VEAL CHOPS Pound 37c

STEWING VEAL, lb.. 15c

LAMB

SMALL LEGS LAMB Pound 35c

LAMB FORES, lb.... 22c

BEST LAMB CHOPS Fresh Cut, lb..... 43c

STEWING LAMB 2 Pounds for..... 25c

BEEF

BONELESS RIB ROASTS OF BEEF, lb..... 30c

BEST CUTS OF CHUCK ROASTS, lb..... 17c

LEAN POTTING PIECES, Pound 12c

GROCERY DEP'T

FANCY PRINT BUTTER Pound Prints..... 52c

3 POUNDS $1.53

BANCROFT COFFEE Introduction Price Pound Package 33c

JELLO, JIFFY-JELL, TRY PHOSA—all flavors Package 9c

LARGE JAR AMERICAN MUSTARD, jar..... 10c

ARMOUR'S VERIBEST JELLY, tumbler..... 10c

LARGE SELECTED FRESH EGGS, dozen. 32c

3 DOZEN FOR 95c

STANWICK SWEET CHOCOLATE Large Cake 10c

3 FOR 25c

CAMPBELL'S TOMATO SOUP, can 9c

FULL LINE JUST ARRIVED BEECHNUT PRODUCTS

SOLID PACK TOMATOES, can.... 11c

BORDEAUX CATSUP 8-oz. bottle 10c

BOND BREAD Try It—It's Fine Loaf 12c

FRUIT DEPT.

SUNKIST ORANGES 20 for 25c

EXTRA NICE FLORIDA ORANGES, Pineapple Brand, dozen..... 35c

FANCY TABLE APPLES Dozen 28c

3 DOZEN 80c

LARGE BLUE GOOSE GRAPE FRUIT 10c

3 FOR 25c

FANCY NEW HAMPSHIRE BALDWIN APPLES, peck 69c

EXTRA FANCY FRESH SPINACH, peck..... 31c

NEW CABBAGE CARROTS, BEETS RIPE TOMATOES AT SELF-SERVICE PRICES

MEAT DEP'T

WORCESTER HAMS, Whole or Half, lb..... 22c

SMOKED SHOULDERS Small and Lean, lb.. 13½c

COTTAGE HAMS, lb. 35c

FRESH CUT CALVES LIVER, lb..... 40c

BEEF LIVER, 2 lbs... 25c

SUGAR CURED BACON, lb..... 29c

ALL KINDS OF COOKED MEATS

WAIT ON YOURSELF—IT PAYS—GET THE HABIT

ANNOUNCEMENT!

FROM THIS DATE ON

THE MANHATTAN'S

Ladies' Wearing Apparel Department

IS TO BE CONDUCTED BY

SAMUEL WEISLER

A Well Known New York Clothing Manufacturer

Mr. Weisler Has Just Purchased the Business of This Well Known Norwich Concern.

THE SOCIAL CORNER

ANGER BEGINS WITH FOLLY AND ENDS WITH REPENTANCE.

SOCIAL CORNER POETRY
Contributed.

The English maid is charming and proper as can be,
She knows the art of loving, and true to her ownership.

The Scottish lass is cheery and bright in her ways,
Through stormy lands her lover keeps sang her loyalty.

Ah, Fraulein of the Danube, her eyes delight are, like the peach
That ripens the sunlight's flushes, where autumn assures reach.

And mademoiselle from Paris, so gay and piquant style,
Is grace and art in motion, entrancing as her smile.

The Spanish Senorita—of her the poet sings!
The dreamy eyes, the raven hair, the throbbing heart that clings!

The saloon, blue-eyed, witty, the boast of the Emerald Isle,
Is all the world to the Irish lads, who bow before her smile!

But give to me the sweetheart, of all the gems the pearl,
The pretty, brave vivacious miss—the charming U. S. Girl!
—Sent in by Crimson Rambler

Just a Bit of Happiness

Generous hearts are always giving,
Giving, giving, every day,
But 'tis they joy in living
As they pass along their way.
Some of gold can give full measure,
Scattering largess o'er the land,
Some have naught of golden treasure
Yet they give with lavish hand.

Just a bit of happiness,
Just a gleam of mirth—
That's the gift we need the most,
On this queer old earth!
Wealth has wings, and flies away,
Fairest things grow old,
But a bit of happiness—
That is purest gold!

Do you have no need of grieving
If you have no gold to give;
Priceless gifts, beyond believing,
You may lavish while you live—
Gifts to all, in hut or palace—
Not a heart but needs them sore—
Give, and still your youth's bright chalice
Shall be brimming evermore!

Just a bit of happiness,
Just a gleam of mirth—
That's the gift we need the most,
On this queer old earth!
Wealth has wings, and flies away,
Fairest things grow old,
But a bit of happiness—
That is purest gold!

Just a bit of happiness—
Oh, its golden worth—
Makes a priceless, treasure-trove,
Of our dear old earth!
Wealth has wings and flies away,
As it did of old;
But a bit of happiness
Hearts may always hold!

Just a bit of happiness,
Just a gleam of mirth—
That's the gift we need the most,
On this queer old earth!
Wealth has wings, and flies away,
Fairest things grow old,
But a bit of happiness—
That is purest gold!
—By Minnie Leona Upton
Sent in by Salome

Answers and Inquiries.

DON'T WORRY: Cards received and forwarded as requested.

SPRY BIRD: Letters received and sent as directed.

WISHES CORNER TO GROW BETTER AND BETTER.

Dear Social Corner Sisters and Friends: I do not feel able to write much but must salute the dear old flag in the Corner page, and add my name to the list of writers of ten years' standing. I was taken ill the fourth of March, with grip, and now can just get around a little. I am still very weak. The days have been long and weary.

I have not seen the report of the 15th anniversary meeting but I know there was no lack of enthusiasm for the dear old Corner, but that it may grow better and better as the years roll by is the wish of DOM PEDRO (March 23).

PLANNING TO ATTEND APRIL MEETING.

Dear Social Corner: Well, good morning, sisters, how are you all? I hope you are not sick and that many will be able to write this week. It is rather dreary weather but now nice it seems to see so much of the snow and ice gone and the ground showing up. We are all looking forward to the good old summer time when we will be able to get out of doors and sit in the shade of the old apple tree with our knitting and sewing just as we like.

They say everyone has a hobby and I think it must be my hobby to work on rugs. I do so love to work in the pretty colors. I have made several rugs. I would like to see the sisters and get acquainted. I think it is so nice to see different people and we always learn something good from each one. I want to be able to come to the April meeting. Is each one supposed to wear a yellow bow? Someone spoke about the little red schoolhouse and it made me think of some verses I heard some time ago. These are the lines:

How dear to my heart is the little red schoolhouse and how I remember so distant and dim that red headed lad, and the pin that I bended and carefully laid on the bench under him and how I recalled the surprise of the master when Bill gave a yell and sprang up with the pin so well that the bullet head bursted the master which made all the children set up a grin that loud shouting Billy, that high leaping Billie, that red-headed Bill that sat on a pin.

RURAL AUNTY.

SNOWS

Dear Corner Members: The great snow storms of March 13th, 1888, had become the principal topic of conversation of the day.

All other subjects have to wait. The general question, and it is the old one, was there ever anything like it?" On the spur of the moment the answer usually is no.

Recall, however, say, '93, but not quite in March. The month of great snow storms in February. The greatest of these storms in New England, between February 17th, 1717 and continued through the 20th with an average depth on the level in many places of nine feet. In many instances, cottages, cabins and log huts were buried from sight. In Boston the city in the street was six feet deep of the level, in Dunstable ten feet and in Hatfield Valley, twelve feet.

That storm was like the great storm of 1717. The first observed one every tree and shrub, clothing to the trees, each, as it progressed the cold increased with freezing. Many trees were broken down by the accumulation of ice and snow. The mail from Salem to Portsmouth, which was sent out during the storm, was ten days on the trip, and the return trip was made in seven days.

Of that storm the Hon. John Winthrop writes: We took at the island and cattle, 1,100 sheep, besides some horses and cattle. It was very strange that 24 days after the storm, the people of Winter's Island, in digging out the remains of 180 sheep found, two of them alive which had kept themselves alive by feeding upon the wool of others. For very many years after old people dated events as so many years prior or before "the great snow."

The following are the heavy snow falls on March for the past half century:

1841—March 4—During the night ten inches. During the month four snow storms, aggregating twenty inches. April followed with six inches, five of which fell on the 13th.

1843—March 16th and 17th, the fall was 12 inches, on 27th, five inches, and during the month 26 inches.

During April following, 10 inches.

1863—During March was the heaviest snowfall of half a century, 31 inches. During April following, five inches.

1845—During the month of March, no snow fell.

1876—March 17, St. Patrick's day, a snow fall of 15 inches, and during the month 32 inches.

1887—On the 5th and 6th days of March, the fall of snow was over 15 inches.

One has to go but a few miles north of here for snow in March and April, too. The following are from a memorandum which was printed in the Concord, N. H., Monitor of a year or two ago.

"May 16, 1834, ground white with snow. Six inches deep on the hills in Warner and vicinity; two feet at Haverhill, N. H."

"1836, March 22—Snow three feet deep on level in the woods and very solid. April 3, snow more than two feet deep and very solid. Ox teams crossing the Merrimac river on ice at Kimball's Ferry.

Good sleighing without interruption from Nov. 20th, 1835 to April 1st, 1836. (131 days.)

"1843, April 1—Snow 2 1-2 feet deep in the woods, and it is now snowing.

"April 2—Snow four feet deep, 3rd, teams engaged in breaking roads to Federal bridge, Little Bend and up Washington street. Snow drifts as high as the fences, 4th, teams passing on the ice at Butter's Ferry, 10th, very cold, snow 3 feet deep; 11th, country sleighs passing with loads.

"1852—Good sleighing from Nov. 11th.

1851, to March 20th, 1852, without interruption, (129 days), April 15, snow 2 1-2 feet deep in the woods, and it is still snowing.

This is the way they have had snow storms on the other side of the Atlantic. The great snow of 1794, in Scotland, is the most extraordinary of which there is any record.

In one night the snow fell to the depth of over eight feet. In some places lofty trees were covered. By that storm seventeen shepehrds lost their lives and thousands of sheep and other animals were destroyed. One farmer reported a loss of 1,400 sheep. After the storm had somewhat disappeared there were found collected together by it violence, in one spot, the bodies of two men, one woman, 45 dogs, three horses, nine cattle, 30 hares and 1,400 sheep.

Guess this winter is trying to copy after olden times. We have five feet of snow on the level and still snowing March 16th. I want to thank the sender of my calendar. Better late than never.

I am sure we will all miss Rural Delivery.

BALSAMFIR.

METHODS OF PRESERVING EGGS.

Dear Cornerites: Eggs for winter use are generally packed in April when they are cheapest. The first essential in packing eggs is to make certain they are absolutely fresh when packed.

There are three different methods.

The first method is to preserve them in water glass. To eight quarts of water add one pint water glass. Put in an absolutely clean stone jar and drop the eggs into it when freshly gathered. Be sure the solution covers the eggs and keep the jar covered when not in use. It must be set in the cellar or some other cool place. The water evaporates at times and then add enough more of the solution to keep the eggs covered. The proportion of glass to use is one-sixteenth the quantity of water.

Another method is to pack them in oats or clean oats, standing the egg on end, small end down. Do not allow them to touch.

The last and newest method is to brush lard over the shells of new-laid eggs to stop the pores—paraffin also can be rubber over them. This prevents loss of weight by evaporation of water as well as the entrance of air from outside. When properly coated, not too thickly, the eggs are put in baskets or boxes upon a bed of tow or odorless shavings, then set in dry room. The eggs must not touch one another, otherwise a mold would develop and putrefaction would result.

Preserved in this way the whites and yolks of eggs preserve their color while the taste is not modified in the slightest degree.

KITTY LOU.

HOW TO MAKE A SQUARE BRAIDED RUG.

Dear Social Corner Sisters: What a crowd we had at our anniversary meeting and such a fine dinner. And what an inspiring number our Social Corner anniversary page was! When I opened my Bulletin and saw the flag I felt a patriotic thrill. Then it had beside an unusual lot of nice letters.

I wonder if many of the sisters of the Corner have been reading the letters in The Bulletin concerning the prophesying, preaching and teaching by women in Bible times and present times. Some of our brothers don't seem to take a kindly view of women taking prominent places of the same reason. It count to be of no little comfort to us at this time of the year when we remember the sufferings and death of our Lord that when His brethren all forsook him and fled the women stood by and showed their love and sympathy. Then, too, it ought to make us glad that Christ commissioned a woman a saved sinner to carry the best news the world has ever heard: (Go tell my brethren I am risen and go before you into Galilee). I say the best news for Paul said: "For if Christ be not risen then is your preaching vain and your faith is also vain. We are all realize in a measure at least what the truth of the resurrection means for us.

Several of the sisters have written about braiding rugs the past winter. I have made a large one and am making another which is to be square cornered, which makes an agreeable change from the usual oval or round mat. A good mine is made by taking nine strand and make a braid twenty-six inches long, then turn the corner by taking the middle strand of the last row and the one next to it and braid back to the last row. Then turn the corner in the same way and so on until the mat is the desired size. Sew the strands together with a needle and thread. Use a mixture of colors to suit the owner's taste. Some arrange the braids side by side to sew. A good combination of colors is two black, two dark blue, two gray and three bright colors. Keep each color by itself and with a little ingenuity you can make the colors form a diamond square or herringbone pattern.

Dorothy Dyke: I enjoyed your letter very much and think you must feel quite encouraged, for where I live we have several places of good old bare ground, although there is plenty of ice and snow left. And when the hot days come next summer, let us not complain, but thank God and take courage.

Best wishes to the editor and all the Social Corner sisters.

LITTLE SISTER.

TABLE MANNERS.

Dear Sisters of The Corner: Always be prompt in attendance at meals particularly when you are a guest of another.

Never seat yourself at table until your host or hostess gives the signal and never until all the ladies present are seated.

Always sit quiet in your chair, neither too near the edge of the table nor too far from it.

Always let the napkin lie upon your lap, never spread it across the breast.

Never lean upon the table.

Never touch anything upon the table unless necessary, either the food or table furnishings.

Never take more than one plate of soup.

Never crumble bread into your soup nor into your cup.

Never press food upon a guest when he has refused.

Never be disturbed by any accident that may occur; if possible, let it pass without the slightest notice.

Always as host or hostess, serve all the ladies present, including those of your own family, before helping the gentlemen.

Never make a noise in sipping your soup.

Never cool your soup by blowing upon your spoon.

Always take soup from the nearest edge of the plate by moving your spoon from you.

Never, should you be so unfortunate as to meet with an accident, make known your regret at the time other than by your expression, but take the earliest opportunity of apologizing to your host and hostess in private.

ETHELYN.

URGES ACCOUNTS OF CLUB MEETINGS.

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I was glad to attend both the anniversaries, and to meet so many that I used to, when we met on Valley street. I'm sorry to learn of Amy's illness, also Dew Drop's. Hope they are both well by this time. I expected to meet Selinda and Huldy, also Mary France, but was disappointed. I wonder if the sisters read the children's page? I've found some poetry that I used to hear the older girls recite when I was in school. I never knew the title or if there ever was such a poem printed; so I've cut it out to keep. It was the "Monkey's Wedding."

I agree with Nema in regard to having an account of our gatherings written up so those who are unable to be with us can know what is going on; and even some that are present would like to read about it. Bob White used to write good letters telling of all the doings. Wurdy Belle was another good one. Hope someone will write all about our next meeting.

Guess I celebrated your birthday by "wearing of the green."

Best wishes to all.

JOAN.

SOCIAL CORNER A GREAT TONIC

Dear Editor and Social Corner Sisters: I am breaking that old saying, three times and out, for this is my fourth letter in succession. I attended the gathering Feb. 7 at the Buckingham Memorial and had a splendid time. I was the guest of Old Fashioned Mother. Believe me, she is not old fashioned at all but right up and doing. I also attended the gathering at Willimantic and had another enjoyable time. The Social Corner smile and handshake was present and to me it was a pleasure to have a tap on the shoulder and to hear a pleasant voice saying, "I am glad to see you." I am glad I belong to this great body of women that has helped to make the Social Corner a success. On Social Corner days if the windows need washing and the stove needs blacking and there is a basket of stockings to darn, forget it and go to the Social Corner and the next day the work that looked like a mountain will only be as big as a grain of sand. You will have made a new acquaintance and a new friend. If you doubt my statement come and see.

With best wishes from one

SISTER READY.

ANNIVERSARY OF CLUB NO. 1

Dear Sisters: Last Wednesday weak the weather man dealt us a good hand of fine weather, and 136 of the Cornerites gathered at Franklin hall, and celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of our jolly club.

Tehoda was the hostess and was an ably assisted by Practical Polly, Eliza Jane, Whoa January, Patty, California Girl, Old Top and Golden Rod.

Theoda was beaming with love and faithfulness, Practical Polly was right on the job as usual, Eliza Jane and Whoa January never had time to stop, Patty was pattering everywhere all day, California Girl and Golden Rod were there with not only flowers but many other favors, and Old Top proved her name was not chosen in vain, and they altogether made things hum.

The tables were very attractive in their yellow decorations, including candles, flowers and gay baskets tied with perky yellow bows, filled with delicious rolls, and two fine birthday cakes.

The menu was as follows:

Escalloped oysters, beef loaf, mashed potatoes, macaroni, rolls, buns, salads, pickles, cakes and pies galore, plain doughnuts, raised doughnuts, cheese, crullers and coffee and a yellow kiss at every plate. There was Victrola music during the dinner hour. It sounds good may you who were not there, but let me say it was 100 per cent perfect, and our dear hostess and assistants deserve the highest commendation for no one had to wait long for any service, and our member greatly exceeded our number of waiters as planned for.

Three rousing cheers for faithful Theoda and her helpers.

After dinner came the toast. What? Well the auction of foods was well patronized and what became of the birthday cakes.

There were sent to our dear editor and the office force and by the thank you note it seems they tasted as good as they looked.

At another stand was fancy work and at another Easter hand colored cards.

Listing names of members in our books kept us busy all day, for someone inquired, Are they a writer's club? Ask a Norwich Sister.

The entertainment was a play—

NEIGHBOR EVERREADY

LETTERS ALMOST AS GOOD AS A VISIT.

Dear Sisters of Social Corner: Well today is rainy, so though I would write a few lines to the Corner. Are you not all glad that good old spring time is on the way. It has been such a cold winter but we will forget all about it in a few weeks from now. I do like to read the letters from the sisters. When I read the letters I feel as if I had a good visit with folks.

Sarah T.: You live so high that folks who would love to see you cannot get up there. Hope to see you soon. Hope you had a good time on your Boston trip and found every one well.

New York Girl: I received your card but no address. Could not send my back. Hope you have been well this winter. I don't feel very well. I think the winter has been hard on young and old.

I hope to be able to go to the April meeting. I, too, think Calla Lilly is the right person in the right place.

Best wishes to you all.

SLOW.

MANY OLD MEMBERS WHO HAVE NOT WRITTEN

Dear Sisters of the Social Corner: What a nice page full of letter again in last Saturday's Bulletin! But I still think there are a lot of the older sisters who have not written. It certainly does one good to read the different letters and we get lots of ideas and so many good recipes.

Lo: Am going to try your pineapple sponge pie some time. Now I don't know if I'm right, but will you answer this question, is your better half out with a sore hand? I hope I've guessed right, as I'd like to know if I know any of the Corner members. Wished I knew a lot of them.

Thirty-two: Thanks. The others are four and six.

Free Air: Will answer your question some other time. The baby would surely give you a smile. He smiles to any one who notices him. How is Mister Fresh Air? I have one little boy sick a bed just now.

Best wishes to all.

ANASTASIA.

LIKES THE IRISH SONGS.

Dear Editor and Sisters of the Corner: Well, St. Patrick's day has come and gone again and one more notch towards spring. It always seems as if spring is most here when St. Patrick's day comes. I thought Mr. Gapundhog was going to stick his head out and think summer was most here but he must have popped back into his den again for a few more naps. Never mind,

To know the joy of living friend,
As long years roll away,
Just bottle up the sunshine,
A smiling face each day.
So should clouds come and showers fall
And earth and sky look sad,
The cheery rays you fling about
Will make some other glad.

Just bottle up the sunshine friend,
Aye, let your heart be gay;
The gladness shining in your face,
Will brighten all the way.
There's much of sorrow in the world,
So sing a glad refrain;
To line the clouds with golden beams
Will vanquish strife and pain.

I think the Irish songs, many of them have a melody that is sweet and I love to hear them sung or played. When we heard on the radio the other evening I would like to have heard them all over again. Among my favorites are Where the River Shannon Flows, Come Back to Erin, Roamin in the Gloamin, Mother Macree and others that I can't remember the names of.

Who can beat the Irish wit? An Irishman was walking in New York one day, his first visit to America. As he came to Central Park he saw a beautiful parrot. He reached out his hand to stroke his plumage and the parrot turned and asked, What do you want? Excuse me, sir, said the man, but I thought you were a bird.

Best wishes to all.

SPRY BIRD.

GREETINGS FROM CAPATOLA.

Dear Social Corner Friends: It is some time since I sent a word of greeting but I have been enjoying the letters very much and am so glad each week to see the Corner page full and overflowing. I was much disappointed at not being able to be present at the anniversary at Buckingham Memorial. Was all ready to go, and so was the cake, when the weather man made things look so forbidding that I dared not venture forth, being slightly past twenty now. Please don't smile at that, Deliah Deal, but keep mum. We all seem agreed on one thing and that is that spring cannot arrive any too soon.

Hope to meet with you again in April.

Best wishes to all.

CAPATOLA.

HERMITS.

Dear Editor and Social Corner Sisters: The old adage is, "Little folks should be seen and not heard." I have been real good for some time, but after attending the Social Corner Club No. 1 in Willimantic, I feel that I must speak in meeting.

The kind hospitality of those sisters will long be remembered. A most appetizing menu was served by "cute" little waiters in their club colored bonnets. We were also entertained by a drama entitled, "Gossip Well Portrayed," by amature artists. My only regret was the time was too short. Am sending recipe for hermits by request.

Hermits: One and one-half cups of sugar, three eggs, one-half cup butter, one-half teaspoon soda, dissolved in a little milk, one teaspoon of all kinds of spice, one cup raisins. Mix rather stiff and roll out.

POCAHONTAS.

ALSO REMEMBERS EARLY TRIPS TO NORWICH.

Editor and Social Corner Members: I am taking up space again to say I also remember those trips to Norwich which Rural Aunty speaks of. I almost thought I wrote those lines myself when she speaks of father, mother, and us girls starting for the city. My father always wanted to get an early start, as we were some miles away. My sister and I getting quite excited in hustling to get ready by the time old Dobbin was at the door. Then it was quite a drive, now only a short distance with the up to date auto. We were just as much interested each time in being told here is the Benedict Arnold place of old, here is where Miantonomo jumped from the rocks, and other interesting places pointed out to us by our father and sometimes our return trip was by where Uncas was buried. Also I recall the shopping which mother did while father was about his errands. One time mother was selecting material for some dresses for us. The merchant was Mr. Wrkridge. (Don't stop to count back, those that remember him, to see how long ago that was for we were

I hope now that the "gurry" shows coal to over. But only a person who's worry is housekeeping. If only he had to follow the advice my father used to give, "Do your best, leave the rest, and don't worry and everything will come out all right."

I hope to meet with you sometime in future and get acquainted.

BRENDA.

STANTING SOCIAL CORNER GARDEN.

Dear Social Corner Friends: I am pleased to note so many old pen names in our Social Corner page. No more room for ads if we all keep busy. I am wondering how many members we now have. I thought sure I would be in time for the anniversary with my call, but better late than not at all. I always enjoy the Corner letters, often wish I could be with you at some of your jolly good times.

I have not had much time for play the past few months. One member of the family was in the hospital a month, another was hurt quite badly by an auto, and it has seemed as though each day in any old way, it might get at least a little better.

I just made a start at he Social Corner garden his week. The ground is pretty cold and wet yet. Am going to plant sweet pear tomorrow. Have crocuses and primroses blooming. The wild lilies are just blooming out.

Jim's letter describing the capitol building of Connecticut was very interesting to me as I never saw it. Well, Washington's capitol building is not very grand, but I am proud to say that the city of Seattle has more nice little homes, owned by the common every day working people than any other city in the United States, outside of the city of Detroit. In "the Henry Ford City" I understand they own their own homes.

Iola: The two songs you mentioned in your last letter are the songs my mother often sang when I was a child. She is nearly 84 and still remembers many of the old songs of long ago.

Rural Delivery: I wrote in haste and what I meant to say was Rural Aunty. Please excuse the error as I know you still wonder why I mentioned your private life. Am glad to hear you and Mrs. D. D. have traveled life's road together so many years.

I was sorry to hear so many of the sisters have been ill. I surely hope they are all better ere this.

We will all enjoy the warm weather when it comes.

Joan: I am wondering how you are, also Bo Peep and Aunty No. 1.

The clock tells me it is lunch time, so will close with best wishes for the Corner and its workers.

As ever,

SISTER POTLATCH.

WANTS RECIPE FOR LADY FINGERS.

Dear Social Corner Sisters: It has been some time since I have done anything for the Corner page so will send in a nice recipe for coffee cake. I am sure anyone that tries it will like it.

Coffee Cake: One cup of brown sugar, one cup molasses, one cup butter or lard, one egg, one cup strong coffee, two cups raisins, one teaspoon cinnamon clove, nutmeg and soda, four or five cups flour. Mix quite stiff and bake in moderate oven for one hour or until done. This makes two large cakes and it is very good.

I would appreciate the kindness of any sister that could send in a recipe for lady fingers. I don't think there has ever been one on the page I used to have a nice recipe for them but it has been lost.

ANNA Z (April 25).

OUR INTEREST IN HUMANITY.

Dear Corner Writers: Have you ever stopped to think that we need more heart; we do not care enough for our neighbor's welfare; we concern ourselves too little about the cares and responsibilities, the sorrows and sufferings of others? There are depths within us that have never been touched, sympathies that lie dormant. Oh, for the heart to feel and love as we ought! Let us cultivate a deeper interest in humanity and influence will kindle other hearts and quicken other spirits and the world will be better for our having lived in it.

Deep feeling is contagious. Words poured forth from burning hearts are sure to kindle the hearts of others. Hearts that can stand everything else are often melted by a tear. Let the heart palpitate in every line and burn in every word

Poor indeed thou must be if around thee,
Thou no ray of light and joy canst throw,
If no silken cord of love hath bound thee
To some little world through weal and woe.

PAULA.

MAKING TEA AND COFFEE.

Dear Corner Sisters: Pay as you go and if you can't pay don't go. Try this plan one year, see if it does not produce greater comfort of mind than the opposite one of running in debt. Think of this when the agent wants to sell you a new flivver you don't need.

Use fresh cold water to make tea. Take three teaspoons of tea and four cups cold water, let come to a boil and then remove. I know you will say it is fine.

I always make coffee with cold water. Take one cup of coffee, stir in an egg, then put in the coffee pot three tablespoons of this coffee with four cups of water for four persons. Let it come to a boil. Then let stand five minutes, put in a little cold water to settle it and then strain off. Put by the rest of the coffee fixed with egg for the next time.

Yours for the good of the corner.

RYE BROCK.

BIRTHDAYS.

Dear Sisters of the Social Corner: One of the sisters referred to the anniversary meetings as the birthday parties of the Social Corner, and I think it rightly named. I forgot to mention that a large birthday cake was served at the table for a remembrance of the 13th anniversary held at Norwich. It was intended every one should share as a part, and I hope they did. I did not learn from whom the cake came, but it was very attractive to look upon before it was cut, and just as nice to eat, after the knife had divided it in to many parts. Now in regard to birthdays, I think everybody looks forward and backward to that one day of the year that is personally "ours." It is a joy to the little ones of early age to have something special for that day—a little party means so much, a gift of any kind, not necessarily expensive—but it's the pleasure of that day itself, and the remembrance of it, in years la-

BETTER FURNITURE
FOR BETTER HOMES

AT GUARANTEED LOWEST IN THE CITY PRICES

We Solicit Your Patronage on Four Cardinal Points:

1—QUALITY — Artistic, Dependable Furniture that Transforms Any House Into a Home.

2—ASSORTMENT — So Large and Varied That You Are Sure to Find the Right Style for Your Home.

3—LOW PRICES—Fully Guaranteed to Be the Lowest in the City.

4—We Suppose That Most Norwich Knows These Things But It Doesn't Hurt to Repeat.

HOURIGAN BROS.

COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS

CRAWFORD COOKING RANGES

62-66 Main Street

ter. Many of us do not grow old in one sense as the birthdays advance, for the one idea that it is "our" anniversary brings the thought of the milestone, more than the age. I recall with fond memories the many thoughtful expressions of mother's love, as my birthday anniversary came each year and I am glad that I remembered her. I think parents and children ought especially to observe these memorial days, for it means so much at all times. I regret I was unable to attend the birthday party of the Corner held at Willimantic on the 14th, as I had hoped to do, but disappointments come to us all, and we must try to forget them, and hope for another opportunity.

Best wishes to all and a success to the Social Corner, in our work as we enter on the 14th year.

JENNIE (June 5).

LOOKING AFTER THE YOUNG PEOPLE.

Dear Editor and Social Corner Sisters: Let me congratulate you on your thirteenth anniversary. Isn't it just dandy to have had this corner of Social Corner letters for so long. Surely I think it is just lovely and here's wishing many more happy birthdays for it. What nice letters we have had these last few weeks. The pages have been full and some on another page each week also.

What lovely rains we have had to take away the snow and ice we have had nearly all winter. Soon the robins will be seen and heard around our doorways and wont we be happy to see and hear them.

I love to look up at the stars and hunt for the big dipper way up in the sky.

I noticed Silver Locks wrote last week of old weather signs. I suppose our grandfathers went by those signs a great deal and if they did I guess it behooves us to also.

Did anyone ever notice in the summer that if the day was to be pleasant a fine dew was found on the grass in forms of little nets? I always look for these and when I find them I always know it will be pleasant.

I read one letter a week ago of one of the sisters about keeping the young folks interested at home and keep them away from the movies. Those are just my sentiments and we do try to make our home happy for each other and them. My daughter plays the piano, my son a violin and a young man who stays with us plays a guitar and they play so well together we have lovely times. We dance and play games and enjoy it just as much as the young people do. Wish you could just peep in on us some evening and see how much my mother enjoys the music. You would truly think she was about sixteen. We keep young with the young and know where they are and what they are doing.

Well, I must not take up too much room as there are so many nice writers who can write such lovely letters that must be found room for.

Old Fashioned Mother: Where are you? Not sick, I hope. Haven't seen or heard from you for a long time.

Best wishes to all.

YELLOW DAISY.

FINDING OUT ONE'S FRIENDS.

Dear Social Corner Sisters and Editor: Well, dear sisters, when I wrote last was in hopes I was over some of my illness for this winter, at least, but no, I never get slighted when anything "nice" like the grip in good shape is going the rounds. Have been confined to my home for two weeks and a half with the grip, one week in bed, and I certainly did suffer. But now the snow is going I am trying to brace up a little and hope to be able to walk out doors in a few days more, if I do not have another relapse, and they tell us we should never look backward, but press onward, thinking every day will be better than the day before. I find when you are sick or in trouble you find who are your best friends. Sometimes it is someone you least expect is such a good friend. By the way, I found Kitty is just the kind of a friend I like, and I certainly appreciate all she did for me. Kitty, your cake was great. Thank you so much. Also Eliza Jane's scalloped oysters and Practical Polly's "tea and toast," also the macaroni and cheese. Hope I can do as much for all of you but not in the same way. All I certainly prefer to do a favor without waiting for you to be sick to receive one. Also I wish to thank all the sisters who called on me and friends. Had quite a little surprise when C. E. S., Kitty, Frances and Theoda's daughter—am not sure of her pen name—all called at one time. The only trouble, sisters, was your call was too short to suit me. Next time try to make it longer.

"GOLDEN RULE" BILLS FOR WOMEN'S EQUAL RIGHTS TABLED IN HOUSE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, March 23.—A thirty-five minute session disposed of all the business brought before the house today. It was called to order at 11.15 by Speaker Nickerson and adjourned at 11.20 till next Tuesday.

Business received from the senate included the twenty-one "Golden Rule" bills introduced by Senator Golden, all of them being sponsored by the National Woman's party. The bills which are for equal rights for women were on motion of Mr. Darbie tabled.

The bill regarding the employment of children in street trades received from the senate, having been rejected by that body, was quietly put to sleep, the house concurring with the senate in its action.

On motion of Mr. Fenton of Windham, H. B. 510, introduced by Mr. Walker of Plainfield, the house reconsidered its action of yesterday in rejecting the bill. The bill was tabled. It relates to posting of the price to be paid weavers when the goods are put on the looms.

The bill consolidating the town and city government of Middletown was favorably reported by the committee on cities and boroughs. They also reported a bill that requires the same fireproof construction of a private school as is required for a public school.

Willimantic Police Court Salaries.

The judiciary committee reported favorably a bill concerning salaries of police court officials in the city of Willimantic. It provides that the judge of the city court shall receive a salary of $900, deputy judge $150, prosecuting attorney $800, and assistant, $150.

Rejects Police Pension.

Senate bill 46 that provided for pensioning all policemen in the state was rejected in concurrence with the senate, as it was within the province of the municipalities to take care of this matter.

Bills taken from the calendar and passed were: An act concerning retirement of state employes; amending an act concerning appointment of deputies in the factory inspection department; an act concerning town boards of finance; concerning special expenditures authorized by any town having a board of finance; concerning the police force of the city of New London; an act concerning commitment of insane persons.

SENATE.

The committee on the judiciary reported favorably on bills to reduce the number of official copies of laws to certain state libraries, under section 41 of the general statutes, that fees paid the health department, shall be lodged with the state treasurer, that the board of control shall determine the number of public documents to be printed, that annual inventories as to June 30, of state property shall be made and concerning copies of engrossed bills. The reports were accepted and the bills tabled for calendar.

The committee on military affairs reported favorably on the bill for the erection of a new state armory in New Haven to cost $525,000, and $125,000 for a site and for the appointment of commission on construction consisting of the governor, the adjutant general, Hiram Bingham, Charles M. Walker, Murray Sargent and Orville A. Petty. On the recommendation of the committee the bill was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The committee on capitol furniture and grounds reported favorably on the following substitute bill concerning the erection of a tablet over the east entrance to the state capitol commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Trinity college: "The trustees of Trinity college are authorized to erect a tablet on the east face or entrance of the capitol commemorating the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of Trinity college and to mark the approximate location of the college buildings which were removed in order that the state capitol might be erected on the site upon which such college buildings were formerly located. Before such tablet shall be erected the design and location thereof shall be approved by the commission on sculpture." Tabled for calendar and printing.

Senator Cline explained the unfavorable report of the committee on capitol furniture and grounds relating to the removal of snow from the capitol grounds and Bushnell park. The report was accepted and the bill rejected.

The senate adjourned to Tuesday at 11.15.

JEWETT CITY

The Jewett City rifle team journeyed to Plainfield Thursday evening and later brought home the winning score by a margin of 177. The Plainfield marksmen as well as the borough visitors secured some good targets. The contest was 70 feet offhand .22 calibre.

The score:

Plainfield.

J. C. Moslen	229
George Babcock	225
Cantwell	194
Driscoll	208
Burby	191
E. Babcock	193
Bradford	163
Total	1403

Jewett City.

J. S. Hiscox	223
A. L. Stebbins	232
William Marshall	213
Gerald Wolfe	215
Dona Ballou	236
Charles Palmer	236
Paul Geist, Jr.	217
Total	1580

Friday took the ribbon for a spring day so far. The mercury rose to 73, with a mild April sprinkle about sundown. Robins and bluebirds were reported all about the borough. English sparrows having long wisps of dried grass, were seen making steady trips to the Baptist church spire.

Except a few glaciers here and there in the lee of buildings or under a wall, the snow has taken what is hoped to be its last leave. Many people in the borough when asked about it, well remembered the near blizzard the first week in April a few years ago.

There are evidences of spring that often prove infallible, one was noted on Main street Friday noon that admits of no mistake. A small boy was the center of attraction. He had two lively angle worms in a bottle which he exhibited with pardonable pride.

George Rocheleau was in Providence Thursday evening when he attended the annual meeting and reception of the A&P managers' union. Speeches, a program and a general good time is reported. Over 400 were present from eastern Connecticut, eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The missionary societies connected with the Congregational churches in Jewett City and Newent held an apron and food sale in the Jewett City Town hall on Friday afternoon. The receipts are to go towards the missionary apportionments of each church. A large number attended the sale. That the whipped cream cake was unusually good can be referred to a certain family cat, who enjoyed herself immensely lapping off the top layer, before she was unceremoniously separated from the joyful occasion. Mrs. Alex McNicol, assisted by Miss Helen Hull was in charge of the food, and Mrs. John Whalley and Mrs. G. W. Robinson of the aprons for the Jewett City society. Mrs. William Read, Misses S. K. Adams and Clara Hyde were in charge of the Newent sale.

The American Legion Minstrels will attract a record audience for the personnel of the chorus is composed of the best musical talent. Both chorus and solo work are fine. The stage settings and costumes are coming from out of town and will be an added attraction.

It is expected that Rev. Hampton Adams will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church on Sunday morning. C. E. at 7, led by Miss Irene Warner. At the morning services The Palms will be sung by a chorus of young ladies.

Mrs. Faber, mother of Joe Faber, has received a clipping from the Baltimore News of March 20 which is headed "Faber's Work in Oriole's Training Camp Causes the Veterans to Sing His Praises." Faber is said to be the sensation of the camp. Maisel, McAvoy and other Orioles say the rookie infielder is a second Joe Boley. He is the most talked of recruit in Camp Oriole. In the first infield practice Faber startled the veteran members of the squad. McAvoy, batting the balls around to the infielders, did his best to knock base hits through Faber's position, but he came up with the sphere every time. He handled 27 chances in succession without error. Four times he ran over in back of Maisel at third to snatch apparently safe hits with his bare hand.

He is beginning his career much as Babe Ruth did. Maisel and McAvoy can hardly wait until they see Faber on a fast field, where it is difficult for the eye to follow the pellet. He has yet to see his first contest in organized baseball. Tommy Corcoran, former Cincinnati player sent Faber to Dunn, after seeing him play on the State Hospital team in Norwich. A picture of the Orioles in training accompanies the clipping, with Faber the first in line, as he is the shortest man among them.

Easter lilies, daffodils, hyacinths, cinerarias, primulas, ferns, genestas, Easter greeting (pelargonium), begonias and cut flowers, for sale at Whiting's Greenhouses. Telephone your orders early.—adv.

Joseph H. McCarthy, who was one of the men who visited John Sheehy, a manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in Danbury hospital on Wednesday, also called on his brother, Myles McCarthy, who has been in Waterbury hospital for four months. He is a mail carrier and fell on the street, fracturing his hip. An operation was necessary and although now he is able to use crutches, he has not walked a step. Mr. McCarthy also called on his daughter, Sister Rita, who is in St. John's convent in Waterbury.

Miss Irene Roberts is taking charge of Ashland Cotton Co.'s corporation nurse work, while Mrs. Prentice Chase is away for a week.

Mrs. Laura Barber, who has been quite ill is much better. Miss Ida Foster is caring for her at present.

A little before 6 o'clock Friday evening a flash of lightning came with a small roll of thunder. First thunder shower on the 22nd, says a local weather sharp. That means 72 thunder storms for next summer. Another goosebone forecaster inquired about the last winter snow storms, with the first one coming on the 21st of the month and there were 36 snowstorms, so far. He added, they seemed to kind of overrun.

Saleslady wanted for Saturdays and Sundays. Apply Boston Candy Kitchen.—adv.

Jewett City bowling scores for March 22:

Aspinock Inn.

W. Robertson	87	101	117—305
W. Larango	107	91	98—296
W. McCluggage	107	119	105—331
Chartier	87	82	97—256
Sloux	109	120	108—337
	487	513	528—1523

Textile.

J. Lefavre	87	91	101—279
O. Boule	87	116	114—327
W. Chartier	121	124	95—340
H. Paul	122	114	95—333
H. Lefavre	84	111	127—326
	532	546	526—1604

Lucky Five.

B. Osga	92	101	101—294
A. Raney	82	91	105—278
Aremony	91	101	113—305
E. Raney	123	121	110—354
G. Osga	83	91	98—272
	471	505	527—1503

Jolly Five.

J. Smith	87	88	79—258
Franklin	96	87	91—274
W. Blake	76	80	95—251
W. Farley	101	102	88—291
H. Howes	100	103	97—299
	460	470	443—1373

Cured Her Rheumatism

Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. J. E. Hurst, who lives at 608 E. Douglas St. C-97 Bloomington, Ill., is so thankful for having cured herself that out of pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other sufferers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home.

Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell. Merely mail your own name and address, and she will gladly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.

Easter Footwear
For Men and Women

We have an exceptionally choice showing of beautiful SPRING SHOES in new models and have put forth the best that there is in us to please our patrons in every detail.

Our prices are as low as the good quality of the shoes will allow.

ALL NEW STOCK

Women's Oxfords and Strap Pumps ..... $4.00 to $10.00

Men's Shoes and Oxfords ..... $5.00 to $9.00

Also a complete line of Children's Shoes at moderate prices.

We are always pleased to show our goods whether you buy or not.

SMITH'S SHOE STORE

28 BROADWAY — Opposite The Cranston Co.

N. Eugene Smith — Marion E. Baker

MRS. HINCKLEY NERVOUS WRECK

Tells How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw your little book on to my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more, I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—Mrs. O. J. HINCKLEY, 316 Union Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

HATHAWAY'S
Meats and Groceries

Phone 1720-1721 — 67 WEST MAIN STREET

Corned Beef Sale — Some extra fine Corned Beef for Saturday, a real bargain, at per pound... 8c

Pork Loins to Roast—These are good and lean, a real bargain, lb... 18c

Roast Beef Sale for Saturday only. We will sell you our very best Short Rib Roast of Beef, per pound 35c

Pot Roast Beef, cut from the best part of the chuck, per pound.. 15c

Pork Chops and good ones, per lb... 18c

Philadelphia Capon Roasting Chickens, all corn-fed, average from 7-8 lbs., per lb..... 55c

Prunes, good and fat a bargain, 2 lbs. for 25c

Butter—You all know that butter is very high. We offer you our best Tub Butter for Saturday, per pound 55c

Native Eggs, strictly fresh from nearby farmers, per dozen. 43c

Pure Lard has taken a high mark again, but we offer you the best, 3 pounds for 45c

12 lbs. Sugar for $1.00 with 1 lb. of our best black Tea, at lb.... 60c

Flour! A good bread flour, a bargain— per bag $1.00

Challenge Milk A Special, per can.. 14c

Vermont Turkeys and they are fine, lb. 65c

Chase & Sanborn, Seal Brand Coffee— per pound 45c

Cheese — Pimento Cheese, Roquefort Cheese, Young American Cheese, Philadelphia Cream Cheese, Pineapple Cheese, Commonbest Cheese, Full Cream Cheese, Kraft Cream Cheese, Edam Cheese.

Vegetables—New Cabbage, Cauliflower, Spinach, New Carrots, Kale, Sweet Potatoes, Fresh Tomatoes, Green Peppers, Celery Hearts, Spanish Onions, Iceberg Lettuce, Fresh Strawberries.

Don't forget that we carry the best Whipping Cream in Norwich.

NOTICE!—Orders Delivered to All Parts of the City FREE. Come over on the West Side and see one of the Prettiest Markets in Norwich.

SOCIAL CORNER

(Continued from Page Eight)

called Aunt Ida from childhood, to mind.

Don't Worry: Bring the baby along. There is a place you can lay him down. We can find it.

The weather was bad for our March 7 meeting but quite a few ventured out from Willimantic, North Franklin and from Norwich and suburbs. I think they were well paid for going. Although we had no program, they seemed to enjoy a day of social chatting and getting better acquainted with one another. Jennie from Hartford was with us and all were pleased to see her but did miss Priscilla from the same place. Her old neighbors and friends of Norwich would have enjoyed her presence with them.

Included in our Sunshine gift for March I wish to say that $5 were sent to the Salvation Army for their home drive. Isn't it grand we are able to scatter so much sunshine from our club to shut-ins which shows them we think of them in sickness or trouble!

Scottie: I was sorry I couldn't be with the party that attended Club No. 1's anniversary meeting, but owing to so much extra work and time in the store, for son to do the extra work he must attend to, I did not feel equal to it, but I'll try it again before the mail is closed for summer.

Olga: I paid the visit I told you I would make and had a lovely evening with them all. I missed one as I always will when I meet any of you.

Great Grandma: I thank you so much for your letter and package. What a busy woman for 89 years old!

Old Timer: No, I haven't any trace of my Social Corner register of writers. Guess I'll try the ouija board. It works wonders for some. Perhaps then I'll find it. It reminds me of a time I visited an aunt in Providence in my girlhood.

My cousin, then older than I, and married, said, "We will go to one of the Providence opera houses." She got out some beautiful pearl and gold trimmed opera glasses I said, "Aren't those lovely." She said "Yes, I borrowed those and I was at the lady's house (her friend) and she told me she had loaned them to some one and had forgotten who." So my cousin said, as long as she has forgot I'll not take them back, I'll keep them. Oh, I thought that was awful and I never forgot it of her. So perhaps the same feeling goes with my book.

Well, I hear the coal man dropping one ton of coal in my bin. Glad to see him. I was out of it. We will soon be over that coal worry until fall again and then what!

Crimson Rambler: Thanks for your message to me. I try to live my truthful life taught me by my old fashioned mother as I used to call her. Wish there were more like her these days. Easter is end to us as she left us at that time. Our memory of her never lessens as each year goes by. Joan and mother were school girls. Mother was the older. My penname was her favorite plant.

Hubby's Chum: Why so still with the pen? You are not always still, hubby knows.

Silver Locks: That ribbon is ready for you. Send address.

North Dakota: Did your father keep a store by Cliff and Main streets when you lived here and play with a girl called Ina? If so answer and I will tell her.

Best wishes to all.

CALLA LILY.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Saturday, March 24.

WJZ Newark (360 Meters).

7 p. m.—Uncle Wiggily Stories, by Howard R. Garis.
8.30 p. m.—Fashions.
8.45 p. m.—Joint recital by Howard Gee, tenor, and Mrs. Frank P. Ford, soprano.
9 p. m.—Dyeing muslin draperies and curtains at home.
9.15 p. m.—Continuation of program by Mr. Gee and Mrs. Ford.
9.30 p. m.—Current Topics.

KDKA Pittsburgh (360 Meters).

6 p. m.—Organ recital from the Cameo Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7 p. m.—Current events.
7.20 p. m.—Candy and Methods of Candy Making, by V. P. Francis.
7.45 p. m.—The visit to the little folks by the Dreamtime Lady.
8.15 p. m.—Our Navy, by Lieut. Witherspoon, chaplain of the United States navy.
8.30 p. m.—Concert by the Glee club of the Pennsylvania College for Women, under the direction of Mabel Davis Rockwell. Catherine Williams, accompanist; Josephine Dickey, piano; Grace McBride, violin; Martha Crowley, contralto; Elsie McElwaine, reader; Clara Williams, soprano.

WGZ Springfield (422 Meters).

7.30 p. m.—Bedtime story.
7.45 p. m.—Literary evening.
8 p. m.—Concert by The Five Donahue Brothers, accompanied by Miss Catherine Donahue; John Donahue, 2d tenor; James Donahue, bass; Michael Donahue, first tenor; William Donahue, 2d tenor; Charles Donahue, baritone.

WGY Schenectady (370 meters)

12 m.—U. S. Naval Observatory time signals.
12.30 p. m.—Noon stock market quotations.
12.45 p. m.—Weather forecast on 485 meters.

KYW Chicago (406 Meters).
(Central Time.)

6.50 p. m.—Children's bedtime story.
8-9 p. m.—Musical program, courtesy of W. W. Kimball Co. Program will be played from Kimball Hall and will include several selections on the Kimball pipe organ. Isham Jones and his College Inn Orchestra from the Hotel Sherman will give several dance selections. Complete program will be announced by radiophone.
9 p. m.—News, sports and weather report.
9.05 p. m.—Under the Evening Lamp, a service, including stories, articles and humorous sketches.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 meters)

6 p. m.—New England forecast. Late news flashes. Early sports news.
6.15 p. m.—Condition of Massachusetts highways.
6.30 p. m.—Boston police reports. Amrad bulletin board.
6.45 p. m.—Code practice, Lesson No. 24.
8 p. m.—Evening program: 1. Just Boy, a broadcast from the American Boy Magazine. 2. Selections by the Vespers quartet, Stanley E. Crannum, director. 3. Health talk by Arthur E. Baird. 4. Continuation of concert by Vespers quartet.

Sunday, March 25.

KDKA Pittsburgh (360 meters)

10.45 a. m.—Services of the Calvary Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, Pa.
2.30 p. m.—Bible story for the children, The Children's Hosanna, by Rev. W. A. Logan, pastor of the Alpha Lutheran church, Turtle Creek, Pa.
2.45 p. m.—Organ recital by Harry Austin, organist at the Calvary Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, Pa.
4 p. m.—Organ recital by Dr. Charles Heinroth from the Carnegie Music Hall. Dr. Heinroth is organist and director of music of the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa.
4.45 p. m.—Vespers of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, Pa. Rev. Hugh Thomson Kerr, pastor.
7.45 p. m.—Services of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, Pa., Rev. W. Wofford T. Duncan, minister.

WJZ Newark (360 Meters).

10.30 a. m.—Musical program.
11 a. m.—Morning services at St. Thomas' church, Fifth avenue, New York city, sermon by the Rev. Ernest M. Stires, D. D., rector. T. Tertius Noble, M. A., organist, will direct the boys' and men's choir of 60 voices.
3 p. m.—Radio chapel service by the Rutherford Methodist church, Rev. Frederick C. Mooney, D. D., officiating. Program by the church choir, Fred B. Hunt, organist and director.
4 p. m.—What Does the Minister Do? by Rev. George S. Muller, Grange, N. J.
4.15 p. m.—Concert by Isabel Small, soprano.
4.40 p. m.—Frontier Life, by Kitty Harris, of New York city.
6.30 p. m.—Readings and Records from the Bubble Books that Sing, by Ralph Hayhew, Harper & Bros.
7 p. m.—"Coming events cast their shadows before—what present world shadows augur," a fifteen minute analysis and interpretation by the New York Times annalist.
7.15 p. m.—Estey organ recital from the Estey Auditorium, New York city.
8 p. m.—Program by Louis Mann actor comedian.
8.15 p. m.—Concert by Ruth Chase soprano.
8.45 p. m.—Concert by the Waldorf-Astoria Symphonic Orchestra, Joseph Knecht, conductor.
9.35-10 p. m.—Arlington time signals, weather forecast.
10.01 p. m.—Concert by Charles A. Lench, tenor, of New York city.

KYW Chicago (400 Meters).
(Central Time.)

11 a. m.—Central church services from Orchestra hall, Dr. Frederick F. Shannon, pastor. Musical program under the direction of Daniel Protheroe.
3.30 p. m.—Studio chapel services conducted by Edward L. Selonke, a member of the International Bible Students Association. A special musical program will be arranged.
7 p. m.—Chicago Sunday Evening club services broadcast from Orchestra Hall, Chicago. Special musical program by the choir of one hundred, under the direction of Edgar Nelson.

WGI Medford Hillside (360 meters)

4 p. m.—Twilight program: 1. Concert by Miss Alice McLaughlin, soprano; Mrs. Grace Phillips Fleming pianist; Miss Marion B. Watson, organist. 2. Adventure Hour conducted by The Y. P.'s Corporation.
3.30 p. m.—Boston police reports.
3.30 p. m.—Federation chorus, conducted by A. K. DeBra, organist of the First Baptist church of Boston.
9 p. m.—Musicale.

WGY Schenectady (370 Meters).

10.30 a. m.—Service of Westminster Presbyterian church, Albany, N. Y.
4.30 p. m.—Vesper service.
7.45 p. m.—Service of Westminster Presbyterian church, Albany.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Our Men's Store

Everything in Men's Wear—Outfitters to Man and Boy

Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Underwear, Hosiery, Neckwear, Etc.

LET US SHOW YOU—
WHAT'S NEW FOR SPRING

Vest ends are blunt, lapels are notched, suit lines are slightly body tracing. Some fit the figure loosely. Trouser legs are wider. These are some of the season's smartest style touches.

Fabrics show a wealth of variety in color, texture and weave hardly imaginable until you view our Spring exhibit of

Kuppenheimer Good Clothes

Once more the House of Kuppenheimer achieves supremacy in the matter of style distinction and fabric quality. You'll share our enthusiasm when you see the new Spring models.

Suits for the business man, the professional man, the artisan and young fellows in general. Models for every type of figure: attractively priced.

Your Spring Suit is here in the color you favor, the style that becomes you, at the price you want to pay. Sterling values in Kuppenheimer Suits—

At $40.00—$45.00—$50.00 and $60.00

Other Good Suits at $30.00 and $35.00

EXPECT CORONER'S VERDICT IN DIMON AUTO FATALITY CASE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, March 23.—It is expected that Coroner Jeremiah J. Desmond will render to Prosecutor Daniel M. Cronin before Monday his finding in the accident that resulted in the death of Eugene Partlow of Groton about three weeks ago, when he was the victim of the automobile of Dr. John N. Dimon. Dr. Dimon drove an auto which he had been operating but a short time from the garage on Golden street and ran upon the sidewalk on the opposite direction of Bank street as he came from Golden. Whether he stepped on the accelerator when he meant to put his foot on the brake is not known, but it is supposed that the accident occurred in that way. It was a fatal accident for after lingering at Lawrence hospital for several days Mr. Partlow died from the wounds he received. His skull was fractured. Dr. Dimon sought to end his own life. He used a small knife he carried in his pocket, so his attempt failed. He has been in the hospital since the day of the accident. Whether he will be charged with reckless driving or with a more serious offense will not be known till the coroner has fied his report. It is understood that Dr. Dimond calls for the newspapers at the hospital daily and that he has made a collection of all that has been written about the accident, and the events connected with it that followed.

Coroner Desmond, it is understood, examined Frank Moyer of Groton, who is said to have been a witness of the occurrence, Saturday afternoon and when Lieutenant Stanley Knight, stationed at the submarine base, but who is now at Norfolk, returnes to this city he will be questioned by the coroner. It is said that Lieut. Knight observed the speed at which the Dimon auto was traveling when the dash to the sidewalk was made.

The police bill that has been before the legislature and which was introduced by Representative Cronin passed the house today. It had previously passed the senate. The bill provides for the tenure of the policemen during the term of their good behavior and it provides that when charges are made against any officer that officer shall have a chance to be heard in his own defence. The hearing is to occur before a commission composed of the mayor of the city and the judge and asistant judge of the police court—men who are supposed to be familiar with what should be the duty of a police officer and competent to judge of any alleged offense. And, by the way, those who are qualified to judge say that a policeman's job is no sinecure. He is on his feet during all the hours of his tour of duty and in all sorts of weather let conditions be what they may. He is subject to call for any emergency and he must be ready to respond when his services are needed.

The trouble, when there is trouble, is that the best men are not selected for the task. New London has been a favored city in having a competent police department, but it never had one that was more competent than that which it has now. Many of the officers have served a long number of years and they know the city and its people so well that they are fitted for any duty that may be expected of them.

It was the late Robert Colt who presented the original bill in the legislature that gave the policemen a life tenure in office. He seems to have made no mistake for he removed the officers from all political influence by so doing. It would be a mistake to change the provision of the charter that kept the officers in position even when they encountered some politician who became offended at their officiousness.

In all the stores and large buildings where it has been difficult to obtain heat during the winter doors and windows were open today because of the high temperature. It was an easy matter to obtain heat from bituminous coal today where in that was a difficult matter in the weeks preceding. The atmosphere was such as heated easily and the temperature was so high that little heat was needed.

Mrs. Ralph Fister, who has been a patient at Lawrence hospital, was able to go to her home today.

Judge Avery in the superior court today refused to give a decree of divorce to Mrs. George Treadway until he had studied the evidence presented at a hearing this forenoon Mrs. Treadway sued for separation on the ground of cruelty. In the case of Carl Hopf, Judge Avery took the same course. Judge Avery is one of the judges who does not seem to allow divorces unless there is the best of reasons for them.

A thunder storm came to this section at the end of the afternoon today driving persons from the street and putting an end to shopping before the usual hour. It was prophesied that the storm would bring a little cooler weather than that which prevailed today.

John Circia, a Hartford youth, is supposed to be in this city hanging around motion picture houses or pool rooms and his father has requested the police to nab him if they can find him. Johnny is but 16 years of age, but he is difficult to control.

The time is at hand when traffic officers will be necessary at Bank street and Montauk avenue, for there is no more travelled section in the city. During the daytime the place is most dangerous as there is a large school nearby where hundreds of children are being educated. Five streets verge there and the result is that autos are continually passing, some of them at a speed that renders crossing the highway by pedestrians dangerous. The entrance to the Crystal avenue bridge at Main street is another place where a traffic officer is a necessity, for the travel there during the summer is very heavy and autos turning into the road to the bridge as well as those coming away, turn at right angles and round a blind corner. There have been many narrow escapes from collision at this point, but escapes are not to be the order always. Prevention of accidents by watchfulness and guidance is far more desirable than depending upon what is called "luck."

Glenville Phillips, a musician well known in Norwich where he has been an orchestra director at theatres as well as in New London, his home, has been incapacitated from playing the piano since last November because of a difficulty with the heart, but he is now practically recovered and the advent of the warmer weather will find him at the piano again.

Miss Irene Renne has become a cashier at the Mohican hotel.

A. S. Carpenter of Bayonet street will leave the employ of the city of New London in the finance department Monday. Miss Helen C. Gorman, now a clerk in the department will succeed Mr. Carpenter.

Agitation goes on in the way of suggesting the purchase of the Williams property for a site for a federal building here. It is doubtful whether the agitation will bring any results for the government is understood to be averse to appropriating money for federal buildings. Though the New London case differs from any other inasmuch as the investment here would be in the nature of a business proposition that in the end would prove a profitable one for the government in that money would be saved by selling the property here the government now owns, to buy the site that is needed and have the government offices under one roof. The money may not be forthcoming until another budget is made up. It has been figured out that the change would be a profitable one for the government to make.

William W. Williams, who was emigration commissioner at New York under the Roosevelt administration, and his sister, Mrs. General Crozier, are the owner of the property.

New London lodge of Elks will have a new set of officers with the year beginning April 1st. A committee to arrange for the installation was appointed at the meeting Thursday evening with Julian Moran at the head of it. Frank McCormick was selected to arrange for the entertainment for the members the night of the installation ceremonies.

Coal dealers declare that the demand for fuel has dropped to a degree where there is no difficulty of supplying all wants. People who were burning soft coal up to this time and who were unable to get the heat they required now say that the mild weather has caused the coal to burn freely and that they have all the heat wanted.

The police are looking for Louis Doan, a boy of 16 years, who is wanted for the theft of $15 in cash from the Charlopp house at 291 Huntington street. Louis got away with the money it is said, but he seems to have thought that checks and notes he took when he is alleged to have taken the cash would be worthless in his possession or, that they could not be negotiated so he dropped them in an out of the way spot where they were later found. Charlopp complained to the police as soon as he discovered his loss and officers were given a description of the youth and were told to find him, if possible.

They did not succeed in locating Louis, but soon after the request for his arrest was made Charlopp notified the police that the checks and notes had been found. They aggregated $600 in value Charlopp told the police.

Few nights pass when the police of this city do not find the doors of stores unfastened. So the officers declare that either merchants or their clerks are very careless in this respect.

NORWICH MEN TO BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, March 23.—Joseph Basile, a Norwich barber, and Charles Levanto also of Norwich, are to appear in the police court Saturday morning to answer to a charge of booze running, and the former is also charged with carrying a concealed weapon on his person without having the required written permission of the mayor or captain of police. Basile did have a written permission from Chief Linton of Norwich, but that was not legal permission in this city.

The men were arrested in New London after midnight last week Wednesday when Sergeant Hick and Patrolman Philopena saw them stop their car at the firemen's lunchroom. The officers thought they recognized Levanto and so they looked into the car the men had left in front of the restaurant. Their scruity disclosed that there was a five gallon can of alcohol there as well as a gallon glass jug. These were evidence in the opinion of the police officers that the men were violating the Volstead law.

When questioned Basile declared that he was ignorant of the fact that there was any alcohol in the car, and told the officers if there was such liquid there that it was put in the car by themselves.

When they were arraigned in the police court the following day Basile asked that the case should be adjourned that he might get the services of Attorney Charles L. Stewart of Norwich to defend him. The request was granted and Lawyer Stewart will be in court tomorrow to make a defense for the men acused.

It is said today that the defense of the accused may be that they were transporting denatured alcohol, and it is also reported that they claim to have possessed a permit to transport alcohol for use in the barber business.

SWITCH TENDER KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, March 23.—Mariano Palmetti, of Bank street, employed as a switch tender for the Connecticut company at Bank street and Montauk avenue was injured this evening when an auto driven by Walter L. Hillyer of 38 Spicer avenue, Groton, and who is a dealer in autos in New London, ran him down. Palmetti was injured so that he was taken to Lawrence hospital but did not remain there long for his condition was such that he was able to be conveyed to his home. It is said that at times Palmetti finds difficulty in clearing the switches and that he is often obliged to lay down to accomplish his work.

Few men understand the art of love-making, but women are always ready to afford them an opportunity to practice.

The Boston Store
Norwich Reid & Hughes Co. Conn

Easter Reflects Its Happy Mood Throughout the Entire Store

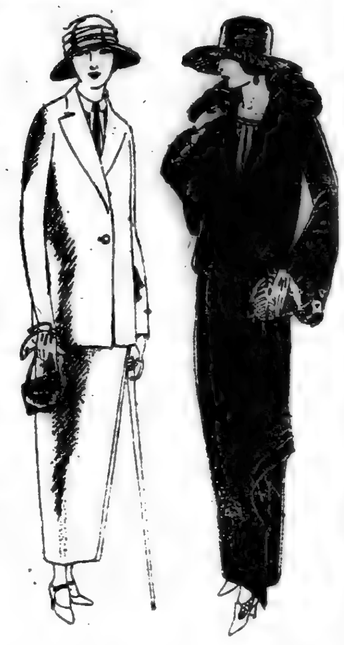
The gayest time of the year is bekoning with its wands of mystic colorings and unique designs. Bright colors, gay panels, soft drapes and picturesque designs, some in Oriental harmony of contrast, cast the spell of a new influence, and Fashion rejoices again. Too, accessory departmnets have not been neglected, and the more "prosie" counters and cases tell the story of Spring.

A Cordial Invitation Is Extended to All to Visit Our Interesting Displays

IN THE APPAREL SHOP

Spring Has Arrived With Wonderful Showings of the Newer Styles

Special attention has been given to securing a large selection of Coats, Suits, Dresses—smart apparel of all kinds—at prices which will be full of interest to you. Although prices are modest there has been no sacrifice of style, fit or finish, and they are all hundred per cent. values.



COATS AND CAPES
$15.00 and $29.50

Do you wish a Sport Coat of character and real quality—or a Coat or Cape of newest styles for a reasonable price? If so, you will not pass these by. Tans, navys and blacks—plain and overplaids — many of them silk lined throughout.

SUITS
$29.50 and $39.50

Clever two and three-piece affairs, in tan, navy or black Piquetine and Poiret Twill. Box Coat models with wrap-around skirts—long line designs, strictly tailored—some Jacquette models braided or embroidered. All of them attractve in every way.

DAINTY SPRING FROCKS, AT $10.00—$19.75 and $25.00

We have more expensive ones it is true, but at these three prices we can surprise you. There are Canton Crepes, Flat Crepes, Taffetas, Alltyme Crepes and other popular weaves. There are styles of all approved varieties. There are colorings almost without number. Your dress is here.

Sweaters and Golf Coats
$1.95 to $12.50

Separate Skirts
$5.95 to $12.50

Boston Store Boys' Shop

BOBBY SAYS:
"As I see it Easter is a time to pay a little more attention to Clothes as well as to Religion."

When the world dresses up on Easter morning every self-respecting boy will want to feel that he "belongs." To his youthful mind that means being neatly outfitted with a spick and span new suit. For that matter all of us feel pretty much the same way. In this store you will find dependable, tasteful clothes and things for boys, that will fit in with the "new" spirit of the holiday.

Boston Store
"Double-Service" Suits
$8.50 to $18.00
(Every Suit Guaranteed)

Kaynee Blouses
Separate Knickers
Juvenile Suits
Bell Blouses
Straight Pants
Wash Suits
Top-Coats
Caps and Hats
Neckwear

EVERYTHING FOR THE BOY

SPRING TOGGERY

FOR THE HOUSE

A Few Values Which Will Prove of Much Interest

RUFFLED CURTAINS

Voile, Scrim and Marquisette Curtains—ruffled — and right here let us say that ruffled curtains are still THE thing. All are 2 1-4 yards long and have tie- backs finished with loop—

Regular Price $3.00 ..... SPECIAL $2.39
Regular Price $2.25 ..... SPECIAL $1.95
Regular Price $2.19 ..... SPECIAL $1.85

$3.50 Quaker Net Curtains
Pretty Filet Net Curtains of distinction, finished with good lace edge—
Special $3.19

Scrim and Marquisette
The two most used curtain materials. They make up well and will always look well after laundering. Sold regularly for 29c a yard—
Special 23c

Duralin Floor Covering
A heavy, water-proof covering, two yards wide, in a big variety of designs and colorings. Regular price 85c a square yard—
Special 65c

Our Cretonnes
A bewildering array of colorful Cretonnes is displayed on our third floor. It is a pleasure to choose from a stock at once so large and so moderately priced.

18 CARPET SIZE RUGS, 9 by 12
AT LESS THAN WHOLESALE PRICES

$75.00 SEAMLESS AXMINSTERS..... FOR $49.00
$60.00 SEAMLESS AXMINSTERS..... FOR $40.00

NOVELTIES

Glove Silk Hosiery
A firmness and a fineness that is to be found only in this material. Plain or basket weave in black or gray—
$3.25 a Pair

Lace Clocked Silk Hose
A charming novelty. Fine silk, prettily clocked in lace effects. The colors are black, brown and gray—
$3.25—$3.50—$4.00

The Ubiquitous Bandana
Call it Deauville Scarf if you will. It is gypsyish, jaunty, full of color and pep, and mighty popular. Paisley and Oriental patterns and colorings in triangular and square scarfs—
$1.25 to $6.50

Kid Gloves
Real Kid Gloves, properly made, all sizes, and all the colorings. Just the thing for Easter Sunday are these good but inexpensive gloves—
$1.50 a Pair

Milady's Pajamas
Smart, dainty useful and ornamental. So pretty it's too bad they can't be worn more generally. In Oriental Silk from $7.98 to $10.98. In fancy crepe weaves—
$2.50 to $3.98

Dainty Rompers
Baby's spring time demands new clothes as much as does that of mother's. The pretty little Rompers are made of Chambray, of Poplin and Soisette—
$1.50 to $3.50

Delectable Spring Hats at $6.00

ABOUT ONE HUNDRED BEAUTIES

Charming, every one of them, and in such variety of style, shape and coloring that any type, or age may be suited. The spring colors are really exquisite, embracing as they do all of the newer shades, and be you young or old, light or dark, slender or inclined toward matureness you will surely find one which you will want to wear home.

EASTER HATS — $6.00

FOOD SALE—CHARITABLE CIRCLE, KING'S DAUGHTERS, SATURDAY, MARCH 24th, AT 1:00 O'CLOCK, IN DOWNSTAIRS STORE.

The Latest of Easter Footwear

STYLE AND QUALITY COMBINED
FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY
AT OUR REASONABLE PRICES.

GOLDBLATT'S SHOE STORE
46 FRANKLIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH TOWN

The Missionary committee, Mrs. James B. Aldrich, chairman of the Young People's Christian Endeavor society of the First Methodist Episcopal church, held an entertainment and social in the church vestry, Wednesday evening, which was largely attended. The programme follows: Hymn, O, Zion Haste, ouspicaes; Lord's Prayer in unison; vocal solo, Louise Luppert; piano solo, Away to the Woods, Mark Aldrich; reading, Mrs. A. D. Zabriskie; piano solo, Deeds of Valor, Florence Brown and Ethel Miller; vocal solo, At the Gates of My Palace of Dreams, Lewis Aldrich; piano duet, Dance of the Sunflowers, August Miller and Gladys Cruthers; piano solo, Convent Echoes, Florence Brown; vocal duet, Miss Florence M. Bennett, and Mrs. Zabriskie. This was followed by a missionary dialect entitled, Mrs. Smith's Mite Box. The participants were, Fannie Edmiston, Ethel Miller, Florence Brown, Hazel Cruthers, Blanche Wheeler, Ines Edmiston, Lewis Aldrich and Le Roy Miner

During the social hour, several games were played, and the missionary committee served refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Alfred N. H. Vaughn will give an address on the Passion Play, which she saw while in Europe at the First Congregational church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Endeavor association.

Monday evening at 7.30, in the First Congregational chapel, Scout Executive Frederick A. Benton and one of his valuable assistants, Scout Ralph H. Marsh, will meet the Norwich Town committee, Frederic H. Wyant, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey and Charles P. Learned, to further the plan of organizing a Boy Scout troop in Norwich Town.

The outcome of the committee meeting on Wednesday evening was most encouraging and it is hoped a large delegation of boys will attend the meeting Monday evening in response to the several invitations that have been sent to boys eligible to become scouts.

Rev. Charles W Hanna, pastor of the Bozrah Congregational church, will be the officiating clergyman at the Shelton Spring Arms service on Sunday afternoon.

John C. Hinrichs, D. C., of Town street has purchased a handsome new automobile of the coupe model.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY

Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills for pains in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic for constipation, biliousness, headaches and sluggish bowels. Lee & Osgood Co.

WESTERLY

Thomas Hope for many years agent of the Pawcatuck Woolen Co., and a member of the school committee of the town of Westerly, has resigned his position and will go with the American Woolen Co., where he will be employed in the [illegible] This will create a vacancy in the Westerly School committee.

The amended bill for Mother's aid which was sponsored by Rep. Davis of Westerly was passed in the Rhode Island house of representatives by a vote of 54 to 6. Two republican representatives voted with the democrats to add two amendments to the bill originally drawn by Mr. Davis and the amended bill passed.

Grand Knight William Donovan, of the Narragansett Council No. 21, K. of C., has authorized the statement that the national headquarters of the Knights of Columbus are to hold a short story contest. Prizes of $500 will be awarded. The first prize is $250 and other prizes of $150, $100 and $50.

The contest is to promote the cause of clean fiction and to undertake the discovery of new talent. The winning stories will be published in the Knights of Columbus Magazine. No story can be longer than 10,000 words nor shorter than 5,000.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—Adv.

The members of the Christ Episcopal choir are to render the cantata "Seven Last Words," by Dubois. The soloists will be Mrs. Jessie C. Davison, soprano; Mrs. [illegible] of the Christ church, Harry H. Coleman, tenor and Edgar P. Marion, baritone. They will be assisted by an orchestra of two violins John H. Sutcliffe, Paul Reitzel; viola, M. C. Tuttle; cello, Charles E. Rexford; cornet, Stanley S. Livingstone; trombone, Hobart Livingstone.

Martha M. Rathbun, age 90 years, died at her home on the post road Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Easton of Stonington was a caller in Westerly Friday.

STONINGTON

Thursday evening the Ruth chapter No. 22, O. E. S. held a whist party, in Odd Fellows hall, and there were many tables played. First ladies prize went to Mrs. Ernest Williams, gentlemans prize, Billings Fairbrother. Ladies consolation prize went to Tilson and Augustus Miller took the man's consolation.

Wednesday afternoon Trumbull Relief Corps met in session at Brayton hall and four new members were initiated. Refreshments were served at the close of the business meeting.

Friday evening the men's club held their regular semi-monthly meeting at Community hall and enjoyed a most able address by Hon. C. C. Costello, of New London. His topic was "The Rotary Movement in the U. S. It's Object and Aim". Refreshments were served.

There was a large attendance of both men and women.

The members of the "T" group met with Lawrence Brooks at his home, on Elm St., Thursday evening. Rev. D. C. Stone, gave the instruction lesson. Refreshments were enjoyed.

Friday robins were seen in Stonington and the first spring-like day put in its appearance.

Lineman of the telephone company have been working in the borough installing new cables on the poles, that were blown down by the severe storms here.

Miss Helen Koelb, who is studying to be a trained nurse at Hamburg, Pa., is spending her Easter vacation at her home on Elm St.

Those who were interested in forming a dramatic club in the borough met with James H. Walsh, Wednesday evening. The organization is to be known as the St. Mary's Dramatic Club. American dramas all to be taken up and if possible will be staged before Memorial day.

Miss Gladys Dewey has returned to her duties in Brooklyn, having been the guest of relatives here during the past week.

Many cottage owners at Lord's Point make trips here from out of town every Saturday and look over their places. Those who have cottages from Norwich are Dr. and Mrs. A. J. La Pierre and Herbert R. Branche.

The daughter of the Covenant of the Second Congregational church met with Mrs. D. C. Stone at the parsonage by the sea, and a social time was enjoyed in honor of Mrs. Eleanor Ussher of East Northfield Seminary, who is spending her Easter vacation here with her aunt. Refreshments were served.

MYSTIC

Friday afternoon the Mystic league of voters held a meeting in Community house. Mrs. C. C. McCaughey gave a most interesting talk on women in industry. A large number of women attended.

Friday afternoon the members of Four ounces

—an honest quarter pound of BAKER'S
Caracas Sweet Chocolate

Pure
Wholesome
Delicious

Made from only high grade Caracas cocoa, pure cane sugar and flavored with Mexican vanilla beans.

MADE ONLY BY
Walter Baker & Co. Ltd.
Established 1780
DORCHESTER, MASS.
Booklet of Choice Recipes sent free charity chapter sewing circle of Wyatt met with Miss Millicent Main in Noank.

The funeral of Richard Lee Olde was held at his home in Old Mystic Thursday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Oakley and Rev. J. G. Osborne of the Union Baptist church of Mystic officiated. Interment was in Elm Grove Cemetery Friday.

At the Thankful Heart party held at the Methodist church last Wednesday $30 was taken in to be used for the current expenses of the church.

There is a great deal of interest in the proposed [illegible] town meeting. Just what is to be done in the matter will be of interest to autoists who live in this section who are obliged to use the Dudley St. Baptist hill daily.

PLAINFIELD

There are many places in the state road which are badly broken through with deep ruts, but one of the worst and most dangerous is on the grade between the A. C. Tillinghast store, and the old post office. Almost every day, machines and trucks are imbedded and stalled at this point.

Annie Brelsfor, eleven years of age was taken suddenly sick on Sunday with an attack of appendicitis and she was removed to Backus hospital in Norwich where she died on Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Skinner is with her daughter, Mrs. Otis Skinner in Moosup, where the little granddaughter Gertrude, two years of age, is not expected to live, being sick with bilateral pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bouley are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son, born March 11.

Miss Mollie Baxter, attending school in New York city, is at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Baxter, recovering from an attack of appendicitis.

There was a good attendance at the neighborhood meeting held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Barstow. The service was led by Rev. William C. Prentiss and the music was conducted by Miss Dorothy Tillinghast. This was the eleventh meeting in the series which is discontinued for the present.

The work of preparing for the giving of Pinafore is going on nicely under the leadership of James Hoyle. The principals met at the home of Mrs. Myrton Phillips early in the week and the chorus of young women met with Miss Helen Gallup on Friday evening.

James Bukner of Franklin, Maine, was in Plainfield Friday visiting his sister, Mrs. Cecil L. Butler.

The Sunday school social and entertainment held in the vestry of the Congregational church Thursday evening was a very pleasant affair, and over $25 was realized for the new chairs for the vestry. The following programme was announced by the superintendent, C. L. Butler: Piano duet, Alfred Royal and Earl Butler; selection on the mandolin by H. H. Halloway and Miss Ancona Halloway; Roy H. Barstow, pianist; a very interesting demonstration of sign work was given by sixteen girls under the leader, Miss Nelsie Hartwell of the Community house; recitation by Frances Mathewson; piano duet, Helen Greene and Helen Krauss; solo by Miss Florence Onderdonk; comic sketch by Ray Greene and Albert Bibeau.

All the ladies present furnished boxes of lunch which were sold to the gentlemen at auction, Walter and Raymond Lathrop acting as auctioneers. Ice cream was also sold. The committee in charge were Clarence Jeffers, Helen Gallup, Dorothy Tillinghast, Mrs. Fred Lyons, Ray W. Greene and Miss Vivian Cleland.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Miss Barbara Chapin of Boston is visiting her mother, Mrs. T. C. Chapin, on Grant avenue.

Mrs. E. L. Burr has returned to her home in New Haven after a brief visit with her brother, John M. Leach and her mother, Mrs. Leach.

Joseph H. Valentine has returned from a month's vacation in Florida.

At the meeting of Stafford council, Knights of Columbus to be held in St. Edwards' hall Sunday afternoon there will be an exemplification of the third degree. District Deputy Cunningham will lead the degree team and will be assisted by former State Deputy William J. Mulligan of Thompsonville.

Stafford people are pleased at the favorable reports of the committee on roads, bridges and rivers of the general assembly on the bill making the road from West Stafford to Tolland a part of the trunk line system. This road goes by Crystal Lake, a popular summer resort and is the shortest road between Stafford and Rockville.

Mrs. John G. Wightman died at her home in Stafford Hollow Friday morning, after a brief illness. Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, Clifford Wightman of Hartford and Herbert R. Wightman, teller at the First National bank in Stafford Springs. She also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Park of Stafford Hollow.

The guarantors of the 1923 Chautauqua have elected the following officers: Chairman, John R. Parkhurst; vice chairman, Gerald Shepard; secretary, Miss Edith Adams; treasurer, F. G. Sanford; advertising committee, William Symonds, William Whittaker and Richard Valentine; committee on grounds, Walter Scott; committee on hospitality, W. H. Heald; ticket committee, Miss Mary Smith.

An effort is to be made to have the Chautauqua here the last week in June instead of the last week in July.

Mrs. Clinton Bradway of West Stafford is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Eerkman in Colchester.

Miss Edith Matthews of Staffordville is visiting relatives in Hampden, Mass.

John Bowden has bought the Regina Dupeau property in Stafford Hollow.

Miss Julia Mullins is visiting her brother, Daniel Mullins in Springfield.

WAUREGAN

J. A. Atwood and daughter Dorothy are visiting points of interest during their stay at Miami, Fla.

Send this advertisement to The Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich, with your name and address, and you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free.—adv.

John Thomas Smith, for 48 years employed by the Wauregan company, and for several years overseer of weaving, has handed in his resignation, to take effect in the near future.

Paid Fine in City Court.

There was a short session of the city court Friday morning, the only case coming up being that of state vs. Herbert L. Harris. He was charged with breach of the peace and had failed to appear in court Thursday morning. A fine of $17 and costs, amounting in all to $27.23 was made [illegible] Harris [illegible]

LATEST CREATIONS FOR EASTER

They have the sparkle of style, and good taste, and possess perfect fitting qualities, economy in wear and leadership in fashion.

We have these models in Patent Leather, Gun Metal, Calf, Brown, Grey, Black or Beige Suede, in Oxfords and Pumps, high and low heels, and very reasonably priced. It Will Be Our Pleasure to Show You These Styles.

Shoes of Distinction For Men, Women and Children.

Ahleman's Shoe Store
310 MAIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

ECHOES FROM THE LODGE ROOMS

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE

Two candidates were initiated Thursday evening at the regular meeting of Lafayette council, No. 257, which was held at the Buckingham Memorial with President J. B. Rochette in the chair. The council is making plans for a big charity whist during May.

Royal Arcanum

Norwich Council, No. 730, will be represented at the annual grand lodge session in Hartford on April 17, by Regent George S. Powers, who is also deputy in this district. The grand lodge meeting will be held at the Hotel Bond.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS

The regular meeting of the Clara Barton tent No. 7, was held Tuesday evening at the Buckingham Memorial with President Lillian Wolfe in charge. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, after which Department President D. Louise Afterbury installed Sister Gertrude Pendleton as press correspondent to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Sister Jewett.

The election of delegates for the convention was then taken up with following named: First delegates, Sisters Parsons, Mackay, Prentice, Brinkman, Lucy and Ethel McDougal; alternates, Sisters Gladys Newbury, Drake, Hummell, Chappell, Whiting and Moody. There will be a bean supper Saturday, March 31st. The meeting closed with a salute to the flag.

FORESTERS

Court City of Norwich, No. 63, will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, March 27th at Steiner hall, when the degree team is to work the degree on a large class of candidates. Notices have been sent out to all members that this will be the quarterly meeting and that the selection of delegates to the state convention will take place.

The social committee has arranged for an entertainment following the business session and plans are under way for another of those successful smokers for the first meeting in April.

CATHOLIC LADIES OF COLUMBUS

The regular meeting of Mercier assembly on Tuesday evening this week at the T. A. B. building, was entirely of a social character, with the entertainment of the evening provided by the members whose last names begin with D. E. F. G. The arrangements they had made provided a very pleasant social session. It was decided to make April meeting a social meeting one to which the members will invite their men friends. This will be held in T. A. B. hall with Miss Lillie Mahoney as chairman of the committee in charge.

RED MEN

Mohegan Tribe, No. 64 met in regular session Wednesday evening at Steiner Hall with Sachem Joseph A. George in the chair. Routine business was transacted and plans for future meetings discussed. District Deputy Great Sachem Benjamin Rose of Nonowantuck Tribe of New London was present and spoke to the members. He announced htat the New London was present and spoke to the members. He announced that the New London tribe was planning to hold initiations in the Hunter, Warrior and Chief degrees soon. The Chief degree was to be worked on a large class of candidates on Tuesday evening of next week, and the New London brothers would like to have the candidates for the degree from the Norwich tribe receive their degree at that meeting.

This was voted and a large delegation of local warriors will trail to the hunting grounds of New London on that evening.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY, A. L.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Fletcher Post, American Legion met in regular session Monday evening With President Mrs. George Fraser in the chair. Routine business was transacted. It was planned to begin working on the poppies for Memorial Day, and it was voted to hold the first session Monday evenings March 26th, at the home of Mrs. William Fletcher of Lincoln avenue, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Following the regular meeting a social time was enjoyed whist played, and refreshments served.

MACCABEES

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees held a whist Wednesday evening in the Buckingham Memorial, twelve tables being played. The prizes were awarded as follows: ladies first, Mrs. Herbert; second Mrs. S. J. Boebuck; consolation, Mrs. Edward Brodeur; men's prizes, first, Dell LaPre; second, Mrs. Yvonne LaPre; consolation, Mr. Herring.

The committee in charge of the whis tcomposed Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Barton Mrs. Reid, and Miss Gladys Hiscox.

JUNIOR MECHANICS

Buckingham Council, No. 14, met Wednesday evening in regular session at the Buckingham Memorial with vice-councilor H. E. Eddings presiding. There was a good attendance and a large amount of business was transacted during the meeting.

In the social hour following the business session J. H. Wellington of Baltic gave an interesting and instructive talk on many things of interest to the order. He also spoke of things going on at the state capitol gathered through current comment.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS

Sedgwick Womans' Relief Corps held its regular meeting Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Buckingham Memorial, the meeting being conducted by Jayne S. Seed. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted and the sum of $5 was voted toward the scholarship fund.

Plans were also discussed for the holding of a cafeteria lunch and apron sale at the Buckingham Memorial early in April. The meeting closed in the usual manner, with the singing of America and the salute to the flag.

ODD FELLOWS

Palmyra Encampment, No. 3 held a most interesting meeting Thursday evening at Odd Fellows Hall, Chief Patriarch William Bliss presiding. Following the regular business session Past Chief Patriarch John F. Amburn and staff worked the Royal Purple degree on a large class of candidates.

The business session was followed by talks by various members and by the Grand High Priest of the Encampment who was paying an official visit. At the close of the meeting a social time was enjoyed and a collation was served.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

Coughs and colds are contagious and require prompt treatment, as they spread or develop into flu and grippe. Take no chances when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar for a few cents and quickly check coughs and colds. The constantly increasing demand for Foley's Honey and Tar, for three generations, has made it the largest selling cough medicine in the world. Contains no opiates—ingredients are printed on the wrapper. Refuse substitutes. Insist upon Foley's. Lee & Osgood Co.

Given Birthday Party

Mrs. Geneva Pumsley was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening at her home on Grove street by a number of her friends in honor of her birthday. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elliott, assisted by Mrs. Batty.

Musical numbers were rendered by Miss Jane Graham, Malcolm Lawson, Mrs. Howard C. Peckham and Miss Frieda Emily Jahn, with a dance by Mrs. Tina Chase.

Short lives make merry undertakers.

$2.00 TO JOIN

$2.00 TO JOIN

—TODAY—

JOIN THE

New Home Sewing Machine Club

If you're planning on joining our New Home Club you must do it today—Monday will be too late. If you join the club today you can pay for your machine on easy weekly or monthly payments and still receive the 10 per cent. discount usually only offered to cash customers.

You can buy a New Home machine any time on terms but you must join this week to get the 10 per cent. discount. Come in today. Don't let this unusual opportunity slip by. JOIN TODAY!

RUBY SPECIAL
Four-drawer, drop head, golden oak, with automatic lift, complete with all attachments and fully guaranteed—
LIMITED NUMBER $38.50

PORTABLE ELECTRICS
Complete with motor and all attachments —fully guaranteed—
LIMITED NUMBER $34.50

$2.00 DELIVERS ANY MACHINE

SCHWARTZ BROS., Inc.
76-78-80-82 MAIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.

A CITY of AUTOMOBILES

Were Financed by the L. A. W. Acceptance Corporation in 1922.

On Record—Minutes of L. A. W. Acceptance Corporation

Stockholders Also Received 7 Per Cent. on Preferred Stock in 1922

(TRUE COPY)
The Board of Directors at a regular meeting this, the 19th day of October, 1922, declared a dividend of $1.00 a share on Common Stock to all stockholders of record December 1st, 1922.
MAURICE FRIEDMAN,
Secretary and Treasurer
October 19th, 1922
Putnam, Conn.

Five Facts Worth Remembering
1st. L. A. W. Acceptance Corporation was incorporated September 8th, 1921 for $10,000.
2nd. Dividends of 7 per cent. preferred stock paid quarterly since end of incorporation.
3rd. Dividends of $1.00 a share on common stock declared at a Directors' meeting October 19th, to all stockholders of record December 1st, 1922.
4th. The above was paid last year with business increasing as it is—this dividend will increase—are you going to reap the benefit—you can by buying L. A. W. stock now.
5th. This stock now offered is the original Treasury issue.

BUY NOW!—Mail This Coupon Today

DIRECTORS OF THE L. A. W. ACCEPTANCE CORPORATION
Louis A. Wolfe, L. M. Carpenter, George Gruenbergel, John F. Carpenter, Simon Kaminsky, J. G. Wurth, Maurice Friedman, Sydney Symons, Raymond Jodoin, James H. Shea, Philip Coderre.

Your L.A.W. ACCEPTANCE

T

Epicure Brique
Great Ice Cream
March 24 to 31

Tait Bros. Great Ice Cream on sale for the next seven days starting Saturday will be a delightful combination of a Pineola Ice Cream, a Mousse and a Frozen Pudding.

Coconut Cream, a French Custard Ice Cream with [illegible] Mousse, a Mousse made of [illegible] Cream, the yolks of strictly fresh eggs from Tait Bros. hennery and real Macoun and [illegible] and Russian Pudding, a Frozen Pudding with [illegible] flavor home [illegible] in Tait Bros. Kitchen.

Quart Ice Cream in [illegible] every day and delivered [illegible] to your door. Orders may be placed for delivery of your convenience every week and such orders will be appreciated by your dealer.

Tait Bros. also [illegible] in three of Rockwood [illegible] Ice Cream [illegible] the combined city.

Insist Upon
A TAIT BROS PRODUCT

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Day's total sales, 1,842,900 shares. 20 Industrials averaged 106.98, net loss 1.31 high 1923 106.33; low, 94.96. 20 railroads averaged 88.69, net loss 16, high 1923 90.43; low 84.52.

MARKET WAS REACTIVE

New York, March 23—Today's stock market went through one of the sharpest reactions in recent weeks, losses of 1 to 3 points being quite common throughout the list. Failure of operators on the long side to enlist widespread public support on the recent rising tendency of price, combined with increasing speculative concern over the course of the money market, encouraged aggressive bear operations which, in turn, brought out a large volume of long stock.

Speculators for the advance started to bid up prices at the start, but when they failed to make much progress without buying a large amount of stock themselves, the "shorts" stepped in and started an assault on the entire list. Good buying support was lacking and some material recessions were registered. Bidding up of the shipping shares on reports that spring tourist bookings to Europe were exceedingly heavy and short covering operations eventually steadied the list and modified some of the earlier losses.

Such popular favorites as U. S. Steel common, Baldwin, American Locomotive, California Petroleum, Texas company, Pan-American, U. S. Rubber, American Can, Studebaker, Corn Products, Producers and Refiners, Phillips Petroleum, General Asphalt, Cosden, American Woolen, American Ice and American Tobacco all closed 1 to nearly 3 1-2 points below yesterday's final figures.

There were a few exceptions to the general downward trend. Mariand Oil selling ex-dividend 1 per cent. established a new top at 54 1-2 but eased off at the close to 53 7-8, up 5-8 on the day. Revival of stock dividend rumors in Owens Bottle sent that stock up to 51, also a new top, but it closed slightly lower for a net gain of 3 1-2 points. American International corporation closed 2 points higher at 30 3-4 and Marine preferred improved fractionally.

Rails sagged with the rest, losses of a point or more being recorded by Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Northwestern, Great Northern preferred, and Rock Island 7 per cent. preferred.

Call money opened at 5 1-4 per cent. but advanced to 6 before the close. Time money was offered in limited volume at 5 1-2 per cent. with brokers offering 5 1-4 and none offered at that figure. The bulk of the prime name commercial paper is still on a 5 per cent. basis.

A further drop in French francs to 4.54 cents featured the foreign exchange market, trading in which was quiet. Recent weakness of the franc has been attributed to the withdrawal of French government support. Demand sterling held fairly steady just above $4.69.

STOCKS.

The following is a summary of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange up to 2 P. M.:

	High.	Low.	Close
Al Chem & D	76½	75⅝	75⅝
Allis Chalmer	49⅝	49	49
Am Ag Chem	33¾	32	32
Am Beet Sugar	46⅛	44¼	45½
Am Bosch Mag	54	50½	52⅝
Am Can	101½	99¾	100
Am Car & F	183	182	182
Am Car & F pr	119¼	119¼	119¼
Am Coi Oil	15½	15¼	15⅜
Am Coi Oil pr	29	28⅝	29
Am Hide & L	12½	12¼	12⅜
Am Hid & L pr	110⅛	107½	107½
Am Int Corp	21¼	20	20⅜
Am Tel & Tel	122⅞	122½	122½
Am Tob	155½	154½	155
Am Wool	107⅝	105½	105⅝
Am Wool pr	111⅝	111¼	111⅜
Anaconda	51⅝	50¾	51⅛
Associated Oil	123½	123½	123½
Atchison	103⅜	103¾	103⅜
Atchison pr	89⅝	89¼	89⅝
Balt & Ohio	35⅛	33⅝	34⅜
Beth Steel	89⅝	87⅜	88
Beth Steel B pr	102½	100½	100½
Beth Steel new pr	94⅜	94¼	94⅜
Brook Rap Tr	75⅜	74	74
Brook Rap Tr ctf	15⅛	15¼	15¼
Buf Cop & Z	10⅛	9⅞	9⅞
Canadian Pacific	149⅞	148¾	149
Cent Leather	18⅜	17⅝	18
Cent Leath pr	78	78	78
Chand Motor	73½	72⅜	72
Ches & Ohio	73⅝	73⅛	73⅜
Ch & Gt West	5⅝	5⅜	5⅜
Ch & Gt West pr	14⅝	13⅝	14⅛
C M & St P	25	24⅝	24½
C M & St P pr	40	39	40
Ch & N W	86	85¼	86⅛
C R I & P	37¾	36¾	36⅝
Chile Copper	35⅝	35⅛	35⅝
Chino Cop	30⅝	29⅝	29⅝
Cosden	56⅝	53¾	53⅝
Cosden pr	107	107	107
Crucible Steel	87⅝	85⅞	87½
Del & Hudson	141	137	137
Dome Mines	47⅛	45⅝	45⅝
Erie	13	12¾	12⅝
Erie 1 pr	20½	19⅝	19⅝
Erie 2 pr	13⅝	13⅛	13⅝
Fisher Bdy C pr	98⅜	98⅛	98⅜
Gen Electric	136	134¼	135
Gen Motors	16	14⅞	15
Gen Mot pr	84⅜	84⅛	84⅜
Gen Mot 6 p c	75	74⅜	75
Gen Mot 7 p c	100	99	100
Great North	77⅜	76⅝	76⅝
Great North Or	35⅝	34⅝	35
Hudson Motor	20⅝	20	20
Hupp Motor	28	27⅝	27½
Illinois Central	115⅜	114¾	115⅛
Illinois Cent pr	117	117	117
Inspira Cop	41⅜	40¾	40⅝
Int Mer Mar pr	47⅜	47	45⅝
Int Paper	54⅛	54⅛	54⅛
Kennecott Cop	42⅝	41⅝	42
Keystone Tire	11	10⅝	10⅝
Marlin Rock	33⅝	32⅝	32¾
Maxwell Mot A	59	56⅝	57
Mex Petrol	270	270	270
Miami Cop	29⅝	28⅝	28⅝
M K & T new	15⅝	15⅜	15⅝
M K & T pr new	42⅝	42⅜	42⅝
Mo Pacific	17⅝	17⅜	17⅜
Mo Pac pr	47	46	47
Nat En & St	71⅝	70⅝	70⅝
N Y Air Brake	37⅜	37⅛	37⅛
N Y Central	98⅝	97⅝	98⅛
N Y N H & H	20⅝	19⅛	19½
Nor & West	113	112	112
Pacific Oil	45½	44⅛	44⅜
Penn R R	46⅛	46⅜	46⅛
Pierce Oil	4⅝	4	4⅜
Pierce O pr	40¾	40⅜	40⅜
Ray Con C	16	15⅝	15⅝
Reading	78½	77⅝	77⅝
Replogle Steel	28½	27⅝	27⅝
Rep I & Steel	64½	63⅝	64⅛
South Pacific	96⅝	96⅛	93
South Ry	24⅝	24	24⅛
South Ry pr	70⅜	70⅛	70⅜
Tenn C & C	12⅝	12⅛	12⅜
Tob Prod	56⅛	55⅝	56⅛
Tob Prod pr	109⅝	109½	109⅝
Tobacco Prod A	84⅝	83⅝	84⅛
Union Pacific	141⅝	141⅛	141⅛
Union Pac pr	74⅝	74	74
U S Rubber	84⅝	83⅝	83⅝
U S Steel	108⅛	106⅝	107
U S Steel pr	119⅛	119	119
West Air Brake	118⅜	118⅛	118⅜
West Mfg	64⅝	63⅝	64⅛
Willys Overland	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Willys Overland pr	51⅝	51½	51½
Worth P & M	39½	39	39

BOND MARKET

New York, March 23—With the exception of the marked strength of the Mariand Oil company issues, which advanced on higher stock prices the trend of today's bond market was generally reactionary.

Gains of 6 and 8 points were registered by Mariand 7 1-2s and 8s, both with warrants, respectively, and the 7s and 8s were up moderately. Losses of 1 to 2 1-2 points were recorded in Duquesne Light 6s, Cerro de Pasco 8s, Fuata Alegre Sugar 7s, United Drug 5s, Brooklyn Edison 7s, series "D", and Pacific Gas & Electric 5s.

More than ordinary interest was displayed in the offering of J. P. Morgan & Co. of $10,000,000 New York, Lackawanna & Western first and refunding mortgage 4 1-2 per cent. 50 year gold bonds, series "D" at 96 1-4 to yield about 4.70 per cent. The issue was readily absorbed, although the yield about 6.52 per cent.

Total sales (par value) were $10,470,000.

Liberty Bonds.

	High.	Low.	Close
U S Lib 3½s	101-8	101	101-2
U S Lib 1st 4¼s	97-21	97-17	97-19
U S Lib 2d 4¼s	97-16	97-11	97-12
U S Lib 3d 4¼s	98-9	98-7	98 -8
U S Lib 4th 4¼s	97-28	97-23	97-21
Victory 4¾s	101-1	101-1	100-1
Treas. 4¼s	99	98-31	99

Quoted in thirty-seconds of a point. For example, read 98-8 as 98 8-32.

Foreign Exchange.

With the exception of sterling all quotations are in cents per unit of foreign currency:

Sterling—	Yesterday.	Year Ago.
Demand	$4.69 2-16	$4.38⅝
Cables	4.69 7-16	4.38⅝
France	4.54⅛	5.07
Guilders	39.80	37.80
Marks	.0043	.30⅝
Lire	4.28	5.14
Swiss francs	18.52	19.46
Pesetas	15.42	15.57
Belgian francs	5.70½	8.44
Kronen		.014
Sweden	26.64	26.15
Denmark	19.28	21.20
Norway	18.11	17.80

MONEY

New York, March 23—Call money, strong; high6; low 5 1-4; ruling rate 5 1-4; closing bid 5; offered at 6 1-4. Last loan 6; call loans against acceptances 4 1-2.

COTTON

New York, March 23—Reports of a continued poor demand for spots caused a further decline in the cotton market today. The decline was also influenced by reports of southern selling of early new crop positions, which may have been due to prospects of better weather in the southwest.

Contracts for May delivery declined to 30.10 and for October to 25.67, making losses of from 44 to 57 points as compared with yesterday's closing quotation.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 23—With wheat arriving from Omaha to go into storage here and with export demand less active, wheat today underwent a material decline in price. The close was unsettled, 7-8c to 1 3-8c net lower, May $1.20 5-8 to $1.20 3-4 and July $1.15 5-8 to $1.15 3-4. Corn lost 1-1c to 5-8c. Oats 3-8c to 1-2c and provisions 5c to 17c.

Liquidating sales on the part of holders were a feature in the wheat market and although amounting to only a moderate total, were ascribed at least in part to likelihood that deliveries on May contracts might assume much larger proportions than had been generally expected. Altogether, 520,000 bushels of wheat have been put into storage in Chicago within the last few days. A consequent tendency toward lower values was further emphasized today by a little downturn in quotations at Liverpool and by estimated that export business today would fall to aggregate more than 250,000 bushels.

On the declines in price commission houses gave the wheat market fair support and there was also a little buying for eastern interests, presumably leading shorts. This buying brought about something of a rally as the day grew to an end. Talk of better call for flour at Toledo and Minneapolis counted too at the last as encouragement for the bulls, and so likewise did continued falling off in domestic receipts at primary terminals.

Corn and oats weakened with wheat notwithstanding that other cities were outbidding Chicago for rural supplies of corn.

In the provisions market the effect of higher quotations of hogs appeared to be more than counterbalanced by selling on foreign account.

Chicago Grain Market.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
May	132¼	130¼	130⅝
July	116⅞	115½	115⅝
Sept	115	113¾	114
Corn—
May	74⅝	73½	73⅝
July	76⅜	76	76⅛
Sept	77⅝	77⅛	77¼
Oats—
May	45¼	44½	44⅝
July	45⅛	44½	44⅝
July	43¾	42⅝	41⅞

METAL MARKET

New York, March 23—Copper firm. Electrolytic, spot and futures 17 3-8 @ 17 1-2.

Tin steady. Spot and nearby 49.37; futures 49.12.

Iron steady; prices unchanged.

Lead steady. Spot 8.35 a 8.37.

Zinc steady. East St. Louis spot and nearby delivery 6.00.

Antimony, spot 8.75.

SALEM

Gilbert Murray of Colchester visited at Nathaniel Clark's Sunday.

Meyer Smuckler was a caller in Colchester Tuesday.

Louis Chapman, George Day and Leo Skivinsky were in Pomfret Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Spencer and son Lawrence were callers in New London Saturday.

Misses Carrie Crothers, Gladys Chapman, Mary Smuckler and Thomas Day were in Colchester Sunday.

Ray Bliven was a caller in Westchester Monday.

Edward Mitchell was a caller in Colchester Monday.

Center school will not open until April 2, owing to the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Masona.

Harry Smuckler is spending a few days in New Haven.

Ira Gifford was a caller in Colchester Monday.

EAST HADDAM

Farmers' institute will be held at the town hall March 27th.

Henry Peck, who has been quite ill for some weeks, is still confined to the bed and under the doctor's care.

Miss Elizabeth Peck is home from Hartford, assisting in the care of her father.

Miss Louise McCarroll has been quite ill with grip. A substitute has been in charge at the Main street school for a few days.

Leland Morgan was home from Meriden for the week end.

Howard Brooks, employed by the state highway department, had the misfortune to dislocate and fracture his wrist a few days ago. The bones were replaced and put in splints by Dr. Crook.

Mrs. C. H. Rogers has resumed her duties at the public library after an absence of five weeks by illness.

Roumania's newly formed parliament is faced by serious economic question. The amount first asked for a French loan has been multiplied five-fold. The outstanding phenomenon of February has been the drop in exchange and the rise in prices. The general business depression continues.

CALORIES

Emphasis used to be focused solely upon the calorific value of foods. Now, it is known that vitamine-quality is equally essential to adequate nourishment.

Scott's Emulsion

has particular value as an energy-building food and tonic. It is also rich in vitamine-factors, so important in building up the body and promoting healthful progress.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N.J. 23-29

AUCTION!

A. B. PERKINS, Auctioneer

I WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION ON

Tuesday, March 27, 1923

AT 10 A. M. SHARP

The Entire Stock of

THE ELECTRIC CONTRACTING AND SUPPLY COMPANY

247 STATE STREET, NEW LONDON, CONN.

About $10,000 Worth of Electrical Merchandise to Be Sold Without Reserve or Limit

Store Fixtures — Gas Ranges — Office Furniture
Wall Cases — Table Lamps — Electric Ranges
Safe — Show Cases — Ironer
Electric Fixtures — Counters — Glassware
Electric Fireless Cookers — Wireless Materials
Appliances — Wire Measuring Machine

Many Other Articles Not Mentioned Here.

This auction will be of especial interest to all electrical contractors and dealers.

SALE RAIN OR SHINE, TUESDAY, MARCH 27th

BROADWAY — Sunday — Monday — Tuesday — Wednesday

For the Sons and Daughters of Eve—

Cecil B. DeMille's PRODUCTION "Adam's Rib"

WITH MILTON SILLS, ELLIOTT DEXTER, THEODORE KOSLOFF, ANNA Q. NILSSON, and PAULINE GARON

PRESENTED BY JESSE L. LASKY

A Paramount Picture

10,000 Years to Make THE FLAPPER!

GAVE GIRL DAUGHTER OF EVE —STRIPPED OF HER JAZZ AND HER BOLD FRIVOLITY, WHAT'S THE MODERN FLAPPER REALLY LIKE?

HAS SHE A HEAD AND DOES SHE USE IT? IS SHE DARING UNSELFISH, RESOURCEFUL?

DE MILLE SHOWED YOU ONE SIDE OF THE MODERN GIRL IN "MANSLAUGHTER," HERE IS THE OTHER, THE BETTER SIDE.

TOLD IN DE MILLE'S MOST SUMPTUOUS STYLE, AMAZING GOWNS AND SETTINGS — THE LAST WORD IN LUXURY!

Direct From a Successful New York Engagement at $1.00 Prices

OUR PRICES

MATINEE, ALL SEATS 25c
EVENINGS, 20c-30c-40c

SUNDAY NIGHT 7:00 and 9:10—OTHER DAYS, MATINEE 2:15—EVENING 7:00 and 9:10

DON'T MISS THIS ONE! — SEE IT SURE!

DANCE
ROSELAND
TONIGHT
PHILHARMONIC DANCE ORCHESTRA
GENTS 55c — LADIES 35c

BIG DANCE
WILLIMANTIC
WASHBURN HALL
SATURDAY, MARCH 24th

COMING! Doug. Fairbanks, in Robin Hood

BREED THEATRE

COMING! Doug. Fairbanks, in Robin Hood

SUNDAY—MONDAY AND TUESDAY
BETTY COMPSON
—IN—
THE GREEN TEMPTATION
YOU WILL ENJOY
DANCES—More Sensational Than You Have Ever Seen Before.
THRILLS—Of the Paris Underworld and the Jeweled Ball Rooms of Society.
ROMANCE—Of a Beautiful Dancing Girl and Her Struggle to Love and Happiness.
Cast Includes:
MAHLON HAMILTON and THEODORE KOSLOFF
Topics of the Day — Educational Comedy

—TODAY—
CONTINUOUS 1:00 TO 10:15
MILTON SILLS
—IN—
THE FORGOTTEN LAW
Charles Chaplin
—IN—
THE PILGRIM
RUTH ROLAND, in THE TIMBER QUEEN
PATHE NEWS
Children at Matinee 10c

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

STRAND

OUR PRICES: MATINEE 20c EVENING 20c-25c

TODAY—LAST TIMES
CONTINUOUS SHOW
MATINEE, CHILDREN 10c
Chas. Chaplin, in THE PILGRIM
—ALSO—
WESLEY BARRY in RAGS TO RICHES

SUNDAY NIGHT ONLY
WALLACE AND NOAH BERRY
IN A SWIRLING ACTION DRAMA OF ROUGH SEAS
STORMSWEPT

SENNETT COMEDY
WATCH YOUR NEIGHBOR

CHAS. HUTCHISON in S-P-E-E-D

MON., TUES. AND WED.
F. SCOTT FITZGERALD'S CELEBRATED NOVEL
The Beautiful and Damned
Made Into a Vivid, Fascinating Photoplay of Remarkable Intensity With a Timely Topic
THE FLAPPER
Cast Includes:
MARIE PREVOST
KENNETH HARLAN
HARRY MYERS
TULLY MARSHALL
WALTER LONG

THE LATEST
LARRY SEMON COMEDY
AND UP-TO-DATE NEWS

E. M. GRANGER, THOMPSONVILLE, CONN., AUCTIONEER

AUCTION

OF NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU HORSES

AT BROWN'S BARN, Coggswell Street, Westerly, R. I.

Tuesday, March 27th—1:00 O'Clock P. M., Rain or Shine

28—HORSES—28

OF THE RIGHT SIZE, SHAPE AND AGE

Direct From the North Dakota Farms to the Eastern Users

This will be an exceptional good lead of horses, and the last to be sold in Westerly this spring. Plan to be there at 10 A. M., the morning of the sale, and see these horses hitched. Seeing is believing. Every horse sold with a positive guarantee, and everyone positively guaranteed to be sold. A good chance to get the horse you want at the price you want to pay.

E. S. DeLANEY, Supt. of Horse Sales

DEPARTMENT NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU

EASTERN HEADQUARTERS HOTEL GRAND, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

FOR SALE—Automobiles

AUTOS—From a performance standpoint, chiefly of the degree which shows the most noteworthy development in the Franklin year, the new motor. In bulk-creating this greater power represents a 25 per cent. increase in ability, and in speed a 15 per cent. increase. A particular characteristic of this power development is the unusual stamina under conditions of hard driving. The Series 10 Franklin retains its vigor in a way that is striking. It will give you the finest ride you have ever had. If you think a thousand dollar car is your limit of capacity to pay for under the usual terms you can own a Franklin under our easy terms. H. D. Anderson, 21 Maple St., Danielson, Conn. Tel. 340. mar24d

FOR SALE—1923 Oakland, coupe in good condition. Apply Norwich Oakland Co., 325 Main St. mar24d

THE P. & M. MOTOR CAR CO. will overhaul and repair your car; they quote the lowest prices in the city; service and satisfaction guaranteed. 325 Main St. Phone 1440-4. mar26

FOR SALE—1921 model 4 Overland, with full equipment and 6 tires, mechanically as good as new; must be sold at once; bargain. Phone 457-13 for appointment. mar23d

FOR SALE — Sport model Cadillac (phaeton) 1917, in very good condition and at an attractive price; two spare tires and much extra equipment; here is a great buy. Write Box 823, Danielson, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—Buick roadster in A-1 running order, new Willard battery, spare tire and tubes. H. A. Wulf, No. 161 Main St. mar20d

FOR SALE—Chevrolet touring, Oldsmobile touring, Liberty touring, Paige 6-66 touring, Hudson 4 pass. coupe, Hupmobile roadster, Overland small truck. C. V. Pendleton, 45 Broadway. mar16d

FOR SALE — 1915 8 cyl. Cadillac 5 pass. touring car, with shock absorbers and other extras, total mileage 20,054 miles, mechanically as serviceable as new. W. S. Allis, 395 Broadway. mar9

FOR SALE

Chevrolet 490 light delivery, 1921, closed panel body, runs and looks like new. Terms if desired.

NORWICH AUTO WRECKING, CO., Tel. 2110. 471-473 No. Main St.

AUTO PARTS

FOR NEARLY EVERY MAKE

USED CARS

TIRES—New and Used

GEARS — AXELS — SHAFTS

BEARINGS

ALL MAKES AND SIZES

STARTERS AND GENERATORS

BOSCH MAGNETOS

And Other Makes

MOTORS—TRANSMISSIONS—REAR-ENDS

Bodies, Tops, Fenders, Windshields, Frames, Wheels, Rims, Radiators — Anything for Automobiles.

Norwich Auto Wrecking Co

"We Tear 'Em Down and Sell the Pieces"

Tel. 2110 471-473 N. MAIN STREET

First Attention Given Mail Orders

AVAILABLE

4-Cyl. 1922 Buick Touring

Overhauled and Painted

A Rare Value!

We have a few other reconditioned cars of various makes, all of which offer an exceptional opportunity to those who want real value.

Julian L. Williams

25 TOWN STREET

NORWICH, CONN.

CARS SOLD ON TERMS OR CASH

ADAMS TAVERN GARAGE

T. ETHIER, Jr., Prop.

THE BEST IN USED CARS

THE BEST IN AUTO PAINTING

W. LAMBERT, PAINTER

122 WEST TOWN STREET

Telephone 612-3

FOR YOUR NEXT BREAKFAST TRY OUR HOME-MADE SAUSAGE

THUMM'S DELICATESSEN

40 Franklin Street

Everybody admires a good complexion

The daily use of Resinol Soap for the toilet and bath keeps the skin so clear it cannot help being beautiful. It is unusually cleansing and at the same time so pure and mild it will not irritate the most sensitive skins.

When plagued by Resinol Ointment, it seldom fails to clear away blotches, pimples, roughness and other facial blemishes. Your dealer sells Resinol Soap and Ointment. Ask for them.

Resinol

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

ROBILLARD—In Wauregan, March 20, 1923, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robillard. RY. ROCK—In Wauregan, March 18, 1923, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Alex St. Rock.

MARRIED

SCHWEITZER—HILL—In this city, March 22, 1923, by Rev. Thomas Chesson, D. D., of West Newton, Mass., Charles E. Schweitzer of Bay Shore, Long Island, and Miss Evelyn Miriam Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hill of Church street.

DIED

DUFF—In Haverhill, Mass., March 19, 1923, Elizabeth M. Duff, wife of Michael F. Duff, formerly of Norwich, aged 47 years.

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
325 Main Street
Phone 238-3 Lady Assistant

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers.
Lady Assistant Telephone 610-2
DAVID H. WILSON

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

FLORISTS

WANTED, flowering shrubs, plants and trees. Meadewood Nursery Co. Tel. 806-1. Free delivery. apr14

PAINT AND WALLPAPER

ORIGINAL ideas for New Haven Wall Paper Co. Call and see samples. Mrs. A. M. Kennedy, 50 Union St. apr14

JOHN F. ANSELMO & CO., painting, paperhanging and decorating; estimates cheerfully furnished. 180 Laurel Hill Ave. mar14d

CRAIN WALLPAPER CO., 31 Willow St., near Broadway Theatre; 10c, 12c, 15c, bought in combination; new, best of color. T. E. McClenchan, Mgr. jan31d

FOR SALE—Paint, $1.35 per gal., regular $1.50 grade; wallpaper, 10c per roll. Metropolitan, 138 West Main St., next to Fire Station. mar14 d

BUILDING

HARDWOOD flooring, parquet and strips laid and scraped; all kinds of carpenter work done; estimates given. Tyler Johnson, 307 Main St. Phone 908-12. jan19d

WILLIAM C. HOUSE, Contractor and Builder, 144 Broad and Bedford. 50 Wood Main St. Phone 972.

CHIROPODIST

A. H. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (arches your feet). Suite 7-8 Allen Bldg., 121 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1149-2. apr19

POULTRY

FOR SALE—35 Rose Eyring pullets; none sick from '21. Phone 1274-4. mar24d

FOR SALE—White Wyandotte eggs for hatching; 15 for $1, 30 for $1.50 for $3. W. Desmuler, Jewett City, Conn. mar24d

FOR SALE—White Leghorn hatching eggs, Hogan strain, tested and certified stock. Reduced rates. Hyslop Farm, C. mar22d

FOR SALE—All Lion-ear Candee incubator, with brooder. Tel. 1664. mar22d

FOR SALE—Hay hamesses, cheap if taken at once. Blanchard Bros., Jewett City. mar22d

FOR SALE—White Leghorn chicks from 2 and 3 year old hens, excellent layers, March 26 and 31, $20 per 100, $19.50 per 50, delivered; R. I. cockerels, $5 each; Queen incubators and brooders; catalogue. Paul Jansen, Mansfield Center, Conn. mar21d

FOR SALE—S. C. R. I. Red eggs for hatching, from white diarrhea tested stock. W. W. Service, Norwich, R. D. 1. Tel. 1853-3. mar13d

FOR SALE—Magic Colony brooders; there are no substitutes; top and bottom thermostatic draft control is patented; gas proof heaters; shade (before behind); get catalogues from agents; discount prices. G. C. Hewitt Co., Uncasville. Phone 762-14 New London. feb2d

BABY CHICKS; free feed; popular breeds; prepaid guaranteed delivery; send for catalog. Roy Clark, E. Hartford, Ct. jan24d

HALL BROTHERS' baby chicks, White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Barred and White Rocks; Buff Orpingtons. Circular. Hall Brothers' Poultry Farm, Wallingford, Conn. apr24

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—One gray horse, good worker, single or double, 4 years old. Philip Dudek, Jewett City, R. D. 4. mar21d

JUST ARRIVED
Twenty-eight Horses, weighing 1200 to 1700 lbs. I think they are as good a car ad horses as I have ever had—gentle and nicely broken, and ready to go to work. Some nicely matched pairs. Come and see them.
ELMER E. PIERSON.
Tel. 636-2. mar13d

COAL AND WOOD

FOR SALE—Hard wood four foot long, delivered on car of C. V. anywhere between Willimantic and New London. Tel. Willimantic Div. 979-14. William J. Dowler, West Willington. mar14d

FOR SALE—Best dry hard wood; baker or cords; lowest prices. Phone 842, Montville. mar24d

COAL AND SEASONED WOOD and kindlings in large or small quantities. Phone 806 or 1235-2. H. Singleton, Yantic or Domestic Duties Lane. oct11d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Women to do fancy work at home, spare hours; material furnished; good pay; stamped envelope brings particulars. Underwood Art Goods Co., Portsmouth, Ohio. mar24d

TYPISTS—Earn $25-$100 weekly spare time, copying authors' manuscripts. Write R. J. Cornes, Authors' Agent, Tallapoosa, Ga., for particulars. mar24d

WANTED—Housekeeper for small family adults. Write Box 17, Bulletin. mar24d

WANTED—Girl to assist with housework. Phone 219, 12 Warren St. mar24d

WANTED—A bright, clean young woman to assist a small family of three American adults to keep house; one we can treat as a member of the family and give all the comforts of a home. Write, stating salary wanted, Woodwell Farms, Hampton, Conn. mar21d

WANTED—Young lady to take care of books and assist in selling; steady and good paying position to the right party. Apply in own handwriting to Box 33, Bulletin. mar23d

WANTED—Young girl to do general housework; good home and board, also salary to right party. Apply Mrs. S. Diamond, 148 Grove St., Putnam, Conn. mar21d

WANTED—Young lady to work in store; must be over 20 years of age. Apply to Mrs. Plouffe, Mgr., S. F. Peterson, Inc., 110 Main St. mar22d

WANTED—A competent housemaid; good wages. Apply 99 Washington St., evenings to Matron. mar18d

WANTED—Housekeeper in family of two. Tel. 11-5 Jewett City. mar21d

WANTED—Maid for general housework; competent cook; references required. Mrs. W. B. Young, 10 Huntington Place. mar20d

WANTED—Girl or woman for general housework; can go home at 2 o'clock. Call 305 West Main St. mar20d

WANTED—Middle aged woman to assist with light housework. Address M. D. V., care of Bulletin. mar14d

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Men for U. S. mail service; $115 to $190; experience or correspondence course unnecessary. Write R. S. Bishop, Drawer 579, Joplin, Mo. mar14d

WANTED—Salesmen to sell full line of toilet articles, aluminum and enamelware; also cash job lots white and decorated crockery and enamelware; big commission. Baker Pottery Co., Sebring, Ohio. mar24d

ADD TO YOUR INCOME during spare hours; a high class company is giving an opportunity to reliable and educated men with business experience to earn from $50 to $100 weekly. Write in confidence, stating experience, Mr. Hansen, 27 Pine St., New York. mar24d

BE A DETECTIVE—Great demand; travel; experience unnecessary. Write Dept. 114, American Detective System, 1968 Broadway, New York. mar24d

WANTED—Boys to sell Magic Laser polish; make extra money; send for free sample; we trust you. O. K. Specialty Co., Norwich, Conn. mar24d

$10a IN CASH for your first month's work; no money required; no merchandise to buy, no heavy sample case to carry; men and women wanted everywhere to distribute free advertising circulars and appoint local agents. Write Klenzo Laboratories, 2203 Normal Blvd., Chicago. mar24d

WANTED—Salesmen who can put our line over in the big way; live wires earn large commissions; paid weekly; investigate. Perry Nurseries, Brighton, N. Y. mar24d

WANTED—To employ a reliable, ambitious man in every city having had experience in salesmanship, real estate or insurance lines, qualified to present our successful system of adjusting old book accounts, notes and claims, also furnishing credit reports for retail merchants, doctors and auto dealers; a business guide without parallel; nothing to collect or sell. Mercantile and Physicians' Reporting Agency, Albany, N. Y. mar24eTuTh

WANTED—Middle aged man to work and do chores on farm; good home and fair wages. Address Farm, Bulletin Office. mar24d

WANTED—Driver for delivery truck. Apply Greeneville Bakery, 274 Central Ave. mar24d

GET U. S. government jobs; railway mail clerks; city carriers; $1,400-$2,300 year; steady; common education; list positions free; write immediately. Franklin Institute, Dept. 31-W., Rochester, N. Y. mar3S

WANTED—Firemen, brakemen; beginners $150-$250 (which position?). Railway, Bulletin. mar26W

WANTED—First class cook. Apply at City Lunch. mar24d

WANTED—Man to work on farm. Charles E. Maynard, R. D. 1. Phone 1864-4. mar23d

WANTED—Married man to work on farm; tenement furnished. John W. Stott, Plain Hill. Telephone 462-5. mar23d

WANTED—Man to take care of furniture and horse and do the work around the place. Phone 36-4 Willimantic Div. mar16d

WANTED

Spotters and Speeder Tenders

THE FALLS COMPANY

Yantic Street

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 127-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Outfits to Lend.

HELEN L. PERKINS
TEACHER OF SINGING
Phone 552-2 Studio, Allen Bldg.

BEAUTY PARLOR

ELECTROLYSIS — Superfluous hair, warts and moles removed by electric needle, by appointment, at 62 Asylum St., or at your home. Tel. 981. mar23d

GIRLS—Free for a limited number of days, a complete course in beauty treatment. Write Forelax, 149 Franklin St. mar19d

HAIR DYED
It is no obligation to us if you come in and ask about our Hair Dyeing in any shade, and is guaranteed.
MME. LACKENBACH'S
BEAUTY SALON
3 WASHINGTON SQUARE

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Tire and rim, on New London road. Finder return to Irving E. Bogue Co., Norwich. Reward. mar24d

LOST—Between Jewett City and Wauregan, one hole furniture pads. Return to finder. Hourigan Bros., Moosuck. mar21d

FOUND—Tire, one 36x4 United States cord tire. Phone 1238. mar23d

LOST—On Newent road to Jewett City, tire and rim. Notify Shea & Burke. mar23d

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

MARRY RICH—World's leading correspondence club for lonely people; many worth to $500,000; quick results guaranteed; confidential list free. Honorable Ralph Hyde, 54, San Francisco. mar24d

WIDOW, 44, owns farm, would marry. K-Box 293, Clark, Jamesville, Ohio. mar24d

THE LEADING Matrimonial Club; best, largest; established 19 years; thousands wealthy members wish marriage; confidential description free; only honorable sincere people of both sexes need write. The Old Reliable Club, Mrs. Wrenn, Box 39, Oakland, Calif. mar24d

MARRY—Thousands congenial people worth from $1,000 to $50,000, seeking early marriage; descriptions, photos, introductions free; sealed; either sex; send no money. Address Standard Cor. Club, Grayslake, Ill. mar24d

PRETTY bachelor girl, worth $65,000, will marry. Club, Box 65, Oxford, Fla. mar24d

CATHOLICS wishing to marry, write for introductions, write C. C. Club, Grand Rapids, Mich. mar24d

WANTED—Calves, cattle and poultry of all kinds; pay the highest price. Haskel Rosen, tel. 374 Ash St. Tel. 84-3 Willimantic, Conn. mar24d

ASTROLOGY reveals; 2,000 word trial reading 25c; two personal questions considered free; state birthdate. Prof. Audrey, Dept. H-206, Box 534, Washington, D. C. mar24d

WANTED—To buy a small farm, convenient to trolley and state road. Quote price to Box 950, Bulletin. mar24d

WANTED—Pigs for fattening and a good brood sow to farrow this spring. A. B. Burdick, R. F. D. 1, Norwich. Phone 1828-4. mar24d

RANGERS, worth $50,000, wants wife. Ladies, write H-Box 5 Club, Cimarron, Kans. mar3d

YOUNG LADY, worth $50,000, pretty, will marry. K-Box J Club, Cimarron, Kans. mar3d

WOULD you write a wealthy, pretty girl? Stamped envelope, please. Lois Sproul, Cleveland, Ohio. feb17d

WANTED—Vaults and cesspools to clean. H. L. Harris, R. F. D. 1, Box 138. apr3d

WANTED—The J. R. Watkins Co. will employ a lady or gentleman agent in Norwich; Watkins products are known everywhere and our salespeople make big incomes; investigate this opportunity; full particulars and valuable samples sent free to hustlers who mean business; write today. The J. R. Watkins Co., Dept. 86, 64 Washington St., North, Boston, Mass. mar10d

DO YOU want sole agency for Dr. Blair's 100 famous home products? All or spare time. Write Dr. Blair Laboratories, Dept. 11, Lynchburg, Va. mar17S

WANTED—Furniture, stoves, etc., and antiques. Ward Bros., 45 Jackson St., Willimantic. Tel. 632-2. mar14TuThS

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 388, Norwich. jy13TuThS

WANTED—Two-wheel ox dump cart. Phone 1361-13. mar23d

WANTED—Real estate for ready customers, city property, building lots, suburban property, farms, etc.; list with me for quick results. John G. Chenenski, Agt., 160 North Main St., Pulaski Hall Bldg. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

WANTED—To furnish 75 to 100 quarts of milk per day, by wholesale, either mornings or evenings, after April 20th. T. W. Allyn, R. F. D. No. 6, Norwich. Phone 1851-14. mar23d

WANTED—One or two persons to board in private family; rates very reasonable; centrally located. Box 99, Bulletin. mar23d

WANTED—To list your property of every description on a commission basis; perhaps I have just the buyer for your place; we do not charge for listing and will do our best to satisfy you, the same as we have for many others. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich, Conn. mar21WFSTuThS

WANTED—Household goods of all kinds. C. J. King. Phone 2113. mar22d

WANTED—Four or five room tenement by couple. Address 74 Thames St. mar22d

WANTED—22 calibre heavy target rifle with double set triggers. Dona Ballou, Jewett City. mar22d

IF YOU are ruptured it will pay you well to address P. O. Box 51, Norwich, Conn. mar21d

IF YOU HAVE a temperature of 114, look for a hot water bag. If you want a good cigar, try Dels Clam mild cigar, 10c straight; Anadora 7c, four for 25c. Fagan's Smoke Shop. mar20d

MIRRORS resilvered; glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2163. feb21d

WANTED—Second hand furniture; highest prices paid. Norwich Furniture Co., 6 Main St. Telephone 1914-3. jan11d

WANTED—Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; we buy and sell. M. Weisinger, 31 Market St. Phone 857-2. jy6d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture; best prices paid. A. Bruckner, 152 Franklin St. Phone 712-5. my30d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second-hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 55 Franklin St. Phone 717-4. jan15d

WE BUY and pay highest prices for second hand furniture and books. Kremens, successor to King, 42-50 Water St. Phone 1288. sept26d

WANTED

FINISHING ROOM HELP.
SAXTON WOOLEN CORP.,
BEAN HILL MILL.

PAWNBROKER

RELIABLE LOAN CO.
LICENSED PAWNBROKER
57 Franklin Street
Norwich

Luggage, Trunks, Suit Cases, Brief Cases, Etc.

TRUCKING

GEORGE LANGWAY — Moving and storage, carnages, trucks for hire, 11 Lime St., or Casino. Tel. 628-12. jan9

Res. 1064. Tel. 126.
ARTHUR H. LATHROP
Auto Trucking and Teaming, Furniture and Piano Moving.
Broadway St.

C. B. JOSLIN, 203 West Main St. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving bankers and merchants. Tel. 1542-3. mar6d

Local Storage Moving and Repairing Warehouse, 17 Bassett Ave. Tel. 1247.

STORAGE and moving, local distance hauling a specialty. John H. Reed, 321 Main St. Phone 794.

C. B. [illegible] & SON, Broadway St. Phone 826. Local Storage & Moving.

CIGARS

CIGARS.
Whitestone Cigars at $70 per thousand
J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two English setter pups, 10 months old. C. H. Wilson, Willimantic, Conn., R. F. D. No. 2. Tel. 523-12. mar24d

FOR SALE—Two cows, to freshen soon. Inquire S. G. Young, Wibsey Farm, Moosup. mar24d

FOR SALE—Chair, garden seats, kitchen range, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, 122 Central Ave., downstairs. mar24d

FOR SALE—Shepherd puppies, Julius Mattern, R. D. 1. Tel. 1864-21. mar24d

FOR SALE—In the city of Norwich, a brick block containing two stores and 15 apartments, paying nearly 20 per cent. on the investment; only $3,000 cash required, balance on easy terms; price $15,-000. For particulars more in detail, apply to Burdick & McNicol, Real Estate and Insurance, Thayer Bldg. mar24SWFS

FOR SALE—Two large Holstein cows, one due to freshen now, the other close by; also one 9 year old horse, weight about 1200. N. J. Shea, Franklin Road. Phone 1065-2. mar24d

FOR SALE—Beeman garden tractor, with plow, furrower, cultivator and weeders. Box 127, R. D. 6. Phone 1873-14. mar24d

FOR SALE—Pansies, large plants, all colors, with buds, ready to bloom; plant now; 35c a dozen by mail. Pansies, R. D. 7, Norwich. Phone 1876-4 mar24d

FOR SALE—Ten standard varieties of strawberry plants, including Howard No. 17, Premier, Corsican, Pearl, the Improved berry grown, and Progressive Everbearer; reduced prices; catalogue free. S. H. Holdridge, Norwich, Conn., R. D. 6. Tel. Norwich Div. 1855-4. feb17SW

FOR SALE—Hay, good quality. Telephone 1708. mar22ThS

$500 CASH will secure a pleasant little home in a central location; bargain on easy terms. Apply to Coates, Broker, 43 Broadway. Phone 1349. mar20TuThS

FOR SALE—House of eight rooms, with about half acre of land, belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. S. E. Oldfield, 525 Main St. Inquire 592 Main St. Phone 475. feb27d

FOR SALE—Laurel Hill section, six-room cottage in A-1 condition, brand new chicken coop, owner leaving town will sacrifice for $2,200; see me at once for this bargain. Polish Roman Catholic church section, two-family, 5-5 rooms, large lot, various kinds of fruit trees, hen houses, at bargain price of $4,500; do not miss this chance. For sale, farms of all descriptions, large or small, building lots. Consult with me before you buy or sell; by doing so you will save money. For further particulars inquire of International Steamship and Realty Agency, John G. Chenenski, Agt., 160 North Main St. Tel. 1577-4. mar23d

FOR SALE—China closet, good as new. Can be seen evenings, 2 Church St., upstairs. Phone 968-2. mar23d

FOR SALE—Dahlia bulbs, won first prize Bingo Gumsy, Worcester fair and Beverly, Mass., last year; send for catalogue; prices from 25 cents up. Success Dahlia Gardens, Lawrence, Mass. mar23d

$1,700 buys a six-room house, with 100 feet of land, facing the Thames. Coates, Broker, 43 Broadway. Phone 1349. mar21d

HAY—About 50 tons hay, also about 15 tons clover for sale at the well known Hollis H. Palmer farm, Preston. E. L. Barnes, R. F. D. No. 3, Norwich. Phone 1862-12. mar22d

FOR SALE—Two extra nice Holstein cows, new milch, also three nice turkeys (two hens, one tom). I. E. Browning, Norwich Town. Tel. 664-13. mar23d

FOR SALE—Latest model cabinet Victrola; must be sold at once; can be bought right. Address Victrola, Bulletin. mar23d

FOR SALE—Bargain; six-room cottage, near Conn. College, not far from Thames river, five minutes from trolley, an ideal summer home or can be used for all year round house; has furnace, electric lights, etc. For particulars, Phone 430, or write Cottage, Bulletin. mar22d

FOR SALE—Buy this three-family house located in the city of Norwich; a good investment as well as a home; terms may be arranged to suit purchaser; price $4,500. Do you realize that Burdick & McNicol can help you buy such a property as this, even though you do not have all of the money to pay down? Come in and talk it over with us. We are sure we can help you. Burdick & McNicol, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. mar21d

FOR SALE—New full scale guaranteed upright pianos, $245 and up, on easy weekly terms; choice of many leading makes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Kroeger mahogany upright piano, slightly used, but in perfect condition, regular $500 value, can be bought for $350, on easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Mason & Hamlin organ in good condition; bargain for $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Large table model talking machine, in first class playing condition, $35. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. mar20d

FOR SALE—Pedigreed collie pups. Tel. 13-14 Jewett City, Conn. mar20d

FOR SALE—New milch Guernsey cow. Jochs, 370 Asylum St. mar16d

FOR SALE—Inspected Maine seed potatoes, Green Mountains, Early Delawares, Cobblers and Spaulding Rose. J. M. Young & Sons. mar16d

FOR SALE—An upright piano in good condition; $35 cash takes it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—A Victrola IV installed in a beautiful console cabinet; $73.50 cash buys it; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—An upright Edison diamond disc phonograph, cost new $150, used only a few months, special at $75 cash; easy terms if desired. The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—Cottage of six rooms and bath, in excellent condition, together with barn, garage and small tract of land, located inside city limits; price $4,200. Box 24, Bulletin. mar6d

FOR SALE—Upright used piano, bargain for a quick buyer, $125, convenient terms, or a special discount for cash. Schwartz Bros. mar9d

FOR SALE—Buescher saxophones, Bacon banjos, Ludwig drums, violins, ukeleles, accordions and everything musical on easy terms, at The Talking Machine Shop, 24 Franklin Sq. mar15d

FOR SALE—New cottage house, seven rooms and bath, lot 50x140 feet; price for quick sale $6,000. Phone 141-2. jan3d

FOR SALE — Herring - Hall - Marvin safes for office and household use; all sizes. Plaut-Cadden Co., Norwich. nov4d

FOR SALE—In the town of Griswold, Conn., 2 miles from Jewett City and 1-2 mile from the well known and quaint little hamlet of Pachaug, is located the Frank Terry farm. The owner, one of the most successful farmers in the town, who is retiring, has given us the exclusive sale of this property. We wish to make this statement in regard to the merits of this farm and will say that it is considered as one of the best and most profitable farms in New London county. We personally recommend it to either the sincere farm buyer or to the city man seeking a desirable summer home. It is on high ground, with good drainage, and the view is exceedingly pleasing, near state road, postoffice, church and school. The land is very productive and consists of 115 acres, well divided. A large young orchard is an asset worth considering, plenty of wood and pasture, with a never-failing spring. The buildings are exceptional for a farm, consisting of a well built modern structure house, with good roof covering, cement floor, furnace, running water, bathtub and acetylene gas; barn is 30x70 feet and is in good shape. Several poultry houses and a new brooder house. For further description, inquire immediately of Burdick & McNicol Real Estate and Insurance, Thayer Building, Norwich, Conn. mar21WSWS

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Roller top desk, safe, pasteboard cutter, wire stitcher, also press suitable for baling or cider press. Joseph Bradford, 198 Broadway. mar24d

Business For Sale
NEW AND SECOND HAND FURNITURE STORE
GOOD LOCATION — ESTABLISHED 5 YEARS. MUST BE SOLD THIS WEEK. APPLY 140 VALLEY STREET, WILLIMANTIC, CONN. L. J. A. LAMBERT, PROP., TEL. 547-2.

FOR SALE
WATER STREET PROPERTY
Inspection Solicited
APPLY TO
James L. Case
TELEPHONE 876
40 SHETUCKET STREET

NOTICE
Rummage Sale
AT 10 CLIFF STREET
ALL DAY

WIDOW MUST SELL
139-acre farm located in old New England village just off state road, 3 1-2 miles to city, two-story, 20-room house, running spring water, bath, horse barn, large stock barn and other farm buildings, all in A-1 condition; village land smooth and easy to work and very productive; an attractive home and farm combined; price $7,000, $3,000 cash.
TEYONS' AGENCY,
Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
MAIN ST. FIRE STATION
The fire commissioners of the City of Norwich will receive sealed bids up to and including Tuesday, March 27th, 1923, for the Main Street Fire Station and the lot of land on which it stands, located on Main Street next to the Merchants Bank. Said real estate is carried on the books of the City of Norwich at Eighteen Thousand Dollars and is about 40 feet front and 50 feet in depth. The sealed bids may be left with the Chief of the Fire Department at the Central Fire Station of whom also inquiry as to further particulars may be made. The commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids and any bid that may be accepted will be accepted subject to the ratification by a City meeting.
ANSON R. GROVER,
EDWARD CROOKS,
WILLIAM H. ALDRICH,
Fire Commissioners of the City of Norwich

FOR SALE
8-Room Cottage, West Side. Every Improvement. Price $6,000.
Cottage and Garage, near Backus Hospital. All Improvements. Price $6,000.
New Cottage, Preston, with Garage. $6,500.
We also have some attractive Bermuda, Bahama and Porto Rico Tours
Grover & Burdick
2 MARKET STREET, UPSTAIRS
PHONE 1107-2

FOR SALE
6 or 7-room two-family house on Prospect Street, Greeneville. Owner leaving town. Price very low.
A 7-room house in Thamesville, at a low price, with 1-2 acre of land. Owner needs money.
Within five minutes' walk to the Square—A two-family house, at a very low price.
THREE CHOICE BARGAINS!
SEE
COIT & SHOLES
TELEPHONE 2288

FOR SALE
Very choice modern, up-to-date four-apartment house, located in the best spot on Broad St.; present earning capacity $3,300 per year. For a quick sale $20,000 will close it. A gilt-edge investment. Can be financed very liberally.
For further particulars, inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN,
REAL ESTATE BROKER.

FARM FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres, land well divided and in high state of cultivation, keeping over 30 head of stock; large house, and barn to tie up over 30 head; several other buildings, including large silo, and all in excellent repair; running water to buildings; abundance of fruit; an opportunity to get possession of a productive dairy farm with no outlay to buildings; 10 minutes' drive from Franklin Square. For particulars,
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE,
Shannon Bldg. Phones. Norwich.

For Sale
Six-family apartment house, all modern improvements, garage for 10 cars, located on Broadway; monthly rental $360; a good investment at price asked.
Several one and two-family houses; finest of locations; prices attractive.
Two desirable farms, consisting of 150 acres each, stocks, etc., 20 acres level land, on state road.
JAMES E. MOORE,
Real Estate, Insurance and Investments,
Thayer Bldg., Franklin Square.

FOR SALE

Two-store and four-apartment house, with all modern improvements, two minutes' walk from Franklin Square. For full particulars, see
A. V. COVELLO,
Real Estate and Fire Insurance,
Tel. 1437-2. 166 Cliff St.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
FOUR TENEMENT HOUSE AND LARGE BARN ON LAFAYETTE STREET IN GOOD REPAIR, ANNUAL INCOME ABOUT $600.00. PRICE ONLY $4,800. NICE LOCATION AND GOOD INVESTMENT.
THOS. H. BECKLEY
278 MAIN STREET
PHONES

$750 Cash Payment
BUYS A TEN-ACRE FARM, 7-ROOM COTTAGE HOUSE, BARN, 5 HENNERIES, FRUIT. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. SEND FOR FARM BULLETIN—CHOICE OF 400.
WILLIAM A. WILCOX
FARM SPECIALIST
WESTERLY, R. I.

FOR SALE

Pursuant to a judgment of the Superior Court in and for New London County, dated the 2d day of March, 1923, in the case of The Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Mass., against Tillie Becker et als., I will sell at public auction on April 9th, 1923, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, the farm formerly occupied by Tillie Becker, in the Town of Colchester, and bounded and described as follows:

Parcel 1.

Containing seventy (70) acres, more or less, situated in the said Town of Colchester, and bounded as follows: Northerly by land formerly of Elizabeth McDonald; easterly by The Deep River road; southerly by the Deep River road and by land now or formerly of Henry Patt; and westerly by land now or formerly of Elias Harvey.

Parcel 2.

Containing one hundred ten (110) acres, more or less, situated in the said Town of Salem, and bounded as follows: Northerly and westerly by land now or formerly of Richard Day; and easterly and southerly by land now or formerly of Orrin Avery, said parcel being intersected by the Deep River road.

TERMS CASH.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 10th day of March, 1923.

FRED O. BROWN,
mar17S Committee.

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

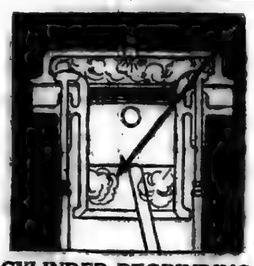
FOR SALE—Three 30x3 1-2, $7.50; 32x4, $14; 34x4, $15; all firsts, guaranteed. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St. mar24d

FOR SALE—Ford honeycomb radiators, all brass, guaranteed, $11 up. The Johnson Co., 107-109 Franklin St., Norwich. feb1d.

NORWICH Auto and Truck Paint Shop; all work guaranteed. Joseph Ferry, Prop. St. Phone 1397. oct19

AUTO TOPS, radiator covers, curtains, slip covers and fine covers, reupholstering, all kinds of autos. Geo. Amesmeier, 22 Bath St. Phone 1295. mar24d

This is the time to have us put the radiator in A-1 shape for the coming season. Have us clean the radiator, stop all leaks, strengthen where vibration is affecting it, remove dents and other injuries.
Skilled service in every phase of radiator service, at moderate cost.
WILLIAM E. SHANLEY
493 MAIN STREET, NORWICH



CYLINDER REGRINDING
Eliminates the scores, corrects the cylinder that is grooved, makes the old engine practically better than when new.
Regrinding supersedes reboring, or lapping-in of pistons, as it gives EXACT surfacing and cutting—making the old, seasoned casting really better than a new one.
Get our prices on new pistons, rings, and grinding for your motor.
HEEBNER BROS.
31 CHESTNUT STREET

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles,
Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing In All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

THERE is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

AUCTIONS

AUCTION
—OF—
NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU
HORSES
—AT—FITCH'S BARN,
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.,
THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1923,
at 12:30 o'clock p. m. sharp.
20 — HORSES — 20

These horses are farm horses, weighing from 1200 to 1400 lbs. Several matched pairs, and are consigned by fifteen members of the North Dakota Farm Bureau. This is a direct marketing movement and is designed to give the eastern dealer and user the same advantage as the western speculator that ships to Chicago or St. Louis markets.

The day before the sale, commencing at 10 o'clock, the horses will be blanketed and worked to the satisfaction of all present.

Every horse sold under a positive guarantee. No horses sold at retail. All sold at auction day of sale.

E. R. DE LANCEY,
Supt. of the Horse Sales Dept. of North Dakota Farm Bureau. Eastern Headquarters, Grand Hotel, Springfield, Mass.

E. M. GRANGER, JR., Auctioneer, Thompsonville, Conn.
mar24d

AUCTION NOTICE
We wish to call the attention of farmers of thoroughbred Guernseys to the C. D. Arnold sale at Elm Farm, located about 2 1-2 miles northeast of Putnam, Conn., on the Providence-Hartford pike road, on

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1923
at 10 o'clock a. m., sharp.

They are a select lot of transferred cattle, heavy producers, bred in the purple, and result among the aristocrats of the breed. A number of high grade grade cattle will also be sold.

This is an exceptionally healthy herd of animals, having been under federal supervision for three years. Mr. Arnold's entire dairy equipment of heavy horses, machinery, wagons, horses, pigs, poultry, hay and household goods will be sold at the same time.

Feature of the sale, giving certificate indicating ancestry, and any property purchased in this important sale will be guaranteed upon applying to the auctioneer. If stormy, postponed to the first fair day after. This is positively a bona fide sale. Take your selection and attend.

WINTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS,
Office and Salesrooms, No. 49 Main Street, Danielson, Conn.

LOWELL J. WILCOX.....Auctioneer

AUCTION
Charles E. Ellis will sell at public auction
MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1923,
at 9 o'clock,
at his farm at East Great Plain, opposite Maplewood cemetery, the following described property:

One pair horses, weight 2600 lbs., work double or single, sound and gentle; 10 head of cattle, some to freshen this spring; 1 extra Guernsey heifer, freshen soon; 1 thoroughbred Guernsey bull 5 months old; 6 shoats, 50 choice White Plymouth Rock hens, 1 team wagon, 1 dump cart, 1 surrey, 1 Concord buggy, 1 market sleigh, 1 two-horse sled, 1 mowing machine, 1 horse rake, 1 tedder, 1 disk harrow, 1 weeder, 1 manure spreader, 1 lime spreader, 1 smoothing harrow, 1 two-horse cultivator, 3 one-horse cultivators, 1 Eddy plow, 1 side-hill plow, 1 express harness, 3 light driving harness, 2 pair heavy team harness, 2 collars, 1 two-horse scoop shovel, 1 large iron kettle, 1 separator, churn, pails, hoes, shovels, forks, chains, whiffletrees and eveners, light pole, drag, carpenter's tools, some household goods, and other things too numerous to mention.

If stormy, sale will be next fair day.
mar17StuThS

TRANSPORTATION

AS AGENT for the Cunard S. S. Co. I will secure passports, furnish clients with guide from one of the best hotels in New York, who will transfer baggage, see that passports have proper vise and see you to your berth on the boat. Joshua Taylor, Agt., 193 High St. Phone 1935-4. mar3S

NORWICH-WESTERLY 'BUS LINE.
NICK MOONEY, Prop.
Telephone Westerly 2-67.
Leave Westerly 8 and 11 a. m., 2 and 5 p. m.
Leave North Stonington 8.20 and 11.20 a. m., 2.20-5.20 p. m.
Leave Norwich 9.30 a. m., 12.30, 3.30, 6.30 p. m.
Leave North Stonington 10.15 a. m., 1.15, 4.15, 7.15 p. m.
FARES: Norwich-Westerly, 70c; Norwich-North Stonington, 45c. jan13WS

INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

E. H. HARRIMAN the financier once said to a stock speculator who wanted a tip on the stock market that the best time to buy copper was between 10 and 3. We say to you that the best time to INSURE is NOW, THIS MINUTE—DON'T DELAY!
B. P. Learned & Co.
No. 28 Shetucket Street
Assuring Insurers Since May 1846

ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE
HAROLD S. BURT
120 LAUREL HILL AVENUE
PHONE 598-3

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Rent It

TO RENT

TO RENT—Unfurnished room, using preferred, kitchen privileges if desired. Bulletin. mar24d

TO RENT—Space for automobiles. Call at 116 Franklin St. mar24d

TO RENT—Space at 212 Franklin St. Inquire at 210. mar24d

TO RENT—Two tenements, four and five rooms, all improvements. Inquire Park Road, or Boswell Ave. Tel. 1469-3. mar24d

TO RENT—Four-room ten

CLOUDY AND COLDER TODAY AND TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

NORWICH, CONN., SATURDAY, MARCH 24, 1923.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Saturday, March 24, 1923.

THE WEATHER

Winds

North of Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh to strong northwest and weather overcast, possibly local rains Saturday.

Conditions

The disturbance that was over the upper lake region Thursday night has moved rapidly northeastward to the Canadian Maritime Provinces, attended by rains most generally east of Mississippi river. Another disturbance was over Lake Superior Friday night and moving rapidly eastward and still another was approaching the North Pacific coast. While pressure was high over Manitoba, and Saskatchewan and almost generally over the United States, except the Atlantic states.

Generally fair weather prevailed Friday west of the Mississippi river except for local rains along the North Pacific coast. The weather was unseasonably warm Friday in the Atlantic and East Gulf states, while it became colder in the lake region and the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys and decidedly colder weather overspread portions of the Canadian northwest. At Minnedosa, Man., the temperature was ten degrees below zero at 1 p. m., Friday.

Indications are for mostly fair weather Saturday and Sunday in the Atlantic and East Gulf states, Tennessee, the Ohio valley and the lower lake region. However, local rains are probably along the south Atlantic coast Saturday and local rains or snows in the lower lake region and northern New York Saturday or Saturday night. The temperature will be lower in the Middle Atlantic and South Atlantic states Saturday. The North Atlantic Saturday and Sunday and the Ohio and Middle Mississippi valleys and the lower lake region Saturday night or Sunday.

Forecast

For Southern New England: Cloudy and colder Saturday and Sunday.

Observation in Norwich

The Bulletin's observation shew the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Friday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	55	29.70
13 m.	66	29.70
6 p. m.	68	29.60

Highest 68, lowest 55.

Comparisons

Predictions for Friday: Rain, mild temperature.

Friday's weather: Partly cloudy, thundershower in late afternoon, followed by rain, warmer.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Rises.
19	5.55	5.57	11.19	3.06
20	5.53	5.58	11.59	3.56
21	5.52	6.00	12.25	4.50
22	5.50	6.01	12.55	10.44
23	5.48	6.02	1.39	11.37
24	5.47	6.03	2.28	Morn
25	5.46	6.04	3.24	0.39

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue George M. Charbonneau has been a visitor in town this week checking up those who filed 1921 returns incorrectly.

Troop 3, Boy Scouts met Friday evening in the recreation rooms of the Taftville Congregational church under the direction of Scoutmaster Victor H. Davis.

Court Wequonnoc, No. 81, Foresters of America, met Thursday evening in their rooms in St. Louis hall on Dion street. Chief Ranger William Smith presided and routine business was transacted.

Everett Simino is ill at his home on Merchants avenue.

Next week, beginning Tuesday evening services will be held at the Taftville Congregational church.

Exavier Bessette, who broke his leg, several weeks ago, when he fell from a staging while at work as a carpenter at the plant of the United States Finishing company in Norwich, is able to be out and walks with the aid of a cane.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Urban and family have returned from a several weeks' visit in Canada.

George J. Meyer of Lisbon, has returned from a motor trip to Danbury.

Joseph Lepine has resigned his position with the weaving department of the Ponemah company.

PROVIDES FOR REMOVAL OF NEW LONDON POLICE

(Special to The Bulletin)

Hartford, March 22.—The frequent clashes that have occurred between the city manager and members of the council in the New London city government have been provided against by the bill which originally introduced by Mr. Cronin, has been amended by the committee on cities and boroughs, the substitute bill as passed today provides, that any person who shall be a member of the police force of the city of New London at the time of the passage of this act, other than a supernumerary, shall hold his position during good behaviour and shall not be removed except for cause. The city manager of said city may remove any police officer after hearing with the approval of a majority of a committee to be composed of the mayor, the judge and the deputy judge of the police court.

William A. Gleeson, of Torrington, is endeavoring to make arrangements with the American consul at Panama, to have the body of William Chapman, formerly of Torrington, who was killed in the Canal Zone last November, sent to Connecticut.

Spring Time Advice For Tired Mothers

Mothers who are tired and run down by the strain of family cares can rebuild strength and regain normal health by taking Father John's Medicine which is all pure, wholesome nourishment. The food elements which this old-fashioned prescription contains are so prepared that they are quickly taken up by a system weakened and run down.

There is no false stimulation in Father John's Medicine. It is pure, wholesome nourishment. Guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

BOARD WILL AGAIN CONFER WITH ADVISORS ON HIGH SCHOOL QUESTION

The town school board has called another meeting for next Tuesday evening with the advisory council on the Academy and high school situation. The meeting will be held, as the first was, in the common council chamber at the court house.

In the call for the meeting, which has been sent to the members of the council, the school board says:

In order to help the situation we have compiled matter shown by transcription of stenographic notes taken at the meeting on March 21st. A synopsis of this is as follows:

Each of the twenty-two (22) advisors present spoke, eight (8) being more or less of the positive opinion that plan number one (1) embracing support of the Academy plan should be favored. Two (2) more advocates of the erection of an intermediate school, while twelve (12) were not ready to commit themselves.

Of the twelve (12) uncommitted at least four (4) were much interested in the plan for an intermediate school as assisting in caring for congestion not only in the high school but in the elementary system.

A number were emphatic in their advocacy of democratic control of our educational facilities.

Suggestion was made that arrangement be made by which the executive or managing committee of the Academy be enlarged to five (5) in number, two (2) to be chosen by the public.

Opinion was also expressed contrary to the plan suggested just above, and it was intimated that it would be a mistake for the public to ask for substantial control of Academy management. Along this line one (1) speaker at least suggested that there was serious difficulty in this respect inasmuch as the managing committee of the Academy was chosen from its trustees, who in turn must first be corporators.

One (1) speaker was emphatic in that it was his opinion that alliance be made with the Academy, but with the understanding that the public must in return be given the best possible high school teaching force.

It was developed that no other community in Connecticut was confronted with quite the same problem.

Five (5) speakers were hesitant to advocate the plan of the Academy on a temporary basis. Statement should be gained from the Academy as to whether or not it was prepared to enter into negotiations looking towards permanent care in the future of the high school students of the town. This statement will be submitted to Principal Tirrell.

One (1) speaker inquired if any part of the estimate of the Academy for per capita cost was to eventually assist in paying for the cost of increased plant. If this was so, in the event of the town wishing to break off relations, would it be possible for town money so expended to be recovered.

One (1) speaker propounded the exact question relating as to what number or percentage of students were inspired to enter high school under the intermediate plan as compared with the system without intermediate plan. This question has been passed on to Dr. Meredith of the state board of education for answer.

This digest of the results of the former conference may be of some assistance in framing a definite attitude which can be declared at the coming meeting. It is of course desirable to the school board that definite position be assumed. Again thanking you for your courtesy in participating in these deliberations, and looking forward to an advantageous meeting on Tuesday next, we beg to remain

Yours very truly,

W. F. LESTER.
Chairman Town School Board.

PETITIONING FOR CONCRETE PAVEMENT ON WATER ST.

Business houses in the Water street neighborhood have arisen to a realization of the handicap their trade suffers because of poor conditions of the street between Commerce street and Market street and are circulating a petition to have this section paved in concrete without delay.

The past winter emphasized this particularly when they saw the street at times practically impassable and there were periods when it was officially closed.

The following petition which they are circulating is receiving the signatures of many citizens outside of this particular business section:

1—The nature of the paving on Water street between the juncture of Commece street and Market street makes it a disgrace to the city.

2— As much traffic passes through Water street as through any other thoroughfare in the city.

3—The class of conveyance, as a rule, is of the heaviest type.

4—The presence of a theatre on Water street is an incentive for out of town people to drive through and park their cars.

5—It is all business is being discouraged on this street because of the condition of the paving.

6—Water street is a natural thoroughfare for relieving the traffic congestion on Main street.

7—In times of adverse weather conditions Water street has been impassible and has caused the city additional expense to make it possible of use. Official closing of the street for several days was found necessary.

In view of the above facts, we hereby energetically petition the paving in concreto of this street between the points afore mentioned without delay.

REALIZED $30 FROM SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

The third and fourth grades of Mt. Pleasant school gave a pleasing entertainment in Elizabeth Street school auditorium, Friday afternoon to a large audience of parents, friends, and pupils of the higher grades. The programme was as follows:

Piano selection, Il Trovatore, Celia Silverman; play, Robin Hood and the Old Woman, Grade IV; recitation, Sure Signs, Grade III; play, The Simple Farmer, Grade IV; play, Always on Time, Grade III; play, Robin Hood and the Warrant, Grade IV; recitation, Today, Grade III; dance, Ace of Diamonds, Grade IV; play, King's Dream, Grade IV; piano selection, Con Amore, Celia Silvesman; play, The Man and the Satyr, Grade IV; play, The Lazy Grasshopper, Grade III.

Approximately $30 was realized. The proceeds will go towards a new victrola for Mt. Pleasant Street school.

AWARD PLAINTIFF THE FULL AMOUNT OF CLAIM

Mrs. Betty Peters Powers of New York who sued Mrs. Louise K. Keisker of New London to collect a claim for $1,600 is awarded the full amount of her claim in a decision handed down Friday by Judge Allyn L. Brown of the superior court before whom the case was recently tried in this city.

The two women lived in apartments in New York between 1917 and 1919 under an agreement by which each was to pay half the expenses. Mrs. Keisker, who then unmarried and had come to New York from her home in Rogerville, Tenn., was not able to meet her share at the time and besides this was advanced sums of money for various uses by Mrs. Powers. The total indebtedness proved was $1,323.13 on which $30 had been paid on account, leaving $1,-293.13 due on May 1, 1919. Interest since then made $309.52 more, bringing the total to $1,602.65.

HOLY WEEK MEETINGS AT NOONTIME HOUR

At Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, Holy Week services will be held each day except Friday at the noon hour. Buffet lunch will be served in the dining room at 12 and the half hour services will begin promptly at 12.30 and close promptly at 1. The following ministers of the city will bring short messages appropriate to the day: Rev. Charles H. Ricketts speaks Monday on The Message of Monday. Dr. David A. Pitt speaks on Tuesday, Rev. E. C. Dunbar on Wednesday and Dr. Alexander H. Abbott on Thursday. On Friday the service is under the Y. M. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. building. A service is also planned for Saturday. Everybody is welcome to attend these meetings.

Unclaimed Letters

Unclaimed letters at the Norwich, Conn., post office for week ending March 24, 1923, Mr. A. Lincoln Fairfield, Miss Agnes Keegan, Mrs. Thomas McCartney, Mr. John B. Moole, Mr. F. H. Tripp, Mr. Albert J. Terry.

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR CONFERENCE OF METHODISTS

The following is to be the program for the New England Southern Methodist conference in New London April 3-9:

Tuesday, April 3

10.30 a. m.—Annual conference examinations.

4 p. m.—Meeting of the board of examiners.

7.30 p. m.—Addresses of welcome, Hon. Alton T. Miner, presiding.

8 p. m.—Anniversary of Epworth league, Rev. Frank W. Gray, presiding. Address, by Rev. F. W. Adams, D. D.

9 p. m.—Address and moving pictures, The House of Life, by Rev. J. Edwin LaCount.

Wednesday, April 4

9 a. m.—Holy communion followed by organization and business.

11 a. m.—Memorial service, Rev.. G. G. Scrivener, presiding.

Address by Rev. Lyman G. Horton.

2 p. m.—Conference sermon by Rev. William I. Ward.

8 p. m.—Lecture, The State of the Country, Rev. Newell Dwight Hills, D. D.

Thursday, April 5

9 a. m.—Business.

2 p. m.—Anniversary of W. H. M. S., Mrs. F. W. Coleman, presiding.

3 p. m.—Anniversary of W. F. M. S., Mrs. William H. Thursber, presiding.

4 p. m.—Institute hour for Evangelism.

7.30 p. m.—Methodism's world service program.

Address, To Serve the Present Age, Charles Wesley Burns.

Friday, April 6

9 a. m.—Business.

10 a. m.—Methodism's world service program.

Address, by Dr Morris H. Ebnes.

11 a. m.—Address, Strengthening the Local Church, Dr. W. S. Bovard.

2 p. m.—Address, Training the Christian Reserve, Dr. Abram W. Harris.

3 p. m.—Address, Saving America Through Our Home Missions, Dr. M. P. Burns.

7.30 p. m.—Address, Our Overseas Work, Dr. F. Mason North.

8.30 p. m.—Address, A United Church in World Service, Dr. F. J. Maveety.

Saturday, April 7

9 a. m.—Business.

2 p. m.—Business.

4-6 p. m.—Reception to Bishop Burns and ministers' wives at the parsonage, 193 Hempstead street, Mrs. Myron E. Genter and committee.

4-6 p. m.—Free automobile parties for ministers to scenic and historic places.

7.30 p. m.—Anniversary of conference deaconess board, Rev. I. W. Leberon, presiding. Address by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns.

Sunday, April 8

9 a. m.—Love feast, Rev. Edward C. Bass, D. D., presiding.

10.30 a. m.—Conference sermon, by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns.

3 p. m.—Ordination of deacons and elders and consecration of deaconesses.

7.30 p. m.—Anniversary of board of temperance, Hon. A. T. Miner, presiding. Address by Dr. Clarence True Wilson.

TRINITY COLLEGE WANTS TABLET AT CAPITOL

(Special to The Bulletin)

Hartford, March 23.—A bill introduced in the senate today provides that subject to the approval of the state commission of sculpture, the trustees of Trinity college are authorized to erect a tablet on the east portico of the capitol commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of Trinity college. The college buildings formerly occupied the ground where the capitol now stands.

Although no design has yet been adopted for the tablet, immediate steps will be taken to secure one. It is proposed to have a tablet in slate carrying at the top a sketch of the old buildings and the dates, 1823-1923, with the motto of the college and other suitable inscription.

The bill was advocated before the committee by Judge Alexander Creecon, Mayor J. H. K. Davis, Trinity college graduates, Edgar F. Waterman and Representative Schatz.

There was no opposition at the hearing.

Wins Arcanum Club Pool Tourney.

Frank C. Harwood is the winner of the pool handicap pool tournament conducted at the Arcanum club touring the winter months. Mr. Harwood with two or three others were schatch players. A suitable prize is to be awarded at the annual meeting of the club.

Under a new ruling of the internal revenue bureau a taxable profit results from the exchange of stocks, bonds and other securities for like property if the market value of the property received is in excess of the cost of the property originally held. Collector Robert O. Eaton announced.

WORLD VERDICT OF CHRIST THE SAME AS PILATE'S

The largest number and the deepest impression thus far in the series can be said of the fourth in the noon day luncheon talks at the local Young Men's Christian Association Friday. Luncheon was served promptly at 12, and immediately following the hymn, Blessed Jesus was sung, followed by prayer offered by Rev. G. F. Bailey, and this was followed with a solo by Lemuel Fielding, which was well rendered. Shepard B. Palmer, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. religious work committee, presided and in a very cordial manner announced the speaker and his topic, which was Pilate's Verdict. Dr. Danforth immediately caught the interest and attention of the large number of business men present and held it from beginning to end. Among other things, Dr. Danforth said:

Pilate's verdict was expressed in these remarkable words, "I find no fault in him." The trial was the greatest in history. This was due not to the legal procedure, nor to the enormity of the indictment, nor the political eminence of the court, but solely to the personality of the accused. Pilate was the unwilling judge. A priest-ridden mob were the accusers. But the accused was Jesus Christ. Had it not been for him, all the rest of them would have been forgotten by this time. All the world knows or cares about them is the relation each sustained to Christ. Their historical immortality derives wholly from Christ.

Pilate stood himself to be a man above the ordinary. Like many another in public responsibility, his private life and his public were related, but not identical. A man does some things as an officer which he would not do as a man. The relation of a man to his place is elastic, sometimes entirely too much so. The man said "I find no fault in him." The governor decided that the demand for the death sentence was strong enough to render expedient a concession. The mob would accept no substitute, and so they got what they asked.

The personal verdict of the man was wonderful. "No fault," and the fault-finders of nineteen centuries have been so baffled by the character of Christ that they have resorted to most unhistorical methods to explain him.

This was no "Scotch verdict," where a canny court would not commit itself on the question of guilt but simply bringing in the verdict of "Not proven." Pilate could tell a fault when he saw one. Yet here he said, "I find no fault in him." The verdict is not gray; it is white. Negative but with a great positive content. It tells what is not in Christ, and we and the world at large will concur in it; we find no fault in him.

A life as big as Christ's could never be empty. One with so much life would never be without a character of some kind. The space which in other lives would have been occupied by faults, must in his life have been filled with something else. About Christ there was nothing "faultily faultless, icily regular, splendidly null." You want the diamond without a flaw, the crystal without a fault. The Parian marble must show no vein of color across the figure which the sculptor carves. Through the faultless character of Christ we see the inner content of his spirit. That is one reason why we love the fourth gospel. And, as we look to Christ we find ourselves. The disciples did not know themselves until they knew the Master. The new creature waiting to be born within the soul is the real self. You do not know the butterfly by looking at the cocoon. Wait and see it coms out and spread its wings. Your soul does not come out and spread its wings until it finds its new life in Christ.

And what is true of us individually is true of us collectively. Mankind finds itself in Christ. Worldly empires rose before and after him. The kingdom of heaven rose with him. That kingliness which is of heaven is mankind at its best, even as it finds itself in Christ.

What strange religious ideas rose in the world without him. The gropings of a soul toward light are often most pathetic. But man found God in Christ in a way and to a degree in which he never had found him before. In him God was manifested in the flesh redeeming the world unto himself.

After thinking of how Pilate sat as judge over the trial of Christ, one may wonder how it came, when Pilate himself was through with Rome and Palestine and all the rest of earth, and appeared before the eternal judgment. There he stood before the Crucified. What verdict would Christ pass on him? The less Christ-like our mood the more emphatic will be our answer. The nearer we are to our Master the greater will be our compassion.

Every generation judges the Christ. Let every generation judge him faultless and find its own best self in him.

LITTLE SENTIMENT FOR WILLIMANTIC CONSOLIDATION

(Special to The Bulletin)

Hartford, March 23.—The committee on cities and boroughs gave a hearing on bills introduced by Representatives Fenton and Laramie. The one introduced by Mr. Fenton provided for the consolidation of the municipal government of the town of Windham and the city of Willimantic. Mr. Fenton appeared and asked leave to withdraw the bill, stating that there was not any appreciable amount of sentiment in its favor. There is at the present time a special commission considering the matter of which he is a member. He did not think the matter had yet been sufficiently considered to warrant action by the assembly at this time. The bill will be reported back adversely as requested by Mr. Fenton.

The one by Mr. Laramie provides for an amendment of the city charter, so that the office of chief engineer of the fire department may be permanent and that a deputy engineer may also be appointed, to act during the absence of the chief.

It also provides that the police department shall consist of a chief, captain and lieutenant and as many patrolman as may be required. These officers are also to be permanent and removable only for cause.

Representatives Fenton and Laramie endorsed the bill and there was no opposition.

Decision to recommend the construction of state armories in New Haven, Bristol and Manchester involving appropriations aggregating $900,000 was reached by the legislative committee on military affairs.

Pure Food Specials for Saturday

Many Week End Necessities Must Be Bought. You Will Be Greatly Surprised at the Savings That Can Be Made In Making Your Purchases At This Big Market.

ARMOUR'S SUGAR CURED SMOKED SHOULDERS Pound 12½c

STEAKS Sirloin, Round, Porterhouse Pound 23c

MOHICAN GOLD MEDAL FLOUR ..... $1.05 1-8 BBL. SACK

Fresh, Large Selected EGGS Every Egg Guaranteed 3 Dozen 99c

Fine Mohican Creamery BUTTER 3 Pounds $1.55

Fine Western Dressed Steer Beef
Lean Pot Roast Beef, lb.. 10c
Fine Cuts Chuck Roast 12½c
SPECIAL
PRIME RIB BONELESS ROLLED
ROAST BEEF, lb..... 29c
No Waste, Ready for the Oven
Chopped Steak, 3 lbs.... 25c
FRESHLY SLICED
Beef Liver, 3 lbs..... 25c
Veal--Native Milk Fed--Veal
Short Cut Legs, lb..... 20c
Shoulder Cuts Veal, lb... 19c
TO ROAST
Veal Chops, lb..... 29c
Veal Cutlets, lb..... 39c
Veal for Stewing, lb... 12½c
SUGAR CURED, WHOLE OR HALF
HAMS - lb. 19c
Sliced Ham, lb..... 39c
ONE TON, LEAN, NICELY CURED
Corned Beef lb. 7c
Swift's Genuine Spring Lamb
Short Cut Legs, lb..... 29c
MEATY
Forequarters Lamb, lb... 19c
Loins Lamb to Roast, lb. 27c
Lamb Chops, lb..... 29c
Lamb for Stewing, lb... 12½c

N. B. C. Crackers, 2 lbs.... 25c
SODA AND OYSTER
Mince Meat, pkg..... 11c
EXTRA FANCY HAND PICKED
Tomatoes, can 24c
Pure Cocoa, 2 lbs..... 17c
Containing a high percentage of butter fat
CREPE TISSUE
Toilet Paper, 6 rolls 21c
Sweet Potatoes, 6 lbs.... 25c
Fine Grape Fruit, 5 for... 25c
SEEDLESS SUNKIST
ORANGES, 15 for..... 25c
Fresh Mushrooms, lb.... 69c
Celery Hearts, 2 bunches 25c
SWEET, MEATY
PRUNES, 3 lbs..... 25c
Fresh Spinach, 3 lb. pk... 39c
EVAPORATED
MILK, 2 tall cans 21c
SPECIAL—FRESH MADE
Two-Layer Cakes, each. 25c
HOT EVERY A. M. AND P. M.
Mohican Bread, 1 lb. loaf. 5c
Fresh Eastern Dressed Little Pig
PORK LOINS, lb..... 19c
TO ROAST
Fresh Pork Shoulders, lb. 15c
These Shoulders Have All Surplus Fat and Skin Removed
PORK CHOPS, lb..... 23c

OUR FIRST TWENTY-FIVE YEARS CONTROL OF TROPICAL ISLANDS

Trade of the United States with its insular possessions in the first quarter century of our occupation totals about 5 1-2 billions dollars against a little more than one-half billion in the 25 years preceding our occupation. It was on July 7, 1898 that the United States Congress adopted the resolution annexing the Hawaiian Islands in accordance with the expressed wishes of their people; on August 12 of the same year the protocal providing for the cession of Porto Rico to the United States was signed; and on December 10 of that year was signed the treaty with Spain ceding the Philippines to the United States. Guam, formerly a Spanish island, was also occupied by the United States in the same year, while the tiny Samoan island, Tutuila, with the best harbor in all the South Pacific, passed completely under our control in 1899 after several years, in which we had co-operated with certain other countries in the control of the Samoan group.

Thus the year 1923 marks distinctly our first quarter century of control of these tropical islands, with a population of about 12 millions. The record of our trade with these islands in the 25 years since occupation is in marked contrast with that of the quarter century prior to our control, while times as much since our occupation as that of the preceding 25 years. Our total purchase of their products in the past 25 years has been $3,360,000,000 against $502,000,000 in the 25 years preceding our occupation, and our sales to them $2,038,000,000 against $134,000,000 in the 25 years prior to our occupation. Of course, our purchases from them were more than they took of our products, for in the islands there are only 12 million people to feed and clothe while we have a population of 108 millions. All wanting tropical products.

The United States supplies a very large proportion of the imports of all these islands, 65% of those of the Philippines, and over 90% of those of Porto Rico and Hawaii. We take about 80% of the exports of the Philippines, 90% of those of Porto Rico, and 95% of those of the Hawaiian group.

Sugar, tobacco and Manila hemp are our chief imports from the Philippines; sugar and pineapples from Hawaii; and sugar, tobacco and tropical fruits from Porto Rico. To all of the islands we export manufactures of every sort and also limited quantities of food, especially flour and meats.

Establishing Horse-Power Unit.

The horse-power unit was established by James Watt, and the figures were settled in a curious way. Watt, in his usual careful manner, proceeded to find out the average which the horses of his district could perform, and he found that the raising of 32,000 pounds one foot per minute was about an actual horsepower. At this time Watt was employed in the manufacture of engine which make all the computations involved in taking into account the distance, speed and direction of travel of the target, as well as the direction and velocity of the wind, and the characteristics of the shell and powder.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Folding Beds Ancient.

Four thousand years ago the Egyptians boasted folding beds. What is more surprising, 4,000 years ago the dwellers along the Nile cherished folding beds.

This significant bit of news brought to the Metropolitan Museum of Art with a folding bed purloined from a tomb of old Egypt proves that the folding bed was prized as a luxury which only the very rich who could build marvelous tombs could afford.

The same archeologist brought back a bunk used on the boats of the Nile 4,000 years ago. The bunk differs in no particular way from stateroom berths of modern craft.—Detroit News.

New Gunnery Instruments.

Two new instruments, expected to mark a new era in coast defense gunnery, have been constructed and will soon be installed to direct the fire of the big guns at the defenses of the Panama canal. They are called the target computer and the battery computer, and are directed by two high-powered telescopes located at fixed observation stations, which in turn may receive airplane observations in case the distant enemy is hidden from land view by smoke screens or other causes. The observations are transmitted electrically to the instruments.

The American Express company has recently inaugurated a system for facilitating remittances from Great Britain to Poland.

Here's Light

ON the subject of shirts. Ours are amply cut. And beautifully made. Have pleasing patterns and are popular priced. Our new arrivals show what's what in shirtdom.

"Yorke" Shirts
FOR MEN WHO KNOW

Every shirt properly tailored. Every shirt guaranteed as to color, fit, wear and general satisfaction.

Made of fine cottons with silk stripe — of corded madras—of fine percale —of Jacquard madras.

All the Best Shirtings
New Patterns
New Colors
$2.00 to $5.00

Boston Store
"MEN'S SHOP"
Correct Haberdashery

Spring Days Suggest the KODAK
GET A CATALOGUE AT
CRANSTON'S
The No. 2-C Special Surpasses Anything Yet in the Kodak Family.
Call and Allow Us to Show It to You.

An Easy Way To Own A Genuine Victrola

Don't deny yourself the pleasure of owning a Victrola. By our special selling plan you can own any Victrola in our large stock on terms so easy you will not feel paying for it. We have all models from $25 up, being the largest dealers in Victrolas in Eastern Connecticut.

THIS COUPON WILL BRING YOU FULL DETAILS.
CUT IT OUT AND MAIL TODAY.
THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.
125-143 Main Street, Norwich, Conn.
Please send me full particulars regarding your special easy payment plan of owning a Victrola.
Name .....
Street .....
Town .....

INTRODUCING
J. B. SIMPSONS, Inc.,
MEN'S TAILORED-TO-MEASURE
$50.00 SUITS FOR $29.50
Made of "Virgin" Wool
MATERIALS ARE STRICTLY ALL WOOL
FIT AND WORKMANSHIP GUARANTEED
EQUAL TO ANY $50.00 SUIT OBTAINABLE ELSEWHERE — COME IN AND SEE THEM.
A SURPRISE AWAITS YOU
MARSHALL'S
101 MAIN STREET NORWICH, CONN.
Near Western Union Telegraph Office

SPECIAL
We have 1200 pairs Boys' Pants, assorted materials—we are offering in three lots at these prices 50c, 75c, $1.00.
The Norwich Bargain House
MORE FOR LESS
3-7 WATER STREET
CORNER WASHINGTON SQUARE
NORWICH, CONN.

BOOKS On All Subjects All Kinds
Subscription to all American and European Publications.
SHEA'S NEWS BUREAU
UNION SQUARE

WHEN YOU WANT A PLUMBER and before you make your choice of one we believe you can better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

Norwich Bulletin.

VOL. LXV—No. 73 | POPULATION 29,685 | NORWICH BULLETIN, MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1923 | EIGHT PAGES—64 COLUMNS | PRICE TWO CENTS

BLACKMAIL PLOT CAUSE OF MURDER OF DOROTHY KEENAN

New York Police Are Searching for Person or Persons Who Are Believed to Have Attempted to Blackmail John Kearsley Mitchell, the Mysterious "Mr. Marshall"—Mr. Mitchell Has Gone Into Seclusion—E. T. Stotesbury is Confident His Son-in-Law is Guiltless.

New York, March 25.—Police spread their net over Broadway tonight in their search for the person or persons who are believed to have attempted to blackmail John Kearley Mitchell, the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" in the Dorothy Keenan Case, and who are thought to have murdered the model because she refused to participate in the plot against him.

Although Assistant District Attorney Pecora has said that he has a "very definite idea" who ahe blackmailer is, and has declared that he is convinced that Dorothy was murdered as the result of the alleged plot, no arrests were made today. It was indicated that, while they may have their suspect under surveillance, the authorities are searching for others who also may have been implicated in the plot to obtain a large sum of money from the wealthy Philadelphia clubman whose wife is the youngest daughter of Edward T. Stotesbury, a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Mr. Pecora today reiterated his belief that Mr. Mitchell had no part in the crime other than that of the intended victim of the blackmailers. He said the story told both by Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Jackson, who was the "Mr. Wilson." described as a body guard for the former and who is a New York attorney, was most straightforward and "frankly told."

Where Mr. Mitchell went after his thrilling escape from reporters last night was not learned and, in fact. Public interest quickly shiftel from curiosity as to his identity to the probability of quick arrests of the alleged blackmailers.

There was also considerable speculation as to whether Dorothy Keenan had agreed to enter into the blackmail plot and then changed her mind. Her Broadway friends were quoted as saying that she had repeatedly declared that she would never enter into such a scheme. The theory was expressed that she may have led the plotters on, intending by some coup of her own to thwart them in the final undertaking.

STOTESBURY CONFIDENT SON-IN-LAW IS GUILTLESS

Palm Beach, Fla., March 25.—E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, father-in-law of J. Kearsley Mitchell, identified as the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" in the dorothy Keenan murder case in New York, today told the Associated Press his confidence in Mr. Mitchell was unshaken notwithstanding yesterday's developments.

"We are pained and mortified, of course," Mr. Stotesbury said, but we still believe in Mr. Mitchell, who has always been all that was right, and we are not inclined to believe newspaper reports of his digression now." He said that he and Mrs. Mitchell leave tomorrow morning for Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury authorized the following statement to the Associated Press before their departure:

Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury had arranged some weeks ago to leave for their home in Philadelphia tomorrow morning. Upon learning yesterday of the newspaper publicity affecting their family, their daughter, Mrs. J. Kearsley Mitchell at once decided to go up with them on their private car to rejoin Mr. Mitchell with the least possible delay.

Mrs. Mitchell declares, as do the members of her family, her unbounded faith in her husband.

Reiterating her lack of knowledge of any relationship between her husband and Miss Keenan, Mrs. Mitchell asserted her faith in her husband.

"Why we are the best of chums, my husband and I, and I know he could not have been unfaithful to me," she said. "What if he did dine with a woman or two, in the company of friends, is there anything wrong in that?" she queried. "As for Mr. Mitchell giving any woman money or presents without my knowledge, I simply do not believe it," she exclaimed.

"I do not mind these reports except for our two children, because I know that all our friends will understand," she said. A choking sob stopped further conversation.

The Mitchell have two children, Frances 12, and Jack 10.

Mrs. Mitchell has been in constant communication with her husband, but had not heard from his since Friday, she said. Mitchell left Palm Beach about two weeks ago where he had made himself a general favorite. During his stay here his wife was a daily companion at all the various social functions and in their almost daily dips in the ocean.

All of the friends of the Stotesbury family here where they are very popular are unanimous in expressing the opinion that some mistake has been made and that Mr. Mitchell's connection with the New York affair can be of only the most casual sort.

Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury are going north earlier than usual because of the arrival of their daughter, wife of General MacArthur from the Philippines to visit the general's mother, who is ill at Washington.

LUIGI QUINTILIANO IS CHARGED WITH SEDITION

Waterbury, March 25.—Luigi Quintiliano of New York city was arrested here tonight, charged with sedition, and was released under $2,000 bonds, as an aftermath of the third unsuccessful attempt of Carlo Tresca, alleged radical agitator and anti-fascisti orator, to speak here. Every other Sunday for the past six weeks Tresca has been prevented by the police from speaking here.

On this occasion Tresca was prevented from even entering the hall. No hand was laid on him, the police merely forming a solid wedge in the doorway and resisting any effort of Tresca to force his way through. No arrest was made and Tresca announced his intention of returning here again two weeks from today, first attemping to secure an injunction against interference by the police.

Quintiliano was one of the speakers who accompanied Tresca here. He is alleged to have declared that "freedom will never be attained until the red flag flies over the Statue of Liberty." Roger S. Baldwin of Middlebury, son of ex-Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, Rabbi Lewis Browne and Pietro Allegro, the latter of New York, all representatives of the American Civil Liberties union, which is backing Tresca in his attempt to speak here, were allow to speak. A large delegation from the Liberal club of Yale university sat on the platform.

ROBBERS IN PROVIDENCE TAKE JEWELRY FINDINGS

Providence, R. I., March 25.—Hundreds of feet of chain links, a quantity of white gold and jewelry findings valued by the owners at more than $7,000 were taken by cracksmen, thought by the police to be professionals, who tore the door from a large safe in the office of the Speidel Chain company at 71 Willard avenue, this city, some time this morning. Jewelry of still greater value was left behind by the thieves, who are believed to have been frightened away after they had entered the first safe.

A trail of gold which led to the neighboring thoroughfare, Blackstone street, where it is believed they jumped into a waiting automobile and were whisked away, was left by the crackmen.

They are believed to be the same robbers who entered the building Feb. 5, 1921, and made away with a considerable quantity of jewelry.

GREECE CELEBRATED ITS 102ND INDEPENDENCE DAY

Athens, March 25 (By the A. P.)—Greece today celebrated the 102nd anniversary of her independence. The service in the cathedral was attended by King George and Queen Elizabeth; government officials, foreign diplomats, including the American charge d' affaires and the American consul-general and numerous American relief workers.

It was the youthful queen's first public appearance since her recent long illness from typhoid pneumonia.

In the state carriage with King George rode a young naval cadet whose identity was generally unknown and whose presence in the seat of honor opposite the monarch excited comment. He was Prince Paul, brother of the king, and the seat assigned to him was an official announcement that Paul hereafter is to be regarded as the heir apparent to the throne of Greece.

BODY OF MISS BREAZEALE FOUND IN DELAWARE RIVER

New Brunswick, N. J., March 25.—The body of Miss Jeanette Breazeale, 21-year-old nurse, a daughter of Prof. William Breazeale of Rutgers college, for whom a wide search was instituted after her strange disappearance from Middlesex General Hospital February 21, was found today floating in Delaware and Raritan canal.

After an examination of the body Coroner Hubbard said he could find nothing to indicate that the young woman had been murdered and assumed that she had taken her own life. The body was identified by a cousin. Professor Breazeale visited the morgue but collapsed at the entrance. He said his daughter previous to her disappearance had suffered from grip and seemed depressed.

Miss Breazeale, after completing a tour of duty, left the hospital after dark, announcing she was going for a walk. She did not return. Later she was reported to have been seen in New York and other nearby cities.

TELEPHONE WORKERS TO DISCUSS WAGE SITUATION

Boston, March 25.—Delegates to the meeting here today of the New England council of telephone operators' unions voted to instruct Julia S. O'Connor, president of the telephone operators' department of the international brotherhood of electrical workers, to send out a call within 48 hours for a special meeting of all affiliated unions in the New England telephone system for the purpose of discussing the wage situation.

This action was taken after reports had been read from numerous operators outside the metropolitan district urging such immediate action. According to the reports submitted to the council, the wages paid to telephone operators are lower than those paid young women working in factories.

AMERICAN DELEGATION HAS ARRIVE IN SANTIAGO

Santiago, Chile, March 25 (By the A. P.).—The American delegation to the Pan-American congress, headed by Henry T. Fletcher, arrived in Santiago late last night from Valparaiso, where they landed Saturday from the steamer Santa Teresa.

At a meeting held by the delegations of the five Central American republics last night it was decided to confirm the decision arrived at during the recent Washington conference for the delegations to act in unison as a single delegation on all matters debated in the conference here.

The Central American delegation will advance a proposal to extend to all America membership in the international court of justice already established for the Central American republics and also in the project for the creation of a Pan-American archaeological institute.

DEMONSTRATION AT THE FRENCH EMBASSY IN BERLIN

Berlin, March 25.—After a concert given in front of the reichstag today by choristers from the Ruhr, a crowd of 5,000 persons held a demonstration outside the French embassy, where they sang "Deutschland Uber Alles." The police dispersed the gathering. There was no untoward incident.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Business Good in Austria

Vienna, March 25.—Austrian industries, particularly those manufacturing articles of luxury, are assured a busy and profitable six months of business through unexpectedly heavy orders placed by American and European buyers who attended the sample fair that closed yesterday.

"Baby Lascelles" Christened.

Goldsborough, Yorkshire, England, March 25.—(By the A. P.)—The Archbishop of York today christened "Baby Lascelles," the infant son of Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary, in the presence of King George and Queen Mary and other members of the royal households; and villagers and tenants and dependants of the Harewood estate of Viscount Lascelles, who were given the preference over visitors to the village desirous of witnessing the ceremony

15,000 NORFOLK, ENG., FARM WORKERS TO STRIKE TODAY

Norwich, Eng., March 25 (By the A. P.).—At a meeting of 4,000 farm laborers on the Earl of Kimberley's estate near Wymondham, the veteran leader of the laborers, George Edwards, announced today that 15,000 Norfolk farm workers would start a strike tomorrow in consequence of the failure of Saturday's efforts to settle the wage dispute between the farmers and their men.

The Earl of Kimberley, who presided at the meeting, advised the tenant-farmers to request their landlords to reduce rents, as otherwise they would be unable to pay the laborers a living wage. The earl bitterly regretted that the dispute between the laborers and the farmers had reached such a critical stage.

Incidentally, he blamed the big landlords who, he said, had bought land at top prices during the boom and now were expecting to reap profits on the basis of that boom.

A despatch from Norwich on Saturday said the representatives of the farm laborers, while announcing they were unable to accept the concessions offered by the employers, suggested a three months' truce in order to place the whole agricultural problem before the government. They requested that during the peace period a wage of 25 shillings for 50 hours of work be paid. The despatch added that the employers' representatives would submit the proposal to their executive.

HYDROAIRPLANE TO ENTER THE COMMUTING BUSINESS

New York, March 25.—The hydroairplane will enter the commuting business on June 29, it was announced tonight, following completion of plans for a New York-Newport air service upon the opening of the resort's season. Also will be a week end service to carry wealthy society folk who are among the incorporators.

Three four-passenger planes, the Fleet Wing, Grey Lark and Sea Bird, will enter the service. The 125 mile journey will be made in an hour and a half, according to the schedule. The time by train is six hours. Golf bags and luggage will be carried in the planes, but will cost their owners one cent a pound in addition to the $20 fare each way.

The company is to be operated with the aid of a subsidy provided by well known social leaders of Newport. Daily trips will not be made. Papers of incorporation for the company, to be known as the New York-Newport Air Service, Inc., will be filed in Maryland tomorrow. The incorporators, who will also be directors, are Vincent Astor, Grover Loening, Edwin T. Bechtel, Charles L. Lawrence, Roger M. Poor, Albert Palmer Loening and John Carrington Yates, all of New York.

MISS DELLORA ANGELL TO WED LESTER NORRIS

Chicago, March 25.—Miss Dellora Angel, youthful heiress to the estate of the late John W. Gates, estimated at $38,000,000, and Lester Norris, son of a St. Charles, Illinois, undertaker, and childhood sweetheart of Miss Angell, are to be married this week, according to a report received here today by R. F. Angell, the girl's father, who is with the family at Altadena, Calif. According to reports received here young Norris arrived at Los Angeles Friday on his way to his wedding.

STRIKE BALLOT BY THEATRE MUSICIANS IN NEW YORK

New York, March 25.—Balloting on a proposed strike of musicians in theatres and motion picture houses throughout the city to obtain a wage scale on a parity with musicians in Chicago, shows that three-fourths of the 9,000 members of the Musical Mutual Protective union favor a walkout, the union announced tonight.

Musicians in theatres here receive 52 a week, union officials said, while in Chicago they are paid $75. The union will demand an increase of from $12 to $25 a week.

TWO MILITARY AVIATORS BURNED TO DEATH

Kokomo, Ind., March 25.—Lieut. Gilbert T. Baker, of Frankfort, Md., and Private Earl Thornburg, of Whittier, Calif., were burned to death today when their airplane caught fire, after falling at Fagley Field here. The plane was taking off when it was turned over by a gust of wind. One of the wings punctured the gasoline tank and the plane broke into flames. Spectators were unable to liberate the aviators who were pinned beneath the machine.

IRISH MILITARY PARTY AMBUSHED AT KYLE

Wexford, Ireland, March 25.—A military party which was proceeding to Enniscorthy Friday afternoon was ambushed at Kyle. The fight lasted for an hour. Four members of the irregular forces were killed and three of the Free Staters wounded.

Lieutenant Jones, Sergeant O'Gorman and Private Horan were taken from a house in the township of Palace East, County Wexford, and brought to Adamstown, where they were shot and killed.

IRISH FREE STATE TROOPS CAPTURE GENERAL BOFIN

Dublin, March 25 (By the A. P.).—General Bofin, one of the chief irregular leaders, has been captured by Free State troops perating from Sligo, according to an official army report received here.

Bofin is known as "the Irish Dewey." He was recently at the head of a large number of irregulars whose stronghold was in the Arigna mountains, County Cavan.

Textile Workers Vote Against Strike

Four of the Six Unions in Fall River Voted to Defer Action Until After Wage Conference on April 20.

Fall River, Mass., March 25.—A threatened strike of the textile workers who are members of six locals affiliated with the Fall River Textile council was averted ttoday by vote of the operatives. Four of the six locals voted to defer action until after April 20 when another wage conference will be held with the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' association.

The vote today was on the proposal of the manufacturers made at a conference with the council last Friday that action on the council's demond for a 15 per cent. wage increase be deferred until April 20 pending the outcome of a second wage conference. After the manufacturers made this request President James Tansey, of the ouncil announced that the proposition would be placed before the various local unions for a vote and that if the suggestion did not meet with their approval a strike vote would be taken.

Only three of the six unions voted in favor of the manufacturers proposal. They wede the yarn finishers, the spinners and the carders. The other three locals, the slashers, weavers and loomfixers, voted again deferring strike action and then proceeded to take a strike vote.

The slashers voted 61 to 30 in favor of a strike; the weavers voted 475 to 131 to strike; but the loomfixers union vote lacked 9 votes of the necessary two-thirds to carry as favoring a strike, the vote being 166 to 94.

The three locals whivh voted to accept the manufacturers proposal did not cast ballots on the strike proposal.

The United Textile Workers of America, which has demanded a wage increase of 29 1-2 per cent., decided at a meeting last Sunday to await the developments from the meeting between the textile council and the manufacturers last Friday. The manufacturers have refused to recognize the United Textile Workers and the two union organizations have been fighting for control of the situation here. Although there are 36,000 operatives employed in the city, but a small percentage of these are union members.

CONDOLENCES FOR DEATH OF SENATOR NICHOLSON

Denver, Colo., March 25.—Telegrams of sympathy to the son and daughter of the late United States Senator Samuel D. Nicholson, arriving throughout the day, brought expressions of the sorrow which the death last night of the Colorado senator occasioned in many parts of the world. From Vice President Calvin Coolidge and Postmaster General Harry S. New to men in the more humbles of life's vocations, came these expressions of regret.

A radiogram brought the condolences of his colleague, Senator Phipps, who is aboard an American transport bound for Balboa. The funeral will be held Thursday.

The senate will be represented by Senator Ralph A. Cameron, Arizona; Senator William H. King, Utah, and Senator Edwin F. Ladd of North Dakota.

FIVE MEN ARRESTED AFTER A FIGHT IN ROCKVILLE

Rockville, Conn., March 25.—Five men were arrested here today after a general melee in the home of John Dobosin in which on man was seriously injured and a woman was cut on the arm. The men were held without bail for examination tomorrow. Police reported that the fight was the result of a drinking party.

The man injured was Jerome Lehill who was taken to the Rockville hospital suffering from severe cuts about the head which he received when he was struck with a glass lamp. He was placed under arrest as a material witness. Dobosi wife was also cut but not seriously.

The man arrested were Dobos, at whose home the party was held, and three of his guests, Walter Braun, of New Britain, John Drast and George Mahoney.

HUGO STINNES SEEKING INTERVENTION BY ITALY

London, March 25.—The Rome correspondent of the Times believes that Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial magnate, is seeking to interest the Italian government in the Ruhr question, probably in the direction of intervention. There is little doubt, he add, however, that the Italian government will decline to move without first consulting the other powers, to ascertain whether mediation would be welcome to both parties.

Rome, March 25.—Hugo Stinnes, the German industrialist leader, has arrived in Rome to have a consultation with Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, according to the Paese.

STEAMER IN TROUBLE FIVE MILES EAST OF CAPE COD

Boston, March 25.—The steamer Glendaurel tonight reported herself in trouble five miles east of Cape Cod and the coast guard cutter Acushnet immediately set out from Woods Hole to go to her assistance. Wireless messages intercepted here gave no details concerning Glendaruel's condition.

The distressed steamer was bound from Galveston for Everett, Mass. She is of 1667 tons register.

AGED WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH IN NEW HAVEN

New Haven, March 25.—Mrs. Gabriella Turner, 76 years old, was burned to death here today when her apron caught fire while she was preparing dinner in her home. Her daughter-in-law ran to her assistance from another part of the house and extinguished the flames with rugs. Mrs. Turner, however, died five minutes later.

EXPLOSION KILLED FOUR OF CREW OF FRENCH SHIP

Halifax, N. S., March 25.—Four of the crew of the French trawler Jules Vandwalle were killed by an explosion of boiler tubes while fishing off the Grand Banks on March 17, it was learned today when the disabled vessel was towed to port by the French trawler Jules Elby. The victims were buried at sea.

Russia Reduced to Poverty of Barbarism

Soviet Policies of Confiscation Have Proved Ruinous —Communist Party Regards All Russians as Serfs.

Washington, March 25.—Russia, with its people reduced to the poverty of barbarism, is now controlled by "an army of police, spies, hangmen and the relative handful that form the communist party, which is ruling the country on the principle that all Russia is its private property and all Russians its serfs," according to a survey written by William English Walling, which will be published in the forthcoming issued of The American Federationist, the official organ of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Walling's conclusions are drawn from a report on Russian economic conditions prepared by the league of nations.

Shipments of grain now being exported from Russia by soviet authorities, Mr. Walling asserts, constitute only "the latest of a long series of deeds that have helped along the death by starvation of millions of Lenine-Trotzy's miserable subjects." The drought which brought crop failure, and foreign and civil wars have a shore of responsibility for the misery forced upon Russia's population, Mr. Walling's summary continued, the league report found soviet polices of confiscation and denial of incentive to individuals to be the great cause of progressive impoverishment that is now encountered. The bolshevist authorities, "at last trying to return to the point they started from, or at least making a bluff at it," were represented to be meeting the situation with statements and "paper policies," to which Mr. Walling denied the "slightest practical effect."

WOULD FREE POSTMASTERS OF POLITICAL SERVICE

Washington, March 25.—President Harding has been urged by Richard Dana, president of the National Civil Service Reform League, to end the practice of making "political appointments," to first, second and third class postmasterships and to see that selections hereafter are confined in each instance to the person standing highest on the civil service eligible list.

A letter from Mr. Dana to the president, made public today by the league, said that during the entire period of Dr. Work's administration of the postoffice department, the three candidates standing highest in the civil service commission's examinations "were submitted to the members of congress of the dominant party, and this has resulted, as it was anticipated it would result, in making the appointments political."

Postmasters so appointed, Mr. Dana declared, "are immediately immersed in politics and are expected to and do render political service to the party in power," such activity "seriously" terfering with their official duties and increasing the expense of operating the postal service.

THIRD FIRE DESTROYED THE NORWOOD HOTEL

Providence, R. I., March 25.—Four men were burned, one seriously, in a $14,000 fire which totally destroyed the Norwood hotel, a roadhouse on the Boston post road in the town of Norwood, R. I., this morning. Trapped beneath the falling roof by the automatic lock on the door of a room which he entered to salvage furniture from the burning structure, Joseph Amoroso, 51, of Norwood, succeeded in jumping from a window to the roof of the front piazza. Firemen fighting the flames from the piazza roof extinguished the blaze in Amoroso's clothing after most of his apare had been burned from his body. He was taken to the Rhode Island hospital in a private automobile before the arrival of the ambulance from that institution and was taken to his home after numerous painful cuts and burns had been treated.

The fire today was the third which had visited the Norwood hotel within two years.

AMERICAN STEAMER AGROUND OFF NICARAGUAN COAST

Panama, March 25.—The American talk steamer Pennsylvania is reported aground on the Quita Iueno shoals, off the Nicaraguan coast. While details of the grounding of the vessel are lacking, officials here express the belief that her situation is critical. The Panama canal tugs Tavernilla and Favorite have been despatched to the rescue.

The Pennsylvania, which is owned by the Texas company, was on a voyage from Fort Lobos, Mexico, for the Canal Zone. She is a vessel of 5,666 tons gross. She last was reported March 18 as 234 miles north of Colon.

AMERICAN PLANES AT PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI

Port au Prince, Haiti, March 25.—The six American army De Haviland airplanes which are flying back to the United States from Porto Rico arrived here at 10.18 o'clock this morning from Santo Domingo. They will resume their flight tomorrow for Guantanamo, Cuba.

The aviators say they consider the flight thus far a complete success from the military viewpoint. The landing fields in the West Indies and general conditions encountered surpassed their expectations.

DAMAGES N DEVASTATED FRANCE 85,750,000,000 FRANCS

Paris, March 25 (By the A. P.).—The war damages in the ten devastated regions of France is fixed at 85,750,000,000 francs in the revised figures announced by the minister of liberated regions in answer to a parliamentary inquiry.

France has paid her war victims 41,225,000,000 francs, or 48 per cent. of the entire amount, largely in government securities.

14 MASTER BAKERS IN PARIS HELD FOR TRIAL

Paris, March 25.—Fourteen master bakers were held for trial today on a charge of organizing last December to force up the price of bread. The defendants include officers of the Master Bakers' association which staged the short-lived strike which ended when the government began to establish army bake shops in Paris and the population broke a few windows of bakeries.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

The restaurant in the parliament building, Stockholm, voted "dry" five years ago, has been granted a license to sell wine and beer.

Willis H. Booth, of New York and Los Angeles, was elected president of the international chamber of commerce in Rome.

The early potato acreage this year will be the smallest since 1919, according to a forecast announced by the department of agriculture.

The coast guard Tampa, maintaining the ice berg patrol off the Grand Banks, sent word by radio that the bergs were drifting further east this year than usual.

The warm weather of the last two days so weakened the ice in the Connecticut and White Rivers that most of it in the vicinity of White River Junction, Vt., has gone out.

Three bandits attacked Jean Applebaum, cashier of the Diamond Press, in the hallway of the plant on Seventh avenue, New York, and fled in a taxi with a $1300 payroll.

W. Lyle Swett, a Mercer (N. J.) county farmer, ended his life Saturday, the fifth member of the family to commit suicide during the past 15 years.

A jury trial of the second divorce action filed by W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy realtor, against Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, was granted by Supreme Court Justice Mullan in New York.

Officials of the Near East relief appealed to the state department at Washington in an effort to prevent the threatened deportatio nof refugees at Mersine by the Turkish authorities.

Easily and naturally, President and Mrs. Harding yesterday entered upon the life of winter visitors to St. Augustine, Fla.

A Wiesbaden despatch to the Berlin Frankfurter Zeitung reports that the French have arrested the Prussian General Von Mudra, who commanded the Germans in the Argonne during the great war.

Fifty tons of coal, alleged to be noncombustible, were seized in the yards of the Adams Coal company, in Somerville, Mass., by representatives of the state board of health and of the attorney general.

The annual spring meeting of the governors of the 12 federal reserve banks will open in Washington today, and indications are that the bank heads will be in conference most of the week.

The Ladd stables, situated about a half mile outside the village of Tilton, N. H., on the Daniel Webster highway were destroyed by fire, estimated to have done damage to the extent of $5,000.

The summer home at Rye, N. H., of Thomas O. Marvin, chairman of the United States tariff commission, was found to have been robbed of $3,000 worth of silverware, rugs, antique furniture and other goods.

The expenditures of the Japanese empire for 1923, as approved by the cabinet November 11 last, totalled 1,350,000,000 yen. Of that amount the army was to receive 205,000,000 yen and the navy 276,000,000 yen.

The American legation in Athens has verbally notified the Greek government that it reserves the right to protest against application of a recent law providing for additional taxation of foreign joint stock companies.

Immigration officials along the Canadian border have been warned by Secretary Davis to watch for George Weinstein, secretary to Ludwig Martens, former Russian soviet emissary to this country.

Two men held up John H. Crowley, paymaster for the Simplex Heating company, in Cambridge, Mass., as he was going from one building to another of the plant on Sidney street and escaped with $700 in cash.

Federal agents in Los Angeles, declared "the cleverest and largest liquor ring on the Pacific coast" was crushed by the arrest at Long Beach of eight men including some prominent in business circles in the beach city.

Consolidated net income of the American Ship and Commerce corporation, New York, for the year 1922, totaled $1,797,610 as compared with a loss of $1,045,084 in 1921, it was disclosed in the company's annual report made public yesterday.

Signs were placed in the windows of the Logan Square Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, announcing that the institution, closed two weeks ago with an estimated shortage of $400,000 after Fred W Popp, its president, was found shot to death, would reopen next Wednesday.

Captain George L. Norton, 86, widely known shipmaster and owner and dean of ship journalists, died in New York. For many years he was editor of the Marine Journal and was the author of several techinacl books on ships and maritime affairs.

A committee was delegated by the Norfolk-Portsmouth chamber of commerce to negotiate with shipping board officials in an effort to have the steamship Leviathan moved to the Norfolk navy yard, instead of to Boston, for final re-finishing work.

Superintendent of Schools Corson in Newark, N. J., ordered an investigation of alleged third degree methods employed by Louis A. Horwitz, physical director of the Miller street school, to obtain truancy confessions from two boy pupils.

Vance Thompson, author and former intermediary between the American embassy at Rome and the Vatican, arrived in New York on the Lapland with what he declared was positive information that Archbishop Hanna of California soon was to be elevated to a cardinalate.

Members of Governor Len Small's family have been subppoenaed to appear before the grand jury which convenes at Waukegan, Ill., today to investigate rumors of an alleged attempt to bribe jurors and veniremen in the trial of Governor Small last summer on charges of conspiracy.

The Metaphor, "Dying of Laughter," was translated into the fact in the case of Joseph Chatfield, in London. He was so tickled at the antics of an American "movie" comedian that he was unable to control his laughter and suddenly collapsed, dying in the arms of a woman sitting beside him in a cinema there.

FURTHER EXPANSION OF BUSINESS IS EXPECTED

Harvard Economists Declare Outlook is Good for the Remainder of 1923—Forecast Firm or Higher Commodity Prices and Firm or Higher Money Rates—Manufacturing Output Has Increased From 28 Per Cent. Below Normal in May, 1921, to 10 Per Cent. Above Normal in January, 1923.

Cambridge, Mass., March 25.—The recovery of busines from the depression of 1921 has proceeded normally, in spite of the European settlement and good business may be expected throughout 1923, according to a report made public by the Harvard Economic service tonight. The outlook for the remainder of this year is for further expansion of business, firm or higher commodity prices and firm or higher money rates, the Harvard economists predict.

"The Harvard Index of general manufacturing output increased from 28 per cent. below normal in May, 1921, to 10 per cent. above normal in January, 1923, normal being 75 to 80 per cent. of capacity," says the report. The prices of many commodities stiffened in 1921, but it was not until 1922 that widespread increase began.

"Manufacturing profits, also, are now generally satisfactory. In 1921 losses were common and good returns the exception; in 1922 profits improved from quarter to quarter, but to many business men it seemed that the days of really profitable business would never return. In the first quarter of 1923, strange to say, not a little pessimism has been generated by rapidly advancing prices and profits.

"Fear that the present good trade will not continue and reluctance to make commodities at still higher prices, however, are not bad signs at this phase of the business cycle. So long as a conservative attitude dominates the general business community, the prospect of continued healthy advance remains. This attitude promises restraint of undue expansion and therefore sustains the belief that the present good business will not prove short-lived.

"In manufacturing industries the physical volume of production is now slightly greater than it was at the end of 1919 or the beginning of 1920; but full allowance is made for the growth of the country, production has not yet quite reached the level of three years ago. The fact that the output of manufacturers is relatively high does not, however, mean that we are nearing the peak and that production will in a short time decline. Three years ago our industries were producing for foreign markets many goods that were presently thrown back upon exporters' hands, and production for domestic needs had not been completely readjusted to peacetime needs. Moreover labor had become very inefficient, and costs of production were very high.

"At present production is better balanced; foreign markets are not likely to become suddenly remunerative and business men have not lost the caution engendered by the experiences of 1920 and 1921.

"These factors in the business situation, and the further fact that commercial loans are not yet very large and that bank credit is in no way extended, favor good business in 1923."

SPECULATIVE QUARTERS BECOMING CAUTIONS

New York, March 25.—(By The A. P.)—With reports from industrial and commercial centers still distinctly favorable, the past week has seen the development of a cautious sentiment in speculative quarters. This has been dut in part to fresh efforts on the part of the short interests, which have been trying for reactions for some time and which attained a fair measure of success during the latter part of the week. It also has been due to a feeling of uneasiness over the course of money rates in general and of the federal reserve rates in particular.

It is generally recognized that moderately higher charges for credit during the height of the spring movement in trade hardly would be surprising. What primarily interests speculative quarters, however, is to know whether or not the official rate is to be lifted on a given date.

Added interest has been lent to this discussion of bank rates by the fact that the regular bi-yearly conference of the federal reserve board and the governors of the several regional banks begins tomorrow. The proceedings of this meeting are likely to be of a routine character, but some persons assume that the authorities are disturbed by the speculation which recently has developed in such commodities as sugar, and that higher rediscount rates may be recommended to the regional banks as a remedy.

REACTIONARY TREND IN FINANCIAL MARKETS

New York, March 25.—Except for the rising tendency in certain commodities, particularly the metals, this week's financial markets displayed a reactionary trend. Failure to enlist widespread public support on the recent advance in the stock market encouraged aggressive operations on the short side which forced a material recession in prices in the closing days of the week, but this was generally regarded as a healthy reaction. Stiffening money rates were the dominating influence in causing the reactionary trend in bond prices.

Time money has now been virtually established on a 5 1-2 per cent. basis although brokers continue to bid 5 1-4 per cent. for all maturities with banks holding out for the higher figure. Several large loans were arranged at the 5 1-2 per cent. rate this week for the first time since that asking price was established.

General business, particularly in the retail lines, has been retarded somewhat by the wintry weather of the past week but this is regarded generally as only a temporary check. Car loadings of revenue freight continue at unprecedented levels for this season of the year, record automobile production shows no signs of cessation and building activity is at an unusually high rate. Announcement of a 12 1-2 per cent. wage increase in the textile industry immediately led to rumors of increases in the steel industry and other trades but no immediate announcements of additional increases are expected in the financial community.

BERNHARDT REFUSES TO BELIEVE SHE IS DYING

Paris, March 25 (By the A. P.).—Sarah Bernhardt's life appears to be fast closing. Physically prostrated but alert in mind and at times clearly conscious of the momentous struggle which she is waging against fate, France's great actress fought throughout the night against the darkness which is fast closing about her. What her friends call a horrible play extending over fourscore years is approaching the denouement.

The attending physicians, celebrated for their skill in medical science, as well as Bernhardt's friends, all agree that her condition is well nigh desperate, but the "Divine Sarah" alone apparently considers this only another of numerous false exits and farewell appearances in real life, to which she is so well accustomed on the stage.

The warm spring sunshine today permitted the windows of the sick room to be kept open. Suddenly without warning a funeral procession turned the corner of a nearby street, and passed the little mansion on the Boulevard Pereire. The plodding horses in slow rythmic cadence drawing a black hearse and coaches bearing a few mourners filed by. Pale and drawn from her two nights' vigil, Mme. Normand, the secretary, rushed to the windows and closed them, that the great artist might not hear the mournful sounds.

"It is not my funeral yet," Bernhardt said—"not yet. I will live many years."

The present illness of Mme. Bernhardt is described by the specialists as "failure of the kidneys to function," causing a uraemic condition in most pronounced form.

THOMAS SCHOFIELD'S BODY FOUND FROZEN IN ICE

Abington, Mass., March 25.—Thomas Schofield, treasurer of the Stacy-Adams Shoe Company of Brockton, who disappeared nearly three months ago and whose body was found frozen in the ice here yesterday, was a suicide by drowning, Dr. Gilman Osgood, medical examiner, stated in his official report today. The body was found in island pond about 50 feet from the place where his automobile was discovered with lights burning on January 3. A wide search had failed to reveal the man's whereabouts and it had been feared that he had been the victim of foul play.

Immediately after a meeting of the Stacy-Adams Corporation on January 2, at which Schofield was elected treasurer of the company at an increased salary, he telephoned his wife and told her of his promotion and informed her that he would be home shortly. He left the offices in his automobile and was not seen alive again. The next afternoon his car was found near the Memorial bridge at Island pond.

The only theory the police have advanced for the suicide was that the man suddenly became mentally deranged as a result of the strain of business worries preceding his election as treasurer of the company. Careful examination of his personal affairs and his accounts with the company had given no clue to his disappearance, and the pond was searched in vain.

Two truckmen found the body yesterday as they were crossing the bridge. They notified the police who summoned the fire department and the body was chopped from the ice.

PREDICTS AN EARLY PEACE WITH TURKS

London, March 25 (By the A. P.).—Lieutenant General Sir Charles Harington, commander-in-chief of the allied forces in the Constantinople area, on his arrival here today told The Associated Press that the prospects of an early peace with the Turks were excellent, provided the allies and the Kemalists show a reasonable spirit of moderation and accommodation.

General Harington said he had come to London for a brief holiday and to contribute whatever he could to the success of the present conferences of the allied experts who are engaged in examining into Turkey's counter proposals to the Lausanne peace treaty. He was confident that the Kemalists would accept the modified draft of the Lausanne treaty now being formulated in London.

PROPERTY AGAIN MENACED BY THE MISSOURI RIVER

Omaha, Nebr., March 25.—The Missouri river, after flooding lowlands near Sioux City, Iowa, during the past week, is again menacing property, this time near Onawa, Iowa.

The ice gorge, believed to have been part of the same one which was responsible for flood conditions near Sioux City caused a rapid rise in the water opposite Onawa.

According to R. E. Harlow, postmaster at Onawa, the river rose 12 feet after formation of the gorge, but there was no danger of loss of life, he said.

RESCUED WOMAN WHO JUMPED OVERBOARD

New York March 25—After leaping from the bow of the municipal ferry boat Harlem into the Hell Gate whirlpool in the East river, Mrs. Katrina Vasti was rescued today after the head had pursued her down-stream in the swift current for a quarter mile. Deckhands saw the woman leap into the stream and the boat was immediately put about. The Harlem barely avoided running ashore off Blackwell's Island in effecting the rescue.

Mrs. Vasti was taken to a hospital and revived.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN

Willimantic Office
31 Church Street Telephone 1023

Felix Danis, aged 58, died Saturday morning in his room, No. 833 Main street as the result of alcoholic poisoning from liquor which he had been drinking on the previous day. Danis, who was a widower and an employe of the Quidnick-Windham company for the past two years, was seen to leave his room on Friday morning and return about half an hour later. Paul Michaud, the proprietor, called the man to breakfast but received no answer. He then went to the room and found Danis stretched out on his bed, in a stupor. Dr. F. M. Smith was called and he found Danis suffering from over-indulgence of liquor. An empty half pint bottle was on the floor of the room.

Friday night paralysis set in and early Saturday morning death occurred. Medical Examiner Dr. Louis I. Mason was called and pronounced death due to alcoholic poisoning, probably from wood alcohol. The matter was referred to County Coroner A. G. Bill of Danielson who stated that no inquest would be held in the case. The remains were prepared for burial by a local undertaking firm and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles G. Manning of 35 1-2, High street.

The deceased was a weaver by occupation and was born in St. Alme, Canada, May 14, 1864, the son of Joseph and Angeline (Rabidoux) Danis. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Charles G. Manning and Mrs. Angeline DePapier of this city; one brother, John Danis of Arctic, R. I., one daughter, Mrs. Louis Lachapelle of this city; and seven grandchildren. The deceased was a devoted member of St. Mary's parish and also a member of the Conseil Florimond, No. 74, l'Union St. Jean d' Amerique.

On the claim that they had received permission from one of the trainmen to take loose lumber from railroad cars in the local New Haven railroad yard, Sunday afternoon of last week, the cases of Stanley Kenieck, Frank Smagacz, John Giercer and Michael Dennehey and two boys, aged 10 and 12 years, were nolled on the payment of the costs. The accused were charged with trespassing on railroad property and the cases were those continued from Wednesday to Saturday morning.

Michael Dennehy upheld his plea of not guilty on the grounds that he had been told three times by a trainman that he could take some of the lumber. He had not hesitated to show the officers where he had placed the timbers in his woodshed. Judge Frank H. Foss imposed a fine of $1 and costs in his case, reducing the fine. The costs in each case were $5.15 and all settled for that amount.

During the month of February there were thirty-two births recorded at the office of Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton. Seventeen of the number were males and fifteen females. The list is as follows:

Leonidya, daughter of Edward Palomeo (Fanfara) Osuch.

Cecile Gabrielle, daughter of [illegible] and Rose Amanda (Perreault) Gerald, son of Jacob and Tillie (Fox) Ogushwitz.

4, Irene Marien, daughter of William and Nellis (Hawes) Ledd.

5, Normand, son of Michael and Agnes (Chalifoux) Burns.

7, Arthur Jean Baptiste, son of Jean Baptiste and Louise (Guilbault) Potvin.

10, Alexander, son of Nicholas and Anastasia (Korzun) Sleshko.

11, Mary, daughter of Alfred and Dorothea (Caisse) Champigny.

11, Doris Clara Georgette, daughter of William and Clara (St. George) Bouin.

12, Stanley, son of Frank and Mary (Fijot) Gwozdz.

12, Anna arie, daughter og Michael Eugene and Katherine C. (Owens) Monahan.

12, Stanley Miller, son of Morris and Esther (Handleman) Spector.

13, Margaret Elodie, daughter of Joseph and Agnes (L'Heureux) Riordan.

14, Brainard Lewis, son of Burton and Aurelia (Davis) Burton.

15, Alice, daughter of Howard and Gladys (Gill) Lucas.

20, Francis Clark, son of Charles F. and Ruth (Barber) Gallup.

20, Charles Anthony Jr. son of Charles Anthony and Alta Lottie (Lincoln) Brenn.

22, George Pierre, son of Adelard and Delia (Routhier) Dumas.

22, Jeannette, daughter of Kebel and Napalia (Coriarty) Petrona.

22, Robert Leo, son of Fred and Mary Rose (Charron) Kelley.

23, Edday, son of Nicholas and Mary (Frynczkoska) Plesz.

23, Thelma Elaine, daughter of Clement and Viola (Monroe) Manning.

23, Jennie, daughter of Filburto and Legnia (Zaghi) Cnoghi.

24, Gareth Winthrop, son of Harry J. and Mabel (Hobbs) Dunleavy.

24, Theresa May, daughter of James and Ian (Allen) Kelly.

24, Maris Yolande Germaine, daughter of George and Bernadette (Lebelle) Clainrg.

24, Jean, daughter of William H. and May (Higgins) Nichols.

27, Eugene Edouard, son of Ephrem and Hosanna (Lise) Chamberland.

27, Walter, son of John and Katazyna (Stoj) Czelushisk.

27, Edward, son of John and Katarzyna (Stoj) Czelushisk.

27, Francesco, son of Pasquale and Maria (Russeo) Maglocco.

28, Mabel Belle, daughter of Elmer and Mary (Nichols) Warren.

Mrs. Jennie A. Henry, 59, of Worcester, Mass., died late Friday night, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Richard Warner of North Windham after an illness of a few days, from pneumonia. A few weeks ago Mrs. Henry came to this city to attend the funeral of a relative and while here she was taken ill. The deceased was born in Stafford, July 17, 1863, the daughter of Samuel and Adelaide (Taft) Champlin. She was a resident of this city for a number of years and was the widow of the late Charles A. Henry and leaves one daughter, Miss Ruth A. Henry of Worcester and a brother, Edward Champlin of North Windham.

Mrs. Odina (Delude) Sellers, died Saturday morning at St. Joseph's hospital at the age of 26 years. Mrs. Sellers was a native of this city, being born here on November 28, 1897, the daughter of Noe and Alphonsine (Daigle) Delude. She is survived by her parents, her husband, John Sellers and one son, Arthur, two years old, and three brothers, Roderick, William and Eugene Delude of this city.

Horace C. Trythall, aged 43, is dead at his home in Columbia where death occurred Saturday morning. The deceased was born in Scotland, Sept. 23, 1879, the son of James C. and Lucy (Campbell) Trythall. He was a carpenter by occupation. Mr. Trythall is survived by his wife.

William Robarge, one of Willimantic's widely known residents, died on Saturday morning at his home, No. 40 Whiting street, after a few weeks illness of heart trouble. Mr. Robarge was steward at the Moose Home on Pleasant street, for a number of years. He was 62 years old and the son of Thomas and Philomene (Gariaroi) Robarge. The deceased leaves his wife and several children.

Henry Huntington died Saturday morning about 5.45 o'clock in St. Joseph's hospital following a severe illness of nine weeks. The deceased had been a resident of the Willimantic Camp Ground and formerly lived in Norwich for about fourteen years. He was born in Eastford, February 24, 1845, the son of Elisha and Lucia (Day) Huntington, and is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Leonard Geer.

Th annual meeting of the Windham Center district will be held at the new schoolhouse in that place Saturday evening, March 31, at 7.30 o'clock. The clauses in the warning call for the reports of officers of the borough organization; the election of officers for the ensuing year; to take action regarding fire apparatus for the district and to lay a tax to meet expenses for the year. The committee consists of Charles Larrabee, Josephine W. Bingham and Guy M. Richmond.

Columbia constitutes still another town which has gone on the war path against the personal tax delinquents of its precincts. At a session of court held in the town hall, Nicholas Maunez, Isadore Bernstein and Alvin Stimpson appeared before Justice of the Peace Hubert P. Collins with Grand Juror D. A. Lyman acting as prosecutor. Pleas of guilty were entered by the trio and a selection of excuses were given for failure to pay the tax. Their cases were nolled on the payment of the costs, amounting to $5.85 in each, plus the $2 tax assessment.

Up to the present the campaign for $1000 being conducted by the A. M. E. Zion church members for the liquidation of the mortgage on the church property on Spring street, has resulted in the realization of a sum of $400. An optimistic stand is being taken by Rev. David B. Overton, the pastor, who feels confident of success and hopes that an additional $350 would be collected in the near future. With $750 received he guarantees that $50 more would be donated so that the church would receive the remainder or $200 offered by the A. M. E. Zion New England conference.

A large class of candidates were put through the third degree of the K. of C. in St. Edward's hall, Stafford Springs, Sunday afternoon. The degree team was in charge of District Deputy T. Frank Cunningham of Willimantic, assisted by Williram Mulligan of Thompsonville.

The members of San Jose Council, No. 14, Knights of Columbus, met at their rooms at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and went in a body to St. Mary's church where they received holy communion, at 8.15 o'clock.

A bill providing that the judge of the city court shall receive a salary of $800, deputy judge $150, prosecuting attorney $800 and assistant $150, was favorably reported by the judiciary committee. The bill concerns the salaries of police court officials in the city of Willimantic.

Miss Catherine McIntosh, daughter of Mrs. Peter McIntosh, of Lebanon avenue, arrived here from Kingston State College, Rhode Island, to spend the Easter vacation.

Mrs. William Buck of North street has returned home after several days' visit with her daughter and family, Lieutenant and Mrs. Edward Elsberg of Boston.

Miss Jessie Baldwin of Forest Hills, L. I., is spending the Easter vacation with her sister, Mrs. Belle Riggleman of Prospect street.

Dr. C. H. Girard of Jackson street has returned to his home after a three weeks' specialty treatment at St. Joseph's hospital.

Russell Hinman, son of Judge and Mrs. George E. Hinman, spent the week-end in Springfield with his aunt, Mrs. Carrie Kemp.

Ralph Carpenter, a student of the Moses Brown Preparatory school in Providence, R. I., is spending the vacation at his home in this city.

Mrs. Helen Boss Cummings and daughter, Carolyn of Walnut street, are visiting in Philadelphia, Pa.

Miss Elizabeth Everest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Everest of Oak street, is spending a vacation in Boston with her sister, Mrs. J. Frank Hayward.

A picture of Miss Betty Everest of this city, taken while she was in mid-air and doing the swan dive appeared in the Hartford Courant Sunday edition. The picture was taken by Robert O. Branch, Sr.

Harold Staebner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Staebner of Walnut street is with his parents for the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Theresa Congdon has returned to the Card home on Pleasant street after a week stay with her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Clark of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Irene Vanderman, daughter of Mrs. Ann Vanderman of Turner street, and a student at Simmons college, spent part of her Easter vacation in New York and is now at her home.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Maud J. Lynch and Valentine L. Murphy at St. John's Episcopal church, Stamford, Conn., June 26, 1920.

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE GRADUATES TWENTY-FOUR

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Willimantic, March 25.—The graduation exercises of the school of agriculture of the Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs, were held Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock at the church in that place and were largely attended by friends and relatives of the graduating class. The affair was in charge of the president of the college, Charles L. Beach. The college orchestra furnished the music. Rev. Marshall Dawson, pastor of the Storrs Congregational church pronounced the invocation, and Dr. Sidney B. Haskell, director of the Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment station, made the address.

President Beach presented the diplomas which were awarded to the 24 members of the class consisting of George Raymond Arthur, Frederick Shelton Bray, Richard Henry Burnham, Mack Carroll, George Grodon Cowles, Harold Erwin Diehl, Walter Roosevelt Gardner, Whitney Nelson Gillette, Henry Albert Gould, Clarence Shelton Hine, Alfred Williams Howard, Floyd Field Husted, Walter Gladstone Marsh, Richard Allen Perry, Roger Leonard Salmons, John Thomas Sweeny, Harvey Baldwin Vaill, John Martin Viany, Samuel Alwyn Walters, Albert Washburn, Bicesi George Whitmore, Edward Clarence Williams Jr., William Lewis Wollenberg and Victor Wysocki.

STAFFORD HIGH SENIORS PLAN WASHINGTON TRIP

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Stafford Springs, March 25.—Preparation for the trip of the Stafford High school seniors to Washington are rapidly nearing completion. They will leave here on the 5.26 p. m. train next Friday, going by boat from New London to New York, thence by train to Washington. Those who are going are Eva Atchinson, Eleanor Bissonnette, Athena Bowler, Helen Fleigel, Margaret Foley, Elizabeth Frasier, Mildred Glazier, Dorothea Johnson, Helen Schrier, Margaret Slater, Catherine Swift, Frieda Turschmann, Harriet Wildey, Francis Adams, William Augley, Charles Bodnar, Cornelius Clark, Alton Fenton, Robert Greaves, Bruno Piccin, Joseph Quinn, Edward White, Agnes Schrier and Elizabeth Schrier.

The trip will be in charge of Principal Philip H. Doan and Miss Florence Uncles.

COUGH?
PISO'S
Dry Throat—Hoarseness—Tickling Throat—Bronchial Irritation—Coughs that Tear Throat and Lungs—Coughs that Keep You Awake—Coughs that Disturb Others—Coughs that Alarm Others—Coughs that Need Relief—Coughs that Need Piso's—Coughs that Need Piso's Now—Coughs that Need Piso's Now and Always—Coughs that Need Piso's Now and Always Everywhere.

DENTIST
Dr. F. C. Jackson
SPECIALIZING IN PAINLESS EXTRACTING
715 MAIN STREET, WILLIMANTIC

THE HURTEAU AND BOSSE CORP.
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS.
814 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 641-2

JAY M. SHEPARD
Succeeding Filmore & Shepard
Funeral Director & Embalmer
20-62 NORTH ST. WILLIMANTIC
Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
29 Union St. Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 236 (Lady Assistant)

Cuticura Soap
SHAVES
Without Mug
Cuticura Soap is the favorite formof toilet preparation for shaving.

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.
DEPARTMENT STORE
WILLIMANTIC, CONN.

EASTER GLOVES

There are short wristed gloves to meet the requirements of the new types of long sleeves of your tailored costume, then there are loose wristed gloves in slip-on and strap effect and the 16-button length to meet the demand for the new three-quarter sleeves. Which style shall be yours? That is the thing for you to decide. All find representation here in all the season's new shades including black and white.

Kid Gauntlets in gray, black, brown and beaver, at $2.98 a pair.

2-clasp French Kid Gloves in beaver, brown, black and gray—$2.50 a pair.

16-button length, Long Kid Gloves in gray, brown, beaver, black or white—$3.98 a pair.

Kayser Silk Gloves, 2-clasps and 16-button length, black, white, gray and tan—$1.00 and $1.50 a pair.

Bumsteads Worm Syrup
"To children an angel of mercy." Where directions are followed. Pleasant, prompt and effectual. EARLE, Druggist, Providence, R. I. Sold for SAFTY-FIRST. If not satisfied full price refunded. Sixty years' trade. Send 2-cent stamp for my book, "Mother's Helper." Mailed free. Dr. C. A. Voorhees, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public there is no medium better than through the Advertising columns of The Bulletin.

THE WIDE-AWAKE CIRCLE

Boys and Girls' Department

Rules For Every Writer.

1—Write plainly on one side of the paper only, and number the pages.

2—Use pen and ink or pencil.

3—Start the Wide-Awake Circle on its given Saturday. Do not write over 300 words.

4—Original stories or letters only will be used.

5—Write your name, age and address plainly at the bottom of the page.

POETRY FOR THE WIDE-AWAKES

Bundling Up the Children.

Oh, it's leggings and overshoes,
And sweaters and caps,
Until I'm almost overcome
With taking off his wraps!

And it's rubbers and mittens,
And overcoats and furs,
Until I'm almost overcome
With putting on of hers!

At night he always says to me,
What have you done all day?
He feels I have to plan a bit
To pass the time away!

But when I think perhaps today
I'll have a try at naps,
I find the time has come again
For putting on their wraps!

And if I think I'll have a chance
To talk to Sue or Jane,
I find I have to stop a while
And take them off again!

Oh, winter, you're a lovely time,
You please a lot of chaps,
But for a woman close at home
You mean too many wraps!
—Anne Campbell, in Detroit News.

The Battle.

To play a winning game in life
You've got to fight—you've got to fight!
You've got to take your peace with strife.
And match your wits with strife.
There is no easy road to fame—
Life is a strong man's fighting game!

Some sinecures there are, and some
May stroll through flowery paths of song;
But victory's with the fife and drum
And glory's for the strong!
No weakling march this struggling file,
Bleeding its steps with every mile!

A warrior may be gentle, still
Stand armored in the battle's brunt;
May help a comrade up the hill,
Yet leave him on the front.
Idle hours when peace is tame,
But life's a strong man's fighting game.
—Henry Edward Warner, in Richmond Times-Dispatch.

UNCLE JED'S TALK TO THE WIDE-AWAKES.

With reference to faults and fault-finding, one of our greatest writers says: "On the whole, we make too much of faults in others." Fault-finding is the cause of disagreement and unpleasantness, especially in the home, and to it may be laid much of the trouble in life.

One of our chief aims should be to get as much happiness and joy out of life as we can. But we can't do this if we are continually finding fault with our friends. We should try to get along with others as peacefully as we can. We should avoid unpleasant topics, heated arguments, and should not find fault over trifles.

Many boys and girls seem to forget that they, too, have their faults and that their faults are perhaps just as noticeable to their friends as the faults of their friends are to them. Just because someone does not do a thing in the same way that you would do it is no excuse for fault-finding. If you are continually nagging and "picking" on your friends, they will, in time, show resentment, and then the result is trouble.

Nagging and continual fault-finding often means the loss of friends and popularity. They will shy clear of you and avoid you for fear that you will say something unpleasant. The reputation of a fault-finder and "nagger" goes ahead of him.

The next time you feel inclined to point out the faults of someone else, just stop and ask yourself if you are without faults; and the next time you begin to nag, just ask yourself how you would like to have someone nagging you.

WINNERS OF PRIZE BOOKS.

1—Victoria Golob, Columbia—The Moving Picture Girls Snowbound.

2—Estella Brand, Preston — The Campfire Girls on the Open Road.

3—Alice Abrahamson, Preston—The Boy Land Boomer.

4—Helen Elizabeth Ryan, Yantic—The Girl Scouts' Triumph.

5—Joe Kusewitz, Columbia—Bound to Rise.

6—Emma A. Steinmeyer, Storrs—The Girl Scouts' Rally.

7—Elizabeth McGrath, Yantic—The Girl Scouts' Triumph.

8—Regina Fenton, Norwich—Little Jack Rabbit and Danny Fox.

Winners of prize books living in Norwich may secure them by calling at The Bulletin business office after 10 o'clock Monday morning.

LETTERS OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Florence Yerrington, Yantic—I thank you very much for my prize. I have read it all through and found it very interesting.

Ethel M. Holland, Taftville—I received my lovely little prize book entitled The Boy Land Boomer and was very much pleased with it. I have read and found it very interesting.

William Warth, Norwich—I received my prize book and want to thank you for the same. It was so interesting that I stayed up until 10 o'clock that night to read it.

Edna Virginia Bleau, Killingly—The mailman brought my prize book this morning. My cousin has been reading it to me and I like it very much.

Joseph A. Douda, Eagleville—I received the book you sent me entitled Making a Way. I have read it and found it very interesting. I thank you very much for it.

Ellsworth Bennett, Preston—I want to thank you for the nice book you sent me. I find it very interesting.

Irene Parent, Taftville—I received the book that you sent me, The Camp Fire Girls on the March. I find the book very interesting. I thank you very much for the book.

Sarah Gill, Jewett City—I was surprised when I found I had won a prize book entitled The Camp Fire Girls at Long Lake. I want to thank you for it. I have read it and I like it very much.

George Abrahamsee, Preston—I am writing to thank you for the book you sent me entitled Try and Trust. I have read part of it and find it very interesting.

LETTERS WRITTEN BY WIDE-AWAKES.

Frog Had Robin.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you about my experience. Last summer my mother and I heard the little birds get together and chirp and they would dive down in a clump of bushes near our house. Mother said, something is the matter with them. So mother started and sure enough, a big bullfrog had a robin in his mouth by the wing. Mother struck at him with a stick and he let the robin go. Then my father came and shot him. My father said, the frog would have drowned the poor little robin if we hadn't found him. I wonder if you ever heard of such a case as that, Uncle Jed.

EMMA J. ROODE, Age 11.
Voluntown.

A Night on the Mountain Top.

Dear Uncle Jed: The most interesting experience of my vacation was spending the night on White Face. Fortunately we had a fine day for our trip, and with our knapsacks containing food and a blanket apiece strapped on our backs, we started. It was a long climb, especially the last stretch, for the top of the mountain is bare rock and is very steep and slippery. When we reached the top of the mountain, we found a sheltered place, built a great fire and cooked our supper. We sat around the crackling fire and told stories for a long time before we rolled ourselves up in our blankets to go to sleep. I woke up many times during the night. It was so cold and there were such strange sounds in the dark forest all around us. We all got up early to see the sun rise and it was such a wonderful experience that I, for one, shall never forget it.

NO NAME.
Colchester.

A Practical Joke.

Dear Uncle Jed: One day at evening my mother and father and sister and brother were away. I thought I would play a joke. In the house was a great alarm clock, which was in our house twenty-four years. I thought I would play a joke. I wound up the bell to make it ring. This will ring at 12 o'clock. After a while my folks came home. We went to bed right after they came. We all slept soundly till that bell rang. I half wished I had not done it but it was done. The bell rang and we all got frightened.

In the morning my father asked: "Who did this work?" Of course no one answered. I thought I ought to tell the truth but the whipping was in my mind. Finally I told the truth. My father said, "You should not do it again." Then he went away and I went to school. Do you think it was a good joke?

ESTHER KRESEWITZ, Age 13.
Columbia.

Birthday Party.

Dear Uncle Jed: I want to tell you about my party. I was 9 years old last Friday. I had two parties. I had one Friday at school after recess. I treated all of the children to candy, bananas, and then we had a debate about which was the greatest American, Washington or Abraham Lincoln. Saturday I had another party at my home. I invited seven children. I had ice cream, candy, cookies, and my birthday cake. I had a Bubble book that sings, Uncle Wiggily book and a pencil sharpener, and a lot of other things. I sharpened about 50 pencils the first day. This is my first letter.

MILDRED LEFFINGWELL, Age 9.

Gymnastics.

Dear Uncle Jed: I have not written for a long time so I thought I would write this week. We go to the Community House on Friday and take gymnastics. We have a new game every week. Then we go in swimming. We have two new physical directors, Mr. White is for the boys and Miss Hartwell for the girls.

ALMA E. DOYON, Age 11.
Plainfield.

Likes to Read Stories.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am eight years old and I am in the third grade. I like to read stories. I wonder if the Wide-Awakes know how we came to send valentines.

Many years ago there was a priest whose name was Saint Valentine. One of his ways of helping people was to send them letters when they were sick or in trouble. These letters were so full of comfort and good cheer that everyone loved to receive them. After he died the people wanted to honor his memory, so they decided that they could do this by sending letters to one another each year on his birthday. Thus grew up the custom of sending valentines on February 14th.

HAZEL E. CUMMINGS, Age 8.
Lebanon.

The Life of a Baby.

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to you. My story is the life of a baby. First the the baby is born at a house and it grows up to be a girl or a boy. Then it goes to school and studies hard, and if the parents are careful the child will not be sick and die, and if the child is careful she will not be run over or killed.

ALINE E. BUTLER, Age 11.
Norwich.

The Golden Rule.

Dear Uncle Jed: "A stitch in time saves nine." Perhaps some of us don't understand the real meaning of this proverb. It does not only mean that if you have torn some clothing that you should sew it up right away (although that is right) but that proverb applies to other things.

For instance, if a man should have a break in his fence, he should not wait until the whole fence is down but fix it as soon as possible. There he does not use a needle and thread.

If you have anything that is not right you should fix it right away and not let it get worse, for then it most likely will be harder to fix and will perhaps take more time and labor.

Another proverb the best one we have is "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." This is called the Golden Rule. If ever you are going to do anything to anyone just "think before you leap" and see whether you would like them to do it to you or not, and then you can decide whether you ought to or not.

The story entitled The Fox and the Stork is a good example of this. I often like to think of good proverbs, and learn the meaning of them.

ALICE ABRAHAMSON, Age 12.
Preston.

About Silk.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am sending you an original story about silk.

Silk is the fiber or thread spun by the silkworm. The cocoons from which silk is obtained are taken from the twigs to which they are fastened before the moth begins to eat its way out. The outer floss covering is then opened at one end. The cocoon with the fine silk around it is shipped out.

When the cocoons are to be unwound they are put into a trough of hot water which is divided into four parts.

When all the silk is wound off from one cocoon, another is put in its place, and so on until all are unwound.

About 300 yards of thread are generally gotten from each cocoon, but some have less than others. The reeled or raw silk is made in China and Japan into bundles, called books, which are sent to foreign countries to be spun into thread and woven into cloth. But before it is ready for use it has to be carefully washed and then made ready for the weaver by "throwing."

This is done in different ways to make the different kinds of silk cloths, such as plain silk, flowered silk and ribbons. The threads are boiled in soap and water to get out the gum.

Silk is fine, smooth and glossy cloth which shines when looked at in the sun.

VICTORIA GOLOB, Age 13.
Columbia.

Wouldn't Skip School.

Dear Uncle Jed: When I lived in New York I knew a little girl by the name of Grace Rector. One day we had a hard lesson at school. She did not know the lesson and she said to me: "Come, Ruth, don't go to school today. There is good skating on the pond. Go get your skates and go skating with me.

I am going skating a while this noon, I said.

I wouldn't stay in school all day, shouted Grace. You never saw such good skating. The ice is just as smooth as glass. Come, Ruth, say yes or no quick, as I am off.

No, said I. I am not going to stay away from school to go skating without the consent of my father or mother.

RUTH MOORE, Age 11.
Norwich.

A Pet Dog.

Dear Uncle Jed: A few years ago I lived in a house with a family who owned a dog named Fussy. Fussy was a fine dog, with long golden brown shaggy hair.

Fussy's mistress took fine care of the dog. She gave him a bath in the tub once in a while and combed and brushed his hair very often.

Fussy would play hide and seek with the children and run races with the boys. He was the winner every time.

One day Fussy sat on his hind feet, with his front paws on the chair, with his nose bent over between his paws, with his ears lopped back and his eyes closed. I did not know what to make of this until his mistress came in and told me Fussy was "saying his prayers." He kept very quiet until his mistress said "Amen!" Then he jumped up and wagged his tail and shook his head as much as to say he was proud of what he had done.

GRACE MAINE, Age 10.
Westerly, R. I.

The Chipmunk.

Dear Uncle Jed: The chipmunk is a little animal that looks something like a squirrel, but it is only about six inches long, and its tail is shorter and not as bushy as the squirrel's. It is yellow, mixed with gray, with black stripes on its back and sides.

The home of the chipmunk is under the ground, usually under trees or stone walls. This home has two entrances which lead to a round nest lined with grass.

In July and part of August it plays most of the time. If a hawk comes in sight of it, it stays still where it is, or if it is near its hole, runs down to its nest. The worst enemy of the chipmunk is the weasel, which follows it down its burrow and kills it.

In the middle of August it begins to work earnestly gathering nuts and berries. It digs other round holes to put the food in.

As soon as the frost comes it stays in its nest and lives on the food it has gathered. When winter comes it becomes numb and stays so until the first warm days. It then has to live on the food it has stored until it can get other food.

VIVIAN BUSHNELL, Age 13.
North Franklin.

A Birthday Party

Dear Uncle Jed: I am writing to tell you about a birthday party which I attended.

When I arrived at the house where the party was to be held I saw many other girls and boys already there. Soon after I arrived we began to play games. The first game we played was called Uncle Wiggly. Everyone was given a hat of various colors and shapes. The object of the game was to see who could pin a hat on Uncle Wigly's head. Beatrice Ashworth won the prize.

Next we played a peanut game. The one who could carry the most peanuts across the room on a knife without dropping the peanut won. In that game I won. I had succeeded in getting eight across the room. I received a half pound box of chocolates as a prize.

Then we all had our fortunes told. A little girl about four years old danced for us. She was dressed in a little blue dancing dress. It was time for refreshments after a few games were played. At each plate there was a pretty valentine popper. In mine I found a large pink paper hat and a few other little things. We had fruit punch, cookies, cake, ice cream and candy. The birthday cake was very pretty. It had ten candles and it was prettily decorated. A girl played the piano and we sang many songs. Then lollypops were passed around. We played many other games which I enjoyed very much. We played the Victrola for some time. We all had an eskimo pie and an orange. It was time to go home before we knew it. I was very tired after having an enjoyable time that day.

I wish all the Wide-Awakes could have as good a time as I did at that birthday party.

BERTHA ROBINSON, Age 12.

A Trip to Hartford.

Dear Uncle Jed: One Sunday last July I went to Hartford in an auto with some relatives. We went to Capital Park (an amusement park a mile or so outside of Hartford). I went on Snap the Whip, Through the Rapids, Through the Old Mill, etc.

Through the Old Mill was packs of fun. You are put in a boat with several other people and are allowed to go drifting through a long tunnel. In this tunnel it is pitch dark, but a little light shows through some cracks until you reach the middle. Not a tiny bit of light can you see and you think that the boat is stopped. When you finally come to the opening you go up a shoot-the-shoot and down into the water.

I think it was the best trip ever.

After this we went to Elizabeth Park. Here we saw many beautiful flowers. Some were in forms such as the Connecticut emblem and the American flag.

I hope that some of the Wide-Awakes will have a pleasant time if ever they go there.

REGINA FENTON, Age 11.
Norwich.

My Summer Vacation.

Dear Uncle Jed: I thought I would write to the Wide-Awakes and tell them about my summer vacation. When June comes vacation begins. During my summer vacation I am going to my uncle's farm in the country. I went last year and I want to go again.

Uncle George likes to have me at the farm. Aunt Sarah says she likes it, too. They say, "How good it seems to have a girl around, and Elizabeth is such a good girl." That means me. Uncle George lets me help him. I drive old Spotty and Brown Betty and Black Betty to the pasture every morning. You see they were named after me. Black Betty wears a bell because she often gets out of the pasture and runs into the garden. Her bell rings every time she takes.

I think it tries to say, "Here's Betty, here's Betty." I wonder if it makes her ashamed? This is a good pasture for cattle. It is a large field where the grass is soft and green, a pretty brook runs through it. It sings as it runs. I like to play in the brook. Betty stands deep in the cool water. You would like the berries that grow in the pasture. They are as blue as the sky. Sometimes I carry a pail when I drive the cows to the pasture. I try to bring it home full of berries. Then Aunt Sarah gives me a bowl of berries and milk. Wouldn't you like to spend your vacation on a farm in the country?

ELIZABETH M'GRATH, Age 11.
Yantic.

An Indian Wedding.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you about a play called An Indian Wedding. Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock an Indian wedding took place. I was the bride. If anyone saw this wedding they would have thought it very queer. The Indians are married very young. They wear a great many beads and rings. They have a ring on their nose and beads on their ankles. They feast for five days and have good times. The fourth day is the most important. I am sure I would not like to be an Indian.

RUTH CATHCART, Age 10
Jewett City.

A Trip to Beach Pond.

Dear Uncle Jed: I have been reading the Wide-Awake stories. They interest me very much, so I am going to tell you about my trip to Beach Pond last summer. I was there three days. I went in bathing and I went out fishing with my uncle. I caught three fish. One was a perch, one was a bullhead and one was a pumpkin seed.

BEATRICE J. HALL, Age 8.
Voluntown.

Fed Birds in Winter.

Dear Uncle Jed: I have not written to the Wide-Awake Circle for one year. I will tell you about the poor winter birds, who cannot get their food.

When the winter began I bought some suet for five cents. I got about two pounds, and always had suet for them. The next morning when I woke I saw about twenty juncos in the back of the house. By the chicken houses were two English sparrows eating suet. The birds will pay back all the things that people give them by killing insects and singing by our windows.

Many kinds of birds have been at the suet.

It is fun to watch them hop and fly around the trees and ground. I hope the Wide-Awake Circle will feed the birds.

EMMA A. STEINMEYER,
Storrs. Age 11.

My Pet Cat.

Dear Uncle Jed: I have a pet cat whose name is Nigger. He is all black. He loves to hunt for rats and mice.

When he is in the house he is very fond of sitting in someone's lap. At night he stays in the barn or any place he can get in. Sometimes he goes away and stays for two or three days. When we are eating he comes for food.

HOLLIS WOOD, Age 8.
Gurleyville.

A Narrow Escape.

Dear Uncle Jed: One afternoon after my brother and I had been cultivating in the cornfield, he unhitch-

(Continued on Last Page, Col. Five)

THE LITTLE FACE PUZZLE PICTURE FOR COLORING

"Cousin Cottontail has invited us over this evening," said Lady Love, the Little Jack Rabbit's mother, as she stirred the lollypop stew. "She has just put in a radio outfit so we'll come over in time to hear the Jack Rabbit Man tell his stories."

"Ho, ha!" cried the little bunny, "that will be fine!" and he gave a hop, skip and a jump out on the porch where the little canary lived in her gold cage.

"Hello! little rabbit boy," she twittered. "What makes you so happy?"

"Didn't you hear what mother just said?" he asked with a twinkle of his pretty pink nose.

"No," answered the pretty yellow one. "What did she say?"

"That we are invited over to Cousin Cottontails to listen to David Cory tell bunny stories.

Just then, something happened. Isn't it a shame things so often happen which are unpleasant?

"You're not going to hear bunny stories tonight," growled a deep ugly voice and there, just outside the old Bramble Patch stood Old Man Wolf. Dear me! How cruel he looked, his big red tongue hanging out of his mouth and his long sharp teeth gleaming like bowie knives in the sunlight.

"What—what are you here for?" asked the little rabbit, all atremble.

"Never you mind!" snarled back the ugly beast. "I'll wait here for you if you insist on going.'

"No, no, please don't wait!" cried the frightened little rabbit.

"Gr-r-r!" growled the big ferocious animal; "I'd like to eat you. I would if I could only break through into the Old Bramble Patch."

Little Jack Rabbit didn't wait to hear any more. Quickly taking down the canary cage, he hopped, one, two, three, right into his little bungalow and locked the door.

"Mother! Mother!" he shouted, skip-toeing into the kitchen, "something dreadful is going to happen tonight. Old Man Wolf is waiting to keep us from going over to Cousin Cottontail's."

"You don't say so!" cried the anxious lady bunny. "Oh, dear! Oh, dear! what shall we do. I declare I wish your father wouldn't go away on business so often."

"How will we hear the bunny stories tonight?" asked the little rabbit.

"Goodness knows!" replied his mother. "Maybe I'd better telephone," but dear, dear me, the radiophone was out of order and all you could hear was a dreadful buzzing like a billion bees. "Well, if I'm not mad clear through and through," said Lady Love. "The idea of Old Man Wolf spoiling our evening. I believe he's done something to the telephone wire," and the ex-as-per-ated lady bunny took down the receiver again. Then, all of a sudden, she hopped over to the electric drop light and unscrewing the silk cord connection, placed it against the telephone.

Goodness me! What a howl of pain came from the outskirts of the Old Bramble Patch. Lady Love gave a low laugh and hopping over to the back porch pointed to Old Man Wolf running away across the Sunny Meadow and into the Shady Forest.

"He had a hold of my telephone wire," cried the lady bunny "but he let go quick when I gave him a shock of electricity. Ha, ha, I guess he won't trouble us any more this evening," and she put on her little sunny bonnet with the pinky roses on it and taking Little Jack Rabbit's paw, hopped over to Cousin Cottontail's house. And while she is listening to my Little Jack Rabbit stories, you, dear boys and girls may color the picture to this story, either with paint or crayon.

"BREAKING INTO THE BIG SHOW"

TAFTVILLE SOCCER TEAM DEFEATS OLYMPIES IN FAST CUP TIE MATCH

Playing in a literal sea of mud the Taftville soccer team defeated the strong South Manchester Olympics Saturday at the Providence street grounds by a score of 3 to 2 in the second round of the United States Amateur Cup competition. Both teams were strongly represented and the game was hard fought being one of the best games seen here for a long time. The playing field was heavy and muddy from recent rains and this condition hampered both teams to a considerable extent preventing many fast and spectacular plays.

South Manchester won the toss and chose to defend. Rae kicked off for Taftville and were soon in the visitors territory but an off-side spoiled a good opening from the free kick. Craig of the Olympics put the ball well down the field. Boyce receiving passed the ball to Hyde but Jess Greenhalgh neatly robbed him and again the Taftville forwards went into action. After 15 minutes Rae received a nice pass from Jones and scored a good goal. This reverse did not daunt the Olympics who made a rush to the Taftville territory but the Taftville defense held strong. McCluggage received the ball and gave it to Alexander who passed nicely to Walton who in turn ran around McSherry only to see a good center go behind. From the kick off the South Manchester team started a strong attack but could make no impression on the strong Taftville defensive line. Rae took possession of the ball and in clever play scored a pretty goal for Taftville. The Olympics became desperate and with a rushing attack were also around the Taftville goal. Feggett put in a nice center which one of Taftville backs misjudged and scored the first goal for the Olympics. The score at the end of the half was Taftville 2, South Manchester 1.

The ground in the second half was in even worse condition than in the first and was the means of spoiling much fast work. After 14 minutes of play a foul against Finlayson gave the visitors a penalty kick and Chalk made the score 2 to 2. With the score even both teams fought hard for the lead. The Taftville boys finally got a good break and Rae scored the third Taftville goal which proved to be the winning counter. The Taftville team by defeating South Manchester will meet Ansonia in the third round. The lineups:

Taftville		South Manchester
	Goal
Finlayson		Dickson
	Right Fullback
McCluggage		Craig
	Left Fullback
Hebert		Poots
	Right Halfback
Alexander		McMullan
	Center Halfback
Greenhalgh		Boyce
	Left Halfback
Thompson		McSherry
	Inside Right
Parsons		Hyde
	Outside Right
Walton		McDowell
	Center Forward
Rae		Chalk
	Inside Left
Jones		Feggartt
	Outside Left
Brown		Hewitt

Referees: Pearson and Vernon.

ENGLEN WINS TWO EVENTS ON CANNES COURTS

Cannes, March 26—(By the A. P.)—Elle. Suzanne Lenglen today won the two events in which she was entered in the tennis tournament finals. In the mixed doubles the French girl and Baron de Morpurgo won from Miss Elizabeth Ryan and Colonel Mays, 6-3, 6-4, and paired with Miss Ryan, took the final in the women's doubles from Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Miss Lambert Chambers and Miss Kathleen McKane, 6-3, 6-3.

Colonel Mays, again playing as "philathlete" won the singles championship, defeating A. C. Hunter a British player 6-3 6-2, 6-0.

As the tournament season on the Riviera has now ended Mlle. Lenglen shortly will go to Algeria for three weeks to play exhibition tennis. She will then return to Paris and rest until the St. Cloud and Wimbledon tournaments.

CRIQUI TO BOX IN EXHIBITION BOUT TONIGHT

New York, March 25—Eugene Criqui, holder of the European featherweight title, who arrived from France yesterday, will make his first appearance in America in a three round exhibition match aboard the Paris tomorrow evening, it was announced today by the American committee for devastated France.

The committee will be entertained at a carnival on the French ship and Criqui will meet an unnamed boxer. Louis Angel Firpo, heavyweight champion of the Argentine, who recently knocked out Bill Brennan, has also promised to attend the carnival and may be seen in a sparring exhibition.

PATERSON TEAM TO MEET WESTERN CHAMPS

New York, March 25—The Paterson football club, which won the eastern division championship today will meet the Scullin steel football club of St. Louis, western division champion and national champion of last year, for the national soccer championship at Harrison, N. J., next Sunday. J. B. Stark of Detroit was named referee for the title match by the United States football association under whose auspices the contest will be played.

PATTERSON TEAM WINS EASTERN SOCCER TITLE

Harrison, N. J., March 26—The Patterson football club today defeated, 3 goals to 2, the Pawtucket, R. I., eleven in the eastern division final of the national soccer championship, held under the auspices of the United States football association.

Patterson will meet a St. Louis club, last year's champions in the final of the national cup competition. The match will probably be staged in the east.

BINCKLEY-LEWIS BOUT HAS BEEN CANCELLED

New York, March 26—The Cliff Binckley "Strangler" Lewis wrestling bout, scheduled for tomorrow night, cancelled today at request of the state athletic commission which held that Ernst Siegfried, the "German Oak", was a more suitable opponent for the heavyweight champion. Siegfried, it was said, would meet Lewis within the month.

All-Insurance Booking Games

The All Insurance Base Ball Club is now booking games for its fifth consecutive season, playing the best semi-pro clubs on their grounds Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

The club last year won the majority of its games with the fastest semi-pro clubs in Connecticut and Massachusetts and is recognized as Hartford's leading semi-pro club. This club promises to be the fastest in its history.

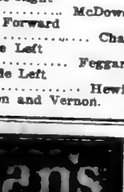
For booking, write Noel K. Atwood, c|o Aetna Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn., stating open dates and best guarantee payable.

BRETONNEL WINS FRENCH LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

Paris, March 25—Fred Bretonnel last night won the French lightweight boxing championship on points from Leon Poutet, holder of the title.

The middleweight title was won by Francis Charles on Points from Maurice Prunier, who held the championship.

Sloan's



Eases Bruises-Strains

It penetrates, restores normal circulation—breaks painful congestion.

Sloan's Liniment—kills pain!

For rheumatism, bruises, strains, chest colds

E. M. GRANGER, THOMPSONVILLE, CONN., AUCTIONEER

AUCTION

OF NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU HORSES

AT BROWN'S BARN, Coggswell Street, Westerly, R. I.

Tuesday, March 27th—1:00 O'Clock P. M., Rain or Shine

28—HORSES—28

OF THE RIGHT SIZE, SHAPE AND AGE

Direct From the North Dakota Farms to the Eastern Users

This will be an exceptional good load of horses, and the last to be sold in Westerly this spring. Plan to be there at 10 A. M., the morning of the sale, and see these horses hitched. Seeing is believing. Every horse sold with a positive guarantee, and everyone positively guaranteed to be sold. A good chance to get the horse you want at the price you want to pay.

E. S. DeLANEY, Supt. of Horse Sales

DEPARTMENT NORTH DAKOTA FARM BUREAU

EASTERN HEADQUARTERS HOTEL GRAND, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING.

Meeting of Business Men's association, at Mobile.

Meeting of Tijuana Jockey club, at Tijuana.

GOLF.

United North and South amateur championship for women, at Pinehurst.

BOWLING.

Annual tournament of American Bowling Congress, at Milwaukee.

CHESS.

Frank J. Marshall vs. Edward Lasker, at Cleveland, for national championship.

POLO.

Annual tournament of Camden (S. C.) Polo club.

BOXING.

Johnny Curtin vs. Young Montreal, 12 rounds, at Jersey City.

Pete Hartley vs. Bud Christiano, 12 rounds, at Columbus, O.

Bennie Valgar vs. Chubby Brown 12 rounds, at Rochester.

Joe Lynch vs. Joe Fox, 10 rounds, at Wilkes-Barre.

Training Camp Talks
by STONEY McLINN

By Stoney McLinn

Tampa, Fla., March 26.—Washington's baseball club, commanded by the peppie little fighter, Donie Bush, is not going to win the American league pennan in 1923, unless four or five other teams try to play football with a cyclone. But you jot it down on one of the blank pages in your memory—if you have such a thing—that the Senators are going to cause some of those leading clubs hours of genuine anguish—if—

It always pains this writer to use the word "if," we prefer to make a positive statement, right or wrong. However, in this instance, the "if" is so vitally important that we believe it necessary to use it. We shall explain.

Clarke Griffith, president of the Washington ball club, was for many years, a pitcher, and a good one. For many additional years he was a manager, and by no means a bad one. Griff loves baseball. It has been his life's work, he has been a credit to the game, and we're for the old fox, as is everybody who knows him.

But Griff has jumpy nerves—when he was a manager they kept two extra pairs of baseball pants in the dugout. He wore out a pair every three inning sliding from one end of the bench to the other when the team was on the defense and he was not permitted on the coaching line. And when the battle was going against him, Griff's head was sure to pop out above the roof over the bench, and until the umpire saw him and shooed him back the playing boss would be wigwagging signs and putting on facial contortions which were funnier that the best stage work of a $50-a-minute ocmedian.

Clarke Griffith is a hard loser—more power to his fighting heart! His baseball judgment usually is good. But he is a second guesser, as are all of us. And there is nothing that will install assault and battery motives in the manager of a ball club that has lost a tough fight quicker than to hear, "If you had put your infield on the grass in that seventh inning and cut off that run at the plate, instead of giving them that run and trying for a double play, which you did not get, you would have won the ball game."

With only two veteran outfielders, the Senators will be forced to fill in with one lad unaccustomed to large cities and the ways of the big-time b. b. bullies. And, since Lamotte, who played enough games at third base last year to be rated the regular, neither hit nor fielded up to major standards, one of several hard-working and ambitious lads will get that assignment.

Peckinpaugh, who has played big league ball since 1910, spending part of two seasons in the AA minors, is the regular shortstop. But his hitting and fielding in 1922 were not what they should have been, or might have been. Which? Boss Bush will find out, and if, as cruel gossip has it, Peck might have played better had his heart been in his labors (you may remember, he suffered a crushing disappointment when he was not named manager at the start of the 1922 season, as he had been led to believe he would be by Old Dame Rumor)—well, a new face will appear at short in our capital.

If you count a catcher and pitcher—and the Senators have some likely looking recruit candidates for these positions—there may be five rookies in the game in the first A. L. series played by the Washingtons. And the fight for second-base rights has not been won by Harris, the vet. Don't forget, too, that the manager will be a rookies in that important post.

Joe Judge will play first base, of course. He tied for top place in fielding the position last year, and his hitting wa shard and timely. Stanley Harris, the regular second-sacker '22, fielded well, but did not swing his bat with big league effectiveness. Seeking to displace Stan is Bleuge, a kid who attended minor league school in Minneapolis last season and who played well both at short and third, and batted .315. We rather expect Harris to retain his job however.

Gagnon, the former Holy Cross shortstop obtained from Detroit, was with Rochester in the International league last season and batted .300 His defensive work was disappointing. But he's a game lad and, with Bush, who was a prince of short fielders, to coach the collegian, he may show the stuff required to do the job if Peckinpaugh fails to satisfy his employers.

There is a merry little fuss on to see who will play the third sack. Conroy, last season with Minneapolis, appears to have a lead—and he's going strong. He hit .297 for the AA club; his fielding was not much. But he is snaring the drives to the hot corner in Tampa. Evans obtained from Cleveland and rated an outfielder there, informed his new boss that he was a natural third-sacker and was given a chance to show. He is fast, a good hitter and, if he doesn't win the 3b. assignment, may be used in the garden regularly. Then there is Lamotte, too.

Walter Johnson will start the campaign—his seventeenth—as the dean of the pitching corps. Bush predicts a great season for the former speed king. Hollingsworth, with Pittsburgh and Minneapolis last season, has shown heaps of class and will be a regular. Allan Russell, shipped to the capital from Boston, will have to improve a lot. He is a spitter, McGrew, who stands six foot six, is delighting his boss. That about finishes the right-handers who may be first string men.

Bush and his wise assistant, had four left handers to coach this spring. Warmouth, who was a star in the Southern league displayed the greater talent. Mogridge, Zachary and Brillheart, a nineteen-year old hopeful, are others who throw the ball from the wrong side.

That is not much of a pitching staff when compared to some others in the league. Too many southpaws. Two rookies, Beach, from the Appalachian league, and Hankins, from the Florida State, right handers, were not mentioned in the list because they do not seem ready to do big league flinging.

(Copyright, 1923, by Public Ledger Co.)

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PHOTOPLAYS

Coming Thurs. Marion Davies in "Adam and Eve"

Today, Tuesday, Wednesday—Regular Prices!

WARNER BROS. PRESENT

THE BEAUTIFUL AND DAMNED

with Marie Prevost

Adapted from

F. SCOTT FITZGERALD'S POPULAR NOVEL

A BOOK THAT NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION—MADE INTO A VIVID FASCINATING PICTURE, REVEALING WITH CUTTING SATIRE A SECTION OF AMERICAN SOCIETY WHICH HAS NEVER BEFORE BEEN RECOGNIZED AS AN ENTITY. CAST INCLUDES LOUISE FAZENDA, HARRY MYERS, TULLY MARSHALL, WALTER LONG, KENNETH HARLAN.

LARRY SEMON in "THE AGENT"

Today and Tuesday

BREED THEATRE

Today and Tuesday

BETTY COMPSON

Mahlon Hamilton — Theodore Kosloff

—IN—

"THE GREEN TEMPTATION"

A Gorgeous Melodrama of Life and Love

PATHE NEWS — Educational Comedy

REBUKE WINS COFFROTH HANDICAP ENRICHING HIS OWNER BY $29,475

San Diego, Cal., March 25.—Rebuke, owned by Commander J. K. L. Ross, Canadian sportsman, won the Coffroth handicap at Tijuana today. Adonis, owned by William Nesselhouse of Omaha, was second, and Supercargo third.

Rebuke enriched his owned by $29,475, the first money in the richest aligned stake of the American turf. Adonis was a nose behind the winner and a length in front of Supercargo, of the J. M. Crane entry. Prince Tii Tii, purchased by the Meadowbrook stable for the race, finished fourth, a nose behind the third horse. The second horse earned $4,000, the third $2,250 and the fourth $1,000.

Rebuke, a four year old colt by Dick Finnell-The Scold, was lightly regarded by form players, but was coupled in the mutuel betting with Feylance and Muttikins, the other Ross starters, and both regarded as having excellent chances. As a result, backers of the winner received only a short price, the Ross entry being the pronounced favorite in a field of 18 horses.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a race at the border course was present, unofficial figures placing the attendance at 25,000.

The distance of the race was a mile and a quarter and the time was 2.06 1-5.

Exhibition Games

Philadelphia (A)	3	5	2
Mobile (Southern Ass'n)	4	9	2
Jones, Schilling, Kenny and Rowland; Fulton, Long and Heaving, Long.
St. Louis (A)	4	7	4
Dallas (Texas)	5	12	1
Shocker, Pruett and Severeid, Schwartz, Conley and Lingle.
Boston (A)	11	11	4
Pittsburgh (N)	12	14	1
Quinn, Murray, Fullerton and Piercy; Chaplin, Morrison, Kuntz and Glazner, Jonnard, Mattox.
At San Antonio, Tex.—
Chicago (American)	6	9	1
New York (National)	8	11	0
Leverett, Connally, Davenport and Schalk; Graham, Nehf, Jonnard and Schnyder.
At Los Angeles—
Chicago (National)	6	12	0
Los Angeles (Pacific Coast)	2	6	3
Aldridge, Osborne and Hartnett; Lyons, Wallace Thomas and Baldwin, Daly.
At Montgomery, Ala.—
Philadelphia (American)	4	6	2
Rochester (International)	4	8	1
Heimach, Rommel and Perkins; Beall, Miljus and Lake, McQuinn.

BOSTON RETAINS THE INTERCITY TENNIS TROPHY

Brookline, Mass., March 25.—Boston defeated Brookline in tennis and retained the intercity tennis trophy today.

W. E. Porter, Jr., and Raymond Bidwell of the Longwood Cricket club defeated Julian S. Myrick and Cedric Major of Brooklyn Heights Casino 6-3, 6-4, and Harold Throckmorton of Brooklyn defeated C. C. Caner of Longwood, 6-3, 6-4 in the singles.

The victory of Bidwell and Porter over the Brooklyn players in the doubles gained the trophy for the Greater Boston players. The Longwood club needed but one point to retain the cup, which they had won last year, as on Saturday they led Brooklyn 4 points to 2.

YALE PLANS PREMIER GOLF COURSE IN U. S.

New Haven, March 25—Plans for a championship calibre golf course at Yale, "second to none in the United States," are now rapidly nearly completion in the hands of a recently appointed special committee, it was learned tonight. The course will be 18 holes and will be built on a track of the 750 acre Greist property which was presented to Yale several months ago by an anonymous doner. The possibility of building a second course is also being considered.

The committee which is made up of Yale men, is headed by George T. Adee chairman of the general athletic committee of the Yale board of control. The other members are J. T. Blossom, director of athletics; Mortimer N. Buckner; J. F. Byers, president of the United States Golf association; Robert A. Gardner, vice president of the association and former intercollegiate golf champion, and Jesse W. Sweetser, national amateur golf champion.

The committee has selected as architects for the course Charles B. MacDonald and Seth B. Raynor, both widely known in planning some of the best known courses in the United States. A survey of the Greist property, which is a woodland tract within a short distance of the Yale bowl and the site of the new Lapham field house, will be made soon.

FRIENDS PROTEST WHEN BROTHER FAN IS EJECTED

Montgomery, Ala., March 25.—A "soapbox" address in the center of the grandstand during the Philadelphia American-Rochester ball game here today came near emptying the stands of spectators. A fan was ejected by a policeman for alleged abusiveness toward Athletic players, whereupon two of his friends arose in the grandstand and in passionate language urged the fans to leave, appealing for "free speech," claiming that the man had a right to "root" in his own way. They denied he was abusive toward the players.

It was understood the trouble came about when Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, sent a note to the fan appealing to him to "save his loud rooting" for some other day than the Sabbath.

NEW YORK YACHT CLUB OPENS SEASON JUNE 14

New York, March 25.—The New York Yacht club's season will open June 14 with the regatta for the Glen Cove cups off Glen Cove, where the annual regatta and the races for the club's course cups also will be sailed July 7, the race committee announced today. The contest for the autumn cups will be held off Glen Cove Sept. 8.

Commodore H. S. Vanderbilt, who is now in the south, later will order the cruise, the rendezvous and program usually being announced at the May meeting of the club.

BAUMGARTEN ROLLS INTO FIRST PLACE IN BOWLING

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25 (By the A. P.).—Crashing the pins for the remarkable three game total of 724, C. Baumgarten of Cincinnati rolled into first place in the singles event of the American bowling congress tournament. Baumgarten had games of 238, 209 and 277. A bad break in the eighth frame of his last game kept him from a perfect score. He had a perfect hit but the ten pin stood.

J. Tarstick of Louisville shot into fifth place when he turned in a total of 696 on games of 248, 236 and 212.

Although there were a number of high 1,200 totals in the doubles, none was high enough to place among the five leaders.

French Holes Out in One

Pinehurst, N. C., March 25—Emmet French, Youngstown golf professional, holed out in one in the fifth hole of number three course and finished his round by equalling the course record 33, 34, 67 today. He and Bobby Cruickshank of Shackmaxon defeated Pat Doyle of Deal and Cyril Walker of Englewood by 1 up in the match.

BROADWAY

Today—Tuesday—Wednesday—

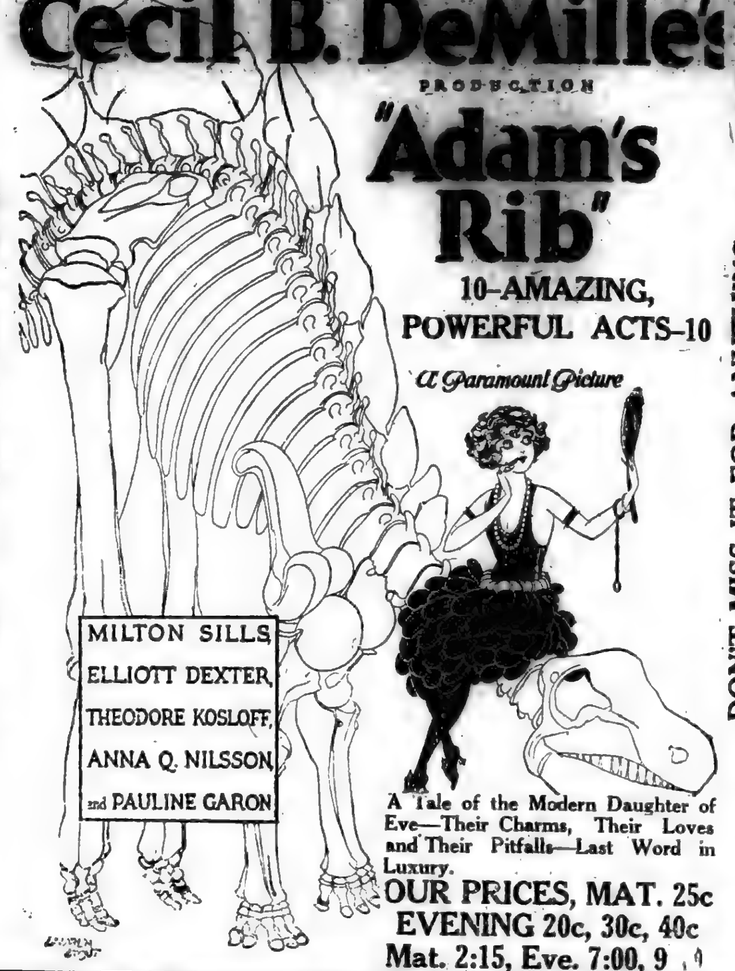
JESSE L. LASKY PRESENTS

Cecil B. DeMille's PRODUCTION

"Adam's Rib"

10—AMAZING, POWERFUL ACTS—10

A Paramount Picture



MILTON SILLS

ELLIOTT DEXTER

THEODORE KOSLOFF

ANNA Q. NILSSON

and PAULINE GARON

A Tale of the Modern Daughter of Eve—Their Charms, Their Loves and Their Pitfalls—Last Word in Luxury.

OUR PRICES, MAT. 25c

EVENING 20c, 30c, 40c

Mat. 2:15, Eve. 7:00, 9

DON'T MISS IT—ONLY 3 DAYS MORE

DON'T MISS IT FOR ANYTHING

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

Charles Albert (Chief) Bender, former American League pitcher, will coach the University of Pennsylvania for two weeks this spring it was announced recently.

As the Massachusetts Aggies have a game scheduled with Wesleyan for April 20, a game with the Ponies which had been booked for the following day has been called off.

Kansas State Normal football eleven will open the season next fall in its new $10,000 stadium at Emporia in addition to a running track it will include a turf, football field, cage for baseball practice, etc.

A novelty at Raleigh, N. C., will be North Carolina State baseball nine playing the Annapolis team March 30 in the morning and University of Maryland in the afternoon on the same diamond.

Early closing events for the Grand Circuit programme at the New York State Fair, Sept. 10 to 14, carrying a total stake value of $42,000, were announced by Commissioner John H. Cahill and Race Secretary Claude B. Fletcher.

Twenty-year-old W. P. Mellon, of New York, striked Oxford's crew up the Thames to triumph Saturday afternoon in the seventy-fifth Oxford-Cambridge race over the four and one-quarter mile course from Putney to Mortlake.

A gentleman with the loftiest ambitions will be among those present at the Penn relays when McKeown of the Kansas State Normal school and holder of the world's indoor pole vault record tries to snatch honors over the bar at Philadelphia.

There is little likelihood of Carl Schmehl, Waterbury shortstop last season sticking with the Braves, as his work has been overshadowed by Padgett, Smith and Conlon. It is reported that he will be returned to the Brassees. Springfield would like to get him.

Negotiations for three bouts for Mike McTigue, conqueror of "Battling" Siki are under way, according to Joe Jacobs, manager of the light-heavyweight champion. The men he probably will meet are Georged Carpentier, Johnny Wilson and Gene Tunney.

Henry Bosse has signed his 1923 contract with Pittsfield. This is the outfielder's fourth season with the Hillies. Four Pittsfield players have yet to sign, Silva, Baker, Pierotti and Moshier. Moshier will not be with the club this season. Nothing has been heard from Silva or Baker.

Oxford defeated Cambridge in the fifty-fifty annual track meet of the two universities held at the Queen's club Saturday. Oxford won seven of the eleven events, American students two firsts out of the seven gathered in by the Oxford team. The Yankee athletes also took down two seconds, two thirds and tied for second in another event.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Old Professor Crow.

Oh, very soon, sweet Mistress Spring
Will come upon the earth,
And all the trees will bud with leaves
And flowers deck the earth.
And Mr. Merry Sun will shine
Out from the blue, blue sky.
The Sunny Meadow will be seen
Dressed up in velvet, soft and green,
And from the forest will be heard
The happy song of mating bird.

"Ha, ha," shouted Little Jack Rabbit, "Spring will soon be here," and then he gave a hop, skip and a jump out of the Old Bramble Patch, and very soon, not so very far, he came across old Professor Crow with his little Wisdom Book under his wing.

"Spring is here!" shouted Little Jack Rabbit.

"Good morning," said the little rabbit.

"Good morning," said the wise old bird, putting on his spectacles and opening his little wisdom book to page nineteen. "Listen, and I will read you something for you to remember:

"When winter uncovers his blanket of snow
You will see where the first little spring flowers grow."

And Professor Crow flapped his wings and after that, the little rabbit looked around to find the little spring flowers.

All of a sudden, he heard a blue bird say, "Look in the Shady Forest, little rabbit, for there the flowers must bloom early in the spring, or not at all, for when the trees are covered with leaves, the forest will be so shady that the flowers can't get the sunshine."

"How much you know! Why, Professor Crow didn't tell me that," and he hopped away—not the old crow, you know, but the little rabbit. Pretty soon, he saw a little primrose and then a lily and after that a crocus.

"Ha, ha! Spring is here," said the little bunny, as a sweet-voiced bunny sang a little song and Chippy Chipmunk came out of his winter home under the roots of the chestnut tree.

"Hello! Winter has gone, I hope," shouted the little chipmunk, as he ran along the top rail of the old fence, just to try his legs, you see.

"Goodness me!" said Little Jack Rabbit, "I mustn't wait another minute. I want to see all of my friends who have slept through the winter," so, he hopped away as fast as he could, and pretty soon, not so very long, he saw Busy Beaver sitting on a log in the forest pool.

"Spring is here!" shouted Little Jack Rabbit.

"Guess you're right," said Busy Beaver, diving into the water and in the next story you shall hear whom the little rabbit saw after that.

(Copyright 1923 by David Cory.)

LEE RUBBER

Stock Selling at $31.

Yearly Dividend $2. Per Share

Report on this stock just out.

Write or call for it.

W. S. PAPPAS & CO.

28 Shetucket St., Norwich, Conn.

231 Washington Street, Boston

86 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

127 YEARS OLD

Published every day in the year except Sunday. Subscription price 12c a week; $5.00 a year; $2.50 for six months.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls.
Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35 or 36.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-3.

Willimantic Office, 21 Church St. Telephone 197.

Norwich, Monday, March 26, 1923.

SOLD BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

CIRCULATION
WEEK ENDING MARCH 24th, 1923
12,020

THE SUGAR PROBE.

Investigations into the present price of sugar are certainly called for and it was good news to the consumer to learn that a start had been made to determine who was responsible for it with a view to applying punishment and getting the price back more nearly to normal.

That it is the work of manipulators seems to be clearly indicated. It was the commerce department that presented figures to show that there was a greater world production of sugar by several hundred thousand tons than would be required, judging by previous figures of the amount consumed. Such a statement would hardly be expected to encourage manipulators to corner the market, although it can be appreciated what might be the result of such a distortion of the survey as it is claimed was made.

There isn't any question, however, but what the price of sugar has doubled. That wasn't called for by the tax that was placed upon it for revenue purposes and it wasn't caused by a shortage. Even the refiners, in certain instances, seem to be convinced that it is the result of manipulation.

Whatever the cause it is time that was determined. The investigations that are underway ought to be able to deal with it effectively. It is certain that the people are being made to pay a much higher price than is warranted by the amount produced and it is only proper that those who are responsible should be called to account.

While more sugar than the world requires there is certainly no shortage. And when no real shortage exists it is time for the consumer to take care that he does not play into the hands of the manipulators by stocking up on high priced sugar and thus helping to create an artificial market. With consumers buying to meet requirement and the investigations making progress the much sought relief ought not to be far off.

OPPOSING COAL TAXES.

Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania is reported as being "after" the shippers of fireproof coal in his state. That would indicate that the protests that have been going from New England points, and possibly the action that has been taken by the Massachusetts legislature, have registered in the state where the fireproof anthracite is supposed to originate and where a tax is collected upon it.

There may be those who think there is no such think as fireproof coal, but there are others who are in a position to prove that there is, and that they have tested it to their heart's content without producing any warmth except that which comes from the development of high temperatures due to indignation.

Pennsylvania has a considerable number already who believe that the coal tax should be removed. Without a doubt Senator Pepper is conscious of the great injustice involved, in dealing in fireproof coal, whether it is the mine operators or some brokers that are responsible for such a product. It is clearly nothing but a swindle and even though it does involve an important industry in his state it should be expected that he would be openly fighting any such crooked efforts, and the legitimate coal producers should be equally active in the pursuit of the same frauds.

This means that new light is to be thrown on the coal industry from a different angle. Those who think they can force rocks upon the users of anthracite as fuel and at the price of coal will probably come to the conclusion that such business is bound to be short lived, and what is true of anthracite likewise holds good concerning bituminous coal. Those who enter the business, knowing that they have something of the same sort, just as good as coal, must prove their claims or expect to take the consequences. Let Senator Pepper make the most of his opportunity.

FIGHTING DISEASE.

Fighting disease is not a new war. It has been in progress for a long period of time with greater or less degree of success according to the disease concerned. Diseases that were once hardly spoken for fear of catching them have almost disappeared. Great progress has been made in the treatment of others. Big benefits have been derived in various sections of the world because of the vast improvement that has resulted from the campaigns for the eradication of one or more particular diseases and the general improvement of health conditions. Pestilence have decreased and the results that have been obtained in this direction must be regarded with a high degree of satisfaction.

In this disease war prevention has said a most important role. Foundations and health organizations, state and federal efforts have all played their part. And the results are distinguishable.

For instance, when the surgeon general of the country states that the death rate in the registration of the country has dropped from 17.55 to 13.06 a thousand it means an accomplishment worth talking about. Conditions may vary from year to year, but this reduction is not attributed to that. It has taken place while the population was increasing and while there was much congestion in the cities, but it has meant a decrease from 40 to 30 in the deaths from typhoid compared with 1900, a decrease from 43 to 15 in the number of diphtheria deaths and a similar drop in connection with deaths from tuberculosis, malaria, meningitis and other communicable diseases.

While there hasn't been any neglect of the fight against other diseases, such as organic heart disease, Bright's disease, cancer and cerebral diseases the same good report cannot be made. They are not susceptible to the same kind of influences that can be brought to bear in connection with communicable diseases. Sanitation does have the same effect upon them that it does upon the others. There is reason for thanksgiving over the benefits actually obtained and the hope must be continued that it will yet be extended to the entire list.

DISTRESSING FATALITIES.

Within a period of a few weeks three Connecticut women have been burned to death as the result of having their clothing catch fire from stoves. It doesn't appear that the circumstances were the same in each case, but each and every one of them accentuates the need of greater care.

Working about a stove might not seem to involve any great danger under ordinary circumstances, but from the frequency with which women's clothing catches fire, whether the result is fatal or not, it is apparent that much depends upon the care that is used.

There's a penalty attached to carelessness which no one can contemplate without regard for the value of prevention. It doesn't pay to take chances under the belief that it is impossible for such fatal results to happen to self or other, and it cannot fail to be appreciated that it is too late to think of prevention after the clothing has become ignited.

Whether it is from the use of such a dangerous thing as kerosene to speed up a fire, from getting loose garments in touch with the flames or any other way in which fire may be communicated to the clothing there are too many instances of distressing results to permit of the danger being lightly considered. The short cut may be tempting but the long way 'round is the surest way home.

MUST STICK BY TREATY.

The announcement by Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee that he will protest the use of the money that was authorized for the modernization of our fleet may be entirely unnecessary. Presumably it is made more for the purpose of showing his attiture toward a violation of the treaty than anything else, for there is no reason to believe that the government would permit any such step or that the navy department contemplates action that would encourage others to do likewise and gradually get to doing worse.

It is stipulated in the legislation authorizing the bill that such changes must be subject to the treaty. It was urged with that fact in mind and congress made the appropriation only after that was thoroughly understood.

There isn't any idea on the part of this government to violate the terms of the naval agreement. Making modern 13 of the battleships was advocated on the ground that other nations had done this very thing. If, as indicated by the recent British statement which was immediately accepted by two departments of the government, we are not entitled to go ahead with the proposed work that position must be adhered to. We proposed the naval agreement. We took the lead in putting its terms into effect and we must stick closely to the requirements.

In this matter we are not going to set any precedents for dodging the treaty terms. Perhaps it will take a little time to have it determined just what the relative positions of the leading navies are and to straighten out any misunderstanding regarding the same, but we are not bent upon treaty busting or in giving any of the others an excuse for doing so. Our course was clearly set by the Washington conference and it will be followed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Isn't it about time to hear that the Georgia peach crop has been destroyed?

The season of the year when feminine fancy sharply turns to thoughts of Easter hats.

The question that is interesting many these days is how soon to let out the heater fire.

If there is anything the matter with the new postage stamp no one seems to have discovered it.

Even though they have been recommended, is this the time for Connecticut to put nearly a million dollars into new armories?

It may have been a popular entertainment in Boston guessing the identity of "Marshall," but Philadelphia seems to have won.

It isn't any too early to begin rehearsing and revamping some of the fish stories that have been doing duty for the past several years.

When Vermont and New Hampshire turn down a state income tax, the legislators fully understand how the public feels about taxation.

The man on the corner says: We have yet to hear of the weather prophet who told us that we were going to have anything more severe than winter.

Secretary Hoover has made an instant hit with his suggestion to hold up goverament construction till the rush of private work is over. There's no use forcing wild competition.

What has become of those old fashioned fellows who used to be putting in all their spare time about this season calking and repainting their boats preparatory to an early launching?

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Salad oil added to putty prevents it from hardening or cracking.

Turn a new paint-brush bristles up, open, pour in a spoonful of good varnish and keep in that position until dry. You will find that the bristles will never shed in painting.

When punching a new hole in a sewing machine belt, heat a hatpin very hot and it will penetrate the belt like magic.

To remove a stamp from an envelope cut a piece of blotter the size of the stamp, soap it in cold water and put it on the stamp. Remove the blotter in a few minutes and the stamp will come off.

To keep linoleum looking like new, wipe it off with sweet milk. It preserves the surface and keeps it bright.

